Crash Ends Auto Chase

Two police interns, or trainees, from the Clovis Campus of Eastern New Mexico University at Portales, really got some firsthand experience early Sunday morning in Texico.

The interns, Cruz Primero and Willis Ward, both of Clovis, were riding with Deputy Marshal Erasmo Rodriguez, as they commonly do each Saturday night. But around 2 a.m. the routine stepped aside for awhile as the patrol car got into a chase on city streets.

Deputy Rodriguez said he started to stop a car occupied by two young men near the school in Texico, when the driver of the car attempted to elude him. A chase which started on Leftwich Street, ended on State Street in the front yard of the Fidel Esparza home, when the driver of the car failed to negotiate a corner, ran into the front yard of the Esparza home, clipped off a gas meter and ran over a bush.

The officer said speeds above 50 mph and screeching around corners in the city, showed the two trainees that "routine nights on patrol" can suddenly become very serious business.

When the wrecked auto came to a halt, the driver jumped out and ran as Rodriguez was stopping the patrol car. However, the passenger, who indicated he was somewhat "shook up" from the ride, stayed in the car until the deputy marshal reached the vehicle.

Deputy Rodriguez notified the Clovis State Police office, who sent a repairman from Southern Union Gas to repair the broken gas pipe and stop the loud hiss of escaping gas. After his father brought him back to the accident site, Orby Gibson, 19, of Farwell, received citations from Deputy Rodriguez for reckless driving and driving without a driver's license.

Rodriguez indicated that since the youth returned to the crash site while he was waiting for the gas company representative and a wrecker to arrive, he did not file leaving the scene of an accident on the driver of the vehicle.

Routine patrol began again, with the two police trainees very aware of the fact that a routine night can suddenly become quite an active night, and what may start out as just a normal check of a vehicle on city streets late at night often becomes more than just the "norm" with law enforcement officers.

