

FROM THE HOPPER

BY HOP JR.

If Tribune folks seem a little extra nervous these days, there's a reason for it.

A week ago Printer Clyde was back in the shop bathroom, minding his own business, when in walked--or we should say, slithered--a snake about three feet in length.

We have had lots of distinguished visitors in The Tribune over the years, including birds, cottontail rabbits, lizards, centipedes, mice, and some creeping things we could never identify, but this is the first appearance of a sure-nuff snake.

What little hair Printer Clyde has left stood on end for a few moments until he got himself collected. After all, being shut up in the bathroom with a three-foot snake is not exactly a soothing experience.

Printer Clyde managed to get his wits together and snatch a medium-sized pasteboard box. He coaxed the reptile inside it. The snake was a very obliging creature, he reports. Once the snake was safely inside, Printer Clyde taped up the top with wrapping tape and set the box out on one of the shop "stones" for exhibition purposes.

He told of his exciting experience, and the mere thought of it was enough to curdle the blood of the Tribune ladies. No sir, none of them wanted a peek at the snake.

Finally we came along and heard the story, and we didn't much want to see the snake either but since all the ladies were frightened, we thought the thing for us to do was to act unafraid, so we said, "Sure, Clyde, show him to us."

Well, that's where the fun began. Printer Clyde drew out his pocket knife and carefully slit the tape so that one flap of the top could be raised. He lifted it up and said, "Just have a look at that."

We did look, but couldn't see anything. We didn't exactly want to stick our head in so we suggested the rest of the top be opened. Clyde obliged and then did some looking himself. The snake was nowhere to be seen.

Printer Clyde just couldn't believe his eyes. He ripped the box apart and held it in the air, shaking it at arm's length. He felt certain the snake would tumble to the floor.

No snake appeared. At this point we began to question the whole story, but one look at Clyde's face convinced us he was shooting straight. Also, the way he held up his trouser legs and danced tiptoed as if he half expected the snake to slither up his leg also added some weight to his point of view.

When the news of this calamity reached the ladies' ears there were gasps and screeches. Actually, they didn't believe the snake had escaped either. They decided we had taken him out secretly and put him inside one of the desk drawers or files in order to allow them to "find" him at a later date.

The poor women don't know what to believe, and are half afraid to take a step out of the front office door. We ourselves can't decide what to think of the whole story, and Printer Clyde seems to be the most mixed up one of all. He's just positive that snake couldn't have gotten out of the box.

This snake has really got The Tribune snookered.

Three boys around the house to raid the ice box, pantry, and oven are more than any man ought to have to stand. After all, our eating requirements are quite modest, and all we ask is a good square sandwich a couple of times a day. But if we come in late to the table and don't get to battle for our share, it's pretty hard to guarantee that there'll be even enough left over for sandwiches.

For a good while we've been used to having the boys eat up all our cookies and candy that's around the house, and chew up whatever gum they can find in the afternoons.

But now they're after real food. Just the other day we came in late for supper, figuring it was safe to expect a hot dog. Nope. The hot dogs were all gone--eaten--krait cold that afternoon by a hungry bunch of boys.

Well, we'd have settled for a bologna sandwich. They did leave us one thin slice, but they ate up all the lettuce, so what was the use of holding out for

MISS JUDY BILLINGSLEY

Judy Billingsley Wins 4-H Sweepstakes

A Farwell girl, Miss Judy Billingsley, won highest honors at Parmer County 4-H Dress Review last Tuesday at Hub Community Center. Miss Billingsley modeled a blue sheath dress made of all cotton material. It was designed with a fitted waist length jacket of matching plaid material. She wore black suede shoes and her hat, bag and gloves were of black velvet.

In winning the sweepstakes award, Miss Billingsley earned the right to compete in the district dress review to be August 7 in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Company in Amarillo.

Argen Draper from Hereford served as judge for the style show. Scores on costumes ranged from 88 to 99 and each girl received either a blue or red ribbon. Commentators were Linda Phillips and Miss Billingsley, both of Farwell.

The style show was presented in the form of an afternoon tea. The serving table was laid with a pastel green damask cloth and was centered with an arrangement of gladioli and dahlias arranged in a crystal bowl. Pat Chitwood from Lazbuddie served punch from a crystal service and Janice Hillock of Farwell served cookies.

