Schools Will Get Large Per Capita Aid

The highest per capita apportionment in history, $30, was fixed for the 1945-46 school year by the state board of education meeting in Austin Monday.

This means that school districts will share about $45,000,000 in this form of state financial aid next school year.

The board also increased from $25 to $27 this year's per capita apportionment by ordering distribution of anticipated balance of $3,381,000 in the available school fund at the end of the current year which is August 31.

Next year's apportionment was based on a state property tax rate for schools of 35 cents per 100 valuation, the constitutional maximum. The rate will be set by the automatic tax board this month or next. The board has no alternative in fixing the rate because a law adopted at the general session of the legislature requires that it be set at the maximum.

There are now approximately 1,500,000 children of school age in Texas and next year school districts will receive $30 apportionment for each one within a district. This form of financial assistance is in addition to rural or equization school aid which many schools receive. Rural aid will be $14,000,000 annually for the next two fiscal years.

The board set aside $2,250,000 for purchase of text books next year.

Adopted without dissent was a motion declaring it was the deliberate consideration of the board that a statement by Dr. Homer P. Rainey, former University of Texas president, referring to the board does not bear sufficient weight to warrant a reply.

The motion, by C. C. Chesser of Groveton, referred to a speech in Chicago last month by Dr. Rainey who said that "two large financial interests and backers of Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel have representatives as chairmen and members of the state board of education which 'controls all of the public schools in Texas, selects all text books for use by the public schools and controls some $80,000,000 of endowment.'"

The board also approved a resolution endorsing and commending efforts of state officials in protesting claims of the federal government to submerged lands. The resolution requested Congress to approve legislation establishing beyond doubt state ownership of such lands and preventing forever any claim of ownership by the federal government.

It pointed out the loss of state title would irreparably injure schools in Texas which own title to submerged lands and receive mineral royalty from them.

Local Bank Deposits Exceed $1,000,000

Deposits in The Citizens State Bank at the close of business last Saturday, June 30, were $1,014,682.29. This compares with deposits of $702,707.61 one year ago, or June 30, 1944, and a total of $885,967.55 when the State Banking Commissioner issued a call on January 12 this year.

The large increase in deposits during the past year is attributed to the bumper farm production of last year since little 1945 crop money has as yet gone into the bank. Wheeler county farmers are reported to be in better financial condition than any time in the past quarter of a century. Many have paid notes and farm mortgages off years in advance, or in many cases, altogether.

The bank's statement of June 30, 1945 is as follows:

Resources:
Loans and discounts, including overdrafts, $113,185.49; Cash on hand, balances due from other banks, including reserve balances, and cash items in process of collection, (include exchange for clearing house), $297,275.85; Banking house, $1.00; Furniture, fixtures, and equipment, $1.00; Other real estate owned, $2.00; Commodity Credit Corp., (cotton notes), $558,644.83; Bills of Exchange, $104,189.54; Total, $1,073,299.71.

MOVIE CHATTER (By a Rogue)

The Big Bonanza
Richard Arlen, Robert Livingston, and Gabby Hayes will be at the Rogue Theatre Friday-Saturday, July 6-7 in a picture called The Big Bonanza. Some of the younger generation may not know what a bonanza is, but they can ask their older friends and neighbors. Anyway, we think we have a good outdoor picture here that will please all comers.

A Royal Scandal
Ernest Lubitsch's A Royal Scandal is a story based on the life of Katharine The Great. The stars are Tallulah Bankhead, Charles Coburn and Anne Baxter. While we do not claim that this picture will have universal appeal to the masses, we believe that the majority of the people will be pleased with the story and acting. The playdate is Prevue - Sunday - Monday, July 7-8-9 at the Rogue.

The Song of Bernadette
The Song of Bernadette was the academy winning picture for 1943, and it is just now being shown at regular admission prices. For the past year and a half it has been exhibited only at advanced admissions ranging from $1.00 up. While the picture has a Catholic background, it is still and none-the-less a very religious type picture as was Going My Way. We believe it will find a kind welcome in the hearts and minds of most people. Jennifer Jones and William Eythe are the main stars. It will be at the Rogue Wednesday - Thursday, July 11-12.

