PEOPLE OF UNITED STATES BECOMING A GYPSY RACE SEARCHING FOR THE BEST

Big projects, like the Panama Canal, the Hoosac tunnel, the Woolworth building and the Kalamath bridge were built with the idea of permanence, but in the main the folks of today are to busy creating new ideas, processes and devices to take much time and thought of permanence and stability.

Think of the changes in your own life and experience. How many different towns have you lived in? How many times have you moved from one house to another? How many miles have you traveled since birth? Most of us find that, as the years slip by, we travel more, move oftener and change jobs more frequently.

Gone are the days when son followed in father's footsteps generation after generation, generally the same kind of work as the parent and grandparent performed.

At first blush there are many indications that we are becoming a race of Gypsies—rovers. Perhaps the natural result of better transportation facilities, especially the auto has something to do with it. Perhaps the automobile has come only as a boon to the people as a way of satisfying an inherent longing for something better they have never been able to quench.

Twenty years ago, a man or woman taking a trip of 1,000 miles was the talk of the town. Today one attracts more attention if he doesn't take an occasional long trip than if he does. People move more from house to house, city to city, job to job, farm to farm.

Covered wagon days are returning—nearly every one a pioneer, yearning to be somewhere else, doing something different.

One symptom of our Gypsy tendency is the increasing custom of not building for permanence. Houses used to be built to last forever, if possible. Now they're thrown together. Owners don't care. Most of them expect to move in a few years. Same with auto ownership—when he buys, already is looking ahead to the day when he will "trade in the old car on a new one."

E. W. Forbes, head of Fogg Art Museum of Harvard warns that the paintings of some of our modern artists may not last more than 50 years because of the use of inferior canvass or paints. Excellent materials are on the market for the artist, but often he is careless in buying and using. Bad paint, improperly varnished, may fade to a blur instead of lasting centuries like the masterpieces of the old-time painters.

All this is typical of our generations attitude: "Today's the thing. Let tomorrow take care of itself."

Two definite reasons why we are becoming Gypsy rovers and do not build for permanence. First, we realize more than ever before that life is merely a journey, a training school or gymnasium for self-improvement.

We view life as a Pullman car—and are quite willing to leave peanut hulls or banana peels behind us.

It is somewhat strange, however, but never the less true, that when the autos, the covered wagons and the Pullmans get to West Texas, they invariably stop. Their Gypsy occupants seem ready to sit down and stay. They have found that which they were looking for. The country is good, the soil rich, the climate delightful, the water pure, the sunshine bright—here all the blessings of nature seem bunched together for the benefit of the rovers. They recognize that at once.

For after all, this is just what they have been looking for all of their lives. Here the Gypsy trail comes to an end. The rovers cease to rove. They settle down and become permanent. With no further reason to journey onward or elsewhere they are content.

LUBBOCK B. Y. P. U. GROUP PAYS VISIT TO LITTLEFIELD SUNDAY

We were much delighted to have with us last Sunday afternoon a group of young people from Lubbock Baptist Young Peoples Union, who rendered a very splendid and helpful program.

The local members received many helpful suggestions and much inspiration from these fine young people as they discussed the subject, "Why I Should Go to Church."

Those taking part on the program were Ramon Levy, Ben Shuck, Misses Bertha Atkinson, Pearl Woods and Beulah Dickson.

Every member of the visiting group was thoroughly enthused with their work and the value of the Union in developing Christian character in the young life. The Lubbock delegation will always be welcomed in Littlefield whenever they may return.

An excellent program is being prepared for the local B. Y. P. U. for next Sunday evening, at 6:30 o'clock, and a hearty invitation is extended all young people of the city to attend.—Contributed.

LITTLEFIELD WINS GAME FROM SHALLOWATER

The second practice game of this season for Littlefield was played Saturday with Shallowater, the score being 8-10 in favor of Littlefield.

Herbe Mueller, Littlefield's star twirler, pitched the first half of the game, and then turned the sphere over to his brother Alvin, to finish the rounds. Five scores were made by Littlefield during the first inning. Parish, Shallowater's crack pitcher, was knocked out of the box during the third inning, being replaced by Gaiter.

