Another Milestone for Citizens Bank

Finishes Third of Century Service to Wheeler and Community on Monday, August 11

Regularly, as the swift seasons roll, the Citizens State Bank of Wheeler reaches another milestone and completes another year of service to its patrons and the community it so ably serves. The 33rd anniversary of its opening for business on August 11, 1908, was quietly observed on Monday of this week. The annual directors' meeting and election of officers was held that day, also.

Incidents connected with organization of the bank and the institution's early career have been chronicled upon anniversary occasions in recent years until only the repetition of pertinent facts remains.

It has been recounted how the late E. E. Holt of Wheeler was the institution's principal organizer and first president. It has also been mentioned that on the day before the new bank opened for business in temporary quarters at the old frame court house, D. E. Holt, nephew of the founder, arrived in Wheeler from eastern Kansas. This same D. E. Holt is now president of the bank and has associated with him two of his sons, Robert and Raymon.

CHARTER MEMBERS SCARCE

Speaking Monday of the changes occurring in the past 33 years, the senior Holt declared charter members of the institution are becoming very scarce. Only three, D. E. Holt, R. B. Holt and Clarence Lee, of the original 11 are holders of stock. One other charter member, J. W. Holt of Phoenix, Ariz., cousin of D. E. Holt and brother of Mrs. J. P. Green, Wheeler, survives but is no longer connected with the bank.

First officers of the bank were E. E. Holt, president; J. E. Stanley, vice president, and D. E. Holt, cashier. Other charter members and stockholders were J. M. Porter, G. W. Porter, Blake Lee, Clarence Lee, P. H. Higgins, Jr., R. B., J. W. and Sam Holt.

Officers reelected at Monday's meeting are D. E. Holt, president; R. J. Holt, vice president; R. D. Holt, cashier, and Bodie Cole, assistant cashier.

The three Holts and Buck Britt and Jim Caperton comprise the bank's directorate.

One feature of the bank's record during the past third of a century in which D. E. Holt takes much pride is the fact that it has been open, during regular banking hours, from the day it was established, with exception of the nation-wide bank holiday a few years ago. Originally capitalized at $10,000, its present certified capital and surplus is $40,000.

A general faculty meeting will be held at 1:30 Saturday afternoon for assignment of teachers and other business. The busses will start their rounds Monday morning, and Supt. Barry solicits the best efforts of patrons in establishing a prompt and efficient schedule. He also declares prospects indicate a very successful school year and asks the co-operation of every person in the district toward attaining that goal.

WHEELER FEELS BLIGHT OF WORLD WAR TRAGEDY

Wheeler's first-hand experience with World War II tragedies occurred early this week when a radio report stated that Capt. Hoyt R. Judy, Dallas aviator, had lost his life in a British flying accident. No details of the tragedy, which also claimed the lives of six other American flyers have been received here, other than meagre press dispatches supplementing the radio broadcast.

Capt. Judy, whose home town was Edmond, Okla., and Miss Texas Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Miller residing northeast of Wheeler, were married July 5, 1940. Dallas reports say the 23-year-old aviator and his wife left there May 15 for Montreal, Canada, where he joined the Royal Air Force to ferry bombers to Britain.

Relatives here received a telegram Wednesday from Mrs. Judy saying that she was starting home, but giving no further particulars.

County at Head One-Variety Cotton Setup

Holds Second Place in State with 907 Members, 36,087 Acres in Adopted Varieties

Wheeler county is considered nearer on a one-variety cotton basis than any other county in the state except Henderson, which can be properly construed as quite a compliment to the county and its farmers, states a report from the county agent's office.

Position of that office in regard to the achievement is clearly set forth in the declaration "that the immense amount of work necessary to do this could not have been performed by the agent alone, but 21 dependable local leaders assisted in circulating information and explaining the program to farmers, together with the benefits from the program."

The program provides that if a community will adopt a variety of cotton and plant 10 per cent of the adopted variety, each co-operator is entitled to free classification of his cotton under the U. S. Marketing service. Such classification is final for cotton loan or sale of the cotton.

The one-variety program affords the only practical method of getting away from the "hog-around" basis of selling cotton. Therefore, all farmers who intend to sell their cotton—and most of them do—are advised to have it classed free (including postage on samples) as good cotton merits a higher price than shorter staple, and if properly classed will bring full value.

