

Merchant's Give away is under way

Forty-seven Twin City businesses will be participating in the eighth annual Border Town Days Merchants Giveaway program held in conjunction with the annual LTD celebration's park activities on July 29.

This year's giveaway will take place throughout the afternoon of the Saturday festivities at Farwell city park.

Debra Looper, chairman of this year's event, said, "Any merchant that wasn't contacted but who wants to participate in the giveaway should call me at 481-9027 immediately. There's still time to enter."

Each participating business has a box in which customers may register for the prize to be given away by the merchant. A person may sign up once each time he is in a store until July 28 when the boxes will be picked up and taken to the park for the drawing.

Drawings will be held from each individual merchant's box, and the person whose name is drawn will be allowed ample time to claim the prize. However, in the event that the person does not show up to claim the prize in the allotted time, another name will be drawn so that all prizes are awarded that afternoon. It is essential that a winner be at the park to hear when his name is called.

No purchase is necessary at any of the participating merchants in order to register for the many prizes. Registrants must be 12 years of age or older.

Boxes were placed at the participating merchants earlier this week. Here is a list of the participants and what prizes they are giving away:

Michael's Lawn Service, $25 lawn mowing; Pierce Real Estate, clock-radio-phonograph; Haseloff Designs, $15

New bike top prize of contest

All area youngsters are reminded that registration starts Monday for the Border Town Days Decorated Bike Contest at Texico City Hall.

This year offers a special incentive: Ted Lopez of Tedson Trailers is donating a brand new bike to the winner of "Best of Show" - the bike judged as best decorated regardless of age category.

This year's LTD theme is "Around the World in One Day."

Everything is ready at the city hall in Texico for registration," says Ann Cooper, who is in charge of the bike contest.

The registration deadline is 3 p.m. Friday, July 28.

She said that youths planning to enter the decorated bike contest in the parade need to register, giving their name and age, if they are to be eligible for cash prizes to be awarded.

In addition to the new bike, prizes totaling $50 will be awarded.

No motorized bikes will be allowed in the bicycle contest.

All riders must have their bikes at the empty lot west of "Little Mexico" at 9:45 a.m. Texas time, and line up for judging on the southwest corner of the lot.

"You must be on time or you will not be judged," added Mrs. Cooper.

Other rules are:

* All participants must continue to Farwell city park, and then park their bikes. No riding will be allowed in the park area. A bicycle rack will be provided in back of the First Baptist Church.

* You must be present at the park to receive your cash prize.

There will be two divisions in the judging:

Division A: Best decorated bike, ages 7 - 12.

Division B: Best decorated bike, ages 6 and under.

Judging will be based 50 percent on originality and theme; 30 percent on neatness, and 20 percent on use of color.

Judges will be Frank Murray, Kenneth Jones and Rusty Mears, members of the Clovis Rotary Club.

BTD on the move

Well, as you can tell from today's front page, folks, the planning for Border Town Days is well under way.

It's been an interesting year. A couple of things fell through. A couple of new things have been added. I guess it's good to have a variety; otherwise you get stale.

One thing that fell through that our committee felt badly about was the lack of entrants for the queen's contest. Only 2 girls signed up and we felt 3 was a minimum needed. (There's more background on this in the adjacent article).

We were surprised there wouldn't be enough entrants since we offer $200 in scholarship funds. We thought that was a good incentive. Apparently not.

One other problem occurred when we learned that Orrie and Peggy Jones and their Antique Car Club would be in Amarillo July 29. But Billy McIntosh, who is an antique car buff, too, agreed to contact other antique car owners he knows and get some into the parade. Thank you, Billy.

Another concern was discovered Tuesday when Texico band director Jerry Sadberry's resignation was announced (for details, see story on the Texico School Board elsewhere in today's paper).

The board and administration are searching for ways to still have the band in the parade and we hope they are successful.

On the plus side, the Clovis zoo will have a "petting zoo" for the Day in the Park. Some friendly animals will be in a 10x10 cage. We told them "no snakes, please."

The Big Parade is shaping up nicely. We'll have a lot of old favorites back plus some new ones. Chris Roach has done a super job in contacting Clovis groups and we hope that hard work will pay off in extra floats.

