Fly-by!

Texico Elementary School students on the playground recently were treated to a surprise.

They saw a low level fly-by of a bright red Russian MIG 17 and a white Lockheed Jetsar flying in formation.

The airplanes had spent the night at Blue Sky Aviation at the Clovis Airport. Blue Sky's manager, Jason Davis, asked the pilots to do the fly-by for students at Texico, where his mother teaches.

The airplanes are based in California and were returning from an air show in Atlanta.

The MIG, owned by Bill Reesman, still sports the Russian symbol of a hammer and sickle on the tail and the instruments are labelled in Cyrillic.

It uses 400 gallons of aviation fuel per hour. Thus he had to refuel at Texarkana, Texas, Clovis and Flagstaff, Ariz.

The Jetstar was formerly owned by comedian Bob Hope. It still bears his ownership number on the tail -- N18BH. Eighteen is for his golf handicap, and BH are his initials.

King's actions discussed

The Texico School Board held a special meeting on Tuesday night with about 25 parents, teachers and interested persons present.

The topic was the future of coach Roy King's employment.

King has been employed by Texico Schools for 26 years and has won more than 400 games as varsity girls' basketball coach, including state titles the past three years.

He also has been teaching at the junior high school all these years.

At the last school board meeting, the board had approved by a 3-1 vote (with Richard Hadley opposed) new activity assignments.

This included adding the head baseball coaching post to King (replacing Dennis Roch, who would be assistant baseball coach), plus moving King's teaching responsibilities to the high school.

King was unhappy with these changes and turned in his resignation last week. But, a few days later, he withdrew the resignation.

During the Tuesday meeting, several folks spoke. The meeting was conducted in a very orderly way.

Don Roberts suggested that more cooperation was needed between teachers and the administration.

I have no reason to change any of my predictions in this area. This war will last our (adult) lifetimes.

I am very satisfied to see that our president has the war as his top priority. I just wish some of the congressmen could understand this, too.

It's a war. Mistakes will be made. Errors in judgement will happen. But you don't empanel blue ribbon committees to look into every problem. You have to look at the

I wish Tom Daschle would understand that simple concept and forget about politics. But that won't happen. The terrorists will strike repeatedly at the U.S. in the coming years. It won't be pretty.

Right now, a lot of folks seem to think the worst is over. Actually, it's the opposite.

We are seeing a clash of cultures, a clash of economics, a clash of religions. Folks, that's major league.

I realize that it's very difficult for Americans to gear up for this war, other than supporting our mili-

But we really do need to raise taxes, and increase support of our clandestine agencies to a large degree.

We need to work hard at rooting out terrorists around the globe. The more we kill of them, the closer we will be to the peace that eventually will follow this war.

But the longer we allow terrorism to fester, than it will be harder on us in the long run.

I hate predicting more acts of terrorism in our great nation, but as Vice President Cheney said, it will happen.

This is a war that someday will be called World War III. We have to put our full efforts into it, and forget about the minor problems.

Remember in World War II when items like nylons and tires were in short supply? Sure, it was an inconvenience, but you lived with it, knowing the bigger problem was the

That type of thinking must come to Americans, too, in the coming years. We have to understand that winning this war will bear a price.

Currently, folks don't view it that way. They just prefer to read about our military exploits in places like the Philippines and

That will change when the terrorists strike us again. People will slowly begin to understand that, as earlier stated by President Bush, that this is a war unlike any other we have fought.

It always takes awhile for Americans to gear up when faced with danger. That's the way we are as a free democratic people.

But this war will call for us to put aside some of the individual freedoms we are used to taking for granted, until the war

What I predict is that, as the war deepens, we will have to suspend some of our constitutional rights ... for the duration of the war.

That may sound very severe to you today, but it will be needed to defeat the terrorists who want to crush us.

I appreciate it....

Karen Bristow donates kidney

An article appeared in the Los Angeles Sentinel newspaper in April that featured Karen Bristow, wife of Rev. Dudley Bristow, who was pastor of the First Baptist Church of Farwell from 1977-1982.

The article noted that a kidney donation by Mrs. Bristow saved the life of Sean Bryant, 29, who had very little time to live if he hadn't gotten a new kidney.

Mrs. Bristow felt a strong need to donate a kidney. For five months, she endured rejections by local transplant centers.

local transplant centers.
"I kept going because this was what the Lord wanted me to do. His will for me just wouldn't leave my heart," she said.

