Want a New Privvy? Better Act Now!

If you are one of the hundreds of Parmer county residents who have been postponing the erection of a new and sanitary outdoor toilet under the countywide Sanitation Program, you had better get busy or you will be disappointed.

County officials revealed this week that the Sanitation Program faces a shut-down unless more applications for toilets are filed at once.

If you want a sanitary privvy erected on your premises for the cost of the materials only, you are advised to get in touch with your county commissioner or Sanitation Program officials immediately.

BROTHERS MEET AGAIN

Two-thirds of all deaths due to county board.

With the registration of all men within the draft age limits completed without a hitch on last Wednesdays, all eyes are now turned to the National Capital at Washington, where the national lottery will be conducted on Oct. 29th, for the purpose of determining the order in which enrollees will be inducted into military training service.

Exceeding all estimates by nearly two-to-one, the Parmer county registration went along smoothly, when more than 800 men within the age bracket presented themselves to the eight registration booths of the county. The Parmer county registrations represented a total of 10 states, scattered all the way from Maine to California and then back to Florida.

The total number registered in this county was 832. Of this number, 78 belonged to other states or other counties, and their cards have been forwarded to their home addresses. To Bovina Pioneer Incoming cards, however, representing Parmer county residents who registered elsewhere, have brought the Pete Queen, a resident of Bovina total rgistration figure for this county back up to 815.

> All men who gave their address as Parmer county, Texas, together with their serial numbers, will be found on pages three and ten of this issue of The Tribune.

Following the registration procedure, which was conducted under the direction of County Clerk E. V. Rushing, the registration cards were turned over to the Parmer County Selective Board, which gave each enrollee a serial number. This board is composed of C. E. McLean of Friona; W. H. Trouble Looms in Balkans as Russia Masses Troops on Rumanian Border; Nazi Air Raids on London Continue; Political Campaign Enters Final Stages

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.) (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)_

Reports from the Balkans indicate that Russian troops have massed on the Rumanian border and are keeping a watchful eye on the activities of Hitler's troops who have entered that country. This picture would bear out these facts for here is none other than that seldom photographed Deputy People's Commissar of Defense, Marshal S. Budenny (mustache), looking across the Russian border into Rumania from a Soviet observation post in the Odessa military district. Two army aides are shown with him.

THE WAR: Boiling Balkans

Always a question mark in the intrigue of European politics, the Balkan states again are claiming their share of the world spotlight.
When Adolf Hitler's troops marched into Rumania to "protect" Rumanian oil fields and "train" Rumanian soldiers, military experts wondered what effect this would have on the attitude of Soviet Russia toward the axis powers. For Russia, too, is interested in Rumania. More than this Russia is vitally interested in any eastward expansion of the Hitler regime.

At first Berlin reported that Moscow knew and approved of this infiltration. Then news began to come in that the Soviet troops were on of the gods-yellow, red, and white, the march toward the Rumanian alike. border. Two Rumanian patrol boats on the Danube were reported sunk by the Russians. In the strategic Registration area around the mouth of the Danube both the German and Russian forces were reported to be speedily strengthening their military posi-

Just what Hitler's plans in the Balkans are remained, of course, a closely guarded military secret. There was much speculation centering around two possible motives in addition to the avowed aid in training Rumanian troops and the protection of the oil fields, so vital to the German war machine. These speculative motives were: (1) perhaps the axis powers were attempting to draw attention away from the British Isles in order to launch some sort of a surprise tactic against England, or (2) Germany was using the Balkan route for a march to drive the British out of the eastern Mediterranean regions.

CAMPAIGN: Home Stretch

As the 1940 campaign entered its final stages it continued to follow the outline established following the mafor party conventions. Willkie continued to make most of the speeches for his party and Henry Wallace was the busiest political speaker of the Democratic party.

Willkie's speeches grew more vigorous as the campaign drew toward a close and Roosevelt's rare "political" appearances still possessed the same pattern of 1932 and 1936.

Public opinion polls came in for their share of the praise and abuse. When the Gallup poll showed that Candidate Roosevelt would more than likely carry the election, the Republicans countered with the Dunn survey, reputed to show Candidate Willkie out in front.

BIG FOUR: No Like?

There was increasing talk of a vast four-sided alliance between the British Empire, the United States, Soviet Russia and the China of General-Dictator Chiang Kai-shek. It was intended to thwart the axis of Germany, Italy and Japan. Thus would the world's seven big powers line up, it was stated by some rail-no better than did Roosevelt. It was true, objectors said, that British investments in the Far East were 10 times as large as those of the Yankees, and that the Far East was 7,000 miles away, and that we were scheduled to get out of the Philippines anyway, and many Americans did not like Moscow at any price

Some of the British were pleased, but others were gravely worried. Some of them said that the more we pointed far eastward, the less we could do for the British Isles in time of stress, strain and the beating hammer of Thor. Certain military men grumbled about quarreling on two fronts at the same time -a basic army axiom, anywhere, any time. It was all on the knees

DEFENSE:

First step in national conscription was completed with the registration of some 16,500,000 young men between the ages of 21 and 36. Reporting to more than 120,000 polling places throughout the country they listed personal information about themselves and now await the results of the lottery in Washington which will decide in what order they may be called into service.

PLANES:

Estimates

According to one conservative British estimator, the Germans have lost close to 6,500 planes in the second world war. This is a whale of an estimate. The planes would be worth around half a billion dollars, which is a lot of money, and in The Big Three marks is astronomical.

