Lions Club Features Highway Discussion

Majority Favors Continued Effort for Outlet via Sayre Over Oilfield No. 41

Actuated solely by a desire to encourage development of an eastern outlet for Wheeler's newly-designated Highway No. 152 from its terminus at the state line, discussion of the subject was had at Tuesday's Lions club luncheon. With George Briggs and Jim Collins, the latter chairman of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce highway committee, present by special invitation, much interest was developed.

As a matter of general knowledge, there is now a proposed outlet for the local road, connecting at the state line and pursuing a southeasterly course through Sayre, Cordell and other points to Oklahoma City. However, since the strip from the state line to Sayre does not have official designation by Oklahoma highway authorities and is not paved, further development is desirable as soon as possible.

An alternative route, proposed Tuesday, would be a short cut from the state line almost due east to a point on Highway 66 three miles west of Elk City. Such procedure would establish a thoroughly practical route to Oklahoma City and one with all modern facilities, at least from the point of contact just this side of Elk City.

Developments during the discussion in the general meeting of Lions and later in conference by a committee composed of A. B. Crump, H. M. Wiley, C. G. Miller, W. O. Puett and C. J. Meek, with the Pampa men as guests, showed a decided preference for continued efforts favoring No. 41, the Oilfield highway, instead of the other proposition. This position was prompted largely by the fact that a Highway 41 association has been in existence for several years, is now active, and has spent considerable time and money toward the objective of an outlet by way of Sayre and the southern route to the Oklahoma capital.

It was the majority view that a change of objective—even if considered desirable—might be misconstrued by Oklahoma highway officials and lead to harmful confusion.

In all endeavors toward prompting Oklahoma road building activities, Texas Panhandle boosters have not lost sight of the fact that their authority does not reach across the state line, nor are they attempting to dictate anything to our neighboring state.

Nevertheless, because of its peculiar position and slow but steady road improvement program, those on this side of the line feel it within their province to co-operate with the Oklahomans and offer encouragement and suggestions. This action, it is believed, has always been met in a like spirit.

Principal motives of local people, which also applies to those farther west along the route, is to do everything possible to stimulate interest for an adequate outlet for No. 152 leading eastward across Oklahoma and at least as far as Oklahoma City.

Possibly a selfish slant might be attributed to activity on this side the line, centering in a desire to be assured of retaining what has been so laboriously gained in road favors within this county; also to provide facilities that will tend to further improvement, culminating in the establishment of a through highway that will merit and receive tourist travel toward Colorado and northwestern points, via Pampa, thence to Dalhart or northward through Berger, Stinnett and Dumas to Denver.

County Scholastics

Total Number 3,415

From the office of County Superintendent B. T. Rucker it is learned that Wheeler county scholastics (school children upon which state aid is allotted) number a total of 3,415. Enumeration was completed some time ago, but figures had to be sent the state department and return of their tabulation awaited.

Pupils are apportioned as follows: Shamrock, 915; Wheeler, 502; Mobeetie, 260; Kelton, 166; Lela, 161, and county common schools, 1,371. These figures, states Rucker, are subject to possible slight changes by the state school authorities. Local census workers, he asserts, checked back for a period of three years for comparison and as a means of attaining the maximum accuracy.

Requisition for the sum of $7,142 state aid funds have been made and the money is expected to become available within a very short time.

"MY HOME TOWN—WHEELER"

Presenting an essay delivered by Miss Irene Hunt of Wheeler in the "My Home Town" contest, a feature of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention at Wichita Falls last week, Miss Hunt gave it as a special number at Tuesday's luncheon of the Wheeler Lions club, receiving much applause and many compliments, both on text and delivery.

"Good morning! Where are you from? I'm from Wheeler. Where is that, you say? It's where my heart is, for it's my home town. I didn't say I lived in a small town 100 miles east of Amarillo or 180 miles northwest of Wichita Falls—I said I lived at Wheeler. It is the county seat of Wheeler county at the eastern foot of the Staked Plains, a peaceful little town on rolling hills.

"I can see the patches of sandy fields as they look and have looked to me all my life, and my heart is warmed. The fresh plowed sod of spring, the bright green cotton of summer, the autumn shades of fall, and the brown stubble of winter—the orchards, trees, wheat and row crops, the wide variety of growing things that make this God's world; a heaven to those who love nature.

"It isn't a large town. I'm glad it isn't. It's a quiet, peaceful place, where we're all friends. We share one another's weaknesses, troubles and misfortunes, as well as our joys and our pleasures. We have our neat home-owned stores where we can get what we need, and we trust each other by the month. We have paved highways and busses running from each direction every day. We have simple amusements—movies and parties and church socials—clean, decent and moral. Most of us own our own homes and our doors are open to friends and neighbors.

"We have our excellent schools, running a fleet of busses, thus giving the children on our farms a chance to learn. Particularly do we stress vocational training. We are interested in recreation and our boys, whose size seems to come from the breadth of the land and sky, win much acclaim in football and other sports.

"Our growth has not been a sudden boom of oil or gas, although we are near producing wells of both; nor railroads. Our growth has been steady since 1875 when Old Fort Elliott, the center of the buffalo hunter's trade, was moved over on the Sweetwater. It has been built on the income of the fertile soil; it has been built by the dependable citizenry of pioneers.

"We have churches of different denominations but there is no rivalry. Each summer we have our old-fashioned 'meetings' with all the churches taking part.

"Our climate is moderate and healthy. But should we get sick, we have good doctors and a modern hospital. Our rainfall is light, but sufficient to grow good gardens, masses of wild flowers on the hills and tame ones in our yards, fruit of all kinds, watermelons, grapes and persimmons.

"Of course there is still much good range and we have a strong livestock industry.

"For good living, folks, I want you to come to my home town, where life really has some value and where we recognize a man's wealth in happiness rather than money."

With Brunk's Show

That lovable little June Alice Brunk, 10-year-old singer and dancer, who is now in the sixth grade, will attend school while she is here, appearing in productions with the company.

E. R. Jones came home last week from Lubbock where he had been with his son, Travis, who has been quite ill. Mrs. Jones remained with him. She stated in a letter Tuesday that Travis was much improved.

Administrative Cost Low on Farm Program

College Station Official Compliments Local Committee on Small Expenditure

In a letter received this week by County Agent Jake Tarter from E. N. Holmgreen of College Station is found the following comment, which is self-explanatory:

"In looking over the deduction factors for the various counties we note that your administrative expenses were less than 3 per cent of the benefit payments. We think this is a very good record indeed and your committee and county office should be complimented on handling the program with a minimum of local county expense.

