

Other Nations See American Shift To Right

New Difficulties With Russia Are Speculated

NEW YORK, Nov. 7. (AP) Top-flight republican diplomats at the United Nations and the Council of Foreign Ministers rallied to the support of established American foreign policy today in an evident effort to quiet jittery speculation abroad about possible radical changes in this country's international relations.

Foreign delegations to both the UN assembly and the Big-Four council sessions took the election results with little show of concern, but much of the foreign press viewed the Republican capture of Congress as marking a sharp American swing to the right and threatening new difficulties with Russia.

While the United Nations drove through another round of committee work today and the foreign ministers marked time until tomorrow on the dispute over control of strategic Trieste, Republican statements on the foreign policy situation were much discussed by diplomats here.

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, of Michigan, who is expected to become foreign relations chairman in the Republican controlled Senate, said that his own re-election "means unmistakable endorsement of the united, bi-partisan foreign policy" which he has had a large share in developing over the last two years. He added:

"I take it the national returns present a similar mandate. They mean that this policy will continue."

John Foster Dulles, an alternate member of the United Nations delegation, said he was confident that "a Republican Congress will not throw our foreign policy into confusion, but rather will make it stronger and clearer, for the benefit of ourselves and the world."

These two men, with ex-Senator Warren Austin of Vermont who is chief of the United States UN delegation, make up the main Republican collaboration with the administration on foreign issues.

Many of the charter provisions and much of the American work on the European peace treaties by the foreign ministers reflect especially the ideas of Vandenberg and Dulles.

Fellow Workers Resuscitate Man Overcome By Gas

First aid of co-workers may have saved the life of Leonard Kinder, Couden refinery employe, Wednesday afternoon.

Kinder was one of five men affected while they encountered a pocket of gas while working in the open on a still. Others were revived immediately without ill effects but fellow workers administered artificial respiration to Kinder for approximately 20 minutes. He was apparently fully recovered Thursday morning, although he was still under observation at a local hospital. Others who were momentarily stopped by the vapor were J. C. Humphreys, Travis Greenfield, Troy Hopper and T. O. Earnest.

RUSSIANS PARADE MILITARY MIGHT ON ANNIVERSARY OF REVOLUTION

MOSCOW, Nov. 7. (AP)—Thousands thronged Red Square today to witness a display of Soviet military might in a celebration of the 29th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution highlighted by an order of the day declaring Russian preparedness was necessary to guarantee peace and security throughout the world.

The parade began after the usual formal greeting to troops, delivered by Marshal Leonid Govorov, 49-year-old hero of Lenin-grad.

Moscow dispatches gave no indication that Prime Minister Stalin attended the celebrations. The fact that the speech preceding the parade, was delivered by Govorov suggested that, for the second successive year, Stalin shunned the limelight. Likewise, the order of the day was signed by the deputy minister for defense and not by the prime minister. A year ago Stalin broke a precedent by giving Foreign Minister V. M.

US To Maintain Sweeping Rights In The Pacific

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Nov. 7. (AP)—The United States facing a potentially hot debate over its offer of limited United Nations jurisdiction over Japanese-occupied Pacific islands, today urged the UN to set up a trusteeship council immediately without injecting the veto into discussions.

John Foster Dulles, United States representative, stated the American position in the 51-nation trusteeship committee after Washington had made it clear the US would reserve sweeping rights, especially military, in the islands which President Truman has offered to place under UN trusteeship.

One delegate said the military rights demanded by the United States were exactly the same as she would have if she annexed the islands outright.

Mentioning President Truman's proposal, Dulles told the committee that his country was ready to accept the terms of draft agreements submitted by five other countries for old League of Nations mandates.

Great Britain, France, Belgium, New Zealand and Australia have offered these agreements on eight mandated territories.

Dulles asked for every country which is interested, whether or not it was a state "directly concerned," to have an equal opportunity to present its views on the agreements.

"The United States is willing to join with others in accepting a system of equality and not asserting a special position in relation to the agreements now before us," he said. "We do not want an interpretation of 'states directly concerned' which might import the veto system into the work of the assembly."

There have been reports that the Soviet Union might seek to extend the power of veto into the trusteeship council, once it has been set up.

Light Frost Noted In Local Sectors

Light frost appeared in areas around Big Spring and northern Howard county Thursday morning, but no appreciable damage was reported.

The US weather bureau reported a minimum of 34 degrees, one degree under the previous low for the season on Wednesday. Thin ice skins and frost is not uncommon although the temperature is a few points above freezing, but in such instances killing frosts seldom occur.

UN Delegates Quarrel Over 'Persecution'

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Nov. 7. (AP)—An explosive Egyptian question concerning the alleged persecution of racial and religious minorities in central Europe was passed on to the United Nations assembly today after a violent quarrel in the assembly's steering committee.

The Egyptian resolution, which proposed that the general assembly "invite" governments concerned to abide by the UN charter, finally received a vote of three-for and three-against, with three abstentions and five committeemen not recorded.

The President Paul-Henri Spaak of the assembly said it would be reported to the assembly as a draw.

Spaak intervened with a banging gavel to suppress the wrangling just before the committee adjourned at 8:20 p.m. EST. The debate grew so warm and loud that the interpreters frequently were drowned out and made only token gestures of translating.

UN Delegates Quarrel Over 'Persecution'

Proposal Draws Challenge From Russians

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Nov. 7. (AP)—An explosive Egyptian question concerning the alleged persecution of racial and religious minorities in central Europe was passed on to the United Nations assembly today after a violent quarrel in the assembly's steering committee.

The Egyptian resolution, which proposed that the general assembly "invite" governments concerned to abide by the UN charter, finally received a vote of three-for and three-against, with three abstentions and five committeemen not recorded.

The President Paul-Henri Spaak of the assembly said it would be reported to the assembly as a draw.

Spaak intervened with a banging gavel to suppress the wrangling just before the committee adjourned at 8:20 p.m. EST. The debate grew so warm and loud that the interpreters frequently were drowned out and made only token gestures of translating.

The Egyptian resolution named no countries and did not specify what minorities were being persecuted. An Egyptian spokesman explained that it had been written that way to avoid embarrassing any member of the United Nations.

He said his government would be content with an assurance from the general assembly that the abuses no longer existed.

The document was immediately challenged by Dmitri Manuilsky, foreign minister of the Soviet Union, and by Andrei Gromyko of the USSR. Both insisted on having more precise details, arguing that the steering committee could not deliberate on a resolution couched in ambiguous terms.

Welfare Fund Moves Slowly

The Community Fund campaign was in the doldrums Thursday with little more than $350 reported in since tabulations on Wednesday.

Hopes were high, however, that it might move near the $20,000 mark during the day with a report expected from Couden workers.

At last accounts, employes of the industry had given and pledged $853, and contributions made previously by officers would push the total from those associated with Couden past $1,000. Receipt of the employe fund would boost the total past $19,500.

New Policy On Traffic Cases

Schedule for a special court period for traffic violations was announced this morning at conclusion of a meeting attended by City Judge Rupert Ricker, B. J. McDaniel, city manager, and A. G. Mitchell, police chief.

A full hour, from 9 a. m. to 10 a. m., will be set aside each day at the city court room for hearings on traffic cases. Some confusion has resulted in the previous schedule, when persons with traffic tickets at times had to await completion of hearings on other cases, the officials pointed out.

Receipt of a traffic ticket now makes appearance in city court mandatory, regardless of the nature of the plea. The city officials said the law requires this procedure technically, and that some complaints were voiced earlier in the year when persons receiving traffic tickets were permitted to plead guilty and pay their fines when court was not in session.

New Bishop To Be Consecrated Dec. 3

The Rev. George H. Quarterman, Amarillo, is to be consecrated as bishop of the missionary district of North Texas of the Protestant Episcopal church in ceremonies set for Dec. 3.

The consecration will take place in the St. Andrews church at Amarillo at 10:30 a. m. The St. Mary's church at Big Spring as well as others throughout the district likely will have representatives at the service. The Rt. Rev. Quarterman will succeed Rt. Rev. Cecil Seaman as bishop of the district.

President Ignores Idea Of Resigning

Well-Known Members Ousted

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7. (AP)—Democratic members of Congress emerging from the wreckage of their 15-year majority today counted a score of nationally known legislators missing in action.

Ousted from the capital were such notables as: Joseph Guffey, aggressively New Deal Pennsylvania senator. He was defeated by Gov. Edward Martin.

David I. Walsh, a veteran of 20 years in the Senate, and chairman of the Naval Affairs Committee. Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., a Republican and Walsh's former colleague, took his measure.

Frank Briggs, Senator from Missouri and personal friend of President Truman. His successor is James P. Kem.

Senator James M. Tunnell of Delaware, who, like Briggs, is a member of the potent War Investigating Committee. A political newcomer, John J. Williams, blocked him out of the political scrimmage.