No Opening Slated Until Nails Arrive

"We're still waiting on nails for the floor" was the comment of Lee Meeks, when asked this week when the new skating rink in Farwell would be completed.

According to the owner of the new business, the first such facility in the Twin Cities, the flooring is here and the shipping order has been received on nails, so workers are waiting until the order arrives.

"We hope to be open by time school begins", Meeks adds, "so we can be available for school parties." He says that he has made plans for a 6-inch water line to be installed so that sufficient water will be available for the new rink.

BB Ordinance Is Discussed At Texico City Meet

Earl Hartley, Texico city attorney, was authorized at a Saturday meeting of the city council to write an ordinance preventing the carrying and firing of BB guns, pellet guns and 22's in the city limits. The ordinance will be acted on at the next meeting of the city council, September 5.

BB guns have long been a nuisance in the city and several times complaints of broken streetlights and windows have been aired before the citydads.

Otis Huggins, manager of the Texico - Farwell Southwestern Public Service office, reported that over $40 worth of light bulbs had been broken since summer began and asked that action be taken to prevent it happening again.

Members of the board of trustees present for the meeting were Joe Helton, Olan Schleuter, N. W. Peyton and Mayor J. H. Winegeart. Also present were the city attorney, Earl Hartley and the city clerk, Mrs. Juanita Autrey.

Each candidate is asked to furnish a jar to be placed on display with her picture and name, to be used at the style show Tuesday evening. Also, each girl is asked to mail a picture to the State Line Tribune this week, with the picture to be used for publicity purposes between now and Appreciation Day.

Piggly Wiggly gave $5 to be used for the contest, but the owners were out of town and a candidate was not selected.

Both Fern Hardage of Fern's and Mrs. Williams of ESA issue a very special invitation to all citizens to be on hand Tuesday night to see the first showing of fall fashions for Fern's.

Public Hearing Next Monday

The annual public hearing on the new school budget for Farwell Schools will be Monday, August 10, at the school office.

Superintendent Willie Roberts says the meeting will begin at 8 p.m. and that all interested patrons are invited to attend.

Well, that windshield Preston is cleaning doesn't belong to a car, it's an airplane! The plane, with folding wings, belongs to J. D. Kirkland, local well driller. THE HIGH PLAINS FARM AND HOME

Announce Soil Bank Program

The conservation reserve of the soil bank is a long-range program under which farmers voluntarily contract to take general cropland out of production and devote it to conservation uses for periods of time up to 10 years.

A farm operator who wishes to offer cropland to be placed under a conservation reserve contract starting in 1960 must take the following steps:

1. Apply to the ASC Office, during the period from August 24 through September 10, to set a "basic annual payment per acre" for the land which he desires to place under contract.

2. After the basic annual payment is established, the farm operator will have from September 14 through September 25, to advise the County ASC as to the payment rate per acre that he will accept for the land offered. Unless the rate per acre acceptable to the farm operator is less than the established basic annual per acre rate, the land offered cannot be considered for contract by the county ASC committee.

3. If the offer made by the farm operator is accepted, the committee will prepare a contract for the farm operator's signature and notify him accordingly.

Contracts will be awarded to applicants under a definite plan of priority. The lowest offer per acre, in comparison with the basic annual payment rate per acre set by the ASC committee, will have the highest priority.

For example, if the basic rate for the land offered is set at $12, the priority will be higher if the offer is at $9 an acre than if it is $10 or more an acre.

Land which has been used regularly for the production of cultivated crops or for tame hay is eligible, if owned by the offerer since December 31, 1956.

Farmers can help reduce surpluses by placing land in the conservation reserve program. This program "stores cropland instead of surplus crops," says Prentice Mills of the ASC.

Land in the conservation reserve is protected from wind and water erosion and other damage. Each acre must be planted to grass or other approved cover. The government shares the cost of establishing the approved cover on the reserved land.

Farmers who are interested in participating in this program are urged to visit the county ASC office between August 24 and September 10 for further details.

