Mobeetie Predictions

Mrs. H. L. Flanagan

One inch rain that fell Friday brought smiles to the everyone in this vicinity. There is no moisture to speak of as yet. While it is not much, it will benefit the wheat, row crops and will benefit immeasurably.

A few days have been pleasant ones around the home. Having LaRue for the weekend was most enjoyable. She was accompanied by her mother from Brownwood.

Pierce and we had the Talley's of Miami for guests Saturday evening. It is quite appropriate that your correspondent in the past week, a very special event was made especially by a dinner Thursday in the E. E. Johnston home on the birthday of his son.

While we mothers appreciate all the thoughtfulness, we are made to realize our unworthiness of so much kindness and only wish we could be more deserving of many nice things that are done for us on this special day.

Friends and relatives graduating class were present morning for the service at the First Church. The address of Grizzard, Minister of the Church at Wheeler, was fitting to the occasion and made a lasting impression on the graduates.

Eugene Matthews of San Antonio and Mrs. H. E. Goad was the speaker for the service at Briscoe Sunday. Gene was himself a graduate of Briscoe high school two years ago and it is a tribute to be asked to address at this time. He and his wife visited over the weekend with his father and mother.

Funeral services for W. T. Beck held at Dimmitt Wednesday. He passed away last at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Oscar Trimble, after a illness of several weeks. The family were residents of here for many years and have friends here who will be glad to learn of his passing.

Services were here who attend services were: Mr. and Mrs. Beck, Boyd Beck, Mr. and Mrs. Beck and Mr. and Mrs. John.

Willard Godwin and J. R. Goad families were called to the home of J. A. Brandon, father of Godwin and Mrs. Patterson. We extend our deepest sympathy to the good friends of ours in bereavement.

J. T. Johnston is the new place left vacant by the Robert Leonard who began at the Tax Collectors office Monday morning.

Ben Barker of Dallas, has visited the past week in the home of her mother and father, Mrs. J. S. Oswald. Her daughter, Mrs. Standley, also of Dallas, was for a weekend visit. They are old-time residents of here.

J. Tyson, local Postmaster and the Postmaster's Convention at Fort Worth May 6th, going there to Brownwood for a with his father before returning the first of this week.

Mrs. Paul Maulsby called to Gruber Wednesday the death of their niece, Miss Isabelle Sparks, who was killed in a car accident.

MR. AND MRS. FRED ROWE

Rowe's Celebrate 50th Anniversary

A few friends and relatives gathered recently to honor Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rowe with a dinner at the home of a grandson, W. A. Goad, Jr., and wife in honor of their Golden Wedding Anniversary which was on May 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Rowe were married in Mevagsisey, Cornwall, England, May 1, 1900 and came to the United States during the first year of their marriage. They settled in Dallas County, Texas where Mr. Rowe farmed for a year, then moved his wife and daughter, May, to Vernon. They lived there ten years and two sons, Bill and Percy, were born there. They moved to Wheeler County from Vernon and settled on their present home site, which is three miles north of Wheeler.

Their daughter, Mrs. May Goad, resides just west of Wheeler and their son, Bill and Percy, both live at Pampa.

Mr. and Mrs. Rowe have ten grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Baptists To Present Prospective Building Plans At Sun. Services

Rev. M. B. Smith announced this week that the membership of the First Baptist Church here is hoping to begin the building of a new auditorium soon.

Smith pointed out the fact that on Sunday morning, May 21 a suggested plan will be presented to the church for their approval or disapproval.

The pastor urges that everyone be in the Sunday School and preaching services Sunday and see just what they think about the suggested plans.

Wheeler Whisperings

By J. C. Howell

We have a picture of the floor plan for the Wheeler Community building as it will look after it is fixed up which we intend to run in next week's Times. . . . We really intended to run it in this week's edition but other news concerning the 52 seniors of the north portion of the county crowded it out. Anyway, we are looking for it in next week's paper. We believe that this building will really be worth while to the residents of this area, especially the farmers and stockmen who wish to gather now and then for meetings and shows of various kinds.

