

Nazi Hangings At Midnight, Reports Say

No Official Word Due Until Last Man Declared Dead

NUERNBERG, Oct. 15. (AP)—Unofficial reports circulated here today that the hangings of the 11 condemned Nazi ringleaders would begin in the Nuernberg prison yard at 12:01 a. m. Wednesday (5:01 p. m. CST Tuesday).

It previously had been expected that the executions would start at dawn, although there had been no official announcement concerning the time.

It is expected that the executions will take about three hours altogether and that a formal announcement of their completion will be forthcoming about 4 a. m. (9 p. m. CST today).

The four-power commission has made plain that there will be no official announcement concerning the executions until after the last man has gone to the scaffold.

Reports that the hangings will begin at one minute past midnight tonight were given credence by an American officer, a Russian colonel and several prison employees.

There has been no information given out concerning the arrangements for the hangings, but if they are to be completed within three hours this probably will mean that more than one scaffold and more than one hangman will be employed.

The 11 men scheduled to die: Hermann Goering, Adolf Hitler's No. 2 man; Joachim von Ribbentrop, Nazi foreign minister.

Field Marshall Wilhelm Keitel, chief of the high command; Col. Gen. Alfred Jodl, German army chief of staff.

Ernest Kaltenbrunner, chief of the Nazi security police; Alfred Rosenberg, philosopher of the Nazi Party.

Hans Frank, governor general of Poland; Fritz Sauckel, Nazi labor boss.

Arthur Seyss-Inquart, gauleiter of the Netherlands; Julius Streicher, the Jew baiter; Wilhelm Erick, "protector" of Bohemia and Moravia.

Briefing officers told correspondents at the regular morning news conference that they had been forbidden to answer any questions concerning the time of the execution or the details of any arrangements for burial.

Williams Trial Postponed

MIDLAND, Oct. 15. (Sp.)—On a motion made Monday by the defense, the murder trial of Earl Hamilton Williams, Glasscock county ranch hand was re-set for Monday, Dec. 2.

Judge Cecil C. Collings took the action because of the absence of several witnesses in the case. In announcing his decision to postpone the trial, Collings said the witnesses would be required to give a satisfactory explanation of their failure to appear for the trial or face possible fine.

Williams, who allegedly beat his wife, Beulah, to death at their home in Northeastern Glasscock county last July 6 was originally tried last month in Garden City but the jury was dismissed when it failed to agree on a verdict.

Board Gives Approval Unanimously

The five-city reservoir project on the Colorado river cleared another important hurdle today, as the State Board of Water Engineers at Austin granted a permit giving water rights on the upper Colorado for the purpose.

The vote granting the permit, coming a day after hearing was held by the board, was unanimous.

The permit will be issued to the Colorado River Municipal Water association. Big Spring, Colorado City, Snyder, Midland and Odessa share in the proposed water supply undertaking.

These five towns had representatives in Austin Monday to put before the board their request for water rights permitting the construction of a 2,400-foot dam, 103 feet high and impounding 110,000 acre feet of water. Cost of the project is estimated at $10,000,000 and is designed to assure the five West Texas towns an adequate water supply in the future.

Opposition to the project was voiced at the hearing Monday by representatives of the Upper Colorado River Authority, who conceded the cities had legal priority but sought a compromise because the UCRA already has initiated a project to build a dam downstream from the Municipal project, near Robert Lee.

The five-city reservoir tentatively is located about five miles northwest of Colorado City.

The UCRA project is primarily designed for the development of irrigation in cooperation with the US Reclamation Bureau. Municipal water usage takes priority over irrigation rights.

Representatives appearing before the board in behalf of the Municipal application included R. T. Piner of Big Spring; S. W. Freese, Fort Worth engineer; John D. McCall and Millard Parkhurst, Dallas attorneys; D. A. Bandoen, West Texas chamber of commerce manager; Frank Kelley of Colorado City; N. T. Underwood, Snyder; Charles Brazil, mayor of Colorado City; M. C. Ulmer, Midland; John Wilson, Odessa city manager. They testified as to the interested cities' needs, and the engineering, financial and legal feasibility of the project.

Members of the Board of Water Engineers are C. S. Clark, chairman; John W. Pritchett, and E. V. Spence. The last-named formerly was Big Spring's city manager.

LORAIN, Oct. 15. (P)—D. L. Jackson, 30, an invalid, was burned to death here last night when fire destroyed his trailer home. Jackson and his mother had moved here from Odessa only eight hours before the fire.

Five Juveniles Arrested, Three Stolen Cars Recovered In Chases

A double-barreled chase through the eastern part of the city Monday night netted Big Spring police three stolen cars, a quantity of other articles believed stolen and five arrests, all juvenile subjects.

One of the three automobiles recovered belonged to Bruce Womack, 104 Washington Blvd., one was listed as stolen from Sweetwater and the other from San Angelo, officers said.

The activity began at about 9:30 p. m., when a local prowler car sought out the Sweetwater machine, believed to have been stolen from the Nolan county seat only a short time earlier. Three persons were in the machine, local officers said, and after abandoning the vehicle, two made their get-away on foot.

The third, a juvenile, was apprehended, and Sweetwater officers transported him back to the scene of his misdeed early today.

Meat Control Scrapped On Truman's Orders

Action Signals An Early End On All Ceilings

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15. (AP)—Top administration officials today forecast the swift passing of all government curbs over wages and prices—except rents—as a result of President Truman's decision cutting meat free of OPA controls.

One highly placed official said an important precedent has now been set; the way is open for pressure from all sides to blow the lid off the controls that are left.

"There is no question this speeds the end of OPA and wage regulation," this official told a reporter privately.

He added that a major factor in the president's decision was the feeling that if the government did not act decisively, Congress would return on January 1 in a mood to kill the whole control setup anyway, rather than wait for it to die next June 30.

"Today only a shell remains of what we had in the way of controls up to last night," the official said, "and those controls, in turn, were little more than window-dressing compared to what we had on June 30."

It was on June 30 that the life of OPA officially expired, only to be revived in a milder form by Congress on July 25.

Mr. Truman himself said the meat action could not be considered an "isolated transaction."

As a first step in that speed-up, OPA Administrator Paul Porter planned to confer today with Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson on the fate of price restrictions which shall prevail over 40 per cent of the nation's total food supplies.

