

FROM THE HOPPER

BY HOP JR.

The Texas sales tax has turned up some interesting developments. At least it has for me. The sales tax is something that I have been in favor of for many years, because it is the most equitable form of taxation ever devised, but the plan that we have adopted in the Great State makes me wonder sometimes.

The fact that this is not a general sales tax and that there are scores of exclusions, that is, transactions not subject to tax, gives rise to a thousand questions--some of them based on honest confusion and some for purposes of subterfuge.

Here in the newspaper business I have for years coasted along in blissful ignorance thinking that the term "free press" was just what the name implied and that no license from any government was required to establish and operate a newspaper.

Now I hear from Robert Calvert, the state comptroller, that it isn't so. All these years we were supposed to be paying "store tax" (of all things) to the state for the privilege of publishing a paper.

This came up when we tried to get squared away with the state and start collecting taxes on subscriptions sold. When we went to fill in the blanks on the tax forms we discovered The Tribune didn't have any "number." I guess the revenuers at Austin had never found this out. Anyway, we have twice sent in money (plus penalty) for our certificate and to date haven't managed to cut through the red tape yet.

So, this column is worse than you may have suspected. It's not only lousy--it's illegal.

One complaint that reaches my ears which I am not in sympathy with is that the medical fees charged by the Twin Cities' only physician are too high.

In this day and age of sky-high costs for everything we buy, and especially in the fields where science and technology have made their greatest progress toward improving the lot of civilized man, it is true that things often do seem expensive. But I sometimes think that we jump to conclusions and don't take into consideration what we are buying.

This is true of the medical profession as a whole, I am sure, and I have an idea that a comparison of across-the-board fees for all types of medical attention would not leave our local citizenry at a disastrously disadvantageous position when compared with what our "city cousins" pay in Clovis, Amarillo, or Dallas.

Our local physician, Dr. T. J. Glenn, does have a good practice and from external appearances seems to be doing all right for himself here. This is no more than a man highly trained for a difficult profession is entitled to do, and in fact all of us who live here should be darned proud that he has a good practice and is not looking for a chance to go somewhere else.

One thing that makes me appreciate our local doctor is that he is still a general practitioner in the best sense of the word, and will come to your home, answer calls at night, and talk to you about your troubles with some concern and not the professional detachment that marks too many of the products of our glistening but cold medical centers in the big towns these days.

I am not just talking through my hat because I speak from the experience of several serious illnesses in my own family.

My business affairs take me around the country a little these days and I have noticed it is a constant problem in towns of 5000 and under to attract and keep competent medical men.

Apparently, the thing to do today is to go to college and medical school and study hard on a narrow field of subjects and come out equipped to do a few things well, then be a "specialist" in some new glass-and-brick medical center thrown up in some classy suburb.

This way the young doc can keep office hours 9:30 to 3:30, see people by appointment only, and take off to shoot golf on at least one week day plus have a long weekend at home.

Bobby Tomlinson will add another honor emblem to the sleeve of his band jacket, after becoming a member of the all-region band for the second consecutive year. The two top emblems were achieved at Van Horn and Del Rio.

Bobby Tomlinson Receives Honor for Second Year

For the second consecutive year, Bobby Tomlinson, son of Rev. and Mrs. Robert Tomlinson, has been named to the all region band. He is a member of the Farwell school band and participated in regional competition in Borger in December. His director is Jerry Banks.

Playing first chair trumpet in the all-region group, Tomlinson performed with the honor group of about 90 students in Borger. Presentation included "Brighton Beach", "Psyche and Eros", "Lord of the Vikings" and "Unsinkable Molly Brown."

Tomlinson is president of the local band. Before coming to Farwell, he was a member of the all-clinic all-star band at Van Horn, playing solo cornet, in 1960. He was honored at the all-star band festival at Del Rio in 1960, when he was a member of the Marfa band.

In 1960-61, he was also a member of the all-region band. He has sent in an application blank for an opportunity to be included in the all-senior band February 24 at East Texas State in Commerce. Also applying is David Watkins of the local group.

Devotions Set Daily on Radio

Devotionals daily over the local radio station have been scheduled by the ministers of the Ministerial Association here, says Rev. Bob Tomlinson, secretary. Time is 9:15 to 9:30 with pastors planning the comments on a weekly basis.

