Officers to Conduct Driving Test Here

Examinations Next Wednesday and Each Week Thereafter for License Applicants

Two driver's license examiners of the Department of Public Safety will be in Wheeler on Wednesday, Nov. 17, to conduct tests for drivers applying for their first license, according to Col. H. H. Carmichael, director of the department.

Establishing headquarters at the tax collector's office in the court house, these uniformed officers will give examinations on Wednesday of each week from 8 a. m. to 11 a. m. In applying for the driving tests the applicant must furnish his own vehicle or one he proposes to operate after he secures a license, the safety director has pointed out.

After oral quizzes are completed each applicant will be required to drive his car or truck over a designated route under supervision of one of the trained examiners. During the drive the operator must demonstrate the use of his foot and hand brakes, stop for signals and perform other acts necessitated in ordinary traffic situations. Before the actual driving test is made the examiners will quiz the license applicants on safety regulations and signals and highway laws and make tests of their eyesight and hearing. Any physical deformities will be recorded on a grade card.

Not only will driver's license applicants be examined as to their ability to handle a vehicle with safety, but the vehicle itself will be tested for defects in brakes, horn, lights, rear-view mirror, and windshield wiper.

If a driver proves his ability to operate his vehicle with care and safety he will immediately receive his license at the examination headquarters. If a passing grade is not made after the test is completed, an instruction permit card will be issued which requires the applicant to return at a later date for another examination. Examiners of the safety department estimate that a complete test can be given in 12 minutes.

Truck, bus and other commercial vehicle drivers will be issued licenses divided into three classes, A, B, and C, according to the type of vehicle to be operated. Passenger and school bus drivers are issued a permit bearing a special endorsement of the department.

Col. Carmichael urges that drivers seeking their licenses verse themselves in safety regulations, rules of the highway and mechanical operation of their vehicle in preparation for the tests.

WARNING ISSUED ABOUT ILLEGAL COTTON LOANS

In an effort to discourage possible attempts to perpetrate fraud in the matter of cotton loans, the Commodity Credit corporation has issued through the county agent's office a word of warning, reproduced as follows:

"It has recently come to our attention in the state that cotton buyers are placing cotton under the C. C. C. loan by the simple device of getting the sellers thereof to execute the loan forms in their own names and turn over the loan money to the buyers.

"We realize that in most cases of this nature the producers are unaware that they are perpetrating a fraud against the United States, since they have implicit confidence in the integrity of the cotton buyers and are unfamiliar with the provisions of the loan agreement.

"We believe it would be well for the various county officers to impress upon the producers of their county the seriousness of such a violation of the loan agreement. In paragraph 2 of the C. C. C. Cotton Form A, the producer makes the following representation and warranty: 'That he is the owner of such cotton, has the legal right to pledge same, and that the beneficial title thereto is and always has been in the undersigned producer.'

"Any misstatement or misrepresentation in regard to any of the facts set forth in the loan agreement renders the producer personally liable under the agreement and subject to criminal prosecution under the provisions of Section 16 (a) of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation act, as amended."

Wheeler Masons to Perryton
Deward Wofford, R. H. Forrester, Lee Guthrie and Bob Rodgers went to Perryton Tuesday evening and attended a Royal Arch chapter meeting of the Masonic order. W. C. Teague of Canadian joined the party enroute and accompanied them on the trip.

Fee Test Case Filed District Court Here

C. J. Meek is Plaintiff in Action Asking Judicial Interpretation of Law

Much interest has been aroused by the filing of a civil suit in district court here in which C. J. Meek, former county clerk, is plaintiff and Wheeler county is defendant.

The suit is a test action to secure a court construction of maximum fees laws for public officials of Wheeler county. Although the litigation is styled C. J. Meek vs. Wheeler county, the compensation of other county officers, principally the present and immediate past county clerks and tax assessor-collectors, whose offices earned more than $3,000 in yearly fees, is involved.

The action results from an oversight on the part of the Texas legislature. Article 3883B of the Revised Civil Statutes provides that in counties having a population of not less than 15,550 and not more than 15,800, the maximum amount of fees that may be retained is $6,000. A later act passed by the legislature limited fees in certain counties to $3,000, but the caption of the act did not provide for repeal of Article 3883B.

Wheeler county and four others in the state came under the population classification and the question was submitted to the attorney general's department for a ruling as to which of the laws governed. The decision was that the earlier law had not been legally repealed and continues effective.

Contending the decision involves a financial outlay in additional fees which the county is not able to stand, the commissioners court refused payment of fees to officials whose income exceeded $3,000 a year. Meek filed suit for judicial interpretation.

The legislature at its last regular session expressly repealed Article 3883B and the only questions involved in the case at issue are fees of officials accruing prior to the time of such repeal. County commissioners estimate in the neighborhood of $14,000 is involved in the action.

Annual Highway 41 Association Meets at Pampa on Nov 23

Highway commission chairmen of Texas and Oklahoma are expected in Pampa on Nov. 23 when the annual meeting of the Oilfield Highway association convenes, it is announced. W. E. Grisso, chairman of the Oklahoma Highway commission, has accepted an invitation to attend. Chairman R. L. Bobbitt of the Texas commission was invited last Friday when a delegation from Pampa visited in Austin.

Judge Noel McDade of Dumas is president of the Oilfield Highway association.

Special interest attaches in Wheeler to activities in connection with this road, since it is the east and west highway through this city.

ANOTHER COUNTY CROP, HONEY, NOW APPEARS

When describing the variety and productivity of Wheeler county crops, the temptation is great to become over-enthusiastic on the subject. However, conservative inquiry and constant observation indicates that exaggeration is not likely if one keeps within reasonable bounds at all.

Most recent commercial crop produced within the boundaries of the county to be brought to attention of The Times is honey, a commodity not generally found in windy, semi-arid regions where suitable vegetation for honey production is scarce.

Yet, during a visit to this office Tuesday, J. P. Williams, living three miles east of Old Mobeetie on Sweetwater creek, northwest of here, revealed that bee culture and production of honey is quite a feature of his farm activities. Williams has 50 or 60 colonies of bees. From each hive he obtains 80 pounds or better of fine honey per year.

While discussing the enterprise, Williams declared: "There is hardly a farm in this region that can't have a few swarms of bees on it, if desired." He has been handling bees on his creek valley farm for six or seven years, finding pleasure and profit in the undertaking.

Williams is well known in Wheeler county, where he has lived 26 years. Back in 1927-28 he was sheriff and tax collector for a two year term.

"LEST WE FORGET"

Marvin Jones States Position on Control

Favors Voluntary Method to Regulate Crop Production—Points to Foreign Markets

Definite declaration of his position regarding crop production control methods is made by Congressman Marvin Jones, chairman of the Committee on Agriculture in a statement issued this week and marked for immediate release. The statement follows:

"Most of the members of the House Committee on Agriculture seem to prefer a voluntary farm program as to most commodities.

"Personally I favor the voluntary or premium method rather than penalty or compulsory control.

"By using soil conservation payments and adding additional funds secured through tariff equalizing taxes, premiums can be paid to the farmer as an offset to the tariff, and he will then have a better income, and at the same time his products can flow into the markets at home and abroad.

"On the other hand, the penalty or compulsory control method will tend to curtail our markets both here and in foreign countries by encouraging foreign competition and domestic substitution.

"There are two extremes. Some favor production in unlimited quantities regardless of price. Others would undertake by compulsory control to gain a temporary high price regardless of its final effects on outlets and markets. A middle course that would undertake to secure a fair price and at the same time to produce all that the market will absorb both in this and other countries would seem desirable.

"It is important that our foreign markets should not be surrendered. Any adjustment or control program should be shaped so these markets can be gradually regained."

BAND DIRECTOR ENROLLS IN AMARILLO ACADEMY OF MUSIC

J. W. Lummus, director of the Wheeler Municipal band, has enrolled in the Amarillo Academy of Music, where he will take a special course designed for band directors and advanced musicians. The work includes directing, harmony, theory of music, composing, arranging, methods of teaching reeds and brass, interpretation, etc.

Students taking this course will receive credits through the Vandercook School of Music, Chicago. It requires 30 weeks for completion.

Lummus attended for the first time last Saturday. He expects to devote week ends to the study, going over each Saturday morning and returning on Sunday evening.

COUNTY RECREATION CLUB IN REGULAR MEET TUESDAY

The Wheeler County Recreation club held its regular monthly meeting at the club room Tuesday evening. Several of those attending assisted with the entertainment by telling a good joke.

Refreshments were served to Mr. and Mrs. Jim Trout and son, Jackie, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Risner and sons, Scotty, Adrian and Henry, Mrs. C. Bryan Witt, Mrs. John Ficke, Mrs. Lula Farley, Eris Manney and Lynn Gott.

District Court Has Sketchy First Week

Beginning Monday, Term Docket is Partially Set—Grand Jury Finds Seven Bills

Beginning Monday, district court had a sketchy week devoted principally to docket settings for the term, hearing non-jury matters and receipt of findings by the grand jury. Docket schedule occupied most of the time Monday and Tuesday, with a brief session Wednesday, when court adjourned until later in the week or possibly next Monday when the first jury week will open.

District Judge W. R. Ewing of Pampa, presiding in his regular capacity, expressed the intention of devoting his efforts toward disposing of as many cases as possible during the term. "Prospects indicate a fairly busy term," declared the judge. "But that," he added, "is difficult to say definitely at this time."

The grand jury, with H. J. Garrison as foreman, reported Wednesday, returning seven indictments. These are grouped as follows: burglary, 4; drunken driving, 2; and forgery, 1. After submitting its report, the grand jury recessed until later in the current term.

Petit Jury Panel
Petit jurors named for the third week of court, beginning Nov. 22, are:

Buck Britt, Fred Rowe, M. V. Callan, F. A. Mooney, D. P. Wofford, C. C. Gaines, Virgil Tolliver, Lonnie Lee, A. R. Meek, Bob Rodgers, Geo. R. Null, Wheeler; Ben A. Skidmore, G. T. Gordon, B. F. ## DR. M. M. MECKS OF CANADIAN UNITED IN MARRIAGE SUNDAY

Dr. M. M. Meeks of Canadian, brother-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Crump of this city, was married Sunday to Mrs. Vera Brown of Glazier. The couple will make their home at Canadian, where Meeks has made his home for a number of years. Mr. and Mrs. Meeks were Monday night guests of Mr. and Mrs. Crump.

Wheeler Young Woman Marries Last Friday

Miss Cozette Crofford United in Marriage with Marion B. Brooks of McLean

Miss Cozette Crofford of Wheeler and Mr. Marion B. Brooks of McLean motored to Sayre, Okla., Friday afternoon, Nov. 5, where they were united in marriage by the Baptist minister of that place. They were accompanied by the bride's sister, Miss Lilla Mae Crofford.

Mrs. Brooks is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Crofford of Wheeler, where she attended high school, graduating in 1936. She has made many friends during her residence in Wheeler.

Mr. Brooks finished his high schooling in Paris, Texas, where his parents live, and completed his college work at Alpine, and taught school at Lefors three years. He is now working for an oil company at Kellerville, where he plans to continue.