A LAST MINUTE CHECK on the food supply is being made by this group of 4-H leaders and boys prior to their trip to Holy Ghost Canyon for a four-day encampment. Part of the equipment and food can be seen in the background.

County Agent Advises Cotton Insect Controls

County Agent Joe Jones says it's time to start doing something about cotton insects that are building up in most fields. "As late as our cotton is, we don't have time to lose the first crop and hope to make anything like a reasonable yield," Jones says.

The County Agent advises farmers to investigate and be sure their cotton is being damaged enough to warrant insect control before spraying. Insecticides required to give good control of aphids also kill all beneficial insects and pave the way for a cotton bollworm build-up.

The cotton bollworm, flea-hopper and cotton aphid have begun to show up in cotton fields, and although beneficial bugs often build up and control aphid infestations, harm can be done before this happens. Hard showers accompanied by winds will also control aphids but often these natural controls come too late.

According to Jones, reports from down the county show it is requiring around 1 1/2 pints of Parathion to do a good job. If using ground equipment, Malathion should be used instead of Parathion because it is less dangerous for operators.

To check cotton for bollworms examine terminal buds in several different locations in the field. Begin bollworm treatment when four or five small worms and eggs are found. To do a good control job apply recommended rates of insecticides at five-day intervals.

In inspecting for fleahoppers, check the same way for bollworms and begin treatment when 15 to 35 fleahoppers are found per 100 terminals. In case of young, tender, late cotton pinning should begin when the count reaches 15.

The fleahopper does most of his damage when the squares are very small so when the season progresses and it is too late for the young squares to mature before frost, forget the fleahopper. Squares about the size of a match head or smaller are often overlooked by farmers and these are the ones fleahoppers damage most.

The boll worm can run large bolls. Control measures must be carried out until the crop is matured to prevent boll worm damage.

Billingsley Wins County Dress Revue

Judy Billingsley, sixteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Billingsley of Farwell, won the county 4-H Club dress revue at Hub's community center Saturday afternoon.

Miss Billingsley was chosen over 30 other candidates. It was her third win in a row at the county revue. In 1957, she was alternate state representative.

Winning Tuesday's revue means Miss Billingsley will go to Amarillo for regional competition August 7.

Judy will be a junior student in Farwell High School next year. She has been in 4-H Club six years.

Mrs. Turntine and Mrs. Draper of Hereford judged the revue. Mrs. Draper is home demonstration agent for Deaf Smith County.

Girls with a score of 99 were Diann Gibson, Linda Phillips, Susan Carmichael, Martha Coffey, Gwendolyn Christian, and Phyllis Christian.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

BY JUNE FLOYD

At this time of year many people get out the ice cream freezers and invite friends and neighbors to help them eat freshly frozen homemade ice cream. If you'd like to do this, try the following two recipes.

HOMEMADE ICE CREAM (1 1/2 gallons)

- 2 cups sugar
- 2 2/3 tablespoons cornstarch
- 1 1/3 tablespoons flour
- pinch of salt
- 1 1/2 cartons homogenized milk (1/2 gallon size)
- 9 eggs
- 1 can Eagle Brand milk
- 1 tablespoon vanilla

Mix dry ingredients. Add 1 carton milk. Stir while cooking. When it gets hot, add the egg yolks (beaten slightly.) Cook until mixture begins to thicken. Remove from the stove. Beat egg whites and fold into liquid mixture. Add the Eagle Brand milk and vanilla. Cool.

Pour mixture into 1 1/2 gallon size freezer and finish filling with milk.

35 Boys Attend Annual 4H Camp

About 35 boys from Farmer County and seven men gathered at the county courthouse Monday morning to load equipment before leaving on their trip to Holy Ghost Canyon, where the annual 4-H camp is held.

The boys were all 4-H members and each was looking forward to a week filled with fun and work at the camp. Recreation activities at the camp are numerous. Swimming, horseback riding, fishing, hiking and camping out are included.

Each boy furnished his own bed roll and food, and had to help with part of the cooking and cleaning up.

The four day trip began about 8:30 Monday morning and boys will return home today (Thursday).

Sponsors for the group were Dee Chitwood, Walt Mabry, James Mabry, Alvin Mace, Frank Doshier Jr., Alton Pruitt and Joe Jones, county agricultural agent.