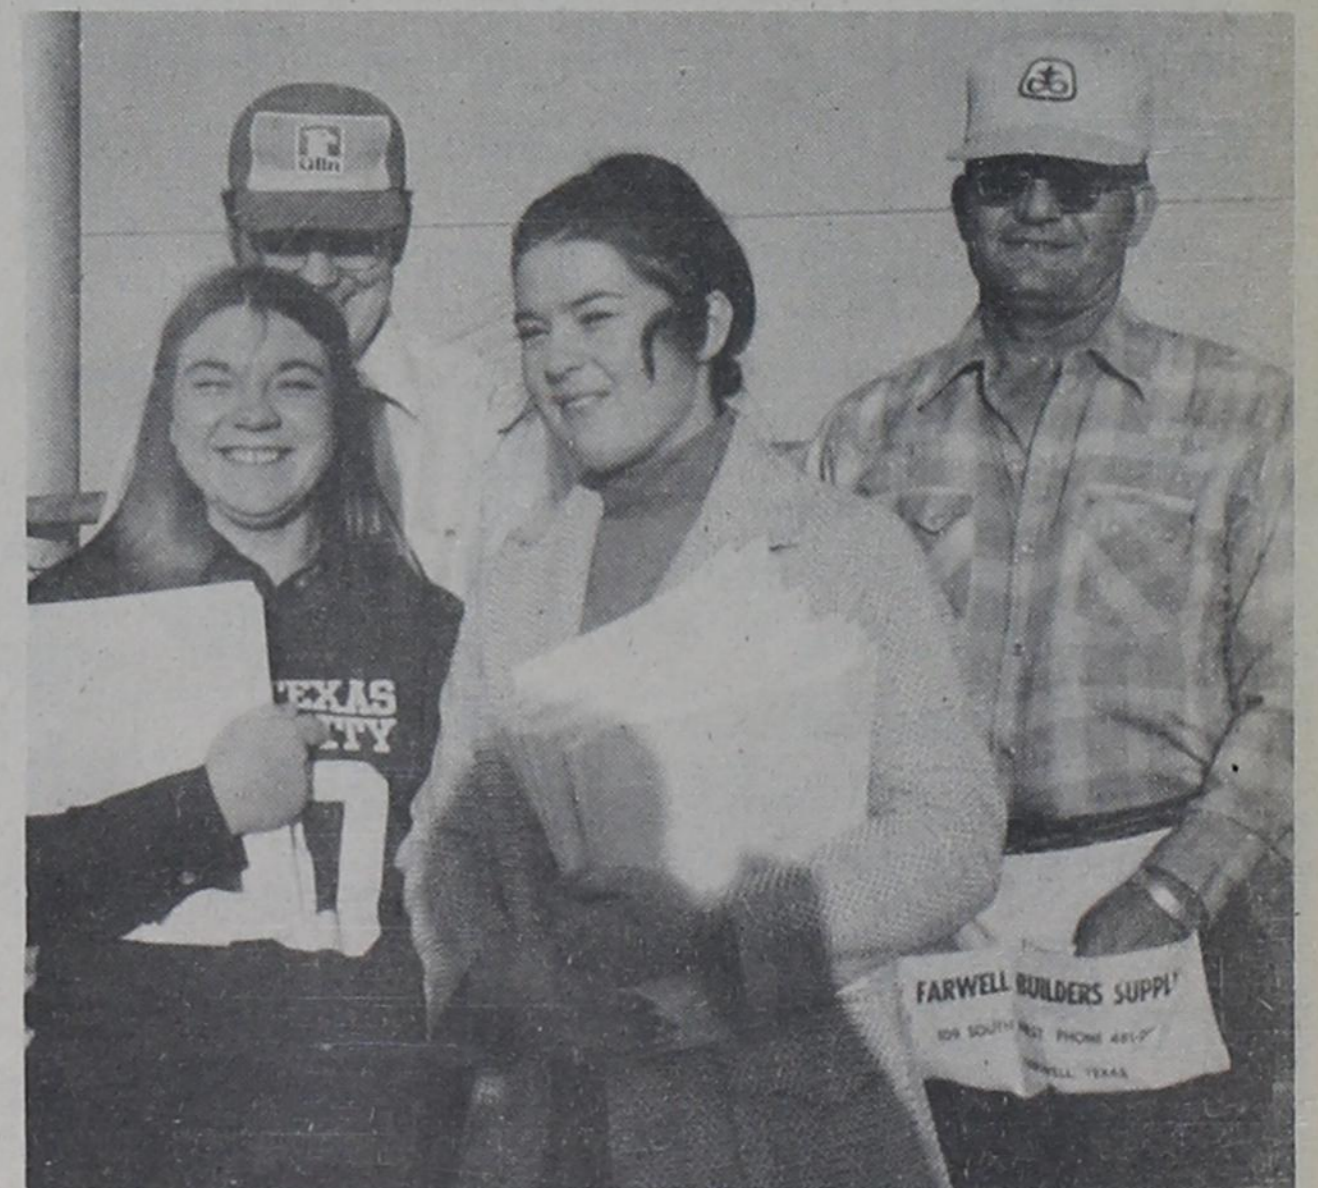

In a conversation with Mrs. Esparza Tuesday morning, she said, "I thought the world had come to an end when I heard the big crash. I woke up my boys and we ran outside."

As of Tuesday morning, the Esparzas were still without gas in their home and were trying to replace a ruptured gas line to the house as they were told the gas line would have to be inspected and if necessary, replaced, before a new meter could be installed.

If the gas line was not completed by Tuesday, at their expense, they could not get it inspected until the following week. Mrs. Esparza said a plumber had found one leak between the meter and the house, so they were replacing all the line. According to the homeowner, the gas company said they were not responsible for lines on private property and the property owner, who was asleep at the time of the crash, was forced to put in new line, and to be out of gas service for several days.

RODEO WORKERS -- Working the gate Friday night at the Farwell High School Rodeo was back, from left, Johnny Atkinson and Jeter Garner, and foreground, Jacquelyn Langford, treasurer of the Farwell High School Rodeo Association and Becky Howard, secretary of the rodeo association. They are representative of the many, many persons for whom Danny Ivy expressed his appreciation for their assistance during the three day rodeo. This was the first presentation as members of the Tri-State High School Rodeo Association and more than 350 contestants were on hand.

ROTARIANS HEAR ECONOMIST -- Walter Hughes, left, president of the Texico-Farwell Rotary Club, and Jim Berry, right, program director, welcomed guest speaker Tommy Swann, Staff Economist from Water Inc., Lubbock at the regular meeting Wednesday. Swann spoke on the future of water importation and explained how much the present underground formation is decreasing with each year. He urged active participation in a move to import water to West Texas and Eastern New Mexico.

From Water Inc. - -

Rotary Club Host For Special Guest Speaker

With several visiting Rotarians from Clovis and Portales and guests from Lazbudie and Farwell, the Texico-Farwell Rotary Club met in regular session Wednesday at Clara's restaurant.

Special guest speaker at the meeting was Tommy Swann, Staff Economist of Water, Inc., with offices based in Lubbock. Swann was introduced by Jim Berry, program director for the day, who said Swann is a Slaton native and a graduate of Wilson High School and Texas Tech University. Swann, who has spent his entire life on the South Plains, was said to be knowledgeable of water problems facing this entire area in the future.

According to Swann, Water Inc. was formed as a non-profit organization in 1967, with a purpose and function to help insure adequate future water for West Texas and Eastern New Mexico. "We have made much progress during the last six months," he informed the Rotarians.

"We found out three major things from the $8 million study on the feasibility of importing water from the Mississippi River to our area," he added. "Number one, was that the Mississippi River does have a surplus of water available, which could be subject to export. This was the first time we had been told the water was available for exportation.

"The second thing we were told was that it is engineering feasible to import water, it is done every day in other states, it would just be on a larger scale in this case," continued the staff economist.

"And the third thing we learned was that under traditional Bureau of Reclamation studies it would not be economically feasible. However, on October 25, 1973, the traditional Bureau of Reclamation standards were superceded by the Water Resources Council, a division of the federal government.