Those not joining the one-variety program can also obtain government classification by paying 17 cents, plus postage on the sample. This small expense will aid them in getting the correct value when the cotton is sold.

Communities, number of members and acres in each planted to adopted varieties in Wheeler county are as follows:

Briscoe—39 members; 1,251 acres. Mobeetie—118 members; 3,927 acres.
Wheeler—94 members; 3,692 acres. Allison—118 members; 3,376 acres. Shamrock—234 members; 10,234 acres.
Kelson—89 members; 3,989 acres. Twitty—118 members; 5,595 acres. Lela—97 members; 3,993 acres. Total members in county, 907. Total acres adopted variety, 36,087.

In each community, of course, is some acreage planted to other than the adopted variety for that community.

Acres of other than adopted variety by co-operators, 5,810. Total acreage of cotton by co-operators, 41,867.

HORCHEM FAMILY PREPARES TO MOVE TO NEW LOCATION

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Horchem and little daughter, Mary, arrived the last of the week to make preparations for moving to Colby, Kan., where he has been employed as high school football coach and social science instructor for the coming school term, which opens Sept. 1.

Horchem occupied a similar position in the Wheeler school system for the past two years, coming here from Ransom, Kans. The Horchems made many friends during their residence here and their leaving is regretted by scores of Wheeler people who learned their sterling qualities through intimate acquaintance.

Mrs. W. A. Scribner and son, Albert, of Mobeetie were in Wheeler Wednesday, visiting with friends.

Names Men Charged in Cattle Theft Told

Four Released on Bail and Fifth in Canadian Jail on Alleged Hemphill County Jobs

Under a Canadian date line of August 13, Thursday morning's Amarillo News published the following story, including names of the men involved, of the recent recovery of an alleged cattle theft ring in this part of the Panhandle:

Four men are free on bail and a fifth is in jail at Canadian on charges in connection with thefts of cattle in Hemphill county.

The five were arrested and charged following a long investigation of a series of thefts of calves in Hemphill county over a period of several months.

The accused are: Charlie Montgomery and Kenneth Montgomery, brothers, employed on the Aurbra Bowers Ranch, 20 miles southeast of Canadian on the Washita River; Carl Clapp, of Wheeler county; Monte Wilson, Reydun, Okla., and Bob Markham of Hemphill county.

Markham is charged with receiving and concealing stolen property, and the other four are charged with cattle theft. All are free on bond except Charlie Montgomery, who is in the Canadian jail pending completion of a $1,000 bond.

The five men were arrested after investigations over a period of months in which Sheriff Harry Rathjen of Hemphill county and Sheriff Jess Swink of Wheeler county, worked with the co-operation of Dutch Loomans, cattle inspector, Ranger Levi Duncan and Clint Word, local brand inspector.

Sheriff Rathjen reported that some 15 calves had been recovered, one of them bearing a secret tattoo mark in one ear. Several of the recovered calves were immediately "claimed" by the mother cows.

The calves recovered had been taken from the ranch of Aurbra Bowers, who reported he had lost some 30 calves since early in April. They had been missed gradually, only one or two at a time, over that period.

Methodist Church Has Very Helpful Revival

Wednesday Evening's Service Ends Ten-Day Campaign Led by Children's Pastor

The revival meeting, which had been in progress for the past 10 days at the Wheeler Methodist church, closed with the evening service Wednesday of this week.

Rev. Orion W. Carter of Childress did the preaching for the series. His messages were well received as was shown by the good attendance throughout the meeting. Rev. Carter held a street service on last Saturday afternoon which received an attentive hearing and brought a fine response.

The music and young peoples' work were directed by John Hood of Canadian. This was Hood's first meeting in Wheeler, but he made many friends.

The membership of the church feels that the meeting has been one of the most helpful of recent years. Perhaps the best results came from the work among those already members of the church—some 20 of whom made a new start in the Christian life during the revival. However, the church welcomes, and is encouraged by, those who united with it during these days. Four came by vows and three by letter.

The real work and lasting good of the revival will be revealed during the Sundays and week days in the near future. The gains made during this meeting should serve as the foundation for better work and greater progress.