Friona had the largest number of boys going to camp with a total of 16. Farwell had 15, Lazbuddie, 8, and Bovina, 3.

Sales of farmland financed by land contract, a device which bypasses credit institutions as a party to the sale, have about doubled since 1946, says A. B. Wooten, extension economist.

Fertilizer applied in one year can result in additional profits at the end of the following crop year. Increased yields from carryover fertilizer can often pay for the original cost of the fertilizer, says W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist.

Homemakers may obtain from the local home demonstration agent a copy of a new Texas Agricultural Extension Service publication, MP-342, "Manage Your Time and Energy."

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

Wednesday, August 5th was the date for Congressional consideration of a so called labor reform bill in Washington. We think there have been a number of letters from individuals in the county urging opposition to passage of this bill in the hopes that one worth something may be substituted. We know that American Farm Bureau Legislative people are working to the end of getting a bill passed that will incorporate the following points considered necessary for any improvement in the situation:

1. Labor Bill of Rights.
2. Prohibiting of organization and recognition picketing.
3. Strengthening law relating to secondary boycotts, and
4. Giving more authority to states to deal with unfair labor practices.

Without these provisions, Farm Bureau says any labor reform legislation is reform in name only, and of no effect. So far as could be ascertained, Congressman Walter Rogers was already lined up on the farmers side of this question. Some other Texas Congressmen were apparently for the bill as it came out of the House Labor Committee.

The Texas Legislature finally came up with passage of a tax bill that will provide funds for the next two years of operation if inflation doesn't continue at a pace greater than expected and hoped for. So far as we can see, most of the items being taxed for the increase funds will suit most of the citizens who will contribute directly to them. We are not sure about the one on air conditioners and hotel occupancy, and we think the liquor lobby was able to get away with murder in the small increase placed on these industries which contribute nothing to the economy or welfare of any place.

Also on the state level, Farm Bureau is attempting to get SB 16, by Rogers and Moffett, passed. This bill would exempt farm trailers and semi trailers from registration up to a gross weight of 10,000 pounds when used by a farmer hauling his own products to market, storage, process or distribution. It also provides that such trailers owned by cotton gins and grain elevators used by farmers without pay to such gin or elevators should also be exempt up to the gross weight of 10,000 pounds. Representative Bates and Farm Bureau contacted the governor last Thursday urging his favorable consideration of this bill.

CONSIDER THIS: Open rebuke is better than secret love. Proverbs 27:5.

At a number of cotton gins in Texas last year, growers increased their income from cotton by cooperating with the ginner in a seed cotton grouping program. Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton specialist, says a moisture meter was used to determine moisture content of the seed cotton in the trailers. The trailers were then grouped on the gin lot according to moisture and trash content or method of harvesting. This enabled the ginner to adjust drying equipment and machinery for the groupings. The result a better ginning job.

Egg producers and handlers may expand their outlets and volume of sales if they meet the demands of many buyers for wholesalers, local chain and independent stores and national supermarket chain stores, says F. Z. Beanblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist. Generally, he says, these buyers are asking for the things that will satisfy their customers and give the greatest possible chance for repeat sales.

Fertilizer Tests Show Value Of Soil Testing

In eight fertilizer demonstrations conducted on cotton in Hockley County in 1958, soil tests closely predicted the most profitable rate to use in all but one case, said W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist.

Prior to establishing the demonstrations, Bill Taylor, Hockley county agricultural agent, sampled the demonstration sites. The samples were then tested by the A & M College Soil Testing Laboratory and fertilizer recommendations were made. These recommendations were then compared to the actual results of the demonstration, said Bennett. On one farm the soil test showed that a 50-60-0 fertilizer was needed. The highest profit rate on this farm proved to be 45-60-0. On another farm the recommendations called for a 50-60-0 fertilizer. The highest profit rate here proved to be a 50-60-0. Results on two farms showed that a rate higher than recommended by the soil test was the most profitable, but the soil test rate was the second highest profit rate. Only on one farm did the soil tests not closely predict need. In this demonstration, there was no profitable response to any fertilizer application. Bennett points out that there are many factors that affect crop yields which a laboratory cannot analyze. But a farmer can put a soil test recommendation together with these factors.

