Gilmore Re-elected Superintendent Of Wheeler's Schools

Period of Expansion Shown By Review of His Six Years As Head.

Trustees of Wheeler independent school district last Friday night re-elected J. L. Gilmore as superintendent for the fifth time since he came here to head the city school system in 1932.

Gilmore indicated he would accept the proffered contract, and said he was happy in his work here and that there was no likelihood of his accepting another place.

The school board did not take any action on electing teachers for next year.

When Gilmore came to Wheeler in 1932 there was a corps of 13 teachers, and the school has explained until 23 instructors now are required. He began work in Wheeler with an enrollment of 460 pupils, and there are 675 at present.

Since Gilmore became superintendent the growing school has made it necessary to expand the plant and new buildings were constructed for the home economics department and for manual arts and vocational agriculture.

An addition at this time is being built to the grade school building, and it will be used for the high school next year, Gilmore stated. The old high school building will then be used for the grade school.

Since the schools have been under Gilmore's direction four units of affiliated credits have been added. These include one unit in public school music, one in public speaking, 1 1/2 in home economics and a half-unit in Texas history.

Gilmore came to Wheeler from Turkey, Texas, after having spent 14 years in the school there, 11 years of the time being as superintendent.

He received both his bachelor of arts and his master's degrees from West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon, and did part of his college work in the Southwest Texas State Teachers college at San Marcos and at the University of Texas.

Neighbor Nations All to Participate In Fair at Dallas

Exposition Officials Say No Country Has as Yet Refused To Take Part.

DALLAS.—Central American republics, closest neighbors to Texas, already have accepted almost unanimously invitations to take part in the Greater Texas and Pan-American Exposition, opening at Dallas June 12.

Frank L. McNeny, director general, received reports at the exposition offices in Dallas this week from two flying emissaries as they completed their swing through Mexico and the six Central American republics, without a refusal at any point.

Mexico's formal acceptance is expected momentarily from President Cardenas, who was out of the capital at time of the visit of Dr. Roscoe R. Hill of Washington and Charles H. Abbott of the exposition staff. His cabinet members already have signified acceptance.

Guatemala and Nicaragua have accepted. Unofficially, participation in the exposition has been planned by Honduras and, it is anticipated, by El Salvador, Costa Rica and Panama. This makes the record perfect up to the envoy's entry into the South American continent with first calls at the capitals of Ecuador, then Peru and Chile. Crossing to the Atlantic seaboard, they will return through Argentina, Uruguay, Brazil, Venezuela and Columbia, then across to Cuba to complete their trip about mid-April.

The participation already planned gives strong Latin-American flavor to America's only international fair of 1937, which will run 20 weeks.

The exposition park already is redesigned to conform to distinctive architecture of the American civilization that flourished before colonization from Europe.

Highlighting the entertainment that will make the Exposition at Dallas America's fun center through the summer, George Marshall, internationally recognized sportsman, is arranging olympic games for competition of teams of the North and South American continents, with featured schedules for games in which the neighbor nations are outstanding. Jai-alai, for example, the game of the Spanish and the Latin-American countries, will be staged on a court especially for this fast game.

Magazine Carries Article on School Progress in County

Rucker's Success as County Superintendent Featured by State Teachers' Organ.

Story of progress by rural schools in Wheeler county under the regime of B. T. Rucker, county superintendent, was printed in the current issue of The Texas Outlook, official magazine of the Texas State Teachers' association.

The article, together with a picture of Rucker, occupied almost all of one large magazine page, and was taken entirely from a story in The Wheeler Times of January 14.

The story was a review of progress that had been made in rural education in Wheeler county in two years under Rucker's leadership and showing accomplishments that had been realized through efforts of the county superintendent, the rural teachers' association, the rural trustees' association, the county school board and the school patrons.

The Texas Outlook has a wide circulation among educators of the state, claiming a circulation of 27,300 for the March issue.

India Missionary Visiting at Briscoe

Miss Jessie C. Fisher Spending Part of Furlough With Mrs. R. L. Willis.

Miss Jessie C. Fisher, missionary to India now home on furlough, is visiting her sister, Mrs. R. L. Willis of near Briscoe.

Miss Fisher first went to India 28 years ago, and with the exception of two previous furloughs has spent the entire time there.

Much of Miss Fisher's first two terms was spent in charge of a girls' orphanage and more recently she was in charge of a boys' orphanage. Most of these children were taken in during famine, being left orphans by their parents starving to death.

Many of the children she has helped to raise and train, Miss Fisher says, now are native preachers and Bible women, and others were taught trades, while some became teachers.

Miss Fisher states vast numbers of the natives are dissatisfied and are becoming interested in Christianity. Several instances of mass conversions have taken place, she said.

After a year of much needed rest, Miss Fisher plans to return to her work in India.

Orchard Owner Says Freezes Menace Fruit

Clark Thinks 12-14 Degrees Would Ruin Peach Crop.

There is danger of a freeze destroying the chances for a peach crop this year, said M. L. Clark, who has a 60-acre orchard east of town, to a representative of The Times Saturday.

Although sap is beginning to rise and the buds are swelling, Clark stated that it will take a 12 or 14-degree temperature to do much damage to peaches. He said that even after the trees have blossomed out it will have to get as cold as 18 degrees to do much damage.

In his 60 acres of orchard, Clark says he has 3,300 trees, most of them peaches.

Rites Monday For Grandma Taylor, Pioneer Resident

Settled Here Before Town Was Founded; Had Been In Ill Health Several Years.

Funeral services were held Monday for Mrs. John Taylor, 84 years old, known to many as "Grandma" Taylor, who died at her home in Wheeler Sunday.

With her husband Mrs. Taylor came to Wheeler county in 1904, before there was any town of Wheeler, and they settled two miles north of town. Twenty-four years ago the Taylors moved to the city after building the house which Mrs. Taylor occupied at time of her death.

Malinda Parlee Lloyd was born in Clark county, Arkansas, January 15, 1853, being 84 years old at her death. In 1856 her father's family moved to Texas in Falls county; thence they moved to Frio county, Ellis county, Texas, and Green county, Oklahoma.

She was converted in childhood and united with M. E. Church, South at about the age of forty.

She was married to John Taylor, January 25, 1875. They came to Wheeler county, January 19, 1904.

To this union were born nine children, four of whom preceded her in death. Walter, John, Lula, passed away in infancy. Willis, who lived in New Mexico died on November 27, 1916.

Her husband passed away May 20, 1926. The surviving children are Mrs. Sarah E. Lee, Wheeler, Texas; W. E. Taylor, Shamrock, Texas; Lloyd Taylor, Capitan, N. M.; Mrs. Paul Zinn, Phoenix, Ariz.; and Mrs. E. M. Clay, Wheeler, Texas; 13 grandchildren; nine great grand children, and one brother, Ely Lloyd of Medina, Texas.

Mrs. Taylor, or Grandma as she was called by most people, had been in bad health for five or six years. On February 1, she contracted a cold; on February 20, she became worse; a more serious stage developed about March 2, after which she passed away March 7 at 5:27 a. m.

Besides the family and relatives, she is survived by a good number of friends, who join with the family in this hour of bereavement in sympathy in these dark hours.

Funeral services were held at her home, Monday at 2:00 p. m., with Rev. E. C. Raney officiating. Interment in the Wheeler cemetery.

Out of town people attending the funeral were Mrs. Taylor's son, Will and family. Grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hugg, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Cloze, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Walker of Shamrock, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Hunt, of Mobeetie, Mrs. Cecil Denison, Wichita, Kans.; and Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Bond of Plainview.

Other relatives attending were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Thompson and family; Mr. and Mrs. Jackson, of Spearman; George and Herbert Thompson; Mrs. Charlie Oglesby, Mangum, Okla. A number of friends from Shamrock and Mobeetie, also attended.

