Jap Shipping Smashed By Heavy U. S. Blows

Three Cruisers Are Listed Among Losses

By The Associated Press United States warships, planes and submarines smashing at Japan's far-flung invasion forces were officially credited today with sinking at least two and probably three heavy enemy cruisers and inflicting havoc on the Japanese from the Solomons to the Aleutian islands.

These blows made up for the loss of three United States cruisers sunk in the Solomons on Aug. 8-9 while covering the landing of U. S. Marines on Guadalcanal island.

Capping previous bulletins reporting American naval and air forces in the Solomons had sunk one heavy Japanese cruiser and damaged another so badly that the crew abandoned ship, the navy in Washington announced at noon today that U. S. submarines operating in the Western Pacific had definitely sunk a third Japanese heavy cruiser.

Moreover, the latest navy communiqué said, American undersea raiders sank four other ships, probably sank another, and damaged two.

Communications from the three active war fronts presented this picture of United States and Allied fighting successes:

SOLOMON ISLANDS—A heavy cruiser, four destroyers and a transport sunk; another destroyer probably sunk; three cruisers torpedoed and bombed, one severely; eight bombers, four fighter planes and three seaplanes destroyed.

ALEUTIAN ISLANDS—Japanese ships, camps and hangars at Kiska, the invader's lone remaining foothold, blasted by aerial bombs and burned by incendiaries. Resistance was relatively weak.

NEW GUINEA—Enemy ground forces pushed back in the Owen Stanley mountains toward their Kokoda base by Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Allied troops while heavy bombers dropped 1,000-pound explosives on the Japanese airbase at Rabaul, New Britain. Grounded aircraft smashed by direct hits.

The American forces, the navy reported, lost a destroyer and two fighter planes in the Solomons. All American and Allied bombers returned from the Aleutian and New Britain raids although some suffered minor damage.

Japan's losses as disclosed by navy communications yesterday and last night, pushed her total Solomon Islands toll to 260 destroyed planes, eight vessels sunk, three probably sunk and 87 damaged. The announced American total was 10 lost ships.

The latest series of beatings administered to the Japanese in the southeastern Pacific started Oct. 9 when marine corps aircraft damaged two cruisers and shot down three seaplanes.

On the night of Oct. 11-12, United States cruisers and destroyers surprised Japanese vessels attempting to land reinforcements on Guadalcanal island and with torpedoes and gunfire sank a 10,000-ton heavy cruiser, four destroyers and a 5,000-ton transport. The enemy sank a destroyer as yet unidentified by the navy.

Falling in its landing mission, the Japanese fleet steamed away but was caught a few hours later in a torpedo and dive bombing assault by pursuing navy and marine corps planes. At least one more cruiser was badly damaged. Later in the day, the planes attacked again, leaving a destroyer sinking and smashing either the damaged cruiser or another one sufficiently to cause the crew to abandon ship.

Meantime, the navy added, the marines on Guadalcanal launched their first offensive in weeks. Against bitter resistance from reinforced Japanese troops seeking to recapture the island's valuable airbase, they engaged their foes on the island's jungle forces. Army fighter planes strafed the Japanese troops and installations in the two-day battle.

Asks Power Over Rents

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14 (AP)—James F. Byrnes, economic director, asked congress today to add to President Roosevelt's wartime economic powers the authority to stabilize and "freeze" all rents of real property, both residential and commercial.

Byrnes told the house banking committee that rents in some instances had jumped as much as 200 per cent, notably in New York City.

He said that it apparently was by "oversight" that congress failed to embrace in the recently enacted anti-inflation law a provision for rent controls, as well as the wartime regulation of wages, salaries and prices.

Yesterday, at Byrnes' request, Chairman Steagall (D-Ala.) of the banking committee, introduced the legislation to extend the controls, but not affecting farms.

Several committee members contended the bill should carry also authority to regulate charges for rooms by hotels.

Bagged 14 Planes—Flight Lieutenant Lance Wade, 26, above, looks over the sights of a Hawker Hurricane fighter plane after learning that the British government had added a bar to his decorations for bagging 14 enemy planes. Wade, an RAF flier home for a rest, lives in Reklaw, Texas.

Tax Bill May Be Finished Next Week

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14 (AP)—The biggest tax bill in American history may be ready by the middle of next week for rich and poor alike, after more than six months of congressional adding and subtracting, amending and pleading.

As the 14 members of a joint committee gathered for their first meeting, Senator George (D-Ga.) said he saw no reason why all legislative differences could not be composed by Saturday, with final roll calls completed early next week.

Cigar and cigarette taxes are due to go up. The tax on whiskey and other distilled spirits will rise from $4 a gallon to $6. The tax on railroad, plane and bus tickets, now 5 per cent, is scheduled to double. The federal charge against telephone tolls will rise to 20 per cent of the total price. Present tax is 8 per cent on calls costing under 25 cents, and a nickel for each 50 cents of higher priced calls.

Estimates of yield from the new bill range from about $6,800,000,000 a year to $7,900,000,000—the first figure by the treasury, the latter by Chairman George of the senate finance committee. It is expected to increase total federal revenues to somewhere between $24,000,000,000 and $26,000,000,000.

Buses Go On New Schedules Tomorrow Under ODT Ruling

War-time controls over transportation bring about drastic schedule changes for the lines operating through Big Spring, with revisions to become effective tomorrow.

All bus lines, in conformity with directives issued by the Office of Defense Transportation, are cutting running time to 35 miles per hour, and are taking other steps to conserve fuel, rubber and equipment.

The east-west Southwestern Greyhound Lines are discontinuing one schedule each way, with Big Spring to be served by four instead of five, and all arrival and departure hours are being altered effective Thursday. New times also will be in effect for the T&M & O Coaches (north) and the Kerrville-Bus Lines (south). The Kerrville schedules were not immediately available. Here are the new times for the other lines:

Reds Tighten Positions At Stalingrad

Soviet Marines Take The Initiative In Caucasus Area

MOSCOW, Oct. 14 (AP)—Defenders of Stalingrad consolidated reclaimed positions and the epic clash of arms was declared today to have reverted again to artillery duelling as Soviet marines assumed the initiative in savage fighting on the western Caucasian front.

Exchanges of shells and mortar grenades developed after Red army counterattacks had regained positions lost before a short-lived German infantry drive Monday, the Russians said.

"Our artillery destroyed two guns, seven mortars and 11 trucks and wiped out about a battalion of German infantry," the noon communiqué announced in one of two paragraphs it devoted to the Stalingrad struggle.

The army newspaper Red Star said Russian troops advanced in two sectors of the stepped northwest of the city. It reported there were frequent local encounters in separate areas.

Red army tank forces, following up an attack which folded back advanced enemy lines upon the German flank northwest of the city, were reported to have "killed about 300 Hitlerites, destroyed four guns, eight mortars, 20 machine-guns and several trucks with supplies."

The communiqué said 22 snipers of one Russian detachment had slain 223 Germans in two weeks of this battle.

Russian marines were cited for two actions in the battle of the western Caucasus, one a raid by a landing party against a German-occupied town on the Black Sea coast.

The noon communiqué said the marine detachment, moved to the shore in motor launches, wiped out a squadron of German cavalry, blew up an ammunition dump, destroyed a radio station and returned to its base without losses.

