Fats and Leans Rearin' to Go

Big Game to be Staged at Baseball Park at 5:00 P. M., Wednesday, August 17. Don't Miss It!

Everything is in readiness for the big Cemetery Association benefit ball game and every big hearted citizen in Big Spring should purchase a ticket for this contest...

The game between the Fats and Leans will be played at 5 p. m. Wednesday, Aug. 17.

J. F. Wolcott has been unanimously named as promoter and he is going to be busier than Tex Rickard if he keeps the two teams from killing each other off before the big game.

Big Jim Black who is to be generalissimo of the Fats nominates the following to uphold the honor of the heavyweights of Howard County: Jack Smith catcher; Charlie Carter pitcher...

E. E. Fahrenkamp places the honor of the Leans on the shoulders of the following: first base Skipper Frank Heffley, L. F. Medico Ellington; 2nd, Elongated Notestine; C. F. Commissioner C. W. Cunningham;

On the eve of the struggle Manager Fahrenkamp of the Leans issues this last minute statement: "As the time for the great battle draws near I feel that I have the best ball team in the field. The boys are all in excellent condition and have their eyes on the ball...

Big Boy Black manager of the Fats gives out the following as his last statement before the big game: "You can put it down that this is to be one grand battle with no mercy shown or expected. My men have all promised to get in there and win this game if it takes all the hide off. They are pepped up to a high pitch, rearing to go and what they are going to do to those lean hounds will be a plenty."

Promoter J. F. Wolcott wants every loyal citizen to attend the game. Or if you can't attend buy a ticket. The Cemetery Association needs this small donation and you will never miss it. Plan to attend the big game and tell your friends to be there.

Paving Bonds Voted Tuesday

In Election Tuesday $40,000 Bond Issue for Paving and Street Improvement Goes Over the Top

The citizens of Big Spring by their vote in the bond election for $40,000 paving and street improvement Tuesday clearly indicated that they were in favor of progress. The vote was 137 in favor of the bond issue and 41 opposed.

The first twenty blocks of paving worked such a wonderful improvement in the appearance of our city that most folks were more than willing to go in for an additional paving program. It is believed that some thirty or forty blocks of paving can be completed as a result of this bond issue.

In the first place the paving will not be as costly as in the business district as the streets in the residential section need not be so wide. Then it is planned to use considerable crushed rock which can be secured near at hand and a cold rolled asphalt topping.

Just where the paving is to be carried out is yet to be determined. Property owners along the various streets must petition for paving, and the petition must show practically a unanimous desire to cooperate in the paving. Up to the present only one petition for paving has been submitted to the City Commission.

While it would be well to extend the paving in a systematic manner, it is going to be up to the citizenship to determine just where and when the paving is to be done. The citizens who realize the value of paving and are willing to pay their proportionate part of the cost and persuade all others along any certain street to cooperate will be the ones to benefit.

MAKES OFFICIAL VISIT TO CHAPTER IN GARDEN CITY

Mrs. Clesie Baggett, assistant Deputy Grand Matron of the Grand Chapter of Texas, Order of Eastern Star, made an official visit to the Chapter at Garden City on Monday evening at their regular meeting. Those accompanying Mrs. Baggett on this trip were: Mr. and Mrs. H. Hinman, Mrs. Chas. Eberley, Mrs. Chesnut and Mrs. M. L. Musgrove.

SYDNEY HOUSE SERIOUSLY INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Sydney House, 19 year old son of Sheriff and Mrs. Frank House is in a Sweetwater sanitarium; in a serious condition, suffering from injuries received in an automobile accident early Monday morning. Several fractured ribs, severe cuts and bruises, were received by Sydney, while Horace Smith, the only other occupant of the Ford roadster, escaped with a fractured collar bone.

The two boys were returning to Big Spring from Eastland when the accident occurred and when going under the T & P underpass near Sweetwater the car struck a small sand hole causing it to skid and turn over. The accident occurred at 3:30 o'clock Monday morning.

Horace was dismissed from the Sweetwater sanitarium and was able to return home Tuesday.

According to a report from the head nurse at the sanitarium Thursday morning, Sydney had spent a good night and was reported to be resting well.

THE MAN'S STORE A NEW ENTERPRISE

"The Man's Store" is a new enterprise that is to be launched in Big Spring at an early date. It is planned to have the opening on Saturday, August 27, if possible. This store will be located on East Second street. Elmo Wasson is the proprietor of the new store and as the name implies, everything for men will be handled by this up to the minute establishment.

Elmo Wasson is a Big Spring boy, has a large circle of friends here and should make a marked success. He is a former employe in the gents furnishing department of the Albert M. Fisher store in this city, also a former employe of one of the largest dry goods establishments of Corpus Christi. He is thoroughly familiar with all the dependable lines of men's wear, knows values, knows what men will appreciate and is going to conduct a store men will like to visit.

HORSES ON HIGHWAY CAUSED ACCIDENT SATURDAY NIGHT

The Buick roadster of Mr. and Mrs. Early Gaunce was badly wrecked Saturday night near Morita, a bunch of horses on the highway causing the accident. Mr. and Mrs. Gaunce were in the car. Mr. Gaunce driving, and they were returning to their home at the Oxsheer lease, about twenty miles southwest of town. A Ford coupe passed them on the highway going east, and the lights blinded the driver causing him to fail to see a horse just in front of the car. Turning suddenly, trying to miss the horse Mr. Gaunce ran into several more that were on the highway; and their impact against the car mashed it badly. One horse skidded across the radiator. Mrs. Gaunce suffered a broken hand in the accident.

QUESTION BOX

ON HEALTH Subjects Edited By STATE DEPARTMENT of HEALTH
J. C. Anderson, M.D. State H.O.

THIS column will be given to discussion of matters pertaining to public health. Any questions regarding public health administration, prevention of diseases, child care, sanitation, etc., will be answered in succeeding issues of this paper. Questions in regard to cure of diseases will not be answered, as the scope of this Department includes only disease prevention. Address: Question Box, State Department of Health, Austin.

QUESTIONS

1. How is typhoid contracted?
2. How can typhoid fever be prevented?
3. What do diseased tonsils cause?
4. What is a "health" examination, and how often should one be given?
5. How many classes of vitamins are there and what does each supply?
6. Why is milk safer when Pasteurized?
7. What are the things in the home which favorably influence the health of the child?
8. What is "ground itch"?
9. How much water should a person drink daily?
10. What is shown by high blood pressure?

ANSWERS

1. Typhoid germs always enter the body through the mouth, the principal agencies of transmission of this disease being polluted water, milk or other food, flies and fingers. The germs are present in the excreta from the body of persons suffering from typhoid or persons who are typhoid carriers. This filth gets into the body of a well person through the mouth, by the agencies mentioned.
2. Typhoid can be prevented by vaccination; by the safe disposal of human excreta; by safe water and milk supplies; and by fly eradication. Everyone should keep his fingers out of his mouth, and wash his hands well before eating.
3. Diseased tonsils are often the source of systemic diseases arising from focal infection, such as rheumatism, heart disease, Saint Vitus dance and malnutrition.
4. A health examination is a thorough "going over" by a physician with a view of determining if the body is in first class condition. By this, an incipient disease can be detected, which may be stopped before it gets a serious hold upon the body. A physical examination should be had by each person once a year, preferably on one's birthday.

5. Vitamins are divided into five classes, A, B, C, D, and E. The most commonly used food in which vitamins are found are: Vitamin A, especially needed by children, promotes growth, produces good teeth and straight bones, and is found in butter fat, egg yolk, leafy vegetables, and cod liver oil. Vitamin B, which increases the appetite and bodily functions, is found in vegetables, fruits, whole grain cereals, and glandular organs of animals, such as liver, sweetbreads, etc. Vitamin C, the absence of which, causes scurvy, is found in fresh raw foods, such as fruits, tomatoes, cabbage and lettuce; this Vitamin is destroyed by heat. Vitamin D, which prevents rickets, is supplied by cod liver oil, butter fat and egg yolks. Vitamin E, is one of the late discoveries, and experiments have shown that healthy rats deprived of this Vitamin in their food, are sterile.

6. Pasteurization kills any disease germs which may be in the milk. Milk should be fresh and of a safe quality when Pasteurized.

Good health of the parents and other members of the family; good living conditions, with cleanliness and plenty of fresh air and sunshine; proper food; sleep and rest; play and exercise; health training; medical and dental supervision.

8. Ground or "toe itch," is the beginning stage of hookworm. The tiny larvae bore into the skin which causes the itch and eruption. These larvae are only active when in wet or damp ground, the infection of bare-foot children occurring following a rain or in the early morning dew. Children should be protected from infection by being required to wear shoes until ground is dry.

10. High blood pressure is not a disease, but is an indication that something is wrong physically. What this is can be determined only by a physician.

WHAT THE BLUE RIBBON SEAL MEANS TO MOVIE PATRONS

For the first time in movie history, managers of theaters now have a voice in selecting the kind of screen entertainment for the whole family which their experience assures them will be most satisfactory to their patrons. This is due to the action of the organization known as the Motion Picture Theater Owners of Texas, with the cooperation of the Dallas News, in organizing a Screen Committee to preview and pass on the new films as they are received from the producing studios at the nearest distributing center, which is Dallas.

That the members of this committee are capable of judging the comparative entertainment merits of motion pictures is sufficiently indicated by their names and the fact that their interests are identical with those of the motion picture going public. They are: H. A. Cole, president, and W. S. Wald, manager, of the M. P. T. O. of Texas; L. L. Dent of Dent Theaters, Inc.; H. B. Robb of the Robb & Rowley Circuit of Theaters, and John Rosenfield, Jr., Amusement Editor of the Dallas News.

Inasmuch as the public hears all about the big "star specials" long in advance of their release, and can form its own judgments, the committee's special search is for those occasional gems of human interest, perfectly produced and acted, which heretofore have come and gone before you could learn of their excellence. Once a month the best entertainment of this class, suited to the tastes of the whole family, old and young, is selected for the honor of the Committee's Blue Ribbon Award.

In order to enable the picture going public to identify these examples of the cream of picture production, a brilliantly colored Blue Ribbon seal is provided, so when you see these seals affixed to your local theater's advertising pictures, you will know that a real treat is coming to you. No chance of missing the message of the Blue Ribbon seal, for it has a unique and human appeal to the eye, with its center striking black letters against gold. "You'll want to say, 'Thank You.'"

The Blue Ribbon award innovation made its debut at Loew's Melba Theater, Dallas, on April 24, the picture so honored being Douglas McLean's "Let It Rain." Public faith in the bona fides of the M. P. T. O. screen committee, and in its Blue seal poster endorsement, was demonstrated by full houses every day for the whole week of the engagement, with hundreds standing at every evening performance. In its review of the opening performance, the Dallas News said:

"The Motion Picture Theater Owners of Texas hit it right when they awarded their blue ribbon of the month to 'Let It Rain,' but they could have gone further and made it the prize film of two months if they had so desired."

So that is what the blue ribbon seal means to movie patrons anywhere in the State of Texas. The seal is protected by copyright. Any unlawful use of it carries a heavy penalty; but best of all, it protects the picture going public in their right to know that at least a portion of the screen entertainment offered to them is the most attractive obtainable.

ATTENDING CELEBRATION

Among those attending the big DOKEY celebration in Fort Worth this week are the following from Big Spring: Jones Lamar, J. E. Moon, Raymond Nall, Joe Flock, Jack Smith, L. B. Sullivan and others.

That viaduct proposition can be put over in a hurry if we can ever secure a meeting of representatives of city, county, railroad and highway department. While we dally, we can read of deaths at railroad crossings at Sweetwater, Abilene, Clyde, Millsap. Here's hoping we build the viaduct before any of our folks are killed at the dangerous crossings in Big Spring.

DAIRYMAN'S NAME OMITTED

The name of J. D. Couch was omitted from the list of dairymen given in the last issue of the Herald who attended a meeting at which the State Health Officer made suggestions for improving the sanitation of the milk supply in our city. The omission of this name was not intentional. Mr. Couch, together with the other dairymen are cooperating with the other committees in the general improvements of sanitary conditions in Big Spring.

Albert Bailey and Keith Stewart left Saturday night for a week's vacation trip to Fort Worth, Dallas, San Antonio, Del Rio and other points.

J. S. NABORS AWARDED CONTRACT TO BUILD SCHOOL

J. S. Nabors, contractor, has a record in Glasscock County as a builder of good substantial schools, and he has been given the contract to build every school in Glasscock County except one small one.

The latest contract awarded Mr. Nabors was last week when he was given the contract to build a two-room school building to be known as the Valley View school in the Hilger neighborhood. Estimated cost $2,500.00.

In appreciation of this work Mr. Nabors donated a sign to the school which will cost $25.00. The sign will have painted on it: "Valley View School: Bert Hilger, Trustee," and will be hung on the school building when completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Eberley left Wednesday for a vacation trip through points of interest in Colorado, California, Washington, Oregon and Canada.

WILLIAMS DRY GOODS STORE PAINTED AND IMPROVED

The work of painting the front of the Williams Dry Goods store on Main street is completed and the appearance of the store is greatly added to since several improvements have been made. REEVES COUNTY AFTER AUTOMOBILE SPEEDERS

When Chrysler 70s try out the Bankhead with open throttles, City Marshal Red O'Neill gets into action as demonstrated last Sunday night when a speedster following the above formula was tagged as he made his way thru Pecos City. He too had to rearrange his fall budget by striking off an appropriation for a Buick landau. Incidentally two local boys will wait until the streets are paved for further attempts to break Lindberg's long-distance speed record.