4-H Girls Take Camping Trip

A group of girls from Parmer County, accompanied by several mothers and Miss Jimmie Lou Wainscott, home demonstration agent, left Farwell Wednesday for Ruidoso for their annual summer 4-H encampment.

After checking in at a lodge, the girls enjoyed shopping in Ruidoso and closed the evening with a skating party.

Thursday morning, the group went for a horseback ride in the mountains and after lunch, they enjoyed wading in a mountain brook. Later, several of the girls rode the ski ride on the mountains and for the evening meal, the group had a wiener roast and campfire in the mountains.

Friday morning, the girls checked out and traveled to Lincoln where they saw the Lincoln County General Store and courthouse. They also toured the Lincoln Fort, where the Lincoln County Indian War was fought.

After visiting in Lincoln, they drove to Roswell where they went for a swim in the Bottomless Lakes Park. A tour of the park area concluded activities for the trip, and the girls arrived home about 8:30 Friday night.

During the trip, each girl was responsible for helping with the cooking for two meals.

Those going were Vicki Moss, Dianne Lovelace, Charlotte Seaton, Edith Ann Walling, Pat Chitwood, Susie Blair, Mary and Martha Coffey, Marilyn Wallace, Jenny Lynn Steinbock, Peggy Martin, Judy Billingsley, Teresa Quickel, Terry Sue Mabry, Susie Carmichael, Teresa Seaton, and Sherry Dean.

Sponsors for the group were Mesdames Jimmie Seaton, Dee Chitwood, Leon Billingsley, Dorothy Quickel, and James Mabry. Also Miss Jimmie Wainscott, home demonstration agent, and her sister, Miss Melva Wainscott.

One may smile and smile and be a villain still.--Shakespeare.

...paired for pleasant living!