Senator James W. Huffman lost to presidential aspirant John W. Bricker in Ohio; New Dealer Hugh Mitchell bowed to Harry P. Cain in Washington; Senator Abe Murdock (D-Utah), usually an administration supporter, was replaced by Arthur V. Watkins.

Andrew Jackson May, Military Committee chairman, was a noteworthy casualty in the House. W. Howes Meade, a Republican, knocked him out in the seventh Kentucky District.

Another Kentucky Congressman who went down was Emmet O'Neal, advocate of pensions and increased pay for congressmen. The victor was Thurston B. Morton.

Rep. Emily Taft Douglas, congresswoman at large from Illinois, lost to Republican William G. Stratton; New Dealer Hugh DeLoach of Washington to Homer Jones; Andrew Blumiller, an anti-well-taxed from Wisconsin, to Charles J. Kersten; Matthew Neely, former senator and governor, to Francis J. Love in West Virginia.

The voters likewise retired representatives John Coffee (D-Wash.), Jerry Voorhis (D-Calif.), George E. Outland (D-Calif.), Ed Isaac (D-Calif.), Compton White (D-Idaho) and Louis Rabaut (D-Mich).

Perhaps the bitterest for President Truman was the defeat of Enos A. Axtell, who bore the White House endorsement, by Albert L. Reeves in Missouri's fifth district.

BONDS FOR INSURANCE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7. (AP)—The Veterans Administration has formally approved the use of terminal leave bonds for payments on national life insurance.

Tuesday's landslide swept the Republicans to a three-vote majority in the Senate and at least a 28 member advantage in the House. Two House races still were undecided on late returns, with the Republican leading in one and the Democrat in the other. Aside from these the Republicans had elected 246 members, the Democrats 186 and American Labor one.

The Senate division stood at 51 Republicans and 42 Democrats, with the Democrats leading by comfortable, if not decisive, margins in three contests not yet settled.

Hurley May Fight N. Mexico Decision

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Nov. 7. (AP)—Senator Chavez (D-NM), on the basis of incomplete and unofficial returns from Tuesday's election, has been reelected to the seat he has held 11 years, defeating Republican Patrick J. Hurley, secretary of war in the Hoover cabinet.

With the vote in from all except scattered, small precincts, many of which were snowbound and may have held elections at all, Chavez had a lead of more than 5,000 votes over Hurley, who resigned early this year as ambassador to China.

The fighting Hurley refused to concede and indicated he would await the official canvass or perhaps a court contest. Ballot boxes of four counties—Rio Arriba, San Miguel, McKinley and Valencia—which gave Chavez strong majorities were impounded yesterday by court order.

Is Concerned Over Foreign Reaction To Demos' Defeat

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7. (AP)—President Truman is not known to resign and has not even considered the possibility. This can be reported today without qualification.

The suggestion that Mr. Truman appoint a republican secretary of state and resign to permit the GOP to take over the presidency came from Senator Fulbright (D-Ark).

It was echoed in some newspapers normally democratic, but Rep. Sparkman (D-Ala) asserted that such a step was "not the thing to do."

The attitude around the White House today was that the suggestion should not be dignified by comment either from the president or any member of his staff.

It was known that Mr. Truman himself felt that to resign now after the democrats' crushing election defeat, would be to run out on the job.

Moreover, the President is known to hold to the view that he should not change the American constitutional system by such a move.

Some political observers also are strongly of the opinion that the Republicans themselves would not want a Democrat to choose a President for them. Such would be the case if Mr. Truman followed the course Fulbright suggests.

There also was a question as to whom the President might submit a resignation even if he had such a thought in mind.

Persons in a position to know said there had been "very little discussion" around the White House about the future course of the administration.

As far as the election is concerned, close friends said, Mr. Truman is far more concerned about foreign reaction to the Democratic defeat than he is about his own political future.

Mr. Truman apparently must decide whether he shall compromise with the Republican dominated Congress on controversial domestic and foreign issues, or challenge it and fight back with Democratic-supported vetoes.

Whether he shall attempt to lead his own party back toward the more conservative line that appeared to be popularized by Tuesday's sweeping GOP victories or steer it even more forcefully toward the opposite side of center.

Whether he shall attempt to rally dispersed Democratic forces around himself as a candidate for re-election in 1948 or prepare to step aside then for some other nominee.

This much is clear: For the first time in 14 years the 80th Congress which convenes next January will be controlled by the party which does not hold the White House.

Tuesday's landslide swept the Republicans to a three-vote majority in the Senate and at least a 28 member advantage in the House. Two House races still were undecided on late returns, with the Republican leading in one and the Democrat in the other. Aside from these the Republicans had elected 246 members, the Democrats 186 and American Labor one.

Odessa Escapee Taken At Pecos

ODESSA, Nov. 7. (AP)—Albert Yarber, one of three men who escaped from the Ector county jail Tuesday night, was apprehended in Pecos, Tex., today and will be returned to authorities here.

Still at large are Preston Knight, convicted of forgery, and Louis Reeves McDonald, convicted of car theft. Yarber, an escapee from the state prison at Huntsville, was being held in the Ector county jail. Knight and McDonald were awaiting transfer to Huntsville when the break occurred.

Victors To Face Fight On Spoils

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7. (AP)—The prospect of intra-party strife over dividing up the spoils tempered republican election victory over the party's landslide today in Tuesday's election.

Party leaders arranging for policy sessions starting next week were bedeviled by clearly etched signs that the first, sweet taste of political victory in 15 years may be soured for top congressional posts.

But the leaders appeared confident of one thing: Whatever fights may develop during the jockeying for position will be reconciled quickly enough to permit a united front when republicans organize the senate and house of the 80th congress on January 3.

The major organizational battle is expected to revolve around selection of a floor leader in the house. There is no one on the horizon to challenge the bid of Joseph W. Martin, Jr., of Massachusetts for the speakership to be vacated when Sam Rayburn of Texas steps down from the rostrum to take his place with the democratic minority.

As republican floor leader during the party's political depression years, Martin automatically is in line for the speakership.

Mentioned most frequently as leading contenders for the floor leadership are Reps. Clarence Brown of Ohio and Charles Halleck of Indiana. Brown directed the successful campaign just completed, while Halleck headed the party's congressional campaign committee.

In the field also are Reps. Everett Dirksen of Illinois, Earl Clement of Michigan and Thomas Jenkins of Ohio.

The decision as to which will wear the toga of leadership rests finally with the republican caucus.

The caucus also must decide the recipients of such choice patronage posts in the house setup as the clerkship, sergeant-at-arms and doorkeeper. There will be candidates galore.

It will be called upon, too, to settle fights almost certain to grow out of conflicting bids for choice committee assignments.

In the senate, Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan has the inside track for election as president pro tem and also is slated to be chairman of the potent foreign relations committee.

Robert A. Taft of Ohio is expected by many to become senate majority leader and to head the tax-writing finance committee, should he decline the active floor leadership and retain his chairmanship of the republican steering committee, the leadership may go to Senator Wallace White of Maine, now minority leader.

Two Students Die In Denison Crash

DENISON, Nov. 7. (AP)—Two teen-age high school students were killed and two more seriously injured here last night in an automobile collision.

Dead were Harold D. Hollingsworth and Alice Stroud, both of Sherman, Tex. Willis O. Moncrief and Dayton Eugene George, both of Denison, Tex., were taken to a hospital here, where Moncrief was reported in critical condition.

DECONTROL WILL KEEP MOVING, REGARDLESS OF VOTE OUTCOME

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7. (AP)—A top government official said today there will be no slackening of price and wage decontrol in the wake of the administration's election debacle.

Even as OPA posted higher prices for many infants' and children's cotton garments and some other clothing items, this official told a reporter: "The chances are better than 50-50" that price controls on all wearing apparel and textiles will be removed "very soon."

This action may be taken when OPA's so-called master decontrol list is announced, possibly this week-end. Elimination of price ceilings on clothing and textiles automatically would free these industries of wage controls.

Dean Bennett Named Head Of Ward Schools

Dean Bennett, connected with the Big Spring schools during most of his 10 years in teaching, was elected supervisor of elementary education by the board of trustees Wednesday evening.

Bennett, who currently is serving as principal of the Central and South Ward schools, will supervise and coordinate instruction in the seven elementary schools. He will work with some 64 teachers. Bennett holds a masters degree in elementary education and all of his experience has been in that field. The post pays $3,000 per annum.

Three teachers were elected by the board, two replacing supplies at West Ward. Roy C. Hayes was named sixth grade teacher at the school, and Mrs. Mary Alice Isaacs was named to the staff. At Central Ward, Mrs. Bob Little was elected as a first grade teacher.

Use of the gymnasium was discussed, with trustees indicating that high school and junior college teams would have preference and others would be accommodated as schedules could be worked out.