Peace officers never have peace. Pecos Enterprise.

IDLENESS IN PRISON

Straight talk from the bench is not altogether a rarity, but it is remarkably straight talk that comes from Judge John J. White of the New Jersey Court of Errors and Appeals. He says: "To my mind it is hard to conceive any crime quite comparable in atrociousness with the crime of our so-called modern civilization, whereby we punish criminals by maintaining them in substantial idleness at public expense and starve the innocent wives and children."

Convicts with dependents should, of course, be made to contribute to their support. Convicts without dependents should be made, so far as possible, to repay those who have suffered losses from their crimes. If there are neither dependents nor victims, the opportunity should be given to the imprisoned to earn something for a new start when the sentence ends.

The chief past objection to prison labor has arisen because free labor feared unfair competition. Free labor, in common with all society, suffers from the condition which Judge White describes. It should be possible in all States to find a way to avoid both of these ills. Redirection of public attention to this need is timely. Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

HIJACKED?

Last Tuesday morning some motorists found a man in a bruised and dazed condition at a bridge on highway No. 9, about six miles east of here. A badly wrecked Chevrolet cabriolet at the end of the bridge showed that the driver had missed his aim and collided with the bridge.

The injured man was given medical attention by Dr. Mendenhall. The man said he had been slugged on the head by two hijackers at the bridge and robbed of $60. He said they put him in the car, put it in motion, and it ran into the bridge.

Sheriff Davis made an investigation of the case, and was led to believe that the fellow had been intoxicated, and that on meeting the first bridge out of Water Valley, he stopped to let it pass, but the thing struck his car and went on. He got his bearings and drove up the road until he saw another bridge coming, and before he could get out of the way it also struck his car and put it, as well as him, out of commission.

Somehow, Sheriff Davis took no stock in the hijacking story, he put the wires to work and soon learned that a car suiting the description of the one driven by the injured man had been taken at Midland. He immediately arrested the fellow and notified Sheriff Francis at Midland, who came for the prisoner Wednesday. Sterling City News-Record.

SPECIFICATION OF THE NEW MODEL FORD

Every day we have dozens of inquiries regarding the new model Ford car. Everyone is anxious to know when it will be on the market—when they can see it, ride in it—and buy it. As yet the specifications have not been announced by the Ford Motor Company, but in Mr. Ford's wire to us he says that the new model will be superior in design and performance to any now in the low priced car field. The new model Ford will be noted for its—Speed, Style, Flexibility, Easy Control.

"It will be more costly to manufacture but more economical to operate."

Speaking of speed—very few people know that in 1902 Mr. Ford was the race track champion of the United States. At that time the whole interest of the public was in racing cars. Mr. Ford set to work to build the fastest car in the world, and on December 1, 1902, he lowered the national automobile record for a mile to one minute and one second and thereby won the track championship of the United States.

Now about the new model Ford car—we hope to have one on display in our show room soon. No doubt, complete specifications and prices will be announced before that time, however. We have orders on file covered by deposits and delivery of the new car will be made in the order in which deposits are received. A $25 deposit places you in line to receive your new car at the earliest possible date.

Mr. Ford has been working on the new model car for several years. He has set his mind, his wealth and all the forces at his command to the task. We have reason to believe that there will be "nothing quite like the new car in quality, price and design."

In the meantime the sales record of the present car, Model T, has set a record that will never be equalled by any other car manufacturer—over 15 million Ford cars in 20 years—a record that will long be remembered and commented on. We have just a few of today's model on hand—the best car at the lowest price ever made by the Ford Motor Company.

We have the used car you want—at a price you will be willing to pay. Every car is in good condition, priced reasonably and we will sell on terms to responsible parties.

Give your Ford car Ford care! Nowhere will you find a Ford shop so completely equipped with machinery and expert mechanics—ready at all times to extend you a cordial welcome and satisfactory service.

Walcott Motor Company.

Duncan, Jane and Fudge Sauce

By JANE OSBORN

(Copyright.)

DUNCAN HODGES was not particularly sensitive. Soft music made him feel neither sad nor sentimental. He felt no special thrill at the sight of the rosy glow of sunrise. His friend, Charles Cornwall, told him that whenever he was to get a whiff of that particular brand of expensive perfume used by the girl to whom he had once been engaged he felt a queer, depressing sort of thrill. Duncan Hodges had listened politely—maybe other men were like that, but Duncan couldn't understand it.

He had seen Dora Claire that afternoon. They were going to a masquerade dance together in a week and they had been shopping to get their things.

Dora was a nice girl—Duncan would have granted that if you had asked him and it had never occurred to him to ask anyone else to go to that masquerade dance. Still he had never thought of her as anything but a good pal. They were walking down Broad street after having bought their masks and some enormous earrings for Duncan's plate make-up.

"You're going to look too wonderful for words, Duncan."

"Going to look pretty nifty yourself in that Spanish get-up," countered Duncan.

"Do you really think so—Duncan?" she asked. "I wonder whether you mean it. Men say such nice things—but when you know they say the same things to all the girls they know—it doesn't count for much." Dora sighed. It was a sigh that went more or less directly to Duncan's heart. They walked on a step or two and Duncan hurriedly reminded himself that Dora was supposedly something of a flirt, and that it had even been hinted that the reason she had accepted his own addresses for the past months was because of his good job, and not inconsiderable private fortune. Still, she was a nice girl. Perhaps the tender feelings he had about his heart were, as a matter of fact, love—perhaps he really did care a great deal for Dora.

"I swear I never say things to girls just to say them," remarked Duncan. "When I say you are the prettiest girl in our crowd I mean it." This was a good beginning. They were passing a popular candy store—that was the end of romance, at least so far as Dora and Duncan were concerned. For up from the basement, out from the shop there came the enticing fragrance of fudge sauce. Duncan took two or three good whiffs—and presto chango!—there came before him—between him and Dora it seemed—the image of a frank-faced girl with reddish hair—a few freckles—eyes that were merry though not exactly beautiful. It was Jane Cobham.

"You didn't finish what you were saying," said Dora.

Duncan said that he was going to ask Dora to drop into the confectionery shop and have some tea or something. And all the time that they sat there vis-a-vis Duncan got whiffs of fudge sauce and with every whiff thoughts of Jane Cobham became more and more vivid.

Back in his rooms that night Duncan sat thinking of Jane—Jane, the girl he had liked so well four or five years ago when he was a student at a coeducational college. He hadn't had much money to spend then, but quite often he took Jane to the sweet shop. He had never analyzed the matter but now he knew that somewhere in his mind the smell of hot fudge sauce was intricately mixed up with thoughts of Jane Cobham—and both seemed very pleasant. He remembered that he had once intended to ask Jane to marry him.

Duncan went through with the masquerade. Dora scolded him for his indifference. Then she began flirting with some of the other men—thought she was punishing him, perhaps. And all the time he was figuring out how he could get away from his job long enough to run out to the college town where Jane Cobham lived.

Duncan arrived one afternoon and went straight to the old Cobham house looking for all the world as if he had four years before. He rang the front-door bell and Jane answered. She seemed a little embarrassed, but she didn't look a day older than when he saw her last. In fact, to Duncan there seemed to be a softness and sweetness about her that had never been observable before. Duncan thought that was perhaps because she was engaged. So as soon as they had taken chairs in the rather shabby living room he asked her outright whether she was engaged.

"Of course not, silly," said Jane. "Well, let's go down to the sweet shop and get a sundae with fudge sauce."

Jane giggled a little. "I thought you would have outgrown things like that. We have a tea room here now. I should think tea and toasted English muffins would seem smarter to you now."

"Next time, perhaps," said Duncan. "But all I want now is fudge sauce."

A week later, back at work, Duncan came upon his old friend, Charles Cornwall. "Congratulations," he demanded. "I'm engaged—guess you know her—Jane Cobham. Maybe you're right after all about the power of the senses—but it wasn't roses or expensive perfume with me—it was just fudge sauce."

SEEKS EXTENSION GULF AND WEST TEXAS LINE

San Angelo, Aug. 6.—Big Spring representatives met with the railroad committee of the Board of City Development this week to sound out the feeling of San Angelo to extend a railroad from Sterling City to Big Spring. In this way Big Spring would have an outlet to the gulf when the proposed Gulf and West Texas line is completed from San Angelo to Corpus Christi.

Believing that the Santa Fe will not extend its line from Sterling City to Lamesa to join its other line, these Big Spring interests believe the road is going to have to be privately built. The San Angelo railroad committee pledged its support and indications now lean toward such a project as a part of its railroad program.

"We know of nothing Big Spring would rather have than an extension from Sterling City when the Gulf and West Texas is completed," R. T. Pinor, one of the representatives, said. C. T. Watson, secretary of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, expressed the same view.

The extension from Sterling City would pass through the Chalk, Hyer and Harding oil fields, which alone, Watson said, would pay for such a line.—Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS QUARANTINE HAS BEEN LIFTED

"The quarantine which has been effective upon only four residences in Carlsbad proper and two homes in the suburb of La Huerta, has been entirely removed from both the patients and the contacts by Dr. O. E. Puckett, County Health Officer. All patients are convalescing and there have been no deaths here. Sunday schools which suspended services at the suggestion of and in cooperation with the health authorities resumed classes last Sunday morning and picture shows that had excluded children under twelve years of age also at the suggestion of County Health Officer now admit youngsters of all ages. Sixty-eight hundred and eighty-one visitors at Carlsbad Cavern during July exceeded all previous records and the superintendent forecasts ten thousand visitors during August. The cavern is open daily the year round and has not been closed to the public at any time."

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Olsen returned home Sunday night after a pleasant visit with relatives and friends at Freeport, Palestine and Laneville.

SELLS TWO "BETTER HOMES"

E. H. Josey builder and contractor for "Better Homes" has sold the two better homes, the last of a group of four in College Heights addition, erected there the early part of the summer. Steve Ford and Wm. Fahrkamp purchased these homes of Mr. Josey.

The better homes are built on a similar floor plan, having five rooms and bath with front and back porches. Built-in features are also an added improvement to this style of house. The exterior finishings all differ.

SISTER OF MRS. B. H. SETTLES DIES AT BROWNWOOD

Mrs. B. H. Settles was called to Brownwood last Thursday by the death of her sister, Mrs. D. F. Cobb of Brownwood. Mrs. Cobb died very suddenly Wednesday evening. Mrs. Settles arrived in time to attend the funeral services.

Miss Valerie Neidermeyer of El Paso after a visit in this city with relatives and friends left Wednesday for her home.

BIG SPRING PLANING MILL ON EAST 2ND BEING ENLARGED

The building on East Second St. occupied by the Big Spring Planing mill is being enlarged this week from a 30x40 foot building to a 50x80 foot building. D. E. Cook, general contractor, is in charge of this work.

The Big Spring Planing Mill has been a busy place since its opening in this city, in the spring, and especially so during the building boom. Doors, window frames and other kinds of finishing work is done here, and the proprietor, L. J. Lechne, has found it necessary to use much extra help to get out the rush orders on time.

When work of enlarging the building is completed Mr. Lechne says that he will be prepared to take care of any and all kind of work in his line and he has the modern machinery and expert workmen to put out efficient work.

Work on the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Barbee on East Third street is nearing completion. G. O. Foley was contractor for this home.

TEN FOOT FENCE BUILT AROUND CITY RESERVOIR

Work of erecting a ten-foot high, around the city reservoir, be started shortly; this fence 150 feet from the reservoir will be constructed of barbed wire gates will be locked at all times no one will be allowed to enter the fence.

The reservoir was drained given a thorough cleaning last week and since that time it has been stationary at the top and no one is allowed to enter it. This guard will be kept here until after the completion.

Heretofore persons have been to drive close to the reservoir many have abused this privilege hence this action has been taken. Repeated examinations of water supply of Big Spring that our water is pure and clean causing the spread of typhoid city. Several different tests have been made of the water and a few water lice and fleas are OK. Now that the reservoir is clean it will be kept in condition and no uneasiness of the water supply is at all.

FORMED AT EDEN

Robt. T. Piner and others of Big Spring at the good meeting at Eden, Texas, Wednesday last, we give a report of this association.

The Highway No. 9 Association organized at Eden with T. Mathison of San Angelo, as president and E. H. Cunningham as secretary.

The meeting was called in an effort to get the highway from Big Spring to San Antonio. About 50 representatives from the highway from Big Spring, San Antonio, and other points in the state were present. The meeting was called by C. Wild, manager San Antonio City Development. Those present include Mr. Reagan, president, and E. H. Cunningham, secretary.

BIG SPRING INVENTOR MAY REAP BIG REWARDS

The Edwards Grip Tester, a novelty invented by Will Knox Edwards of Big Spring is going to be produced in quantity in a very short time, and distributed thruout the United States. This device is to register the power a man has in his grip, and will be popular at cigar stands, soda fountains, clubs and other places where men meet. A coin in the slot operates the device. These machines are to be distributed on a commission basis, and every business man who has seen them in operation declare they will be winners. The territory from Dallas and Fort Worth west, will be the first to get grip testers, which are to be distributed by the Edwards Novelty Co., Inc., of Fort Worth.

The Wheeling Steel Co. of Wheeling, W. Va., a $100,000,000 corporation, has taken over the contract to manufacture the Edwards' Grip Tester and will turn them out at the rate of 1,000 per month.

Capitalists of the north and east who were consulted by Mr. Edwards pronounced his grip tester a good proposition and declared it should be a big money maker.

Will Knox covered 4600 miles on his trip to the north and east and was glad to return home where he could catch a breath of pure air. The soot and coal dust you are compelled to breathe in the big manufacturing centers of the north certainly gets next to a fellow who is used to breathing West Texas air.