They will make their home in McLean.

County's Farm Women Save Much Foodstuff

Survey Shows 85 Families have 25,060 Quarts Fruits and Vegetables for Winter Use

Thousands of cans of fruits and vegetables have been prepared by the farm women of Wheeler county as a means to reduce living costs of their families and at the same time improve their health through an adequate and balanced diet, according to Miss Vera Martin, home management supervisor for the Farm Security administration, with offices at Wellington.

Miss Martin estimates that the 85 families she works with in Wheeler county now have 25,060 quarts of fruits and vegetables for their use this winter.

The striking feature of this, Miss Martin says, lies in the fact that some of these farm women had never processed foodstuffs before they solicited the aid of the Farm Security administration. Cookers, sealers and other canning supplies had been made possible through loans obtained from this federal agency.

Early last spring and all during the growing season Miss Martin planned and worked with the women in the management of their gardens. Miss Martin advised with the farm women concerning the varieties of garden stuffs to plant and just how to get the maximum returns from each, ever looking to the necessity of preparing balanced meals from the foods thus preserved.

Now that the season for canning fruits and vegetables is almost passed, Miss Martin is working with her farm women and preparing for the meat canning season.

"I am especially proud of the record made by these farm women in the homes where I am working," Miss Martin said, "and it is quite evident that the cost of living will be much less as a result of these activities than it would have been had these families been compelled to purchase all of their supplies during the winter months."

WHEELER YOUNG MAN GETS POSITION AT UNIVERSITY

Grainger W. McIlhany of Wheeler has been appointed as a student assistant in the school of Business Administration at the University of Texas, states a release from the university news bureau.

McIlhany is a graduate business administration student, having received a bachelor of business administration degree with high honors in June of 1937.

CROQUET PLAYER MAKES "HOLE-IN-ONE"

It's a fact, say those who claim to know, that J. M. Burgess, veteran croquet player, made a "hole-in-one" last Sunday. But it wasn't on the mallet and wicket court nor even at golf, where the phrase originated. But, according to the tale told on this genial shoe repair man, he had wandered into another field of sport—fishing. There, in pursuit of finny denizens of the raging Sweetwater, he was prospecting for a favorable spot. Gazing far out over the turbulent (?) waters or perhaps absorbed in reveries on how brilliantly he played that last game of croquet, Burgess failed to watch his step and "plop" he went into a badger hole, emerging with a soaked and mud-splattered foot and shank. And he didn't get any fish, either.

Red Cross Service Covers Wide Range

Diversified Activities Possible Through Support Given in Annual Roll Call

That American Red Cross service covers a much wider range than might be imagined by the uninformed will be seen in the following sketchy summary of its activities.

Safety in homes and highways occupies an important place in the Red Cross program. During the past fiscal year a growing, tangible consciousness of the need for more experts in administering first aid has resulted in the training of an unusual number of persons. This interest led 256,884 individuals to take specialized courses in first aid, certificates being awarded in classes varying from three to as many as 50.

Public health nursing service as a feature of Red Cross was inaugurated 25 years ago, and observances of the occasion are being held this fall by chapters throughout the United States. This nursing service was established to create better health conditions for the "forgotten family"—those who reside in rural areas and are deprived of nursing service by the barrier of distance. From a few scattered patients in outlying districts during 1912 until today, the Red Cross Public Health Nursing service has increased the number of its annual visits to more than one million.

Assistance to service and ex-service men with their families has continued to be one of the outstanding responsibilities of the Red Cross, according to Dr. H. E. Nicholson, chairman of the Wheeler chapter, who recently declared that 230,657 men in the army, navy, marine corps or coast guard, and ex-service men, had been assisted in some way during the past year by Red Cross chapters.

Life saving knowledge on a broad scale has become a necessity with the growing number of bathing pools and beaches throughout the country. During the past year, the American Red Cross has trained 81,291 persons in swimming and life saving methods. Looking to the future, this humanitarian organization is sponsor for the world's largest organization of youth, the Junior Red Cross, whose activities are felt in 52 countries of the globe. Growth of the Junior organization has been phenomenal, not only in the United States, but in many foreign countries. The parent body attributes this great growth to the fact that the juniors have been organized for service, and that so many things have been found by them to do.

Briefly, the foregoing shows some of the things which the American Red Cross does and for which financial support is asked in the annual roll call, starting today and ending Thanksgiving Day, two weeks hence.

Lee Guthrie, roll call chairman of the local chapter, reports his staff of assistants complete and eager to press the campaign to a happy conclusion. In addition to the canvassers mentioned in these columns last week, the following are announced: West side of square—Bill Perrin, Lonnie Lee. South side of square—Melvin Howe, Chester Lewis. Court house—W. O. Puett, Jim Risner. Filling stations—H. J. Garrison.

Methodist Sunday school—Dr. H. E. Nicholson. Baptist Sunday school—Clara Finsterwald. Church of Christ Sunday school—R. H. Forrester. Wheeler public schools—J. L. Gilmore.

"A peculiar and gratifying thing in asking people to help with this work," declares Guthrie, "is the fact that not one who was approached refused or even hesitated to indicate a willingness to do his or her best."

Legionnaires Feast on Army Chuck Today

Reminiscent of days in camp and field, about 25 members of the Wheeler American Legion post and ex-service men gathered at the hall here today for a corned beef hash feast at the noon hour.

The occasion was the local post's method of observing Armistice Day, and is reported as a very successful event in again bringing former "buddies" together for renewal of comradeships and re-telling of incidents connected with service for their country.

C. H. Clay and George Warren went to Lefors Wednesday, where Mr. Warren is doing some carpenter work at Mrs. Page's variety store. Mr. Clay was accompanied home that night by his granddaughter, Mrs. Marvin Cooper, and children of Amarillo. Mr. Cooper came later and they visited Mr. and Mrs. Clay until afternoon Thursday.

NEWSPAPER MEN ARE DUMB

Probably due to the naivete of youth and later—because of human proneness to cling to beliefs once formed, however fallacious—this scribe has long entertained a rather exalted opinion of journalistic and editorial intelligence. Even a slight glow or reflection of the craft's supposedly inherent erudition has been felt at times.

Now, however, our viewpoint has radically changed.

As a humble member of the fraternity, the right is claimed to point out weaknesses, one in particular. Even though a public expose may bring contumely and disgrace to a generally accepted astute profession. The Times openly alleges that newspapermen, especially owners, editors and managers, are a bunch of "dumb clucks."

Yes, that chorus of "Why, you poor sap, everyone outside of your egotistical and self-centered clique has known that a long time," was expected.

All right, brethren of the typewriter, here it is straight from the shoulder: For more than "three long years" there has passed across every news desk in the land column after column of new deal publicity designed to help many groups of our complex civilization. For instance, on the subject of crops—plow-out, controlled production and profitable operation—The Times, along with the other loyal and patriotic newspapers, has given huge amounts of space, its principal merchantable commodity.

Then there is the old-age pension program, social security, and teacher's retirement projects (to mention only a few) all financed through cooperative plans in which public tax funds play their part.

All this was done under the guise of "news," whereas "propaganda" would be a better word.

It is safe and reasonable to assert that no nationwide movement can succeed without support of the press. And, vice versa, most anything can be put over with its united effort. Just one illustration of the power of the press should suffice. Many people will recall the right about face of this nation from a definitely pacifist stand to a warlike frenzy, almost overnight, back in 1918.

The press did its part then, as in innumerable other instances, to mould public sentiment.

Not a day passes but every newspaper office is flooded with reams of publicity ranging from telling how many recruits the army or navy needs (or some civil service examination for lucrative positions) to justifying acts of high governmental groups or personages. All submitted for free publication on its news content merit, a content usually sadly missing.

The Times proposes that publishers of the nation come to their senses, if any, and ask—demand even—a place at the board of bounty. It is urged that said publishers seek state and federal compensation for NOT printing a specified number of columns or pages. A percentage of the aforesaid "propaganda" might well be deleted. paper (or some other excuse) could be found to support the plea for aid. As a matter of fact, the "mutilation of white paper," as practiced by some publications, should be stopped, anyway.

This proposal is not to be made on a pretext of poverty, because no self-respecting publisher ever admits financial stringency. It would only be a movement to equalize the present financial structure and bring to a powerful public-service, privately-owned industry the recognition it justly deserves.

If adopted, the movement might curtail some of the alleged "funnies" or make impossible absurd editorial brain-storms like this one, but on with the dance, fellows, let joy be unconfined. Here we are as newspapermen, trying to hide in a shinerly thicket, metaphorically speaking, from a shower of governmental grays when what we should have is at least a spoon if not a scoop.

KEEP THIS IN MIND

Every newspaper in the country feels it would be remiss in its duty to its readers if it neglected about this time each year to sound a warning against that deadly enemy of the motoring world—carbon monoxide gas. The warning is now timely, even though it may be sounded in words with which motorists are familiar.

To those ignorant of the deadly menace, it may be said that carbon monoxide is nothing more than the exhaust from an auto engine. In summer, when temperatures are high, the gas passes into the air unnoticed and with no damaging effect. During fall and winter months, however, when temperatures are low, the gas hangs in the air and its fumes, breathed into the lungs, has a deadly effect. If your engine is running out in the open air, then there is no material danger. But if you start your motor in a closed garage, or permit it to run in a garage whose windows and doors are closed, then your chance of escaping death is reduced to a mighty narrow margin.

Carbon monoxide is the most deadly of all known gases and the annual toll of death directly due to it in this country runs into the thousands every year. But one positive and absolute protection from it exists. Never start your motor during the fall or winter in a closed garage. Be sure the doors or windows are open before you step on the starter, and then do not permit the motor to continue running indoors any longer than necessary. Back the car into the open. You are taking your life in your hands when you follow any other course.

COMMUNITY SUICIDE

One of the strangest phenomena witnessed in most towns and small cities is the apparent eagerness with which many otherwise good citizens contribute to the tendency to commit community suicide.

These citizens will often show uncommon zeal in boosting any movement to obtain civic improvements, to promote the location of new industries, to secure better educational facilities, and so on. Yet many of these same proud boosters will deliberately engage in a practice which nullifies all their otherwise laudable efforts—and then wonder why their town doesn't get ahead.

Reference is to the suicidal habit of buying away from home. The enormous growth of the mail order habit in recent years is largely responsible for the failure of many communities to achieve the progress which their natural advantages should make possible.

The money which ought to be kept at home for the expansion of local trade and industry is sent away to distant cities, never to return. This life-blood of prosperity is permitted to ebb away, through the indifference or thoughtlessness of the very persons who should set an example of local pride and loyalty.

A trifling saving here and there, usually more imaginary than real, is sufficient to cause the average citizen to forget his duty to his community and to himself, which if performed would mean more in the direction of local prosperity than all his other boosting efforts put together.

Why boost in one direction while committing community suicide in another?

GRASS

Next in importance to the divine profusion of water, light, and air, those three physical facts which render existence possible, may be reckoned the universal beneficence of grass. Lying in the sunshine among the buttercups and dandelions of May, scarcely higher in intelligence than the minute tenants of that mimic wilderness, our earliest recollections are of grass; and when the fitful fever is ended, and the foolish wrangle of the market and the forum is closed, grass heals over the scar which our descent into the bosom of the earth has made, and the carpet of the infant becomes the blanket of the dead.