Among other things, officials in a position to know predicted:

- 1. An immediate return of restaurant prices to the cost-plus-profit basis of last summer. Thus if the cost of meat goes up, restaurant prices will keep pace.
- 2. Ceilings on building materials, still in short supply, will remain fixed.

Temperatures Rise; Rain Moves North

By The Associated Press Rains in the southern part of the state were spreading northward today while cloudy skies prevailed over most of Texas.

Temperatures were 8 to 10 degrees higher today except in the Panhandle, where 12 to 15 degree increases were reported to the US Weather Bureau.

Heaviest rain fell along the lower coast and Rio Grande Valley in the 24 hours ended at 7 a. m. Today, but by mid-morning heavy rains were reported as far north as Austin, and light rains were starting at Waco.

Brownsville had 1.81 inches of rain, Mission 1.02; Alice .52, Corpus Christi .52, Laredo .14 and Galveston .10.

Texarkana recorded the coldest weather in the state early today, with 45 degrees. Elsewhere the minimums were mostly in the middle 50's to the upper 60's. High readings yesterday were in the 70's, except in the extreme south, where low 80's were recorded.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15. (P)—Douglas W. McGregor, 44, of Houston, has been appointed assistant to the attorney general, the White House has announced.

McGregor is a son of former State Senator T. H. McGregor of Austin. He served as US attorney for the southern district of Texas from 1934 until he resigned in 1944 to resume private law practice.

Slavs Formally Withdraw; Peace Conference Ends

PARIS, Oct. 15. (P)—The Paris Peace Conference ended officially at 5:28 p. m. (10:28 a. m. CST) today after Yugoslavia, in a last minute dramatization of her dissatisfaction with its decisions, formally withdrew from the 21-nation deliberations.

With a rap of his gavel, President-Foreign Minister George Bidault of France declared the conference closed, after a brief address in which he reviewed the work accomplished by the delegates since they convened July 29 to write treaties with Italy, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Finland.

Yugoslavia's protest against what she termed "unjust decisions" of the conference majority drew a prompt rebuke from US Secretary of State Byrnes.

"Just as no one nation had the power to win the war," Byrnes said, "so no one nation has the right to dictate the peace."

Deputy Premier Edvard Kardelj of Yugoslavia, in announcing the Yugoslav decision to withdraw, challenged the decisions of the conference on the Italian treaty. He said the solution should be met by "mutual agreement" and implied that if Yugoslavia's desires were not achieved his country would not sign the treaty.

Byrnes said the United States would support in the four-power foreign ministers council every decision backed by two-thirds of the peace conference.

The secretary said the American delegation would do so regardless of how it voted itself, and would give "sympathetic consideration" to every other conference decision.

The delegates approved the plenary session reports on all five treaties—for Italy, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Finland—within a half hour after the meeting convened.

Score Tied, 1-1, In Four Innings

SPORTSMAN'S PARK, St. Louis, Oct. 15. (P)—It was give and take at the end of the four innings of play in the seventh game of the World Series here Tuesday as the St. Louis Cardinals and Boston Red Sox sought to decide a 1946 baseball champion.

A 1-1 score emphasized the point that neither Delta Dave Ferriss of the Americans or Murry Dickson, Red Bird ace, boasted anything but a pitching edge.

The diminutive Dickson recovered after a shaky start to snuff out any Red Sox threat. Wally Moses led off the Boston half of the first inning with a long hit through the middle and went on after Harry Walker skied to Ted-baller.

St. Louis came back to tie the count in the second when Whitey Kurowski doubled and came home after Harry Walker skied to Teddy Williams in right.

Porter And Anderson Prepare To Issue Formal Proclamation

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15. (AP)—Government formalities ending price controls on meats went forward swiftly today in the wake of President Truman's decision that decontrol is the "only remedy" for the nationwide shortage.

First to act were OPA Administrator Paul Porter and Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson.

Porter drafted an order lifting price controls from livestock, meat and other livestock products.

Anderson promptly approved it. A formal proclamation ending the controls was to be issued by Porter later in the day.

Along with the passing of price ceilings on meats, OPA said today that slaughter controls also expire immediately.

Arval Erikson, director of meat enforcement for the pricing agency, told a reporter that the entire slaughter program had been ended by President Truman.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15. (P)—Carrying out President Truman's orders, the OPA today officially ended price controls on livestock, meat and food and feed products made from them, at 12:01 a. m. (EST) today.

Under this program the government controlled the number of live animals that could be converted into meat by any packer or other slaughterer.

The chief executive—to the tune of Democrats' applause and criticism, Republican taunts and industry jubilation—also signalled an earlier end to virtually the whole series of wartime restrictions, except those over rents.

Mr. Truman said the removal of ceilings on items other than meat will be speeded up and this will hasten the end of wage controls.

Sharply reversing his previous stand, the president told the nation and "real blame" for his action "lies at the door of the reckless group of selfish men who, in the hope of gaining political advantage, have encouraged sellers to gamble on the destruction of price control."

Speaking in a nation-wide broadcast last night, three weeks before the congressional elections, Mr. Truman said the OPA and the Agriculture Department would formally scrap the meat price lids today. Their action was all that was requested to make the elimination of controls legally effective.

However, no great quantity of meat is expected to begin appearing in butcher shops for perhaps 10 days—the time usually required to get livestock from farms to meat counters.

Mr. Truman's dramatic decision, climaxing a mounting furor over meatless menus, drew immediate Republican cries of "death and repentance," "confession of failure," and "too late."

In the administration camp the reaction was generally favorable, but Rep. De Lacy (D-Wash.) indicated disapproval by calling for a "national buyers' strike" to hold down prices of meat and other items.

And Rep. Monroney (D-Okla.) termed the president's action a policy blow at inflation control.

The American Meat Institute hailed the decision, but cautioned that it "will not mean much more meat for consumers in the immediate future."

Meat stocks, the institute said, are at a low level and the distribution "pipelines are completely empty."

In deciding to follow the advice of many of his party leaders and discard ceilings, Mr. Truman in turn denounced "a few men in Congress who, in the service of selfish interests, have been determined for some time to wreck price controls no matter what the cost might be to our people."

