Briscoe Club Miss Awarded Gold Star

LaDell Atherton Receives Highest County Honor in Girls' 4-H Club Work for 1941

Miss LaDell Atherton, 14-year-old Briscoe 4-H club girl, has been awarded the well-merited honor of Wheeler County Gold Star Girl for 1941. This is according to Miss Evelyn Plummer, assistant county home demonstration agent and leader in girls' club work. Miss Atherton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Atherton, substantial citizens of the Briscoe community.

Miss Atherton is a seventh grade student of the Briscoe schools and has been in club work four years. During that time she has held office in the club and council and otherwise gained recognition for outstanding ability. In 1941 she was elected council delegate and is secretary-treasurer of that body now; also vice president of the Briscoe 4-H club.

Her hobby is making scrapbooks. One contains poems and another a complete record of her club work. She also keeps recipes after trying them out and proving their worth. On scrapbooks she won two second places at the county fair.

Story of Her Club Work
The following story of her club activities has been submitted for publication by Miss Atherton:

"I became a member of the Briscoe 4-H club in 1938, at the age of 10. That year, as a beginner, I did not make a very great success.

"In 1937 my club work was more successful. I canned five quarts and four pints of vegetables and three quarts of fruit. In clothing I made a dresser scarf, three dish towels and a pair of pillow cases. I also made an egg basket and a book shelf. All these were entered in the county fair, winning 2 first place, 5 second place and 3 third place ribbons.

"In 1940 my work was still more successful. I did not have a garden of my own, but helped mother with hers. During the year I would can a jar or two of the products she was canning. By the end of the season I had canned five quarts vegetables, one quart fruit, three quarts jelly and jam, one quart relish and one quart tomato juice.

"That year I made two dish towels, two dresser scarfs and a candlewick bedspread. I won 10 blue ribbons and six red ribbons. I entered several articles in the Amarillo fair, winning 1 first place, 2 second places and 4 third places; $2.00 in prize money. My candlewick bedspread, made of cream domestic and four balls of cream thread, won first place. Total cost of the spread, including transportation, was $2.87.

"Poultry: I bought 25 week-old chicks, but had a little bad luck with them as a rat got into the brooder and killed three or four before it was learned what was killing them. The rest were fed and watered daily; we ate the roosters and put the pullets in the laying house.

Work in 1941

"When I began club work in 1941 I set six clothing goals: a headscarf.

Local Couple Enjoys Golden Wedding Date

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Wileman, living on South Canadian street, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary and Mr. Wileman's 80th birthday anniversary on Sunday, Feb. 22, when all their children were at home except Mr. and Mrs. Roy T. Wileman, and son, Roy Weldon, Altus, Okla.

Miss Ada L. Tays and W. B. Wileman were united in marriage on Jan. 7, 1892, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Tays, in Booneville, Miss., by B. F. Phillips, minister of the Methodist Church, South.

Mr. Wileman came to Texas in 1882 and helped with the construction of the railroads, later returning to his native state, where he remained for a few years after his marriage and then moved his family to Texas. The Wilemans moved to their farm near Allison 15 years ago from Altus, Okla., where they lived for several years. Mr. and Mrs. Wileman bought the J. E. Cox home and moved to Wheeler in the fall of 1939.

Those attending the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Ben C. Wileman and children, Anne and Bonnie Mac, Oklahoma City; Mr. and Mrs. Lee George and daughter, Gayle, Allison; Mrs. O. C. Lowry, Lubbock; Mrs. Milton Webb and children, Jerry and Jane, Amarillo, and the honorees, Mr. and Mrs. Wileman.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Anderson of Paducah called in the afternoon. They are old friends.

New Assistant County Agent Coming March 1

Appointment of James D. Eiland as the new assistant county agent of Wheeler county, effective March 1, was announced Tuesday by Jake Tarter, county agent. Eiland is at present secretary to the Deaf Smith County Agricultural association at Hereford.

The newcomer is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Mat Eiland, who reside north of Wellington, where he was born and reared. He attended the Wellington high school and graduated from Texas A. & M. college with the class of 1939.

Following completion of his school work, Eiland was employed eight months at the Bureau of Census in Washington, D. C. He went to the Deaf Smith county position Dec. 1, 1940.

Eiland is an able and energetic young man who is expected to capably fill the place formerly served here by Chas. V. Griffin, recently promoted to county agent of Jones county with headquarters at Anson.

BOB CLARK, MAGICIAN, COMES WITH PROGRAM FRIDAY NIGHT

Many friends and acquaintances of Wheeler and vicinity will no doubt be glad to see Bob Clark again, personally, as well as professionally when he appears in a program of sleight-of-hand illusions from the four corners of the earth at the Wheeler gym tomorrow, Friday night.

Local people have seen some of Clark's mystifying performances in the past and will be eager to see these again as well as a complete repertoire of new and amazing feats of modern magic. Clark easily rates the "Southwest's leading entertainer" in the field of magic.

SIX WEEKS EXAMS ON THIS WEEK IN WHEELER SCHOOLS

"By the expression on most of the intelligent faces of the Wheeler high school students, it is very easy to conclude that articles, short stories, poetry, corrected notebooks and book points are due soon or certain names will be on the black list, and that six weeks exams are just around the corner," comments a school reporter for The Times.

The schedule for tests is as follows:
Wednesday—Exams, 1st and 5th periods.
Thursday—Exams, 2nd and 6th periods.
Friday—Exams, 3rd and 7th periods.

TIMES WANTADS RETURN WANDERING CANINES

This paper has never been unduly modest in claims regarding its wantad column, because so many proofs of results could be adduced. The latest, however, is in a comparatively new field—finding missing dogs. In two recent instances results were highly satisfactory. Week before last Mrs. J. M. Lawrence (against family dubiety and counsel) advertised for a lost cocker spaniel. In three days the dog was safely home. Last week Sam Britt advertised for return of his strayed St. Bernard. The next day after the paper was mailed Sam was notified by a family just north of town to come and get his dog. Canulis, caninus, canabus—you lose 'em and Times wantads will find 'em.

County Judge Hunt to Ask for Another Term

Points to Record of Efficiency and Economy in Announcing for Re-Election

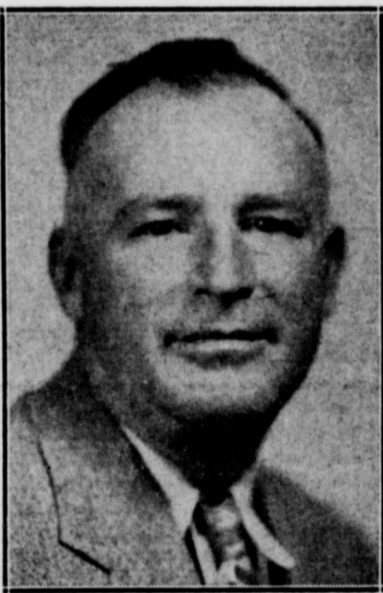

County Judge D. A. Hunt has this week authorized announcement of his candidacy for re-election to the office of county judge of Wheeler county for another term, subject to the action of the voters in the Democratic primary next July.

