

Roosevelt Names Ickes To Solve Oil Problems

Anti-Trust Action Veto Power Given Interior Secretary Will Study Needs Of Petroleum For Defense

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—Secretary Ickes was given the job today of solving gasoline and oil problems arising from the defense program, and the justice department immediately placed in his hands a potent weapon—the veto power over negotiations in anti-trust suits against 22 major oil companies.

Attorney General Jackson said in a statement that the suits would not be permitted to impede regulation of the oil industry by Ickes, and mentioned that negotiations were underway to reach an agreement with the oil companies on the anti-trust actions. Then, he added: "To avoid any conflict with the administrative program which may be established by the secretary of interior further negotiations in the pending proceedings will be submitted to him, to the end that national defense objectives of the new oil control shall be in no way impeded."

Although Ickes' appointment to be "petroleum for national defense" was only announced today in Hyde Park, N. Y., by President Roosevelt, it was learned that the interior secretary already had conferred with representatives of the oil industry.

Aides said he was arranging for conferences soon in Washington of all federal agencies dealing with oil, industry representatives, rail and water carriers and officials of oil producing states.

It was not clear exactly how extensive Ickes' powers were. President Roosevelt directed him to make "specific recommendations" for "action which is necessary or desirable" and cited these as problems for immediate action: 1. Development, production and utilization of reserves of crude oil and natural gas that are of

REVIEWING THE BIG SPRING WEEK BY JOE PICKLE

Seniors left no gift for the high school when they finished last week, but they did something far better than most classes before them. They gave their fund of $110 as an outright gift to the national defense effort. It's a mighty fine spirit for a group of young people just getting started out in this mess we've cooked up for them.

Our measure of pride in the appointment of Shine Phillips as a member of the state pharmaceutical board is dulled by having wronged him on his initials. Comes a card sector we referred to him as "E. J.," "Seems to be some misunderstanding as to my name. My name is Earl Grover Cleveland Phillips and no one blames me a bit for using "Shine." No, can't say that we do.

It was our misfortune to have missed the performance of "Pearly Gates," a religious musical presented by a local, all-negro cast. But those who did, have been giving it rave reviews. Even the normally conservative crowd way out on the limb and declare it to be one of the best amateur affairs ever presented in Big Spring. We hope it or something similar may be presented here again.

We are told by a friend of ours, and in no uncertain terms, that someone has been cutting flowers from family lots in the cemetery. See THE WEEK, Page 16, Col. 5

Leaders In Oil Industry Promise Full Cooperation

TULSA, Okla., May 31 (UP)—Statements from leaders indicated tonight that Secretary Ickes, the new petroleum coordinator for national defense, would have full cooperation from the $10,000,000,000 oil industry in the effort to adjust petroleum supplies to the nation's needs.

It was generally agreed that a transportation bottleneck caused by a recent transfer of oil tankers to Britain brought about the Ickes appointment. Oil men contend that the industry can supply any conceivable demand for its products, even in wartime.

"This is an emergency action," said Russell B. Brown, general counsel for the Independent Petroleum Association of America, "and is taken with the apparent intent of insuring that no friction or lack of coordination will be permitted to stop the flow of this important commodity to its most needed point of consumption." Oil leaders here privately expressed disappointment but withheld formal comment pending a study of what effect the appointment will have on the operation of the industry.

At Fort Worth, however, Charles F. Roesser, former president of the I.P.A., declared himself heartily in favor of the selection of Ickes for the job.

Dan W. Hovey, vice president of Republic Oil Refining company and president of the Gulf Coast Refiners association, said at Houston it is his personal opinion that the period of uncertainty that has been disrupting the industry is over and that the industry will cooperate wholeheartedly with defense.

P. C. Lauring, publisher of the Oil and Gas Journal, declared that Ickes was assured the full cooperation of the petroleum and natural gas industries.

'No Compromise' Says Strike Board

The defense mediation board adopted a "no compromise" stand yesterday (Saturday) in a fight to obtain acceptance of its recommendations by invoking President Roosevelt's proclamation of an unlimited national emergency.

A terse telegram signed by Philip Murray, president of the CIO and a board member, and C. A. Dykstra, board chairman, summoned leaders of a strike in the Pudget Sound area lumbering industry to a conference at Washington on Tuesday.

Board members declined to disclose what action would be taken, but Ralph T. Seward, executive secretary, asserted: "There is no chance in the world that the board will back down. It is standing on its telegram of May 28. There will be no compromise."

Senate Race Nears Hard Words Stage

Leading Candidates Turn On Full Steam For June 28 Votes

Substantial evidence that the senatorial campaign was approaching the bare-knuckles stage cropped up in weekend speeches by several top-flight candidates among the field of 29 aspiring to the seat left vacant by the death of Morris Sheppard.

With four weeks remaining before the June 28 special election, there was still plenty of time for name-calling. Thus far the campaign has joggled along on an extraordinarily high plane, virtually devoid of personalities.

Very few doubted that Governor W. Lee O'Daniel's intensive week of radio "pre-campaigning" prior to his first open-air rally at Waco Monday night, was in a large part responsible for these first mutterings.

Lyndon Johnson, speaking at Corsicana Friday night, referred directly to the governor.

"How many of you ever heard the governor say he'd fight for Roosevelt, before he asked to go to Washington?" he said at the Navarro county rally.

"Was the Texas governor the only democratic governor in all the United States who, not one time, but several times, refused to speak a word for Franklin D. Roosevelt when he was under attack last September?"

Gerald Mann drew in the governor and at least two of his opponents when he said at Greenville: "The office of congressman is a defense post. Those congressmen who are closest to and most trusted by the president should be at his side now...."

"The office of governor is at this time in a large degree a defense office. A week ago last Monday night the governor publicly enumerated the many functions he has performed in aiding the national defense program."

Martin Dies told a Waco audience he was for Roosevelt's aid to Britain and defense programs, adding: "But I don't agree with him 100 per cent on everything."

"The man you elect to the senate will go to the second highest place in the nation," he went on. "You wouldn't want a man in the senate who would say 'yes' to the president all the time, x x x"

"Many of you have sons in uniform. What would you think if the captain who led them was a man of no military experience, who depended on a hillbilly band to get his position?"

British Prepare To Defend Newest Eastern Front: Iraq

LIQUOR TAXES TO FLOW HERE DURING DAY

Several thousands of dollars to pay old age pensions will pour into the Big Spring office of the Texas liquor control board today.

Package store operators from the 14 wet counties of the Big Spring district and drug stores operators from all 26 counties of the district will be paying the money over the counter in exchange for fractional tax stamps representing the difference between the old levy of 96 cents per gallon of distilled spirits and the new tax of $1.38 per gallon.

Billy McIlroy, district supervisor, said that any store that opened for business Monday without the new stamps on every bottle of distilled spirits would be subject to prosecution. The new tax law is effective as of today, June 1, but package stores will not be doing business on Sunday.

It is not necessary for one to attempt to sell untaxed whiskey to violate the law. Possession of liquor not containing sufficient stamps will within itself be enough to secure convictions of liquor law violations.

Therefore, dealers in liquor are beating a path to the district office here today to buy the fractional stamps for all the spirits they have in stock. Henceforth, any liquor that they buy from drug wholesalers will be tax-paid in full, but that which they have on hand must have the difference made up.

The difference between the old tax and the new amounts to two cents on every half pint, four cents on the pint, or eight cents on the quart. So the dealers must buy 2, 4 and 8 cent stamps and attach these to the bottles along with the old stamps.

The district office here Saturday had on hand $22,000 in these small stamps. Since each liquor dealer has already reported the amount of stock he has on hand, it is felt that this amount is needed in the district.

McIlroy reminded operators of drug stores as well as package stores to secure the new stamps. This reminder went particularly to those drug store operators in dry counties who are likely to have comparatively large stocks.

The drug stores, meantime, must see that a prescription tax of 22 cents is paid on each bottle of distilled liquor sold. Stamps for this tax are obtained direct from the liquor board office in Austin.

Crete Gives Axis Vital Air Bases

The European-African-Middle Eastern conflict once again is a war in search of a battlefield. With the strange battle of Crete all over except for the German-Italian shouting the mop-up and Britain's formal acknowledgment of another great defeat, high strategists for both sides, it can be taken for granted, are looking around for the likeliest zone of offense and defense.

And Iraq, by all indications last night, appeared to be "it." The British imperial command knew that and it was an impelling factor in the speed (one month) with which British middle eastern forces cleaned up the Iraq war within-a-war before the axis could, or wished, to give all-out aid to the anti-British dictator-premier, Rashid Ali Al Gallani.

The British campaign in Iraq was capped yesterday by a plea for peace from a Baghdad committee which took the reins of the government upon the flight of Rashid Ali into neighboring Iran.

The British indicated that an armistice had been or would be promptly granted, even as a Palestine motorized force drove into the riot-ridden capital.

Two weeks ago the signs forecast a great German aerial incursion into Iraq, by way of neighboring French-mandated Syria. But the tricks of German warplanes and technicians remained just a trickle.

The latest report—from Cairo—was that these same warplanes were flying out of Iraq. For the last 12 days the Germans, and more recently the Italians, have been preoccupied with the conquest of Crete. In Iraq,

New car deliveries seized the spotlight in the May business picture here as postal receipts and building permits, other business barometers slid off.

Continuing a dizzy pace set earlier in the year and perhaps strengthening on under the stimulus of impending taxes and possible curtailed production and shorter amortization periods, passenger car registrations amounted to 150 here in May. Down from the year's peak of 144 in April, they were way up from the 87 machines delivered in May 1940. At the same time there were 30 new commercial registrations.

Postal receipts, having shown a substantial gain in April, sagged in May to $599,95. This was under the $6,254.99 in May of 1940 and the $7,628.33 for April of this year. Worst luck fell in the construction field where building permits took another slump after showing signs of revival last month. May permits totaled $18,828, off sadly from the $31,845 in April and the $20,565 in May of 1940. During the month there were only four residential permits and only two of these were of regular home size. Outright new construction—exclusive of additions—amounted to $6,300.

Winant May Take Papers To England

WASHINGTON, May 31 (UP)—An informed Washington opinion is that Ambassador John G. Winant's hurried visit to this country is not as much for the purpose of bringing information to President Roosevelt, as of carrying a highly important and secret information back to London.

The timing of his visit would suggest that such was the case. It follows immediately upon Mr. Roosevelt's Tuesday night speech, an address which stated American policy toward England and the vigor with which the American government would support the British in their fight against the Axis.

At a press conference the next day, the chief executive made it more than clear that he considers delivery for the assuring the safe delivery of American supplies to England a military matter of the most important character. When asked what he proposed to do, he told a reporter that that was what Adolf Hitler would most like to know.