Orphanage Group To Give Program

Methodist Pastor Announces Entertainment At Church Saturday Evening.

Thirty entertainers from the Methodist orphanage at Waco are to give a program at the local Methodist church Saturday night, Rev. E. C. Raney, pastor announces.

"The general public is invited to attend," Raney stated. "Everyone who ever has heard one of these programs will tell you they are really worth while."

There are no changes announced in the services at the church Sunday and through the week.

"We wish to call attention to the church of the near approach of Easter and preparations for that service," said the pastor. "It is a fine time to get our church letters up and turn them in to the church. All people who have babies who have not been baptized should have it done at this time."

Swinburn Again Elected Head Of Briscoe Schools

School Board Re-elects Entire Faculty; Nice Progress Shown In Last Year.

The school board at Briscoe has re-elected W. V. Swinburn as superintendent and has offered their places for another year to all the nine teachers who work with him. Swinburn announced Monday.

Teachers re-elected are:

Elmore Scott, high school principal and instructor in science and mathematics; Miss Edith Stubbs, English teacher; James Coney, instructor in manual training and coach of basketball and track; Miss LaVelle Coney, home economics.

O. C. Evans, principal of the grade school, and Miss Ruby Lee Williams and Miss Ima Scott, who teach the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh grades; Miss Beulah Hubbard, who has charge of the second and third grades, and Miss Glennis Wiseman, primary teacher.

Swinburn finishes this spring his first year as superintendent at Briscoe, having gone there from Dodsonville, in Collingsworth county, where he had been for six years.

Under his direction, Briscoe schools have made several improvements. The manual training department has been equipped with hand tools and machinery, so that it ranks with the leaders among schools of its size. Most any kind of cabinet work can be turned out with the equipment they have, Swinburn stated.

Effort has been made to make the school a center of community activities, and every few weeks a free entertainment is put on by the school. This feature has met with general approval and large crowds attend.

The school entertainments are made possible by the dramatic club, the glee club, the 20-piece band which has been organized, and the emphasis that Swinburn has placed on choral singing.

One school activity which Swinburn took considerable pride in was the daily program of gymnasium periods for pupils in all grades, but loss of the gym by fire several weeks ago put a stop to this. Effort is being made to get money from the state to rebuild, and a bill is pending before the legislature which carries an appropriation. Recent letters from Wheeler counties members of the state assembly give hopes that the bill will pass.

Plans have been made for a school ground beautification program, and WPA grants have been secured for laying water lines, building walks, and constructing tennis and croquet courts.

Cooper Brothers of Kelton and Davis To Sing at Meeting Tuesday.

Rucker is in charge of getting up program for next meeting of the club and says the brothers, farm boys who attend school at Kelton and Davis, have made quite a reputation as songsters.

Rucker, county school superintendent, whose pride and joy is the rural schools and their pupils, declared he wanted to show the world, and especially the Lions club, what the country schools could produce in the way of singers.

Water Pipes, Trees, Shrubs, Tennis Courts, Sidewalks Included In Projects.

Briscoe school has received notice of approval of federal grant of $1,759 by the federal government for use in making improvements, W. V. Swinburn, superintendent, informed The Times early this week.

Approximately 65 percent of the cost is to be paid by the federal government, Swinburn said.

For beautification of the school grounds, the government is contributing $505.60. Work contemplated is the laying of water pipes and putting out shrubbery, trees and grass.

Two tennis courts and three croquet courts are to be built, Swinburn stated, at cost to Uncle Sam of $410. Something like 600 feet of sidewalks are to be built on the school grounds, to connect buildings and as a part of the beautification scheme, at federal cost of $843.

Thornton, chemist with extension department of Texas A. and M. college, will be in Wheeler Saturday, March 13, and is to address a meeting of farm people on the possibilities of home tanning of leather, according to announcement by Jake Tarter, county agent, and Miss Dawson Burleson, county home demonstrator.

Thornton is to have with him an exhibit showing what can be done with home tanned leather. Formulas and methods of doing this work will be taught and the information given out will be both interesting and profitable, Tarter and Miss Burleson declared.

This meeting will be in the district courtroom and is to begin at 1 o'clock. The extension agents urge both farmers and farm women to attend and insist Thornton's discussion and the exhibit will be of interest to all.

City Council After Lower Rate for Gas

Gas Company Expected to Agree To Price Reduction Without Litigation.

The city council has a move under way to secure reduced gas rates for consumers in the city, Robert Holt, mayor, announced Thursday.

Already they have secured necessary information on which to base a plea for the reduction, Holt said.

It is expected that the adjustment can be arranged without a hearing before the railroad commission, the mayor informed The Times, as H. M. Wiley, owner of the Wheeler Gas Co., has indicated a willingness to agree upon a new and lower rate. As Wiley has been confined to his bed with influenza for several days, details of any understanding will have to wait until he has recovered sufficiently to transact business.

Details of information in hands of city officials was not revealed, but Holt cited the new utility law under which towns the size of Wheeler have the right to exercise additional control over all public utilities. This bill limits the amount that a public utility may make to the figure of 8 percent net.

"By listening to the judging of canned fruits, vegetables and meats I learned many things about canning and found where my mistakes were," stated Mrs. Jess Crowder, Wheeler home demonstration club member. "Of course I use the extension service recipes and get information from the county home demonstration agent in addition to attending each exhibit that is possible for me to attend."

Mrs. Crowder joined the home demonstration club in April 1930 and at the county fair that year she won 3 third place ribbons. In 1931 she exhibited products and won 1 first place and 1 second place; in 1932 she won 4 first places, 3 second places, 2 thirds, and in 1933 she won 8 firsts, 3 seconds and 1 third. After attending the stock show and seeing all the animals exhibited, the group visited the plant of the Amarillo News-Globe and then attended a movie.

GIRL SCOUTS' INDIAN PATROL MET TUESDAY

Plans were discussed for a covered dish luncheon for the next Scout meeting; each girl who has not passed the cooking phase of the second class test is to bring some dish that to death, in most cases. If they did not use his professional services or his merchandise, it is extremely doubtful if "wifey" or "daught" would be wearing silk underwear today. Ezra knows his livelihood is derived from the money spent here in Shamrock. He realizes that every dollar his wife or daughter spend out of town actually hurts him, by removing just that much money out of local circulation.

The trouble is with most Ezras, they haven't got the guts to set their foot down and set it down hard. If every Shamrock business and professional man would resolve today that as far as this out-of-town buying is concerned, his family has spent its last dime, business conditions in Shamrock would show a big up-turn. If JAUB had a 12-year-old carrier boy in his employ who never had enough sense to figure out that it would pay him to spend his money in Shamrock where he earned it, we would figure he was entirely too dumb to deliver our newspapers. We would reason with him just one time and if he never got the point, why the second time he sent a dollar out of town for something he could have bought in Shamrock, we'd fire him so quick it'd make his head swim.

There is one business here in Shamrock, a credit to our city, which right now is feeling the effects of some of our women folks pulling the "cute" trick of buying a product simply because it is made out of town. That firm is the Bradley Bakery and this little comment JAUB is making is without the knowledge of Mr. and Mrs. Euell Bradley, who operates the bakery.

Now get this straight, JAUB doesn't owe Euell Bradley one cent, and vice versa. And JAUB feels the same way about every other line of local business, as we do the case in hand. We know no local business firms can prosper, and women who are buying out-of-town products, that goes for your husband's business or profession.

An Amarillo bakery truck is now making a bid for our Shamrock business. Little by little, they have been unloading bread and pastries in local stores. As a temporary measure to entice the Shamrock grocers to stock their bread, they have cut one cent a loaf under the local wholesale price. They are encouraging some of grocers to cut the retail price of their bread and to advertise it in The Texan. They want to get housewives to asking for Amarillo bread, so other grocers who are standing behind the Shamrock bakery will have to stock Amarillo bread.