REV. ROBINSON OF LUBBOCK DIST. HERE LAST SUNDAY

Rev. E. E. Robinson, of Lubbock, presiding elder of the Lubbock District, M. E. church, last Sunday night, delivered one of the most inspiring sermons ever heard in Littlefield. The church house was well filled, for Dr. Robinson's reputation as a forceful, logical speaker had preceded him, and the constant attention given the minister proved conclusively that he held their undivided attention throughout his discourse.

Taking the 26, 27 and 28th verses of the 24th chapter of the Acts of the Apostles as his text, wherein the Apostle Paul was hauled before Felix he startled the audience with the statement that here was a case wherein the prisoner at the bar was indicting a judge on the bench. "While Felix was a king outwardly," he said, yet Paul was a king inwardly. Paul forgot all about his chains while Felix forgot his royal purple."

The minister then cited a similar instance in history where Lorenzo, of Florence, lying upon his death bed, sent for Savanorola, the monk, to give him absolution, but failing to comply with the just requests of restitution demanded by the monk, he drew the coverlet over his face and expired. The illustration was analogous in that Felix, infatuated with Drucilla, under the withering tongue of the little missionary, also failed to give heed to the dictates of his own conscience. Remorse got hold of him, he trembled in mortal fear before the virulent speech of the Tartian, yet he refused to yield.

The minister then emphasized the fact of the immortality of conscience and of memory. He eulogized emotion, and declared that one of the most potent signs of real manhood was the ability to express emotion. "But," he said, "emotion that does not culminate in action is in vain. Felix was emotional, but he feared to step out and demonstrate his real feelings by action."

"Drucilla was standing in his way. She thought more of her immediate happiness than she did of Felix future welfare," said the preacher. "Just as Cleopatra spoiled Mark Anthony and as Delilah cheered the power of Samson, so this aristocratic woman held full sway over the eternal destiny of this Roman ruler."

Throughout the entire discourse the minister made many pertinent points of application to present day needs and conditions, interspersing his remarks with witty and epigrammatic statements and flights of oratory that held the full interest of his hearers.

During the afternoon Dr. Robinson presided over the second session of the Quarterly conference, and a fine report was made by the local church. The money is now practically assured for moving their church into town on lots previously secured, and it is expected that this week the moving will be done. Considerable labor has also been promised and, under the direction of the local pastor, Rev. Edgar, the foundation is now being laid.

SUDAN GRASS AND WHEAT TO TAKE THE SAME RATES

When the Interstate Commerce last week ended a three year battle waged by Texas Panhandle growers and decided that sudan grass seed shall pay the same rate as wheat from Texas to Kansas, Illinois, Missouri and Kentucky, it cited figures showing that an entirely new crop has found a home in Texas and is extending to other states.

Sudan grass was not known in this country until 1909, when it was brought from Africa. Botanical authorities class it as belonging to the sorghum family. It has made rapid strides as a forage crop. Although it is extending its area practically 80 per cent of it is grown in the southwest being particularly adapted to that soil and climate.

The commission in its decision explained that most of the crop is grown in the Panhandle but it made the rates it set apply to the entire state. The Santa Fe and Rock Island railroads, the principal defendants in the case, fought the rate decrease bitterly. They held that sudan grass seed should not take wheat rates, for while wheat is an article for human consumption, sudan grass seed is shipped for the purpose of planting. Overturning the railroad's contention the commission said:

The fact does not militate against the propriety of using the level of grain rates as a measure of testing the reasonableness of seed rates. The measure of rates is not dependent upon the use of which a commodity is put."

As an example of what the change in decision means, it was pointed out that before the decision the following rates from Texas points to Kansas City in cents were: Lubbock, wheat 53.5, and sudan 71.5; Herford, wheat 49.5, and sudan 67; Dalhart, wheat, 42.5, and sudan 61.5.

Sudan is one of the principal crops raised in Lamb county, and it is said by local grain men that this new ruling will mean a saving of from $50 to $100 in freight, per carload shipment.

