Moore Family 'At Home' At Country Club

By Mrs. Ralph Douglas

The most important member of the Horace Moore family is Bob, a beautiful green parakeet, who says "Hello," lights on the heads of the members of the family, sometimes kisses them and makes chaos of a game of Monopoly if he happens to be loose during a game.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore and their three children, Carolyn Ann, 12 years old and a sixth grader, Jim who is eight and in the second grade, and Judy a first grader and six years old, moved to Littlefield about February 15 to take over the job as golf pro and club manager of the Country Club. Moore had held a similar position in Brownfield.

Mrs. Moore takes the children to school in the mornings so they won't have to leave so early, but Jim and Judy especially enjoy riding the bus home each evening, which is a new experience to them.

"They are especially pleased with Littlefield schools," Mrs. Moore says. "Especially so because Jim and Judy are receiving instruction in phonetics."

Mrs. Moore is a golf enthusiast in her own right. She spoke with pride of the trophy which her husband won at a recent pro-amateur meet. Both Mr. and Mrs. Moore are full of zest for their work, genuinely interested in increasing club activities, and feel that with the coming of better weather there will be more golfing for both men and women.

They stated that, although Littlefield is a smaller town than Brownfield, the club facilities here are far superior and that they are very happy living in Littlefield. Mrs. Moore has been busy getting settled into their new home, which has been enlarged to include three bedrooms.

In addition to their other duties, Mr. and Mrs. Moore are serving steaks each Saturday night to club members who wish to come out.

It has not been decided about morning services as yet, but will be announced Sunday morning at Parkview. The evening services will begin at 8 o'clock. Harbaugh will have a youth meeting at 7:30 and pastor will work with the children that arrive early in a Booster Band.

CHRYSLER DEVELOPS GAS TURBINE

Something really new in passenger car motive power is Chrysler Corporation's experimental gas turbine engine, now undergoing road tests in a production model Plymouth car at the 4,000-acre Chrysler engineering Proving Grounds, largest in the world, near Chelsea, Michigan. By means of a revolutionary new heat exchanger, or regenerator, Chrysler engineers have designed for the first time an automotive gas turbine that combines outstanding performance characteristics with fuel economy comparable to that of today's piston engines and exhaust temperature cooler than that discharged by the average car. Chrysler emphasized, however, that development of the new gas turbine does not mean that such an engine is ready for general use.

Whether there ultimately will be commercial production of gas turbines for passenger cars depends on the long-range solution of many complex metallurgical and manufacturing problems, and there is no indication now how long it will take to solve these problems. In photo at top, George J. Huebner, Jr., (right) Chrysler Corporation Executive Engineer, points to the experimental Chrysler gas turbine engine, which fits easily into the engine compartment of a Plymouth car. William I. Chapman, turbine project engineer, looks on at left. In lower photo L. L. Colbert, President of Chrysler Corporation, demonstrates how effectively the new Chrysler gas turbine solves the long-standing turbine problem of high temperature exhaust.

Wayne Cunningham...

The Littlefield School Board has plenty of time to work on getting a head football coach to fill the vacancy left by Jay Fikes.

Dad used to say when I was courting, "Time is your best friend." We are glad a hurried decision isn't pushed upon the Board. They have time to wait for many applications and take their choice.

A friend said to me, "I'd sure hate to try to fill Jay's shoes. They'll be expecting another state championship." The more I thought about the Littlefield fans the more I think Jay's successor won't have too tough an assignment as far as "Alumni trouble" is concerned.

With all that has been said, written and thought about the so-called "Alumni-trouble" you'll find Littlefield not only a 1949 State Champion in football but an "All-Time American" sportsmanlike community. PROOF: With the only losing team in Fikes' 10-year stay in Littlefield there was not one single ounce of complaint or pressure against the coach.

Many people talk about "de-emphasizing" athletics in high schools and colleges. I don't think "de-emphasis" is necessary when a school, the board, the kids, the parents and the fans all act like Littlefield when their teams win or lose.