"We know it will interest your county to learn that the administrative expenses in the Southern Region are probably the lowest of all the regions of the United States and that Texas at least is the leader in the field of low administrative expenses within that area. Administrative expense is something which can so easily mount up and it is difficult to explain high administrative cost to farmers or to officials of the Washington office."

In another letter from Holmgreen, dated the middle of February, it was advised that rate of deduction for administrative expenses against payments to members of the Wheeler County Agricultural Conservation association with respect to the 1937 conservation program would be 1.4 per cent.

These statements prove competent management of the program's finances in this county, and reflects credit upon the agent's office and the committee in general.

Elderly Local Lady Passes Away Tuesday

Miss Roxie Ann Wright, 59, Dies Following Illness of Two Weeks

Friends and acquaintances of the W. F. Wright family, residing two and a half miles north of town, learned with deep regret early this week of the death on Tuesday of Miss Roxie Ann Wright, sister of Mrs. W. F. Wright, and with whose family she had made her home for about 30 years.

Miss Wright had been seriously ill two weeks but had been in failing health for some time previous to that.

Roxie Ann Wright was born Jan. 13, 1879, near Hot Springs, Ark., and died May 3, 1938, at Wheeler, Texas, at the age of 59 years, three months and 16 days.

Surviving relatives who mourn her passing include the one sister, Mrs. Wright and Mr. Wright, and five brothers, Henry of Lamesa, Sam of Plainview, Will of Meridian and Jobe and John of McGregor; also four nephews, Carl, Truman, Claude and John Wright, and two nieces, Misses Ora Belle and Florine Wright. Besides these a number of other nieces and nephews and more distant relatives and many friends regret her demise.

Miss Wright joined the Missionary Baptist church at the age of 23 years and had continued in that faith until her death. She had lived an upright life, filled with service to those about her and her cheerful helpfulness will be missed in the circle where she had served long and faithfully.

Funeral rites were conducted Wednesday afternoon at the Baptist church in this city, with Rev. Taft Holloway and Rev. A. C. Wood officiating. Mrs. Bill Perrin was in charge of the song service and sang as a solo "Will the Circle Be Unbroken."

Pall bearers were Roy Lamb, Reuben May, Amos May, Levi Reid, Chester Morgan and Homer Jones. Flower bearers were Mrs. Aubrey Bentley, Canadian, and Mesdames Denver May, Levi Reid, Amos May, Charlie May, Reuben May and Homer Jones.

Interment was made in the Wheeler cemetery under direction of the Hunt Funeral home.

SHERIFF TAKES PRISONERS TO PENITENTIARY FRIDAY

Sheriff Raymond Waters left Friday for Huntsville, taking with him Carl Hefner and Jack Young, two men convicted in district court here last week. Each were given two years by Judge W. R. Ewing after they had entered pleas of guilty, the former to theft of cattle and the latter to burglary.

The Waters party was joined at Childress by Sheriff Dick Moore of Childress county who also had two recruits for the state penitentiary.

Sheriff Waters returned home Sunday night.

Mother's Day

(By MRS. GABRIELLA MILLER, Groveton, Texas)

With love, with trust and praise we bring
To Mother, dear, these flowers of spring,
That bloom within the month of May,
To celebrate our Mother's Day.

In childhood days in pain or woe,
To Mother we would quickly go;
She clasped us gently to her breast,
Then all our troubles were at rest.

It's Mother who will always love,
Will always pray that God above
Will guide our wayward feet below,
And lead the way we ought to go.

It's Mother while life doth remain
Would shield our sins, bear all our pain;
Give us all pleasure here below,
But make us pure as driven snow.

Now let us strive this very day
To banish every care away;
To bring the smile and not the tears,
To brighten her declining years.

Send her a gift if far away,
A message if you only say:
"I love Mother and always will,"
Will give her aching heart a thrill.

And to our Mothers who passed away
To the Great Beyond in bright array,
We bring white flowers to her precious bier
In memory of Her we love so dear.

Now let us all this tribute bring
To Mother dear these flowers of spring;
Yes, bring the flowers with fragrance rare,
The tiny buds and blossoms fair.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The above poem, as indicated, was written by Mrs. Gabriella Miller of Groveton, who is 67 years old. She is a second cousin of Cynthia Ann Parker, a white woman captured by the Indians in 1836, later becoming the wife of Chief Nocona and mother of the noted Quanah Parker. Mrs. Miller has requested dedication of the poem to all mothers of Wheeler county as a tribute to her son, living somewhere in the Panhandle. This information was contained in a letter written to The Times by Mrs. Doris Crowder, who is visiting relatives at Groveton).

Mrs. Mary Wrye, Pioneer Mobeetie Lady, Specially Honored on 100th Birthday

Centenarian Remembered by Former Pupils and Friends with Messages, Gifts

With only an occasional individual reaching the century mark, that distinction is sufficient to merit special honors. Such is the case of Mrs. Mary Leah Wrye, Mobeetie pioneer, who celebrated her 100th birthday Saturday. That beloved woman and clear-minded individualist who started a career of school teaching when the war between the states left her to provide for herself, her baby and a younger sister, realized one of her greatest moments when members of the Baptist church at Mobeetie and other friends, including a number from Wheeler, held a special service at her home Saturday afternoon. A staunch member of the church for 70 years, she now finds it impossible to attend.

Several friends from White Deer visited her during the day, while others remembered her with birthday cards.

The party was brief because Mrs. Wrye is in feeble health. Until just a few years ago she enjoyed excellent health and walked as proudly and erectly as a young woman. Fear of falling now causes her to use a cane, but she still walks the short distance from her own home to that of her niece, Mrs. W. H. Ellis, with whom she takes her meals and who cares for her house.

Though physical infirmities have brought afflictions, including impaired eyesight, her mental faculties are sharp and alert and she takes an active interest in local and world affairs.

Former Pupils Send Greetings
Former pupils of Mrs. Wrye, who taught school for many years in east and north Texas and the Panhandle, presented her with the following message:

"Mrs. Wrye, we congratulate you upon this your 100th birthday. Your former pupils, are, one and all, whether present or absent this day, proud of you, not only because of your attaining this age but because of the great service you have been to us through your hard work and patience—and the example you have set for us by living the upright life that we have always expected of you."

It was signed by the following: G. O. McCrohan, J. A. Bradshaw, Dick Craig, Fred Farmer, Wheeler; Mrs.

Athletic Banquet at Allison Big Success

About 250 People Gather to Honor Rambettes, State Champion Basketball Team

Assembling last Friday night in the elaborately decorated Allison gymnasium which resembled a huge flower garden, some 250 paid tribute to the Allison Rambettes, girl cage champions of Texas, at a banquet held in their honor.

