Road ROW To Be Cleared

Final step in clearing right-of-way for the proposed widening of Highway 70-84, from the Bailey County line to Farwell, were taken last week.

A letter from O. L. Crain, district engineer, was received by County Judge Loyde Brewer, asking the Judge to advise Southwestern Public Service Company "to move the utility poles at the earliest possible date and not later than January 1."

When the poles are moved, all the right-of-way for the 11 mile stretch of road will be cleared. The Parmer County Commissioners court completed acquisition of road easements from individual property owners several months ago.

It is not known just when construction of the new four-lane highway, which will be the first in Parmer County, will get under way.

Considering the state's action on the removal of the utility poles, however Judge Brewer speculates that actual construction may not be too far off.

Since the deadline for moving the poles has been set for January 1, construction could possibly get underway early next year, Brewer says.

Cost of removing the utility poles will be $15,014.15, Brewer says, and it will be divided equally by the state and county. "The county will pay all of the cost now and the state will reimburse us later," the judge says.

Even though all of the right-of-way land has been purchased, many farmers who previously owned the property have continued to farm it. The farmers had been assured by the state that they would be able to harvest crops this year.

The judge however, advises farmers against planting crops on the right-of-way for harvest next year.

Helton Oil Clinches League Softball Title

Helton Oilers clinched the Jaycee League softball title Tuesday night, with a 12-0 victory over the 832 OPS Squadron from Cannon Air Force Base, in one of the final league games.

In beating the OPS, Ray Carter, Helton's hurler, tossed a perfect game, allowing no hits or walks, and was backed up by perfect fielding as the Oilers committed no errors. Carter struck out the first eight batters to face him, and the ninth was out when he popped up to Henson at short.

St Koenig took over the pitching in the fifth and final inning and kept the slate clean, by downing the first three batters to face him.

Jerry Henson and Eddie Smith both got two hits during the five inning game, and N.D. Kelso, Raymond Hadley, Lee Smith, Hal Ed Helton and Albert Smith all got one each.

Player in the line up for Heltons Tuesday included Eddie Smith, catcher; Ray Carter and St Koenigs, pitchers; Albert Smith, first base; Raymond Hadley, second base; Jerry Henson, short stop; N.D. Kelso, third base; and Lee Smith, Hal Ed Helton and Harrell Fulcher, fielders.

Plans are now being made for the district tournament which will be played in Clovis next week. Winner and second place team in the double elimination tourney will go to the state

WCS Sponsor For Ice Cream Social

The Grace Circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Hamlin Memorial Methodist Church, will sponsor an ice cream social at the church on Thursday, July 27. Homemade ice cream and cake will be served from 7:00 until 8:30.

A free will offering for fall projects will be taken.

A GOOD WAY TO BEAT THE HEAT is demonstrated by these two eight-year-olds, Gary Lee Erwin, left, and Buddy Lunsford. When the temperature soared to 95 Wednesday afternoon, these two fellows, along with other youngsters in the community, were making good use of the water sprinklers on the school ground.

Auto Insurance Rates To Go Up

Parmer County's automobile owners can look forward to an approximate 15 per cent increase in insurance rates, effective August 1, according to local insurance men.

The rate hike is in line with recent announcement from the Texas Insurance Board, ordering the increased rates across the state. Comprehensive, collision and liability rates will all be increased, the insurance men point out.

Chief reason for the raise is largely due to miscalculations made when the rate structure was changed January 1, 1960. At that time it was estimated that around 50 per cent of the state's drivers would come in for an increase in rates rather than a reduction.

It was found out, however, that a much larger number of drivers were eligible for the lowest possible rate under the Safe Driving Insurance Plan.

Under this plan, penalties were assessed for traffic violations and reductions were given to persons who qualified as "safe drivers."

Statistics prove that this program has brought about a loss in premium revenue for agents and companies of approximately $28 million.

With the rate increase, it is estimated that the deficit will be erased, with about $30 million to be picked up annually.

One change in the new rate structure will be to the slight advantage of the insurance purchaser, it is pointed out.

Henceforth, minor traffic violations such as running stop signs, which had previously caused penalties, will no longer do so.

Other minor infractions along this line will also be dropped from the list, leaving such items as speeding, reckless driving, driving while intoxicated, and more serious offenses as infractions which will result in penalties.

WILLIAM DANNHEIM, senior halfback, 155 pounds--William lettered the past three seasons at offensive halfback and defensive halfback. A tough competitor, he has fair speed and was a starter during conference play last season. He should have a good year in 1961.

Plans Continue For TV Tower

Plans for better television reception in Texico-Farwell are continuing, says Dudley Hughes, who plans to complete the installation of equipment for operation of his new business by the latter part of August.

A tower has already been installed near the Hughes home in Farwell, and Hughes says he will probably have microwave from Friona. He is now studying microwave equipment, but hopes to have the system in service in the next couple of months.

TV reception from Amarillo, Roswell and Clovis will then be available to subscribers to the service, says Hughes.

Students On Dean's List

Four Texico students are among those listed on the dean's honor roll for the spring semester at Eastern New Mexico University.