He made no party line distinction between Republican and Democratic foes of OPA.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 15. (P)—The convention "Cut-ups" backed water from the hotel window has about run its course here.

Cattle Receipts Spurt At Local Stock Auction

Cattle receipts at the West Texas Livestock Auction company spurted to 2,000 head today, virtually quadrupling total offerings of a week ago, officials reported at 1:30 p. m.

Although not enough animals had moved through the ring to give the market a fair test, about 150 head of hogs sold readily at $24.50 per cwt. immediately before the cattle auction started.

The firm had listed no hog receipts during the past three weeks. Ceiling for hogs under price control was $15.50 per cwt.

A definite increase in receipts of fat animals, both yearlings and calves, was apparent, officials said, and early indications were that prices would be slightly higher than a week ago. Early sales indicated that stockers would be steady to slightly weaker, however.

Buyers were plentiful, with several participating in bidding for the first time in several weeks.

Big Spring packers and slaughterers this morning expressed belief that the relief from red tape and entanglements provided by lifting price control on meats will more than offset any possible price advances, which they believe will be slight if noticeable at all.

No boom operation is expected here, according to packers contacted this morning. "I want nothing but steady business," one said.

Decontrolling Order Popular With Texans

By The Associated Press Most Texans, particularly housewives, meat packers, ranchers and grocers, were smiling today in anticipation of a plentiful meat supply and good prices following President Truman's releasing meat and livestock from price control.

A few were skeptical as to immediate relief, while others continued to criticize the national administration for having returned to meat control last August.

J. G. Montague, counsel for the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' Association, hailed the president's order as the best news for the meat industry since the declaration of independence and predicted movement of cattle from the ranges to the market will begin in a few days. He said processed meat probably will not be plentiful in retail butcher shops for another week or ten days, however.

C. E. Weymouth of Amarillo, president of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, said the decontrol action is "the most constructive move that President Truman has made since the end of the war."

In welcoming the decontrol action John Edger, head of the Wichita Meat and Provision Company at Wichita Falls, said that city will have an ample supply of veal and beef within a week or ten days.

He said pork will still be limited due to a shortage of hogs.

In Dallas, John Neuhoff, meat packer, said that "with legitimate packers able to bid with blackmarket, more people will get more meat."

Grocers seemed generally happy to see the controls withdrawn. "It's been so long since we've seen this," one said. See DECONTROL, Col. 2, Pg. 5

Vets Must Notify VA Of Changes In Addresses

Veteran students who fail to notify the veterans administration of all changes of address will encounter serious delays in receiving their subsistence checks, VA warned today.

Changes of addresses must be reported to the VA over the veteran's own signature, or substitute checks will be undeliverable, Eldon F. Fuller, VA's chief of vocational rehabilitation and education at the Lubbock regional office, said.

Pointing out that the regulation is a treasury ruling not subject to action by the VA, Fuller said that a recent survey revealed that most veterans complaints about check delays were in the group which had changed address without notifying the VA. Forms giving full information required are made available from VA offices or training officers on school campuses. Telegrams or telephone calls are not sufficient, since the notification must bear the veteran's signature, Fuller added.

had meat I've got used to it," one grocer commented. He admitted that many shoppers who found meatless counters became irritated and left the stores without making other purchases.

"Now maybe we can get some meat," a Dallas housewife said. She said she didn't like to see meat prices spiral but was tired of meatless meals.

At Lubbock meat packer Claude Keelon termed the lifting of controls the best thing that could have happened.

Criticism of the President's action was voiced at Fort Worth by O. A. Knight, president of the Oil Workers International Union, CIO.

"The President's action won't be helpful to the working people and prices probably will go sky high," he asserted. "If prices go much higher there will be a tremendous clamor for higher wages. I would have been more content if all controls were left in effect on V-J Day and continued until production caught up with demand. It's like working on a tread mill to secure wage adjustments and then find prices sky-rocketing."

ing more than to carry on my business normally, and I plan to operate on a reasonable and close margin," one local slaughterer said.

The same man said he did not believe the public will not any appreciable price increases. He declared that local processors were furnishing beef at 24 cents a pound during the July and early August price control "holiday."

However, with no re-instatement of price controls, cattle immediately jumped two to three cents a pound above what they had leveled off to during the interim, he pointed out. This advance, he said, "froze out" the slaughterers who could not legally pay the prices on their OPA butchering scales.

Another local packer foresees some advance in prices on the possibility that major packing concerns will again dispatch regular buyers to local auction sales. This could create "triple competition" at the sales, he pointed out.

However, the lifting of controls may bring hogs back to local markets. If they come, the swine are expected to command fancy prices, but local auction concerns have reported none available here for several weeks.

One slaughterer said lifting the controls already had opened the door at his plant to 20 head of the "very best" beef animals, which he could not handle under any circumstances under OPA regulations.

More telephone service than ever...

FOR MORE PEOPLE THAN EVER:::

We've put in more than 190,000 telephones in Texas in the first nine months of this year—nearly twice as many as we connected in the first nine months of 1940.

We're handling a million and a half more local calls a day than a year ago.

And 13 per cent more long distance calls. (Nearly twice as many as before the war.)

Putting in all those telephones and taking care of all those extra calls—regardless of shortages of materials—is one of the biggest jobs the telephone company has ever done.

Best part is that service has remained good on most calls despite heavier-than-ever volumes.

There are some delays but we're working on them—just as we're working hard to serve people waiting for telephones. Service will be better than ever, for everyone, as soon as new equipment can be made and installed.

It's Time To Try A New System

Governor of Texas for a few days by virtue of Governor Coke Stevenson's absence on a deer hunt in Colorado, John Lee Smith let it be known that he would not call a special session of the legislature to act on redistricting, though he believes one should be called.

Governor Stevenson does not presently believe there is sufficient demand for a special session, hence the acting governor respects his wishes.

A strong plug for a redistricting session was put in by Rep. C. M. McFarland of Wichita Falls, who in a public statement pointed out that the state never had been redistricted by a regular session. Always, he asserts, it has taken a special session for that purpose alone to achieve the constitutional mandate for redistricting.

A still better, and a permanent solution, would be to quit fooling with the legislature to induce it to do what the constitution says it is compelled to do, and plump for a new system of redistricting through the instrumentality of a special commission set up for the purpose.