The members and friends of the church are urged to be present at services on next Sunday, August 17. Plans are being made to have a visiting speaker in the pulpit for at least one of the services.

For the remainder of the month of August, at least, the summer schedule of services will continue. Church school at 9:30-10:25, and morning service, 10:30-11:30. The evening services, beginning at 8:15, will be held on the lawn for the duration of hot weather.

Next Wednesday evening at 8:15, will begin a study of the Book of Job, the record of an experience which has much in common with these days of suffering and tragedy.

Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Taylor of Calvert stopped Saturday evening and visited briefly with Dr. and Mrs. Glenn R. Walker. The Taylors were enroute to Salt Lake and Yellowstone National Park on their vacation trip.

Aged Wheeler Pioneer Dies Early Wednesday

M. M. Craig, Senior, 94, Passes Away at Family Home After Illness of Brief Duration

Friends throughout the community were shocked to hear, Wednesday forenoon, that M. M. Craig, sr., had passed away at 9:30 that morning at the Craig family home in the southeast part of town. "Daddy" Craig, as he was familiarly and affectionately known to scores of people in this region, had been ill only a comparatively short time.

He had spent a few days in Wheeler hospital when first stricken and upon showing improvement was taken to the home where he lived for many years and where his son, Dick, and family lived and could look after him.

To really know M. M. Craig, sr., was to admire and respect him. Although nearing the century mark of a life which had experienced the trials and successes of pioneer existence, Daddy's great vitality and constitution which had carried him far beyond the allotted four score and ten years, was equalled by a keen intellect and wonderful memory.

Denied modern educational facilities, to a great extent, he acquired early in life the faculty of sharp observation and accurate judgment of those things with which he daily came in contact. He had a better grasp of general world affairs, even in recent years, than many men not more than half his age.

His was a full life, well lived, and he leaves as a monument to his memory a record of fairness, justice and steadfastness in all he undertook.

He had farmed most of his life, residing in Corn Valley 12 years previous to moving to the family home here in 1914, where he operated a truck patch and garden until a few years ago, discontinuing systematic work following the death of his wife in 1935. He was a member of the Church of Christ.

M. M. Craig, sr., was born Nov. 3, 1847, in Searcy county, Ark., and died August 13, 1941, at Wheeler, Texas, at the age of 95 years, nine months and 10 days.

He was the father of 11 children, seven of whom are living. They are: T. T. Craig, Panhandle; G. S. Craig, Oklahoma City; M. M. jr. and W. H. Craig, Miami; C. S. and F. B. Craig, Wheeler, and Mrs. H. F. Stamper, Jacksboro. Also a number of grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted Thursday afternoon at the Church of Christ, with Rev. J. C. Stepp, former pastor of the local church but now of Shawnee, Okla., conducting the rites. Hester Dodson of Twitty led the song service.

Pall bearers were Fred Farmer, M. C. Jacob, R. G. Russ, D. A. Hunt, Floyd Pennington and O. Nations. Interment was made in the Wheeler cemetery under direction of the Hunt Funeral Home.

This service will be open to the public and all are urged to attend.

Judge Favors Call of Special Session

Explains How Legislative Neglect to Re-Enact Bond Assumption Law Burdens the County

Pointing out that Wheeler county taxpayers will have to raise an additional $65,000 in the next two years if the state road bond assumption law or some similar measure is not passed by the state legislature, County Judge D. A. Hunt this week urged citizens to write Gov. Coke Stevenson and ask a special session.

"The state will pay out, they say, an extra $100,000 for a special session," observed the judge, "but Wheeler county alone will pay out nearly that much extra if no session is called and the county is forced to bear the loss. And some nearby counties will be out twice the cost of a special session."

If there is no called session of the legislature, Wheeler county will have to raise the entire sum mentioned, of which about $50,000 was paid by the state under the bond assumption law out of the tax on gasoline.

Gov. Stevenson has indicated that he will not call an extra session unless he is reasonably sure some action will be taken. He has intimated that he will not call the session unless this action appears to be favorable toward the renewal of the appropriation, for otherwise the session would be of no value.

As the situation now stands, Wheeler counties will have to pay for the roads built in it—and, in addition, pay taxes on their gasoline just as other state citizens will pay. The gasoline tax money will not be returned to the county—as would be the case if the bond assumption law were re-enacted—but may be spent on roads elsewhere.