This Amarillo firm doesn't give a whoop what kind of a price war they get Shamrock grocers into on bread or anything else. They can give it away to the customers, as long as they pay the Amarillo firm the price it asks. And the Amarillo wholesale price will go up, if and when they get enough local demand to justify an arbitrary attitude, have no doubt about that.

Bread baked by the Bradley Bakery is just as pure and wholesome as that baked in Amarillo or anywhere. Although not as large, the equipment of our local bakery is just as modern and the bakers are just as skilled as you can find. If you sum it up in a nutshell, the one and only reason some of the women are asking for Amarillo bread is that they know most of their neighbors and friends are eating Shamrock bread, and they want to be different.

And every one of them who calls for Amarillo bread should be ashamed of themselves, just like most of their husbands would be ashamed of them if it were publicly known they are spending money they made in Shamrock to support an out-of-town firm which cares not a whit about anything in Shamrock, except the few dollars they can get out of us.

Don't get the mistaken idea that very much Amarillo bread is being bought here at this time. Most housewives are too fair and reasonable for that. But there are a few, and JAUB asks these women to consider the many reasons why they should stop this most unfair practice.

And what we have said about bread, applies to everything else made in Shamrock or sold by Shamrock firms. We have been suckers long enough. Let's tell these out-of-town birds where to head in. It is a good way to stimulate business for all of our local firms, and goodness knows, we are all going to need each other's help the worst way during the next several months.

she has prepared by herself for the luncheon.

The next meeting will be a program commemorating the Twenty-fifth Anniversary of Girl Scouting. Emily Lou Ahler is to tell a story about the life of Juliette Lowe, the founder of Girl Scouting. Other numbers on the program will relate to the program of Scouts.

"Alphabet Birds," a game calling for the knowledge of many different birds, was played; a variation of the game consisted of calling for birds of a certain color.

Enough girls have paid their dues at present to begin registration with the national headquarters, and an installation service will be held in the near future as soon as registration is completed. All girls are urged to attend regularly and to participate in the work in a hearty manner, as only then can the real meaning of Girl Scouting become a part of a girl's daily life.

Gilmore Re-elected Superintendent of Wheeler's Schools

Period of Expansion Shown By Review of His Six Years As Head.

Trustees of Wheeler independent school district last Friday night re-elected J. L. Gilmore as superintendent for the fifth time since he came here to head the city school system in 1932.

Gilmore indicated he would accept the proffered contract, and said he was happy in his work here and that there was no likelihood of his accepting another place.

The school board did not take any action on electing teachers for next year.

When Gilmore came to Wheeler in 1932 there was a corps of 13 teachers, and the school has explained until 23 instructors now are required. He began work in Wheeler with an enrollment of 460 pupils, and there are 675 at present.

Since Gilmore became superintendent the growing school has made it necessary to expand the plant and new buildings were constructed for the home economics department and for manual arts and vocational agriculture.

An addition at this time is being built to the grade school building, and it will be used for the high school next year, Gilmore stated. The old high school building will then be used for the grade school.

Since the schools have been under Gilmore's direction four units of affiliated credits have been added. These include one unit in public school music, one in public speaking, 1½ in home economics and a half-unit in Texas history.

Gilmore came to Wheeler from Turkey, Texas, after having spent 14 years in the school there, 11 years of the time being as superintendent.

He received both his bachelor of arts and his master's degrees from West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon, and did part of his college work in the Southwest Texas State Teachers college at San Marcos and at the University of Texas.

Neighbor Nations All to Participate in Fair at Dallas

Exposition Officials Say No Country Has as Yet Refused To Take Part.

DALLAS.—Central American republics, closest neighbors to Texas, already have accepted almost unanimously invitations to take part in the Greater Texas and Pan-American Exposition, opening at Dallas June 12.

Frank L. McNeny, director general, received reports at the exposition offices in Dallas this week from two flying emissaries as they completed their swing through Mexico and the six Central American republics, without a refusal at any point.

Mexico's formal acceptance is expected momentarily from President Cardenas, who was out of the capital at time of the visit of Dr. Roscoe R. Hill of Washington and Charles H. Abbott of the exposition staff. His cabinet members already have signified acceptance.

Guatemala and Nicaragua have accepted. Unofficially, participation in the exposition has been planned by Honduras and, it is anticipated, by El Salvador, Costa Rica and Panama. This makes the record perfect up to the envoy's entry into the South American continent with first calls at the capitals of Ecuador, then Peru and Chile. Crossing to the Atlantic seaboard, they will return through Argentina, Uruguay, Brazil, Venezuela and Colombia, then across to Cuba to complete their trip about mid-April.

The participation already planned gives strong Latin-American flavor to America's only international fair of 1937, which will run 20 weeks.

The exposition park already is redesigned to conform to distinctive architecture of the American civilization that flourished before colonization from Europe.

Highlighting the entertainment that will make the Exposition at Dallas America's fun center through the summer, George Marshall, internationally recognized sportsman, is arranging olympic games for competition of teams of the North and South American continents, with featured schedules for games in which the neighbor nations are outstanding. Jaialai, for example, the game of the Spanish and the Latin-American countries, will be staged on a court especially for this fast-paced game.

Our school racquets contest that is set for next week will be a ball look as mild as tiddie.

Re-elected

J. L. Gilmore

For six years, superintendent of Wheeler schools, Gilmore was re-elected for another year by the school board at its meeting Thursday night of last week.

Magazine Carries Article on School Progress in County

Rucker's Success as County Superintendent Featured by State Teachers' Organ.

Story of progress by rural schools in Wheeler county under the regime of B. T. Rucker, county superintendent, was printed in the current issue of The Texas Outlook, official magazine of the Texas State Teachers' association.

The article, together with a picture of Rucker, occupied almost all of one large magazine page, and was taken entirely from a story in The Wheeler Times of January 14.

The story was a review of progress that had been made in rural education in Wheeler county in two years under Rucker's leadership and showing accomplishments that had been realized through efforts of the county superintendent, the rural teachers' association, the rural trustees' association, the county school board and the school patrons.

The Texas Outlook has a wide circulation among educators of the state, claiming a circulation of 27,300 for the March issue.

India Missionary Visiting at Briscoe

Miss Jessie C. Fisher Spending Part of Furlough With Mrs. R. L. Willis.

Miss Jessie C. Fisher, missionary to India now home on furlough, is visiting her sister, Mrs. R. L. Willis of near Briscoe.

Miss Fisher first went to India 28 years ago, and with the exception of two previous furloughs has spent the entire time there.

Much of Miss Fisher's first two terms was spent in charge of a girls' orphanage and more recently she was in charge of a boys' orphanage. Most of these children were taken in during famine, being left orphans by their parents starving to death.

Many of the children she has helped to raise and train, Miss Fisher says, now are native preachers and Bible women, and others were taught trades, while some became teachers.

"The general public is invited to attend," Raney stated. "Everyone who ever has heard one of these programs will tell you they are really worth while."

There are no changes announced in the services at the church Sunday and through the week.

"We wish to call attention to the church of the near approach of Easter and preparations for that service," said the pastor. "It is a fine time to get our church letters up and turn them in to the church. All people who have babies who have not been baptized should have it done at this time."

Orchard Owner Says Freezes Menace Fruit

Clark Thinks 12-14 Degrees Would Ruin Peach Crop.

There is danger of a freeze destroying the chances for a peach crop this year, said M. L. Clark, who has a 60-acre orchard east of town, to a representative of The Times Saturday.

Although sap is beginning to rise and the buds are swelling, Clark stated that it will take a 12 or 14-degree temperature to do much damage to peaches. He said that even after the trees have blossomed out it will have to get as cold as 18 degrees to do much damage.