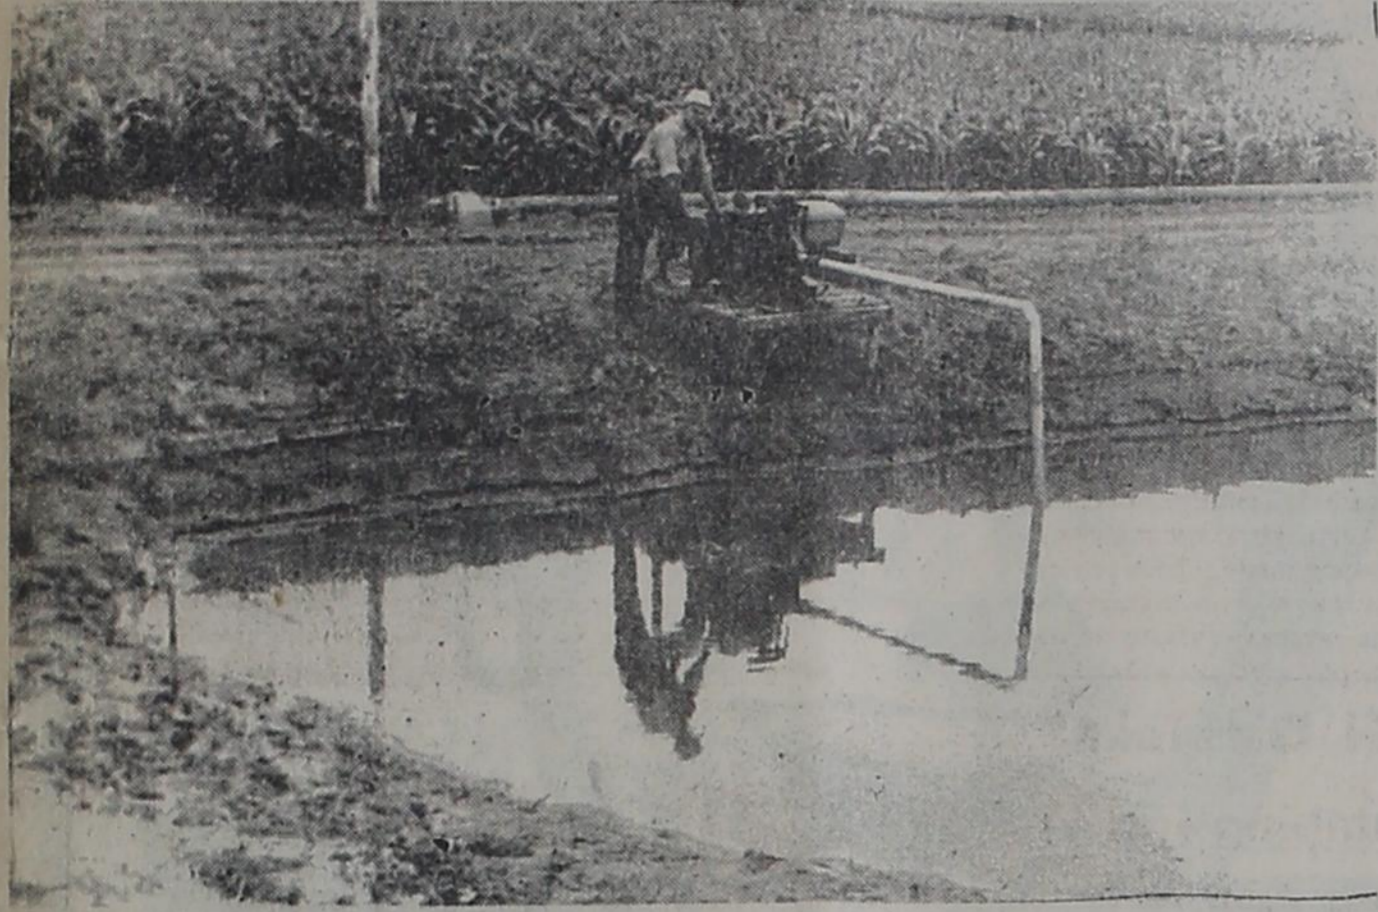

Like apple pie and ice cream an electric dishwasher and electric water heater go together. Your dishwasher does the dishes "on the double" - you're out of the kitchen in half the time. And you break fewer dishes, keep your hands lovelier, and keep those dirty dishes out of sight - in the dishwasher - between loads. Plenty of hot water is what your dishwasher wants - and gets - from an electric water heater. You can put that electric water heater right where you want it - where you use the most hot water - because it has no vents - no flues. Yes, the electric dishwasher and water heater go together. Try one now - add the other later. You'll like them both.

ATTENTION, HUSBANDS
Wouldn't you spend 1 1/2 a day to give your wife lovely hands? Of course you would - especially if you could get the dishes done for that price, too. You can! And electric water heating is inexpensive, too, with a big bargain rate.

A. L. Reznik Believes In Saving "Tail Water"

WATER SAVER--This is the system A. J. Reznick, whose farm is north of Friona, has installed to save "tail water" on a half section of his farm. Water is caught in the pit and pumped across the road into an underground tile system.

enough to cause enforcement of "no-tail-water" regulations. "This water supply may not be here someday if we don't take care of it," he says.

Not only does Reznik conserve water by catching it in the pit and then putting it on the 14 acre plot, but topsoil in the water makes crops getting the "second-hand water" produce more. "This block, (the 14 acres) cuts more grain than the one next to it since it started getting the "tail water," Reznik says.

Reznik believes each farmer has to be his own experiment station to a certain extent. This is one experiment that has proven it is beneficial to him and the area.

Reznik isn't sure conserving "tail water" saves or makes him any money but he believes in conservation and this practice conserves both water and topsoil.

He has a gravity system that waters another small plot with "waste water." But this came without much effort and he is reluctant to take credit for it.

Regulations of the High Plains Underwater Conservation District forbid habitual and willful waste of irrigation water, both for health and conservation reasons. Reznik believes in them and is for their enforcement.

The sight of irrigation water running down a ditch to a depression, low place or lake appeals A. L. Reznik, who farms northwest of Friona, and he is taking steps to see that it doesn't happen on his place.

"Water is precious and should be cared for accordingly," says Reznik. He has dug a pit and outfitted a small pump to catch the "tail water" from nearly half a section. With this water, that would otherwise be wasted, Reznik irrigates a 14 acre block.

