Homecoming Week Concludes After Days Of Spirit And Fun

Homecoming 1980 came to a close Friday night for Texico High School during a football clash with Happy, Tex., at Wolverine Stadium.

A halftime performance by the Wolverine marching band, which included renditions of Chuck Mangione's "Land of Make Believe" and the Muppet Movie's "Rainbow Connection," was followed by the presentation of the new king and queen and their royal attendants. Rhonda Tharp and Gary Mitchell were presented to the capacity crowd as the 1980 queen and king with their court members Neil Snipes, Jimmy Love, Gary Reid, Kent Harding, Tracy Dobbs, Lisa Crooks, Schree Rucker and Becky McDonald.

Also recognized during halftime festivities were kings and queens from previous years. Those present were 1979 royalty Roxanne Cherry Mayfield and Robert Thornton; 1978 royalty Celia Johnson Reid and Jimmy Reid; 1977 king Duwain Hill; 1976 royalty Deanne Day Richardson and Keith Hadley and 1974 royalty Beverly Duncan Reid and Terry Reid.

When Texico puts on a homecoming, they do not fool around. Homecoming week is chocked full of activities and contests giving students a chance at proving their true school spirit.

Dress up days, float contest and banner contest were held throughout the week with all students, classes and organizations participating.

Western Dress Day was won by Coy Jo Burk, Carroll Smith and Stanley Cross from the junior high and Schree Rucker won for the high school.

Crazy Hat and Sock Day was won by Loretta Gonzales and Doug Thornton from the junior high and high school winners were Nikie McDaniel, Patti Wilson and Rodney Wilson.

Those considered the best dressed on Dress Up Day were Eddie Adkins from the junior high and Elyese Moody from the high school.

There was no winner from the high school on T-Shirt day, however Elayne Horner took first place from the junior high school.

The halls of Texico schools were a sea of green and white on school color day as everyone wore an outfit in those colors. Winning from the junior high was Melissa Singletery, and from the high school were Lydia Viescas and Tammy Adkins.

It was a week where spirit reigned and classes took part in a banner contest trying to prove which could outdo the other in creative victory slogans.

Elementary students also entered and first place went to Mrs. Richmond's third graders, second to Mrs. Holloman's fourth grade and third to Mrs. Pearce's second grade.

"Running for Victory" grabbed first place for the junior high eighth graders; the seventh grade came in second with "Drown the Cowboys" and third place also went to the seventh grade with "We Flushed the Cowboys."

The seniors netted first place in the high school division with "Hang the Cowboys," the junior's catchy slogan "C'mon Get Happy" placed them in second place and the freshman class won third with "Texico Spirit."

Individual awards went to Arthur Chaves, first place; Dana Curry, second place; and third place, Loretta Gonzales.

Those living in Texico who didn't know there was a parade on Wednesday night were obviously out of town. Horns and sirens filled the airways as decorated floats, cars and bicycles paraded through the town's streets. The sophomores came in first place with their float "Time is Running Out" and the juniors placed second with "Rock Band - Another One Bites the Dust."

In the car and pick-up category, the senior class won first place with "Hang the Cowboys," the second spot went to the eighth grade with "Rodeo," and "Cowboys will Walk Home Defeated" won third.

In the bicycle category, Ryan Spearman won first, Martin Singletery and Tim Harmon won second, and third place went to Kenny Michael Shaw and Wayne Holland.

The senior class won the spirit chain contest by 217 loops with their 1292 links.

Mini-Majesty

Crownbearers for the 1980 Texico Homecoming Royal Court were first graders Chad Dunsworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Dunsworth, and Monica Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Scotty Turner.

Texico Nobility

The new king and queen were crowned during coronation ceremonies held during homecoming week at Wolverine Stadium.

Farwell Principal To Head Spelling Event

The Amarillo Globe-News and West Texas State University, Canyon, are again sponsoring the National Spelling Bee for boys and girls from grades four through eight.

Directors across the 46-county area are being named, and director for Farmer County is David Gobble, principal of Farwell Elementary School.

Directors are in complete control of their county events, working with private and public schools.

Winners of the various county spelldowns will gather in Amarillo on April 25 to name the 33rd regional champion. The deadline for naming the 1981 county winners will be April 4, 1981.

Throughout the four states that are assigned the AGN-WTSU district, most schools use the booklet prepared by national sponsors, the Scripps-Howard Newspapers.

