H. MOSS ASKS REELECTION

County Attorney Homer Moss announced his candidacy for reelection this week in the following statement to Wheeler county voters:

"In announcing for reelection to the County Attorneyship of Wheeler county, I am deeply conscious of your past favors and kindness. It has been my endeavor to try and reciprocate by giving my attention to the many details and demands of the office, trying not to lose sight of the duties set forth in the statutes and constitution.

"I have tried to keep abreast of conditions and to prepare court cases by thorough study and attention to needed details. If returned for another term, it is my sincere desire to meet the challenge of present conditions with hard work and I humbly feel that my experience and zeal to work will go hand in hand with the increasing responsibilities of the office.

"I invite and urge the citizenry to talk to me at any time concerning any and all problems within the province of the county attorney's office."

Wheeler County Mystery Man To Aid Dimes Drive

JANUARY 31 IS DEADLINE ON GRAIN LOANS

Commodity Credit loans and purchase agreements on wheat and grain sorghums produced in 1949 will be available through Tuesday, January 31, according to Bill Rushing, Administrative Officer of the Wheeler County PMA.

Producers are also reminded that now is the time to plan conservation work for 1950. The Wheeler County Committee with George Close of Route 2, Shamrock, John Baird of Kelton, and Jesse Patterson of Mobettie as members, has set a maximum assistance allowance of $2,500.00 per farm in Wheeler County to be used in carrying out approved conservation work.

Among the approved practices is terracing with a payment rate of $79.20 per mile; deep plowing; payment rates of $2.00, $3.00, $5.00 per acre plowed to respective depths of 12-15 inches, 15-18 inches, and 18 inches or over; subsoiling (deep chiseling), payment of $1.25 per acre for 8 inches or more deep on row spacing of 48 inches or less provided the plowsole can be shattered; building stock water or erosion control dams at 10c per cubic yard; seeding permanent grasses; strip-cropping; and others. Farmers are also reminded that they must contact the PMA office and obtain a prior approval if they expect payment on carrying out any practices.

Prizes worth $150 will be awarded the first person identifying "KEVA Mystery Man," who makes his first appearance—if you would call it that—on the air waves at the 1580 frequency at 5:15 o'clock next Sunday afternoon.

Under sponsorship of the Shamrock Junior Chamber of Commerce, the local radio station will launch the most exciting contest of its career, for the purpose of raising funds to apply on Wheeler county's $6,000 March of Dimes quota.

Patterned along the line of a recent radio network contest, the first short jingle giving a clue to the identity of the Wheeler county Mystery Man will be given at 5:15 p. m. Sunday. Listeners will be invited to guess his identity, sending a $1 bill with each guess. Letters should be addressed: "KEVA Mystery Man", Shamrock, Texas, and must be mailed.

Monday afternoon at 5:15 o'clock, Radio Station KEVA will repeat Sunday's jingle, and add another one giving an additional (Continued on Last Page)

TWO OFFICIALS WILL NOT RUN

Two county officials this week asked the Times to inform the public that they will not be candidates for re-election to the offices which they now hold.

First to announce his intentions of not running for another term was County Commissioner Lloyd Anglin of Precinct 1 and the second was Christopher S. McClain who has been serving as District Clerk for the past three years.

In making his announcement, Mr. Anglin made the following statement:

"I wish to thank the people of this precinct for the support shown me in the past. I have strived to serve the people of this precinct to the best of my ability and will continue to do so the remainder of my term."

Mr. Anglin has gone into private business, announcement of which will be found on another page of this week's Times.

McClain asked the Times to convey his thanks and appreciation to the people of Wheeler County for the many favors bestowed upon him during the past three years.

P. SIVAGE IS CO. CANDIDATE

Palmer Sivage, popular young resident of the north part of Wheeler County and present County Treasurer, this week authorized the Times to announce his candidacy for re-election to that office.

Sivage, who is holding his first public office, has served the people of the county well during the past three years.

In announcing for re-election he stated:

"When I first submitted my candidacy for County Treasurer, I told the voters that I was seeking their support solely on the basis of my education and qualifications and not because I am not able to 'get around' as well as most other people. That is the way I still feel about it.

"I have stayed on the job and have served to the best of my ability in every way. I feel that I have filled the position, to which the good people of Wheeler County elected me, in the way that they wished it filled.

"I have been very happy in my work. My contacts with the public has enabled me to make many friends, and for that I am thankful. I feel that my experience in office will enable me to serve even better during another term, and if the people see it fit to return me to the post, I promise to do everything in my power to make them a good official.