Judge Hunt's administration has been distinguished by a high degree of efficiency, combined with economical and business-like methods.

Under his guidance and with the united effort and co-operation of the four commissioners, who with him comprise the county commissioners court, a notable record in county finances has resulted. A year or so ago, when G. A. Sahli, county auditor, rendered his report at the close of the county's fiscal year, he declared it was the first time during his period of service for every department of the county to be "out of the red."

Likewise, the county's last quarterly statement for 1941, published early in January, reveals a total absence of overdrafts. Of course, all members of the court are entitled to proportionate credit for this condition.

Judge Hunt dismisses these matters with becoming modesty, but taxpayers appreciate the situation, realizing that heavy demands upon county resources have resulted from needy persons who required aid. They know, also, that only absolutely essential expenditures have received serious consideration.

D. A. Hunt, as an experienced and reasonably successful business man, first decided to enter the race for judge at the insistence of many friends throughout the county who were familiar with his qualifications and had the utmost confidence in his integrity and industry.

In addition to his business experience, Hunt had also served as

FORMER METHODIST PASTOR WEDNESDAY NIGHT SPEAKER

Members of that church announce that Rev. J. Edmund Kirby, a former pastor, will speak at the Methodist church next Wednesday night in connection with a thanksgiving program and note-burning ceremony. The service will climax a successful effort by the church to pay the indebtedness on the basement and church park. This program has been postponed from Wednesday night of this week to the new date, March 4.

H. M. Wiley, chairman of the board of trustees, will tell how the note has been paid and present Mrs. J. M. Porter, holder of the note, with a check to cover the balance owing. She in turn, will respond by turning the cancelled note over to the church to be burned or framed, as may be decided.

The program will start at 8:15, war time. Refreshments will be served at its close. Every member of the church is urged to be present.

MISS McILHANY GETS STATE DEPARTMENT WORK, HOUSTON

Miss Mary Lou McIlhany, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. McIlhany, has accepted a position at Houston in the State Department of Public Welfare.

Miss McIlhany and her aunt, Miss Blanche Grainger, left Saturday for Austin, where Miss McIlhany will take a week's special training before starting her new work March 1. Miss McIlhany has taught science in the McLean high school the past two years.

Miss Grainger will visit relatives for a few weeks before returning home.

Girls' Club Council Meets Last Saturday

Eleven Winners of 4-H Pins Named—New Officers Elected and Rules Changes Made

At a meeting of the Girls 4-H Club council in the club room at the court house here last Saturday, plans were made for awarding 4-H pins to 11 club girls who did outstanding work during 1941. Girls to be so honored and clubs to which they belong are:

Helen Hrnciar, Adela Cadra, Ellen Hrnciar, Helen Macina and Dorothy Mertel, Pakan; Joy Williams, Twitty; Rozena Helton, LaDell Atherton and Lottie Marie Zybach, Briscoe; Josephine Noah and Mary Ella Westmoreland, Wheeler.

The council voted to accept an invitation from the Shamrock Booster club for the girls to give a program on their work and 4-H ideals in connection with presentation of their pins. Date of this affair will be announced later.

In a brief address, Miss Louise Risian, sponsor of the Pakan 4-H club, urged the girls to take their work seriously and to arrange for time to write a history of their club work so more girls will receive 4-H pins this coming year.

New officers for the council were elected as follows: Dorothy Mertel, chairman; Joy Williams, vice chairman, and LaDell Atherton, secretary-treasurer.

According to standing rules as amended for 1942 by vote of the council, the 4-H club year shall begin in September at the same time as the public schools, instead of in January, as in the past. It was also voted to hold a council meeting each three months instead of monthly. This, it was pointed out, will save tires and should encourage better attendance.

LaDell Atherton of Briscoe was declared the Wheeler County Gold Star girl for 1941.

A committee consisting of Helen Macina, Mary Frances Clay and LaDell Atherton was appointed to judge the 1941 scrapbooks. This committee chose the Pakan club's scrapbook as the best one. The award was two rolls of kodak films.

"I'm coming around to visit with all the clubs this year," announced Mrs. S. P. Beasley, chairman of the sponsors, "and I'm bringing my scrapbook along with me. I'm going to have a better scrapbook than any of your clubs has," Mrs. Beasley challenged the girls.

Girls and sponsors attending council were: LaDell Atherton, Briscoe; Mrs. S. P. Beasley, Mary Frances Clay, Joy Williams and Joyce Beasley, Shamrock; Patsy Noah, Mary Elizabeth Marrs and Eloyce Sandifer, Wheeler; Dorothy Mertel, Louise Risian, Helen Macina and Helen Hrnciar, Pakan; Neta Joyce Gipson and Oleta Carver, Center.

SISTER OF FRANK ROGERS DIES AT SEESHONE, IDAHO

Frank Rogers received a telegram Wednesday stating that a sister, Mrs. Frank Myers (the former Ruth Rogers), had passed away at the family home near Shoshone, Idaho, where she had lived for many years. Mrs. Myers, about 40, had been in ill health for several years. She leaves a husband and six children.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow, Friday. Mr. Rogers was unable to attend the rites because of distance and Mrs. Rogers' illness with the flu.

Let's Stop Strikes on Defense Work Now; Here's a Remedy

(By C. G. MILLER)

The writer is only a country editor of average patriotism—neither of which he need be ashamed. And reports by radio and press of strikes on defense—or war—work from one end of the country to the other, makes his blood boil. We cannot win a war in that manner.

It's easy to talk—there is far too much chin music already—but here's a plan the writer believes would end all strikes right now, and permanently.

Every mother and father of a son or daughter in service or connected with war activities otherwise, should write their congressman and senator demanding immediate enactment of the following law:

Whenever any man engaged in war work of any kind goes out on strike from any cause he shall, if physically fit, be inducted into the army at wages of $21.00 per month for the duration—with no advancement nor increase of pay possible. If not physically fit for active service, then sent to a concentration camp and confined therein with Germans, Japs, wops, fifth columnists and other enemies of the United States for the duration.

Any man, regardless of nationality or place of birth, who of his own volition or permits himself to be persuaded to strike for any reason is no better than the ruff-raff seeking to overthrow our government.

All right, fathers and mothers, are you afraid to act? If not, let's go!

Serving His Country

WILLIAM HOUSTON MILLER
Volunteering for service in the United States Air Corps, William H. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Miller, publishers of The Times, was inducted for service on Jan. 29 at Lubbock, Texas, where he is now stationed at the new air base recently established there.

