

Not all New Year's resolutions are good ones. If you need any proof for that you are reading it, I have resolved to get back in the saddle with my column writing.

It is of some comfort that I can report the world's best excuse for not having written a column for the past month or two. I've been too busy. This excuse holds a repete that is unassailable among persons of good judgment. They understand.

They also understand that when used, this excuse freely translated comes out "I've been too danged lazy," but there is an unwritten moratorium among thinking people that a man occasionally needs a goat for his own weaknesses and this is the one I have discovered that society universally accepts.

If things don't turn out like they were supposed to in 1962 it won't be my fault. I did everything I was supposed to do to get the new year started off right.

This included the aforementioned resolution-making and a hearty Texas-sized meal of blackeyed peas topped off with plum pudding. The hog jowls were missing from the Graham New Year's spread but I can blame that on the neighbors.

The James Craigs wagged in a washpan full of red snapper Sunday afternoon. James, Nell and the gals really pulled 'em in down near Port Isabell over the holidays. They lugged home 500 pounds of salt-water lovelies and we got our share.

Of course we are very grateful to the Craigs but I suspect, just a little, Big James' motives. If I had been put to task cleaning 500 pounds of fish I'd have been anxious to pass it on to some one.

Gas Rates Go Up January 23

Southern Union has sought and obtained an increase of approximately 61 percent, according to J. Harinas, district manager in the Los Angeles area. The increase will affect all areas in the Southern Union service area, including the Los Angeles area.

Plus rising costs for labor, equipment and material make the increase necessary. "Southern Union's cost of gas has risen over 61 percent since 1952," Wilson says.

Partially offsetting the raise in the price of gas locally, however, are changes in rules which the majority of local customers are going to appreciate.

One change will effect a refund of gas meter deposits--along with interest at six percent per year--to all residential customers in Farwell who have satisfactory payment records. The deposit would then be dropped.

Also the five percent penalty for late payment of charges will be discarded. Replacing these will be a $5 charge for connecting gas meters. This will not affect customers now connected, but will apply only to new customers, those who move, or those who have their service temporarily discontinued.

The rule changes are already in effect in Texico.

Burglars Strike Twice; Get Tires; Antifreeze

Burglars struck at Grady Dodd's Texaco warehouse last Thursday night for the second time in seven months and made off with 67 tires. A second burglary at Kendrick Oil Company is thought to have been committed by the same persons that night. Eight truck tires, two smaller tires and 120 gallons of antifreeze were taken at Kendrick's.

Two trucks which were stolen Thursday night are believed to have been used in the burglaries. The first truck taken was from Gilbert Wenner's barn about one-quarter of a mile south of his residence at the Hub crossing. A second truck which belongs to Roy Christian was later taken from Oklahoma Lane Farm Supply.

Investigating officers found tracks and oil left by Wenner's truck at Dodd's. The truck was driven across the railroad tracks and halted for some time across the street east of Dodd's. A considerable oil pool was formed while the truck was stopped at this position. The truck tracks then led to the warehouse ramp where the tires were loaded.

Area law officers are requesting aid of citizens in the Panhandle and New Mexico by reporting any information leading to the whereabouts of the Ford truck and stolen merchandise. "The Diamond-T (first truck) evidently just burned out after the oil leaked out of it," Lovelace commented. It was found Friday morning where the transfer had been made. "If it had been running good, they would probably have kept going and wouldn't have taken the Ford," Lovelace added.

The burglars didn't get quite as much from Dodd's as was taken in the first theft on June 21, 1961. A total of 126 tires valued at $3,009.75 was lost in the June burglary. This is compared with the 67 tires valued at $1,703.78 taken last Thursday night. The tires and antifreeze taken from Kendrick's were valued at about $1,000.

Witnesses reported seeing the Diamond-T truck stop at Kendrick Oil Company and two men emerge from it. Two Frionans were apprehended last week and charged with burglary as a result of revelations made by three Hereford men arrested recently.