Auxiliary For The Coast Guard OK'd

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14 (AP)—A measure setting up a women's auxiliary in the United States coastguard—counterpart of the army's WAACS and the navy's WAVES—was passed speedily today by the house.

While no official title has been chosen for the feminine contingent, the designation "Women's Auxiliary Reserve of the Coast Guard" has been suggested, out of which is inexactly but euphonicly derived "WARCOGS."

Chairman Eland (D-Va.) of the house merchant marine committee said the women would fill shore jobs, thus releasing men for sea service. He told the house that present plans called for a force of 10,000 women by the end of the next year.

New Price Plan On Bagging And Ties

DALLAS, Oct. 14 (AP)—An alternative method cotton ginners may use in determining maximum prices for bagging and ties was announced today by the regional OPA office.

The new amendment provides in effect, OPA officials said, that under certain conditions a ginner may charge a farmer for the bagging and ties the lower of these prices: 1. The actual cost of the materials to the ginner; or 2. $1.75 for each set of bagging and ties.

No Sign Of Any Shoe Shortage

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14 (AP)—The commerce department booted another war-borne rumor out the window today with a statement that there is no sign of any shortage of leather shoes.

As a matter of fact, the announcement said, shoe production has been outrunning sales this year and 1943 is likely to close "with substantial retail inventories."

And all this despite the fact that Americans have about 50,000,000 brand new pairs kicking around in their closets—bought because of "rumored shortages."

Heavy Bomb Blow Delivered On Kiel By RAF Armada

LONDON, Oct. 14. (AP)—An RAF bomber fleet of well over 100 planes struck Kiel last night with a concentrated blast of explosives in a raid possibly as destructive as any of 70 which have been made against the nazis' battered Baltic naval and U-boat base.

British sources said the results well compensated the RAF for the loss of nine planes. The exact number in the raiding force was not disclosed, but on the basis of normal five per cent losses, the British crowded probably 180 bombers over the target, one of the most vital in Germany.

The attack was on the new "saturation" technique of the RAF—which means throwing so many bombs over the objective in such a short space of time that anti-aircraft defenses are swamped and their fire made relatively ineffective.

A German broadcast put British losses at 10 planes, but said that the North Sea port of Hamburg—linked by water with Kiel through the Kiel canal—also was bombed during the night.

Kiel, 66 miles northeast of Hamburg, is important not only for its big docks and strategic position as a hub of water transport but as a center for coal, iron and oil, lumber, railroad supplies, cement and food.

The German communiqué, which usually tries to minimize the RAF's air blows by specifying only hits on residential districts, acknowledged with rare candor today that "damages to material and buildings were caused mainly in the city of Kiel."

Both explosives and incendiaries—including two-ton "block-busters"—were dumped on shipbuilding centers and dockyards, setting off many large fires, returning Canadian airmen said.

Some of Britain's great aerial dynamite wagons—four motored Lancasters, Stirlings and Halifaxes—were in the bombing force along with smaller twin-engine Wellingtons, the Canadians said.

Scout Drive Going Along At Fast Pace

A report on results of the Big Spring Boy Scout drive is to be made at 8 o'clock this evening, when workers gather at the Settles hotel.

And prospects were that it will be a very fine report, indeed. Campaign Chairman Eimo Wasson and Abe Karcher said that response to the annual drive had been most encouraging, and it appeared there would be no difficulty in meeting the $4,000 quota.

Seventy volunteers have been working in the drive Tuesday and Wednesday. They found few rejections.

Scout Executive H. D. Norris said that many had increased their subscriptions. "We are gratified," said Norris, "because everyone in these war-times has been called upon so frequently for many causes."

Women have been a great help in the campaign, Norris said, obtaining good donations at booths established in the hotels and banks.

Stimson Gives Plans, Urges Lower Draft

Largest Air Force Possible Sought, Secretary Says

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14. (AP)—Secretary of War Stimson told the house military committee today the army's manpower needs for 1943 were 7,500,000 men, approximately 3,250,000 more than are now in service.

These, he said in stressing the importance of lowering the draft age from 20 to 18 years, included 2,300,000 men in the air forces, 3,300,000 in organized ground units, 1,000,000 for training and for the services of supply, and an additional 1,000,000 for actual duty with the services of supply.

He estimated present army strength at 4,250,000.

The secretary told the committee the United States wants to have in 1943 "the largest air force with sustaining units x x which production and transportation will permit."

His figure of 3,250,000 in the air forces he described as "a conservative estimate," adding that any changes will be upward.

The army, he said, is training and will continue to train as many ground units as can be sent overseas.

Stimson estimated that the ground forces needed for 1943, including those now abroad and in training at home to go overseas, at 3,800,000.

Stimson was the first witness in the committee's hearing on legislation to lower the draft age in accordance with President Roosevelt's request broadcast to the nation Monday night.

He pointed out that the original draft law had contained provision for drafting men of 18 and 19 years but congress deemed it prudent then to postpone the induction of the younger men.

Earlier plans for induction of these men, he said, were "based upon history and upon experience," adding that "in facing a critical war like this we naturally look back to similar cases."

All major wars in which the United States has engaged in the past, he explained, were "largely carried through by men under 20, from 18 to 20."

"It is a contingency which we have faced, based upon experience, that the country will have to rely on men of those years," he continued. "The truth of the power of youth to meet an opposing youth has been made a fundamental conviction in my mind."

The secretary said medical records disclosed that the 18-19 group had a much higher percentage of men fit for military service than later age groups, and "it is also patent" that their induction would be less likely to disrupt industry, agriculture and normal domestic life.

"But those are matters of auxiliary and secondary importance," he added, "the important thing is that youth constitutes the perfectly indispensable class of men necessary to make an army."

Stimson declared: "I want to say to you, that whatever the size of the army, one sole criterion for gauging its strength will be its striking power—based on the calculation of mobile forces capable of offensive action, which is the only way we can win this war."

But he warned "our army is getting too old. There are men coming from the induction centers who are too old for front line fighting."

Stimson told the committee that a study of one army group disclosed that 80 per cent of the men of that outfit were over 25 and 25 per cent over 40. He gave the average age of men in divisions recently activated as follows: March—33 years, 3 months; June—37 years, 5 months; July—37 years, 10 months; and August—38 years, 3 months.

"That is too high," he said. "When the crack comes, the older men will have to be supplanted with younger men, untrained with the divisions then in battle, and this would weaken the fighting army."

"Men over 40 should not go into the kind of fighting into which American armies have got to go."

WITHDRAWS APPEAL

Elective Office For Police Chief Asked Of City Commission

A petition requesting the body to take steps toward bringing about an elective office of chief of police for the city of Big Spring was put before the city commission at its meeting Tuesday night.

The petition was presented by E. B. Bethell, formerly a member of the police force, who said he represented a group interested in the municipal welfare. The petition, he reported, bore 242 signatures.

Members of the council said the matter would be given full study. They took no immediate action, since two members of the board were absent Tuesday night.

The council approved the 1943 tax roll, which showed total valuations of $6,801,950, an increase of $113,572 from last year. Slight gains were shown in both real and personal valuations, the former figure being $4,969,550, the latter $1,832,400. Total levy shown on the city books for the year is $115,633, as compared with last year's $113,572. The municipal tax rate stays at $1.70.

City tax notices were to be in the mails by tomorrow, and authorities said a campaign will be stressed to get taxpayers to take advantage of early-payment discounts.

