Wheeler Dairy Day Highly Successful

Attendance Lower Than Last Year at Dairy Products Exhibit Here Last Friday

While the number of entries and the attendance were lower than last year at the Annual Wheeler County Dairy Day show held here last Friday, the event has been pronounced by Miss Lucile Chance, county home demonstration agent, as one of the most successful ever held here.

"Since the show was not as large as in past years," commented Miss Chance, "the extension service workers, Miss Jennie Camp and Miss Doris Leggett, who classified the products, had more time in which to talk with the exhibitors and to make more personal contacts."

Miss Camp specializes in home production planning and Miss Leggett is extension service agent for District 1. Something over 100 were in attendance at the show.

In the senior division of dairy products, three entries tied for first place. Top honor exhibitors were Mrs. Blanche Begert, Allison; Mrs. Loyce Mills, Kelton, and Mrs. Gilbert Guthrie, Shamrock, among whom the cash prizes were divided, with no first and second places designated.

In the junior division of the contest, six exhibitors tied for first place. They were Clydene Merrick, Twitty; Eloice Sandifer, Wheeler; Joy Williams, Twitty; Dorothy Partridge, Shamrock; Herbert Mitchell, Wheeler, and Media Mae See, Twitty.

In classification of products, Class A received blue ribbons; Class B, red ribbons, and Class C, white ribbons. Winners and their ratings were:

Local Girls Taking Homemaking Course

Fifteen Wheeler girls, taking the summer homemaking course under direction of Mrs. Max Wiley, home economics instructor in the local schools, are just completing their second week of this work. Each girl, states the instructor, satisfactorily meeting the requirements of the course will earn one-half affiliated credit. The course outlined is equivalent to one semester's work in the regular school term. Each girl is required to devote at least 100 hours time to the course.

Purpose of the summer class is to provide practical application of principles learned during the school term; therefore, most of the time is devoted to construction work of some type for the improvement of the girl, her home and community.

The working schedule is as follows: May 12-30—Morning, individual experience at home; afternoon, group projects at the cottage.

August 11-15—Morning, evaluation of individual work; afternoon, achievement program.

As the schedule indicates, three weeks is being devoted to the course now; however, the girls are to have until the week of August 11 to complete their work. The social calendar for the class includes an all-day picnic (which has already been enjoyed); a salad buffet dinner at the cottage on Thursday evening, May 22, and a swimming party on Thursday, May 29.

Girls enrolled are Lois Anglin, Gillrie Baird, Imogene Crowder, Edwina Flanagan, Marjory and Mildred Hefley, Mary Elizabeth Marrs, Artie Lee Mullins, Naomi Merritt, Pauline Miller, Wilma Dean Patterson, Nina Merle Pond, Pauline Underwood, Louise Whitener and Geraldine Williams.

RAINS BOOST VEGETATION; STIMULATE THINKING

Wheeler has a young pastor whose name, to avoid embarrassment, will be omitted. Prolonged Panhandle rains, in addition to producing exuberant vegetation, have evidently stimulated the pastor's reasoning, also, as evidenced by the following illustration.

The yard surrounding this pastor's church is covered with a luxuriant growth of grass. Early last week he asked The Times man how best to remove the growth. Upon being advised that an "armstrong reaper," plus plenty of strenuous exercise and copious perspiration would get the job done, he assumed a thoughtful look, expressed his thanks and departed. A few days later, noting the grass still unmolested, The Times man asked about it.

With a twinkle in his eye, the young pastor replied: "Well, I have been doing some figuring. It has occurred to me that if the grass is cut possibly a lot of weeds, requiring additional work, will spring up; so why not let the grass alone and avoid two laborious tasks?"

Pretty sound reasoning, at that.

Robert Baird Funeral Saturday

Funeral services will be held at the Baptist church in Shamrock at 2:30 Saturday afternoon for Robert Baird, grandson of Mrs. J. J. Baird, Shamrock, who died at the naval hospital in San Diego, Calif., Tuesday, May 20. He had been ill for some time when double pneumonia developed and he lived only a short while.

Rev. Vernie Pipes will conduct the last rites.

ONE OLD BOY SAYS ROPE IS GETTING SHORT

Following a winter of unprecedented rain (for this region) another series of showers, starting Sunday afternoon, has visited Wheeler county almost every day or night—or both—up to and including today. No records are available as to the amount of rainfall, but estimates place it from 3 to 5 inches during the period mentioned.

The Times has long wanted to hear some long-time resident holler "calf-ropes" on excess rain here. So far none have out and out done so, but one old boy admitted today that "the rope is shore gittin' mighty short!"

Water Facility Loans Available to Farmers

Rural Rehabilitation Supervisor Announces New Feature of Farm Aid Program

Loans are now available to farmers in Wheeler county to participate in the Water Facilities program of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Frank O. Wofford, rural rehabilitation supervisor for the Farm Security administration, announced this week.

"Facilities which may be installed with funds borrowed from the federal government," Wofford said, "include repairing or providing wells, cisterns, pools, ponds, stock tanks, together with the installation of windmills, stock troughs, storage tanks, bathroom fixtures, sinks, pipes and so forth."

Wofford said that loans also are available for facilities for developing irrigation systems for subsistence gardens and truck crops up to one acre of land. He emphasized the regulation prohibiting loans for irrigation systems in excess of one acre of land.

"No loans will be made for irrigation purposes which exceed one acre of land," he said. "The program is designed to modernize farm homes, by putting water into them, to make adequate water available for livestock purposes and to enable farm families to raise subsistence gardens and truck crops as a feature of the live-at-home program in areas of low rainfall."

Water facility loans, it was explained, are made for a period from one year to the useful life of the facility or a maximum of 20 years, at 3 per cent interest.

Low income farmers and others who cannot obtain adequate credit elsewhere are eligible to apply. Applicants are not restricted to farmers who are now being assisted by the Farm Security administration. Farm owners, farm tenants and farm operators are eligible to make application for water facility loans.

Wofford cited a regulation which provides that all successful applicants for water facilities loans must agree to follow the approved farm and home management plans designed by the Farm Security administration and the applicant, and to cooperate with the Soil Conservation service in soil and moisture conservation practices.

Wofford invited all farmers in Wheeler county, who believe they can meet the requirements for application, to visit him at his office in the Wheeler court house on Wednesday or Saturday mornings, and obtain more information about this program.

Baptist Bible School Closing Sunday Night

Commencement Exercises at Usual Preaching Hour—120 Pupils in Four Departments

According to Murray Fuquay, pastor of that church, the Baptist Vacation Bible school, in session last week and this, will close with an appropriate program Sunday night. Commencement exercises will occupy the regular evening preaching hour, starting at 8:30, and following the B. T. U. session.

