Thanksgiving Services Set By Area Churches

Special Thanksgiving services and fellowship meals are being planned by area and local churches this coming week in celebration of the upcoming Thanksgiving holiday.

Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church and the First Baptist Church of Farwell will sponsor a combined community celebration on Sunday, Nov. 21.

The combined Thanksgiving services will be hosted by the First Baptist Church and will begin at 7:00 p.m. CST. Don Holladay, pastor of Hamlin Memorial Methodist Church, will be the speaker. The two choirs will combine for special music. Donations collected during the services will be earmarked for the transient fund.

Another community Thanksgiving service is planned for the residents of Oklahoma Lane, also on Sunday, Nov. 21. It will be at the Oklahoma Lane United Methodist Church, co-sponsored by the Oklahoma Lane Baptist Church. There will be a potluck meal beginning at 6:00 p.m., followed at 7:00 p.m. by the Thanksgiving message brought by Wyatt Carpenter, pastor of Oklahoma Lane Baptist Church. Turkey will be furnished and the congregation members are asked to provide the trimmings.

St. John Lutheran Church of Lariat will have its annual Thanksgiving Day supper on Sunday, Nov. 21, at 6:00 p.m. Turkey will be furnished for the fellowship meal with a vegetable, salad, and two pies being furnished by the members. Games will follow the meal.

Also, a Thanksgiving Day worship service is scheduled at St. John Lutheran Church on Thursday, Nov. 25, at 10:30 a.m. Acknowledgement of the annual offering for World Relief and World Hunger will be made at the services.

The First Baptist Church of Texico will have a "Praise Service" on Thursday, Nov. 25, at 9:30 a.m. MST. Joel Horne, pastor, will lead the service.

Clinic To Open Nov. 29 - -

New Doctor, Family Arrive In Farwell

Farwell's newest residents are Dr. Bill Lewis, his wife, the former Caroline Anderson, and their two daughters, Meredith, who will be two in December, and Lindsay, six months. The family moved from Lubbock where Dr. Lewis had been schooling at Texas Tech University, in the field of family practice, associated with the Lubbock General Hospital.

The Lewis family has been busy settling into their new home for the past several days as well as getting acquainted with the Farwell Clinic facility and unpacking medical equipment.

Dr. Lewis' extensive medical training includes attending college and medical schools in Dallas at Southern Methodist University and Southwestern Medical School, graduating in 1979. He received surgical training at Lankenau Hospital in Philadelphia.

The medical practice of Dr. Lewis at the Farwell Clinic will officially be opened on Monday, Nov. 29, with the office hours being from 8-5 on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday. On Wednesday the hours will be from 8-12, and from 9-12 on Saturday.

His office will staff a secretary, and two part-time nurses. His wife, Caroline, will be one of the nurses with another nurse to be hired in the near future. Caroline received her schooling in Farwell, Southern Methodist University, Texas Tech University, and Baylor School of Nursing in Dallas.

Everyone in the Twin Cities and surrounding area will have an opportunity to meet Dr. Lewis and his family on Sunday, Nov. 28, at an open house at the Clinic from 2 to 5 p.m. CST.

Members of the Hospital District Board will be on hand to introduce the Lewises, and to show people around the medical facility that has received some refurbishing.

Arrests, Thefts Top Law Officers' Action

Several arrests and reported theft investigations have kept Parmer County law officers busy during the past week, as reported by Parmer County Sheriff Bill Morgan.

Dario Hernandez, 17, of Farwell was arrested by sheriff's officers on November 11 for disturbing the peace. He was fined $25 by Justice of the Peace Albert Smith.

Texico Band Members To All-District

At the All-District Band tryouts Saturday, Nov. 13, in Artesia, several members of the Texico School Bands were selected to go to the New Mexico All-District Band performance scheduled December 9-11 in Carlsbad.

Audrey McCauley will perform with the All-District High School Band while the other group from Texico will rehearse with the junior high band. Audrey is the daughter of Shirley Autrey.

Others chosen to attend the All-District Band performance include Justin Barnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dee Barnes; Brette Southard, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Southard; Jesse Garcia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Garcia; and David Loera, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eladio Loera.

The Texico Bands are under the direction of Jerry Sadberry.

Francis James Landry, 18, of Bovina was arrested by Texas Highway Patrol officers on November 12 for DWI. He was fined $150 plus court costs, and given 30 days in jail with six months deferred adjudication in Judge Porter Roberts court.

Mario Duarte, 30, of Seagraves was arrested by the Bovina city marshal on November 13 for public intoxication. He was released to the city of Bovina for hearing.

Amado Prieto, Jr., 20, of Seagraves was arrested by the Bovina city marshal on November 13 for DWI. He was fined $150 plus court costs and sentenced to three days in jail in Judge Roberts court.

Ricardo Hidalgo, 35, of Seagraves was arrested by Bovina city marshal on November 15 for theft of service. He was fined $50 plus court costs and sentenced to three days in jail in Judge Roberts court.

In other sheriff's department action, the following reported thefts are being investigated:

On November 9, Gary Singer of Farwell reported the theft of a power car wash taken from the driveway at his home sometime the preceding week.

On November 9, Jim Gump of Farwell reported that some money was missing from his home.

Also on November 9, John Johnson of Farwell reported that two kid goats were missing from the lot east of Farwell. They were taken sometime Sunday night or early Monday morning.

On November 10, Don Holladay of Farwell reported that $50 in cash was taken from an envelope in a desk drawer at the Methodist Church in Farwell. The theft possibly occurred during the Tuesday services.

On November 15, Jon Lin Riddle of Route 1, Farwell, reported that a fence charger was removed from his fence while in use.

On November 16, L.M. Chunk Smith of Lazbuddie reported that a Michelin truck tire and wheel were taken from his barn in Lazbuddie, probably sometime during the past two or three weeks.

Water Project Begins

Activity on Monday of this week marked one of the initial steps in the long-awaited water improvement and fire protection project for the City of Texico when cement was poured for the foundation of the 250,000 gallon water storage tank to be constructed in KKR Park. Existing water lines under the highway will be replaced and additional fire plugs will be placed throughout the city during the project which is due to be completed sometime in March of next year.

Water Improvement Project Now Underway In Texico

Cement trucks were pouring the cement around the foundation for the new 250,000 gallon water storage tank to be installed for the City of Texico in the KKR Park. This is the first step in the water improvement and fire protection project planned by the city of Texico. The water storage tank is to be installed in three parts by the low bidders, Cooper-Scott of Lubbock.

A contract was awarded to KNC of Albuquerque for the installation of new water lines under the highway. These existing water lines were installed during WPA days.

According to city officials, valves will be installed in some of the other water lines so that the water may be shut off only in sections instead of the entire town suffering from the loss of water. Additional fire plugs are also to be installed during the project.

The total cost of the project is to be slightly over $266,000.00 with a grant of $100,000.00 from the Environmental Improvement Division (EID) and a loan for the amount of $166,000 secured from the Farmers Home Administration at 5 percent interest.

The project should be completed sometime in March, 1983.

Area Crop Harvest Nearing Completion

The local farmer is watching the sun set on the horizon of another crop year. All in all, 1982 has been a very challenging year for the farmer. "Old Man Weather" or "Mother Nature," whichever you prefer, has presented numerous challenges throughout the year.