And, of course, one aspect of the parade will be watched with a lot of eagerness. Farwell Band members are expected to participate. And we've been told this will be a first in the parade's history (not counting once when some Texico and Farwell band students got together on their own and marched in it).

Elsewhere on this page is the announcement by Farwell Band Director Craig Zinck of preparation for the parade. We sure hope band students turn out for it.

Johnnie, Beulah Williams honored

The Border Town Days Committee Monday picked Johnnie and Beulah Williams as Pioneers of the Year for 1989.

The Williamses will ride in the LTD parade July 29, then receive framed certificates during the Day in the Park activities.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams moved to West Camp on Jan. 1, 1930. They traveled from Oklahoma in a Model T Ford.

While living at West Camp, Williams was elected County Commissioner for Bailey County for six years. He was able to get several roads paved, starting from the State Line Road on into Muleshoe. Also, he was able to get the first Home Demonstration agent in the area. And, as a member of the Commissioner's Court, he was able to get electricity to the rural area in 1935.

The Williamses moved to Farwell in 1952. Williams served as mayor for six years.

Williams has retired from farming but for the last 36 years managed Sherley-Anderson - Pitman in Farwell.

Mrs. Williams was active with Home Demonstration and was a substitute teacher for 15 years at West Camp and Farwell.

The Williamses are members of the First Baptist Church of Farwell. Williams was on the building committee to build the present church.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams celebrated their 66th wedding anniversary July 12.

In other business, the committee voted not to have a Miss Border Town Days queen's contest this year.

Only two girls has signed up. Some girls planned to be in the Farwell band or drill team and decided to forego the queen's contest. Some other girls wanted to be in the contest - but lived in Clovis (attending Texico Schools).

The contest rules state that the entrants must live in either the Farwell or Texico school districts and the committee voted to keep it that way.

The committee also: - Put together the schedule for the gazebo for the Day in the Park activities. Jack Allen Kirkland will sing the National Anthem. The program will also include the Country Strings with Joe Hughes; Joni Autrey, who was with the Borden Gang last year; the cast of Billy the Kid; Mrs. Bohler's gymnasts from Texico and Farwell; and the Hardages.

MR. AND MRS. JOHNNIE WILLIAMS

- Heard that the planned golf tourney set for the week before Border Town Days will not take place.

- Heard that Orrie and Peggy Jones and the Antique Car Club that normally participates at Border Town Days will be in Amarillo that day instead. So Billy McIntosh has agreed to get some antique cars into the LTD parade.

- Heard that Peggy Haseloff will not be putting on the Past Fashions Show she has had the past two years.

- Scheduled the next meeting for Aug. 7 at 8 p.m. at Luce's Spur Restaurant. This annual meeting is to pay bills and to critique the LTD event.

- Heard Frances Kube report that the Farwell Convalescent Center Auxiliary is sponsoring the Charlie Phillips concert on July 28.

Farwell Band to practice

Farwell Band Director Craig Zinck has announced that the Farwell Band will practice for the Border Town Day parade from 8 - 9:30 p.m. on July 27.

They will meet in the band room for that practice.

"I hope everyone will come early so we can get the instruments and music passed out," said Mr. Zinck.

He asked that those students who have Band T-shirts wear them with shorts or other comfortable clothing.

Another new thing we're doing this year is selling commemorative pins instead of shave permits.

We believe the attractive pins, featuring the New Mexico and Texas state flags, will be a better fund-raiser. Proceeds from the pin sale are used to underwrite BTD expenses. Rick Sullivan is in charge of this project.

If the pin sale is successful, we'll end up in the "black." If it isn't, we will have to devise more methods to raise the funds needed to pay for trophies, awards, etc.

Also, Ted Lopez of Tedson Trailers is adding some zing into the bicycle contests this year. He is donating a brand new bike to the Best of Show winner. That's in addition to the usual cash prizes given in each category.

Our arts and crafts fair signups are going extremely well - considering that the list from last year had been lost. Congratulations go to Lynne Mahaney for starting from scratch and working up a decent fair. As of Monday, the total number of entrants was up to 19.