Ministers of the area began meeting officially only recently and plan a monthly fellowship. Rev. J. L. Bass, First Baptist Church, Farwell is president, and Rev. Tomlinson serves as secretary.

Also included are Rev. Carl Coffey and Rev. Douglas Gossett of Oklahoma Lane Baptist and Methodist Churches; Rev. Carrol Herring of West Camp Baptist; Rev. A. R. Sander of St. John's Lutheran; Rev. Orval Brantley of Texico Baptist and Rev. Allen Powers of Calvary Missionary Baptist.

Rev. Tomlinson says any pastor in the Texico-Farwell school districts wishing to meet with the group, is welcome.

Grand Jurors Called Monday

Parmer County Grand Jury will convene Monday to take action on several pending cases, Sheriff Charles Lovelace reports.

The jury of Sept. 5 is being recalled for further duty at this time. They will begin action at 10 a.m. Monday.

Members of the jury are DeWitt Precure, Lazbuddie; E. A. Parham, Lazbuddie; Gene Smith, Lazbuddie; Edmund Kitten, Oklahoma Lane; Leon Billingsley, Oklahoma Lane; Lee R. Mason, Lazbuddie; C. M. Coffey, Farwell; Vernon Jamison, Lariat; Elmer Scott, Lazbuddie; J. T. Ford, Farwell; Elmer Hargrove, Farwell; and Clarence Meeks, Farwell.

Sheriff Lovelace explained the predominance of residents from the southern half of the county as the result of unusual circumstances. None of the first twelve persons whose names were drawn wished to be excused from duty. Three names of Friona residents were drawn but they were not required since the first twelve agreed to serve.

Work on Tank Lowers Pressure

Work on the overhead water tank lowered the water pressure in Farwell over the weekend, but everything was back in order by Sunday, says V. C. Venable, water superintendent.

Once a year, a workman is in town to check the overhead water tower. Repairs were made to the tank and at the same time, workmen washed and sterilized the overhead tank. The flat-top, storage tank was kept full to meet the needs of the community, but pressure was lowered.

"The overhead tank is in good shape now," says Venable. "We are sorry about any inconveniences to the customer, but in the long run, it means better service."

Auto Thief Caught After Wild Chase

Area officials turned out in force a few minutes after midnight Friday in an effort to intercept a stolen car. The car was reported stolen in Clovis shortly after it was taken. Most of the available patrol units were placed on the alert for the vehicle.

Friona Policeman Ed Duke and Department of Public Safety Patrolman Charles Skinner spotted the car as it entered Friona about 1 a.m. They chased the vehicle around Friona back toward Bovina. Deputy Sheriff Bill Morgan joined the chase at Bovina where the culprit turned back on Farm Road 1731. The officers finally arrested Benjamin Smart, 32, of Childress after he came to a jolting halt on a dirt road about 10 miles from Friona at 2:10 a.m. Saturday.

Smart was taken to the Parmer County jail and released to the Federal Bureau of Investigation officers that morning.

Two other men are being held by Parmer officials on charges of car theft. They are Simone Chavez, 19, and Vallo Garcia, 17.

Verdict Stands

Texas Court of Criminal Appeals upheld the verdict and judgement of the March 27, 1961, Parmer County trial of Bert Christesson, Clovis, for assault with intent to murder.

Christesson was sentenced seven years after a four day trial. He was convicted of assaulting John Hartwell of Bovina, according to Parmer County officials.

Driverless Car Smashes Window

The car drove into the driveway at the service station. The driver got out. A few minutes later, the car crashed through a plate glass window of a nearby hardware store. Jake Bargas, 24, of Texico, left his car engine running when he stopped at Ray Mears' station in Farwell. According to reports, he also left the automatic transmission engaged. And no brake set.

Shortly after he left the car, he looked back to see it and his young daughter heading for the front of Farwell Hardware. The car rolled about 60 feet and pushed the right front wheel through the store window. The girl was not injured. An estimated $500 to $600 in damage resulted.

A repair job was undertaken Sunday at Farwell Hardware after the large plate glass windows were broken, when a car booted through the front of the store.

Businesses Burglarized

Sheriff Charles Lovelace reported two break-ins in Bovina Sunday night.

A radio was reported taken from a Phillips 66 service station and only $1 was reported missing from Paul Jones' Texaco station. The cigarette machines were broken into in both places but it was not known if anything was taken from the machines.