In his 60 acres of orchard, Clark says he has 3,300 trees, most of them peaches.

Rites Monday For Grandma Taylor, Pioneer Resident

Settled Here Before Town Was Found; Had Been in Ill Health Several Years.

Funeral services were held Monday for Mrs. John Taylor, 84 years old, known to many as "Grandma" Taylor, who died at her home in Wheeler Sunday.

With her husband Mrs. Taylor came to Wheeler county in 1904, before there was any town of Wheeler, and they settled two miles north of town. Twenty-four years ago the Taylors moved to the city after building the house which Mrs. Taylor occupied at time of her death.

Mialinda Parilee Lloyd was born in Clark county, Arkansas, January 15, 1853, being 84 years old at her death. In 1856 her father's family moved to Texas in Falls county; thence they moved to Ervo county, Ellis county, Texas, and Green county, Oklahoma. She was converted in childhood and united with M. E. Church, South at about the age of forty.

She was married to John Taylor, January 25, 1875. They came to Wheeler county, January 19, 1904.

To this union were born nine children, four of whom preceded her in death. Walter, John, Lula, passed away in infancy. Willis, who lived in New Mexico died on November 27, 1916.

Her husband passed away May 20, 1926. The surviving children are Mrs. Sarah E. Lee, Wheeler, Texas; W. E. Taylor, Shamrock, Texas; Lloyd Taylor, Capitan, N. M.; Mrs. Paul Zinn, Phoenix, Ariz.; and Mrs. E. M. Clay, Wheeler, Texas; 13 grandchildren; nine great grand children, and one brother, Ely Lloyd of Medina, Texas.

Mrs. Taylor, or Grandma as she was called by most people, had been in bad health for five or six years. On February 1, she contracted a cold; on February 20, she became worse; a more serious stage developed about March 2, after which she passed away March 7 at 9:27 a. m.

Besides the family and relatives, she is survived by a good number of friends, who join with the family in this hour of bereavement in sympathy in these dark hours.

Funeral services were held at her home, Monday* at 2:00 p. m., with Rev. E. C. Raney officiating. Interment in the Wheeler cemetery.

Out of town people attending the funeral were Mrs. Taylor's son, Will and family. Grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hugg, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Clegg, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Walker of Shamrock, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Hunt, of Mobeetie, Mrs. Cecil Denson, Wichita, Kans; and Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Bond of Plainview.

Other relatives attending were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Thompson and family; Mr. and Mrs. Jackson, of Spearman; George and Herbert Thompson; Mrs. Charlie Oglesby, Mangum, Okla.

A number of friends from Shamrock and Mobeetie, also attended.

Orphanage Group To Give Program

Methodist Pastor Announces Entertainment at Church Saturday Evening.

Thirty entertainers from the Methodist orphanage at Waco are to give a program at the local Methodist church Saturday night, Rev. E. C. Raney, pastor announces.

"The general public is invited to attend," Raney stated. "Everyone who ever has heard one of these programs will tell you they are really worth while."

Schools Close Friday As Teachers Convene

Gilmore and Mrs. Whitener on Program at Canyon Convention.

Schools over the county will be closed Friday so that teachers may attend the Northwest Texas Conference for Education at Canyon Friday and Saturday.

Other details will be found in The Corral, high school tabloid section of this week's Times.

Swinburn Again Elected Head of Briscoe Schools

School Board Re-elects Entire Faculty; Nice Progress Shown in Last Year.

The school board at Briscoe has re-elected W. V. Swinburn as superintendent and has offered their places for another year to all the nine teachers who work with him, Swinburn announced Monday.

Teachers re-elected are: Elmore Scott, high school principal and instructor in science and mathematics; Miss Edith Stubbs, English teacher; James Coney, instructor in manual training and coach of basketball and track; Miss LaVelle Coney, home economics.

O. C. Evans, principal of the grade school, and Miss Rubye Lee Williams and Miss Ina Scott, who teach the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh grades; Miss Beulah Hubbard, who has charge of the second and third grades, and Miss Glennis Wiseman, primary teacher.

Swinburn finishes this spring his first year as superintendent at Briscoe, having gone there from Dodsboro, in Collingsworth county, where he had been for six years.

Under his direction, Briscoe schools have made several improvements. The manual training department has been equipped with hand tools and machinery, so that it ranks with the leaders among schools of its size. Most any kind of cabinet work can be turned out with the equipment they have, Swinburn stated.

Effort has been made to make the school a center of community activities, and every few weeks a free entertainment is put on by the school. This feature has met with general approval and large crowds attend.

The school entertainments are made possible by the dramatic club, the glee club, the 20-piece band which has been organized, and the emphasis that Swinburn has placed on choral singing.

One school activity which Swinburn took considerable pride in was the daily program of gymnasium periods for pupils in all grades, but loss of the gym by fire several weeks ago put a stop to this. Effort is being made to get money from the state to rebuild, and a bill is pending before the legislature which carries an appropriation. Recent letters from Wheeler county members of the state assembly give hopes that the bill will pass.

Plans have been made for a school ground beautification program, and WPA grants have been secured for laying water lines, building walks, and constructing tennis and croquet courts.

Cooper Brothers of Kelton and Davis To Sing at Meeting Tuesday.

Rucker is in charge of getting up program for next meeting of the club and says the brothers, farm boys who attend school at Kelton and Davis, have made quite a reputation as songsters.

Rucker, county school superintendent, whose pride and joy is the rural schools and their pupils, declared he wanted to show the world, and especially the Lions club, what the country schools could produce in the way of singers.

Water Pipes, Trees, Shrubs, Tennis Courts, Sidewalks Included in Projects.

Briscoe school has received notice of approval of federal grant of $1,759 by the federal government for use in making improvements, W. V. Swinburn, superintendent, informed The Times early this week.

Approximately 65 percent of the cost is to be paid by the federal government, Swinburn said.

For beautification of the school grounds, the government is contributing $505.60. Work contemplated is the laying of water pipes and putting out shrubbery, trees and grass.

Two tennis courts and three croquet courts are to be built, Swinburn stated, at cost to Uncle Sam of $110.

Something like 600 feet of sidewalks are to be built on the school grounds, to connect buildings and as a part of the beautification scheme, at federal cost of $843.

How It Is Done and Possibilities To Be Shown.

M. K. Thornton, chemist with extension department of Texas A. and M. college, will be in Wheeler Saturday, March 13, and is to address a meeting of farm people on the possibilities of home tanning of leather, according to announcement by Jake Tarter, county agent, and Miss Dawson Burleson, county home demonstrator.

Thornton is to have with him an exhibit showing what can be done with home tanned leather. Formulas and methods of doing this work will be taught and the information given out will be both interesting and profitable, Tarter and Miss Burleson declared.

This meeting will be in the district courtroom and is to begin at 1 o'clock. The extension agents urge both farmers and farm women to attend and insist Thornton's discussion and the exhibit will be of interest to all.

City Council After Lower Rate for Gas

Gas Company Expected to Agree To Price Reduction Without Litigation.

The city council has a move under way to secure reduced gas rates for consumers in the city, Robert Holt, mayor, announced Thursday.

Already they have secured necessary information on which to base a plea for the reduction, Holt said.

It is expected that the adjustment can be arranged without a hearing before the railroad commission, the mayor informed The Times, as H. M. Wiley, owner of the Wheeler Gas Co., has indicated a willingness to agree upon a new and lower rate. As Wiley has been confined to his bed with influenza for several days, details of any understanding will have to wait until he has recovered sufficiently to transact business.

Details of information in hands of city officials was not revealed, but Holt cited the new utility law under which towns the size of Wheeler have the right to exercise additional control over all public utilities. This bill limits the amount that a public utility may make to the figure of 8 percent net.

