City Mail Service To Be Reduced To One Delivery

W. D. T. Storey, Littlefield Postmaster, Wednesday made the following announcement relative to a new schedule of mail delivery, which is being prepared for delivery of City route mail:

The Patrons of the City Route Service will receive only one mail delivery service per day, which will be placed in effect immediately after receiving orders from the Postmaster General. It is also probable that the Post Office window will close Saturday at noon. The problem of whether to have this delivery in the morning or in the afternoons, is faced by the local authorities. Should the morning delivery be made the first class mail would be delivered one day late. Should the afternoon delivery be made both papers and letters can be delivered, but the morning papers would be delivered in the afternoon. It is very definite that one or the other is going to happen.

Mail will arrive as usual and be distributed in the boxes. The regular personnel will not be affected other than a change in their schedule. The City Route Personnel will have their hours cut from eight hours per day to possibly five hours per day. Those affected in wages are the City Route Carriers and the Substitute Clerk. A saving of approximately ten hours daily will be made from a combination of City Carriers and Substitute Clerk hire.

Every effort will be made to have good service under the change of schedule. It is regrettable that this is necessary but unavoidable under the order.

Local Junior Class To Present Three-Act Play

"Out Of Here", a riotous comedy, will be presented by the Junior class of Littlefield High School on Friday and Saturday nights, April 21, and 22, at the High Auditorium.

Aiding Boys To Be Better Farmers

Recently the columns of this Newspaper have been full of news and pictures about 4-H and FFA boys who have been in contests, won honors, gone on trips and gained a great deal of attention by their knowledge of cattle and agriculture in general. These stories have not been quite complete because they failed to tell of the men and women behind these activities and the importance of what they are doing.

prominent Milking Shorthorn breeder, the members of the Shorthorn breeders associations, the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce, and all those who were connected with the recent Fat Stock Show. Thanks should be given to the sponsors of the many 4-H and FFA clubs who teach the value of both cooperative and individual achievement.

These events are more than just contests to see which boy can raise the best steer or show the most ability in judging an animal or crop. They represent the efforts of a group of people to aid boys to be not better farmers but better citizens. They are teaching the boys to take pride in achievement, to enjoy friendly competition without bitterness, and to find satisfaction in their work.

These people are to see that the boys grow up to be good farmers and good men. They don't brag; they quietly go about the important task of laying a solid foundation for future citizens.

The list of men and women who deserve praise and thanks is a long one. It includes the parents and friends of the boys who advise and encourage them in their efforts, the vocational agriculture teachers who train them and stimulate their interest and the many others who take an active part.

The boys have received honors, ribbons, trips and loving cups; but more important, they are gaining a knowledge of farming and pride in what they are doing. Long after the ribbons have faded and the trips are just memories the boys will still have something that won't tarnish or fade. Pride, humility and individual initiative will remain.

Special mention should be made at this time of the work of County Agent David Eaton, Assistant County Agent J. G. Simmons, V. M. Peterman,

And so we owe a debt of thanks to these people. Not only those of us in Lamb County owe thanks, but in Texas and in the nation as a whole. We are in their debt for making better producers and better citizens who will be a credit to the group that taught and encouraged them and to the form of government that makes it possible.

Ruffy, The Rhinoceros

By FAITH HELEN FAUST

Ruffy was a small rhinoceros that lived by a lake in the jungle. His mother's name was Muffy and his father's name was Tuffy. Muffy and Tuffy and the rest of the rhinoceroses liked to wallow in muddy water. They liked rain, too! Ruffy was different. He wanted to climb trees like monkeys did. Everyone laughed at the idea. Ruffy ran to a tree and jumped onto a big, low branch. Crack! Ruffy fell to the ground. The branch landed on top of him. When he finally crawled out all the animals laughed. A small branch was on his head. It looked very funny. Muffy tried to teach Ruffy to like water. Ruffy was still afraid.

