CITY COUNCIL ATS TO GUARD PUBLIC HEALTH

The view of the widespread prevalence of undulant fever in nearby towns, believed to be caused by impure milk and other products, the city council of Wheeler has passed an ordinance placing rigid restrictions on producers and processors of milk and milk products.

Glen R. Walker has named city health officer. The new ordinance which covers out-of-town concerns as well as local producers and processors, appears in this issue of the Times. The ordinance becomes effective April 1 and requires all producers and processors to possess a health permit.

Physical examination, tuberculin and blood test for bang's disease would be required of all milk from which salable milk is obtained. Signed certificates of veterinarians who examined the cows would be filed with the health officer. Milk sold in Wheeler must be "A" raw or Grade "A" sterilized. All dairies and milk processors from which milk products are shipped to Wheeler must be inspected or altered to conform to the "A" dairy farms.

The health matter that is receiving the attention of the city council is that of garbage. An ordinance covering garbage collection may be prepared in the near future.

CITY DADS TO BE NAMED

The terms of Archie Hibler, city council member, are expiring on Tuesday, April 15. At that time voters will elect them or name their successors. The terms of A. C. Wood as city judge also expires and will be filled at the same time. Hibler and Tilley were previously elected to serve on the council but it is not known whether they will consent to another term. Neither were reached by The Times.

An Excellent Job

(An Editorial)

The Wheeler Times wishes to commend W. R. Ritter, the county sanitarian, on his efforts to raise public health standards in our town and county. Within a few months, Mr. Ritter has made remarkable progress in educating the public to demand sanitary service in the handling of food products. He has enlightened the managers and employees of food establishments on methods to safeguard their customers' health; he has withheld the sale of products failing to meet the standards prescribed by law.

Acting as an officer of any type is not very popular if one conscientiously enforces the law; being a health officer duties throw you most in contact with. If you perform your duty you antagonize those flaunting the law while all too often the public whom you are protecting takes the attitude "he is only doing what we are paying him for," and let it go at that. We believe in giving thanks along with the pay check for a job well done.

Mr. Ritter was unable to get a county dairy operator (not in Wheeler) to submit his herd to the Bang's test; when he finally insisted, almost one-third of the large herd which had been supplying milk for public consumption reacted unfavorably or suspiciously. The health officer cut off the milk supply. It has been learned that community has a large number of cases of undulant fever, a serious disease usually transmitted by milk.

Mr. Ritter inspects soda fountains, cafes and meat markets in the county regularly. He takes samples of all milk shipped into the county for home consumption. He inspects the plants where livestock is slaughtered. He goes to the milk houses of people selling dairy products. The health officer closed down at least one meat market in the county (not in Wheeler) until health measures were met.

The City of Wheeler is publishing a health ordinance in this week's Times as a result of the work started by Mr. Ritter. The Wheeler County Commissioners Court has passed the same regulation, setting up rigid standards on milk and dairy products sold to the public. The City of Wheeler has employed Dr. Glen Walker as city health officer and the county has employed Dr. Harold Nicholson as county health officer to work with Mr. Ritter in seeing that all local and state health laws are enforced to the letter.

This newspaper congratulates the county commissioners court for launching this important health program, under Mr. Ritter's direction, and we call on the public to lend support and cooperation in every possible way.

Lighting Is Discussed At Wheeler H. D. Club

The Wheeler H. D. Club had a very timely discussion at their March 5th meeting, when Mrs. E. M. Hastings, Home Demonstration Agent, used "Lighting" as the topic of the day. Mrs. Hastings emphasized natural lighting as the best lighting. Provide it by adequate windows in the room. Make proper use of curtains. If necessary push curtains to one side to let in more light. Shades provide more light if of a light color. Keep shades rolled high. When artificial lighting is necessary, provide good lamps with indirect lighting. If there are shadows in the room, the lighting is improper. A good lamp should be at least 19 inches tall in order to spread the light in a wide area. Lamp shades should be as light in color as possible. An inside coat of white water paint will change the lighting of a dark shade to a great advantage. Fluorescent lighting is the most economical, but if not properly installed, a faint hum of the lights may be detected, and also interference with the radio. The putting in of a filter will overcome the radio static. Members present for the meeting were: Mesdames J. M. Porter, Bill Owen, J. H. Watts, Allie Minor, and B. M. Litton. At the next meeting March 19, bulbs, plants and shrubs will be exchanged. Members are asked to bring any surplus flowers on hand. Mrs. Bill Owen and Mrs. John H. Watts will be the hostesses at this meeting.

