Abruzzi Rye Makes 17.5 Bu. Per Acre

Abruzzi rye on the E. H. Hatcher in the Vincent soil conservation farm five miles northwest of Big Spring made 17½ bushels of grain to the acre, E. C. Russell reported last week. The Russell brothers, who are farming the Hatch place, planted 63 acres of rye for cover crop last fall. The rye kept the soil from blowing, Russell said. He will plant more rye this fall with the seed harvested. The Russell brothers planted their cotton two rows in and skipped two rows. They will drill the rye in the blank rows. Eight acres of cotton planted this way last year took 600 pounds less seed cotton to make a bale, Russell said. The rye kept sand from blowing in the cotton and saved the cost of gathering the extra 600 pounds to make a bale. The Russell brothers are using rye cover crops as part of their coordinated soil conservation program in cooperation with the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District.

grass this spring using a grass planter made from a sword-corn planter furnished by Fred Keating of the Big Spring Experiment Station. The Soil Conservation Service helped Keating adapt the corn planter for grass seed.

Road blocks have been completed on the Ralph Collins ranch in the North Concho River Soil Conservation District. The road blocks were built to protect ranch roads from washing and spread water on grassland. A diversion was also constructed above a cattle guard to keep soil from washing in and filling the cattle guard. T. R. Morris with the Soil Conservation Service at Big Spring helped lay out the road blocks and diversion.

Terrace lines were run last week on the farm of Pauline Allen, district cooperater in the Vincent group. Roy Lewis, operator of the farm will build a mfa and a half of terraces on wheat stubble land to complete the terracing peed on his field.

Sam Buchanan deferred grazing on 640 acres of his pasture land this spring. Buchanan took his livestock off the pasture in April and will rest the pasture until fall. He is resting the pasture to let his grass grow and make seed to improve the cover and kinds of grasses on his range. Buchanan has a good stand of weeping and sand lovegrass on two acres of sandy land retired from cultivation. He planted the

A Garden Column by Virginia Scott. Presented by the Big Spring Garden Club.

By VIRGINIA SCOTT
Checking the garden after a rain is fun, even if it results in seeing a lot of work to be done. Weeds spring up over night, annuals fall all over themselves, and flower heads have to be cut off. Long shoots have to be trimmed from shrubs and the grass is always in need of the mower. But, the rain we must have, and we are lucky to get even a little one this time of year.

Roses that have given a fair showing for first year bloom, with us, are the new Floribunda, Glorious, and the Hybrid-Tea, Illitop. An old, but good, bedding Rose, Grass an Aachen, is worthy of mention. For lots of soft pinkish blooms, we like the Dooryard Rose, Maybelle Stearns. The color of Glorious is very bright, between red and rose, almost carmine. The blooms are single and supposed to cover a well established bush all season.

HOW MEAN CAN A TRICK GET?

CHICAGO, July 14 (U)—The latest gag of the "hot foot" type is a new and perilous "hot shot."

Arthur Bard told police he was a victim as he stood on a street corner talking with friends.

He was slightly burned on the back before he could rip off the shirt.

that fence quite as completely and beautifully as before, but we have learned that it is up to us to fill our own gaps and never depend upon the whims of even the best of friends or neighbors.

Such happenings are not unlikely or remote. They occur any time, anywhere. So, we suggest that you go over your property and see what you are using that may belong to someone else, then reinforce those weak spots with your own planting. This is the only insurance against the neighbor who, with the best of intentions, may some day unwittingly destroy your pleasing vistas by the mere welding of an axe or the striking of a match.

Problems Of Administration And Of Candidacy Face Gov. Shivers

A little over a week ago young Senator C. C. Morris of Greenville expressed surprise and delight on being elected president pro tem of the Texas State Senate. That placed him second in line for succession to the governorship if the governor should resign or die.

Governor Shivers was something of a boy prodigy himself. He was elected state senator at 27, youngest in the state's history.

Local Recruiting Office Sets Pace For The District

The Big Spring Recruiting Main station is leading all agencies in recruiting throughout the Western Recruiting district, Capt. Harold Sandford, commander, has been informed.

The local station won top honors for enlistments during June, receiving a trophy for leading in the number of recruits processed in the Albuquerque, Amarillo, and El Paso districts.