Not only that. There was more to it. The same estimator estimated that the Germans had lost 13,500 pilots. Pilots are much harder to replace than mere airplanes, be they Messerschmitts, Heinkels, Junkers, or Dorniers. It was figured that the Germans had lost three times as many bombers (Heinkels, Junkers) as they had fighters (Messerschmitts made in Augsburg). Most of these planes had Mercedes-Benz motors, built in the old Zeppelin works on Lake Constance, at Mannheim, and Stuttgart. The Mercedes plants have been badly bombed by the royal air force.

Germany was supposed to have an air force of approximately 20,000 Those Eighteen Games planes and 25,000-30,000 pilots. The sensational British figures were probably topheavy, as is usual in aerial warfare.

'Kinder'

Germany might have lost those 6,500 and 13,500, but the Londoners didn't take it to heart. The London in its complete 29 areas, to evacuate themselves and their children in toto. In addition, everybody of 65 or over, and the infirm of body, were told to get out and stay out. These provisions had previously been applied only to the 14 worst local areas, and the spread-over to 29, made the whole matter "totalitarian." Health Minister Malcolm Mac-Donald, son of the late-lamented famous Ramsay, was in charge of the woman-child-aged-infirm trek to Answer: That squeaking is from the springing or arching of the treads away from the risers. If the under side of the stairs is open, tighten the wedges that secure the ends of the treads in the grooves of the side pieces; drive them in with a tread to weight it down, drive two-inch finishing nails through the tread near the front edge, so that they go into the riser. In fact, Konoye vigorously opposed signing the alliance, but finally had to yield to more aggressive Foreign Minister Matsuoka and the war minister. In addition, American observers detect an uneasy feeling among the Japanese people and increasing rumblings of unrest.

GERMAN OCCUPATION

Intelligence reports from Europe Indicate that it is not the German army but German civilians in a hammer. Otherwise, standing on France who are causing trouble. These reports state that the Nazis already have begun to create their vaunted unification of Europe and their reduction of France to a mere agricultural state.

Following the conquering Nazi armies, there came German civilians in numbers almost as great. They settled down in evacuated Question: The walls of my stucco French homes and began to operate abandoned French shops and factories-and to take over others which had not been abandoned. All this in the vital industrial area of north France.

Reports about the conduct of Germans in France make a sharp distinction between the German military and civilian elements. Little complaint was heard of the conduct of the German military, but when the Gestapo and the Brown Shirts followed, together with civilian groups for the management of industry, real friction developed.

British victory over Germany would require not only success in staving off invasion but also driving the Germans out of the Low Countries and France-and this means not only the German soldiers, but the hordes of civilians who have taken over management of French industry as if it were their own.

ABSENTEE SENATE

If the Congressional Record told the whole story, it would reveal that congress, during the past month, has been fed up with its own sessions. Interest has been low, attendance slack, and members who haven't gone home show lack of interest.

* Another college year is under way and here is a reminder to help you bridge the gap between home and school, Enjoy a telephone visit regularly. It's a lot more satisfying than letters and inexpensive, too.

Ask the operator to tell you the rate to any town.

It's HARD to tell... but EASY to pick a winning oil

READY TO TAKE THE BUMPS and hard knocks on her way to the top, this young lady may end up with the championship or be one of the hundreds who flop. You can't tell which.

But when you are looking for an oil of championship quality, you have clues to help you choose. Here they are:

Because motorists' requirements vary as their cars and pocketbooks do, Phillips makes many oils. But you need have no question or doubt, if you want our best oil, because Phillips definitely and frankly tells you: Phillips 66 Motor Oil is our finest quality . . . the highest grade and greatest value . . . among all the oils we offer.

It's good sense to drain and replace worn oil after 1,000 miles. It's better sense . . . and economy, in the bargain . . . to drain and refill with Phillips 66 Motor Oil at the Orange and Black 66 Shield.

WHO'S NEWS THIS WEEK

By LEMUEL F. PARTON (Consolidated Features-WNU Service.)

N EW YORK.—Rear Adm. Hayne Ellis, who will command the new Atlantic navy, now being developed, is not only one of the country's Savoir Faire, as topnotch tars, but the snap-Well as Fighting, piest dresser Adm. Ellis' Dish in the fleet, and one of the handsomest and most popular of naval officers. He has a reputation for unusual spirit and enterprise and is credited with a wide and highly specialized knowledge of foreign affairs.

Like virtually all the navy high command, he is a landlubber, hailing from Macon, Ga. After his graduation from the Naval academy in 1900, he served in the Boxer and Philippine rebellions and thereafter commanded many first-line ships. He was liaison officer during the Washington arms conference, was aide to Secre-tary of the Navy Denby and from 1931 to 1934 was head of the naval intelligence. It was he who was picked as naval aide to the prince of Wales on the latter's good-will tour of this

Last year he was transferred from command of the ninth naval district to the command of the Atlantic squadron. While the new Atlantic navy, starting with a nucleus of vessels now in the Atlantic, will be under his single command, both Pacific and Atlantic fleets will be under the supreme command of Adm. James O. Richardson, commanderin-chief of the United States fleet.

Sea dogs stress the admiral's popularity with the jack tars. A few years ago he was in charge of a flock of them on a visit to the Vatican. The boys pulled a navy yell, with their yell-leaders doing back flips. It might have seemed an unseemly roceeding, but the admiral had known it was coming, and had guessed correctly that it would bring a call for encores-which it did, from the pope himself.

Admiral Ellis is 63 years old, tall, erect and broad-shouldered and, again, magnificently tailored. He attained his present rank in 1933.