Guests were present from Wheeler, Shamrock, Briscoe, Kelton, Canadian, Dimmitt, Amarillo and Mangum, Okla., as well as the local community, which was enthusiastically represented. W. T. Newsome, president of the Allison school board, spoke the welcome address. J. W. Peoples, superintendent of schools and coach of the victorious Rambettes, was toastmaster.

H. S. Wilbur, Canadian banker, and Dr. H. E. Nicholson, Wheeler, were featured speakers. Brief talks were also made by Jerry Malin, sports editor of the Amarillo Daily News; C. G. Miller, editor of The Wheeler Times, and Eugene Worley, state representative from this district.

Entertainment consisted of a vocal solo by Taft Holloway, Wheeler, who also led several group numbers. Mrs. G. O. McCrohan, Wheeler, accompanied him at the piano. Mr. Hutton, Shamrock, rendered a tuba solo. An Allison trio composed of Mesdames Brown, Levitt and Abernethy, offered a vocal selection, accompanied by Mrs. Sam Beget. Helen Wesson, Allison ex-athlete gave an original musical reading with her sister, Mrs. John Peoples, accompanist.

Awards of royal blue sweaters were made by Coach Peoples to Oleta Jones, Ruth Jones, Bonnie Brown, Ruth Garner, Ruth Richardson, Virginia Mae Wright and Virginia Dillon, first string members of the championship team. Faye Hayes, Edith Hamilton and Rosetta Keese received reserve letters.

An additional award presented each of the girls was a 11x14 framed picture of the team. These were a gift of D. E. Holt, Wheeler banker. A name plate, containing the season's schedule, on the pictures was the gift of C. G. Miller, Wheeler newspaper man.

Hosea Weeks, coach of the Rambettes, boys' team, presented sweaters to eight members of that group.

Featured by a spirit of high good humor and spontaneous gaiety, Friday's affair was pronounced by various individuals who have attended the banquets for several seasons past, as the crowning achievement, the best they have participated in. A sizeable delegation was present from Wheeler, demonstrating their continued interest and goodwill in a neighboring community that has brought state and national recognition to this region.

Nora's Cafe Moved to New Location Monday

Nora's Cafe, formerly housed in a building belonging to Ernest Lee on the west side of the square, moved early this week to a new location in the C. H. Clay building on Highway 152, just off the northwest corner of the square.

The building has been re-decorated and arranged to meet the convenience of a restaurant and recreation quarters and presents a very pleasing appearance. When fully settled at the new location, Mrs. Sam (Nora) Watson, proprietor, believes the change will be found completely satisfactory.

Lee had certain plans in mind, which failed to materialize, when a request to vacate was filed with the cafe owner.

MRS. VIRGINIA BONNER IN OWN BEAUTY PARLOR NOW

Mrs. Virginia Bonner has installed a beauty parlor at her home first door east of the Lewis garage and is open for business. Mrs. Bonner has made a number of friends since moving here about a year ago.

She has been engaged in beauty work for nine years. Six years of that time were spent in Dallas. For further information read her ad in this issue.

POLL TAX REVOLT

In 1920 there were 11 states in the U. S. which made payment of poll tax a prerequisite to vote, even for president and vice president. Under the poll tax ban, the combined vote of these 11 states, during a 20 year period, 1896-1916, had shrunk 18 per cent during the period when the electorate had grown by 50 per cent.

Many states observing the light voting in states requiring payment of a poll tax in order to vote, one by one have revolted and passed state amendments voiding this prerequisite, until now there are only seven states holding to the archaic practice: Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia.

Popular revolts are now developing in these states, notably in Alabama, Tennessee and Virginia, and it is predicted there will be in 1940 several which will follow the example of the other four, and voters will not be denied the privilege given them by the constitution of the United States, but will be under a state amendment as follows: "Payment of a poll tax shall not be required of any person, otherwise qualified as an elector, to vote at any primary, special, general, or other election hereafter held in this state."

Texas, in the last census, had a potential electorate of 3,220,880, which was greater than that of either Massachusetts, Missouri, Michigan, or Indiana, but under the ban of a poll tax, that must be paid by Feb. 1, the poll tax registration barely reaches 1,000,000—less than half that of those states just mentioned.

Should Texas lift the poll tax ban, the vote would increase by from 100 to 200 per cent, and many citizens would feel that they were not being discriminated against because of their inability or prejudice to pay the tax.

HELP SELF AND OTHERS

Every factory is periodically inspected for fire hazards, by men fully conversant with what to look for and what to do when dangers are discovered. You can easily do the same thing for your own home—and no rigorous course of training is necessary to fit you for it.

The great bulk of home fires originate from the simplest and most obvious hazards. Here are a few of them: Accumulations of old papers, clothing and other junk; improper storage of gasoline and other inflammable liquids; defects in heating plants and electrical appliances; uncleaned or faulty flues and furnaces; amateur repairs of electric cords and fuse boxes.

It takes no expert to quickly and effectively eliminate such hazards as these. Clean out the attic and give the junk to the junkman, storing what is left neatly in trunks and boxes. Keep paint, varnish and inflammable liquids in covered metal or glass containers—and store them well away from heat and fire. And if heating or other household appliances give trouble, local experts will be glad to repair them inexpensively.

Fire prevention isn't much of a job—a few minutes each week or so is sufficient to accomplish it. And that little effort may save your home from destruction—or even your family and yourself from a horrible death. Fire prevention shouldn't be regarded

ACCIDENT PREVENTION PLAN

Sixty-one stock casualty insurance and surety companies comprising the membership of the Association of Casualty and Surety executives, have just announced an extensive program for accident control, to be carried out through the National Conservation Bureau.

The companies have subscribed funds to be spent in the study and prevention of all classifications of accidents, notably industrial and automobile. Research in the control of occupational diseases and the development of techniques to control home accidents are also contemplated. The bureau plans to co-operate with federal, state and municipal authorities, and with other agencies in the field of accident prevention and control.

A number of major projects are to be undertaken. Two "laboratory cities" are to be selected for experimental and test work in traffic accident control. Forty thousand copies of "The Handbook of Industrial Safety Standard," a manual of standard safety practices for periodic inspections of motor vehicles by states and cities is to be developed with the aid of the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators.

The bureau will work jointly with the International Association of Chiefs of Police in publishing a practical handbook on traffic engineering for police. Safe driving instruction for children of licensable age will be promoted, through the distribution of a high school textbook, "Man and the Motor Car."