Judge Hunt explained that Wheeler county has a surplus in its road fund sufficient to meet the first payment on its share and, for that reason, he does not foresee an increase in the local rate for the coming year, but eventually it will have to be made up. It is immaterial whether the obligation is met from a surplus, with a loan or with an increased tax rate—it will still be a cost to the county.

It appears to be a matter that legislators seeking another term at Austin will have to handle very cleverly to get by with in the next election.

Mrs. Grady Harris of Mobeetie Passes Away

Mrs. Jennie Lynn Harris, wife of Postmaster Grady W. Harris of Mobeetie, died Monday in a Waco hospital, where she was taken some time ago for treatment.

The body was brought to Pampa by an undertaking firm of that city and thence to Mobeetie, where funeral services were conducted in the Baptist church at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Rev. Ted Ewing, pastor, conducted the rites assisted by Rev. G. W. McLain, pastor of the Mobeetie Methodist church.

Interment was made in the Fairview cemetery at Pampa, with the Order of the Eastern Star in charge. Mrs. Harris was born August 14, 1903, at Mount Calm and died August 11, 1941, at Waco.

She was married to Grady W. Harris Nov. 24, 1935, and had been a resident for eight years of Mobeetie, where she was a member of the Baptist church and of the Order of the Eastern Star, occupying the position of associate matron at the time of her death.

She attended college at Baylor-Belton and Columbia university and received her degree from San Marcos college. She had taught school at Mobeetie and Higgins.

Survivors included the bereaved husband; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Walker, China Springs; a sister, Mrs. Frank Brock, Longview, and four brothers, Claud, O. D. and J. W., jr., China Springs, and Earl Walker of Galveston.

Pall bearers were G. L. Key, H. O. Lane, B. Lancaster, W. F. Bristow, Boyd Beck and O. C. Walker.

County Young Couple Weds at Sayre, Okla.

Miss Vera Lee Jones, daughter of Mrs. B. Hill of the Pleasant Hill community, and Glen Woodruff of the Corn Valley neighborhood, were quietly married Saturday evening, July 26, at Sayre, Okla. Those witnessing the ceremony were Miss Pauline Underwood, Miss Ruby Walker and Virgil Poole.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodruff are both well known in and around Wheeler. They are making their home on a farm in Corn Valley.

TRUE TEXAN IN SADDLE

Freight wagon drivers of the old days didn't hurry but they got there. Coke Stevenson knows, for it was in that humble role that he studied law by the light of his camp fire, to mount into the seat of Texas government as the chief executive.

And Coke Stevenson, six-feet-two, 52, and straight with the easy strength of outdoor living, still rides the range and cuts the herd on his ranch, as much at home as when presiding over the legislature.

We congratulate him on stepping from the lieutenant governorship to the highest post in the state. Son and grandson of pioneers, his grandfather a Methodist circuit rider, his wife the daughter of a country doctor, he rose steadily from county prosecutor to the top, accumulating many honors, many friends and great personal influence.

Many have been the times when tension among the heated contestants in house or senate was eased almost as though by magic, through his dry humor, the casual posturing of his pipe, or the leisurely extension of his six-feet-two as he rose to speak.

He had full mastery over knowledge of parliamentary procedure and was adroit in the use of it to guide legislation through many a stormy—and many a silly—meeting. Never any more ruffled than as if he were still driving freight; never knowingly unfair and never a temporizer, Coke Stevenson often by his personality alone brought order out of chaos.

Full of knowledge about the needs of Texas and the means by which they can be met, in his elevation to the governorship he unites political acumen with sound understanding of the problems of state. In a man of Coke Stevenson's character and temperament, we may fairly expect from the exercise of these qualifications a welcome period of progress, orderly and substantial.

On this point we can do no better than quote Coke Stevenson himself: "A public servant is like the master of a ship. He needs a chart and a compass to steer his course safely. He does not require a new formula; no new polar star has been discovered. He should stay by the old reliable guides if he is to reach his destination."

And Coke Stevenson has established the reputation of getting there.—Houston Press.