Martin Chandler, executive director of Parmer County ASCS office, reported that the governor had requested a crop damage assessment report be filed out, and at least 115,000 acres reportedly received hail damage. Chandler said, "In order for this report to be completed, a County Emergency Board was established. The County Emergency Board was comprised of the County Agent, Seth Ralston; Director of Soil Conservation Service, Duval Burton; Farmers Home Administration, Bill Boling; and Martin Chandler, executive director of the ASCS office, the purpose of the assessment report was to see if Parmer County was eligible for Farmers Home Administration low interest loans." The board determined that the wheat production for 1982 averaged 10 bushels per acre in comparison with a 36.4 bushel per acre average last year. The average of corn production per acre was 80 bushels dry weight compared with 143.6 bushels per acre average in previous years. The cotton average showed a large differential as the board determined a 75 pound per acre average with the average in the past being 547 pounds per acre.

This report was submitted to the County Judge and to the State Emergency Board. County Judge Porter Roberts filed a request with the governor who in turn presented a request to Washington, D.C.

In summing up the crop year, Fred Chandler, spokesman for Sherry-Anderson-Pitman in Farwell, stated that the corn harvest is complete with the average per acre being at least 1000 pounds lower than last year's average. The elevator received about three times as much milo as last year. More milo was planted due to the hail and the water situation. The early planted milo averaged around 8000 pounds per acre while the late milo averaged between 4000 and 4500 pounds per acre. Due to the hail, at least three times as many soybeans were harvested as in the 1981 crop year. Soybeans averaged about 35 bushel per acre.

Lonnie McFarland of Sherry-Anderson Elevator in Lariat, reported that the pounds of corn harvested in that area was down from last year with the averages being all the way from 3000 pounds per acre to 10,000 pounds per acre. At least 75% more milo was harvested this year in comparison with (Continued on Page 2)

Familiar Sight

A familiar sight across the county these days is that of the cotton stripper harvesting what is left of the area cotton crop after the severe weather in May and June destroyed huge acreages of the white stuff. The warm and dry fall weather has been good for the crop, however, and continues to be conducive to uncomplicated harvesting, although gins in the area are reporting many fewer bales ginned than in years past with some gins not even opening for business this season. On the other hand, good grades and micronaire have been reported from some gins.

Tribune Sets Early Deadline

So that the paper may be printed and mailed on Wednesday before Thanksgiving, the State Line Tribune has moved its news and advertising deadlines up one day for its November 25 issue.

News and advertising deadline is Monday, Nov. 22, at 5 p.m. CST.

The paper will be taken to the post office on Wednesday morning for delivery that afternoon.

To Band Performance

These Texico School band members will be in Carlsbad December 9-11 to participate in the New Mexico All-District Band performance. They were chosen at the All-District tryouts held Saturday, Nov. 13, in Artesia. From left they are Audrey McCauley, the only member who will perform with the all-district high school band; and Jesse Garcia, Brette Southard, David Loera, and Justin Barnes, who will all rehearse with the junior high band.

by John

It is only through labor and prayerful effort, by grim energy and resolute courage, that we move on to better things. —Theodore Roosevelt

By labor, prayerful effort, grim energy and resolute courage, Congress has a chance to put the Social Security program on a firm and just basis. The multi-billion dollar question is, will they do it? Social Security is sinking in a sea of red ink. It is now borrowing from other funds to make the current monthly payments. Something must be done and Congress must find the courage to do it.

Over the past 45 years profligate politicians in an endless quest for votes have turned this worthwhile program for old folks into a vast social welfare program that now far outstrips the original intent. In so adding to the "Christmas Tree" of federal goodies, all pretense at fiscal soundness was thrown out the window. If any other entity but the Federal Government was running the program they would be judged for fraud.

A reasonable and fiscally sound resolution to the problem has been put under a cloud of pure bunkum, principally mouthed by that elderly populist Claude Pepper. He has so scared the current retirees with his overblown blatherings that even discussing sane solutions brings on hysterical outbursts from many of the older citizens.

These folks better wake up to the real world of who pays the bills. It is the younger and working people who pay the bills and they are getting awfully saddle sore from paying out ever-increasing taxes to support millions of retirees, school kids, and assorted survivors who have put precious little into the pot.

It will be far better to accept some adjustment in both the amount of benefits and to whom such benefits will be paid now rather than have a complete secession of the program in the near future.

Social Security, not now or ever was, an actuarially sound program such as an insurance company annuity. It is not a legal agreement such as a bank note, a lease agreement, or a deed or mortgage. It is only a creation of each and every Congress, and can be added to, expanded, reduced or eliminated at the whim of each and every Congress.

The old folks of this country cannot indefinitely and in ever-increasing amounts, go on plundering the younger generations. It will be far better in the long run to accept reasonable and livable reductions in the current program and have a program than to go ahead and insist on impossible payments and have the whole thing fail with no payments to anybody.

It is really galling to think that only two simple things need to be done to assure all the elderly a reasonable old age retirement pay check. There needs to be a drastic reduction in the so-called "survivor" benefits, particularly those that send able bodied kids to successive years of college.

The "cost of living adjustment" needs to be stopped. This added expense is totally unjustified in the Social Security field as well as in other areas. The COLA is totally non-productive and bears no resemblance to the free enterprise concept of "pay for production."

If Social Security and all private industry and all federal government employment kicked the "COLA" habit, inflation would truly sink to almost zilch in a year's time.

By eliminating such unearned raises, the populace would have a very direct stake in electing politicians to office who would keep inflation under control. As it is, the millions who fatten their take with annual COLA raises have no

Second Place Weekly Winner

Jerry Dee Owen of Farwell, right, was the second place winner in last week's Merchant Football Contest. He was one of four contestants to pick the perfect score of 12 for the contest games, and the point spread of the tiebreaker score was needed to determine the first and second place winners. Darren Coffman of Amarillo was the first place winner by being only 17 points off on the tiebreaker game score, while Owen was 26 points off. The other two contestants who also

the past few years. The milo average ranged from 4000 pounds per acre to 8000 pounds per acre. The elevator received a few soybeans, but were unable to store the beans so they were bought and shipped out.

In Bovina, Harry Johnson of Shirley Grain reported that corn harvest was off something like 30% with the yields varying, but probably averaged 8000 pounds per acre. He felt that the milo yields were disappointing to most of the farmers with a 6000 pound average per acre. At least 50% more milo was harvested than during last year's harvest.

JeDon Gallman, the new manager at the Farwell Gin, reports that 355 bales have been ginned at this point, with a turnout averaging from 17 to 25%. The gin is hoping for a season of 1000 bales.

Ovid Lawlis at the Lawlis Gin in Bovina reports that 688 bales of cotton have been ginned with at least 1500 to 2000 bales expected before the season ends. The turnouts have been averaging between 17 and 25% with good grades bringing 45-50 cents per pound.

Good grades and premium micronaire is the story from Calvin Meissner of the Lariat Gin. That facility has ginned about 400 bales with 1500 bales expected. Market price has been between 40-50 cents per pound.

Due to the hail destroying the cotton crop in the area, the Oklahoma Lane Gin is not open for this cotton season.

A spokesman at the Bovina Gin stated that over 400 bales have been ginned there with an expectation of 2500 to 3000 bales for the season. The turnout has ranged between 18 to 27% with the grades reported to be "real good." Some of the cotton is going into the loan with some being sold on cash market for 40-45 cents.