In informal discussions, the board took steps to co-operate in the open-house day on Nov. 13 at the Howard County Junior College. Attending the meeting were Dr. J. E. Hogan, who served as president pro tem in the absence of George White, who was ill, Ira Thurman, secretary, Dewey Martin and Justin Holmes.

In the field also are Reps. Everett Dirksen of Illinois, Earl Clement of Michigan and Thomas Jenkins of Ohio.

The decision as to which will wear the toga of leadership rests finally with the republican caucus.

The caucus also must decide the recipients of such choice patronage posts in the house setup as the clerkship, sergeant-at-arms and doorkeeper. There will be candidates galore.

It will be called upon, too, to settle fights almost certain to grow out of conflicting bids for choice committee assignments.

REST IN PEACE

Shamming profound sorrow, Gertrude Cline, chief clerk, and Ricky Cooper mourn the liquidation of the local OPA office. After more than four years of activity, in which it was a key spot in business affairs in war years, the office was closed Monday on orders from national authorities. Miss Cooper posted black-bordered funeral notices and a funeral wreath on 11: door. (Jack M. Haynes Photo).

More Funds Sought For Children's Aid

AUSTIN, Nov. 7. (AP)—The 50th legislature was slated today to receive a request to double the biennial appropriation for aid to dependent children from $1,800,000 to $3,600,000.

The child welfare division of the American Legion plans to make the request which seeks to raise the age limit of dependent children receiving such aid from 14 to 16 years.

The committee, headed by Judge Drew Clifton of Fort Worth, met here yesterday to outline its plans for the next 12 months.

Labor Relations Disastrous, Says World Bank Head

NEW YORK, Nov. 7. (AP)—Eugene Meyer, president of the World Bank, declared today that strikes in this country were threatening the world with economic starvation and thereby endangering the peace. Meyer called present American labor relations "disastrous." He headed the Federal Reserve Board and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation under Republican administrations and resigned as publisher of the Washington Post last June to accept the bank's presidency.

Citing mining and factory production losses from strikes this year and stressing the potential effects of "a fresh stoppage of work threatened in the coal mines," Meyer asserted in a speech prepared for the annual meeting of the academy of political science.

"I say emphatically that the crucial importance of continuous full production for our own welfare and for that of mankind the world over cannot be exaggerated. "We Americans who but recently showed our sympathy for the people of the world by sharing the products of our fields must now become aware that this economic starvation threatens the winning of the peace."

Wants Presidents To Meet In Laredo

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7. (AP)—A meeting of the presidents of this country and Mexico at an International Fiesta next February 22, in Laredo, was urged today by Rep. West (D-Tex.)

On each anniversary of the birth of George Washington, the cities of Laredo and Nuevo Laredo, just across the Rio Grande in Mexico, jointly sponsor a gala celebration. Troops from each country parade across the border in the neighboring city and there are other manifestations of friendly relations between the two republics.

West said he had asked at the White House if President Truman can attend the next celebration.

If he finds it possible, West said, it is planned that the president of Mexico come north and the two chief executives greet each other on the international bridge connecting the two cities.

Fireman Dies In T&P Wreck

DALLAS, Nov. 7. (AP)—The fireman was killed and the engineer was injured when the engine and 28 cars of a Texas and Pacific freight train overturned six miles west of Jefferson, Tex., late last night.

R. C. Parker, general superintendent of the railroad here, said F. L. Mimms, 35, Mineola, Tex. fireman, was killed and that Cecil Simpson of Mineola, the engineer, was slightly hurt.

Parker said the cause of the derailment had not been determined. He placed the time of the accident at approximately 11 p.m. last night.

There were about 70 cars in the freight which was bound from St. Louis to Houston and San Antonio.

Parker said track to allow passage of trains around the wreck would be completed about 4 p.m. today.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7. (AP)—The stock market attracted support today after extending Wednesday's sharp decline at the opening.

With dealings relatively active, initial declines of fractions to a point or more were reduced or converted into advances of as much near midday.

Meter Standards Near Completion

Installation of parking meter standards on downtown streets is expected to be completed within the next few days, city officials said today, as the meters are to be attached as soon as possible.

Some complaints have been registered regarding plans for installation of meters in front of the Post Office, City Manager B. J. McDaniel reported this morning. Although the standards are being erected there on schedule, the matter will be referred to the city commission at its regular meeting Tuesday, McDaniel said, and the matter will be withheld until the commissioners pass decision.

Texans Voting Again Today

By The Associated Press
Texans went to the polls today for the second time in three days.

They cast their ballots in a special election on the veterans land amendment to the state constitution. The amendment would authorize the state to issue bonds for $25,000,000 with which to buy land for sale to veterans of World War II. The amendment also authorizes the state to administer the fund for eight years.

Through an error when the proposal was passed by the legislature the amendment was submitted for a Thursday election instead of at the general election Tuesday.

At least four counties ignored the order for Thursday voting and cast ballots on the proposition Tuesday. Bexar, Karnes, Gonzales and McMullen counties voted in favor of the amendment on the basis of unofficial returns. However, there was doubt whether the vote in those counties would be

Voting Here At Very Low Ebb

Very little interest was being generated this morning in the amendment election, which would provide a fund for the purchase of state land for the re-sale to World War II veterans.

Election officials at the four voting boxes in the court house reported less than a hundred ballots had been cast up to 11 o'clock. Only five voters of Precinct Four had exercised their voting privileges up to that time.

Veterans seemed to express even less interest than the public in general. One election official of Precinct Three said only four of the first 28 persons to cast votes were ex-servicemen.

The polls were to remain open until 7 p.m.

Seminole Escapes Being Sought Here

Search for Carl Jenkins, who escaped jail in Seminole more than a week ago, centered around Big Spring today following the report that a man answering to his description had vanished with a quantity of bed sheets, blankets, quilts and pillows from a tourist cabin in the western section of the city early this morning.

The party, accompanied by a woman, had checked into the court about midnight last night. According to the attendant, the two of them departed before daylight.

Robert Johnson, manager of the Texas Election Bureau, predicted last night that less than 100,000 ballot would be cast today. An estimated 250,000 voted on Tuesday.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your drugist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcolate (formerly called Barcol Concentrate). Pour this into a rigid bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloated disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Williamson, Prairie View, Rev. and Mrs. Van-Pelt, Vincent Baptist, and Rev. Edwin Spears, Airport Baptist. Lay delegates also may attend from the Brotherhoods and WMU.

Among Texans on the convention program are W. R. White, Austin, Carr P. Collins, Dallas, E. J. Gregory, San Antonio, C. E. Harford, Corpus Christi, E. H. Westmoreland, Houston, W. H. McKenzie, Dallas, Forrest Frezzer, Waco, Hal Buckner, Dallas, and Thomas J. Watts, Dallas.

Out-of-state speakers include J. W. Marshall, Duke K. McCall, John D. Freeman and John L. Hill, Nashville, Tenn., and Ellis A. Fuller, Louisville, Kentucky. C. E. Matthews, Fort Worth, will present his report on evangelism Wednesday night, stressing simultaneous evangelistic efforts embracing some 2,700 churches.

Dr. J. Howard Williams, Dallas, will climax the sessions when he brings the first annual report of his current tenure as executive secretary of Texas Baptists on Thursday night. The report will show state office receipts in excess of $3,500,000 for all causes, including $725,000 for world emergency relief, nearly twice as much as Texas Baptists were asked to give. Membership has grown from 599,000 in 1935 to 820,000 in 1945, and the total is expected to reach one million this year. Last year churches raised $18,796,270 for all purposes, more than four times the 1935 total.

FRESH BLOOD A MUST FOR FREE ENERGY

Do you feel like you are tied to a drag everytime you try to do something? If so, don't let a low blood count hold you down when you may release vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell. Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease. To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients. Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice which it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste. Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps build sturdy health.

Denazification Ministers Quit

STUTT GART, Germany, Nov. 7. (AP)—The denazification ministers of all three states in the American Occupation Zone of Germany have tendered their resignations as a result of sharp criticism by Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay of the work of German denazification courts, German governmental officials said tonight. Their resignations have not yet been accepted by the German minister-presidents, these officials said. Clay, deputy military governor of the American zone, charged yesterday that German denazification courts were "whitewashing" Nazis.