Grass is the forgiveness of Nature—her constant benediction. Fields trampled with battle, saturated with blood, torn with the ruts of cannon, grow green again with grass, and carnage is forgotten. Streets abandoned by traffic become grass-grown, like rural lanes, and are obliterated. Forests decay, harvests perish, flowers vanish, but grass is immortal. Bequeathed by the sullen hosts of winter it withdraws into the impenetrable fortress of its subterranean vitality and emerges upon the solicitation of spring. Sown by the winds, by wandering birds, propagated by the subtle horticulture of the elements which are its ministers and servants, it softens the rude outlines of the world. It invades the solitude of deserts, climbs the inaccessible slopes and pinnacles of mountains, and modifies the history, character and destiny of nations.

Unobtrusive and patient, it has immortal vigor and aggression. Banished from the thoroughfares and fields, it hides its time to return, and when vigilance is relaxed or the dynasty has perished, it silently resumes the throne from which it has been expelled but which it never abdicates. It bears no blazonary of bloom to charm the senses with fragrances or splendor, but its homely hue is more enchanting than the lily or the rose. It yields no fruit in earth or air, yet should its harvest fail for a single year famine would depopulate the world.—John J. Ingalls.

HIGHWAYS OF TOMORROW

Compared to the roads of a generation ago, modern highways are marvels of excellence. Yet in spite of this phenomenal development, today's system is woefully inadequate, as Frank T. Sheets points out in an article in Public Safety.

"Progressive strides have been taken and must continue to be taken in driver education and in providing safety regulations for vehicles," says Sheets, "but the ultimate in traffic convenience and safety will not be reached until we actually provide adequate highways and build safety into them."

Today's engineers have designed tomorrow's highways. These magnificent roads will include terminal facilities in cities whereby traffic will move to various points with a minimum of congestion; main super highways of many lanes, with divisions in the center to prevent head-on collisions, will carry cross-country traffic, avoiding congested areas enroute; intermediate highways will serve local traffic needs; even the lowest grade, little-used roads will be given some cheap form all-weather surface; arterial urban streets will carry into and through cities and towns that part of rural main trunk traffic which has business in the metropolitan area.

This seems a far off ideal, but not long ago the automobile, the radio, the airplane, the telephone seemed so too. The cost of developing highways and streets of maximum safety on a national scale, will be tremendous—but it will be spent over a long period of time and no form of expenditure by government can better serve the people. Better highways are not a cure-all for the accident problem—but when we develop our roads to the point where the chance of accidents is reduced to a minimum, a long step toward lowering our ghastly annual toll of deaths will be taken.

A total of 2,235 tons of silage has been put up by farmers in Carson County during the past month, reports to the county agent's office state. One or two more silos remain to be filled in the county as feed crops mature. This method of feed storage is meeting with uniform success throughout the entire country, and it is believed that a great many more silos will be dug in Carson county as soon as a good feed crop is produced.—Panhandle Herald.

SCIENCE LOOKS AT THE HUMAN SIDE OF LIGHTING

... and finds that the conservation of human resources—eyesight, health, life and limb—goes hand in hand with Seeing

Every year thousands of persons are killed because they couldn't see quickly or clearly enough. Thousands are painfully injured for the same reason. Authoritative estimates set an annual toll of $560,000,000 in fatalities, injuries and property damage resulting from night accidents on streets and highways—accidents which better light would have helped to prevent.

too, employees are discharged for mistakes that are due to the lack of proper seeing conditions. Many other tragedies, attributed to other causes, are really the result of violation of nature's laws of lighting.

One School Child in Five has Defective Vision

When we realize that modern civilization has increased drastically the severity of tasks for which our eyes were intended, it is not surprising that eye defects are so common today among persons of all ages. For example, 2 out of every 10 school children, 4 out of every 10 college students and 6 out of every 10 persons over forty have defective vision.

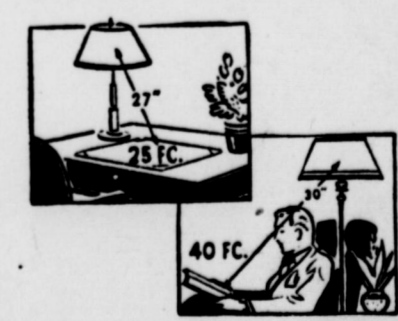

The conservation of human resources—eyesight, health, limb, life—goes hand in hand with seeing. After all, civilization is largely a world of seeing. And leading scientists now suspect that poor lighting may be at the root of many health penalties hitherto attributed to other causes.

What can be done about it?

First—Make sure that your eyes are right by having them examined at regular intervals by a competent eyesight specialist. This rule applies to young and old alike.

Second—Learn the real facts about light and seeing, and apply them, in your home and in business, at school and on streets and highways ... and so help your eyes.

For rather prolonged and intense eye uses such as reading newspapers, sewing at machine, fine mending, children's homework, and similar tasks, see that your lighting meets the requirements for safe and easy seeing.

Ask us to measure your lighting with the Light Meter. There is no charge or obligation.

BETTER BALANCE NEEDED Farm U non-farm income available for living per person

The chart shows a comparison of farm income and non-farm income available per capita.
Each income is expressed as a percentage of its 1910-14 average. For example, in 1932
farmers had about 40 per cent as much income available for living as they had back in the years 1910-14, while city workers had about 120 per cent as much as their average for 1910-14.
The difference between the income of farmers and non-farmers has decreased since 1932 and for the past three years incomes of the two groups have been in better balance than at any time since the war.

The tendency toward this balance has been maintained over the nation as a whole during 1937, but farmers in the cotton states, and especially in Texas, suffered a decline in income.

THE POET'S CORNER

To a Modern City
By MARIE WATERS

You are a wealthy city, teeming with life.
You've giant towers and liquid gold;
You've gay boulevards and centers
of art,
Huge colosseums and co-operations
bold!
You are strong, alive, and you're cunning—
Your millionaires' mansions dazzle
the eye.
You lift your proud head and boast
of yourself,
You sing your own praises up to the sky!
Your beauty is powerfully scenic!

Today I saw a group of ragged children
Eagerly searching your garbage cans.
Their eyes lit up at finding a discarded apple;
For a crust of bread they fought
with greedy hands—
Some turned away and frantically
scanned the gutter.
Fierce hunger and despair brought tears to their eyes.
Boast they your beauty? To them
you are dead!
Be proud of your grandeur! Be proud of your size!
For you are a wealthy city!

God's Eternal Purpose in Christ
(By C. C. M.)

Whatever God's purpose in Christ is, it is described in Eph. 3:11 as eternal: "According to the eternal purpose which He purposed in Christ Jesus." A perfect God, seeing the end from the beginning, need not change His purpose. An all-powerful God cannot be compelled to change His purpose. There is certain unspeakable tragedy ahead for every effort of man in the social, economic, political, intellectual, physical or spiritual world that is out of harmony with the eternal purpose of God.

Next Sunday morning, the Lord willing, I shall discuss the above stated subject. The evening sermon will be occupied with the twenty-third Psalm.

Please do not guess at what I'm going to say, but come and listen to me say it. At the Church of Christ.

WAR ON SHORT STAPLE

War on short staple has been the order of the day in the cotton growing states this season, and the short staple grower is having to pay the fiddler for it. Economically sound, it seems, and probably the salvation of the South's biggest industry, the "war" does not keep a good many from continuing to grow the short staple just like they used to do in days when a low grade bale brought the same as a good one.

The answer is to be found in the expense bill. Short staple makes less pulling, less ginning, per bale, and a good many contend they can do better for themselves growing it.
It seems to work out, too, when you put the pencil to it.

Farmers are the individuals of our country. After all, a man has got to look out for himself. Seeing the industry as a whole while submerging oneself for the general good is a hard job for most of us.

Farmers to Discuss Outlook and Prices

District agents of the Texas A. and M. College Extension service have gathered their county agricultural agents together for a series of meetings at which the farm income outlook will be discussed, according to Geo. E. Adams, assistant state agent, who recently attended a nationwide meeting on this problem at Washington, D. C., says A. and M. News service.

County agricultural agents will hold schools at which their assistants, vocational agriculture teachers, and others will discuss the material prior to presenting it to community meetings, Adams said.

The farm income question will be discussed in relation to the 1938 Agricultural Conservation program. Discussions will center around such questions as why the cotton picture, fairly satisfactory in 1936, changed so completely in 1937.

"As everyone knows, when farm production is excessive and crop surpluses pile up, farm income comes down," Adams pointed out. "Farmers then are unable to buy many city-made goods, and business in general slows down and unemployment follows. That brings increased lack of buying power for farm products, and prices received by farmers are pushed down still further."

"If Texas farmers and ranchmen

Sunday School Lesson Exposition

By C. C. M. November 14, 1937

THE CHRISTIAN MINISTER Scripture Text: I Tim. 4:6-16; 2 Tim. 2:1-4. Scope of Lesson: I Tim. 4:1-16; 2 Tim. 2:1-4. Devotional Reading: Acts 20:31-35.

An Approach

There is grave danger that our conflicting opinions about the ministry may be the cause of a crash mid-air right over the costly edifices and densely populated institutions of the Christian religion; if, in fact, that crash has not already occurred.

I remember a few years ago that a questionnaire was published in a leading magazine to ascertain what the churches demand of the ministry. Someone gave a summary of the response: The pastor must have "the alertness of an antelope, the robustness of an elephant, the boldness of a lion, the meekness of a lamb, the credulity of a child, the genius of a general, the devotion of a lover, the knowledge of a Plato, the wisdom of Solomon, the optimism of a sophomore, the zeal of a prophet, the voice of Demosthenes, and the ubiquity of the Wandering Jew."

THE HEART OF THE LESSON

Introduction

The task which Christ demands of his servants who minister in word is not an easy one. The simple fact is that He has no easy task for any of His servants in whatsoever capacity they may be serving.

A Good Minister

A minister approved of God is a good minister. And if one is not approved of God, though he might meet the approval of men, he is not a good minister of Jesus Christ.

A Good Minister

Will, after receiving nourishment, exercise. Bodily exercise? Yes. And soul exercises also—and much more. Learn your lesson, then put it into practice.

A Good Minister

Does not fail to "preach the Word." He must "put the brethren in mind of these things"—"the things which thou hast heard from me," Paul. These were the things Timothy was to teach ("commit") to others.

A Good Minister

It is a sad thing, confusing and destructive to the Christian life, when ministers turn from "sound doctrine" (I Tim. 1:10) into the doctrines of the modern social gospel.

A Good Minister

Seeks, not only to save himself, but others. And he does that by taking heed to the kind of life he lives and to the doctrines he teaches.

A Good Minister

In conclusion, let me speak a word of admonition to those to whom the good minister is ministering. Remember, you are to accept the good minister's teaching and pattern your lives after his.