PLANNED AHEAD FOR IT

A newspaper interviewer recently asked an executive of a leading oil company this significant question: "If an enemy bombing force were able to reach Southern California and attack the thousands of oil wells located there, is it likely that the supply of petroleum for our army and navy would be seriously lessened?"

The executive's answer was an emphatic "No." There are 20,000 oil wells in California alone, spread over a tremendous territory. If an enemy could destroy half of these wells—which is obviously a ridiculous assumption—the remaining wells could double their production.

And Southern California is only one of many oil-producing states. Think of the fantastic job of trying to destroy the wells of the far-flung East Texas and Panhandle fields, the Gulf Coast area, Oklahoma and Arkansas, and the other great fields. It can't be done.

That isn't all. For example, oil storage tanks offer good targets for enemy bombers. Therefore, the oil industry, with commendable foresight, has long made it a policy to build these tanks sufficiently far apart so that if one were hit its neighbor would not be ignited. On top of that, the oil industry makes full use of the safest storage of all—the underground pools, provided by nature, where oil is found.

The oil industry, to sum up, is one of the many private industries which planned ahead for just such an emergency as we are facing now.—Amarillo News.

"CHEAP TRICK" PRACTICED

What the Oregon Voter describes bluntly as a "cheap trick," is now being practiced by proponents of socialized electric power in Oregon. They are telling the people that industries can no longer obtain power from the government's Bonneville Dam except as customers of a PUD (People's Utility District)—which is simply a publicly-owned publicly-financed power project. The Voter states that this "cheap trick" is being "definitely encouraged by the Bonneville Power administration."

The socialists were certain that once Bonneville was in operation the people would rush to the polls and vote themselves into debt for PUDs, and would enthusiastically cut the throats of the heavily-taxed, publicly-regulated private companies which have served them long and well, and at very low rates. The people, however, failed to do this. In the majority of PUD elections, including all those in the larger communities, they have voted No. And so the socialists are grasping for ways and means to make the people vote themselves into debt whether they wish to or not.

As the Voter further observes, here we have "an ultra-effective object lesson on the evils of political control of our hydroelectric power... In this situation there is a strong hint of possibilities for political favoritism or political skulduggery if Pacific Northwest allows congress to center control of its power supply in Washington, D. C. . . . This brings right back thoughts of the dangers many communities are to face once the private companies are put out of business and virtually no home rule provisions are written in the law fixing control over the huge federal system of the Columbia."

The people must decide whether their resources are to be controlled and regulated at home, or are to be turned over to the Washington bureaucrats. They must decide whether they are ready to accept and pay for socialism. The drive is on to establish a centralized bureaucratic dictatorship over natural resources, of which water-power is one. And local rights are being ruthlessly destroyed in the process.

POLITICAL SHOCK ABSORBER

When a house is afire people do funny things—like the lady who threw her mirror out of the window and carried her coat on her arm.

For some years past, many of us have been blinded by a smoke screen of "emergency," and have been throwing some of our most prized possessions out of the window as a "remedy."

Now, with the greatest emergency of all facing us, we stand to lose the very substance of our independence if we don't waken from a hypnotic spell under which we have been made to think we must look to government largesse for our sustenance and livelihood.

Government has become so great in the lives of millions of citizens, that a great proportion of our population actually feels that it is incapable of caring for itself. Those who would bring about a more completely socialized form of government, are using the defense emergency to the utmost to extend their official control over the individual and industry in many fields, beyond war necessities.

We have long seen the trend developing to nationalize the electric industry, banking, real estate operations and other activities too numerous to mention. We now see it extending to the oil industry, and quietly but insidiously to the coal industry, States' rights, as well as individual rights, are ruthlessly destroyed in this process.

If our primary natural resources, such as electricity, oil and coal, can be sufficiently federalized, the foundation is laid for national socialism a la Germany or Russia. The existence of virtually all business, large or small, is wrapped up in our basic industries. The inevitable result of socialization of industry is the creation of a vast and invincible political bureaucracy with power concentrated in the hands of the few. That is the most obvious lesson that present-day Europe has to teach us.

It is the will and determination of those in high places to retain democracy in this country, not emasculate it, that our people should watch today.

States' rights and individual rights are wrapped up in the issue of encouraging and protecting the American private enterprise system. Don't be blinded by the argument that government can do everything for states and individuals, better than they can do it for themselves.