Men Hurt In TP Explosion Improve

Three men injured in the explosion of a Texas and Pacific locomotive near Iatan Thursday were reported resting well at Big Spring hospital last night.

Jersey City Fire Sweeps Rail Yards

JERSEY CITY, May 31 (UP)—The U. S. coast guard said tonight that at 8:30 CST a spectacular fire in the Erie railroad yards on the Hudson river waterfront had been brought under control after sweeping through two grain elevators and causing heavy damage to a warehouse, railroad equipment and piers during its four-hour rampage.

A high official of the Erie who declined to be quoted by name said that a $2,000,000 estimate of damage to the elevators and grain would be "conservative" and indicated the total loss would exceed $2,500,000. At least two men were injured.

The coast guard said the fire was brought under control when it was confined to a section of the seven-story mid-Hudson warehouse. Police and railroad officials said the warehouse was filled with $25,000,000 worth of bone, creosote, alcohol, crude rubber and pulpwood.

Farmers Vote To Establish Wheat Quotas

WASHINGTON, May 31 (UP)—Early returns from a nationwide farmer referendum today gave a favorable margin for an agriculture department proposal to establish rigid marketing quotas on this year's wheat crop.

Incomplete returns from 34 of the 37 states in which polls were established gave 231,309 votes and 89,123 against quotas. This was a favorable margin of 73.2 per cent. Approval by two-thirds of the farmers voting was required.

The voting under provisions of the 1938 AAA farm law, was the first grower test of federal farm marketing control measures for a major crop produced principally outside the south. Quotas have already been voted for cotton and tobacco.

COLLEGE STATION, May 31 (UP)—Texans voted overwhelmingly today in favor of a department of agriculture proposal to establish marketing quotas on this year's wheat crop.

Results tonight from 96 of 132 counties showed 10,541 for and 833 against wheat quotas. Farmers of Gray county, a heavy wheat producer, voted 377 to 9 in favor of the plan.

Britain Strictly Rations Clothes

LONDON, May 31 (UP)—War-time rationing hit the wardrobes of all Britons today with the clamping down of severe restrictions on virtually every article of wearing apparel from neck to foot.

The secretly-planned and unexpected step, announced by the board of trade, a government department, applies to all apparel—except hats and infant clothing—and also to cloth, footwear and knitting wool.

Drug Stores Sell At Own Risk—Status Of Medicinal Whiskey Uncertain

Flow of hard liquor through Texas drug stores had an uncertain status today. Liquor control board officers have received orders from their state office to suspend enforcement of the new law controlling prescription sales of liquor. The order came after Bert Ford, liquor board administrators, had been served with a restraining order issued by Judge Max M. Rogers of the district court at Huntsville.

Hearing on the injunction suit for which the restraining order was issued, has been set for June 18.

Although the liquor agents are not enforcing the new law until the injunction suit has been decided, drug stores and physicians are handling liquor at their own risk.

Bill McIlroy, supervisor for the liquor board in the Big Spring district, pointed out Saturday that any violation of the law occurring while the suit is pending could be prosecuted after it is settled, provided the law is not ruled invalid.

The injunction in no way affects the additional tax of 22 cents on liquor prescriptions. Ford said. Neither does it affect the additional 22 cents per gallon tax levied against all distilled spirits, medicinal and otherwise, in the omnibus tax law.

Breaking The Food Blockade

LONDON, May 31 (AP)—Forty-eight tins of evaporated milk were found in each of three cases of machine tools from the United States received today by the ministry of supply and ordinance.

Attached to each case was this typewritten slip: "Employees of the Jones Machine Tool Works at Cincinnati send this box to employees where this machine is sent. The milk is intended for your children and has been sent without the knowledge of the purchasers of these tools or any agent connected with same."

Isabelle Messmer Goes To Prison

ODESSA, May 31 (UP)—Sheriff Bill Marrs said today he had removed Isabelle Messmer, convicted murderess, from the Ector county jail to a state prison.

The woman twice escaped from her cell here after being sentenced to three years for the March 31, 1938, slaying of Buford Armstrong, former House of David baseball player.

here, and his school never wanted for programs. Many schoolmen in this area looked upon it as a model Americanization unit.

Working with the Lions club, he organized a Boy Scout troop which touched around 115 boys during his time. Many of them have taken places of leadership in that part of the city. Hutto saw to it that they participated in scouting activities, walking miles with his boys because they were too poor to ride.

Time and again his boys took Court of Honor honors for attendance and advancement. Once the troop had a drum and bugle corps. In recognition of his work, the Lions club made him a guest member several years ago.

Hutto has been active as a deacon in the East Fourth Baptist church, as a Sunday school leader and an official in the church Brotherhood. As a historian, he authored a book named "Howard County in the Making," and wrote many other historical documents on this area, and his personalities. He was a member of the West Texas Historical Society. Hutto also had a publication of original poems.

John Doe, A Capra Creation, Brings Entertainment To The Ritz Theatre

Gary Cooper And Barbara Stanwyck In New Film

Termed by critics and public as the "mightiest masterpiece" yet to come from the mind of that ace director, Frank Capra, "Meet John Doe" comes to the Ritz theatre today and Monday.

Gary Cooper, who was a star in that other Capra smash, "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town," is starred, along with Barbara Stanwyck, while Walter Brennan and Edward Arnold have major roles. Capra is the man responsible for not only "Mr. Deeds," but also "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington," and the historic "It Happened One Night," and is given credit for having the common touch in developing themes of social import. He has been an Academy Award winner.

"Meet John Doe" tells, with humor and heart-warming drama, the story of a baseball player who, having suffered an arm ailment, is on his uppers. A girl newspaper columnist (Miss Stanwyck) conceives the idea of creating a mythical writer-of-letters-to-the-editor, signing the letters "John Doe." John Doe's views on things create such public interest that the crusading publisher of the newspaper demands that he be brought to life. By a coincidence, the baseball player is brought into the scene and finds himself—quite to his bewilderment—a national hero. He becomes the figurehead of all things wholesomely American, finds himself established as the leader of John Doe clubs.

Complications arise when the newspaper publisher, somewhat fascist-minded and with political ambitions, attempts to convert the John Doe followers to his own designs. The girl writer rebels, and enlists the support of John Doe himself, who is faced with ruin when his followers begin to see that they are deceived.

The story works up to an important climax which leaves a good taste in everybody's mouth, with public satisfied, with good old honesty triumphant, and with John Doe getting the girl. The story is told in down-to-earth manner to make it one of the more entertaining hits of the season.

Edward Arnold appears as the publisher. Brennan scores again as the homespun, philosophically wise pal of Cooper.

Big Spring Hospital Notes

Bernard Neville underwent major surgery Friday at the Big Spring hospital.

Mrs. C. E. Horland is receiving medical attention at the hospital. Billy Joplin, Midland, is undergoing medical treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Doe—Ten to one Barbara Stanwyck will be Mrs. John Doe by the time the picture ends. John Doe, you may know, is Gary Cooper, and the two are starred in one of the ace pictures of the season, Frank Capra's "Meet John Doe," a human story which has its laughs and its heart throbs. The picture is at the Ritz today and Monday.

Harold Lloyd Steps Out As A Producer

His First Try, 'A Girl, A Guy And A Gob,' At Lyric Today

Dealing with stormy romances of a pretty secretary, a young business executive and a rollicking sailor, Harold Lloyd's first production for RKO Radio, "A Girl, A Guy and a Gob," brings George Murphy, Lucille Ball and Edmond O'Brien to the Lyric theatre today and Monday in what promises to be a gay and laughter-packed vehicle.

The trouble begins at the opera where the guy—socialist Stephen Herrick—has a humiliating encounter with a strange young lady and her very eccentric family. The girl is Dot Duncan, who works at Herrick's big shipping firm, although neither is aware of the other's identity.

Their next meeting is in Stephen's office, when he promotes her to be his secretary. Thereafter through a series of hilarious incidents he comes to know and like the girl's screwball family, and her sailor sweetheart, the irrepressible but lovable Coffee Cup, who is giving up the Navy to marry Dot as soon as he accumulates a stake.

Sincerely loving both Dot and Coffee Cup, he endeavors to further their marriage, not realizing he is falling in love with the girl or that she's becoming interested in him. What happens when the girl has fallen for the guy makes for the uproarious climax of this swiftpaced comedy.

Lucille Ball as the vivacious Dot has one of her best film roles to date, and Murphy is ideally cast as the salty but generous gob. Edmond O'Brien, whose previous film appearance was as the romantic poet in "The Enochbuck of Notre Dame," is hailed as a real comedy find in the role of a stuffed shirt who likes his de-stuffing process.

Henry Travers as Stephen's elderly and sympathetic partner and Franklin Pangborn as an harassed pet-shop owner have featured roles, with other important parts handled by George Cleveland, Kathleen Howard, Marguerite Chapman, Mady Correll, Lloyd Corrigan, Frank McGlynn, Doodles Weaver and Rube Demarest.

Murder Conviction Entered At Midland

MIDLAND, May 31—W. P. Thurmond, Jr., officer for a Midland drilling company, was convicted late Friday afternoon on a charge of murder while in performance of a felony.

He was given two years in the state penitentiary by a 70th district court jury. The state charged that Thurmond, while intoxicated on Dec. 21, collided with a car in which Mr. and Mrs. James R. Hayes and 12-year-old son, Elmo, of Peecos were riding west of Midland. Hayes and son died of injuries received in the crash.

Thurmond, through his attorney, C. C. McDonald of Wichita Falls, entered a not guilty plea. District Attorney Martelle McDonald led the prosecution.

Liquor Revenues Show Big Gain

AUSTIN, May 31 (AP)—Liquor consumers poured $481,224 in taxes into the state treasury this month, an increase of $26,822 over May of last year.

Liquor Administrator Bert Ford said revenue has increased consistently every month this year. He reminded that the recent increase from 96 cents to $1.25 in the per gallon levy and the new impost of 22 cents on each liquor prescription becomes effective tomorrow.

Mid Smith Dies Here

James Middleton (Mid) Smith, 68, succumbed at his home at 809 Lancaster street here Friday night following a long illness.

He had been confined to his bed for a month.

Services were set for 5 p. m. Sunday at the Eberley chapel with Dr. J. O. Haymes, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiating.

Smith, a native of Mississippi, had made his home in Big Spring for the past 25 years. For nearly a quarter of a century he was employed by the T. & P. railroad as a trainman.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Beattie Lee Smith; two sons, William Walter Smith, Fort Clark (Del Rio) and Howard M. Smith, Big Spring; two daughters, Mrs. A. E. Herring, Laredo, and Vivian Smith, Big Spring; and one sister, Mrs. Vivian Swartz of Mississippi.