"And, three weeks ago, President Nixon signed an appropriation bill to which Congress attached a rider to re-examine the standards. This was good news to people in the water profession," he added.

"At one time, it had been reported that water programs would be financed through the states, and although we are not really sure where we stand at this time while we are waiting for Congress to decide new standards, we are in better shape. It now looks as though the federal government will be in a position to assist with financing."

Swann reported that in 1973, West Texas and Eastern New Mexico supplied 25 percent of the nation's cotton; 24 percent of the nation's grain; four percent of the nation's wheat and sold $3.3 billion in fed cattle, all from this area.

The economist also said that in 1973, 25,000,000 idle acres of land had been returned to production and an additional 19,000,000 acres had been returned to production this year. "We never thought we would see the day that people would be hungry, but there is a continuing demand, both domestic and foreign, for more food," he said. "Production needs in the future will have to be planned on a 50-75 year basis instead of the approximate five years now, and what better place to increase than West Texas and Eastern New Mexico."

In a question and answer session following his discussion, Swann said it is estimated it will cost approximately $125 per acre foot per year to the farmer as compared to $8 to $80 a few years ago, and said that Californians pay $20-$50 per acre foot and use three to three and a half acre feet each year, compared to approximately one-acre foot for this area. He also said the depletion rate in the Ogallala formation at this time varies from 30 feet to over 300 feet and expects a peak to be about 1985 with water that is available continuously going down from that time.

In other action during the meeting, Joyce White and Susan Symcox of the Farwell Future Homemakers Association at FHS, explained a five-mile walk for the mentally retarded and asked members to "buy" a girl for the walk. Individuals in the meeting sponsored several girls at $5 each.

Rotarian member Gil Pat-schke presented the immediate world and national news, and announcements and reports were given by Rotary President Walter Hughes.

Funeral services for Floyd Robinson, Jr., 19, of Clarksville, Tex., were conducted April 2 in Manchester, Tex., with burial in the Manchester Cemetery. PURELY PERSONAL

The last session of the Texas State Legislature passed a bill labeled as Access To Information By Public Bodies.

At the head of the bill is a Declaration of Policy concerning the rights of the public to know and to be informed on the action taken by all their governing bodies. We consider this declaration to be very worthwhile for all citizens to read and understand.

DECLARATION OF POLICY

Section 1. Pursuant to the fundamental philosophy of the American constitutional form of representative government which holds to the principle that government is the servant of the people, and not the master of them, it is hereby declared to be the public policy of the State of Texas that all persons are, unless otherwise expressly provided by law, at all times entitled to full and complete information regarding the affairs of government and the official acts of those who represent them as public officials and employees. The people, in delegating authority, do not give their public servants the right to decide what is good for the people to know and what is not good for them to know. The people insist on remaining informed so that they may retain control over the instruments they have created. To that end, the provisions of this Act shall be liberally construed with the view of carrying out the above declaration of public policy.

In furtherance of the aim of the Texas Legislature, we will, from time to time, publish the bills and accounts paid by our various local governing bodies. We feel that the public should know where their tax money is being spent and how it is spent in their behalf by their elected officials. This week we are beginning this action by listing the claims authorized for payment by the last session of the Farmer County Commissioners Court.

We will also do the same for our city governments and our school boards. Hopefully, the citizenry will benefit by an increased knowledge of their government and be more aware of the problems of financing and running government at the local level.

Texico Chamber Banquet To Feature Area Speaker

Featured speaker at the second annual Texico Chamber of Commerce banquet on Saturday, April 20, at 7:30 p.m. (MDT) in the Texico School cafeteria will be Ray Pritchett, owner/operator of New Mexico Mill and Elevator.

A native of Oklahoma, Pritchett grew up in north Texas and has been a resident of Texico for the past 24 years, since he purchased the New Mexico Mill and Elevator Company. He maintains an office at the Texico operation, and has his main office in Clovis. He lives in Texico and also has a home in Plainview.

He is a former member of the Plainview City Council, has been with the Plainview Chamber of Commerce, is a trustee at High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway and is past president and director of New Mexico Seedsmen Association and past president of the Southern Seedsmen Association.

A connoisseur of art, he has also indicated a definite interest in gemmology, antiques and coin collecting. Pritchett is also an excellent artist in his own right, and does many western watercolors.

He owns the only flour mill still operating in the State of New Mexico, at Clovis. Pritchett said the flour mill has run continuously since 1917, and is in operation around the clock.

RAY PRITCHETT

He added that the mill has never shut down except to enlarge machinery.

He has two daughters, Mrs. Jesse Wayne Sammannan at Plainview and Mrs. Dane Everton of Temple.

During the banquet, Chamber of Commerce officers will be installed and progress reports given for the preceding year. Bill Christian is outgoing president and Lewis Cooper is incoming president of the Texico organization.

Tickets are on sale at this time, and available from any member of the Texico Chamber of Commerce at $3 each. Ticket sales are limited, so President Christian suggests that anyone planning to attend the banquet purchase their ticket early enough to assure they will be able to attend.