Other Counties May Try Tax Collections

Randall Lets Contract to Private Attorneys to Force Payment of Delinquencies

Indications that other counties besides Wheeler, as well as city and school units, contemplate action to collect delinquent taxes is found in an article appearing in last week's Canyon News.

"Practically $130,000 in delinquent taxes are due in Randall county to the state, county, schools and city. These taxes are due largely on real estate. Under a new state law, each county must compile a delinquent tax roll from 1919 to 1936, inclusive.

"A state-wide movement is on to collect delinquent taxes. The legislature provided that the state and various counties may enter into contract with private attorneys in order to force collection of delinquent taxes. Such a contract has been let in Randall county and work is now in progress to that end.

"Collection of back taxes is one of the serious problems all over the state, and the State of Texas is encouraging counties, cities and school districts to make a determined effort to collect all money possible as a means of reducing deficits which exist in the treasury of practically all departments of government."

From County Attorney Homer Moss it is learned that his part in the local collection drive is to start just as soon as the collector's office can complete a sufficient number of accounts for his guidance. To date, Wheeler county officials favor moderate efforts by local means in preference to letting a contract with attorney's, as has been done in Randall county.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Adams and his sister, Miss Winona, and Miss Bessie Mae Ficke motored Sunday afternoon to Altus, Okla., to take the former's brother, Walter Adams, back to Altus, where he is attending college. Walter spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Adams.

Recording Ordinance Held Not Imperative

So Rules Supreme Court in Suit Against City of Wheeler on Sanitary Bonds

Press dispatches from Austin announce that the supreme court has declared a city ordinance does not always have to be recorded in the government minutes to be valid. The statement was in a suit of Southwestern Lloyds against the City of Wheeler for $3,000. The city issued the warrants to pay for sanitary equipment and Lloyds bought the warrants from the equipment company. There was question as to whether an ordinance levying a tax and providing a sinking fund to retire the warrants had been passed and recorded in the minutes. The district court gave judgment for Lloyds and the court of civil appeals remanded the case for new trial, which action the supreme court affirmed.

The highest court commented the civil appellate tribunal erred in holding an ordinance was not effective until recorded in the minutes. "Under our statutes," it said, "an ordinance of a city such as is the City of Wheeler need not be recorded in order to become effective."

FINE TOMATOES SHOWN IN TIMES WINDOW

From the farm home of Raymond Moore, living two miles south of Kelton, The Times window has received specimens of choice tomatoes, one vegetable being of unusual shape and known as the Oxheart variety, the name accurately describing its general outline. Some other regular-shaped tomatoes of excellent size complete the lot.

Reference is made elsewhere in these columns to the honey sample contributed by J. P. Williams.

Another favor greatly appreciated by The Times family, was a nice lot of tomatoes of good size and superior quality brought in Tuesday by O. Lewis; these couldn't be spared for window exhibition. Lewis states that his patch of tomatoes didn't do any good through the hot dry spell of mid-summer but when the rains came fruit set on in profusion and here in November they are mighty fine.

Would Defer Payments Old Age Loan Account

State Should Not "Pay Banks while Hungry People Suffer," Says Looney

Declaring that the state should not "pay banks while hungry people are suffering," Everett Looney of Austin, member of the state democratic executive committee, this week called on the state board of control to suspend payments of interest and principal on the $1,626,000 old age pension loan owed Dallas banks until the legislature provides more money for old age pensions.

Looney declared that the board's announced plan of paying off this loan at the rate of $100,000 a month from old age pension funds would mean that 10,000 pensioners will have to be dropped from the rolls.

He pointed out that the state already has more than $4,000,000 on deposit in the Dallas banks to which the $1,626,000 is due, and that this $4,000,000 is not drawing one penny of interest.

"Is it right or logical to pay these banks interest and principal from the old age pension funds in the deal of winter when it means that 10,000 old people will have to suffer, especially when these banks already have the use of $4,000,000 of interest-free state funds," Looney asked.

"The state's obligation to its aged needy citizens is equally as binding and definitely more sacred than its obligation to these banks," he insisted.

"Informed authorities have told me that the state's contract with the banks does not provide for the repayment of this money at any specified time, and there is no reason why these payments cannot be postponed until the legislature provides more money for old age pensions," Looney asserted.

"The situation is this simple—suppose you had just $100. You owe a bank the $100, yet you have four hungry children. Would you pay the bank, or would you feed the children and pay the bank later," he inquired.

Meanwhile, pension director W. A. Little announced that investigators are checking all border-line cases with a view to cutting 10,000 pensioners off the rolls before Jan. 1.

Annual Carnival Is Pronounced Success

Best Event of Its Kind Mobetie Has Ever Had, with Larger Net Returns

The carnival this year proved to be the greatest success Mobetie has ever known. The great success was made possible by the splendid cooperation of both the students and teachers.

Proceeds from this year's carnival showed a big increase over past ones. In 1935 a net sum of $80 was made. Last year the total sum of $100 was cleared. For this year's carnival, the records show a net profit of $135.

As has been the custom, the money will be divided between the grade school and high school to be spent where it is most needed. The money will go for playground equipment, books and book repairs.

This carnival was not only quite profitable to the school but proved to be a very good community gathering. Everyone entered into the spirit of a big carnival and seemed to be having a good time.

Amateur Program to Be Presented Soon

Plans are in the formative stage for an amateur program to be presented at the high school gymnasium in the near future.

Mrs. Blankinship, English teacher, and Miss Knight, music teacher, are sponsoring the affair and according to present prospects, they expect to give this program some time during the week preceding Thanksgiving.

Former Students Visit

John Sims a graduate of Mobetie high school, was visiting his parents, teachers and former classmates this week end.

He is now a student in West Texas State college at Canyon and is making a commendable record.

Omer Harrell also was a visitor Monday morning. He did his first two years of high school work here. Omer is now a graduating senior in Pampa high school.

CCC Enrollee Visits School

Adrian Lova a former student of Mobetie high school, visited school Thursday and Friday, Nov. 4 and 5. He is enrolled in the CCC Camp, SCS-15-T, Company 3802, at Littlefield, Texas.

He is going to high school and is taking English IV, typing, junior business and general mathematics. Adrian says they are experimenting with him. If he does well in school then next year they will send more boys.

He likes down there fine. He attends school from 10:30 a. m. to 4:00 p. m. and works before school and after. He also states that the girls are better looking down there and they all call him "Loveless." They also say he is a little bashful.

4-H Club Notes

W. B. Hooser, assistant county agent, gave a very educational lecture on poultry, Nov. 3, to the boys 4-H club of Mobetie. He discussed the culling of chickens, also the proper ration for laying hens. Hooser gave the members report blanks on which to write their reports for 1937.

All the boys have not made their reports as yet, but they will turn them in soon.

Present officers of the 4-H club are: Warren Thompson, president; Bob St. John, vice president; F. P. Heare, secretary-treasurer; Charles Mixon, reporter, and J. M. Plaster, sponsor.

The club is making great progress.

BUSINESS MEN IN VISIT TO ASSEMBLY

Business men of Mobetie were well represented at assembly Friday by Levy McCauley, Elmer Elliott, John Dunn and J. W. Hardin. These men entered into the spirit of the pep meeting, each giving a talk assuring the student body that they were back of them.

If one is to judge by the loud applause given, the presence of these Mobetie business men who are real friends of the school, was appreciated.

AS YOU KNOW THEM

Would you believe it! Some of the Mobetie boys have really beautiful middle names. The following is a list of high school boys' names.

Junior-Senior Masquerade

Members of the senior and junior classes and sponsors, Mr. Plaster and Miss Cogdell, respectively, met in the gymnasium Wednesday, Oct. 27, for a party. Most of the members were masked. Those not masked received a black mask of burnt cork when they arrived.

Several different kinds of running games were played, along with others. After refreshments of candy bars were served the lights were turned out and several ghost tales told to complete the Halloween atmosphere that was already prevalent.

SENIORS SELLING CHRISTMAS CARDS

The seniors are selling Christmas cards to raise money to go on a trip at the close of school. Some plans have been worked out for the trip, but nothing definite as yet. These cards are very nice and there are 21 in a box for a dollar. They also have some stationery to sell but the big point is the Christmas cards. A small additional charge will be added if anyone desires their name engraved on the cards.

MAGAZINES CONTRIBUTED TO THE SCHOOL LIBRARY

Mrs. Geo. B. Dunn has contributed several magazines to the high school library. They are Time, Saturday Evening Post, West Texas Today, Readers Digest and Outdoor Life. Judson Jones also contributed some magazines to the library. He donated a large stack of both Collier's and Saturday Evening Post.

In addition to those mentioned, Mrs. O. W. Elliott contributed 13 more of various kinds, including Liberty, Companion, Good Housekeeping, Pictorial Review, Holland's, Country Gentleman, American Legion, Cosmopolitan, Your Home, Ladies Home Journal and National Geographic.

There are now over four years of the National Geographic magazine on file, and probably that many more of some other kinds. They have not been indexed yet and a complete report cannot be made at this time.

SENIOR RINGS ARE HERE!

A close observer will notice how the sad, sad, expression on the seniors faces has changed to a happy but anxious expression. Their rings are here and they hope to get them by tomorrow.

They were ordered the fourteenth of October. A $2.00 deposit was paid on each one.

They are 10-K gold with a ruby set which has an emblem on it. On this emblem is written Mobetie.

Many Contributions Made to Bingo Stand

Contributions to the bingo stand, a feature of the recent school carnival, were of great variety, ranging from small sacks of tobacco to large sacks of flour, and a five-quart can of lubricating oil.

The faculty and student body wish to thank the following contributors who were represented by donations:

Farmers Equity Station, Scott Filling Station, Nathan Hunt Hardware, Holladay's Cafe, City Barber Shop, Cicero Smith Lumber Co., JCA Store, Crump Motor Co., Baird Filling Station, Burke's Grocery, Puckett's Grocery and the City Drug Store.

The assistance of Mesdames Nathan Hunt and Wade Duncan and Leonard Green was also greatly appreciated. The bingo stand was a splendid success, yielding a net sum of $36.25.

District Home Ec Meets at Amarillo

Miss Cogdell Was One of the 65 Teachers Present for a Busy Session

Miss Bonnie Cogdell, home economics teacher in the Mobetie schools, was present at the district home ec meeting held in Amarillo last Friday. Sixty-five home economics teachers were present for the session in which 28 Panhandle counties were represented at the annual conference.

This meeting was one of 19 held throughout the state over the week end. It convened at the Herring hotel.

Miss Esther Sorensen of Lubbock, District One superintendent, conducted the session, assisted by Miss Gladys Armstrong, co-ordinator for the Panhandle.

Supt. Charles M. Rogers of Amarillo and J. B. Speer, deputy state superintendent, gave talks, as did John White and Harold Hamilton of the Amarillo NYA office.

Miss Sorensen also made an address to the home-making teachers.

Former Graduates of Mobetie School Wed

Miss Lela Mae Ribble and Euel (Pete) Sims were united in marriage at Shamrock Saturday night, Nov. 6. Both young people are graduates of Mobetie high school, completing their work with the class of '34.

Mrs. Sims is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Ribble and Mr. Sims the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Sims.