Coordination of recruiting procedures by the local staff has been credited with the success of the Big Spring station. Monthly conferences with sub-station recruiters has been combined with the regular monthly vehicle inspections and the transportation of enlisted personnel to the Big Spring Main station.

In view of the fact that some of the sub-stations are as many as 300 miles away, considerable time is saved by this practice, Capt. Sandford said.

Sewer Extension Work To Start In Two Weeks

Actual work of installing some 15,000 feet of sewer extensions should start within the next two weeks, City Manager H. W. Whitney said this morning.

Surveying for the project is being done at present, Whitney said. The city manager estimated that about six weeks would be required to complete the work, "barring unforeseen difficulties."

Biggest part of the project, to cost approximately $14,000, will be in the northwest quarter of the city. Lines will also be extended from 23rd to 24th streets between Main and Scurry, from 15th to 16th between Donley and Young, and from 16th to 17th on Jennings.

Do You Really Want to Take Off That Ugly Fat?

Recently there has been a number of new reducing preparations on the market, some of them based on the diet and vitamins "plan." It is obvious that vitamins will not reduce the body weight, so one must depend on diet to reduce. But it is also obvious that one cannot go on a strenuous diet over a protracted period, and any weight loss will be regained if the former eating habits are gone back to.

So what to do? Well, here is a tip to you "overweight gals" who want to fight "the Battle of the Bulge" in a different way. Ask any well-stocked Texas druggist for four ounces of Darnestrin. Mix with 12 ounces of grapefruit juice and take two tablespoonsful twice a day.

This preparation contains nothing harmful and the makers agree to refund your money on the very first bottle if it does not show you the way to lose ugly fat and help you gain slender, more graceful curves. Darnestrin is low in cost and is not based on the diet and vitamins "plan." You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Darnestrin.

Moscow's Cold War Directed At U. S. Activity In Japan

By EDWARD E. BOMAR AP Staff

WASHINGTON, July 14. (U)—Moscow appears to be changing cold war tactics by concentrating its fire on American actions in Japan rather than in Germany.

Just after Western officials in Berlin reported a let up in Soviet criticism there, Russian Ambassador Alexander S. Panysukhin yesterday lapsed a torrent of charges here against Gen. Douglas MacArthur and the Japanese government.

Following up earlier criticisms of new labor laws in Japan, Panysukhin bore down hard. He said MacArthur, as occupation commander and the Tokyo government have launched a brutal campaign against labor leaders and "progressive elements."

Patrolman, Ranger Watch Town After Sheriff Kills a Man

CENTERVILLE, July 14. (U)—Eight highway patrolmen and a Texas Ranger have been patrolling Centerville streets since Sheriff Ben Lee shot a man to death here last Saturday.

Lee said today he shot Tom Bill Featherston, 23, during a scuffle while trying to arrest the heavily-built man "for disturbing the peace and being drunk."

"The patrolmen and the ranger came at my request and as a result of threats made against me," the sheriff said. "They're not here right now. The patrolmen went to attend the governor's funeral. But they'll be back."

Lee said Featherston had a police record and two years ago was indicted on assault charges after the beating of former County Atty. Lamar Palmer.

"Saturday afternoon I was driving down the main street here when Featherston hollered at me and cursed me, telling me to come and get him," Lee related.

"I tried to arrest him. He attempted several times to take my gun away from me. I shot twice. The first time I missed Featherston, but two bystanders were hit. The second time I got Featherston in the right chest."

The bystanders were Wendell Bell, about 27, hit in the arm, and Jamie Craig, a Negro, about 40, hit in the leg. Lee said neither was seriously hurt. Lee said he called an ambulance and a doctor to treat Featherston but that the latter died en route to a hospital.

After the shooting, Lee said, he learned of threats against his life and called upon the highway patrol and the ranger. He said they have been patrolling Centerville since the shooting.

Assault Verdict Is Appealed

The case against John Nutt, charged with simple assault in connection with a fight which occurred here the night of July 1, has been transferred from city to county court following an appeal made by the defendant.

Nutt, who operates a filling station and other interests here, was fined $10 and costs in a trial by jury in city court earlier this week.

He is accused of hitting G. L. Jacques after he learned Jacques had been involved in some trouble with one of his employees over a soft drink.

At the present time, Nutt is at liberty on $50 appeal bond.

Most oil and gasoline distributing agencies also warn dealers in the handling of petroleum products. No-smoking rules and regulations against flames of any kind are standard around most service stations.