Junior Stock Exhibit at Shamrock March 7

Vocational Agriculture and 4-H Club Members Eligible to Enter—Nice Premium List

Reports from there indicate that preparations are nearing completion for the Annual Wheeler County Junior Fat Stock show for 4-H club boys and Future Farmers of America, to be held at Shamrock on Saturday, March 7. This is according to Claud Holley, secretary-manager of the Shamrock Chamber of Commerce.

Approximately $100 in prizes in the three divisions of calves, hogs and sheep will be given, offering much inducement to the farm boys of the county to enter their animal projects.

The show is being financed by the Shamrock Chamber of Commerce and business men, and County Agricultural Agent Jake Tarter, his assistant, James D. Eiland, and all vocational agricultural instructors of the county will help with the details of the affair.

Holley stated that fair officials expect at least 50 calves, 30 hogs and 16 or 18 sheep to be entered in this year's event. This is the first time the sheep division has been included, but due to the number of boys who are raising the animals as their club projects, it was deemed advisable to add the department this year.

The show date has been set on the Saturday before the Tri-State fair of Amarillo opens on Monday, so that winners in the local departments may be taken directly to the bigger event.

Holley has written officials at Amarillo and Oklahoma City, inviting them to have buyers attend the show.

The American Hereford association will give a $10 award to the owner of grand champion calf of the show, Holley stated.

Place where the animals will be exhibited and the names of out-of-county judges secured for the event will be announced soon, Holley said.

Figures On County Registration Given

Total of 773 Men from 20 to 44 Years Listed on Monday, February 16th

According to information released by the local Selective Service board, a change in governmental policy releases for publication figures on the registration for military service of men between the ages of 20 and 44, which was held on Monday of last week. Previously it had been stated that results of the registration would not be made public.

Wheeler county enrolled a total of 773 men; 729 of these being residents and the remainder from out of the county. Likewise, a number of residents of this county were enrolled elsewhere, their cards to be returned here. Late this afternoon net county figures were 717.

From Washington it is reported the nation's new draft lottery has been fixed for March 17, St. Patrick's day. Green capsules will hold the numbers that will decide the order in which between 8,000,000 and 9,000,000 more men will be subject to call as and when needed.

Completion of arrangements so quickly after the Feb. 16 registration indicates an official determination to have this new reservoir of manpower ready to meet war demands with the least possible delay.

There is an indication, too, that some of the latest registrants may get their call to the colors relatively soon. Selective service officials hinted at that when they said new registrants need not expect a call for about two months after the lottery.

The drawing will affect only those men who registered on Feb. 16, among all men from 20 through 44, and not already registered, signed up with their local draft boards. Between now and March 17, local draft boards will shuffle the new cards and then number them 1-T, 2-T, and so on, the initial T designating the third registration.

The men holding the first numbers drawn will be the first of the third registration list subject to call for possible military service. Thus if T-99 should be the first number drawn, each man holding that number in his local draft district would be the first man on the T-list.

The latest registrants, however, will be placed at the end of the existing local draft lists, and will not be subject to call until the local boards reach the end of their existing lists.

More Local Men Called
Last week 28 Wheeler county men were sent to Lubbock for their pre-medical examinations. None in that class were sent this week.

However, four men left this week for induction. They are J. T. and Harley Pond, brothers, and Dudley Baird, who left Wednesday for Fort Bliss, near El Paso, and Mr. Lackey, transferred to Mississippi.

Two other Pond boys, Woodie of Rio Grande City, who volunteered a year ago, and Winifred H., stationed at Fort Warren, Wyo., who has been in the nation's service six years. They are brothers of Curtis, A. B. and George Pond of this county. Curtis says if Uncle Sam needs him to "win this world war" he will gladly put on a uniform and help.

Health Program Meet Here Tomorrow Night

Addressed to those signing applications to participate in the Wheeler County Health program, County Agent Jake Tarter has mailed the following message:

Paul Macina, chairman of the Wheeler County Land Use Planning committee, has asked me to notify everyone who has signed an application in the county health program that a meeting will be held in the district court room at Wheeler on Friday evening, Feb. 27, at 8:30 p. m., war time.

Macina urges attendance at this meeting, which will present the important task of setting up a permanent organization and the election of a board of directors who will govern the health and medical program after they are elected.

QUAIL GIRLS BASKETEERS WIN DISTRICT MEET HERE

The Quail girls' basketball team was victorious over the Darrouzette quintet here Saturday night in the finals of a hotly-contested district girls' basketball tournament. Some six teams started play Friday night, running through Saturday afternoon and finishing with the deciding game Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Beaty spent Sunday with their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. George Beaty, near Twitty.

THIS IS DEMOCRACY

"Democracy," said President Henry M. Wriston of Brown university, recently, "is simply the political aspect of an assertion of the supreme values in individual life. It was predicated upon the right to self-development, physical, mental and spiritual. It assumes man's infinite worth, and the measureless riches that arise from the variety of his inventiveness. It is designed to implement his right of self-expression in vocation and avocation. It puts the greatest possible reliance upon self-discipline and the least possible dependence upon compulsion.

"If democracy is worth fighting on all the continents of the earth to defend, it is worth a struggle to protect it at home. That faith is the way to national unity; it is the path to peace."

The individual has been the root cause of this country's progress and greatness. The constitution was written to protect and preserve the individual from oppression by the state. That economic system which we call capitalism simply reflects the desire of the individual to earn, to progress, to prosper, to go as far in the world as his energies and abilities can take him.

The distinction between total government and democratic government is very simply put: In the first, the individual exists to serve the state; in the second, the state exists to serve the individual. This war marks the inevitable conflict between those irreconcilable philosophies of life.

This country is a vast and growing monument to the individual. Individuals started and built our industries—the agencies of transport, the mines which produce our coal and oil and metals, the power systems which run our factory wheels, the thousand and one enterprises which gave us unprecedented luxuries in times of peace and are today turning out unprecedented volume of weapons in times of war.

Men took risks, men had vision and faith, men worked and experimented, failed and tried again—and these were the results. Today other men are laying the groundwork for great industries of the future.

We are fighting to maintain a nation and a world in which the individual will be supreme. It is true that we must invest government with great power in time of war—but we must never forget the equal truth that these powers are a loan from the people, not a gift in perpetuity.

On land and sea and in the air American soldiers and sailors are giving what Lincoln called "the last full measure of devotion," to defend the ideal that is America—the faith that is America. The inescapable duty of us here at home is to guarantee that they shall return to a free land of opportunity when they have won the final victory.

ONLY A PAIR OF SHOES

The manner in which law enforcement is made effective when intelligence and resourcefulness attend it, is illustrated by a case recently affirmed by Texas' court of criminal appeals.

A woman was found dead beside a road in Hansford county, under conditions which pointed to murder.