SCHOOL DAYS

By DW

ANOTHER AIRCRAFT FAILURE

Then one afternoon it was going to rain. Before it began Ruffy saw some antelopes running away from a stream. Ruffy thought he would like to run like that. He started to run after them. Suddenly he stumbled and fell. He landed on his back. His horn was stuck in the ground and he couldn't get up. Then it began to rain. Ruffy was frightened. The rain landed on his stomach. It felt good. Ruffy stopped squirming and wriggling. When it stopped raining the ground was muddy. Ruffy pulled his horn out of the ground. When he rolled over the mud felt good. Ruffy isn't afraid of water anymore. There is nothing to be afraid of anyway. He is the first one in the lake in the morning and the last one out at night.

Bull Lake Philosopher Figures Out Weird Plan For Paying Off Debts With One Tenth The Effort

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Bull Lake must be worried about something, judging by the impossibility of his letter this week.

Dear Editor: Every once in a while I read about some convict who has been turned loose after completing a 20-year sentence by serving say five years and two days for good behavior, and then being picked up again a month later for a brand new crime and tried and given a couple of more sentences to run concurrently. That is, as I understand it, say he gets 15 years for holding up a bank and 10 for shootin' the president in the leg for being slow about opening the door as he left, the judge tells him the sentences are to run concurrently, which means he can serve both of 'em at the same time.

Now while I ain't never been able to figure out how a man can serve two sentences at the same time with a straight face, believe I would handle 15 or 20 that way as easy as one, the practice of doin' it seems to be a common occurrence, with a good many judges dignified by lasun' them kinds of terms, and I been thinkin'.

The criminals and the lawyers may have something, and I been wonderin' why we can't adopt something like that for the use of us law-abidin' citizens. In a democracy, what's good enough for a convict ought to be good enough for everybody else. What I would like to see is a system of paying your debts concurrently.

Say I'm a little behind at the grocery store, the meat market, the drug store, the lumberyard, the bank, and a few other places I can't think of right now. Why can't some Washington expert invent a method whereby I could pay off them debts concurrently? Just pay your money into a pool and every-time you pay a dollar to the lumberyard the meat market has to credit your with a dollar too. By gettin' a whole slew of Washington experts after this problem, there ain't no reason why they couldn't figure out a way to pay any number of debts, not just two, at the same time with the same money.

Personally, I believe there would be a lot more debts paid under this system, and if it would work in private business it ought to work on the national debt too and we could even rope in the European nations on it also and the whole world would get out of debt fifteen or twenty times faster than it ever will.

Why there ain't no limit to the amount of good feelin' would be treated if folks could pay all their taxes only every ten or fifteen years concurrently.

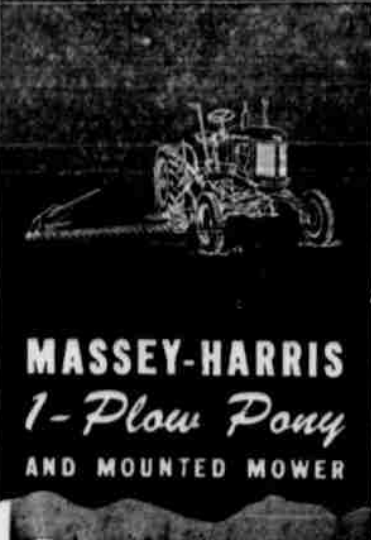

If you think this system has any merit, let's try it out. I would like to pay my subscription to the Lamb County Leader and the Daily Life, Time, and two or three others, all concurrently. Please see that they all get here next week.

Yours Faithfully,
J. A.

It even PROTECTS YOUR POCKETBOOK

RAP your fist against these stout bars—feel the gauge of the bumper stock they're made of—and you know you've got stout protection here.

But then figure: Here are nine bumper guards (not counting the two that hold the parking lights) so that's one extra item you needn't buy.

And each is individually replaceable—if damage should occur you have only a simple part or two to replace, instead of a complete, cast-metal grille.