Many friends will indeed be pleased to learn of the progress Will Knox is having with this grip tester and wish him every success.

This is only one of a number of worthwhile inventions Will Knox has perfected, and he is now negotiating with northern capitalists to take over another invention of great merit.

CONCERNING MAIZE CONTEST

Forty or more persons attended the meeting at the courthouse last Saturday at which time C. T. Watson, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, explained the County Maize contest and gave all interested pointers on field selection of seed and preparing the maize heads for exhibit purposes.

It was pointed out that a prize of $25 was to be given to the one bringing in the best ten heads of maize and $100 is to be awarded for the best yield; to prizes to be as follows: first $50, second $35, third $30, fourth $25, fifth $25, sixth $20, seventh $15, eighth $10, and five prizes of $5 each.

These prizes will be awarded during the latter part of September at a county exhibit to be held in Big Spring.

While this has been a very unfavorable year it is believed some fine feed crops will be made. All who entered the contest should stick it out and try for a prize.

REVIVAL MEETING TO OPEN

LEAVES FOR NEW YORK AND EASTERN MARKETS

F. F. Gary and son, McCall Gary, left last Wednesday for Chicago, New York and other eastern markets to buy fall and winter merchandise for the firm of Gary and Son.

Idle money is an evil. It causes idle men; idle men among those who have the idle money and idle men among those who have no money at all. The time is coming in the moral sense it is already here when a man will be held to have no rights in money or property that he is not operating for the general benefit.

Miss Julia Bess Nowell left last week for a visit with relatives and friends at San Angelo.

Mrs. S. C. Gist returned Monday from Abilene where she has been spending the summer with her daughters, Mrs. George Sinclair and Mrs. Grady Castle.

MEETING AT TAHOKA

Important good roads meeting held at Tahoka on August 13. Delegates from many points in the state are present.

The meeting is for the purpose of interest in the movement to have the highway No. 9 hard surfaced. New Mexico line to the Gulf coast have already called to vote bond issues to pave highways and it is expected that attention along the highway to line.

City reservoir was given a cleaning and scrubbing last Saturday and is going to clean. Charles Dublin has given instructions to erect a screen to prevent persons from thoughtlessly contaminating our water supply.

Nurse Advises WEAK, RUN-DOWN WOMEN To Take Cardui

"I have known of Cardui for nearly twenty-five years," says Mrs. Selma Meissner, 1072 Harrison Ave., Beaumont, Texas. "During that time, I have taken it several times and have frequently recommended it to others, for it is a splendid medicine and I am glad to give people the benefit of my experience."

"I have been a nurse for several years and have often come in contact with patients who were run-down and weak. Often I have told sufferers of Cardui, and the way I myself had been helped after taking it, and advised them to give it a trial. Many of them have since thanked me for what I told them, so I am willing that other women should know about it, too."

"I first took Cardui because I was awfully run-down. I had no appetite, and was weak and listless. It was hard to keep going under such conditions, and I looked for something which would help me."

"I had read of Cardui and decided to try it. After taking it, I improved so much that I have taken it since whenever I needed a tonic."

Sold by all druggists.

B. REAGAN, BANKER AND FORMER SCHOOLMASTER, HONOREE

San Saba, Texas, Aug. 6.—B. Reagan, president of the West Texas National Bank at Big Spring, former San Saba County school master, was the honoree at a reunion and home coming of former pupils at Richland Springs on Saturday, Aug. 6. An all day program was held.

Mr. Reagan's connection with the Richland school dates back to 1890 when having just come out of school at Baylor University, he began his career as a teacher, and many successful San Saba men and women give credit for their educational progress to the training received at the hands of B. Reagan, for the Reagan system has been cherished by former pupils through the past 37 years.

W. A. Smith, editor of the San Saba News, former pupil of Reagan speaking of the old school, said: "Mr. Reagan, our hero, and teacher, is now president of the West Texas National Bank at Big Spring. He is a good president in a good bank, no doubt. It may be possible that his field of labor and services are enlarged, but still there are some who will doubt if he is building more character for future years and serving more appreciative clientele than in the good old days when he was the hero and leader of the boys and girls at Richland Springs, Texas."

Mr. Reagan responded with a pleasing talk, the principal address of this occasion.

MY HOME AND ME

I am a lover of my home. I love my children. I love to have neighbors. I am willing to do almost anything to provide and protect my home. I will try to safeguard my home and my loved ones. What is my home? Is my home merely the house I live in? NO.
My home is the house I live in plus all the conveniences that our community provides, surrounded with people who are my friends, and with my wife and babies with their love. All combined in one great scheme of things with God's protection over all.

If I love my home then I will do my part to make it SAFE. Safe from sin; safe from the intruder; safe from disease, and safe from selfishness.

I will protect my home from sin the best I can by keeping sin out if possible. I will try to rid my community from sin so that my loved ones will not have to suffer because of some other sins.

I will guard my home from the intruder. I will support our laws and stand back of our officials as they guard my loved ones from the intruder.

I will try to protect my health for my loved ones sake. I will help stamp out diseases that others may have lest it attack my loved ones.

I will try to keep myself free from selfishness, lest my loved ones should suffer. For the sake of my own then I am willing to help others.

Your cooperation and my cooperation can make my home and your home the homes that they ought to be.

Guard well our home then by cooperation in the drive to stamp out the spread of all diseases. Committee on Public Health, Big Spring: The Best, Healthiest Place For MY HOME.

Improved Uniform International Sunday School Lesson

Lesson for August 14

DAVID BRINGS THE ARK TO JERUSALEM

LESSON TEXT—II Sam. 6:1-19; Ps. 24. GOLDEN TEXT—We shall be satisfied with the goodness of thy house, even of thy holy temple. PRIMARY TOPIC—David Worships God. JUNIOR TOPIC—David Worships God. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How to Worship God. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Feeling God in Individual and National Life.

I. David Made King. 1. Over Judah (II Sam. 2:1-14). Upon the death of Saul and Jonathan, David knew that the time had come for the fulfillment of God's purpose, but he carefully inquired of the Lord as to the proper movement to make. God directed him to Hebron, whereupon the children of Judah anointed him to be their king.

2. Over Israel (II Sam. 5:1-5). After the death of Ishbosheth, the children of Israel came and formed a league with David, anointing him as their king. They assigned as their reasons:

- (1) He was their brother (v. 1). This is true of Jesus Christ, who has become our kinsman through the incarnation. (2) He was their leader in war, even in Saul's time (v. 2). (3) He was the Lord's choice (v. 2).

II. David's Unsuccessful Attempt to Bring Up the Ark (vv. 1-5).

This is an example of a wrong way of doing a right thing. That the Ark of the Lord of Hosts, the symbol of God's presence, should be brought to the center of the nation's life was a decision worthy of all praise. David gathered together the representative men of the nation in order that the movement might be a national one. That David was sincere in this measure cannot be doubted, but he was hasty and inconsiderate, for the procedure was an express violation of God's statutes. The dictum that it matters little what you do, just so you are honest and sincere is one of the devil's blackest lies.

III. God Vindicates His Law and Holiness (vv. 6-9).

The people were very joyful as they moved on toward Jerusalem with the ark, but suddenly there was a stop to the jubilant voices and music. At some rough place in the road the oxen stumbled and Uzzah, anxious for the precious freight on his cart, reached forth his hand to steady it. This resulted in his being stricken to death, as a man who touches a live electric wire. Ignorance does not make a man immune from the death which is in the touch of the heavily charged electric wire; neither does it in the case of the violation of God's laws. Since the ark was God's dwelling place among men, they needed to know that He was holy.

IV. The Ark of God in the House of Obed-Edom (vv. 10-12).

The homes where God is welcomed are always blessed. Obed-Edom was not better personally than Uzzah and David, but he openly received the Lord and properly related himself to Him. What had been death and dread to others was life and blessing to him. This was all because of his attitude toward it.

V. The Ark Brought to Jerusalem With Great Joy (vv. 13-19).

1. Sacrifices were offered after going six paces (v. 13). David made the start and when convinced of God's approval, he made offerings. These were both burnt and peace offerings, typifying the self-dedication of the offerers and their thanksgiving (I Chron. 16:1).

2. David's great joy (vv. 14, 15). The people joined him with great shouting and with the sound of the trumpet.

3. Michal's criticism (v. 16). Even though David went to excess in his expression of joy, it was wrong in her to criticize, for God seems to have sanctioned David's rebuke of her (v. 23).

4. The grand celebration (vv. 17-19). As a token of his gratitude to God David generously treated the people.

5. The King of Glory, the Lord Jesus Christ, coming (Ps. 24:7-10). This was not the psalm composed by David for the occasion of bringing up the ark; that was Psalm 135 (See I Chron. 16). It is strange that such a suggestion should have been made. This 24th psalm pictures Christ as the coming and triumphant King. At that time the gates shall open to Him and the King of Glory shall come in.

God Gives Us Power

God gives us power to bear all the sorrows of His making; but He does not give the power to bear the sorrows of our own making, which the anticipation of sorrow most assuredly is.—Jan MacLaren.

Asking

Asking of me is the one appeal of the most high. It is not enough that we should be able to vindicate a plea we signed by the divine hand; we must plead it.—F. G. Meyer.

Mrs. Atherton's Aspirations

By H. IRVING KING

MRS. ARNOLD ATHERTON would have found life one grand sweet song had she not been troubled by ambition. She was really having the time of her life. Arnold made money and his wife, Gertrude, spent it. "Go ahead, Gerty," he would say, "have a good time. I can afford it. Lord knows, old girl, you had a hard enough time of it in those years when I found you slinging hash in that Alaska miners' boarding house when I met you." And that was so. Mrs. Atherton's father had gone out to Alaska prospecting, had made a strike and brought out his wife and his daughter; then lost his stake in a new venture, and died. His wife had soon followed him and Gertrude had become a waitress in a boarding house.

Then had come along Arnold Atherton, the Midas man, who changed to gold everything he touched, and married her. Back again in New England all the Alaskan part of her life had become a dream of unpleasant things that had been and could never be again.

Don't for a moment think that Gertrude went into the social whirl flamboyantly. Not a bit; she knew too much for that. She would have gone through life happily enough had not Mrs. Charles Fosdick married her daughter to an English earl.

Now, Mrs. Fosdick was an extremely obnoxious person to Mrs. Atherton. She knew that Mrs. Atherton had met and married Arnold somewhere in the West, and from the fact that she had intended to marry Arnold herself when he went out to "the coast," was curious as to the details of that western romance. "Oh, Mrs. Atherton," she would say, "do tell me about your life in the West—before you met Arnold, you know? It must have been intensely interesting—so unconventional, you know." Mrs. Atherton could change the subject. And when, after her daughter's marriage, Mrs. Fosdick began to talk about "My daughter, the countess," Mrs. Atherton could stand it no longer.

She, Mrs. Atherton, had a daughter, as yet unmarried and now quite old enough to be; and to this daughter a marquise was paying attention. Wouldn't it be delightful to match Mrs. Fosdick's "my daughter, the countess," with "my daughter, the marchioness?" Richard Brahman was also a suitor of Mrs. Atherton's daughter, Ethel, and heretofore Mrs. Atherton had been perfectly willing to take him as a son-in-law. But now came stamping in ambition with muddy boots and messed things up.

When Gertrude told her ambitious designs to Arnold he said: "Gerty, I never denied you anything yet—and am not going to now. If you want a marquise, go to it. But how about Dick and Ethel? Don't you think they ought to be consulted?" "Oh, they are so young," replied Mrs. Atherton.

After her husband had gone Mrs. Atherton sat awhile in deep thought. Then she rang a bell and summoned Ethel. Was Ethel in the house? "Yes, ma'am." "Tell her I would like to see her," Ethel came. She was young, that was a fact. And she was also pretty in her way. Not a raving beauty, you understand, but a good, wholesome-looking sort of a girl with intelligence sparkling from every feature. And she had a charm about her that was indescribable. Anyone who saw Ethel Atherton and did not love her at first sight must have been led to please.

"Ethel," said Mrs. Atherton, "how did you like to be a marchioness?" "That would depend entirely upon the sort of a marquise sought by my hand," laughed Ethel. "And, as you are going to marry Dick Brahman, a question is a purely academic one, anyway."

"Oh, you are going to marry Dick?" "Yes," said the mother. "When do you come to that decision?" "Last night," answered Ethel. "Dick told me last night. But, of course, it was all understood before. Dick was a little slow about making his formal announcement because, you see, he has no money and felt a little diffident about asking the daughter of a man so disgracefully rich as papa is to marry him. But I told him that was no consequence. Papa approved and so did you. So it's all right."

"And the marquise?" suggested Mrs. Atherton. "Oh, he?" laughed Ethel. "Why he had me to marry him three weeks ago. It was too funny! He is already paying alimony to two wives."

"I told him he had better clean up the shattered remnants of his former matrimonial adventures before he sought new ones. Did father tell you he was going to take Dick into partnership? Well, he is. And now father dear, where shall we buy my wedding trousseau?"

"Hum," said Mrs. Atherton; "you had your father seem to have settled things between you very well without my assistance. But you are right, Ethel. Let your hand go where your heart has gone. But, gracious! We have just about time to dress. We are engaged for that horrible Mrs. Fosdick's to dinner tonight, you know, and I suppose I shall have to hear about 'My daughter, the countess.'"

A few gallons of oil spread on some of the stagnant water in pools and ditches about our town would put millions of mosquitoes out of commission. We hope the attention of the sanitary officer is called to this matter, for it is an outrage that our folks be pestered with mosquitoes.