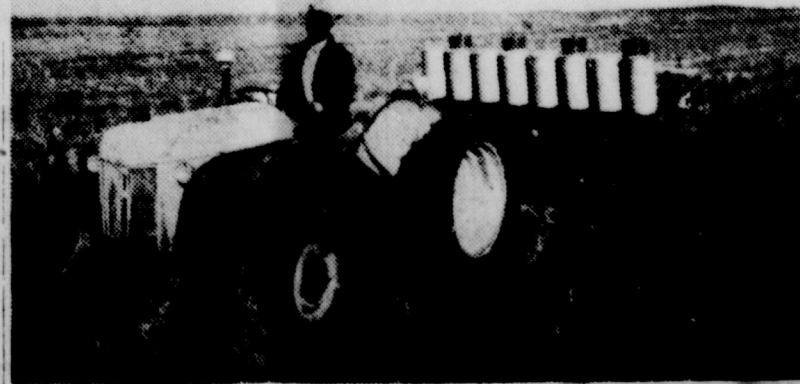

"I want to express my most sincere appreciation for your support and votes in the past, and I hope that you will and can see your way clear to elect me again this year."

LEE ANNOUNCES NEW FRIGIDAIRE

Lloyd Lee, of Ernest Lee Hardware, told today of broad new 1950 Frigidaire household refrigerators, ranges and other products, which he inspected recently during a special preview meeting in Fort Worth conducted by the Frigidaire District there.

Lee said that he has some models of the new refrigerators on display now.

The new refrigerator line affords three distinct types of refrigeration, four separate series and 10 sizes. Food storage capacities range from four to 17 cubic feet. Lee pointed out that the line includes two-door Imperial refrigerators equipped with separate "locker-top" freezing compartments; De Luxe models with full-width freezers and full-length doors, and Master and Standard refrigerators.

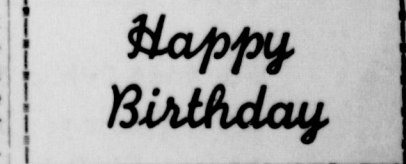

"All models", he said, "reflect distinctive new Raymond Loewy styling. Gold and chromium outside trim adds to the appearance of top refrigerators of the line while interiors are made more attractive by colorful new ice-blue and gold." Among the many new features are "target" door latches, adjustable and sliding aluminum shelves, full-width plastic chill drawers, plastic basket drawers and a new twin Hydrator arrangement.

Mrs. Lee and their daughter, Marsha, accompanied Lloyd to Ft. Worth to the preview showing.

Editorial

WE HOPE IT LASTS

The predictions from Washington are that 1950 will see a more placatory attitude of government toward business than has been the case in the recent past. This is based on the supposition that the party in power will find it profitable to do business in a year of crucial congressional elections. The speculation seems valid, since it is scarcely to be supposed that any political group would pursue election-year policies calculated to alienate any influential class of the population.

Whether or not such conciliatory purpose is behind it, the latest report of the Council of Economic Advisers, entitled "Business and Government", contains statements which are fully in line with a policy of re-assurance to business. The report lays emphasis upon joint government-business action designed to promote "stability and growth within our free enterprise system." As if to soothe business uneasiness over recent actions brought by the government under the antitrust laws, it acknowledges that "well-conducted" big business as well as small business has a place in our economic scheme.

Reassuringly, it also states the belief that increased production is the key to economic well-being and the constant business and industrial expansion which is essential to the nation's economic health.

Actions translating these sense-making sentiments into policy could have a powerful persuasive effect in melting business distrust of the honorableness of the administration's intentions. If they are phrases intended only to further a courtship leading to next November, it is to be hoped they will be repeated so often by those in power that they themselves will be convinced. Stranger examples of self-persuasion have been known to take place in courtship.

DANES AND RABIES

A Danish actress in New York for the last 10 years has cut short a six-month visit to her homeland because Danish authorities insisted upon a lengthy quarantine of her pet cocker spaniel as a precaution against the introduction of rabies.

The actress' choice in the matter, of course, is not open to criticism, but the Danes are subject to compliment for hewing to a wise law which ought to be universal. The United States, which could have been rid of rabies years ago, has a shameful rabies incidence because of a general disregard of laws relating to its control.

A nation which holds a false sentimentality over the subjection of animal pets to law is protecting neither its pets nor its people.—From Fort Worth Star-Telegram

Home Sweet Home

By Mary House
I can always tell when summer is on its last lap. About now there's a rising family howl for more evening picnics in our favorite grove on the edge of town.

Some years ago I realized that picnics are inevitable for a woman with a husband and a pair of offspring, and that a picnic is no picnic unless rendered painless. So I instituted a system.

The first step was education: I've taught my brood that picnics are more fun cafeteria style. I provide the fixings and they make their own. It's a kitchen timesaver.

Obtaining necessary picnic equipment was the next step.

Mine includes three big insulated jugs, two to hold ice cubes, the other for a hot dish; small covered dishes (for sandwiches spreads and ample glasses for beverages).