Commissioners voted a formal expression of appreciation to the men who served as a tax equalization board—G. H. Hayward, Robert Strippling and J. L. Hudson.

Axis Nations Said To Be Squabbling Over Balkans

LONDON, Oct. 14. (AP)—Official Yugoslav sources here said today that both the Germans and Italians recently increased the size of their occupation forces in the Balkans, the Germans apparently because of dissatisfaction with Italy's failure to subdue the region.

There are increasing signs, said these sources, who could not be identified by name, of growing tension between the European axis partners over control of dismembered Yugoslavia.

Dispatches from Ankara relayed an unconfirmed report that the Germans intended to take full control of Croatia and Slovenia and of the Italian Adriatic port of Trieste as well.

An authoritative Balkan source here intimated that the rumor might have been axis-inspired to raise false hopes among the allies.

One official Yugoslav source said that "if Germany intends to relieve Italy of responsibility for Croatia and Slovenia it is because of Italy's inability to control the Yugoslavs."

"Any decision to take over Trieste," he added, "will be dictated by military strategy."

The Germans were reported to have doubled their original force of two divisions in Croatia and Slovenia, and Italy was said to have at least 15 divisions of 250,000 to 280,000 men in the Balkans.

BERN, Oct. 14. (AP)—Istanbul and Stockholm correspondents of the National Zeitung of Basel reported indications today of a German-Italian disagreement which might cost Italy her Adriatic port of Trieste and one dispatch said the rift stemmed partly from recent Italian-American developments.

The Stockholm correspondent quoted the newspaper Dagens Nyheter as reporting that German-Italian differences were accentuated by Italian permission for Myron C. Taylor's plane to land at Rome when the special envoy of President Roosevelt was on his way recently to conferences with the pope at the Vatican. Also reported adding under was the announcement by U. S. Attorney General Francis Biddle that Italians in the United States no longer would be under restrictions as enemy aliens.

Sea Casualty List Up By 42

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14 (AP)—A total of 42 United Nations seamen were lost in August and September, the Navy announced today, in the sinking of one Panamanian and one United States merchant and one United States coast guard vessel in the Atlantic off the coast of South America.

The United States ship, described as a small craft, was torpedoed at dawn without warning and went under in two minutes. A survivor was rescued by the Navy as saying that section from the foundering vessel tore five men away from an overturned lifeboat and pulled them under.

The medium sized Panamanian ship took two hours to sink but had the heavier casualties. The Panamanian ship was torpedoed at night in an attack by two submarines. Shortly after attacking, the subs surfaced and the first mate of the merchant ship was taken aboard the larger of the two and questioned briefly. He was then released.

One of the heroic incidents of this sinking was described by a seaman now recovering from his injuries. He said that a middle aged crew member who was a poor swimmer gave his life but to a fellow crewman and then disappeared.

Teachers Named At Colorado City

COLORADO CITY, Oct. 14. — The Colorado City school board elected this week two new teachers to fill recent vacancies. Miss Maybelle Phillips of Stamford was selected to teach history in the high school, Miss Joetta Beacham of Snyder, to teach English in the position left vacant by the resignation of Miss Lenora Cook who left Saturday to enter training as a WAVE.

Midland Man Is Toastmaster For Event

Dinner and dances was held Tuesday night at the Settles hotel in the second activity this week of the Business and Professional Woman's club observing national B&PW week.

Bert Read was chairman of the program committee and introduced the toastmaster, Delbert Downing of Midland. Downing introduced Shine Phillips as one of the pioneer men of Texas who helped to carve an empire from the wasteland that was Texas, and as a man who put down his experiences in a book.

Phillips, who talked on "Women's Place in the War Effort," urged local women to prepare themselves for the days ahead when doctors would be "rationed" to large numbers of people, by taking Red Cross home nursing and first aid courses. "There is an emergency on the home front, too," Phillips said, "and we must prepare ourselves now."

In speaking of war, Phillips also declared that until women take a major part in government affairs there will always be war.

Wanda McQuinn accompanied by Helen Duley sang two selections and Mrs. J. H. Kirkpatrick played two piano selections.

Too Much Information Gets To The Enemy, Mahon Fears

Herald Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Congressman George H. Mahon, of Colorado City, thinks the army, the navy, the congress, the press, radio, all have been too lax in giving out information of help to Berlin and Tokyo and believes it is high time to quit being so lax in this respect.

The West Texas congressman, a member of the house appropriations committee, made a speech on this subject while the $26,000,000 appropriation for Elmer Davis's office of war information was under consideration.

"I believe in freedom of speech and freedom of the press," declared Mahon, "but in wartime we must exercise every reasonable precaution and a high degree of discretion. Nobody in wartime has a right to say anything or print anything which may unnecessarily endanger the lives of the men in uniform who carry the flag and fight for our existence as a nation."

He pointed out that in many cases the people do not know what to believe in regard to the war situation and consequently have been confused, bewildered and disturbed. "There has been a desire to please the public which, in my opinion, resulted in giving helpful information to our enemies," Mahon asserted. "Our people do not want to know the facts in regard to military secrets. They have, however, been critical of the confusing nature of much of the information which has been given them in regard to a number of matters. They were disgusted with the conflicting nature of the information which was given them over a period of months in regard to synthetic rubber. They have been bewildered by statements which have been made to them during the last few months in regard to rationing of first one product and another. During the past few months they have read so many statements in regard to the draft and the selective service act they have hardly known what to believe. They have wanted the clear-cut and definite truth in regard to these matters, but they have not been clamorous for public statements in regard to military secrets."

The congressman does not believe in withholding the "brutal truth" from the people if the truth can be made known without helping our enemies. But, he said, he sees no good reason for telling our enemies how many men we have in our army, how many planes we are producing, what types of planes are most efficient, the strong and weak points of our tanks, etc. Such information, in Mahon's opinion, can be used to advantage by our enemies, who are clever, and it robs us of the element of surprise, which military men say is of the greatest importance in war. He thinks that the people are being given too much of the type of information that may be helpful to our enemies.

But congressman Mahon said he realizes that Elmer Davis has a tough job and deserves the cooperation of the congress and the people. Besides, Davis is not the final authority in some of these matters, cannot control the utterances of high officials and must also devote his attention to propaganda and information on an international scale.

"Mind you, I am not critical of any newspaper," declared Mahon. "The papers print what they are permitted to print and the press on the whole has done a good job. I am not critical of any radio commentator. The commentators say what they are permitted to say, within certain limits, and on the whole they have done a good job."

"He had only words of praise for the press. 'Each week I see a large number of the daily and weekly newspapers, particularly those published in West Texas. In every issue it is apparent that the publishers are doing everything in their power to help win the war. And most newspapers have lost business by reason of the war. Their space is given with liberality and without stint to every type of war program. It is given, not sold. Frequently some smaller papers take up a majority of their space in publishing some type of war program. Much space is given to war stamp and bond campaigns.

to scrap drives for rubber and metal, to all kinds of food programs and innumerable other things connected with the war. The general public perhaps does not realize the magnitude of the job which the press of the country is doing."

Flaming Sea Battle Described By Survivors Of Three U. S. Cruisers

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14. (UP)—An unexpected night encounter with a hard-hitting, sharp-shooting Japanese battle force burned vivid images of flaming guns and ships on the memories of the survivors of three heavy U. S. cruisers sunk off Tulagi harbor August 9.