FHA Loans Available For Water Development And Soil Conservation

Loan funds are available to eligible Farmer county farmers who wish to develop water supply systems for irrigation, household use and livestock; to drain farm land; and to carry out soil conservation measures; reports M. T. Glasscock, chairman of the local Farmers Home Administration county committee.

Mr. Glasscock points out that these funds can be extremely useful in developing the water and land resources of the community and otherwise supporting rural area development. Each dollar used wisely in developing and conserving water and land resources, helps prevent crop failures, boosts farm income and increases the value of local property.

Funds used in developing water and land resources stimulate local business activity.

Farmer county farmers may obtain water development and soil conservation loans to drill wells and otherwise improve water supply systems for irrigation, home use and livestock; purchase pumps, sprinkler systems and other irrigation equipment. Loans may also be obtained to clear and level land and carry out basic land treatment practices.

Farmers pay 5 percent interest on water development and soil conservation loans, according to Mr. Glasscock. And he said that loans to individual farmers in Farmer County are usually scheduled for repayment over a period of 10 to 20 years but that loans may be made payable over periods up to 40 years if necessary.

To be eligible for a water development and soil conservation loan, a farmer must be unable to obtain the necessary credit on reasonable terms from private and cooperative lenders.

Further details about water development and soil conservation loans may be obtained from the Farmers Home Administration office located at Farwell, Texas.

Mr. Glasscock said that the Farmers Home Administration also makes loans to purchase and develop farms, buy livestock and equipment and pay farm and home operating expenses, build and improve rural homes and essential farm service buildings, build housing for farm laborers, develop watersheds, and to meet emergency credit needs of farmers suffering from a natural disaster such as hail, flood, or drought.

Capital losses can be used to offset capital gains. Look closely at your records. You may decide to sell depressed stocks or bonds, and take losses now to cancel earlier gains that otherwise would be taxed. Or you may decide to take some gains by selling assets that are up in price, if you have earlier 1961 losses to cancel out the gain.

Make tax-free gifts. The law allows you to make limited gifts each year without paying gift tax. Gifts made now, before the year's end, might reduce estate taxes later. Under the law, you can give $3,000 a year to each of your children or to other people, as many persons as you wish, all free of gift tax. These yearly gifts can be $6,000 each if your spouse agrees. You may give your children income producing securities or other property, thus shifting some of the family income to others in lower tax brackets.

Deep Plowing Aids Root Rot Control

Over 5,000 Texas cotton farmers are reducing cotton root rot by deep plowing. They deep plowed more than a quarter million acres during 1961 according to year-end reports by county agricultural agents.

Farmers in many counties have carried out result demonstrations which showed positively that deep plowing does reduce root rot, said Harlan Smith, extension plant pathologist.

Best results were obtained, he explained, when deep plowed soil was allowed to dry for ten days to two weeks during summer or early fall when soil moisture was below normal. Shorter drying periods have given a degree of control but are somewhat unreliable, Smith said.

Affected areas should be plowed and large amounts of organic matter turned under during the hot, dry season. Plow depths of from 6 to 18 inches are recommended, depending upon the soil type and equipment available. Mold-board or disc breaking plows are satisfactory for doing the job, the specialist said. Drying the soil for a reasonable period kills the root rot fungus by drying and killing cotton roots and those of susceptible weeds, Smith explained.

The reports from the counties showed that losses ranging up to 75 per cent had been reduced to less than 5 percent by deep plowing. Eradication is not usually complete because the fungus may penetrate the soil to a depth of 8 feet, Smith added.

Local county agents can supply additional information on root rot control practices, and Smith suggests a visit.

SHIFTING EARTH . . . Deep breaking operations are beginning across the county as the harvesting nears completion for the season. The gouging plows here are turning under cotton stalks near Bovina. Water and warm weather will decay the organic matter and leave the soil soft, yielding and rich in food for the young plants next spring.

Water Conservation Dist. Elects Officers Tuesday

Annual election of officials for the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District will be conducted throughout the district Tuesday.

