THE COUNTY SEAT NEWSPAPER

Dairy Test Project Proposed in County

Loan of Funds to Farm Boys for Purchase of Purebred Stock Part of Enterprise

That Wheeler county has been chosen as a trial ground of the Panhandle for an ambitious dairy test project, was announced this week by the county agent's office. Selection of this county for the new enterprise is the result of several years untiring efforts by Jake Tarter, county agent, and more recently the interest and co-operation of Charles Griffin, his assistant, and Frank Wofford, local Farm Security administration supervisor. Lubbock has been chosen as the dairy demonstration county of the South Plains. Wofford's office will play an important part in the program, sponsored by the Farm Security administration. Leading feature of the undertaking is a loan set-up by which 4-H club and F. F. A. boys who can qualify may borrow money from the government through the FSA to buy purebred, high production dairy stock.

Purchase of heifers, principally if not wholly of the Jersey breed, is contemplated. Tarter stated yesterday that demand for 100 or more heifers is now indicated.

The county agent and his assistant and vocational agriculture instructors of the county will have a share in supervising care and management of animals placed under this program.

Provisions of the loan include the following:

The loan will be for a term of five years. Each boy will be limited to not more than $150.00 and will be required to pay 5 per cent interest.

Boys making application for a loan must be regularly enrolled 4-H club or F. F. A. members. Those selected must have a good credit rating; this also includes the boy's father.

Boys purchasing dairy stock must follow a good management and breeding program as outlined by the Extension service. They should pay back the loan, if possible with returns from the first offspring of their purchase.

Applications for loans will be passed on by the County 4-H Club committee, composed of three farmers of the county.

Any eligible boy wishing to enter this dairy project should apply at the county agent's office for an application blank and further particulars regarding the program.

Legion Post Donates Placards to Schools

The American Legion Post of Wheeler is sponsoring a highly commendable patriotic service throughout the area of its membership. The post secured a quantity of beautifully printed and decorated placards bearing the pledge of allegiance to the Flag. A supply of these have been placed in the schools at Wheeler, Mobeetie, Briscoe, Allison and Kelton, free of charge.

To help defray cost of the donation, members of the post are selling additional copies of the placards to business firms, professional men and women and private individuals. It is believed distribution of the placards will inculcate a patriotic spirit and aid several in memorizing the pledge.

Incidentally, the post is now engaged in its annual membership drive, according to Jim Risner, adjutant. The quota this year is 40, and up to yesterday 29 members had been enrolled. Risner intimates that service men who are not affiliated with the organization on or before Jan. 1, closing date for enrollment, may be dealt with rather harshly. He didn't say who would help him, however.

BRISCOE YOUTH AT ABILENE COLLEGE IS HONOR STUDENT

Dow Wilson, student in Abilene Christian college, was among those listed on the honor roll compiled recently from mid-semester reports. Recognition on this roll indicates outstanding scholastic work.

Dow is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Wilson of Briscoe. He was pastor of the Wheeler Church of Christ for some time before leaving for college.

Local Attorney Moves Office
Dennis Reynolds, Wheeler attorney, this week moved his office from its former location in the Agnes Reynolds building to a frame building just west of the telephone office. A better location and other minor reasons are given as the cause of the move.

TIMES WINDOW EXHIBITS UNUSUAL ARTICLE

Fear is entertained that Lewis Nordyke, Sunday morning KGNC exchange editor, may be disappointed when he reads this week's Times window display report. (Nordyke claims he reads the report each week, and stoutly denies that he is a whippersnapper, and this writer isn't "hedging"). Anyway, we've got to let him find out—but feel the unusual nature of the lone specimen compensates for quantity.

Since Monday a statuette of Will Rogers, with his famous saying "I never met a man I didn't like," inscribed on its base, has adorned the window. The privilege of displaying this object was granted by Atty. H. B. Hill of Shamrock, to whom it was presented as a memento during a Thanksgiving program at the Plainview school house.

Several of Hill's admirers (among them The Times) credit him with possessing many of the famous humorist's attributes, such as rugged honesty, courage to stand for what he believes is right, and a desire to be of service to his fellow-citizens.

Grand Jury Returns Another Indictment

Examining Body in Session Monday—Court Three Days this Week—No Jury Next Week

When district court re-convened Monday morning, the grand jury also resumed its labors. After remaining in session until after noon, it recessed until Dec. 17. Result of investigations, as reported to the court, was one bill of indictment, a felony charge against John Emler, accused of theft of some welding equipment.

Sheriff Jess Swink brought Emler back from Lovington, N. Mex., where he had been apprehended, to answer the charge. Bond has been made and the plaintiff released. Emler's trial may be held later in the present term of court.

Upon finding no cases ready for hearing Monday, Judge W. R. Ewing excused the petit jury until this (Thursday) morning. Only a brief session of court was held Tuesday.

After court opened today a jury was selected and testimony heard in the case of E. A. Shackelford v. D. L. Bowers, et ux, styled try title and damages. The case was settled out of court around the noon hour. The jury was dismissed and court adjourned for the remainder of the week.

Next week, the fifth of the current term, originally designated as jury, civil, may establish a record in that no jury will be called for possible service. Judge Ewing stated this afternoon that some half dozen or so non-jury matters were scheduled for Monday and Tuesday, but several of these may be settled without trial or dismissed entirely.

Good Response Given Red Cross Roll Call

According to figures released today by C. J. Meek, roll call chairman for Wheeler chapter of the American Red Cross, a good response was given in the roll call campaign which closed Nov. 30.

Grand total membership fees, with Kelton yet to report, are $234.05. By areas, returns are as follows:

Wheeler City	$139.05
Mobeetie	34.00
Briscoe	33.00
Rock School district	19.00
Jowett Power Plant	9.00

Although that community, as such, does not appear in the above tabulation, Mrs. R. Wm. Brown, junior roll call chairman for the local chapter, states that the Allison schools have 100 per cent membership in the Red Cross.

LOCAL MAN SUBMITS QUAIL HUNTING, EATING RECORD

Comes now Don Anglin, assistant Wheeler postmaster, to submit a record which he invites anybody to shoot at and beat if they can. Anglin declares that one day early this week he left the office, killed a mess of quail, took them home and with the help of Mrs. Anglin, prepared, cooked and ate them and returned to work in 50 minutes. There was not a large number of the birds, he explained, but served his family of four. When asked jokingly if he didn't also have an after-lunch nap, Anglin said no, but added that he did sit down and enjoy a smoke before returning to his duties—all in an hour—10 minutes to spare.

First Boy Scout Day for Area Successful

Leaders Well Pleased with Initial Annual Event for Region of Adobe Walls Council

The First Annual Boy Scout Day, held by the Adobe Walls council at Pampa last Thursday, was extremely successful, according to word received from the council office.

For the first time in the history of the Adobe Walls area, a day dedicated to Scouts and Cubs of this section, was planned and executed by the executive board of the council, and from the record attendance of boys and leaders, as well as favorable comments by the visitors and Pampan, was considered one of the finest events this area has ever had.

During the day, 734 men and boys were guests of the LaNora Theatre at a morning picture show, had a barbecue lunch as guests of a group of Pampa business men, and attended the Pampa-Borger football game as guests of the two schools.

One hundred and eighteen men were in attendance with the 616 Scouts and Cubs who represented 40 of the council's 54 troops, and all 10 of the Cub Packs.

These figures are taken from the registration records in the office, and there may be a great many more who attended and did not check into the office during the morning.

Scout leaders throughout the area were highly pleased at the number of parents who attended Boy Scout Day, in addition to registered leaders.

Immediately following registration at the city hall, Scouts and Cubs marched in a parade through the business section of Pampa, led by R. G. Hughes, council president, and members of the executive board. The parade disbanded at the theatre, where the boys saw Gene Autry in "Back in the Saddle."