1936 CASUALTY LIST

The National Safety Council reports that during 1936 accidents killed 111,000 persons in the United States, and caused an economic loss totaling $3,750,000,000.

In addition to the fatalities, about 400,000 persons were permanently disabled by accidents, and 10,300,000 temporarily disabled.

Accidents rose in every field. Home accidents took 39,000 lives—24 per cent more than in 1935.

Occupational deaths rose 9 per cent, to 18,000. Miscellaneous public accidents not involving automobiles, rose 6 per cent, and killed 19,000.

Worst of all was the toll of the automobile. While the percentage rise was smaller than in most classifications, 4 per cent, fatalities reached the ghastly total of 38,500.

It is clear from these figures that safety work has only begun. Never was the responsibility of educators, public groups, police and the courts greater.

Even in 1936 many states, cities and industries managed to show substantial reductions in accidental deaths, as a result of continuous and aggressive safety programs.

And in the thirty states which showed increased death totals, according to the council, "More than half have not performed notable work in any important branch of traffic safety work."

Nothing could prove more conclusively that safety work gets results—and lack of safety work keeps the undertaking parlous humming.

It is encouraging that plans for 1937 in most states involve material increases in safety work of all kinds.

Perhaps we are beginning to learn something from our horrible past death tolls—and are at last on the road that leads toward general accident prevention.

THE SUPREME COURT

It will be said if debate over the proposed reorganization of the judiciary descends to a level of rabble-rousing.

Granting that a change in the supreme court now would better serve the public interest, there is the vital question of precedent.

He is required by law to get permission if he leaves the county, and this man wanted to visit a brother in another state.

"The old boy is doing fine and I think he will make the grade," Cooper said.

Here is a job that has great possibilities for grief to the man who fills it, and the only remuneration is the satisfaction that comes to him who serves.

It is a job that offers an exceptional opportunity for unselfish service, which is the only road to real satisfaction by any code worth following.

Merely to know that he would accept such a job makes me like Cooper.

Whimsy

By M. L. M.
Albert Cooper, editor of the Shamrock Texan, was over to the county seat Tuesday and he and yours truly discussed with the commissioners court the matter of having a statement of county finances published regularly.

The reports are to appear in both the Shamrock Texan and the Wheeler Times, because the county officials really want to let the voters know how they are handling the people's money.

In a week or so the first statement, covering the last three months of 1936, will be printed.

One thing that has impressed me is the apparent sincerity of County Judge Puett and Commissioners Sims, Hefley, Montgomery and Trout in their effort to serve the county honestly and faithfully.

Cooper affirmed my conviction that things really are as they seem; that there is no such thing as official graft so far as our commissioners court is concerned.

When I came to Wheeler I expected to find better county government than I had been accustomed to.

For several years I lived in a populous Oklahoma county, where if a man could get elected county commissioner, by the time he served one term he usually had improved his financial condition to the point of actual prosperity.

Honestly, I was not prepared to see the real article in honest administration, and for a time I had my doubts.

Cooper, too, used to live in Oklahoma, where a public office ordinarily means something more than a salary; and since he agrees with my findings in the manner, I am happy to admit that now I am fully convinced.

While Cooper was visiting in The Wheeler Times office, a young fellow in overalls hung around outside, and when we started to leave together, the man called Cooper aside for a moment.

As we crossed the street, Cooper explained to me that he was a member of the county parole board, and that the man was a paroled convict and had to report regularly.

He is required by law to get permission if he leaves the county, and this man wanted to visit a brother in another state.

"The old boy is doing fine and I think he will make the grade," Cooper said.

Here is a job that has great possibilities for grief to the man who fills it, and the only remuneration is the satisfaction that comes to him who serves.

It is a job that offers an exceptional opportunity for unselfish service, which is the only road to real satisfaction by any code worth following.

Merely to know that he would accept such a job makes me like Cooper.

Accounts of Briscoe School activities, community happenings, personal items and other news as gathered by the faculty and student body.

OUR CONDUCT

At a suggestion from a faculty member the members of Briscoe High School formed a code of conduct that was printed in a former issue of this paper. Each class had a part in the formation of the code.

Conditions have improved a great deal since that time, but every student should feel it has responsibility to follow the code exactly. With every student doing his part, we could have a perfect school.

The Pie Supper

The pie supper that was held at the Briscoe High School March 5, proved very successful.

There were many beautiful boxes auctioned off by Mr. Green of Mobeetic.

For entertainment the Public Speaking Class presented two one-act plays: "Tea Pot on the Rocks" and "Orville's Big Date." These were enjoyed by everyone.

Seen and Heard

Terry Olen eating pie with two girls. Lois eating with her prospective father-in-law.

The Seniors taking snapshots on the campus. A dignified senior making a date with a Mobeetic boy.

Mr. Coney trying to find out who bought a certain girl's pie. Marion Clark asking Margaret Reavis which pie was her's. Tish! Tish!

Mr. Scott trying to find out about an insurance "fake." Jane blushing when asked to have a picture taken with Glenn.

Miss Coney on the "War Path." Hannah Fay being called man-hater by a certain freshman boy.

Ruby and a freshman boy holding hands while having their picture made. Mary Margaret's coin purse walking back to her minus the coins.

ELIMINATED BY INSTRUCTORS

During the boys' debate one speaker mentioned finding a machine gun abroad, (he neglected to mention the name of the country) which had Dupont's name on it.

In rebuttal he was chided by a member of the opposition in these words: "They were too vague, entirely too vague, in their remarks."

The ladder of life is full of splinters, but they always prick the hardest when we're sliding down.

Last Friday afternoon story tellers for interscholastic league were eliminated to seven.

The students who were chosen were Eugene Cooper, R. J. Holt, Joy Arthur Red, Edwin Robertson, Marie Carter, Elmer Tolliver, Lela Jewell Walker, and Erma Jean Reed.

Three will be picked from this list. They will continue to be drilled then one story teller will go to Shamrock for the league.

Cole Makes Desk for Office

A typing desk, equipped with drawers and large enough for two match lines was made by H. E. Cole last week. It was placed in the high school office Monday.

The man who does not have a hard time in his earlier years rarely has an easier time in his later ones.

The Arrow.

Have you noticed Marylin Hestlow's new hairdress? It's very becoming.

Most pencils make noise when being sharpened. But no pencil ever made as much noise as Mary Durban's when she sharpens it in plane geometry.

Look in a man's eyes for honesty; round his mouth for weakness; at his chin for strength; at his hands for temperment; at his nails for cleanliness.

When there are many brown sacks of lunch just alike it is difficult to get the right one unless there is some means of identification.

Each student can keep his lunch in his own desk, no opportunity for snatching lunches may not mean much to the "Man on the Street," but it never heard him read his own work can never appreciate the man whose ones will take care of themselves.

HIGH TEST

makes cold motors purr-r-r

How can you tell what power, pep and speed, your motor will actually develop, until you have given it a real chance to "do its stuff" by filling up with high test gasoline?

So try Phillips 66 Poly Gas.

It costs no more than ordinary low test motor fuels. Yet scientific laboratory tests made day in and day out, all winter long, have proved that the effective high test of Phillips 66 is unsurpassed by any other gasoline—even those selling at a higher price.

You will notice that your motor starts much faster... warms up quicker... that it literally purrs along at any speed from a snail's pace in traffic to a streamlined sprint on the out-of-town concrete.

You will also feel the added power which comes from the extra energy units supplied by the patented POLYMERIZATION process.

You get these two-fold economies of extra high test and extra power... without extra price... because of Phillips resources as world's largest producer of natural high test gasoline... because of Phillips initiative as an Independent Organization.

Make it a point to get your next tankful of gas at the Orange and Black 66 Shield. You'll enjoy that difference in performance and saving in money.