'Our Gang' Star In Ritz Stage Show

The Ritz theatre's program for this week is brightened with a stage show attraction for Tuesday and Wednesday, when Billy Barty, the diminutive rascal of Our Gang comedies, heads a troupe in a revue called "Rhythm In Youth."

The stage show is in addition to the regular screen program which features "I'll Wait for You" with Robert Sterling and Marsha Hunt, and the theatre's regular prices will prevail.

Barty will prove himself a master entertainer by singing, dancing, playing musical instruments and cracking jokes. On a stage tour, he recently has left Hollywood, where, besides appearing in numerous Our Gang comedies, he played in such pictures as "Over the Hill," "Footlight Parade," "Alice in Wonderland," "Nothing Sacred," "Midsummer Night's Dream," "Goldiggers" and others. He's a bundle of pep, despite the fact that he is only 47 inches tall and weighs only 61 pounds.

Along with Billy will be his musical sisters, Evelyn and Dolores; Audrey Dennison, specialty dancer; Robert Driscoll as master of ceremonies, and a line of dancing girls.

Aniline Dyes Plentiful
GENEVA, N. Y.—Aniline dyes, used on bacteria to make them more visible under microscopes, have been developed to a point where any emergency can be met, according to Dr. H. J. Conn of the state experiment station. Dr. Conn said the worker in American biological laboratories will not face the shortage of dyes as he did in the World War.

Meet Billy—You've seen him any number of times on the screen, chiefly in Our Gang comedies, now you can meet him in person. He's Billy Barty, the small-fry rascal, who heads a stage show at the Ritz Tuesday and Wednesday. Billy sings, dances, plays musical instruments and otherwise contributes to the revue which includes other specialty artists. The stage show will be in addition to the regular screen program.

Mort Farley thought he was saving money for his boss by using his own car on business errands around town. And he didn't try to stick the firm on his expense account, either. It was really fair.

But the boss called him into the inner sanctum. "Listen, Mort," he said, "we've found we save time and money by using taxi cabs for business trips. Hereafter, call a Yellow Cab."

Howard County Farmers Get Good Start On Bountiful Crop

Outlook Cheering For All Products

By RAY DAVIDSON
Farmers are well along the road toward producing 1941's multi-million dollar crop in Howard county.

Official May report of County Agent O. P. Griffin to the department of agriculture for statistical purposes is among the most optimistic filed in Howard county in the recent memory of man.

Griffin's report shows that 80 per cent of the cotton crop is up with a good stand, and the remaining 20 percent of the cotton land stands as good a chance of making a good crop as that which is already up.

"With subsoil moisture what it is, a late crop can be started as well now as earlier," he pointed out. "In fact, I'd about as soon have a crop planted in the next few days as one already up."

The county agent's report shows that the cotton crop is off to a 2-weeks earlier start than usual.

Some replanting has been made necessary by heavy rains, but only heavy downpours yet to come can cause permanent damage from washing.

Howard county will have 80,000 or more acres of cotton. The AAA allotment is 64,411, and farmers usually plant nearly the full allotment.

This area's second biggest money-maker among field crops, the grain sorghum family, is off to nearly as good a start as cotton has made.

The county agent calls it an 85 per cent crop in his May report, meaning that it is 85 per cent satisfactory. The grain sorghums are 75 per cent planted. Floods have caused some losses and some fields are weedy. Grain sorghums will cover a large part of the 57,800-acre general allotment fixed by AAA in Howard county.

Livestock are in fine fettle. Stock water and feed are plentiful, and all stock is in good condition. Many screw worms are appearing.

Pasture-land in the county is called 90 per cent satisfactory by Griffin. Weeds are choking back some grass.

Hay is graded at 85, with 50 per cent of the crop planted and this somewhat weedy. Wheat is graded at 95 per cent, with some deterioration from rust underway.

Fruit is 80 per cent satisfactory, with some thinning out having resulted from last year's heavy frost. Griffin points out that most fruit trees are neither too heavily or too lightly laden.

Subsoil moisture is the best in many years—at least in the last 10 years, the county agent said. He says many farmers tell him they can plant cotton next week and still make a good crop without another drop of rain.

Greatest hazard yet to be met is insects. The county agent fears heavy infestation of flea hoppers and leaf worms.

"The farmers in this county have learned to cope with worms pretty well, and I believe they will prevent any great losses to this insect," said Griffin. "The flea hopper is harder to control, because of his irregular habits. We need to be on the lookout for him and must act fast to stop damage from hoppers."

He said the year's second generation of flea hoppers is now on the weeds and that the next will take to the cotton. He said the infestation did not appear so great as that of 1936 but perhaps was as bad as that of 1937.

"With subsoil moisture what it is, a late crop can be started as well now as earlier," he pointed out. "In fact, I'd about as soon have a crop planted in the next few days as one already up."

New Colorado City Underpass Will Be Built

COLORADO CITY, May 31 (Sp) Work is to begin at once on an underpass at the east end of the Texas & Pacific Railway bridge over the Colorado river at Colorado City.

Announcement was made to this effect by Mayor J. A. Sadler following a conference between railroad officials and members of the city council. The city and railroad will share the expense of building a road under the bridge on the east bank of the river, above high water mark.

An engineer will be here to start work on the project Monday, Mayor Sadler said. The underpass is to be completed by the time the new highway 101 underpass and bridge to the east are opened. It affords a convenient crossing for employees of the oil mill and other concerns operating south of the railroad tracks.

Bismark Commander Had Visited Texas

(Herald Austin Bureau)
AUSTIN, May 31—The German admiral who commanded the Bismark was a captain in charge of a training ship six years ago when he visited Texas.

If you'll look in the journal of the Texas house of representatives for Monday, April 29, 1935, you'll find this note:

"Captain Guenther Ludjens, of the German cruiser Karlsruhe, appeared at the bar of the house, and being admitted, was escorted to the speaker's stand by Hon. Coke R. Stevenson and Messrs. Knatch, Jefferson, Smith and Cooper.

"Speaker Stevenson introduced Captain Ludjens, who addressed the house briefly."

The captain came to Austin from Houston where he and his cadets were entertained during their visit of several days.

Lyndon Johnson's Defense Policy Dovetails With That Of President

WASHINGTON, May 31—Washington political observers noted today the striking parallel between President Roosevelt's electrifying speech declaring a state of unlimited emergency and the program for national action recently announced by Lyndon Johnson in his campaign for the senate. In speaking at Fort Worth on May 23, Johnson called for a national program which in scope and in detail is strikingly similar to that which the president announced on Tuesday. Johnson asked specifically for an immediate declaration of a national emergency; for the protection of outlying bases from which aggressive nations could strike at us; and for certain delivery of war supplies to Great Britain.

In calling for a more concerted action on the part of this country, Johnson remarked: "If I had my way, I'd declare a national emergency immediately."

Johnson also called for stronger action to protect outlying bases from falling into enemy hands and thus threatening our life-line. He demanded the occupation of the strategic points of Iceland, the Azores, Dakar, the Cape Verde and Canary Islands, and the reinforcement of the British at Singapore.

President Roosevelt likewise emphasized the necessity of protecting these bases. The German threat, he said, extends "to the Atlantic fortress of Dakar, and to the island outposts of the New World—the Azores and the Cape Verde Islands." "The attack on the United States," said the president, "can begin with the domination of any base which menaces our security—north or south."

The third point of Johnson's program, that of insurance of the delivery of war supplies, was especially emphasized by the president. "The delivery of needed supplies to Britain is imperative," he said. "This can be done; it must be done; it will be done."

Ball Leagues May Cut Night Games

DALLAS, May 31 (AP)—The Texas and West Texas-New Mexico leagues would have to close down should night baseball be banned to conserve electric power, presidents of the two loops said today.

President J. Alvin Gardner of the Texas league said "we will do without question what the government decides is best for the country's defense, but if we cut out night ball the league will close the next day."

Milton Price, head of the West Texas-New Mexico league, took the same view.

60 Percent Of Sheep In Area Are Sheared

GARDEN CITY, May 31—Sheepmen, rushing to get in their spring clip, have finished with about 60 per cent of the shearing of well over 100,000 sheep in Glasscock county, it was estimated today.

While shearing has been returning substantially lighter clips than last year, it has been a boon to control of worms, particularly among untagged sheep.

Lighter clips, some of them from one to two pounds down, were attributed to the unusual amount of damp weather which has kept down sandstorms and made wool much cleaner.

Sales have been higher on the pound, but many ranchers contracting at 35 cents reported their net was barely below that of last year. Some getting 40 cent offers were squalling last year's net, according to reports.

With ranges generally in good shape, sheep owners had hopes of even more profitable returns on the next clip.

Polo Team To Tackle Lamesa

Forced into idleness by horse shows, weather and other things, Big Spring poloists were ready to get back into action today against the Lamesa Blacks at 8 p. m. on the Lamesa field.

The game was arranged Saturday after a scheduled tilt with the Dalhart riders before a horse show crowd in Plainview. Dalhart players were unable to make the trip.

Riding for the Big Spring All-Stars this afternoon will be Dr. M. H. Bennett at No. 1, Lewis Rib at No. 2, Gus White, Jr. (borrowed from Lamesa) at No. 3, and Lloyd Wasson at No. 4.

Against these the Blacks were to send out Lynn Parkinson at No. 1, Elmo Smith at No. 2, Bryan

Fullerton at No. 3 and Bill Boyd at No. 4.

Although absent from actual competition for several weeks, the Big Spring aggregation has been getting in some good practice for the past two weeks. However, they are facing a rough-riding crew in the Blacks.

Mr. and Mrs. George Melear left Sunday morning for El Paso for a vacation trip. They were accompanied by Mrs. J. B. Pickle who will visit with her daughter, Mrs. Bishop Bailey, before Mrs. Bailey and children return here with her soon.

The Rev. Robert Bowden returned his son, Donald Bowden, from Brownwood Saturday. Donald has just finished his freshman year at Daniel Baker college.

Wildcat Near Colorado City Hits Trouble

Encountering of air and inflammable gas at 660 feet in the Lockhart, Dockrey & Robbins, Willbanks Bros. No. 1 Cora Hoyt Brown wildcat six miles west of Colorado City highlighted oil developments in this area during the past week.

Force of the air and gas blew tools up the hole and the collar flooring off. Saturday the test, located 990 feet from the north and 487 feet from the east line of section 43-37, A&P, was drilling 900 feet and was preparing to run the 40-inch string at 1,200 below water due around 1,000 feet. A rank wildcat, it is southeast of the old Westbrook pool, which is nearly 21 years old.

