Auxiliary Organized, Constitution Adopted

Auxiliary
Officers

Officers for the newly organized Farwell Convalescent Center Auxiliary were elected at the group's first meeting Monday afternoon. The officers include, from left, seated: Carrie Christian, first vice-president; Mrs. W.N. Foster, president; Ysleta Kittrell, second vice-president; standing: Ann Liethen, secretary-treasurer; Roene Stewart, historian-reporter; and Martha Curtis, corresponding secretary.

An auxiliary for the Farwell Convalescent Center was organized at a meeting of interested persons Monday afternoon. The group elected officers and adopted a constitution and by-laws. About 20 persons were on hand for the organizational meeting and many others have expressed a desire to belong to the auxiliary.

The six women elected officers of the auxiliary are Gertrude Foster, president; Carrie Christian, first vice-president; Ysleta Kittrell, second vice-president; Ann Liethen, secretary-treasurer; Roene Stewart, historian-reporter; and Martha Curtis, corresponding secretary.

In order to provide orientation for the charter members and to finalize plans for the auxiliary, another meeting has been slated for today (Friday) at 2 p.m. in the dining room of the Center.

Carrie Anderson opened the meeting by introducing Dora Nittler, center administrator, and Floe Copeland, activities director. Mrs. Nittler praised all those who were present and said she really appreciated all the efforts being made on behalf of the Center.

Mrs. Copeland spoke briefly outlining some of the functions of the auxiliary. She explained that volunteers could help out with office work, activities, arts and crafts, and exercise programs. She also said that many residents are bedridden and need someone to read to them and sometimes just to sit and visit with them. The activities director explained that many residents can only be reached by reading to them or going over a family picture album with them.

Mrs. Copeland added that help is also needed during mealtimes, especially at noon. She said someone is needed to stay in the dining area and help the residents get the things they need. The activities director also pointed out that many residents need to be brought to the dining room and then have to be returned to their rooms.

"Kitchen help is also needed," added Mrs. Copeland. "Carrying trays and dishes etc. and of course, the inevitable clean up that follows are other areas that also need volunteers," she explained.

Mrs. Copeland also pointed out that sewing and quilting activities could be carried out if enough volunteers are available to assist the residents in these endeavors.

After the brief description of the functions of auxiliary members, Mrs. Anderson went over the by-laws which were accepted by those present. It was decided to charge dues of $5 per year to help defray the cost of supplying things for the residents. "For instance," Mrs. Anderson explained, "when we shampoo their hair or teach them how to knit we want to be able to provide the shampoo and the yarn." Another fee of $2 will be charged for the name tag which must be worn by all on duty" auxiliary members.

According to the by-laws, members of the auxiliary will be of three types. The honorary members will simply support the organization by paying dues and will not be expected to do any volunteer work. The active members will pay dues and will also provide the bulwark of the volunteer work. If they are unable to work their shift they would then contact an associate member who pays dues and works part time or whenever needed.

Mrs. Copeland also pointed out that members will need to wear a smock top blouse with large pockets when on duty. She explained that this will enable residents to quickly learn who the auxiliary members are. "They do not always remember faces or names, but the color of the uniform will quickly register and the resident will know to whom they turn to for assistance," she added.

A committee consisting of Mrs. Anderson and Maxine Williams was appointed to

A.W. Gober Elected President Of Board

Webb Gober of Farwell was recently re-elected to the Board of Directors of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1. He represents District Director's Precinct Three, which includes Bailey, Castro and Farmer counties. Gober was sworn in as a Director January 24, by Judge Robert Wright of the 137th District Court in Lubbock, and was elected President of the Board by his fellow Board members. He has previously served as Vice-President and Secretary-Treasurer of the District's Board of Directors.

Gober and his wife, the former Irene Sachs, live nine miles northeast of Farwell and farm 480 acres of corn, wheat, grain sorghum and a little milo. All the acreage is under irrigation.

Born in 1918 in Frederick, Okla., Gober moved to the Farwell area in 1925 with his parents.

Following his graduation from high school, Gober attended Texas Tech for three years as an agricultural education major, before joining the U.S. Navy, in which he served as a Naval officer for three years during World War II.

He and Mrs. Gober were married in 1942, in Savannah, Ga., during his Navy tour.

He began farming on his own in 1946, and since then has served on several advisory boards and committees. He was County Committeeman for the District from Farmer County for seven years, before his election, in 1973, to the District's Board of Directors. In March, 1976, he was elected to a three-year term on the Irrigation Panel for the Texas Water Conservation Association (TWCA) and in that capacity, serves as a member of the TWCA Board of Directors.

Gober and his wife are the parents of three sons and a daughter. The eldest, Jerald, received his master's degree from Texas Tech, and is employed by an insurance firm in Hartford, Conn. Another son, Dale, a Texas Tech agricultural engineering graduate, farms near his parents. The youngest son, Alan, is a Texas Tech graduate, and currently lives in Lubbock. Kathryn, the Gober's only daughter, is a Texas Tech senior, majoring in elementary education.

As a District Director, Gober particularly enjoys the association with other people in the "water business" and with the residents of the District; but says he dislikes being considered a "policeman" for the District.

He is opposed to state or federal regulation of ground water, stating, "We know our problems better than people from the outside, and are better qualified to find our own solutions." He praised District employees and other Board members, saying, "We have very competent people working for the District."

Gober believes the aims of the District in the areas of water conservation can be best accomplished through public education, and feels that the high schools are an excellent training ground for water conservation practices.

Although he does not foresee an immediate critical energy situation for farmers in the District, he does feel that eventually energy costs will be part of the solution for area water conservation problems. Costs of pumping will be eventually so great that they may outstrip the advantages of irrigation.