GOOD BOX SUPPER

The box supper given by the Methodists at the school house last Friday night was well attended and an enjoyable time reported.

There were about 50 boxes bought, nicely decorated and well filled with good things to eat.

About $635.00 was realized from the sale of the boxes, and the money will be used toward defraying the expense of moving the church building into town.

Will Work Go?

Talk of another change in Pres. Coolidge's cabinet follows the removal of David W. Davis, a Harding appointee, in the Interior Dept. by the President. It is said Dr. Herbert Work, Sec'y of the Interior opposed the change.

A THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

Contagious Roup Cause of Heavy Poultry Loss

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

With the approach of fall and wet, cold weather, contagious roup, say members of Iowa State college, is one of the most dangerous diseases that threaten flocks. It causes a heavy loss not only from a high death rate but also from the fact that it interferes with egg production and causes loss of vitality in breeding.

Contagious roup is easy to identify.
It starts with a thin watery discharge from the nose and eyes, which has an offensive odor. Inflammation sets in, the birds begin to cough and sneeze, breathing becomes noisy and they frequently breathe through their mouths.
The secretions from the nose and eyes change to a yellowish cheese-like mass.

Roup can easily be prevented by avoiding damp, poorly ventilated, overcrowded quarters. To cure a sick bird, place it in a dry, well-ventilated place away from the other birds and give it plenty of fresh water and food. Every morning and evening remove all the cheesy matter from the eyes and nostrils and dip the bird's head into a solution of bichloride of mercury (1-1,000). This is made by placing one 7.3 mercury bichloride tablet in a pint of water. Hold the bird firmly and immerse the head until the eyes are covered, keeping it there a few seconds or until it struggles.

Poultry Manure Is Most Valuable as Fertilizer

Poultry manure contains fertilizing constituents which would cost 20 to 25 cents as commercial fertilizers. The average night droppings of a hen are 30 to 40 pounds annually. A flock of 100 hens at this rate would produce $20 to $25 worth per year. To prevent loss of the fertilizing constituents, sifted coal ashes may be used on the dropping boards as an absorbent.
Wood ashes or lime should not be mixed with the manure. As poultry manure is particularly adapted to gardening, poultry raisers can often dispose of it at a good price. Such management will add a little to the profits from the flock.

Feather-Pulling Harmful in Any Chicken Flock

Feather-pulling destroys a flock.
When a cock begins to look as if he were picked on the neck and breast you may then begin to watch for the hen that is doing the mischief; and she should be removed at once, as she will teach the habit to others if she remains with the flock. Feather-pulling is a vice that comes from confinement and idleness. There is no remedy for it, but it may be prevented by so feeding the fowls that they will be compelled to scratch. They should be fed meat and bone-meal, plenty of grass, and a little salt, in their food.

Fowls Lay Majority of Eggs During First Year

Hens lay the majority of eggs during their first two laying seasons, and especially during their pullet year, if they are early hatched. If a hen lays well during her pullet year she should be kept for another year as a breeder. If she lays well during her second year she should be kept for another year as a breeder. The older she is and the more culling she survives the better, for then she has proved that she has the vitality to stand up under long-continued laying, and consequently is valuable as a breeder.

Overcrowding of Fowls Cause of Many Failures

Overcrowding of poultry is one of the most common reasons why success is not had. The temptation to carry a few extra fowls, over and above the capacity of the buildings and equipment, and thereby "increase" the profit, is one of the commonest stumbling blocks to actual success. When this lesson is learned (sometimes it is a bitter lesson) then real profit is more likely to be had.

POULTRY NOTES

Vigorous chicks come from eggs laid by hens of good breeding and vitality.

Don't throw or bury dead fowls where there is a possibility of others of the flock having a chance to eat the diseased meat. Burn them.

Poultry will pay for a lot of milk.
Where milk is fed to hens and chicks freely, there is no need to furnish any meat scraps or meat-meal mash.

Do you know why so many pretty girls marry homely men? asks Luke McLure. Easy. Because there are so many homely men.

Numerous are they who don't understand how a speculator makes money; and generally they don't try to understand.