According to Seth Ralston, Farmer County Extension Agent, the year has been a pretty rough one for the farmer. Each commodity production varies so much from field to field. Most of the corn averaged from 8000 to 10,000 pounds per acre with the milo averaging between 4500-5000. The cotton production has been from 75 pounds per acre on up.

If the weather holds, cotton harvest could be completed as early as the first of December.

J.R. Ivins Awarded Achievement Medal

Dr. J.R. Ivins of the Farwell Clinic has recently been awarded the Public Health Service Achievement Medal. This announcement was made during a Public Health Service Convention in Park City, Utah, on September 29, 1982.

Dr. Ivins has been a member of the American Public Health Association and the United States Public Health Service for five years. He has practiced in Farwell for 3½ years.

The Achievement Medal is presented to only a select few health care professionals nationwide. This year, of 230 eligible professionals, Dr. Ivins was one of six chosen for this honor.

In order to receive the Achievement Medal, a health professional must display exceptional personal and professional service to his community. He must excel in the successful delivery of health care at a high level of productivity.

Upon receiving the Achievement Medal, Dr. Ivins wished to thank his staff, the Board of Directors of the Farwell Hospital District, and the citizens of the Farwell area for their support in making the Farwell Dental Clinic a successful practice.

Four Contestants Guess Perfect Weekly Entries

In last week's Merchants Football Contest, four entrants turned in perfect scores of 12, and the tiebreaker game score had to be used to determine the first and second place winners.

Darren Coffman won the first place weekly check of $7.50 by being only 17 points off on the tiebreaker game. He picked Hobbs 10, Clovis 17. Clovis won the game, 7 to 3.

Jerry Dee Owen was the second place weekly winner by being 26 points off, and he received the $5.00 check. The other two contestants were Richard Engleking with 31 points off, and Sam Webb with 38 points off on the tiebreaker score.

Last week's picks seemed to be much easier than the previous weeks as 24 contestants guessed 11 correct games. These were Jim Berry, Elaine Cain, D. Wade Cargile, Rex Cumpston, Eileen Dannheim, Ronnie Dunsunworth, Paul Fulcher, Linda Gerles, Steve Gerles;

Also, Bill Kent, Roy King, T.J. Kittrell, Mike Littlejohn, C.L. Mahaney, Yolanda McFarland, Bev Obenshain, Marcy Pena, Champ Porter, Billy

Roberts, Dale Sikes, Ricky Sikes, Vernon Thigpen, Ronnie Warmuth, and Tracy Williams.

Tied for the lead in the overall contest with 99 total points are Roy King of Texico and T.J. Kittrell of Farwell. They were in a three-way tie for the lead the week before along with Diane Dannheim of Farwell. However, Mrs. Dannheim picked only 10 correct games while King and Kittrell both got 11. This dropped Mrs. Dannheim to second place with 98 total points.

In third place in the overall contest with 97 total points are Don Gerles, Teresa King, C.L. Mahaney, and Billy Roberts; and alone in fourth place with 96 points is Ronnie Warmuth.

(See contest standings elsewhere in this week's issue.)

With only one week left in the 12-week contest, any of the above can emerge the victor. In the event of a tie, the point spread of the tiebreaker games scores for all 12 weeks of the contest will be tallied to determine the winner.

As of this writing, the pro football strike is still on and the outcome of the pro season is still unknown. If the strike is not settled in time for the Cowboys-Saints game, the Tribune will give the equivalent of the Grand Prize packet in cash. This amounts to $100, plus the $50 expense money.

This will not be as exciting as getting to see the Dallas Cowboys play the New Orleans Saints in Dallas on December 19, but the $150 will be nice pocket money and maybe ease some of the disappointment.

The next few weeks will tell which it will be.

BULLETIN

It was announced Tuesday night that a tentative settlement of the pro football player strike had been reached.

How the schedule will affect the Tribune's contest Grand Prize is still undetermined.

Contest game teams winning last week were Amarillo River Road over Friona, Littlefield over Dalhart, Vega over Ropes, Shallowater over Kress, West Texas over New Mexico State, Texas over TCU, SMU over Texas Tech, Baylor over Rice, Oklahoma over Missouri, Penn State over Notre Dame, Washington over Arizona State, and Clemson over Maryland.

Look Up and Live

Cotton harvest is here and the Coop urges extreme caution when operating farm equipment near electric lines.

In recent years, many incidents have involved cotton module builders. The extended portion of the cotton module builder can easily come into contact with overhead electric lines if the operator is not careful. The same problem exists with overhead baskets on cotton strippers.

We urge farmers and their employees to be alert to these potential hazards and take every possible precaution to avoid serious injury or death. When moving a module builder, be sure the packer arm is lowered as far as it will go. When using a stripper with an overhead basket, be sure to check for overhead lines before dumping.

Lower packer arm as far as it will go before moving module builder.

BAILEY COUNTY ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE ASSOCIATION

305 E. Ave. B Muleshoe 272-4504

We have had line torn down with cotton harvesting equipment this year. Also, some incidents have resulted in injury to the operators; but, fortunately, no fatalities so far.

If some piece of equipment does contact these 7200 volt overhead lines, it's important that you or the operator not try to simply back away. The line could break, or if it's already broken, it could tangle in the equipment and break again, compounding the problem and increasing the danger.

Jump clear of the machine, being sure not to touch the ground and the machine at the same time. Move quickly away at a right angle to the power line. Then call Bailey County Electric Cooperative at (Area Code 806) 272-4504 whether the line is broken or not.

Senior Citizens Fair Termed Big Success

The Texico-Farwell Senior Citizens proclaimed their first Christmas Fair a success. The Fair was held at the old gym at Texico Schools Friday and Saturday.

Over a dozen exhibitors set up booths to show their crafts and wares to at least 300 visitors that registered as they entered the fair.

One of the most popular attractions at the fair was the quilt show. A panel of five judges had a difficult time selecting the winning quilts from a field of 30 entries.

Judging the quilts were Laura Jacobs, Susan Johnson, Eva Dean Stephens, Kendale Burch, and Martha Wheeler. The "Best of Show" quilt was entered by Maurine Caywood and was the Dahlia pattern. This 60-year-old quilt also won the "Best Design" award.

Winning second place in "The Best Design" category was the Double Wedding Ring quilt entered by Frances Kube, with the third place won by Ann Cooper with her original design called Diamonds.

Receiving first place in the "Most Unique" category was the "Memory" quilt made by the children and grandchildren of Dr. and Mrs. V. Scott Johnson. Second place was awarded to Velma Magness with her quilt that pictured seven generations of her family reproduced by a Kodolith process. A Bi-Centennial quilt entered by Mrs. Webb Guber won third place and was also awarded the prize of being the "Peoples Choice."

The first prize in the oldest category was won by Leon Luce with a quilt that was made around 1882 and was in the Triangle pattern. A Double Wedding Ring quilt made in the early 1920's was entered by Frances Kube and won second place. Eunice Crume won third place with her Friendship quilt that was made in 1932.

The "Best of Show," "Peoples Choice," and the first place winners in each category received ribbons along with a cash award while the other winners received ribbons.

The booth fees and monies received from the baked goods and concessions will be used by the Senior Citizens group for items needed in the kitchen and to fulfill their needs during the year.