Thus this stunning new design—freshest front-end style note on the highways—protects your pocketbook as well as your car.

Avoids costly repair bills as it avoids "locking horns" with the car ahead. Cuts upkeep as it cuts inches from the car's total length, thus making parking and garaging easier.

What you really have here is a four-way forefront. A design that sets the coming style note—avoids many a tangle with the car ahead—makes handling easier—and costs less to repair.

And note that parking-light lenses, made of plastic and set deep in recessed sockets, are well out of harm's way—even when pushing a stalled car.

You'll find this bold front end only on Buick—as you'll find Fireball power, Dynaflow Drive,* Buick's wonderful ride, and many another headline value only on these beauties.

Why not see your dealer now for the whole story—including the happy story on prices to fit practically any budget?

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

INVITATION—AND A CHALLENGE

"You never can tell till you try"—we want you to try the 1950 Buick. And we especially want you to compare it with others. Drive any other car—drive Buick and see what your car should buy in ride, room, handling and power.

Only Buick has Dynaflex and with it goes:

- HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New 130 engine in SUPER models.)
- NEW-PATENTED STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD fenders, taper-through fenders, "double hood" taillights • WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back
- TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less wheel length for easier parking and popping short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SALES cradled between the axles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springing, Safety-Rims, low-pressure tires, ride-absorbing torque-tube • WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with Body by Fisher.

NATIONAL PHARMACY WEEK

Yes, to borrow a phrase that's as American as apple pie—"Let's look at the record" of Pharmacy through the ages. For 40 centuries—from the earliest prescriptions carved in stone in ancient Egypt—to our own time... Pharmacy's record is one of service to mankind; of progress in the struggle against disease. And the observance of National Pharmacy Week reflects our pride in our calling—serves to emphasize our determination to continue our work of making life healthier, happier and more comfortable for all.

Sow Thick and Thin Out To Prolong Garden Harvest

At First Thinning, Give Each Plant One Inch in the Row.

In the small home vegetable garden, where a maximum yield is desired, there must be no vacant spaces in the row. The only way to insure this is to sow plenty of seed, but not too much, and thin out the excess plants.

No matter how high the germination of the seed, accidents may occur which destroy seedlings, and there must be spares to replace these losses. But unless the stand is gradually thinned, the plants may be so crowded that both quality and yield will suffer.

With some crops, especially those of which the roots and leaves are eaten, this method of planting starts the harvest weeks earlier, and substantially increases the total yield, because half grown plants pulled up in the thinning process, provide delicious servings.

Carrots, for example, can be allowed to grow without thinning until the roots are as thick as a little finger. Roots pulled at this stage will be sweeter and more tender than the mature crop.

Beets may be thinned the first time just when the bulbs begin to form. Cooked with their young tops they will be a dish to remember. Half grown vegetables cannot be bought in markets, but they are among the most delightful dividends which the home vegetable garden pays to its owner.

To maintain his supply of spare plants until sure of a perfect stand, the amateur should thin out by degrees.

At first, plants of row crops may be thinned out to stand one inch apart; which will insure, to each row to develop without entangling roots with a neighbor. As they grow, alternate plants should be removed, and so on until the optimum spacing is achieved.

Turnips do not grow well if crowded. If the young plants are pulled up so they stand 4 inches apart in the row, in a remarkably quick time they will be large enough to use.

INFORMATION For VETERANS

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—While in the U. S. Army during World War I, my hearing began to fail me and now I find it difficult to hear anything. Will Veterans Administration furnish me with a hearing aid?

A—A hearing aid may be furnished if it can be shown that your loss of hearing is service-connected or service-aggravated.

Q—The Board of Appeals of Veterans Administration denied my claim for compensation. Can I go to court and sue VA?

A—No. Civil Court cannot assume jurisdiction on such claims. The law specifically provides that VA decisions shall be final and conclusive.

Q—I carried $10,000 War Risk Insurance during World War I, but allowed it to lapse. Am I entitled to a dividend like that given to holders of NSLI?