Enrollment in the school totals 120, with an average attendance of 90. Membership is distributed in four departments: Intermediate, junior, primary and beginners.

Officers and teachers are as follows:

Principal—Murray Fuquay.
Intermediate Dept.—Mrs. Lee Guthrie, supt., Mrs. Floyd Pennington.

Junior Dept.—Mrs. Frank Wofford, supt., Mrs. Bob Rodgers, Mrs. Rufus Watts, Mrs. G. T. Phillips, Mrs. Marlow Dill, Mrs. Clint Wofford, Mrs. Chas. Griffin and Miss Helen Flynt.

Primary Dept.—Miss Pauline Irons, supt., Miss Elsie Weeks and Mrs. H. H. Herd.

Beginners—Mrs. Narville Arganbright, supt., Miss Pauline Dyer, Mrs. Buford Minter, Mrs. W. H. Black, and a number of mothers and grandmothers who have visited and assisted at various times.

Helping also with the music in the beginners and primary departments were Mrs. Inez Garrison and Miss Arlene Reynolds.

Fathers and mothers of the children are urged to attend the commencement exercises as evidence of their approval and interest in the work being completed. The handwork will be on display in the basement after services.

Mrs. Bob George of Galveston returned home the first of the week after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Bailey, and family.

More Queries Mailed by Selective Service

Total of 200-250 Questionnaires Sent Out this Week—Twelve Added to Advisory Board

Mailings to registrants in the Selective Service program have continued this week from the local draft board office as rapidly as present facilities will permit, states C. R. Weatherly, clerk of the board. A total of between 200 and 250 queries will be placed in the mails during the week, states the clerk.

Weatherly also reports that 12 new members have been added to the advisory board to assist registrants under the greatly speeded-up mailing plan in filling out their questionnaires.

Complete personnel of the advisory board now includes: Shamrock—J. B. Clark, chairman; J. H. Caperton, W. O. Puett, W. H. Walker, W. C. Heare, Kenneth Caperton, Bedford Harrison, J. R. Benson, H. E. Pendleton and A. C. Hallmark, all former members.

Wheeler—C. J. Meek, chairman; D. O. Beene, D. A. Hunt, Homer Moss, Harry Wofford, former; J. L. Gilmore, A. B. Crump, C. L. Lewis, F. B. Craig and R. J. Holt, new members.

Mobeetie—Henry Flanagan, chairman; Jack Miller, former; L. D. McCauley and Grady W. Harris, new members.

Allison—John W. Peeples, chairman; Ray Brown, new member.

Briscoe—O. C. Evans and W. D. Douthit, both new members.

Kelton—Albert Holcomb, chairman; C. C. Brown, new member.

Registrants are directed to contact any of these men for assistance and are cautioned to use pen and ink or typewriter in filling out the questionnaire. If you are out of the county, says the bulletin just issued, please go to the nearest local board for advice.

Warning to all registrants under the Selective Service act that they must notify their local boards promptly of any change of address, or become liable to severe penalties, was given today by General J. Watt Page, State Selective Service director.

It is the duty of every registrant to keep his local board advised at all times of the address at which mail will reach him without delay. General Page pointed out. Any registrant who fails to conform to the Selective Service act and regulations, he said, is liable to punishment "by imprisonment for not more than five years or a fine of not more than $10,000, or by both such fine and imprisonment."

General Page stated that so far most cases of delinquency have been found due to ignorance of the law or carelessness on the part of registrants. It is the policy of the Selective Service system, he said, and of the department of justice which is charged with the enforcement of the act, to be lenient in cases where it is apparent there has been no willful intent to violate the law.

Nevertheless, he stressed, investigation of such cases is taking up much valuable time of local boards and of the department of justice agents which should be devoted to urgent work for national defense.

Briscoe Man and Wife Drowns In California

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Matthews, Briscoe, received a message last week from their son, Eugene, at Porterville, Calif., telling of the death of his brother, Johnny Matthews, and wife, both drowned at an unannounced place in that state.

The bereaved parents later received word that the victims' bodies had been recovered. Mrs. Matthews was buried on Thursday of last week and Mr. Matthews, found later, was buried Friday.

LUTHER SIDES CONTINUING IN FLORIDA DEFENSE WORK

In a letter received this week from Luther Sides, former Wheeler county man who has been engaged on construction work in Florida between two and three years, he asks that his Wheeler Times address be changed from Myrtle Grove to Baldwin, Fla.

At the new location Sides will be employed on a huge air base project which he says will require more than a year to build.

"It is another naval base attached to the Jacksonville base," he states, "and is away out in the woods. Wish I had time to give all the details but may do that some other time. We have over 1,500 men just cutting trees. My working number is 16,120. So you can see by that number there are quite a few working on this job."

"Give our regards to all our friends in good old Wheeler. Sure wish I could send you some of these trees they are cutting down."

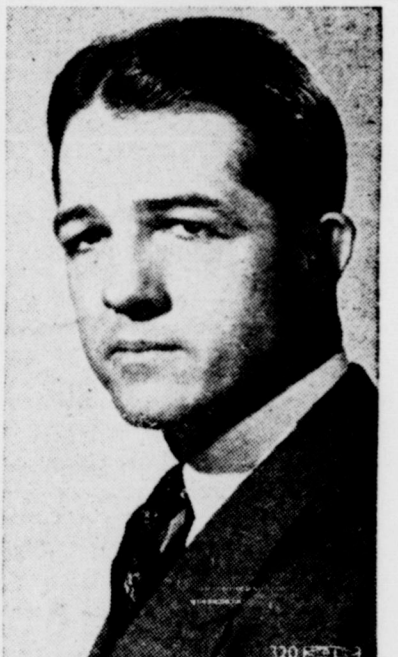

BUT HE DIDN'T RESIGN, SAYS MIDDLEBUSTER

After giving Ernest Thompson and Jerry Sadler of the railroad commission and Harry Hines of the highway commission unholy fits last summer because they were candidates for office (against him) without resigning, "Pappy" of Biscuit Fame O'Daniel, in HIS announcement for another office, failed to turn loose the nourishing public teat in his race for the U. S. senate. Austin's Monday morning quarterback are all telling how they knew all the time what the governor would do. Instead of conceding the election to O'Daniel, the sportingly inclined can get some takers—at proper odds—that Pappy won't win. So says Buck Taylor's "Middlebuster," published at Austin.

Coordinating Council Has Interesting Meet

The Times is indebted to Harry Wofford, county clerk, for data on a meeting of the Wheeler County Coordinating council, held in the district court room here Monday night. Incidentally, Wofford was the only local county official present at the meeting. And, although he doesn't say so, it is learned that attendance of Wheeler and Wheeler county people was much less than the occasion justified.