I was in school in Fort Worth when Littlefield won the '49 championship. I read and heard of the Littlefield fans' support of their top team clear through the OLD TOWN EMERGES FROM LAKE—Piles of stone which once were buildings in the 200-year-old Zapata County, Texas, town of Falcon are beginning to re-appear as Lake Falcon steadily drops. The town, for which the international dam was named, was the first community to be flooded when the lake began filling early last fall. The Rio Grande has slowed to almost a trickle again and there has been a steady release of water for downstream irrigation in Texas and Mexico. The lake now has around 400,000 acre feet of water in storage, compared with more than 1,000,000 (M) last November. (AP Photo)

THE AUTHORITY OF JESUS

By TOMMY WILLIAMS, Minister

"The people were astonished at his doctrine, for he taught them as one having authority, and not as the scribes" (Matthew 7:28-29).

In the basic, vital things of life which concern all society, men must recognize authority. We settle questions of pronunciation and definitions by the dictionary, biographical facts and similar things by the encyclopedia, civil rights by constitution and law. In religion, too, there must be a final authority, or hopeless confusion will be the inevitable result.

Man's reason is not the final appeal. Christianity is reasonable, but to install reason as supreme authority would be to assume that man can fully comprehend God and his ways by reason. This finite mind cannot do. That is why Abraham Lincoln said, "Try to comprehend as much as possible of this Book with your mind and accept the rest by faith, and you will live and die a better man."

A recognition of the supreme authority of the teachings of Jesus would eliminate much confusion in religion. It might not ease it all, for there would remain some honest difference of interpretation; but it would carry us a long way if every person would realize that once he knows what Jesus taught, he should accept such teaching as unquestionable authority.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
 International Children's Sunday School Lessons
 BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

Scripture: John 17.
 Devotional Reading: I Timothy 2: 1-2a.

Pray for Others

Lesson for April 4, 1954

WHAT Christ prayed for, we have a right to pray for. This is not to say that we can, so to speak, simply quote his prayers after him and sign our name in place of his. He prayed for objects for which we need not now pray, as when he prayed for Simon Peter. But the kind of thing for which he prayed is the kind of thing for which his followers can boldly pray. For no one has ever known the mind of God so well as Jesus. To pray against the mind of God is to pray in vain; to pray with God's mind is to pray with success. One point is clear from all Jesus' prayers, but especially from the great prayer in John 17: it is that the blessing of God rests on sincere prayer for others.

Dr. Foreman

They Should Know It

Let us hope it is not impertinent to pass on a few thoughts suggested by this prayer of Christ, especially with regard to praying for other people. Intercessory prayer in the true sense is always unselfish, though one may literally pray for other persons with a selfish motive. For instance, if a woman whose husband is a candidate for office prays for his election, that is praying for some one else, right enough; but maybe she is saying one word for him and two for herself. So an ambitious mother might pray that her child would make good in Hollywood. (—and bring home the bacon.) This is not intercessory prayer in the Christian sense. Christ's prayer for others shows that he deeply and completely desired their highest good. But he does not offer this prayer in silence and solitude. He prays in their hearing, they knew they were on his heart. We cannot always pray in the presence of those for whom we pray; but it does them great good to know we are carrying them on our hearts before God. No service of friend or loved one is more cherished than the simple yet sublime service of intercessory prayer.

It Should Be for the Best

Prayer for others should be for the best—and this in two senses. It should be in line with God's best purposes, and it should be for the best things. When Christ prayed in Gethsemane that the cup might pass from him, the prayer was not granted, because what God willed would not be possible, or would not have been possible, if Christ had not been willing to drink that bitter cup to the dregs. God will not grant requests that upset his plans, no matter how earnest and apparently right the requests may be. But prayer for others ought to be for the best things. Not that we should not pray for lesser things. It surely is not wrong to pray that mother may find her wedding ring that got lost in the laundry, or that Uncle Harry may get over his cold. But surely as we grow more mature in the Christian life we can begin to appreciate the kind of prayer that Christ offered for his friends. He did not pray there at the Last Supper for their health, long life or "prosperity." He prayed for their inner spirits, he prayed for their unity of heart, for their vision of God. How often we pray for something to happen to our loved ones, how seldom do we pray for them! When a child lay dying of rabies, hundreds of prayers went up for his recovery. These were not granted. But other prayers were offered for his parents' faith; and these were granted.

Nothing You Ask—?