Some of the men who lived through that night of horror have reached San Francisco. The Navy has permitted them to tell something of what happened. Lynn F. Hager, a tall, sharp-eyed Texan, was on sky control watch on the Astoria. The night was black under thick, low clouds. He could not see the other two cruisers, the Vincennes and the Quincy, which moved along with the Astoria on their circular patrol of the harbor mouth.

Hager's ears picked up the moan of an airplane. He flashed a message to the captain. Word was sent to the captain.

The night gave way to a glaring white as a flare burst through the clouds a few hundred feet above the ship. Simultaneously from the southern end of Tulagi bay, a searchlight pinioned the Astoria for a brief moment.

The light snapped off. Then guns flamed from close quarters and the Astoria shuddered under the impact of shell after shell. Ammunition ready boxes exploded and showered the bridge and the deck with lead.

It was the beginning of the battle that ended only after the three United States fighting ships had been mortally wounded.

"We'd been fighting constantly since the beginning of the Tulagi battle, thirty-six hours before," said Hager, whose home is in Marquez, Tex.

tereburg, Va., was on the Quincey. He told of getting aboard a life raft after the cruiser had been abandoned and of signaling a U. S. destroyer with a flashlight.

All America Knows Budweiser... but Few Know This

Starch Helps Make Munitions, Batteries..

Everyone knows that corn starch is used in pies, puddings, cakes and other good things to eat. In addition to various household uses, it is necessary, too, for making batteries, cosmetics, paper and textiles, to name a few. Where does Anheuser-Busch fit in this picture? We learned a lot about cereals from constant analysis of barley for Budweiser. With that knowledge we started a Corn Products Division, which now supplies millions of pounds of starches each year to food and other industries.

Year after year, we have striven with research and resources to better the methods and facilities for brewing Budweiser. To do this, a laboratory specializing in fermentation and nutrition was necessary. Discoveries made in the laboratory and in the plant have led to the development of products contributing to human necessity and progress. Some of these products would appear to have only a remote relationship to brewing, yet, they are the result of scientific research into many allied fields.

Endless research in making the world's leading beer has led to other products

VITAMINS, B COMPLEX—Our plant is one of the world's largest sources for manufacturers of pharmaceutical and food products.

VITAMIN D—Anheuser-Busch produces enough of the basic material for Vitamin D to supply the entire American market.

BAKER'S YEAST—We are one of America's biggest suppliers of standard and enriched yeasts and malt syrup used to make bread.

CORN SYRUP—many millions of pounds annually for America's candy industry.

SYRUPS—for food, table and confectionery uses and special syrups for medicinal purposes.

VITAMINS FOR LIVESTOCK—We are America's biggest supplier of yeast vitamins used to fortify animal feeds.

REFRIGERATING EQUIPMENT—for retailers of frozen foods and ice cream the country over. This division is now working all-out on glider wing and fuselage assemblies for our Armed Forces.

DIESEL ENGINES—Adolphus Busch, founder of Anheuser-Busch, acquired the first rights to manufacture this revolutionary engine in America and thus started our great Diesel industry, on his way.

Govt. May Have To Take Over Houses For War Workers

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14 (AP)—The government warned today it might have to resort to billeting and commandeering of private buildings to house war workers.

Simultaneously it moved on another front to control all rents throughout the nation, on both business and residential property.

Foreseeing a serious housing emergency, John B. Blandford, housing administrator, said the government would offer to lease homes and buildings for the use of war workers.

"But if this does not yield a sufficient amount of necessary housing on time," he said, "we shall be forced to recommend the compulsory use of available private facilities through billeting, commandeering, requisitioning and similar devices."

Meanwhile, the house banking committee was ready to hear James F. Byrnes, economic stabilization director, unfold the government's plans for sweeping control of all rents. This will be his first official trip to Capitol Hill since he gave up his supreme court chair to tackle the job of heading off inflation.

Byrnes will be the initial witness on a bill by Chairman Steagall (D-Ala) which would authorize the stabilization and "freezing" of all rents, thereby expanding existing law that permits controls on housing rentals only in specially designated defense areas.

Italy Suffers Heavy Losses In Shipping

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (AP)—Two-thirds of the merchant marine Italy brought into the war has been knocked out of the conflict destroyed, damaged or seized — a review of official reports showed today.

Before June, 1940, Mussolini's merchantmen aggregated 3,500,000 tons. The United Nations have chopped 2,868,000 from this total, with 1,500,000 on the destroyed list.

Italian shipping construction has been tripped up regularly by allied aerial and naval attacks on her flow of materials in the Mediterranean. A scarcity of fuel also has hampered Italian ship movements.

United Nations planes, submarines and surface warships this year alone accounted for 500,000 tons of merchant shipping lost by Italy between Italian ports and axis North African bases.

During 1941 in the Mediterranean, the British destroyed 56 of Italy's fastest and biggest cargo vessels—totaling 244,518 tons. Also in 1941, 55 Italian ships—307,433 tons—were seized. Twenty-seven of these were seized by the United States, renamed and placed into service for the allies.

Jeffers To Be Asked To Visit Texas Plants

Coahoma Pupils Out After 100,000 Pounds Of Scrap

COAHOMA, Oct. 14.—The Coahoma schools went into an all-out offensive this week in the scrap drive, the total collections mounting to 69,420 pounds.

The first week of the drive was spent in organizing and concentrating forces, and selecting competent leaders. Consequently the big offensive of Oct. 13 was accomplished without the loss of any school time, or even a student missing a regular class.

The forces of the eighth grade under the leadership of Captain Sibly Myers and Lieutenants Charles Sullivan and Betty Pearl Kidd topped the collection with a total of 20,000 pounds.

The drive has not ended yet but will continue throughout the week. A goal of 100,000 pounds of "scrap for the Japs" has been set by the Coahoma school forces, and it is expected to be reached by Friday night.

THE WAR TODAY: Russia's Losses Have Been Severe

By DeWITT MacKENZIE, Wide World War Analyst

LONDON, Oct. 14.—Stalingrad the magnificent continues not only to hold its ground but to muster the strength to counterattack the bocha, thereby increasing the margin of the defeat which the Allied Nations are in the process of administering to the harried Hitler.

The stand of Stalingrad is one of the wonders of the world. Still, I believe we shall make a mistake if we allow our satisfaction to blind us to the cost of this defense and to how that cost might affect the speed with which the Allied war machine is traveling toward victory.

Of course, it is difficult to think of Stalingrad in terms of other than those of mountainous strength. Certainly great power has been there but when the splo finally is written we likely shall find stark courage and willingness to die have been a greater defense than have bullets.

The boy scouts of troop 8 have accumulated some 6,000 pounds that was collected before the school drive opened. This amount was increased by a 3,000 pound donation from Louis Hutto.

War Work Is Outlined

LUBBOCK, Oct. 14 (AP)—Agriculture war boards throughout the nation face four specific jobs during the coming year, Fred S. Wallace, chief of the Agricultural Adjustment Agency, from Washington, said Tuesday in a speech prepared for delivery before the nine-state Southern AAA regional conference here.

The AAA administrator said war boards must encourage farmers to concentrate on production of war crops, to practice conservation of all farm resources, and follow practices which will make the farm self-sufficient, and must advise farmers how to make the most of their government payments to produce things the nation needs.

"Every agency represented on the war board is only important in proportion as it helps the farm family meet a situation, only important insofar as it helps the American people win this fight," Wallace declared.