MISS OVIWA WOOD TO REPORT JULY 16 FOR RED CROSS OVERSEAS DUTY

Some overseas Red Cross center gains by Fort George Wright's loss of Miss Oviwa Wood, popular and indefatigable hospital recreation director since March, 1944, who reports in Washington, D. C., July 16 for her overseas orders, after 15 days' leave with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Wood of Wheeler.

Miss Wood entered Red Cross service in September, 1943, her first assignment being at Barnes General Hospital, Vancouver.

A graduate of the University of California, from which she holds both an A. B. and a B. E. degree, her civilian experience as teacher of drama, modern dancing, and music well prepared her for her work of directing a full recreation program for the patients at the Fort Wright Regional and Convalescent Hospital, where she has been in charge of the recreation staff, 50 volunteer Gray Ladies, and 200 Junior Hostesses from Spokane who assist in hospital diversion activities and serve as hostesses at the post dances sponsored jointly by the Red Cross and the AAF Special Services department.

Miss Wood contributed valuable suggestions for the layout of the hospital's new recreation hall; instituted the popular weekly picnics, fishing trips, and tours of Spokane; and introduced classes in modern dancing for ambulatory patients, habitually working many hours overtime perfecting arrangements for an outing or a patient-talent show that would make the hours pass more swiftly for hospitalized servicemen, with whom she has always been a favorite because of her unassuming graciousness and her genuine interest in their welfare.

In addition to her hospital work, Miss Wood has for the past two months collaborated with Special Services personnel in arranging entertainment for the post's large convalescent unit.

Pending the permanent appointment by Red Cross headquarters of a new recreation director, the program at the hospital is being carried out by other members of the staff, following plans thoughtfully worked out by Miss Wood before her departure.

"Odd lot" shoes must be sold to consumers at prices at least 25 per cent below the prices at which they were offered for sale on June 1, 1945. The office of Civilian Requirements and OPA are requesting dealers to limit sales of "odd lot" shoes to no more than a pair to each customer, to allow more people to share in the limited stocks.

USED 1942 AUTOMOBILES ARE NOW RATION FREE

Used 1942 automobiles will be removed from rationing on July 2, 1945, according to District OPA Rationing Executive William G. Williams.

Principal reason for the rationing of used 1942 cars — that they were generally the best automobiles available aside from new 1942 cars and so should be restricted to essential users — no longer holds true, making rationing unnecessary, Williams said.

Automobile dealers and car rental agencies must continue to maintain records previous required for all 1942 cars, but all rationing restrictions on the transfer, acquisition, registration, alteration and use of 1942 cars are being removed.

Tractor Repair and Overhaul

Many a soldier devotes his furlough to day-and-night mechanized operation on the home farm. This is Cpl. Delmar Van Horn, Jr. with his dad at Jefferson, Iowa.

Night Shift
ON THE FOOD FRONT

THEY DID IT BEFORE—THEY CAN DO IT AGAIN
With Farmall Tractor Power

Throughout the Spring, from the Rockies to the Atlantic seaboard, worried farmers searched the skies for signs of clear weather, but the cold rains fell relentlessly.

For more than a month the seed should have been germinating in the warm soil. Millions of acres lay unplanted because the ground was too wet for preparation of the seed bed and too cold for germination of the seed.

Only a generation ago there could have been but one outcome—crop shortage and food scarcity. Nature allows scant time for planting when the warm sun waits till late May or June before drying the soggy soil. Horses are too slow and tire too quickly to get the job done then.

But the farmers remember May of 1943—only two years ago—when their fast, untiring tractors averted crop failure. Then, too, rains flooded the fields and the month was all but spent before they could go in on the land and plant.

In 1943, most farmers drove their tractors from dark to dark, and longer. Many planted around the clock, working in two or three shifts. They made one of the greatest crops in history.

In today's war-torn world—with hunger and disease already stalking many peoples—even one major crop failure could bring famine. This is why the sound of tractors and planting machinery was heard, day and night, from the Plains states to the Eastern seaboard—why headlights stabbed the darkness over the fields.