This extensive program is a scientific approach to the difficult accident control problem. Sporadic safety campaigns have proven useless, and momentary enthusiasms produce no lasting good. Safety work that gets results must be carried on quietly and steadily, under expert supervision, year in and year out. The insurance industry's new program deserves the widest public co-operation and support.

"GOT TO STOP," SAYS GARNER

A press report quotes Vice President John Garner as saying "The pump priming program has got to stop," maintaining that it will weaken national morale and jeopardize general credit.

How any practical person can believe it will help for the government to take from workers four or five billion dollars worth of wealth and spend it in music projects, sewing rooms, and paying farmers for not producing, is more than we can comprehend.

While it is true that it will create consumer purchasing power, it will in future years greatly reduce purchasing power because this wealth will be dissipated that might have gone into capital items that would furnish workers with better tools and would enable them to produce more, consequently receive more as pay. And again, it will greatly reduce future purchasing power because this taking from the workers in private business who really produce wealth, and giving it to made-work that produces practically no wealth, will so discourage the private workers that they will let down and many of them will also be enticed into being paid by the government, producing practically no wealth.

It is just as reasonable to suppose that this method of taking wealth from private workers to give to public workers for boon-doggling is logical as it would be to believe that stealing from a bank will add to the total purchasing power and total production.

It temporarily creates a stimulant. It takes from the producer and discourages the producer. And every time in history that has been tried—and it has been tried many times, —it eventually means destitution, poverty, misery and even loss of liberty.

It is time the congressmen had courage enough to tell the people the truth and explain, as Grover Cleveland did, that the government never has a dollar to give anyone that it does not take from someone else. And invariably, when it does, it keeps a large fraction of it that does not even get back to the people it is intending to help.—Lefors News.

Our Exchanges

Items of interest culled from newspapers on The Times' exchange list.

Two skeletons, believed to be those of Indians, were unearthed on the H. M. McCaskill farm near Samnorwood last week. The bones were found by Jack Whitfield, Edgar Rogers and Quentin Fritts. Both skeletons were those of grown persons. Numerous bones of prehistoric animals have been found in this area, but these are the first of persons reported.—Wellington Leader.

The work of the Miami Lions club in sponsoring the Boy Scout movement has met with complete approval from everyone. The troop has been formed with Scoutmaster Clark Mathers in charge, assisted by Claude Daniel and Vivian Wilkinson and a great turnout of enthusiastic boys. The troop committee, headed by M. M. Craig, jr., is taking hold of its work and the movement is growing by leaps and bounds.—Miami Chief.

The life of newspaper people is no bed of roses. When a good reader's name is accidentally omitted in the news columns the responsible members of the paper's staff hear about it in short time. Right now we and the society editor are having to explain to our wife about a certain omission in last week's issue of the Democrat. It is bad enough when the name is that of a paid up subscriber, but it's what Sherman said war was when it's a family name that's left out.—Bits o' Nothing Column in Memphis Democrat.

Mrs. T. M. Wolfe, who has been postmistress for Lefors for 12 years, received her re-appointment this week to serve for a year's time. The first post office in Lefors was operated by Mrs. Wolfe. It was one room of her home on the McLean highway, which is now the Joe Benefield residence. The post office was kept there for a few years. As the oil field business increased it was possible to have a larger office and one more convenient, so it was then moved to its present location.—Lefors News.

A. F. Brown, 73, long-time resident of Booker, passed away at his home here Wednesday morning after a lingering illness. Mr. Brown has been in turn farmer, land-owner, and business man ever since the start of Booker. He spent many years in the grain buying business and is well-known to everyone in this vicinity.—Booker News.

Buffalo Dam will be built 10 feet higher than the original plans called for. Orders came Monday to increase the size of the dam to 57 feet, and work was started Tuesday in hauling dirt for the additional 10 feet. Dirt work on the original 47 foot dump was completed Saturday. The base of the dam will not be increased from the original 300 feet wide. The additional widening will start above the line of the rip-rap which was built before the new order came. The dam will be 16 feet wide at the top.—Canyon News.

Ochiltree county votes Saturday on the question of legalizing beer sales. If there is any particular interest in the question, it's not being talked. We voted for beer shortly after repeal, didn't approve of the manner in which it was handled, so cast a vote against it when it was outlawed, and we expect to again turn "thumbs down" when we go to the polls Saturday. Wouldn't surprise us much though to see Ochiltree county vote "for beer" Saturday. J. Frank Doble, the famous writer was almost robbed of several thousand dollars recently. His home was broken into and the burglar discovered the bills though they were hidden in a tobacco pouch. However, the intruder examined the money closely and threw it on the floor. The demand for money from Washington seems never to fluctuate downward, and where many people suffer need thousands more are waiting for Santa Claus money, because it is easy to get. Folks love easy money and it is hard to get anyone to leave public bounty for individual effort, but this must be accomplished in some way, if we are to preserve our democracy.—McLean News.

Ready-Here-Now

Considerable information has been published in recent weeks concerning the advantages and savings possible through Canadian Valley Production Credit Association loans for farmers and stockmen of this region.

Possibly some readers have gained the impression that it is a far-away, vague sort of thing so tied up in "red-tape" that the average prospect would be wasting time and effort to try to secure a loan. Such is not the case.

THESE LOANS ARE READY, HERE, NOW.
IT IS EASY TO SECURE A PCA LOAN.

True enough, the borrower must have certain qualifications, but these are not too strict for the average farmer of good character and reasonable rating to meet.

Time is short for securing a loan for the coming planting season. See the undersigned today and learn of the simple requirements if you want to SAVE WITH A PCA LOAN.

There were booklets containing each child's work for the various months.

Sunday School Lesson Exposition

By C. C. M. May 8, 1938

CO-OPERATION IN SERVICE Scripture Text: Mark 9:30-41. Devotional Reading: I Corinthians 3:5-11. Memory Verse: Matthew 12:30.

An Angle of Approach

The antimony of our lesson subject would be something like this: Each for self and none for others. Such a conception of good rules for life is a tragedy to any state, community, church, school or home. In the Christian life, it is a travesty upon the plain purposes of the Lord in our lives.

Jesus selected twelve men who should be the first to grasp the true conception of proper living and service. These were to learn of Him from His teaching and service to others. They were then to be His representatives to others both in what people should believe and how they should serve. A follower of Jesus Christ is to put His teaching into practice, both commercially, socially and politically, as well as religiously.

What do you suppose could be done by way of amplifying the teaching and examples of Jesus Christ before the people, if twelve men were variously selected from among our churches, men who had the strongest evidences of being truly converted, and giving them the task of making an earnest, prayerful study of Christ and to live His life, from the heart, before the rest of us?