We Want Your COTTONSEED

You Need Our Cake and Meal

By the use of our cake and meal you can cut your feed costs on horses and mules as well as cows and hogs

If you have an excess of cottonseed over your needs for planting purposes better trade them for cake or meal while it is here. We will make another run at the mill and want to get all the seed in that is to be sold or traded.

After we make the last run seed prices will probably drop because the only way they can be bought then would be on the basis of the price of seed this next year and we expect them to be considerably lower in price than this year's crop.

JESUS PRAYING FOR HIS DISCIPLES

Lesson Text: Jno. 16:5-7; 17:14-26.

Lesson Scope: John, sixteenth and seventeenth chapters.

Devotional Reading: John 17:1-11.

Approach

Perhaps in no other place than in this "upper room" and at no other time than here where He had His last meeting with His disciples before His crucifixion did Christ make so clear the principles that made them so different from all the world about them and set forth the things that would make the world so bitter against them. After His crucifixion, after His resurrection, and after His ascension the burden of the work and the brunt of the opposition to that work was to fall upon His disciples. How could they stand what they had not been able to understand? How were they to meet and be victorious over this better opposition that had, in the past, been waged against their Lord and Christ? They themselves had been bitter against those who had hated Him. They had manifested the spirit of hate and fight—they suggested a fight to the death. Once they desired of Him power to call fire down out of heaven (as did Elijah) to destroy His enemies. They had been kept by Him from all such demonstrations. To those "fire eaters" He said, "Ye know not what manner men ye are." To Peter He said, "Put up thy sword, for they that take the sword shall perish by the sword."

What therefore now are such men to do when the whole responsibility is shifted to their heads? The answer to this question is found in our lesson today.

Is our lesson today to be merely a lesson in history—even sacred history? Rather, we should absorb the principle of this lesson and make the same personal application Christ desired them to make. We would appropriate to ourselves His helps and take advantage of every promise He here made to them. Only in this way can we, in this twentieth century, be a success in the Christian life and work.

Is our lesson today to be merely a lesson in history—even sacred history? Rather, we should absorb the principle of this lesson and make the same personal application Christ desired them to make. We would appropriate to ourselves His helps and take advantage of every promise He here made to them. Only in this way can we, in this twentieth century, be a success in the Christian life and work.

Eighth District P.-T. A. Notes

(By Betty Pearson Hodges)

Dr. Carleton Washburn, superintendent of schools of Winnetka, Ill., will be the main speaker at the Parent-Teacher luncheon which will be given March 12, during the annual Northwest Texas Conference for Education at Canyon. All teachers, administrators and members of the Parent-Teacher associations are invited to attend the luncheon, from 12 to 1:15 at Randall hall, girls' dormitory at the West Texas State Teacher's college.

Arrangements for the luncheon have been made by Mrs. Dan Sanders, president of the Canyon P.-T. A. At the afternoon session of the general conference, Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, eighth district president, will give an address on "The Why of the Parent-Teacher Organization." Two district and state officers, Mrs. J. E. Griggs and Mrs. J. M. Crain, of Amarillo, will be present at the conference and speak at the luncheon.

Announcements of the panel topics of these things, sorrow filled their hearts. And that sorrow was not, and could not, be changed until the Holy Spirit came into them and became their Comforter. For, first of all, that is what He was to be unto them; and that is what He will be unto us now. Christ could not accomplish His work alone. Only at the cross was He left alone because He was there and then defiled with the sin and iniquity of those whom He wished to redeem. After that, He worked only in full and complete association with both the Father and the Spirit. They had before this received "a measure" of the Spirit; but now, He was to be received personally and fully.

Christ Prays For Them

There was, of course, no more appropriate occasion for prayer than this. The gravity and solemnity of the moment made it almost compulsory that He pray. Perhaps it is not in full keeping with scripture to call this "A High Priestly Prayer," for "He could not be a priest while on earth"; but it is His farewell prayer. But that cannot be construed to mean that this was His last prayer, for He is still our Advocate and, as our Great High Priest, as stated by Him, He "will pray the Father" for us.

The Prayer Itself

It is concerned about Consecration (vv. 14-16), Sanctification (vv. 17-21), and Glorification (vv. 22-26). And about these are clustered some very vital principles of the Christian life. First of all, as long as a Christian is in the flesh, he is a citizen of the country in which he lives (Rom. 13). Nevertheless, he cannot look upon this citizenship as the world looks upon it. The Christian is not of the world. Christ had given them His word, and that is what made them "not of the world." It is not to be wondered at, then, that the devil and the world hates the word of God (the Bible) as they do. Just as the world "cannot" receive the Holy Spirit, whom Christ promised unto all them that obey Him, so neither can the world receive the word of God and still remain "the world."

That word has life and power and, when received, brings about so vital a change in the receiver that he is no more of the world.

Christ did not pray for them to be taken out of the world of evil and gross wickedness and bitter hatred, but He did pray for the Father to keep them, while they were in the world, from the evil one. Are you being thus kept?

Sanctification is being set apart unto a holy purpose. They were to be "vessels of honor, sanctified, meet for the Master's use" (2 Tim. 2:21). The foremost work of His disciples is to proclaim the glad tidings unto the world. To do this grand work they must possess sanctification (Heb. 12:14). How useful it is for us to realize that he, who proclaims the word, must first let that word burn the dross out of his own heart. As a hammer, that word must break into pieces every cherished hope of a selfish nature. Only a pure heart can preach the unsearchable riches of Christ. Otherwise, that word would be given out with the same corruption, deception and lasciviousness of the heart back of it.

Glorification is perfection. Perfection can be expressed only in perfect unity—unity with the Father, Son and Holy Spirit. Such a unity will be manifested in peace and harmony among themselves. That unity is of the devil and is a substitute for the unity Christ was concerned about, if it is not a unity with God—"As thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us." God and the church will be glorified in such a unity. The world would then be visited with an overwhelming conviction that "God is indeed with them of a truth." Love for the word of God, love for the Father and for our Comforter, and for our Blessed Redeemer will accomplish in each of us the principle of unity. That unity, once established, no enemy is powerful enough to break (Rom. 8:31-39).

"What about organic unity?" In the first place, the word of God knows nothing about organizations of an external and formal nature. If we cannot discard organizations, of a schismatic nature if unity of heart and purpose exists—(unity with God), it must exist in spite of our superfluous organizations. Any thing that breeds hate and ignominy is sinful.

to be discussed by the school superintendents at the P.-T. A. spring conference in Perryton, on April 2 have been made by Mrs. J. M. Crain of Amarillo who will preside at the panel. Directing the discussion on general theme of "Education Faces the Future," will be Supt. C. M. Rogers of the Amarillo schools.

Directors Discuss Interscholastic Meet

At an executive meeting of the Interscholastic League directors held here Friday afternoon. Various problems about the track meet to be held in Shamrock March 27 and 28 were discussed.

Finals in tennis for senior boys and girls and junior boys and girls playground ball will be played March 20 at Shamrock, it was agreed.

The directors decided that the rhythm band will not in clude singing, but music only. Whether the choral singers will wear uniforms is left up to the individual director.

Judges for the meet will be chosen from Collinsworth and Gray counties.

Supt. J. L. Gilmore will direct county declamation and Mal Wynn, choral singing.

Mrs. McCrohan Detained on Trip
Because of car trouble on her return from Wichita, Kans., this week-end, Mrs. G. O. McCrohan could not be here to teach Monday. Mrs. John Reed substituted for her.

Mysterious Trunk Plays Part in Drama

Seniors to Give Mystery Comedy "The Night Owl," March 22.

On a stormy night in an old house in the country is the setting of the important "The Night Owl." A mysterious trunk and cuckoo clock play an showy part in the tangled problem.