Qualified voters who reside within the areas affected by the election (including precincts 1 and 2 of Farmer County) will be eligible to cast a ballot. The 1960 poll-tax receipt--the receipt used during 1961--will be used for qualifying voters.

It is not necessary to be a farmer, an irrigator, or involved in any other specified

Losses don't mean giving up credits in social security

"If you have gross income from your farm of $600 or more, you can get social security credits even if you have a loss in 1961", Hal Geldon, district manager of the Amarillo social security office, said today. This means farmers can build up social security office, protection for themselves and their families.

occupation to be eligible to vote in this election--this has been a point of misunderstanding in the past. Any qualified voter is eligible to vote in any race that affects him.

Voters must cast their vote in their home county; however, they may vote at any one of the polling places in that county. Voting boxes will be established in Farmer County at the City Hall in Friona and at Wilson and Brock Insurance Agency in Bovina.

Nominees for county committeemen from Farmer County which will be decided by the voters this year are: (Residents of Commissioner's Precinct No. 1 will elect one.) Joe B. Douglas, Friona; Ralph Shelton, Friona. (Residents of Commissioner's precinct No. 2 will elect one.) Carl Dea, RFD, Bovina; Walter Schueler, RFD, Friona.

Fertilizer Carry-Over Tests Made

Tests to determine the carry-over of fertilizer from year to year are being conducted at the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway. Delbert Langford, Associate Agronomist is in charge of the tests directed by Dr. Thomas C. Magnecker, Director of the Foundation.

In 1961 nitrogen was applied at the rate of 0, 50, 100, 150 pounds per acre on cotton land and 0, 50, 100, 150, 200 pounds per acre on grain sorghum land with half of the plots having 100 pounds of phosphate applied. These two crops will be grown on the same plots continuously until the original fertilizer application ceases to increase the yield.

The tests are being conducted to give answers to questions frequently raised by farmers and fertilizer dealers in planning their fertilizer programs to secure maximum results from fertilizer usage.

Water As Tax Deduction Case Goes Before Court

The question of whether or not ground water cost can be deducted returns as the water is depleted on federal income tax will go before the courts in Lubbock Jan. 2. The High Plains Underground Water Conservation District is making final preparations for the trial of a lawsuit brought by Marvin Shurbet, a Floyd County farmer, against the U.S. Internal Revenue Service.

water in the southern High Plains of Texas is a natural deposit and that it is being exhausted by pump extraction. Plaintiff will further contend that landowners who can establish an actual initial cost in the ground water beneath their land, as distinguished from the cost of the land itself, and who are using that water to produce income, are entitled to deduct this cost of water on their federal income-tax returns as the water is exhausted.

In an effort to establish ground water in the southern High Plains as a depletable natural resource under the federal tax laws, if the court finds that the plaintiff's contentions are valid and justified under the law then all water-users in the area with a like set of circumstances should be eligible to deduct, on their income-tax returns, the cost of the ground water as it is used.

(Third in a series of questions and answers on civil defense, compiled by Miss Ettie Musil, and Deryl L. Coker, Extension Agents)

Remember grandma's pantry, its shelves loaded with food, ready for any emergency? The food was ready whether it was for unexpected company or roads blocked for days by a winter's storm.

Today, when we are vulnerable as always to the ravages of nature as well as the possibility of nuclear attack, every wise and thinking family will likewise prepare for emergencies with the modern equivalent of grandma's pantry. You should have a 2-week food supply in your home shelter area, and a 3-day survival kit in your family automobile.

An H-bomb explosion can blanket an area many miles downwind with dangerous radioactive fallout. Following enemy attack, essential services such as gas, electricity, and water, as well as normal channels of food distribution, would be disrupted.

HD Agent's Notes

BY MISS ETTIE MUSIL

Did the holidays leave you with some uncomfortable extra pounds? Oh, it's so easy to do, especially with candies, cakes, and other rich calorie loaded foods around to snack.

and rich salad dressing. Avoid sweets such as cakes, cookies, rich puddings, candies, fountain drinks and sundaes, carbonated drinks, and alcoholic beverages. Starch foods such as macaroni, dry peas, and beans are also on the caution list for weight watchers.