"Marvelous things could be done," I hear you answer in unison. Well, that is just what Jesus wants all Christians to do. Our lesson subject, too, leaves that impression. May we expect so much from professed Christians? Only, if Christ is truly followed.

THE HEART OF THE LESSON Introduction

Jesus and His company of twelve are now returning from Mt. Tabor, where with the three, Peter, James and John, He was gloriously transfigured before them; and, from the experience the twelve had of failing to heal the boy with a "dumb spirit" because "this kind can come forth by nothing but by prayer and fasting."

Here they are back in Capernaum, perhaps in Peter's house. On the way these twelve men had been disputing among themselves which was the greater. Each contending that he himself was the first choosing the Lord would make. James and John contending they, evidently, would be His choice to sit "the one on His right hand, and the other on His left" in His glory. So, here you are, each for self and none for the other! How like that many of us are nowadays!

The Forbidding Spirit

The loyal, though quick and thunderous John, had met up with a man whom he saw casting out demons in the name of Christ. This man was not the "original" twelve, ("because he followeth not us"), therefore John thought him decidedly out of his "official" line, although, of course, he was a true believer in Christ.

John rebuked and was given to understand that he must (at least) wait for his "appointment" or "ordination," else his work would be pure assumption and not authorized. But it was John who was presumptuous and Jesus gave him to understand that any one doing a good work "in my name" could not lightly speak evil of Him.

Childlike Faith and Humility But there can be no true, fundamental co-operation among the disciples of Christ, neither this side, nor the other side of genuine humility. The humble spirit does not seek to climb above his fellows. He desires only to climb with them and to keep himself in a position to help every one else up.

But faith in the Lord Jesus Christ: in His divinity and manhood, in His substitutionary judgment in death for the sinner, (Isa. 53:1-6) in His resurrection and ascension to the right hand of the Father, there to await the time of His coming again for His own (John 14:1-3; Acts 3:19-21) this faith in Christ is a prerequisite to that humility that makes co-operation service among Christ's followers possible.

Not until these twelve apostles of Christ fully understood the significance of His death and resurrection did they descend to the point of true co-operative service.

But how slow people are to learn truth that is contrary to their own ideas of things generally. But the humble, by the grace of Christ, can learn even such truth. Even these (the humble) are still human and we must not expect them to graduate suddenly into perfection.

If a man is striving to hold the Lord up among the people and to do good in His name, don't criticize, give him an encouraging helpful hand. And, remember, kindness brings greater reward.

Government employees, federal, state and local, in Texas are paid more than half as much as all people in the state engaged in farming and livestock raising combined, and nearly twice as much as is paid to all people engaged in all the retail stores of the state.

What Would You Do in a Case Like This? It pays in many ways to buy merchandise advertised in your home-town NEWS-PAPER. It is backed by the reputation of dealers whom you know. A man comes to your door. You answer his knock. You don't know him, and he can't identify himself as a representative of one of the established firms you've come to know and trust. QUESTION: Would you open the door? ANSWER: No. Not if you're like most of the women who keep house and buy things for themselves and their families in this community. REASON: Experience has taught them that the greatest danger in admitting strangers is the danger of being sold something without a reputation. RESULT: Women who know that a value is as much a matter of "known reputation" as it is of dollars and cents, buy through the advertisements in The Wheeler Times. They know they get double protection when they do this. The Wheeler Times Introduces Values You Can Trust

Men's Bible Class Has Good Increase

That interest is increasing rapidly in the downtown men's Bible class, launched Sunday a week ago in the belief that it would serve a definite purpose, is seen in the large attendance last Sunday, when 45 men were present for the session starting at 9 o'clock. J. B. Clark of Shamrock brought the lesson discussion, which proved highly interesting to his audience. Clark spoke on "Faith."

For next Sunday morning, Clayton Heare, another Shamrock attorney, will make the address. Announced subject is "The Illegal Trial of Christ." With his background as a lawyer and also as a regular teacher of men's Bible class, Heare is expected to offer a worth-while discussion on this subject which is capable of bold treatment.

Lesson study begins promptly at 9 o'clock on Sunday morning at the Rogue theatre, where a hearty welcome awaits all men, young men and boys who do not attend Sunday school elsewhere.

Wide latitude in attendance is permissible, according to officers of the class, who declare attendants may arrive and depart at any time to suit their convenience or to coincide with other engagements.

During the business session at the Lions club luncheon, Tuesday noon, Ansel McDowell who recently purchased the Royal Drug store, was received as a new member of the club.

Mrs. Joe Hyatt was hostess to the Wednesday Study club on April 27 at her home on South Canadian street.

Mrs. J. M. Porter presented Mrs. Melvin Howe, who is leaving soon, with a miscellaneous shower in behalf of the club.

The hostess served delicious refreshments to Mesdames J. W. Barr, Bronson Green, M. L. Gunter, Lee Guthrie, Robert Holt, Melvin Howe, Glen Porter, Jim Trout, J. H. Templeton, W. L. Williams, Fred Farmer, Ed Watson, E. C. Raney and J. M. Porter.

J. D. Merriman spent Monday night and Tuesday in Pampa on business. He was an over night guest of his daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Turner.

JIBE HAS EARMARKS OF "SOUP GRAPES"

When the publisher of a newspaper in a nearby town took a gentle jibe in his personal column at the Wheeler mayor for proclaiming a "Snow White Week" out of courtesy to the showing of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" at the Rogue Theatre, here, ahead of the said publisher's town—as well as a number of cities in this region—it had all the earmarks of "sour grapes." To relieve the strain, the genial gentleman hints darkly of asking his mayor to declare a "Mickey Mouse Week." Which isn't such a bad idea at that, all things considered.

WATERWAYS SURVEY HEADS ASK WRITTEN DOCUMENTS

In addition to personal attendance at regional meetings of the waterways survey conducted in this and adjoining regions by the Little Rock engineering office of the war department, written reports have been asked in a letter addressed to W. O. Puett, county judge.

Regional meeting for this area will be held at Childress next Monday, beginning at 1:30 p. m. Several Wheeler men hope to attend the gathering, and the commissioners court, with the assistance of Jake Tarter, county agent, is assembling data for a written report concerning Wheeler county.

MRS. ED WATSON HOSTESS TO LONDON BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. Ed Watson was a gracious hostess to members of the London Bridge club and a group of friends at the Watson hotel Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Dudley McMillin won high score for guests, Mrs. Floyd Adams high for members and Mrs. Roy Puckett won low.

Delicious refreshments were served to Mesdames Buford Arnold, Stina Cain, Dudley McMillin, Al Watson, Ernest Lee, R. P. Watts, Roy Puckett, J. I. Maloy, Floyd Adams, Joe Hyatt, Melvin Howe, Fred Farmer and the hostess.