A barbecue lunch was served at the junior high school cafeteria, and immediately after lunch each group went to Harvester stadium with its leaders.

A very colorful flag ceremony was presented by the boys just before the opening kickoff of the football game. All national flags present were paraded to the center of the field, followed by the troop and pack flags. In single file behind the flags came the 600 odd Scouts and Cubs, who massed around the flags.

The entire crowd, out to see the game, then participated in the Pledge of Allegiance, led by Star Scout Buster Walker of Troop 17, Pampa, and in the singing of God Bless America, led by J. Troy Israel, field executive of the southern section, accompanied by the Pampa high school band.

It is planned to make Boy Scout Day at Pampa an annual council event, and Junior Chamber of Commerce leaders, council officers and school officials are already at work to set the date.

Scouts from Wheeler attending the event were Donald Hunt, Jean Hall, F. B. and Lewis Craig, Charles Hubbard, Don Farmer, Chester Anglin, Bobby Rodgers, Junior Ahler, Marion Lee Guthrie, Delbert McWhorter, Gene Hubbard and Oscar Ashley, Cub Scout.

Several local men, driving their cars, furnished transportation for the group.

Public Scale Service Opens Here this Week

Signed by W. A. (Uncle Bill) Genthe, a notice to the public on another page of this paper announces the opening here, this week, of public scale service in conformity to law. Genthe has filed a bond as public weigher and will be in charge. He may employ a deputy if desired.

The new scales, located on the west side of the Wheeler Cotton Oil Mill (which made the installation at considerable cost) are adequate for weighing any size load which may pass this way.

Incidentally, the scales—with their ample capacity and official sanction—supply a real need in this community. The only previously existing similar facilities were unable to handle some of the huge loads now traveling the highways and also lacked legal status as public scales operated by a duly constituted weigher, as is now the case.

Visitors from Louisiana

Marion Moore, who is employed in the oil fields near Morgan City, La., came home Thursday noon and spent the Thanksgiving vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Moore, and family. His friend, Ed McGinnis, came with him and was a guest in the Moore home. They returned Sunday morning.

Nearby Resident Dies Last Wednesday Night

Mrs. Helton Passes Away Suddenly at Family Home in Corn Valley Community

Mrs. Scott Helton passed away just after midnight last Wednesday night at the family home in the Corn Valley community, northwest of Wheeler. Her death was sudden, coming after only a few hours serious illness. However, she had been in failing health for some time.

Death was attributed to an attack of gall bladder ailment.

Ida Lupardus was born March 8, 1880, in Miller county, Mo., and died Nov. 27, 1941, in Wheeler county, Texas, at the age of 61 years, eight months and 18 days.

On April 16, 1899, she was married to Scott Helton in Missouri, where they lived until 1914, when they moved to Wheeler county and had since made their home here and in Hemphill county.

To this union were born 11 children, five of whom preceded the mother in death.

At an early age she joined the Christian New Light church and had lived a devoted life; always kind and patient, and ready at all times to help a neighbor or friend. She was a wife and mother who will long be remembered.

Besides the husband, she is survived by four sons, Virgil and Tom Helton, Briscoe; Earl Helton, Tehachapi, Calif.; and Ben Helton at home, and two daughters, Mrs. Gwyn Edwards, Rising Sun, Md., and Mrs. Leroy Boone, Canadian; six sisters, Mesdames May McDonald, Rachel Wyrick, Bess Brown, Fred Patterson, Dell Gower and Moll Sullivan, and three brothers, H. B. T. C. and James Lupardus, and 18 grandchildren and a host of friends.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the Methodist church in Briscoe by Rev. R. O. Browder, of Westbrook, former Briscoe pastor, assisted by Rev. Eugene L. Naugle and Rev. O. C. Evans.

Pallbearers were Lawrence Barry, Bert Davis, E. N. Hammer, Floyd Atherton, Fred Waters and John Young.

Flower girls were Bessie Davis, Mary Ruth Evans, Betty Young, Ruth Puryear, Zetha and Betty Ruth Dickenson, LaDell Atherton, Rozena Helton, Martha Sue Dickinson and Nellie Ruth Boone.

Interment was in the Zybach cemetery with the Hunt Funeral Home in charge.

All of Mrs. Helton's children and a number of other relatives attended the last rites.

Two Robinson Boys of Mobeetie Take Brides

Announcement has just been made of the recent weddings of Jack and Billie Robinson, sons of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Robinson of Mobeetie.

The marriage of Jack Robinson and Miss Ethel Seitz was solemnized Nov. 7 in the home of Rev. G. W. McLain, Mobeetie Methodist pastor, who performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Robinson is the daughter of Mrs. J. W. Seitz of Pampa, formerly of White Deer, and was a graduate of the White Deer high school in 1940.

The couple will live on a ranch south of Mobeetie.

Attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. George Robinson and Mr. and Mrs. Al Thomas.

Billie Robinson and Miss Ruth Culp were united in marriage Nov. 15 at Wichita Falls in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Culp, parents of the bride.

The newly-weds will reside at El Paso, where Robinson is stationed with the army.

DISTRICT MONTHLY LEGION MEET AT MEMPHIS DEC. 10

Announcement has been made by J. M. Johnson, Canadian, 18th District American Legion commander, that the monthly district meeting of that organization will be held at Memphis on Wednesday, Dec. 10.

The Charles R. Simmons post and auxiliary will be hosts at the session, which is to be a rehabilitation meeting. Lunch will be served at 7:30 p. m.

KELTON YOUNG MAN MAKES SPLENDID GRADES AT O. U.

Weldon Armstrong, who has been attending school at Oklahoma University, Norman, arrived home last week to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with his parents and sister, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Armstrong and Miss Benita Mae, of Kelton.

A report from the university reveals that young Armstrong made the highest grade in English and one of the highest in mathematics for his section in recent tests.

TENDERFOOT WANTS THREE THINGS IN PANHANDLE

A friendly reporter submits the following: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Showater of Arkansas City and Mr. and Mrs. Bim Bearlow of Wisconsin spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Meadows, sr., of Briscoe. Mrs. Showater and Mrs. Meadows are sisters. It was Mr. Bearlow's first visit to Texas and he wanted to hear a coyote howl and expected to see Indians on the war path.

Mr. Bearlow declared that where he was reared, the prize watermelon weighed 12 pounds. He said the friendly Texas people were a pleasure to meet and that he was coming back in watermelon time, and there are three things he wants upon his return—a 10-gallon hat, a pair of cowboy boots, and a peep in The Times window.

Baptist Church Plans Extensive Alteration

Adopts Finance Goal of $2,000 for Making Interior Changes and Needed Installations

Members of the Wheeler Baptist church recently decided to undertake extensive interior alterations of the edifice, together with installation of some badly-needed facilities. To finance the project a goal of approximately $2,000 was adopted. The financial campaign to secure this sum was officially launched Sunday, Nov. 23.

Compilation of pledges and money received to date last Sunday morning showed that $1,429 of the desired amount was obtained in one week's canvass. Solicitation of the membership continues in an effort to reach the total decided upon.

Changes and installations contemplated include a general rearrangement of the auditorium, placing choir accommodations and pulpit in the north end of the building, where it is also planned to install a baptistry. Furnishing the auditorium with regulation church pews is another feature of the undertaking.

Wellington Lady Dies at Mobeetie, Nov. 21

Mrs. Nancy Cathleen Graham, 89, one of the Wellington area's oldest citizens, died Friday, Nov. 21, at the home of a daughter, Mrs. A. D. Alexander, of Mobeetie. The deceased had been a resident of Collingsworth county for 27 years and had made her home in Texas and Oklahoma for about 48 yeears.