After the ceremony they went to Amarillo to make their home. Sims has employment as a life insurance agent with headquarters in Amarillo.

INVISIBLE WORLD

Have you ever viewed the invisible world? The Mobetie high school students have. Mr. Herd, salesman for the Vio-scope, visited school Nov. 2. He exhibited the apparatus which is operated by electricity and which instead of looking through the lens is set the object, it is reflected on the wall. Mr. Herd showed us the inhabitants of a drop of stagnant water. The water was full of minute living objects that move about with terrific speed. The sample shown proved to be very impure water. He then showed a section of butterfly's wing with its wonderful make-up.

This apparatus would be quite useful in a school of our size, since all can see the specimens at the same time, and the price is practically the same as for one microscope.

Miss Huff Talks to Class

Miss Mary Lena Huff, who is now attending school at Canyon, made a talk to the government class last Monday. In her current event, her address fit right in with the class program. Her subject was "How the World Received President Roosevelt's Chicago Speech."

ARMISTICE DAY

Fellow students, do you know what happened on Nov. 11, 1918.

It is the date on which actual fighting ceased in the World War. The armistice was signed by the Allies and Germany. On this day each year in the allied countries some commemoration is made. The ceremonies usually include a period of silence at 11 o'clock in the morning (the hour at which hostilities ceased) and services in memory of those who were killed. In the United States most of the states have made Armistice Day a legal holiday.

In the years of 1936 and 1937 there have been many wars. President Roosevelt has announced determination to keep this country out of them. These things have given the citizens of this nation much food for thought.

We should make up our minds on these questions while we can do it calmly and intelligently. We should make them up so firmly that we will not be persuaded to change them under pressure of the propaganda machine that was set going when it became financially "desirable" that we enter the World War.

"War is waged for only one of two reasons; protection of and profit to private investments, and in defense of the homeland. Neither this nor any other nation can ever profit by war and this country will probably never be called on to fight in defense of the homeland."

A COMING EVENT

Be sure and keep in mind the coming event—six-weeks examinations.

Now would be a good time to begin a review and not wait until the night before the tests begin. This has the fault of being one of those "preaching types" of editorials, but it is intended as a reminder that the writer is taking unto herself as well as extending to fellow students.

The regular examinations are to be given on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 16, 17 and 18.

Age

A town dweller walking in the country had a conversation with a farm laborer who, after a few minutes, volunteered the information that he was seventy four.

"You are remarkably fit for a man of 74" said the town dweller. "How old was your father when he died?" "Father's not dead," replied the laborer; "there he is in the garden reading the paper to grandfather."

FROM THE START TO THE FINISH LINE

By EDNA SIMS

It's a long, long way through high school.

From the start to the finish line.
And the students are few
Who really do
Pick up their packs and climb.

When the way gets dark and the work gets hard,

And you cannot see your way;
Shall you give up your place
In the upward race?
Shall you sit down and cry today?

God admires the man who has the sand.

Who's not trampled beneath our feet.
And when he ascends
On the upward trend
Perhaps by chance they'll meet.

We all admire the scrapper when he is fighting toward his goal.

For there is something
In his actions
That makes him rather bold.

He will undergo any circumstance
And pay any price for success.

He is the fellow who's on
The upward climb—
The fellow we all like best.

It's a long, long way
From the starting point.

To the goal just across the line,
So let's get a start this very day
And pick up our packs and climb.

The pupils and teachers of the grade school were pleased at having Mr. Blankinship and Mr. McCain as visitors at assembly on Thursday. Mr. Blankinship complimented the pupils of the grades on their conduct in the halls and in the auditorium.

Mrs. Godwin has been teaching in the sixth grade as substitute teacher.

The second and third grades are beginning work on an Indian and Pilgrim unit, which will be continued until Thanksgiving when they will have a harvest festival. The second grade will represent the Indians and the third grade the Pilgrims.

The fourth grade is conducting a good housekeeping campaign which includes inspection of desks, floor, boards, library, and general neatness in the room.

The teachers of the grade school are planning to spend their half of the money from the carnival for library books, maps and other equipment that will raise the standard of the school.

The pupils are showing very much interest in their work, and are studying hard, so they may make grades for the honor roll.

The pupils and teachers appreciate the work of Mr. Files, our janitor. Our rooms are always neat and clean. Every morning and we are trying to help him keep them that way. Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Key, Mrs. Benson and several others were visitors in our school last week. We are always glad to have parents visit us, and extend an invitation to them to visit our school any time.

Sixth Grade News

The sixth grade class is finding their workbooks in history very helpful and interesting. For the past seven weeks they have been studying about the colonization of Texas. Especially have they enjoyed making maps showing the "Old Spanish Trail," and the location of the old Spanish missions of Texas. Many pictures and historical relics have been brought to class by its members.

Perhaps a thing of still more interest is the fact that some of our own sixth grade members are distinctly related to some of the great heroes of the Texas revolution.

The feeling prevails that no student can study about the sacrifices made for us by our progenitors without feeling that Texas is very dear to us.

A Honor Roll—
Maurine Hunt,
Mary Belle Hoare,
Neweta Williams.

B Honor Roll—
Carey A. Dysart,
Naomi Barker,
Helen Gardner.

The fact is noticeable that five girls and only one boy made the honor roll. The boys are promising to give the girls more competition next six weeks.

If one should look into the sixth grade room their eyes would be greeted by some beautiful jack-o-lantern pumpkins and a few witches nesting close to some black cats.

With the thought of Halloween, Sylvia Reynolds turns to poetry for expression:

A Pumpkin Jack-o-Lantern

A jolly little pumpkin grew
Upon a pumpkin vine,
"Hurray," it cried "for Halloween,
And jack-o-lanterns fine.
"I'll grow big and round and fat
That every one can see.
And when they jack-o-lanterns make

I'm sure they will take me."
And so in sunshine and in rain,
The little pumpkin grew,
And so on the day of Halloween
It had its wish come true.

—By SYLVIA REYNOLDS.

The sixth grade class appreciates Mrs. E. O. Benson's visiting us last Thursday evening. They issue a special invitation to other mothers and fathers to come.

Hornets Defeated by Wheeler Friday Night

Both Teams Played Excellent Ball Before Good Crowd—Final Score was 12-7

The Wheeler Mustangs defeated the Mobetie Hornets Friday night Nov. 5 on the Wheeler field with a score of 12-7. The Hornets and Mustangs were both playing excellent ball, with a fine night for football and everyone feeling fit.

The Mustangs scored in the first quarter but missed by inches in their effort to kick the extra point. Then the Hornets got busy and kept them from scoring until the third quarter; they try for extra point went low and wide.

In the fourth quarter the Hornets got busy and blossomed up with several nice runs, resulting in a goal. The extra point was made in a short pass, successfully executed.

Starting line-ups were:

Mobetie	Pos.	Wheeler
Sims, E.	R. E.	Packett
Creekmore, T.	L. E.	Pitsock
Red, W.	R. T.	Page
Stange, O.	L. T.	Compton

SENIOR GIRLS NOW HAVE NEW BASKETBALL SUITS

The senior girls have new suits now and are they proud of them. They are almost maroon in color and have white buttons. The letter "M" is on the left side on a pocket and the white numerals are on the right side. Large white numerals are on the back. If the suits have any effect on the girls they should win the bigger per cent of their games.

Auld Lang Syne

Ola Mae Beck graduated from Mobetie in 1934. She married Oscar Trimble and they now live at Dimmitt, where she is a beauty operator.

Richard Lancaster graduated from Mobetie in 1933. He is doing construction work in California.

John Dunn graduated from Mobetie in 1916. He married Thelma Sitton. Dunn is proprietor of the City Drug store in Mobetie, where he makes his home.

Gertrude Files graduated from Mobetie in 1927. She married C. E. Batton and is now teaching school at Witharrah, Texas.

Virginia Dyson graduated from Mobetie in 1932. She married Alfred Myatt and lives in Pampa, where she operates a beauty parlor.

Carver Haralson graduated from Mobetie in 1932. He is in the army and located at San Antonio.

Unfavorable Outlook

A visitor to Ireland was bidding farewell, and said to an attendant: "Goodbye, Pat."

"Goodbye, yer honor. May Heaven bless you, and may every hair in your head be a candle to light your soul to glory!"

"Well, Pat," he said, "when that time comes that you won't be much of a torchlight procession."

HORNETS AND CANADIAN WILDCATS MEET NOV. 19

The Hornets will do gridiron battle with the Canadian Wildcats on Friday afternoon, Nov. 19. These two teams rank about the same and the coming contest should provide an interesting and possibly exciting game. Last year the Hornets defeated the Cats by coming back in the second half and playing some real football after an inspirational talk from the coach.

Wellington Trounces Mobetie on Oct. 29

Skyrokers Win Grid Contest with Score of 61-0—Hornets were Outclassed

The Mobetie Hornets were beaten by a score of 61-0 by the Wellington Skyrokers Friday night, Oct. 29. The Hornets were outclassed but they never gave up. They kept up their old fighting spirit even though they received several minor injuries.

Booker was unable to play in this game because of a severe cut on his elbow, which he received a week before.

J. T. Red was taken out of the game in the third quarter with a wrist hurt. It seemed at first to be broken but was later thought to be bruised badly.

Leon Barton was also taken out in the last quarter with a side hurt. It seemed as if a rib was broken but finally was determined to be only a minor fracture.

Charles Nixon, the captain, was taken out with an ankle injury in the last of the second quarter but was able to go back at the half.

Toole Beck seemed to have gotten stage fright and forgot to return to the players bench when the game started.

SENIOR SCANDALS

In case you want to know what the section was in the senior room Monday morning, it was Alma getting her breath when Mr. Blankinship told us the rings were here.

The seniors had a very delightful time at the Halloween party which was held in the gym.

We are beginning to wonder if our sponsor, Mr. Plaster, is not looking to the future. He taught the home economics classes Friday.

One of our ex-student graduates, Pauline Oswald, visited school Friday afternoon.

We hope that Mr. Plaster doesn't decide to become the 7th grade sponsor. They are so polite to him when they say "pardon me."

Hugh Bailey seemed to be a privileged character in geometry class last Monday; he moved around several times before he was located for the period. But we found that a Singer sewing machine had been moved for the carnival and was placed in Hugh's place and he was afraid it would begin singing.

Home Ec Classes Donate to Booth

Members of all three home economics classes donated various articles to the home economics booth at the carnival. Items given included seven quarts of green beans, two and a half gallons of milk and eight pies.

Mobetie vs. Lakeview Armistice Day Game

Hornets and Eagles in Football Battle on Memphis Field November 11

What promises to be one of the interesting gridiron events for Armistice Day is a proposed clash between the Mobetie Hornets and Lakeview Eagles on the Memphis field at 2:30 this afternoon.

The Lakeview team has beaten Wheeler this season by a close score and the Hornets have been beaten by Wheeler by a narrow margin. Therefore, a good game is expected between these teams which, according to the odds, are fairly well matched; and both teams are ready to do their best.

The Hornets are all in fair condition and are working hard in preparation for this, their next conference game.

WHEN'S YOUR BIRTHDAY?