There was not, at first, any means of establishing her identity. Sheriff H. L. Wilbanks of that county followed up the one clue that seemed faintly promising. The manufacturer's mark inside the woman's shoes was traced, with the result that the shoes were found to be part of a shipment made to Marion, Ind. Of the several purchasers of that type of footwear, all were located except one, who had disappeared. It was established presently that this purchaser was the slain woman.

When her identity was known, it was possible to develop facts showing that her companion had been a Chicago man. He was found and arrested, and presently a Hansford county jury found him guilty, assessing the death penalty. That verdict has now been affirmed.

There are those who believe that fate's cards are stacked against a murderer and there have been many cases that tend to support the belief. But society is steadily developing a better safeguard, the application of modern methods of detection whereby science and efficiency, rather than luck, are its aids. The Hansford county case is an interesting example.

One pair of shoes is very much like another, to most of us. An officer who discovers the difference and uses his knowledge to get justice done has thereby won a signal victory for society.

PLENTY FOR ALL

In a joint announcement, Secretary of Agriculture Wickard and Price Administrator Henderson recently said that food stocks in this country are abundant, and that there is no need or justification for hoarding or abnormal buying.

Consumers should remember that "Scare buying" is one of the surest ways to produce price inflation. Temporary shortages are created as demand runs far ahead of supply.

The retail industry has been and is doing a magnificent job in the consumers' interest. Tens of thousands of stores, operated by both chain systems and independent merchants, are pursuing an aggressive, purposeful "price control" program of their own and are saving the public untold millions of dollars by preventing price increases that would otherwise take place.

One of the most important elements in this program is wise buying. Stores are keeping inventories at reasonable levels, instead of rushing in and building up stocks to an abnormal extent. They are buying at the most favorable season, when prices are advantageous. They are doing everything in their power to maintain orderly markets.

What the stores do on a big scale, all consumers should do on a small scale. War will cause us all to forego many a luxury, but there will be plenty of necessities to go around. An intelligent, calm public is essential to workable price control of any kind.

DON'T BLAME THE WAR

When the same government that has paid sugar producers a king's ransom for reducing their output of sugar begins to plan nation-wide sugar rationing, it is rather bewildering to the average citizen, even though the probability of a sugar shortage is imminent and undenied.

It may be confusing even to the man of affairs who receives a bonus for not producing sugar and then has his Coca-Cola distributing business pinched by a sharp sugar rationing.

Of course we face a sugar shortage and of course the country is at war.

And of course the war will be blamed for all of the inconveniences occasioned by the rationing of sugar. But the war is not the parent of this threatened shortage. It is not even a step-parent.

This shortage was made to order and rendered inevitable by the action of the government in paying sugar producers uncounted millions of dollars for not producing sugar. The government tried for years to create the shortage and now attributes the shortage to a war that did not break until after the shortage began to manifest itself.

Thanks to the experimenters in Washington, sugar cane that would have produced 300,000 tons of raw sugar was left to rot in the fields of Puerto Rico in 1941. Large areas of the most fertile sugar beet land in California and Colorado were withdrawn from beet production, while lavish bounties were paid by the treasury to induce the growers to curtail planting.

And in 1941, at least, it was clearly evident that America was going to have to feed the world's democracies and send much larger quantities of sugar abroad.

Of course it has been the civic duty of the people to accept the policy of sugar curtailment with the best grace possible and of course it is the present patriotic duty of the people to smile and to accept sugar rationing as a necessary war policy. But patriotism does not command any citizen to kid himself.

War or no war, there would be no sugar shortage (not for some time yet, at least) if the government had not been paying the producers to produce less sugar. This shortage derives from Washington bureaus and not from any blockade or battlefield.—Daily Oklahoman.

SHOWDOWN IS IN ORDER

When men of the prominence and standing of Wendell Willkie insist that the truth has not yet been told about Pearl Harbor, it is time for a showdown on that subject. If Willkie is mistaken, if the navy department has withheld important facts from the public, its attitude is likewise indefensible.

Soon after the attack, the secretary of the navy went to Pearl Harbor, making a statement upon his return that purported to be a complete account of the damage done. Later a board headed by Justice Roberts of the supreme court conducted an inquiry, and made its report to the president who immediately gave it to the press.

The American people have been led to believe that all the facts had been laid before them. The facts were ugly, and reflected discredit upon both army and navy officers, but the American people did not flinch to hear them.

If the navy has censored the published reports, it has added another blunder to those committed at Pearl Harbor.

It has taken the position that the public should be spoon-fed with war news instead of being given all the facts. It has unintentionally encouraged the spreading of rumors that are more hurtful than the truth could possibly be.

If Willkie is wrong, if the navy has told the whole story, some way should be found to discipline him. If he is right, it is up to somebody in high place to explain why the navy department has tried to cover up the facts.

One way or the other, a showdown is in order.

Pertinent Paragraphs from Panhandle Press

Items of interest culled from newspapers on The Times' exchange list.

There is one serious item in the news from the city council this week. Some thoughtless youngsters have been firing .22 rifles on the town section. One man had a hole shot in his hat and another suffered a slight wound in the arm. It could have been manslaughter. Furthermore there is a $100 fine for firing a gun across any street in an incorporated town. The city council intends to act if these offenses are repeated.—Wellington Leader.

When left to themselves young married couples usually manage right well. A couple, claimed by Canadian, wanted to polish the floors of their new home. There was no electric waxer. Nothing daunted, the bride sat upon the polishing cloths while the groom grabbed her by the heels and short work was made of the task.—Marie Noble in Canadian Record.

A bunch of old-time Scotch yodelers have been parked in the front yard of that "doughty warrior," Winston Churchill who never cocked a pistol or smelled powder. The yodelers are supposed to drown the noise from the whistle blasts of the German battle fleets as they parade through the Dover strait. The noise has been keeping Winston awake nights.—Donley County Leader.

When we get Hitler and the Japs licked we will have to turn to, maybe, and whip old Joe Stalin and all his various and sundry commissariats. The way Joe is cleaning up on what Doc Goettsche calls "those square heads" is going to make the big Red awful cocky. Joe and Martin Dies know how many Communists there are in the United States, but the bigwigs at Washington won't believe Martin when he tells them.—Higgins News.

G. M. Counts, who has made his home with J. V. Coffee and family in Miami and Mineral Wells, left this week for Whitney, where he will make his home on the farm near that city. "Uncle George" moved with his family to Miami from Whitney 30 years ago. His wife passed away shortly after their arrival here. His many friends will regret to learn of his removal to Hill Country, but wish him all the success possible.—Miami Chief.

Congressmen as well as civilians are doing a lot of talking about government economy and spending the money on defense measures. The president has notified the lawmakers to point the way by naming agencies which should be abolished. Okay, Mr. President, we will lead off: Fire 90% of the press agencies which are living off the government and wasting millions of sheets of paper and millions of envelopes daily by sending out unnecessary press releases. Besides the savings of these salaries and saving this paper the government will reduce the postal deficit and save the backs of thousands of office boys who have to empty the waste paper baskets of every newspaper office.—Canyon News.