America's farmers are doing it again, in spite of an unprecedented combination of adverse circumstances—bad weather, shortages of machines and shortages of manpower. For the second time in three years, they are relying upon their tractor-powered machines to help rescue large areas of the world from catastrophe. More of these tractors are products of International Harvester than of any other company.

Congressman Finds It's A Small World

By EUGENE WORLEY

It is difficult to realize how much this world has shrunk. In one day I flew from Casablanca which is in Morocco, North Africa to Washington, D. C. We came by the Azores and Newfoundland, New York, and on down to Washington, which is better than three thousand statute miles. We hit good weather and bad weather. Sometimes we could see the wing tips but often they were obscured by the clouds. And you've no idea how much you'd like to reach out and pat those engines as you fly along at 200 miles an hour and see an awful lot of blue water below you. Compare a one day flight from North Africa to America with the months required by Christopher Columbus when he ventured across the Atlantic.

The day before the war ended we were in Germany during the morning, in France early afternoon, London that afternoon, and could have been in New York or even San Francisco the next day. These illustrations give you some idea why we necessarily must adjust our thoughts and perspective in terms of increased speed in transportation and communications. It is difficult to see the damage done by the Nazi V-2 bomb and still pay no attention to what goes on elsewhere in the world. It is difficult to see the terrific destruction heavy bombings can cause and still feel that the two oceans offer the United States the same protection against the enemy which they have provided in the past.

It might be of interest to point out some of the characteristics of the V-2 bomb, which was giving London plenty of trouble. The German V-2 bomb is a 13 1/2 (long) ton wingless projectile that travels at a maximum speed of 3600 miles per hour, which is faster than sound travels. Consequently the V-2 had already hit and exploded before the sound was heard. Approximately 9 1/2 (long) tons of liquid fuel are used to obtain the thrust for flight. The fuels are liquid oxygen and alcohol in about a 50-50 ratio. The bomb is 46 feet long and 5 1/2 feet in diameter, is launched from a vertical position, and when it reaches the desired velocity and height for a particular range, the fuel is cut off by radio or by an internal pre-set control. Military experts told me that had Hitler been two months ahead in his V-2 production program London could have been wiped off the map.

And another revolutionary invention which could well be a potential weapon is the jet plane. Engineers and scientists say there is virtually no limit to the speed at which the jet plane can travel. About the only limitations are those upon the physical endurance of the pilot and how much stress and strain the plane itself can stand. They say, for example, the future jet plane can travel 800 miles an hour. As pointed out above, the V-2 travelled at 3600 miles an hour and please bear in mind that the Nazi scientists and engineers were just beginning to develop this type of bomb.

I was in the following countries: Germany, France, England, with a low level flight over Belgium on our way to the coast. Then Italy and Greece, Egypt and Palestine, the Holy Land. And back into North Africa. It sounds very strange to hear an Army flyer in Egypt, for example, say he was in India yesterday and that everything was fine; or that he was back in Washington day before yesterday and the weather was hot.

It is indeed a small world—and as I heard one of our G. I.'s in Europe say, "Maybe that's what's wrong with it."

NEWS IN THE WORLD OF RELIGION
By W.W. REID

The story is told that in a certain West African village the native Christians had no privacy for prayer in their huts. So each Christian made off to the bush, behind his hut, for seasons of prayer. After a while there was a worn track from the hut to the place of prayer. Then it ever happened that the track became overgrown from want of use, another Christian villager would admonish his neighbor, "Brother, there is something the matter with your prayer track."

Joining a notable group of Christian churches and service organizations, the Board of Missions and Church Extension of the Methodist Church has called "for immediate and spontaneous ratification of the World Charter," petitioned President Truman for favorable action on the Charter, and urged the senators of the United States to ratify it "in the immediate future." A statement to this effect was signed on behalf of the Board by Bishop Arthur J. Moore of Atlanta, Ga., Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam of New York, Bishop A. Frank Smith of Houston, Texas, Mrs. J. D. Bragg of St. Louis, Mo., and Dr. John W. Hawley of Pittsburgh. The Board points out that because of "our avenues of religion extending into the most remote of distant lands (we) appreciate the need for immediate action"; and that "from former years other nations and peoples have a sensitive right to question either the sincerity or desire of the United States to enter into and finally accept her rightful place in a world organization for peace."