Oil companies also have printed matter listing dangers and precautionary measures to be used in handling gasoline.

Prevention of fire is the object of all caution in the handling of the potentially-dangerous liquid. A cure is seldom affected, once gasoline is ignited.

Years of research pioneering guarantee LUCKIES ARE A FINER CIGARETTE!

Constant research at Lucky Strike's famous cigarette laboratory—America's largest and most completely equipped—is devoted to giving you a finer cigarette!

THERE is no finer cigarette in the world today than Lucky Strike. Here's why: Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. And every step in the making of Luckies—from before this fine tobacco is bought until the finished cigarette reaches you—comes under the watchful eye of the largest and most completely equipped cigarette research laboratory in America.

For many years, the famous Lucky Strike laboratory in Richmond, Virginia, has been a center of cigarette science and technology. In this remarkable building you can see a fascinating collection of scientific instruments—microscopes, spectrophotometers, balances, projectors, humidification chambers, and many other complicated and costly machines.

Working with this array of scientific equipment are more than 60 highly trained specialists—chemists, biologists, engineers, physicists. They work on tobacco, on finished cigarettes, on paper, foil, cellophane and even printing inks. For Lucky Strike scientists have for years delved into cigarette research on an extensive scale.

Today, because of the miracle of modern science, Lucky Strike is a finer cigarette.

Testing tobacco. Samples from every tobacco-growing area are analyzed before and after purchase. These extensive scientific analyses, along with the expert judgment of Lucky Strike buyers, assure you that the tobacco in Luckies is fine, light and mild. No wonder Luckies are a finer cigarette.

Luckies stay fresh. After Lucky Strike cigarettes have been packaged, they must be tightly sealed to remain fresh. Here you see the cellophane seal being tested for air-tightness. Such instruments are in constant use at every plant.

Research leads the way. Only constant, painstaking, exhaustive research—as conducted on a large scale through the years by The American Tobacco Company—could produce the scientific knowledge that results in the quality of Luckies.

Television Won't Replace Radio, Says De Forest

"FATHER OF RADIO"—Lee De Forest, who is called "Father of Radio," believes television will grow at the expense of radio. Ruddy, slender and brisk at 75, De Forest is now working on television color experiments. He developed the three-element audio tube which made possible radio broadcasting. This is a new portrait of De Forest.

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY
CHICAGO, July 14.—Lee De Forest, who is called the "Father of Radio," figures radio is here to stay.

"Television won't replace radio entirely," he says. "Television range, except by rays, is limited. So there always will be sections of the country out of range."

"During the daylight hours, when housewives are at work, they can't all down and concentrate on a picture."

But De Forest expects TV to grow at the expense of radio to such an extent that the current ratio of sets in use "may be completely reversed."

The man who developed the three-element vacuum tube that made broadcasting possible is high on what he calls "Radio's Daughter."

"Television promises to do everything that radio has done and to do it better," he says. De Forest, ruddy, slender, and brisk at 75, set forth his ideas in an interview. He spoke as a pioneer who has been in his field since the turn of the century, as a working expert—and as a fan.

How will television affect radio fare? "The competition will compel a higher type of radio program," he said. "When you have no sight, you have to have a quality that will compensate for it."

How does he rate TV programs? "They are improving but they still have a long way to go," he said. "Basketball, boxing, and wrestling are fine. And I must confess that I like filmed westerns."

"Drama by television doesn't seem very real. Plays should be put on film first and then put on the air. It would avoid mistakes. They can be filmed scene by scene and get better background effects."

"Commercials are more interesting and effective by television. Sponsors should pay more."

What about the future? "Television will be used very much in schools," he said. "It will come into theaters for certain limited purposes"—for showing such selected, set events as big football games and inaugurations of Presidents.

"Color television is bound to come," he added. "But it probably will be there or four years before it is in use on a commercial basis." De Forest is working now on a TV color experiment. In the laboratory, he is a scientist. But on many evenings at home is just a plain fan.

"I sit down and say I'll watch for a half hour," he said. "I'm still sitting there at bed time."

Big Spring will attend a new kind of on-the-job training class.

Held in an air-conditioned conference room railroad car which will be placed on a track in the railroad's Big Spring yard, the series of five four-hour classes first will encourage the men to analyze their own daily jobs as supervisors. Then they will suggest the ingredients needed from both employe and employer to make the supervisor's job function properly. The last phase will dwell on demonstration—T&P supervisors telling and showing one another how to do a particular railroad job.