Here are some suggestions for planning and preparing foods to cut calories. Use non-fat, dry milk solids for cooking. Reconstituted dry milk solids heated and combined with vegetable liquids are good in soups.

Keep desserts simple. Serve fresh fruits or canned and frozen fruits packed in water or juice instead of syrup.

Serve salad materials plain or use low-calorie seasonings or salad dressings. These can be made with tomato juice, herbs and lemon juice or vinegar.

Roast or oven or pan-broil meats, poultry and fish instead of frying in fat. Avoid "breading" and use of egg-batters on foods. Trim extra fat from the meat. Prepare food without added fat, sugar or flour whenever possible.

Serve low-calorie items for nibbling or appetizers. Try serving celery, cabbage wedges, carrot sticks, or other low-calorie vegetables or fruits for snacks instead. You may tempt appetites with herbs and spices instead of rich seasonings, sauces, and gravies.

Yes, low-calorie foods can be tasty and delicious, provided you select and prepare them for fine flavor. As you are losing the weight prescribed by your doctor, do check with him in regard to your health. Too many people go on reducing diets that weigh normal for their bone structure, health, and age.

Take A Tip From Grandma

If this should happen, a family probably would have to depend wholly upon its own food and resources for survival. An emergency food storage could be the family's only available supply of food.

Start your home food storage and family shelter programs today. We cannot expect to wait around thinking that it will never happen. Then when it does happen, become panicky and beg our neighbors to take us in for protection.

More important even than food is a safe, adequate supply of water. It is a must for survival. For each member of the family, store at least seven-gallons of water or other fluids, such as fruit drinks and bottled beverages. This allows one-half gallon of liquid per person per day for drinking and cleaning purposes.

To save water, moist towels may be purchased from department store, drugs, or ordered. These towels are folded in small 2 inch by 3 inch packages.

CASTOR BEAN

Irrigation methods with castor beans is a new research program at the High Plains Research Foundation for 1962. The tests to determine the time of irrigation and number of applications to produce profitable yields will be conducted by James C. Vallant, Assistant Water Engineer for the Foundation.

Four irrigation methods will be studied in the tests: pre-plant plus an irrigation at each wilt stage; preplant plus first flower and third flower; pre-plant plus first flower and second fruit; and preplant plus first, second and third fruit set. All irrigation methods will be metered and moisture blocks will be used to determine available soil moisture.

The maximum castor bean yield from fertilizer application has to date at Halfway been from preplant application of 100 pounds of nitrogen and 50 pounds of nitrogen sidedressed. This application will be applied to each of the irrigation tests, James Vallant said.

materials between jars and pack them just as you would do if packing to move. Then store your reserve in the coolest spot in your shelter. Contents of your water heater, can be used for drinking water if it is not rusty.

Select foods that store easily, keep for months without refrigeration, are easily prepared, and require little or no cooking. Canned foods in metal and glass containers will stay in good condition for six or more months if kept in a dry, cool place, preferably not above 70 degrees and not below freezing.

To keep foods which come in paper boxes for as long as 6 months, place in tightly covered metal cans or cabinets in clean, dry, cool place. Store them in their original containers or packages. Rotate cans once or twice a year, boxed foods every three months.

To pack water containers as up newspapers or other packing

Council, each family member needs to eat the following food daily, 2 to 4 cups of milk or milk products, 2 or more servings of meat, fish, eggs, or dry beans, 4 or more servings of citrus fruit, dark-green or deep-yellow vegetable and potatoes, and 4 or more servings whole grain or enriched bread or cereal.

With all of this food, especially canned food, don't forget a can opener or two. You will also need a few cooking utensils, paper plates and cups, knives, forks, and spoons may be sufficient. Aluminum foil for lining cooking utensils saves dishwashing.