We must not be deluded with any idea that we can throw the private enterprise system out of the window and carry some socialized political cushion to absorb the shock.

UNION LABOR ABUSES

To put it bluntly, it is clear that certain powerful labor leaders have one aim in mind: To make it impossible for any man to obtain a job, any man to earn a living, unless he belongs to a labor union. These labor leaders, in short, are driving toward a labor monopoly—and toward personal dictatorship over every working man and woman in this country.

In pursuing that goal, these leaders will use any weapon that comes to hand. They will call strikes in defense industries, apparently not caring a whit that the country's security and safety are thereby imperiled. They will rig labor elections in one way or another, so that the ordinary union man is virtually voiceless. They will, on occasion, stoop to violence and terrorism. They make use of that most terrible weapon—the blacklist. Their obvious purpose is to put the fear of God into workers and employers, so that they will knuckle under.

The callous disregard certain labor leaders have shown for government itself in this time of grave crisis indicates the way the wind blows. They make totally unjustified and impossible demands on industry on an "or else" basis. Their methods are often impossible to differentiate from those of Capone in the heyday of organized vice. This projected labor monopoly is one of the most serious problems the United States has ever faced.

Let this state of affairs go on long enough, and the country will be helpless. A few fat-salaried labor leaders will rule this country as surely as Hitler rules his Reich. Nothing will be done without their permission—and on their terms. These are the syndicalistic tactics that did much to destroy France.

He said he did not come to the U. S. senate to be a yes man for the president but he did not add that he would not be a yes man for the isolationists, the appeasers and the pro-Nazi into whose camp he jumped when he declared against extending the one year service of selectees a single day.—Ochiltree County Herald.

Well, Van, precedent breaking appears to be a habit of many politicians in recent years.

The agriculture department announced Tuesday government loans on 1941 cotton, 7-8 inch middling, would average 14.02 cents per pound compared with 8.90 cents last year. The increased rate was made mandatory by the new requirement that loans be made at 85 per cent of parity, and was based on the Aug. 1 parity price of 16.49 cents. The department said producers co-operating with the AAA program would be eligible for loans on their entire cotton production at that rate.—Paducah Post.

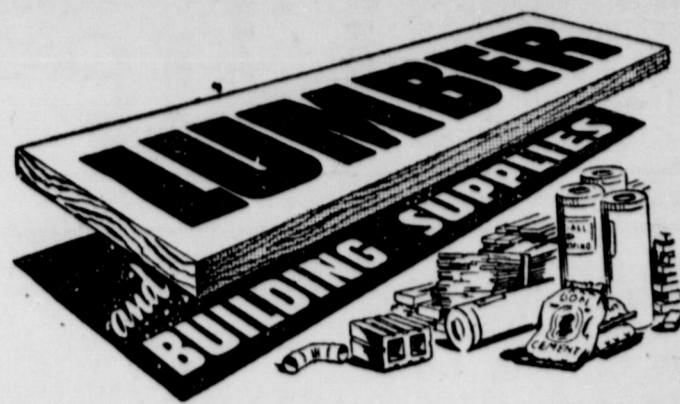

Jetties are being put in along the Red Deer Creek, between Canadian and Miami, J. B. Briscoe, superintendent of the Santa Fe at Amarillo, announced Tuesday, while in Canadian. This is to protect the railroad property against future floods in that stream. Considerable damage was done the railroad this summer by high water near the Hemphill-Roberts county line.—Canadian Record.

Hestus Sidney McIlroy, 16-year-old Carey youth, died Tuesday night at about 10 o'clock in a Childress hospital as the result of serious injuries received when the tractor he was driving overturned about 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Young McIlroy, a senior in Carey high school, was working at the old "62" wells near Estelline on the farm of J. R. Scott when the accident occurred. His back was badly injured, and he was rushed to a Childress hospital when found.—Memphis Democrat.

A neighboring city ran an excerpt from its chamber of commerce constitution and by laws stating that it was organized to advance the "commercial, industrial, civic and general interests" of the city and county. It was surprising to note that agriculture, its main business, was included in the "general interests."—Panhandle Herald.