A S The Little Church Around the Corner marks its ninety-second birthday, Dr. Randolph Ray may be noting with interest that Jupiter and Stars Slip; Little Saturn are

which hasn't happened for something over 300 years. Dr. Ray keeps track of the stars and thinks it quite likely that his destiny "inclines" with theirs. For many years, he consulted the late Evangeline Adams, the astrologer. He thinks it quite reasonable that the affairs little more than a year ago. of men should be linked with the cosmic deeps.

Jupiter and Saturn, it happens, are backsliding, or retrograding, but Dr. Ray and The Little Church Around the Corner are standing firm-largely due to the tolerance, social tact and humane understanding of the rector. It is said that in his youth he was impressed by Robert Browning's invocation of a degree of humane worldliness among churchmen. That might have been Fra Lippo Lippi.

At any rate, Dr. Ray met the theater more than half-way in making The Little Church the haven for its people, and also the romantic shrine of thousands of marriages. He is no off-hand marrying parson. He investigates all couples thoroughly and the rites of his church are never casually administered.

Of southern birth, he was a "leg man" for the Brooklyn Eagle, and groped around the edges of law and medicine before he became a minister. Studies at Columbia university inclined him to the Episcopal ministry. After his ordination, he consulted Evangeline Adams. She told him he would go West and meet great success there. In Bryan, Texas, he became rector of St. Andrew's church and later was dean of St. Mathew's cathedral at Dallas.

He came to The Little Church Around the Corner, more formally The Church of the Transfiguration, in 1923. With the years, he has taken on the appearance and demeanor of a British cleric, tall and dignified, conforming rigidly in all the requirements of the rubric, but less of a rigid conformist in everyday friendly human intercourse. Inclined to overweight, he keeps in trim by working in his 130-acre garden at Litchfield. It was in 1870 who can send me $10 a month for now, to realize that she not only a resolution to get rich."

Kathleen Norris Says:

Has Any Father the Right to Do This?

(Bell Syndicate-WNU Service.)

They play cribbage by the hour, talking all the time; they are late for meals, slow about everything, fussy, and with long explanations and requests. We are both getting horribly nervous about it.

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

EAR Mrs. Norris," writes Blanche B., from a suburb near Dubuque, "my problem is so serious that it threatens to wreck my married happiness. I'm not a fool, I've been a business woman, I'm running a home comfortably and economically, but I can't work this one out. Please tell me what you'd do in my place.

for four years before we could marry, because his mother was dependent upon him, and his two brothers calmly refused to do anything for her support. But of a way out?" when I had a good bank account and we were buying a home we felt that we could risk it, and we were married four years ago. I was then 28; Frank 33. At the time my wonderful mother was running a successful small grocery, with my father as assistant. Dad drove the delivery wagon, answered the telephone, and SEEMED to be what she called him, her 'partner,' but it wasn't long after her death that we discovered that she had been carrying him all along as a liability, not an asset. The business rapidly went to pieces, Dad sold out for half its value, bought a cottage, and said he was going to retire.

Dad Definite Handicap. "He made only seven payments on the cottage which he lost, and in 11 months had spent the more than $2,000 the business had brought. Then he came to us. That was a "Shortly afterward my uncle, Dad's brother, came to see us, and Dad hospitably invited him to stay, paying me $7 a week board. This Uncle Dan gratefully agreed to do. I was at the time earning $16 a week in a part-time job, but it didn't work. The two old men got everything at home into a mess while I was away; pipe dribbles, dirty dishes, icebox left open, bathroom disgraceful—they were worse than children. I would have had to pay a maid what I was earning, and we had no room for her, so it seemed wiser to do things myself. I like housework, and am a good manager and cook.

Husband Plays Sad Role. "Now my life is simply that of a board-house keeper for two rather exacting old men. Uncle Dan scrupulously pays me a dollar a day; if he goes away for three days to see his married son, he deducts that money. Of course this doesn't pay me, and of course my husband doesn't like finding the bathroom occupied when he gets home; the evening paper scattered about; the comfortable chairs pre-empted. He differs with both the others politically, and they argue and taunt him, and if he holds his tongue they feel triumphantly that they have scored. They play cribbage by the hour, talking all the time; they are late for meals, slow about everything, fussy, and with long explanations and requests. We are both getting horribly nervous about it, and it is especially trying to me because I want a child, or children, and it would be impossible to have a baby in the house with one bath, two bedrooms, and four adult occupants.

"Uncle Dan is rather sweet and willing, but Dad is exacting and critical, and never says an affectionate or appreciative word. But what can I do? He is 64, and slightly lame that The Little Church Around the Corner became a famous marriage center.

Dad's keep, but he demands that sacrificed Frank, but her children for tobacco. My brother's wife will have nothing to do with Dad, so he despot.

PERMANENT 'GUESTS' PERMANENT 'GUESTS'

It seems cruel to deny beloved parents the comforts of your home during their old age, but Kathleen Norris strongly believes that sometimes this must be done. She explains that no parent has the right to ruin the happiness of his children through his own self-indulgence. If the parents are that selfish, Miss Norris recommends that they be told—not asked—to live somewhere else. to live somewhere else.

can't go there, even for a visit. He has not one cent of his own. To put him in an institution would break his heart, and also mine. I couldn't "Frank and I were engaged bear to tell people where he was.

But it does seem like a deadlock as things are now; Frank is constantly annoyed about it, and I hate to have the best husband in the world burdened with my folks. Can you think

Get Rid of Him.