Don't forget a clock or some type of time piece to help you know the passing of time. Make sure you have a first aid kit, including bandages, antiseptic, gauze, tincture of iodine, eye drops with dropper, and any special medicines.

For beds you may use army bunk beds, sleeping bags, or other double-decker bunks. Provide books, games, hobbies, and anything to help pass the time.

For body waste disposal two large water-proof garbage cans or plastic containers with tight fitting lids serve for this purpose. Have on hand a ball of string or twine. Deposit body waste first in paper bag, then in plastic bag. Tie securely and deposit in the proper garbage can. Make sure the lid of the container fits tightly at all times. A small amount of household disinfectant should be added after each use. Disinfectant and odorant sprays help, too. Portable camp-type and chemical toilets are available. Chemical toilet capsules or pills are available to use.

Of course, provide a transistor or battery radio that will provide reception in the shelter. This is most important to listen to instructions on CONELRAD dial. According to the "Food for Fitness Daily Food Guide" planned by USDA Nutritional diets, thus concentrating the rat and mouse population around the farmstead. This concentration presents quite a problem to the farmer, and also cost him money by what the rats eat, waste or destruction.

The first necessity in an effective rat control program is sanitation. All debris, loose grain and any other sources of shelter or food should be removed from the premises. After this has been done, poison baits should be placed in all areas likely to be frequented by rats or mice. Anti-coagulant type poisons, are very good. The County, also has some poison grain, which can be bought by coming by the County Agents Office.

Once the rodent population is under control, continued sanitation and the placing of a few poison baits will prevent reinfestation. These poison baits should be checked occasionally to make sure they are still in place.

FOOTSAVING EDUCATION

by James E. Edwards

Happy New Year

Words seem so very inadequate that often we have a difficult time expressing our true sentiments. The most precious thing anyone -- man or store, anybody or anything -- can have is the goodwill of others. It is something as fragile as an orchid. And as beautiful as a gold piglet -- and as hard to find, as powerful as a great turbine, and as hard to build, as wonderful as youth -- and as hard to keep."

These words express our thanks to you for your goodwill and friendship -- priceless gifts that we shall ever try to deserve.

Two new developments in insect control show promise. USDA scientists have found a chemical that sterilizes several species of insects. Flies and the bollweevil are two of these species. It could be that in years to come we will be spraying insects, not to kill them, but to sterilize them.

A second chemical showing promise is a chemical which causes the insect to starve to death. The chemical apparently interferes with the insect's metabolism causing it to starve to death believing it's stomach is full. The chemical is non-toxic to human beings or wildlife and leaves no potentially dangerous residue on fruits or vegetables. These chemicals show promise, but are not on the market. In fact they may never be used. We only mention them as evidence that research continues even as we sleep in an effort to solve our problem.

Rat killing season is here again. During the summer months the rat population is not so noticeable because they stay in the fields, close to their food supplies. They also stay close to their food supplies in the fall, but these supplies have been moved into barns and cribs, thus concentrating the rat and mouse population around the farmstead. This concentration presents quite a problem to the farmer, and also cost him money by what the rats eat, waste or destruction. The first necessity in an effective rat control program is sanitation. All debris, loose grain and any other sources of shelter or food should be removed from the premises. After this has been done, poison baits should be placed in all areas likely to be frequented by rats or mice. Anti-coagulant type poisons, are very good. In all kinds of weather...

How many times have we walked to church in the snow together... and in the rain... and in all kinds of weather?

I don't think we've ever stayed home on a Sunday because we were afraid we might get our feet wet. To me, this would be like answering a dinner invitation by saying you couldn't make it unless the sun were shining.

The Church, after all is God's House, and in it I've always felt that I was both a member of the household, and an invited guest.

In this House, you and I have found not only a deeper understanding of each other, but the ability to be tolerant of faults, to forgive and forget smaller angers, and — most important of all — to resolve to try again tomorrow. And this is but a small part of all the Church has given us, and of all that it stands ready to give everyone, everywhere.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storeroom of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