It's a puzzle why men will take such big chances in order to make a few dollars. Take the bootlegger for instance. He may get by for a while but it is only a question of time until the penitentiary gets him. He could make more money doing honest toll and his family would be saved much worry and trouble.

THE TEXAS STATE FAIR TO HAVE BETTER AND MORE FIREWORKS

There will be plenty of fireworks at the State Fair of Texas this year, both day and night. The management decided to drop the usual "spectacle" for the next show, Oct. 8 to 23, and to put into actual fireworks the money hitherto spent on the pay rolls for supers to act in these spectacles. Consequently, while there will be no scenery, no parades or supers, no canvas palaces toppling down as in Pompeii, Tokio, the World War and such spectacles, there will be fireworks and a lot of them and all of the best and most brilliant sorts that money can buy. Many people complained that these "shows" which preceded the fireworks were somewhat tame and only detained the crowds who were really desirous of seeing the fireworks and not the preliminaries. So the State Fair management is making the new experiment, believing that by putting the cost of the "shows" into better and more fireworks, they will please a larger crowd and give a really better entertainment.

GREATER DEMAND FOR SPACE ON IMPLEMENT ROW AT STATE FAIR

Implement and machinery dealers are evidently looking forward to a banner year in Texas, for not for decades has there been such a demand for space on Implement Row at the State Fair of Texas as has developed this summer.

With all Texas learning the lesson that modern farming pays dividends when properly conducted, with examples on every hand of what others are doing in the line of advanced methods and with bumper crops and good prices in sight, the implement men evidently expect to do business on a grand scale this fall. Hence the demand which has made it necessary to add new space to Implement Row at Fair Park. It is hinted that several new devices of rather startling nature are to be shown by some of the exhibitors.

ANNUAL BARNYARD GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP TOURNAMENT AT STATE FAIR

If there are any horseshoe pitchers in this community who believe that they are able to hold their own with the experts of other places in the State, now comes their chance.

The State Fair of Texas will inaugurate its first annual Barnyard Golf Championship Tournament, at the big fair Oct. 8 to 23, "barnyard golf" being the fancy name that has been fastened upon the game of pitching horseshoes.

The tournament will be held under the sanction and according to the rules of the National Horseshoe Pitchers' Association, which conducts all such tournaments at the large state fairs in the north and east.

The champion who wins this tournament will be eligible to enter the National Tournaments next year, and let us all hope he will bring the national championship to Texas.

The list of prizes and the rules under which the tournament will be held may be had by anyone interested by addressing a request to Roy Ruppard, Secretary State Fair of Texas, Dallas.

TEXAS A. & M. COLLEGE TO DEMONSTRATE COTTON GROWING AT STATE FAIR

Texas A. & M. College, which in the past has contented itself with an exhibit at the State Fair consisting of a model of the college grounds and buildings, will this year completely reverse itself and display one of the most interesting demonstrations that possibly could be arranged, it is announced from College Station.

It will make an exhibit which will demonstrate every step in the cotton industry from the preparation of the soil for the seed right down to the time the finished cotton fabric is placed in the hands of the consumer.

STATE FAIR OF TEXAS TO OPEN SIX NEW EXIT GATES

Six new exit gates from the grounds of the State Fair of Texas will make it possible to empty the grounds of all cars in from seven to ten minutes, even after the conclusion of the biggest football games, when the cars are thickest. At first but three new exits were planned, but engineers pointed out how and where additional openings could be made and used to aid the crowds in getting away. The former gates will be used for entrance only. No change has been made in those latter locations.

The directors of the State Fair of Texas claim that their efforts to give the people of Texas this fall the best State Fair ever held has resulted in every individual department being improved 100 per cent over what it was last year in the past. Over a million attendance is expected.

REFRESHING SUMMER DRINKS

Cool fruit punches are always welcome in warm weather, whether at luncheon, dinner, afternoon tea, or after a walk, or a game of golf or tennis. A most satisfying beverage is made by combining pineapple juice with any of the good table waters, especially ginger ale, or with freshly brewed tea, or with the juices of other fruits.

For a morning drink with pep in it, try pineapple morning glory. Mix two-thirds cup of juice from pineapple, one tablespoon of honey, a pinch of salt, and lemon juice to taste (one to two tablespoons). Juice of one orange may be used also, if desired.

This loading of from four to half a dozen folks in the front seat of an automobile should be discouraged. You are inviting accidents when you have a crowd in the front seat as the driver has practically no chance to do careful driving—even if the gang would permit him to drive safely.

THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Howard County—Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon E. L. Hand by making publication of this citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Howard County, Texas, to be holden at the Court house thereof, in Big Spring, on the first Monday in September, A. D. 1927, same being the 5th day of September, 1927, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 30th day of July A. D. 1927, in suit numbered 1113 on the docket of said court, wherein Temp S. Currie is plaintiff and Florence Black Hand; E. L. Hand; Hubert Black; Grace Wingo and her husband; Joe Wingo; Tommie Joe Black; J. D. Black and The State National Bank of Big Spring are defendants and, also, to answer the answer and cross action of said The State National Bank of Big Spring filed in said Court on 30th day of June, 1927, praying for judgment against its co-defendants, Mrs. Florence Black Hand; E. L. Hand; Hubert Black; Grace Wingo and her husband, Joe Wingo.

Plaintiff's suit is for judgment establishing his debt for the amount of principal, interest and attorney's fees represented in notes numbered six to ten, inclusive, each for $500.00, of the series of ten notes dated January 2, 1923, executed by T. A. Black, payable to said plaintiff, those declared on herein on or before six to ten years, respectively, after date, each bearing interest from date until maturity at the rate of 8 per cent per annum, the interest payable annually; each stipulating that said note and all past due interest to bear interest at the rate of 10 per cent per annum; for accelerated maturity for failure to pay any note or installment of interest when due and for the usual 10 per cent attorney's fees, if placed in the hands of attorney for collection, or through Probate Court. $3,610.00 of the note number one, which was for $4,000.00, transferred to the Federal Land Bank of Houston, Texas, balance of said note and numbers two to five, inclusive, having been paid off and discharged, and by reason default in payment of the annual interest due January 2, 1925, 1926, and 1927, respectively, plaintiff has elected to declare all of said notes due and payable and, also, prays for foreclosure of vendor's lien retained in deed by him to T. A. Black to secure payment of said notes on the South 1-2 and North-East 1-4 of Section No. 7, Block No. 33, Twp. 1-North, Cert. No. 1925, T. & P. Ry. Co. survey, comprising 480 acres, in Howard County, Texas, but subject to deed of trust in favor of the Federal Land Bank of Houston, Texas, securing payment of note originally for the sum of $3,800.00.

Plaintiff, also, alleges that defendants failed to pay the semi-annual interest and amortization installment maturing on first day of March, 1927, amounting to $123.50, and that he was forced to pay same in order to prevent foreclosure proceedings by said bank and to protect plaintiff's lien and that said installment, with lien securing its payment, was transferred by said Federal Land Bank to plaintiff. He asks for judgment for said sum, $123.50, with interest at 8 per cent from March 1, 1927, with foreclosure of lien securing payment same.

Plaintiff makes The State National Bank of Big Spring the defendant for the reason that said bank holds deed of trust on 3-4 interest in said parcels of land, but interest and subject to plaintiff's said vendor's lien.

He prays for order of sale, for application of proceeds of sale to the payment of principal, interest and attorney's fees, also, for costs of suit, general and special relief.

Defendant The State National Bank of Big Spring alleges that February 19, 1927, its co-defendant Florence Black Hand; Grace Wingo and her husband; Joe Wingo, and Hubert Black, executed to it a note in the sum of $2,871.00, payable on demand, with interest at 8 per cent per annum and for 10 per cent attorney's fees, if placed in hands of attorney for collection, or if collected through Probate Court, securing payment through deed of trust to T. A. Currie, Trustee, on 3-4 interest in the aforesaid parcels of land, and prayed for judgment for its debt represented in said deed of trust, and for foreclosure of said deed of trust in favor of the Federal Land Bank of Houston, Texas, to plaintiff's vendor's lien.

It also alleges that defendant made default in payment of semi-annual installment number six maturing on 1st day of September, 1926, on loan by said bank to T. A. Black, payment of which was secured through deed of trust on the above described tract on the part of defendant paid said installment amounting to $123.50, and prayed for judgment for said sum, with interest from September 1, 1926, at 8 per cent per annum and for foreclosure of lien securing payment of said judgment. Reference is made to plaintiff's original petition and original answer of defendant The State National Bank of Big Spring for fuller and more specific allegations by them, respectively.

Herein fail not but have been said Court, at its next regular term, this writ, with your return showing how you have executed same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Big Spring, Texas, on this 30th day of July A. D. 1927.
(Seal) J. I. PRICHARD, Clerk, District Court, Howard County, Texas.

WHAT'S DOING IN WEST TEXAS

By West Texas Chamber Commerce

Abilene — The West Texas Chamber of Commerce and the Texas Conservation Association have issued a call for representatives from all sections of the state to gather at this place August 18 to discuss the question of water rights. The question at issue is: Shall power companies control the streams of Texas, or shall water rights be preserved by the people. Many business men and farmers of the West are expected to attend the meeting.

Tatum, N. M. — The local post-office is undergoing a series of improvements, including painting of the building.

Goree — Forty-two cars of maize in the head have been shipped out of the Goree Grain Elevator, and during the past two weeks, 11 cars of threshed grain have been sent out.

De Leon — Work is underway on the new Lester Hotel here. The building is to consist of 27 rooms, a spacious lobby and dining room, modern fixtures, and plate glass front.

Seymour — Representatives of all surrounding counties near this point are cooperating in a move for promotion of an irrigation project in this section. A preliminary survey of a damsite shows that water could be impounded to irrigate between two and five hundred thousand acres.

Goldwithe — Dean O. Crawford has taken over the secretaryship of the Mills County Chamber of Commerce and plans to start out with a live wire membership campaign.

Estelline — The Estelline Chamber of Commerce, the Childress County Commissioner, and the Childress Chamber of Commerce have cooperated in a movement to secure a good road and daily rural mail service for a district in the southwestern part of Childress County.

Ozona — T. A. Kincaid of this city is head of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association for the fourth time, having been elected to this place at the twelfth annual convention of the association held in Kerrville recently. San Angelo won the 1928 meet.

Wellington — Delegates from some forty towns of North Texas will convene here the latter part of this month at the Panhandle-North Plains District Convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Menard — Menard's new $100,000 hotel will be under construction here at an early date, following acceptance of plans and specifications. The building is to be four stories fire-proof and of the latest design and structure.

San Saba — The annual Hills Country District Convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is scheduled to be held here on September 22. Llano was last year's host.

Mineral Wells — Work on the Baker Hotel here is progressing nicely. Under the new plans for the structure, there are to be twelve stories with 28 rooms to the floor, making a total of 336 rooms with a roof garden in addition. A swimming pool is to be on the east side of the hotel.

Childress — Childress's new city hall is to be opened at an early date. It will house the city officials, fire department, and board of city development.

MEXICANS TO HAVE PROGRAM AND DANCE ON AUGUST 20TH.

The Mexican population will have a big celebration in the W. O. W. hall in the Mexican settlement on the night of August 20. A play in three acts, monologues and readings will be given after which a dance will be held. Dolores H. Valenzuela is in charge of the program.

W. S. Clough of Abilene was a business visitor in this city last Friday.

DRUNKEN DRIVERS

An automobile in the hands of a drunken driver is "a more dangerous instrumentality for doing harm than a loaded shotgun." Judge C. O. Hamline told the grand jury in the Nineteenth district court at Breckenridge the other day.

Pointing out that the maximum penalty upon conviction of driving while intoxicated is two years in the penitentiary, Judge Hamline went on to say:

"Now gentlemen, you will see that the maximum penalty for the offense of driving while intoxicated is two years confinement in the State penitentiary, while the minimum penalty is a fine. The only criticism I have of the law is to the minimum penalty. I feel that anyone who willfully, and with reckless disregard of the rights of others, drive upon our highways in an intoxicated condition, thereby endangering the lives of the citizens who have a right to use our highways, both for pleasure and business should be given the maximum penalty. I consider an automobile in the hands of a drunken driver a more dangerous instrumentality for doing harm than a loaded shotgun. There is no way for the legitimate user of our highways to protect himself from the drunken driver. What assurance have you that you or your family may not be seriously hurt or killed by some intoxicated driver on the highway? It is simply a case, gentlemen, of where whiskey and gasoline will not mix. Every citizen who uses our highway is at the mercy of the drunken driver.

"The only way I know how to put a stop to such practice is for the petty juries of this country to unhesitatingly enforce the law by assessing the maximum punishment for such offenses. The man who will drive a car upon our public highways while intoxicated should be put where he cannot thus endanger the lives of men, women and children who are entitled, as every citizen is, to the free use of our highways.

"I trust that you gentlemen will give this matter thorough investigation and I know, that if the facts justify it, you will not hesitate to return an indictment."—Abilene Morning News.

THE BOYS' AND GIRLS' AGRICULTURAL CLUB PRIZES RAISED AT FAIR

Boys and Girls Agricultural Club work receives stronger recognition than ever, in the premium list just issued by the State Fair of Texas, a perusal of the list shows.

In the past the only crops recognized by the big fair have been corn and grain sorghums and the highest prize in any one class was $8.00. This year the highest prize is $10.00 and the other prizes are increased in proportion. Besides a sweepstakes prize of $10.00 has been hung up in each class, making it possible for some boy or girl to win additional money and honors.