A—There is no dividend due you. War Risk Insurance never paid dividends, although U. S. Government Life permanent type policies have paid periodic dividends.

Q—I filed a claim for disability compensation with VA last Fall. I received an acknowledgement from VA, but have had no word on my claim since January

I do?

A—Your claim holder in regional office nearest you. The contact representative office will assist you in status of your claim.

This year Percy Carter, Hershel caught him but brought back a weighing 50 pounds caught on a drop line baited with a goldfish.

The men spent from Monday,
April 10 until Friday, April 14

Junior Legion Ball Activities Start ties will get underway at 5 p. m.

this evening at the city baseball of age before January 1 of this year and are interested in playing baseball have been urged to come out to the diamond, by Vernon Hofacket, chairman of the League baseball committee.

The size or shape of the boy

baseball under experienced coaches

The boys will have to bring their own gloves and spikes but the League will furnish the rest of the equipment and Hall Motors furnish the uniforms. The League post has just invested $100 in additional equipment.

The city recently did some work on the diamond at the request of the League and it is reported to be in excellent shape. For the next few weeks time will be devoted to schooling and coaching interested candidates in preparation for the season which will start about June 1.

Junior League teams from Olton, Earth, Muleshoe, Amherst and Littlefield will meet in county competition at that time hoping for a birth in the district competition. Twenty-two counties will take part in the district.

I REMEMBER...

By THE OLD-TIMERS

From Mr. Friendly of Frankfort, Ky.: "I remember when 'gas buggies' such as the old-timer shown above were considered pure swank, even though the owner had to ride backward to make room for a chauffeur and a trouble-shooter. Let's see if anyone remembers what it was called. I'd like to know. You can contact me in care of Box 340, Frankfort, Ky."

From J. F. Bauman of Rockport, Ind.: "I remember when I wanted a telephone put in my farm home seven miles west of Rockport. The company agreed to do so if I would haul poles. So I hauled 18 poles at 50 cents each and earned $9 plus credit for 18 months service. Today the company would pay $62.10 for the same length of service."

From Mrs. J. B. Brown of Berryville, Ark.: "I remember when we used to cook apple-butter out in the yard in a 15- or 20-gallon brass or copper kettle, and stir it with a long-handled wooden stirrer. You would have to sit or stand and stir 'most all day. Then, about 3 or 4 p.m., Mother would put it in gallon- or half-gallon stone jars and place a white cloth on top of the butter and put spices (ground) on top of the cloth and then paste or tie a strong paper or cloth over the top of the jar. And when she opened it in winter it was really delicious."

From Gertrude Richmond of Indio, Calif.: "I remember a time when you never heard of a girl getting married under the age of 20; you had your first sweetheart at 18."

"This spring — and golfers have taken to the greens. One of the new additions to the course this season is a "knee-action" canvas golf bag designed for the man who carries his own clubs. Attached to the canvas bag are legs that unfold, forming a tripod to hold up the clubs. When the golfer picks up the bag by the shoulder strap, the legs automatically retract. The "Tri-Far" canvas bag weighs less than most conventional bags."

Hammons Buys New Emergency Ambulance

A third ambulance, a smaller emergency ambulance equipped with special Beacon Ray revolving light, has been purchased by Hammons Funeral Home and delivered last week.