Orrin J. Brown, convicted of the hammer slaying of Leota Murphy, when tried in the 84th district court of this county, must pay the penalty for his crime against the state by death. Following his conviction Brown appealed first to the district court for a new trial. Being denied this appeal he appealed to the court of criminal appeals, where the evidence was reviewed by the court last week and this week. The verdict handed down early Wednesday morning upheld the ruling of Judge Jack Allen's court, and confirmed Brown's conviction.—Spearman Reporter.

Don Butler, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Butler of Claude, former McLean residents, was at Pearl Harbor on the morning of Dec. 7, and it was his plane that sank the little 2-man Jap submarine just before the attack. This fact was learned from a letter from Mrs. Butler to Mrs. T. A. Massay, stating that they had just received a letter from Don containing the news.—McLean News.

One-hundred and eight Indian-head pennies, stolen from a piggy bank of the small son of O. D. Lowry, were recovered last week end and a negro was fined $40 and cost after confessing the robbery. It was not the value of the money but they had been collected for 15 years and the negro allegedly swiped the bank while he was helping the Lowry family move from one home to another.—Clarendon News.

A well preserved human skull was found on the bank of Salt Creek on the J. W. Woodley farm recently by T. T. Millican and his son. The skull was lying face down. Millican dug around trying to find the rest of the skeleton, but was unable to locate it. The location where the skull was found was about where Otter, the first postoffice in Cottle county, was situated.—Paducah Post.

AERMOTOR

The Windmill with Outstanding Features

The Auto-Oiled type of Aermotor was first made in 1915. It solved in a very practical way the problem of windmill lubrication. The general system adopted by the Aermotor Company has never been improved upon, but some changes in details of construction have been made from time to time as experience has shown the way to betterments.

SPECIAL FEATURES

A strong wheel with only six bolts.

Round tension wheel arms which screw into the hub. Will never work loose.

Extra large wheel shaft.

Quiet gears.

Adjustable stroke.

Self-oiling pump pole swivel.

Smooth regulation in high winds.

Adjustable brake.

"Runs in Less Wind"

The Aermotor has always been distinguished by its ability to run in the lightest breeze. This year insure your water supply with an Aermotor.

Bring Him Home

Winds blow gently, rains fall lightly. Moon be generous and bright; For in his hammock sleeps a sailor Dreaming of his home tonight.

May no ruthless cruel marauder Crash into that blissful spell; May the bells ring out proclaiming For my sailor all is well.

Waves be rhythmic in your motions; Storms withhold your bitter whips; So that on a sea of silver You may sail their sturdy ships.

May you reach your destination, Skimming lightly through the foam;

Then, on some resplendent morning, Turn and bring my boy back home. —EVELYN LOIS STALEY.

Club Notes

Happenings of Interest by and for Home Demonstration Club Women of the County.

Briscoe H. D. Club Meets

The Briscoe Home Demonstration club met in the home of Mrs. P. L. Meadows Feb. 17, with the president in charge and 11 members present. Principal subject for discussion was Poultry and Poultry Buildings. Brooder house, equipment and care of chicks to six weeks of age was presented by Mrs. Clarence Zybach. "Use two or more thermometers, keep the chicks warm and well fed and the brooder house clean, dry and well ventilated," she explained. Control of mites, fleas and bluebugs in buildings was discussed by Mrs. Bob Ramsey, who said "dissolve 10 cents worth of mothballs in one quart of gasoline, then mix with crankcase oil to get the mites and bluebugs." Creosote dip and sulphur were also mentioned for flea control. To control lice, use 10 cents worth of mothballs, one glass of snuff and 5 pounds of cement; mix together and dust fowls.

Coccidiosis and cannibalism was discussed by the group, as the member who was to bring this subject failed to appear.

The Red Cross chairman gave an outline of her plans for work in that activity. Each Thursday afternoon at the Church of Christ in Briscoe was the time and place designated to meet.

"If you are willing to do your part in national defense work, join the committee there each Thursday. Materials have arrived for sewing and knitting. There is work for all and the call is for you and me," declared Mrs. Lee Barry, chairman.

Those attending the meeting were Bernice Ramsey, Katherine Zybach, Anna Zybach, Irene Zybach, Josephine Lee, Bessie Barry, Bessie Johnson, Lucille Tipps, Mrs. Standlee and the hostess, Mrs. Meadows.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Bessie Johnson on March 3.—MRS. LEE, Reporter.

Mrs. Neva Sampson and Miss Gladys Gunter went to Canadian Sunday afternoon and visited the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Wilcoxson, and sister, Mrs. A. T. Davidson, and Mr. Davidson. Mr. Wilcoxson, who has been ill with the flu, is improving nicely.

Dudley Callan went to Dallas Monday to see about enlisting with the nation's fighting forces. His mother, Mrs. Martin Callan, and two sisters, Mrs. John Conner and Mrs. Teddy Clay, accompanied him and will visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Miller, and sister, Mrs. Texas Judy. Mrs. Conner also expects to meet her son, Theodore, who has been attending an air base school at Chanute Field, Ill.

72 BIG PRIZES

for Home Improvements—New and Remodeled Service Buildings!

Here's your chance to win one of the 72 big prizes, totaling $3,000 of Defense Bonds, offered in Successful Farming's second big building contest, this one to stress efficiency in service buildings and livability in the home. Prizes will be given for:

- The Most Efficient New Service Buildings.
- The Most Efficient Remodeled Service Buildings.
- The Most Livable and Attractive Rooms.

No matter how small or large your improvement may be, whether you spend a few dollars, a hundred or several thousand, your chance to win is the same. Each entry will be judged, not on the size of the building or remodeling, nor on numbers on cost of equipment, but on how well it has been done, how much it contributes to the welfare and comfort of the farmer and his wife and family.

See Page 33 of February Successful Farming for full details concerning Crane Water Systems and Plumbing for the home.

See Page 45 of February Successful Farming for advertisement of Asbestos Siding and Ru-ber-old Tite-On Shingles.

Then see us for complete contest information and entrance coupons in this big farm home improvement contest.

Kelton Church Dedicated

The Kelton Methodist church had its dedication service with a number of members, former members, former pastors and visitors present. The program began with the church school. Rev. U. S. Sherrill of Quitaque delivered the morning message. Rev. Sherrill is a former pastor, being here in 1929 when the Kelton church was on the Mobeetie circuit.

At the noon hour a bountiful basket lunch was served. Bishop Ivan Lee Holt of Dallas was in charge of the dedication service. A quartet of senior girls gave a special number. Rev. Watkins of McLean led in prayer. The dedication sermon was indeed a good one. The community feels honored in having the bishop present, as it is not very often he visits community churches of this size.