The club presented Mrs. Howe with a lovely gift, as she is leaving Wheeler soon.

The club will meet with Mrs. A. B. Crump Thursday, May 12.

Brunk's Comedians Coming Monday for 3-Day Engagement

Brunk's Comedians, that fast stepping dramatic and musical show that has played the Southwest for over 20 years, will open in Wheeler on Monday night for a 3-day engagement. Glen D. Brunk, owner and manager, promises the tops in entertainment to the theatre-going people of Wheeler.

He carries a large cast of actors and musicians besides many special features. The Brunk repertoire of dramatic bills is second to none in the business; every bill carefully selected to please and satisfy, every bill clean, wholesome and entertaining.

The opening bill will be a good one, featuring leading artists of Brunk's troupe. Monte Stuckey will supply oodles of comedy and Hugh Moore will contribute his talent.

Preceding each dramatic bill, the company stages a 45-minute presentation of music and vaudeville, conducted by the "Waikiki Novelty Boys" long-time radio broadcasting string band, and now feature attraction of the show.

Another outstanding feature of every presentation is little 10-year-old June Brunk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brunk, who does personality singing and dancing. June will attend school while here in Wheeler, as she has previously done in over 150 other towns.

Brunk says that the music from the "Waikiki" band is alone well worth the price of admission asked for the entire show. "These boys give you music just like you like it, fast swinging or dreamy waltz, with singing, dancing, comedy and plenty of novelties," he concluded.

W. D. Blair of Hay Hollow was in Wheeler Wednesday on business.

Towns represented were Wheeler, Shamrock, White Deer, Miami, Perryton, Canadian, Panhandle, Claude and Pampa.

Bob Walker of Panhandle was elected president of the district for the coming year. No Wheeler teams were represented in contests.

Claude took two of the contests, senior chapter conducting and one-act play. Canadian won junior chapter conducting and public speaking, and Miami took top honors in extemporaneous speaking and debate. White Deer received first in news writing.

Winners in each contest will go to Lubbock to the area meet and winners there will go to the state meet at Huntsville.

After the contest Marlon Howell, adviser of the White Deer chapter, graded application blanks for certificates of merit.

This was the last meeting of the district for the year.

Senior Class Visits Carlsbad Caverns

25 Members of Graduating Class Make Annual Journey

Leaving at exactly 9 o'clock last Friday morning, the seniors arrived in Carlsbad about midnight.

Nights Spent in Carlsbad
With an early start, they arrived at the Caverns in plenty of time to look at the many souvenirs sold there. They entered the caverns at 10:30 and were walking and looking at their natural beauty until 4:30 o'clock.

Both nights were spent in Carlsbad and the students chose their own entertainment. Some of them attended the show and dance, while others spent most of the time shopping.

They were loaded and ready to begin their homeward trip at 5 o'clock a. m. Sunday and rolled into Wheeler near 11. Luck was with them throughout the entire trip, since they were not bothered with bus trouble.

Class Enjoys Trip
All of the seniors seemed to have enjoyed the trip greatly, but only a few would like to return in the near future.

Those who went were: Ruth Faust, Annie Ruth Denham, Cleo Sewell, Lorraine Wallace, Margie Bowers, Mary Belle Johnston, Bernice Williams, Lula Barr, Lois Ficker, Irene Hunt, Lavelle Jaco, Thelma Milum, Imogene Jamison, Audrey Warren, Amos Page, R. J. Puckett.

James Passons, Cecil Parker, Howard Nations, Huffman Walker, Chandos Robertson, Ray Holley, Alton Weeks, Bobby Groves, the bus driver Luther Parks, and the sponsors, Miss Lois Kirby and Principal and Mrs. C. B. Witt.

Speech Students to Present Play

"Much Ado About Betty" Scheduled for Friday Night in Gymnasium-Auditorium

As a part of the requirements of the public speaking class the free play, "Much Ado About Betty," will be staged Friday night in the auditorium at 8 o'clock.

Lula Barr, playing the part of Betty, has the leading role. Huffman Walker as Lin Leonard is her Romeo. The plot centers about the fact that Betty will lose $100,000 if she isn't married before midnight of her 19th birthday. Crooks, train wrecks and film directors try to prevent her marriage.

Grady Anglin, playing the part of E. Z. Ostrich, will portray the character of a playwright. Lizzy Monahan, Velma Hestlow, is a maid with a vivid imagination. Aunt Winnie, Caroline McBee, is Betty's chaperon . . . what a chaperon! Mrs. K. M. Diggins, Lois Bradstreet, and her daughter Daffodil Diggins, Marion Hestlow, search diligently for a marriageable young man. Edwin Robertson is a young honeymooner.

Miss Chizze, Minnie Lee Phillips, desires to remain an old maid. Major Jarret, played by Ray Holley, is not such a crook as he thinks he is. (Maybe)

Helena Jones plays the part of Violet Ostrich who, along with Betty, is a film favorite. Hansel Parker and Zolan Wilkins, Officers Riley and Dugan, are sure enough officers with a gun. (But they don't kill anyone).

Cecil Parker, Doctor McNutt, turns himself into a doctor and discovers that the heart of Ebenezer O'Hare, played by Clyde Ayers, really beats. Mrs. Ebenezer O'Hare, Lillie Myrl McClain, is a fine example of a wife who wears the trousers.

Jim Wiles, Howard Nations, demonstrates his ability as pep squad. "The play is moving along nicely and we will be happy to enjoy good patronage at this time," states Mrs. J. L. Gilmore, director.

Rev. Raney to Preach Graduation Sermon

Rev. E. C. Raney will preach the commencement sermon Sunday evening at 8 o'clock in the auditorium-gymnasium.

Rev. T. H. Holloway will sing. Scripture will be read by Rev. C. C. Merritt; Principal C. B. Witt will give the invocation and Mrs. J. M. Porter, the benediction.

The choir will sing two songs. Mrs. G. O. McCrohan will play the processional and recessional.

SNUBBING POST

"Winkum, Blinkum and Nod" was a good quotation to use Monday to express the actions of the group that journeyed to Carlsbad . . . and many souvenirs were packed in with the suitcases and blankets (now we don't mean they were stolen. Oh no, far from that. The poor dear children worked hard for their money).

Sunday will be Mother's Day, so let's remember our mothers—if not with some gift—then with obedience.

Last Friday was an all-around vacation day. The seniors went to Carlsbad, the juniors "tripped" over to Granite, and the freshmen and sophomores had a picnic. Wasn't that lovely? Many of the grade children were heard remarking that they would sure make whoopee when they got big.