Speaking as leader of a morning panel discussion, the AAA head said, "We all have a deep satisfaction in the 1942 production record. "We set our sights at a 51-2 per cent over-all increase in production. It looks now as though the increase will amount to 12 per cent over 1941, which up to that time had been the greatest production year in history."

Tonight, delegates will hear a talk by Francis Flood, associate editor of the Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman, on leave for the duration of the war and now representative of the British supply council, in Washington. His talk is entitled, "Britain's War Effort."

Willkie On Way To Washington

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 14 (AP)—Wendell Willkie took off from World-Chamberlain airport here at 9:09 a. m. (CWT) today on the last lap of his round-the-world airplane tour of most of the principal war sectors. He was expected to fly direct to Washington, arriving in six hours.

True, Premier Stalin rushed fresh industries into being behind the mighty barrier of the Ural mountains. He has created new fields of grain. He is building a Russia within a Russia.

However, that doesn't replace the huge diversified industrial output or the oceans of golden grain which the nazis have overrun.

The Russian bear is faced with the prospect of living on his own fat this coming crucial winter unless fortune throws the earth out a bit for him. There you have, I believe, the basic reasons for Moscow's insistence on the opening of a second front.

They want it as soon as possible because if they have to go through this winter fighting in the Caucasus against Hitler's full land strength they will arrive in the spring without having had a chance to recuperate and repair some of the heavy damage they have suffered.

They want Allied action which will draw maybe 50 German divisions away from eastern front quickly.

For This Year, Christmas Stocks Will Be On Par With Other Years

CHICAGO, Oct. 14 (AP)—The ingenuity of American manufacturers, plus the availability of pre-war made goods, will insure early Christmas shoppers a nearly normal selection of articles in the nation's retail stores, a survey by merchandise managers disclosed today.

Hughston M. McBain, vice president of Marshall Field & Co., said the survey showed that "generally speaking, more than 90 per cent of the kinds of things customarily sold to Christmas shoppers will be available this season."

With one notable exception, he said, there will be no shortage in apparel lines. "Rubberized" materials and rainproof synthetics have gone to war—but suits, coats, handbags, gloves, and all kinds of cotton garments will be available in sufficient quantity.

Lamesa Has Five Lettermen To Put In Lineup Against Steers

Sports

The Big Spring Daily Herald

Wednesday, October 14, 1942 Page Five

No Upsets, Avers Bible; Boys Have Other Problems

AUSTIN, Oct. 14 (AP)—Coach D. K. Bible, who doesn't believe there is such a thing as a football upset, lays all these so-called startling reversals this year to the fact that the players have too many things on their minds.

Bible, veteran mentor of the University of Texas, once said: "There is no football upset. Teams expected to win are beaten because they are not ready mentally or because something happens to disturb them in some other way."

So, when the major teams like Minnesota, Texas, et al, go down you can attach one of these three things to the "upsets" this season: "The boys this year have many things on their minds. It's pretty hard to concentrate on football when there are things going on around you like we have now and you can't blame the boys for slipping sometimes."

"Secondly, many colleges already have sent gridiron stars to the armed forces and into war industries, sometimes making for erratic performances by squads replete with comparatively inexperienced players."

"Thirdly, travel conditions are not always conducive to winning. Where teams once chose their own transportation schedules, worked out between trains at wayside points and arrived on time, they now travel by any means at hand and make the best of it."

The coach believes the situation boils down to this: "It's hard to get mentally set for a game with the war coming nearer and nearer daily but it's still possible for a team to concentrate on a single game and play it superbly."

Berlin Claims Two Allied Transports Have Been Sunk

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts), Oct. 14 (AP)—The German high command said today that the 23,456-ton British liner Oceanic and the 20,118-ton Canadian liner Duchess of Atholl were among additional "enemy transports" sunk by German U-boats.

Fourteen ships were sunk in the north Atlantic, the special bulletin from the fuhrer's headquarters said.

The British and Canadian liners were reported sunk off the African coast.

(There was no confirmation for these German claims from any other source.)

Local Lads To Have Weight Advantage

Coach Jimmy Cloyd of Lamesa will be slightly better off than Coach John Dibrell when it comes to experienced men in the class between the Lamesa Tornados and the Big Spring Steers at Lamesa Friday night—but the advantage will be small.

He has five lettermen returning but the backbone of a good Lamesa club last year is gone—including the remarkable Gus White, Jr., the galloping ghost who cooked up more headaches for district 3-AA opposition than a New Year's party.

Cloyd has Wayne Roberts, end, Aslin, a guard, Beck, center, Donald Reeves and Owen Taylor, backs, as his lettermen. He is filling in with squadmen except in the case of tackle where he is having to run Drennan, a 180-pounder with no experience at all, opposite Squadman Dunn, 170. That hasn't helped the situation in the Tornado line although the boys are scrappy and willing, and although Roberts and Aslin have been playing some top ball to heroically plub holes.

Lamesa boasts a margin in Beck, whose 185 pounds at center gives him offensive punch as well as making him a potent line backer. Having lightweight centers, Dibrell has been unable to swing this trick for his Steers this season.

Donald Reeves, triple threat star for the Tornados, has been crippled thus far in the campaign, and the net result has been that Owen Taylor has had to carry the brunt of the Lamesa attack—and it has been almost too much for him. But if Reeves is ready to go against Big Spring, as it looks he might, the Twisters may toss a more potent offense at the Steers than they have mustered all year.

Big Spring will boast considerable advantage in weight, averaging 171 on the line to 169 for Lamesa, and 163 in the backfield to 159 for Lamesa. Still, the picture is worse than the figures indicate, for in the line Lamesa has no man that will match the ponderous poundage of Peppy Blount and Glenn (Silent) Brown. Similarly, there is no Tornado back who can anything like tip the beam in the direction of Hunka Stewart's 218 pounds.

Although the scorecard might not indicate it, those pounds on Stewart are showing up more and more as every ounce football ability—and the same goes for Blount and Brown in the line. Blount has not reached his peak yet. Some of these nights he is going to play the game he is capable of both defensively and offensively—and when that happens, fans will be looking at the best end in district 3-AA. This doesn't mean he isn't trying, but he hasn't hit knife edge yet.

Brown may be counted on to turn in a better performance this week. His over-anxiety against Odessa caused him to be trapped some in scrimmages Tuesday I. B. Bryan, 195, and Noel Hill, 170, tackles, tore the first stringers apart. Bryan was the surprise—he found out what he could do. Leo Runk made life so generally miserable for the first string guards that he must be counted on as a threat for one of the places.

Physically, the boys are in best shape since the start of the season. Mentally, they are razor sharp. They looked better protecting the passer, and Earnest Bostick was staying with his zone of protection better. Dibrell won't rough edges off timing on some pet plays, and all in all the Steers were just about ready.

Gasoline vapors have been found to have anesthetic effects similar to those of alcoholic vapors.

Rice Players Headed For War Service

HOUSTON, Oct. 14 (AP)—Two members of the Rice Institute football team have withdrawn from school, five have sought information about joining the U. S. Marines, and two, who are in the Marine reserves, have requested waivers from Washington so that they might enlist in the Marines.

E. Ely, blocking and wing back, and Gayle McLaughlin, end, have withdrawn from school, and J. C. (Stoop) Dickson, tailback, and George Armstrong, tackle, both Marine reserves, seek waivers to enlist for active duty in the corps.