The district superintendent, Rev. G. T. Palmer, of Clarendon was present. Rev. Palmer is a former pastor of this church, it being his first pastorate. At that time Rev. J. W. Story was presiding elder. Rev. Palmer delivered a sermon here the first day services were held in the new building.

Other visiting preachers were Rev. Wayne Cook of Wheeler. Rev. Cook has been very helpful with the church here. Three years ago he held the summer revival and made a large number of friends. The members are always proud to have him present.

Rev. A. C. Haynes of Shamrock, who had a dedication service at the morning hour, was present. Others were Rev. Watkins of McLean, Rev. V. M. Lollar, pastor of the local Baptist church, and Rev. Marvin Brotherton, who was host to the visiting pastors. Mrs. A. C. Haynes, Mrs. U. S. Sherrill, Mrs. Ivan Lee Holt and Mrs. G. T. Palmer accompanied their husbands.

The former pastors of this church include: Rev. G. T. Palmer, John N. Crow, J. T. Howell, U. S. Sherrill, J. H. Laney, John Hilburn, J. R. Bright, O. C. Copping, J. T. Thomas and Marvin Brotherton.

The church officers include Albert Holcomb, secretary of stewards; Tillman Clemens, superintendent of church school; Rena Johnson, Sunday school secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Dud Reed, pianist; Clarence Killingsworth, song leader and Mrs. Pete Rives, president of W. S. C. S.

The first service held in the church was April 6, 1941. It has been built and paid for in a year. Work began under the direction of Rev. O. C. Copping.

4-H Club Meets

The Kelton grade school 4-H club girls met Friday, Feb. 20, in the Kelton school. A large number of girls were present. Betty Jean Whiteley was elected clothing demonstrator and Edna Earle Rives garden demonstrator.

The 4-H club girls met in the home economics department with the home economics girls and Mrs. Torrance, home economics instructor.

The demonstration was on cooking whole grain cereal. The subject for discussion was "Food Standards." Miss Evelyn Plummer was present for the meeting.

The club adjourned to meet again Friday, March 6.

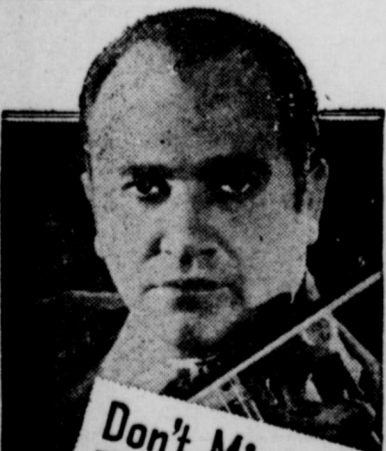

Miss Henrietta Hink of Skellytown spent the week end here in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hink, and family.

Home-Making Hints

By MISS VERA MARTIN
Home Supervisor, F. S. A.

The Family Washing

Like many other consumers' goods—the output of washing machines is being curtailed by war time production. For materials needed in washing machines also are needed in war weapons and equipment.

This temporary cut in washing machines makes it imperative that homemakers take extra good care of the machines they already have, points out Lenore Sater, chief of the household equipment division of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Bureau of Home Economics.

War or no war, the spotless weekly wash is a symbol of good house-keeping. And the family washing machine remains one of our leading household labor savers. You can make your machine last longer and serve you better if you take proper care of it and use it wisely.

Here are Miss Sater's suggestions for getting the most out of your washing machine—and in longer life for your machine.

Follow manufacturer's directions for oiling the motor, the wringer gears, or any part of the machine. But whatever you do, don't over-oil any part.

Keep the washing machine clean. After you've washed the last load in each washing, rinse the machine with hot water. Drain well and wipe out any bits of lint that may not drain out. Wipe off any soapy marks with a damp cloth. Dry inside and out. If any of the inside parts of the machine—cylinders, agitators, vibrators—are made so they detach easily, take these out and dry them.

To keep the outside frame of a machine from rusting—if it's of steel or iron—rub it once in awhile with a little oil.

Between washings—leave the drain faucet open and prop the lid up an inch or two so air can circulate. If you have to keep the machine out where it's likely to get dusty, put some sort of a cover over it.

Never use harsh scouring powders on any part of the machine—especially not on the inside. If you have stubborn spots—use fine scouring powder. If that doesn't work—hot vinegar will remove the stain in some cases. Copper tubs often get a greenish compound on them called verdigris. This comes off with a paste made of soapsuds and household ammonia.

Now that rubber is scarce, be especially careful with the rubber rolls of your wringer. Before you use the wringer each washday—be sure pressure on the rolls is evenly distributed.

Be sure you don't stall or strain the wringer rolls by putting too much clothing through them at one time.

Wipe the rubber rolls clean and dry after you use them. You can take most discoloration off with a cloth dampened with kerosene. But get every trace of kerosene off with soapy water, rinsing and drying. Kerosene left on rubber will soften it. Cover the wringer when you're not using it.

How a Farmer Sees It

In submitting the following discussion, the writer who is a veteran of World War I, says: "I just got to scribbling, or thinking on paper, and jotted down the enclosed which you may publish in your paper if you think we can get by with it without being accused of fifth column activities."

Daylight Saving (?)

I don't claim to be smart, but I can see nothing whatever to be accomplished by setting our watches and clocks up an hour. It might be all right in time of peace, to set our timepieces up in the spring, to sort of break the monotony.

But with all the major nations of the earth, including ours, engaged in the worst war of all time, it appears to me we have enough confusion without adding this one, which is wholly uncalled for.

If the industrial workers of our nation, or any others, want to go to work an hour earlier and quit an hour earlier, that's OK with us, but why tinker with our timepieces? We rural people generally use all the daylight there is and the only thing that can possibly make any more for us are the lengthening days of spring and summer.

It works about this way with us: We come in tired after working all day and doing the chores; eat supper; then turn on the radio to find the programs we have been accustomed to enjoying are long since been over. Mildly disgusted, we turn the radio off and scan the daily paper for a little while.

It seems to us for only a few minutes, when glancing up at the clock—to our surprise it is past 10 o'clock! We rush off to bed, feeling as though we have sat up entirely too late. We roll and tumble for a spell before going to sleep and wake up several times during the night to worry about what time to get up in the morning.

Finally, we decide it's time to get up, so we crawl out and light the lamp and look at the clock. It is almost 7 o'clock and we are all perturbed because we know we should have gotten up at 6.

Again we miss our early morning radio programs and have to rush around to get the chores done and the kids off to school. When we at last get started to work it is past 9 o'clock. We keep looking at the sun and wondering what time it is until we finally decide it's about time for dinner.