New Monroe Doctrine

"Live in God's own country, Florida; eat moderately; and don't worry," is the creed of Major Edward J. Monroe; 108 years old of Jacksonville, Fla., youngest son of President Monroe. He was born in King George County, Va., in 1815.

It is understood the vote was unanimous.

The Board also granted the sum of $85 for the boys of the stock-judging team to go to the state meet at College Station, and $150 was allowed for the girls of the Domestic Science department to go to the state meet at Galveston.

"PLAY BALL"

The voice of the umpire is again heard throughout the land.
"Play ball."

To Please Husband

Mrs. Georgia Thomas of Tulsa, Okla., shot herself through the knee when her husband thought he would be less jealous if she were disfigured. Now she wants a divorce.

In the raucous cry, so sweet to the ear of the fan, is written a whole philosophy of life. It is a symbol of the spirit of the American people.

Napoleon, it has been said, was defeated on the cricket fields of England. By the same reasoning, the blow that sent the Germans reeling back to Berlin had its beginning on the sand lots of America. Baseball cultivates the spirit of team work and of fair play.

As the Romans are remembered for their gladiatorial contests, and the Spaniards for the bull fight, so baseball will give future historians a clue in estimating the soul of the American people.

In baseball, everyone plays the game, spectator and player. Baseball is the only mob game we have. Each single play is open to the onlooker, and each fan enters the game from beginning to end. Even the umpire is subject to correction without notice. The fans exercise lungs and limbs. They use their heads. They follow the game closely and demand and get a clean game, fair play and a just decision are characteristic of the great American game from the manager's bench down to the lowest fan.

This town is now getting into condition what is to become one of the best baseball aggregations on the South Plains. It will be well worthy the support of the entire community.

LITTLE LEADERS

Most of the people in this country who get spring fever have no other cure but work.

Some parents know where their children are at night; others only think they do.

So far this spring has had every brand of weather going, not to mention what is yet to come.

Someone has called the radio the baby wonder of the world. We suppose that is because it will never do what one wants it to do before company.

It's only a matter of time until a powerful reaction will have developed in favor of girls who try to look like girls.

A man's brain attains its maximum weight at the age of 20; a woman's at 17. We absolutely refuse to discuss the subject any further.

The trouble with some people in following their natural bent is that it makes them crooked. A bachelor is one who dies without having finished his education.

A subscriber wants to know whether horseradish belongs to the animal or vegetable kingdom. All that we know about it is that its introductory flavor is very vegetable like, but it winds up with a kick like a mule. We respectfully refer the question to Prof. Parnell.

Signs of Spring
When one looks across the field and gives that old lexy grin that is so common to the people of the South land it is one of the sure signs of spring; that tired feeling, with a natural inclination to go swimming is another sure sign.
Now that spring is upon us, and the Money Question staring us in the face, one looks to the best place to make his Spring and Summer purchases. We have tried to be fair and we have refrained from publishing prices, but here goes for a few Eye Openers or Memory Ticklers. This is not a Saturday Special nor a sudden outburst of violent temper, but is a list of good old every day prices and runs until such time as it suits our fancy to change them. Just merely mention them to our competitors and watch them back off or hand you a first class line of bull to even up.

He was one of the Kaiser's right hand men during the World War, and after the war amassed a fortune running up into the billions. He was the man who made the paper marks of Germany not worth a damn, and was the prime cause of France's invasion of that country. Ye' with it all, he had gall stones, just like any other human often has, and finally died of double pneumonia, leaving his great wealth behind, but without any provision for his country.

SPRING LAKE CHILDREN MEET WITH ACCIDENT

Monday as the Hewett children were returning home from school with Wayne driving, something happened to the steering wheel, causing the car to turn over. Just how everything happened, as is usual in such cases, is hardly known. Wayne was severely injured about the head and neck. John Gehres took him to Dimmitt to be cared for by Dr. Miller. He suffered scalp wounds which required 20 stitches to close. At this writing he is getting along as well as could be expected.—Spring Lake Items in Plainview Herald.