Credit Buying Shows Increase Here, As Over Rest Of Nation

A wave of credit buying, which has swept over the state during the past few months, also has been apparent in Big Spring, according to reports from the local Retail Merchant's Association today. The trend actually was noticed here as early as September, 1945, Mrs. L. A. Eubanks, manager of the Big Spring office said. However, several major factors have contributed to the increase, and Eubanks expressed belief that it does not necessarily mean that great numbers of citizens have exhausted their savings back-logs. For one thing, the credit buying rate automatically advanced several months ago when major oil companies resumed their former practice of issuing "courtesy" cards. Until the increase became apparent, Mrs. Eubanks operated the local office alone, but at present there is one full-time employee and another working part-time. Nevertheless, the increase here is estimated at only about 40 percent. The addition of personnel was necessitated by an increase in report data required by the stores and other business firms. Store managers are becoming more and more interested in character background and other factors formerly regarded as less important, Mrs. Eubanks pointed out. Returning servicemen have accounted for a major portion of the credit-buying increase locally. "Many of the servicemen disposed of their property when they were inducted," Mrs. Eubanks said, "and they are anxious to buy clothes, furniture, automobiles, and in many cases, homes." At the same time, Mrs. Eubanks observed that virtually no increase in credit purchases has been noticed among local residents who have been regular buyers here over a period of years.

Heavy Damage In Philadelphia Fire

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7. (AP)—A four alarm fire swept three warehouses in the waterfront district early today, destroying tons of wooden crates and $250,000 worth of wool before it was brought under control more than two hours after it was discovered. David Howard, 39, a fireman, was seriously injured when a wall he was scaling, collapsed, hurling him to the ground. He was taken to Jefferson hospital where physicians said he sustained serious chest injuries.

Searchers continued probing the ruins for others who may have been trapped in the debris.

Acting battalion Chief William Simmler said he believed the blaze started in the four story brick warehouse from a cigarette discarded among the wooden crates and spread to an adjoining five story wool warehouse and a smaller warehouse.

Three Killed In India Riot

NEW DELHI, Nov. 7. (AP)—At least three persons were killed and seven injured in New Delhi today in an outbreak of Hindu-Muslim rioting broken up only after police opened fire.

Looting and continued communal warfare also were reported in Bombay, where police used small arms fire in a battle against rioting crowds. Four stabbing incidents were reported there and the government authorized police to take the "sternest measures necessary" to stop looting.

The district magistrate in New Delhi attributed today's outbreak here to the Moslem celebration of Id Ul Zuhra, during which Moslems traditionally sacrifice goats and cows.

Place Emphasis On Potato Dishes

All-out emphasis goes on potatoes during the next few weeks. November 7-16 is an especially appropriate time to feature potato recipes and stress increased use and home storage. That's the date of the drive by the Department of Agriculture, producers and food handlers all over the country to get the biggest late potato crop in our history under cover for winter. You may want to refer to recent issues of Pantry Patter for food page suggestions. The issue dated October 21 contained a story on "Spud Storage"; on October 28 we sent you several recipe suggestions. We'll be happy to furnish additional information at your request.

Farm And Ranch News

By WACIL McNAIR
Add the Big Spring health department to the list of those who would welcome a return of dairying to this section. Although the dairymen in this area who abandoned the business during the war probably did the right thing and the only thing that they felt could save them financially, indications are that the complexion of the dairy industry in Texas has changed, and a bright future is not improbable for farmers who plan to get into the business properly.

Naturally, the city health department is interested in the matter chiefly from the standpoint of health and adequate milk supplies for Big Spring. But health officials actually are in a position to do more for the dairying than merely create "red tape" for the dairy farmer to struggle through. With this in mind, we are recording here some views of Lawrence J. Wells, Big Spring's city sanitarian.

Primarily, Wells believes successful dairying depends on three basic factors: Breeding, feeding and sanitation. The third factor, which, in opinion of some, creates the most depressing influence since it usually is embroiled in details, is one of the most important to the dairy farmer himself, Wells observes. To back this up, he can cite instances where prize dairy herds have been wiped out by disease which could have been prevented if operators had adhered to recommended sanitation standards. Breeding and feeding advantages are recognized immediately by most dairy farmers, because they both contribute to production, which, in turn, mean more profits. But the consumer suffers little because the milk he drinks happens to come from an animal of poor breeding, so long as the food value is not below standard. Both the dairyman and the consumer suffer from lack of sanitation, however, Wells points out, because the dairy farmers' herd and his consumers both are "wide open" to attack from disease.

In these observations, Wells was not branding dairy farmers as unsanitary persons by any stretch of imagination. But advantages of all aspects of any program must be emphasized to promote cooperation on a large scale.

It has been suggested in some quarters that demonstration dairy herds should be assembled in this area, to provide a practical basis for renewing interest in commercial dairy herds. Principal barrier, of course, is finding someone to take the lead. At present, it looks like a field with unlimited possibilities for the future, since the dispersal of dairy animals in the area, especially registered stock, has forced consumers to rely on other sections for supplies. Farther west the situation is even more acute, and a good stabilized dairy program in Howard county probably could count on supplying some of the more heavily populated neighboring regions as well as Big Spring itself.

Mitchell county ranks second only to Runnels in cotton ginning figures for a 19-county area released by the Bureau of Census covering ginnings through Oct. 17. The figures gave Runnels 8,054 bales and Mitchell 7,797, representing a decrease of 743 from the same date in 1945 for Runnels and an increase of 3,478 for Mitchell. For the same period, Howard county had ginned 4,210 bales in 1946, as compared to 2,835 in 1945.

Candied Pears Make Perfect Accompaniment

Try this tested recipe combination.

Cereal Meat Loaf With Ruby Pears
Meat Loaf—
1 egg
2 cups slightly crushed corn flakes
1 1-2 lbs. ground beef
1-4 cup chopped onion
2 tps. salt
1-4 tsp. pepper
1 tbs. Worcestershire sauce
3-4 cup water

Beat egg. Combine all ingredients thoroughly. Pack into greased loaf pan. Bake 1 hour at 350° F. Makes 8 servings. Serve warm or cold, and garnish with Ruby Poached Pears.

Ruby Poached Pears—
6 fresh pears
1 cup currant jelly
1 4 cup lemon juice
Few grains salt
Peel and halve pears, leaving on stems. Remove cores. Heat currant jelly, lemon juice and salt in saucepan over low heat. Add pear halves and cook uncovered in jelly mixture over low heat, about 10 to 15 minutes, until tender. Baste frequently with spoon and turn pear halves occasionally. Serve hot with centers filled with thick currant jelly. Serves 6.
For cooking, pears should be slightly firm. But for salads and fresh eating, they should be ripe, as shown by their yielding to gentle pressure.

If you should buy pears which are quite hard, keep them at room temperature until they become ready to eat. Winter Pears will not ripen in the refrigerator.

Statistical Proof

Homemakers don't need to be told they've had less butter and margarine this year than in 1945. But just for the record, here's what USDA's marketing specialists say: creamery butter production per person is down about 10 percent, supplies on margarine about 15 percent.

Broiled Roasts Ideal For Small Family, One Of Easiest Methods Of Cookery

Strip steak is top flight in flavor for a broiler dinner. But so, too, are rump, shoulder, and top round steaks if cut from well fattened, tender beef. For the two-some family who finds a rib roast too large, a thick 1-rib cut may be slow broiled to make an excellent service.

For oven broiling, steaks over 1-inch thick are best. If thinner steaks are used, a heavy frying pan should be used to pan broil with the same degree of just rightness and care.

Broiling is one of the easiest methods of cooking because one turning of the meat is the only attention needed.

Ranges differ in operation so that first of all one should learn to operate her range with maximum efficiency. Usually the broiler should be pre-heated with dial set at broil. Often, the door must be left open during broiling. If the broiling tray is heated the meat starts to cook more quickly.

Now for the broiling. The steaks may be cut into servings especially if the family like well browned surfaces and medium or well done steak. If a large sirloin or porterhouse is broiled, slash the fat edges every 2 inches to prevent curling and cupping of the edge.

Allow 7 minutes on each side for cooking a 1 inch steak to the medium stage, 6 minutes to rare and 8 minutes to well done. Place the broiler rack so the surface of the 1-inch steak is 3 inches from the heat source. If the steak is 2 inches thick, increase the distance to 5 inches for a more uniform doneness.

When the surface is well browned, season the steak with salt and a little pepper, if desired. Turn and continue the cooking and broiling. Season. Dot with butter or margarine and serve on a hot platter.

As to the test for doneness of steak, the surest way is to cut a slit near the bone and look! Most roast meat thermometers are made with mercury indicator and therefore are calibrated or marked to register correctly in oven temperatures only. For this reason, a thermometer (unless it is a high priced mercury one) cannot be used in broiling steak.

Since most ovens are heated too when the broiling oven is being used, accompaniments for the steak may be oven cooked. Some suggested fruit garnishes are baked, honey-coated peach halves, baked peaches in cinnamon syrup, baked apple rings in brown sugar syrup, or baked orange slices in sweet pickle syrup.

The vegetable accompaniments may be baked acorn squash, stuffed green peppers, scalloped corn, oven-fried onion rings, beef slices in sweet sour sauce, or baked stuffed tomatoes.