In previous classes held in Dallas, Ft. Worth, Marshall, Texas, Shreveport, Alexandria, New Orleans, Longview and Minwola among T&P supervisors, this demonstration part has ranged all the way from explaining how to use a cold chisel and run a stenographic bureau on up to estimating the railroad's income a year in advance.

J. B. Shores, T&P's director of public and employe relations, is in charge of the training program. It is conducted by Texas A&M College industrial extension service, in conjunction with the state board for vocational education. Instructors for the Big Spring class are Richard Downward and Bass Hoyler, members of the A&M staff.

After Big Spring, Shores said El Paso would be covered next on the training schedule, which will conclude the first phase of the training program.

Chris Hobson, assistant director of T&P's public and employe relations, who will be in Big Spring to represent the railroad management Monday at the opening of the supervisory class, said that between 500 and 600 T&P employes, in all, will have been trained upon conclusion of the program. They comprise the principal men and women in supervisory jobs who have daily working contact with T&P's 9,000 employes throughout the 1,500-mile system.

Classes are conducted at company expense and on company time. The class at Big Spring will run two hours in the morning and two more in the afternoon, Monday through Friday.

Oklahoma Sets Speed Limits

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 14 (AP)—Something new will be added to Oklahoma's highways come Aug. 25—speed limits.

Up to now Oklahoma was one of the few remaining states to let drivers decide the speed best suited to safety.

The legislature changed that this spring after debating the state's soaring traffic death toll, and the highway department is busy making signs to show the new limits.

For cars, the new limits are 65 during the day and 55 at night; trucks under 48,000 pounds, 50; trucks over 48,000 pounds, 40; busses, 55.

KIDS JUST PLAYING, EH?

ELMIRA, N. Y., July 14 (AP)—Clerks in a department store office just laughed when two 12-year-old boys and an 11-year-old girl waved toy pistols at them and announced a stick-up.

But $465.95 the children had hidden in a field wasn't play money. Police quoted the kids as saying they took most of it from an open safe after the chattering clerks had resumed typing and filing.

The clerks hadn't missed the money.

The highway system in the United States is estimated to be worth about $41 billion.

NO SEALING COMPOUND, NO CANS OF PINEAPPLE, COURT IS TOLD

HONOLULU, July 14 (AP)—It takes more than tin to make a can for sliced pineapple, the American Can Co. told federal court today.

The company said its product here will stop tomorrow unless 180 barrels of sealing compound are unloaded from the strikebound freighter, Hawaiian Wholesaler.

It asked admiralty libel seizure of the ship to unload 9,000 pounds of the compound, which acts like a mason jar ring. Without it, the cans cannot be sealed. The pineapple industry says $25 million of its annual $75 million production may be lost unless it can get enough cans.

Meanwhile, the Marine Cooks and Stewards Union (CIO) rejected a Matson Navigation Co. request to supply 24 stewards for the strike-bound luxury liner, Lurline. James P. Blaisdell, Matson attorney, said the steamship line wanted to sail the Lurline back to the West Coast.

Ralph Yossbrink, union port agent, said Matson had elected under terms of a special agreement to send most of the crew back to the coast by plane. "The union cannot, therefore, accede to your request," he replied.

Anti-Bollworm Dusting Is Recommended This Month

County Agent Durward Lawter said today he is advising farmers to prepare for cotton bollworm control dusting by the last week of this month.

Indications are that the infestation will reach dangerous proportions by Aug. 1, and possibly a few days in advance of that date, the farm agent said.

He based his forecast on specimens which are being studied in his office. One specimen which was obtained on July 7 reached the pupa stage on July 8. It should emerge as a bollworm in about 10 more days.

The infestation invaded Howard county on Aug. 3 last year and on Aug. 4 the preceding year. Lawter said that crop dusting equipment should be ready for immediate operation. For best results the pests must be attacked before they puncture the cotton squares.

The farm agent believes that most farmers in this area will be able to dust for cotton fleas and bollworms at the same time, which would result in a substantial saving to all concerned.

75-DAY STRIKE IN HAWAII IS UPSETTING THE DAILY ROUTINE

HONOLULU, July 14. (AP)—The 75-day waterfront strike has cut into the everyday life of the average islander out here. But not as much as you'd think.