He does foresee additional natural gas curtailments, but Judge Robert Wright of the 137th District Court in Lubbock, left, swears in Gober and Ray Gerk of Hereford as members of the District's Board of Directors in ceremonies January 24 in Lubbock. Gober is serving his third term on the Board and Gerk, his first.

Filing Deadline March 2 - -

Farwell City Council Calls Local Election

In a regular session Monday night, Farwell City Council called a city election, appointed election judges, and discussed repairs to the city hall building.

As the terms of Mayor Gil Patschke and Commissioners Fred Chandler and Ralph Franse are almost up it was necessary for the city election to be called in order to elect a new city governing body. The election is slated for April 2 and the deadline for filing applications is March 2. Any one interested in either of the three offices should contact City Clerk Janie Bowery at the city hall.

Kay Hagler will serve as presiding judge for the election and alternate presiding judge is Wanda Walker.

Another item on the agenda was discussion of repairs to city hall. Mayor Patschke reported that he had sent for a brochure from a company in Ft. Scott, Kan., which specializes in renovating old buildings; however, he added that he had not yet heard anything from the company. He also said that no work could be done until spring as the cold temperatures would prevent work done on the walls from properly drying and sealing.

Mrs. Bowery reported that the firm in Clovis which had been contacted about the repairs informed the city that they do not do any type plaster work. Another Clovis firm is to be contacted later and it is hoped that they will be able to give an estimate of the needed repairs.

Another item discussed was the installing of a sewer line in city blocks 26 and 33. Dee Hammit reported that Harry Sheets presented an estimate of about $3.50 per foot for the 700 feet work. After a brief discussion the Council decided to okay the project.

City Marshal Ronnie Mitchell reported on the "operation identification" project which the Farmer County 4-H Club plans to undertake in the future. The project calls for using special engravers to mark personal property. He suggested that the city purchase two of the engravers at a total cost of about $40. He said the engravers would aid the local 4-H members in their endeavor, adding that the devices could always be kept by the city for year-around identification of personal property.

The Council okayed the purchase of the two engravers. Mitchell said all the details of the project had not been worked out as yet, adding that the base of operation and the time had not been established. He also reported that some of the 4-H members would travel to individual homes to mark large objects such as console television sets, etc.

Mitchell also called another problem to the attention of the Council. He said he has been noticing that more and more out-of-town people are coming into the area seeking donations, etc. and they do not have a city permit to be working in the area. The city marshal suggested that when a non-resident solicitor comes to the door of a Farwell resident they have the right to ask to see their city permit. If they cannot produce the permit Mitchell said he should be notified. The Council agreed with Mitchell's suggestion.

Mitchell explained that the reason for this "get tough" policy was to separate the "con men" from legitimate people who are soliciting donations for a good cause.

Attending Monday's meeting were Mayor Patschke, commissioners Chandler and Franse, and city employees Hammit, Mitchell, Mrs. Bowery, and Doug Landrum.

Herman Geries Elected To School Board

Herman Geries, who ran unopposed, was elected to the Texico School Board Tuesday. Only 33 persons went to the polls to cast their ballot. No absentee votes were cast.

Geries replaces David Turner whose term had expired. Election officials included Mesdames Lonnie Tharp, J.D. Kelley and John Hadley, judges; and Mesdames Morgan Billington and Stanton Thigpen, clerks. Mrs. Elmore Hendrix was selected as alternate.

Mrs. Tharp characterized the voter turnout as "slow and poor." She added that it was the "lightest she had ever seen."

Two Cases Heard

Two cases were heard last week in the district court of Judge Pat Boone, Jr.

The cases which were tried by a jury were Western National Bank v. Bobby Lawrence Hix, M. Ken Morrison and Alvin C. Morrison, rescission of deed; and Bruce Parr v. Charles Bass, breach of cattle pasturage contract.

According to Judge Boone, judgements in the two cases will be rendered at a later date.

County Committeemen Elected

Twenty-two County Committeemen, three from each of the seven counties in District Director's Precincts Three and Four were chosen in the election January 15. A fourth County Committeeman was elected in Armstrong County to fill a vacancy created when a former Committeeman moved from the District. They will each serve a four-year term.

Committeemen from Parmer County chosen were Dalton Caffey of Friona, Troy Christian of Farwell, and Ronald Elliott of Muleshoe.

Those from Armstrong County were Guy Watson, Bill Heisler, James Bible, and Leslie Adams, all of Wayside. Bailey County Committeemen are David Stovall, Ernest Ramm and Eugene Shaw, all of Muleshoe.

Frank Wise, Jackie Clark, and W. A. Baldrige were chosen from Castro County as Committeemen.

Deaf Smith County Committeemen are Tom Robinson, James Higgins and Garland Solomon, all of Hereford.

Elected from Potter County as Committeemen were Jim Line and Weldon Rea, both of Bushland, and Albert Nichols of Amarillo.

Randall County Committeemen selected were Jack Brandt of Canyon, Harry LeGrand of Amarillo, and Joe Albracht of Bushland.

As we put these thoughts on paper, Tuesday, we have an uneasy feeling of guilt. We feel somehow that we shouldn't be enjoying this wonderful day on the Golden Spread. Today the breezes are very minimal and the temperature is in the 60 degree range for us, while for almost uncounted millions of our fellow countrymen it is still bitterly cold.

However, we are mastering these qualms as we realize that the Spring yard chores are not far away. We took the bull by the horns two weeks ago and quickly finished one of our more difficult annual chores. This year we burned our Pampas grass instead of pruning it as we have done in year's past.