There is already some talk of plans being made for next year's fair. A good time was enjoyed by those in attendance as well as those who organized, exhibited, and worked at the fair.

by a panel of five judges at the Texico-Farwell Senior Citizens Christmas Fair held in the old Texico gym this past weekend. The sponsoring organization reports that the Fair was a big success and that over 300 persons visited the arts and crafts booths during the two days.

The Creative Woman

BY SHERYL BORDEN

Topics to be presented on "The Creative Woman" on November 23 and 27 include grocery store psychology and types and forms of rice. The show is seen at 12:30 p.m. MST on Tuesdays and at 2 p.m. on Saturdays on KENW-TV.

Rice is delicious, easy to prepare and it's economical. But the versatility of rice is perhaps its greatest asset. Kris O'Brien is a home economist and spokeswoman for the Rice Council for Market Development and she travels throughout the United States communicating the story of U.S. grown rice. She will be a guest on "The Creative Woman" and will talk about the different types and forms of rice, and will discuss the nutritional value and cooking characteristics of rice.

As consumers we should be aware of the many forms of psychology at work in the grocery store. For instance, special displays in the aisles are placed so that we have to see them. Guest Ray Owensby will talk about grocery store psychology, including displays, music, quantity shopping, and other points. Owensby is owner of the Food Mart in Las Cruces.

On Thanksgiving Day, November 25, viewers will learn about breads and flours, the relationship between diet and heart disease, and learn to make soap jelly.

Joy Best, Extension home economist in Portales, will show us how to make use of all those small slivers of soap, and also explain how to use the soap jelly. Mrs. Best will also prepare a homemade porcelain and ceramic tile cleaner.

Heart disease is the number one cause of death among men and women in the United States. Karren Moreland is a registered dietician and consulting nutritionist from Roswell. She will talk to us about the relationship between diet and heart disease.

Another guest will be Beverly Harder, home economist with Arrowhead Mills in Hereford, and she's going to talk about breads and flours. Viewers may be very surprised to know that bread is a real "plus" for dieters, and Mrs. Harder will explain why.

"The Creative Woman" is produced and hosted by Sheryl Borden for KENW-TV. On Thursdays the show is seen at 12:30 p.m. on Channel 3.

Prevent Blindness Issues Safety Manual For Teachers

The Texas Society to Prevent Blindness has a gift for teachers. Although not the bright red apple of tradition, this gift will help both teachers and students have a bright future says the Society. The gift is a 16-page eye safety manual entitled "Don't Lose Sight of Protective Eye Care."

The manual, according to Raymon L. Bynum, Texas Commissioner of Education, "was developed with one objective - total elimination of accidental eye injuries to students engaged in educational activities in Texas schools."

"Texas Education Agency reports indicate that eye injuries are occurring in Texas schools despite a 1969 state law that requires eye protection for these activities," says Jack B. O'Neill, safety chairman of Prevent Blindness.

"The manual addresses itself to the problems indicated in the reports. Some injuries have happened because no protection at all was being worn. Others occurred because a teacher mistakenly thought that the student's street eye wear provided adequate protection. But it certainly does not, nor do contact lenses or phototropic lenses. The manual details the differences between street wear which does not meet the safety requirements of the American National Standards Institute and industrial eye protection which does."

O'Neill went on to say that many school eye injuries have also occurred even when protection was being worn thereby indicating that the wrong kind had been selected for the task at hand. To prevent this from happening in the future, the manual includes charts that explain the eye hazards involved in various activities plus illustration of the recommended type of eye protection. Another section of the booklet lists resource materials that are available for classroom safety programs.

"The Society hopes that the manual will encourage teachers to put eye safety high on the priority list of life skills that they teach their students," said O'Neill. "Ninety percent of all eye injuries can be prevented and the optimum time to create an awareness of the need for protective equipment is during the educational years."

"The information in the manual has been compiled by the Prevent Blindness Eye Safety Committee and approved by TEA; it will help vocational and science teachers as well as those in arts and crafts and in homemaking studies provide correct eye protection for their students."

Schools or teachers wishing to receive copies should write Prevent Blindness, P.O. Box 2020, Houston 77252. The manual is free, but the Society will appreciate receiving fifty cents to cover mailing costs.

The Texas Society to Prevent Blindness is an affiliate of the National Society to Prevent Blindness.

You probably have Thanksgiving dinner all worked out, but have you figured out what to do with the leftovers?

The first step to using your leftovers is storage to prevent food-borne illness. Refrigerate cream, custard and meringue pies. Low temperatures keep "staph" bacteria from growing and forming toxins which can make you sick.

Cook poultry completely to an internal temperature of 185 degrees F. Never partially cook it with the idea of finishing it later. Bacteria can survive in partially-cooked poultry.

Be sure to refrigerate dressing promptly. Freeze it if you don't want to eat it again for a few days.

You will want to try this recipe with your left-over turkey. It's so good you might cook a chicken just for making it.

$24,000 Scholarship Program Announced By Pioneer

Beginning in the fall of 1983, the Southwestern Division of Pioneer Hi-Bred International, Inc., will initiate a new scholarship program to benefit farm youth in Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico. Through the scholarship program, Pioneer will award six four-year scholarships annually to FFA and 4-H members in three states.

High school seniors who receive the $4,000 scholarships will be awarded $1,000 each year for the four years they attend college. By the fall of 1986, when the scholarship program is fully implemented, the Southwestern Division of Pioneer will be awarding $24,000 annually toward college educations for outstanding FFA and 4-H members.

The announcement of the new scholarship program was made by Jim Lindsey, president of the Southwestern Division of Pioneer.

"We hope the announcement of these scholarships emphasizes how strongly Pioneer believes in the job being done by the FFA and 4-H organizations of Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico," Lindsey said. "We regard the FFA and 4-H as two of the finest youth organizations in the world."

"When Pioneer was established 56 years ago, one of the founding principles was to provide a better life for farmers and their families. Through the years, better hybrids and varieties, combined with sound improvements in crop management, have kept this principle intact."

"Today, these scholarships allow us to go one step further. Not only will they help relieve some of the financial burden from farm families who have a son or daughter attending college, they will also help insure a better life for future farm generations," Lindsey concluded.

Each year, one FFA and one 4-H member in Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico will be awarded a scholarship from Pioneer. To qualify for the Pioneer scholarship, the applicant must be a graduating senior in the upper 25 percent of his or her class. They must also be planning to pursue a degree in agriculture, home economics, or a related field at an accredited college or university in the state where the scholarship is awarded.

Selection of the scholarship winners will be made by the respective FFA or 4-H scholarship committees in each state. The criteria they will use to select the scholarship recipient will include accomplishments while in FFA or 4-H, scholastic ability, financial need, leadership ability, and citizenship. The winners of the scholarships will be awarded $1,000 annually for four years provided they remain enrolled in an approved college and maintain a 2.0 or higher grade point average on a 4.0 grade scale. Students may apply for the scholarship through their local FFA chapter or 4-H club.

A&M biochemist says iron deficiency is worldwide problem

COLLEGE STATION — Nearly 20 percent of women in their child-bearing years exhibit some degree of iron deficiency ranging from iron depletion to anemia, warns a Texas A&M University biochemist.

Iron deficiency ranks as the most serious nutritional disease in both humans and plants today, said Dr. George Bates, and is second only to protein/calorie malnutrition in the worldwide severity of its effects.