In the Dockrey & Robbins pool of northwest Mitchell county, the F. W. Merrick No. 1 Mills, in the southwest corner of the G. L. McGinnis survey subdivision 18, was estimated to be heading 300 barrels daily through eight inch casing following a 480-quart shot to 1,740 feet earlier in the week. It is a mile due south from the Echols & Fantress No. 1-B Crawford which a week ago tested 450 barrels on test, one of the largest wells in the shallow pool.

Merrick also was moving in on his No. 1 Crawford, 900 feet from the east and 2,310 feet from the south line of subdivision 11, Reiger, L. L. Walker No. 1 Badgett, 300 feet from the north and east line of section 51-97, H&TC, was drilling below 1,000 feet.

In the same area, Hubbs Bros. No. 1 B. W. Jackson, 330 feet from the north and 2,310 feet from the west line of section 43-97, H&TC, was below 1,400 feet after encountering around 300 pounds pressure of air between 1,100 and 1,300 feet. Guy Anderson, 2,310 feet from the south and east line of section 43-97, H&TC, drilled past 300 feet.

E.R.S. Oil Co. No. 4 Chapman estate, 320 feet from the west and 2,210 feet from the south line of section 105-97, H&TC, was down to 1,400 feet, also having encountered around 300 pounds air pressure up the hole.

In other areas standouts included showing of oil and gas from the Ellenburger in the Gulf No. 33 Waddell, a quarter-mile southeast outpost to the pool opener or 4-3 miles southwest of the extension to the South Sand Hills crevice pool in Western Crans county. It cored ahead to 5,632 feet. Completion of the Rhodes, et al No. 1 Carrie Slaughter Dean in Cochran county for 246.01 barrels opened a new pool—the Rhodes. The Texas No. 1 B. T. Murphy, northwestern Terry county wildcat, topped solid lime at 4,530 feet. Maschell No. 1 M. M. Fisher, northwestern Andrews county wildcat southeast of Shafter lake, showed oil from 4,142-44 and gas from 4,162-78 feet before drilling past 4,373 feet in gray lime.

DE-LUXE SERVICE

GET OUR COOLING SYSTEM SERVICE SPECIAL BEFORE YOU GO!

Failure of a cooling system can damage a motor as quickly as lack of oil. If you have a flat tire, you usually have a spare. If you miss a lubrication, you can still drive. But a clogged radiator generally means loss of time, temper and expensive repairs... Today, Cooling System Service is just as essential as proper lubrication. It should be a definite twice-a-year operation. For this reason, we urge the complete service listed below. Simply draining and flushing is not enough.

- (1) Cooling system cleaned with recommended cleaner to remove grease, corrosion and rust scale.
- (2) Water Pumps checked for leakage and possible air suction. Air sucked into system may increase rust and corrosion as much as 30 times.
- (3) Fan-belt Checked. A good fan belt is essential to cooling system performance.
- (4) Loose connection checked and tightened.
- (5) Thermostats and heat indicator checked. Thermostats control water circulation, must function properly to avoid overheating.
- (6) Cylinder head tightened and checked for leakage.
- (7) Clean radiator core and grill, and check entire system for leakage.

Presbyterian Pastor Will Speak Today

The Rev. O. L. Savage today will deliver his first sermons from the First Presbyterian pulpit as pastor of that church.

He comes here from Mart, Tex., succeeding the late Dr. D. F. McConnell. The Rev. Savage will speak first at the 11 a. m. hour and again at 8 p. m. He spoke here once before, about a month ago, but this will be his first message as pastor.

At the First Methodist church Dr. J. O. Haymes, pastor, speaks on "What God Requires of Us" at the morning hour when Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Keaton and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Lamun sing "Song of Faith." In the evening Dr. Haymes will speak on "Facing Temptations," a special message to Methodist high school graduates. After the service there will be a reception for young people. Rupert Phillips will give the evening special.

The Rev. Robert E. Bowden, pastor of the Main Street Church of God, is closing out a revival meeting at Brown community in Martin county where good crowds have greeted him. Folks from the Knott community have joined in by furnishing special music on occasions. Thursday the Rev. Bowden will take a delegation to the West Texas district Young Peoples meeting at Sweetwater. He is a member of the program committee which developed the theme of "Spirituality, America's No. 1 Defense Line." Big Spring, he said, would ask that the third annual district meeting be held here.

Auxiliary members of the First Presbyterian church will meet at 9:30 a. m. Monday to sew for the Red Cross. There will be a covered dish lunch served at noon and regular monthly business session is set for 3:15 p. m.

Waco Airport Contracts Let

GALVESTON, May 31 (AP)—Bids for construction work at the Waco municipal airport and for lighting installation at the Austin and Galveston municipal airports were opened this morning at the office of the district army engineer here.

On the largest project, the Waco airport construction work, the lowest of eight bidders was L. F. Reed of Meridian, Tex., who proposed to do the work for $154,745.75. The government estimate on the project was $226,768.01.

Pastor—The Rev. Roy Clayton, pastor of the First Baptist church at Ackerly, feels at home in this territory, for he started his ministerial career in these parts. Surrendering to preach in the First Baptist church here, he preached his first sermon at Chalk, the community which bears the name of the man who helped him get his education. Although of a different denomination, the late Mr. Chalk and his wife helped Rev. Clayton in many ways. Since becoming pastor at Ackerly in November, Rev. Clayton has reported 25 additions and last week his church organized a Brotherhood unit. Membership of the church is third in the Big Spring association and the church has raised $300 for special causes above the budget. Currently he has a radio Sunday school lesson over KBST at 9:30 a. m. on Saturday. (Forum Studio).

Thanks—Such is the message of Finis Bugg, chairman of the West Side church finance committee, to those who have joined in helping the membership get into the new church plant. Many outside the church have responded with donations and labor, enabling work to go forward on night and day shifts. The congregation is now in the church, but it is far from finished and further help will be welcomed. His expressed appreciation to all who have assisted in the work.

Bible Schools Are Scheduled

This week will witness the beginning of Vacation Bible schools in Big Spring.

Leading off with the program will be the St. Thomas Catholic church. Plans call for a meeting after the 8:30 a. m. mass today so that children may register for the school which begins Monday.

On another front, at least three churches are starting simultaneous schools a week later. Working together on a concerted program, the First Methodist, East Fourth Baptist and First Baptist churches will hold registration of students at 1 p. m. Saturday, followed by big parade through the downtown sector. Actual opening of the schools is set for 8:30 a. m. on June 9.

Most schools will feature about two and a half hours of study and activity in such fields as hand work, flag respects and ceremonies, Bible study, arts and crafts, and singing. Many will be climaxed by picnics.

It is possible that other churches will join in the simultaneous effort, pastors said. In churches of Howard and surrounding counties programs are due to start early in the month.

Barkeley Soldiers Get Million Bucks

ABILENE, May 31 (AP)—Today was a million dollar pay day for some 20,000 soldiers at Camp Barkeley, and it was "army day" at Abilene as the soldiers celebrated full pokes.

The camp's 6,000 selectees—all of whom have completed their basic training and receive an estimated average $40 per month—shared $700,000 with other enlisted personnel.

The 1,000 officers of the 45th division and eighth corps area command received some $300,000.

Model 'Texan' Home Is Open For Inspection This Week

Unit One Of Many Shown Over State

Modern features designed for comfortable living, yet carrying the assets of economy and utility, are incorporated into the model "Texan" home which will be open to the public for the week beginning today.

The home has been constructed at 709 West 17th street, in the Park Hill addition, by the Wm. Cameron company, as one of many such homes to be shown during the observance of Texas Home Building Week. Planned from the start as an example of what FHA financing can do for the would-be small home owner, the Texan home is one of those whose payments compare with ordinary rental.

Completely finished and furnished, the home will be open for public inspection each afternoon and evening—today through Saturday—from 1:30 to 8:30 p. m. There is no fee, and a general invitation is issued for all to see the structure.

Exhibit Houses Open Throughout State During Home Building Week

Observance of Texas Home Building Week begins today over a state-wide front while in more than 160 cities and towns, thousands of prospective home owners are inspecting the scores of new exhibit homes which are designed to demonstrate the building industry's skill in producing attractive low cost housing for a dollar a day.

The event, proclaimed by the governor of Texas weeks ago and carried through under the joint auspices of the Texas building industry and the Federal Housing Administration, marks the first coordinated effort to develop the state's largest home buying market.

The Texas exhibit homes, individually known as "The Texan—The Home Built for Texans" will be formally opened this afternoon in a brief radio talk over a state-wide group of stations by Lawson M. Watts, deputy federal housing administrator, who flew to Texas from Washington yesterday for the occasion.

Considerable significance is attached to this week's activities in Texas, largely because they represent a new approach to the production of homes for the largest group of potential home buyers.

While similar plans have been discussed in other states, during the past year, this will be the first time the component parts of the state's building industry, the FHA and private capital have joined in a common effort on so large a scale.

storage room in the attached garage, the house is designed and built for comfortable living.

Living And Dining Room

The living room is papered in light green wall paper and features a white fireplace flanked with white bookshelves. Conserving space for other uses, the front room telescopes the living room and dining room. An alcove that forms the dining room has corner shelves on either side of a window. The walls of the alcove are papered in darker green paper than the rest of the room to give the effect of two rooms in one.

Opening from the alcove is the kitchen done in red and white with bright wall paper. Here the utility of space makes it possible for the housewife to wash her dishes in a waist-high sink, watch the range, and reach the refrigerator with no waste of steps. Extra cabinet space is provided around the kitchen and one closet hides the water heater and also makes a broom closet.

Fully Assembled Window Units Sold By Texas Firm

WACO, May 31—A new, completely assembled window unit designed especially for low-cost, small homes is announced by Ideal company, of Waco, largest soft woodwork manufacturing establishment in the south. The name chosen for this new building product is "Ideal All-Weather Window Unit." This name was selected because the entire unit was designed to give adequate protection against all weather hazards during all seasons of the year.

Created in the products design department of the Ideal factory, pre-tested under various conditions, and offered to the public for the first time this spring, the new Ideal All-Weather window unit is creating a sensation wherever it is shown.

This window unit is precision-manufactured and completely assembled at the factory. It includes frame, sash, glass, weatherstrip and sash balances.

Welding Class Work Praised By T. S. E. S.

High commendation for the work done in welding classes—being conducted at the high school as a part of the local system's cooperation with the state department in the defense training program—has come from O. R. Rodden, local manager of the Texas State Employment Service. Rodden recently made an inspection of two welding classes, and subsequently wrote Edmund Notestine, school business manager, that he found "everything extra-okeh."