Last year we commented on this chore and were informed by Pat Rose that her garden book recommended the burning method. We were skeptical of this until we observed that Ronnie Mitchell had burned his. However, Ronnie said his was burned by accident so we kept an eyeball on his clump all year and it came on as well as any in the neighborhood.

This year we noted that Ronnie deliberately burned both of his bushes, sooo -- we went and did likewise. Well Ronnie, if you have pulled a boo boo, so have we.

In the meantime until Spring arrives we all could use a foot or so of that wet February snow. The next six weeks is one of our few prime moisture periods.

Sometimes "a touching display of Democracy at work" can cost the taxpayers of this country more than its worth. We note where little Amy Carter is going to one of the local public schools in Washington, D.C. This prompted ABC television's million dollar co-anchorperson Barbara Walters to utter the above fatuity.

The first day of school, Amy was late. The reason given was that the Secret Service had misjudged the time for the cavalcade of cars to wend its way through the morning traffic. We know that the security extended to the daughter of the President of the United States is very great indeed. This is as it should be and has to be.

A little reflection leads us to the conclusion that the cost to the taxpayers to send that child to a public school for the next four years is enough to account for our taxes and probably at least a hundred more of our readers.

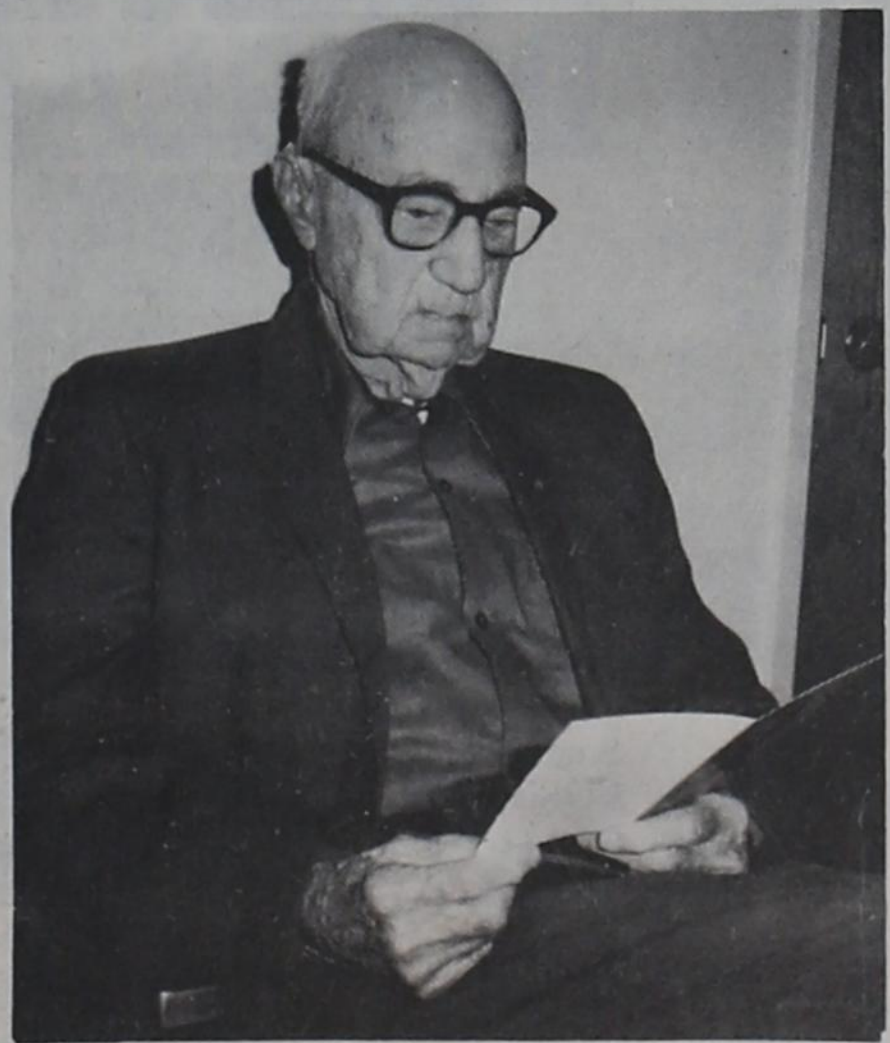

We think that the taxpayers of the country, the peace of mind of the Presidential family and the education of the child would be better served if she was either in a private school or given tutoring lessons in the White House rather than being used as a pawn for her father's political ambitions.

President Carter acted swiftly on one of his more controversial campaign promises. On his first full day as President, he issued a pardon to the Vietnam draft dodgers. By this act we do not know if he helped put this country together or further divided it. History will write a fuller answer to this act.

We do feel certain that he made it immeasurably more difficult for this country to mobilize its armed services in the event of a future war. In considering Mr. Carter's action in this instance, we refer you to this quote attributed to John Stuart Mill.

"War is an ugly thing, but not the ugliest thing. The decayed and degraded state of moral and patriotic feeling which thinks that nothing is worth a war is worse... A man who has nothing for which he is willing to fight, nothing which he cares about more than his personal safety, is a miserable creature who has no chance of being free, unless made and kept so by exertions of better men than himself."

You've probably heard about the Jesuit father who opened up a Colonel Sanders' place and became known as a Kentucky friar.

Observes 96th Birthday

W.W. Vinyard of Farwell observed his 96th birthday last Thursday. Earlier last week, he traveled to Amarillo to observe the special occasion with his niece, Martha Bogard. Two other residents of the Farwell Convalescent Center also had birthdays in January. Bobby Hix celebrated his 37th birthday and Elsie Elliott turned 88 years of age.

Auxiliary . . .