Also, the number of participants for Day in the Park booths is up from last year's total - promising plenty of good food and refreshments.

We've also got some nice people to honor: Johnnie and Beulah Williams were named Pioneers of the Year and Larry Gregory was chosen Honorary Parade Marshal.

The lineup for the gazebo looks great. As usual, the Hardages, Truman Welch and Fred Chandler will hold down the fort. Then there's the Country Strings for some good downhome singing.

One of last year's hits, Joni Autrey, the Richardsons' grand-daughter, has left the Borden Gang and will be doing a solo this go-round.

And we'll have a gymnastics exhibition by some Texico and Farwell youngsters.

And don't forget the annual giveaway of the pickup truck.

Finally, please remember that the Texico - Farwell Rotary Club is sponsoring the big barbecue. Tickets are available from any club member and at the Tribune.

Tickets are the same as last year: $5 for adults, and $2.50 for children 12 and under.

Twin City Cafe has closed. Jeannie Goettsch has been having some health problems.

Toddle Tykes nursery has been moved into the Sudderth home outside of Farwell. They are still licensed for child care, and Darissa Sudderth is still caring for the youngsters.

Texico coach Michael Littlejohn and ENMU's Gayle Stinnett have been running a volleyball camp this week at the Texico Wolverine gym. The camp features two sessions per day for girls in grades 6 -12. Thirty - four ladies are participating.

Mr. and Mrs. James Pierce are the proud grandparents of twin boys, Josh and Jerry Williams of El Paso, Texas. They were born on July 10. Mother and sons are doing fine.

Julietta Garza wondered if people who are twins or who have twin children would like to get together to make a float for Border Town Days.

They could call it the Twins of the Twin Cities. If you are interested, call her at 481-9506.

According to the Lubbock newspaper, June was wetter and cooler than normal for our area.

That one day the thermometer fell into the 50's probably helped lower it.

Last week we ran a story about the damage done to Roger Jesko's home in June because of the high winds.

Oddly enough, it was just about one year ago that the Jesko's home was nearly destroyed when their hot water heater blew up.

Mrs. Jesko isn't sure she wants to be home in June anymore.

Chamber sponsors 'garage sale'

The garage sale sponsored by the Texico Chamber of Commerce as a fund-raiser for renovating the city's community center will be held this weekend.

It will be held at the Community Center from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday and Saturday and from noon to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Ann Cooper is in charge. Among the items to be available are jewelry, tools, games, clocks, mirrors, furniture, cameras, clothes, paintings, dishes, light fixtures, yarn and fabric, and baby items.

David, Vicky Lynn; Sadberry resign Texico School posts

"In all my years on the Texico School board, we have never had this many resignations at one time," said board president, Herman Gerles.

"These people will be very hard to replace."

Resignations at Tuesday's meeting were accepted from:

- Elementary principal David Lynn.
- First grade teacher Vicky Lynn.
- Band director Jerry Sadberry.
- Elementary secretary Mary Morin.

Lynn will be coaching in Hagerman, N.M., where his wife has been offered a teaching position.

Sadberry resigned to care for his mother who is extremely ill in Plainview, Texas.

Mrs. Morin will be returning to college. She has volunteered to stay long enough to train a replacement.

Texico schools will also hire a custodian to start work in August.

School Supt. James Pierce noted that two or more called school board meetings may have to be called to interview people for these positions. The school system does not have much time to pick replacements, but they will strive to fill the positions with the best possible replacements.

In other business, the board voted to:

- Have school custodian Glen Neie build cabinets in the journalism classroom. Journalism will be taught in a different room this fall than in the past.
- Have the custodian build lockable storage in the storage area behind the stage in the Education Complex.
- Sign bus contracts with

Texico still searching for a deputy

The Texico City Council is still looking for a deputy to work with City Marshal Brent Byrum.

Byrum reported at Tuesday's meeting that although about 7 persons applied for the post, none were New Mexico certified (having gone through the state training program).

He said about six were uncertified and two were Texas certified. Of the latter two, one has withdrawn his application and the other is seeking a salary between $16,800 and $17,400. The council has budgeted $14,000 for the position.

City Attorney Duane Hamar again strongly advised against hiring an uncertified officer due to liability problems.