The council was honored in having the clerk, treasurer and judge of Carson county present, as well as the main speakers of the evening.

Subject of the program was health and while the speakers did not suggest it, their talks carried some good slogans, such as: "Keeping well is better than getting well." "Consult your doctor early before compelled to" or the old adage, "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

Judge Williams spoke on the "Economy of Health to the County Budget." Mrs. Grimes on the Co-operation of Organizations: County Welfare board, County Children's Health council, school boards, P. T. A., and all others in creating a health consciousness and maintenance, stressing "united we stand."

Mrs. Callahan spoke on "What is Most Important and Your Main Desire." She pointed out that hogs and cattle are vaccinated for cholera and blackleg; because we don't want them to die. Are our children as well immunized and protected, she pointedly asked.

The deeply interested group listening felt decidedly more health conscious and was slow to desist from asking questions. Those Wheeler county organizations not represented missed a real privilege. All members are invited but there can be only two voting delegates from an organization.

Because of the fine program, some very important business was deferred until the next meeting.

County Men Named Defense Bond Drive

Shamrock Man Chairman Committee Appointed to Direct Savings Bond Distribution

Announcement was made last week by J. F. Sanders of Shamrock, chairman, that the treasury department has appointed a Defense Bond committee to assist and direct the sale of United States Savings bonds in Wheeler county.

Sanders is vice president of the First National Bank of Shamrock. Other members of the committee are: A. J. Laycock, vice president Farmers & Merchants State Bank, Shamrock; R. J. Holt, vice president Citizens State Bank, Wheeler; Flake George, postmaster; W. H. Walker, mayor; J. H. Caperton, W. O. Morrow, Edwin T. Griffin and H. B. Hill, Shamrock; Chester Lewis, postmaster; R. H. Forrester, mayor; A. B. Crump and Harry Wofford, Wheeler.

Holt was named chairman of the Wheeler group at Tuesday's Lions club luncheon.

"The committee and the department are anxious that the public respond in an effort to finance a good portion of the defense debt through the sale of the bonds, which offer a safe investment and furnish a means of savings within reach of every individual," declares Sanders.

Continuing, the chairman points out that the full faith and credit of the United States government is pledged for payment of both principal and interest of these United States Savings bonds.

"Buy your bond now and share the responsibility of protecting the freedom and safety of our government. Any member of the committee will be glad to explain the terms of these securities to a prospective purchaser," concludes the chairman.

Defense bonds may be purchased at the Farmers & Merchants State Bank, the First National Bank and the post office, Shamrock, and at the post office in Wheeler.

Four Local Young Men in Auto Wreck Sunday

While returning from Shamrock late Sunday afternoon following a heavy shower and consequent slippery paving, a Ford car driven by Lowell Farmer, accompanied by Herbert Tillman, Bob Noah and Coleman Farris, skidded and turned over at the south approach of the river bridge just this side of Shamrock.

Farmer sustained several cuts about the head and face, Tillman had some ribs broken and all members of the party suffered bruises and abrasions. After emergency treatment they were brought to the Wheeler hospital for further examination and soon released. They are all recovering nicely, though still somewhat sore and stiff.

The car, belonging to Farmer's aunt, Mrs. Delton Sanders, and Mr. Sanders of Stratford was damaged to the extent of about $60.00, it is said.

Produce Buyers Warn Farmers of New Laws

On another page of this paper will be found a co-operative advertisement sponsored by the produce buyers of Wheeler in which warning is given farmers regarding marketable quality of poultry, eggs and cream. Particular stress is placed on the care and handling of cream.

These dealers call attention to delivery of cream in seamless metal containers with extension lids as one requirement of the new federal pure food laws relating to produce. Special efforts to guard against moldy cream, which in turn produces objectionable butter, is mentioned.

"Be clean, keep your cream cold, and deliver it at least three times a week," the dealers quote from an authorized bulletin. "We will be compelled to reject all cream that does not comply with government requirements," they warn in conclusion.

Signers to the warning are the Wheeler County Produce Assn., Clay Food Store, Wheeler Poultry & Egg and W. W. Adams.

INSPECTOR VIEWS POSSIBLE LOCATION FOR POST OFFICE

A. S. Page, post office inspector from Fort Worth, was here the first of the week viewing possible locations offered to house the Wheeler post office, should it be moved from the present quarters, a block west of the square.

Page stated that a decision will likely be made from his reports within two or three weeks, although the office does not have to be moved until fall.

STRIKES AND PATRIOTISM

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt appears to be profoundly unimpressed by her husband's words. The president has been describing defense production as of paramount importance to this nation's welfare; yet recently, in her press conference, the first lady said it was "perfect nonsense" to call strikes in defense industries treasonable, added that we should not get excited about them and voiced the opinion that the "strike problem is not a case of patriotism—not yet."

Secretary Knox and O. P. M. Director Knudsen, who pleaded for the end of the Allis-Chalmers strike as a matter of patriotism—action they would hardly have taken without the president's approval—are thus rebuked. President Green of the A. F. L., who also has said that it is unpatriotic to strike at this time—though the A. F. L. unions do not seem to have heard him—is in much the same category; he is unduly excited.

There is even an implied rebuke for Mrs. Roosevelt's very dear friend, Mrs. Secretary Perkins, who recently departed at San Francisco, though mildly, sit-down strikes and secondary boycotts at this juncture.

If there is no great hurry about defense production because "after all we are not in the war" there was no great hurry about the lease-lend bill or the $7,000,000,000 appropriation to give it effect and certainly there is no hurry about the St. Lawrence Waterway. And why does the Priorities Board shut off a list of materials for civilian use. It must be everybody but Mrs. Roosevelt is unduly excited.—Los Angeles Times.

Or could it be simply another manifestation of the Roosevelt family's insatiable greed for publicity at all cost? Both branches of the family (they are all Roosevelts, it will be remembered) are the world's champions for "all-out" publicity.

"AVERAGE" MAN MUST PAY

Let the rich pay the cost of the defense program!

There's something wrong with that idea. What's wrong with it is that the wealthy cannot possibly pay all the taxes that have to be paid.

The average American of moderate or small income is going to feel more than ever before the sting of heavy taxes, according to a recent survey by the National Economic committee.

Taking figures from a study of national income in 1938-39, the committee showed that people making as much as $10,000 a year or more get only a relatively small share of the national earnings and that this share is already heavily loaded down with taxes.

The analysis of the tax year of 1938-39 showed that 10-billion-dollars of the 70-billion-dollar national income was paid to those who earned more than $10,000 annually. Of this amount, nearly three and a half billion dollars was paid to government in federal, state and local taxes. Other taxes have been added to this bracket of incomes since that time.