In other words, take the question of redistricting entirely out of the biased, self-seeking hands of legislators and let it be done by a non-political, disinterested commission of solid citizens whose only interests would be justice and equity.

We do not permit district judges, for instance, to cut themselves districts that are easy to hold, and there is no reason why senators and representatives should enjoy that privilege.

Unless and until this matter is taken out of the hands of selfish legislators, the constitutional mandate for redistricting after each decennial census never will be carried out. That fact has been demonstrated time and again. Only a redistricting commission could be counted on to do the right thing at the right time. And its work should be above the politicking of the legislature.

Best Dressed Dancers

NEW YORK — Tony De Marco gets on quite a few best-dressed-male lists in the course of a year. His impeccable taste in duds rather belies the fact that he used to be a bootblack in his home town of Buffalo, although his latter-day elegance doesn't impel him to deny his bootshining background.

In fact, he's quite proud of it, feeling that it is success in the most American tradition.

For dancing, Tony has 23 dress suits, 10 dozen dress shirts, 300 white bow ties and 80 pairs of dancing shoes, all of which, he says, he will wear during his current engagement at that tasteful saloon, the Persian Room of the Plaza Hotel.

Tony has a reputation of marrying his partners? His present terrier mate, Sally, also is his partner in private life, although he has little enough of that, what with practicing almost constantly and keeping business dates in Tony hangouts with cafe society friends.

His former partner, Renee, also was his mistress. When she divorced him she uttered a few ladylike squawks to the effect that Tony paid more attention to dancing than to marriage.

It is no secret that Tony drives his partners pretty hard. He's a stickler for terpsichorean perfection, and while he has had little formal study, professional teachers say he has a perfect dancing technique, acquired naturally in the same way that Bing Crosby became a vocal great.

Tony's concern with his haberdashery is more than equalled by Sally's interest in hers. She has just bought 38 new gowns for her current and later-season engagements from Adrian, Nettie Rosenstein and Hattie Carnegie; they are worth more than $10,000, part of the 100-gown set she keeps permanently at hand for working hours. She wore $100,000 worth of jewelry on opening night.

Until Billy Rose bought the Ziegfeld Theater, Tony and Sally lived in the suite occupied by Florenz Ziegfeld. When the bantam Barnum took formal occupancy, however, he gave the De Marcos their notice and moved in himself, which gave Billy two Manhattan homes—the other a mansion on Beekman Place, full of antiques and a fortune in paintings and statuary—and a summer place, complete with the expected swimming pool, just outside of town.

For some reason, Tony does not like normal apartment existence, so he took a lease on the tremendous flat in the Capitol Theater on Broadway which was the home of the late Major Edward Bowes. There he now is perfectly happy amid a few hundred dress suits, a thousand or so pairs of shoes, innumerable minor sartorial items and, of course, Sally.

Baker After Meek In "Glamour Manor"

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 15.—Kennedy Baker, the singing hotel manager, tries to make both ends meet and almost gets strangled in the middle during tomorrow's broadcast of Glamour Manor, at 11:00 a.m., CST, over ABC.

Since getting word that the alumni of Pomona Naval College intend holding a banquet at Kennedy's manor, the host, Sam "Schlepperman" Hearne, got hunting for meat and the girls, Barbara Eiler and Elvia "Biddle" Albarino go shopping for the same scarce item. The result is a laugh-provoking ending to the half-hour show, which will feature Kenny singing "Melody" and "Where or When," accompanied by Harry Lubin and the orchestra.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—Drew Pearson

Readers And The Five-Year Plan

WASHINGTON—Many people continue to write me about my five-year plan for peace and friendship with Russia. Their letters, judged not only by volume but by contents, indicate that the American public is both thinking intensely and worrying about the problems of Russia. That in itself is a healthy sign.

The majority of the letters favor the proposed plan to win over the Russian people—regardless of their government—by an exchange of information, students, musical and theatrical programs, and by permitting one American radio station and newspaper to operate in Moscow with a reciprocal Russian station and newspaper in New York.

Some reaction, however, has been negative and critical.

Most of the letters reveal such interesting cross-section of the mind of the American public, that I am letting those who are thinking about Russia write today's column. Here are carefully selected samples of what the American public thinks about how we can avoid war with Russia.

"Russia Hiding Poverty"
Charles K. Coleman, Lynhurst, N. J.—"I have been in the U. S. merchant service since 1922, during which time I have been in Russia five times. While there I noticed anything mechanical that came to view (I am a marine engineer). The vast majority of these machines were of foreign manufacture. The few machines that were unlabeled were obviously poor imitations of foreign products. Why then do you maintain that a country that is unable to compete with such small nations as Switzerland, Belgium, Sweden, etc., in world markets can possibly produce an atomic bomb, long range jet-propelled planes, etc., in the short period of five or even ten years? Russia has never produced, with all her tremendous resources, one essential commodity that has found a market outside her own borders.

"My belief is that Russia is hiding nothing more dangerous than extreme poverty—and the Baltic states plus Czechoslovakia and Poland will provide acute indignation to Russia for the next 50 years."

"Russians Have High Respect For U.S."
N. Sidrow, Washington, D.C.—"I spent eight months with Russian sailors in the capacity of instructor in radar and communication with the U. S. Navy. After discharge, in order to learn more about the Russian people, I obtained a position with the Soviet Purchasing Commission.

"I find they are just plain people. They do not believe in diplomatic language because they do not understand it. I crossed this country twice as guide for a group of their engineers and really learned to know them. . . . Russian people respect men who are true to their own country. By that I mean the men who defend the ideals of our government stand higher in their eyes than those who don't.

"I never met a Russian yet who did not have high respect for the U. S. They have highest admiration for our engineering and the way we do business. Unless I am a blind fool, these people are naturally friendly to us. They like direct conversations, and direct answers.

"For instance, they wanted me to ask some business and professional men 'What type of education did you have?' They were very surprised when I told them that was not a proper question. They were amazed at the ease with which they get an information they want here, and at the way some of our so-called capitalists received them. If only our government made an effort to get the American people to know the Russians, we would be so much better off!

"Mr. Pearson, our government has too many so-called experts on the Russian nation who don't know anything about Russia. We have either lovers or haters. What we need are Americans who are willing to exchange calls with Russia and yet be Americans also. This type of people will penetrate the Russian's inbred suspicion.