(Continued from Page 1) "look into" obtaining material for the smocks. A report is to be issued at today's meeting. Mrs. Copeland said that according to state guidelines for convalescent centers, a bright color is best for the auxiliary uniform. She said they are easier for residents to see and identify. Almost everyone present expressed a desire for a red uniform. The uniform is to consist only of the smock top. Pants of any color may be worn with the blouse.

Members were asked to list the times when they would be free to work at the Center. Several expressed the desire to wait until they could be sure when they would be available to work. It was suggested that volunteers would be needed seven days a week for the 10 a.m. until 1 p.m. shift and from the 2:30 p.m. until 5:30 p.m. shift.

Auxiliary members encourage everyone who is unable to attend to contact the Center or any one of the six officers.

Brother Dies

Fred Kaiser, 85, of Terrace Park, Ohio, died Friday, Jan. 28. He was a former resident of the Lazbuddie area and a brother of Mrs. Susie Jesko of Clovis, who is formerly a resident of Farwell. Funeral services and burial was in Terrace Park.

Survivors include his wife, Dorothy; one son, Teddy, of Milford, Ohio; one brother, Theodore Kaiser of Kansas City; and two sisters, Susie Jesko of Clovis and Katherine Priobth of Littlefield.

Gober . . .

(Continued from Page 1) says they have been more of a nuisance in the past than anything else. The energy problem in this area will eventually become critical, he adds.

He believes technology can be an effective factor in water conservation, and believes more and more farmers will go to crops with shorter growing seasons which require less water, and crops which simply require less applied irrigation.

The District is pleased to welcome back Gober, and considers that his experience and expertise as Secretary-Treasurer and as Vice-President of the Board of Directors, as well as his wide experience in the fields of water-related activities, will be an invaluable asset to the District and to the Board of Directors.

Student Of The Week At Texico School

Texico's Student of the Week for Feb. 7-Feb. 11 is Wesley Osborn, a 19-year-old senior. Wesley has been a home-bound student since he was in the fifth grade. A victim of muscular dystrophy, Wesley kept up with his studies on his own, without the assistance of a teacher, for about three years. Now, Mrs. Carolyn Gott visits Wesley in his home, about 26 miles north of Texico, on Tuesdays and Thursdays for about four hours a week to assist him with his assignments. This year, Wesley is looking forward to graduation after he completes his course work in American History, Sociology, English, Geometry and Art. Confined to a wheel chair, Wesley enjoys watching television when he isn't studying and especially enjoys attending Texico football games. After graduation, Wesley wants to take college course work at home in his favorite field of architecture. He spends spare time, now, drawing house plans. Wesley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Osborn. [Selection of "Student of the Week" made by anonymous committee.]

Portraying Area Homemakers

by Shirley Gorman

Mrs. R. Leon (Diane) Smith, who lives northwest of Pleasant Hill, is our area homemaker this week. The versatile woman is as much at home doctoring cattle as she is sewing or cooking for her family.

Mrs. Smith readily admits that while she enjoys sewing she has little time for it. She likes to cook and recently received a microwave oven as a Christmas present. Our homemaker is presently enjoying experimenting with all phases of microwave cooking.

Diane spends a lot of her time helping husband Leon with farm chores such as administering shots and vaccinations to cattle. She explained that cattle transported from one location to another usually pick up "shipping fever" and have to be treated for it upon arrival at the new destination. She is "good at handling cattle" and considers it part of the family work which needs to be done.

Our homemaker also spends much of her time looking after her two daughters, Shannon, 5, and Tina, 2. The oldest girl is attending kindergarten in Texico, but prior to her starting school, Mrs. Smith embarked on a project to teach her daughter phonics. Materials from the library in Clovis and a lot of determination helped make the endeavor a success, she says.

All the letters of the alphabet were printed on individual sheets of paper and taped to the wall of the girls' room. Asterisks marked the vowels. "We held practice sessions every day," Mrs. Smith said. "By the time Shannon was ready for kindergarten she knew her phonics and was able to read."

Another favorite pastime is riding horses, said our homemaker, but once again finding the time to do it is rare. She explained that they have a very gentle horse who is great with children. "If one of the girls is around her that horse will not move a muscle," Mrs. Smith said.

Diane is a member of the Pleasant Hill Woman's Club which meets twice a month. She says that they work on creative arts and crafts projects. She has been a member for over a year.

A future goal of our homemaker is to learn interior decorating. "I would love to take a course in it some day and then really fix up my home," she stated.

Mrs. Smith loves country living. "I know more people in the country than I did when I was living in the city and I still go to town quite often," she says. The Smiths have lived in their home for about six years. For a brief period during the early years of their marriage they lived in Clovis for about six months. "My first love is still the country and I would not trade it for anything," she said.

Our homemaker loves to care for her family and finds it very interesting and rewarding to "watch children grow and develop." She admits that her daughters are the exact opposites of each other, but that is the fun of watching them grow and change.

Busy Homemaker

Mrs. Leon (Diane) Smith keeps busy by cooking, sewing (when she has the time), looking after her two daughters, and "helping doctor cattle." All of these things occupy Diane's country life which she says she "would not trade for anything." The Smiths live on a farm northwest of Pleasant Hill. They have two daughters, Shannon, 5, and Tina, 2.

Mrs. Smith has three favorite recipes which she has consented to share with our readers.

Convalescent Center Chit Chat

As Reported by the Center Staff

Landscaping is the big outdoor project at the Farwell Convalescent Center this week with several full grown trees being planted around the building. Mrs. Floe Copeland, the activities director, reports that the residents are excited about the idea of getting out as soon as the weather is warmer. Many are looking forward to working in the flower beds.