So the council voted 3-1 (Bryan Kube opposed) to re-advertise the post with the salary to be based on experience. Only New Mexico certified police officers need apply.

Fransé attends workshop

Lucille Fransé recently attended a three - day workshop at the Education Service Center in Amarillo.

The session addressed communication Skills for the gifted and talented.

Participants learned how to write differentiated activities into the basic curriculum. These activities will facilitate the development of communication skills for gifted and talented students in the regular classroom. Mrs. Fransé earned 18 hours of advanced academic training as certified by the Texas Education Agency.

Farwell High School will implement the gifted/talented program into the schedule when school starts this year. Anyone who would like to nominate a student for the program may do so with a form available at the high school office.

the To and From Bus Company. It was noted that Mr. Queener is now the president of the company, and that Max Carter is a stockholder. A separate contract was also signed with Carter for 1 bus.

- Voted to give 1/2 credit each in Communications Skills for Agriculture I and Agriculture II and 1 credit for Spanish I. Pierce noted that each student is required to take four English classes and one communications skill class for graduation.

- Raised the price of school lunches 10 cents per meal. Student meals will now cost $1, and adult lunches will now cost $1.50. Pierce noted that there are now fewer commodities today as there were in the past to offset the cost of the lunches. The cafeteria has been operating in the red this year.

In the public forum portion of the meeting, the board addressed questions from the public.

Texico student Byron Martin asked the following question about filling vacancies in the school system: "Do you go for second best or do you wait to get just the right person?"

Gerles answered: "There is no cut and dried answer to your question. We'll try to fill the position with the best people for the job."

- Mrs. Anna Southard told the board that she would be taking cheerleaders to camp July 18 -21.

- Mr. Barnes asked if there was more money available for the gifted and talented program so that there could be a separate teacher. He was told no.

- Heard Greg Martin invite the superintendent and board members to a state wide insurance workshop July 16 -19 in Angel Fire.

Marcia Leavell asked him to request that the state issue separate insurance policies or at least cards for each vehicle as proof of insurance.

Pierce noted that banks and lending institutions always request proof of insurance, but the state does not issue policies.

The board also discussed the amended budget for this year. There is a carryover of $5,000.

In other business, the board:

Where will cotton price deficiency payment be?

The quest for clues to the size of this year's cotton price deficiency payment is off to an early start. And High Plains' producers are into the hunt with a heightened sense of urgency.

The deficiency payment rate will be determined by subtracting the calendar year weighted average farm price from the 1989 target of 73.5 cents per pound. Higher prices mean lower payments, lower prices mean higher payments. In theory, one offsets the other on the farmer's bottom line.

But higher prices mean nothing to the producer with nothing to sell, so the theory becomes myth to the thousands of producers on the Plains with hailed - out, droughted - out or washed - out crop prospects, note officials of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture last fall projected a payment rate of 21.4 cents per pound, indicating expectations of a 52-cent farm price for the year. But PCG calculations show an average farm price of 55.2 cents for the first five months of the year. And the market, bolstered by falling world production prospects and rising demand, continues to exhibit solid strength. "So I think it's safe to say that any hope for a payment rate even close to 21 cents has already gone by the board," says Donald Johnson, PCG Executive Vice President.

On the opposite side of the question, Johnson also thinks it unlikely that the payment rate will drop below 8.56 cents. That's the amount of the total advance payments producers already have received. Any part of that amount that isn't justified by final price calculations would have to be repaid. For that to happen, PCG reckons, the average farm price for the last seven months of 1989 would have to be around 69 cents per pound on heavy marketings.

A total of 4.563 million bales were marketed through May of this year, almost 44 percent more than the 3.173 million traded in the same period last year. A continuation of that pace would bring the total 1989 marketings to about 15 million, up from 10.415 million in 1988.

Assuming the year's marketings at 15 million bales, PCG has made purely speculative payment projections at various price levels. For example, if the weighted average price for the 10.437 million bales yet to be traded equals the 58.8 cents recorded in May, the annual weighted average would be 57.7 cents, leaving a payment rate of 15.7 cents.