Dr. Gall Sharron, dean of academic affairs, pointed out that honor students--those with a "B" average or better--total 374 as compared with 359 for the fall semester.

In honor points a "B" average is denoted by 3.0 and "A" average by 4.0. To be eligible for the dean's list a student must be carrying at least twelve semester hours of study. Students who maintain a 3.8 or better average receive academic scholarships.

Local students, their grade point average and classification are Peggie Teel, 3.0, freshman; Monte Singleterry, 3.6, sophomore; Dona Kay Pierce, 3.3, sophomore; and Paul Crooks, 3.1, senior.

Social Security Tips Given By Area Manager

"Widows should apply for social security benefits as soon as they are 62," Hal Geldon, Social Security Manager advised today. "It would be even better if they applied a month or two before they are 62. Of course no one should delay, but widows in particular should be careful to apply for benefits promptly."

A woman's benefit based on her own account, or on the account of a living husband is reduced if she applies before age 65, but a widow's benefit is different. Widows' benefits are not reduced and the full amount is paid at age 62.

"So, if you are a widow," Geldon explained, "And you were once paid a lump-sum or monthly benefits, you should apply again when you are 62. In fact, you can speed your first check by applying thirty or sixty days before."

JOTTIN'S

Tip is home and the Graham boys are happy once again. It all began when the pup followed the boys to the church late Sunday evening, a week ago. They thought he would wait for them outside the building. He didn't. Then they were sure that he would find his way home. He didn't.

When they realized that he was really gone, they were worried about his safety. So I called Marilyn at the radio station and told of our plight. Sure enough, Fred Gerles heard the report and called to tell us that Tip was making his home in their neighborhood.

The dog was only gone for a couple of nights, but it's been much more peaceful at our house since he is back on the premises. We do appreciate the help of those who helped us to find him.

Euell Watts will serve as pastor during Rev. Barnes' absence.

"What Is That In Thine Hand?" was the topic for a devotional given by Mrs. James Craig when the Gleaners Sunday School class met in the Farwell Baptist Church last Tuesday evening for their monthly meeting.

Mrs. Craig used the 4th chapter of Exodus as a basis for the devotional.

Opening prayer was led by Mrs. J. L. Bass, and Mrs. Em Walker, vice-president of the class, was in charge of the opening exercise.

During a short meeting, a report was made that the local Church's cabin at Church camp has been painted and new curtains, made by the class, have been put up.

Following the meeting, refreshments of pop, coffee, spudnuts and mints were served by Mrs. R. T. Langston.

Attending were Mesdames Em Walker, Clyde Dial, R. T. Langston, Bruce Blair, Joe McWilliams, Dora Johnson, J. L. Bass, Joe Reed, Ods Huggins and special guest, Mrs. James Craig.

Heavy rains raised the river to flood stage, so a farmer sent his only child, a ten-year-old boy, to a distant uncle. A few days later, the father received a telegram: "Take back your son and send the flood."

He: "Always wishing for something you don't have."
She (logical as usual): "What else is there to wish for?"

THE HIGH PLAINS FARM AND HOME

ROLLING AGAIN early this week, shortly after several soaking rains in the area, were many Farmer County irrigation wells. Reason for cranking up the wells so soon after the rain was due to fast-growing crops, like this one, sapping moisture out of the soil at a rapid pace. To cover all of the ground before some of the fields started "rolling," farmers had to get an early start.

Will Farms Produce Enough In 1975?

Will U.S. farmers in 1975 be able to provide food, feed, and fiber for a third greater population than today's? Can they meet bigger domestic needs and also provide exports to other nations?

A probable "yes" to both questions was the conclusion reached by two economists, R. O. Rogers and G. T. Barton, in a recent appraisal of our crop production potential. This is just part of a larger study by the USDA to assess the job of agriculture and agricultural research in meeting future needs.

Findings indicate the challenge to farmers in 1975 will not be a lack of resources, but how to allocate them to achieve a better balance between production and market demand. This challenge, the economists believe, calls for research on more efficient use of all resources within agriculture and more effective resource adjustment between agriculture and nonfarm sectors of the economy.

To provide a basis for their analysis, the researchers made several assumptions, including: (1) A 1975 population of 230 million; (2) exports near the high level of 1956; (3) an increase of 10 percent in livestock-feeding efficiency; and (4) economic and other conditions favorable to adoption by farmers of improved practices and higher farm production.

Total demand for farm products, including a moderate increase in per capita consumption plus exports, was projected at 35 percent greater in 1975 than in 1956-58. The needed increase in livestock (45 percent) would be considerably greater than in crops (25 percent). This is due largely to the tendency for consumption of livestock products to rise with income, to the present crop surpluses, and to the projected increase in livestock-feeding efficiency.

Projections on production included two levels of yield per harvested acre for each major crop: (1) Economic attainable yield, or that likely through greater use of present technology. This yield level takes into account limitations on management, materials, equipment, and capital, as well as past rates of adopting technology. (2) Economic maximum yield, or that which could be attained with full, efficient, and economic application of present technology.

Analysis indicates that economic attainable yields would provide a 20-percent increase in average crop production per harvested acre above 1956-58. This is not enough to meet 1975 demands, and farmers would require an extra 21 million acres (net).