"In conclusion, Mr. Pearson, the American of an average type is in no danger of becoming communist, but Russians risk a real danger of getting Americanized—oh, so easily!"

—Mrs. A. O. Johnson, LaFayette, Calif.—"Mr. Stalin and his henchmen admire only two things in another country—military might, and rough, unvarnished statement of policy backed by that might. Paradoxical as it seems, there lies peace."

Natalie Novak, Detroit, Mich.—"My suggestion is that every student attending an American school be compelled—if they are not willing—to begin a correspondence with a Russian student. In this way I am sure that the future generation will reap a better understanding of their respective neighbors."

Grable H. Mitchell, Washington, D. C.—"Your suggestion to send ex-Secretary Henry Wallace as ambassador to Russia seems to me to be indicative of a state of mind that is dangerous. Wallace and his followers scold the U. S. and Britain, when, by far the principal offender against the principles of the Atlantic Charter, etc., is the Soviet! She is forcing her will upon many nations, complete with a secret hit American school, as terroristic as the Nazi Gestapo. I get this information from a Czech who lived under both hideous regimes."

Mary C. Bales, Tampa, Fla.—"It seems to me that the trouble is not at all between the Russian people and us so much as between their government and ours. We know that at the end of the fighting in Germany, the Russian soldiers showed a real desire to become friendly with ours. Whose fault was it that they were prevented? Thank you for suggesting the plan and please continue to lead the way."

(Copyright, 1946, by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

"Would 'Gladly' Adopt Russia"
Mrs. Mary Ellen Lewis, Sheffield, Ala.—"Let's start with your five-year plan at once. I will gladly take one Russian student into my home and keep him (or her) for nothing if need be while he is in this country. I'll teach him English and probably learn Russian in turn, and will, in every way, treat him as my own child. I'd be only too delighted if my

UCC Ready To Take Over USES

AUSTIN—The details haven't yet been officially announced, but the Unemployment Compensation Commission is virtually all set to take over the offices of the U. S. Employment Service on Nov. 16.

Plans must first be approved by the regional director for the Department of Labor. They have not yet been sent to his office, but here generally is the working chart drawn up by the UCC.

The UCC's chief attorney, Bill Farmer, will be designated as "administrator," as an overseer for both the compensation and employment services. Under him as director of compensation will be Lee Williams, now employed as an attorney for the UCC; and as director of employment, Claude Beik, the present director of the USES.

Three new district offices will be established to serve the integrated agency, bringing the total of district offices to 15. One new office will be in the Lower Valley, probably at Harlingen. The Valley is now served by the Corpus Christi district office. The Corpus Christi office will be continued, but the Valley area will be separated from it. A West Texas office will be established probably at Midland, and a third one is definitely set for Lufkin.

Rules of the U. S. Labor Department which govern the transfer of the USES provide that employees of the USES shall be given "comparable jobs at comparable rates of pay," so it appears that there will be no telescoping of personnel. As to the directors of district offices, this plan has been provided: That the district USES director and the district UCC director be compared for seniority, and the top job be awarded to the senior, with the junior as his assistant.

In that connection, here are some interesting figures on personnel. In 1939, when the employment service was under UCC jurisdiction, it had 951 employees. Today its payroll numbers 831. Thus under federal jurisdiction its number has decreased. On the other hand, the UCC has climbed from about 530 five years ago to a total of 1,345 today. UCC officials say that from 350 to 400 of these people were put on to take care of the "52-20" benefits to GIs, while the other new people result from increased claims by war workers-out of jobs.

The UCC has announced, as a broad policy, a preoccupation with finding jobs for unemployed as a means of cutting down the claims against the compensation, or insurance, fund. This has caused some apprehension on the part of USES people that other functions of the USES may be al-

In Hollywood—Bob Thomas

Claudette And Press
HOLLYWOOD. (AP)—With reporters who know the stars best, it's Claudette Colbert two to one. She is a top favorite with most of us in the business of interviewing Hollywood's great. Here is how she tells her secret of success.

"It's all very simple," she said, "I just talk. I'll give you an opinion on any subject you ask, except myself. It's all conversation, and I'm afraid sometimes I say the wrong things."

Wrong things or not, she has been at the task of being interviewed for more years than she will mention. She has perhaps 30 to 40 sessions per picture.

"At first they frightened me," she admitted, "but now I take them in stride. It's just another part of the business."

Naturally certain questions are repeated. She can't count the times she has been asked, "How have you managed to stay on top so long?" Her usual answer is "by playing all kinds of roles." She said she couldn't use the stock answer about not drinking or smoking and thus preserving her can't drink liquor, "damn!" career. She is a chain smoker and Picture of a man trying to be funny in Hollywood—Sid Caesar. Sid is the Coast Guard comedian who made such a hit in "Tars and Spars." The Columbia couldn't figure out what to do with him. The studio wanted him to be a gag comic, but he didn't want to do mere routines. Now, in "The Guilt of Janet Ames," he is getting a belated follow-up of his initial success. Sid says he wants to pattern his comedy after Charlie Chaplin.

Sid even has the idea of portraying inanimate objects. For instance, he depicted the life of a slot machine. He was a successful machine, dispensing gum happily, and sometimes getting banged when the supply was gone. Then he was turned into a one-armed bandit, and eventually smashed by the police. Very sad, but also very funny.

A Friendly Letter Always Helps

To enrich a friendship, to win the hand of a fair maiden, to make a strong bid for a desired job, or to express thanks for some kind of thought or deed—to do these things from afar, a letter is the answer.

Chances are there isn't one person who lives an active life but who owes a letter to some friend, relative or business acquaintance. We've all heard the time-worn apologies for failure to write, but how often do we really have a good excuse? Generally this disinclination to write a letter arises from our lack of realization of how much letters mean to others.

A letter is the closest thing to a visit, a handshake and a personal talk. You select its contents—it is exclusively yours. In these days of fast trucks, trains, ships and planes, your letter can be whisked across the country, state, or nation with incredible speed and accuracy.

Americans, most of all people on earth, know the value of letters. There are no gloomy statistics on the number of cherished and interesting relationships that have been destroyed or diminished because of failure of someone to write a letter.