As people grow older their memory often becomes shifty as their imagination grows. We have been reading a lot of statements about the harvest of 1941 from scores of pioneers of the Plains, and all of them agree on this one thing—that 1941 sets a record so far as harvest difficulties are concerned. Here it is along toward the end of the first week of August and thousands of acres of wheat are still uncut, and are well covered by a prolific growth of weeds.—Canyon News.

Albert Allen, aged 70, was arrested in Higgins this week by Sheriff J. E. Shahan and Deputy E. J. Tarbox for chicken stealing. The aged man signed a confession and will have his hearing Friday. The spelling of the name in the confession is as it appears at the beginning of this paragraph. However, he signed the document "A. W. Allan." He drove a Chevrolet, two-door sedan, black with red wheels, and large tool box on rear.—Higgins News.

BUY NOW and SAVE

If you're planning to build or repair at any time in the near future, we strongly advise purchase of needed materials now—thereby saving the difference you might have to pay later. With threatened price advances on all lines of merchandise—and some small increases already in effect on certain items in our stock—we believe it is good business judgment to buy non-perishables like lumber and building supplies and thus have them on hand at considerable saving when needed. Make up a list of prospective needs and let us give you an estimate of cost. No obligation.

Helping hand

One reason you see so much advertising is this:

It helps people with something to sell to find customers.

It helps those folks called "consumers" to find out about things they want to buy.

All of which is another way of saying, advertising saves a lot of time for everyone.

That's why advertising pays—on both sides of the counter.

Annual Perryton Fete Latter End Next Week

Huge Air and Ground Parades Will Feature Two-Day Celebration on August 21 and 22

PERRYTON.—Aviators of the Panhandle of Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas are being invited this week to attend Perryton's 22nd Birthday celebration here August 21-22, Mayor Bill Lance has just announced.

Estimated to be between 40 and 50 privately owned planes in the trade territory, each of them will be asked to participate in the August 22 festivities that will begin with an aerial parade overhead while the most colorful parade yet staged here will be moving along the main street of this city.

Although the celebration begins on the afternoon of August 21 with the first go-round of the Panhandle's greatest amateur rodeo and will witness a dance that evening as well as a base ball game, the parade does not start until 10 o'clock on the morning of the 22nd when Governor Coke Stevenson and Fort Sill and El Reno army units head the procession with the Will Rogers Range Riders of Amarillo as official escorts, Mayor Lance announced.

There will be more than 30 bands playing for the parade according to acceptances of invitations being received, Glenn Truax, chairman, said.

Floats of every description and size will have prominent positions in the line of march competing for cash prizes.

Brodbeck carnival attractions will be on the main streets of Perryton throughout the gala festivities while dances will be presented in both up-town Perryton and at Lake Fryer, popular resort just south of the city.

Finals of the rodeo contests will close out in the afternoon of the 22nd with another ball game that night as a fitting climax.

Horses and riders from all over the region will be here for the parade and Perryton urges every person owning a horse to bring their mount for the anniversary fiesta.

Any amateur who has not competed in a professional contest since Jan. 1, 1940, is eligible for the Perryton events, Lawrence Elzey, rodeo chairman, has announced. The largest entry list since the beginning of the annual contests is expected this year.

ACTIVITIES COMPLETE BRISCOE HOMEMAKERS SUMMER COURSE

A tour, a program and a tea marked the end of the Briscoe Homemakers summer course last week. Starting at 9 o'clock, an all-morning tour took members of the class to nine of the girls' homes.

Five of the girls had improved their yards; two had improved entire bedrooms and made improvements in other parts of the house; one had improved her living room, and one had made a garden.

At every home the group was delighted to find something new and different that each girl had done and rightfully so, because three of the girls who took room improvement projects have made two pieces of furniture and refinished 13 pieces. Three of the girls who did not have grass in their yards set out Bermuda grass and now have pretty lawns started.

At 12:30 the girls returned to the cottage to eat lunch and prepare for the program which lasted from 2 to 3 o'clock and consisted of the following numbers:

Welcome—Thelma Hefley.
Piano Selection—Mable Alice Smith.
The Group Project—Zetha Dickinson.

What My Project Has Meant to Me—Ethel Ruby Sartor.
Vocal Solo—Margie Bruton, Modeen Wilson.