New Deal Lions Roar Past Steers In Bi-District Win

by Mark Cole

The Farwell Steers, District 5-AA Champs, faced the runners-up of District 6-AA, the New Deal Lions, in Hereford on a cold Thursday night in a bi-district championship game. The Lions started early and the Steers never recovered, and New Deal rode home with a gold bi-district football and a 26-0 win.

The Lions opened up and gained an early lead on their first possession. New Deal tailback Henry Ramirez sprinted 40 yards, and three plays later Robert Jackson received a pass and ran 15 yards for the first touchdown and a 6-0 lead. The PAT kick was no good.

The Steer offense, unable to move the ball were forced to punt. The Lions began another good drive, but were finally stopped by Jimmy Bernal who intercepted a pass in the end zone. The first quarter of play ended with the Steers behind 6-0.

Later in the second quarter New Deal started another drive moving successfully with short runs and passes. The Lions drove down inside the 10 and then threw their second TD pass of the night, this one to Steve Johnson for the six points. The Steer defense held the Lions on the PAT run, and the score at half was New Deal 12-Farwell 0.

In the third quarter the Steer-offense started to pick up but were stopped by costly turnovers. The Farwell defense held New Deal motionless during the third stanza, and Farwell went into the fourth determined to make up the 12-0 deficit.

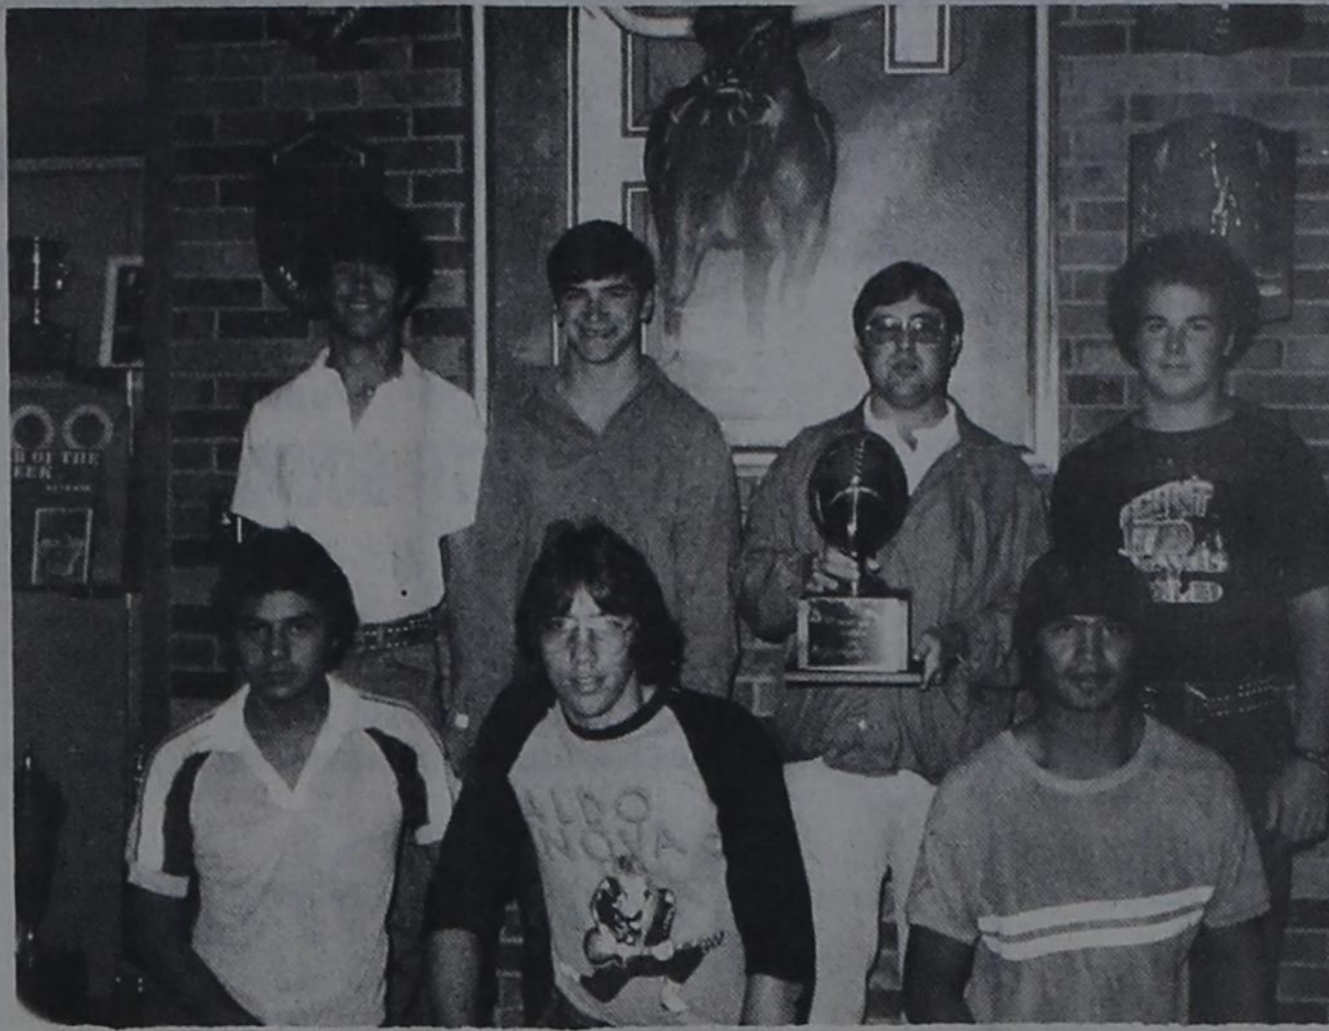

But New Deal's first possession of the fourth quarter was good for another touchdown to set the Steers farther back.

This time New Deal running-back Jackson carried it one yard for the 18th point of the night for the Lions.

The Steers once more had a costly fumble, this one on the first play of their next possession which gave New Deal the field position to score their fourth touchdown.

The Lions again scored on a pass play, their third passing TD of the game. Mark Harrington was the recipient of brother Craig's 3rd TD toss. The Lions also threw a pass on the PAT for two points and a final count of 26 points.

The Steer offense showed some life in the fourth quarter, including a 30-yard run by Paul Fulcher and a 15-yard pass completion from Alan Eubank to Manuel Cantu, but that was not quite enough to get past the tough New Deal defense. The final score was 26-0.

District Trophy

Boosters Honor Footballers, Introduce Basketball Teams

The Farwell Booster Club held its final 1982 football season meeting in the Farwell school cafeteria Tuesday evening with approximately 100 fans, students, and faculty members in attendance.

The Booster mothers provided cake, coffee and iced tea for the refreshments. Head coach Dollar showed the Bi-District game films to an appreciative audience.

Following the game film, basketball coaches Vester Joiner and Mike Martin introduced the varsity Steers and Steerettes and commented on the players for the clubs. They also introduced the junior varsity players for the upcoming roundball season.

The school coaching staff had donated the football used in the final district game to the Booster Club. Robin Gregory, local artist, painted a Steer head on it, and all the varsity players autographed the ball.

The Club auctioned the ball off as a fund raiser and with Don Gerles chanting the numbers a spirited bidding was concluded when Adolph Haseloff offered $300 for the trophy.

The Booster Club plans a number of activities for the months ahead during the basketball season.