After a wedding trip to various points in the southern part of Texas the young couple will be at home in O'Donnell where the groom is engaged in farming and as teacher of agriculture in the vocational school at Lamesa. Both Mr. and Mrs. Street are graduates of Texas Tech at Lubbock. The Greens are former residents of Mobeetie where Elizabeth graduated from high school.

School will take up next Monday. Persons having slight colds are reminded to take care of themselves to prevent serious infection and complications. ZEAL FOR EDUCATION
It is sometimes remarked that many young people in the days before there were buses or family automobiles to transport them to school, showed zeal for education by walking long distances to their schoolhouses. Some would trudge two or three miles a day to get to their classes. How many would do it now, someone may ask.

Someone tells of a man who as a boy used to walk five miles each way on Sundays to get to his Sunday school. This may sound as if he was actuated by a pronounced religious zeal. Perhaps a leading reason for it was his desire to meet the rest of the youngsters, and enjoy talk and fun with them. He apparently lived at some remote farm or village, where he had little touch with those of his own age. It may have seemed worth a 10 mile walk to meet with his mates. Perhaps a similar reason prompted some of the day school pupils in those days to tramp long miles to the schoolhouse.

One would guess that the desire of young people for education was never so strong as it is now. The great number of students who have worked their way through colleges, mostly or wholly by their own efforts and labor, indicates a widespread and strong desire for education.

For many of them their college days have meant years of hard work, while they dug into some money earning jobs for a good part of the day, and perhaps studied well into the night to keep up with their classes. One imagines that the youths of today could and would walk quite a long distance to school, if it was not possible to provide transportation for those who need it.

Take Care of Your Garden

The time to kill weeds in your garden is before they begin to grow! Hoeing the surface soil in vegetable or flower garden not only destroys sprouting weed seeds; it actually prevents their germination. As soon as the seedlings break through in the garden rows so that they can easily be seen, it is time to begin stirring the soil between rows and as close to the plants as possible without disturbing them. Either a hand hoe or a wheel hoe is an excellent tool.

If it rains a few days after the first cultivation, stir the surface soil again as soon as it is dry enough, but do not wait longer than a week before cultivating a second time, —rain or no rain,—unless the ground is too wet to work.

Weeds within the row will probably have to be removed by hand while the plants are small. Some gardeners find an old kitchen knife a handy helper. Or, a hand weeder is a convenient tool. As plants grow larger, they usually dominate so that weeds in the row do not prove troublesome. Onions are one exception; the spear-like leaves do not shade the ground enough to keep down the husky weeds.

of the next regular term of the District Court of Wheeler County, Texas, to be held at the Court House thereof in the City of Wheeler, Wheeler County, Texas, at or before ten o'clock A. M., on the 2nd Monday in April, A. D., 1947, the same being the 14 day of April, A. D., 1947, then and there to answer a petition in a delinquent tax suit filed in said court on the 27 day of Feb. A. D., 1947, in a suit numbered 7980,

For the good of the vegetables and flowers and for the sake of a garden's appearance, it is important to cultivate all through the gardening season. Besides keeping ahead of the weeds, tilling the surface soil lightly forms a mulch to prevent evaporation of moisture. It is particularly essential to stir the soil around plants as soon as soil and plants are dry enough after every rain. Care should be taken, however, not to dig so deeply near the plants as to injure the roots.

Another reason for cultivating the garden all summer is that stirring the soil allows air to enter. Next to moisture, ventilation is one of the most valuable means of releasing soil food to growing plants.

Angora goats in Texas produce about 16,000,000 pounds of mohair each year.

The estimated number of National Service Life Insurance policies in force with Veterans Administration on Dec. 31, 1946, was around 5,600,000, consisting of nearly 5,000,000 term and over 600,000 permanent plan policies.