Hats jump off peoples heads and candles float across the room.

Who murdered a man 50 years ago? These and similar questions will be answered when the seniors present their play on March 22.

Marthals Wiley portrays the play of a runaway. A kidnapper is played by Junior Jamison. He is assisted by Guy Robinson.

Dorothy Lee Burke is a kidnap victim. Or is she? Dawn Weatherly is a young writer and W. J. Ford, a producer. A nice girl is portrayed by Orveta Puett with Wallace Pendleton playing opposite her.

Parillee Clay keeps the house with the help of Jack Tate. This is not a royalty play, but is produced by special arrangement with the publishers.

Quill, Scroll Society Sends Questionnaire

Survey in Journalism Received By 1,000 Teachers in U. S.

Miss Bernice Addison, journalism instructor, has received a questionnaire from the international quill and scroll headquarters.

It is a national survey in high school journalism for advisers and teachers of this subject.

The collecting of data is being conducted by Laurence B. Campbell, lecturer of journalism, Medill School of Journalism, Chicago and will cover the work of more than 1,000 teachers in cities of all sizes in the 48 states and territories.

Miss Addison was invited to participate in answering questions and to contribute from her experience the significant facts she might have in mind about courses and publications, objectives and obstacles, training and background. The questionnaire must be filled out and returned by March 31, 1937.

Material was also received for the Third National Group Contest which has a deadline for March 27. Last year the journalism class placed in only these contests and this year the class plans to take part in it.

The Quill and Scroll also asked for a copy of the Corral style book and copies of special editions of the school paper.

Mal Wynne Plays Violin Solo
Mal Wynne played "To You" by Oley Spinks at a meeting of Wednesday night club. It was a violin solo accompanied by Miss Bernice Addison.

"Why One Should Study Spanish" was given by Florene Wright. A Spanish duel was dramatized by Maxie Lee Wilson, Everette Cole, Robert Guynes, Alton Nations, R. J. Carver and Chlorene Morgan.

A short play was the last feature on the program.

The characters and those who played them were: Queen Isabell, Mildred Plator; Ladies-in-waiting, Ethel Claire Ramey, Mildred Coward, Lois Ficke, Meta Bruton; Prime minister, A. J. Carver; Christopher Columbus, Aubrey Warren; Mrs. Columbus, Betty Gene Cole; their son, Alton Nations.

The native citizen, Robert Taylor, was played by Robert Guynes. The characters were announced by Gayle Wilson.

Bus Driver Gets Pin Cushion from Mischievous Boys

A very attractive pin cushion is across the front of number two bus. The pins that are decorating were taken from pupils who used them as a method of getting revenge on some enemy by sticking him.

When that the bus driver got such a large collection that he could not very well carry them in his pocket, he deposited them at the front of the bus.

He has collected about 15 in the last two weeks. If he gets 15 every two weeks between now and the time school is out he will have 180, which will probably fill the cushion.

FRESHMEN MAKE PLANS AT CLASS MEETING FOR PARTY

Plans for the freshman party were discussed in class meeting on Wednesday and Thursday of last week. The group met in the science room on activity periods.

At the Wednesday meeting a committee, consisting of Grady Anglin, Marion Hestlow, and Norma Webb was appointed to decide the time, date, and place of the party.

Thursday it was decided to have the party at the agriculture building on Friday night.

Each freshman paid 10 cents to defray expenses. Virginia Burgess, Joyce Faust, and Sara Hilton were appointed to serve refreshments.

BEING HOME BLUE RIBBONS

In 1932 Wheeler won the Inter-scholastic league county meet. Since that time we have not achieved the honor.

Shamrock was the winner in 1934; Mobeetie was not in the class division that year. Our juniors won first in track events. Wheeler took five firsts in field contests and the same number in literary divisions. We again in 1935 Shamrock placed first in the county meet. Mobeetie tied with Wheeler, both having 115 points. In literary events we received six first places and in track events eight first positions. Nine of these winners entered the district meet at Pampa.

Wheeler won the track meet over Mobeetie by 1 1/2 points in 1936. Shamrock took the entire meet by a small margin. Ten boys went to Pampa for the district meet.

The question is what are you doing to help us bring home the blue ribbon this year? It isn't only the track events that count, but each small division of literary contests counts in total points. Each person that is entering in any thing should do his best for the school so that it might take the top honors.

LOST: A LUNCH

For some time pupils have been losing their lunches. Those who put them on the rack in the hall went out to find someone had taken them. It is very inconvenient for those who live out on a bus route to buy lunch when they get home.

Superintendent J. L. Gilmore made a talk at length last week about the person that can not bring his own lunch and who has to depend on others for his noon meal. He suggested that everyone write his name plainly on his lunch bag. In this way each person can be sure to make no mistakes.

When there are many brown sacks of lunch just alike it is difficult to get the right one unless there is some means of identification.

Each student can keep his lunch in his own rack, no opportunity for theft. Snaring lunches may not mean so much to some, but it is always the little things in life that count. "Take care of the little things and the big ones will take care of themselves."

SNUBBING POST

Compliments to Mildred Plattor on her splendid acting in the Spanish comedy "A Modern Isabell." When Queen Lizzy met Robert Taylor was a fine example of "Girl Meets Boy."

Did you ever notice Beth Moody's mouth? An extra ordinary example of "Cute."

A heartless creature, that Miss Holbert. She laughed at the threat of several students to commit sideways because of the urgent demand for a 1,000 word theme on a most unadaptable subject.

Have you any desperate love problems which are eating your heart out? Just write to dear motherly aunt Sully—she will prescribe a simple, painless remedy that will vanish your troubles in no time. (This is a paid advertisement and does not necessarily express the sentiments of this columnist.)

Very silly—the recent production "Three Men On a Horse." It had no particular star and simply no sign of a moon.

Friday afternoon Virginia and Milton Moody were seen very deep in conversation. They say they were talking about the freshman party. Maybe they were and maybe they weren't; after all what else could they have been talking about?

Have you noticed Amos's "shiner" as a result of the combat Friday night? Several high school girls took some "quaint" pictures Sunday afternoon.

Ferrol and Lilla Mae were seen in the vicinity of Pampa Friday night—they weren't alone.

Seriously—Who broke the lock on the hen house door?

An Interesting Person I Have Met

One of the most interesting persons I have ever met is Edwin Markham. I happened to have been on the program the day he spoke to the school assembly. The few of us who were allowed to sit on the stage with him felt honored indeed. As classes were late to dismiss that day, we were allowed about five or ten minute's conversation with him.

Edwin Markham is about medium height, and has a long white beard and white hair. He wears a swallow-tailed coat and striped trousers when he speaks to the public. He also wears a black Windsor tie and white shirt. Though he is over 80, his posture is very erect, and he says he feels like a boy in his thirties.

Edwin Markham is best known for his "Man With a Hoe" and "Lincoln, the Man of the People." One who has never heard him read his own work can never appreciate them as those White Deer high school is proud of its record attendance. Nineteen students have not been absent this year.

The Corral has several new exchanges, among which is the Western Graphic from the Colorado Woman's college. It is said to be the best illustrated college paper in America. It contains seven pictures in four pages.

The A & M swimming team is to make an extended tour of the East and North to compete with some of the foremost water athletic groups of that section.

The Western World, Lubbock high school paper, in honor of 20,000 teachers who will meet their Saturday for the second annual West Texas Teachers assembly.

The editorial staff worked for two weeks preparing copy for the edition and 3,200 copies were printed in order that each visiting teacher might have one. The paper, usually four pages, ran eight pages for the occasion.

COLTS

As Easter is almost here nearly all the grade students are making booklets and writing poems and stories on the holiday.

Mrs. Gordon Phillips' section of the first grade are studying about health and the methods of preventing fires. They are also making booklets and books about Holland and Easter.