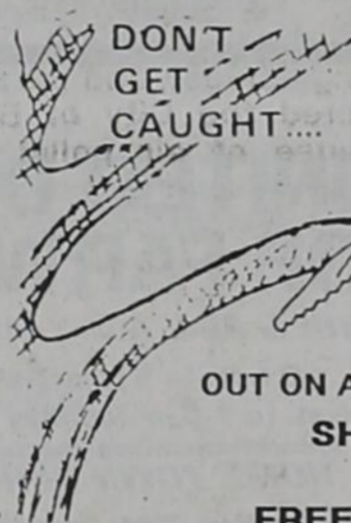

The payment rate would drop to 15.8 cents at an average price for the rest of the year of 60 cents, to 14.2 cents at a 61 cent price, to 13.5 cents at 62 cents, 12.8 cents at 63 cents, and down to 11.4 cents if the final seven months average price comes in at 65 cents. At 69 cents the payment rate would be 8.6 cents, just above the 8.56 cents advanced.

Eleven members and the following guests attended: Suzi Bearss, Amber Drager, Julia Browne, Barbara Kaltwasser, Erin, Jared, and Seth. Lorna Schueler challenged the group to a Bible Quiz.

The group planned a family night for July 16. It will include a chicken barbecue that starts at 5 p.m.

What a storm!

Last week the Tribune reported that Floyd Robinson's corn dryer had blown over in the storm on July 6 that hit Texico and was a possible tornado.

This week Mrs. Robinson brought by photographs that showed that the storm had lifted the corn dryer off its foundation, but had left the items stored in it intact.

It also ripped the air conditioning unit off their house and turned it in the opposite direction.

The back porch of the Robinson's home narrowly missed the fate of the Jesko home. One of the studs was pulled away from the roof of the structure, but it remained standing after the storm.

There was also damage to the Robinson's son's house trailer due to the storm.

Here's how communities are facing burning ban

The Texas Department of Health has notified all communities of a federal ban on the burning of trash effective Aug. 30, and a subsequent ordinance to enforce it.

Some of our local communities will be affected by this more than other communities.

According to Pat Bragan, an engineer with the Texas Air Control Board, the burning of trash at all landfills must cease on Aug. 30. So, too, must the burning of trash by residents in communities which provide trash removal.

This specific law does not affect the burning of domestic waste at property outside city limits. Miss Bragan said that farmers may continue to dispose of their personal trash on their own property by burning and-or burying.

Farwell and Bovina will be greatly affected by this new law, but Lazbuddie and Friona will not be affected very much.

In Farwell, residents have been burning trash behind their homes, and city workers have hauled away the ashes that remain.

City workers use a huge roller at the city landfill to compact the trash, and then the trash is covered by dirt. The city has recently purchased a D7 Caterpillar tractor to cover the trash.

At the current rate of usage, the city's 6 - 7 pits in the landfill would probably serve the community for at least 10 years, according to City Water Supt. Dee Hammitt. But when unburned and uncompact trash starts coming into the dump, the pits will fill up much faster.

"We've got a big pit that would last us 5 years at present usage but when we begin putting tree limbs in it, it probably won't last 2 years," he said.

Farwell plans to comply with the ban on burning in the city landfill as of Aug. 30.

Hammit said residents will also have to stop burning

More homes planned for Friona

Reata Land and Cattle Company of Amarillo announced that it plans to build 78 new homes in the Lakeview Addition of Friona.

The homes will sell in the $50,000 price range. The first phase (26 homes) is scheduled to be completed by Christmas, and the entire project is scheduled to be completed in about a year.

The project is the first major residential development for Friona in several years.

Shower set

There will be a bridal shower honoring Mrs. Curtis Drager at the Rhea Community Center from 3-5 p.m. on July 15.

trash because "we can't carry hot loads to the landfill." The fire hazard would be too great, and the city could face the possibility of a fine or loss of license if the landfill ignited.

Hammit stressed that Farwell is on top of the situation. "The city is aware of the problem, and is working toward a solution we can live with. We are looking into a machine for shredding tree limbs right now," he said.

Mayor Chris Gikas noted that it is important for Farwell to comply with the new regulations because the Environmental Protection Agency has indicated that all federal funds will be withheld unless the city complies.