5th at Mitchell PO 3-5581

Additional acres would be needed for feed grains (16 million more), hay (5 million), tobacco (1 million), and cotton (5 million). Fewer acres would be needed for food grains (4 million fewer), oil crops (1 million), and pasture feed (1 million). Potatoes, dry beans, and sweet potatoes would require about the same acreage as in 1956-58.

Insects On Fruit Trees

In recent weeks an insect has been sucking ripening fruit on the trees in Farmer County. This insect was sent by Miss Ertie Musil, County Home Demonstration Agent, to Lubbock to the Area Extension Service Entomologist, John G. Thomas, for identification and control.

According to Mr. Thomas, the insect is closely related to the box elder bug, and a close relative to the squash bug. The insect seems to prefer ripe or ripening fruit and for this reason is extremely hard to control. They are also tolerant to many of our insecticides.

He recommended picking the fruit as quickly as it is ripe. Much care should be used in spraying for the insect. Malathion may be used on cherries but harvest must not be made until three days have passed. To spray Malathion on peaches, a waiting period of 7 days must pass before harvesting the fruit. This is very important for the safety of eating the fruit. Other insecticides were recommended with waiting period for harvest as high as 15 days to 45 days.

Miss Musil stated that as soon as more information was received about the control of this insect it would be passed on to the people of the county.

County Judge Loyde Brewer has officially proclaimed July 23-29, 1961, as "Farm Safety Week" in Farmer County, according to Herman Gerles president of the local county Farm Bureau.

President Kennedy and Governor Daniel have previously designated that week on national and state levels as a period to call attention to worthwhile safety practices that can reduce needless suffering and loss of life.

The county farm leader said that failure of rural people to observe safety in their daily living exacts a heavy toll in both economical and physical suffering. He stated that there is a disabling accident every 32 seconds and a death every 45 minutes to farm residents over the nation.

In his official proclamation, County Judge Brewer said: "The economy of our county, state and nation is greatly dependent upon the continued well-being and progress of our agricultural population. Accidents from farm work cause needless suffering, distress and loss of life each year among our rural families."

"A vigorous farm accident-prevention education program will be conducted during this week by the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, the Agricultural Extension Service and the Farmer County Farm Bureau," the proclamation continues.

The proclamation further urged all farm families to increase their vigilance against accidents and encourage interested organizations and individuals to participate in this program.

County Farm Bureau President Gerles said that the theme of this year's observance is, "Safety is a Family Affair." He said a different phase of farm and home life would be emphasized each day during the week: Sunday, reverence for life; Monday, safety begins at home; Tuesday, agricultural chemicals; Wednesday, prevent falls; Thursday, highway safety; Friday, farm machinery; Saturday, recreation safety.

The Farmer County Farm Bureau is cooperating with the Texas Farm Bureau's Safety Department in its efforts to promote "Farm Safety Week" all across the state.

County Farm Bureaus are becoming increasingly active in safety work, Gerles said. This includes cooperating with TFB Safety Department to stage safe driving demonstrations in high schools and by participating in a fire extinguisher project.

Under this latter program, Farm Bureau members can purchase 2 1/2 pound, dry chemical extinguishers at a savings of $9.00 per unit.

Peeler Elected President

R. G. Peeler of Hereford, long-time Panhandle area agricultural leader and Grain Sorghum Producers Association official, was elected president of the U.S. Feed Grains Council this week, at a meeting in Washington, D.C. The Council is a nation-wide market development organization made up of associations of corn, barley, and grain sorghum producers, associations serving seed distributors, and country and terminal elevators and exporters.

The grain group is headquartered in Washington, D.C. and has foreign offices in Rome, Italy, London, England, Rotterdam, Netherlands, and is currently establishing an office in Tokyo, Japan. In addition, grain sorghum and other feed grain market development programs are being conducted in 21 other countries in Europe, South America and Asia.

Peeler succeeds Walter W. Goeppinger, Boone, Iowa, president of the National Corn Growers Association, to the Council position. Other officers elected at the group's annual meeting in Washington include vice president, Nelson Urban, Des Moines, Iowa, American Seed Trade Association; vice president, Fred Maywald, also of Des Moines, Farmers Grain Dealers Association; treasurer, James Mullin, New York City, North American Export Grain Association, and secretary, Jack Barry, Minneapolis, Minnesota, Grain Terminal Association.

Other Panhandle representatives at the national meeting were Elbert Harp, Abernathy, and Sam Gilbreath, Dimmitt, both directors also of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association.

Governor Price Daniel, by official memorandum, has designated the period from July 23-29 as Farm Safety Week in Texas. The same period had previously been set aside as National Farm Safety Week by President Kennedy. Plans for the observance, reports the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, are about complete in most counties and all citizens are urged by the Council and the Governor to participate in the local programs.

WITH THE COUNTY AGENT

JOE JONES

The rains were good; the soil is wet, but it won't last long. While you are worrying about your land drying up so you can get in your field, better also be starting your wells. Hot dry weather and booting sorghum will take out 3 tenths to 4 tenths inches per day. After sorghum reaches the seven leaf stage, the rate of moisture used goes up rapidly until the grain is set.