So we hurry to the house only to find that it's past 1 o'clock and the wife has already eaten and gone about her business. We hunt up a cold "snack" and as we munch a cold biscuit we wonder why we have to have wars and "daylight saving" time, and we are frank to admit we utterly fail to get the connection between them.

Yes, there's a lot of things our rulers have called upon us to do in this great emergency, which are sane and sensible, but "daylight saving" time isn't one of them. I suppose we will get used to it in the course of time and maybe there will be some good come out of it yet, but I still have my doubts.

Dive Bomber

The most timely and most authentic picture of the year is Dive Bomber, which comes to the Rogue Theatre Preview, Sunday and Monday, Feb. 28-March 1-2. This picture is made in technicolor and it has as stars Errol Flynn and Fred MacMurray. It was made in conjunction with the United States Naval Flying Forces, and is dedicated to our own Bluejackets. It shows the entire naval forces, consisting of battleships, cruisers, destroyers, submarines and airplane carriers in actual fighting maneuvers. Dive Bomber has a very fine story together with authentic information on the technical side of actual naval flying and naval maneuvers. It is the top ranking picture of its kind. So remember the date is Preview-

Sunday-Monday at the Rogue.

Law of the Tropics

Tuesday Bargain Nites will have an opportunity to see Law of the Tropics, March 3, at the Rogue. This is another picture of the jungles and tropics and stars Jeffrey Lynn and Constance Bennett. We believe that you will enjoy it immensely and that your time will be well spent as you journey through the tropical countries with the stars of the story.

Confirm or Deny

And for Wednesday and Thursday, March 4-5, we bring you the other Bennett sister. This time it is Joan Bennett and Don Ameche in a picture called Confirm or Deny. This picture will please those who like their mystery or espionage stories as it is up to the very latest in current happenings. It carries a good story, along with plenty of suspense and intrigue. And remember that it has two good stars, Don Ameche and Joan Bennett.

WORD RECEIVED REGARDING LOCAL YOUTH IN SERVICE

In a letter received last week by Mr. and Mrs. Ed Watson from Mrs. Roy Puckett, that former Wheeler lady says in part:

"I have had letters from Wheeler and Allison wanting to know where our son, R. J., is and his rating. He is located at Brooks Field, Texas, and is a sergeant with a first A. M. rating and is taking flying. When his training is completed he will be a lieutenant in the air corps. He likes the work fine.

"Wheeler sure has a lot of boys in the service, doesn't it?"

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Puckett are at Stratford, where they operate a grocery store. He was formerly manager of Puckett's Cash store in Wheeler.

MAXIMUM FIRE INSURANCE CREDIT TO CONTINUE HERE ANOTHER YEAR

Word was received this week by C. J. Meek, local abstractor and insurance agent, that Wheeler's present fire insurance credit rate, prevailing since March 1 a year ago, will continue for another year. The new period is from March 1, 1942, to Feb. 28, 1943, on property located within the city limits.

The current key rate of 54 cents was ordered by the state fire insurance commission two years ago when it lowered the local rate 25 cents to the maximum credit allowable here. This reduction resulted from the improved municipal waterworks system completed some time previous to the annual rate changing date.

addition of a modern fire truck and equipment, organization of a volunteer fire department and the fortunate lack of property losses from fire.

The key rate is based on a three-year fire loss average, which moves forward progressively. Thus, a serious fire this year would affect the succeeding two-year average record, after which it would be disregarded.

This "fire record" as applied to a policy at its inception shall remain in force for the full term of the policy, regardless of any change in rate, unless the insured property is actually moved to a new location. Neither does it apply to policies effective prior to March 1, this year.

Training School for Club Reporters Held

4-H Girls Receive Instruction on How to Prepare Club News for Publication

"Be prompt and dependable if you want to be a good reporter for your club," admonished Miss Luzelle Bryan, Wheeler high school English and speech teacher, addressing those present at a training school for 4-H club reporters, held in the club room at the court house here Saturday.

"Name of the club, where it met, and the purpose for which it met belongs in the report. What else? Generally, the community likes to know who was on the program and what for and, lastly, those attending."

"Suppose you get all this done correctly, does that complete the job? No, because more important than writing is the importance of getting it to the paper. Don't phone unless you have to do so. Try to get it typed if possible, and be sure that every name is spelled correctly. This is where promptness and dependability enter the picture."

"Your publisher will appreciate getting well written reports. Your club will appreciate seeing their accomplishments in print, and more than all of this you'll be grateful that you were honored with the position of reporter, because you've learned that success comes with the doing of the job that is yours, whether large or small, better than anyone else can do that job," concluded Miss Bryan.

An efficient reporter is on time at meetings, has a notebook and several pencils, and takes notes carefully. In order to get the names of those attending the meeting spelled correctly, pass a sheet of paper around for those present to sign.

Each 4-H club reporter is responsible for a report of her club's meeting and is also responsible for the club scrapbook.

Examples of scrapbooks and news reports were read and explained.

ANNUAL F. F. A. FATHER AND SON BANQUET TUESDAY EVE

The fourth annual Father and Son banquet, sponsored by the Future Farmers of America chapter, was held Tuesday night in the home ec cottage on the school campus. The 70 fathers and sons present greatly enjoyed the lovely repast served by Mrs. Max Wiley and her group of home ec girls.

Principal feature of the program was a radio address at 7:30 by Hon. Coke Stevenson, Texas governor. Other numbers included a talk by Junior Ahler on the ways in which the local F. F. A. chapter has been of service to the community; Lowell Pendleton told of the summer trips taken by the membership; Lewis Craig gave the welcome address and Rev. Murray Fuquay offered the invocation. After group singing of the "Future Farmers Song" and "God Bless America," Rev. Wayne Cook concluded the program.

Those attending were Junior Ahler, Loyd Lee, Stewart Anglin, Don Anglin, Kenneth Crowder, C. C. Crowder, Rondell Dalton, Garland Foosee, G. M. Foosee, Charles Hubbard, Wayne Cook, Bailey Jolly, Jack Jolly, R. B. Mann, R. B. Mann, sr., Frank Mitchell, N. H. Mitchell, W. J. and Nile Patterson, H. N. RED CROSS NEEDS HELP

Leaders of the Red Cross sewing room project state that help is urgently needed and request all Wheeler women who can spare some time for the work to come to the room in the court house building and help cut and sew refuges. The room will be open afternoons except Sunday when help is badly needed.

Great Artist Coming to Pampa on March 5

Music lovers of Wheeler and the Top o' Texas area are looking forward to the appearance in Pampa on Thursday, March 5, of Rubinoff, the famous conductor, composer and violinist, and his $100,000 Stradivarius violin. He will offer a concert of popular classical music at the Junior high school auditorium on that date. There will be a school children's 25-cent matinee at 2:30 p. m. and an evening concert at 8:00 o'clock.