Senior Citizens Topic For Planning Council

Topping the agenda at the Monday night meeting of the Texico Community Planning Council was the newly formed Senior Citizens organization. With Joe Caywood, new president of the organization, leading the discussion, it was decided to have a future meeting on Thursday, April 18, to map out plans for the group.

Meeting at the community building with A. D. McDonald, president, in charge of the meeting, a committee of Texico City Trustee member, Ruby Goforth; City Secretary, Clara Wihel; and City Water Superintendent, Billy Hammit, will report on a clean-up campaign to be conducted by the Planning Council.

It was decided to ask for official confirmation, in writing, from Andres Sammul of the Eastern New Mexico Planning Council, regarding the proposed cross arms to be installed at the 70-84 crossing on the state line.

The group expressed appreciation to the Texico Woman's Club which voted to

Lazbuddie Youth Wins Second With SWC Essay

Timmy C. Smith, a student at Lazbuddie High School, was second place winner in the annual Parmer County Soil and Water Conservation District's Essay contest. His winning essay is reproduced below:

"Our Soil - Our Strength"

For as long as history has been recorded, there has been a direct reliance on the soil. Adam and Eve had a garden as do some of the people in towns and cities today.

The soil is the backbone and prosperity of every nation. The United States is the best example of this. The first settlers in the New England colonies planted crops as one of their first projects. Since that time, farming and other industries relating to the soil have grown until the United States is today the largest exporter of farm produce in the world. Each of today's farmers alone produces enough food to feed forty-seven people for a year.

In Japan, where the land is precious, due to large population, there is not enough land spared to produce enough food to feed even half the population. As a result, Japan has industrialized, exporting their machines for food imports. This works well until war or severe disagreements cut off relationships and thus, food supplies.

In this country, there is enough variety in soil and climate to make our country nearly self-sufficient. All that is lacking is in the field of energy production, such as petroleum or hydrogen. When this level of sufficiency is attained, the United States will be a much more powerful nation. If production continues to rise as it has in the past decade, we will export enough raw materials to cause several heavily populated countries with small land-mass to become dependent on us. Thus, this country would become more powerful.

The Arab Oil boycott is one of the best examples of a controlling dependency today. Even so, if America cuts off all imports into their country, I believe things would open up pretty fast.

If present trends continue, then in my lifetime, we should see total independence of this country and a rising dependence of other countries. All this is due, not in part, but totally, to the soil on which we live today.

Boy Scouts Tour Carlsbad Caverns

As Scoutmaster Dwain Nance attempted to plan an educational trip each month for the scouts in his troop, part of their training and to learn scouting skills, the latest trip was conducted during the past weekend.

Members of the Texico-Farwell Boy Scouts made a trip to Carlsbad Caverns last weekend and toured the caverns Saturday afternoon.

They camped at Aquatic Camp at the El Conquistador Council and while in camp on Saturday night swam, canoed and underwent camp setting activities. During the evening, an Explorer executive with 33 years scouting experience showed the scouts around the camp and took them up on a mountain so the scouts could see for several miles around. The Explorer executive also gave the local scouts instructions on how to pack backpacks.

Sunday after breaking camp, the scouts visited the Carlsbad Zoological and Botanical State Park and saw cactus plants, animals and nocturnal exhibits.

They arrived back in the area at 5 p.m. Sunday.

Before they left the El Conquistador Camp, the Explorer executive invited them back to the camp to make a weekend packing trip and learn more about trails and backpacking.

Making the trip were Scoutmaster Dwain Nance, Dwayne Oenshain, senior patrol leader; and Scouts Guy Whitesides, Alan Warren, Jack Rose, Michael Nance, Charlie Rose, Theodore Mesman, Gary Ford and David Hughes.

Farwellites In Tourney

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Vincent were in Hobbs, N. M., during the past weekend where Mrs. Vincent bowled in the 24th annual State Tournament of New Mexico Women's Bowling Association.

She bowled in teams, doubles and singles. The tournament had been conducted through the month of March.

The Vincents reported a very good trip and said several visitors were on hand from Farwell and the immediate area.

Texico FFA At Lubbock Meet

Competing against all New Mexico Schools at Texas Tech recently in Lubbock, the Texico judging teams walked off with two places from the Texico FFA. The teams were second in poultry judging and third in meats.

In district meeting at Texas Tech on March 23, the teams were first in poultry judging with Larry Albright gathering in high individual points and first in meats with Roy Holger being high individual.

They will compete at state competition in Las Cruces this weekend, today (Friday) and tomorrow.

Farwell Thinclads Are Second At Denver City

With 79½ points, the Farwell track teams brought home a second place win from Denver City on Saturday, March 30.

Although Stratford leads the Panhandle in the 440-relay with a 44.1 Coach Toby Booth said the Farwell 400-relay team is about as good a team as there is in the region, sitting in second place with 44.2.

Members of the team include Mike Woods, George Garza, Carl Kirkland and Jack Foster.