Eventually, Mrs. Bristow who is also the organist for the First Baptist Church of Irvine-Tustin and leads the Women's Bible Study group, contacted St. Vincent Medical Center

They accepted her despite her age, 59. And she was matched with Bryant. Both operations were completed without 'complication.

Open 24 Hours

For Mrs. Bristow, her donation marked the end of a mission, which she doesn't regard as a personal sacrifice - "for someone's good, but ultimately for God's glory."

Bryant, a black man, has two children and is a shipping supervisor.

Sting targets underage smokers

Parmer County Sheriff Randy Geries reports that on May 19, his office conducted an undercover operation involving controlled purchases of tobacco products from retailers in Parmer County.

Different underage buyers went into stores and attempted to buy cigarettes.

Ten stores were entered and the majority had clerks who asked for IDs, then turned away the underage would-be buyers.

But four stores had clerks who did not ask for identification and sold cigarettes to minors, said Geries. They were: Allsup's, Bovina; Allsup's East, Friona; Conoco Fast Stop, Bovina, and Town & Country, Clerks making the sales were issued citations, which could result in fines up to $500 per sale. The clerks were cited, not the stores. Geries said his office has received a grant to conduct these operations. It also includes inspection of retailers for compliance with regulations. These types of operations will be randomly conducted in the future.

LIVE CATTLE: Short term trends were able to turn back higher this week, but long term trends still remain down. Although many analysts still believe that prices will eventually head lower, the technical picture has turned positive. Support remains down at contract lows. The seasonal picture is for higher prices into mid July and into August. Resistance is $63.00 basis the FEEDER CATTLE: Short term trends also turned up this week in the August Feeders. Prices help up fairly well on the last down correction. Resistance is above $77.70 and a close above this level should push prices back toward the $80 level. Long term seasonal tendencies point toward higher prices from her into late July. Prices have moved higher 14 out of 15 years.

CORN: Short term trends are still down in the corn. Prices are now trading on their last level of support at $2.04 % basis the July contract. A close below this level may set up a re-test of contract lows again? The seasonal picture will begin to turn positive around the end of May and stay positive into mid-June. Weather has done little to support this last rally.

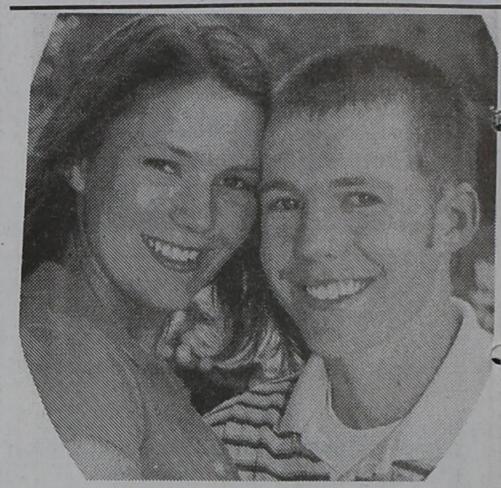

SOYBEANS: Short term trends are still up, but barely hanging on. A close below $4.87 basis the July contract will turn trends down. Overhead resistance lies at $4.97 and short term targets are still around the $5.00-$5.02 area. The seasonal tendency is to see a top around this time frame and lower prices into the June/July time frames. Demand remains strong.

WHEAT: Short term trends are still pointing lower. The seasonal tendency is for prices to trade lower from April into the July time frame. The market was severely oversold going into the month of April which may give this market another shot at the upside. Production is still a big question mark? Shortages will generate a rally, otherwise there is not much going on at this time.

COTTON: Short term trends are still up, but charts are quickly becoming "overbought" which may lead to a sell-off over the next few days. The market has stopped on long-term resistance level at the 50% retracement level of 37.50 basis the July contract. Overall, if the market corrects and shows some strength, prices may be in position to trade higher in June?

Back To The Outback

Time to head for the outback. Yes, it's back to the back yard. Outback season is open season for propane gas grilling. Always free of the mess and harmful emissions associated with charcoal grilling. While you're enjoying the back yard, consider the distinctive flair and added security of a propane gas light, either wall-mounted or free-standing. Enjoy the back yard even more with a propane gas heated pool or spa. Since it's heated with economical propane, you could stay out back even longer this year. And you could be back out sooner next year.