Mystery of the Rocking Chair

Ma Hoskins has a favorite rocking chair that's worn and shabby, with a noisy creak. Pa Hoskins has listened to that squeak for thirty years . . . and he decided to do something about it. So he bought a new rocker, and hid the other in the barn.

Ma allowed as how grateful she was . . . but when Pa missed her one afternoon, he heard a familiar sound that led him to the barn. There was Ma rocking happily in her old chair—squeak . . . squeak. No need to tell you how Pa felt.

Quick as a wink he hid the rocker and then brought Ma's chair back to the house. Now he hears that squeak, he looks the mellow glass of beer he's drinking and says to himself: "She's as entitled to her small pleasure as I am."

From where I sit, that's the reasons the Hoskins are the happiest, oldest-married, and fulest folks in our town.

6 SIMPLE STEPS to BETTER LIGHTING

Here are six simple steps you can take to improve the lighting in your home. After you have taken these, you can learn more about good home lighting from the advice of a specialist. Fill in the coupon and mail it, or call your nearest Public Service office. Our specialist can tell you if the lighting is correct in your home or place of business. There is no charge or obligation for this service.

Clean lamp bowls and lamp bulbs frequently to get from 30% to 50% more light from the lamps you have.

Use White Shades or shades with white linings. Dark shades waste light.

Avoid Direct Glare from lamp bulbs or bowls, by using shades that are deep enough and big enough.

Place Each Lamp so it puts no glare in the eyes of either person using it.

Turn Work or reading to the angle that gets rid of reflected glare. Try it, you can see the difference.

Sit Close Enough to the lamp to get all the help it can give your eyes. A difference of a few inches may mean 50% less light.

Annuals Bring Abundant Bloom

Most home gardeners like to grow annual flowers. Coming quickly into bloom from seed sown each year, they are the easiest of all flowers to grow and bring a wide range of vivacious color for a long period.

Poppy and bachelor button are two of the earliest. The low-growing edgers, sweet alyssum and candytuft, are also fairly quick to flower from seed.

The lovely balsam, fragrant pinks, the graceful scabiosa, the hedge-forming four o' clocks, the colorful nasturtiums and petunias are next in line. Later come the tall cosmos, the beloved zinnias and the marigolds. Most annuals are so easy to grow that even children can raise them successfully. Special favorites for children's gardens and those of some grownups are feathery celosia, the oddly interesting cockscomb, and the gay woolflower.

One secret of growing near-perfect annuals is to use good seed and sow it thinly. In outdoor planting do not sow deeply but cover the seeds firmly so that they will make immediate contact with warm moist soil for speedy germination. When the seedlings appear, thin the plants so that the remaining ones will have plenty of space to spread and mature.

COLLEGE STATION.—Every member of nearly 18,000 rural families in Texas received assistance with family problems from the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service in 1946.

Why freight rates are going up...

Since 1939, railroad employees have had three general pay raises totaling 52 1/2%, and the prices of fuel, materials and supplies have risen 61 1/10%.

But when the war ended in 1945, the railroads were still hauling freight at rates no higher, and in some cases lower, than when the war began.

Without increased revenues, railroads could not meet these costs and also provide improvements in equipment and facilities—improvements that are essential for the low-cost freight and passenger services which are necessary to America's high standard of living.

Under these circumstances—and almost a year after the last major wage increase—the Interstate Commerce Commission recently approved an average increase in freight rates of 17 1/10%.

Of all the price increases in America today, few have been so little and so late as that in the price of railroad transportation.

How important are healthy railroads to a prosperous country?

Only when the railroads are financially healthy can they provide the new equipment, improved road beds, and better terminal facilities needed for still better service to you.

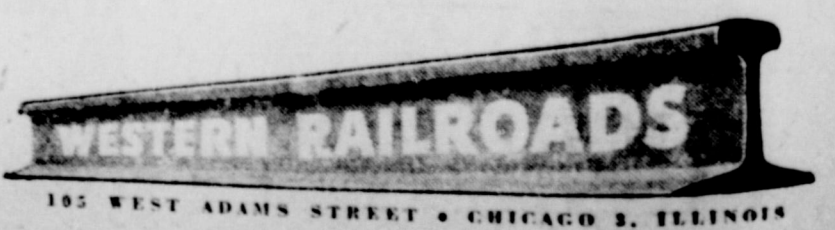

The defense of the nation depends upon the continuance of the efficient transportation which served the nation so well in the last war.