Rubinoff's coming affords an unusual opportunity for the people in cities and towns around Pampa due to the fact that it is rarely that such an outstanding star can arrange his itinerary to include cities under 50,000 population.

The nationally prominent radio, screen and stage star is being brought to Pampa in a benefit performance for the Pampa Civilian Defense council. His program will include music from his famed broadcasts, original compositions, tunes from his motion pictures and other familiar classics. Rubinoff strives to please all audiences, young and old, conservative music lovers and followers of the modern type of music.

Reserved seats are on sale at $1.65 and general admission tickets at $1.10 at Cretney Drug Store in Pampa. Mail orders will be filled in order of receipt by writing to the Pampa Civilian Defense council, P. O. Box 1942, Pampa, Texas.

KELTON HOMEMAKERS ENJOY MOTHER-DAUGHTER BANQUET

The Kelton Homemaking club sponsored a Mother and Daughter banquet on Thursday night, Feb. 12, honoring mothers of the high school girls. The Valentine motif was featured in decorations and menu.

The welcome was given by Celestial Lister, who stressed what a mother means to a daughter. Mrs. Bledsoe responded, developing the theme of what a daughter means to a mother. Three girls, Mary Lois Bledsoe, Joyce Killingsworth and Margie Faye Wallis, sang a special song accompanied by Mrs. Mathis at the piano. Mrs. Walser gave a reading entitled Mother, and the group sang "God Bless America."

A three-course dinner was served to Mesdames E. F. Armstrong, C. C. Brown, Bailey Whiteley, Floyd Carver, John Lister, George Burrell, Buster Walser, Lewis Bledsoe, Boyd Burks, Charles Torrance, Henry Pitcock, A. B. Pond, Annie Oglesby, Marvin Mathis, Jim Calcutte, Fred Harris and V. M. Lollar.

Former Wheeler Girl Marries at Midland

Mrs. John Ficke of Midland announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Silva Louise, to Mr. Elmer Dillard also of Midland, on Saturday, Feb. 7, at the Baptist parsonage in Tahoka by the Rev. Dale reading the beautiful yet simple ceremony in the presence of the groom's mother, Mrs. Dovie Dillard, and brother, Chester Dillard, and a group of close friends.

The bride wore a costume suit of pastel blue crepe designed as a tailored dress distinguished by a white collar and a full-length matching coat. Her accessories were navy blue.

Mrs. Dillard is the young and charming daughter of Mrs. John Ficke, Midland, and sister of Mrs. C. C. Hall and Miss Marguerite Ficke, Wheeler, where she graduated from high school in 1940 and had made her home for nearly nine years.

Mr. Dillard is well and favorably known in Tahoka, where he attended high school and lived for a number of years before going to Midland about a year ago to work in the Friday Boot shop, where he expects to continue.

The newly-weds are living at 602 North Pecos, Midland.

Rev. W. M. Wood, pastor of the Baptist church at Briscoe, was in Wheeler Wednesday on business.

justice of the peace of Precinct 1 previous to becoming county judge.

Speaking of his public service, he says: "I have always tried to be fair to everyone concerned while discharging the duties of this office. My record is open and I invite careful inspection by any who may be interested. I believe that my experience qualifies me to fulfill the duties of county judge even better in the future than in the past—with honor to myself and credit to the county—and if elected I shall strive to serve every citizen to the best of my ability at all times."

Hunt, in this manner, places his candidacy before the voters for reelection as county judge, soliciting their support and votes upon his record of service and the methods by which he has conducted the county's affairs insofar as his office and authority extends.

two aprons, a dress, a bonnet, a slip and pair of pillow cases. Also six garden goals; make a frame garden, plant, water, serve several dishes from garden, daily care of garden and vegetables and canning.

"I began my frame garden on March 24. I watered it by the tile method with water brought with a hose from the tank which went into a 3-gallon bucket which had the bottom cut out and replaced with a strainer to prevent clogging up. Cost of the project was $2.55.

"I planted two rows of mustard, three rows of lettuce, two rows of mustard spinach, two rows of radishes and three rows of carrots. Tomatoes and peppers were planted at one end for transplanting. I had bad luck, however, finding little green worms on the mustard, greens and lettuce. After spraying several times with calcium arsenate, the garden seemed to be dying and I planted between the rows. From the frame garden I served the family several meals.

"I helped mother can approximately 800 quarts for home use. Individual canning for club exhibit included 4 quarts relish, 7 pints vegetables, 3 pints fruit, 5 pints jellies and butter, 2 pints preserves and sauce and 2 pints of jam. Total 23 pints. I canned 42 quarts of vegetables, fruit and meat.

"I entered 65 jars at the county fair, receiving 6 first places and 11 second places on vegetables, fruit and meat and 5 third places on fruit and vegetables. At the Amarillo Tri-State fair my peaches and cherries each took first places and were kept on display; tomatoes, tomato juice, preserves and plums placed second.

"Clothing: I was clothing demonstrator of my club. I have made a dress, slip, two aprons, three scarfs, two cup towels, pillow cases, bonnet, underclothing, skirt and luncheon set. Cost of material for clothing articles was $3.96.

"At the county fair I received a blue ribbon on my bonnet and luncheon set and five white ribbons on clothing. At Amarillo my bonnet placed first, school dress second and dish towels and slip third.

"Altogether my prize money at the fairs in 1941 was $6.00. Total cost of all my demonstrations was $12.11. "To help improve the appearance of our home I enameled a small cabinet, a built-in cabinet and a radio table and painted a bench, bookcase and kitchen set made from coffee cans; and stained a floor. Total cost, $1.45.

"Poultry: Last May I bought 25 two-week-old Rhode Island Red chicks. I saw to it that they had plenty of feed and water at all times. As the chicks grew older I fed them ground grain and mash. Out of the 25, I raised 23. I canned one for the fair and we ate the fryers and kept the pullets for laying purposes. Including a coop made from a discarded car hood, the total cost was $4.00.

"Other daily activities at home included cleaning the house, gathering eggs, preparing school lunches, ironing and some of the baking.

Trip to College Station

"By June 23 I had completed my goals, winning a trip to A. & M. and Galveston. At the former place I attended several lectures. The most interesting thing to me was made-over dressers and other bedroom furniture. The most exciting things at Galveston was steering the boat and swimming in the Gulf."

... and once you've turned the starting dial, you don't even have to touch your Bendix!

Your Bendix Does It All by Itself!

All automatically, it fills itself with water of the correct temperature. Then, with a gentle "tumble-washing" action it forces soapy water through every fibre—removing every speck of dirt. And then, your Bendix changes the water and proceeds to give your clothes three separate rinses in three separate changes of clean water. Rinsing done, your Bendix drains the final rinse water and spins your clothes damp-dry—leaving them fluffy, wrinkle-free and ready for a taste of sunshine! When soaking is desired, it is easy to give clothes an active pre-soak in the Bendix.