These born in November have for their sun sign Scorpio. The principal gift bestowed on them is power. The influence they can exercise on those with whom they come in contact is enormous. But whether this influence is used for good or evil depends entirely on the person. This person may be anything, succeed anywhere, if only there is a will to amount to something.

Too often, also, while withholding demonstrations of affections from those they love, they demand that attentions be lavished on them. They are not demonstrative, but their feelings go very deep. Their interest in anything is wholehearted and they are absolutely tireless, mentally and physically, when they put their mind to it. They do not believe in half-measures.

The girl born under this sign will make a laughing, care-free, industrious wife, full of love of living. She must constantly rule herself; rule her marvelous gifts and not be ruled by them. While not fickle, this girl is apt to be a flirt. She must be careful not to hurt people as she makes her carefree and merry way through life. She will find a perfect mate in a man who is, above all else, intelligent. He must understand her thoroughly and never try to remake her.

The Scorpio man will work his way to the top. He must, however, remember to use his power wisely, unselfishly and justly. The girl he marries must understand him. She must also be exceptionally intelligent and understanding; for her husband has a touch of genius in him. No girl should marry this man unless she intends to help him to the top of his profession, and be willing to sacrifice in his ambition. His mate may be a Libra or a Capricorn girl.

Those whose birthday fall in November and should take heed to the above are: Charles Bartram, Clara Corcoran, Alva Mae Daniel, Bernice Dunlap, Eunice Dyson, Orville Hammer, Ralph Sims, Fred Sims and Elbert Lee Setz.

Blankinship to Amarillo Saturday
Supt. M. D. Blankinship attended the superintendent's and principal's meeting at Amarillo Saturday. Dr. L. A. Woods, state superintendent, was the principal speaker of the day.

NOTES FROM THE NOTE WRITERS

Austin, Texas
Oct. 31, 1937

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Blankinship: You have probably decided by now that I have gone to South America or some distant land, but I am still here at the university. I should have written sooner, but I have been so busy that I just kept putting it off.

I work only four hours a day at my regular job now, but I find it necessary to put in all of the extra time that I can and sometimes work as much as 10 hours. Two hours of classes on top of that doesn't leave me much spare time.

I am taking English, public speaking, math 307 and history 4. History 4 is a lecture course, and we are held for everything that is said in class, so I have to spend a lot of time on my notebook. I have to keep a rather complete notebook in math also, as we don't have a text and use our notes as reference.

Mary Ruth has been sending me the Outlook, and I enjoy it very much. The boys here at the house wouldn't believe me when I showed it to them and told them how small our high school is.

Tell the senior class that the university has a very good B. E. A. school, and that if they want to learn the ways of business they won't have to go to Oklahoma City to do so. When I see A. B. and R. L. I am going to challenge them to a duel for not coming down here.

I have a mid-term quiz in math tomorrow, so I guess I had better study for a while.

Write and tell me all the news.

Yours truly,

BILL BARTRAM.

Bill was president of the class of '37. He is at the University of Texas, studying to be a lawyer.

THE FISH POND

We are very glad to have Mae Thomas back in school.

Most of the freshmen who have been pulling cotton are back in school.

The freshman class is working very hard to get term themes in.

Our class is proud of the boys on the Hornets team that are freshmen. These include Thurman Creekmore, R. W. Beck, J. T. Red and Clifford Matthews. Besides making the football squad, several of these boys are outstanding students.

THE ARMISTICE—1918

By W. A. STRICKLAND, Mobetie, Texas

At last the war is over;
The cannon's roar has ceased.
The dust-clouds and smoke have cleared away;
The whining shells and clash of arms,
The hoarse mad cries of pain and rage,
All, all are hushed along the lines!

No more the bugle's blast nor roll of drum,
Nor martial music stirs the hearts of men
To deeds heroic, noble, grand;
No more artillery's thunder tones
Reverberate along the arched sky—
Rock the eternal vaults of heaven!

Ah, the Kaiser's dream—world dominion, power;
His scepter, his throne supreme from pole to pole!
His word the law, his will the state's behest!
He dreamed . . . a nightmare of agony:
The toilsome labor of ages past o'erthrown;
Science, art, liberty shackled by brutish force.

From out the smoke above the pit
The locust's swarm: Famine, murder, theft,
Bolshevism, anarchy, internecine strife,
Inhuman lust and raging hate!
The robe of "Kultur" torn away
Reveals Autocracy; a savage brute.

THAT ARMISTICE DAY POEM

In a letter to the publisher accompanying the Armistice Day poem printed herewith, W. A. Strickland of Mobetie, says:

"I am enclosing a poem I wrote in 1918, commemorating the first anniversary of the armistice at the close of the World War. It was published at that time in The Leader, Lovington, N. Mex., of which J. C. Estlack was editor. Estlack is now editor of the Donley County Leader at Clarendon. (I was living in New Mexico at that time)."

"I thought perhaps as the anniversary was approaching, you might be interested in something of the kind for your next issue." (Signed) W. A. STRICKLAND.

(The editor is indeed glad to give this poem space and thanks Mr. Strickland for the privilege of printing it).

The Owl Says:

Dear Mr. Anybody:
Please, don't write any more letters for a while. I'm receiving entirely too many. So many of them are nearly alike. I received letters from Warren Thompson, Va Rue Dyson and Margie Roberts,—all asking for the truth concerning Santa Clause. Well, to be frank—I don't know.

I have heard people say that it was a fake, but Mr. Plaster says that he can prove by geometry that there is a real Santa Clause. Write and ask Mr. Plaster regarding this matter.

By, by,
THE OWL.

Dear Wise One:

I am in great distress. I am always so hungry when our home economics class meets that I just can't resist the temptation to butter a slice of bread and eat it. That part is fine, but when the other girls start giggling and looking at me the teacher always gets suspicious. If I duck behind someone, they move. And if I tell them to hush they only giggle louder. And I just eat so fast I almost choke.

Starvingly yours,
EDNA SIMS.

Dear Ed:

I suggest that when you eat anything in the home ec class, you just offer the teacher a bite and she won't care. Another thing you might try is—tell her the doctor told you to eat something light at that period every day.

Yours,
THE OWL.

Dear Owl:

Do you think a red shirt is becoming to me? Should I get a brighter red or just a maroon color? Don't you think bright red helps bring out the red in my hair?

Brightly yours,
F. P. HEARE.

My Dear F. P.:

Yes, I think red looks very good on you. Haven't you noticed how the girls look at you when you pass, while in the past they hardly noticed you? You might try catching you a red-headed girl, then her hair will match your shirt. Girls always do want everything to match. Your bright red shirt makes these girls' red dresses look pink.

Yours very truly,
THE OWL.

Dear Mrs. Scribner:

I would answer your letter this time but am afraid Mr. Scribner would read the paper and see all those bad things you said about him. I certainly would hate to cause trouble. If you will only cool down enough to write a letter that can be published, I'll answer it.

Yours truly,
THE OWL.

Texas Demonstration Clubs Plan Exhibit

Sending Pantry and Club Member to Nation's Capitol for Anniversary Event

A Texas home demonstration club pantry will be on exhibit in Washington, D. C., during the celebration of the 75th anniversary of the founding of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and the onset of the pantry will be there to tell the story of filling it. Miss Mildred Horton, state agent and vice director of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service, has announced.

The exhibit was made possible by the Texas Home Demonstration association which voted to send a club member and her pantry to the national meeting, Miss Horton said. The celebration will be held on Nov. 14-17.

A committee of home demonstration specialists of the Extension Service has been delegated to select the pantry. The group has narrowed the selection down to 10 women.

Included in the select 10 are Mrs. Wade Williams of Weatherford, Parker county, who has 957 containers of 47 varieties on her pantry shelves; Mrs. J. N. Dye of Goliad, Goliad county, whose pantry contains 884 containers with 64 varieties; Mrs. Carl Walker of Harlingen, Cameron county, with 770 containers and 93 varieties; Mrs. Hugh Witmer of Clarksville, Red River county, who has 1,074 containers of 93 varieties. Miss Jim Friday of Groveton, Trinity county, whose shelves carry 1,038 containers and 95 varieties; Mrs. R. J. Ebert of Hockley, Harris county, with 1,236 containers and 53 varieties; Mrs. Jeff Scheer of San Angelo, Tom Green county, 843 containers and 43 varieties; Mrs. Babe Yount of Rockdale, Milam county, 659 containers; Mrs. Walter Wills, Tarrant county, 470 containers and Mrs. Will Henderson, Brazos county.

STUDENTS TO GET ADDRESSES OF FOREIGN CORRESPONDENTS

Mrs. J. L. Gilmore received recently a new directory of boys and girls of all nations abroad who would like to correspond with American students.

Heretofore it has just been open to the Spanish students of Wheeler high school to correspond with those foreign boys and girls. This year Mrs. Gilmore thought that some others in high school would like to correspond, also.

The countries that one may correspond with are Africa, South America, Asia, Australia and Europe. Ages of students range from 14 to 20.

The charge is 10 cents to get started to correspond with one country.

FIRST GRADE BOYS REPRESENT TEAMS IN ASSEMBLY FRIDAY

As an example of how the football game between Wheeler and Mobeetie would come out, a part of the first grade boys represented the Mustangs and others the Hornets in assembly program Friday at the activity period.

The pep squads were represented by the first grade girls.

After the first grade completed their part on the program the pep squad gave two yells. The band played a few numbers and then the student body sang The High School Song.

After the band played another piece Mrs. Bill Perrin, Lonnie Lee, H. E. Young, sr., Roy Puckett, Homer Pitecock, Bonis Hooser, and former Mustang fullback W. J. Ford, made short talks.

The band played a march as the students marched out.

LET ARMISTICE CONTINUE TO BE AN ANNUAL JUBILEE

Would you rather battle with the dare-devils of the foreign countries than to continue to celebrate Armistice Day? Who enjoys seeing the United States soldiers dying in different corners of the world with their limbs shot off by stray bullets?

This country is just recovering from the loss of the last horrible war. America has been sowing her fields with more important things than war ammunition. All over this nation, Armistice has been freely celebrated. It depends on all of us to keep the good work going.

Armistice is one day that should be important to every student in school as well as all others. Literature on this particular subject should be read by people who do not know the meaning of it. If this question were to be asked among the people, "Do you want to keep Armistice?" certainly a larger majority would say yes.

Now, the thing is whether the United States will meddle in foreign entanglements or keep celebrating Armistice Day.

WE ARE LUCKY TO ATTEND AMERICAN SCHOOLS

Although this has been Education Week, probably very few of us have stopped to think what it means. What is the purpose, one may ask, of setting aside one week in the year for observance of something that goes on all during the year?

Students are continually complaining because they have to go to school. Do you ever stop to think that someone is sacrificing something so that we young Americans can get an education?

The American school is no longer the relatively quiet institution which teaches the Three R's to a few children during a short part of the year. It is a place where we as students go to get an education to prepare ourselves (1) for higher training at some college or elsewhere; (2) to learn some means of livelihood.