"Words of the Champions", containing more than 500 new words is available from the Spelling Bee Editor, Amarillo Globe-News, Box 2091, Amarillo, Texas 79166. The word list sells for 40 cents each.

Orders may be placed by students, principals and county directors to the newspaper.

The date of the 1981 National

Spelling Bee will be June 1 through June 5 in Washington, D.C., where more than 100 regional finalists will compete. Expenses for the 1981 AGN-WTSU champion will be furnished by the Amarillo Globe-News. Various other awards will be given to some of the top area spellers and each county champion will receive a Bee trophy.

National rules allow any student who has not reached his or her 16th birthday and gone beyond the eighth grade at the end of the current school term to compete.

The area sponsors also promote a Junior Bee for elementary grades four, five and six. These county Junior winners will not take part in regional competition but will be recognized in Amarillo during Bee Day activities.

Additional information may be obtained from Mrs. Jeanne Bartlett, Spelling Bee Editor, or Gene Parker, director of placement, West Texas State University.

The 1980 regional champion, Traci Hutton of Borger, placed 23rd in the national finals among a field of 112 from all across the states.

Four Local Agriculture Firms Honored

Four area businesses have been cited by Pioneer Hi-Bred International, Inc., for service to the Farwell area.

Kelly Green Seeds, Inc., was presented a plaque acknowledging their service of 15 years as a dealer of Pioneer brand seeds.

"This award is one of the most satisfying for Pioneer to give," Jim Lindsey, president of the Southwestern Division of Pioneer said, "because it represents the sincere dedication the people at Kelly Green Seeds, Inc., have toward serving farmers in their area."

Another 15 year award was presented to the Sherley-Anderson Lazbuddie Elevator of Lazbuddie.

To acknowledge their accomplishments, Sherley-Anderson Lazbuddie was presented a specially designed Silver Dollar Award and a service award plaque.

"The Silver Dollar Award is the end result of a lot of hard work. I want to personally congratulate the people at Sherley-Anderson Lazbuddie for receiving both these awards," said Lindsey.

Also presented the Silver Dollar Award was Sherley-Anderson-Pitman elevator of Farwell for outstanding sales achievement in 1980.

"A lot of time, energy and hard work is necessary for a dealer to qualify for the Silver Dollar Award," Lindsey said. "Congratulations to everyone at Sherley-Anderson-Pitman for receiving this award and for serving the agriculture industry so well in this area."

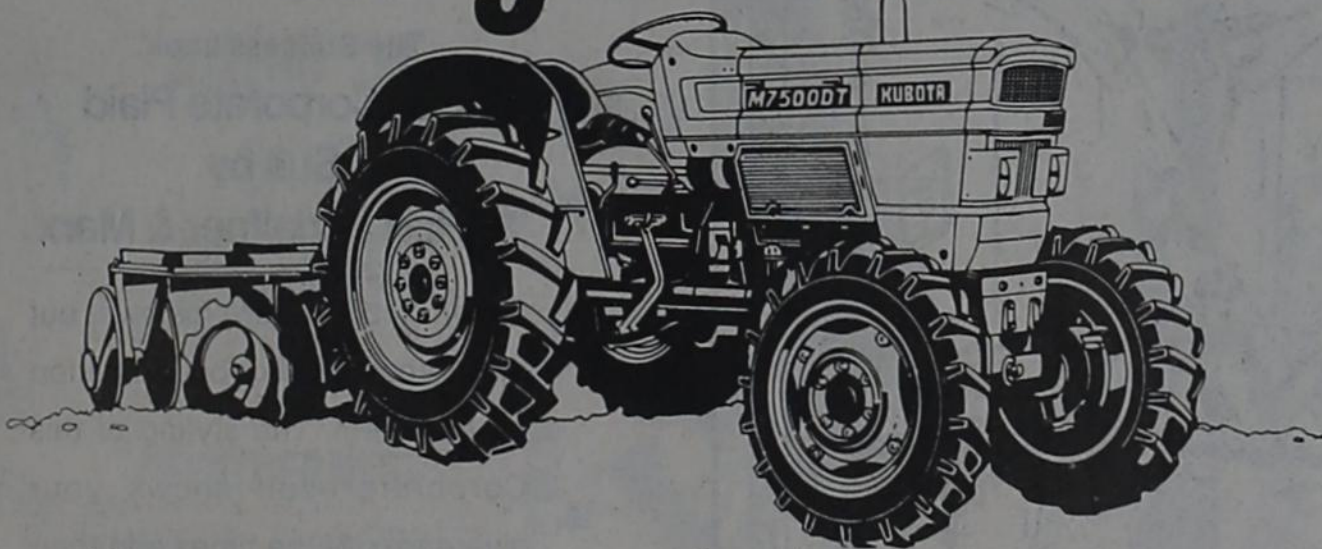

Oklahoma Lane Farm Supply was also the recipient of the Silver Dollar Award.