Good rains always catch you up with your watering, but at the same time gets you behind. Unless you can anticipate the rate of water use and the number of days it will take you to get over rather accurately, you are likely to get caught with feed needing moisture it doesn't have. This means reduced yields and reduced income.

Make your plans now to be ahead and not behind. Don't forget it will all need water the same date, so you must start while there is still good moisture if you get over before any of the crop has hurt. You have the best start ever so why don't you plan to end up with the best crop ever.

The water use pattern on cotton also shows it goes up very rapidly after the first white bloom and stays up through the peak bloom season. You will want to keep the moisture level up during this period and apply that last irrigation about August 15 to 20. If you follow this program, the county should produce the best crop in years.

This is providing we have some help from the weather this fall. At any rate, take the water off about August 15 and let the crop mature. Research shows you will be ahead most years if the water is taken off cotton around August 15. Some years it pays to water later, but on the average, you lose by late irrigation.

I have checked a little cotton lately and find a few small bollworms and a few eggs showing up. This pest does not seem to be very bad at present, but you should continue to check plant terminals at least 3 or 4 times a week.

Keep in mind the bollworms must be killed when very small. It is next to impossible to do a good job of controlling large bollworms. Control measures should be started when 4 or 5 small worms and eggs are found per 100 plant terminals.

The only way this can be determined is to look your field over and do some counting. No one can drive by and tell you whether you do or do not have bollworms. I have a good supply of insect control guides as do all the ginners, so get one, study it, and be ready for Mr. Bollworm if he shows up in damaging numbers. Don't poison too soon and don't wait too long. Know what is happening in your cotton field and what to do about it.

4-H boys will hold County Camp July 31, August 1, 2, and 3. We will camp in Holy Ghost Canyon near Pecos, New Mexico. We always need leaders, so if you can go, make your plans and go along. Deadline for boys to get their camp fees in is July 25, but there is no deadline for leaders.

Investigate 13 June Accidents

The Highway Patrol investigated 13 accidents on Rural Highways in Farmer County during the month of June, according to Sgt. Rober Sosebee, highway patrol supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for nine persons injured, and a property damage of $7,457.00.

The Rural Traffic Accident Summary for Farmer County during January through June of 1961 shows a total of 43 crashes. As a result of these crashes there were 19 persons injured and one person killed.

Estimated property damage amounted to $23,410.00 This compares with the first six months of 1960's total of 32

Rural crashes injuring 12 people, killing three persons and causing an estimated property damage of $54,430.00.

The Sgt. advised that the summer Slow Down and Live Campaign emphasizes the need for motorists to control their driving speed. Speed control is vital to safety, because of the overcrowded conditions of the highways caused by thousands and thousands of vacation travelers, most of whom are in a big hurry, since vacation time is usually all too short, Sosebee says.

That hurry attitude frequently steers them into speeding violations - or, worse than that, a serious accident - even death itself.

$100 Million Increase For Texas Farmers?

Many Texas farmers can increase significantly their net income by utilizing more fully presently known technology, according to Director John E. Hutchison of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. He said that farm families could increase their annual net income at least $100 million by using the most advanced technological and management practices. Hutchison's statement followed an evaluation of first-year results in Extension's intensified soil fertility program which was launched early in 1960.

Initially, 12 counties representing different major land resource areas were selected to participate in the pilot project. They included 4 counties on the High Plains, 3 on the Coast Prairie and 5 in Northeast Texas where both Blackland and sandyland were involved.

Emphasis was given to crop production practices important to those areas. These included the use of fertilizer based on soil tests, planting the best varieties of crops, effective insect and disease control, appropriate soil and water conservation measures and other practices based on the best research information available. Results were obtained by comparing net profits from crops grown under advanced technological methods with income from carefully controlled check plots where usual farming practices were employed. Increased net income reported ranged from $1.86 per acre to $52.07 per acre. In one county, Red River, 47 demonstrations indicated that net income of the county could be increased $2.9 million if all farmers followed recommended practices.

"If results in the 12 pilot counties are indicative of what can be accomplished on a statewide basis, it means a potential equivalent to an important new industry in each Texas county," Hutchison said.

The immediate success of the pilot project already has prompted 17 additional counties to initiate an intensified soil fertility program and many others are making plans to follow suit. "The key to the success of this venture was the active participation of local people under the direction of County Program Building Committees," Hutchison emphasized.

In each county, local agricultural and civic leaders assisted the county extension staff in carrying out the program. USDA personnel and soil conservation district supervisors also played an active role.

Other cooperating organizations included the Texas Plant Food Educational Society, the National Plant Food Institute, American Potash Institute and the Texas Agricultural Limestone Association.

"This success presents a challenge to the total leadership and educational forces of the state, for here is proof that the problem primarily is one of the man and not of the land," Hutchison said.

Hog producers should pay attention to details which insure the health of their swine herd instead of depending upon a "wonder drug" when illness strikes. Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian, says an effective health program is much better than a reliance on drugs. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, he says.

Interest in the Texas Community Improvement continues to grow, says Reagan Brown, extension sociologist. Currently, 241 communities have filed entries in the program sponsored by the electric utilities companies operating in Texas and the Agricultural Extension Service. Local county extension agents can supply information on the program.