There are at present 92 enrolled in the night classes for adults, being taught by Roy Lassiter, J. A. Magee and U. W. Hageman. In another division for out-of-school youths, 33 are taking the work under direction of L. M. Gary, and two classes for NYA youths, with 45 students, are instructed by E. R. Bumpass.

Notestine said that organization of another class for out-of-school youth and another in conjunction with WPA for those between the ages of 18 and 35 are being considered.

Rodden's letter stated in part: "Interest of the students in their work was noted especially, and was found to be very good. I was clated over the progress the instructors have made in such a short time. I found the shop unusually clean."

"We should be able to, and will, refer these boys to defense industries when this school is completed. After a check-up of our files, and after talking to Mr. Ward, field supervisor, I am of the opinion that welders will be needed as much or more so than any one skilled occupation. We could add to, or start another class in arc welding, should you desire to do so."

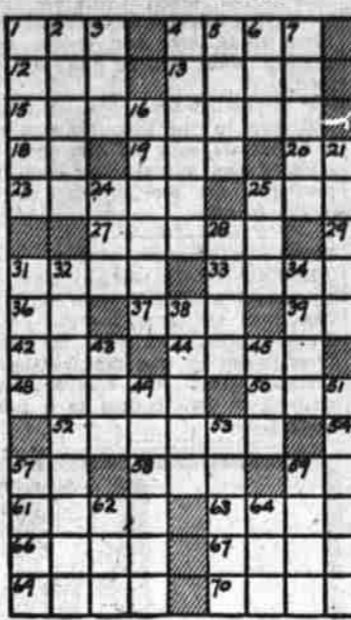

"At this time we have calls for machinists, production managers in ammunition factories. We are in need of teachers in vocational training in sheet metal shop work, airplane motor mechanics, molding, loftmen, marine drafting, and structural steel layout men."

Texan Home Has Latest In Furniture

Persons viewing the Cameron-built "Texan" home at 709 W. 17th street this week will see the place completely furnished and ready for immediate occupancy.

The Barrow Furniture company is cooperating with the builders in furnishing the home for display purposes, and an attractive, yet inexpensive, decoration has been arranged.

The living room features a matched assortment of furnishings, with a Chippendale sofa with wine colored damask covering; a wing chair in beige, wains and blue tapestry; blue lounge chair; and rug, wall pictures, mirrors, a desk and decorative whatnots to harmonize.

One of the home's bedrooms is furnished in mahogany of 18th century design, and the other is done in modern fashion with a streamlined suite in bleached mahogany.

The breakfast room suite is an eye-catching ensemble of bleached maple.

A balanced program of color harmony was followed by Barrow decorators throughout the house, and each room is furnished with pictures to harmonize with the colorings of the rugs and furniture.

The public is invited by Barrow's to examine the furnishings as the house is inspected.

Company Lauded For Fine Record In Defense Work

WACO, May 31—High praise for the part Ideal company of Waco is playing in the national defense preparedness program is given in the current issue of the "U. S. Army Speedometer," official monthly military magazine published at Fort Sam Houston with Major E. L. Maloney as editor. Credit for unusual cooperation and speed in producing and delivering important defense materials was given this company.

"These remarkable production and delivery achievements of Ideal company typify the whole-hearted cooperation that American industry has given and is giving to American defense preparations," the magazine reported. "In the Ideal factory, many employees, both in the plant and in the office, uncomplainingly worked long hours overtime during a number of weeks in order that these defense building materials might be delivered on time without causing any delay in progress at the various camps and forts."

The above comment referred to the supplying of materials by Ideal to Camp Berkeley, Camp Wolters, Camp Bowie, Fort Sam Houston, Fort Sill, Camp Claiborne, Camp Polk and other defense projects.

Soldiers Fire With Light Beams

EL PASO—Tiny beams of light are being "drafted" for service in America's national defense program and Ft. Bliss soldiers practice firing artificial sunlight at a moving target range designed by Major O. E. Carleton. Pinch hitting for ammunition, the beams give soldiers familiarity with the technique of aiming and firing a machine gun.

Col-Tex To Make Aviation Gasolines

COLORADO CITY, May 31 (Sp)—Still holding its place as a pioneer in the oil refining industry of West Texas, the Col-Tex refinery at Colorado City recently became the first West Texas refinery to make aviation gasoline to meet urgent needs in the rapidly expanding national defense program.

This is another "first" for the Col-Tex, which began operation 17 years ago this summer as the first West Texas refinery to process West Texas crude. Its founders were L. H. Fritchard and J. Steve Anderson, president and vice president respectively of the Anderson-Fritchard Oil corporation of Oklahoma City.

Crude for the refinery is obtained from the Iatan-East Howard, Westbrook, Chalk, Sharon Ridge, and Dockery & Robbins fields.

Martin-Howard Soil District Gets Off To Excellent Start

It is doubtful that any soil district in the United States ever gotten off to a better start than the Martin-Howard district.

In Howard county alone, applications have been made to the district's board of supervisors for technical assistance by 45 farmers and ranchers, covering 3,329 acres of cropland and 12,981 acres of range land and farm pastures.

Nearly all these applications have been made in watershed groups, in which work can be most effectively done. These have been made in only about a month's time.

Bar-X Sheep Yield 80,000 Pounds Wool

STANTON, May 31 (Sp)—Earl Powell has finished having 5,000 head of sheep sheared on his Bar X ranch north of Stanton, and the total poundage of wool will approximate 80,000 pounds.

Powell said the wool was of better quality this year because of rains washing dirt out of wool before shearing. This resulted in the weight of the wool averaging some three pounds lighter to the head than in the past when the weather was very dry and dusty before and up to the time the shearing season opened.

The Powell wool was consigned to the wool storage plant at Rankin operated for the first time last year, and in which Powell owns stock. He stated Friday that the Rankin warehouse had approximately a million pounds of this year's wool up to this time in storage.

Mrs. W. H. Cox and daughters, Monnette, Jane Ann, Mrs. Huskey and daughter, Betty Lou, left Friday morning for Dalby, Red River county to attend an annual reunion of relatives. Miss Rose Ellen Gibson accompanied them as far as Dallas, where she will visit relatives.

Mrs. Dale Kelly has received word from her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Sanders at Carlsbad, N. M., that they weathered the late flood with minor damage to their tourist camp. They had just completed four new houses for the camp and these were moved from their foundations but with no serious damage.

Rev. A. A. Kendall, pastor of the First Methodist church, stated this week he had married many couples, sitting in automobiles and buggies, but he experienced his first time marrying a couple on the lawn of his home. The couple marrying were M. F. Kull and Miss Lucille Woodul, both of Big Spring. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. McKee of Big Spring.

The largest of these groups is in the northwest sector of the county, lying between Soash and Knott, and includes 26 farms which have made application and lack only two or three farms encompassing the entire watershed.

Near the east side of the county is another group of six farms. With addition of two more farms, these will fill an entire watershed area.

A watershed in the north central part of the county is complete with four farms and ranches. The remaining applications are in the Luther area north of Big Spring. Work there has only recently started and it is thought the watershed will be covered before the end of June.

Preliminary surveys have been completed in the Knott-Soash watershed. To explain the methods to be followed in planning soil and water conservation on each farm in the area, a group of three meetings have been called Tuesday.

Farmers north of Soash will meet at the Soash school at 8 a. m. Tuesday; those in the watershed from Soash south halfway to Knott will meet at 1 p. m., and those from that point to Knott will meet at the Garner school at 8 p. m.

County Agent O. P. Griffin and Dudley T. Mann, who is in charge of the local soil conservation office, will conduct the meetings. Each will last only one hour.

Conservation Of Rubber May Be Necessary

AKRON, Ohio, May 31.—In a letter to Goodyear dealers all over America, P. W. Litchfield, chairman of the tire company's board, has called upon the rubber industry to inaugurate a program which will free additional ships for the use of Great Britain and conserve available supplies of rubber for essential purposes. His letter follows: "While not actually at war, America is proceeding quite rapidly to place her internal affairs on a real war footing. This means sharp readjustments in all phases of domestic activities. Particularly important will be the adjustments we must make in the use of strategic materials and facilities and, of course, this includes rubber. "We have in this country today what amounts to a normal six months supply of rubber. Half of this is in the hands of manufacturers and dealers while the other half is government-owned and subject to use only as national emergency needs may dictate. "Our major source of supply lies half way around the globe where plantations of the British and Dutch East Indies produce approximately 95 per cent of all of the rubber required by the whole world. "Currently these estates are producing rubber in sufficient quantity to meet all possible requirements. And, as this is written, rubber is being received in America in greater quantity than our rate of consumption. "Production of crude rubber is not so wand is not likely to be a problem—the problem which we will be called upon to face in the very near future is that of getting the rubber from the East Indies to America. "We need not look beyond today's newspapers to learn that the shipping situation is complicated by two major factors: "First, British ships are being destroyed by submarines and raiders more rapidly than they are being replaced; second, to replace British losses and to meet the need for almost unlimited quantities of munitions and food, England must import all manner of essential goods in larger quantity than ever before. "This means that more and more ships must be taken out of normal service and utilized for vital defense needs. The impact of this stern lot will make itself felt far into the patterns of our normal way of life. "For example, if some of the bottoms now used in transporting rubber to America can be released for Britain's pressing requirements, they undoubtedly will be so transferred. "This in turn will mean that non-essential uses of rubber here at home will be sharply curtailed or completely stopped. If a white sidewall tire requires an additional two pounds of rubber as compared with a standard black tire, and it actually does, then the white sidewall may be spotted as one of the things the American public can do without. If a net saving in rubber can be accomplished through the process of recapping used tires, then the practice of recapping may be forced into much wider use. "If American motorists can gain substantial additional mileage from their tires by reducing the speed at which they travel, and they can, then the public may have to be educated to travel at a slower rate. "If the function of any one of a thousand rubber gadgets can be performed with reasonable satisfaction by a substitute, then the public may be required to use the substitute. "These are just a few simple examples. But they convey the idea of what may come.