To Reznik this is just a start on an experiment. "I plan to install an automatic switch on the pump so it will start when water in the pit reaches a certain level." The pump is powered by a 14 horse-power gasoline engine that has to be started and stopped by hand. The pit is five feet deep.

"There are still some bugs in my setup but I will keep trying to get them out as I learn more," Reznik says.

The Reznik farm is not free of wasted water. "We still waste some water on the north half, but it would be too expensive to remedy that without the water board forcing me to," he confesses.

Reznik believes the water board may soon force all farmers in the High Plains Underwater Conservation District to eliminate "tail water." He believes wasted water that runs off fields and becomes stagnant in a pool or lake creates such a health hazard that action will have to be taken to control it soon.

In addition to health hazards, Reznik also thinks the amount of water wasted is significant Cold meats are good stand-bys for summer meals and snacks . . . Economical, easy to prepare and nutritious, they make tasty main dishes, hearty sandwiches and add body to summer salads, according to extension foods and nutrition specialists. With more than a hundred different varieties available, you'll find a good selection at your favorite food store.

Meat and other protein foods are needed in summer just as well as in other seasons. Cold cuts compare favorably in nutritive value with fresh meats, according to the specialists. They supply the same high quality protein, B vitamins and minerals. Ready-to-eat, these meats save fuss and bother of preparation and fuel. Every ounce is edible and a pound will serve from four to six people. All processed meats, including cold cuts, are closely inspected by the United States Department of Agriculture for wholesomeness and proper labeling. Cold cuts should be properly refrigerated like other meats, and should not be held too long before they are used.

Question often asked is "can chicken go from freezer to frying pan or broiling rack without thawing--and cook successfully?"

Extension foods and nutrition specialists say it's best to thaw first if you are going to fry or broil the chicken. Otherwise, it's difficult to get a brown crust on the pieces. For stewing, the cut-up pieces can go into the water while still hard-frozen. This information is based on research done at the New York State Experiment Station.

For roasting, it's best to thaw completely before cooking. Otherwise, the outside may be overdone and dry by the time the inside meat is done.

All this adds up to the fact that it pays to get the chicken out of the freezer and into the refrigerator a day ahead to be sure it's completely thawed before cooking.

This reminder--allow poultry to thaw in the original package. The skin of an uncovered bird becomes tough and dry when exposed to the air during the thawing process.

Homemakers are sometimes puzzled over causes for improper jelling, sugar crystallization, "weeping" and cloudiness in homemade jellies.

Extension foods and nutrition specialists of Texas A&M College list some of the following causes for such problems.

Sugar crystallization may be caused by an excess of sugar, insufficient acid, overcooking or delay in sealing.

"Weeping" results when the juice used is too high in acid content.

Cloudiness may be caused by imperfect straining, or by starch in underripe fruit--often found in apple and crabapple jelly.

Failure to form jelly is due to an improper balance of pectin, sugar and acid. According to the specialists this improper balance may be caused by overcooking or undercooking the jelly, by undercooking the fruit in extracting the juice, using too much water in extracting the juice or using fruit which is too ripe.

Mold or fermentation of jelly may be caused by storage in warm or damp places, failure to sterilize glasses, imperfect sealing with paraffin, or not enough sugar.

Make sure of good results in jelly making by following recommended methods. Get a copy of extension bulletin, MP-279, from your local home demonstration agent. It gives directions and recipes for a variety of jellies, jams, preserves, marmalades and fruit butters.

Are you enjoying life? If not, then perhaps a check-up is in order, says Lucille Moore, Extension recreation specialist.

First off, what about your health? . . . If you don't feel tip-top, check your living habits. What about food, the source of your energy? . . . Are you eating three well-balanced meals each day? . . . How about sleep? . . . Are you getting eight hours of rest at night? . . . Have you had a medical check-up this year? What about recreation? . . . You need time for something without any "musts" in it.

According to the specialist, every man, woman and child needs some family recreation, some neighborhood recreation, and some individual recreation. For happier living, develop more interests outside your job.

Summer may call for a "fresh-up" paint job for kitchen or bathroom walls or woodwork. The right paint will make your job a great deal easier and more satisfactory, remind Charlotte Tompkins, extension home furnishings specialist.