Song—Group.
Reading—Billie Jean Baird.
Birdseye View of Summer Work—Clara Helen Seelig.

The Importance of an Adequate Diet and How I Have Provided It for Our Family—Joyce Sorensen.
Miss Faye Wilson, class instructor and reporter of the closing activities, says:

"The program had two objectives. First, we want the parents of the community to know something of our summer course and what we are striving to do. Second, in co-operation with the Land Use Planning committee, the Texas Home Economics association and the Extension service, we are trying to help with the defense program in teaching rural people the importance of the right diet and how to provide it."

In summarizing the group's achievements for the summer, Zetha Dickinson reported:

"We have put two coats of varnish on our floors, took the seven pairs of curtains down and readjusted the hems, laundered and ironed them and put them back up; covered the ironing boards; made shelves for our cabinet from cheese boxes; put felt bases on the legs of both the laboratory and dining room chairs; made a kitchen stool; varnished the cabinet and tops of the work tables; painted tin cans for flower vases, and finished a new bookcase."

After the program, 45 people were served tea in the dining room. A color scheme of pink and white was carried out by the tiny sandwiches, cookies, mints and punch.

KEEPING THE RECORD STRAIGHT—North Side Did Not Vote South Side Dry!

In its write-up of our last beer election (issue of August 4) the Shamrock Texan would lead its readers to believe that the north side of the county voted the south side dry.

A tabulation of the returns show that the two south precincts voted dry by 29 votes, the same margin by which the entire county voted dry in the May 3rd election. Also, that outside of Shamrock, these precincts were dry by 156 votes—almost two to one majority.

The tabulation for the south side of the county is shown as follows:

Voting Box	Wet	Dry
Porter	2	21
Kellerville	27	24
Heald	8	34
Lela	28	76
Center	7	27
Shamrock	372	195
Benonine	4	8
Ramsdell	7	17
Locust	11	13
Kelton	7	23
Twitty	7	23
Magie	28	9
Pakan	27	13
Bethel	5	21
Totals	490	519
Less Shamrock	372	195
Rural Totals	118	324
		148
Rural Dry Majority		134

ALMOST TWO TO ONE
From this tabulation you will see that had all the north side voters stayed at home on election day, so the Texas law provisions intimated they should do, the rural vote on the south side would have voted the entire county dry again.

From the few votes cast in Shamrock, it is an evident fact that the beer sentiment in our county has been promoted by a small group of beer dealers, their sales persons, their hangovers, and a few business men who honestly believed that beer brought business to Shamrock—and a few confirmed beer addicts who want their beer handy—and most Shamrock voters are disgusted with the beer situation.

Inasmuch as Shamrock, is a large town, is living off its rural population, we would think its citizens would be willing to support the dry sentiment of its surrounding rural communities as evidenced in this election and be willing to stay out of the traffic which has never helped anyone—except those engaged in it—and has taken thousands of dollars out of our community which should have gone for food, clothing and other comforts of life.

Considering the fact that this election was held within 90 days of a previous beer election, on THE 22ND-23, a day when beer lovers can leave their work and after a FEW BEERED legal voters, we consider the above tabulation correct.

But inasmuch as some of our county papers have been so slow to publish this information in the above form, we are spending our money to put this matter before the Wheeler county voters.

DO YOU THINK THE BEER QUESTION IS SETTLED BY WHEELER VOTERS?
The beer manufacturers of the nation and the local ones who have made money selling beer, will continue to put up the money to agitate this matter, shouting crocodile tears over the dry record but for the use of the ballot and the education of our children, holding elections as frequently as at each suggestion there is any to be their advantage.

We have available more agencies which are devoted to the sale of beer and are gambling to sell with each dry session. The beer manufacturers are spending an amount equal to the cost of the advertising that these papers in a semi-public way have been distributed in the beer territory.

From this we see, we request to bring your information before the voters of Wheeler county on the above mentioned fact as an agreement.

Biggest Crop Peaches In Texas in 30 Years

The 1941 Texas peach crop is expected to be the biggest in 30 years. J. F. Rosborough, horticulturist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension service, estimates a yield of 2,500,000 bushels, or 1,000,000 bushels more than the average. "Prices," he says, "will be reasonable."