"Nothing you ask will be denied," a popular hymn says. But the Bible does not promise that. Jesus never promised it. What is promised, and what is true, is that the more our prayers harmonize with the will of the God of Love, the more surely they will find answer. Now we often pray for our friends, as we do for ourselves, that God will help them do what they want to do, or get what they want to have, or get rid of what depresses or pains them. Give them what they want! is our cry. (Many of us are too selfish even to get that far in praying for others.) But there is no guarantee that God will give all men, or any man, exactly what he wants. This poor world would be in a much worse mess than it is, if God simply acted at everybody's dictation. The best we can ask for those we love is that they may learn to desire what God himself desires.

ANOTHER STEP FORWARD...

We were just this week informed that AGAIN the Security State Bank of Littlefield has made tremendous growth the past year. By telegram we were told that we had made a spectacular gain upward among the larger banks of the United States. During 1953 we have advanced from 4150th place to 4034th place. This is indeed encouraging, for we all know that West Texas is growing in leaps and bounds DESPITE drought conditions.

WE WILL CONTINUE TO GO FORWARD...

Even though the Security State Bank is a comparatively "young" bank, we are forever striving to find better ways of serving the customer of Littlefield, Lamb County, and West Texas. We are always on the lookout for better methods of bookkeeping, record keeping, accounting and in general a better way to serve the people here. We want the people in this area to know that we appreciate this measure of growth, for it is only through them that we are able to continue this growth. Our wish for the next year that we can again show as great an increase.

Tasty Cabbage Provides Center For Delicious One-Dish Meals

Colorful cabbage, creamy cheese and "Fritos" corn chips, plus the mellow flavor of cream of mushroom soup, form a delightful dish to serve family and friends during the spring season ahead. And, so economical, too! With only four ingredients, a one-dish meal can be prepared that will have diners coming back for second and third servings.

"Fritos" Scalloped Cabbage and Cheese, and these other variants of this basic recipe idea, are truly delicious channels to eating pleasure—and so quick and easy to prepare they are weekly "musts" on the menu list.

"FRITOS" SCALLOPED CABBAGE AND CHEESE (Serves 6-8)

4 cups cooked cabbage wedges (drained)
1 cup grated American cheese
1 cup crushed "Fritos" corn chips (measured after crushing)
1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup (diluted with 1/2 can of water)

Directions: Alternate layers each of the cabbage wedges, cheese and "Fritos" corn chips in a greased casserole. Pour over this mixture the diluted soup and bake at 350 degrees for 35 minutes.

"FRITOS" CABBAGE AND HAM CASSEROLE (Serves 4-6)

4 cups cooked cabbage (drained)
1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup (diluted with 1/2 can of water)
1 cup diced cooked ham
1/2 cup crushed "Fritos" corn chips (measured after crushing)

Directions: Alternate layers each of the cabbage, ham and "Fritos" corn chips in a greased casserole. Pour over this mixture the diluted soup and bake at 350 degrees for 35 minutes.

"FRITOS" STUFFED CABBAGE (Serves 4-6)

1 medium-sized head of cabbage
1/2 lb. (1 cup) ground beef
1/2 medium onion (chopped)
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
1/4 tsp. monosodium glutamate
1 egg
2 tbs. evaporated milk
1/2 cup crushed "Fritos" corn chips (measured after crushing)

Directions: Fold back several of the outer leaves of the cabbage, removing the center to allow for filling. Mix the remaining ingredients, place in cabbage and close opening by folding leaves over top. Tie cabbage in thin cloth. Cover with boiling salty water and simmer until tender. Slice in wedges and serve.

Trust You, Don't Let Them Down

Angsters don't always do as you say, but they'll do as every time. "Literally, they follow in your footsteps," says the Texas Safety Association.

you violate a safety principle, especially if it's one warned them about, they'll try it the next time. If you away with it, they figure so can they. If you're careful will be, too. People get killed that way.

end of our has a little boy—Jeff, aged five, sharp as Jeff's had considerable pre-school safety training his parents want to be sure he'll be able to take care of himself when he walks to school next year in an urban area there's lots of traffic.

if knows what speed-limit signs are for and he knows he sees one, to look at the speedometer and see if the needle's nudging checks.

long ago Jeff and his mother were in a hurry to get the afternoon. The speedometer eased up to 40 in a zone—not much over the limit, but . . . "Say, Mom, peering seriously and sternly at the dash—"That speed sign said '30' and we're going 40! How do that?"

what we mean? You trust you. You are their rock and their salvation, the source for them of the most high. If you do a thing, it must be right. Don't let them get sloppy with your motor manners. It's as blow against their personal safety as if you told them against traffic when the light is red.—By J. O. Murtas Safety Assn.