Experts now say that less than three billion dollars a year would be added to present revenues if every cent over $10,000 was taken from those who are in that income bracket. And, the experts add, such drastic measures probably would have the effect of reducing compensation paid to such individuals and so available for taxation.

The study shows that the only way of raising a major part of the enormous cost of the defense program is to step down to the lower income brackets with taxes far greater than have ever before been seen.

Of the $80-billion-dollar total expected national income for 1940-41, about two-thirds will go to the lower income brackets, the study shows, and tax collectors will "dig into this group for a great share of the tax monies."

The problem is complicated by the fact that the average American—whether or not he is aware of it—is already bearing a heavy tax load. Tax analysts say anyone who doesn't pay a tax in the United States must live in a cave in the woods, survive on berries and nuts and wear leaves for clothing. For some taxes are included in the price of every item purchased.

Even for the families that pay no income taxes, these hidden levies are a heavy burden. Data gathered from over the nation indicates that a family with an income of only $500 a year pays more than $100 in taxes included in the price of things bought by members of that family.

Taxes are going to get higher and higher. And that is why the people should call for cuts in non-defense spending by the federal government, for stringent economy by state and local governments.—Texas Taxpayers Digest.

A SORRY SPECTACLE

The Securities and Exchange commission is now considering what should be done with the Commonwealth and Southern corporation, one of the nation's principal private utility systems, under the Holding Company act. One of the major points at issue in the case is what size a utility system should be to conform to the act. Testifying before the commission, Justin R. Whiting, president of the corporation, made some telling comment.

The proper place to determine the most effective size of a utility system, said Whiting is not in a lawsuit, but in a study made by a governmental body assisted by the industry. He pointed out that Commonwealth and Southern, which has been criticized as being too large, has a generating capacity less than that already installed and under construction by the TVA, and less than that planned for Grand Coulee and Boulder Dam.

He then stated: "If it is economically sound and in the interests of consumers and the public for the government in its operations to construct properties of the large size they are now doing, does it not follow that it is likewise economic for smaller private systems to be maintained? If this is not true, then it must be assumed that one economic rule should be applied to public operation and another rule to private operation. Such an application in the end can only result in the taking over by public operation of all the privately-owned companies."

Private utilities grew to large size before there were any government-owned plants, because, it was definitely proven that larger systems could provide cheaper, better and more dependable electric service. Small plants could not command the facilities that are vital to first-class electric service.

The attack on private systems as being excessively large, in the light of the fact that the government's projects are larger still, seems but a subterfuge to accomplish their disintegration and advance the dubious cause of state Socialism. At a time when the full effort of all industry is needed to consummate the defense program, this is a sorry spectacle.

"LAME DUCK" APPOINTMENT

President Roosevelt has made some brilliant appointments to the federal judiciary, appointments which have been based on merit and qualification, with little or no regard to politics. He has made others altogether political or personal.

The nomination of Sherman Minton of Indiana to be a judge of the circuit court of appeals for the seventh circuit (Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin) is in the political class.

Minton's chief qualification for sitting on a federal bench ranking next to the United States supreme court is as an indiscriminating backer of administration policy during his one term in the senate. He was so dependable that the administration made him the party whip.

When he came up for re-election last November, Indiana expressly rejected him. "Expressly" is the right word because the state at the same time cast its electoral vote for Roosevelt. Indiana voters had had enough of Sherman Minton's coat-tail-riding and rubber-stamping.

Two years ago, the president took care of another lame-duck New Deal senator in virtually the same way. That was F. Ryan Duffy of Wisconsin. After his state turned thumbs down on his bid for re-election, Roosevelt gave Duffy a lifetime job as a federal district judge.

In this connection, it is to be noted that Minton is to succeed a judge who died only a few days ago, the late Walter E. Treanor. Yet the president has permitted a vacancy on the supreme court bench to go unfilled since Feb. 1—well over two months, and two months in the heart of the term. As a result of even divisions among the eight justices, the supreme court has been unable to decide a series of cases and has found it necessary to order rearguments for next fall.

Since so little of the term now remains, the deciding vote aspect of the supreme court appointment has become less important. What is urgent now is that the president canvass for a distinguished justice who will be a national choice, not one man's personal or political choice. The model will not be found in the appointment of Lame Duck Minton.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

THAT BRINKLEY CANDIDACY

Although the announcement of Dr. Brinkley's candidacy for the senate leaves us just a little cold, it has possibilities that are appealing. The doctor's chief claim to fame is based upon his presumed skill in rejuvenation, in his supposed ability to restore something of youthful virility to aging men.

There is a definite need, in Texas politics, of that sort of treatment.

Perhaps if the doctor can make a creditable showing in his race for the senate, it will encourage him to continue as a factor in Texas politics and perhaps seek some office where his theories about rejuvenation can be helpfully applied.

If he were to seek the governorship, for example, and win it, and find the way to inject youthful vigor into state government, Texas might benefit in a very wholesome manner. Or as a member of the legislature, he might stimulate that body, enable it to break away from a state of mind which keeps Texas, year after year, several decades behind most of the states in respect to the spirit and the method of legislation.

Texas government needs something. It is decrepit and listless and stodgy.

We are not conversant enough with the technique of the Brinkley rejuvenation treatment to be sure that it would help, but Texas has need of something of that kind. That fact enables us to view the entry of Dr. Brinkley into Texas politics with less distaste than would otherwise be justified.—Wichita Falls Times.

Since the "rodayo" season is about to begin, why not place some regulation on this drug store cowboy business to avoid an overplus? For instance, here is a suggested scale: If he owns one cow, that entitles him to wear a bright colored kerchief around his neck; 2 cows, loud kerchief and shirt to match; 3 cows, he can add the pants; 4 cows, he can add the John B. hat; 5 cows, he is entitled to dress in the full rig, and if he likes—may cuss, chew "terbacker" and drive a flivver.—Donley County Leader.

Hail, rain and high winds resulted in loss of life, crops and property near Hart Friday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Roger Hay, whose bodies were hurled 200 yards into a field, were killed in a tornado that demolished their farm home, about six miles east of Hart. A score of other people were injured in the tornado which struck mainly in Hale county, but extended into Swisher and Castro counties, leaving extensive damage.—Tulia Herald.

I did get a kick out of the frankness of a visiting preacher. He overturned his trailer and ruined it. He had no insurance, and he was in a deep hole financially. Feeling sorry for him, I began to make suppositions and excuses about how it happened all directed with the notion that it was not his fault. His answer to my words of comfort was: "Now, it wasn't any of those things—I was just driving too fast."—Deek Wells in Wellington Leader.