To further the landscaping project the Texico-Farwell Boy and Girl Scouts will begin working to plant flower beds. The boys plan to till the soil Saturday and following that all the Scouts will plant flowers.

Mrs. Copeland says that anyone who is interested in helping may come by the Center Saturday morning to assist with the work. Guthals of Clovis has donated 150 tulip bulbs of different colors and varieties for the project.

The inside of the Center is also being decorated, thanks to the efforts of Gladys Hobratchek of Littlefield, who has been painting butterflies on the walls. Future painting projects are also in the works.

Frances Kube has donated beach balls and crafts supplies to the Center.

The January birthday party was hosted by the United Methodist Women of Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church of Farwell. The honorees were Bobby Hix, Elsie Elliot, and W.W. Vinyard.

February birthdays will be observed by Maude Goodie who will be 91 on the 22nd and Krista Gohlke who will be 75 on the 8th.

Mrs. Copeland invites everyone to come by and check out the February calendar of events for future happenings at the Center. One special upcoming project is the February 14 Valentine's party to be hosted by the Young Homemakers of Bovina.

Sunday afternoon worship services were conducted by Dr. Cliff Ennen, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Farwell. He also led the singing while Dora Verner played the piano. About 40 people attended. That afternoon members of the Portales Church of Christ came to sing hymns in the lobby. Leola Birchfield is a member of that church. She enjoyed a chicken dinner with her family Tuesday night.

NEWS FLASH: Nora Edens, long time Center Bingo champ, did not win a game last Thursday. The victors were Bobby Hix and Albert Kube with two games each. Mrs. Copeland reports that anyone is welcome to come on Thursday afternoons to play. She adds that small items for Bingo gifts and prizes are always needed.

Welcome to Maude Funderbuck of Plainview. Glenn Hess has been in Yuma, Ariz., to attend the funeral of a close friend.

Everyone misses Rufus Carter who has returned to his home in Farwell. But they say they enjoy his daily visits.

Mrs. Copeland reports that all were saddened by the deaths of Ralph Goodin and Bertha Johnston.

All the nurses miss Joye Myers and are anxious for her to return to work. Mrs. Myers is recuperating at home following surgery and will return to work probably by next week.

Mrs. Copeland said that two flags, a Texas and a United States flag have been received by the Center. She said that as soon as the flag pole is installed the flags will be flown daily over the Center.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Johnson and family of Hereford had lunch with Margaret Purcell Sunday. Clarence Hobratchek and Haddie Hobratchek visited the Herman Gohlkes. Mr. and Mrs. T.P. Kittrell say that there should be a law to the effect that "Whenever their kids visit them they have to bring the grandchildren."

Due to a technical difficulty there was no "easy rider" this week. The plot thickens as we wait until next week to see who the lucky resident is.

All Center staffers are happy at the turnout for the recent organizational meeting of the Auxiliary and they are eagerly awaiting the day when auxiliary members in their bright red smocks will be working at the Center.

This week the spotlight is on Ruth Myers, 95. She was born in Athens, Henderson County, Tex., November 22, 1881. She married Charles Myers in 1901. She has lived most of her life around Sweetwater. Mrs. Myers moved to Farwell when the Center opened in August and was one of the first residents to move in.

She has had a busy life rearing 10 children, six of whom are still living. They are Faye Wright of Batesville, Ark.; Betty Griffin of Colorado; Clara Moore of Farmington, N.M.; Ernest Myers of Omak, Wash.; Audie Myers of Las Lunas, N.M.; and Rufus Myers of Albuquerque. She has 32 grandchildren and several great-grandchildren.

Past hobbies include crocheting, canning, sewing and quilting. Now she enjoys reading and writing and receiving letters from her family. Recently Mrs. Myers read "Gone With The Wind" and calls it her favorite book. She also loves plants and cannot wait to start to work in the flower beds.

Mrs. Myers is a favorite resident because she is "sweet and pleasant" all the time. Her advice to the younger generation is to "mind their own business."

In Czechoslovakia a girl tells her fortune by putting a cherry twig in water on Dec. 4. If it blossoms before Christmas Eve, she will marry sometime that year, World Book Encyclopedia explains.

Vicki Gaspard, Mark Haseloff Exchange Wedding Vows

Vicki Lynn Gaspard of Port Neches, Tex., and Mark Alan Haseloff of Farwell were united in marriage January 15 at the Immanuel Lutheran Church in Clovis. The Rev. Norman Gardels officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edon Gaspard of Port Neches, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Haseloff of Farwell.

The couple exchanged vows before a setting consisting of two large bouquets on each side of the altar. A single candle and floral ring was placed at each window.

Wedding music was provided by Ray Franz, organist, and Carol Johnson, soloist, who sang "Colour My World" and "We Are One In The Spirit."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of pale ivory organza accented with Nottingham and Venise laces and pearls. The fitted bodice featured a high lace collar, sheer yolk trimmed with Nottingham lace, and motifs of Venise lace scattered at the yolk. Seed pearls were embroidered on the lace yoke. The gown featured full length bishop sleeves of sheer fabric falling to ruffled lace cuffs. From the fitted natural waistline the full skirt fell to slipper length in front. Motifs of matching Venise lace were applied across the front of the gown. A soft ruffle at the neckline which extended to follow the lines of the full chapel train. For her headpiece the bride chose a flat band of Nottingham lace. The waltz length tier of imported illusion was bordered with Nottingham lace. She carried a cascade of apricot carnations, apricot roses, stephanotis and baby's breath.

Following tradition, the bridal gown was something new; something old was a penny; her earrings were borrowed from her maid of honor; and she wore the traditional blue garter.