Funeral services were conducted on Saturday afternoon following from the First Baptist church in Wellington, with Rev. J. P. Neal, pastor, in charge. Interment was in the Quail cemetery.

A native of Corinth, Mississippi, Mrs. Graham was born Nancy Cathleen Bowie, on Jan. 14, 1852, and at the time of her death was 89 years, 10 months and seven days of age. She was a relative of James Bowie, one of the immortal defenders of the Alamo.

She grew to womanhood at Corinth and about 70 years ago was married to G. W. Graham, who preceded her in death in 1900.

Upon leaving Mississippi 48 years ago, the family came to the Indian Territory, but after a few years moved to East Texas. She located at Wellington with her children 27 years ago and during recent years had spent her time visiting among them.

She had been for many years a member of the Baptist church, and served it devotedly.

Surviving Mrs. Graham are nine sons and one daughter: J. R. Graham, Lockney; W. E. Graham, Caddo Mills; H. L. Graham, Royce City; G. L. Graham, Greenville; Mrs. A. D. Alexander, Mobeetie; R. E. Graham, O. O. Graham, G. C. Graham, H. G. Graham and C. S. Graham, Wellington. Other survivors include a sister, Mrs. Sally Taylor, of Corinth, Miss., 45 grandchildren and 21 great-grandchildren.

DINNER AT COLLINS HOME SUNDAY HONORS RELATIVE

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Collins of Mobeetie were hosts at a Thanksgiving dinner in their home Sunday honoring Mrs. Collins' father, W. F. Ratchford, of Shamrock.

Those enjoying the happy occasion were Mrs. J. D. Futch and children, Virginia and Loyd, Kelton; Mr. and Mrs. Myrl Nix and children, Bobby and Laverna, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lee and children, Bobby and Patsy, Erick, Okla.; Mrs. O. H. Lanier and children, Alice Jean and Danny; the honoree, W. F. Ratchford, Shamrock, and Mr. and Mrs. Collins and children.

Plans for Holiday Events Go Forward

Two Big Days Planned—Old Santa Coming with Treats Dec. 24; Poultry Throw Dec. 20

Compilation of its report late today by the finance committee charged with securing subscriptions to a fund providing for pre-holiday events here, shows ample money collected or pledged to meet all requirements of the two days planned thus far.

The events definitely assured are Santa Claus day on Wednesday, Dec. 24, when that jolly old gentleman will appear in person with treats of candy, nuts and fruit for all girls and boys 14 years old and under who meet him here at that time.

The other event is a "poultry throw" on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 20. This attraction, which had proved quite popular in previous seasons, was dispensed with last year for good reasons. Now it will be revived with all its attendant fun, excitement and profit. This year, with prevailing prices, it will really be profitable to those who succeed in capturing a turkey, while a nice fat hen or a guinea is nothing to be sneered at.

Number of the various kinds of poultry to be released will be determined in a committee meeting at an early date.

Santa Claus day has become a firmly fixed institution in Wheeler. The observation of one business man last year who said he would rather see any other part of the festivities dispensed with rather than Santa Claus day, reveals the general attitude toward this event.

SANTA COMING, SURE!
Therefore it can be definitely stated for the information of boys and girls of Wheeler and community within the prescribed age limit, that Santa Claus will be in Wheeler Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 24, at 2 o'clock with treats for all. And these boys and girls are invited by Wheeler merchants to be on hand.

The finance committee named by the Lions club to handle the solicitation of funds consists of C. J. Meek, Homer Moss and T. L. Gunter. An operations committee appointed to co-operate with these men includes C. G. Miller, Raymon Holt and Fred Ashley.

Besides these two events, as has previously been stated, Appreciation Day sessions will be conducted on the usual dates—each Saturday afternoon.

Merchants Are Ready
A word regarding preparations by Wheeler merchants to serve holiday shoppers should not be amiss. Even a casual survey of display windows and store interiors will convince the most skeptical that a wide range of wants can be supplied right here at home. And one attractive feature is the reasonable prices.

Wheeler merchants, to the best of this writer's knowledge and belief, have never—and certainly are not doing it this year—followed the practice of a holiday "mark-up" on merchandise in an effort to take advantage of hurried (and sometimes worried) Christmas shoppers. Fair prices this year, as in the past, prevail here.

Speaking of Wheeler as a trading center cannot be exaggerated.

Which reminds one of the remark by an elderly Oklahoma editor some years ago. He said people had "accused his paper of lying, when as a matter of fact it didn't have enough space to tell half the truth—without resorting to falsehoods."

Former Wheeler Pair Wed in Arizona City

A wedding that will be of interest to their many friends in Wheeler is that of Miss Claudia Stinson and Sgt. Robert L. Tillman, which took place Saturday, Nov. 8, at Las Vegas, Nev. They were attended by the bride's sister, Miss Leatrice Stinson, and L. D. Armstrong.

Mrs. Tillman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Stinson of Kingman, Ariz. They formerly lived on the J. M. Porter ranch, near Wheeler, where she received her high school education and took a leading part in all school activities.

Mr. Tillman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eb Tillman of Wheeler, where he graduated from high school and was outstanding in football, basketball and other athletics.

Mr. and Mrs. Tillman will make their home in Las Vegas, according to their present plans.

Miss Marthals Wiley, who is teaching in the McLean schools, spent the Thanksgiving vacation in Wheeler with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Wiley, and family.

WHY RUSH INTO WAR?

You never hear the father or mother of a soldier boy favoring the repeal of the Neutrality Act that will put our ships in the fighting zones to where they will be sunk. No, not yet. We need more defense materials of all kinds.

With all the strikes going on, Cong. Gene Worley could not be expected to favor any act that would mean war right now while our nation is unprepared, and the defense plants tangled up with strikes.

Gene Worley wants to give our nation a break. He has a deep feeling for the boys who will go on the firing line. He wants our boys to be better prepared than those of any other nation on earth. So does your humble editor.

Gene Worley was right when he became one of four Texas congressmen to vote against the repeal of the Neutrality Act.—Donley County Leader.

The Times heartily approves the foregoing statements and just as heartily endorses Cong. Worley's action, pledging its support to him whenever, wherever and however, needed.

THE REAL MENACE

Today America is face to face with many dangers. Not all of them carry machine guns or fly in dive bombers, but just the same, they imperil our safety and our happiness.

We are arming to protect our way of life from aggression. Yet the truth is that the entire force of Hitlerism, great as it is, constitutes a less tangible threat to our American standards of living than a careless method of financing the defense program. Unwise taxation can be as destructive as torpedoes.

Taxes are going up at such a rate that America must take stock of its entire tax situation—must enforce non-military economies and raise additional revenue in a wise and equitable manner. Already the average man here pays more to his government than the average Englishman does. High as our taxes are today, however, indications are that they are only the beginning of what we shall have to pay in the years to come.

The 100 billion dollars that are currently reported to be scheduled for defense are only a down payment on the final total, whatever it will be. Additional expenditures, interest charges—factors like these may well double that figure!

No one questions money spent for defending our freedom. But we must make sure that that money is raised wisely.

Congress must bear in mind the problems of post-war adjustments, and particularly the future needs of business enterprises to meet payrolls and provide working capital in the years ahead. New taxes must be levied, but they must be levied in such a way that they will not hamper production and throw men out of work.

Great economies must also be made in non-defense spending. Before putting out one dollar for defense, we are hog-tied to an 18 billion dollar structure of federal, state and local non-defense expenditure, and this must be reduced. For, unless we finance the defense program wisely, we may find that economic disorganizations at the end of this emergency may destroy the very things we are arming to keep.

A LAW IS STILL NEEDED

It probably is dismaying to labor leaders to learn that, despite the ending of the coal miners' strike, there still is a strong demand in congress and in the country for legislation that will virtually outlaw strikes in defense industries.