The terrific volume of mail which went and returned from overseas was the means of encouragement, maintaining home ties, expressing love, bridging the bitter years of separation. With the war receding into history people remain about the same. They still want—and need—letters.

This is National Letter Writing Week. Someone feels better when you send a letter.

Wallace To Address Liberal-Minded

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Henry Wallace—announcing his new job as editor-in-chief of the new Republic Magazine—says it will address the liberal-minded people of the world.

He says: "I want it to be looked on as 'must' reading by liberals all over the world. I want it to be so simple that high school students can understand it and so sound that doctors of philosophy respect it."

"It might be well, in making the magazine more readable, if Wallace would lay down his definition of the term liberal."

This is one of the most abused words in the language and has become, through careless usage, a name for many different kinds of political and economic thinking.

Wallace says he wants the magazine read by workers, farmers and small businessmen all over the United States.

This is a far-reaching program for a magazine like the New Republic which has a circulation now of only 40,000 to 45,000.

Before examining that program, here is some background. The New Republic is published weekly, runs 30 to 35 pages, sells for 15 cents.

The magazine is made up of book reviews, a story on Washington events, movie reviews, and various pieces of interpretation and opinion on politics, world affairs, economics and almost any other field.

Throughout its history the magazine has backed what it called progressive legislation. It was for Franklin D. Roosevelt and his New Deal program throughout his stay in the White House. It has been anti-Republican party.

Every two years, before the Congressional elections, it prints a special section on the voting records of Congressmen.

College professors, economists, labor experts and experts in many fields have written for the New Republic and still do.

The New Republic is respected by intellectuals but it always has been written over the heads of the great majority of people in this country. It is written for the upper-level of intelligence.

This magazine, and others like it, preach racial equality, social and economic justice and the need for congressmen to vote for laws to carry out those programs.

Much of what goes into magazines like the New Republic apparently is written for readers who think the same as those magazines anyway. So they become, in a way, almost mutual admiration societies.

Yet, their influence is strong. Because many of the people who read the magazines, and understand them, are in active, and often important, positions in this country.

How To Treat Germans

By RICHARD KASICHKE (Substituting for Hal Boyle)

BERLIN. (AP)—Some soldiers in the American Army of Occupation say they are perplexed.

They say that what they would like to know from President Truman, Secretary Byrnes and others in authority is:

"Are we now to be kind to the Germans? Are we to conclude that sentences in Nuernberg and other crimes trials count for expiration of German war guilt and are we, maybe, to try to out-do the other occupying powers in being nice to the people we conquered?"

The questions were put by a combat veteran over coffee in a Red Cross canteen today as he leafed through "Stars and Stripes," the Army newspaper.

The soldier, a corporal, said that the content of today's paper pretty well mirrored his confusion.

"Now here," said the corporal, "on the front page is a story from Berlin about a German girl getting an exit-permit to go to America to marry an American she met here. She's still an enemy alien."

"And here on page four is a story telling about a Christmas party plan for German children to be given by American personnel at Bremerhaven. So we are play-

Sox Given Edge Over Birds In Series' Finale Today

Fans Think Teddy Williams May Tee Off On Dickson

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 15. (AP)—The world championship and $127,739 in cold cash awaits the winner today as Dave (Doc) Ferriss, the amazing Boston Red Sox sophomore, opposes pint-sized Murry Dickson of the St. Louis Cardinals in the finale of the 43rd World Series.

National League prestige, rocked to its foundations by the All-Star game rout, has made a remarkable recovery in the Red Birds' split of the first six games but the power-laden Boston remains the oddmakers favorite at a 13 to 20 price.

Another capacity crowd of 35,000 is expected to pack Sportsman's Park.

Ferriss' 4-0 shutout victory in the third game and his 25-6 regular season win record give the Sox an edge over Dickson, a renovated bullpen artist who piled up most of his 15 decisions since his first starting chance June 7.

On top of Ferriss' past performance chart that includes a series win over Dickson, there is a solid suspicion that the Sox, who never have lost a series, are due to break out at least once with a spurge of extra base blows.

Not even the stoutest members of the "Knock Ted Williams Society" would have figured he'd be going into a seventh game with only five hits, all singles. Williams has been stymied by the variations of the "Dyer Shift" and heady pitching by the Cards who have given him very little to hit at.

Most of his teammates join "The Kid" in thinking he is due to tee off on the righthanded Dickson.

Kicks A Long Ball, Too

Layne Sets Warm Pace In Passing, Running

By The Associated Press

A regular football machine is Texas' blonde Bobby Layne who leads the Southwest Conference in passing by a wide margin and has the best average for running with the ball in addition to quarter-backing a team unbeaten in four games.

Statistics released today by James H. Stewart, conference executive secretary, show Layne to have thrown 45 passes and completed 26 for 437 yards. Against Oklahoma last week he connected with 15 out of 27 for 208 yards—the reason Texas beat the Sooners 20-13.

In rushing Layne has carried the ball 23 times and gained a net of 162—average of better than 7 yards per run. He also still is the leading punter although kicking only twice. His average is 55.5.

Ken Holland, fleet little Arkansas back, is the leading ground-gainer with 243 yards on 52 carries but his average is only 4.6 per carry. Tied for third are by Tom Gilroy of Texas and Pete Stout of Texas Christian, each with 141 yards. Stout has carried 53 times, Gilroy 23.

Aubrey Fowler of Arkansas ranks second to Layne in passing with 222 yards on 10 completions out of 19 throws and Leo Daniels of Texas A&M is third with 194 yards on 15 connections in 29.

Hugh Keeney of Rice is second in punting with an average of 52.6 on three boots and Bob Goode of A&M is third with 44.5 on two. Best average among those kicking five times or more is that of Frank Guess of Texas who shows 43.1 on six punts.

Marion Flanagan of A&M has returned three punts for 137 yards—an average of 45.6—to lead in this department. George Walmsley of Rice is second with 122 on four for an average of 30.5. Third is Guess with 112 on five—an average of 22.4.

In pass-receiving Jim Canady of Texas leads the field with seven catches for 211 yards. Clyde Scott of Arkansas is second with four for 116 and Max Bumgardner of Texas is third with six for 91.