The state fair officials this year have added three other crops to the contests, namely sweet potatoes, peanuts and cotton. In the latter class the officials put the boys and girls on the same footing as the grown-ups, as far as prizes are concerned. The cotton prizes, therefore, duplicate those offered in the regular agricultural prize list and range from $20.00 down to $2.00, through ten grades.

The results will be, according to J. A. Moore, superintendent of the Agricultural department, tremendous interest on the part of the Boys and Girls Clubs and a much better show of products than ever before offered.

Any boy or girl club member may have a premium list for agricultural home-demonstration work or pig and poultry club work by writing Roy Rupard, Secretary State Fair of Texas, Dallas.

JUNIOR LIVE STOCK SHOW A NEW FEATURE AT TEXAS STATE FAIR

A complete junior live stock show will greet the visitors to the State Fair of Texas this year, Oct. 8 to 23. The directors in line with their policy of giving greater recognition than ever to the splendid work that is being done by the Boys and Girls Clubs throughout Texas, have decided that from now on, all the animals, calves, pigs, lambs, etc., as well as poultry, etc., raised by the boys and girls, shall be exhibited under one roof, in a building of their own.

In the past these exhibits have been scattered through the different live stock pavilions on the grounds. Beginning this October they will be housed in a separate building adjacent to the boys and girls' club dormitories, a more logical as well as a more convenient arrangement, it is admitted.

Dr. A. E. Flowers, superintendent of the live stock department is authority for the statement that the boys and girls' club exhibits at the 1927 State Fair will surpass anything ever shown in this line in the Southwest. This is all in accord with reports from other sources which point to the coming State Fair as a record breaker from every angle.

PAVED MIDWAY TO GREET VISITORS AT STATE FAIR

If you happen to pick out a rainy day to see the State Fair of Texas next October and you want to go through the Midway and take in the many shows and rides you can do it with dry feet, it is announced.

The fair management has built a new Midway and has put down a hard-surfaced roadway throughout its entire area. The rides will all be grouped together in the middle, it is said. Around these will run the new roadway. And on the opposite side from the rides the different tent shows will be lined up, facing the rides. The roadway, therefore, will be bottle or loop-shaped. The famous Morris & Castle Exposition Shows have been engaged for the next fair dates, Oct. 8 to 23, it is announced from Dallas, and these are said to be the very best on the road.

WILL MORRIS, THE GREATEST CLOWN IN THE WORLD

This man would be the next governor of Texas if the choice depended upon the ability of the candidate to make the voter laugh out loud. Will Morris can make people laugh louder and longer than any other clown in the world. No one can beat him, it is claimed.

He is one of the merry-makers who will help to make the Hippodrome show, in front of the grand stand, at the State Fair of Texas next October, the funniest and the best show ever engaged by the fair management for that purpose, it is claimed.

STYLES NOTES FOR FALL

Reviewing the New Styles for Fall
Now Ready for Your Selection

Youth seems to be the outstanding theme in the new frocks for Fall. Youth is always expressed by something different. Our frocks are the exact representation of the mode. Already extensive showing—others arriving daily.

Each frock is distinctly different from every other frock, but the general theme for Fall is carried on as in the plot of a novel.

—Neck lines are high in bands, and the plain round, the V- and U-neck finishes are important.

—The sleeves are long and fitted, plain or with simple wrist finish.

—The silhouette, in many cases straight, but front or side-flares, are a feature of the season.

—Spiral, diagonal treatments and sunburst motif mark the pronounced treatments. One-piece bolero effects are also used in a new effect for Fall.

—Crepe satin, Elisabeth, georgette, jersey and velvet develop the most interesting fabrics.

—Color importance is shown in these frocks in new browns, navy and midnight blue, beige, medium green and wine shades. Black is very important.

Spreading Typhoid Fever

Measures Advocated by State Board of Health Adopted by Citizens

Black spots on the sanitary Big Spring are being erased according to reports given by members of the various committees to make a survey of the spread of typhoid fever. Committees met in the basement of the First Methodist Church at five o'clock Monday afternoon and the reports were heard.

The majority of the chairmen were highly favorable reports stating that people visited were at work on the unsanitary places where filth and flies exist. All seemed willing and ready to do their part in this fight against the spread of this dread disease. However, there were other chairmen reported that there were some who positively refused to be immunized or take other precautionary measures to prevent the spread of typhoid.

First committee, the schools, P. B. Bittle is chairman, reported that the town had been divided into five zones with the presidents of the Parent-Teacher Association of the city schools captains of the districts. These captains appointed their lieutenants and a permit is being made to every child within the city limits encourage each member of the family to be immunized against typhoid. It is reported that every child of school age is immunized before he will be allowed to enter school this fall.

The School Board passed a resolution to this effect at their last meeting. "Every precaution be taken to protect the child against typhoid fever," Mr. Bittle said in close of his report Monday afternoon. "Few folks realize what the child is exposed to when the free text books furnished by the State. Every book is a germ and there is no way to disinfect these books. Not only are the carriers of typhoid germs, but kind of other disease germs. If a child gets the books used by an infected child last year or the year before his life is endangered by the germs left on the books. We should take every precaution to keep down the germs."

Five captains working with Mr. Meador, Mrs. J. C. E. E. H. Happel, Mrs. Miller and Mrs. L. S. Patterson. Mr. Miller is doing some work with the Mexican population and Mexican children plan to attend the public schools this fall.

Report from the committee to clean out door toilets were closed. Proper sewer connections were made that places having out toilets were warned to make connection at once. Each place was visited by Chief of Police E. A. and action on same will be taken if owners fail to make arrangements for proper disposal of sewerage.

Committee appointed to visit dairies in our city reported that these places were cleaner than they expected to find them and in good order, while some were not as clean as they had ever imagined. The dairies have tested cattle and the owners seemed willing to cooperate with the committee in the sanitary measures suggested. These suggestions will be of great effect and be working and adopted by the sanitary engineer.

Survey of the two bakeries in Big Spring showed that all help at these places had been immunized against typhoid and were cooperating in the sanitary measures suggested.

Report from the committee to clean up the butcher shops, slaughter houses and stores where vegetables are sold was made by Mrs. C. T. E. J. C. Douglass. They reported that all vegetables not enclosed in refrigerators were covered with paper. The butcher shops reported to be in good order and a few seemed willing to help clean up and have their help.

Special mention was made of the Bankhead Market for its cleanliness and good order.

BUILDING NOTES

The brick work on the seventh story of the new Crawford Hotel is now being completed. Work on the interior will be rushed night and day in an effort to have the hotel completed by Sept. 15.

The fireproof warehouse of the Wooten Grocery company, at the corner of W. First and Gregg street, has been completed and the stock of groceries is being moved from the former warehouse to the new building.

Rapid progress is being made on the warehouse and cold storage plant of the Winn Produce Co. on East First street. This is to be a modern plant and is a real asset to our city.

Work on the Dr. T. M. Collins business block on East Second St. is far advanced and should be ready for occupancy by Sept. 1. Space for four business firms will be available when this structure is completed.

The stucco apartment of Joe B. Neel on Nolan street is now nearing completion.

Work on the South Ward school building is moving along in good shape.

Plans for several new business buildings are now under consideration.

The new paving program is due to start in a short time.

NATURAL GAS PRACTICALLY ASSURED

We were under the impression that the Lone Star Gas Co. would be the first big corporation to ask for a franchise in Big Spring, but it now appears that the West Texas Gas Co., a subsidiary of the Prairie Oil and Gas Co., is likely to be the first in the field.

The West Texas Gas Company is to serve Lubbock, fifteen other Panhandle towns, also a number of South Plains points. A ten inch line will be run from Lubbock to Lamesa. It is planned to add Midland, Stanton, and Big Spring to the cities to be served.

Natural gas from the Panhandle field will be supplied.

R. L. POWELL BUYS BIG RANCH

R. L. Powell recently purchased of D. T. Lacey of Gainesville the Lacey ranch in the eastern part of Howard County. About six sections were included in the deal, consideration $38,400.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Reagan returned Tuesday afternoon from a visit at Brady, San Saba, and other points south. While in San Saba Mr. Reagan was the honoree at a reunion and homecoming of school masters.

cleanliness and good order.

It was also reported that the ice plant and creamery were cooperating and were adopting the sanitary measures suggested by the member of the State Board of Health.

Several unsanitary places, such as out door toilets, places where stagnant pools of water are allowed to stand, etc., were reported by some of the committeemen to the City Health Officer and City Manager, and these places where flies are allowed to breed will be cleaned up at once.

Mrs. James Currie, graduate nurse, and Ruben Davis, medical student, visited the homes where there are typhoid patients and gave detailed instructions how the excreta from patients, the linens, dishes, silverware, etc., be disinfected. Other instruction to prevent the spread of the disease from the sick room were also given.

It was the general impression of those present that much could be done to eradicate the fly. The town is swarmed with flies this summer, and it is stated that these filthy carriers are causing the spread of typhoid in Big Spring.

All are urged to continue to work in the interest of this campaign, and to clean up the filthy places in the town. There is yet plenty of clean-up work to be done and must be done, before this dread disease is checked. Let us all join hands and work together.

A meeting of the committees will be held at the Methodist Church next Monday afternoon at five o'clock. All are urged to be present at this meeting and it is hoped that you each report that some good work is being done to help curb the spread of typhoid fever in our city.

JIMMIE MASON AND MISS LOUISE DAVIS ARE MARRIED

Announcement of the marriage of Miss Louise Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Davis, and Jimmie Mason came as a surprise to their many friends in this city. The wedding which was performed in Midland by the Baptist minister on February 6, was not announced until Saturday, the couple desiring to keep it secret, until their new home in College Heights addition was completed and furnished. They are now at home in their new cottage.

Mrs. Mason is the sweet and charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Davis and has grown to young womanhood in this city. After graduating from the Big Spring High School she took a business course, and for the past year has been in the employ of the First National Bank. Because of her amiability and sweet manners she is admired by many friends both in the business and social circles of the city.

The groom is an energetic and dependable young business man and at present is in the employ of the Gulf Company agency in this city.

Their many friends in this city extend to them sincerest congratulations and best wishes for a happy wedded life.

GEORGE BITTLE HONORED AT BIRTHDAY DINNER

George Bittle, son of Supt. and Mrs. P. B. Bittle, was the honoree at a six o'clock dinner last Friday evening this date being the anniversary of his nineteenth birthday. This jolly affair was a surprise planned in his honor by his mother and guests on this occasion were members from the Roxana geologists department, who are in camp near Big Spring, and are making a survey of this section. After the tempting birthday dinner was enjoyed the birthday cake, with nineteen lighted candles, was cut and topped off the meal. For recreation and diversion following the dinner the boys gave George a "lekkin'."

Those present at this happy affair were: A. M. Goss, S. A. Morehead, G. R. Strassenburgh, T. V. Silvia, K. L. Spivey, R. E. House, W. H. Rosser, Earl Plew, Thomas Rogers, George Bittle and P. B. Bittle.

EASTERN STARS ENJOY PICNIC AT FISHER RANCH

A moonlight picnic was enjoyed by members of the Order of Eastern Star and their families Tuesday evening at the Fisher ranch about ten miles south of Big Spring. The members brought well filled baskets of picnic eats and an assortment of salads, sandwiches and other good things were spread for all to feast on. The cool evening breeze, and beautiful moonlight made this an ideal evening for an outing and following the meal games were enjoyed until a late hour.

All those present report a delightful time.

BOBBIE'S PLAY BOYS AT ELKS HALL MONDAY NIGHT

Bobbie's Play Boys, popular radio orchestra, over station W F A A, Dallas, will furnish music for a dance to be given at the Elks hall next Monday evening, August 15. Invitations will be issued to the members of the Elks Lodge, their families and friends the latter part of the week.

This popular eight-piece dance orchestra has been making a tour over West Texas, playing for dances at El Paso, Abilene, and other West Texas cities and has been making a hit wherever they are heard.

Plans for a jolly good time on Monday evening are underway, according to a report from the Dance Committee of the Elks Lodge.

BILL ERWIN'S PLANE PASSES OVER OUR CITY WEDNESDAY

The airplane of Bill Erwin, Hong Kong bound, passed over Big Spring at 8:59 o'clock Wednesday night. The exhaust of the motor could be plainly heard.

BIRTHDAY SUPPER GIVEN IN HONOR OF VISITORS

Friends and relatives enjoyed a delightful birthday supper Tuesday evening in honor of Mrs. J. A. Bell of Marshall who is now the guest of her daughter Mrs. W. A. Allen in this city.

On the beautiful shady lawn of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Hofford's home a long table was arranged filled with good eats consisting of fried chicken, banana salad, pies, sandwiches, cake and other good things. In the center of the table were two beautiful cakes one the birthday cake bearing lighted candles and the other cake was embossed in gold and white. After the main meal the cakes were cut and served with delicious ice cream. Later in the evening games and swimming were enjoyed. Mrs. Bell received many nice gifts, letters and telegrams from her friends and relatives who wished many more years of happiness and good health.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Miles, Mr. and Mrs. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Dameron and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jack White and family, C. White and daughter, Mrs. M. J. Allen and Mrs. G. W. Hofford.

As the guests departed Mrs. Bell remarked: "This is the end of a perfect day."

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED AT T. E. L. CLASS MEETING

The regular monthly business and social meeting of the T. E. L. class of the First Baptist Church was held in the basement of church, Aug. 9 with Mesdames Roy Jones, Clifford Hurt and Hutchings hostesses. The devotional was taken from Gal. 6:1-19. The new officers for the coming year beginning Sept. 1, were elected as follows: president Mrs. J. T. Mercer; first vice president Mrs. Robbins; second vice president Mrs. C. Coffee; third vice president Mrs. Sellers; secretary Mrs. Roy Jones; treasurer Mrs. Hutchins; reporter Mrs. Fuller.