During the meeting, Jack Foster was sixth in the 100-dash with 10.4; Carl Kirkland brought home third in the 220-dash with 23.0 and Donnie Garner was second in the open quarter with a time of 51.2.

Also, the mile relay team was second with 3:35 behind the running of team members Thad Phillips, Donnie Garner, George Garza and Carl Kirkland. Larry Sutton was sixth in the quarter mile run with 55.0; Donnie Garner won first in the 880 with a time of 2:05; Robert Sierra was sixth in the 880 with 2:12 and Charles Hargrove was seventh with 2:14. Jesse Cantu posted a second place win in pole vault with an 11 foot vault.

Weather permitting, district competition will get underway at Springlake-Earth this week, with preliminary field events scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Thursday (yesterday) and runs starting at 3:30 p.m. the same day. Finals are scheduled for 6:30 p.m. today (Friday).

Both high school and junior high schools will be competing.

Fire Calls

The Farwell Volunteer Fire Department made three fire calls during the past week. On March 28, two calls were answered. The first was to a truck fire on East Highway 60, and the second a few hours later was to an electrical fire at the Blackie Williams home east of Farwell.

On Sunday, March 31, they were summoned to East Ninth Street where a shed burned.

Sam Lewis of the Texico Volunteer Fire Department said no calls were received by the Texico Fire Department during the past week other than calls which have already been reported.

Though farms decreased nationwide by 26,000, the number in Texas remained stable during 1972-73.

Farwell's 698 bested second place Vega's 704, although Vega turned up with medalist in golfer Mike Yell, with a 166 and runnerup, also from Vega, Larry Richardson, with 166. Yell won a playoff to win the medalist honor.

On April 17 and 18, the Farwell golfers will be competing in Lubbock at Pine Hills in regional action. Golfers are Kevin Hargrove, Lesley Curtis, J. D. Reeves, Mike Deel and Gary Green.

SCD Aims For First In Award

Parmer County Conservation District has its sights on a first place finish in the 28th annual Goodyear Conservation Awards Program.

According to Leon Grissom, Bovina, chairman, the district will match its record of service to land users with other districts in Texas. An independent judging committee will select the two top districts in the contest sponsored by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company in cooperation with the National Association of Conservation Districts (NACD).

Each first place district, in addition to a plaque, will receive expense-paid, vacation study trips for its outstanding cooperators and a member of the governing board. Representatives of the 53 first place districts nationally will be Goodyear's guests on the grand awards tour to Marco Island, Fla., in December.

Cancer Seminar Scheduled In Amarillo May 1

by Jana Pronger

The disease is the nation's number two killer, second only to heart disease. No one is sure what causes it. The dreaded killer strikes in many different forms, settling somewhere in the body virtually unnoticed.

It is no respecter of age or sex. In a period of weeks, months, or years it grows, destroying body cells by the thousands until at last, life itself gives way to death.

The disease is cancer. The story you have just read is true, some of the time. Only a short decade ago there hardly was an exception. Cancer raged uncontrolled, could not even be slowed.

Now, cancer in its many different forms is being studied like no other disease in the history of mankind. Research increasingly is coming up with answers, and people stricken with cancer are being treated successfully and living longer than expectations of only a few years ago.

These and other conclusions will be presented by medical doctors and others at a special one-day seminar May 1 at the Hilton Inn in Amarillo.

The event is being sponsored by the Family Living Youth Task Force of the Panhandle Economic Program in cooperation with the Potter County Unit of the American Cancer Society. PEP is a voluntary organization sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and is composed of citizens interested in the economical and social growth of the Panhandle.

Widespread interest in the seminar already has boosted expected attendance to over 700.

Such questions to be considered include, "What is cancer?", "What hope does research offer in the immediate future?" and "How can cancer be treated now?"

Noted experts in the field of cancer research and treatment will be featured speakers, among them, H. J. Sannan, M.D., vice-president for medical affairs, western area of the American Cancer Society. Dr. Sannan is based at Denver, Colo.

A. B. Goldston, M.D., Amarillo surgeon and director-at-large for ACS, will moderate a panel on "Cancer Diagnosis and Treatment".

The panel includes an oral surgeon, a radiologist, a hematologist oncologist, and a general surgeon.

Another series of speakers addressing the topic "Prevention Through Education" include a urologist, a member of the Ostomy Club in Amarillo, a speech teacher who also is a farmer, and an ACS official.

William A. Anthony, M.D., district medical director of ACS District 15, will speak on the cancer problem and the ACS. Dr. Anthony is a urologist.

Jim Shelton, president of the Potter County Unit of ACS, will discuss the role of county volunteer units in the fight against cancer. Both a slide presentation and a film will be part of the program.

Medical professionals appearing on the program, in addition to Drs. Anthony, Goldston and Sannan, include Dr. Paige Carruth, area educational chairman of ACS-Texas division; Taylor Gillespie of the Ostomy Club; Herick Simon, speech teacher for ACS, district 15; Mrs. Lee Jenkins, district coordinator of the "Reach to Recovery" program of ACS; Don T. Curtis, D.D.S., oral surgeon from Amarillo; Donald Kuxhausen, M.D., radiologist at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo; and Bill Hays, M.D., general surgeon from Amarillo.