In team offense Texas has an average of 446 yards per game. The Longhorns have rolled up 968 on the ground and 817 passing. Rice and Arkansas are tied for second with 923 yards each. Rice has 539 rushing and 384 passing. Arkansas shows 585 on the ground and 338 in the air.

Ritz Books Film Of Gfid Classic

Action pictures of the Texas-Oklahoma football game, won by Texas in the Cotton Bowl last Saturday, will be shown to local audiences at the Ritz theater Friday and Saturday.

The Longhorns won the decision, 20-13, on the strength of Bobby Layne's passing.

The film will be featured along with the regularly scheduled program.

TEXAN WINS
NEW YORK, Oct. 15. (AP)—La Vern Roach, 156-pounder from Plainview, Tex., dethroned Charley McPherson, 185, of Brooklyn in a six round preliminary bout at the St. Nicholas arena here last night before a crowd of 2,742.

Central Favored

Junior Football 11's Open Play

Six grade school football teams start a free-for-all scrap at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in Steer stadium to see who wears the 1946 city championship and, likely as not, it will be Central Ward again.

Central won the crown without a loss last fall and, according to reports, Coach D. A. Miller is coming up with another strong eleven.

The Central contingent plays Johnny Hooper's East Ward brigade in the afternoon's second bout.

First game will pit South Ward against College Heights while North Ward will test West Ward in the last go. Donald Webb and Ray Russell are handling the South-Ward aggregation while Charles Campbell is masterminding the College Heights club. Joe Jabor and Bud Wheeler have teamed up to coach the North Ward club while Melvin Byers and Jerry Rogers will handle West Ward's eleven.

All games will be limited to six-minute quarters and the teams will play through a five-week schedule. The afternoon's second bout gets underway around 4:15, the third at 5:30.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Howard Green, the Abilene scribe, stopped by here last weekend to say he'd favor calling a meeting of West Texas baseball enthusiasts around Nov. 15 to discuss formation of another professional circuit.

Green figures persons planning toward a league which would begin functioning in 1947 would have to get started by Dec. 1, certainly before the first of the year, if they hope to get things in shape by spring. That would especially be true in Big Spring's case, where everything would start from scratch.

The Abilene sports writer, who doubles as business manager of the Abilene WT-NM league entry, would like holding the meeting here, if possible, and inviting representatives from such towns as Kermit, Odessa, Midland, San Angelo, Sweetwater, Brownwood and Coleman. Abilene, he says, is content to string along with the WT-NM circuit for at least another season.

Green's only interest is seeing that West Texas has another professional league. He says the aforementioned territory is fertile and the towns' fans are hungry for the game. In the case of Big Spring, that is especially true, but whether or not a park can be built here is another question.

At any rate, if anything develops, it should happen before Dec. 1, at which time, the minor league meeting is scheduled to be held at Los Angeles. Most contacts for the succeeding year are made at that conclave.

It should interest local baseball fans to know, incidentally, that Bobby "Pepper" Martin of Our Town wound up with a batting mark of .252 in WT-NW league play last season. Pep's mace average wasn't too impressive but he collected 133 safeties, dented the plate 76 times, had 203 total bases, had 55 runs batted in and drove out 14 home runs.

Bobby Decker, the former Big Spring, who played with Borger last fall, finished with a sparkling .344 batting average and that earns him a promotion to Little Rock. Robin drove in an astonishing 123 runs. He played more conservative baseball last season than when here in 1939. He stole 67 bases for an alltime record while wearing local livery. Last season he purloined but seven sacks.

Albuquerque's Gordon Goldsberry, an 18-year-old first sacker, is an expensive piece of bric-a-brac, or so the Hollywood Stars, who own his contract, are inclined to think.

They're asking $25,000 for him, which must be an alltime high for a Class C league player. He wound up with a .372 mark but that doesn't mean he can hit the better kind of pitching.

There's a guard running with the Texas university B grid string who started most of Southern California's games last fall. He is Vic Vasicek.

What ever happened to Frank Bridges' idea for a professional football league in Texas?

The venerable mentor is now coaching high school ball somewhere in Arkansas.

High School Coach Johnny Dreibell left the B team in charge of his sides Saturday to sit in on the Shreiner-San Angelo JayCee game at San Angelo. Reason: His nephew, Preston Babb, was an important cog in the Shreiner machine.

Babb saw action as a flier in the last war, was forced down in Siberia and interned for a spell.

Fox, Druggists Gain On Hotel Team Monday

Fox Cafe cut into the Douglass Inkeepers' Classic Bowling league lead by swamping Texas Electric, 3-0, Monday evening at the West Texas Recreational Center while the Hostellers were losing, 2-1, to Nathan's Jewelers.

The Fox clan had things all its own way. G. G. Runyan compiled a 646 aggregate for a record while Al Cipriani wasn't far behind with 568.

High team total was also posted by the Cafemen. Their 2643 bested the Elmo Wasson brigade by 28 pins.

Runyan posted a 233 in one outing to beat D. Campbell of the TES troupe by eight points for that laurel. C. J. Staples of the Haberdashers rang up a 584 to finish in the runnerup spot for high aggregate.

Sports Writers Restore Cadets To Head Of List

NEW YORK, Oct. 15. (AP)—After only a week's absence, Army has returned to the head of the nation's football parade, and Texas has slipped into third place behind Notre Dame.

The country's sports writers, balloting in the Associated Press weekly poll, were quick to restore Red Blaik's Black Knights, on the basis of their 20-13 victory over Michigan.

Sixty-three of 139 writers put the Cadets back at the head of the class.

Based on a point-scoring system of 10 points for a first-place ballot, nine for a second, eight for a third, and so on, Army collected 1,267 points.

The Longhorns squeaked through over Oklahoma by the same score that Army did in beating Michigan. Army previously had defeated Oklahoma 21-7, and because of that game the Texas team had declared it aimed to make Army look bad by comparison.

The Longhorns were given 38 votes for the top spot, and while they drew more than Notre Dame's 31 for first place, the Irish paled up a huge second-place score—314 to 31 for Texas. Apparently Notre Dame's 49-6 trouncing of Purdue made a better impression on the voters than did Texas' decision over the Sooners.

In spite of their setback by Army, Michigan's Wolverines dropped only one notch in the ratings, from fourth last week to fifth.