The answer is that the only way out is a hard one. But I have known many cases in which it has worked, and it will work for you. Immediately, without any argument, put this worthless annoying old man into an institution. Borrow on his insurance, if need be, to pay the charges at some partly endowed home, or put him straight into the poor-house. That will bring him to his senses for the first time in his life.

In one case that I knew an aged away for a month? man-of-the-sea got a job at the county farm, found that he was a natural vegetable gardener, was permitted to sell surplus produce for is own profit, and eventually turned into a useful member of society. In another case an old woman made herself so helpful that the good nuns placed her in the position of head cook, and she was able to send money to a daughter who was in finanbe busy and happy if he wants to be, and if your father is persistently critical and miserable despite all that a good daughter can do, he deserves nothing better than the poor-

Or better, find some country farm where a woman will board him for $25 or $30 a month. There are many such places. Let her wrestle with his peculiarities. Ask your brother for another $5 and make up the rest yourselves.

Don't Discuss It, Do It. Don't discuss it with him at all.

Just drive him there and say: "Dad, your things are all in the back of the car. Here's where you get out." If Uncle Dan decides to go with him, so much the better. But get rid of them both with the same speed that they would have gotten rid of burdensome old relatives some 40 years ago. Old fathers and mothers can be delightful and contributory members of the family; but if they don't choose to be, then surely you and your Frank are not the persons to shoulder the ensuing unpleasantness. It all depends upon you, now, and upon your capacity to face a few unpleasant hours rather than a lifetime of slavery. Every human being ought to plan for his or her old age, work for it, definitely arrange for it. Only a part of such foresight need be financial; the keeping of friends, the privileges of service, the capacity for earning a modest living are all as possible at 60 as at 26. No human being has a right to inflict his company upon a young married pair, be his claim that of father, uncle, mother, mother-in-law or any other. Nothing destroys the security of uncongenial person planted in the twelve noisy children. home, a person whom only death will remove. It will be a poor satfrom sciatica. ### THIS SEAT'S RESERVED

It happened at a wild party. Shortly after midnight, a jealous wife went round looking for her husband. Finally she found him sitting in the kitchen, with a heavy blonde parked on his lap. So big was this blonde that, as she sat on the man's lap, she practically concealed him from

The jealous wife faced the blonde. "Pardon me," she stated icily, 'but you happen to be sitting on a married man's lap!"

The blonde arose hurriedly. "Oh, I beg your pardon," she apologized. "I didn't know this seat was taken!"

Suitor's Slight Slip Gave Her Pop an Opening

Reggie had courted the daughter of the house for many months now, and finally came to the conclusion that it was time to declare himself. He found no great difficulty in obtaining the young lady's consent. However, he dreaded the ordeal he expected when asking for her father's approval. Then he hit upon the happy thought of writing to him. Here let it be known, his spelling wasn't

WHEN IS CREAM "FIT ?

COLLEGE STATION-A new method of determining whether cream is fit for human consumption is presenting a challenge to the dairy industry under a new federal food law being enforced by the Food and Drug Administration.

Enforcement of the law is achieved by penalizing manufacturers for making butter out of old, cheesy, decomposed or filthy cream, but the responsibility is also shared by the producer, since his cream will be returned to him if it is below certain

Although the new method of determining the fitness of cream-known as the mold mycelia count on butter —is no job for an amateur, there are several things the cream producer can do to help assure good quality in his cream.

AUSTIN-"There is a popular though entirely false idea that malnutrition is due solely to lack of food. Of course, an inadequate food supply will result in undernourishment. On the other hand, quaitities of the wrong types of food to the exclusion of the proper types can result just as effectively in malnutrition for both children and adults. Usually, in this country at least, malnutrition is associated by the public with young people. However, if it were possible to take a census of adults who are victims of this condition. the results might be surprising," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. "Many young women, and indeed others who are older, listen too intently to the siren voice of 'reducing for beauty's sake.' Without securing proefssional advice, and relying on dietary suggestions of friends or faddists, a number of normal weight individuals deliberately deprive themselves of nourishing food. Cutting down acutely on the daily intake of essential sustenance, such persons run health risks which often become realities. Again, numerous men and women who have partaken of fatproducing food too lustily over a long period find themselves in the overweight class. Suddenly impressed with their rotundity, they also become extremely vulnerable to nonprofessioned diet suggestions. Forgetting that possibly years were required to develop the now unwelcome cushion, some of these folks suddenly become extremists and make foolish efforts to remove in three weeks or a month the penalty for which their extended indulgence was responsible. Near-tragedies, as well as actual ones, sometimes follow in the wake of such senseless body-tinkering.

"Finally, children who habitually refuse at meal time to eat the sustaining foods in sufficient quantities are in need of parental investigation and discipline. When resistance to the suggestions is difficult to overcome, the influence of the family physician often is most effective. In any event, for the sake of the child's health, his misdirected indulgence of luxury foods must be removed."

An unusual SHRIMP-CELERY SAUCE for poached eggs

> or waffles by Dorothy Greig

TF there's one thing that makes me purr it is to turn a prosaic everyday food such as cold roast beef, eggs or carrots, into a dish that's really interesting. One of my pet ways of doing it is by means of sauces. Not complicated sauces. But easy ones that are fixed mostly from condensed soups already in themselves beautifully seasoned.

Here, for instance, is one such sauce that transforms simple poached eggs into a luncheon or supper dish you would be proud to set before anyone. It is delicious poured thickly over waffles, too. Or even over plain toast. Keep this in mind for those times when you must rustle up a meal or stretch out a meal for unexpected guests and "my dear, there was simply nothing in the house to eat." Well, the guests will never suspect it.