Plans of New Investors

short time ago a new plan for buying stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange on an installment basis—with payments ranging from $40 a quarter to $1,000 a month—has taken effect. According to a Newsweek report, the exchange during the first six days was "so successful that the exchange promised to become an important part of regular business on the Big Board"—4,054 shares valued at $135,180 were purchased. And Time reported another significant feature of the orders came from people who had never bought in stocks before.

pay-as-you-go idea is designed to attract the smaller investor and to make it as convenient as possible for him to invest some of his savings in the stocks of corporations in whose future prospects he has faith. And it should surprise anyone that the financial world is interested in small investors. The day when the bloated plutocrat of Wall Street was the dominant figure in financing American business has passed long ago. Now most investors are people of modest means. In 1953, small purchases (less than $100) on the exchange amounted to nearly $1,666,000,000. This ownership base on which corporate industry rests is broader all the time. This is true "public ownership" and the opposite of socialism.

It is stated that Scotchmen originate most of those jokes about themselves in order to get a lot of free publicity.—Times-Union.

Over-Seasoning

Andy Rogers Says:

Contrary to a lot of recent propaganda, the state of Texas is not without some strong anti-Communist laws. Nearly every state legislature during the past eight years has studied the Communist threat and come up with some new laws on the subject. No doubt they can be improved upon. More diligent enforcement is also a must.

Here in brief summary is the substance of the anti-subversive laws ALREADY in our law books. During the past six years your state senator co-authored most of these.

1. Present Texas statutes provide fines up to $10,000 and imprisonment up to ten (10) years for any Communist remaining in this state for as many as five consecutive days who fails to register with the Department of Public Safety.

2. Requiring anti-Communist affidavits of all persons receiving salary or compensation from the state of Texas; requiring listings of subversive organizations; and setting up requirements with respect to textbooks used in the state's educational system.

3. Requiring non-Communist affidavits of students at state educational institutions; requiring non-Communist affidavits of employees of state educational institutions; prohibiting enrollment or employment of subversives.

4. Excluding the Communist party from the ballot; requiring loyalty affidavits of candidates for public office.

5. Prescribing penitentiary terms up to twenty-five years for writing or printing seditious language.

6. Providing prison terms up to twenty-five years for the use of any language in the presence and hearing of another person, which language is disloyal to the United States of America or abusive and calculated to bring into disrepute the United States of America.

7. Both the Texas Constitution and the Penal Code define treason as adhering to the enemies of the state of Texas. The latter provides punishment of death or imprisonment for life for treason. Further, the Penal Code provides penitentiary terms up to seven years for "misprison" of treason, which is defined as knowledge that some person intends to commit treason and failure to inform the appropriate peace officer of such fact.

Your state senate has two new anti-Communist proposals before it. These were formulated, written, or argued before committee by Governor Shiver's Industrial Commission. The first of these, outlawing the Communist party in Texas and providing fines up to $20,000 and penitentiary terms of from 2 to 20 years for working in Communist activities or actions or groups sympathetic to the Communist cause, was passed unanimously by the senate last week.

The other newly proposed law would set up a Loyalty Review Board for Texas. This new bureau would punish severely without right of trial by jury the accused. Without appeal, it could take away the right to make a living in Texas of anyone who must have a state license. Such as: barbers, lawyers, plumbers, doctors, etc. In either instance, the board WOULD NOT have to PROVE the guilt of anyone brought before it.

Further, this "Loyalty Board Act" would allow any county attorney, district attorney, or state attorney general to issue search warrants when backed by the affidavit of even one credible citizen. In other words, all that would be needed for the Loyalty Board to act would be a suspicion.

The Senate's Civil Jurisprudence committee has "sat" on this proposal for two weeks. Apparently they will make some important changes or not pass on it at all.