Bake Show To Feature Extra Activities

Tuesday, July 25 is a full day scheduled for the Parmer County 4-H Club Girls. This is the day of the annual 4-H Bake Show, swimming party, cookout, and slumber party for all club members.

Four-H Bake Show will be held in the Community Room of the Friona State Bank in Friona at 1:30 p. m. All girls will bring plain muffins and cinnamon rolls to be judged for ribbons. The first place winner will enter her bakery goods in the District Bake Show to be held during the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo in September. Specific recipes will be used according to bulletins, "Breads" and "Yeast Breads Made At Home."

judged the 4-H girls will go swimming to the Friona Dive Inn. Following the swimming, ribbons will be awarded to each girl for each of her entries.

A cookout of beef stew in foil has been planned for the evening at the Oklahoma Lane Community Center. Following supper, games will be played as led by each of the 4-H girls clubs. To complete the day the girls will bring bedding for a slumber party. Breakfast, Wednesday morning, will conclude the girls' Bake Show and Camp.

All 4-H girls are urged to take part in the Bake Show and Recreation Day. Parents are invited to attend the full day July 25.

Early-Cut Forage Gives Best Quality

High quality hay doesn't depend on high cost equipment. It depends more than anything else on proper time of cutting, says the writer in Farm Quarterly, Cincinnati published national farm magazine.

For nine farmers out of ten, the time to cut is earlier. Earlier than last year, earlier than your neighbors, earlier than June.

Grasses or legumes cut at the early stages of growth are easier to make into hay (or silage) and field losses are lower. Drying is smoother as the heavy stems have not appeared in the crop.

A plant in the early stages of growth, before it has shown any tendency to form buds or flowers, has a high protein and sugar content but as the plant grows, the ratio of nutrients in its tissue changes.

When a farmer cuts hay from a mature crop he harvests more dry matter in a single cutting but the percentage of digestible nutrients in the dry matter is lower.

Planning a picnic, patio party or outdoor barbecue? If you are, George Draper of the Poultry Science Department, Texas A&M College, suggests using turkey for the main dish. Supplies are plentiful, he says, and birds ranging from 4 pounds upward are available in most food stores. They are ready to cook. Are low in fat and high in protein, a combination that makes turkey meat ideal for summer meals.

Just never thought about taking one. Guess because it's so much fun working for nice people like you.

"You mean you honest-to-goodness are a real-live wire and never tire?"

"I'm trying, honey, I'm trying."

This new 140", 4-row rotary cutter is fully gear driven. Behind a 35 HP. or larger tractor, you can cut from 60 to 100 acres of stalks or brush up to 1 1/2" in diameter.

Rear wheels are on 72" spacing. Cutter offsets tractor wheels 40" on both sides; ideal for orchards and fence-line work. Although 144" over-all in width, slide shoes may be removed permitting passage through 12' gates.

Has the same heavy blades and blade carriers as the other famous Gyro cutters, giving it high momentum, gyroscopic cutting action for maximum cutting power with minimum RPM. This means long life and economical operation. A real work horse that will save hours of time.

The HAPPY HOMEMAKER

BY JUNE FLOYD

One of the largest and most important job any homemaker with children is teaching them to take care of themselves. It is a well known fact that dangers surround a child from the moment it is born.

It is also a well known fact that it is impossible to shield any child from all dangers. Scientists will never be able to develop a vaccine against accidents, so the best substitute is education.

During the first year of any child's life he is unable to judge for himself what dangers are, so it is up to his mother to protect him against all dangers to which he is exposed.

One of an infant's most constant dangers is that of suffocation. The first precaution any mother should make is to make sure that there is nothing within a baby's reach that might interfere with his breathing. Elderdown pillows should never be put in a baby's crib or bed.

In recent years the danger of suffocation has been notably increased by the appearance of plastic curtains, trimmings and other items and a number of new born infants have suffocated from having plastic bags drawn to their faces.

The second great cause of suffocation is food. Every mother should realize that she is running a terrible risk if she allows her baby to be alone while he is taking his bottle. The third great danger of an infant suffocating is from sleeping in the same bed with an adult. A child soon outgrows the stage where protection from accidents is enough for him to survive. It is most important for a child to learn to understand the risks he runs and should be given a lot of safety education.

In order for parents to be capable of guiding adequate safety education programs for their children it is necessary for them to know their children very well. Any child's safety education should be geared to his ability to understand.

Road safety should be taught a child from the time he is old enough to play outside alone. It is much better to teach a child the danger of being run over by a moving vehicle than to depend upon him to obey a command to "Stay away from the street."

Teaching a child to cross a street safely should be done by example first of all. It takes very little time for a small child to learn whether the adults with whom he crosses a street obeys traffic rules or disregards them.

Parents who are sufficiently concerned with their children's safety will teach them the basic fundamentals of road safety before they enter school.

In a recent article in a Texas Health Bulletin safety education should be pursued along two lines:

(1) teach the child to distinguish between the risks he may take and those he had better avoid;

(2) teach him the best way of dealing with the dangers that cannot be avoided.