Besides members of the Roberts County Commissioners' court a number of citizens from Miami, headed by County Judge J. A. Grady Hazlewood is making a great state senator, according to information The Herald editor picked up at the annual dinner of the Panhandle-Plains Historical society at Canyon. Hollywood has offered one of its one-in-a-thousand plums to Kathleen Wright, 22-year-old Texas actress, formerly of Estelle. From numerous applications for the role of "Golden Girl" in a forthcoming stage play, "Rock of Ages," Miss Wright has been selected for the part because of her dramatic ability and her surprising resemblance to the character, it has been announced. Miss Wright was reared in Estelle, and left there only a few years ago for Hollywood. She is a sister of Oscar and Bill Wright and Mrs. J. L. McCollum of Estelle.—Memphis Democrat.

Word has been received in Canadian that Jimmie Evans, College Station student, received a facial injury when a test tube in a laboratory exploded. It was thought, at first, he would lose the sight of an eye, but it is now believed there will be only facial injuries. Cofer & Lee, contractors, have a large force of men engaged in a big expansion building program at the Ellis Grain Co. elevators in this city. Manager J. H. A thief broke into the McLean warehouse recently and broke the head of a barrel of arsenate of lead, taking about a third of the contents and leaving the barrel turned over on its side. D. A. Davis, warehouse manager, discovered the theft Saturday, and it is to be hoped that the thief knew what he was taking, as arsenate of lead is a deadly poison.

The lead was left over from grasshopper poisoning operations and belonged to the McLean chamber of commerce.—McLean News.

Remodeling Your Home Is An Investment

In neglecting to think the matter through to its proper conclusion, some home owners (and prospective home owners) entertain the mistaken idea that remodeling the home is an expense. This is incorrect; repairing and remodeling—and modernizing—is really an investment.

It is an investment in comfort, convenience and satisfaction. Also from a financial standpoint it is an investment... beautifying the premises and thereby enhancing the resale value.

Many remodeling and several new building projects are under way in and around Wheeler. This lumber yard has anticipated an increased demand for building materials and is prepared to supply practically all needs on immediate delivery or very short notice for special items.

Lumber and building materials are now at a reasonable price level—lower in proportion to other commodities than any reasonable person can expect them to remain. Therefore, we urge those who contemplated building or remodeling to hasten their decision and take advantage of present prices.

Bring your particular problem to us—we shall be glad to advise and make up estimates without cost or obligation. Our business includes serving as well as selling the customer.

LOYAL COURAGEOUS QUALIFIED

Gerald C. Mann CANDIDATE FOR U. S. SENATOR

Repledging his complete support of President Roosevelt's program in our national crisis, Attorney General Gerald C. Mann this week continued his campaign for the United States Senate.

Opening his Central Texas campaign in Waco, Mann stated, "I subscribe to the foreign policy of the Roosevelt administration completely and without reservation."

"I believe that during the last three years I have shown my willingness and ability to co-operate completely with all men and all public officials with whom I have worked," he asserted, "and I shall continue to work in harmony with all officials when I go to Washington as your United States Senator."

"In the same spirit in which I have made and fulfilled my official promises in the past, I solemnly promise the people of Texas, that when I am elected your Junior Senator from Texas, I shall be a friend to the President of the United States, a friend to the State that I represent, and a friend to the American people."

DEFENSE-AGED AND NEEDY-AGRICULTURE

Sketching his platform, Gerald Mann declared: "There must be no idle labor, there must be no idle machinery. The present crisis is a call to arms to every resource of every kind and character that America has at her command."

"The aged and the needy must be cared for. Their human needs must be met and supplied."

"Agriculture must receive equal opportunity to profit as profits in other businesses increase," Mann stated in discussing the farm problem.

"Prices of other products both raw and refined have advanced. Wages have increased. The cost of living and of making a crop are higher."

"If the federal government is to accord agriculture an equal opportunity with other industries then the government should continue to make every effort to stabilize the market for farm products. There should be no let-up in government aid to the farmer."

Legion Convention Adopts Resolution

Be it remembered, That the 18th
District American Legion of Texas
in convention assembled in the City of Amarillo, Texas at its spring session April 19 and 20, 1941, adopted
the following resolution:

Resolution Number IX
Whereas, this organization is composed of men who know what war means to our nation, including its horrible details, and are each individually interested in living in a nation where peace, liberty and pursuit of individual happiness is our principle wish and desire;
That we believe in the principles of Democracy as we know it in America;

That we believe in the entire principles of free speech, right to handle our own affairs as free men, including the right to operate our own businesses or join together in any organization for the promotion of our mutual welfare as individuals or as collective organizations without the interference of government function as long as we pursue such actions and conduct under the principles for which this government was founded;

That we believe in the sovereignty of the individual, state and nation as we understand the principles of this the greatest democracy of all time; yet, we, as citizens of the United States of America, and as members of the American Legion and of this organization (the 18th District American Legion of Texas), believe that the time has come in America when the Sovereignty of the Nation, as such, must be the primary interest of all of us who love the principles this nation represents;

We believe that interests of the individual who is engaged in the production of materials of war, which the national government has set in motion, is not superior to the rights, liberties, interests and financial affairs of those young Americans who have been called to the colors of our nation to prepare to defend it against those who might assault us within the very near future;

That the interests of the individual who will gain financially from the production or manufacture of these implements of warfare is not superior to the interests of the nation and the young manhood of America now training to use such implements;

We, therefore, believe that those individuals in labor organizations and the ownership of manufacturing industries should be caused to realize the seriousness of the international relations of our nation and the necessity for the unhampered completion of our defense program as started by congress and our president;

We believe that much of the delay, strikes and violence that have been evident in recent months is propagated by subversive elements that have been infiltrated into our country for the particular purpose of delaying, hindering and stopping the production of these implements of warfare and the delay of our other preparatory efforts towards preserving our democracy, which we feel will be facing us in the immediate future;

We believe that our public officials should be aroused to the extent of taking over, if necessary, the production of our defense program and to handle harshly those who would interfere;

And in this respect we would offer our services to our nation in any way we might be able to assist properly to handle such necessary action to the end that we may promote the cause of Liberty, Justice, Freedom and Democracy, all other interests (personal and financial) not-with-standing.

Now, therefore, be it resolved that this convention go on record as above indicated, and that such publicity as possible be given to the matter herein contained in order that the public may be aroused to a realization of the situation as we believe it to be at this time to the end that action be had without delay as herein indicated, and our public officials responsible for action be delivered copies of this resolution, including our congressman, senators and our state and national legion organizations.

Respectfully submitted, this date
first above mentioned.