Shrimp and Celery Sauce over Poached Eggs 1 tablespoon butter 1 cup shrimps 1 can condensed celery soup % cup milk or cream Melt the butter and sauté the shrimps. Then add the celery soup with milk or cream and heat. A little chopped parsley may be added just before se-

FREDERIC F. VAN DE WATER

SYNOPSIS

David Mallory, in search of newspaper work in New York, is forced to accept a job as switch-board operator in a swank apartment house, managed by officious Timothy Higgins. There David meets Miss Agatha Paget, a crippled old lady, and her charming niece, Allegra. One day, talking with Higgins in the lobby, David is alarmed by a piercing scream. David finds the acream came from the Ferriter apartment, not far from the Pagets'. The Ferriters include Lyon and Everett, and their sister, Ione. Everett, a genealogist, is helping clude Lyon and Everett, and their sister, Ione. Everett, a genealogist, is helping Agatha Paget write a book about her blueblooded ancestors. Inside the apartment they find a black-bearded man—dead. No weapon can be found. The police arrive. Higgins, who actively dislikes David, informs him that he is fired. David is called to the Paget apartment. There he finds to the Paget apartment. There he finds elderly, prim-appearing Agatha Paget sipping a cocktail and smoking a cigarette. "I do not," said Miss Agatha. "My niece gave him an alibi. That's enough. And he can't bother his sister tonight, either. We've dosed her with sedatives and she's asleep. What about Lyon?'

Shannon's eyelids puckered and a sullen sound came into his voice.

He scowled. "No sign of it," he confessed. "We've tossed the whole place and it's not there."

Feet came heavily along the hall. The maid appeared at the doorway and started to speak but two men stood behind her and one of them, the detective Jake, said proudly to Shannon:

"Here's the guy, Cap." Miss Agatha was the first to find her voice and in it was no hint of "Come in," she invited. "Captain Shannon, this is my neighbor, Mr. Lyon Ferriter."

She turned to me, hesitated and then her eyelids puckered.

"I don't know," she told the gaunt figure in the doorway, "whether you have met Mr. Mallory formally before. Do come in."

Ferriter was still the lank, brown figure in worn tweeds that I had seen striding through the foyer and I felt again, as he stood in the door and stared, the odd charm of his leathery person. His black hair was stippled with gray like a silver fox pelt and if he were alarmed, he hid it well. He bowed to the old lady and said in a pleasant, faintly Eng-

Jake started to speak but gagged and was silent under Shannon's glare. The Captain had got himself in hand. Now he asked with a stealthy courtesy: "Perhaps you wouldn't mind telling us where you've been."

where were you then, eh?" "Oh!" Ferriter said and was still a moment. I thought it was not fear but surprise that silenced him. At last, he said simply:

"I don't know."

"Don't know?" Shannon echoed. "Exactly," the gaunt man said, standing wholly at ease in the doorway. "I was walking in the Bronx!" His mind ran ahead of Shannon's like a staghound before a terrier. As the Captain hesitated, Lyon said, still easily but with a shade of wor-

His last words were strained. Miss Agatha understood and said:

'Your brother and sister are in no way involved, Mr. Ferriter."

The Captain frowned but Lyon ducked his grizzled head again and smiled gratefully.

"Sometime in the afternoon. I really don't know. She had ignition trouble-I mean her car had. I fixed it for her."

Miss Agatha caught my eye and winked shamelessly. Then she resumed her careful regard of Lyon. "And then?" Shannon prodded.

"I walked south to the 180th Street subway station. It was dusk when I reached it. I got off at Grand Central, scrubbed off some of the grime in the washroom, had supper at Mino's, 22 East Fifty-second and came on home."

with Jake tailing close behind and Shannon glowering in the rear, led the way from the room. Their footsteps went down the hall. The door opened and closed. The old lady folded her hands on her lap and looked at me.

"We seem to agree," she jeered. I did not understand her and after waiting a moment, she went on

She said good night to me. Her smile was trite but her clear eyes, I thought, questioned and dared me. Her look upset, yet lifted me. I bowed and mumbled. I was afraid she might read my face. Her soft laughter came back to us as she and her brother went down the hall. I found Miss Agatha staring at me.

"She's easy to look at," the old lady said, with elaborate indifference. "And in a few years, on her birthday, she will inherit two million dollars."

"Won't that be nice!" I retorted. I knew she had warned me. Her chuckle was understanding.

"We're having a hard time," she apologized, "getting this settled, David. Sixty dollars a week, one week's salary in advance and you start work at nine tomorrow morning."

It wasn't the price she set. It wasn't thought of the dark jobless world outside. I looked toward the door where Allegra had stood and made up my mind.

I turned into the first lunch room I passed. As I gave my order, a man sat down opposite me at the white-topped table.

"Coffee and butter cakes," he told the waitress. He was plump and mild but the eyes in his wind-reddened face seemed drowsy. I met his stare and that made him speak, though he cleared his throat several times first.

"You're Mallory?" he asked. 'Hallman at the Morello?" I had been right then. It was an-

"I'm Cochrane, Jerry Cochrane of the Press. Larry Duke was speaking about you."

"Get your dope from Shannon. I'm out of newspaper work." He sipped his coffee and said at

"It might mean something for you on the Press if you and I could bust this case wide open.'

He waited while I abolished ham and eggs and, when I had finished, asked: "Got time to listen to me now?"