It was decided at this time that the class should start a fund to pay off the debt on the basement and the sum of $21.50 was raised at this meeting with pledges made to $25.00 by September 1.

Mrs. Walker of Wichita Falls and Mrs. Warren Chastain were visitors and each one told something of the work of the T. E. L. classes in their churches.

A short program was given after which a tempting ice course was served to about twenty-five members.

BOY SCOUTS IN CAMP NEAR WATER VALLEY ON CONCHO

The Boy Scouts left Monday morning for Water Valley for their annual summer camp on the Concho River. Scoutmaster J. M. Manuel was unable to attend the camp this year and Felton Smith and J. R. Creath are in charge. Fishing, hunting, swimming, hiking and other sports will be enjoyed while on this camp.

A list of the boys in Boy Scout camp is as follows: Walton Morrison, Howard Smith, Theo. Peterson, Robert Conner, Bert Shive, Winston Manuel, Joe Black, Joe and Jarrel Pickle, Frank Fisherman, Thomas Joe Williamson, Charles Koberg, Harmon Morrison, Clyde Thomas Jr., Donald Mason, Felton Smith Jr. and George Thomas.

RAINBOW GIRLS NOTICE!

All members of the Order of Rainbow Girls and all members of the Advisory Board of this order are requested to be present at the next regular meeting to be held at the Masonic Hall tonight (Friday) Aug. 12, at 7:30 o'clock. Important business will come up for discussion and it is necessary that all are present.

Mrs. H. B. Robb and children, Miss Mabel and H. B. Jr., after a visit in this city with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dell Hatch and other relatives and friends, left Monday for her home in Dallas.

We buy your produce and that is worth considering. White House.

MRS. NETTIE CRENSHAW DEAD.

Mrs. Nettie Crenshaw, 69, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Glass Glenn at Haskell, Texas, at 3:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, August 8th, following a brief illness. Her children in this city L. E. Crenshaw, Jim Crenshaw, and Mrs. Ferris, received a message Monday morning announcing the serious illness of their mother and they left immediately for Haskell but their mother had passed away before they arrived at her bedside. The body was shipped to this city for interment. Funeral services were held at the home of L. E. Crenshaw on Benton street at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon with Claude Wingo, minister of the First Christian Church, officiating. Members of the Odd-fellows lodge were pall bearers and the remains were laid to rest in Mt. Olive cemetery.

Mrs. Crenshaw had been with her daughter in Haskell for about one month. Previous to this time she had been in Big Spring where she had a host of friends who loved and esteemed her. She was of kindly nature, practiced the teachings of the Golden Rule in her daily living, and was ready to meet her Master when the summons came.

Surviving Mrs. Crenshaw are her children: Charlie Crenshaw of Breckenridge, L. E. and Jim Crenshaw of this city; Mrs. Glass Glenn of Haskell, Mrs. Farris of Big Spring and Mrs. Abernathy of San Angelo.

Heartfelt sympathy is extended to the bereaved ones in the loss of their precious mother.

TO BUILD FINE COUNTRY HOME AT PANTHER DRAW SOON

J. J. Phillips of the Panther Draw community has awarded the contract to John Reeder Jr. for the erection of a fine country home at his place about 20 miles south of Big Spring, same to be eight rooms and bath, with all modern conveniences. This home will be of stucco finish and Mr. Winslow of Big Spring will complete this work. Mr. Phillips will have one of the finest homes in the county when finished.

THOMAS AND FORREST BUY THE LYRIC CONFECTIONERY

Thomas and Forrest are the new proprietors of the Lyric Confectionery, formerly owned by Gus Thomas. The new owners took possession of this popular stand Saturday night. They have made several improvements to the place which have added to its neat appearance and attractiveness.

DALLAS TEAM COMING

Starting today, (Friday) three fast baseball games will be played here Friday and Saturday at five o'clock and Sunday at three-thirty o'clock between Dallas Federal Reserve Bank team and Big Spring T. & P. team.

This club claimed the amateur championship of Texas last year, after winning the Dallas City league championship and defeating the amateur champions of Wichita Falls, San Antonio and Houston.

The local club is playing the best ball that they have played, having gone through the recent series with but one error. Come to these games and you will be sure to see a good exhibition of baseball.

MAKE COTTON PAY THIS YEAR

It is quite encouraging to see the piles of cotton climbing. We hope it goes to 25 cents per pound. But no matter how high the prices go, the growers should plan to do most of the picking this year, 1927, as little hired help as possible. The high cost of harvesting the cotton crop last season should be a lesson for the more cotton you make, the more off you were.

Make every pound of cotton you can but be sure it does not cost more than it is worth to have it picked. If the farmers had left a million bales in the fields last year they would have been far better off.

SISTER OF MRS. C. H. VICK DEAD

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Vick and children and Mrs. Vick's mother, Mrs. S. E. Taylor, returned Wednesday from Park, Texas, where they had been to attend the funeral of Mrs. Vick's sister, Mrs. J. H. Sides. Mrs. Sides died at her home in Seminole Sunday and funeral services were held at Parks, Monday afternoon.

Heartfelt sympathy is extended to the bereaved ones at this sad hour.

Luncheon Club Is On The Job

A Proposition Submitted Whereby Big Spring May Secure College; Sanitary Engineer Arrives

While the attendance at this week's meeting of the Wednesday Luncheon Club was whittled down considerably due to quite a few members being away on vacation trips, there were a number of interesting talks on important topics.

Because Chairman J. B. Pickle had failed to appoint anyone to look after this week's program he was forced to serve as master of ceremonies. He called for a report on the meeting to cooperate with the Health authorities in putting rigid sanitary measures into force which would last week. Edwin A. Kelley gave a resume of the meeting, appointment of the various committees, and stated everything seemed to be working towards a solution of the problem. He gave the women much praise for the manner in which they performed the duties assigned them.

C. T. Watson made a brief announcement to the effect that he had been advised by City Health Officer M. H. Bennett that a sanitary engineer from the State Health Department would arrive in Big Spring Wednesday night to assist in placing Big Spring in first class shape. He also announced that an effort was being made to have the milk supplied our city by dairies to be graded and those selling milk let it be known the grade of milk they were selling.

Rev. G. B. Walters was called upon for a talk and stated that his church, the Church of God, was planning on establishing a college in Texas and he thought about the best place to put it would be Big Spring. He stated that a committee would be named to select the location and a selection would be made within the next four months. He also stated he would be glad to have our citizenship make careful investigation of his Church, feeling sure they would find every reason to decide they were doing a great good. He answered a number of queries relating to the proposed college.

H. L. Rix made a motion that we go after this college and suggested that C. T. Watson have the proper committee from the Chamber of Commerce get in touch with Bro. Walters and go after this proposition.

W. V. Montin, city manager, was called upon to give an account of the civic activities. Mr. Montin stated the voting of the paving bond issue was the best news he had to give. He advised that while the city water supply was A1 they were now chlorinating the water in the reservoir to absolutely prevent contamination. Furthermore they were locking the gates to keep folks out of the section in which the reservoir is located, and are to build a wire stockade completely around the reservoir. He advised that a dual system of water mains was to be installed on Runnels street.

Locking the water boxes at the new water wells, and placing hydrants along the line for the convenience of our citizens had been ordered.

E. W. Williams suggested that a letter of some kind should be forwarded to the officials of the T. & P. Ry. expressing regret upon the destruction of a portion of the shops here. He suggested that the Chamber of Commerce men had attended to this.

W. C. O'Brien stated that the Chamber of Commerce did not seem to be receiving a very hearty response to their invitation to pay $50 to $1 monthly dues to the association. In order to keep Mr. O'Brien in order and suggested that every member remit someone else to send in a yearly membership.

A representative of the Hall Airway, Inc., of Los Angeles, Calif., has been in El Paso this week working on a plan to start an airplane passenger service line from New York to San Francisco via El Paso. From 25 to 25 Ford-Stout metal 12-passenger planes to be used and the service to start in the next 90 days, according to officials of the corporation.

Mrs. John Clarke has as her guests this week her sister Mrs. H. G. Eskew, and her niece Mrs. J. W. McLaughlin of Austin, Texas.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC: Any erroneous reflection up the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm, or corporation, which may appear in the columns of this paper, will be gladly corrected upon its being brought to attention of the editor.

We don't need so many weeds and trash around our streets and premises. It would be money to the city to have them removed.

The demand for homes is again becoming quite brisk. New families continue moving here. As the time for the opening of school approaches there will be quite a scramble to secure homes and apartments.

The American League pennant race seems to have settled down to a contest between Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig of the New York Yankees for the home run championship. Little old Chi is stepping out to cop the National League championship.

The little tin horn gambler is hounded for risking his "two bits" and "four bits" while the big Wall street gamblers play their big gambling game to the detriment of the cotton, corn and wheat growers, without hindrance.

There are some big opportunities a brewing and the West Texas city that has the grit and determination to go after and hog-tie them is the city that is going to be the king-bee in West Texas. We had better line-up and work together if we want our home town to be in the race.

The Fats and Leans are not on speaking terms these days and there will be little love lost until after the big baseball game Friday, Aug. 19. Promoter J. F. Wolcott says the captains and the entire line-up of both teams are as hard to get along with as a nest of hornets.

The destruction of the Texas and Pacific machine shops here early Sunday morning while quite a loss to the company did not cause any delay in the traffic or other business of the line. Two hours after the fire, machinery was enroute to Big Spring, and all the employees were kept on the job.

It's true that folks will not have as much time to be visiting over the state in the jitney if cows and hens are to be looked after but they are not burning up money when they stay at home. It takes time and work to properly care for poultry and dairy cows but we know of no scheme where you can get money without some labor. Only the crooks are lucky at getting the easy money.

From the tan on the face and the callouses on the hands, you can't tell whether he got it playing golf or by making an honest living—El Paso Herald.

Have you handed in that membership to the Cemetery Association? Your monthly donation will certainly help this worthy organization. Give whatever you are able to give, as every donation no matter how small will be appreciated.

Life is just what we make it, and most of us seem to make it a race for the almighty dollar. Some, because we have to, to make both ends meet, and others because they seem to worship money. Just how making a pile of money on this earth is going to help them on the other shore, is beyond us.

The search for oil in Howard County has ended—since they have found a field more than thirty miles long. The development of the fields already located and the development of additional fields in our county will keep oil companies busy for the next ten to twenty years. They have barely started operations in this section.

It would pay the City of Big Spring to employ a man by the year to see that the sanitary measures are carefully observed. It is always less costly to prevent than cure disease. It is just as important that the lives of our citizens be protected as it is that their pocketbooks and other property be protected.

If it is in order we would suggest that we cannot afford to let the Y. M. C. A. go by default. If our town did not have such an institution we would all willingly donate to secure same. We have the "Y." It is doing good work among the boys of our town and can do a great deal more if we back up the institution with our influence and our dollars.

Credit, it is a wonderful thing and fortunate is the man whose credit is A-1. Credit is also like strychnine, it is a wonderful tonic if you use it correctly, and a poison if you use it in the wrong way. A man may lose his fortune and health through adversity, but he can only lose his credit by his own acts.—W. C., in El Paso Herald.

Some of these nights the ambulance will be called out to pick up a crowd of young people who have been mangled in an auto accident. Most any night you can find autos loaded to the guards with the occupants squealing and screaming, when the cars are driven at racing speed over the hilly portion of Nolan street, between Ninth and Eleventh streets.

Well, the good old summer time will soon be playing its last tune, and some of us will soon be saying we like summer far better than we do the winter time. The fog end of the summer always does seem just a little more trying than the balance of the season.

Why not pay prizes to the farmer or farmers wives who will be first to place 500 hens on the farm to help provide living expenses. The little flock of hens will keep the ready cash rolling in most all of the year and make it possible to exist without mortgaging the cotton crop in advance.

The citizenship of Corpus Christi is keenly interested in securing direct rail connections with the Plains section so they can secure cotton, wheat and oil to increase the tonnage of their deep water port. They are going to stay on the job until they secure such a line and it will be to our advantage to "throw in" with them.

The citizenship of a community is often to blame for youths becoming criminals just as they are responsible for disease, by failure or refusing to abolish filth. We are so in love with the dollar that we just can't spend it on anyone but ourselves. Crime and disease can be prevented easier and at less cost than they can be cured.

"It all depends on you" as to what kind of a town Big Spring shall be. If everyone followed your lead you can picture just what sort of a burg we would have. If you have been profiting from the work of others why not take a tumble to yourself and be a helper for a spell.

General rains throughout West Texas are not only needed to promote crop growth, but are sorely needed on pasture land. If we are to have winter grass it is essential that the big rains come soon; and the sooner they appear the greater will be the benefit.

STATE STARTS NEW POTASH BED DRIVE

Plans to have state supervisors in the oil and gas fields aid in the search for potash beds in Texas are being worked out by the oil and gas division of the railroad commission. Dr. E. H. Sellards, of the bureau of economic geology of the University of Texas, met with the oil and gas supervisors recently and outlined to them the conditions under which potash likely will be found in Texas. He warned them that a soluble potash will probably be encountered with salt beds and discussed how to prevent loss through water being introduced into such deposits.

Importance commercially of the potash discoveries was illustrated by the figures showing that $13,000,000 worth of potash is imported annually for fertilizers and about $1,000,000 is produced annually in the United States. —El Paso Herald.