The other five squad members who yesterday sought information about the Marines, are all sophomores: Virgil (Ike) Elkenberg, tailback; Wendell Williams, end; Pete Sullis, blocking back; J. W. Magee, guard, and Jim Spruill, tackle.

Coach Roland Of Colorado Resigns

COLORADO CITY, Oct. 14 — The Colorado City Wolves are without a coach again since the resignation Monday of Coach C. E. Roland who came here last spring from Anson to fill the post left vacant by the resignation of John Dibrell, Jr.

Roland, a graduate of Athlete Christian college, will go to Stamford as an instructor in the ground school at the flying field there.

Merrick Fryatt, assistant coach, will coach temporarily, but he is awaiting orders to report for training as a naval reserve and is subject to call on 24-hour notice.

The Wolves are in the midst of an off-year all the way around. In their single conference game to date they went down before San Angelo to the tune of 73 to 0. Their one letter man, Harold Smith, has been on the injured list since the first game of the season at Brownwood.

"We'll go on with football as a matter of fact," says Superintendent Ed Williams Monday. "These boys may have something to show next year. Right now they've got to have experience."

Baseball's Future May Be Known At Winter Meetings

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (AP)—The wartime future of baseball, insofar as the magnates are masters of their own fate, is to be determined at meetings of both the major and minor leagues in Chicago the first week in December.

The majors now are in the process of approving the change of the site of their sessions from New York and the date to coincide with the minors, but it was learned today that enough clubs already have agreed to the switch to make the doubleheader meetings certain.

The major league coffers are planned for December 1, 2 and 3, a week earlier than usual, and the minors meeting December 4 and 5, three days later than in the past.

This gathering, one of the few times that majors and minors ever have assembled together, will replace the big convention of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, originally scheduled for Minneapolis, as well as the major league pow wows in New York.

The Minneapolis meeting was cancelled more than a month ago by William G. Bramham, president of the national association (the minors), to conform with the wishes of the Office of Defense Transportation and at the time it was planned to have only a session of the league presidents.

The shifting of the major league meetings ahead of the minors is the key to the entire arrangement, because most of the small leagues and clubs are withholding a decision on operations next year till they learn what support they can count upon from the major leagues.

Once the majors decide to what extent they can continue their connections in the minors, the members of the national association figure they can determine how many leagues will be able to function again next season.

Notre Dame never has beaten the University of Iowa, and it's the "Iowa" in Iowa Seabawks that carries an ominous ring for the Irish.

So either way, those having superstitious leanings point, old man jinx can't lose.

But even on the material side, and despite successive Seabawk wins over Kansas State, Northwestern, Minnesota and Michigan, the chances of Notre Dame have increased by the return to form of pass pitching Angelo Bertelli.

80 Entered In Senior Golf Tournament

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 14 (AP)—Eighty golfers entered the sixth annual Texas Golf Association senior golf tournament which opened yesterday at the San Antonio country club.

R. H. Nix, Dallas, defending titlist, and M. L. Mastaglio, San Antonio, tied for medal honors with 75 each; they will play off honors during the week.

Qualifying scores and championship pairings include: E. B. Guber, Austin (78) vs. W. D. Masterson, S. A. C. C. (82). Guy Keith, Beaumont (81) vs. Clarence Kraft, Fort Worth (83). Clyde Cunningham, Houston (81) vs. A. C. Skinner, Corpus Christi (84).

Henry Armstrong Wins A Quick One
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 14 (AP)—Henry Armstrong may not be the fighting man he was when he wore a triple boxing crown upon his curly head but he's still too good for most of the boys his size.

Armstrong proved that last night when, in two minutes, 20 seconds of the second round, he knocked out Juan Surita, billed as the lightweight champion of Mexico. Henry weighed 142, Surita 135 1-2.

Some Jinxes Mixed Up In This Game

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 14 (AP) If Notre Dame trips the high flying Iowa Seabawks here Saturday, it will be something of a moral victory for gridiron superstition.

To begin with, the Irish will be wearing green jerseys again. They discarded their traditional blue jerseys for the green shirts last week against Stanford and scored their first triumph of the season—a 27-0 win.

Then, too, Notre Dame never has lost to Bernie Bierman, who before taking over direction of the naval pre-flight school team this year, twice watched his Minnesota eleven bow to the Irish—in 1937 and 1938.

Inversely, Notre Dame never has beaten the University of Iowa, and it's the "Iowa" in Iowa Seabawks that carries an ominous ring for the Irish.

So either way, those having superstitious leanings point, old man jinx can't lose.

But even on the material side, and despite successive Seabawk wins over Kansas State, Northwestern, Minnesota and Michigan, the chances of Notre Dame have increased by the return to form of pass pitching Angelo Bertelli.

Boston College Is After Another Perfect Season
NEWTON, Mass., Oct. 14 (AP)—Boston College had to wait a dozen years for its last undefeated football team but the current crop of Eagles is convinced it can be done again in two—if they can manage to sneak past North Carolina's naval pre-flight eleven Saturday.

This outburst of confidence is by no means shared by Coach Benny Myers, whose admitted hope is that his squad will be able to push over the winning touchdown so late in the game that the North Carolina cloud-busters won't have time to match it.

Army Service Not To Free Man Of Assault Charge
KANSAS CITY, Oct. 14 (AP)—Claude Wayman, 30, Louisville, Kas., farmer accused of hitting a Minneapolis baseball player with a pop bottle, became a soldier today—but the charge of felonious assault filed against him will not be dropped.

Prosecutor John V. Hull said that if Kansas grants Wayman's extradition to Missouri, the army will be asked to release him for trial here.

Ab Wright, Minneapolis American Association outfielder, suffered a gash on the forehead from the shattered glass. He recovered and is now employed in a war plant at McAlester, Okla.

Onetime Nursemaid To Gargantua Emerges As Great Football Find

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14 (AP)—A vicious king snake had to help Dick Erdlitz when he trained Gargantua the great and ferocious gorilla—but Dick is taming tough professional football players these days with his bare hands—and how!

The bespectacled, 22-year-old former Northwestern University star, and ex-circus hand who was Gargantua's favorite playmate and nursemaid for two summers, was hailed today as one of the greatest professional football "finds" in years.

Erdlitz, a raw rookie with the Philadelphia Eagles, "packs more punch per pound than any back I've seen in years," said Coach Earl "Orsney" Neale, beaming. "He's the sharpest tackler I come out of college since Coach Frank."

Neale was backfield coach at Yale when Frank starred there and became an all-America choice. The blond bit, who hails from Delafield, Wis., was rated a third-string man when he first signed ed to the National league squad a month late this season, after quarter-backing a team of college all-stars. By now, of course, he has made the team, and he's handling gargantuan football players these days with the same finesse he displayed with the gorilla.

In addition to feeding Gargy, Erdlitz had to chase his little playmate from one cage to another every day. He did it by manipulating a king snake, the one thing for which Gargantua had any respect. He had a title of "trainer," but actually one doesn't do much training with a would-be killer. Generally he just stood around and tried to keep him amused.

Erdlitz, who weighs 180, is a blocking back and he seems to be equipped by temperament for the job. He doesn't care much for the glory of ball-carrying. "I say an ideal two-man lineup on a football field would be a cripple carrying the ball and Gargantua playing center."