Presiding over the one-day session will be Edd McLeroy, chairman of the Family Living Youth Task Force of PEP.

Parmer County will be represented at the meeting. Volunteers of the local ACS unit, along with several delegates and Extension agents plan to attend.

Anyone interested in learning about cancer is invited. Advance registrations and a $3 fee are required only of persons attending the lunch at the Hilton Inn. Deadline is April 23 and forms are available at the county Extension office or at the home of Mary Cary of Friona, president of the Parmer County volunteer unit. The public is invited to attend. The meeting starts at 9:30 and will adjourn at 4 p.m.

OVERTURE TO "TEXAS", the musical drama by Paul Green which plays in the summers in the Palo Duro Canyon State Park. For tickets write Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015. Photograph by Bill Rhew.

Panhandle History - -

Musical Drama 'Texas' To Start Season June 19

At 8:30 p.m. on June 19, a bugle call will come floating down through the canyons, surrounding every seat with its haunting sound, and the ninth season of the musical production, "Texas" will begin.

It is a story of the early settlers in the Texas Panhandle written by Paul Green, and will unroll each summer evening except Sundays, from June 19 through August 24, 1974.

This is dramatic conflict, heightened by spirited dancing and sweeping pageantry.

For many people, however, the strongest memories to carry away are the sounds.

A great abyss, a place of spectacular beauty, cradles the amphitheatre - the Palo Duro Canyon. It lies a few miles from Amarillo and Canyon, Texas. Among the curving slopes of the canyon, sound moves in strange and beautiful ways bringing every word whispered on the stage, carrying the vitality and beauty of the songs of the late 1880's which underline the action and stirring each listener, wrapping him in waves of beauty and force.

The sound flows from all sides, bounces from the cliffs, reverberates from the near and the distant walls.

Five airlines, three bus lines, six interstate highways bring travelers to Amarillo, and there is bus service from any point in Amarillo or Canyon, Texas to every performance, arriving in time for the Barbeque dinner on the theatre grounds for those who wish it.

"Texas" is one of Paul Green's great affirmations of faith in America, one of eight great regional dramas he has written which will be playing this summer from Ohio to Florida.

"Texas" will play for the ninth season in 1974 - after intriguing more than half a million people in its first eight years.

"Texas" has a cast of 80 singers, actors and dancers, and almost as many other members of the company to work back stage, to man the box office and to serve in the hospitality and concession areas.

"Texas" amphitheatre may be reached from Amarillo or Canyon, Texas over fine paved roads. It lies 25 miles from the first city, 12 from the second. For bus service to a performance ask your desk clerk or call the "Texas" office.

All seats are reserved. If possible, it is better to make reservations in advance by writing "Texas", P.O. Box 268 Canyon, Texas 79105, or by calling 806-655-2182. Prepaid tickets will be held indefinitely. Tickets ordered but not prepaid will be held at the box office until 7:30 p.m. CDST on the night they are reserved for. Brochures and additional information are available by writing "Texas", P.O. Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015.

Your Easter Gift May Lay An Egg

Don't give your children baby rabbits, chicks or ducks for Easter, urges the American Veterinary Medical Association (AVMA). Not only is it cruel to give these animals as gifts, in many states and cities it is illegal.

Rabbits, chickens and ducks are farm animals; they rarely survive in the home. A young child's enthusiasm over the new pet often results in unknowing cruelty as legs are broken and wings crushed. If the animal dies or is injured, it is a traumatic experience for the child. If the animal survives, it generally ends up in an animal shelter.

Because so many thoughtless people continue to give baby rabbits, chicks and ducks as gifts, shelters are unable to handle them and most have to be destroyed. Even if the animal should live to maturity, many local ordinances would prohibit a family from keeping it. These are outdoor animals.

They can not be housebroken and may cause serious house-keeping and health problems. Many are disease carriers. The National Center for Disease Control in Atlanta and other public health authorities warn that children and adults in close contact with these animals may be exposed to salmonellosis, a severe gastro-intestinal infection. While the disease is rarely fatal, it requires medical treatment, often including hospitalization. In addition to the family, other pets in the household may become ill.

Because of the problems surrounding Easter "Pets," many communities have passed laws prohibiting the sale of these animals, including rabbits, ducklings and other fowl.

Easter and the coming of spring should be a time of joy and rebirth, not a period of physical illness, psychological trauma and the needless deaths of young animals. Be sure your Easter gift doesn't lay an egg.

Children May Find Sharing Difficult

COLLEGE STATION - Even with a full toy box, some children balk at sharing, one specialist says.

Dorothy Taylor, family life education specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, discussed how a child learns to share—and how parents influence this learning process.

"A child learns what he lives. If he lives with greed, a child learns to be greedy and not to share."

"Children aren't born with built-in sharing," she continued. "Nor do they acquire it automatically at a certain age. Sharing actually requires daily practices—in judgement and in making choices about matters—in line, of course, with the child's age and understanding of things."