Fresh Egg Marketing Program Gains Speed

Activities this spring indicate increased interest in egg marketing associations through which home demonstration club women and 4-H club girls may sell high quality guaranteed infertile eggs. Already these groups are preparing for summer sales, since during the hot months it is often difficult to obtain good eggs.

Myrtle Murray, specialist in home industries for the A. and M. College Extension service, points out that egg marketing associations are beginning to identify their products with the use of 4-H cartons. This method of packaging assures the consumer that he is getting fresh, home-produced eggs.

Consumers will know their eggs came from marketing associations either by the cartons in which they are packed or by the stamp on the eggs which bear the name of the association as well as the name of the producer.

Mobeetie Scout News

By BERNARD LOWREY, Scribe Troop No. 44

Troop No. 44 had eight scouts and four leaders at the Court of Honor held at Shamrock, Tuesday night, May 20.

George B. Dunn, Talmadge Moore, Donald Bostick, Tom Walker, Harry Thomas and Bernard Lowrey received their second class badges. Two other boys also attended the meeting. Robert McCain and Norman Lowrey. The leaders who went with the boys were H. L. Flanagan, O. W. Elliott, T. H. Ewing and L. D. McCauley.

Troop No. 44 was rated first at the Court of Honor.

The following is a poem taken from a Scout's handbook.

"A Scout of the Past"
With the last red glow of the embers,
As the thin smoke died away,
From his crude tepee,
He saluted me—
A scout of a by-gone day.

His hair was as black as the raven;
His skin was a copper tint;
There was youth and grace
And a keen cut face,
And eyes with a piercing glint.

And over his brawny shoulders,
The pelt of a wolf was thrown;
With a girdle placed
In careless taste,
And held with a clasp of bone.

A bow, he had shaped from a sapling
And strung with a twisted thong—
And straight and true
His arrows flew—
Though the way to the mark was long.

He kindled a blaze with a flint spark;
And then—as the flames leaped high—
Like a spirit thing
He had taken wing;
He waved, and he called "goodby."
—Enos B. Comstock in "Boys' Life."

Surplus Foods Supply Affords Good Variety

Fresh onions have been eliminated from the list of surplus foods available during May to Texas families benefiting from the food stamp plan. This means the May list of commodities which can be obtained with blue food order stamps includes: Fresh grapefruit, oranges, apples, carrots, Irish potatoes, butter, raisins, pork lard, all pork (except that cooked or packed in metal or glass containers), corn meal, shell eggs, dried prunes, hominy (corn) grits, dry edible beans, wheat flour and whole wheat (Graham) flour.

In announcing the May list, Surplus Marketing administration officials said that the blue food order stamps were responsible for the moving of foods valued at $335,399 in Texas during March. In addition, the 47,254 participants in the plan maintained their regular purchases of food stuffs by buying $452,010 worth of orange stamps during the month.

Attention, Farmers!

Purchase of unfit cream and sick or faulty poultry is forbidden and we must reject such produce on and after Monday, May 26.

More rigid enforcement of regulations regarding purchase of doubtful produce makes necessary this notice to those who grow or offer for sale cream and poultry. Under the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act severe penalties attach to the production, sale, delivery for sale, receipt or purchase of adulterated food.

Unfit cream is adulterated cream, and butter made from unfit cream is adulterated butter. Producers, sellers, buyers, shippers, receivers and processors of unfit (adulterated) cream are equally guilty of violating the law. Anyone who produces or holds cream under conditions or in surroundings that allow it to become unfit is violating the law.

Cream must be delivered in seamless containers with approved covers, and must be of good quality, free of mold or other contamination.

Poultry offered for sale must be in apparent good health and free of disease indications or organic imperfections. In other words good healthy poultry, such as the producers themselves would want to serve on their own tables. It is suggested that roosters be disposed of at the end of the breeding season and infertile eggs, which keep better and usually command a higher price, be produced.

Farmers are reminded that this law is not of our making—but for the protection of all concerned—must be observed. We believe these regulations are worthwhile and ask the co-operation of our patrons in their enforcement.

After Saturday no faulty or moldy cream in illegal containers will be purchased. This warning is issued in fairness to all and must be complied with.

Feeding for Fitness In National Defense

State Health Department Points to Importance of Proper Food as Basis of Health

"The importance of 'feeding for fitness' as a part of the national defense program cannot be over-emphasized because proper nutrition is the basis of health and physical fitness," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer.

"America is beginning to realize that intelligent selection of the proper foods necessary to maintain optimum health is more important than merely eating food without regard to its nutritive qualities.

"In a comparative study made on the health of school children in two widely separated districts—one in an agricultural community and the other in an industrial area—a large percentage of the children from the farming sections were found to be malnourished, while those from the industrial area were in better shape physically.

"Although milk and other dairy products, fruits and fresh vegetables—all of which are essential to a well-balanced dietary, were readily available in the farming sections, the children had been allowed to indulge their preferences for less familiar and less nourishing foods, with the results already mentioned above.

"Certain factors that affect nutrition—and not all of them apply to food—must be given consideration in 'feeding for fitness.' The State Health Department would stress the importance of the following:

"First, the diet must be adequate; it should include on a day-to-day basis a generous supply of the protective foods—milk, fruits, vegetables, eggs, whole-grain breads and cereals.

"Second, sufficient sleep and rest to maintain a good physical condition.

"Third, remediable physical defects, such as decayed teeth or diseased tonsils, should be corrected in the individual to insure the best utilization of food.

"Fourth, correct elimination is essential in the utilization of food.

"Fifth, exercise and fresh air are needed to stimulate the appetite and give tone to the physical condition.

"Sixth, good posture aids digestion."

Home-Making Hints

Check Your Child's Diet

May 1 was Child Health Day throughout the nation—by proclamation of the president of the United States. It was the official day for parents the country over to check up on the kind of a foundation they are building for the health of tomorrow's citizens.

Good food is a basis for good health. It builds tissue, strong bones and sound teeth. It helps to repair the body, keeps it in good running order and gives energy for work and play. Furthermore, good food habits established in childhood are an asset throughout life, because they make selection of the right diet second nature.

But what is good food for children?

Rowena Schmidt Carpenter, nutrition specialist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Bureau of Home Economics, tells briefly in the following suggestions:

"Getting the right food for children need not be a complicated matter, if you keep in mind the important food groups and plan to include representatives from each of these groups in the meals every day. It needn't be an expensive matter, either. For fortunately, many very nourishing foods are also cheap. And in each of the good groups there are some that are better food bargains than others."

The important foods for children are: Milk and milk products, vegetables and fruits, whole-grain cereals and bread, eggs, lean meat, fish or poultry and cod-liver oil. Children may have other foods, of course. But mothers who plan their children's meals so that they eat enough and a variety of foods in each of these important groups can be pretty sure their children are well fed.