"Our dealers, just like our extensive research program, are a very important part of Pioneer. We appreciate the work the people of Oklahoma Lane Farm Supply, Inc., have done, and know the farmers around Farwell do, too," Lindsey concluded.

Two Texico Teens Enjoy Tour In Europe

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is the conclusion to an article written by Juanita Hadley featuring two Texico girls, Schree Rucker and Teresa Golledge. The girls spent 30 days touring Europe this past summer and shared their adventures with the tribune.

It was in Paris that the girls encountered the only problems with food during their entire trip. On two different occasions and in two different restaurants, Teresa discovered bugs in her food. A waitress in one restaurant, when shown a snail moving across the plate, explained that such an occurrence was common and that Parisians were accustomed to eating insects.

From Paris the group crossed the English Channel on a hovercraft, landing in Dover, England.

The first place they toured was the cathedral in Canterbury, which the girls described as beautiful but eerie. Then they traveled on to London.

Among their experiences there were watching three live plays, "Rocky Horror Show," "Jesus Christ, Superstar," and "The King and I." Several members of the group met the young man who had played Rocky and obtained his autograph as he was leaving the theater. Yul Brenner starred in "The King and I."

While in England Teresa and Schree ate the famous fish and chips, which turned out to be slices of fish and French fries wrapped in a cone shaped container made of newspaper.

During a tour of the Tower of London the group saw the Crown Jewels and the original chopping block used to behead Ann Bolyn and other noted individuals. They also were able to approach several of the Beefeaters, guards at the Tower, and see a erable effort, were successful in getting a small grin from one of them.

The girls commented that while they were viewing the Crown Jewels, they were constantly kept moving by the guards.

A flag flying above Windsor Castle announced that the Queen was in residence at the time of the group's tour there, but they did not catch sight of her. They did, however, see the car in which she is said to drive herself about. Schree and Teresa had imagined she would have nothing less than a Rolls Royce, but said that Her Majesty's auto was an ordinary small type such as a Renault.

During the tour of the Royal Residence the group saw a doll house which was an exact duplicate of Windsor Castle with every part reproduced in miniature, even to tiny gloves on some tables, real wine bottles in the wine cellar, and miniature books (actually printed on pages no larger than a person's thumbnail) on the library shelves. They also saw a collection of dolls belonging to the Queen, the largest dressed in a full length mink coat.

While the group was in London, Schree and others visited Trafalgar Square and witnessed Speakers' Corner. Anyone who desired could speak and Schree said that she heard talks on just about every subject. The crowd simply moved from one speaker to another.