Canadian Writer Tells— Why Canada Is British, Yet American

By LESLIE ROBERTS
Man being an unpredictable animal, the average Canadian is a fellow who is Americanized in his ways, but who insists on being British in his sentiment and loyalty. He has more in common with his neighbors than with his relations beyond the seas and, generally speaking, enjoys the company of the former more than that of the latter. He regards Europe and the Old World as a madhouse and wants no part of it. He is not even sure that England is always without guile. During the days of Appeasement many of him were convinced that Democracy was being sold down the river with the help of Britain's leaders. But American-minded though he may be between wars, once Britain is in trouble he becomes more British than the King. In short, the average Canadian is ruled by his heart rather than by his head, by his emotions rather than by his reason. The complaint is not peculiar to Canadians. Their American neighbors are equally susceptible, as are any unregimented people. The condition is of the essence of Democracy and it should be encouraged, not viewed with alarm. If it were binding upon the Canadian to remain within the British Empire it is entirely likely he would have quit the association long ago. But since he is free to abandon the tie whenever he likes, he could not be persuaded to do so at the point of a gun, as recent events have proved, and not for the first time. When a Canadian is described as a Britisher, however, the term does not imply that he is trying to better break the tie which he has had from anyone else during the years in which the Dominion's destiny has been taking shape. He is an American-minded man, this Canadian, for two principal reasons: first, because Britain has given him every assistance, wittingly and unwittingly, to become one and, second, because the impact of more than 130,000,000 people upon 11,000,000 is irresistible. It has only been during the period since the last war that Canada has forsaken national shorts and taken to long. During the interval the Dominion has moved from the position of a respected employee, related to the boss, into a position of full partnership in the firm of Britain, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and Company and manager of a branch so important that conceivably it might some day become Head Office of the corporation. Yet he could pull out of the partnership at any time, taking his share of the business with him. In reaching this eminent position numerous things have happened which endear the Britisher to the Canadian. Step by step his control over his own affairs has increased, without opposition from Britain. Canada announced its desire to negotiate its own international treaties. Fine. Then Canada wanted to appoint its own ambassadors abroad. By all means. Thus, step by step, the country's right to stand on its own feet grew, until the full stature of nationhood was formally recorded in the Statute of Westminster in 1931, declaring the British Dominions free nations of equal status in a partnership to which they subscribe of their own free will. This equality of status was not reached over any British statesman's dead body. Instead, as each saw occasion for extending the scope of self-determination arose, London's policy was not "what can be done to stop it?" but "find out what they want and give it. They know their own minds and problems better than we do." It is easy to forgive the mistakes of friends such as these. Through it all Britain has encouraged Canada's increasingly closer relationship with Uncle Sam, realizing, it would seem, that ties cannot be brushed back with brooms. Today Canada is consulted at every important juncture on the highway of Anglo-American comity, because Britain realizes that Canadians understand Americans infinitely better than Englishmen do. As an example, when war came this time and Britain entered the American market-places in search of arms, London asked two Canadian business leaders, A. B. Purvis, leading industrialist, and Morris W. Wilson, banker, to be her principal representatives in the acquisition of supplies. In the realm of international negotiation Canada has become the bridge between Washington and London, a status which could not exist if Uncle Sam's northern neighbor remained a junior member of the Empire. The impact of American culture upon Canada is tremendous. It begins in every Canadian home which houses a radio capable of bringing in the assorted sounds which originate on the great American networks. It runs through every Canadian newspaper carrying telegraph and cable news and with the tidal wave of American magazines which floods Canada's mails and newsstands every week and month. It overwhelms the Canadian eye and ear whenever the citizen passes the box office of a movie theater. How could it be otherwise? The impact continues through the business world. A great part of the companies which flood the Canadian market with their goods are subsidiaries of great American corporations and Canadian business runs on American lines, not English. Canadian men may like English materials, but they want American cut to their clothes. Canadian women curtsy to the American magazines for their ideas on style with which to charm the male eye and make other women envious. Canadian universities are patterned on American lines, not English. Canadians like ice-cubes in their liquor, not lukewarm soda water. Canadians like baseball and want no part of cricket. Habits and customs, business methods and ethics, modes of thought and speech in Canada are entirely American, and they will continue to be. But with this American outlook goes a feeling of kinship for Britain which is unshakable, no matter how exasperated the Canadian may be with the Englishman on occasion. The war apart, the Canadian viewpoint may be summed up in these terms: The United States is Canada's closest friend. They see each other every day. They do business together. They consult each other about their problems. Each knows he can count on the other in a pinch. In their leisure hours they visit each other's homes. Their wives get along splendidly. So do the youngsters. The Canadian may be apt to ape his wealthy neighbor and sometimes is jealous of him and impatient with him, but he likes him for his good qualities and his ready friendliness, for their similarity in tastes and manners. Britain, on the other hand, is a friend of another sort. There is a blood tie, yet brothers often quarrel and part. There is mutual interest in the family business; even so, many relations who are partners in a family business want no part of each other once the day's work is done. There is more to it than that. Canada knows this elder partner who has made the partnership an even-Stephen affair probably needn't have given the arrangement so quickly or so completely. Hence he respects and trusts him, no matter what an old slow-poke he may have considered him now and then. A man may not see his relations as often as he does the next-door neighbor who is his closest friend and business associate, but that friendship does not lessen his affection for the relation who has been scrupulously fair in all his dealings, who leans over backwards to give his cousins an even break and better. That is why Canada is British as well as American. In the light of the record how could she be otherwise? (This is the third of a series of articles on Canada by Mr. Roberts written especially for this paper. The fourth will appear next Sunday.)

Markets' Summer Schedule Begins

NEW YORK, May 31 (AP)—The various commodities exchanges began their summer "Saturday closing" schedules today. The New York metals market will be closed on Saturdays during June, July, August and September. While no announcement has been made by the wool futures exchange, it is generally believed that Saturday holidays will be observed through July and August. The Cotton exchange will function as usual for the half-day sessions.

Maneuvers Start Near Rising Star

BROWNWOOD, May 31 (AP)—Headquarters and communications units of the 36th division will move to Rising Star tomorrow afternoon to prepare for the two weeks' eighth army corps post and field exercises which start Monday. Seventy thousand troops from Colorado, Arizona, Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma will participate in controlled maneuvers which will sprawl parts of the 2nd, 36th and 45th divisions over an especially leased 500,000 acres.

"Production of crude rubber is not so wand is not likely to be a problem—the problem which we will be called upon to face in the very near future is that of getting the rubber from the East Indies to America. "We need not look beyond today's newspapers to learn that the shipping situation is complicated by two major factors: "First, British ships are being destroyed by submarines and raiders more rapidly than they are being replaced; second, to replace British losses and to meet the need for almost unlimited quantities of munitions and food, England must import all manner of essential goods in larger quantity than ever before. "This means that more and more ships must be taken out of normal service and utilized for vital defense needs. The impact of this stern lot will make itself felt far into the patterns of our normal way of life. "For example, if some of the bottoms now used in transporting rubber to America can be released for Britain's pressing requirements, they undoubtedly will be so transferred. "This in turn will mean that non-essential uses of rubber here at home will be sharply curtailed or completely stopped. If a white sidewall tire requires an additional two pounds of rubber as compared with a standard black tire, and it actually does, then the white sidewall may be spotted as one of the things the American public can do without. If a net saving in rubber can be accomplished through the process of recapping used tires, then the practice of recapping may be forced into much wider use. "If American motorists can gain substantial additional mileage from their tires by reducing the speed at which they travel, and they can, then the public may have to be educated to travel at a slower rate. "If the function of any one of a thousand rubber gadgets can be performed with reasonable satisfaction by a substitute, then the public may be required to use the substitute. "These are just a few simple examples. But they convey the idea of what may come.

Bombers Lose Loop Lead As Lobos Take 5-2 Decision

Womack, Carroll Told Major Loop Batting Honors

Edmond Lovelady, Munny catcher, topped to fourth place in Major Loop softball league batting this week, giving up his number one slot to Red Womack of Montgomery Ward and Maxie Carroll of Stags Auto, both tied with a .454 count. Charlie Derden, Phillips' teammate, is in the next slot with .373.

In 22 times at bat, Carroll grabbed a fistful of wallops to mark 10. Womack socked up his first with five hits out of 11 times at bat. Derden took 11 out of 26, availing got 7 out of 18 for a .388 mark.

Malcolm Bridges, ABC, forged lead in Minor league batting, king 12 blows out of 14 for .857. In Pickle, Herald, dropped off from his last week's average but still maintaining an upper bracket position, bopped 9 out of 13 for .692.

Lions' Johnny Brown continued with 9 out of 15 for his .600, and J. O. Vineyard took number one listing with 15 wallops out of 27.

Scrambled Picture Presented In Major-Minor Loop Picture

Top Circuit May Have 3-Way Tie; Lower Has 2-Way

As time for the Major-Minor city softball league first-half finale draws near, the picture presented begins to take on a decidedly confused aspect.

The Major loop could be thrown into wild-eyed disorder by a thing that is anything but impossible—namely, a Stags Automen win over Cities' Oilers Tuesday night. That would put the first-half top spot in a three-way tie between the Oilers, Phillips' Tirenem and Stags.

For the present, the leading contenders in the city race are the Oilers, 8 won and 1 lost, Phillips', 7 won and 2 lost, and Stags, 7 won and 2 lost.

What a Stags victory would mean is this—the Oilers would have tacked to their standings their second loss of the season, making it even-stephen 8 won and 2 lost for the three clubs.

A Stags triumph is not favored, judging from the record thus far by the Oilers and their ace hurler, L. D. Cunningham. Stags started the season as a club that was to be considered below Phillips' and the Oilers. Such is now the case, too, but Stags' importance in the setup is completely out of proportion to the showing they made in their opening league affair. At that time, Manager A. P. Blackwell did not have his full roster on tap, being called on to see what he had on hand regardless of the lack of preparation.

Tuesday night will be the deciding engagement of this half, in any way it is considered. Of course, if the Cities' club maintains its record, the half will be finished with the Oilers on top, the Tirenem second, and the Automen third. If Stags pulls an upset victory over Oilers, and they have done that very thing once the final decision will probably not be reached for another two weeks, since the playoffs are to be two out of three affairs.

The Minor is clinched for a two-way draw anyway the setup is considered. The Lions are leading, 6 wins and 2 losses, while the two chief contenders, ABC and Business Club with 5 wins out of seven games and the Sea Scouts with four out of 6 are yet to play. In addition to the 7:30 opener with ABC Monday night, the Scouts are scheduled to clash with NYA B's in the 9:25 nightcap, ending the first-half race. If the Scouts rag ABC, then follow up the victory with a ditto over NYA. It will mean that they are even with the Lions, with 6 wins out of 8 games.

An ABC victory will result in a playoff between the Lions and the ABC's.

The Sea Scout-ABC engagement will bring in a peculiar situation. The Scouts, sponsored by ABC and in the circuit through the efforts of ABC, may be the ones to blast the club's hopes for a first-half championship.

The Lions will battle with the ABC-Scouts winner over a two-out-of-three playoff route on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights, each game opening at 8 o'clock.

Gamewell said that a half-inch of slow rain sometime soon would be the best thing that could happen to the course. The course dumps are smoothed, water lines are installed, and Country Club members are getting prepared for their long-awaited bent grass greens.