Several measures have been proposed, with that by Senator Connally regarded as the most feasible. Both of the labor groups may shortly find themselves forced to engage in a defensive battle to prevent enactment of laws which would wipe out much of the ground they have gained in recent years.

The state of mind of the American people favors a strong law against strikes, one that will make it virtually impossible for a union to call a strike until all means of conciliation and arbitration have been exhausted.

The public temper is particularly aroused against strikes which involve jurisdictional questions rather than wages and work-hours. Many of the man-hours that have been lost in defense industries in recent months have been due to that kind of strike.

The whole trouble arises out of the unwillingness of those in authority in the unions to accept the responsibility that authority confers.

The general feeling for laws that will establish such responsibility was not abated by the conclusion of the coal strike. Back of that feeling is the insistence that the defense program be not imperiled again by labor disputes.

LOBBYISTS IN DEFENSE

Spending policies of the Roosevelt administration have brought to Washington bigger swarms of lobbyists than ever before. The awarding of fat defense contracts in the last year and a half has led many contractors and manufacturers to spend large sums on the services of men who claim they can obtain big favors from Uncle Sam.

One former federal official of high rank is now suing an ordinance company for $700,000 which he alleges is due him as a lobbyist's fee for obtaining a contract of 100 times that amount.

This unnecessary lobbying activity adds considerably to the cost of defense activities, since the taxpayer in the end must pay the whole bill. The president and some congressmen have expressed themselves in favor of regulatory measures aimed to keep lobbying out of defense work.

To abolish lobbying entirely would be both impossible under the constitution and undesirable, since any citizen should have the right to appeal to congress for redress of wrongs or for other purposes.

Earlier efforts to curb lobbying, both in Washington and in the state capitals, have not had much success. The main need is to force lobbying into the open as far as possible, with requirements for registration of lobbyists and listing of their employers and their fees. If this is done rigorously, the pressure of public opinion may cause abandonment of at least some of the worst practices of those working for private ends in Washington.

VOTE OR DON'T KICK

Next year the American people will pay the heaviest taxes in our history. They will pay willingly every dime that is needed for real defense. But they will resent being forced to pay now for government "luxuries" and non-essentials.

Political spending for unnecessary activities is nothing short of a disgrace. For instance, costly WPA "art projects" have again been given official approval. And that is done at a time when the cost of defense will be a great hardship on small incomes, no less than big, and when we are told business cannot continue as usual and when all must "sacrifice."

It has been reliably estimated that the normal cost of government could be cut by a billion or more dollars a year without imperiling or eliminating any essential activity. But congress won't move a single step in the direction of economy until the people demand it through their action at the polls. So don't kick at waste until you are ready to vote an emphatic "No" against individuals and agencies that countenance waste.

DRYS LOOKING AHEAD

Texas drys are laying their plans for a state-wide prohibition election in 1943, and are perfecting a far-flung organization to further their cause.

Their belief, according to one of their leaders, is that the younger voters who have come of age since repeal was enacted, will actively support a dry amendment. They apparently are counting heavily upon that class of voters. In churches and Sunday schools, systematic efforts are made to instill prohibition sentiment into the upcoming generation.

Many of those active in the dry cause believe that much of the support for repeal came from relatively young voters who, never having lived in legally wet territory were unaware of what repeal would mean.

They hope to use that lesson to advantage when the question comes up again.

Regardless of the attitude of the younger voters, the contest will be a hard-fought one, if it develops. There is much dry sentiment in Texas, but not all of it keeps state-wide prohibition as a solution. Also there are many voters who though very skeptical of state-wide prohibition, see the need of curbing and disciplining the liquor traffic. The lines will not be drawn as clearly as in the old days.

And the wets would blunder grievously if they assumed that the drys had no chance to succeed.

Furthermore, an incident in one of the recent county-wide elections here could be construed as a straw in the wind indicating some present wets might change their attitude under certain circumstances.

A wholesale beer dealer said that he would continue in that business until it was voted out, adding however, with apparent sincerity, that if it were a nation-wide (or even state-wide) dry movement, he would vote against beer and liquors of all kinds, feeling it a service to mankind.

He was opposed to adjoining counties (or states) reaping profits from the traffic at the expense of adjacent dry territory.

Many ordinarily wet or indifferent voters may have a chance to register their disapproval of the liquor business on a state-wide proposition next year. Rising sentiment might also bring a nation-wide referendum on the question in the not far distant future.

Pertinent Paragraphs from Panhandle Press

Items of interest culled from newspapers on The Times' exchange list.

"It's a terrible thing to think that I sold my jalopy and mortgaged my farm to send my son, Ozzie, to the university," stated Hastoon Yazzie, president of the chamber of commerce down at Hog Jaw. "Ozzie ain't done nothin' but smoke, dance and take the gals to parties," Yazzie said. "That's just like an old goat, regret Ozzie's chance because you ain't had any training," replied Oola Yurt, the modern gal of the town. "That's just it," said Hastoon, "I should have gone myself!"—Donley County Leader.

Saturday was blustery with snow and rain during much of the day. The official observer, Mrs. Le Maltzberger, reports 32 inch moisture. Sunday morning the temperature dropped to around 15 above zero.—Higgins News.

Discontinuing of the Lewis Lumber company in Wellington brings to light an interesting story in lumber business in this section of the state, as well as in the Lewis family. It means the end of 41 years in the business for Gene Lewis, manager, and the closing of 71 years in the lumber business for the Lewis family. Mr. Lewis took over the firm from his father, S. P. Lewis, who died about 15 years ago.—Wellington Leader.

J. R. Harris, State Highway department engineer, has been charged with murder in a complaint signed by Sheriff A. A. Payne growing out of an automobile collision Sept. 4, 1941, which claimed the life of Elzie Stephens, 22-year-old Cottle county farm laborer. Stephens was killed instantly and Harris received a double fracture of the jaw and numerous bruises and lacerations when their cars crashed about eight miles south of Paducah on U. S. Highway 83. Harris' serious physical condition delayed filing charges.—Paducah Post.

Two Pampa men have purchased eight sections of Hemphill county land from Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Freeman of Canadian for a consideration of $63,975. This land lies in South-eastern Hemphill county and is known as part of the old Frank Trammell ranch. Buyers were G. B. Cree and B. L. Hoover of Pampa. Freeman announced the purchase of some 21 1/4 sections of the Trammell ranch last March. The consideration named was $100,000.—Canadian Record.

Contrary to prediction of court observers, defense attorney E. J. Cussens answered ready for trial when District Judge Jack Allen on Monday morning called the case of the State of Texas against M. C. Martin, charged with the murder of Ernest Anderson. Anderson was shot to death at his home in this city on Sept. 13. Martin surrendered to Sheriff Talley shortly after the killing. He was released on bond pending action of the grand jury. The grand jury returned an indictment charging him with murder. When arraigned before Judge Allen Nov. 17, Martin plead not guilty and Nov. 24 was set as the date for the trial.—Ochiltree County Herald.

A $10,000 check for Clarendon citizens is in the offing and should reach here by Thanksgiving day (today). Mayor T. F. Connally announced last night. The check will close the pages of the long waged gas rate war between the City of Clarendon and the City Gas company. Construction was started on a cold storage locker plant in connection with the J. L. Graham grocery here this week and it was believed that the plant would be in operation within two weeks. The room for the individual lockers will be located in the main portion of the store and the cooling and curing rooms will be located back of that.—Panhandle Herald.

There is no joke about the necessity of shopping early this year. Most business men realize that after their present stocks are sold, the chances are poor for replacing hundreds of items. The public in general is not fully aware of the shortage which exists in many lines of merchandise, but will find this to be true if they wait until the last minute to rush out to do their Christmas shopping.—Canyon News.