Fall Days Give Folks Hankering For Hale, Hearty Meat Dishes

The tawny days of fall are here again. Autumn's golden sunshine hangs like a filmy veil upon the town, and the breeze is sweetly scented as a jug of cider. At night the hunters' moon makes pixies out of chimney pots. A silver mist creeps slowly on the ground... there will be frost on the rooftops in the morning, and a thin coating of ice will slow the ripple on the rills.

Days like these folks get a hankering for food that's hale and hearty. Stuffed food that will encase the ribs with warmth and comfort—savory food that gives lip-smacking satisfaction as it stokes the inner man. Just such a food we give you here: baked spareribs with an herb-rich filling, and a savory casserole of sausage, raisin sauce, and sweet potatoes.

Baked Spareribs with Raisin Stuffing
Wipe with damp cloth, and sprinkle with salt and pepper—
1 side spareribs (1 1/2 to 2 lbs.)
Combine—
6 cups cubed bread
1 cup seedless nectars or seedless raisins.
In—
1/4-cup bacon drippings
Sauté until tender—
1 onion, minced
1 cup chopped celery tops.
Season with—
1 teaspoon poultry seasoning or sage
1 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper.
Combine—
1 egg, beaten
3/4 cup water
Add to the bread and raisin mixture and mix well. If too dry, add a little more water. Shape into a mound in a greased, shallow pan; lay spareribs over stuffing. Bake, uncovered, in a moderate oven (350 F.) for 1 1/2 to 2 hours or until tender. Serves 4 to 6.

Oven Dinner
Parboil until almost tender—
6 medium sweet potatoes.
Drain and cool. Slice and put into a greased casserole in layers, sprinkling each layer with—
Salt
Pepper
2 tablespoons grated orange peel
1/4 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup seedless nectars or seedless raisins.
Brown in skillet and pour off fat—
1 lbs. link pork sausage or 6 thin pork chops.
Add, and simmer for 5 minutes
1/2 cup water.
Place meat on potatoes and pour liquid over top. Bake in a moderate oven (350 F.) for 45 minutes. Serves 6.

Lions Club Gets In Parliamentary Tiff
Lions became embroiled in a parliamentary struggle Wednesday, but after they fired motions like an artillery barrage, all agreed that they would be on hand next Wednesday when a joint service club meeting is slated for Howard County Junior College.

The debate on rules had nothing to do with the joint meeting, for it all arose out of a question on handling a contribution to a fund to push a Texan for a high office in the international organization.

Otis Grafe, president, set a minimum goal of 80 Lions at the meeting a week hence. B. J. McDaniel conferred with team captains in the residential district canvass with the view of cleaning up this part of the Community Fund campaign.

Reports on a program the club presented Monday night at Stanton were heard from Joe Pond. Mrs. Wanda McElhannon sang for the Stanton Lions and Bill Dawes spoke.

'White Australia' Policy Draws Protest From India

AP Newsfeatures
CANNBERRA—The "White Australia" policy, which prohibits colored people from entering the Commonwealth as immigrants, was strongly criticized by the Indian High Commissioner Sir Raghunath Paranjpye in an address to the Wollongong Rotary Club.

Declaring the policy was "an affront to the susceptibilities of Indians and other peoples," Sir Raghunath asserted Indians "want to be treated as equals with full political and other rights."

Sir Raghunath told the Rotarians that the recent American law permitting 100 Indians to enter as prospective citizens every year has raised the United States greatly in the estimation of the Indian people.

"The treatment of Indians in other countries, and especially in several parts of the British Commonwealth wounds their pride. The way South Africa deals with India's protests against the treatment of Indians in the dominion will have considerable influence on whether an independent India will remain in the British Commonwealth."

The meeting will be at the Settles hotel, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Marketing specialists say supplies of eggs are now somewhat larger than last year. Reason is the rate of withdrawals from cold storage, which offsets reduced production, now about 4 percent below 1945.

Peanut Butter Boon To Mothers

Keeping the family fit, healthy, well nourished and vigorous is mother's job. It is the food that she serves that must supply energy, maintain body processes, repair worn-out and build new tissues.

Mother then, must remember that special attention should be focused on lunches for it's the meal most apt to be slighted. With the morning rush and breakfast preparations snatching away the minutes it is easy to hurriedly pack the lunchbox with whatever happens to be on hand.

A little planning the day before can change all this, and eliminate the chance of poor lunches and much of the morning rush and bustle, too. For example, a list of fillings tacked on the inside of a cupboard door will insure speedy answers for hearty, nutritious sandwiches—and variety in the lunchbox will be certain too. Peanut Butter is the delight of youngsters and grown-ups as well, so why not include it often and in many combinations. It's packed with protein, the body building nutrient and a food source of phosphorus, calcium and iron. Every crust and crumb will be gobbled up if they're spread with these fillings.

One half cup peanut butter, 1 cup grated raw carrot, 2 table-spoons mayonnaise.

One half cup chopped seeded raisins, 1-2 cup peanut butter, 2 teaspoons lemon juice.

And, if you're a-hunting quickie, sugar-saving desserts for the lunchbox or for the evening meal, try these ideas. They use delicious peanut confections — try them soon.

Chop peanut brittle and sprinkle on graham crackers. Pop them into the oven until brittle melts. A nutritious eandy cookie, nice for a simple luncheon dessert.

Place chopped peanut brittle in the bottom of cup custard. Pour in custard mixture and bake as usual. Invert on serving dish with peanut brittle running over and around baked custard. It makes a custard similar to caramel without the work of caramelizing the sugar.

ARCHEOLOGICAL SYMPOSIUM PROVES IT

Ancient Indian Cultural Ties Reached South Of The Border

AP Newsfeatures

NORMAN, Okla.—A cultural exchange between Indians living in what is now Mexico and the south-central region of the United States, centuries before the arrival of white men, has been established to the satisfaction of scientists attending a University of Oklahoma archeological symposium.

The shapes of pipes, ornaments, bowls and burial mounds left by ancient Oklahomans show a marked similarity to similar objects made in Mexico about the year 1000, it was agreed by Eduardo Noguera, director of Mexico City's National Museum of Anthropology, and fellow Mexican archeologist, Wilfrido du Solier.

Evidence that the cultural exchange did not entirely originate south of the border was given by Pedro Armillas, another Mexican expert, who said the use of copper in the Mississippi valley predated its use in his country. Copper used by Oklahoma primitives is believed to have come from the Great Lakes region, it was asserted.

Dr. Kenneth G. Orr, University of Chicago teacher who has directed field work for the University of Oklahoma, said that ancient Oklahomans had a culture 2,000 years old. He explained that it flourished long before the Introduction of Mexican techniques by roaming inhabitants of Central America.

New light has been thrown on the early Indians of Oklahoma, Louisiana and Texas by excavations of the Spiro mounds near Eufala, Okla. Commenced about 10 years ago, this digging has revealed that the aborigines had a highly-developed culture, extensive religious practices, artistic inclinations and some conception of science, archeologists heard.

The Spiro mounds yielded more than 1,000 skeletons—presumably of sacrificial victims buried before the arrival of the first Europeans.

Other village sites, believed to be between 500 and 1,200 years old, have been found in northeast Oklahoma, southeastern Oklahoma, northeastern Texas, northwestern Louisiana and western Arkansas, it was stated here.

The prehistoric people apparently had a well defined conception of after-life, for they buried ornaments, weapons and pottery vessels with their dead. Skulls found near altars suggested to archeologists that head-hunting was practiced.

Shapes of bowls and bottles and spikes on pottery were pointed out as similar in Mexico and in the U. S.

"The black polish and the designs and pigments which appear in the Spiro pottery are the same as found in the Huasteca of Mexico. It can be dated between 1000 and 1100," du Solier said.

Clarification Of Existing Fact

The election of a republican congress in an "off" year has accentuated a government crisis. The nation will be confronted with the fact of a republican congress and a democratic president. In theory, and all too often in practice, this is calculated to create an impasse in which the government cannot function in the broadest possible plane.

This, of course, is based on the assumption that congress can block proposals by the administration, and that the administration, exercising the power of veto, can block congress since the republican majority is short of the two-thirds required for overriding.

For clearer analysis, it should be understood that the election simply puts a different fact on a coalition blockade which already existed in fact. Combining forces with certain resurgent Southern democrats, the republicans had been able to block many administration programs.

In this strange combination, the GOP more or less let the right wing of the democratic party call the tune and went along simply in a negative capacity. Now, faced with the responsibility of leadership, the republican party is challenged to produce a positive program.

Failure to measure up may shatter a lot of rosy dreams of 1948 for the GOP, for the thing which swung this election was a protest vote. Voters were asking for a change. There was no clear cut preference on broad programs. It was a revolt against controls, directives, and the post-war muddle in general. The democrats represented the "ins," and amid such a popular atmosphere, the "ins" were voted out in a landslide.