Harrison Hall certainly had his hands full last Friday taking care of Marilyn for R. J. and Marion for Frank Mitcham. Wonder if he was getting paid for all his trouble or was he doing it for the other boys? Anyway, he certainly deserves praise for trying his "darnedest" to see that both girls had a good time.

Speaking of Frank Mitcham and Marion, just step in a room where Marion is and holler "Mitcham." Then watch Marion look up.

They say that Lorraine Wallace certainly had her share of boy friends while she was in Carlsbad. She was with one and then left him for a better looking boy . . . Don't be too choicely, Lorraine.

Two more girls from Wheeler tripped down the aisle to say "I Do" at the altar. They were Aline Coleman and Faye Webb. Good luck to you both.

Typing paper in the journalism class is getting mighty low and the class as a whole would appreciate it if the typing class would leave their paper accidentally on purpose handing for the last press day which is next Monday . . . Now we are not hinting.

Could Mary Belle be wearing dark colored glasses last Friday so as to keep the teachers from knowing when she goes to sleep in class?

Didn't the school building look empty Friday? The students were gone.

What are these students coming to? Several of them were seen fighting in the hall. And they are supposed to be grown-up.

Keep on singing "The Old Apple Tree" and we'll see you next week . . . So until then we'll say Toodle-o.

STUDENTS EXPRESS THANKS FOR USE OF BUSES ON TRIPS

Who doesn't enjoy making trips with a group? The school is one of the greatest places to go, but at the same time it is impressive for the students to go on beautiful sight-seeing journeys.

The school board of Wheeler has given that opportunity to the high school students so they may spend their happy school days together. Every class feels as though it should express its thanks for the use of buses on various occasions.

Each year, prior to the turning out of school, many trips are made in the school buses. This school is outstanding in that way because few schools ever give their students this pleasure.

As every class goes out and another comes into the school, they are still honored with this opportunity backed by the board.

IN TRIBUTE TO HER WHO GIVETH THE GIFT OF LIFE

Mother! A name which brings cherished memories to the mind of every individual of a happy home, sacrifice and supreme love.

There are few, very few, words in the language of any people that are so universally loved as the one word, "Mother."

Of the many great men who have written tributes to Mother, perhaps that of Abraham Lincoln, "All that I am, or ever hope to be, I owe to my angel Mother," ranks highest.

These words of praise are of course wonderful, but the extremely simple deeds of kindness and loving words spoken at the end of a long, hard day hold the highest place in the heart of Mother. Though seemingly unimportant and insignificant it is the little kindnesses many of us forget that make the world a much happier place for Mother.

For those whose beloved Mother has gone to that Place beyond the sunset, there remains only a sweet memory. Those who are blest with a Mother have the supreme gift of God—The Gift of Life.

Caught in The Lasso's Noose

FAERHIE NEWBERRY and JOE MARKHAM were seen sitting together in the study hall. It is said that in the spring, a young man's fancy turtles to love.

MISS KIRBY and W. T. ROACH have been walking to school together lately. He was even heard to ask her to write him a letter.

Almost any Sunday JOHNIE FAYE TEMPLETON, GORDON TOLLIVER and ETHEL CLAIRE RANEY may be seen together at Shamrock.

Is JACK trying to beat R. B.'s time with a certain senior girl?

According to ALTON'S little SIS, he and BERNICE WILLIAMS are deeply in love.

Why are they calling ELOISE REED "LOVESICK" (Maybe it is because of W. L. JOLLY) and VIRGINIA BURGESS "HAYMAKER"?

Have you noticed the junior wrist-let on HELEN SCOTT'S arm? It belongs to a sandy haired senior boy.

IMOGENE JAMISON wasn't at home last Wednesday night when a certain boy came to see her and he is leaving soon for San Angelo.

Why was a certain junior girl asking whom BABE ROBISON was with last Monday night?

Congratulations to RUTH FAUST and IRENE HUNT for being the two smartest students in the graduating class.

MARY BELLE JOHNSTON'S thoughts are still wandering to McLean.

I suppose the "MUSTANGS" will have an enjoyable vacation in some of New Mexico's mountains while the rest of us are burning up in our home towns.

Don't those junior girls think they are smart, though? MARION SMITH, HELEN SCOTT, MISS IMOGENE HOLBERT, MARILYN JOHNSON and JOHNIE FAYE TEMPLETON sang "I Double Dare You" for the Granite Reformatory orchestra.

The Mexicans seem to have made a hit with HUFFMAN WALKER. Anyway, he says, "Go to Carlsbad and get a red satan shirt." Pardon, it is satin.

MARILYN JOHNSON is wearing a new ring. It is a souvenir of R. J. PUCKETT and Carlsbad.

Considering how many opportunities we have for making mistakes, even the worst of us do pretty well.

Faculty Play Makes Approximately $40

Mal Wynne, Mrs. G. O. McCrohan
Furnish Romantic Element
for Wise-Cracking Comedy

"The Cross Roads Store" cast received between $35 and $40 when they presented this second faculty play of the year before a large audience last Thursday night.

Mal Wynne, proprietor, and Mrs. G. O. McCrohan, his sweetheart, had the leading roles, furnishing the romantic element. The entire play was full of fun and wisecracks.

Among those who furnished humor were Mrs. C. J. Meek, who was so happily engaged that she could fly if she had "just one feather," Mrs. Lloyd Davidson, who never failed to enter by falling from her bicycle.

Supt. J. L. Gilmore, the negro school man, Mrs. Gilmore, with her inevitable question, "Have you saw my husband," Mrs. John Hood, stuffed to overflowing with pillows; W. C. Zerkle, the German farmer with a beseege; Principal C. B. Witt and his tobacco chewing.

Mrs. Gordon Phillips, the thin lady whom Mrs. Hood said was so small she wouldn't make a shadow; W. J. Murdaugh and his rheumatism; Miss Pauline Irons, who delighted in gossip.

Other characters were the pretty school teacher, Mrs. C. C. Crowder, the young boy, Howard Nations; and the city slickers, Coach Stina Cain and W. T. Roach.

McCROHAN'S ATTEND BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR CENTENARIAN

Mr. and Mrs. G. O. McCrohan attended the birthday party given for Mary Wrye on her 100th birthday Saturday afternoon.

About 12 former students of Mrs. Wrye were present at the celebration, which was held at 3 o'clock at her home in Old Moberge. Her pupils presented her with a large chair.

Mrs. Wrye remembered all of her students and had questions to ask each about his family.

Nicknames in High School Range from the Sublime to the Ridiculous

"Nicknames," or a word to take the place of a real name, seem to be a popular thing in Wheeler high school because at least 25 per cent of the students have a substitute for their moniker.