At my sulky nod, he leaned across the table and spoke rapidly. Duke had cursed me in his hearing. It had given Cochrane an idea, which he had carried to Milligan, his city editor, who had approved it. "You know yourself," the chubby man said bitterly, "what chance a reporter has at the Morello. Those stuffed shirts have hearts as hard as their arteries. ### CHRISTIAN MOTIVES FOR ABSTINENCE

LESSON TEXT—Luke 1:13-16; 2:40; 4:4; 6:21, 25, 43-45.
GOLDEN TEXT—For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink; but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost.—Romans 14:17.

Life is our most precious possession. No intelligent person will waste its fleeting moments, nor defer to a later season the living of his life to the best advantage. We live now-today.

Nor is any thoughtful one ready to let life slip by without its finest and richest return of usefulness and blessing, not only to himself, but to others. International Temperance Sunday affords us an opportunity to show our young people that those who indulge in intoxicants cannot live such a life.

We suggest that a satisfying life is I. Useful (Luke 1:13-16).

John was to be born into a life of such blessed usefulness to God and man that he was to be a "joy and gladness" to his parents, "great in the sight of the Lord," and instrumental in turning "many of the chil-

Such a life is worthy of emulation on the part of every young man and woman. What is the secret of it? Undoubtedly, fine Christian parentage had much to do with it. We note that God began preparing this great character a generation before he was born. Other elements also entered in, such as rearing and training, but most important of all was the fact (v. 15) that he was not to be driven by the false stimulants of this world, but by the infilling of the Holy Spirit of God. No "wine nor strong drink," but being "filled with the Holy Ghost"-there, young people, is the secret of a happy and useful life.

III. Well-Balanced (4:4; 6:21, 25). Making a life is more important than making a living. # FARM COUPLES OFFERED ADVICE

Newlywed Couples Warned to Save Early.

The voice of experience from 472 farm families who kept home account records during 1939 tells young married couples on the farm where their money probably will go in the years to come. These records were summarized by home accounts specialists from the University of Illinois college of agriculture.

First of all newlyweds will find that undoubtedly the money value of their living and savings will increase from the first five years they are married until around the time they will celebrate their silver wedding anniversary. From then on, it's pretty likely to decline. So say those who have been paying the bills these many years. Advice given is to plan ahead for the peak times of expense.

Savings increase during this same period of marriage and then decline gradually. The decline is the result primarily of the decline in life insurance payments and payment of principal, say home accounts specialists. However, there usually is an increase in other investments for old age.

Newlyweds won't have to worry much about the food bills during the first four years of their married life, but they will have to figure on furnishing and equipping their home then. Clothing bills are lowest at this period, because there are few people in the family, but the highest average amount for clothing usually is spent by women married one to four years—a fact of interest to all husbands. During the five to nine years married period, young folks might as well figure on doctor bills and medical expense for babies. Other items will have to be budgeted accordingly. There was a tendency for operating expenses for the household to go up gradually over a period of years. However, it is higher during the five to nine year period probably because of additional services needed while the children were small. Cash outlay for housing and recreational equipment reaches its

Families might as well figure right now that they will spend a great deal of money keeping up with expenses in the 15 to 25 year married period, for this is the time when savings, food, clothing, recreation, and education, other than college, reach their peak and cause a drain on the purse. Usually the children are in high school. Furnishings and equipment reach their second highest peak at this time, largely beplaced and parents wish to make their home as attractive as possible

Frilled Curtains Give Glamour to Windows

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

HE newest frilled curtains give a full, lavish effect. If they make your old curtains look a bit dejected, like those shown here at the right, don't be discouraged. The window at the left uses those same curtains with a dash of glamour added. This economy trick saved a certain young matron enough money to buy a number of smart new accessories for her living room.

She discovered that a diagonal dart, which took up the curtains at the back, threw more fullness to the front, thus giving the new high drape a smart line. Tiebacks and valance were made of flowered chintz in rose and plum tones, lined with plain plum colored chintz. One yard of each kind of chintz was required for each window.

NOTE: The chintz covered lamp shade and the spool table also add interest to this window. Full directions for making a shade like the one illustrated are in SEWING, Book 1. Directions for the spool table are in Book 5; also descriptions of the first four booklets in this series. Bad days ahead. But here's how Winter OIL-PLATING maintains needed lubricant in advance — for Safe Quick Starts . . .

Ever hear of "the break-away?" Sounds harsh. You can almost feel what it means in the lingo of auto repairers...the moving parts "breaking away" from dead cold standstill ... risky moments when your engine's cold steel needs lubricant fearfully fast: And that's why it needs to be OIL-PLATED today by the economical change to Conoco Germ Processed oil:

OIL-PLATING must help faster than any mere fast flow of oil, because sooner than any oil-flow could begin, OIL-PLATING is up to its topmost point in your engine! OIL-PLATING is kept surfaced direct to cylinder walls, pistons and other precious parts; by a strong "power of attraction" processed into Conoco Germ Processed oil. Hence OIL-PLATING doesn't all go draining down during parkingdoesn't take leave-doesn't wait for the oil-pump to restore lubrication at every start. That's why OIL-PLATING doesn't let your engine suffer Winter's worst. Always there ahead of starting wear, on-PLATING helps your engine to keep its fine fit. And that's your big help toward oil mileage. Mileage is what has won the Conoco man his proud title of Your Mileage Merchant. Today have him put in your Winter Germ Processed oil. Continental Oil Co.