Where would America stand today if it were not for its educational system? For this is a moment what an advantage we have over other

Not Everyone Born Equal Gets the Same Education

The Constitution of the United States says that all men are created equal. It does not state that they remain equal. One of the things in which men are not upon an equal basis is education.

We speak of poor housing conditions as slums. Education also has its slums. Texas is one of these slums. According to the state, in which he lives, a school child may have from $24.50 to $137.69 spent upon his education. Texas spent $4198. So, you see, the children of Texas do not have the same advantage as those of other states.

This is the sixteenth annual observance of National Education week. The week is sponsored by National Education association, American Legion, United States Office of Education, Parent-Teachers association, and many other national organizations.

We, the people of America, think that we are well educated, in fact, better than any other country of the world. When we draw this conclusion, we are wide astray. For there are 1,000,000 children enrolled in schools which convene less than six months during the year. About 2,700,000 are not in school at all.

Six out of ten of the children who attend rural schools never have an opportunity to obtain a high school education. In one of our states 8 percent of the people over 10 years of age can not read nor write, while in another 149 percent are illiterate. Still we think we are educated. These discarded, yet true facts, were discovered by the senate committee on Education and Labor.

Professor's Child Celebrates Birthday

The Corral staff joins the students and faculty of Wheeler high school in congratulating W. C. Zirkle, vocational agriculture teacher, upon the first birthday of his son, Larry Don, which is on Armistice, Nov. 11. Good luck to both of you in the future, "Pa" Zirkle.

countries. In Italy and Germany the students study practically nothing but about dictators. Russian children must learn all about the five-year plan. In China and Spain war is in full blast, which makes it hard for the children to attend school at all.

Here war and governments are not emphasized in curriculum. Subjects include: cultural courses such as English, Spanish, history and journalism; sciences; vocational studies such as home economics, manual training, agriculture, business training in typing, shorthand, bookkeeping.

Let us on this day, the last day of Education Week, pause for one minute in silent appreciation of free schooling in these United States.

YES OF TEXAS DOES NOT RATE RISING TO SING

When "The Eyes of Texas" is sung, the audience should not stand, because this is neither a school nor the state song. It has been adopted by the University of Texas as their school song.

However, it is still proper to stand when you hear "We're Loyal to You, Wheeler High, Texas Our Texas, and Star Spangled Banner.

Meet the Faculty

"My hobby is traveling," replied Miss Winona Adams, history and civics teacher, good naturedly. This hobby has led her into 40 of the United States, three Canadian states and two Mexican states. When she was a "kid," her ambition or rather her desire was to be a boy. As she grew older, however, she had three objectives fixed in her mind; first, to visit all the countries of the world, especially Honolulu; to get a badminton set, and to learn to tap dance.

Most of Life Spent Here

Miss Adams was born on a farm near Mangum, Okla. When she was only one year old, she moved with her parents to Wheeler county, where she has made her home ever since.

She attended school one year at Center and three near Allison. The rest of the time she went to Wheeler H., from which she graduated in 1922 as valedictorian of her class. After graduation she enrolled at Clarendon junior college. Miss Bernie Addison, another W. H. S. teacher, was her first roommate. She received her B. S. degree from Texas university in 1930 with a major in sociology and economics and a minor in history and physical education. While in college she belonged to the Pan Althian society, Dramatic society, Cap and Gown, and History clubs.

When asked how many years she had taught she replied, "Oh, so long I've lost count." Afterwards she remembered it was 11. She thinks English history is the most interesting. "Maybe because I know more about it," she says. Modern history holds more fascination and educational features than medieval and ancient history to her.

Waltz is Favorite Music

Music she enjoys very much, particularly waltzes. Miss Adams plays the clarinet in the Wheeler Municipal band. She prefers the compositions of Beethoven to those of any other classical composer. Her favorite movie actress is Janet Gaynor. She reads the National Geographic and the Readers Digest more than any other magazines. "I don't have any favorite book," she states.

When asked her opinion on the postponed visit of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor to America she replied, "I'm glad they aren't coming. I think the people of America pay entirely too much attention to them."

Miss Adams is interested in all sports. Her chief dislike is silly girls and her chief fault (she says) is trying to do too many things.

In appearance, Miss Adams is rather tall, with black hair and brown eyes. She is seldom (in fact, never) seen angry and always wears a smile for everyone.

SNUBBING POST

GUESS WHO?

The person that I am trying to describe is very attractive. She is a senior and is a good basketball player. This person is at the head of the Corral staff and is very popular in her classes. Three clubs are honored by her membership and all blends envy her.

TROY DERRYBERRY was seen rambling through the hall of DEAR "OLE" WHEELER HIGH SCHOOL Monday. Don't quote me as saying so, but it is rumored that he is seriously interested in MARY BELLE JOHNSTON.

Have you seen any of the pictures the FRESHMEN were selling last week? If not try to get someone to show you one.

ANOTHER FORMER FOOTBALL HERO OF WHEELER HIGH IS W. J. FORD. He also could not stay away. Although he came home to see his mother, he spent much of his spare time with LAVELL JACO.

Although VERGIE ASHLEY HAS NOT BEEN TO SCHOOL FOR SEVERAL DAYS, AUBREY WARREN knows that she will go to LEBBOCK.

ALINE BUCHANAN has been shadowing IMogene JAMISON this week. She was wearing a certain ex's watch Monday. (The certain ex was CECIL SHERWOOD. They went together when they were more children.)

(You can read about their coming home in "RAMBLINGS ON THE RANGE" but you have to read the SNUBBING POST to know where they dream about.)

DOUGLAS GROVES announced last Sunday that his name was definitely changed from "SQUIRT" to "UNCLE DOUG."

SEEN: EARL GILMORE talking across the aisle to EVELYN LAFON. What is the superintendent's son coming to?

DOROTHY GENE DIXON made a very attractive little FOOTBALL QUEEN Tuesday night. Another victory for the FRESHMEN.

This week for our song has everything "YOU CAN'T HAVE EVERYTHING." The other classes want to sing this song in chapel and dedicate it to the FRESHMAN CLASS.

BOBBIE RUE SWAN IS FAR FROM BEING A "SOUR PUSS."

CLOWES WAS VERY EXCITED ABOUT THE NEGRO HE ENCOUNTERED IN THE HALL MONDAY.

STOMP THOSE PIRATES! MUSTANGS!

Students Scurry as Corral is Written

Thirteen Pupils are Enrolled in Journalism Class

On Monday and Friday afternoon the journalism students may be seen scurrying around like squirrels. This subject is taught by Miss Bernice Addison and the lucky number of 13 are enrolled.

Monday and Friday are lab days. Assignments are made in their textbooks for Tuesdays and Wednesdays. Thursdays are spent discussing the current events of the past week.

A brief survey of writing, heads, news stories, editorials and features have been made by the class. They have learned to gather information, type and copyedit stories and to write heads for them.

They plan to make detailed study of preparing all sorts of news stories, and columns; to make a comparative study of newspapers, both conservative and yellow journalism type; to write a term theme both semesters.

One must be a junior or senior with a "B" average in English before signing for the course. Previous training in journalism is desired.

"It takes more work than most people realize to type and write heads for enough material to fill four pages each week," says Miss Addison. "This means that within the three hours allotted to us to use the typewriters we must get a presentable shape enough material to make 188 inches of newspaper type."

"Then the information must be checked and rechecked to see that it is accurate. Once in a while an error creeps in but on the whole the staff lives up to the ABC of journalism. To be accurate always."

To stimulate better news students compete in six organizations: Texas High School Press, Panhandle Press Association; West Texas Scholastic Press, clinic, Columbia Scholastic Press association; Inter-Scholastic League and Quill and Scroll.

WHEELER BAND ENTERTAINS AT IRISH, ROCKET GAME

The Wheeler band went to Shamrock, Thursday, to play at the football game between Wellington and Shamrock. They played a street concert at 5:30, then went to the football field at 7 o'clock, to take part in a parade on Denver field. There was a band on each corner of the field. The McLean, Wheeler, Wellington and Shamrock bands were present.

The band left Wheeler at 4:30 so as to get to Shamrock in time for the street concert.

DREADED SIX WEEKS TESTS WILL BE GIVEN NEXT WEEK

Six weeks tests will be given Friday, Nov. 19, to all students of Wheeler high school. This will be the second group of six weeks tests this year.

As usual, one period will be allowed for the examinations so the regular schedule may be disturbed.

Every student is urged to study his utmost so that the grades of last six weeks will be raised and there will be fewer failures, according to Supt. J. L. Gilmore.

Prize of $50 Given to F. F. A. Boys

Fifty cents has been added to the treasury of the Future Farmers of America. This money was given to them as a prize for making the most money at the P.-T. A. carnival by the P.-T. A.

When America Signed Armistice They Meant No More Bloodshed—We Hope

Armistice Day and war still goes on! On Nov. 11, 1935, Italy was carrying on a conquest of Ethiopia. Last year the celebration was interrupted by a civil war in Spain. Today Japan continues to bomb defenseless women and children.

What will it be next year? In an interview with four faculty members and five students, a Corral reporter found some interesting angles to Armistice and world peace. The majority of these interviewees think that the United States will not be drawn into the present war.

Most of them believe that we have no right to interfere with foreign affairs. The major portion was in favor of boycotting Japan and of spending more money on our army and navy.

Below are opinions obtained from the interviews: "We will not be drawn into the war, but we should try to reconcile the present strife in Europe, although not with force."

Principal C. B. Witt: "The whole world will be drawn into a war. America should not interfere with other nations or the affairs of other countries."

Both Mr. Gilmore and Mr. Witt are in favor of boycotting Japan and of improving our navy.

Miss Imogene Holbert: "We will be drawn into it, war, but not soon. If we want to stay out of war we must stop all relations with other nations. Therefore, it would be best to boycott Japan." She thinks that we should not improve our army and navy because a nation with good military equipment will naturally want to use it.

Mrs. J. L. Gilmore: "We should try to reconcile the present war, but not at the expense of arms." She believes that we will not be drawn into the war and that we should improve our army and navy.

Three girls, Bernice Williams, Cleo Sewell and Irene Hunt, say that we will not be drawn into the present war. This trio also agrees that we have no right to interfere in other nation's affairs. Bernice and Irene are not in favor of a boycott against Japan, while Cleo thinks such a plan proper.

Irene says: "We do not need to spend more money on our army and navy because we have spent enough money on it already." However, Cleo and Bernice believe that America should improve its fighting forces.

The two boys interviewed, Aubrey Warren and Clowes Jones agreed on two points, that we need to improve our army and navy and that America has no right to interfere in other nation's affairs.

Clowes thinks that we will be drawn into a war within the next two or three years and that we should boycott Japan. Aubrey is of the opposite opinion on both counts.

So as Armistice day dawns again and war broods over the world, people of America ponder pro and con these questions pertaining to the peace of all nations.

FAUST ELECTED SECRETARY OF HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The Home Economics club met at the activity period Wednesday for a business session. The president, Claudia Stinson, called the house to order. Upon the resignation of the secretary, Lula Barr, Joyce Faust was elected to fill the place.

LEWIS CAN WRITE GILMORE FOR TRANSCRIPT OF CREDITS

Lewis Cain, who is attending Brawley Junior college in Brawley, Calif., has written for his credits transcript from here.