Yes, some of the students who roam over the campus carry the names of animals. Harrison Hall goes by the name of "Pig." Viola Lamb always answers when the name "Sheep" is called.

We have two insects in our school who come from Magic City. Jack Williams goes by the name of "Bumble" and Betty, Gene Col answers to "Butterfly."

Two foreigners are enrolled in Wheeler Hi. Lorraine Wallace is called "Gajpy" and Scotty Risner, "Ward."

There are preachers in most towns but we have one in our school. Ethel Claire Raney is a minister's daughter and is called "Preacher." "Satchel" belongs to Douglas Groves because he makes so much noise.

Bob Noah gets the honor of being called "Snag" because he got his tooth kicked out playing football.

"Dollar Eyes" is the name which R. B. Stephens goes by because his eyes are so large.

Herbert Green inherited the name "Contractor" because his uncle is a contractor.

"Tackle" is the name Norma Lou Maxwell earned because she is the tallest girl on the basketball court. Amos Page answers to the call of "Satchel."

McIlhenny Donates Books to Library

Mrs. M. M. McIlhenny recently donated 15 books to the high school and 20 books to the grammar grades.

Those put on the high school shelf are: The Masters Violin, The Right of Way, The Valley of Silent Men, Their Yesterday, Wanderer of the Wastelands, A Broken Sword, Little Men, Under Two Flags, The Winning of Barbara Worth, The Story of Waukegan, Baxter.

Ships That Pass, The Wolf Hunters, The Lightning Conductor, Polly, a New Fashioned Girl, and Swiss Family Robinson.

Ruth Taylor, fourth grade student, sent a card to her teacher, Mrs. Lloyd Davidson, from Baylor Hospital, Dallas, where she is a patient. She writes that she is getting along fine.

Art classes in this grade are making gifts for Mother's Day. They are hot dish mats made of wall paper and shellac.

Mrs. G. O. McCrohan reports a pest attendance for her division of the fifth grade. She is reading to both sections of this grade from a book purchased with library fines.

Seventh graders are busily practicing commencement exercises each afternoon.

J. B. Crowder is called "Jabber" because he talks all the time and never says anything.

John Compton carries the name of "Slim" because he is the tallest boy in high school.

The reason Velma Hestlow is called "Red" is because she has red hair. "Nigger Lip" seems to be the only name that Aubrey Warren has.

Marion Green goes by the name of "Cotton" because he has white hair.

Bobby Groves goes by the name of "Corney."

James O'Gorman is called "Poe Wee" because he is so little.

"Chief Little Foot" is Raymond Smith because he has such large feet.

Alton Nations goes by the name of "World."

Due to the fact that Joe Maricham talked about Sunday all the time, he was named "Sunday Joe."

Maurice Barnes was named "Smiling" because he smiles all the time.

A large percentage of the students got their nicknames because they were easier to say than their original names.

Here are some of the names and shorts for them.

Huffman Walker, "Hump;" W. E. Pennington, "Dub;" Marcella Farmer, "Markie;" Glenn Etta Teakell, "Eater;" R. J. Puckett, "Peeco;" Irene Hunt, "I. D."

Two hundred Panhandle publishers and editors, along with other newspaper workers, flocked to Cousins Hall, Canyon, to a banquet arranged for them by the college and Canyon Chamber of Commerce.

"My father never shakes hands with anyone unless he is in his stocking feet."

"What a quaint custom. Where did he get such an idea?"

"Someone told him that only cowards shake in their boots."

Jolly Proprietor of Adams Grocery Refuses to Criticize U. S. Government

W. W. Adams, jolly proprietor of Adams grocery, when asked what he thought of the United States government rephrased: "I have no criticism to offer. No man has the right to criticize the government unless he can do better himself."

Adams was born in Butler, Ga., in 1878. When he had finished the seventh grade he did not get to attend school any longer. Adams said, "I received the rest of my education hauling lumber to a lumber mill."

In 1906 he came to Texas, where he worked on a farm for one year. He cooked for a railroad camp for one year, and then cooked for Polytechnic college at Fort Worth.

Adams moved to Greer in 1900, and filed on a block of land at Reed the same year. At Reed he met Miss Lettie McCoy and they were married Jan. 22, 1902. He moved to Wheeler county in 1905.

Adams' ambition as a boy was that he wanted to see the world. He said that his greatest sport was baseball. He played catcher on Center's baseball team and they could beat any team in the county.

This good-hearted man has also played a large part in politics of the county. He was commissioner for two terms in Precinct 4, in 1912, and was commissioner in Precinct 1 in 1923. Adams stated that he liked road work better than any other in that line. He built 13 concrete bridges and one rock bridge during his term in Precinct 1, more than has ever been built in the rest of the county.

Before receiving credit in this course the boys must complete these pieces of furniture this week.

His family consists of a wife and six children; two girls and four boys.

Adams said, "My wife is the prettiest woman in Wheeler."

Wallace Ebery is his favorite movie star because he can make things seem so real.

He has made two trips to Old Mexico. Adams insists, "The Newell highway in the Black hills of South Dakota is the most beautiful place I have ever seen." In his travels, he has also visited Carlsbad twice and made several trips to Georgia and Milwaukee.

T. B. Sears Proudly Exhibited by All

"Oh! Look! I just know that I've got tuberculosis! Just look at that red place on my arm."

Many remarks like this were heard when the students again journeyed into the laboratory to hear the fatal words last Thursday when the doctors came back to examine tuberculosis scars.

It was a tendency of the freshmen to giggle and the sophomores to try to act dignified like seniors. Juniors had that "wait till next year" look on their face and of course the seniors knew what they were going to be told before they went into the death chamber. (Of course, they would.)

Many of the freshmen and juniors were proudly showing their scars to everyone. (It's a wonder they didn't charge people to see them.)

Oh, by the way, have you seen my scar from the smallpox vaccination? It's a honey!

SPORT SLANTS

By a Mustang

Amos Page, one of Wheeler's outstanding athletes for the past season, is standing off giving baseball a whirl when he finishes school this year.

Yours truly would guess that the Snubbing Post writer just could not stand the grind. She has had a substitute prepare the column for her for the past two weeks. What's the matter, can't you take it?

With the after effects of a journey to Carlsbad and the standstill at which sports are at this time of year, this column is getting worse each week.

It may be heard of Amos Page and Herbert Green's becoming great footballers some day. Both are thinking of entering A. & M. college.

Coach Stina Cain has been sending his new candidates, plus lettermen, through trainings on fundamentals in spring grid workouts.

From the looks of the material, chances are good for another district crown.