The same article further stated, "There is no doubt that accidents are fewer following any efforts to make children realize the risks they are running and to teach them how to meet the dangers they encounter."

Education offers the only hope of, little by little, overcoming this great malady of our times without sacrificing other human values."

At this time of year many American families spend a great deal of time at lakes, creeks, rivers and other outdoor places. It is very important to teach a child to recognize poison ivy and poison oak and to avoid these plants.

In this field in any other phase of a child's education, example is the best method of teaching.

If more rains occur during July and August, the amount of root rot in cotton is expected to be greatly increased, reports Harlan Smith, extension plant pathologist. His basis for the prediction is the amount of disease carry-over in the soil from last year. He advises cotton growers to start planning now preventative measures for the 1962 cotton crop. Local county agents can supply information on these preventative measures.

How Long Should A Leather Sole Last?

The perplexing aspect of the life of sole leather is that adults' shoes last six months, a year, or more while children who are sitting in school much of the day can go through a good leather sole in four weeks.

Recent studies show that sole leather does not wear out — it washes away. When leather gets wet the oils that lubricate and hold the fibres together ooze out of the leather. Lacking the oils the leather shreds and quickly scuffs off.

Silicone Shoe Saver developed by the Dow Corning Chemical Co. renders leather water repellent and is supposed to add 30% to the life of the soles. A one dollar bottle will waterproof three pairs of shoes.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Peak water use for irrigated grain sorghum is reached about ten days before bloom while the plant is in the boot stage. This corresponds to the time that maximum leaf area is developed by the plant and is one of the most critical plant growth stages for irrigation. A well-planned irrigation system should provide about .33 inch of water daily during the peak use period.

During a dry summer, water stress at the time of bloom probably will reduce yields more than at the boot stage or soft dough stage. In such cases yields may be reduced as much as 45 per cent. The withholding of irrigation in the soft dough stage may reduce yields about 25 per cent. Under practical irrigation conditions, an ample irrigation at the boot stage will alleviate need for water at the bloom and soft dough stage.

Good yields can often be made with only a preplanting irrigation on grain sorghum. However, highest yields are normally made by maintaining soil moisture at a point not less than one-half the field capacity. Highest efficiency is made by providing sufficient water to keep the plants out of stress. Short season water use may go as high as .4 inch per day but a system planned to provide .33 inch during the boot through soft dough stage of growth will provide adequate water.

As a rule of thumb, the first irrigation of grain sorghum should be made before the top one-foot of soil has been depleted of available moisture below 40 per cent; the second irrigation, 50 per cent; and the third irrigation, 60 per cent. The evapo-transpiration rate for sorghum is quite variable, although most rates are within the range of 21" to 24".

Water use efficiency is greater for narrow rows of grain sorghum than wide row spacings in experiments conducted during 1956-58 at the Southwestern Great Plains Field Station at Bushland, Texas. Total water use in the production of grain sorghum averaged about 22 inches yearly.

The 12 and 20 inch spacing consistently produced higher yields of grain during the 3 years of the experiment and also produced more grain per inch of water used than the 30 and 40 inch spacing.

Three planting rates, which established extremes of 61,107 and 152,000 plants per acre, had little influence on grain yield. The higher planting rates produced the higher forage yields. Six to 8 pounds of seed per acre should give sufficient plants for maximum grain yield under most conditions, regardless of the row spacing used.

After discussing world affairs and the state of the nation, the talkative barber observed, "Your hair seems to be turning a little gray, sir."

The man in his chair responded, "I'm not surprised--can't you work a bit faster?"

Results Given On Wheat Tests

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU
BY RAYMOND EULER

Seventeen varieties of wheat were tested at the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway during the 1960-61 season. The wheat was planted on October 15, 1960 and harvested June 24, 1961. Delbert Langford, Associate Agronomist, in making the report, said that the wheat variety test made in cooperation with Dr. I.M. Atkins, Agronomist in charge of Small Grain Research for the state of Texas at Texas A & M.

The pre-plant fertilizer application was 300 pounds of 10-30-10, applied on October 7th. A top-dressing of 30 pounds of nitrogen from ammonium nitrate was made in March. The wheat was not grazed.

The yields of the different varieties were: Improved Triumph, 85.9 bushels; Super Triumph, 85.5 bushels; Tascosa, 77.0 bushels; Early Blackhull, 76.8 bushels; Concho 76.6 bushels; a hybrid MQ-ORO x Wichita, 70.6 bushels; Kaw, 68.7 bushels; Kharhof, 67.5 bushels; Triumph, 67.3 bushels; Crockett, 66.4 bushels; Comanche, 65.5 bushels; Red Chief, 63.1 bushels; Wichita, 62.1 bushels; Bison, 57.9 bushels; Rodco, 47.0 bushels; Aztec 46.3 bushels; Tejas, 45.0 bushels.

What would happen if the congressmen would vote for reducing federal expenditures? No nation has ever survived inflation more than 40 years. If you earned $12,307 in 1960, it was worth $5,000 in 1939 dollars or 40.63 per dollar.