Now the republicans are the "ins" in the popular sense. The easy policy of opposition for opposition's sake will no longer suffice the party. In the reorganization and leadership of the new congress, the party in power will be confronted with the responsibility of demonstrating a better program of government.

Thus, in a large sense, the outcome of the election is a refreshing clarification. It could easily produce an impasse, but if leadership in both parties rises to the situation—that is rises above mere partisan consideration—it is not at all improbable that happy compromises can be reached to the benefit of the nation, both domestically and internationally. Yielding to partisan ambitions can create stalemate at a critical time in the nation's history.

WHEN THE NEXT CONGRESS IS SEATED

Hundreds Of Jobs To Shift To GOP

WASHINGTON.—It has been exactly sixteen years since anyone save a Democratic elevator operator, doorkeeper, or page-boy drew a salary for chewing gum and pretending to administer to the needs of Congressmen in the halls of the capitol. For sixteen long years, Republicans have been out in the very cold, patronageless world.

Now, however, comes the big job transfer. Beginning with the new Republican Congress in January, 600 Democratic guards, janitors, clerks, stenographers, stationery room workers, sergeant-at-arms et al will get their walking papers, and 600 Republicans will take their places.

Most important of all, however, will be the new chairmen of committees, since the committees of Congress shape legislation far more than most people realize. Republican chairmen for the next two years will definitely affect the course of the nation.

Here is the roll call of the most important committees and the Republicans who will run them:

Foreign Affairs

Under Congressman Charles Eaton of New Jersey, the House Foreign Affairs committee will continue a nonpartisan Truman-Roosevelt policy. Born in Canada, trained as a Baptist preacher, dedicated to red neckties, Congressman Eaton has been a staunch supporter of US-World cooperation. When Isolationist ex-Congressman Ham Fish tried to dictate GOP policy on the foreign affairs committee, Eaton was continually at his throat. As a result, FDR invited the New Jersey representative to the White House rather than Fish. Eaton has occupied pulpits in Toronto, Cleveland, New York, was once editor of Leslie's Weekly, served as Canadian correspondent for the New York Tribune and Boston Transcript.

Ways and Means

Harold Knutson of Minnesota, new chairman of this vital committee, is bad news both to his party and the country. He voted against practically every defense measure before Pearl Harbor, claimed "Hitler is displaying a forbearance that might well be emulated by statesmen of other countries." "Personally," proclaimed the brazen Mr. Knutson, "I cannot see much difference between Germany's actions in Norway and the New Deal program in this country."

Knutson is noisy, irreplaceable, publicity-loving, has a mania for cutting brackets, especially in the higher tax rates. He once made a bitter attack on favoring the reorganization bill. When Time Magazine called him "Fuzzy," Congressman Luce, wife of Time's publisher, smoothed it over by reciting Kipling's poem, "Fuzzy Wuzzy." Her irate colleague pursued Knutson with the God's gift to little tax payers, no gift to the little fellows.

Appropriations

This is the all-important committee which decides how much the government can spend. Its new chairman will be John Taber of Auburn, N. Y., a bank director and president of a water company. He is the bull-in-the-china-closet type who once engaged in a fist fight with Congressman Cannon of Missouri and who yells so loud that he once restored the hearing of the late Congressman Leonard Schuetz of Chicago. Schuetz always used an ear trumpet on the floor, but during one of Taber's

Rivers and Harbors

New chairman probably will be George A. Dondero of Royal Oak, Mich., home town of Father Coughlin. Dondero served in Congress for thirteen years. Is one of three Congressmen of Italian descent, the others, D'Alesandro of Baltimore and Marcantonio of New York, being much more in evidence. Dondero is a great expert on Lincoln, boasted of friendship with the late Robert Todd Lincoln, son of the Civil War president, a nice, conservative, harmless. For a time he let his office be used by Walter Steele, a vigorous, isolationist lobbyist. After King George and Queen Mary came to the capital, Dondero held out his hand to friends, saying, "Shake the hand that shook the hand of a king—and has held four kings a few times."

Colleagues were once aghast when Taber berated the wild life division of the Interior Department for paying $11,500 to Mrs. E. Eugene Lay, for land near the Finger Lakes for which she wanted $16,500. Taber demanded that the Interior Department be penalized for killing its entire $9,000,000 for wild life. It turned out that Mrs. Lay was a constituent of Congressman Taber's.

Un-American Affairs

New Chairman Will Be J. Parnell Thomas of New Jersey, bald, a snappy dresser and a worthy wrangler. His last name once was Feeney, but he changed it to more high-sounding "J. Parnell Thomas." Thomas is a Wall Street broker on leave from Paine, Webber and Company. If he had his way, the un-American committee would spend all its time harrrying labor leaders. He will out-Rankin Rankin and ex-Congressman Ham Fish will be very happy.

Rules Committee

New chairman of this all-important committee, which decides what legislation can or cannot go to the floor of the House, will be Leo Allen of Illinois. Allen is pure Illinois cornbread, is Republican leader Joe Martin's closest friend, talks little, as a middle-of-the-road conservative, does exactly what Joe Martin tells him. In the first World War he had a good record as a field artillery sergeant.

Agriculture Committee

New chairman of this important body will be Cliff Hope of Garden City, Kans., probably the ablest member of Congress in either party when it comes to agriculture. Hope wrote most of Wendell Willkie's farm speeches and was scheduled to be Willkie's secretary of agriculture had Willkie been elected. Hope talks little, moves slowly, works hard. He is co-author of the bill for farm research, believes that the USA must get ready to take care of farm surpluses again, should begin now to study quick freezing, new packaging of farm products.

The Veterans Committee

This important committee will now shift from the chairmanship of Mississippi's rootin'-tootin' John Rankin to that of a hard-working, effective lady—Edith Nourse Rogers of Lowell, Mass. Mrs. Rogers is one of the oldest members of Congress from the point of service, having succeeded her husband in 1925. She has served the government 25 years, is 64 years old, and not afraid to state her age. Her husband was author of the Rogers Act which created the American career diplomatic service. Ever since, Mrs. Rogers has kept up her interest in foreign affairs, as well as doing a terrific job for her district. Few Congressmen work harder and get more accomplished. Probably she got more favors from the Democratic administration than the average Democrat. As a long-time member of the veterans committee, Mrs. Rogers has been battling bitterly with Chairman Rankin, will be a vast improvement over the gentleman from Mississippi.

Mirrors Of Austin

By PAUL BOLTON

AUSTIN.—It hasn't been advertised, but the bond people may ask the coming legislature to make an appropriation to bolster "the state's credit" in the eastern bond markets, as a result of the cut made in this year's ad valorem tax.

This cut of the general fund tax deprived many so-called "tax remission" counties of the source of revenues upon which they had counted for the retirement of various public works bonds. It is known that bond company representatives have conferred with high officials in Austin on the possibility of asking the next legislature to appropriate enough out of the general revenue fund to meet next year's payments of interest and principal. Their argument was that a default on these local-district bonds would seriously blot the state's credit among the heavy bond buyers, who draw no distinction between the state government (which has no outstanding bonds) and the governmental subdivisions.

An attempt to determine just how much money is at stake turned up only the information that the state government has no central agency which keeps a record of the bonds issued against what amounts to the state's credit. The state's share of the ad valorem tax.

Some of the counties or other districts to whom the money is remitted are required to make certain reports to the comptroller; upon others, there is no statutory requirement whatsoever. As a consequence no state agency knows how much it will cost the state treasury to prevent this alleged blot upon the state's credit next year. However, the amount likely would be something less than $2,000,000, since the remissions amount to approximately $2,000,000 a year and presumably some of the districts would have sinking funds on hand sufficient to take care of the current costs. This behind-the-scenes talk immediately raises a sharp legal question.

Most of the tax remissions are based upon the legal theory that the alternative to granting the remission was a public calamity. The Constitution says, in Art. 3, Sec. 51, "The legislature shall have no

Jean Makes Grade

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 6. (P)—The Buckeye customers have been asking for a report on the progress of Jean Peters, the Ohio State coed who upset Hollywood tradition by actually getting a screen contract after coming here as a contest winner. For their information, the gal is doing great.

There was some kind of publicity hocus-pocus about how she went back home and then was notified of her success, but actually she was in from the start. The 20th-Fox executives were bowled over by her natural acting talent. She was tested for the role of a young farm girl in "Scudda-Ho-Scudda-Hoo." She was a sensation, but not as a farm girl. Something else registered, and she tried out for the prize role of the Temptress Catana in "Captain from Castile."

Some time later she was led into a room full of cigar-chewing and chattering executives. Finally, one of them casually remarked, "well, you got Catana," and life began for Jean Peters.

Its All Bad News For Truman

WASHINGTON. (AP)—All the news about Congress is bad news for President Truman and whatever plans he has for running the country in the next two years.

As the final results of Tuesday's elections were completed, it became clear to everyone that the Republicans had won a majority—and therefore control—in the House.