It Bounced My Way

Adolph Haseloff, left, flashes the winner's grin as he accepts the district game ball auctioned off at the Farwell Booster Club meeting Tuesday evening. The ball used in the final district football game between the Steers and Springlake-Earth was donated to the Steer Booster Club by the coaching staff. The Club auctioned it off as a fund raiser for the Club and Haseloff outdistanced other bidders with his $300 offer for the prized pigskin. Auctioneer Don Gerles made the presentation at the conclusion of the meeting.

Varsity Steer Roundballers Make Plans For Big Season

"The Farwell Steer basketballers will be real contenders in district," said their coach, Mike Martin, when queried about the upcoming season.

The team roster sports four returning starters with one part-time starter assisting the team along with four players moving up from the junior varsity.

Although the Steers will probably be the smallest in size in the district, they hopefully will make up for their size in their quickness, and with their excellent jumpers.

The coach went on to say that the Steer roundballers will stress their running game whenever possible, promising an exciting team for the spectators to watch. There are several good teams in the hat for district contention but the Steers will play an aggressive game and play well, Martin said. He added that if the team members are able to stay healthy they will have a good chance for the top slot in district.

Back from last year's starting team are Jay Anderson, Alan Eubank, Manuel Cantu, and Roger Robertson, with Raymond Sierra a returning part-time starter. Moving up from the Junior Varsity are Todd Christian, Jimmy Bernal, Johnny Daniel, and Paul Fulcher.

Commenting briefly about each player, Coach Martin had the following to say: "Jay Anderson is a 6'2" senior that plays the post position. He started last year and had an average of 10 points per game with 10 rebounds. He's the only senior on the team. Exceptional quickness, outstanding offensive rebounding, and is a team leader.

"Alan Eubank is a junior guard at 6'1" and has been a starter since being a freshman. Selected unanimously all-district team last year. Good shooter, good rebounder, and plays a good defensive game. Strong enough player to play both inside and outside. He is a clutch player. Averaged 15 points per game and 8 rebounds during the district games last year.

"Manuel Cantu is a 5'9" junior guard that excels as a jumper. He is a good shooter, plays good defensive ball. Manuel has more court awareness than anyone else on the team. Playmaker last year that averaged 7 points per game and 4 rebounds.

"Raymond Sierra is a 6' junior playing post. Raymond was a part-time starter last year. He is probably the most naturally talented ball player on the team. He jumps well and shoots well. Very strong rebounder. Can play inside and outside and does a good defensive job. He averaged 6 rebounds during last year's district competition.

"Roger Robertson is the only sophomore on the team at 5'9". He plays a guard position averaging 12 points per game in district play. He is real fast and jumps extremely well. He is a real aggressive player. Works the ball down court with Manuel.

"Todd Christian is a 5'10" junior forward that is a good jumper and hustles all the time. Does a real good job in the rebounding department. Averaged 8 points per game on the junior varsity. "Jimmy Bernal is a junior guard at 5'9" that is a good shooter averaging 12 points per game on junior varsity. Real quick, jumps well, and does a good job on defense.

"Johnny Daniel is 5'5" junior guard that is a good streak shooter. Does an excellent job on defense. He has a knack for being at the right place at the right time on offensive rebounding. Will give the team a lot of help.

"Paul Fulcher is a junior 5'11" that plays post. Good leaper, excellent rebounder, and a real aggressive player. He is expected to be able to come in and help a lot on the boards."

In summing up the outlook as they begin the season, Coach Martin said, "We plan on being in the top slot for district and are looking forward for the Farwell fans to support the team with their presence at the games."

Fulcher Carries

Steer Paul Fulcher tries in vain to make needed yardage against the tough New Deal Lions defense in Friday night's bi-district battle with the Lions at Hereford. The Steers were shutout 26-0 to end their season with a 5-0 district mark and 6-4 overall record for the year. This action came in the first period of play, just two plays after Farwell's Jimmy Bernal had stopped a New Deal score by intercepting a pass in the end zone.

Steer Footballers Wrap-up

The District 5-AA Champion Farwell Steers suffered five devastating pre-district losses scoring only 50 points to the opponents 166 during this time, but evidently this created determination for the "stomping" Steers to win district.

The district figures show a reverse coin in the total point category as the Steers racked up 215 points to only 58 points scored by the opposing district teams.

Coach Bruce Dollar said, "The Steers had a great season. This same bunch of kids suffered some bad losses last year but they stayed with the program and set some goals for themselves that they accomplished. The season is a tribute to their character to do the things they demonstrated they were capable of in one year's time."

Dollar said that they will have to replace 9 defensive players and 8 offensive players as 6 team members will be lost to graduation.

For the season Farwell rushed 3126 yards and passed a total of 652 yards. Individual statistics show that Santiago Lucio was the Blue and White's leading rusher with 1077 yards making an average of 9.8

yards per carry. Alan Eubank had 800; Paul Fulcher, 724; Robby Armstrong, 409; and Raymond Sierra, 116.

Roger Robertson was the Blue and White's leading receiver catching the pigskin 20 times for 284 yards. Jimmy Bernal caught 9 passes for 129; Manuel Cantu, 7 for 104; Santiago Lucio, 5 for 100; and Todd Christian, 1 for 35 yards.

Alan Eubank warmed up his arm to toss for 652 yards averaging 15.5 yards a throw with a 58% average on completions.

The Steers averaged 26.5 points per game compared with 22.4 points per game for the opposition.

Correction

The name of Ben Mesman was inadvertently omitted from the list of Farwell fans on the Booster page for the Steers in last week's Tribune. The Tribune regrets the error.

SPS Opens Power Plant To Visitors

Employees of Southwestern Public Service Company will show off their second coal-fired power plant, Tolk Station Unit No. 1, near Muleshoe, Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 20 and 21, and everyone in the SPS service area is invited to the open house, said James Martin, district manager in Clovis.

The new coal-fired unit will be of significant help in Southwestern Public Service Company's effort to hold down the rising costs for the fuels required to generate electricity, Martin said.

When it is generating at capacity, the 561,000-kilowatt Tolk Unit No. 1 — the largest unit ever built by SPS — will be able to supply the electricity needs of 225,000 people.

Tours of the plant will begin at 10 a.m. and continue until 4 p.m. on Saturday. Tours will continue from 1 p.m. until 4 p.m. on Sunday, Martin said. Casual dress is suggested. Women should wear slacks and low heels.

Tolk Station is located just south of U.S. Highway 70, about 10 miles east of Muleshoe (eight miles west of Earth).

The power plant is easy to find, Martin said. The building which houses the boiler is 237 feet tall — about the height of a 20-story office building. The chimney stack, from which cleaned flue gases from the boiler exit, towers 400 feet above the sand hills which surround the power plant.

The great size of the plant is required to house equipment large enough to supply the region's ever-growing demand for electricity, Berl Springer, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Southwestern Public Service, said.

"We're immensely proud of Tolk Station, which was designed by our own engineers," Springer said. "We know it will help us serve our customers in the Farwell-Texico-Clovis area, and all of our customers, more economically. And the availability of more electrical power will help attract new industries to our entire 45,000-square-mile, four-state service area."

SPS serves more than one million people in the south plains and Panhandle of Texas, eastern and southeastern New Mexico, the Oklahoma Panhandle, and southwestern Kansas.

Springer said SPS is one of only four major electric utility companies in the United States that employs its own in-house plant design engineers. SPS engineers led by Bill Esler, vice president, engineering, and Jim Matthews, generation design and construction group manager, also oversee construction of the power plants they design, Springer said.