Order of Activation For 84th Division

GAINESVILLE, Oct. 14. (AP) — The 84th infantry division, called the "Rail Splitters" and the Lincoln division after the home states of its personnel in the first World War, will be activated at Camp Howe near here tomorrow.

For the second time in the division's history the order of activation will be read. That first time, in 1917, it was quartered at Camp Zachary Taylor, Kentucky, and its troops came from Kentucky, Indiana, and the southern half of Illinois.

MARRIED HERE
Pvt. Harold William Dean and Miss Ruby Frechtel, both of Richwood, Ohio, were married at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday morning in the office of Justice of Peace Walter Grice. Pvt. Dean is stationed at the Big Spring Bombardier school.

In her desire to aid the local scrap drive Monday, Mrs. W. A. Kinner, Big Spring, searched surrounding hills for the metal and found, of all things, an old still. "When I discovered it," said Mrs. Kinner, "I went to work on it with a vengeance, first, because I don't approve of the stuff that comes from things like that and, secondly, I hoped the scrap might be used to kill Hitler."

Every tanker sunk last Spring in the Axis submarine drive along the Atlantic Coast cost enough gasoline to drive 13,000 cars from New York to San Francisco.

found you here he thought you must be officers sent to prevent our marriage."
Dawn's fiancé laughed nervously, looked up at him a moment, evidently saw approval in his expression, and went on, "So that's why he pulled a gun on you. I do hope you aren't too terribly frightened."
"No—not exactly," Julie said. Not frightened so much as unconvinced. Dawn was not in love with this man. She was terrified of him. What was the awful secret she was trying so desperately to hide!
"And now I feel that since it was so terribly fortunate that you did happen to come just at the right time," Dawn said glibly, "Snakes have a protective 'storm-window' over their eyes, a transparent membrane which saves the organ from scratches and injuries."

"perhaps you can persuade Dad that it isn't a crime for me to love—Arnold. Won't you help me persuade him, please?" she begged prettily.
Julie ached with sympathy for the girl. Desperate, in mortal fear, she was obviously putting up a gallant fight—but for what, Julie couldn't possibly guess. Certainly, it was not for love of this man. That her "Arnold" loved her was more nearly believable. No, Julie amended the thought immediately, it wasn't "love" but rather "desire." He wanted Dawn, but no face that full of cruelty could possibly be one of a man truly in love. He was determined to have her, fair means or foul. And, Julie knew intuitively, these means were certainly "foul."
"What do you want us to do?" Julie asked quietly.
"Stay on, just as you'd planned," she answered rapidly, "and take Daddy fishing with you when you go out in the morning. Arnold can go along and perhaps that way Dad can really get acquainted with him enough to—forgive me." Julie and Pete exchanged glances.
"Sounds like a good idea to me," Pete said slowly. "If you think he's strong enough to stand a little hiking."
"He'd love it. And we'll both be terribly grateful to you if you will help. Won't we, darling?"
Arnold bowed dramatically. "We will owe our future happiness to your sympathetic cooperation."
Which remark, Julie felt uneasily, might mean what it seemed to say—and might not. The instant dislike which she had taken to the man that day on the trail, grew to loathing now.

Tea, Coffee Quotas For City Hiked

A long and determined campaign by the chamber of commerce to help meet local shortages in two food commodities, had paid off Thursday.

The city is to have a 10 per cent increase in its quotas of coffee and tea.

Word to that effect received by Manager J. H. Greene from an official of War Production board, said that formal notice of the increase would be received in a few days, as soon as recommendations are cleared through proper channels. The letter said that personnel at the Bombardier school, together with a civilian population increase, warranted the larger quotas on tea and coffee.

Previously, Greene had run up against a stone wall in his efforts to get larger amounts. It took some intensive surveys and some large reports on population, consumption, recent expansion, etc., to get the WPB's approval. The letter advising of the quota increase came from J. Rosenthal, chief of the conservation orders section, foods branch, WPB.

Price Of Success -- He Can't Go Home

By JOHN SELBY
Wide World Arts Editor

NEW YORK—Sam Byrd, the actor boy from Mount Olive, N. C., can't go home for a while. That's because he didn't stick to acting, but wrote himself a book.

It's also because the book is successful. If "Small Town South" had drawn no attention when it was published, Sam Byrd could go anywhere he wanted.

"Funny about home towns," says Byrd. "You're just somebody they 'know when' until something you do outside makes you big. Then they're all for you."

And I don't mean that they'd shoot me if I went now. Only some friends of mine think it might be just as well if I waited a while.

In The Navy Now

The worst part was that Byrd, now an ensign in the navy stationed in Charleston, N. C., had leave for the purpose. But he used it to come to New York instead.

Byrd is the man who played Duds Lester in "Tobacco Road," 1,151 times without missing a show. This marathon had something to do with his writing a book. It also very nearly cost him his sinuses.

"You know there was a thick layer of dirt on the stage," says Byrd, crossing one knife-pressed leg of his navy whites over the other, dangerously. "And I don't mean that as a pun, either."

What Cleaning Him?

"I had to lollap around in the dirt, and no matter how much they watered it, there was always a thin cloud of dust over the stage. It got in your nose and all those other recesses behind your face, and drove you almost crazy. It cost me an average of $125 a month just to keep clean inside my head."

"Also, I dropped down on a pebble one day and got up with water on the knee. Between shows I had to stay in bed with some kind of liquid dripping on my knee—the Chinese used to do that stunt, but not for medicinal purposes."

Byrd's book just happened. He went to a party one day and a woman he knows in New Orleans mentioned to the publisher who gave the shindig that Byrd had a good idea. The publisher said "Let's talk."

How A Book Is Born

"Up to then," Sam insists, "it was just an idea. But when I got to his office, he signed me up. Then he said, 'Say—how do I know you can write?'"

"He didn't and I didn't. So I went home and wrote out the chapter heads, and one chapter, and that satisfied me. I got the manuscript done the day before I joined the navy—it was close figuring."

"I know perfectly well," he explains, "that there are Tobacco Roads in the South. Also, I know there are those lovely aristocratic old places—I'm stationed in Charleston, and it's the last stand of Southern aristocracy."

"But in between there are a lot of really swell folks. I thought their lives and lives and thoughts ought to make a good book. Houghlin Miffin gave it one of their Life in America prizes ($2,500) because they thought so too. I'm happy."

She's Lived Through Three Wars—Colorado Woman, At 93, Consoles Daughter And Granddaughter Who Have Sons Missing In Action

By RUTH COFFEY
COLORADO CITY, Oct. 14.—She has lived through three other wars already and so she doesn't worry much about this new one. When her daughter and her granddaughter grieve for their missing sons, Mrs. Emmie Lawson who recently celebrated her 93rd birthday, consoles them by saying, "My mother's brothers came back after they were given up for dead in the Civil War. So will Bill and Junior maybe."

William O. Hill, son of her daughter, Mrs. Sydney Hill of Colorado City, and T. N. Filippin, Jr., son of her granddaughter, Mrs. T. N. Filippin also of Colorado City, enlisted in the army together Sept. 1940. The last direct word from them came last Christmas Day from the Philippines.

Since May 7 they have been officially listed as missing. "But didn't Bill come back from that other war?" Mrs. Lawson always reasons. Pfc. Hill saw service in World War I.