Lookin' 'em Over

WITH JACK DOUGLAS

Eddie Stevens, Bomber first-baseman, has decided that he should take measures about this age business. Too many times has he been asked his age and then, after he obliged, he's been given the old fish eye. Eddie is just sixteen, but it is rather hard for the citizenry to believe it when he racks up a single, a three-bagger and a homer in one game. Now, he figures he's solved the problem—he carries his birth certificate with him and when any question is raised he whips it out for a bit of proving.

When Willard Ramsdell winds up his baseball career, he might find a spot as an ad libbing speaker. After various and sundry bursts of oratory had come forth at the welcoming given the Bombers Friday, Will took the rostrum and wowed the crowd.

According to Ramsdell, Prexy Tink Riviere is not backward about his hitting record while mixing it up with the lads in the majors. Tink rapped out a .300 average for three years—100 a year. That's the Ramsdell version.

Carl Foree, erstwhile Lamesa hurler, is now lined up under the Wichita Falls colors. Foree was given his outright release by Sam Scaling and had been staying at Snyder before he got the call to report at the Spudder camp.

Big Spring Isaac Waltons have a little more time left to take advantage of the catch limit at Devil's River Lake. The law reducing the number of bass, crappie and catfish allowed anglers will not go into effect until the latter part of the summer.

Obie Bristow lived up to his name of shooting what he wants in yesterday's medalist playoff. Obie takes the nod for being one golfer who knows what he wants and goes about getting it in double-quick time. Not the most consistent divotter in Big Spring, Obie is probably the tops as a "pressure" player.

Bombers Still Trailing In WT-NM Batting Race

For a team that gets a hit only once in every four times at bat, the Big Spring Bombers are putting on a mighty blitzkrieg that put Herr Hitler's air force to shame.

The Bombers have an anemic .251 batting average as of and including May 26 but finish out the 1,000 with their winning percentage—and that is the percentage that pays doubled their opponents in run making through games of Monday, May 26.

J. L. Haney, Bomber left fielder, is leading his club, knocking out a .358 tune out of 109 times at bat and moving into the league's select hitting ten. Hayden "Chubby" Greer is not in the top circles but he is second from the top so far as his club is concerned, banging out a .338 average out of 102 times at the plate.

Bill De Carlo, large Amarillo receiver, supplanted Stuart Williams as the league's leading clubber during the period by hitting at better than a .300 clip. Williams, sold to Detroit for fall delivery, fell down as did the entire Bomber club. De Carlo is hitting .377 for the season, four points ahead of the Gasser third baseman.

All those all-winning pitchers found last week something of a hurdle. The leaders of May 19 each lost a game so there remains only four hurlers without a loss, none with more than two wins.

Big Spring's hurlers kept breaking above the mark over the period, George Boal heading the list with no losses and three wins.

Bob Kohout led the pack in the strikeout department, getting rid of 61 batters by the simple method of 1-3-3 and turned in a .533 win average. Bottom man on the list, Andy Mohrlock, kept up the Bombers' mound record by clipping out .500, winning one and losing one.

Averages listed below do not include Pampa at Clevis and Lubbock at Lamesa games of May 26 or Big Spring at Clovis May 26. Those records not included—

Morgan; Stewart Billed To Open Muny Golf Title Tilt Today

Reds Whittle Cards' Lead In National

CINCINNATI, May 31 (AP)—The hot-and-cold Cincinnati Reds cut St. Louis' hold on first-place in the National league to a single game today by winning 5 to 2 for an even break in the four-game series while second place Brooklyn beat the Giants by the same score. In so doing, the champions sent Long Lon Warneke to his first defeat after a string of five victories that made him tops in the loop, and gave Johnny Vander Meer his fourth triumph of the year and a percentage of 800.

Extra-base blows figured in all the Reds' scoring: Frank McCormick's double, Chuck Aleno's first of two hits, a single, and Ernie Lombardi's two-bagger for a pair in the second; Eddie Joost's double, a sacrifice and an outfield fly for one in the fifth and McCormick's single, Aleno's triple and Ernie Koy's double for a final brace in the eighth.

PHILS 1, BRAVES 6.
PHILADELPHIA, May 31 (AP)—St. Johnson of the Phils and Manuel Salvo of the Boston Braves hooked up in a pitchers' duel today and although the Phils were out hit six to four they won out 1 to 0 to give them the rubber game in the series.

The lone score came in the fourth when outfielder Joe Marty smashed out a double and came home on First Baseman Nick Etten's single.

DODGERS 5, GIANTS 2.
NEW YORK, May 31 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers landed on Carl Hubbell for four runs in a big third inning today and went on to whip the Giants 5 to 2 and stretch their winning streak to eight straight.

Ducky Medwick paced the Dodger attack with a homer, a triple and a single.

Chisox Near Top Ranking

CHICAGO, May 31 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox, playing just good enough to protect their four-game winning streak, advanced to within a game and a half of first place today with a 4 to 2 victory over the St. Louis Browns.

It was Chicago's sixth win in eight games with the browns and their 14th triumph in their last 19 games.

Young Jack Hallett wobbled badly in the early innings, yielding five hits and four bases on balls in three frames. Then he settled down and hurled hitless ball until the eighth, becoming the 20th White Sox pitcher to go the route in 41 games.

Links Veterans Vie At El Paso
EL PASO, May 31 (AP)—Two links veterans, Spec Stewart of Roswell, N. M., and Blaine McNutt of El Paso, meet tomorrow in the final round of the Southwestern golf championships.

Stewart, defending champion who is gunning for his sixth Southwestern crown, was carried to the 35th green in today's semi-final play by scrappy, 19-year-old Bud Hale of El Paso.

McNutt, El Paso city champion, fired blistering sub-par golf during the morning 1 and coasted to a comfortable 8 and 7 win over Ralph Petty, former titlist and sharp-shooting Carrizozo, N. M., grocer.

Bristow Triumphs With 74 In Medalist Playoff

Herman Stewart and Jake Morgan tee off today in the opening 18 holes of a scheduled 36 at the Muny course to decide Big Spring's first annual city championship. Owing to a conflict with Stewart's working hours, the final 18 will go on the books Monday.

Obie Bristow copped the meet's medalist honors Saturday, shooting a 74 to best Morgan's 76 and Stewart's 78. In the opening rounds of the Muny conflict, the three divoteers had turned in a 72 card, one under the course's par.

Bristow, trailing his opponent at the end of the first nine by 3 strokes, blasted off five under par on the first six holes of the backstretch and wound up a rip-roaring tussle three strokes up.

Martin Tames Missions, 5-1
HOUSTON, May 31 (AP)—Fred Martin, Houston's sensational right hand hurler, hung up his ninth consecutive victory today as the Buffs turned back San Antonio, 5-1.

OLIVERS WIN SHUTOUT
OKLAHOMA CITY, May 31 (AP)—Tulsa's Olivers won their series opener here with Oklahoma City's Indians tonight, 3 to 0, sewing it up in the ninth with two runs off reliever Stan Goletz.

REBELS NOSE CATS
DALLAS, May 31 (AP)—Those ancient Texas league rivals—Fort Worth and Dallas—got together on local soil tonight for the first time this season and the homebreds won, 3 to 1.

City Softball League Opens In Stanton

STANTON, May 31. (Spl.)—The Stanton City Softball league took shape at a meeting of the directors at the city hall Friday night. The initial game was set for Monday night. Officers chosen to serve during the current season are Sammy Houston, president; James Jones, secretary-treasurer; and Clayton Burnam, field manager.

Four teams are to be in the loop—Jack Jones Grocery, Rinkydinks, Rhodes and Flanagan Grocery, and Odd Fellows lodge. Having incomplete information as to church meetings during the summer, a schedule was completed for only three weeks. Time is to be taken out for all revival meetings.

The schedule calls for games on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday nights of each week. Only one game is to be played each night, and it is to be a nine-inning affair. Rinkydinks vs. Rhodes and Flanagan Grocery is the first game scheduled. The remainder of the schedule follows:

Tuesday, June 5—Jack Jones Grocery vs. I. O. O. F. Lodge.
Thursday, June 6—Jack Jones vs. Rhodes and Flanagan Grocery.
Friday, June 8—IOOF vs. Rinkydinks.
Monday, June 9—Jack Jones vs. Rinkydinks.
Tuesday, June 10—IOOF vs. Rhodes and Flanagan.
Thursday, June 12—Jack Jones Grocery vs. IOOF.
Friday, June 13—Rinkydinks vs. Rhodes and Flanagan.
Monday, June 15—Jack Jones vs. Rhodes and Flanagan Grocery.
Tuesday, June 17—IOOF vs. Rinkydinks.
Thursday, June 19—Jack Jones vs. Rinkydinks.
Friday, June 20—IOOF vs. Rhodes and Flanagan.

Picard Looks Good In Oklahoma Meet

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 31 (AP)—Henry Picard, host pro at the Twin Hill golf club two-day match-medal 36-hole invitational tournament, was the best player around the first 18 holes today, scoring a two-below-par 70.

Little Ben Hogan came through whenever Picard was out of a hole and they teamed up expertly for a low-ball of 67.

That gave them a lead of 3 up on Byron Nelson and Sammy Snead at the halfway point. Hogan's score was 74, Snead's 76, Nelson's 78. The Nelson-Snead team had a low-ball of 70.

Omaha Woman Wins Houston Golf Tourney

HOUSTON, May 31 (AP)—Ten years of striving for the women's Trans-Mississippi golf championship finally were rewarded for Mrs. Russell Mann today. But the attractive Omaha, Neb., matron had to beat her good friend and room-mate, 23-year-old Mary Agnes Wall, in a bitter 36-hole fight before emerging a one-up victor.

Briefly, putting told the story. Miss Wall, freckle-faced, amiable Menominee, Mich., miss dolefully watched a 12-inch effort roll by the 36th hole of River Oaks, where the greens laugh at the players. That left her one down.

A bold brassie shot put her on the 36th green in 2. Mrs. Mann was to the right of the carpet in 2, shot over a trap and calmly rapped in a 15-foot putt for a half and the match.

Elated over her first Trans-Miss win, Mrs. Mann said: "That's what I've been working for all these years and at last I've done it." Miss Wall never had played in a 36-hole tilt before, and was weary from the tension and searing heat of the afternoon round. She dubbed several shots on the last nine from sheer weariness but always was able to rise to the heights when necessary to keep the match alive.

Sailor Now Whittles Boats
TOLEDO, Ohio.—Although it is 50 years since Nelson Edwards last sailed the Great Lakes, his interest in boats has never lagged. Hand-ed a block of wood, and a picture of the boat to be reproduced and Edwards, now 80 years old, will turn out a replica of almost any vessel afloat.