DUTCH MANTTELL THE WINNER

Dutch Mantell made good on his promise to give Big Spring fans real show when he got on the mat with Billy Simpson of Des Moines, Iowa. And it was certainly a fast and furious wrestling match while it lasted. The flying Dutchman had everything a real wrestler needs and he is just too fast and rough a worker for the wrestlers in his class.

Simpson hadn't a ghost of a show against Mantell, and went down for the first fall in 13 1-2 minutes, and for the second fall in 8 minutes and 29 seconds.

Dutch is the dynamite and he is going to draw a large crowd anytime at Big Spring.

The match between Mantell and Simpson was the main event of the evening and was staged at 10 o'clock. While waiting for the big attraction the crowd was entertained by some wrestling matches. Billy London took on a giant from the E. P. James Carnival company and though outweighed nearly fifty pounds Billy won the match. London received an injured foot in the tussle. About four other fast matches were staged.

Woody Windham of Abilene, paper weight champion of Texas, defeated Howard Swindle of Wichita Falls: winning the first fall in 3 1-2 minutes and the second fall in 13 1-2 minutes.

James Vines wrestled with a girl, and the girl was declared the winner. Chas. Vines Jr. and Jack Dean wrestled, with Dean declared the winner. Two Mexican youths also gave a snappy exhibition match.

No matches were arranged for this week on account of the James Carnival company being in the city, but London states he has some good matches lined up for the future, and the fans will be kept informed as to the line-up.

A GREATER TELEPHONE SYSTEM FOR TEXAS

Vol. II A Journal of Telephone Information Published by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company No. 8

Bell System Property Has Tripled In Last Ten Years

Represents Investment of $218.00 for Each Bell System Telephone

The physical property of the Bell System, including land, buildings, and equipment, represents an investment of about three billion dollars, almost three times that of ten years ago. This figure means an investment of approximately $218.00 for each Bell System telephone.

$2,300,000 TAX BILL

In Texas, the telephone company is one of the State's largest industries, furnishing local and long distance telephone service in 241 towns and cities. It is also one of the largest taxpayers in the State. During 1926, the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company paid taxes amounting to $2,300,000, or approximately $6.90 for each Bell Telephone in the State.

The illustration below shows the distribution of each dollar of the telephone company's operating expenses:

It is interesting to note that practically 66 cents out of each one dollar of telephone expenses is spent locally for taxes, rent, and wages.

WHY "O-D"?

"O-D"—telephone abbreviation for out of order.

Telephones, like other machines, occasionally get out of order, but do you realize that in many cases the line is out of order because of the receiver being off the hook?

During the first three months of this year, more than 30,000 receivers were left off hooks in the larger cities of our territory. In 4,000 of these cases it was necessary to send out trouble men to notify the subscribers to replace the receivers on the hooks.

GOOD NEWS

A word of praise for work well done is always acceptable. The following letter was received by one of our District Managers from a subscriber:

"Your efficient service almost every moment of the day is so satisfactory that I feel duty bound to say so. Recently I put in a long distance call at ten minutes to twelve in the morning. As the party I was calling was due to leave his office at noon, I hardly dared hope to reach him. In exactly four minutes you had the call through for me. I call that service, and this is but one instance of many."

Great Roman Ruler in Advance of Age

Appius Claudius Caecus, who appeared in history in 312 B. C., was called by one German historian the boldest innovator in Roman history. By law the tenure of office of a censor was limited to eighteen months, but Appius Claudius seemed so much the superior of all other men of his age that he was censor for five years and he carried through, despite frantic opposition from the conservatives, a law to bring new blood into the governing classes.

The aristocracy was jealous of its prerogatives and made birth the essential to a senatorial career, but Appius Claudius broke down the admission requirements. He put into the senate the names of many plebeians who had recently attained wealth and even freed men of distinction who were not especially prosperous.

Probably the greatest contribution to Roman progress was his building of two great public works on a scale that Rome had never known. They were the famous Appian way, the great road that led from Rome to Capua, and the vast aqueduct to bring water to the city. Few tourists who visit Rome have failed to drive out upon the historic Appian way or have failed to catch sight of the tremendous ruins of the once mighty aqueduct that strikes across the Campagna.—Kansas City Star.

Painted Rocks Record Where Indians Played

"Painted Rocks," in the Rio Grande national forest, record the recreation activities of Indians.

Many moons before the white man invaded that part of Colorado the forest was the favorite play and hunting grounds of the Indians. Here they held their annual games in connection with their hunts.

The forest is rich in Colorado history. Spaniards traversed the mountains more than 200 years ago; Fremont forced his way through, and ruins of his fortifications still are visible at Wagon Wheel gap. Adventurers, trappers and prospectors thronged the country, and old-timers will relate scores of thrilling stories to the auto tourist.

The forest itself contains more than 1,000,000 acres and the granite back of the continental divide has jagged peaks and vast canyons as it bends and twists for 125 miles.

Ships and Tonnage

Tonnage of a ship refers not to its weight, as is often supposed, but to its carrying capacity. The term originated in the time of King Henry VII of England, who introduced one of the first navigation acts of its kind in which the importation of Bordeaux wine in any vessels except those owned by the illeges was forbidden.

The liquor was carried in huge barrels called tuns, and, since then, the cargo capacity of a ship has been measured by tonnage or tonnage, the modern term. In connection with war vessels, however, the word refers to the weight of water they displace, or their displacement tonnage, the common way of describing the weight of other ships.

Advance Information

Every trade has its stock of well-known yarns, but occasionally a new one does occur only, alas, in time to become a classic. A certain well-known newspaper man was holding forth to a group of writers among whom was a rather famous novelist. The journalist was saying that he had recently been engaged in revising the obituaries held in readiness by his paper. Turning to the novelist, he added jocosely: "I've just been writing you up."

But the novelist, apparently, had not been following very closely. Waking up with a start, he asked eagerly: "When is it going to be published?"

Old Nick

Old Nick is an ancient name for the devil derived from that of the Neck or Nille, a river ocean god of the Scandinavian popular mythology. British sailors, says Sir Walter Scott, poet and novelist, "who fear nothing else, confess their terrors for his terrible being, and believe him the author of almost all the various calamities to which the precarious life of a seaman is so continually exposed." Scott wrote this many years ago, and superstition has greatly decreased since then.

Nothing Left

Little Ted, five years old, was continually losing his pencils in school. So one evening went by that he didn't come home in tears because he had lost his pencils again.

To put an end to it, his mother wrote Ted's name on them one morning. That evening he came home weeping as usual.

"What's wrong?" asked his mother. "They're gone again," stammered Ted through his tears; "name and all."

"Zugs" Don't Charge for It

Scientists are informed, is coming to the aid of farming by doing a job for him formerly done only by a kind of bacteria. The job is to take the nitrogen out of the air and turn it into a nitrogen compound which can be used as fertilizer. The bacteria do a better job than that. They put it right on the roots of the plant and don't charge a cent.—Chapman's Weekly.

Child Training That Has Harmful Effects

Too much or too little affection of parents is equally harmful and both spoil character. The training that produces docile obedience spoils the child's native aggressiveness and leaves him to be easily beaten in the later competitions of life by minds superior only in their inner preparation. The authority of a parent is a responsibility rather than a privilege.

Another risk assumed by parents, which is not so commonly understood, is that of hurting their children by affection. With human beings the love attitude may persist in such a way that the child never actually matures and comes to have a fully developed self-life, or indulgence heaped upon the child by the parent may spoil the zest of life and keep the child emotionally infantile. He may become fixed upon the parent so that he is essentially parasitic in his inner emotional cravings and cannot maintain normal relationships in business, social contacts or later family life if he ever attempts to establish a home of his own.—From "Social Problems of the Family" by Prof. Ernest R. Graves.

Famous Brigade That Served "Lost Cause"

Two reasons are given for the naming of the Orphan brigade of the Confederate army. Kentucky tried to be neutral when the Civil war broke out, but neutrality was violated and many Kentuckians decided to fight for the South. The famous Camp Boone was formed near the Kentucky line, a few miles north of Clarksville, Tenn. Fifty companies from 81 counties in Kentucky enlisted. These composed the larger part of the First Kentucky, better known as the Orphan brigade.

One of the reasons why this command was called the Orphan brigade was because so many commanders were lost, either by reason of promotion or by death on the battlefield, says a contributor to the Pathfinder Magazine. Another is that the members were away from Kentucky during nearly all the time of their service and so cut off from communication with friends or family.

Meal Time in China

The Chinese consider the stomach the source of intellectual life, and therefore the fattest man goes for the wisest one. They affect to believe that foreigners come to China to eat because they have not enough to eat at home. It is considered a mark of refined politeness to treat a guest or a visitor to a meal at any time of the day. For the most part only those who have families take their meals at home; the rest eat at hotels. They usually have two substantial meals a day—one an hour after getting up in the morning, the other between three and four o'clock in the afternoon. The well-to-do class take three or four meals a day. Often the father alone eats meat, while the rest of the family have to be satisfied with rice.

Feeling Li'e a Lord

I have a cottage in Colebrook row, Islington. A cottage, for it is detached; a white house, with six good rooms; the New river (rather elderly by this time) runs (if a moderate walking pace can be so termed) close to the foot of the house; and behind is a spacious garden, with vines (I assure you), pears, strawberries, parsnips, leeks, carrots, cabbages, to delight the heart of old Alcibiades. You enter without passage into a cheerful dining room, all studded over and rough with old books, and above is a lightsome drawing room, three windows, full of choice prints. I feel like a great lord, never having had a house before.—From "Letters to Barton, 1823," by Charles Lamb.

Wonderful Alpha Rays

The Alpha rays from radioactive matter, it appears, consist of veritable atoms of matter projected at a speed averaging 6,000 miles a second. It is the great energy of motion of these swiftly expelled masses that gives rise to the heating effect of radium. Yet they do not go far. The swiftest alpha particle travels seven centimeters in air, under ordinary conditions, before it is stopped. But on its way it plunges straight through every molecule in its path, producing positively and negatively charged ions in the process. On an average, an alpha particle, before its career of violence is stopped, breaks up about 100,000 molecules.—Washington Star.

His Own Religion

I often wonder at religious men, they have such varying ideas on the subject. I was talking lately with a prominent man—one whose name is really a household word—and he said: "I was brought up in a religious family. I have chosen to accept religion in my own way, but never bother others with it. I have no desire to convert the world. I wouldn't give a d—n to convert anybody tomorrow."—E. W. Howe's Monthly.

Wren's Sweet Song

While Jenny Wren is incubating, her mate perches nearby, untiringly warbling his sweet song, says the Nature Magazine. After the young are hatched there is little rest for either of them. Caterpillars, beetles, bugs and spiders must be supplied in astonishing numbers all the time, until the youthful wrens are ready to help in the hunt.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Howard County—Greeting: You are hereby commanded, That you summon, by making publication of this Citation in some newspaper in the County of Howard if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in a newspaper published in the nearest County to said Howard County, for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, Cecil Wheeler, whose residence is unknown, to be and appear before the Hon. District Court, at the next regular term thereof, to be holden in the County of Howard at the Court House thereof, in Big Spring, Howard County, Texas, on the 5th day, then and there to answer a Petition filed in said Court, on the 3rd day of August A. D. 1927, in a suit numbered on the Docket of said Court No. 1115, wherein W. E. Wheeler, is plaintiff and Cecil Wheeler, is defendant. The nature of the plaintiff's demand being as follows, to-wit: That Plaintiff is an actual bona fide inhabitant of the State of Texas, and has been for more than one year and an actual bona fide inhabitant of Howard County for more than six months next preceding the filing of this suit; that Plaintiff and defendant were married January 19th, 1911, and the marriage relation still exists; that at the time of the marriage the Defendant had three children, one girl and two boys; that Plaintiff loved them and educated them, and treated the defendant with love and kindness; but after the children were about grown Defendant became estranged and entered in upon a series of cruel treatment towards Plaintiff continuously nagged and falsely accused him of improper relations with other women and together with their oldest son forcibly ejected him from his own house and ordered him to leave, and about the 15th of January, 1927, Plaintiff abandoned Defendant with the intentions of never living with him again; that her course and series of continuous nagging false accusation and forcible ejection constituted such cruelty as to render their living together further as insupportable. Plaintiff prays for judgment of divorce.

Herein fail not. And have you before said Court, on the said first day of the next term thereof, this Writ, with your endorsement thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Big Spring, Texas, this, the 3rd day of August, A. D. 1927. (Seal)

Trace Wedding Cakes to Old Roman Custom

The wedding cake is believed to be the survival of an old Roman practice when the bride and groom not only ate together as a sign of their kinship and mutual love, but feasted the guests as well. At this time it was good etiquette to break the cake over the bride's head as a sign of plentifulness. In the marriage ceremonies of the early Anglo-Saxons huge baskets of dry crackers were employed. After the feast each guest took a cracker home with him and the remainder was distributed to the poor. "Later it became the custom for the guests themselves to bring to the wedding small, richly spiced buns, which were piled in one huge mound on the table. It was a common occurrence for the bride and groom to attempt to kiss each other over this mound, and if they succeeded they were assured lifelong prosperity." It is said the wedding cake of today is due to the genius of a French cook, who, while traveling in England, observed the inconvenience of stacking hundreds of these small cakes in a mound and conceived the idea of cementing the mound into a single huge cake with icing. At the wedding feast it was the duty of the newly married man to wait on his bride at the table, whence came the name bridegroom—signifying one who serves the bride.