All tax resolutions introduced in the special session of the Texas legislature include some kind of sales tax. Farm Bureau members in Texas, have for the past several years voted against a sales tax, and Farm Bureau representatives in Austin are therefore bound to oppose any sales tax proposal this year. Whether we will have a sales tax we don't know. If we don't and you think we should have one, let Gilbert Kaitwasser, resolutions committee chairman, Herman Gerles, President, or someone know and a resolution to that effect will be introduced to Farmer County delegates in their convention in October.

HD Agent's Notes

BY MISS ETTIE MUSIL

Did you know that any cut of meat can be tender and appetizing? This is a question we are asked several times a year. "How can I get the steaks I serve really tender?" We say that any cut of meat can be tender "if" properly prepared.

Years of research of home economics laboratories and kitchens, using thousands of meat cuts, have established this fact. The phrase "if properly prepared" is the key to tenderness.

For one thing, all meats should be cooked at low temperatures. This retains the juices and flavor. Yes, and it cuts down on shrinkage and assures tenderness.

Many homemakers rely on a meat thermometer to help them bring the meat to just the right degree of doneness. Another vital tip on meat cookery is to cook the tender cuts by the dry heat methods. This is frying or broiling the meats. Less tender cuts of meat should be roasted, stewed, or used in meat pies. In other words use the moist heat methods for less-tender cuts.

For these warm days iced milk beverages and sparkling fruit and vegetable juices offer a wonderful variety of thirst-quenching "coolers" for these hot summer days. They offer important food values, too. Acid fruit juices are especially refreshing and cooling, as they contain less heat producing sugar.

Specialists suggest that you keep plenty of milk, frozen or canned fruit and vegetable juices on hand. Iced tea and gingerale are good "blenders" and "stretchers." Fresh oranges, lemons and limes can be used in many different beverages.

Sweetening drinks is easier if you keep a supply of sugar syrup in the refrigerator. To make it: mix 2 cups water and 3 cups sugar and boil 3 minutes. One and three-eighths teaspoon cream of tartar may be added to syrup to prevent crystallization.

Garnishes add extra appeal. A sprig of mint, slice of orange, lemon, a cherry or other colorful fruit will add enjoyment. Remember to serve beverages in well chilled glasses or over sparkling ice cubes.

Recipes for special milk beverages are given in our bulletin "Good Milk For Good Meals." You can get a copy from my office, simply calling or writing me. It is free as all of the Extension Service bulletins of Texas are.

There is a resolution which the House has passed, requesting an immediate determination of the reasons for the proposed increase in automobile insurance which was recently approved by the State Board of Insurance to become effective August 1.

And then there was a concurrent resolution introduced to request the Insurance Commission to delay effective date of the new, increased until this special session of the legislature has had time to consider possible legislation on this subject.

The tax bill favored by Texas Farm Bureau is HB 4, by Eckhardt, Hill and McGregor. This bill would levy a tax of 1¢ per 1000 cubic feet on natural gas in addition to the 7% production tax. When the market price of natural gas brings the state a return of 1¢ or more in revenue under the present 7% production tax, the new tax would not apply.

Farm Safety Week, July 23 to 29 will be promoted by local Farm Bureaus all over the nation. Farmer County Directors voted at their last meeting to participate in this promotion to alert farmers and farm workers to the safety measures that might prevent injury or death.

Consider this: "A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches, and loving favor rather than silver or gold." Proverbs 22:1

Boy: We're coming to a tunnel. Aren't you afraid?
Girl: Not if you'll take that cigar out of your mouth.

Plan To Reduce Cotton Root Rot Losses

Edmund Schmidt of near Moody in Central Texas successfully demonstrated that root rot of cotton can be reduced. In 1960 the grower reduced root rot from 95 percent to 10 percent according to Don D. Decker, county agricultural agent. By so doing he increased his yield 7 times as compared to the untreated soil. Mr. Schmidt reduced root rot by plowing to a depth of 10 inches.

The following should be considered in making plans to reduce cotton root rot. Avoid planting in badly infested soil. Grow resistant crops like grain sorghum or corn in infested soil. Next July or August when hot, dry weather is expected, deep plow following grain sorghum harvest where cotton usually "dies-off" bad. Harvest cotton as soon as possible and deep plow immediately afterwards. Expose as much soil as possible to sun heat.

Deep plow 6 to 18 inches with a disk or moldboard type. Dry out the soil for 2 weeks or more after plowing. This helps to kill the root rot fungus by drying, aeration and killing old cotton roots and roots of susceptible weeds. After the soil has been dried out it can be bedded, sown to small grain or treated in the usual manner. Deep plowing is most effective if no rain occurs for at least two weeks after plowing. Check the long range weather forecasts and try to select a time for deep plowing when dry weather is expected.

Root rot is one of the most common plant diseases in Texas. It has been called "dying out," "alkali," cotton root rot and Texas root rot. The disease is caused by the fungus Phytophthora omnivorum. The disease occurs over all of Texas except the Texas Panhandle and High Plains. It also occurs to a limited extent in Mexico, New Mexico, Arizona, California, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Nevada, Utah and Louisiana. It is prevalent in highly fertile, calcareous, alkaline soils.

For further information, ask your county agricultural agent for a copy of the publication MP-361, "Root Rot Losses of Cotton can be Reduced."