Touring the plant "will be quite an educational experience," Martin said. Visitors will see Tolk's coal-handling facilities, the coal pulverizers, the boiler, the turbine-generator, miles of steam piping, the plant maintenance shop, and the plant's state-of-the-art computerized control room.

Unit No. 1's boiler burns low-sulfur coal delivered from near Gillette, Wyoming, by 110-car trains. At maximum rating the boiler burns approximately 296 tons of coal per hour. That's 7,104 tons of coal each day. The turbine at maximum output produces about 728,000 horsepower.

The main steam piping at the unit contains high pressure steam with flow rates as high as 3,800,000 pounds of steam per hour.

"Tolk Station to me is a marvel," said Pete Smith, an SPS engineer who helped manage the job of designing and building the plant. "Literally thousands of people were involved in putting it together and making it work."

Smith said SPS engineers, drafters, blueprint production people, secretarial help, and production department personnel, as well as employees of equipment and parts manufacturers and suppliers from across the United States, contributed to completing the plant.

"Take all those people," he said, "and then the workmen — the craftsmen who actually built that equipment — like the condensers, with the thousands of feet of tubes; the boiler fabrication, and all those parts; the turbine — a lot of machine work. I guess you're talking about hundreds of thousands of people whose hands touched some part of the plant at one time or another."

Only 150 people are required to operate the Tolk Unit 24 hours a day, Ballegee said.

Cost of the Unit was $228.2 million, excluding Allowance for Funds Used During Construction of $48.3 million. Cost per installed kilowatt of capacity was $489.

"The unit came on-line on schedule and within budget," Ballegee said. "We at SPS are especially proud that Tolk, like our other coal-fired plant, Harrington Station near Amarillo, was completed for less than one-half the national average cost for coal-fired plants. Obviously, when we can perform like that, we're saving our customers a lot of money."

A second, identical unit at the Muleshoe site, Tolk Station Unit No. 2, is now under construction. It is scheduled to be in service in 1985. The second unit will share some of Unit No. 1's largest equipment, including the on-site coal-handling system, the water treatment facility, and the offices and control room.

Economy is the major benefit Tolk Station will afford SPS customers, Martin said, explaining, "The more we can use coal to fuel our power plants, the more money we can save our customers."

"Some people don't realize it," Ballegee said, "but electricity is a manufactured product that is made from some other energy source. Essentially, we start with one type of energy, for instance, the energy locked in coal or natural gas, and we use that power to heat water into steam. The steam, under pressure, is used as another kind of energy, mechanical energy, to turn a turbine generator. The generator creates a third energy form, electrical power."

"So, electricity is something that is made, or manufactured, from another energy source. And the cheaper that other energy form, the better for our electricity customer."

Historically, Southwestern Public Service used natural gas to fire the boilers which heat water into steam, Ballegee said. "But we saw in the early 1970s that the cost of natural gas would shoot up, and continue to get higher, so we began building coal-fired plants, because coal is cheaper to use."

SPS' average fuel cost in 1982 to make one kilowatt-hour of electricity generated by natural gas, Ballegee said, was 3.178 cents. The fuel cost of a kilowatt-hour generated by coal, he said, "by contrast, was only 1.803 cents."

"So, one of the main ways we're helping our customers — or, as we express it in our Company's theme, our partners — manage electricity," he concluded, "is by maximizing use of our coal-fired plants."

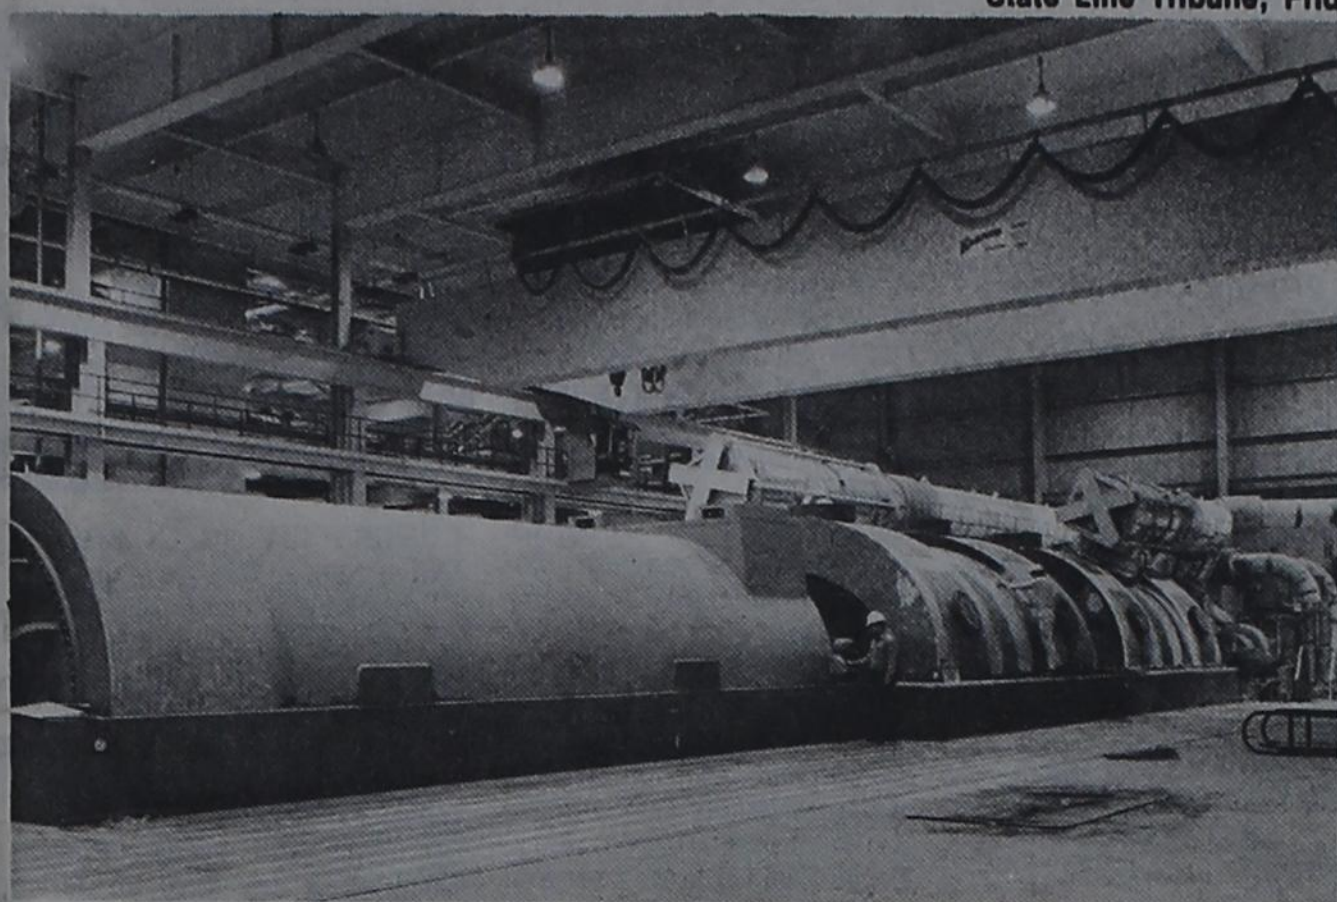

The Company's theme is "You and SPS, partners managing electricity, make the difference."