Serving as maid of honor was RexAnne McKee of Garland, Tex. Bridesmaids were Barbara Colliflower and Sissie Echols, both of Clovis.

The bridal attendants wore full length gowns of tangerine India cloth with an overlay of ivory cluny lace. The gowns, styled with Victorian style sleeves and neckline, featured deep flounced apron skirts with hems outlined in beige braid. They carried colonial style bouquets of apricot carnations, apricot roses and baby's breath.

The bridegroom wore an ivory colored tuxedo trimmed with brown. Best man was Joe Haseloff of Farwell, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were Winfred Long, Kent Gast, Gene Christian, Thad Phillips and Charles Christian, all of Farwell. All the male attendants wore brown tuxedos with ivory shirts.

The reception followed at the Holiday Inn in Clovis. Members of the houseparty included Kathy Zavoina of Dallas; Sheryl Foster of Gonzales, La., and Pam Nelson of Garland, both sisters of the bride; Joy Hailey of Clovis, Cary and Kim Marsh of Farwell, step-sisters of the bridegroom, and Lori Grant of Clovis.

After a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N.M., the couple is at home near Farwell. Haseloff is employed by an area spraying service.

Local Couples Enjoy Caribbean Cruise

Several Twin Cities' couples recently completed a long cruise in the Caribbean. Participating in the locally-sponsored tour were Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Curry, Mr. and Mrs. Dub Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Sharp, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Walls, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bourlon, all of Texico, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Christian and Charles of Farwell.

The local people traveled by plane from Amarillo to Miami before going on to the Caribbean. Once there they sailed from island to island on board the T.S.S. Mardi Gras. Some of the islands the couples visited were St. Thomas, St. John and St. Juan, St. Croix and St. Maarten. They also visited Nassau for one day.

Mrs. Christian said they were at sea for two days and three nights.

It was a thrilling and very different experience for all the local couples, they say, with many of them on their first cruise.

Mrs. Christian commented that the scenic beauty of the islands was astonishing, adding that the people were extremely friendly and helpful. She considered St. Juan Island and Nassau the highlights of the trip for her. The Rain Forest on St. Juan Island was similar to Hawaii, the local woman said.

She described the cruise as a "floating hotel," adding the service was excellent and the food delicious.

Mrs. Sharp remarked that she enjoyed shopping and sightseeing. She added that the people were friendly everywhere. She said the scenery was the "opposite from what we have here."

The Texico woman said she enjoyed meeting all the nice friendly people, but considered the trip too short. "There was not enough time to really visit all the places we would have liked to see," she said.

Mrs. Curry commented that the trip "certainly was different from anything we have done before." She especially enjoyed the national park on St. John's Island. They swam in the clear warm waters and were treated to a steel drum band show.

The local woman also liked the cruise, saying she enjoyed being "waited on hand and foot by the stewards."

Mrs. Howard said the beautiful beaches of St. John's Island were her favorite spots. The waters were clear and for a time the weather was sunny. However, she added that later the temperatures became chilly.

She said that they all enjoyed sightseeing and some even took advantage of the opportunity to scuba dive.

Mrs. Bourlon remarked that the experience was unusual, but said they enjoyed it very much. The islands were different and the sandy shores added to the beautiful scenery, she explained. She added that she would have like more time to investigate each island they traveled to more fully.

She cited St. Thomas as her favorite island because "there was more to do there." They rode in a glass-bottom boat and saw lots of ocean life as they sailed. On St. Croix they had the opportunity of touring a nuclear submarine, the U.S.S. Ray.

Bourlon remarked that he enjoyed meeting all the farmers of the Midwest who also took the cruise.

According to all the local couples who enjoyed the week's trip to the Caribbean "it was an experience they will not soon forget."

Steers, Steerettes Win Three Of Four

The Farwell Steers and Vega Longhorns took three overtime periods to decide the winner of the District 3-A encounter played before a large and excited crowd at Farwell last Friday night. Farwell finally managed to take the 57-52 victory over the "never say die" Longhorns who kept coming back to tie the score.

On Tuesday night the Steers pounded out a 69-52 win over the Bovina Mustangs in another district game played at Bovina.

The Steerettes have split games in their last two outings, falling to Vega, 66-55, last Friday night, but came back Tuesday night to take a 66-58 decision over their Bovina counterparts.

The Steers maintained a marginal lead over their Vega opponents Friday night throughout three quarters of play, but as the final buzzer sounded the two teams were deadlocked at 44-all. During the next two overtime periods the teams were still deadlocked at 46-all and 50-all. Finally, during the last overtime period the boys in Blue and White edged ahead, 57-52, to take the win.

Wells Measured For Underground Water Levels

Approximately 3,150 observation wells in 65 Texas counties in the High Plains, South and West Texas are being measured for annual underground water levels in January, announced James M. Rose, executive director of the Texas Water Development Board (TWDB), the state agency responsible for the program.

"The project is a cooperative effort of the Water Development Board, High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 2, Panhandle Underground Water Conservation District No. 3, City of El Paso, U.S. Geological Survey, and the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation," Rose explained.

"Measurement of these wells is one of the oldest legislative responsibilities of the Water Development Board," Rose emphasized. "Included in the study are the Ogallala Aquifer in the High Plains; the Garrizo-Wilcox, Edwards, Trinity and Glen Rose Aquifers in South Texas; and the water levels in the thick Bolson deposits in West Texas.

"After the data is collected by the different monitoring agencies, the information will be compiled and entered into the Texas Natural Resources Information System (TNRIS) data bank. This information then will be accessible to numerous state and federal agencies who use the data bank," Rose continued.