To help a child start learning to share, consider his point of view, the specialist advised.

"When a parent asks a child to share all his possessions, the child loses some security. That's why parents should be sensitive to the child's feelings—concerning toys or anything else."

"Sensitive parents listen when a child expresses his thoughts—to show him they value his ideas.

"Also they act with fairness and consideration, so the child knows he's important."

"When parents create a sympathetic atmosphere, a child draws nearer to them. As he sees them share feelings—and things, he wants to share, too."

Despite the simplicity—and sensibility—of these procedures, problems can arise, Miss Taylor added.

"For example, some children refuse to share anything because of a power-play with their parents. A child doing this is seeking limits or a framework in which to operate."

"In this situation, parents should exert parental power until such time when the child can make independent decisions," she said.

"Since using parental power to control children works only under special conditions, it must equal parental reward to bring about change."

Sharing isn't limited to child's possessions—it also includes such things as chores, Miss Taylor pointed out.

"Parents 'battling it out' with children over chores and responsibilities should realize this war can't be won. Children have more time and energy to resist than parents have to force them.

"They do this by using fairness and sympathy mentioned earlier. In addition, parents should state feelings and thoughts without attacking the child's personality and dignity," the specialist emphasized.

"They should avoid words, comments or name calling—such as 'stingy,' 'greedy' or 'hog.' Such terms create hate and resentment—complicating matters."

Although these changes don't occur overnight, she added to have their rewards, she added force them.

Accessories Take Lead

Fashion forecasters are predicting a big accent on accessories. Last season's items become today's trend-setters with a splash of the right accessories, one authority observed.

Mrs. Vivian Simmons, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said today's accessories signal versatility and meet the ever-changing scene with a fresh statement.

"Since rules for dress are passe, accessories define personality and lifestyle."

"Emerging guidelines help the fashion-conscious get the most for their money—especially the basic guideline of understanding oneself and then accessorizing garments to express that self," the specialist noted.

In this era of shortages, fashion-conscious consumers want what's real and basic, she continued.

"This appreciation of reality swings from real gold and silver jewelry to recycled denim handbags.

"With necklines important, look for new ways to accent them. Necklaces are gaining the most attention."

Graduated glass beads and irregular wooden beads combine delicacy and texture—"a la" several strands at the same time, the specialist said.

"Multi-colored, large marble necklaces repeat versatility—paired with many different-colored garments."

"Perennial best sellers, gold and silver chains, provide the tailored look."

"Scarves, on the other hand, lend soft accent to necklines on dresses and suits, Mrs. Simmons pointed out.

"Simple cotton bandana prints and paisleys reflect a conservatism that has hit the scarf market."

"The newest fashion look features narrow, braided leather belts," the specialist added.

Elderberries Making Books For Children

The Elderberries Club met Wednesday afternoon, March 27, at Art 'N Such to "cut out paper dolls," as reported by Carrie Christian.

Hostess was Nina Glasscock and she served refreshments of coffee, spiced tea, cookies and snacks.

During the short business session, Edith Crawford was elected secretary of the club.

Those present were Vivian Robinson, Gertrude Foster,

Nina Glasscock, Carrie Christian, Alma Sledge, Alvenia Cox, Gladys Armstrong, Bonnie Williams, Nettie Blair, Irene Graham, Lessie Tadlock, Betty Zimmerman, Dickie Magness and Edith Crawford.

Human companionship is one of God's answers to loneliness. "It is not good that man should be alone," said God at the very beginning of creation, as He created Eve.

In making friends, remember these words from the Bible: "He who walks with wise men become wise; but the companion of fools shall suffer harm."

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Bill Boykin
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — Constitutional Convention delegates will take a break from their duties at the end of this week — until after the May 4 primaries.

They voted last week to recess for 30 days after tentative passage of local government and legislative articles — or no later than April 5. They will return at 2 p.m. May 6 to finish up.

Delegates approved by a 123-47 margin (with a two-thirds majority, or 121 votes, needed as a minimum) a 60-day extension of the convention after the recess. That means a July 30 final adjournment date whether work is completed or not.

Chances appeared brighter for agreement on a revision document for submission to voters at the general election.

Work already is completed on the preamble, bill of rights, and articles on the executive branch, education, finance, manner of amending the constitution, voting rights and local government.

The article on the legislature is expected to take all week.

Yet to be considered are judiciary and general provisions articles, which stayed in committee longer than any, and the brief article on separation of powers.

All must muster a two-thirds majority vote after the recess before they can be submitted for approval of citizens.

The convention already has cost $1.8 million. About $590,000 is left from the original legislative appropriation, which would be enough to run the convention about 30 days beyond May 6.

INSURANCE BREAK DUE — High risk drivers can get a break in insurance rates under a new plan approved last week. The State Board of Insurance authorized "upward deviation" from standard rates for those drivers whose records do not qualify them for either reduced or standard premiums.

Phoenix Insurance Company of the Travelers Insurance Group made the first acceptable filing, providing a market for the high risk drivers at 35 to 115 per cent above manual rates for different classes of coverage.