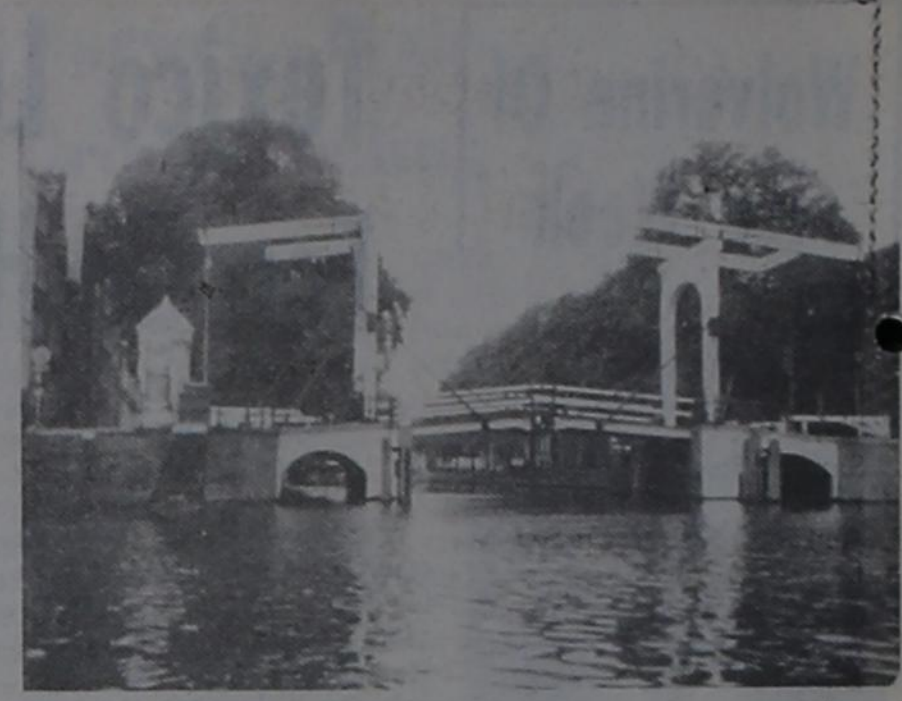

The English taxis and cabbies provided a real treat for members of the group.

The local girls said that although no more than four people were supposed to be allowed in a cab, on one occasion they were able to persuade the driver to let six young ladies share a ride. They reported that the cabbies were quite friendly and very helpful.

Schree and Teresa noted that they had no problems with the water in any of the countries they visited. They were, however, advised to drink only small amounts. They mentioned that they did notice a lack of drinking fountains in all the countries. Some places the group entered refused to allow them to order only water. They first had to place an order for some other food or drink and then water was provided free, but was always warm. In fact, any beverage with ice cost more than one without.

Upon their return home, both young ladies experienced jet lag, for 30 hours passed from the time they left London until they reached Texico. The girls admitted to being exhausted, but also said they would gladly do it again.

Oldest Bridge In Amsterdam

While on a cruise of the canal system in Amsterdam, Holland, the members of the group saw the oldest bridge in the city. The structure is wooden. While in the city, four members stayed in a hotel catering only to tour groups. The accommodations were quite nice, they said, although six girls were billeted in each room. In most cities, only two or three young ladies roomed together.

Around The House with Laura Jacobs
Parmer County Extension Agent
for Home Economics

Nearly six of ten American families have reported that coping with the high cost of food is a major cause of stress, according to General Mills' American Family Report 1978-79.

We can help relieve some of that stress on the mind and the pocketbook by cutting food costs to the bone.

Use these tips to cut food costs -- and to celebrate National Consumer Education Week, October 5-11.

COUPONS
-Save those coupons for items that will be needed. Many dollars can be saved through the use of coupons.

-Develop a filing system for saving (and maybe trading) coupons. A shoe box may be used for filing. A good time to assemble them is when the market list is being compiled or made. Place all coupons to be used in an envelope in purse to save time at the grocery store check-out counter.

-Check the date on the coupon to be sure it is still good before reaching the store. Do this when sorting through the coupons while compiling the market list. This saves time at the check-out counter.

COST PER SERVING
Compare costs of serving size rather than just buying the lowest price per pound or can.

MEATS
The food budget is greatly affected by the choice of the main dishes for the family since about one-third of every dollar goes for meat, poultry, and fish.

Consider cost per serving (rather than just cost per pound) of meats.

"TV" DINNERS
When "TV" dinners are considered for convenience, look at their cost versus the cost of home-prepared foods.

Generally a homemaker can prepare a much better and less-expensive "TV" dinner with a little planning. Time is often considered to be worth money, and she can bank her time in this way.

"FAST FOODS"
Even though nearly 35 percent of the American food dollar is spent at fast food outlets or other away-from-home eating places, food costs can be "cut to the bone" by preparing food at home.

In a recent survey, the cost of the meal in a restaurant was $1.61, and at home it was 83 cents.

SAVE ENERGY
You can help keep food costs down by saving energy, too. "Double up" with several items and bake them at the same time to save oven energy.

Matching pan and burner sizes, cover pans when cooking if possible, avoid preheating the oven unnecessarily, and turn off lights when they're not needed.

TAXATION AT THE CHECK-OUT
Save money by learning what foods are tax-exempt and which ones are taxable, since five cents is added to each dollar spent for a taxable item. For example, no tax is paid on powdered tea, but there is on tea with sugar added.

TAX-EXEMPT
Generally speaking, if an item is human food for home food preparation and is not already "made up," it is tax-exempt.