According to Dr. John W. Decker, secretary of the International Missionary Council, recently returned to the United States after a visit to India, the famine last year has been laid to an accumulation of causes: the influx of troops, wartime shipping shortages, the great storm on the Bengal coast, and earlier political indifference. A cause not so often mentioned was the scuttling of hundreds of small craft, including the fishing fleet on which Bengal depend-

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Williams took

Re-outfitting fishermen with boats, setting up weaving equipment or other home or cooperative enterprises, and agricultural extension work are channels through which relief funds from American churches are being invested in reconstructing human lives, Dr. Decker added.

Fifty years ago the Rev. and Mrs. W. B. Stover and Miss Bertha Ryan, just arrived from America, laid foundations for the missionary service of the Church of the Brethren in Bulsar, India. From that start nineteen organized churches have grown, and hundreds of children have been gathered into religious and day schools. Some of the earliest school children—cared for by the Brethren during the famine years prior to 1900—are still in Christian service and attended the jubilee celebration.

The present status of the urban church is described by Dr. H. Paul Douglass, director of research, Home Missions Council, as "highly uncertain and beset with many dangers." Basing his remarks on surveys conducted in eight representative metropolitan areas, Dr. Douglass deplores the fact that between one-third and two-fifths of all churches have remained stationary or declined during the recent decades. Institutionally successful churches, he says, have paid an exceedingly high price for success in terms of their relationships to their communities. He emphasizes the need for city churches to assimilate the people in their immediate constituency.

OPA SAYS SHOE DEALERS NOT ACCEPT LOOSE COUPONS

All shoe dealers in the Lubbock OPA district have received instructions that they are to accept no loose shoe coupons, the Office of Price Administration announced today.

"Customers who request dealers to accept loose stamps are asking them to violate the rationing regulations," officials pointed out. "Cooperation of both the dealers and the public is necessary to insure fair distribution of rationed shoes."

OPA pointed out that more and more non-rationed shoes of desirable types are being produced to offset decreasing inventories of rationed type shoes.

POLIO CONTROL MEASURES URGED

On the eve of infantile paralysis summer outbreaks, a recapitulation of the figures available, show that the number of poliomyelitis cases in the country is running about fifty per cent ahead of a year ago, it was announced by Dr. Don W. Gudakunst, Medical Director of The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Inc.

While the fact that there are fifty per cent more cases in the country this year than in the same period in 1944, "this is not an alarming situation but it should be watched carefully," said Dr. Gudakunst. The Medical Director also declared that "The National Foundation, based on its experience of assisting in severe outbreaks of infantile paralysis during the past years, is in splendid condition to render real service to medical and public health authorities in an epidemic of infantile paralysis wherever it may occur. We stand ready and willing to help the state, county, and local health authorities at a moment's notice."

As a further aid in the fight against infantile paralysis, the National Foundation is distributing hundreds of thousands of bulletins entitled "When Polio Strikes" which includes many helpful hints for parents. It also contains a series of simple precautions to be taken by parents during the summer months.

Below is reprinted the information contained in the bulletin. June through September is the season when infantile paralysis generally is on the upswing in the United States.

1. During an outbreak of infantile paralysis be alert to any early signs of illness or changes in normal state of health, especially in children. Do not assume that a stomach upset with vomiting, constipation, diarrhea, severe headache or signs of a cold and fever are of no importance. These may be among the first symptoms of infantile paralysis. All children and adults sick with unexplained fever should be put to bed and isolated pending medical diagnosis.

2. Don't delay calling a physician. Expert medical care given early may prevent many of the crippling deformities. Proper care from the onset may mean the difference between a life of crippling and good recovery.

3. Today there is no known prevention or protection against infantile paralysis. All that can be done is to provide the best possible care. Your doctor, your health officer and your local Chapter of The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis can and will do everything in their power to see to it that your community is ready to meet an epidemic.