Texas farmers and ranchers receive 30 cents in oil lease and royalty payments for each dollar they for farm crops and livestock.

"When I was in Washington, I met the chaplain of congress."

"The chaplain! What does the chaplain do?"

"Oh, he gets up on the platform—looks at congress—and then prays for the country."

Safe Enough

He held her in his arms and gazed into her sweet blue eyes.

"What would you do if I tried to kiss you?" he asked.

"Yell for father," she replied.

He sprang away from her nervously.

"Great Scott!" he cried. "I thought he was in Paris!"

"That's right, he is."

Improved Soil Aids Child Health

Observance of Child Health Day every May 1 indicates the nation's interest in the welfare of its future citizens such as this radiant child. This interest is shared by the 6 million farmers cooperating in the AAA farm program. As a contribution to proper nutrition for growing children, these farmers are creating soil conditions which assure an abundance of healthful foods both now and in the future. Application to the land of liming materials and superphosphate, shown in the top picture, is one means of doing this. Such practices mean better pastures, more and better milk from dairy cows, and healthier American children.

Bike Days Bring Fun and Recreation; also Grave Traffic Risks

With the return of longer days and milder weather the possibility that bicycle accidents this year will kill more than 700 persons and injure 34,000, the majority of them children between the ages of 5 and 14, assumes impressive importance, says Kenneth N. Beadle, education director of the National Conservation Bureau, accident prevention division of the Association of Casualty and Surety executives.

"This estimate is based on the toll for 1939, the latest year for which complete statistics are available," Beadle states. "However, it is probably low, for there will be perhaps 10,000,000 bicycles on our streets and highways this year, the greatest number in history. Whether or not 1941 casualties can be kept from equalling and possibly exceeding the 1939 totals depends to a great extent on increased vigilance and observation of traffic laws by cyclists, particularly those of school age.

"Bicycle Killings Avoidable. It can also be safe. No thought is here expressed to deprive boys and girls of the exhilaration of stepping on the pedals of their 'bike' and setting off on excursions of joy and imaginary exploration. That is good for the body and mind. When it is made safe, the benefits are increased many times.

"Proof that bicycle accidents are largely preventable is found in the facts that three-fourths of all persons killed or injured while riding bicycles are disobeying a traffic law at the time of the accident, and that one of every four of the bicycles involved is found to be in defective condition!

"If parents of children who ride bicycles will see to it that 'bikes' are kept in safe operating condition; if they will take pains to instruct their boys and girls in a few simple rules for cycle safety, and make certain that those rules are obeyed, thousands of tragic crashes between automobiles and bicycles will be avoided in the pleasant, sunny months just ahead."

Rules for the Rider

Here are some common sense suggestions for safe bicycling:

1. Keep brakes and steering mechanism in good working order at all times.
2. Obey traffic rules and regulations. You have no special privileges to ride through red lights, stunt all over the road, ride on the left side of the street, "hook onto" trucks and automobiles, ride two on a bike, and so on. Your bike is legally classified as a vehicle, and you must observe the traffic laws.
3. Try to avoid riding at night. If it is necessary to do so, have your bicycle equipped with headlight and tail-light or reflector. Keep to the extreme right of the road.
4. If accompanied by another bicyclist, ride in single file.
5. Avoid careless acts when an automobile is near. The average car travelling at moderate speed cannot be brought to a halt in less than half the length of a football field—quite a distance! Don't commit unsafe acts and then depend on the motorist to save your life!

A homemaker can figure on about 12 servings from a pound of prunes.

"Hudson's Bay"

Here's news for you! Paul Muni is on the screen again! In a new role, too—not just dialogue in dialect—but he has a part which calls for fisticuffs, brawling and chicanery. This historical melodrama takes us back to the expedition of the Hudson's Bay Company. Muni's performance is the keynote but Gene Tierney and John Sutton add the romantic interest. It's well worth your while for Muni, despite his absence from the screen for several months, has lost none of his power as an actor.

"Washington Melodrama"

Here is a very topical and timely drama of a murder which almost prevents presentation to a senate committee of a plan to feed the conquered Europeans. The financier, a lonely man trying to assuage his loneliness, and implicated in a murder, is none other than Frank Morgan. The daughter, Ann Rutherford, is in love with a man who opposes Morgan's bill. Dan Bailey, jr., who is gaining screen popularity, is on the front seat of this vehicle. There is comedy and entertainment as well as the dramatic element.

SUPER-CONCENTRATOR SAVES FUEL
REFLECTO-PLATE SAVES HEAT

The Norge Super-Concentrator Burner forms its own grate; is compact in design; has no flame impingement; and is always clean in appearance when cooking top cover is up.

This exclusive Norge burner provides double flame travel, affording ample time for heat to penetrate the bottom of a cooking vessel before reaching its edge. This prevents much of the usual heat loss up the sides of the cooking vessel—thus saving fuel. Gas outlets are drilled upward from the under side, thus making the burner non-clogging.

Finished in porcelain enamel, it will retain its original luster during the long life of the range. Its individual design gives the Norge Super-Concentrator Gas Range a neater, cleaner and better looking cooking top. Its high efficiency is approved by the American Gas Association for use with manufactured gas, natural gas, and bottled gas. Assured economy!

Immediately below the Super-Concentrator burner is the patented porcelain enamel Reflecto-Plate. It reflects back and focuses all heat on the bottom of the cooking utensil—saving heat ordinarily lost. It also serves as a convenient and individual drip pan for each burner to catch occasional spill-overs.

MANY BOY SCOUTS OF ADOBE WALLS COUNCIL TO ATTEND CAMP KI-O-WAH

Scouting is "outing" and outing to a Boy Scout calls for the experience found only in a Scout camp. On May 25 Camp Ki-O-Wah, the Boy Scout summer camp of the Adobe Walls council, opens on beautiful Lake Marvin where Scouts from 15 counties will join in one of the highlights of the year's program.

Since 1937 the camping program of the council has made rapid strides toward the type of camping that boys want. The council now owns complete tentage to house 100 boys with all the kitchen equipment to insure good eats for hungry campers. Through the commissioners court of Hemphill county a tract of land has been made available for a permanent Scout camp. A complete waterfront program on Lake Marvin is carried out, with boys being taught to swim, row boats and paddle canoes.

Health and safety is the keynote of the camping program and each activity is carefully checked for any possible hazards. No chances are taken and those who fail to play the game by not obeying camp rules, are asked to return home. A happy camp is one free from accidents, and the way to prevent accidents is to avoid taking chances.