It sometimes occurs to me that this is a queer world. And the queer ideas of queer people about queer things make the world queerer. Then another thought comes that maybe, after all, these queer ideas of queer people about queer things may be all that there is queer about the world.—Jodok, in the Friona Star.

Mrs. S. W. Corbin, general chairman of the Roberts county Red Cross, reports that the 1941 membership drive is coming along fine and is nearing the goal set for the local chapter. The membership drive will end Nov. 30. E. M. Ballegee, chairman of the Junior Red Cross drive, reported Tuesday morning that it was 100 per cent in the schools.—Miami Chief.

It looks like a shame that this country could not learn how to finish cattle. If we could use the small grain that we have raised this year and take our steers, when they reach about a thousand pounds in weight and finish them up with about six weeks of feed we could be on top of the world. Cattle that come right off of wheat pasture are not good steak. They must have some grain to make prime beef.—Spearman Reporter.

The McLean Tigers won the championship of District 3-A, when they trounced the Shamrock Irishmen at Tiger Field last Friday night to the tune of 19 to 6. The Tigers will now meet the Floydada team in a bi-district game to be played at McLean Friday afternoon, Dec. 5.—McLean News.

Furniture for Christmas Gifts

Furniture is always a welcome present for the whole family. This season we urge, stronger than ever before, the giving of useful, practical Christmas Gifts, such as furniture. We all want to remember our loved ones and friends at Christmas time with gifts; and how welcome are real, sensible gifts which combine beauty and utility. We have a splendid array of such gifts, and our furniture and rug department stands high in the list with choice articles for the home.

In stock, right on our floor, will be found items for every room in the house, including Bedroom and Dining Room Suites, Living Room Suites, Studio Couch and Chesterfield Sets, Kitchen Furniture, Perfection Oil Ranges and Stoves. And, remember, war time restrictions are already hampering delivery on many lines—therefore, it is wise to buy when and where merchandise can be obtained at time of purchase.

Sunshine Club Meets

"Clean any brush before using it and shake out all loose bristles. Wash new or old brushes with warm water and soap; rinse and let stand overnight in turpentine. This sets the bristles and prevents them from pulling out while the finish is being applied. Be sure to dry the brush well before beginning the work." Miss Lucile Chance, county home demonstration agent, told members of the Sunshine Home Demonstration club at its regular meeting on Thursday afternoon of last week in the home of Mrs. Shirley Braxton in the Porter community.

Continuing the demonstration on refinishing floors, walls and woodwork, Miss Chance stated that after brushes have been used they should be cleaned, wrapped in wax paper and put away flat until again needed.

During the business meeting, Mrs. John Porter was elected council delegate and Mrs. J. F. Witt, parliamentarian.

Those present were Mesdames John Scott, John Porter, George Dodson, Shirley Braxton and W. H. Murray, members; Miss Lucile Chance and Mrs. Pauline Villareal, visitors.—Reporter.

Country Neighbors to Meet Dec. 19

Because of the club council party dated for the night of Dec. 12, the Country Neighbors club will hold its Christmas party and all-day meeting on Friday, Dec. 19, in the home of Mrs. M. A. Pillers. A covered dish luncheon will be served at the noon hour. Each member is expected to bring a gift and a covered dish of food for the luncheon. All members should be present and enjoy the fun; visitors welcome.—MRS. THOMAS TODD, Reporter.

Briscoe H. D. Club Meets

The Briscoe Home Demonstration club met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. John McCarroll, with Mrs. Bob Ramsey, chairman, in charge. Plans were made for a "Family" Christmas party.

Roll call was answered by passing candy and giving recipe for same. The atmosphere reflected the Christmas spirit. A table loaded with brightly wrapped packages, with a lovely little tree in the center, mutually portrayed Yuletide.

Numbers were drawn and gifts exchanged. After this, "club friends" gifts were handed out.

Refreshments of fruit, candy and nuts were served to Mesdames Chas. Taylor, Milton Finsterwald and Farmer Hefley, visitors; Mesdames Clint Higgins, Mount Tipps, P. L. Meadows, Lee Barry, J. G. Newman, W. H. Lee, John Zybach, Verne Lohberger, Elbert Zybach, Bob Greenhouse, Clarence Zybach, Lester Johnston and the hostess, Mrs. John McCarroll.—MRS. LEE BARRY, Reporter.

IT'S YOUR LIFE

Texas Safety Association

When your back wheels slide crazily and your heart sinks—you are driving too fast for safety. But how can you tell when you are likely to skid?

One way to find out is to try out your brakes on a slippery road while traveling at about 10 miles an hour. If your car tends to slide at this speed, be extremely careful at higher speeds.

Exactly what you do when your car is skidding depends on your driving experience. Here are some suggestions, however, that are well worth following:

1. Don't put your foot on the brake.
 2. Don't throw out your clutch. It is better to stall your engine than to allow your car to waltz all over the road.
 3. Take your foot off the gas.
 4. To pull out of a skid, turn the steering wheel in the same direction that the rear of the car is sliding. You must be quick about this or the skid will be over and any damage likely to occur will be done.
- Swerving suddenly or jamming on your brakes at high speed may cause skidding even on dry roads. A slight swerve or a sharp turn even at a reasonable speed on wet, oily, or icy pavements, or roads covered with soggy leaves may result in a disastrous skid. Smooth, worn tires and unequal brake or air pressure are also frequently the causes of serious skids.

Stopping on slippery or icy streets is often difficult. The first rule for safe stopping under these conditions is to begin slowing your car at some distance from the place where you wish to stop. At first, press your brake lightly and release almost at once. Then press it again, release quickly, and repeat. By using this method, instead of applying your brakes continuously, you can usually stop without skidding.

Cheese Stored Under Water

Ordinary water may prove a satisfactory answer to the cheese producers' most baffling problem, the packaging of natural cheese. Experiments conducted by the Wisconsin College of Agriculture show that natural cheese will keep in good condition if sealed in small, water-tight packages and stored under water at temperature of 40 to 60 degrees.

Lawrence's Feeds are Balanced

WITH FATS, CARBOHYDRATES, VITAMINS PROTEINS AND MINERALS

The Lawrence Hatchery & Feed Mill has developed a complete line of feeds to meet every requirement in poultry raising. Each of the different feeds making up this line has a particular place in feeding and farm production, according to circumstances (that is, whether there are plenty of home-grown grains or not) and according to the specific purpose for which you are feeding—egg production, meat production or breeding purposes.

When you feed your flock according to the recommended Lawrence feeding program, you can be sure that you are providing the necessary nutrients—proteins, carbohydrates, fats, vitamins and minerals—of the highest quality, in the proper amounts, and in a form that can be readily assimilated by the birds.

Letters to Santa

Wheeler, Texas, Nov. 22, 1941

Dear Santa:

I have been a very good little girl and I sure am proud, now that Christmas has arrived. I want a little doll with long hair, a sewing machine with a handle on it and a sled. I can't have any candy, but you can bring me some fruit and nuts. I also want an electric iron. Be good to all the other little boys and girls. With love,

GLENDAN ANN PORTER.

Wheeler, Texas, Nov. 22, 1941

Dear Santa:

Please bring me a doll, rocking chair, set of dishes, a table and a doll bed.

JANICE JACO.

Briscoe, Texas, Nov. 24, 1941

Dear Santa:

Please bring me a doll and a little refrigerator. Please remember all the other little girls and boys. Lots of love,

WANDA DIXON.

Wheeler, Texas, Nov. 29, 1941

Dear Santa Claus:

I am a little girl 6 years old and I have been very good this year. I would like for you to bring me a doll with blonde, curly hair and with a blue taffeta dress on, a little vanity dresser and a set of silverware for my doll. Please don't forget all the other little boys and girls. Your little friend,

LORETTA CROWDER.