Poem by Uncle John

I could wrangle with politics, boodle, or booze, or other high lights that abound in "the news." I could land on the surtax with fervid abuse, but—my buzz-wagon stops when I run out of juice!
I could spend half my time on our furrin affairs, if I thought my opinions would get anywhere,—I could settle World-peace with no effort at all, but—I'm too dern busy a-hittin' the ball!
I reckon I'm needed to help 'em discuss the evils that makes my environment wuss,—and, I like to debate, as I've previously said—but dang it, I've got to have butter an' bread!
And so—I set tight—in a niggardly sense, and pursue my activities inside the fence. . . . And, while there are schemes that I'd like to defeat, there's nothin' beats comfort, with plenty to eat!

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Foust nipped Sunday with a number of their children and several friends present. It was the occasion of Mr. Foust's 55th birthday, and there was a turkey dinner with all the trimmings fit for the occasion. A feature of the festive board was an old fashioned round cake on which were 55 little con-

White House Hopes No. 5

Governor Al Smith, of N. Y., is now a strong possibility for the Democratic nomination as a result of the sensational vote piled up for him in the Wisconsin preference primary. Smith has the solid backing of "Boss" Murphy's Tammy Hall organization which votes N. Y. state's 91 delegates in the Democratic National Convention.

KEEP A-GOIN'

EF you strike a thorn or rose,
Keep a-go'in';
Ef it hails or ef it snows,
Keep a-go'in';
Taint no use to sit and whine
When the fish aint on your line,
Bait your hook an' keep a-tryin';
Keep a-go'in';
When the weather kills your crop,
Keep a-go'in';
When you tumble from the top,
Keep a-go'in';
S'pose you're out o' every dime,
Bein' so aint any crime,
Tell the world you're feelin' prime
Keep a-go'in';
When it looks like all is up,
Keey a-go'in';
Drain the sweetness from the cup,
Keey a-go'in';
See the wild birds on the wing,
Hear the bells that sweetly ring,
When you feel like sighin',
sing,
Keep a-go'in'.

in this county for the past eight years and have been a resident for four years.

I am in favor of good roads, good schools and good churches. I am a considerable land owner in this county, pay a big tax myself, and, in consequence, am interested personally, as well as for my friends and neighbors in knowing that the finances of the county are handled in a reasonable and business like manner. I have always stood for the best interests of my home community and the county in general, and done all within my power to advance it.

I have had some road experience, serving as road overseer for ten years. I believe I know good roads, how to build and maintain them, and in an economical manner. If elected, I assure you I will do my very best to serve the interests of my constituents in a most satisfactory manner. Should I be defeated, I will continue to be a booster for Lamb county and Littlefield.

Very truly yours,
T. M. Springer.

GETS HORSE AND MULE
NOW LOOKS FOR CALF

George Porteous is the proud possessor of a real freak of nature in the form of a horse colt born Saturday night. The mother of the new-born colt gave birth to a mule colt just a week before the arrival of her last offspring. The mother's affections cling to the little jackass, and George is forced to feed the little horse by means of a bottle and nipple, but he is proving himself equal to the occasion. Fresh milk from old Bossie is fed to the little freak daily and George seems to enjoy administering its rations. It is reported that George visits the lot every morning to see if his mare has given birth to a calf.—Melrose Messenger.

COMMERCIAL BODY HOLD MEETING OF OFFICERS MONDAY

At a meeting of the directors, Littlefield Chamber of Commerce held in the offices of the Yellow House Land Co., Monday evening, it was the consensus of opinion that this organization, which has remained status quo for the past four months, should resume activity.

Every member of the directorate present seemed enthused with the idea that Littlefield, with its present needs and forward look should now have a representative body to act upon the numerous important questions of community welfare constantly arising. It was pointed out by those present that the town has now more than doubled in population since the body was organized last fall. Several vital matters of local import were discussed and tentative plans laid for future aggressive work.

During the activity of the Chamber of Commerce last fall numerous matters of community value were accomplished. The body now has a membership of about 60, and it is well known there are many more who are interested in the activity of such an organization and ready to line up for a bigger, better Littlefield.