The culprits gained entrance to the stations by breaking a window in the establishments.

Texico Edges House 29-22

In a slow moving game Saturday at House, the Texico Wolverines defeated House by a narrow margin 29-22.

The Wolverines trailed by one point at halftime, but went ahead, 19-16, at the third quarter break and pulled away in the final stanza for the narrow margin.

Dwight Turner, Texico, and Bobby Curtis of House tied for scoring honors with eight each.

In the B team game, Texico also won. Friday night, Texico will meet Dora on the home court.

The band sweetheart will be crowned at halftime. Saturday, the locals will be host to the Causey A and B boys. Game time for all home games is 7:30.

Editorial:

Civic Pride

Texico and Farwell are beginning a new year, and it is a good time for residents to think about the individual's duty to the community in which he lives. Each citizen does have a responsibility; if he doesn't do his part, the community suffers.

Even a seemingly unimportant phase of community growth, attitude of the individual, is more important than one realizes. Last summer, this writer was traveling with a group in Texas. We had been driving all day and near midnight, decided we'd stop for the night. We stopped for coffee at a small all-night truck stop and asked the waitress where we could find a nice place to spend the night.

"I don't know where you'd want to stay in THIS town" was her comment. Fortunately, we inquired later at a filling station and stayed in a lovely clean motel there in the city of Hamilton. We liked the town, but thought the waitress was a poor booster for her town.

No matter what our job, we can aid or retard the progress of our community. Those people who work in public places have a particular responsibility.

Civic pride is the first step.

Will A Penny Do?

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

What is she thinking about, as she watches the flickering candle flame? There is a far away look in her eyes that makes one wonder. Yet, if she were offered a penny for her thoughts, she would probably only shrug and say, "Oh, nothing," in that maddening little way children have.

Watching her absorbed in her reverie is like an illustration of how closed one mind is from another. No one can ever know completely what another person is thinking. A thought expressed out loud all too often leaves something out of the telling. And most thoughts are never expressed at all.

Even should we wish to, we cannot entirely share our minds with one another. But we can share them with God. In the Church we can find the way to tell Him all our hopes, our fears, our loves, our angers, our pride, our pain.

Go to church this Sunday—and turn your own thoughts into prayer.

JOTTIN'S By Jeanne

The spouse has been more than generous by giving me all of his dividend check on the one small share of Polaroid stock that he so proudly purchased a few months back. I haven't spent it yet, it's a little difficult to decide what to do with it.

Actually, I think it's the first time I've ever seen a check for five cents. ....

I had an appointment that I couldn't break the 5th, so I missed seeing one TV show that I wouldn't have missed for anything. It was the Art Linkletter show Friday afternoon, when Billie Kirtrell, the former Billie Christian, made her television debut. Billie and her husband, Durb, grew up here. They now reside in California.

Several people we've talked to, knew about the appearance of Billie beforehand, and others just happened to tune in and had a pleasant surprise when Billie was interviewed. I hear that she was the prettiest gal on the show.

WITH THE COUNTY AGENT DERYL COKER

As we all know 1961 was a fairly good year for agriculture as a whole for us in Farmer County. We had our ups and downs as far as crop production goes. If the weather had been a little more cooperative in October and November, we could of probably said it was the best year to date. Well, it's water under the bridge now, so we have got to look and plan for 1962.

1962 will mark an important milestone for the American farmer and for American Agriculture. It commemorates the hundredth anniversary of the USDA and of the Land Grant College system in America. Agriculture has made a most impressive record in the past century. In 1862, one farmer produced enough food for five people. Today, he produces enough for 26, and possibly in another 20 years he will produce enough food for 50 people.

For us in Farmer County we will need to look at our past mistakes a little closer and do a good job of planning for the future. Every farmer needs to know what will give the largest return on his investment.

The present agriculture outlook is fairly bright due to larger cash receipts and increased government payments. The USDA says gross income to farmers are expected to rise in 1962, assuming average growing conditions and a continuation of price supports and other farm programs. But prices paid to farmers will continue high and some rise in farm production expenses now appears likely. On balance, realized net income of farm operators is expected to change little in 1962 from levels estimated for 1961. The farmers share of the nation's income is smaller, but it is going to a smaller number of people.