There are cases like the paper salesman—with no paper to sell. Or there's Frank May, He's a white collar man at Lewers and Cooke, Hawaii's biggest building materials firm which has made two 10 per cent pay cuts. He's told his wife she has to give up the woman who ironed half a day each week. The yard man who worked over the lawn twice a month has to go, too.

But many people hardly feel the pinch from the long tieup. There's a big segment of federal civil service employees and workers paid by mainland firms. And, of course, the Army, Navy and Air Force people. Their pay keeps coming in. Food relief cargoes provide the staple—meat, potatoes, milk, eggs, butter—and nearly any trimmings you can think of. If you're lucky enough not to have had a couple of pay cuts or lost your job, you can eat and live in good style.

Just the same, the people are settling down for a long, hard pull. The striking CIO stevedores and the seven struck stevedoring firms are as they were May 1 when it all started. The longshoremen want 23.40 cents an hour more than the 21.40 they were getting. The employers withdrew an offer of 22 cents.

DARING BUT MODEST

Season's Necklines Are 'Crumb-Catcher' Styles

By DOROTHY ROE Associated Press Fashion Editor NEW YORK, July 14.—The battle of the necklines goes on apace in fall fashions currently being previewed for the nation's press.

Designers vie for the most daring décolletage, and one of the newest and most startling is known variously as the "fan neckline," crumb catcher, balcony and shelf. It consists of a bodice flaring upward and outward from the waist, with no apparent means of support. It is calculated to arouse the opposite sex, who are doomed to the disappointment of finding that a bra arrangement behind the "fan" makes it all modest, after all.

Jo Copeland, known for her sophisticated after-five costumes, employs the crumb-catcher silhouette to distinct advantage on a striped green surah cocktail dress guaranteed to break the ice at any gathering. This designer also shows a sleek collection of slim city suits, with dressmaker touches such as velvet trim, broad binding, rows of small pearl buttons and such. Skirts are slim and jackets generally longer. Miss Copeland likes contrasting apron panels on dark afternoon gowns, goes in for elaborate side drapes on her more formal designs. Ben Reig concentrates on sleeve interest for fall, introducing the "mercury wing" silhouette, which is a flaring lapel arrangement attached into the sleeve seam. He shows also the mousquetaire sleeve, which is buttoned from wrist to elbow and suggests the long mousquetaire glove.

3,298 X-Rays Made Here

Almost 3,300 people took advantage of the free chest X-rays before the service ended here Wednesday evening. The exact tabulation was 3,298.

Sponsored by the Howard County Tuberculosis association, in cooperation with the State Health department, the service continued from July 3 through Wednesday, Sunday's and holiday's excepted. Within about a week returns from the first X-rays are expected. Those whose chest cavities show clear will receive notice to this effect. Where some indication of tendency to or presence of tuberculosis is reflected by pictures, the individual's physician will be notified. He will contact the individual for a possible conference.

Response fell short of the goal by about 1,700. Officials of the Howard County Tuberculosis association had hoped for 5,000 X-rays of persons 15 years of age or older. Purpose of the survey was to discover unsuspected cases of tuberculosis in their incipiently when they could be most effectively and easily treated.

Britain Cuts Her Buying

LONDON, July 14. (AP)—Britain today allied 25 per cent off her buying from the world's dollar areas for this year.

Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer, told the house of commons Britain's imports from the United States and other dollar areas would be limited to $1,200,000,000. In 1948 Britain spent $1,600,000,000 on imports.

Cripps announced a cut in purchases of U. S. tobacco. He also said the sugar ration would be lowered from 10 to eight ounces weekly and the recently de rationed candy would go back on ration Aug. 14. The weekly candy ration will be four ounces per person.

Two-thirds of the world's people make their living from agricultural enterprises.

Will Return To Clear Name Of Murder Charge

EL PASO, July 14. (AP)—A 21-year-old youth, Donald L. Horn, plans to return to Kentucky today in hopes of clearing his name of charges that he hidgedoned a pretty high school cheer leader to death.

"They may hang me when I get off the train they are so hopped up about it all," he told a reporter here last night, "but all I want from them is a chance." Horn gave himself up Saturday to El Paso officers saying he knew he was wanted for questioning in the fatal beating of 17-year-old Muriel Baldrige of Prestonsburg, Ky., on June 27 near her home. "I had a hard time finding the jail here and had to ask for directions, the tall, curly-haired youth said.