Vernon Bradley Buried Friday

Funeral services for F. Vernon Bradley were conducted Friday at 10 a.m. in the Central Baptist Church in Clovis, with Rev. Carl Scott officiating. Mr. Bradley, an area cattle buyer and co-owner of the Clovis Cattle Commission Company, died early last Wednesday morning at his home 2616 Axtell, apparently from a heart attack. Mr. Bradley, who was 51 years of age, had lived in Clovis for the past 9 years. Survivors include his wife, Winnie, who teaches English in the Farwell high school; a daughter, Mrs. James Kerley of Clovis; four brothers, Jack of Tulla, B.W. of Clovis, Ernest of Duncan, Okla., and Jerry of Plainview.

Road ROW To Be Cleared--

In Parmer County, reports that the right-of-way fund, as of July 10, had $23,590. In acquiring easements for the proposed expansion of Highway 70-84, and for farm-to-market roads, the county previously had to borrow $52,000 for the fund. Of this total, $34,000 has already been paid back, and the county owes only $18,000, Brewer says. This indicates that the fund has been adequate for purchasing right-of-way, and in view of the fact that the construction of farm roads in the county has been declining, the fund will probably be in the black in the near future. The next big outlay for ROW purchases will probably be for the four-laning of Highway 60, which the judge thinks may come about "in the next four or five years." Brewer asks that persons who plan any new construction along Highway 60 keep in mind that it may not be too long before right-of-way may be needed for expansion purposes. The judge cited a new golf course near Friona, and a cemetery near Farwell, as projects being constructed where right-of-way will probably be required. "While the right-of-way won't be needed immediately, it is something that will be needed before too long," the judge says.

Success is relative—the more success the more relative. It's the people with horses who know when to say nay.

HOW MANY CANDLES?

Do you count the candles on your birthday cake? Why bother? Once you're past sweet sixteen, it doesn't matter how many candles you're entitled to. What counts is what you're doing with those years.

The years that are past have burned themselves out. Perhaps they have been all you've wanted them to be—but, if you're like most of us, maybe you could have made them a little better.

One of God's greatest gifts is the marvelous fact that it's never too late to begin again.

Birthdays remind us of the passing of time, of a new life. Celebrate your birthday by giving. Give something of yourself, by going to your church and taking part in its activities, especially those that help others. Next year, the added candle on your cake will burn with a special brightness!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

How about a Fair Break for Railroads?

we're asking your support for equal treatment by government of all carriers, including the railroads

The Association of American Railroads has drawn up a document called "Magna Carta for Transportation."

We're asking for public support of this common-sense statement on public transportation policy, hoping citizens will recognize that an entire industry that serves them is being deprived of its natural rights—and will want to help.

What to do? Ask your congressman to help restore to the railroads these "four freedoms":

- Freedom from discriminatory regulation
- Freedom from discriminatory taxation
- Freedom from subsidized competition
- Freedom to provide a diversified transportation service

Meeting Underway At Church Of Christ

Revival services which began on July 16 at the Farwell Church of Christ are still underway, and will continue through July 26. The public is invited to attend the services. Lavern Stewart, Evangelist from Neosho, Missouri, is bringing messages each day, and Clayton Fuchs of Clovis is directing the singing. Evangelist Stewart conducted a meeting at the local church two years ago. Services on Sunday begin at 10:00 with Bible study, morning worship is at 10:50, and the evening meeting at 8:00. Weekday services are held twice each day, with morning services at 7:00 and evening worship at 8:00.

Texico Commission Has Routine Meet

A routine business meeting was conducted by members of the Texico city commission Friday evening. Bills for the month of June were approved and paid, and other routine matters discussed.

One building permit was approved, going to Johnny Green for a house to be constructed on Lamar street in Texico.

Hoppers--

trout fishing.

I was still fighting to get the second line in the water when Hal pulled out a 12-inch trout. We hadn't been there ten minutes. I thought this was too good to be true, and sure enough it was. By time the commotion died down after this stroke of good fortune, it was plain to see that if there were any trout left in the river, they would be scared upstream ten miles. This dire prophecy turned out to be true. We didn't catch another fish.

The Grahams lodged at El Rito Cabins, the guests of Tony and Tina Roybol, whom we have known for several years. We can happily recommend El Rito, provided you are looking for what they have to offer. These cabins aren't fancy, they're rustic. But they are clean and reasonably priced. That means a lot to us.

The evening air was a bit chillish at the 8000-plus altitude, so I tried my hand at building a fire in the fireplace. Like a number of other great enterprises this father has performed for his sons, this one was something short of a smash success.

There was no wind outside and for some reason the flue wouldn't draw the smoke. It all boiled back into the living room. We kept stuffing on more kindling and blowing the hot coals thinking the fire would begin to draw up the chimney after while, but no soap. Things went from bad to worse.

Finally, we had to open the windows and door to get some relief, and then discovered that some of the smoke had in fact been going up the chimney. It was now all coming through the living room. This project ended with me hauling the smoldering logs out one by one and running to the porch, tears in my eyes, and tossing them out into the pebbly lawn.

About six such trips and a lot of coughing, things began to improve. When we could see the light bulbs again we closed the cabin up and turned in for a good night's sleep.