Camp Ki-O-Wah is scheduled to operate for three one-week periods but it is hoped that enough Scouts will want to enjoy this experience to cause extra periods to be added. All Scout troops should make their reservations at once so that any necessary adjustments can be made.

It has been suggested by the camping committee chairman, Frank Ford of Panhandle, that if each registered Scouter of the council would see that one boy came to camp, there would be enough boys for five or six full periods. If the Scouters will accept this challenge the Adobe Walls council will certainly have a camping program that puts the "outing" in Scouting.

Allison Farmers Wage Warfare Upon Rabbits

That farmers around Allison are doing their part to keep the rabbit population in that area under control, is shown by a report just compiled by A. G. Schattenberg, local director of the Prairie States Forestry service. Twelve Allison men who hunt rabbits regularly, turned in the following scores for the period from April 1 to May 16:

Ben Parks, 80; Ray Brown, 50; Carl Clapp, 150; Charlie Trayler, 100; Bob Markham, 50; Carl Lovitt, 45; Fred Begert, 110; T. M. Brown, 100; George Parker, 100; Ira Mann, 75; John Jones, 75; and Millard Donaldson, 80. Grand total, 1,015.

If this number of rabbits had been allowed to live, they and their increase (multiplied by about 10) would consume and destroy enough grass to pasture a fair sized herd of stock, not mentioning the amount of damage they would do to field crops, gardens and shelterbelts.

Schattenberg, as supervisor of shelterbelt planting in this region, is primarily interested in seeing rabbits destroyed to prevent their depredations on young trees.

He compliments the hunters on their good work concluding with the observation: "You know Uncle Sam thinks a lot of a good shot."

End of April Term of District Court Nears

When district court convened Monday morning, examination of the docket revealed no jury cases ready for trial and Judge W. R. Ewing discharged the panel, which was the last regular jury called in the current term.

Only minor matters came on for hearing Tuesday and Wednesday, when court recessed for the remainder of the week. Two or three cases may be called next week and these, together with a final report by the grand jury, will bring to an end the April term.

MANN WAGES VIGOROUS SENATORIAL CAMPAIGN

his return from the nation's capital has brought many changes, but Jerry Mann has not been forgotten. He is remembered not only because of his prominence in Texas affairs, but because he made scores of lasting friendships in Washington, where he is thoroughly at home.

His work for the Planning board brought him into personal contact with officials in scores of government departments and agencies, and through this work he acquired a sound general knowledge of the physical organization and function of the major federal units. As part of his job for the state, he obtained during the seven months spent in Washington a total of $3,600,000 of federal funds for Texas projects, which included surveys of the state's industrial history, its underground water and mineral resources, its educational system and its tax system.

BRISCOE PEOPLE PROUD OF SCHOOL TERM JUST ENDING

During a visit at this office the first of the week, a member of the Briscoe school faculty declared he fully believed he was voicing the sentiment of the entire teaching staff and board of directors in saying that the term just ending is one of the most successful in the history of the Briscoe school.

Incidentally, his statement reflects the views of many people outside the Briscoe district, yet who are conversant with school affairs there. The Briscoe faculty is rated by well-informed observers as one of the best in the state for a school of its size. All of the teachers have been employed for another year and expect to return next fall after a well-earned vacation, with ambitions to join in a year's work that will, in all probability, excel that of the past year's splendid success.

A. D. Barry is superintendent of the Briscoe school and Leslie Hawkins, principal. Hawkins and some of the other instructors expect to attend summer school to still further qualify them in their chosen vocation.

SPECIAL PROGRAM SUNDAY NIGHT, METHODIST CHURCH

On Sunday night, May 25, at 8:15 o'clock, there will be a service of unusual interest at the Wheeler Methodist church, announces Rev. Wayne Cook, pastor. At this service Mr. and Mrs. Joe J. Mickle, jr., now of Amarillo, but who have lived for the past 20 years in Japan, will be the speakers.

Mickle will speak on "The General Situation in Japan and the Pacific." Mrs. Mickle will tell something of the customs in Japan, which should be of special interest to the young folks and children.

Delegates from the local church have heard these speakers on recent occasions in this region and recommend them highly as being well informed on their subjects. At the close of the addresses, there will be held a forum to hear questions asked and answered.

Those not attending church elsewhere on Sunday night are invited to attend and have a part in this interesting and timely service, which will be closely allied with the national defense program and the Americanism sentiment now in the ascendancy.

WHAT SAY YOU?

They That Are Blessed
Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful.—Psalm 1:1.

Blessed are they that do His commandments, that they may have a right to the Tree of Life and may enter in through the gates into the city.—Rev. 22:14.

Eight 4-H Club Girls on Short Course Trip

First Eight Clubs Reporting Funds Ready Will Be Eligible to Send Representative

Eight 4-H club girls from Wheeler county will attend the 4-H Short Course at College Station, opening July 16.

Due to limited dormitory facilities, each district is allowed only a certain number of girls. Within the district this number is apportioned among the counties according to their enrollment of 4-H club members.

The 4-H Girls' council decided at its meeting Saturday, May 17, that the first eight clubs reporting they had their money to send a delegate would be allowed to send their representative to College Station.

Each club sending a delegate will select its own representative. Before June 30, the members of each of these eight clubs will have visited the demonstrations of each girl who is a member of that club.

The members of each club will elect by secret ballot the girl they wish to represent their respective club. These selections will be based upon: (1) Demonstrations completed; (2) Quality of work done by the girl according to what she had to start with; (3) Regularity of attendance at club meetings; (4) If an officer, the efficiency with which she performed her duties.

According to the decision of the 4-H Girls' council, the trip will be made from Childress by train with the other 4-H representatives from District 1.

Protect and Treat Livestock with Franklin Products

Bovine Pulmonary Mixed Bacterin

The disease known as hemorrhagic septicemia is infectious and highly fatal, and attacks cattle, sheep, horses, swine, poultry, etc. It has been prevalent in herds and flocks for many years, but until recently had not been easily recognized nor its symptoms generally understood by scientific men or livestock breeders and feeders. It has been found there are certain mixed infections, such as diphtheroid infections, causing edema in cattle, either as a complication of hemorrhagic septicemia or as a primary infection, and paratyphoid infection, which cause a good deal of trouble.

Dr. Franklin in his research work discovered that mixed bacterins will produce immunity against the several infections as well as one particular ailment. Therefore, we recommend the use of Franklin Bovine Pulmonary Mixed Bacterin as an immunizing agent for cattle, against hemorrhagic septicemia with or without pulmonary complications.

We also have other Franklin remedies for livestock and poultry, including Bovine Hemorrhagic Septicemia Bacterin and Bovine Mixed Bacterin.