Briscoe, Texas, Nov. 25, 1941

Dear Santa:

I want a doll bed and some story books and color books for Christmas. I have a little brother 2 years old. His name is Roy Davis. Bring him a horse to ride. He has a cowboy suit and boots, so all he lacks is a horse. I have a little cousin, Peggy Lou Douthit; bring her a red wagon. Remember all the children. Your little friend,

PATSY NORENE WATERS.

Wheeler, Texas, Dec. 3, 1941

Dear Santa:

Please bring me a teddy bear and a little doctor's set.

JANET RUSS.

Wheeler, Texas, Dec. 1, 1941

Dear Santa Claus:

I am a little boy just 2 years old, but I am looking for you this Christmas. I want a baby doll, tricycle and a train that runs. Your friend,

STEWART MOSS.

Wheeler, Texas, Dec. 2, 1941

Dear Santa:

I am a little girl 5 years old. I have been a good little girl and I want a table and chairs and a set of dishes, also some nuts, fruit and candy.

WOMEN'S CLUBS AND SOCIAL EVENTS

TWO MEETINGS WEDNESDAY STUDY CLUB REPORTED

Continuing the study and understanding of our neighbors, the Wednesday Study club met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. M. L. Gunter for an interesting program on South America, led by Mrs. J. W. Barr. An outline of the United States' interest in South America was given by Mrs. Holt Green; Our Imports from South America was told by Mrs. Ansel McDowell, while Our Exports to South America were outlined by Mrs. Joe Hyatt.

Roll call was answered with a Custom of South America. Lovely refreshments were served to 16 members and two guests, Mrs. C. N. Wofford and Mrs. Murray Fuquay.

The club enjoyed a meeting on Nov. 26 at the home of Mrs. J. M. Porter, with Mrs. Floyd Pennington as leader of an interesting program on Early America, assisted by Mesdames H. M. Wiley, Lee Guthrie and W. L. Williams.

The hostess served lovely refreshments to Mesdames J. W. Barr, M. L. Gunter, Lee Guthrie, R. J. Holt, Joe Hyatt, Raymon Holt, John Lewis, Jimmie Mitchener, Ansel McDowell, Floyd Pennington, T. S. Puckett, H. M. Wiley, W. L. Williams, W. C. Zirkle, D. A. Hunt and Wayne Cook.

BAPTIST SOCIETY MEETS WITH MRS. A. C. WOOD

The Baptist W. M. S. met Monday afternoon with Mrs. A. C. Wood, with Mrs. Murray Fuquay conducting the business meeting, while Mrs. Fannie Wofford led the Bible study.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Annie Sivage, E. G. Pettit, J. W. Williams, Narville Arganbright, Murray Fuquay, Fannie Wofford, George Porter and the hostess, Mrs. Woods.

The society will observe the Week of Prayer next week in a meeting on Monday afternoon with Mrs. Narville Arganbright. The second program will be given Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fannie Wofford, and the closing program is to be presented Wednesday night at the church.

METHODIST LADIES MEET MONDAY AFTERNOON

The W. S. C. S. met Monday afternoon in the Methodist church parlor for a regular business meeting, conducted by Mrs. J. A. Bryant, president.

All members are urged to be present Monday afternoon at the church for an election of officers for the ensuing year.

Sweet Marie

Model 1941

I am lying in my tent, Sweet Marie,
And my soul with rage is pent within;

For I know so very well
That for another you have fell,
And your thoughts no longer dwell
Love, on me.

Sweet Marie, come to me,
Come to me, Sweet Marie;
Make your promise true to me,
Sweet Marie.

Oh, you sweet, bewitching jade,
What a clever game you played;
For your tears were ready made,
Sweet Marie.

When I donned the khaki, too, Sweet Marie,
Like a pesky woodtick you stuck to me;

Laid your head in graceful pose,
Right beneath my very nose,
Swiping buttons off my clothes,
Sweet Marie.

Sweet Marie, come to me,
Come to me, Sweet Marie
Make your promise true to me,
Sweet Marie.

Every daisy in the dell
Knows you're faithless, knows it well;

And you can just go to—well, Sweet Marie.

NOT WHEAT BUT MILK AND EGGS

In 1918 wheat headed the list of farm products needed for national defense purposes. In today's emergency, however, the emphasis is on foods such as milk and eggs. There is plenty of wheat on hand—in fact, nearly a two year's supply is stored in the nation's Ever-Normal Granary. The U. S. Department of Agriculture urges that farmers, in planning for next year, hold down production of surplus crops such as wheat and at the same time expand production of defense foods needed today.

Proper Feeding Aids In Dairy Production

Two factors—scientific feeding and strict observance of Federal and State sanitary regulations as they apply to the Dairy Industry will determine the success and profit with which Texas dairymen meet the national demand for increased milk production.

Commenting on these two vital points, A. J. Riddle, president of the Texas Dairy Products association says, "To obtain the 14 per cent increase in milk asked by the government it will be necessary for Texas dairymen to give more thought to scientific feeding than ever before. You can feed a profit into a dairy herd, but you can't starve one into it. The maxim of the Texas dairy cow might well be, 'I'll give, if I get.'"

"Starving a dairy cow does not necessarily mean depriving the animal of sufficient forage and water to cause death. It means through lack of proper concentrates and balanced rations the starving of the sensitive organic structures with which she produces milk.

For these reasons, Riddle points out, the dairyman should check carefully and scientifically the rations on which the dairy herd will go into the barn on this winter. The tremendous crop of home-grown grains and ensilage are but a portion of the dairyman's answer to his feeding problem. To constitute a profitable dairy ration these must be fortified with proteins and minerals, the better and more varied, the more certain the result.

On the other hand it is folly to increase production and then through lack of proper sanitation have the milk turned down at the receiving station. This practice has already cost Texas dairymen untold numbers of dollars. The association is urging that dairymen study all bulletins and literature issued on dairy feeding and consult their county agent freely. We are also urging that they give the same attention to sanitary regulations and close observance of the rules set out for the handling of milk.

The things call for serious thought on the part of the Texas dairyman if he is to enjoy to full advantage and meet the required contribution to national defense.

LOCAL GIRL IN PROGRAM AT WEST TEXAS COLLEGE

CANYON.—Thelma Hunter of Wheeler, a freshman at West Texas State college, helped to present a patriotic program at the coronation of the Homecoming Queen recently.

Students in the physical education department planned, participated in and made costumes for the extra-curricular program.

Miss Hunter took part in the sailor group.

J. H. Erne and J. E. Steen of Briscoe were in Wheeler Friday, attending to business.

W. C. Pendleton of Tishomingo, Okla., spent Sunday with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pendleton at their farm home northeast of Wheeler.

The quail season (Dec. 1 through Jan. 16) is on, and the game department goes once again to the assistance of the housewife. How do you cook quail?

Well, broiled quail, according to game officials, is one of the tastiest of dishes, and here's how you do it:

Split the birds down the back and season well in the body cavity. Dot the bottom of a hot pan with butter and place quail in breast up. Cover pan tightly. After steaming 10 minutes in moderate oven, turn breast down for 10 minutes. Turn the birds once more, put a teaspoon of butter on each, and then in 10 minutes the birds will be brown and tender if they are young. Older quail will require more cooking. When done add one-half cup of hot water to gravy and pour over the birds.

Folklore of the Chase

An old East Texas boy went out deer hunting opening day. He had a pretty good rifle. He took his dog along, for he lived in a county where you can legally chase wounded deer with one dog. He was hunting in his home county, so he didn't have to have a hunting license. But somehow he believed that he had to have a special license to kill a deer. He didn't have one, and his conscience was hurting him, whether he knew it or not.

Just as he got set, with his dog between his knees and his rifle held at ready, a game warden walked up. He meant no harm.

"Hello, there," the warden said. "Had any luck?"