World Bristles With War Talk As America Arms for Defense

U. S. Trains Conscript Army and Prepares for Action; Germany, Italy, Japan Present Solid Front, Assume Militant Attitude.

By BAUKHAGE

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.) Baukhage, NBC Commentator, whose voice on the Farm and Home Hour is heard daily by many of our readers, is the author of the following Washington column. Soldier, writer and broadcaster, for the last quarter of a century, Baukhage has covered foreign and domestic news from all parts of the United States and principal capitals of Europe.

WASHINGTON.-It is just about as far from the executive offices of the White House on Pennsylvania avenue to the broadcasting studio as it was from our house on Spruce street back home to the store where my mother used to send me for a loaf of bread (and a stick of "lickrish" if I had an extra penny). It was on my way to the store one day that I first saw a live man wearing the uniform of the United States. It was my Cousin Ned just starting off for the Spanish-American war in his sailor suit.

I've seen a lot of uniforms since, on the avenue in Washington, too, but I couldn't help thinking as I walked along the other day scuffing the dried leaves that had fallen from the immemorial White House elms, that a lot of nine-year-old kids and older ones, too, are soon going to be seeing plenty of uniforms for the first time, on the streets of the home town, just the way I did, 40 years

Right now that is something that Washington and every other city, town and cross roads in the country have in common. In the corridors of the marble buildings beside the Potomac they are talking about the same thing that they are on Main street and at the general store. I wouldn't be surprised if certain gentlemen in certain foreign capitals were talking about the same thing, too: Our new citizen army.

Need for Conscript Army in Peacetime

scription that people are thinking about. According to a lot of letters I get, what many people want to know is why we need a citizen army

I put that up to a military man and this is the way he answered me:

"Speed is what counts in an army today. We aren't calling out these boys to fight anybody. We are calling them now to train them so they'll be ready if we ever need them. The United States can always raise a big army if war is ever declared. But neither we nor any other country can raise a trained army over night-and a lot can happen in the night these days. What we want to do is train men for a reserve. They will still be a part of our defense after their active training is

"If this war ends and a disarmament agreement is reached with all nations we won't need to train anybody any more. Meanwhile these men when they are through their year's service will go home and slip back into their niches in civilian life. But if a war comes they can step into the ranks over night as they would if we were in danger anyhow. But they will step back as trained soldiers, not raw recruits."

That seemed to me a new way of looking at it. It explains why there is a need now. A fire engine wouldn't be much use if you had to teach the firemen how to use it after the house started burning.

Triple Alliance Powers

Have Belligerent Attitude

Is our house actually in danger of catching on fire now?

Well, I am a reporter, not a prophet. The profit motive isn't overemphasized in the reporting business. Furthermore right now the air in these parts is so full of political speeches and other wartalk, just as it is out your way, that you can hardly see across the Potomac on a clear day. The political speeches are so belligerent and the war-talk, especially what we are getting from Rome, Berlin and Tokyo is so political, it takes a fine-tooth comb to separate them.

A dispatch from Rome says the axis doesn't want to get us into war and wants to stop our aid to Britain. Berlin says that if we attack Japan, Germany and Italy will attack us. That would get us into the war which Rome says the axis

Tokyo says that if we don't let

NATIONAL DEFENSE

America is arming rapidly, but she is arming for defense, not offense, according to Baukhage, Washington correspondent. He finds that Germany, Italy and Japan have adopted a belligerent attitude since they signed their Triple Alliance recently. Does this mean war? Baukhage believes that no one knows the answer yet. He reports that some will attack us. Certain people in Washington say if we get into war with Japan we can't help Britain. And so it goes.

her do what she wants in Asia, Japan

Washington Emphasizes Defense, Not Offense

Just now Washington isn't as warlike as it sounds. The emphasis is on defense, not offense. However, there are conflicting views as to what we ought to do.

I talked with an official who isn't what you would call a fire-eater. He expressed a view which some of the people in the state department agree

"Japan has declared herself our enemy. The time to strike is now, not delay the way Great Britain did. We could get it over without a long

Another man who speaks for another group which is supposed to reflect White House opinion, said this:

"The United States has to play a cautious game. Our job now is to keep out of war. Aid Britain all we can. As long as the British navy controls the seas Japan can't hurt

If that policy is followed, and I think most observers here believe it will be no matter who is elected President, we will simply reply to any further unfriendly moves on the part of Japan by economic measures. We have cut off some of her vital needs. We can cut off more.

And heaven knows what the ladies could accomplish if they suddenly quit buying silk stockings. That's Japan's chief income—raw silk—and if they couldn't sell it to us, the Japanese would have to let their silkworms turn up their toes and dieand you know something pretty bad is supposed to happen when a worm

French Ambassador Has Hard Job

It is hard to find out whether you are at war and if so, with whom, these days. Of course, we are at peace with France. At least we rec- ops, the possibilities offered unfold ognize the French ambassador, the in endless chain. There are certain things about con- suave and amiable Henri Haye.

ment, which can't admit officially that this is true, acts just as if it knew it all the time. It has frozen country. It is as hard for the French government to draw on funds invested here as it is for a Hollander or a Belgian or the citizen of the other occupied countries to get their money-which doesn't make them angry either. Some Hollanders instructed their agents here not to pay out their funds to anybody even if they themselves write letters ordering this done. For, of course, the Nazis could force the owner to order the securities sold and then confis-cate the funds and use it themselves. Well, one of the many ticklish assignments of Monsieur Henri Haye is to try to get the government to loosen up on those French investments. Of course, some funds can be drawn upon for special purposes such as the expenses of the embassy. And there has been a worried rumor that the United States government might have to turn the entire amount over.