Lewis was one of our outstanding athletes year before last. He was all-district forward of the basketball team and won a medal for being the best sport in the district tournament at Pampa. In football he lettered at half-back. He went to the district in track.

In a letter received from Cain, he states, "I am making the football team. I play quarterback and we have not lost a game or been scored on. I like school very much."

MRS. NINA H. YOUNG ATTENDS HOME ECONOMICS MEETING

Mrs. Nina H. Young attended a home economics conference for the teachers of the Panhandle last Friday at Amarillo.

SCIENCE CLASS RECEIVES $14 WORTH OF NEW EQUIPMENT

Fourteen dollars was spent by the Wheeler high school science department for new equipment. The material, which arrived last week, was bought from the Welch Chemical Supply Company, Chicago.

The money was spent for beakers, glass tubing, thistle tubes, funnels, glass rods, crucibles, files, filter paper, test tubes and evaporating dishes.

Supt. J. L. Gilmore Attends Meet

Supt. J. L. Gilmore attended an educational meeting at Amarillo last week.

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

Conducted by W. C. Zirkle Vocational Agriculture Instructor

It seems that the home ec girls are studying a very interesting subject this week. They have been learning about nutritional diseases, caused by an improper diet. Some of these are goiter, anemia, diabetes, overweight, and colds. They are preparing and serving diets for prevention and cure of the above diseases. Another subject they are discussing is malnutrition. Some of the causes they found to be poverty, lack of sleep, poor environment, ignorance, disorder in digestive tract, insufficient food, poor food habits, bad posture.

The second year girls are preparing and serving low-cost dinners. Their first problem was to prepare and serve a simple dinner for two at a cost of 50 cents. For their second problem they will prepare a simple dinner for four or five with out meat, at a cost of 50 cents. At the same time they will meet the nutritional needs of each individual.

Their first year girls are constructing their first clothing problem. They are making a simple cotton slip. During this problem they are learning to use a commercial pattern, how to place the pattern on material, how to cut it out, baste, stitch and use appropriate finishes for their garment.

They plan to have their garment finished by the end of this week. Their second problem will be to make a simple cotton dress.

JOHNSTON ELECTED EDITOR OF CORRAL

Lois Ficke played basketball last year and plans to play this year, also.

Larrup Lefors—Mustangs!

Mustangs to Clash with Lefors in Last Conference Battle

Pirates to Be Minus Aid of Star Back; Carruth is Still Unable to Play

Friday night will mark the end of the conference race for the Wheeler Mustangs when they clash with the Lefors Pirates on the Lefors field. The game is rated to be a close-up with the opposing eleven the heavier team. The Pirates are given the edge by the dope bucket mainly because they took the Mobeetie Hornets into camp by such a large score.

Carruth, Pirate back who waged a one man battle against the Mustangs last year will not be in the line-up because of an injured shoulder that he received at the beginning of the season.

The Pirates were rated as one of the formidable foes in the conference before Carruth was injured and they are expected to play the same type of rugged football that they exhibited on the local field last year. The Lefors coach went into a scrimmage at Lefors last week to fill out a second string team. While in the game he was kicked in the jaw, breaking it. Fans and enthusiasts of the district who do not rate the Lefors team as a strong eleven are far from the correct answer. They will be out on the Mustangs and will be playing in their home field. With these two advantages they are doped to win.

The probable starting line-ups follow:

Wheeler	Position	Lefors
Puckett	L.E.	Fite
Page	L.T.	Williamson
Noah	L.G.	Libby
Stevens	C.	Robinson
Green	R.G.	Pierce
Compton	R.T.	Denton
Pitcock	R.E.	Ellington
Groves	Q.B.	McNair
Jones	H.B.	Taylor
Shipman	H.B.	Walsh
Emler	F.B.	Jackson

LOIS FICKE WRITES LETTER TO EXHIBIT COMMITTEEMAN

Lois Ficke, journalism student in charge of the special edition section of exhibits, has written a letter to E. O. Wedgeworth, a faculty member of the exhibit committee.

She has asked him to send her a copy of their special edition on their school carnival.

Wedgeworth thinks that an exhibit of the special editions at the Press Clinic at Lubbock Friday and Saturday would be good.

CORRAL STAFF WILL ENTER STATE JOURNALISM CONTEST

The Corral staff will compete in the annual contest of the High School Press association.

Nov. 20 is the deadline of the annual contest. A page in local newspaper, sports stories, editorials, feature stories, news stories, and columns will be entered by the staff.

A number of new trophies will be presented to best contestants.

Workouts Begin for Basketball Squads

Teams to Be Whipped into Shape for Tournaments

Basketball! This sport has been forgotten during an enthusiastic football season, but it will soon be remembered, for immediately after the last football game with Lefors, basketball will begin.

Last season the Mustangs lost in the county tournament to Kelton in a heart-breaking game, while the girls finished in fourth place. This year both teams hope to do much better.

There are seven lettermen back for the Mustangs: Page, Green, Stephens, Groves, Puckett, Emler and Markham. These regulars and many new boys expect to start as soon as basketball opens next Monday.

Coach Stina Cain hopes to have every boy in school who thinks he can play basketball to engage in practice at least for Monday. He also thinks the Mustangs will have a very good season.

There will be two tournaments before Christmas which the Mustangs plan to attend. Sammorwood will have a tournament Dec. 17-18 and Kelton will have one Dec. 9-10.

COLTS

Irene Rice of Alnreend has enrolled in the sixth grade. Mrs. Allen program last Tuesday night. She said, "Ouch! I've been stung." Pauline Underwood put the following sentence, "Ouch! I've been studying."

Three new songs have been learned by the fifth grade music class. Two sections have been having their English and history together, due to the fact that so many have been absent. They dramatized three short plays which they have been studying this week. Geography has been studied along with history this week.

Quincy Deering, coming here from Muleshoe, has enrolled in the seventh grade. Everyone thoroughly enjoyed the football game given in chapel by the first grade Friday. Charts and reading materials have been ordered with the money that was earned at the program last Tuesday night. They wish to thank the public speaking class for their help.

Students in the second grade get up a health program every week. Two students are chosen to make the program.

The third grade organized a story telling club last week. Ben Westmoreland was chosen president. Josephine Noah is their librarian. Wanda Tolliver returned last week from a visit to the southern part of Texas. She brought with her some chinquapins and sugar cane to show to the class.

Two books were given by the high school to the fourth grade.

Clark, Former Coach, Visits School
 Bob Clark, former coach of the Wheeler Mustangs, visited school last Friday. He was in route to Pampa on business. Clark is now coaching at Erick, Okla.

Mustangs Wallop Mobeetie Hornets

Weeks Makes Two Touchdowns to Beat Opposing Eleven

Playing hard to make good the threat that they would conquer the Wheeler Mustangs by two touchdowns the Mobeetie Hornets were subdued on Wheeler's unnamed gridiron last Friday night by the score of 12-7.

Mustangs Score Two Counters

The first counter came early in the second period when Compton, Mustang tackle, blocked Mixon's punt on the Mobeetie 18-yard stripe Groves picked up five yards through the center of the field.

On the next play Weeks read the remaining 15 yards to paydirt in nearly the same path that he traversed two weeks ago to hand the Irish a breath-taking defeat. The kick from placement by Weeks sailed to the right of the uprights.

Taking the ball on the 25-yard line at the opening of the fourth quarter, the Mustangs picked up two first downs and Weeks again paced around left end for the tally. Try for point was again no good.

Hornets Score in Last Quarter

The Hornets, using a various assortment of off-tackle plays, managed to push over the pay line in the final period. A pass sailed into the arms of a waiting Hornet in the end zone for the extra point. Mixon, Mobeetie captain had stated that the Hornets would beat the Mustangs by two touchdowns. If all of the Hornets had stung and buzzed as he did, they might have turned the trick.

Weeks struck in the Mustang backfield while Captain Mixon was easily the star of the Mobeetie backs. Groves and Emler also picked up some nice gains for the Mustangs. Shipman and Page did some nice tackling and Puckett played a good defensive game.

First downs were 13 to 9 in favor of the Mustangs and penetrations were 2 to 1.

The starting line-ups were:

Wheeler	Position	Mobeetie
Puckett	L.E.	Sims, R.
Page	L.T.	Savage
Noah	L.G.	Sims, W.
Stephens	C.	Gordon G.
Green	R.G.	Barton
Compton	R.T.	Red W.
Pitcock	R.E.	Creskmore
Groves	H.B.	Gordon H.
Shipman	H.B.	Red J.
Emler	F.B.	Mixon
Weeks	H.B.	Johnson

Officials were all from West Texas at Canyon; Referee, Kendrick; Head Linesman, Clark; and Penick, umpire.

RUTH DILL ELECTED REPORTER FOR HONOR SOCIETY, CANYON

According to the Prairie, school paper of W. T. S. C. Canyon, Ruth Dill was elected reporter of the Alpha Chi, college honor society. Dill is a senior at Canyon, having graduated from Wheeler high school four years ago as valedictorian of her class.

SPORT SLANTS

By a Mustang

At last we have a name for the football field. Last Friday night at the Mobeetie game programs were handed out stating that the two teams would meet on Mustang field in Wheeler. Many thanks to the one who gave the gridiron a cognomen. The Corral staff looked for three years and still did not find one.

Frances Smith, Lefors football coach, went into a scrimmage the other day at Lefors to fill out a second string team. While in the game he was kicked in the jaw and it was broken. Better watch out, Mustangs, because the Pirates are rated to be rough.

One dope bucket was upset over the week end when Dana X. Bible's Longhorns trounced the Baylor Bears to the score of 9 to 6. This was the Texans' first win of the season and the Bears' first game to lose in the Southwest conference.

It seems that Captain Mixon's estimate of the Mobeetie-Wheeler game fell short. He predicted that the Hornets would win over the Mustangs by two touchdowns. However, the Mobeetie eleven should be congratulated for their spirit and drive against the Wheeler boys.

When the Wheeler eleven meets Lefors Friday night it will be the last game in the high school career of Page, Passons, "Big" Weeks and Puckett.

Basketball workouts will start Monday. This is rather sudden, but some schools are sponsoring tournaments before Christmas and the local quintet will barely have time to get into form.

Corral Staff Leaves Friday Lubbock Press Convention

longing to Quill and Scroll are to hold a meeting at 5 o'clock.

Banquet Scheduled for Friday Night

Friday evening an informal banquet will be given in Doak Hall. All out of town delegates will be guests of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce. Stunts and fun have been planned for this one social event.

At the group sessions to be held in the senior high building Saturday morning Miss Addison, secretary, will be in charge of those interested in pages in the downtown papers. These discussion groups, which include also printed papers, advertising, annual, mimeographed papers and magazines, will take up various problems peculiar to each division.

Following the discussion groups, delegates will reconvene for reports of committees and election of officers.

Among those to take part on the program are Mrs. Louise C. Allen, journalism instructor of Teech; Charles A. Gay, editor of the Avalanche-Journal; and Jimmie Gillette, editor of the Hereford Brand.