The old East Texas boy was scared stiff.

"Nope," he said. "I don't hunt. And anyway, I ain't got no deer license."

The game warden patiently explained that it wasn't necessary to have a "deer license" to kill a deer, as many people in East Texas believe. He told the hunter to go on and kill a deer if he could. The East Texan's face lighted up with a broad grin.

Then the game warden walked on, chuckling at the old boy's reply that "I don't hunt," while at the same time he was squatting down in good deer territory, with a good deer dog near him, and a deer rifle in his hands.

Another Chance Gone

Paul Wendler of Boerne almost saw a sight in nature that many a man would give many dollars to see.

He came across two deer that had been fighting, whose horns became locked, and had died as a result of this fierce combat of the wild.

According to the Boerne Star, Wendler arrived on the scene just after the deer had died of exhaustion. If he had been a little earlier arriving at the scene, he would have had a grandstand view of one of the most interesting sights of the out-of-doors.

Game Violations Don't Pay

Back in December, 1940, a Missouri business executive and two friends came to Texas for a deer hunt. They didn't buy non-resident hunting licenses, which cost $25 each, but instead bought the regular $2 resident hunting license required of those who hunt outside of the county of residence.

But the Missourians couldn't beat the game laws of Texas. It took a year to do it, but the business executive from Missouri the other day paid finer totaling $411 for himself and his friends, according to the Dallas Journal. The charges were pressed in justice court by the game supervisor for the Dallas area, who handled all details of the case.

The non-resident licenses would have cost the party only $75.

There's quite a little difference between $75 and $411.

Holiday Spirit

It seems that all school spirit is gone from the school, now that the holiday season is here. Everyone had the Thanksgiving spirit weeks before it got around. During the past few weeks there has been little studying done. Now there are so many parties and entertainments to attend that we have forgotten the school spirit almost completely. With Christmas approaching everyone is showing plenty of holiday spirit. Now that we have enough holiday spirit, let's find time for school spirit too.

A Typical Schoolday

Hello! greetings by the sun in our east window. Oh me, it is time to get up, mother has called, but we turn over for that last little nap. We can't sleep for thinking of the unprepared lessons, so it is get up.

It is a rush to get ready for school with the fact bearing on our minds that our lessons are unprepared, then you think there'll be time to get them at school and finally your mind is eased. On the way you meet a friend, stop to chat and you're late to school—with no lessons prepared.

Do not take for granted that all students are like this, for Louise Tillman gets her lessons regularly; but still there are some who put their lessons off until tomorrow.

When school is out it is rush home to get the back lessons up, but you want to see a friend and go visit till supper time.

After supper there is a show that cannot be missed, so it is go to the show. After show we go home to find the lessons unprepared, but what is the use of working till the wee hours, so it is go to bed.

The lessons are forgotten by now, and we have a good night's sleep, but the lessons remain unprepared and will have to be gotten tomorrow.

Purely Personal

Wonder what Gwynn, Wanda, Nina Merle and Lois were giggling about in history? (Could it be they passed the candy around and Gwynn and Lois fought).

We hear that Nina Merle has a new nick-name "Walk Out."

Wonder why so many students are enjoying going to Pampa lately? Is it true that Dorothy really couldn't go Sunday night?

What would happen if Mr. Phillips didn't pull his socks up?

What would happen if Harry got to classes on time?

Wonder why Laverta is so sad?

(Could it be that she and he are through?)

What would happen if Gwynn would get his notebooks in on time next six weeks?

What would happen if L. B. would be quiet in study hall?

What would happen if Louise didn't make a 100 on her tests?

Guess Who

This freshman girl is a blond with blue eyes and fair complexion. (She has a cute nick-name, "Blondy"). She is an officer of the freshman class. She has a stunning personality and is liked by everyone.

 Last week's Guess Who was Junior Richerson.

It's a Fact—

That W. H. has a new girl.
 Miss Adams is getting Christmas presents already.

That we are having the football banquet Thursday night, Dec. 4.

That Tommy Hyatt has a time when he makes a double date and both girls want to go. (Isn't it tough, Tommy?)

Home-Making Hints

By MISS VERA MARTIN
 Home Supervisor, F. S. A.

Buying Blankets

First of all, ascertain the kind of fibers that have gone into a blanket. According to fiber content, there are three main types. A blanket may be all wool, part wool or all cotton.

There is considerable variety in the part-wool groups. The other part may be cotton, rayon or a mixture.

According to the Wool Labeling act now in effect, any blanket called wool or part wool must have the exact percentage stated on the label. It also must be specified whether the wool is new, reprocessed or reused. There are good, poor and inferior qualities of all three.

Cotton makes a stronger blanket—wool a warmer one.

See How It's Made

Hold the blanket up to the light. See if the napping is even all over. Blankets that are over-napped will have thick and thin spots. The thin spots soon wear out.

While you have the blanket up to the light, look at the underlying weave. This should be regular all over; yarns should be smooth, even, spaced regularly and close together.

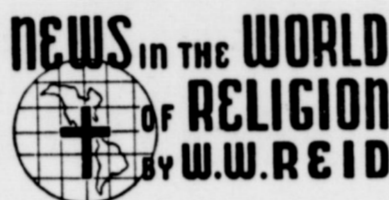

Note end finishes of the blanket. Most blankets are now bound with rayon or sateen. If it is, make sure the binding is sewed on securely. Rayon bindings wear out more quickly than sateen, but they hold their color better, and show soil less. Edges on lightweight cotton blankets are usually lock-stitched. Make sure all thread ends are securely fastened.

To see that the blanket is cut straight, hold it up to the light and note whether the end is cut parallel to the crosswise threads. It should be. If there are stripes or borders, use them as guides and make sure the threads are parallel to them.

Be sure, too, that any contrasting borders, stripes and plaids are of the same fiber and woven in the same way as the rest of the blanket. Otherwise the blanket will shrink unevenly.

Size and Color

The size of the blanket usually is marked on the label. Choose a blanket long enough to tuck in at the foot yet come up well around the neck and ears. Short blankets wear out more quickly than those of ample size, because they get more tugging.

"Comparing our conditions with those in other lands, we must recognize that our country is singularly blessed," said the Roman Catholic bishops of the United States in a recent statement to the nation. "But we cannot avoid the repercussions of a world catastrophe. In this solemn hour when fateful decisions are to be made it is evident that a spirit of exemplary restraint should characterize our priests and people. In every national crisis and every danger our priests have been an inspiration. We are confident that their good example of strong faith and courage, founded on the virtue of fortitude, will not be lacking now. As moral teachers they show that freedom has its limitations. It is limited first of all by the rights of God, and next by the rights of others and by the interests of the common good."

Despite their relative poverty, the Oneida Indians who are members of the Oneida Methodist Church in DePere, Wisconsin, have for several years been giving funds for Christian work among their less fortunate brethren, the Aymara Indians of Bolivia, South America.

The American Bible society recently announced that in its 125 years of service as a scripture-distributing agency, it "has not yet received, from all gifts of all kinds, the equivalent of the cost of one first-class battleship." Yet the society's annual distribution at home and abroad exceeds 7,000,000 Gospels, Testaments and Bibles.

The newly-organized "Church of Christ in Japan," composed of most of the denominational churches that had their roots in European and American missions, has a Social Welfare board with a program of aggressive community and national service.

Measures already adopted by the board include a nation-wide campaign for the prevention of tuberculosis, provision for Christian student hostels connected with churches, aid for the unemployed, a "Big Brother Movement" to guide the youth of the nation, temperance education, prevention of poverty, care for the families of soldiers, a welfare service for rural and fishing people, sanitary instruction, day nurseries and Peasant Gospel schools.

More than 1,200 conscientious objectors to war are now enrolled and assigned to 19 service camps throughout the United States; and it is estimated that 1,800 additional registrants will soon be added to this number.