This also includes fruit drinks which are at least 70 percent natural fruit juices and powdered orange-flavored instant breakfast drink, sugar, cocoa, and nuts.

TAXABLE
Taxable items include other fruit drinks, ades, and punches which include less than 70 percent natural fruit juices regardless of whether they are purchased canned, powdered, or as a frozen concentrate. Foods or meals already prepared and ready to eat are taxable. Sugar or chocolate-coated nuts are taxable even though the sugar, cocoa, and nuts are not taxed.

COUPON ITEMS TAXED
Sales tax is charged on the full regular price of merchandise purchased with "cents-off" coupons issued by manufacturers.

When the coupon is issued by the store, tax is paid on the price after the "cents-off" have been deducted.

CONTROL SERVING SIZES
Since meats are about the most expensive part of a meal, you can cut food costs by serving only the amount needed for that meal or that person. A two-to-three-ounce serving is all you need for a meal, but many of us will take more if it is placed in front of us.

Remember that meat alternates and vegetable proteins can be served with meats to help extend them and provide complete proteins for a main dish.

When you combine all of this into a casserole, you're providing the meat, starch, and vegetable for a meal, and you're also saving energy by cooking one dish instead of three separate dishes.

AVOID "GARBAGE CAN" LOSSES

Avoid making the garbage can another "mouth to feed." Don't let food go to waste in the refrigerator -- and then in the garbage can.

-Plan ways to use leftovers. -Properly package, label, and date leftovers to freeze for later use.

-Grate the ends of cheeses into a jar for seasoning casseroles or scrambled eggs, for example.

-Add leftover apples, oranges, pears, or bananas into gelatin salads or desserts.

-Use leftover pieces of meats or vegetables into soups, stews, or casseroles.

Before cooking or shopping, always take time to check for usable leftovers before they spoil or get stale.

OTHER WAYS
Other ways homemakers can cut food costs are:

- Always compare prices.
- Make a shopping list.
- Buy extra food items to store when prices are lower.
- Read the labels for ingredients.
- Check food ads before buying.
- Shop at one store.
- Read labels for nutrition information.
- Plan menus before shopping.

New London Bridge

While in London, the Texico girls saw the new London Bridge. Its predecessor now stands in Arizona. The young ladies were fascinated by each country they saw, but admitted to being pleased to hear English spoken. In London the group attended three plays, one starring Yul Brenner.

Migratory birds in Asia cross the Himalayas, the world's highest mountains.

German Concentration Camp

Near Munich, the group visited Dachau, the preserved World War II Nazi concentration camp. Several young people became ill and had to leave during the showing of a

Egyptian Obelisk In Paris

The area young people spent several days in Paris, where they saw the Egyptian Obelisk among a number of things. In the right background stands the Eiffel Tower. The girls, Schree Rucker and Teresa Golledge of Texico, reported that travel within the city of Paris was relatively easy after they became accustomed to the subway, the Metro. The girls had portraits done in Montmartre.

Don't Fertilize Sick Plants

Water may be the only "medication" sickly shrubs and trees need this time of year. Don't compound an ailing plant's problems by fertilizing, says Esteban Herrera, Extension horticulturist for New Mexico State University.

Unhealthy appearing plants often result from hot, dry weather stress. They may have yellow or brown leaf tips.

An amateur gardener may try to help the plants by fertilizing. Don't do it! Plants growing actively during the late fall can be severely injured by cold weather.

During the late summer, water is the only safe growth stimulant, and even this should be gradually reduced in late fall. Save the fertilizer application until early next spring.

Often, well-watered plants are still a pale color. This is usually because the water fails to penetrate the soil deep enough to reach the roots. Soil mounds or a crusted soil surface may cause the water to run off before it can soak into the soil.

Remove soil mounds and break the surface crust before watering the plant. Punch holes about 8 to 12 inches into the soil around the plant to increase the water penetration.

Pale plants may also have an iron deficiency. A foliage application of iron chelate or iron sulfate may make the plant green again. However, plants do not absorb nutrients readily late in the growing season.

Stress symptoms in plants are sometimes misinterpreted as signs of insects or disease. Don't spray just because plants have an unhealthy color. Usually, this is either their normal late summer color or it is due to stress from hot, dry weather.