In talking with Dick Poteet of the Texas Employment Commission, he stated that if farmers need a farm hand they should sign up at one of their offices. By signing up it could be a help in case of an undue hardship case.

He also stated that Braceros can no longer be used as tractor drivers and if a farmer are caught using them as such the county could be blacklisted or banned from using any bracero labor.

At present there is a request for a 90 day extension, but the Texas Employment Commission has not received an answer as of yet.

A LITTLE HIGHER, PLEASE... Jim Roy Wells' Black Angus show calf stands in sleepy-eyed contentment as Wells applies the comb and brush. Glistening coats will add to the animals chances at the upcoming area fat stock shows.

Farmer County is now a modified certified Brucellosis free area.

The announcement that Farmer County had received the certification was made this week by Dr. R. G. Garrett, executive director of the Texas Animal Health Commission.

Dr. Garrett and members of the commission expressed their "appreciation to the people of Farmer County for the splendid cooperation extended to its representatives while work was being conducted in Farmer County." The commission also requested the "further cooperation of the citizens of the area to maintain the brucellosis status of the County."

The certification of the county as a brucellosis free area will allow county cattle to be moved into other areas with a minimum of red tape and delay. It will also permit cattlemen in this county to sell cattle at otherwise restricted markets.

Actual work on brucellosis testing in the county began with an organizational meeting in Bovina Sept. 11. The county was divided into six sections and a portable lab was set up in Bovina.

The present certification will expire in three years and the area will again have to be certified brucellosis-free.

Cattle from Farmer County may be moved into other areas which are declared brucellosis-free without restrictions. However, restrictions will be placed on all cattle moving into this area. Persons caught violating these restrictions will be subject to a fine of $10 to $100 for each head of cattle moved into the county without complying with restrictions.

Clovis Swift Plant Offers Area Market

Construction began last week on a $2 million Swift & Co. meat packing plant in Clovis.

It is hoped that the plant will provide a ready market for much of the Farmer County cattle, and stimulate the increase in production of cattle in this area.

The new facility, financed by the city of Clovis under New Mexico's Industrial Revenue Act, will result in about $1 million monthly to the Clovis area and employment of 60 persons. "Due to the fact that we are now a certified brucellosis-free county, we will be able to ship cattle directly to the plant in Clovis," Deryl Coker, county agent, said.

According to several reports, enough beef is raised in Texas to supply the state and much of the beef for neighboring states. But, a considerable amount of the beef used in Texas is shipped in from the corn belt area. This situation is accounted for by the lack of adequate marketing facilities in the state. The plant in Clovis is expected to help bring local consumption of Texas cattle.

In the past, most of the Texas beef has been shipped to the west coast and other areas.

"The Clovis plant will provide a ready market with a minimum shrinkage factor for area cattle," Coker commented.

"The biggest help to this area (from the plant installation) will be to the feedlots and in helping develop additional cattle feeding," Coker added.

Cotton Congress Meets

The 1962 American Cotton Congress Committee has been called to meet in Dallas on January 5th at the Baker Hotel.

General Chairman, Burris C. Jackson has announced. The committee comprises some thirty outstanding cotton leaders, and prominent educators and researchers identified with cotton.

The 1962 Cotton Congress will be held at Harlingen, Texas, Matamoros, Mexico and the Lower Rio Grande Valley on June 7-8-9.

Headquarters for the 1962 Congress will be at the Seville Hotel in Harlingen.

Pledger B. Cate, Jr., Manager, Harlingen Chamber of Commerce, is in charge of hotel and motel reservations. "The purpose of the January 5th meeting in Dallas is to start a discussion of the program and plans for the 1962 Congress," Mr. Jackson, said, "and we are meeting at a very important time in the history of the American cotton industry."

Jackson pointed out that the American cotton industry rumors were full of talk that cotton was on the verge of a change in governmental policy. He reserved comment on the rumors but said the Cotton Congress Committee would fully explore same at the Dallas meeting.

The 1962 Congress was held in Lubbock, Texas with the general theme being "Cotton - A $22 Billion U. S. Industry." The meeting in the Rio Grande Valley in 1962 will be the twenty-third annual Congress meeting.

Some of the outstanding cotton authorities of the world and the top officials of the U.S. Government have appeared on the Congress programs in past years, and the committee will make every effort to build an outstanding and constructive program for 1962.

Taking up painting, a farmer portrayed the farm price situation so realistically viewers couldn't tell up from down.