From the religious point of view, the men represent 86 religious sects, including all the major denominations. Friends, United Brethren and Mennonites are the religious groups operating the camps.

Ten are connected with the United States Forestry service, seven with the Soil Conservation service, and two with the National Park service.

Vitamins Aid in Healing

A skin full of vitamin C strengthens healing wounds by 400 per cent and speeds their recovery, says a report to the American College of Surgeons. This "skinfull" is easily obtained by eating extra amounts of the vitamin. Both human and guinea pig tests were reported.

Gene Autry

Gene Autry and Frog Millhouse will be at the Rogue Theatre Friday and Saturday, Dec. 5-6, in 'Ridin' on a Rainbow. This is the only Autry picture for the whole month of December, so make your plans to be on hand to see it. You are assured of a good time any time that Gene comes to town. And remember that Mary Lee will also be there with the boys. You will enjoy her singing.

Dr. Kildare's Wedding Day

Lew Ayres, Lionel Barrymore and Laraine Day are coming to the Rogue Preview-Sunday-Monday in another of their now famous series of pictures. This time it is Dr. Kildare's Wedding Day. If you have ever seen one of the Kildare pictures you will need no encouragement to come out and see their newest of the series. Just remember that the dates are Dec. 6-7-8, at the Rogue.

Married Bachelor

Married Bachelor is the picture for next Tuesday, Dec. 9, and the stars are Robert Young and Ruth Hussey. This picture, as the title suggests, concerns itself with the life of an eligible bachelor, Robert Young. It is a very amusing comedy and has been built solely for the purpose of entertaining you. It is down to earth and is sure to please those who like a good comedy with plenty of fast moving action.

Smilin' Through

Now listen, folks, do not become confused regarding the picture for Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 10-11. You may get the idea that you have seen this picture and stay away and thereby miss a good and completely new show. 'Smilin' Through' was made about 10 years ago with Norma Shearer and Fredrick March in the stellar role. The new version of this wonderful story has just been recently made with Jeanette MacDonald and Brian Aherne playing the principal roles. The entire production is filmed in technicolor while the earlier version was in black and white photography. So with this explanation we feel that you will be on hand next Wednesday and Thursday.

Texas Retailers Will Aid Defense Program

Sixty Thousand Merchants Enrolled in Drive to Sell Defense Stamps Over State

Everybody in Texas who enters a store to buy a stick of candy or a four-poster bed, or goes into a restaurant for a cup of coffee is going to be hearing before long just how he can help his country.

The retail industry of Texas, working closely with Frank Scofield, state administrator of National Defense, has taken the job of assisting Texans to help their country in one of the important phases of national defense—paying for the ships and planes and guns that are needed to make this nation safe.

Sixty thousand retail stores, under a program put into effect by the Texas Retailers for Defense committee, are being enlisted in the campaign to sell the defense savings stamps which the government's treasury authorities say must be sold. Many retail stores already are selling the stamps, and it is expected the activity will become universal.

Albert L. Walters of Dallas, secretary of the Texas Chain Stores association, was appointed chairman of this committee. Working with him are Dr. W. J. Danforth of Fort Worth, secretary of the Texas Pharmaceutical association; Roger Q. Flournoy of Dallas, secretary of the Texas Retail Grocers association; Charles T. Lux of Austin, secretary of the Retail Merchants association of Texas; H. E. Dill of Dallas, secretary of the Retail Furniture association of Texas; P. D. Moreland of Austin, secretary of the State Restaurant association of Texas, and J. H. Calvert of San Antonio, representing the Texas Retail Dry Goods association.

"This country's defense program demands the best efforts of every man, woman and child in America," Scofield said in explaining the need for this work. "Every one of us is going to have to help share the cost if this nation is to remain free—and the best possible way to do it is to invest in stamps or bonds that will pay for defense now and bring money back to the individual later on."

"Some time every week, every person in Texas goes into a store. Now we will have all the independent stores and all the chain stores in the state selling stamps, and by this means we can reach thousands of people who cannot be reached any other way."

ELECTRIC MILKING MACHINE INSTALLED AT LOCAL DAIRY

Albert Chapman, manager of Chapman's Dairy just east of town, announces the installation, early last week, of a McCormick-Deering milking machine.

This modern equipment, declares its proud owner, will serve a two-fold purpose. First, it saves considerable time and much labor in the milking operation; second, it permits more sanitary handling of the milk.

The latter feature, Chapman believes, will be greatly appreciated by his present patrons as well as others who, because of the service and quality thus provided, may become customers.

WHEELER LODGE HOST TO MANY VISITING BRETHREN

Wheeler Lodge No. 1099, A. F. & A. M., was host to visiting brethren from several Panhandle towns Monday night at a stated communication. Work in the master's degree was conferred by members of the Pampano, Perryton, Shamrock and Wellington lodges, in full regalia, upon Charles V. Griffin.

After labor, a delicious repast was enjoyed by members of the local lodge and about 20 visiting Masons.

DECEMBER BLUE STAMP FOOD LIST INCLUDES GRAPEFRUIT

Blue stamp foods available during December that can be purchased with blue stamps by families taking part in the Surplus Marketing administration's food stamp program in Wheeler county have been announced by Wynn S. Goode, area supervisor of the SMA.

Fresh grapefruit has been added to the list of foods obtainable nationally by stamp program participants during December at local stores in areas where the program is in operation. Except for the addition of grapefruit, the December list is the same as that for November.

The complete list of blue stamp foods for the period Dec. 1 through Dec. 31 in all stamp program areas is as follows:

Butter, all cuts of pork (except that cooked or packed in metal or glass containers), fresh grapefruit, pears, apples, oranges and fresh vegetables (including potatoes), corn meal, shell eggs, raisins, dried prunes, hominy (corn) grits, dry edible beans, wheat flour, enriched wheat flour, self-rising flour, enriched self-rising flour, and whole wheat (graham) flour.

WHAT SAY YOU?

Fate of the Despisers

He that despised Moses' law died without mercy under two or three witnesses. Of how much surer punishment suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy who hath trodden under foot the Son of God and hath counted the blood of the covenant wherewith he was sanctified an unholy thing, and hath done despite unto the spirit of grace?—Heb. 10:28-29.

—W. J. BRUMLEY.

Farm Group Officials to Be Elected Dec. 19

State AAA Committee Fixes Date—Urges Selection of Right Men for Places

The State AAA committee has set Friday, Dec. 19, as the date for election of community committeemen and delegates to the county convention.

The same procedure will be followed in the committee elections this year as in previous years, George Slaughter, state committee chairman, said. Farmers in each community will elect three committeemen who will serve during the coming year. At the same time, they will elect a delegate and alternate delegate to the county convention which will be held the following day. The convention will elect the county committee of three members and two alternates.

"Selection of the right men to serve as committeemen is more important this year than ever before," Slaughter, a Wharton county farmer, declared. "The Food-for-Freedom campaign has resulted in more work for committeemen, and it is expected that the follow-up on the campaign will require that committeemen spend more time working with the program than in previous years."

The AAA official emphasized the added importance of electing the right man as county committee chairman, especially since he serves also as chairman of the county USDA Defense board which administers the Farm Defense program. "County chairmen should be good organizers and leaders, capable of obtaining the fullest co-operation from all board members and farmers," Slaughter said.

MOBEETIE MAN FINDS DEAD EAGLE OF ENORMOUS SIZE

During a visit at this office Tuesday, H. S. Hogue of Mobeetie reported finding in that locality, one day last week, the body of a recently-killed golden eagle with a wing spread of seven feet, two and a half inches. The bird was found under an electric highline, with which it evidently had collided while in flight. Hogue is having a taxidermist mount the huge bird, of record size for this region, and will use it as a display specimen.