Predict Balanced Budget for 1943

With congress and the defense commission bent on seeing that the money appropriated for national defense gets put to work, all the talk is about what's going out and very little about what's coming in. You haven't heard a thing about balancing the budget recently, have you? Well, you will soon. Perhaps before this item meets your eye. For the experts say that we are going to have a $15,000,000,000 budget in 1943 and what is more we are going to be able to balance it.

How will this feat be accomplished?

Simply through normal taxes, they tell us. Production and national income will mount so fast owing to pyramiding defense expenditures that normal taxes will bring in enough money to get the dizzy old budget.

This statement comes, not from starry-eyed optimists but from fishyeyed financial experts who are paid to get the low-down for their noless fishy-eyed banker clients.

The capital has felt many repercussions of the war and naturally broadcasters suffer. Recently Earl Godwin, one of my colleagues, broadcast a London dispatch which started quite a controversy. William Dean Hassett, meticulous and scholarly member of the White House staff, insists that not long ago this is the way the dispatch reached his usually sharp New England ears:

"Ambassador Kennedy had a narfinancial experts predict the row escape today when the Germans a pronounced vogue this winter. as well as those of velvet that have force burt from such budget will be balanced in 1943. dropped an incendiary blonde near they add a distinctive appearance a fringe of brilliant feathers outling the American embassy."

'Trimmed With Velvet' Becomes A Popular Fall Fashion Slogan

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

O NOT decide on the new coat, dress or suit until you have thoroughly looked into the matter of the cloth-trimmed-with-velvet vogue that is fairly taking the world of fashion by storm this season. So inspired have designers become in this direction they are playing up the theme with all the cunning and imagination at their command. The idea is being exploited to the utmost, and as the movement devel-

Cunning style details that add to the prestige of this costume are the barbaric pair of clips, the centers French financial holdings in this of which are huge cabochon emeralds, the huge silver fox muff and the veil-draped black felt chapeau

The other velvet trimmed model shown here is one of those allimportant long-coat costume suits which best dressed women are accepting as a most welcome fashion this season. Bottle green tweed is the chosen material for this handsome ensemble. The gored skirt is topped with a full length coachman's coat accented with green velveteen (velveteen vies with velvet for trimming) collar lapels and buttons and various binding of edges. coats that tie to one side. Dresses of cashmere jersey are of the people or congress, and with diamonds, gold, honey, icebergs, novel pockets. It is very good style, too, for the two-piece dress is made of a jersey skirt with velveteen blouse top that is finished off with jersey at neckline and wrist and down the front. The very chic jacket suits that make simplicity of line their keynote show they are of newest vintage when they are piped with velvet, have velvet covered buttons and most likely a velvet collar of matching velvet. Of course the favorite suit is black with black velvet. However, the "call to colors" is resulting in suits and coats made of gorgeous tweeds that are colorfully velvet-trimmed.

One house of design noted for its smart fashions is making a play on dresses that exploit the new pencilslim lines that take on a flounce below the knee. These are of sheer wool, notably cashmere jersey or the new suede-finished wools. The high style feature reaches its climax in cunning schoolgirl collars of matching velvet. Shirred velvet muffs are also a new style note. (Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Fur-Faced Hat

Nothing less than a sensation that's what the new and dramatic fur-faced broad-brimmed hats are creating. The model pictured tells the "reason why" every woman of fashion is sending in a rush order for a fur-faced hat to match her coat. The hat and coat ensemble shown here is of beaver. It is made of such smooth furs as Persian lamb, black sealskin, leopard and other spotted varieties, also ermine for evening wear. These repeat again and again in millinery to match the fur coat or fur trim on the suit. For those who can indulge in fur luxury, an important new fashion is coast of China which so plainly threatens us with war with Japan? It is that Japan, Germany and Italy have agreed that if any other nation makes war on any one of them, the three will join to defend each other. There is nothing new about that kind of defensive alliance. That is the kind of agreement that France and England had with Poland which brought on this new world war when Germany attacked Poland. That turned Hitler's threat west when it was headed east. On the first play, Hughes shot a lateral to Dotson, who advanced to the 25, with Hughes then gathering up the remaining yardage in a beautiful dash.

> Coming back desperately in the final period, Whitharrel suddenly threw its pass attack into high gear, with McClure shooting to Roberson and Stewart until the ball lay on the Farwell 15-yard line. But here, the visitors bogged down, and on the fourth play, the ball went over. Royal tossed an incomplete pass, and on the next play, Hughes fumbled, with Newson, of the Whitharrel backfield, recovering on the 20.

Pushed back to the 35 by a penalty, Whitharrel fumbled on the 40, wtih Farwell recovering, and Phillips sent off a bad kick to put the ball in the visitor's hands on their own 30. Playing "dead man" near the sidelines, Newson took a pass from Stewart on the first play, and raced ahead of the Farwell men for the first score by the visitors. Try for extra point was faulty.

Playing against time in the closing minutes of the game, the Whitharrel eleven again took to the air. getting the ball by virtue of a Farwell fumble, and drove to the 20. A pass from McClure to Wren pushed on down to the 10, where Hughes failed to intercept in a close try, and then Roberson caught a Whitharrel pass after two Farwell men had slapped it, and fell over into the end

Gwyn and Gast, at tackle positions for the Farwell squad, turned in probably their best work of the year, while Pipkin showed up on several tackles, and Phillips dropped into the backfield for several good kicks.