HD Agent's Notes

BY MISS ETTIE MUSIL

Before another cold spell, now is the time to trim the broken limbs from your trees or shrubs as result of the severe ice storm we had before Christmas. This should be done as soon as possible. That means you will need a good sharp pruning saw, pruning shears, and tree paint for this serious operation.

Yes, pruning the limbs is a serious operation. First saw through the bark under the limb to be sawed off. This will keep the weight of the branch or limb from peeling down the bark.

In sawing off the broken limb begin sawing even with the trunk or main branch. This will allow the wound to heal over by the bark. If the limb is sawed too close into the tree this will injure or kill the tree.

If a stub or lip of wood is left after sawing the branch or limb, the wound cannot heal satisfactorily. Instead, air and moisture will enter the center of the stub and eventually decay into the main trunk of the tree. A complete decay will kill the tree.

Always use a tree paint or shellac to cover the wound. Shellac should be painted over the wound immediately after the operation of trimming the branch or limb. When the shellac has dried, a wound dressing or tree paint should be applied over the exposed area.

There are various types of wound dressings. Those most commonly used are orange shellac, asphaltum paints, outdoor house paint, grafting wax and alcohol, and the commercial tree paints.

Regardless of the type dressing used, you will get best results if you inspect the dressed surfaces periodically and recoat them once or twice a year. Before reapplying is applied clean the wound with a stiff wire brush to remove all blisters and loose flakes. Do not cover the new growth with this coat of wound dressing.

We have a very helpful bulletin in the office "Modern Pruning Methods" that will be of much help in pruning trees and shrubs. It's free from our office, so come by, write us your request, and we shall be happy to give you a copy.

Now is the best time to plant roses if you are planning for a new rose bush or two to add to your rose bed. Roses may be planted in the fall or spring. In Texas, fall planting is preferred.

If plants cannot be set at the time of arrival, unpack them place the roots in water for a few hours, and then bury the plants, tops and all, in moist soil until planting can be done. This would not be necessary with roses planted in cans or pails.

Dig the hole large enough so that the roots can be spread out in a natural manner. This procedure applies to roses in packages only. Roses planted in cans should be planted without disturbing the roots when the can is cut away.

For the roses packed in paper packages build a mound of soil in the center of the hole and arrange the roots over it. Press down around the plant to force out any air pockets remaining in the soil mound.

Cover the roots with top-soil and tamp it firmly. Never plant when the soil is so wet that it can be pressed into balls that will not crumble. When the soil has been firmly tamped around the plant, water it thoroughly.

While we are speaking of planting and pruning trees and shrubs, here's a reminder for pruning roses. No fall pruning should be done. Experiments during the past several years show that the less the amount of fall pruning, the greater the number of flowers produced the following season.

We have a helpful bulletin for rose care and varieties available to upon request. Just ask for "Roses for Texas." If you missed June Floyd's tips on care of the poinsettia, we would be happy to send of give you a copy of our Extension Service bulletin, "The Poinsettia".

Parmer County Object of Study

Parmer County was of great discussion during a three-day Program Building Training Meeting of all Extension Service Agents in District 1 of the upper Texas Panhandle. Local extension agents, Miss Ettie Musil and Deryl Coker, were among the 45 home demonstration and agricultural agents, district agents, extension specialists, and administrative staff attending the training January 3-5 in Amarillo.

In order to better understand the importance of knowing the county in which extension service agents work, Parmer County was discussed by C. James Murphrey Area Farm Management Specialist, and Mrs. Eula Newman, Home Management Specialist of College Station. Historical and general background information was earlier compiled by Miss Musil and Joe Jones, former county agriculture agent. Other information written included general attitude of the people with regard to agriculture, industry, education, County Extension work, and changes. The geographic situation of the county in reference to markets transportation, communication, recreation, and metropolitan areas was included as important to the county.

This data was compiled in August before Miss Musil and Mr. Jones participated in a special training of County Program Building during Extension Service Staff Conference in August. Parmer County was selected by the District Agents, W.W. Gaiham, Jr. and Miss Edith Wilson, to represent the 22 counties in District 1.

All of this training in August and January will be used to strengthen the Parmer County Program Building Committee. The committee determines the problems of the people and agriculture and the plans for programs that will meet these family and community needs.