Rape Awareness Week Designated Oct. 12-19

In an effort to publicize treatment and prosecution services, educate school children and the adult world as well, and circulate information on sexual assault to potential rape victims, October 12-19 has been declared Rape Awareness Week in New Mexico.

In a proclamation, issued and signed by Governor Bruce King, all citizens were asked to "work together to gain an awareness of the nature of sexual crimes and to become involved in efforts to stop rape."

Locally, an information seminar entitled "Rape, if it happens what can you do" is set to take place October 16 at the ENMU College of Business Auditorium. To begin at 7 p.m. MDT the program will focus on defense techniques, medical information, legal rights and advice and will feature a film titled "This film is about Rape." There is no charge for the seminar sponsored by Mental Health Resources and the Roosevelt County Rape Crisis Coalition, and a question and answer period will be held.

A "Take Back the Night" march and candlelight rally is to be held October 18 in Albuquerque, and on October 17 in Albuquerque in the Kimo Theater, Meg Christian, a nationally known musician will perform as a key event in Rape Awareness Week.

For further information on Rape Awareness Week call Mental Health Resources in Clovis at 769-2345.

Family Histories Taken Only Five More Days

With only five days left to submit family histories to Volume II of Parmer County's History, Otho Whitfield, chairman of the Parmer County Historical Commission, reports that several area families have made their contributions already, beating the October 15 deadline.

They include T. Embry, Pete Fulcher, Mrs. Sam Billingsley, Lillian Aldridge, R.D. Dale, Crystal Pitman, Rex Kyker, Webb Gober, Leon Billingsley and Earl Billingsley.

Also, Charlie Crume, Larry DeFevers, Jesse Landrum, Willis Hester, Levi Johnson, Leon London and J.S. Potts.

Whitfield also mentioned Mary Lovelace Burkhart, Charles Lovelace, E.D. Williams, Sterlyn Billington, Weedie Coffman, Mable Reynolds, Elmer Langford, W.W. Gall, R.D. White, Leo Forrest and Vance Crume.

Readers can also look forward to histories from Jason Langford, R.V. Ham, V. Scott Johnson, Charles Pursley, Ed Corn, E. Johnson, Hattie Boling, B.R. Boling, Joe Blair and Jon Lyn Riddle.

In addition to Nathan Harding, James Sides, R. Rundell, J. Craig, E. Ramm, E.J. Gulley, Benna Felts, T.L. Kent and William Kube.

Others contributing include S. Pierson, Dee Pierson, Max Eubanks, Gary Eubanks, Pete Hanna, Lela Kersey, W. Foster, R.D. Foster, Billy Sides, J.I. Gober and R.E. Blankenship.

Also, Condy Billingsley, D. Magness, G. Magness, C.C. Christian, Clyde Perkins, F. Edward, Clyde Sparks, Jesse Terry, Charles Tucker, Joe McWilliams, Arnold Hromas and Charles Hromas.

The book will also have histories from Harold Carpenter, J.C. Boone, Wendol Christian Hromas, H. Brown, Don Jones, Zeldia Ellison, Larry Donaldson, Sterling Donaldson, Roy Donaldson, and Claude Primrose.

Locally, those wishing to contribute their personal family histories may contact Hugh Moseley, member of the Parmer County Historical Commission, at the Parmer County Courthouse. Moseley has the necessary information and forms needed.

It is also advised by the commission that there will be no extra books published. The number of books printed depends entirely on the number of orders received. Books may be ordered for $35 each, and Moseley also has details and forms for ordering.

"Several people have told us they have used the County History Book to assist them in tracing their family genealogy," said Whitfield, adding, "The books can be found in university, city, college and high school libraries."

The publication will include facts from Parmer's past 73 years.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I was reading your newspaper today, and read the article on page two about the Lions Club Light Bulb Sale. It prompted my letter to you.

I would encourage everyone to buy the light bulbs and help the Lions club. If only you could all see the good that club does for our children in the Texico School system.

Their organization helps provide eye examinations and glasses for school children who would be unable to have them otherwise because of financial problems.

Hats off to the Lions Club! In my last year and a half as school nurse in Texico, they have provided innumerable eye exams and glasses to the students.

Let's help support their good work. Sincerely, Jeanne Kriegshauser, R.N., School Nurse, Texico

Dear Editor,

I am very saddened and angry this week, as a friend of mine was sent to the State Penitentiary in Santa Fe.