Yucca Girl—Miss Rosemary Lassiter might well be termed the Yucca Girl, pictured as she is matching her beauty with that of the cream colored blossoms now dotting the countryside. Not in many years has there been such a luxuriant abundance of yucca. Although the peak of the season was reached last week, they still are to be seen on every hand. Natives know it as bear grass—a common range plant that grows on almost any terrain. Some old timers made brooms from the spliced leaves, ranchers cherished "bear grass poppers" for their whips, and a few technical minded fashioned fabric from the plant. Here is the perfect combination—a West Texas miss and a West Texas flower. Rosemary is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lassiter of Merkel and formerly of Big Spring. (Perry Photo).

Congregation Entertains For Rev. And Mrs. Lancaster At Baptist Church Friday Night

Members of the First Baptist church surprised the pastor and his wife, the Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Lancaster with a party and shower on their 25th wedding anniversary Friday night at the church.

Mrs. T. A. Roberts was general chairman of the affair. The receiving line included Mrs. W. J. Alexander, Mrs. J. R. Brigham, Mrs. Ines Lewis, Mrs. O. W. Norman, Mrs. John A. Coffey, Mrs. Wayne Pearson, George Melear, Edwin McEwin and Irbey Cox.

Cox came for the Lancasters who were having dinner with Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Nabors and told them a couple was at the church waiting to be married and wanting Mrs. Lancaster to be a witness. When the Lancasters arrived they found the congregation ready to shout "Happy Anniversary."

Mrs. C. A. Amos presided at the register book that was composed of anniversary cards and made by Mrs. Charles Sullivan. Ushers were Dorothy Smith, Betty Cravens, Charlene Estes, Bobbie Jo Dunlap, Annette Roberts and Mildred Barlow. Members of the receiving line and the ushers dressed in formal gowns.

Cox was in charge of the program that included the "Lancaster Bugle" which was distributed by newboys to the group. A male quartet composed of A. T. Bryant, Alton Underwood, Vernon Logan and Cox, sang two selections with Mrs. C. W. Norman at the piano.

Gene Nabors played piano selections. A skit called, "Scenes from the Lancaster Album" was a feature of the evening.

The first skit was "The Proposal" done by Dieder Vanderford and Chester O'Brien, Jr., and was followed by "The Wedding" with Charlene Estes and Louis Berryman taking the parts of the Rev. and Mrs. Lancaster.

"The First Quarrel" was done by Horace Reagan and Mrs. J. C. Brigham and "The First Breakfast" by Mrs. Seaman Smith and Edwin McEwin. "The First Good-bye" was portrayed by Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pickle while "Goodbye After Ten Years," was done by Mrs. Johnny Coffey and Alton Underwood.

"Life in the Lancaster Home Today," was acted by Vernon Logan and Mrs. Chester O'Brien.

Gifts from each of the departments of the Sunday school were presented by Joe Pickle while Irbey Cox sang "Bless This House."

The table was lace-laid and centered with a white wedding cake. The cake was iced in orchid and silver and topped with "Clint and Stella, 1916-1941." Pink rosebuds, white sweetpeas and fern surrounded the cake.

Mrs. Wayne Pearson and Olive Chumley presided at the table and were assisted by Mrs. H. J. Agee, Mrs. Underwood and the ushers. Others attending were Mrs. I. D. Tisher, Mrs. E. E. Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. B. Reagan, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Reagan and Frances, Mrs. Theo Andrews, Mrs. Ines Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Logan and Susan, Mr. and Mrs. Roberts and Mackie, Annette and Polly, Bobbie Jo Dunlap, Artie Blakeney.

"strategic importance both in quality and location."

2. Elimination or reduction of cross hauling of oil products, expansion of transportation and storage facilities.

3. Balancing of refining operations to obtain: Maximum yields of specific products, most economical use of raw materials, and efficient production and distribution.

4. Elimination of the drilling of unnecessary wells in proven fields and of "other unnecessary activities and equipment."

Ickes' recommendations are to be submitted to federal agencies—particularly the office of production management and the office of price administration and civilian supply, to state officials, and to "any appropriate industry or party thereof."

White House officials, declined in the absence of a legal opinion, to discuss the question of whether or not Ickes had power to enforce any recommendations he makes.

G. H. Hayward of the Dora Roberts interest said of the Ickes development that "it's at least a modified order, and one probably necessary in the need of national defense. We may be better off." He thought it might mean an ultimate increase in Texas allowances.

B. F. Robbins, independent oil operator, was not surprised, declaring that the problem was primarily one of distribution and transportation. He quoted authorities that refining output could be kicked up 15 per cent on 10 days notice and production 33 1/3 per cent in the same time. It would not, he believed, curb legitimate wildcatting, but might curtail ill-advised spacing.

50,000 Expected At National Open

PORT WORTH, May 31. (AP)—Goldfom's greatest show, the 48th open championship, heads into Texas tomorrow.

Staged in the Southwest for the first time, the Colonial Club will welcome the nation's best, a field of 172 qualifiers, to its green and lovely tree-studded, 7033-yard, par 70 layout stretching along the arms and lagoons of the forked Trinity river.

Title rounds start Thursday, but so great is golfing interest here that the gate charge goes up tomorrow, and a 50,000 gallery figure is expected for the week.

A record has been set with more season tickets sold than for any other open. Four thousand went out, beating the Cleveland 1940 record by a thousand.

Nearly 10,000 will pay to watch four days of practice shooting, according to Marvin Leonard, the Texan who created the Colonial links and backed a three-year drive to capture the national open.

"Texas probably is more golf-minded now than any other state," said Leonard. "We play the year around and Texas has produced the cream of the present crop. We have the players and the courses. "Colonial is in good shape for play. Rain this week has been

Work is at about the half-way point in solicitation of membership in the Howard County Food cooperative. Sixty persons have bought stock and 70 others have promised to do so. If 40 of these carry out their promises, 100 shares of common stock will be out and the co-op has only 200 shares. Following sale of all common stock, 200 shares of preferred stock will be offered. Both types sell for $30 per share.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Railback of Garner school and children, Sue B. Mann, district deputy state superintendent, and James Dickson have returned from a fishing jaunt to Lake Nasworthy. Splendid success was reported.

With Inspector A. M. Douglass as witness, the liquor board has secured five more convictions in Scurry county against persons charged with possession of intoxicants for purpose of sale in a dry area. It was five convictions in five cases, said Billy McElroy, district supervisor.

D. C. Reed, in from his place north of here, said Saturday that crops were looking fine. While in Louisiana recently, he and Mrs. Reed read of floods around Lubbock and on the Conchos and had visions of their fields being washed away. Instead, he was agreeably surprised to find feed and cotton thriving.

G. Tunnell, star route, Stanton, had trouble enough keeping busy tending his cattle and 160-acre farm. But a Shetland pony had to add to his worries. The pony got out and Tunnell was riding it back when it bolted, throwing him. He got no broken bones but plenty of bruises.

Markets At A Glance

NEW YORK, May 31 (AP)—The baker's dozen that appeared in Wall Street today bought a few aircrafts and specialty stocks in dribbles and left many leaders to shuffle indifferently behind minus signs.

In the share division Consolidated Aircraft reached a new high for the year. Supported also were Douglas Aircraft, Boeing, United Aircraft, Chrysler, Bethlehem Steel, Southern Railway, Sears Roebuck, Phelps Dodge, N. Y. Shipbuilding and American Telephone.

New lows for 1941 or longer were recorded for Consolidated Edison, Atlantic Refining and North American. Backward were General Motors, U. S. Steel, Allied Chemical, Westinghouse, Chesapeake & Ohio, Standard Oil (NJ) and U. S. Rubber.

Humble Oil and Sunray Oil attracted some bidding in the curb but Republic Aviation and Niagara Hudson Power slipped. Numerous issues were unchanged.

Byrd Says Britain Getting Little Aid

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—Senator Byrd (D-Va.) asserted today that practically no lend-lease equipment had been shipped to Great Britain in the two months since congress approved the $7,000,000,000 appropriation implementing the British aid bill.

Contending that production of the most essential war equipment was bogging down, the Virginia senator said in an interview that if the British were to get the weapons they need speedily "something ought to be done toward putting one man at the head of this program and eliminating the strikes that are hamstringing it."

as he threw himself down by the group, the way you smile at a difficult customer when you want to scream.

"Hey, Dane," one of the men said, "you'll have to cut out the fifty-seven varieties of suicidal mania how you have a misal."

Martin only laughed and said, throwing a wet arm around Eileen's bare shoulders. "Not a bit of it. Eileen's more of the same. Isn't she Roly? You tell 'em about the way she took that rotten ice. A man can't promote his own wife, can he, kid?"

The Perrines were telling the story eagerly to the group. Martin listened with what seemed like a man's normal pride in his wife's doing to the tales of her ski flight down the thawing snow over the sagging ice, to have Robin.

"Just the same," Roly ended. "Eileen was scared stiff over you just now. Raking yourself is one thing. Watching a brand-new husband ask for trouble is something else again."

Eileen wondered how cheerful, stupid Roly could know that, when Martin didn't. For he only laughed again and said, "Not Eileen!"

"Later, in their suite at the hotel, she said in a voice she tried to make casual. "Martin, why do you take risks like that?"

"For the kick of course." He smiled over his shoulder at her. He was standing by the window in a Japanese beach robe, his hair ruffled. Her heart jumped. Being with him, alone like this, was excitement and delight enough for her. But it wasn't enough for him. To Be Continued.

British Soldiers Outlast Civilians

LONDON, May 31 (AP)—Nearly twice as many Britons have been killed in bombing raids as in action against the axis, figures issued by the government indicated today.

The war so far has cost Britain fewer than 5,000 military casualties a month, it was announced, and the total killed in all three fighting services during the 21 months since the conflict began was 18,627.

This is a little more than half the number of civilians killed in Britain during the 11 months of heavy German air raids between June, 1940, and the end of April. During that 11-month period, previous government figures have revealed, 35,756 civilians were killed and 47,886 injured.

Admiral Darlan Denounces British

VICHY, Unoccupied France, May 31 (AP)—Vice Premier Admiral Jean Darlan denounced Britain today, evidently with the approval of Chief of State Marshal Petain, for what he called piratical attacks on French shipping.

Coincident with Darlan's statement, made before French editors in Nazi-occupied Paris, it was reported reliably that the French North African port of Stax had been attacked by British planes for a third time and the 3,313-ton

Italian freighter Florida II set afire.

Holdup Joke! No. $3,700

OMAHA, Neb.—When two bandits entered her beer parlor brandishing six-shooters, Freda Eames, proprietress, thought it was a huge joke. The joke was on Freda because the bandits escaped with $2,700—money Mrs. Eames had taken from the bank to cash pay checks of rail workers.