The pupils have planted barley in their sand table and are going to watch it grow.

Mrs. Phillips had charge of the assembly program this week. The name of the sketch presented was "Beware of Fires."

Gerladine Oglesby and Margie Beaber are missed very much from the first B. They have moved away and the first grade is very sorry to lose them.

Mrs. Ben Westmorland visited in the second grade room last Monday. The second grade have finished their unit on farming. They made a booklet on this subject.

Wheat was planted several weeks ago in the second grade sand table. The grain is about three inches at the present and the students are making a farm amidst the wheat.

Bill Curlee has donated a complete year's issue of Nature Study magazine to the third grade library.

In the unit on Holland and Dutch life the students in Mrs. John Hood's third grade room are studying pictures of famous artists. They are also writing original stories and poems and drawing free-hand pictures.

Mrs. Lillian Davidson's third grade are studying about Holland. They will make a Dutch scene on their sand table.

According to Mrs. Roscoe Morgan several students have been absent from the fourth grade because of illness.

who have. Though you may be entirely absorbed in what he is saying, you can hardly keep from watching his manner of appearance. He is very clever and I admire him a great deal.

Look in a man's eyes for honesty; round his mouth for weakness; at his chin for strength; at his hands for temperament; at his nails for cleanliness.

Caught in The Lasso of Noose

Several young ladies seem to enjoy sitting home and eating scrambled eggs on Saturday night. Some fun, eh, dames?

Imagine and Bobbie have been seen quite often in each other's company lately—or is that history?

We are wondering who Olen Maxwell was with Friday night. They were intending to go to the boxing but it seemed funny they did not get there until it was all over. Say, Helen June, what was the big idea of coming in late?

Whom could Faye Webb and Ira Jo Derryberry have been with in Magic City Sunday night. It couldn't have been "Tackle" Harmon and Bobby Groves could it?

"Oh, don't be stupid," someone said to Helen June.

"That's right," Mother said if I didn't stand up straight I would be more stupid than I am now," she exclaimed.

One day "Obe" Stevens cried, "Let's play checkers. It's soomes time to move." And he jumped two men.

Ferrol and Lilla Mae said that they had a good time at Pampa last Friday night.

It has been said that the seniors should set an example for the other classes. According to Miss Holbert they are not doing this because she says the English IV G class is the laziest one she teaches.

The Hard-to-get ex-student Theodore Conner, has been seen in the company of Clella Beth Moody. They were at the boxing bouts Friday night. My! My!

Miss Holbert is sad. Miss Whitener is glad. Miss Adams is mad. And Mr. Wynn is bad.

Mildred Plattor and Bob Tillman were seen discussing ways to keep a good department grade while Miss Adams marked small ones in red pencil beside their names written with her little blue book.

J. N. Tucker has been the goat of many stories because of his broken arm. Some pupils still declare that he got it by trying to drive with one hand. However the majority of students believe he ran in a door or something.

Have you noticed Marilyn Hestlow's new hairdress? It's very becoming.

Most pencils make noise when being sharpened. But no pencil ever made as much noise as in Plane Durham's when she sharpens it in plane geometry.

Corral Staff Gets Letter From Tinney

Miss Bernie Addison and the members of the journalism class received a letter this week from Julia Lee Tinney, ex-editor of the Corral. "July" entered Lubbock college the second semester.

The letter in part is as follows: "I shall always regret that I did not finish my work in journalism in Whetley. I feel that it could have been so much more help to me. I tried to get a journalism subject in here, but it requires the standing of a sophomore.

"The editor of our college newspaper has asked me to take a course of advanced reporting next year and that will put me in the paper office. If my work shows up I can possibly get a job on the staff (she said). I'm majoring in English, the next thing to journalism, with the intention of changing my major to journalism next year.

"I have been able to get hold of only one copy of the Corral since I've been here but I certainly "ate it up" when I did get it. I enjoyed my study of journalism better than any other in high school."

The letter was signed "An ex. Julia Tinney"

Irishmen -- "Not Noted Mustang Foes" -- Celebrate St. Patrick

Since the girls who make the Shamrocks have gone on a sit-down strike, there may be a shortage of three leaf clover for Saint Patrick Day next Wednesday.

It is undecided whether the well-beloved patron saint of Ireland was born in Scotland, England or France. Bannaneta is given as his birthday but is not agreed as to where this village was.

Modern people consider Saint Patrick's life most romantic and adventurous. He was captured by pirates from Ireland at the age of sixteen. While being a slave to an Ulster chieftan he became a devoted Christian.

After six years he made his escape to France and entered Monastic life.

In 432 Patrick returned to Ireland as a missionary and worked there the remainder of his life. His labor was so successful that he came to be known as one who "found Ireland all heathen and left it all Christian."

Many legends were made about this popular saint. One of the most noted was that which pictures him playing music to charm the snakes of Ireland to the seashores, where they were driven into the water and drowned.

During the reformation many relics of the revered man were destroyed. A four-sided iron bell to his credit is in the Museum of Arts and Science in Dublin. On the Book of Cashel is an ancient stone chair dedicated to Saint Patrick.

There are no sure facts as to the life of this man even though much study has been made upon him.

Wherever the Irish have settled, March 17 is celebrated as Saint Patrick's feast day.

Future Homemakers of Texas

To any who entered the Homemaking cottage on either Wednesday or Thursday of last week a very pleasing aroma tickled his nostrils. Upon further investigation one found the home economics I girls were making all kinds of yeast breads, including cinnamon rolls and doughnuts. The girls look very refreshing in their starchy starched white apron and headbands.

"Spring has come, the grass is riz, I wonder where the flowers is?" could easily be your theme song while gazing at the yard of the Home-maker's college. During the past week water has been poured on the grass and shrubs in order to make the grass riz a little faster and greener.

Home ec. II girls are constructing their home projects during this six weeks. The majority of the projects pertain to sewing. Some girls are making dresses and undergarments, and others are redecorating their rooms.

CLASSROOM BONER

During the boys' debates one speaker mentioned finding a machine gun abroad. (He neglected to mention the name of the country) which had Dupont's name on it.

In rebuttal he was chided by a member of the opposition in these words: "They were too vague, entirely too vague, in their remarks."

Coch Bob Clark Makes Schedule For '37 Mustangs

Miami Warriors to Be First For Gridiron For Fourth Time.

Coch Bob Clark has announced 1937 Mustang football schedule. The mentors of district 3B met at McLean Thursday and made plans for the coming football season.

With spring football already in full swing, Coach Clark has only Green, Page, Shipman, Noah, Emier, and Weeks back from last year's squad. All the teams' backfield were lost by graduation.

Wellington, McLean, Shamrock and Lefers all have very strong teams coming up, along with Clarendon, Mobeetic, Memphis, and Lakewood. These elevens will bid for the honor of knocking the Mustangs off the district championship.

In opening the season the Mustangs take on the Miami Warriors at Wheeler on Sept. 10. This is the fourth straight year that the local boys have played the Warriors at the beginning of the year.

On Sept. 17 they play the strong Skyrocks at the Wellington stadium. The Wheeler lads have an off date on Sept. 24; then they play the Clarendon Brones on the local field. Oct. 8.

The Memphis Cyclones will visit the Mustangs and are expected to give them plenty of trouble on Oct. 15. The place for the next game is undecided but the Mustangs will tackle the Lakeview Eagles Oct. 15.

Then comes the game that the Mustang stand up to be held to hold no more. The Shamrock Irishmen will be a Wheeler visitor on Oct. 22 to play a game and a game it will be.

The 1935 district champions of McLean will be host to the Mustangs on Oct. 29 in the Tiger Stadium. The Mobeetic Hornets will next come to Wheeler and tangle on Nov. 5.