The railroads are among the largest employers of labor. They buy over 100,000 different products. They pay big taxes—taxes which are spent not only for public schools, public health, and police and fire protection, but even for highways, airways, airports and inland waterways.

Railroads are America's lifeline—keeping goods flowing among the 48 states day and night in all weather.

They can continue to do this only if there is a reasonable balance between income and outgo. Like yourself, the railroads must make ends meet!

We are publishing this and other advertisements to talk with you at first hand about matters which are important to everybody.

FARM FACTS WORTH
KNOWING

Q. If a cow produces a lot of milk, does it make any difference whether she is a good type or bad?

A. Cattle breeders often argue this question. The fact is, though, that a cow seldom does produce a lot of milk unless she is a good dairy type. A cow without good type might produce heavily for a year or two, but it seems to require a good dairy type to enable a cow to produce heavily year after year. A long production life is important because it costs money to raise or buy replacements. Also, cows with poor type pass on their shortcomings to future generations.

Q. I plan to open a hatchery with about a 20,000 egg capacity. How many breeder hens will I need?

A. The Hatchery Operators Manual of the Ralston Purina Company recommends about 100 to 120 hens for each 1,000 egg capacity. The number of breeders needed is determined by the incubator capacity and the egg laying ability of the individual flocks. The following table gives the number of breeders needed for incubators of varying capacities:

Capacity	Hens Needed	Males Needed
20,000	2,200	176
30,000	3,500	280
40,000	4,400	350
50,000	5,700	456
65,000	7,200	575

Q. My pigs' noses are drawn up, and they seem to snifle and blow. What causes this, and what can I do to prevent it?

A. The pigs have infectious rhinitis which is often found in growing pigs. It is probably caused by inhaling dust until the nostrils and sinuses are almost swollen shut. There is little that can be done except to give the pigs the best of feed and care. Keep the premises cleaned and the sheds treated to keep down the dust.

NOTICE TO PROSPECTIVE BUILDERS

The Gas Business is the only utility directly controlled by the state authorities.

The Railroad Commission of Texas, requires us to have written contracts with our customers, before furnishing them service. Our contract forms are submitted to the Railroad Commission for approval each year. To a certain extent they tell us how to run our business.

Big or little, we are required to treat all consumers alike.

Our franchise provides that:
 "We shall not be required to extend pipes or mains a distance exceeding 100 feet for each consumer on said extension."

And that:
 "We may require each consumer to pay for installation of all service pipes from the main in the street to the meter on the consumer premises and have the right to contract with each customer with reference to the installation of service pipes and the control of the same from the connection thereof with our mains in the streets, to and including the meter location on the customers premises."

And that:
 "We may charge and collect for the setting and changing of meters an amount not to exceed the cost of the labor and material used in performing such service, plus 10% additional thereon."

Our franchise in effect at this time, provides for a $3.00 minimum charge, and a 75¢ gas rate. Our minimum charge now is $1.50, with a rate of 40¢ and 45¢ per thousand. We are now supplying gas to some of our small consumers at a loss of from $10.00 to $25.00 per year.

HEREAFTER, WE WILL ADHERE STRICTLY TO THE TERMS OF OUR FRANCHISE

We have laid enough mains in the corporate limits of the town of Wheeler to supply a town of Two Thousand population. There are building sites available adjacent to our mains.

If, for the purpose of having lots of room, or to secure a cheaper building site, you build off and away from our mains, the piping of gas will be entirely at your expense, other than the 100 feet of free mains down a street or alley. We provide this 100 feet of free mains, only inside the corporate limits.

IF YOU BUILD OUTSIDE THE CORPORATE LIMITS, THE ENTIRE LINE EXTENSION AND CONSTRUCTION WILL BE AT YOUR EXPENSE.