My defense of Clara Wiehl Harvey is not necessarily late in coming but my letter to the editor and citizens of Texico is.

It is very heart-warming to me to witness the close relationship that Clara has with her dear family. For Clara and her grieved family, I am going to attempt to convey to the public why I feel that an injustice has been done.

The events and situation that led up to her arrest and eventually to her conviction, reminded me of a bunch of vultures waiting for a sick animal to die. Speaking of animals, they happen to be one of Clara's great loves in life. As everyone who knows her will tell you how she is always taking in a stray and starving animal. This summer I visited her and she was nursing a family of baby birds that had been abandoned by their mother. If only the people that worked so hard to frame her and send her where she is today had as much compassion in their hearts!

Our laws and justice in this country will always be a puzzle to me. When the Supreme Court of Texas reversed the convictions of the "Traveling Rapist" and the "Pizza Hut" murderer, a few weeks ago, I wondered how the citizens of Amarillo and the law enforcement officers felt, who had worked so long and hard to catch these criminals.

Meanwhile there is a group of people in Texico who can't wait for a harmless lady to be sent to that horrible place. If you care to remember there was an article in the newspaper, where the judge in Clovis stated that some 3 or 4 Texico residents pleaded with him not to suspend Clara's sentence as they felt she needed to be sent to prison for the good of Texico. HOGWASH! Our last city election should confirm the fact that most of the people in Texico did not feel this way.

I will never believe that Clara took a penny of the missing money. In the first place a true conniving crook would never throw the evidence in the waste basket at city hall and then walk across the street to the bank and deposit the money into their own bank account.

I could go on and on stating why I believe Clara is innocent but I'm sure the editor would cut it out of my letter. Of course since nothing was cut out of the court proceedings that made Clara look guilty, but not much was printed that happened at the trial in her defense, this is what I call an extreme injustice and a perfect rail-roading.

I hope that when they closed the bars on Clara's cell, it made someone (maybe the guilty ones) feel very happy. It did not make me feel good at all. I'm proud to have Clara for a friend. Her bravery of not giving in to plea-bargaining, in order to obtain a suspended sentence, is one reason that I know she will come home soon with her head held high. Most of us would rot be that brave.

Sincerely, Audrey Kittrell

Dear Editor:

The High-Plains Zoological Society would like to thank you for your help and participation during our Zoo Awareness Week activities.

Texico's This, That And The Other

by Members of the Journalism I Class

Approximately 25 students participated in a bike-a-thon for Saint Jude Children's Cancer Fund recently. The students pedaled eight miles to the Clovis Municipal Airport and back to Texico. Students participating had previously obtained sponsors who donated pledges of whatever dollar amount they chose.

Mrs. Kay Singleterry's class had a Title I parents' meeting last week for appraisal of the program. Her students also read a Halloween story.

"Texico High School juniors would like to express their thanks to everyone who supported them with their homecoming sales," said their sponsor, Ronnie Warmuth.

They sold 63 adult corsages, four children's corsages and 100 homecoming pins.

Ann Pearce's second grade students are having reading races. Each student reads as many books as possible in a certain period. They also participated in the parade by making a banner which received 3rd place.

The Business Education class has received two new adding machines, stated Mrs. Mary Peyton, Business Education teacher.

Brenda Cochran, a senior, has completed the required accounting unit to enable her to start Practice Set number one. Brenda was the first one in the bookkeeping class to reach this level this year.

The Texico FHA officer and new members installation was this past Monday. Each girl brought a dish of her choice for the tasting supper.

Officers who were installed were Laura Horne, president; Nikie McDaniel, treasurer; Rhonda Tharp, vice-president; Lisa Coffey, parliamentarian; Tammy Landis, historian/reporter; and Sharlet Taylor, secretary. New members are Dana Morris, Valda Cavallero, Sharon Anders, Terri Fenn, Pam Hoyl and Lisa Reid.

District F will be holding its district meeting at Marshall Jr. High, October 17, from 9 am to 3 pm (MST). Texico district officers will be in charge of the flag ceremony, devotions, relaxors, and also a work shop on publicity.

The Texico FHA chapter sold 576 pounds of pecans in the first order. The money-making project now is miscellaneous items which will be suitable for Christmas gifts from the Lincoln House gift catalogue. "If you have not been contacted yet, please check with any FHA member before November 1, or call the school and we will bring a catalogue to you," said Laura Horne, president.