This Republican House victory alone—without the Republican triumph in the Senate which is apparently a cinch also—was enough to box him up.

He had had enough tough going—since he became president in April, 1945—with a Congress where both Houses were dominated by his own Democrats.

A lot of his own suggestions got mislaid or waylaid in that Democratic Congress of his. Some went kerflunk but many were ignored or voted down by Democrats and Republicans ganging up.

Right off the bat Mr. Truman knew the Republicans, winners in the House, would set out to take full charge by appointing a speaker.

Then they'd rearrange the important committees, naming Republican chairman, and making sure that every committee had a majority of Republicans on it.

Even if the Republicans won only the House, and not the Senate, there'd be trouble enough for Mr. Truman, as he well knew. Both Houses have to approve a bill before it can become law.

Republican victory in both Houses is just a double dose of headache.

True, any president can veto any bill passed by Congress but Congress can pass it over his veto if two-thirds of the members vote to do so.

Getting a two-thirds vote to override a veto isn't easy, so when a president of one party uses a veto lavishly to knock down the work of a Congress dominated by another party, they can cancel each other out.

The Republicans in Congress can be depended upon to try to get through legislation of their own, somehow, because they'll be thinking of the 1948 presidential-congressional elections.

Two years from now they'll be trying to capture not only House and Senate but the presidency, also.

No Bargains Abroad

NEW YORK. (AP)—The tourist who comes to Europe looking for a bargain counter is in for some sad pocketbook surprises.

Money is still the open sesame in all the international shopping centers, but it is even more difficult than in the old days to convince the natives that every American doesn't carry his own mint with him.

The only sure way to come out ahead is to bring along a suitcase full of Confederate money and sell some wide-eyed foreigner who has taken abject leave from his common sense on the idea that it is the true money of the future.

For an ordinary twenty-buck bill good for 400 trips on a Manhattan subway, won't take you for much of a joyride abroad. They look pretty big when you pull the first ones out; soon you begin to wonder whether everybody else isn't mistaking them for a new issue postage stamp. And I don't mean an airmail stamp—they don't go that far.

About all a double sawbuck will buy you in Europe is a mild hangover, a good meal for two or a picture of Hitler. The frame comes extra.

There are two reasons for this shabby treatment of the dollar, which still looks better to many European peoples than their own wallpaper currency:

- (1). Official exchange rates in most cases aren't realistic and
- (2). Most countries still have more promises than goods to sell. In France, for example, a buck is worth 119 Francs officially. That is just the way the swivel chair diplomats in the Quai d'Orsay try to flatter the local voters. The black market operators around the Place de L'Opera know better the real value of the greenback. They'll break their elbows any hour shelling out 200 to 300 Francs for one.

Business is booming on this sable bourse. Travelers who bring over on the sly a sockful of Uncle Sam's legal certificates are thereby enabled to have the kind of time in Napoleon's Village-on-the-Seine that more honest visitors only dream about. Even then it comes high.

In all countries, of course, you are supposed to declare how much money you bring in and exchange it only at banks and other institutions which perpetuate the official money myth.

Hungary even put in the death penalty for citizens failing to turn in their American money to the government, which is shy of foreign exchange. Cynical Budapestians jest:

"If they catch you with five dollars, they hang you. If they catch you with ten dollars—you have to split it."

The English as a people don't play black market footy with the American dollar. And what they've got to sell is already overseas. To the Swedes and Swiss—peace. It was wonderful—the dollar is just a currency in knee-pants.

So, what with the import duties you'll have to pay when you come back to the United States, you probably won't tote much home unless you are in the class that uses urine for penwipers.

You can still buy Aunt Abigail a musical clock in Switzerland and return solvent. You can also corner her an antique silver snuff box in Merrie England—fine for her vitamin pills—at less than a currency in knee-pants.

The disastrous 1927 Mississippi flood, extended more than 1,000 miles from Cairo, Ill., to the Gulf of Mexico.

During the next two years Mr. Truman will be trying to keep the Democrats in the saddle—or riding side-saddle, anyway—for the 1948 elections.

The Republicans in Congress will be trying for a repeat performance in 1948, with the presidency added.

Aids To Tunemsmiths

NEW YORK.—If you're a songwriter, and who isn't, there's an organization called the Song Hit Guild, incorporated in California in 1938, which has been discovering tune talent and bringing it toward success with the help of such musical gentlemen as Al Jolson, Ferde Grofe, Bandleader Les Brown and Mannie Sacks, vice-president of Columbia Records.

If an amateur can write words, or music, or both, or for that matter even has simply a provocative title for a song, he can get expert attention from the Song Hit Guild. The guild confines its attention simply to new songwriters. If, for instance, the song, words, or just title, are attractive enough to come to the attention of, say, Al Jolson, chairman, and the other members of the board, a new writer stands a hefty chance of making from $250 to whatever top Hit Parade tunes return.

When a song is accepted, $250 is paid in advance royalties. Jolson and his well-known compatriots looked into the matter at length before they gave it their wholehearted approval, knowing the shabby reputations of firms which make amateur talent pay through the nose to have a tune published.

The corporation is not entirely philanthropic, for the management is anxious to make money with the songs they discover, and to that purpose will bend their shoulders to turning unknown tunes into favorites just as other music firms who deal in established tunes.

HARRY REVEL, who wrote "Did You Ever See a Dream Walking," "Stay as Sweet as You Are," and dozens of other hit songs, including those in the score for last season's Broadway musical, "Are You With It," will write music to the amateurs' words.

Bobby Worth will fashion tunes and lyrics for those who submit only titles, calling on lengthy experience writing such favorites as the lyrics to "Tonight We Love," and both words and music for "Do I Worry?" Ferde Grofe, whose talents are wide and proven, will compose tunes for submitted lyrics. Vick Knight, radio producer, song publisher and lyricist, has supplied the Hit Parade with such topnotchers as "Flat Foot Floogie," "Melancholy Mood," and "I Walk Alone." Eddie DeLange, who wrote lyrics for "Solitude," "Moonglow," "Heaven Can Wait," "Along the Navajo Trail" and the current and climbing "Passes," will do the same for the lyrics.

Its absence of hokum and frankly honest approach to its ends is the reason it has gathered such highly respected craftsmen into its fold. Jolson, in accepting the job of chairman of its advisory board, said: "I am proud to be among those associated with such a sincere undertaking, and consider it a privilege to serve as a member of your advisory board." The headquarters are in Hollywood.

Title Fights In Districts 1, 3, And 15 Are Featured

Two Bouts Slated Saturday, Other Monday Afternoon

By The Associated Press

Big games dot the schedule in Texas schoolboy football this weekend, two of them matching unbeaten teams with district championships riding on the line.

Amarillo goes to Borger and Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio) to Austin Saturday for battles that are destined to determine the titles of District 1 and 15.

Out at Odessa Monday the Bronchos meet Sweetwater in a melee that will decide a season-long argument and the championship of District 3.

These are the stand-out contests of a weekend that has a card of 47 games, 36 of them conference affairs. All except one district has conference action.

District 12 has an important game with Jacksonville meeting Conroe. These are the only undefeated teams in the district.

Amarillo has been defeated — by Odessa — but Borger boasts an unblemished record. The Bulldogs are narrow favorites in most quarters to upset Amarillo's plans for another district title but Borger is crippled, with its star back, Milton Price, out with a broken leg.

Austin and Thomas Jefferson are undefeated and so are Odessa and Sweetwater although Jefferson and Sweetwater each has been tied.

Austin enters the big game with Jefferson with both teams listing injuries to top players. This is the showdown for the big Mason machine that has been rated No. 1 or No. 2 in the state all season. It is generally agreed that if Austin gets by tough Jefferson it will be long gone for the finals.

The week's schedule by districts in the state (conference games except where indicated otherwise):

1—Friday: Lubbock at Pampa; Saturday: Amarillo at Borger; Brownfield at Plainview.

2—Friday: Gainesville at Vernon (nonconference); Gladewater at Electro (nonconference); Graham at Quannah.

3—Friday: San Angelo at Big Spring; Monday: Sweetwater at Odessa; Lamesa at Abilene.

4—Friday: El Paso high at Mesa, Ariz. (nonconference); Ysleta at Florence, Ariz. (nonconference); Saturday: Austin (El Paso) at Albuquerque, N.M. (nonconference).

5—Friday: Sherman at Paris, Ennis at Denison (nonconference); Poly (Fort Worth) at Bonham (nonconference).

6—Friday: Sulphur Springs at Denton, McKinney at Arlington.

7—Friday: Paschal (Fort Worth) vs. Amon Carter-Riverside (Fort Worth); Saturday: North Side (Fort Worth) vs. Fort Worth Tech.