Drinks, like iced tea or lemonade, always taste better in glasses but finding glassware that would withstand the rough and tumble of a picnic presented a problem. I've solved it with those sturdy "bounce" tumblers, the kind that can take a beating, and outlast ordinary glasses three to five times. In addition, they have a safedge of specially hardened glass that resists nicking—a picnic safety factor I sincerely welcome.

Incidentally, the maker of these glasses is brave enough to etch the date of manufacture on the bottom of every glass. This permits the consumer to judge how long they stand up in comparison to ordinary tumblers. Ours, I note by the date, have lasted through the summer and six picnics without a casualty. I think that manufacturer has courage.

Outdoor activity raises a picnic's thirst, and I'm not one to let my family complain about my al fresco larder. I provide a breaded extract for freshly squeezed juice for lemonade, a jar of sugar solution, and a plentiful supply of chilled Coke.

To make certain the bottles of Coke stay cold, I leave them in my kitchen refrigerator until the very last, then wrap them well in thick layers of newspaper. This insulation will retain the cold until the tail end of the outing—and long before that the Coke will have disappeared down parched gullets.

Between us, I might quietly confess that this seasonal pressure for more evening picnics is self-instigated. It's really a lot less work than whipping up a regular dinner at home.

Frozen water pipes and hydrants cut off the winter supply of water for farm livestock and poultry. The use of electrical heating cable or frost-proof hydrants will solve the problem. Remember that water is just as necessary to livestock and poultry in the winter as in the summer.

"Wonder if it's cold outside"

It may be freezing outside, mister, but you'll never know it inside if your home has adequate, vented, automatic natural gas heating. And the same little pipe that delivers gas to your heating system will furnish fuel for heating water, cooking, refrigeration—for all the major jobs in the home . . . at a cost of only a few pennies a day.

GAS CONTRIBUTES TO YOUR WELFARE

Fryers and broilers are now in plentiful supply and recent price drops make them one of the best food buys. The lower prices will help the homemaker balance the family food budget and the increased consumption will help the producer.

Home fires are more numerous during the winter months. A major cause—home heating equipment is operating at capacity or above and careless handling of this equipment increases the chances for fire.

A protein-rich breakfast can do more to stave off fatigue hours longer than a morning meal with less protein. It is an advantage to provide about one third of the day's protein allowance in the breakfast. Some of it should come from such top-quality protein foods as milk, eggs and lean meats.

Do Not Age Same Rate

...all grow, develop, mature our organs degenerate same rate, says Dr. State Health Officer. A man of 60 may be vigorous and vital as a man of 40. On the he may look and act of 80, old, weak and a man of 60 may have old heart, 50 years old an 80 year old liver. Physical changes which age alone are not en-

...action does diminish, but endurance increases in certain capacities. As speed declines, skill is increased with practice, and as strength declines, judgment increases. Automobile driving ability, for example, improves from 24 to 43 in the average individual and at 65 is superior to that of the 20's.

"Normal human beings can grow mentally at any age. The worst of all old-age diseases is neglect. Many factors that help make a healthy, happy old age are (1) eating right; (2) regular physical examinations and (3) keeping physically and mentally active without overtaxing ourselves. There is a rapidly growing branch of medicine, known as geriatrics, that specializes in disease and conditions of the ageing. "Don't wait until you deteriorate—consult your physician now."

Governor Allan Shivers (above, center) is pictured signing the proclamation declaring the week of January 22-28, 1950, as Production Credit Week in Texas. Witnessing the Governor's signature are, left to right, C. H. Matthews, President of the El Campo PCA; Virgil P. Lee, president of PCC; J. B. Pumphrey, FCA director and director of the Stamford PCA; L. Roy Prescott, secretary-treasurer of the FCC; Julius Brene, chairman of the district committee and president of the Brenham Association; and Weldon L. Smith, secretary-treasurer of the Jasper Associations.

Something unique in the field of federal government financing has just occurred in Texas. On December 31, the 36 Production Credit Associations in Texas repaid the last dollar of the $8,000,000 in government capital which set them up in business 16 years ago.

To celebrate the occasion, Governor Allan Shivers has proclaimed the week of January 22-28, as Production Credit Week in Texas, and the Canadian Valley Association, along with the other 35, will join in the observance, according to E. E. Henderson, of Twitty, Texas, Vice President of the Canadian Valley P. C. A.

The Canadian Valley Association, as a matter of fact, paid off the last of its own government obligations a year earlier, on December 31, 1948. Nine of the Texas Associations had paid out at the end of 1947, and six others, including the local PCA, followed suit in 1948. At the end of 1949, the other 21 Texas associations joined the group... making the Texas PCA organizations the first in the U. S. to repay their government capital 100 percent.

the government had never set a definite time limit in which the initial capital was to be returned to the treasury.