Horn was charged yesterday with murder on a warrant sworn out by Chief Deputy Sheriff Harold Conn of Floyd County, Ky. Floyd County Judge Alex L. Davidson in issuing the order specified to Texas authorities that Horn not be released on bond.

Kentucky State Police Detective Walter E. Woods is scheduled to return Horn to Kentucky by plane sometime today.

Woods said that feeling still ran so high in Floyd County that Horn would not be returned there. "We'll take him to Pikeville or some other place for the present," Wood said.

The girl was last seen about 10 o'clock at night as she left with three friends to cross a bridge to her home after attending a carnival. Her body was found the next day. Coroner Brady Shepherd described the killing as "the most fiendish crime that's ever happened in this country." He said the girl was struck five blows on the head with some sharp instrument, and one of them might have been fatal. He added that there were signs of a violent struggle before her assailant apparently was frightened

Error In Listing Name For License

An error occurred in the public records column carried in Wednesday's Herald. In reporting a marriage license, the bride's name was listed incorrectly. The license issue should have read: George Russell, Big Spring, and Edith Ellene Thompson, Brownwood.

"I never even killed a chicken, let alone a girl like that," Horn said last night. "She was beautiful, I don't know who would do such a thing."

"I saw Muriel about 8 o'clock of the morning she was killed," he said. "Maybe that's why they want to question me now about the case. She was in the company of another fellow they are holding now." Horn said he first found out about the slaying when he read of the crime in a Fort Worth newspaper while hitch hiking to El Paso. Then he decided to give himself up.

Gas Company Carrying On Improvements

The Empire Southern Gas Co. is "making hay while the sun shines." C. H. Rainwater, district manager, reported today that progress is being made on several projects designed to improve and extend services. The company hopes to complete the work well in advance of the cold weather season.

Summer work outlined in Big Spring, some of which already has been completed, includes repairing and replacing lines in the business district; installation of several new, six-inch headers and regulator stations in residential areas; replacing some service lines, and addition of some high pressure lines.

The work should result in improved pressure over most of the city, Rainwater said.

Work is underway now on a high pressure line across the south side of Washington Place, a new, six-inch header from Scurry to Goliad, a four-inch line from State to Rosemont along the alley between Wood and 11th Place, and another header on 12th street from the alley between Scurry and Main to the alley between Johnson and Nolan. Another high pressure line is being installed between 14th and 12th streets.

CIO HAS OWN REPORT

Wage-Raise View Brings Argument

WASHINGTON, July 13. (U)—Controversy grew fast today over a CIO-sponsored economic report which called upon the nation to fight off a possible depression by means of wage raises, tax reductions and public works.

The CIO hired Robert R. Nathan, a consulting economist, to analyze the national situation. His findings were issued here yesterday at a big gathering of reporters, cabinet members, senators, and others.

Yesterday's report advocated wage raises—of different sizes to fit the industry—in all except "severely depressed" industries and companies. It said many industries can afford to raise wages and cut prices at the same time.

LITTLE GRAIN ON GROUND

Wheat Yield Drop Solves Storage

KANSAS CITY, July 13. (U)—Mother nature has taken care of the Southwest's wheat storage problem by sharply cutting the yield.

The bumper crop they were talking about just a few weeks ago turned out to be the crop that wasn't there, and neither was the storage problem.

At Garden City, also in western Kansas, the mural airport hangar was set up as a storage space. The amount of grain dumped into it has been disappointing.

Howard County Junior College is interested in extending curb and gutter installations across the west boundary of its property abutting the county road which connects Martha street with US 80, Dr. P. W. Malone, chairman of the college board, told county commissioners Monday afternoon.

In view of its long-range plans for developing a permanent college site, the HCJC board hopes the road may be developed similar to a city street for the length of its property, Dr. Malone said.

The college will not only install curb and gutter at its own expense, but also will contribute any necessary right-of-way on its side of the road, Dr. Malone assured the commissioners' court.

Encouraging Economic News; Some Prices Bouncing Back

NEW YORK, July 13. — There's still a lot of bounce in our economy. Today's news shows a number of things that have dropped, in price and output, and are now on the rebound. It's only a little bounce back so far, but it's pleasant reading.

Demand has picked up for paper and lead, too. Items that dropped last and far since March. And prices are firming on the two important metals.