This committee, made up entirely of lawyers, seem to think our regular court system with right to trial by jury is capable of enforcing our laws.

It's The Law In Texas

April 30 is the deadline on which social security payments for household workers for the first quarter of 1954 are due at the office of the Director of Internal Revenue in this district.

The federal law bringing household workers under the old-age and survivors insurance system went into effect Jan. 1, 1951. However, lawyers say that many persons who employ help in their homes are still in the dark about requirements of the law.

Here are some provisions everyone should know. Household workers covered by the law include maids, laundresses, housekeepers, cooks, nursemaids, gardeners, handymen, valets, footmen, grocers, chauffeurs of privately owned cars, practical nurses, and others.

Whether or not a household worker is included in the law depends on how many days she works and how much money she is paid. If the person works 24 days and earns $50 during any one of the three month periods into which the calendar year has been divided, a tax report must be filed and payment made.

Only cash wages are considered, which includes bus fare if paid in cash, but does not include bus tokens, clothing, room and board, or other non-cash items furnished the employee. A domestic worker does not have to put in a full day to count on the 24 day rule—any portion of the day worked counts as a full day.

The rule is different for domestic workers on farms operated for profit. In such cases the domestic is considered a farm worker and is covered only if he or she meets the test for farm labor. The tax in all amounts to 4 per cent of the cash wages paid. You, as an employer, must deduct 2 per cent from your household worker's cash wages if the person meets the 24 day, fifty dollar test. You then include another 2 per cent which is the employer's contribution. After the close of each specified three-month period you should send the tax, with a report of the wages paid, to the Director of Internal Revenue.

NEWS ABOUT THE Farm

From The County Agent's Office

I received the following letter from George Mahon regarding agricultural developments in Washington, which should interest all farmers in Lamb county.

"Washington officials of the Commodity Stabilization Service are beginning to show a more friendly attitude toward establishing a support price on the cottonseed for the 1954 crop. However, indications are that the support level will be far below 90 percent of parity. The support level in 1953 was 75 percent. I have asked officials to establish a cottonseed support program on the basis of 90 percent of parity, emphasizing the added importance of a support program on cottonseed by reason of the cotton acreage control program. There are no acreage controls on soybeans for 1954; a support price of 80 percent of parity has already been announced.

"It is now definite that there will be no acreage control program on grain sorghums in 1954. However, if the present support program is not drastically changed by law, the indications are that the increased grain sorghum production in 1954 would make an acreage control program quite likely next year.

"We have had a long controversy in regard to our agricultural labor program involving farm labor from the Republic of Mexico. The stalemate has been broken, and it appears that the program will be continued and will probably be a little better than the 1953 program.

"As you know, over a period of months many of us have been insisting that adequate allowance must be made in our cotton control program for acreage which could not be planted in cotton during 1953 by reason of abnormal weather conditions. If this acreage is not adequately taken into account, farmers in the 1955 crop year will suffer an extremely unfair reduction in acreage. The present law provides that consideration must be given to abnormal weather conditions. I had a talk this week with the new Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, Ross Rizley, formerly an Oklahoma congressman, and he tells me that he fully agrees with our viewpoint in this matter. The prospects are better than ever before that the 1953 drought will be properly taken into consideration. The details of the matter have not yet been agreed upon.

"The new farm program which has been under discussion for many months has not yet taken form. Secretary Benson has appeared before the Senate and House Committees on Agriculture and urged the adoption of the so-called flexible or sliding scale support program. Apparently, most congressmen from farm areas feel as I do—that the trouble with the sliding scale is that it slides right out from under you every time you need it.

Furthermore, I do not feel that the sliding-scale program would tend to reduce crop surpluses. In my opinion, the contrary would tend to be true. My mail from your district indicates that your producers are almost unanimous in feeling that on basic crops the support level should not be lower than 90 percent.

"I am watching the situation carefully, and I am doing everything in my power to encourage the adoption of the farm program which will be reasonably acceptable to our people. The letters which I receive from our district are most helpful to me in my work here, and I am always pleased to have the advice and suggestions of the folks at home. Call on me at any time."