Bovina, like Farwell, currently allows residents to burn trash behind their homes. The ashes are hauled to a city landfill.

According to Pat Kunselman, Bovina has no choice - its residents must quit burning. "We have the equipment to pack and put dirt over the trash," she said.

Bovina also bought a tractor to pack the trash and cover it with a layer of dirt every day. It also has sufficient city landfill space to last for a long time. "After the pit fills up," said Mrs. Kunselman, "we will have to face that problem."

One Bovina resident raised some interesting questions. Farwell and Bovina currently allow open burning. If they pass city ordinances against open burning, who will enforce the city laws? If they don't pass these ordinances, who will enforce the state statute?

County Judge Porter Roberts said the state - through the Texas Department of Health - would enforce the state statute. He noted that in past years the Texas Department of Health has ticketed the Friona Wheat Grower's Elevator because of blowing chaff during harvest, and they have ticketed the City of Bovina because of air pollution in connection with trash burning. He did not know the outcome of either case.

Roberts stressed that the county sheriff would not be enforcing city ordinances in either Bovina or Farwell because that is not his jurisdiction.

"Each city has to police its own city ordinances," he said.

Miss Bragan indicated that there is great pressure on counties to provide area-wide landfills.

Roberts added that Parmer County is studying the landfill situation. County Commissioners Ernest Anthony, Tom Weir, and Robert White went to Austin on July 10 to a school on landfills. They wish to study the pros and cons of the situation before they make any decisions.

The county has a trash container placed just south of Friona on a trial basis. The trash placed there is hauled away to Amarillo. The county paid almost $600 for the first month of this operation.

On one hand, the communities in Parmer County are widely spread apart. It might not be cost effective to haul trash from one community to another. On the other hand, it is currently not cost effective to recycle trash on a small scale, but a regional landfill might be able to recycle on a larger scale. Such a landfill would also be easier to police for water pollution and health violations than several scattered dumps would be.

Lazbuddie residents have seen their local dump closed. The state wants to fine and penalize Parmer County for having left it open as long as it did. The county opposes being penalized and it's been left to the attorneys at present.

Currently, Lazbuddie residents are burning their trash and hauling ashes to the Muleshoe City landfill. Because Lazbuddie is an unincorporated area, its residents may legally do this.

Lazbuddie School is the community's largest producer of trash. It has a large incinerator to burn the school's trash, but it too must haul its ashes away.

Friona provides twice weekly trash removal in residential areas and daily trash pickups in the business district. Residents do not burn their trash.

Friona city employee Roger Fields said, "I don't foresee any drastic changes here." Friona has 2 city landfills, one of which has quite a bit of storage space remaining.

Beneath the Sheets

Bruce White elected 'county commissioner'

Bruce White was Farwell High School's delegate to the American Legion Boys State. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joel White of Farwell. White flew to Austin where the Boys State delegates congregated at the University of Texas campus. They met in general sessions in the auditorium at the LBJ Library. "It was really a neat building," said White. He mentioned enjoying displays of Lyndon Johnson's car and the Oval Office as it appeared when he was president. It was an excellent setting for learning about the way our government works.

When he arrived, White was assigned to the 14th floor of one of UT's dormitories. The delegates rarely had the opportunity to use the elevators. It is a good thing that White is a football player in good athletic condition, because walking up and down the 14 flights of stairs would have done in a less hardy youth. Each morning the delegates got up, and walked down the stairs and to a stadium for calisthenics before breakfast. Then they returned to their rooms to shower and clean up before they ate. After breakfast the group split up for small assemblies where they learned about the election process. The assemblies were followed by lunch and team sports. White participated in football and volleyball. They returned to their rooms to get cleaned up for supper. After supper they returned to the auditorium where they met in general assembly to learn about the state election process.

Then they returned to the dormitory where they walked up to their rooms for the night. After all that physical and mental activity, the boys were usually quite tired. "We all slept at night," he said.

Bruce White

During his stay at Boys State, White was elected County Commissioner. He learned a great deal about political parties and the election process from the experience. "I don't think I'd actually run for office myself," he said, "but it was interesting." White is a senior at Farwell High School. He is active in football, power lifting, and National Honor Society. He is a member of the UMYF at Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church. White hopes to play football when he attends college. He plans to study sports medicine.