8—Thursday: Crozier Tech (Dallas) vs. Adamson (Dallas); Friday: Woodrow Wilson (Dallas) vs. Sunset (Dallas); Saturday: Forest (Dallas) vs. North Dallas.

9—Friday: Mineral Wells at Stephenville; Monday: Cisco at Ranger, Brownwood at Breckenridge.

10—Friday: Bryan at Waco, Hillsboro at Temple, Corsicana at Waxahachie.

11—Friday: Longview at Tyler, Texarkana at Marshall.

Eddie Dyer Dinner Attracts Notables

HOUSTON, Nov. 7. (AP)—The home folks, augmented by some of the top names in big league baseball, turn out tonight to honor their favorite son — black-haired, amiable Eddie Dyer, who in his freshman year as a major league manager piloted the St. Louis Cardinals to the world's championship.

It's Eddie Dyer day in Houston and some 600 Texans, baseball pals and other friends of the 46-year-old Cardinal skipper, will attend a big dinner at which J. Roy Stockton, sports editor of the St. Louis Post Dispatch, will be the principal speaker.

Sam Breadon, owner of the Cardinals; governor-elect Beauford Jester of Texas; Ted Lyons, manager of the Chicago White Sox who back in his college days at Baylor was an opposing pitcher when Dyer played at Rice Institute; Dizzy Dean, the great major league hurler of yesterday who got his start with the Houston Buffs of the Texas league; member of the St. Louis Cardinals team, and a number of the state's business and civic leaders will be in the crowd that turns out at the Houston club to honor Eddie.

Injured Buffs Meet Hermleigh

STANTON, Nov. 7. — Two regular linemen and a key back will be riding the bench when Coach Travis Green sends his Stanton Buffs to the playing field in efforts to stop Hermleigh in a non-conference bout here Friday night.

Injuries sustained by forwards Willie Joe Reid and Louis Koonce and by Herbert Jones of the secondary in last week's tilt with Pecos have definitely placed the Buffs in the underdog role.

Nevertheless, a scrappy contest is in prospect, and a credible number of fans are expected to be on hand for the 8 p.m. kickoff.

Reid, Koonce and Jones will be definitely sidelined for the entire game, and all three may be out for the remainder of the season.

Jensen In Fine Fettle At Pat O'Dowdy's Club

Leo Jensen, a gaffer with a mustache, a leer and no Jeckyl in his makeup, lost his match to one George Curtis and won the enmity of the throng in the feature wrestling match at the West Texas Auction barn last night. All of which served to launch Promoter Pat O'Dowdy's weekly grappling shows in a very stylish and befitting manner.

A man of Jensen's caliber hasn't come down the pike in a long while. He must have been practicing his fiscal contortions in front of a mirror for some time, since he had them down pat. He fouled Curtis, a nice-looking young chap. He found a favorite ally in the ropes, which statutes insist are "off limits." And his basso lament was so melodious and malodorous, it brought the house down upon his ears.

Jensen won the first fall with a step-over toe-hold in 22 minutes and Curtis the second with two drop kicks and a body pin in less time that it takes to tell. Leopold was there. He was down and it was over.

It required the Alabaman 15 minutes to dispose of Jensen in the finale. Leo was having a grand time bouncing George about the ring like a rubber ball when Curtis decided he had had enough, snapped out of his lethargy with another series of drop kicks and then smothered The Leer with a pin.

The initial scrap saw Ace Abbott of Abilene make full use of a hammer lock to apply the clincher to Billy Nichols, a Milwaukee lad. Abbott made good in 27 minutes the first time, then came back after the intermission to wind up the proceedings in just eight minutes.

FIRST GOP SINCE THE CIVIL WAR

CHESTERTOWN, Md., Nov. 7. (AP)—The Republican national victory today swept into office with it A. Parks Rason, Jr., first GOP state's attorney in the eastern shore county of Kent since Civil War days, if old-timers here remember correctly.

Rason, 35, drew 3,297 votes, the heaviest number cast for any Kent County candidate, to 1,630 for his Democratic opponent, Philip J. Skyp.

Herd Preparing For All-Out Fight Against San Angelo

Ernie Ache Slated To Get Big Chance Friday Evening

San Angelo's Bobcats might as well be bringing an undefeated, untied record into town Friday night. When the Felines upset Midland's Bobcats last week and climbed aboard the victory wagon for the first time, it brought home to Coach Johnny Dibrell and his aides the fact that Von Rhea Bean's team isn't what it was a month or even three weeks ago.

The Cats got mauled by ten touchdowns by Odessa only seven days before their victorious conquest of Midland and previous to that had not won a game. However, against Midland, the Cats looked like the proverbial million dollars.

Dibrell returned to camp to inform his charges that they could expect one of their toughest games of the year.

The Longhorns haven't let up in practice all week. They've been passing, oiling their plays and working on their punting game. Over in one corner of the field, Line Coach Mule Stockton has had his forwards working at top speed. They'll be outweighed considerably Friday and will have to be in top shape to slow the Feline forwards.

It became quite obvious that the Steer line will have to stop not two but three potent backs. Brian Roberts and Milton Taff have been going great guns for the Angelenos all year. Last Friday a speed-

Notre Dame Backers Await Word Of Lujack's Injury

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 7. (AP)—All of Notre Dame's skyrocketing hopes for revenge on the Army after two long years of waiting. All of the long labor the Irish put in for a solid year of postwar reconstruction looking to this very weekend — everything rested today on one sprained ankle.

This was the ailing right ankle of Johnny (The Wing) Lujack, who quarterbacked the Irish to their last gridiron win over the Cadets back in '43.

Lujack is so hot and so vital in the signal calling, forward passing and, especially, the defensive machinery, that Notre Dame Coach Frank Leahy says he's better than his predecessor, Angelo Bertelli. And "Bert" you remember, was so good in his day they just about wrote songs and named their children after him around here.

Johnny hurt his ankle yesterday as the final full dress drill for Saturday's super colossal clash with the Cadets in New York was winding up on Cartier Field, and only a couple of hours after teammates elected him and Halfback Gerry Cowhig as the Army game co-captains.

Today all hands sweated out with finger nail biting anxiety the final word from Dr. Joseph Caton, the school physician, as to whether the 21 year old ace would be aboard the train with the 36-man squad when it heads east at 4 p. m. (CST).

But just giving Lujack the railroad ticket and his lower berth isn't the part that has the Irish worried. Johnny must be on deck, ready to roll Saturday, or the best Notre Dame team in three years — the outfit even the assistant coaches believe might whip Army by 20 points to atone for the 59 and 48 point beatings of 1944 and 1945 — hasn't more than a prayer.

And he must be ready to go full speed or just about the full 60 minutes, because it's that kind of a ball game. Some of his understudies might be able to handle the passing — Slim

Eagles Gallop Over Hillbillies

ACKERLY, Nov. 7. — Ackerly high school's Eagles trounced the Knott Hillbillies 33-0 in an exhibition six-man football game here Wednesday afternoon.

Billy Brown and J. C. Ingram led the Eagles' offensive attack which featured long end runs and occasional aerial thrusts. Brown accounted for three touchdowns and kicked a point from placement, while Ingram carried the mail on two pay-off sprints and gathered in a pass for an extra point.

The starting lineups: Ackerly—Ned Clanton and Gail Batson, ends; Doug Story, center; J. C. Ingram, Billy Brown, and Red Williams, backs. Knott—Tate and Burchell, ends; Roman, center; Barnes, Hughes and Shank, backs.

Christmas Seal Distribution Starts Soon
The county supply of 1946 Christmas Seals, which will be sold throughout the nation in the 40th annual seal sale, have arrived at headquarters of the Howard County Tuberculosis Association, C. O. Nalley, sales chairman announced today.
The sale is to begin on Nov. 25 and continue until Christmas. Volunteer workers soon will begin folding the seals for insertion in envelopes addressed to residents of the county, Nalley said. The seals are distributed annually by mail to raise funds for the county-wide program of the tuberculosis association.
The 1946 seal features a lamp-lighter symbol of the returning hope of the world after the darkness of war, and was designed by Lloyd Coe, well known landscape artist and illustrator. However, each sheet of 100 seals has four special seals to commemorate the first seal sale in the United States, Nalley said.
The special seals are portrait likenesses of Jacob Riis, Danish-born American, who wrote an article in 1907 pleading for a Christmas seal sale to raise funds to fight tuberculosis. Miss Emily P. Missett, welfare worker of Wilmington, Delaware, who acted on his idea during the Christmas season that year; E. A. Van Valkenburg, editor and publisher of the Philadelphia North American, and Leigh Mitchell Hodges, columnist on that paper, who promoted Miss Bissett's idea.
Proceeds from the seal sale compose the sole support of the tuberculosis association. Of the funds raised, 95 per cent is used within the state and the remaining five per cent is forwarded to the National Tuberculosis Association to support its activities on a nation-wide scale to fight tuberculosis.