Texas Water Development Board field data team No. 1, stationed in Amarillo, is measuring wells in Dallam, Oldham, Hemphill and Roberts Counties plus parts of Deaf Smith and Randall Counties. A TWDB staff team organized for the readings will monitor wells in Borden, Briscoe, Dawson, Gaines, Garza, Swisher, Terry, and Yoakum Counties and parts of Cochran, Crosby, Hale and Lynn Counties.

Approximately 1,450 of the wells will be measured by personnel of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 in Lubbock, the North Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 2 in Dumas and the Panhandle Underground Water Conservation District No. 3 in White Deer.

Counties being monitored by the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 are: Armstrong, Bailey, Castro, Floyd, Hockley, Lamb, Lubbock, Parmer and Potter and parts of Cochran, Crosby, Hale, Lynn, Randall, and Deaf Smith Counties.

Personnel of the North Plains Water Conservation District No. 2 are monitoring wells in that district in Hansford, Hartley, Hutchinson, Lipscomb, Moore, Ochiltree and Sherman Counties. Carson and Gray Counties are being measured by the Panhandle Underground Water Conservation District No. 3.

South Texas observation

wells are being monitored by TWDB field data team No. 4, stationed in San Antonio, including wells in the counties of: Atascosa, Bandera, Bexar, Blanco, Caldwell, Comal, Dimmit, Frio, Gonzales, Guadalupe, Hayes, Kendall, Kinney, LaSalle, Maverick, McMullen, Medina, Uvalde, Webb, Wilson, and Zavala.

Approximately 500 of the observation wells being measured are found west of the Pecos River and are being monitored by a cooperative team composed of TWDB field data team No. 3, stationed in El Paso, the City of El Paso, U.S. Geological Survey, and U.S. Bureau of Reclamation. Brewster, Culberson, Hudspeth, Jeff Davis, Pecos, Presidio, Reeves, and Terrell Counties are being measured by the Water Development Board, while 250 wells in El Paso County are being read by the other three participants in the program.

By John Ricci

American farmers' unique ability to combine education, technology and hard work into an unrivaled productive capacity can be as important to the future as superior military power has been to the past. This vast potential is now being threatened by an unrealistic concern over prices. By depressing the prices paid to farmers we strongly inhibit the main ingredient in the recipe for success ... the initiative to continually improve. Low farm prices encourage producers to shorten needed inputs. Poor profit margins increase instances of overworked land, lead to careless planning, create the false economy of under-working crops and turn many truly talented farmers to more profitable pursuits. What we must have is a free market stabilized by realistic support to rekindle incentive, encourage reinvestment in land and promote the planning vital to long-range production and success.

One Horse of a Hybrid

for Parmer County

If you ever cowboied for a living, you had one horse you liked best. It may not have been the prettiest or fastest but it rode easy and got the work done no matter what.

Pioneer brand 3306 is that kind of corn hybrid for a lot of farmers in this area. It's the hybrid that brought corn back to this country ten years ago and there is nothing to beat it yet for good steady production no matter the weather, insects, or disease.

NO HEAD SMUT.

In the big Texas Ag Extension Service Head Smut Test west of Dimmitt last year, they compared everything that would sprout to 3306. This included the new glamour girls that look so good ... until it gets a little dry or a little wet or the wind blows. 3306 showed no head smut. It was still standing straight up with ears firmly attached when the big judge — the combine — got there.

TAKES STRESS IN ITS STRIDE.

3306 is the most dependable corn hybrid ever grown on the High Plains. It can adjust to almost any kind of stress ... over planting, drought, extreme heat, early freeze, high winds, bugs, disease ... you name it and 3306 has been there and produced a good corn crop.

If you're not farming in a greenhouse, tell your Pioneer dealer to save you some 3306.

If you're farming big acreage, 3306 is the perfect hybrid to use with Pioneer brand 3780 and 3195 in a STAGGERED MATURITY planting program. This new Pioneer program allows you to:

- Hedge against weather problems
- Use water, labor and machinery more efficiently
- Harvest each variety at the optimum time

Your Pioneer dealer has a brochure which gives you the whole STAGGERED MATURITY story. Talk to him right away.

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE

BY CORNELIUS R. STAM, PRES. BEREAH BIBLE SOCIETY CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60635

THE SUPREME CRITIC

About 1900 years ago St. Paul wrote to Timothy with regard to the sacred Scriptures: "ALL SCRIPTURE IS GIVEN BY INSPIRATION OF GOD, AND IS PROFITABLE FOR DOCTRINE, FOR REPROOF, FOR CORRECTION, FOR INSTRUCTION IN RIGHTEOUSNESS" (II Tim. 3:16).

This truth has been confirmed by overwhelming evidence, and those who have tried, through the centuries, to overthrow the Bible have been about as successful as a man trying to overthrow the Rock of Gibraltar with a peashooter.

Furthermore, the Word of God towers above the clergy as well as the laity. The Bereans were called "noble" because they put the words of even the great Apostle Paul to the test of Scripture. That blessed Book is the Supreme Critic. If we teachers of the Word overlook vital truth, true Bereans will use THE BOOK to "teach" us. If, God forbid, we handle the Word deceitfully, they should use THE BOOK to "reprove" us. If we go astray in our conclusions they should use THE BOOK to "correct" us. If they feel we encourage careless living, they should use THE BOOK to "instruct" us in righteousness.

Well do we remember when we were first convicted by the Bible as the written Word of God - and we have never ceased to thank God for the blessed results.

This Book condemns men as sinners before a holy God, but presents salvation, free and complete, through the vicarious death of Christ for us at Calvary. "Christ died for our sins" (I Cor. 15:3). Believe it, "and thou shalt be saved" (Acts 16:31).

