Anyone who has any interesting farm products such as fruit, fresh or canned, grain, cotton, vegetables or anything else which they think would be suitable for displaying in a Wheeler booth at the State-Line Free Fair which is to be held in Shamrock September 23, 24 and 25 are asked to see James Clepper, Wheeler Vocational Agriculture instructor, in a meeting at the District Court Room in the court house Monday night at 8:00 o'clock.

Clepper stated that he was especially interested in having representatives from all the communities around Wheeler so that the exhibit could be made more representative of this section of the county.

Livestock will be entered by individuals and shown by individuals, Clepper stated.

Anyone who can help in anyway to make the exhibit a better one is asked to please be present Monday night.

Paralysis had begun to settle in the Patton boy's legs and back when he was enroute to Plainview. However, it is reported that his case of polio is mild.

Mobetie was sprayed with DDT Wednesday in an attempt to rid the city of flies, which have been proved to be polio transmitters.

Besides the children listed above Genevia Reynolds, 16-year-old Mobeetie girl, was stricken with polio August 6 and died Monday, August 9 in a Pampa hospital.

Health officials said this week that Texas had its worse Polio week of the year last week, with 90 new cases in 33 counties. An Associated Press release said the 1948 official total now stands at 1,132 cases, only 142 short of the 1,247 recorded in 1943, the alltime record.

Health officials said this week the disease appears to be increasing in Central and West Texas. They thought for a time the dreaded disease might be on the decline following the report of 89 cases for the week ending July 10. The Panhandle counties reported of the country do is to choose between the nominees of the Democratic and Republican Parties. So far, there has been developed no system to permit the people of the nation to annumental minimum and the people of the nation to select the President. This is done by the Party leaders in convention assembled and when the shouting is over, the voters are s permitted to select between Mr. A and Mr. M.

There is a general agreement among the political writers in Washington that a Republican will win the presidency this fall. The feeling is so strong that fifty political writers, queried by Newsweek, voted fifty to nothing that the Republicans will win.

Consequently, Mr. Roscoe Drummond, chief of the Washington Bureau of the Christian Science Monitor, points out that if this is correct, the group selecting the Republican nominee will, in fact, select the next President of the United States.

He points out that neither party has developed any adequate method for permitting the voters of both parties to register a nationwide opinion concerning whom they would like to see their party nominate. Only five out of forty-eight states-New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Ohio, Oregongave their voters an opportunity to express their wishes as to the Republican nominee.

Mr. Drummond continues: "Only 115 out of the total of 1,094 delegates were chosen by popular ballot. Only 1,610,056 Republican voters out of a possible potential of 51.667,550 Republican voters, participated in selecting this small minority of delegates.'

Have you ever tried a delicious cold Orange Soup? It is full of vita-mins and no end of nutrition, and it mins and no end of nutrition, and it makes a perfect first course for a duck or chicken dinner. A famous chicken broth or consomme, boil for Scandinavian retsaurant wins laurels for its Huckleberry Soup, and the British frequently serve a colorpiul, clear carrot soup that is equally good hot or cold. The pale green colgood hot or cold. The pale green cool-ness of a cold Cream of Watercress Soup is not only lovely to behold, but it strikes the color mood for a follow-up of pink salmon, shrimps or lobster. Iced Clam Bisque can give new interest to finicky Spring or Summer appetites.

Decorative Touches

Sprinkle fruit soups with finely opped mint; decorate service plates with grape, geranium or flow-er leaves as a setting for cream soups; give color to clear consommes with lemon segments dipped in chopped parsley. It is these little touches that spell all the difference between dull routine meals and a sparkling, delightful repast.

DOODLEBUG?

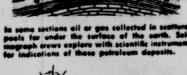

The first "doodlebugs" were forks from the willow or peach tree, whose "magic" was used to locate likely spots for water wells. In the early boom days of petroleum, the doodlebug gave way to the "divining rod," which supposedly had mystic powers for locating oil. Now, however, the doodlebug and divining rod have been replaced by seismograph crews, which have the tough and technical job of finding buried formations favorable for the presence of oil or gas. Each year, a substantial part of our budget for construction and development is ear-marked for the acquisition of leases, for geophysical exploration and exploratory drilling. This is one of many functions of the UNITED GAS organization . . . all with the ultimate purpose of assuring a continued dependable supply of natural gas for our customers.