Here's a tip for your corn growers. It isn't necessary to cover your seed deep in order to get deep rooted corn plants. In fact—you may delay the corn coming up by covering too deep. The ordinary mellow soil we recommend covering to a depth of 1 to 1½ inches.

The permanent roots of a corn plant do not spring directly from the seed. After the seed germinates, a slender threadlike shoot comes to the top of the ground. It's here that the shoots rise to form the stalk and the roots go down into the soil. This thread merely serves to connect the seed with the plant until the reserve feed in the seed is used up.

So if you want deep rooted heavy stalked corn, we suggest you try the new Texas Hybrids No. 24, 26, 28, and 30. They are bred to withstand blowing over or lodging so they can be harvested easily by hand or with machines.

Three yellow corn hybrids, Texas 26, 28, and 30, developed and recently released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station gave outstanding results in tests conducted at 20 widely-scattered locations over the state last year. Texas 28 was the top yielding hybrid when all locations were considered. Texas 30 and 26 yielded less but Texas 30 was superior to 28 and 26 in resistance to lodging, stalk breaking and in freedom from insect and disease damage. All are important considerations with mechanical harvesting.

According to the state agronomists, the average yield of the above hybrids in all tests was 32 percent higher than for sur-cropper, the top yielding open-pollinated variety. In northeast Texas the increase was 55.4 percent and in north-central Texas 70.5 percent. They add that extremely adverse growing conditions—drought and heat—cut the state's average acre corn yield to an estimated 16.5 bushels but point out that the percentage increase in yield of adapted hybrids to open-pollinated varieties is usually greater under adverse growing conditions.

Texas 15W, a white hybrid, was superior to all other hybrids in resistance to lodging and stalk breakage and to all hybrids in root lodging. Watson 124, Texas 24 and 30 were superior to other yellow hybrids in resistance to lodging; Texas 28 produced the lowest percentage of unsound ears; Texas 30 and 11W had the lowest worm damage score of all hybrids and Texas 28 led all in shelling percentage.

All dairymen selling milk for pasteurization should acquaint themselves with the revisions in the 1953 milk ordinance and code that became effective Sept. 1, 1953.

"All milk for pasteurization must come from herds located in a modified accredited tuberculosis-free area, which have been tested not more than six years before adoption of the ordinance and at least every six years after such tests. Herds located in an area failing to maintain such accredited status or having an incident of bovine tuberculosis exceeding 0.2 per cent must be accredited by the B.A.I. as tuberculosis-free or otherwise must pass an annual tuberculin test.

"Probably an old trapeze artist who got fat!"

Logic Lipstick

Latest thing to get surveyed is the raindrop. Seems we've always believed raindrops all look alike, a sort of artist's model version of the real thing. Recently, in Illinois where they're lucky enough to find 200,000 of them to survey—scientists made a detailed study of raindrops. The report shows they come in all shapes and sizes.

It has been a long time since we've done any serious thinking about raindrops, hence we have to rely on recollection for our impressions. But we've never doubted their variety in sizes.

Within a period not to exceed five years, all milk or milk products for pasteurization must come from herds, certified by the State Livestock Sanitary Authority as following either Plan A or Plan B approved by the B.A.I. for eradication of brucellosis. All additions to the herds must be brucellosis free, tests and retests shall be made, and any reactors disposed of in accordance with the requirements of the B. A. I."

From the fine, needle-like ones that pricked our face as we walked to school, to the huge splatter type that plopped into hot dry sand around bare feet. raindrops impressed this on us early. Pinned down, however, we'd admit an entirely unscientific notion that winter raindrops were tiny, summer ones larger. Although we're no wetter for it, we now know they may be as small as one-one hundredth, or as large as four-tenth of an inch in diameter.

As to shape, we would have visualized the sand-ploppers, and those observed from beneath a tree during a sudden mountain shower, as pear-shaped—maybe because they're pictured that way so often. Now we're told this "ideal" raindrop is. Instead, the small ones are likely to be round, the large probably resemble a fat room. We're no better off, of course, for acquiring scientific data about raindrops, and little critters, in any size, in these parts are come by. But we do hope they're surveying, meteorologists find out how temperature affect shape, for instance, can a raindrop feel like a frozen ping-pong ball?

We view with alarm the ping up the subject in little survey. What is the raindrop, like the becoming extinct?