Such drivers have been charged up to 300 per cent above standard.

First National Insurance Company of America (Safeco group) was also approved to provide coverage to higher risk drivers at an additional 15 per cent for all private passenger classes.

Sixty-nine companies have been granted Board permission to sell auto insurance at less than standard rates, and two have permission to sell at greater rates.

NORMAL TRAVEL SEEN — The energy shortage will ease enough by mid-June to insure a near-normal summer travel season in the state, according to Texas Tourist Development Agency projections.

The Sunday gasoline sales ban is the biggest factor in a six per cent decline in attendance at major Texas tourist attractions during the first two months of 1974, the tourist agency figures.

Campaigns are being sponsored to encourage Texans to spend their vacations near home and residents of neighboring states to visit Texas on well-promoted package tours.

CRIME RATE UP — Texas' crime rate rose 3.1 per cent last year, according to the Texas Department of Public Safety.

DPS reported 492,654 major criminal offenses during 1973 for a rate per 100,000 population of 4,177.2. In 1972, there were 472,011 major offenses and a rate of 4,051.9.

OFFICIAL OPINIONS — Basic information from police arrest records should remain available to the press, Atty. Gen. John Hill concluded in a revised opinion Monday. The opinion replaced a controversial one written last January holding Houston airport police could withhold detailed offense reports from newsmen.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

The new lobby control law is not unconstitutional, although it may chart a fine course between lobbying and bribery.

In a series of new opinions, Secretary of State Mark White Jr. held:

Candidates can make campaign expenditures to allow the press to accompany them on their travels.

Expenditures below $100 by friends for printing and mailing campaign letters do not have to be reported by candidates.

A paid political advertisement meets legal tests for identification of the newspaper carrying it if the name of the publication appears somewhere on the same page, so an interested party may readily ascertain the newspaper's location.

COURTS SPEAK — A $238,250 judgement against General Motors in the death of a Houston woman who died when her new car plunged out of control was upheld by the State Supreme Court.

U.S. Supreme Court upheld Texas procedures for nominations of minority party and independent candidates.

The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed and remanded a murder conviction of a San Antonio man because a juror was informed the man had threatened to "kill again."

Too much prosecution evidence resulted in reversal by the Court of Criminal Appeals of a 25-year rape sentence assessed a Dallas man.

The Court of Criminal Appeals upheld two 100-year sentences of a Dallas man in a rape-robbery.

REPORTS RECEIVED — Plans from 222 state agencies for insuring equal employment opportunity have been received.

Thirty-eight of the state agency affirmative action plans have been approved by the Equal Employment Opportunity Office, and 184 are being reviewed. Only five state agencies have not submitted plans and policy statements.

BOOKMOBILE PURCHASED — Commissioners Courts in Parmer, Bailey, Cochran and Lamb Counties have purchased a new Bookmobile for their rural families. The Bookmobile has been delivered to the Muleshoe headquarters and all books and equipment have been transferred to it. The new Bookmobile is now making scheduled stops in four counties. The Bookmobile will be parked at the Holiday Store in Farwell from 9 a.m. to 11:45 a.m. on Saturday, April 6. The librarians, Lorene Sooter and Ruby Henderson invite everyone to visit the Bookmobile while it is here.

COLORIFIC — For poolside cover-up or carefree leisure wear, Maid of Cotton Kathy Raskin counts on the cool cotton comfort of this short smock dress. Colorfully plaid in orange, yellow, and raspberry, it features a deep yoke with all-over tucks and a full skirt with patch pocket. By El Buzon of Texas.

Good Quality Forecast For Texas Onion Crop

AUSTIN — "Our onions are the sweetest in the country. You can eat 'em like an apple," reports a fan of South Texas spring onions, which will be on their way to market soon.

Though apple lovers might disagree with the comparison, Texas onions do have a reputation for sweetness. This year's crop is expected to be high in quality, according to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

White added that it is too early to determine onion tonnage, but it is expected to be down slightly from last year when 14,900 acres were harvested.

The South Texas onion season is relatively short, starting around mid-March and running through mid-June. During that time most of the onions sold in the country are grown in Texas. It is an in-between period. Storage onions sold through the winter are usually depleted and fresh onions from other parts of the country have not been harvested yet.

Before Texas onions hit the market, prices go up because of short supplies. Last year storage supplies were practically exhausted by March and, except for Mexico, foreign onions were unavailable. The result was a worldwide shortage.

Meanwhile, adverse weather conditions delayed the Texas harvest and disrupted shipping schedules. All of these factors caused a meteoric price rise from $4.85 per hundredweight to $16.90. Texas onion farmers reaped the benefit.

This year there is little possibility of skyrocketing prices. The world situation is not as tight, and Texas' harvest has already begun in spots. It is expected to be in full swing by April 1.

Yellow Grano (round) and Granex (flat) are the main onions grown in the state, but Texas also produces small amounts of red and white onions. Most of the green onions in grocery stores are babies which were picked before maturity.