Local extension agents are responsible for the leading and training of this committee and subject area committees. Long range objectives and annual goals are planned by the committee and agents to meet the needs of the county.

Others presenting useful information during the three day meeting were J. D. Prewitt, Associate Director of Extension Service, Larry Burleson, Organization Specialist, Miss Fannie Brown, Eaton, Clothing Specialist, Charles Baker, Economist in Farm Org., Mrs. Gladys Kolander, State Home Demonstration Agent, Garland Marshall, Bob Hunt, Century Study, R. I. Cross, and district agents.

The HAPPY HOMEMAKER

BY JUNE FLOYD

A few weeks ago several requests were made that some of Mrs. James Procter's candy recipes be printed in the Star. An appointment was made with Mrs. Procter and she was gracious enough to share her recipes with us, but lack of space prevented printing of all of them.

Two that always make a hit with Sue's family members and friends were crowded out, so I'm running them in this column for those who requested them and anyone else who may be interested.

FOOTSAVING EDUCATION

at least for your working hours. Medium or stacked heels distribute your weight evenly, so the ball of the foot doesn't have to take all the pressure. Save your high-fashion slippers, with their stiletto heels and pointed toes, for parties only. Don't wear run-down slippers, even when you're doing the housework. They may seem more comfortable at the moment, but they're only making trouble for tomorrow. Get off your feet periodically. Take five minutes out from shopping or housework to sit down and flex your feet. Nobody's going to take it amiss if you slip off your shoes in the ladies' lounge and wiggle your toes back to comfort. In fact the chances are you'll soon find you have company.

"Having trouble laundering elastic fabrics?" asks County Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Ettie Musil. One of the most frequent questions about care of clothing is how to laundry elastic fabrics so they will not lose their elasticity.

Homemakers often have been advised to hand-wash such garments in cold or lukewarm soap solution and then dry them away from direct heat. But such directions often are impractical. Especially when the family washing includes men's undershorts and children's slacks which have elastic webbing or braids for waist-line fit. Regular laundering is needed for all of the garments, except for the small line of elastic fabric.

A study was made recently of the effect of different type of detergent, washing temperature and type of drying on elastic fabrics. Both elastic braids and knitted elastic fabrics used in foundation garments were tested.

Rubber-based elastic braids and knitted nets were washed 40 times in an automatic washer at temperatures of 70, 100, or 135 degrees. Twenty-four soaps and synthetic detergents from a supermarket were used in the laundering tests. When clean terry cloth towels were washed along with the elastic garments as a "buffer" there was no damage.

However, when soiled sheets and pillowcases were used instead of the towels, many of the braids lost their elasticity. Nylon braids were damaged more than rayon braids. This is probably because nylon attracted more soil from the soiled laundry. The foundation garments of elastic nets showed only a slight loss of elasticity.

In tests using soaps and detergents, less elasticity was lost in laundering with soaps than with general-purpose synthetics.

Regardless of the type dressing used, you will get best results if you inspect the dressed surfaces periodically and recoat them once or twice a year. Before reapplying is applied clean the wound with a stiff wire brush to remove all blisters and loose flakes. Do not cover the new growth with this coat of wound dressing.

We have a very helpful bulletin in the office "Modern Pruning Methods" that will be of much help in pruning trees and shrubs. It's free from our office, so come by, write us your request, and we shall be happy to give you a copy.

Now is the best time to plant roses if you are planning for a new rose bush or two to add to your rose bed. Roses may be planted in the fall or spring. In Texas, fall planting is preferred.

If plants cannot be set at the time of arrival, unpack them place the roots in water for a few hours, and then bury the plants, tops and all, in moist soil until planting can be done. This would not be necessary with roses planted in cans or pails.

What's the best way to heat a house?

the modern answer is gas

Folks used to say a house was well heated if it was warm. Today, families with modern gas house-heating systems are a lot more particular. They want a perfect temperature, of course. They also expect the humidity, cleanliness, freshness, density and movement of the air to be just right, too. Gas introduced this modern, healthful concept of heating a home. Gas does it so economically, you can save thousands of dollars in heating bills over the life of your mortgage. And when the weather's really bad, gas gets through when other fuels don't. That's why over 1,300,000 additional families every year decide that gas is the modern way to heat a house! Check the yellow pages of your phone book for a gas heating dealer near you, or call Southern Union for more information.