At the meeting Monday night Messrs. A. P. Duggan and Judge R. C. Hopping were unanimously chosen to fill the unexpired terms of C. D. Smith and H. C. Pumphrey, respectively, on the Board of Directors. The full officers of the body as it now stands is as follows:

J. C. Whicker, president; J. T. Street, vice-president; W. O. Stockton, treasurer; W. D. Arnett, B. L. Cogdill, A. P. Duggan, G. M. Shaw, J. M. Shields, R. C. Hopping and E. S. Rowe, directors.

Another meeting is slated for Friday night of this week, at which time definite plans for future activity will be laid, and in all probabilities a call meeting of the membership for some near future date will be made.

Baileyboro Buzzings

In the trustee election held here Saturday, Ed Hulse, J. H. Johnson, W. H. White and T. L. Cunningham were elected. A permanent location for the new school building was agreed upon, which is one half mile east of the present site.

Misses Grace and Vesta Brannen were business visitors in Lubbock Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hulse and daughter, Linnie, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Hairgrove Sunday.

Earl Finley and Crit Odom were the dinner guests of Homer and Shelby Morris Sunday.

A number of the neighbors were disappointed Wednesday night when the radio belonging to Mr. Howard failed to work. An "Old Fiddlers' Contest" had been previously announced for that date.

Mrs. Dewey French is now seriously ill with pneumonia she having just recovered from the measles and relapsed.

Almon Sherman who has been suffering with a broken collar bone and sprained shoulder is rapidly recovering.

Mr. Cicero Douglass of Spur, Texas, was seen in the community Thursday.

Mr. W. E. Cox took Mr. Drenman to Dickens county Wednesday night in answer to a telegram from Mrs. Drenman stating that their little son, Charlie was critically ill and that an operation was to be performed soon.

A large number of Baileyboro people attended the Interscholastic League meet held at Muleshoe Friday and Saturday. Although handicapped seriously by the measles epidemic we won several points on both the literary and track events.

Trixie Henderson is spending the week end with home folks.

MORTON

Some of the farmers have been planting corn this week and some are still preparing ground, while some of the farmer's wives have begun their gardening.

The schools have good attendance this week, but some sickness is still reported. The Morton teacher has been absent from school since last Tuesday on account of sickness.

There is to be an election May 16 for organization of the county.

The Ligon people may be busy getting some of their people as candidates for the coming election, but look out for sore feet then you get into the sand.

Miss Eunice Spickard and friend, Miss Bates spent the week end at the home of Miss Spickard's mother, Mrs. Addie Spickard.

There was a musical at George Smith's Saturday night.

A union Sunday school was organized at Morton school Sunday evening. G. W. Cooper was elected superintendent; R. H. McCasland, assistant superintendent; Miss Hattie Winder, secretary-treasurer, and Miss Ruby Penny assistant. Miss Winder was also made the pianist.

Teachers for the Sunday school were elected as follows: J. R. Winder class one; Mrs. Matthews, class two; Lela Yeary, class three; P. B. Penny, class four. The hour for Sunday school at Morton is three o'clock, so come and help to make it a success.

Guy Matthews drove to Lubbock Friday, returning with one of his sisters, Miss Janie Belle. Another sister, Mrs. W. D. Norris, is week with home folks.

Miss Opal Penny is reported doing well in McMurry, at Abeline.

Walter Lytle's mother, at Stamford is reported slowly sinking. We extend our entire sympathy.

We are planning an Easter egg hunt for Sunday afternoon, the 20th. Everyone is invited to come and enjoy the afternoon after Sunday school.

Walter Lytle with the aid of "Uncle Bill Adams, took the sick baby to Littlefield Friday. Miss Doll Ross also accompanied them. Mrs. Lytle was not able to make the trip.

Morton school boys are going to organize their baseball team Saturday so as to give the Causy, New Mexico boys a game.

There will be 5 more weeks school. Some want to make averages of 90 per cent so they will not have to take their final examinations.

Mr. and Mrs. John Weks are leaving soon for Kansas. They will be missed so much.