Dannheim is new Farwell municipal judge

The Farwell City Council Tuesday chose Willie Dannheim as the new city municipal judge.

He replaces Ysleta Kittrell, who is a councilwoman. Due to a possible conflict of interest between the two posts, she had stepped down from the judge's post.

In other business, Mayor Chris Gikas indicated the end to open burning in the city may extend past the Aug. 30 deadline that had been given earlier.

He said he talked with officials of the state Air Control Board "and we have a little added time, but we must prove we are doing something."

Farwell has contacted waste disposal firms, bought a bulldozer for the city landfill and gotten cost estimates for dumpsters and other equipment that will be needed when burning ends.

A more definitive analysis of how best to handle the situation when open burning ends will be given next month.

Meanwhile, in preparation for Border Town Days, the Farwell City Council agreed Tuesday to open the city landfill free of charge for city residents the following two Saturdays to dump items as a cleanup measure.

However, if residents need the city truck, it can only be used during regular weekday business hours.

The council also:
- Revised its rules for using electricity at the city park gazebo. A $10 deposit is required when the key is picked up at City Hall, and refunded when the key is returned. Also, if music is played, it must not be so loud that it disturbs the surrounding neighborhood. On Sunday, if music is played it must end before 6 p.m. church time.

- Tabled a decision on whether to allow city employee Royce Menning a year's leave of absence. Menning is transferring from the National Guard to the Army Reserve to get hospital corpsman training, it was said. He wants his city post to stay open if he returns here. The council is checking to see if the government mandates such a leave.

- Approved a building permit for Manuel Coronado, 311 First St., to add on to his existing home.

- Decided to seek holding the regular city elections in May at the same place as the school election. This will cut costs (less judges) and make it easier for voters, since they would only have to go to one polling place. Farwell School Supt. John Grigsby supports this, also. Separate ballots still will be used since the school district encompasses an area larger than the city.

- Discussed new federal rules involving benefits available for employees who work over 17 hours a week. It will be checked into further.

- Agreed to pay Eastwood Construction for its street repair work.

- Agreed to send water department Supt. Dee Hammit to solid waste certification school in Amarillo.

- Denied a request by Art 'n Such to have a lower trash pickup rate since it is emptied only a few times a year.

- Received a request from Walter Peterson, owner of Chevy Chase Apartments, seeking a lower garbage rate, and suggesting the apartments be classified as a business. The area is not zoned for business. Peterson is charged for pickups only for apartments rented.

Citizen's request denied

Monday, the Parmer County Commissioners voted to deny a citizen's request that the commissioners grant forgiveness of interest on back taxes on property purchased at a trustee's sale.

He indicated that it had taken him 2 years to make the purchase, and in the meantime, taxes and penalties had accrued.

The commissioners indicated that the citizen had known about the taxes owed and the penalty and interest when he purchased the property. If one person was allowed to avoid the taxes, many others would request the same treatment.

The meeting was adjourned early so that three commissioners could leave for a meeting in Austin.

Farwell Convalescent Center Chat

By Lynne Gann
Activity Director

The walls held balloons and streamers, a Happy Birthday banner announced the celebration held at the center for yet another 100th birthday; Althea Donahey was born on July 7, 1889, in Oklahoma.

The many friends who came by to share this happy occasion Sunday the 8th brought back many memories for everyone. Little events jogged loose thoughts remembered by Althea that surprised everyone at her clarity of detail in recall.

Cake, punch and popcorn were served to the 80 guests. Althea wore a navy blue dress with a pink silk wrist corsage. In her words, "I felt like I did years ago. All those nice people came - just to see me." For one who always was there for others, why should she be surprised that so many remember and still love her for her kindness.

To Viola James - 4th, 1909; Althea Donahey - 7th 1889; Maggie London - 15th, 1902; Nancy Baker - 23rd 1909; Joe Love - 26th 1926; Alice Edwards - 24th 1907 and Amye Martin - 24th 1891 - we wish you all a "Very Happy Birthday!"