Displacing Michigan at No. 4 position was University of California at Los Angeles, 26-6 victor over Stanford. The Bruins' third straight win got them five first-place ballots and all the writers contributed to a 763-point total for the Uclans.

Penn's Quakers, who have yet to encounter any bothersome competition, received a pair of first-

Chapman Insists Phils Will Point For 80 League Wins Next Season

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 15. (AP)—Ben Chapman has set a goal of 80 victories for his Philadelphia Phillies in the National League scramble next season.

"I set a goal of 65 wins this year," says Bearcat Ben, "and we ended up by winning 69. Next year, we're aiming at 80."

Chapman, once the fiery outfielder of the New York Yankees back in the days of "murderers' row," is as happy as a youngster with a new toy.

"To become a first-division club," Chapple says, "we've got to go out and get—through buying or trading—a shortstop, two outfielders, a catcher and three pitchers. However, I've said before that the Phillies will accept no canaries for turkeys in any trades, and that still goes."

"We have few men that other clubs want in trades, and it may be three years before our elaborate farm system catches up with us and begins to deliver some good players who are ready for the majors. Therefore, it looks like we will have to buy experienced men."

Wouldn't Leave
Chapman, who guided the Phillies to fifth place in the torrid National League race this year, declared he wouldn't leave his job as manager of the Phillies "for any job in baseball—not even for the New York Yankees."

"I have a good contract which runs through the 1948 season," Chapman reveals. "Owner Bob Carpenter is a regular fellow, and they don't come better than Herb Penneck."

"I am very fond of Carpenter. Why, we get along like brothers. Just before the National League season closed, Bob and I engaged in a foot race in front of his palatial home in Philadelphia. Both of us were in our street clothes, and we wanted to settle once and for all who was the fastest man. I won't say who won the race."

Has Free Hand
Chapman said he'd been given a free hand by Carpenter and Penneck to make any trades, sales or buys that he thinks will strengthen the club.

"The ground work for some of the deals we will make this winter already has been laid," he says, "and we may come through with something at the national baseball meeting in Los Angeles in December."

Chapman's first job as a baseball skipper was in 1942 as manager of the Richmond League. He also managed the 1944 Richmond team before being sold to the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Ben made a prediction before the start of last season that the Phillies would not finish in their usual spot in the National League cellar and that they wouldn't lose 100 games. He was right—both ways.

Weaver Advises Construction Of Reservoirs

By constructing livestock water dams and reservoirs, Howard county farmers and ranchers can obtain better use of their range and pasture areas, says M. Weaver, administrative officer of the county Agricultural Conservation association.

More water facilities permit livestock to graze wider areas more evenly. Weaver commented. Where there are too few watering places, some areas will be overgrazed.

Removal of cover caused by overgrazing also gives erosion a chance to get started. According to the AAA official, land without adequate grass to slow and stop water from running falls easy prey to the erosive effects of the water.

Land owners can enlist the help of the association in standing the expense of building the dams. The government rate will absorb ten cents of the cost per cubic yard removed up to 3,000 yards and eight cents a yard thereafter.

Last year in Howard county 39 such dams were constructed under the program. Already this year approximately 50 of these dams have been built. Farmers and ranchers who desire to use the practice should contact the county AAA office prior to starting construction.

CARS INTERRUPT SPOT'S DREAMS

"Spot" is a lethargic canine who obviously can't read. If he could, he'd know better than to court disaster by sleeping in the street. Some dogs have a phobia of getting anywhere near a thoroughfare and an onrushing vehicle usually sends them scurrying for cover. But not Spot.

He loves to sun himself squarely in the middle of Sixth street between Lancaster and Gregg and would prefer that the traffic be routed elsewhere. He has most of the motorists who drive that way oriented as to his habits and they ordinarily take pains to drive around him.

Spot's utter disregard for his own safety may send him to an early grave, however. A body who is so careless doesn't bat a thousand against such odds.

Ferguson Elected ETSC President

COMMERCE, Oct. 15. (AP)—Dr. Arthur C. Ferguson has been elected president of East Texas State College, succeeding the late Dr. Sam H. Whitley.

Dr. Ferguson, acting president since Dr. Whitley's death Oct. 2, was elected Saturday by the board of regents, Texas State Teachers College, at a Nacogdoches meeting.

A native of Stephenville, Dr. Ferguson is a graduate of what is now John Tarleton Agricultural College, and the University of Texas. Before joining the East Texas staff as dean of the faculty, he taught English in Temple high school and served as superintendent of the Marlin public schools.

Dr. Frank Young, head of the college's education department since 1936, has been named acting dean of the faculty.

Midland Man Held In Meat Violations

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 15. (AP)—A complaint charging S. L. Alexander, doing business as the A and M Packing Company at Midland, with "evanescent practices" in the sale of meat has been filed at Pecos, OPA officials have revealed.

Grady D. Hudson, head of the meat enforcement legal section of the Fort Worth OPA District Office and George G. Barnes, meat section criminal investigator, said three counts against Alexander were filed with the U. S. commissioner at Pecos, the counts alleging "side payments" totalling $199.24 on three meat sales in January, February and April.

Butts Voted HCJC President

J. Y. (Mickie) Butts was selected president of the Howard County Junior Couege student body government by a small margin of votes over Charles Wesley Deats in a run-off Monday.

Deats, by virtue of being second in the election, will serve the school as student vice-president.

In other offices Dorothy Brown defeated Bobbie June Bobb as secretary, and Evelyn Green was elected over P. D. Gage to the treasury post.

Color combination red and gray will be the official colors of the new school, having been overwhelmingly favored over blue and gold in the run-off.

The new officers will work with a student council, yet to be decided upon, under recommendations of the Student-Faculty Committee in charting the government.

Colleges Preferred For Surplus Goods

Texas schools and colleges will be given top preference and bargain prices in the purchase of surplus machine tools and classroom laboratory equipment for use in training veterans enrolled under the GI bill of rights, the War Assets Administration has announced.

WAA will sell to eligible educational buyers at a fraction of original cost-5 percent of the fair value (plus shipping charges). Electrical and woodworking machinery, heating equipment, electronic devices, furniture, optical instruments, engineering instruments and apparatus are among the items listed for sale.

Applications should be sent to the nearest Federal Works Agency, which, after screening and certification, will forward them to the WAA to be filled.