Tolk Unit No. 1 in 1983 will raise SPS' generation by coal to 53.6 percent, Ballegee said.

The environmental control system at the Tolk Unit No. 1 is another money saver, he said. The fabric filter system, called a baghouse, sifts "fly ash" from the boiler flue gases on their way to the 400-foot-high stack. SPS sells the captured fly ash for use in oil well mud, concrete, road and parking lot fill, and as a soil conditioner.

The money made from the sale of the fly ash by-product is charged against the price SPS pays for coal. "That brings down the cost our customers pay for fuel," Ballegee said.

The coal-unloading system SPS uses at Tolk also saves customers' money, he said. Instead of bringing coal from Wyoming in heavy bottom-dump railroad cars, and emptying the coal from trestles into a stockpile, SPS has its Tolk coal shipped in lighter-weight "rotary dump" cars. The lighter-weight cars are rolled over on their sides in a "rotary dump house" at Tolk, and the coal is poured onto the stockpile. "That helps us keep down our customers' fuel costs," Ballegee said, "because use of the lighter-weight cars means SPS is hauling in more coal per freight dollar."

Generating Electricity

Steam drives this enormous turbine-generator at Southwestern Public Service Company's coal-fired Tolk Station Unit No. 1. The generator stator alone (the unmoving part of the generator) weighs 636,000 lbs. The generator can produce 561,000 kilowatts — enough electricity for 225,000 people. Above the still unpainted turbine is a movable hoist which can raise and lift out all the parts of the turbine generator for periodic maintenance. [SPS Photo].

No Injuries In Rollover East Of Farwell

No injuries occurred in a one-vehicle rollover about one mile east of the Farwell city limits, according to investigating Texas Highway Patrol Officer Steve Talkington.

Roberto Felan of San Antonio was headed east on Highway 70-84 driving a Ford pickup which was pulling a Jeep. He apparently lost control, according to Officer Talkington, and the pickup rolled over, but the Jeep remained upright.

The camper shell on the back of the pickup was demolished, but after the pickup was righted, it was able to be driven away.

No one was seriously injured in another accident in Farwell, this one occurring Tuesday evening, Nov. 16, at 7:20 p.m. at the intersection of Hwy 84 and FM 292.

According to investigating officer Talkington, Bernard Mesman, 17, of Farwell was driving north on FM 292 in a 1981 Chevrolet pickup and apparently pulled in front of an east bound 1982 truck-tractor semi rig being driven by Melton Saiz of Ft. Sumner.

Mesman received a citation for failure to yield right-of-way at a stop intersection, according to Talkington.

his chin, but was not taken to a hospital. Saiz was uninjured and his truck was not damaged; however, the pickup driven by Mesman was extensively damaged.

Mesman received a citation for failure to yield right-of-way at a stop intersection, according to Talkington.

How better energy decisions make the difference

You and Southwestern Public Service Company are partners, making energy decisions that make the difference.

How you manage electricity in your home helps us make our decisions about generating power to meet the electrical requirements of the Southwest. For when you install a High-Efficiency Add-On Heat Pump, you can manage the electricity used for your home's heating and cooling — which helps SPS determine how much power you, and the Southwest, will need.

So that economical power will always be available, SPS is developing better ways to generate electricity. One way is with coal.

Construction is now completed on the first unit of our second coal-fired power plant, Tolk Station, which is now on-line and generating electricity. Harrington Station, SPS's first coal-fired power plant, has been operating since the early 1970's.

As partners we have made energy decisions which have built Tolk Station. We're proud of the new power plant as you will be too. You're invited to the Open House of Tolk Station between Muleshoe and Earth, Texas. Just follow the map and join us Saturday 10 to 4 p.m., November 20, or Sunday 1 to 4 p.m., November 21. Come as you are, dress casually. There will be refreshments and guided tours for the whole family.

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE

BY CORNELIUS R. STAM, PRES. BEREAN BIBLE SOCIETY CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60633

"NOT ASHAMED"

The Apostle Paul uses three wonderful phrases in Romans 1: "I am debtor" (Ver. 14), "I am ready" (Ver. 15), and "I am not ashamed" (Ver. 16).

As God's appointed Apostle to the Gentiles, Paul declared: "I AM DEBTOR both to the Greeks and to the barbarians; both to the wise, and to the unwise."

The gospel now was no longer to be confined to Israel, but was to go to all nations, and Paul felt himself a debtor to proclaim it, first because God had appointed him to do so, and second, because he held in his hands that which would save the lost. He was morally obligated—and so are Christians today.

Notice: the Apostle did not say: "I am debtor, but" and then begin to give a thousand excuses—as so many Christians do. He said: "I am debtor... SO..." and his fidelity to his call is seen as he adds: "So, as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel" (Ver. 15).

Oh, that the millions of Christians today would join Paul and say: "I AM READY to preach the gospel with all that is in me."

But in Verse 16, the Apostle explains why he was ready to put his all into proclaiming the gospel to the Gentiles:

"For I AM NOT ASHAMED of the gospel of Christ, for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; unto the Jew first and also to the Greek [Gentile or Nations]."

Many thousands of Jews had already come to trust Christ as Savior, but the good news of Christ's finished work of redemption was—and is—"the power of God unto salvation to EVERY ONE that believeth."

Surely there is no other way. None of the pagan religions can give the assurance of salvation. They all represent efforts to find or earn salvation. Only the gospel, the good news of our Lord's payment for sin can give us the knowledge, the assurance and the joy of salvation from sin.

Thoughts and Reflections on Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving is a grand and glorious time. A time when families come together and enjoy themselves. I am glad in America we have such a day to pause and offer thanks to God for our blessings. Thanksgiving for me is more than just turkey, dressings, cranberry sauce, pumpkin, mince, and pecan pie. It is more than a day when I stretch out in my favorite chair and watch the parades and football games on TV. Like many of you I enjoy doing this sort of thing. When I think of "thanksgiving" I consider many things. Besides my religious beliefs I think of other places, people, and times. I know that where I am in America today has been made possible through the sacrifice of many people. Some living and some dead. As I remember those who have helped bring me to where I am I feel humble and deeply grateful.

Thanksgiving reminds me of God's wonderful love and care. A care beyond description. Think if you will for a moment of a lily. The lily is a symbol and flower of Easter. Christians are Easter people. Consider dear reader that if God can so develop a lily just think of our potential. We are according to the Scriptures made in God's image. We are made in the likeness of God. Do you believe that? Believe. I do and because I do I am grateful. I am called to respond with thanksgiving when I consider the Psalmist asking "What is man that thou art mindful of him, and the son of man that thou dost care for him?" Then comes the glorious answer of the Psalmist in celebration and affirmation, "Thou hast made him (us) a little lower than angels (the Revised Standard Version says 'little less than God') and hast crowned him with glory and honor." Our spirits should take flight when we think on this. John in his Gospel tells us, "God so loved the world of which we are a part) that He gave His only Son, that whoever believes in Him should not perish but have eternal life." That is a call to thanksgiving. What greater blessing could we want or need for God's sake? Thanksgiving ... one day? No ... every-day should be a thank offering. Each day we have a fresh opportunity to resolve that today will not be like yesterday. We have a chance to start fresh. The wonderful news of the Gospel is we are free to live today. This Thanksgiving may we all offer to God our thanks for the innumerable blessings that he has so graciously given to us.

Happy Thanksgiving!
Grace and Peace, Joel