4. Observe these simple precautions:

- (a) Avoid overtiring and extreme fatigue from strenuous exercise. (b) Avoid sudden chilling such as would come from a plunge into extremely cold water on a very hot day. (c) Pay careful attention to personal cleanliness, such as thorough hand washing before eating. Hygienic habits should always be observed. (d) If possible avoid tonsil and adenoid operations during epidemics. Careful study has shown that such operations, when done during an epidemic tend to increase the danger of contracting infantile paralysis in its most serious form. (e) Use the purest milk and water you can. Keep flies away from food. While the exact means of spread of the disease is not known, contaminated water and milk are always dangerous and flies have repeatedly been shown to carry the infantile paralysis virus. (f) Do not swim in polluted water. (g) Maintain community sanitation at a high level at all times.

The Times War Time Reporter Says

Folks I'll tell you: You know my Grandpa grew up in that catfish country where they sweetened their coffee with quinine, but he wasn't as big a hick as you might think.

I've seen him sleep in his Sunday clothes before he would go to town just so they would be form fitting, and when he got back off one of them trips to town, he would always snore in Chinese so Grandma wouldn't know he what was a dreaming about.

His eye sight was always good. One day he was a settin' on the porch and he says, "Ma, do you see that termite a working in that knot hole in that tree?" She says, "Yes, I see her but if you say that baby termite she

(b) Avoid all unnecessary contact with persons with any illness suspicious of infantile paralysis.

5. Don't become hysterical if cases do occur in your neighborhood. While infantile paralysis is communicable or catching during any outbreak, there are many who have such a slight infection that there are few or no symptoms. This large number of unrecognized infections is one of the reasons there is no practical way of preventing the spread of the disease.

But it is also reassuring to know that, of the many persons who become infected, few develop serious illness and that, with good care, the majority who are stricken will make a satisfactory recovery. Remember that although this is a frightful disease, needless fear and panic only cause more trouble.

6. Attempts to stop the spread of the virus by closing all places where people congregate have been uniformly unsuccessful. The resulting disturbance to community life is a disadvantage. Today there is no way by which the spread of infantile paralysis can be completely stopped.

7. There is no known cure for infantile paralysis. Good medical care will prevent or correct some deformities. But in about every fourth of fifth case there will be permanent paralysis that cannot be overcome. Do not believe those who for one reason or another promise to cure these cases. Be guided by sound medical advice if polio does strike in your family.

8. County Chapters of The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis are prepared to work with health officers, doctors, nurses, physical therapists, hospitals and patients. These Chapters stand ready to use their funds to assist the entire community. Know your Chapter—ask its help if needed—and volunteer to help your Chapter so that it will be able to render the necessary services.

ODT OFFICER SAYS IT WILL BE 3 YEARS BEFORE MANY WILL GET NEW AUTOMOBILES

In an appeal to passenger car owners to conserve their automobiles, John J. Van Pelt of Lubbock, district manager of the Office of Defense Transportation, today warned that it will be at least three years before many millions of private car owners and prospective car owners, who want new automobiles, will be able to get them.

The ODT official said this fact "has not been generally realized in the first rosy flush of enthusiasm over the limited resumption of passenger car production." Although it is expected that 240,000 passenger cars will be built this year, that number will replace less than one per cent of the nation's automobiles.

Four hundred and fifty thousand cars are scheduled for production during the first quarter of 1946 and a ceiling of 2,146,000 has been set on passenger car production for the period July 1945 to June 1946, he added.

"Months will elapse before the first automobile company gets into production and there is no assurance that the materials needed to make new cars actually will be available," it was said.

"The new car quota for the year ahead is only a drop in the bucket compared with the pent-up needs of a nation which has been losing cars is a toting has got a spotted tail—you're wrong—it's pink."

My little poem today will be: Happily come to one and all At some time or another; Little girls love their dates And dote upon a lover.

Married women strut and gloat And lie without a flicker, To build some guy a rep We call a city slicker.

But, the thing that touches an old man's heart And puts it all a flutter, Is a slice of good thick corn bread And gobs of country butter.

to the scrap heaps at the rate of about 4,000 a day since Pearl Harbor."

"Care of present-day cars is a 'must' as none of the cars produced in the near future will go to the average driver. They'll go, instead, to doctors, police, war workers and others, and they will be short — far short — of meeting the need in these fields."