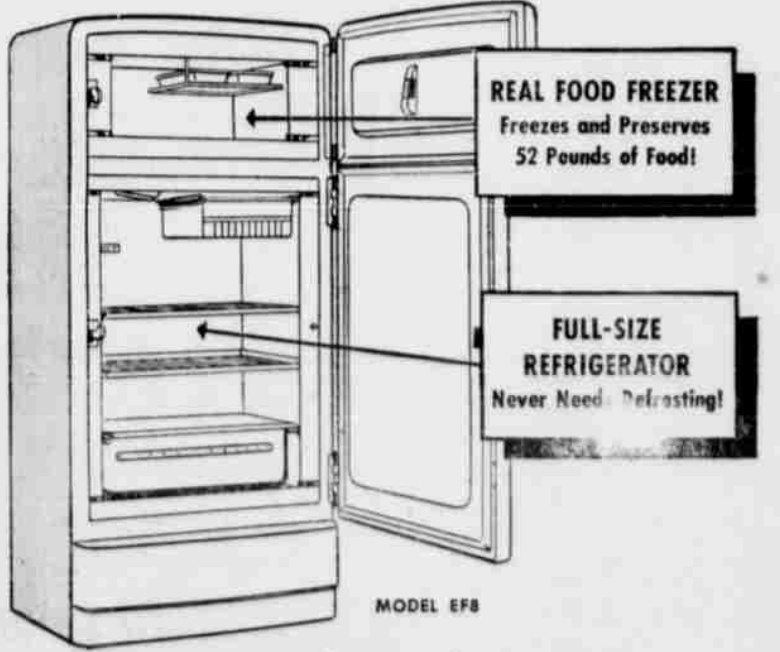

This new vehicle represents an investment of $3000.

According to Pryor Hammons, owner and operator of Hammons Funeral Home, a special feature of the new ambulance is that it is lighter than their other ambulances, and may be driven easier through traffic and across country. This vehicle will be used mostly for answering emergency calls, taking injured or sick to and from hospitals, etc.

land, Dimmitt, Brownfield, Slaton, Tabaka, O'Donnell and Lamesa. All were represented at the hearing.

Seek Loan

The delegation emphasized to the subcommittee that they are seeking an interest bearing loan and not a gift to finance the project which would aid in conservation of West Texas' disappearing water resources.

The bill if approved by the subcommittee will still face the task of getting approval by the whole committee, the Senate and finally the White House. Its chance of gaining final approval during the present session of Congress are slim according to most observers.

In stressing the need for the project Mayor Gene Klein of Amarillo told the subcommittee that cities and towns of this region are reaching into agricultural areas for well sites for domestic water supply.

He pointed out that every four to six wells meant another section of land taken out of irrigation permanently.

On Borrowed Time

Texas Senator Lyndon Johnson appeared before the subcommittee and referred to the region above the Caprock as living on borrowed time. He listed the resources and potentials of the region but said the riches could not offset the poverty of North-west Texas' water supply.

He stated that under the plan the nation would receive $1.70 in benefits for every dollar advanced by the government.

The necessity for such project to ease the drains upon the underground water reserves was also stressed by Rep. George Mahon of Lubbock congressional district and former Rep. Worley who has been active in the support of the Canadian Bill.

Senator Impressed

In charge of the hearing were Sens. Ernest McFarland of Arizona, Clinton P. Anderson of New Mexico and Guy Gordon of Oregon. They stated that they were impressed by the evidence and the fact that 30 busy men would travel over 2000 miles to support the project.

Senator V. Watkins, R. from Utah appeared to be the one hitch in the proceedings. Although he said he had not made up his mind on the subject he was not convinced that the committee could not finance the construction of pipelines from a reservoir at Sanford to their own cities. If he opposes the bill there is a good chance he might hold up or even kill the bill.

Water Conservation

In a roundtable forum, recorded Friday for later broadcast by Station KVOW, Parrish and several other county farmers expressed the opinion that a conservation program is the only thing that will forestall the state's taking over control of underground water.

One farmer, Gene Mitchell of Olton, who attended the Amarillo hearing of the Texas Water Code Committee at which the Underground Water Conservation Law was studied, said he was convinced that the state "will do something pretty drastic" if farmers don't organize a conservation district.

Les Yatson of Springlake, secretary-treasurer of the organization called for a membership drive. A strong county organization, he said, would be able to carry on an educational program on conservation, would be able to finance the program, and would probably carry the vote in a water district election.

"The membership fee is $5 per well—that's pretty reasonable when you consider what's at stake," Watson added.