Mother Ants Employ Babies as Needles

"A baby that you sew with, a baby that's needle and thread—child labor with a vengeance, eh?"

The naturalist closed a book by a brother-naturalist, Glenwood Clark. "Glenwood Clark tells all about it here," he said. "The baby I refer to is an ant, not a human being. In the chrysalis or baby form this ant secretes a silk, and with that silk its mother sews the leaves together to make the ant nest, using the baby itself as a needle, mind you.

"The ant nest is built on a twig rather high up in a tree. The leaves that form it are held together by one group of ants, while another group—mothers armed with their babies—does the sewing.

"They hold their babies in their claws. They press the tiny heads against a place where two leaf-edges join. The heads deposit on the leaves their cobwebby silk, and then they are moved across the leaf joint, needle fashion, back and forth, and as they move they make a thread.

"In this manner, thanks to the needle-and-thread babies, the ants' nest is soon ready."

The Journey of Life.

When about to undertake a journey we consider the way, the people, and the conveniences of travel, and try to meet their requirements in advance. An effort is made to learn what we can from the reports of those who have traveled that way, and we accordingly supply ourselves with accessible literature pertaining to it. This is the course that wise people follow, but there are many inconsiderate ones who give no attention to sane preparation, and therefore get confused respecting the course, get off at uninteresting and dangerous places, suffer much inconvenience, and derive little benefit. Therefore, let us give heed to the proper beginning of our journey.—Psychological Magazine.

Violin Is Given Motto

Johannes Robey, the well-known collector of violins, has one instrument of which he is particularly proud, since it contains a label which is a curiosity, states the Pathfinder Magazine. The label is in old Latin and it reads: "Viva fuy in sylvis; sum dura odessa securi. Dum vixi, tacui; mortua, dulce cano." Which being interpreted means: "I was living in the forest; the cruel ax slew me. While I was alive I was mute; dead, I sweetly sing.

This violin is a product of the Sixteenth-century "luteist" or violin maker named Gaspa Duiffoprugcar.

Helpful Suggestion

Peter, three and a half, was caught red-handed throwing the morning's letters into the grate fire and gleefully watching the flames. It was his third offense. Seriously, his father took him in hand. "I don't want to punish you, Peter, but what shall I do to make you remember?" The young delinquent looked thoughtful; then, brightening, advised: "I'll tell you what to do, daddy—you just put it down in writing."

First Secretary of State

Thomas Jefferson was chosen by President Washington to be secretary of state or secretary of foreign affairs in the first cabinet. But Jefferson was still in France when the new government began to function. John Jay was secretary of foreign affairs under the articles of confederation and acted as secretary of state, at Washington's request, until Jefferson's arrival in March, 1790.

No Superlative

An English teacher was making it a practice of giving an 8A class a review of a certain point in grammar each day. One day she said, "You may compare the adjective I shall give you."

The entire class looked puzzled. To the first girl the teacher said, "high." There was a little pause and finally a little hesitant voice, the girl said, "hello."

BIG SPRING TAKES TWO GAMES

Big Spring T. & P. baseball club became champions of the Texas and Pacific railroad from El Paso to New Orleans when they defeated Marshall here last Saturday and Sunday, 5 to 2 and 15 to 9, respectively, after having split in the recent series played at Marshall. Marshall did not play jam-up baseball in this series as she did in the first series, but the local boys had to hustle to win the championship.

Saturday's game was featured by Jess Vick's pitching who got seven strike outs and held the Marshall boys to seven hits. Johnson, Williamson and Baber for Big Spring, and Armstrong and Mays for Marshall were the hard hitters of this game, all collecting two smackers apiece except Armstrong who received three.

Sunday's game was more interesting than the box score would indicate.

The local boys were trailing with a 3 to 0 score until the third inning when a hitting bee was started by Romano's double and was not quelled until no less than eight men had crossed the platter. Furrh, left fielder for Marshall hit a home run with one man on in the fourth inning, but Big Spring pushed two more runs across in the fifth to cinch the contest. Gressett, Johnson, Williamson and Payne for Big Spring, and Geist and Furrh for Marshall were the hard hitters of this game. Robb, pitching for Marshall in this game is the same pitcher that held Big Spring to six hits in the first game of the first series to win Marshall's only victory in the championship play off.

THE LANDLESS MEXICAN

It is easy to understand why the average Mexican is landless, when we consider the tremendous areas owned by individuals when the Revolution began. The King Ranch in South Texas, with its 1,250,000 acres, is considered a great big place, even in Texas, where people are accustomed to big ranches. But the King Ranch is a "baby" compared to the man-sized ranch of General Luis Terrazas in the State of Chihuahua in Mexico. The General at one time owned 16,666 square miles of land or something over 10,000,000 acres. There are any number of land holdings running over a million acres. William Randolph Hearst of United States newspaper fame owned 507,000 hectares (a hectare is approximately 2 1/2 acres) or in other words, 1,267,000 acres. I have before me a list of 40 places that range in size from 250,000 acres to 10,000,000 acres. Eighteen land companies owned an average of 1,235 square miles each; that is, 790,400 acres, which was one half as much land as was owned by all the small farmers of Mexico. Three-fourths of the land of Mexico was in the hands of 10,000 people, leaving only one-fourth to the other 14 or 15 million. Is it any wonder that Mexico has a serious land problem?—Eugene Butler, in The Progressive Farmer.

COOLIDGE AND PRINCIPLE

By rejecting the idea that he would accept a third term, President Coolidge has forcibly called attention to a great principle of American government which those who seek to profit from politics sometimes forget.

That principle, of course, is that successful representative government is not compatible with continual succession in office of the chief executive.

In the early days of the republic the great fear expressed by statesmen was that there would be degeneration into monarchy if the chief executive were not frequently changed.

It was that which caused Washington, who probably could have been George I, king of the United States, to retire from office at the end of his second term.

It was much the same fear which caused Jefferson to follow the precedent set by Washington. In a letter to John Taylor in 1805 he wrote: "Washington set the example of voluntary retirement after eight years, I shall follow it, and a few more precedents will oppose the obstacle of habit to anyone who shall endeavor to extend his term."

As the country has grown away from the traditions of monarchy the danger that the office of President might be converted into that of king has waned.

But as that danger has waned another has mounted. Where Washington and Jefferson might easily have obtained kingly prerogatives their actual power would only have been a trivial fraction of that wielded by the President of the United States today.

If President Coolidge had decided to run for a third term he would twice have had the enormous power, prestige and patronage of his office to aid him in his campaign.

No other President of the United States ever had that.

And no representative government can afford to have the power of the President twice directed to his reelection. It means the building of a great political hierarchy, a hierarchy which, it is not at all fantastic to believe, might permanently fasten itself on the country.

President Coolidge unquestionably saw that danger. Because his power is so great he chose not to abuse it. For that the American people owe him a permanent debt of gratitude. —Fort Worth Press.

SWEETWATER AT WORK TO SOLVE WATER PROBLEM

The nine water wells at Lake Trammell, following a test recently were found to be making about 400,000 gallons daily, which production is considerably under that expected. These wells, together with the first city well and the lake itself, will afford less than a million gallons daily and will hardly meet the city's needs, officials stated.

Preparations are now being made to connect the wells with the city main. Meantime, the city commission is conferring with D. L. McDonald, engineer who had the contract for the nine wells, in regard to the next step in connection with the water situation.

The completion of the wells still leave the city without an adequate water supply, in the opinion of the city officials. —Nolan County News. (Sweetwater).

It is also possible that many visitors will be present in addition to the accredited representatives.

WHITE LEGHORN HENS LAY 11,000 CARS EGGS ANNUALLY

Petaluma, Cal., Aug. 6.—The outstanding example of Pacific Coast poultry raising and cooperative marketing of eggs and poultry is to be found within a very limited area of Petaluma, which is located in Sonoma County, about sixty miles from San Francisco. Petaluma is a clean, thriving little town of some 12,000 inhabitants and is credited with being the richest town per capita in the United States. This is rather easily understood, since Petaluma annually ships some 11,000 cars of eggs and does an annual poultry and egg business of approximately $20,000,000.

Within a territory of only twenty-five miles in length and ten miles in width there are 3,500,000 laying White Leghorn hens on small farms averaging from five to eight acres, with an average of 1,700 birds to the farm. Some poultrymen keep as high as 2500 birds per acre, but this is not general. Some large plants have as high as 30,000 laying hens.

During the peak in April Petaluma may ship from 3,500 to 5,000 cases of eggs daily, with 50 per cent of the product going to New York, where they are distributed by the Pacific Egg Producers' Association, which represents all the cooperative poultry enterprises of the Pacific Coast.

There are 3000 members of the poultry cooperative in the vicinity of Petaluma all under contract to deliver all their eggs and market poultry to the association. This is one of the cooperatives organized under the Sapiro plan. The organization has been in business for ten years, during which time the producers have made money consistently. However, at the present time Petaluma, Cal., and other egg-producing sections are suffering from the results of glutted markets, with something like 1,300,000 cases of eggs in cold storage in the East and North. But in spite of that, the Petaluma egg market the day the writer investigated the industry quoted extra eggs at 28c a dozen, pullets at 25c and pewees at 18c a dozen. Compare this with Texas prices at the same time, which were down to about 12c a dozen, and you will realize the importance of an efficient marketing system based upon cooperation.

Of the 3000 poultry raisers in the Petaluma district about 75 per cent belong to the cooperative marketing association. This insures the necessary volume upon which any market depends for stability. —Dallas Semi-Weekly Farm News.

A FOUNDATION FOR BUILDING OF A CITY

Economical power is one of the big problems for industries and the city which can furnish unlimited power at a reasonable cost stands a fine chance to land many factories. Good water and plenty of it is another important item.

Big Spring is especially fortunate in both respects. Our water supply is adequate for every purpose and as pure as can be found.

The Texas Electric Service Company will be able to supply electric power for every purpose by this fall. They have a 1000 horsepower power plant in Big Spring, a high line capable of delivering 62,000 volts is now in operation between Big Spring and Abilene, and a high line capable of delivering 132,000 volts is now being completed between Big Spring and Cisco.

WILL SEEK FEDERAL LAW REGULATING DRY GAS
 Austin, Texas, Aug. 6. — Congress will be memorialized from Texas at the next session to enact Federal laws conforming to State laws regulating disposal of "dry" gas, it was learned at the Railroad Commission Saturday.
 The object is to allow no other use of the gas piped out of the State than is allowed within the State. For instance, dry gas can not be burned in Texas for carbon black, and the Railroad Commission wants to prevent Texas gas from being burned for that purpose in Louisiana, as it is now, or in other States.
 The $45,000,000 gas line project from the Panhandle oil fields to Kansas City is complicating the situation, the commission said. Although the commission has no power to prevent Texas gas from being piped to other States, it hopes uses of the gas elsewhere to the same as those in Texas, principally for household and industrial purposes.
 Renewed efforts will be made to get the Louisiana Legislature to enact laws prohibiting of burning of dry gas for carbon black.

V. E. JONES SELLS SERVICE STATION TO BAKER & WOOD
 Steve Baker and Joe Wood last week bought of V. E. Jones, the service station, located in the Glaser Bros. Garage on East Third street. This filling station is a most popular one, located on the Bankhead Highway and has always enjoyed a liberal patronage. The new proprietors will keep up the good standards of this service station and will be pleased for old and new friends to call at their place and see them.

INSPECT CAR DOORS
 An accident happened near Coahoma the other day that gives motorists something different to think about. The victim of the accident was a woman riding with her husband from Big Spring to Colorado. They were not speeding, nor were they driving recklessly, so far as is known but the door of the car came open and the woman fell out, breaking her neck.
 The locks or latches on car doors should be carefully inspected at all times, because it is a common thing to see three people riding in the front seat, with one person resting his weight largely against the door. If the door opens by accident, the one leaning on will be badly injured, if not killed.
 Too much faith should not be put in car doors unless it is known that the lock will hold. — Midland Reporter.

J. T. McNEW BRINGS IN FINE WATERMELONS, EGGS, ETC.
 J. T. McNew is another successful Howard County farmer whose motto is to "Live at Home." He has been successful because of his belief in diversified farming and he practices what he preaches. On Friday of last week Mr. McNew came to town with a carload of fine farm products, surplus of what he and his family could use at home. In this lot he had watermelons, cantaloupes and several dozen fresh eggs. The Herald force was treated to one of his watermelons and was of exceptionally fine flavor and juicy.
 Mr. McNew's farm is in the Knott community and he has a fine field of cotton and feed.

KICKED IN THE PANTS

THAT'S WHAT HAPPENED TO ME ONCE

Wall Street kicked me in the pants. They stuck their gold fingers in my eye. My eye got black and my money fell out of my pants. Then they took my pants and there I was a funny sight--clipped clean of all the wool that had grown on me for a life time.

In them days I had a thing called Piggly Wiggly and Wall Street thought they would have a little fun making Piggly wobble and if possible topple.

Then I was a brave little lad, so I pitched a brick or two at the gang on Wall Street and the gang handed me back whole houses of bricks.

Take it from me, that Wall Street gang does know its onions when it comes to trimming a boob from

Tennessee like me out of his pants and them other things that belong to pants

Oh, hush your foolishness and tell the folks of this town that Clarence ain't no sobbing boy about such little matters for he don forgot that that Wall Street gang is living.

He done gone to work about a new chain of stores now operating in 13 States and he done got some new pants and some new money to put in 'em.

He done brought one of his new CLARENCE SAUNDERS STORES here for you to see. Party Oh, boy, it's a pippin. No turn-stiles. All white and beautiful like. Everything so clean, so cheap and so handy for the whole town.