The Production Credit Associations were "depression babies." The Texas Production Credit Association started operating in 1934, with an initial capital of $8,000,000 loaned them from the U. S. Treasury. To repay this loan, Texas farmer and rancher members not only had to raise the $8,000,000 plus interest to repay the government's investment, but also another $7,000,000 to get the capital and surplus necessary to handle the volume of loans now being carried.

Of this $15,000,000 in capital stock, only $3,000,000 represents capital stock which members were required to buy, legally in connection with their loans. The remainder was raised through members keeping stock not needed in their loans, by purchases of additional stock, and by the accumulation of earnings by the associations over the past 16 years.

is a separate corporation under the direction of a board of directors of farmers and ranchers elected by the members.

Operation of the Canadian Valley Production Credit Association, which has headquarters in Canadian and serves a six-county area made up of Ochiltree, Lipscomb, Hemphill, Wheeler, Gray and Roberts counties, is probably typical of the state's 36 associations.

The local association, during its 16 years of operation, has loaned more than twenty-three million dollars. Its total loss on loans over the period of time has amounted to $1,400. No losses at all have been incurred since 1935.

Slightly less than two million dollars was loaned by the association last year.

All of this money by the PCA, Vice President Henderson points out, is new money in this territory. Funds for the local credit association, like others in the state, comes from the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Houston, which buys local PCA notes, and obtains money by selling short-term bonds to private investors in all parts of the country.

The Associations have never loaned government money, Mr. Henderson points out. Only the initial capital investment was furnished by the government. All of the money used for loans by the associations has come from private investors, who buy the short-term Bank of Houston bonds at low interest rates, thus making available cheap money for redistribution by the member-associations.

The 36 Texas Associations are part of a national system of production credit for American agriculture. There are 503 associations in the U. S.

The associations were started back in the days when no credit of any kind was obtainable for farm and ranch operations, and the associations still operate on the principle of loaning money on any sound farm or ranch operation.

The do not make long-term loans on land, however.

In passing on loans, emphasis is placed on the applicant's ability to pay from income realized from his operation. A great deal of care is taken in sizing up the man himself, and a strong effort is made to make loans on which it might be necessary to collect through the sale of collateral.

Every loan made is studied by a loan committee composed of two directors and the manager. The success of this principle is attested by the exceptionally small percentage of loss during the 16 years of PCA operations.

Three hundred and fifty stockholders, all farmers and ranchers in the six-county territory served by the Canadian Valley Production Credit Association, make up the local association membership.

Offices of the association are in Canadian, but weekly visits are made to Wheeler (each Thursday) and to Pampa (each Wednesday), and other towns may be scheduled for similar service as needed.

Give Us Back Our Sidewalks, Slim!

I wrote that over an article in the Clarion last week, but I didn't like doing it. After all, the man it was aimed at—Slim Henderson—is a good friend of mine.

Slim came into quite a windfall last month, and bought the old Clarke place. The deed gave him title to all the land—right down to the street. Then Slim started to take up the sidewalk to make his lawn look better.

I felt it wasn't fair to the town and said so in my article. Next morning Slim comes around and wants to know what I mean—getting folks riled against him. I felt ornery myself, and we had quite a set-to over the whole business.

From where I sit, that was foolish. Once we'd cooled off (over lunch and a bottle of beer at Andy's Tavern), Slim decided the sidewalks should stay—for the common good and I promised next time I'd take a good look at the other fellow's point of view before writing any articles about him!

due—if no one guessed the Mystery Man's identity in the mail received up to that hour.

Tuesday afternoon, at the same hour, a third jingle will be added. And so on, each afternoon at 5:15 o'clock until some one has guessed the man.

And the beauty about the guessing contest is that additional prizes will be announced each day. The radio station estimated starting prizes worth $150 will be announced Sunday by local business firms. The firms are donating the prizes and the radio station is donating the advertising to these firms—all to help raise money for the Wheeler county March of Dimes campaign.

Now, get this, Eimer J. Moore, superintendent of Shamrock schools, is the only person who knows the identity of the KEVA Mystery Man. Mr. Moore has written the jingle clues and will personally announce them over KEVA each afternoon.

KEVA Manager John Kennedy and his staff do not know who the Mystery Man is. As a matter of fact, the Mystery Man himself does not know who he is. It could be any listener.

A person can guess as many times as he or she wishes. The only requirement is that $1 be enclosed with each guess. All mail received by KEVA will be turned over to Mr. Moore, unopened, and he will turn over the entire proceeds to the Wheeler County Chapter March of Dimes. All money will be credited to the quota of the community from which it is mailed.

How good are you at guessing? How well do you know your neighbors? Could you recognize yourself if Mr. Moore describes you? Be listening to KEVA at 5:15 o'clock Sunday afternoon. And start mailing those guesses and dollars. The correct guess carrying the earliest postoffice cancellation wins.