799 Collected - -

Cereal Box Tops Still Needed

Farwell Jaycee Donald Jones reports that the Post Cereal box top collection campaign is "still going strong." According to him, 799 box tops have been collected thus far, adding that the ideal situation is to "collect as many as possible" in order to obtain the best playground equipment.

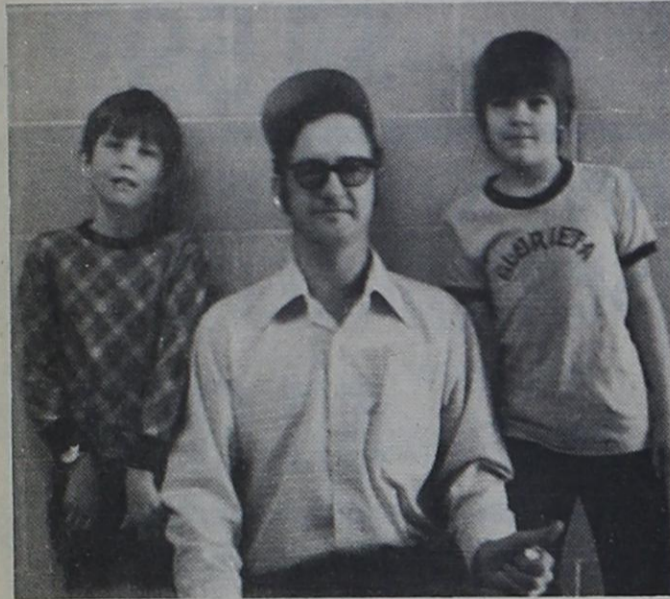

The Jaycees began sponsoring the project several months ago in order to secure some playground equipment for the local grade school.

Jones said that special prizes have been awarded each month since the contest began. January winners included Ursula Dollar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Dollar, who turned in 50 box tops, and Jody Ketcherside, son of Mrs. Rhonda Ketcherside, whose name was drawn from a list of all the children who brought in box tops last month. Each winner received five silver dollars. Both children are second grade students.

The local Jaycee said that the prizes this month will be awarded to the student who collects the most box tops and to the classroom which brings in the most box tops.

Jones said that the contest will conclude at the end of next month. He urges all interested persons to turn their box tops into the local grade school or give them to any grade school student.

Box Top Collectors

Farwell Jaycees have been sponsoring a cereal box top collection contest in order to obtain playground equipment for Farwell Schools. Ursula Dollar, right, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Dollar, received five silver dollars for collecting the most box tops last month. The other winner and recipient of five silver dollars was Jody Ketcherside, left, son of Mrs. Rhonda Ketcherside. Jody's name was drawn from a container which held all the names of the children who collected box tops last month. Jaycee Donald Jones, center, is the chairman of the project. Both children are second graders.

Check Your Social Security Earnings Record Periodically

by Louis B. Prohs
Acting Branch Mgr., Clovis

When was the last time you checked your bank balance? Yesterday? Last week? When you last received your monthly bank statement?

Now, when was the last time you checked the earnings credited to your social security record? Last year? Not ever? If you're like most people you won't until you're ready to retire. And yet, its that social security record more so than the bank account that will probably be the primary source of your retirement income.

It's a good idea to check your social security record every three years to see if

Lt. R. Haseloff Receives Wings

Lt. Robert H. Haseloff graduated January 29, receiving his Silver Wings after 49 weeks of intensive jet training in the T-37 and T-38 at Vance Air Force Base, Enid, Okla.

At the banquet supper following the graduation ceremony, Lt. Haseloff was presented the Top Contact Award during the T-37 phase of flying by his flight commander.

Following three months of instructor training at Randolph AFB, San Antonio, Lt. and Mrs. Haseloff and infant daughter will be stationed at Sheppard AFB, Wichita Falls.

Those attending the graduation ceremonies included his parents and grandmother, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Haseloff and Mrs. Hope Shuman, all of Farwell.

your earnings are being correctly reported for social security purposes. This is particularly important since the law says that only under extraordinary circumstances can your record be changed after three years, three months and 15 days.

One indication of how important it is to periodically verify your social security record is in the increasing number of advertisements by people offering to do it for a fee. But you don't have to pay for that information. The law says you have a right to know what's being credited to your social security record, and social security will give you the information free of charge. All you have to do is contact your local social security office.

The earnings statement you receive will show all the earnings credited to you in the social security records, beginning with 1937. It included your wages from employment (which are regularly reported by your employers) and any self-employment which you report each year as a part of your individual income tax return.

Generally the statement will show the amount of your earnings that are taxable for social security purposes, except where you might have worked for more than one employer during the year, or your employer reported erroneously. This maximum amount of annual earnings on which social security tax is paid is set by law, and increases automatically each year to keep pace with increases in average wage levels. No more than the maximum for a given year can be used to figure benefits.

Also, the statement shows only the earnings reported for you, rather than how much you or your employer paid to social security. Benefits under social security's retirement, survivors and disability insurance programs are based on your covered earnings, not on the contributions paid.

It is especially important for persons who change jobs frequently to periodically check their earnings records, since the chances of an error increases almost directly in proportion to the number of jobs held. Waiters, household workers, salesmen, cabdrivers and other types of workers who tend to have one or more employers during a year are especially vulnerable to erroneous reporting of their wages.

If your own record does not agree with the amount shown on the earnings statement you get from social security, call, write or visit your social security office promptly. Bring your Form W-2, pay slips or any other proof of wages. If you have earnings from self-employment bring your tax returns along with cancelled checks showing payment of social security contributions. We'll work with you in setting the record straight.