His grandmother Lawson, who has five other great-grandsons in the service, was eleven years old during the war between the states. "Remember about it?" she says when questioned. "Why mostly I remember a song. It went 'Jeff Davis rode a fine gray horse and Lincoln rode a mule. Jeff Davis was a very fine man and Lincoln was a fool.'"

"My baby brother John (he's 90 himself now and lives at Maypearl, Texas) and sister Mary (she's been dead for years) and I used to sing it at the Yankee soldiers when they rode by. They never bothered us. They just yelled 'go bury your dead.'"

She was born Emmie Brooks in Sept. 1849 in Murry county, Tenn. In 1872 she was married at Columbia, Tenn., to John Gilbert Lawson, a farmer. They came to Ellis county Texas 30 years ago. After her husband's death, Mrs. Lawson moved to Colorado City to live with her daughter, Mrs. Hill, in 1914.

Four of her eight children are living. They include Mrs. W. E. Reynolds of Big Spring, Mrs. Susie Carmack of Fort Smith, Ark., and William J. Lawson of Hickman county Tenn.

Now that she's 93, she doesn't worry about anything much. She likes to rummage through her souvenirs. She likes her snuff and candy and cookies. And she likes to think about all her grandchildren. Sometimes she forgets how many there are but with her daughter to help her count she's duly proud of the answer. She has 53 grandchildren, 103 great-grandchildren, and 8 great-great-grandchildren. "A nice family," she nods her head. "I'm right proud."

Furnishings Provided For Hospital Unit

Report given Tuesday night at the Red Cross council meeting by J. E. Collins, chairman of the camp and hospital committee, indicated that the bombardier school hospital furnishing project was nearing the completion stage.

Three of the five convalescent rooms, the day room for convalescents and the nurses' day room were furnished by the committee from Red Cross funds and contributions of cash and furniture by local citizens.

Living room furniture of the ranch type, in keeping with the rustic interiors, has been placed in the rooms along with a pool table, ping-pong tables, other game sets, radios and magazine stands. The floors are covered with grass rugs, and other accessories harmonize with the general scheme.

The committee also assumed the responsibility of seeing that the boys always had a supply of dominoes, cards and magazines, to be distributed from time to time.

"The boys are very appreciative of our efforts," Collins said, "and everyone who has magazines he will donate may leave them at the Red Cross room downtown and they will be taken to the camp. You may be sure the boys will appreciate them."

Subs Active Around Cape Of Good Hope

LONDON, Oct. 14 (AP)—An authoritative British source said today that German submarine warfare has been intensified in the area around the Cape of Good Hope, indicating that U-boats are being "forced further afield by the defensive-offensive tactics of the United Nations."

Previous enemy efforts in this area, around the southern point of Africa on the main seaway connecting Britain and the United States with the Middle East, China and Russia, had been chiefly mining and occasional surface or U-boat raids.

Here 'n There

The motorcycle business ain't what it used to be. So Cecil Thixton, local Harley-Davidson dealer, decided that finance reserves on cycle sales might as well be withdrawn. He received a check Wednesday from the Kilbourne Finance company, advising that motor financing was over for the time being, and suggesting that his reserve—it was over $200—be put into war bonds. Thixton immediately bought the bonds.

V. C. Bain, College Station, was in town Wednesday making a routine auditing check of books at the Howard County AAA office.

Office workers at the Howard County AAA office are auditing 1942 Agriculture Conservation Applications for payment to send them to the state office at College Station this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Grice have received word that their son, Doyle, with the U. S. Marines at San Diego, attained sharpshooter rating in recent target practice tests in which he ranked second from the top. This will entitle Pvt. Grice to extra pay, he wrote. He also told his parents that all cookies and letters were really welcome out his way.

Understanding Of Russia Would Help, Club Speaker Says

One of the things which could contribute greatly to a lasting peace following the war is a better understanding of Russia and the Russian people, Bob Sproule, San Angelo, told the Lions club in a brief talk Wednesday.

Popular misunderstanding of the "blood purges" in Russia exists in this country, he said. Those purges, as ruthless as they were, pretty well cleansed the country of its fifth columnists, for which the United States and United Nations can be thankful today, declared the speaker.

He touched on other quirks of the Russian system, explaining that in their plan of justice, a person's guilt was pretty well established before his arrest; that while they did have the regularly maintained democratic machinery which is available even though it has been given no real opportunity to function; that their adventuring into communism is swinging toward democracy just as democracy sometimes appears to be swinging toward a more socialist-type government; that honest talk by some responsible, straightforward American could largely persuade the Russian government to remove its propaganda agents from the United States; that a corrupted administration by the Greek Orthodox (Russian) Catholic church probably contributed largely to the reaction against religious worship in Russia.

Sproule said he found Russia, on his visit a decade ago, to be a place with comparative freedom, where the people were very interested in America, even to American politics. He found them devoted to making their country achieve its goals.

City-Wide Rodent Poisoning Campaign To Be Held Soon

Organization groundwork for an intensive poisoning campaign to exterminate rats and mice throughout the business and residential area will be mapped at a meeting at 1 p. m. Thursday at the school, where city authorities will meet with Parent-Teacher leaders for an instructional session.

City Health Officer M. H. Bennett announced that a thorough "clean-up" on rats will be undertaken the week of October 26, when Henry Pflueneke, district field man with the rodent control division of the A. & M. extension service, will be here to direct operations.

The city health office will contact all business establishments, Bennett said, and all will be expected to cooperate in the placing of poison on an assigned date, probably October 31.

The aid of the various P. T. A. units is being sought, the health officer said, in reaching all residential areas of the city. Bennett and City Manager Boyd McDaniel will meet Thursday with Mrs. Jas. T. Brooks, P. T. A. council chairman, and presidents of all P. T. A. units.

Generally, the plan is to have poison mixed under Pflueneke's supervision. This will be available at a nominal sum (in packages both for rats and mice) and every householder in the city will be urged to get this poison and put it out on the designated date. Distribution will be the job assigned to the P. T. A. units, Bennett said.

He said that full information will be given to the public, and that concerted action is strongly urged to rid the city of health-menacing rodents.

Says Women Must Take Technical Jobs

AUSTIN, Oct. 14 (AP)—Dean W. R. Woolrich of the college of engineering of the University of Texas asserted today that only through the training of women to fill the requirements of the nation's technical machine can a serious manpower shortage in factories and on the production lines be averted.

"Women must come in and be trained in mathematics and physics and engineering so that they may relieve this threatening situation," Woolrich declared.

Case Against Brummett Is Dismissed

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 14 (AP)—A murder charge against Victor E. Smith of Mesa, Ariz., accused of killing Owen Brummett, 19, formerly of Big Spring, Tex., was dismissed today by Superior Judge Dudley W. Windes.

Smith, 43, claimed he shot the defenseless victim while trying to apprehend him after his 16-year-old daughter reported Brummett had raped her. The shooting occurred last April 12.

J. V. McCrory, deputy county attorney, told the court he did not believe a conviction could be obtained.

Percy Grainger To Play Here On October 22nd

Second of the Lions club series of community entertainment will bring the internationally celebrated pianist-composer, Percy Grainger, here on Oct. 22.

This was the announcement Wednesday from Dan Conley, one of the co-chairmen of the Lions club committee which headed up the club's sponsorship.

Conley reminded that there would be seven more members, including Grainger, on the series, and that it would still be bargain entertainment to purchase season tickets. Many critics rate Grainger's concert alone as being worth half or more the price of a season ticket.