Paints today flow on smoothly and dry quickly. They are designed for specific purposes, for ease of maintenance and years of lasting attractiveness.

Some paints are even resistant to heat. For areas where moisture is present much of the time, such as bath and kitchen, an alkyd semi-gloss or alkyd gloss enamel is recommended. Both of these are designed to resist moisture and abrasion so they can be scrubbed.

Color is no problem since the new paints come in many tints and shades. For areas where white is desired, there are non-yellowing white alkyd flat, semi-gloss and gloss enamels available.

There is one thing about paint that hasn't changed. That's the fact that it must be applied to a clean, smooth surface for best results. If you plan to paint over old paint, examine it closely. If it is not chipped, you can wash it down with a solvent before applying your new coat.

Fred Danforths Return From Western Tour

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Danforth, Hap and D'rene accompanied by Mrs. Danforth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Rogers from Morton, returned Saturday from an extended tour of the western United States. The trip started with a stop over in Colorado Springs, then on to Yellow Stone National Park. They toured Montana, Idaho, and Nevada before going to California. While in San Francisco, they went sight seeing in China Town and took a boat trip around Alcatraz island. After visiting in San Francisco, they went to Los Angeles, then on to Grand Canyon before returning home.

A loving heart is the truest wisdom.--Dickens.

By PAT

After traveling 4100 miles in New Mexico, Arizona, California, Oregon, Nevada, Utah, and Colorado we have decided there is no place like home. I am of the opinion that everyone should get away from the daily grind at least once during the year; you just naturally appreciate it more when you get back. And there is nothing like a camping out trip in the desert with the thermometer hitting 110, out of ice, and your sleeping bag in an ant hill. If hell ever fills up there is plenty of land left in the United States that will do for a start until another one is dug. Actually the beauty of the desert is fascinating and it is a wonder that the pioneers of the west had the courage to tackle it in a covered wagon. In the lower part of California, just west of El Centro, there is a portion of desert that in our imagination is very similar to the Syrian Desert. We expected to see a camel cavern and a motley crew of desert nomads at any moment, but no such luck. But it wasn't all desert and we followed Highway 101 up the coast of California from San Diego to north of San Francisco. This leads through the Big Sur country that appeared recently in Life Magazine, rugged and beautifully wild.

If you have a taste for sport we would recommend a few evenings of driving on the freeway in Los Angeles. For an 'ol country boy there is nothing like four lanes of traffic going in one direction at 70 miles an hour and just enough space between cars to let the breeze through. It's our c'nion that no one works in Los Angeles; they are all on the free way going or coming from Disneyland or the beach. Will tell you more next week, don't forget to tune in.

JUST EXACTLY WHAT IS A BANK?

A Bank Is Technically A Repository For Money. It Is A Chartered And Incorporated Institution Established To Receive And Safeguard Money... To Invest That Money... And To Act As Agent In The Transfer Of Funds From One Source To Another.

It is, in a sense, not unlike a department store. But instead of dealing in commodities a bank deals in money.

To facilitate its money transactions, your bank divides itself into many departments---with each department responsible for a specific kind of financial transaction.

Your bank has many such departments, falling into general categories of savings and checking accounts, loans, and specialized departments which offer such services as travelers checks, drafts, checking and savings accounts, and safe deposit boxes.

WHAT IS A BANK?

To a community, it's a partner in progress and stability; to business it's a partner in growth and expansion, and to a housewife, it's a partner in convenience and money management.

Your own definition of a bank depends on how you use your bank. But whatever your definition, you can look on this bank primarily as a good friend.

Uncle Ray's Free (Hot) Air

Seems like here lately that nearly every year the bugs, worms, and what-have-you start to eat and chew and ruin our trees, shrubbery, and grass which we have so beautifully in these parts.

Needless to say this is discouraging and has a tendency to kill all your enthusiasm for trying to have as pretty a home as that green thumber who lives next door.

But, wait, don't give up; we have the stuff to rid your place of those destructive pests. Come in and talk to us about it. Right away.

Also, we have the "dope" to get rid of those flies and mosquitoes. Come in soon. Don't run away! See Ray!