Members of the Kiwanis Club of Wheeler who have not attended the last three meetings have really missed some good talks on the American way of life by Homer Moss, T. M. Britt and Jesse J. Dyer. The fourth talk in this series is to be given next Monday noon by Rep. Grainger McIlhenny and is (Continued on Last Page)

GOOD RAINS SOAK COUNTY, HAIL IN SPOTS

Good rains have pretty well blanketed the county since the last edition of The Times appeared and according to reports some portions of the county were visited by heavy hail storms which did much damage to homes, trees and what wheat there was left in those communities.

A heavy rain blanketed the county last Friday night with falls of between 1 1/2 to 2 inches of moisture reported all over the county. The immediate vicinity of Wheeler received between 1 1/2 and 1 3/4 inches while a 2-inch fall was reported in the Mobeetie area.

Wednesday night the north half of Wheeler County was again blessed with a nice amount of moisture with measurements ranging from .70 inch to over 1 inch in various sections.

Last Friday afternoon late a heavy hailstorm hit an area north of Briscoe stripping trees, damaging shingle roofs and wheat. Hail was also reported on the Britt ranch east of town and still more further on over near the east edge of the county.

Rainfall in the immediate vicinity of Wheeler for the past six days totals 2.25 inches which is making grass, weeds, flowers, shrubs and gardens get up and really grow.

Much activity has been reported by the firms which sell planting seeds since last Friday night's nice fall.

Briscoe Club Girls Hold Dress Review

The Briscoe 4-H Club girls held their dress review Saturday, May 13, in the Home Making Cottage at Briscoe.

Judges were Mrs. W. K. Frey of Wheeler, Mrs. C. J. Van Zandt of Mobeetie and Mrs. Kiker of Briscoe. There were six girls who modeled skirts and blouses, six who modeled school dresses and two dress-up dresses, to be judged.

Of the skirts and blouses, first place went to Jay Fay Lane, second, Margie Peterman and third, Carol Joyce Mason. School dresses, Nancy Walker, Patsy Ann Ramsey and Patsy Waters, first, second and third, respectively. The two dress-up dresses were both top nice to be determined as first and second.

The girls gave a short program and refreshments were served by the Briscoe and Good Neighbors Home Demonstration Clubs.

The next 4-H Club meeting will be a recreation party for all the Briscoe 4-H club boys and girls in the gym at Briscoe. This will be under the direction of Miss Morton and Mr. Wheat.

Message To Our Citizens

On Monday, May 15, the U. S. Savings Bonds Independence Drive opened throughout the nation, and continues through the Fourth of July. Its symbol is the Liberty Bell, encircled by the campaign theme: Save for Your Independence—Buy U. S. Savings Bonds.

The year-round Savings Bonds program, of which this annual campaign is an important part, fosters the spirit of self-reliance and the urge for self-betterment that, along with individual enterprise, inventiveness, productivity and thrift have carried us steadily forward since the first settlers braved the wilderness to build a free America.

Through regular savings we build up reserves against misfortune and provide income for our later years, thus lessening the burden upon others. We accumulate funds for worthwhile purchases and investments. The buying power we store up (individual savings in E Bonds alone exceed $34,000,000,000 in cash value today) helps to stabilize business and employment through the years.

WHEELER PLAYS BRISCOE HERE SUN. AFTERNOON

The Wheeler Legionnaires will play their second home games of the current season Sunday when they meet an improved team from Briscoe in a Tri-County Baseball League contest. This will also be the second contest on the new Wheeler Legionnaire diamond.

The local baseball club and the American Legion cordially invite the public to come out and witness a good ball game in the only real baseball park Wheeler has ever had. The new park has concrete seats, a good backstop and a nice level playing field.

Last Sunday the local club won its fourth contest of the season by downing an improved Allison nine by a count of 4 to 2. The contest was played at Allison.

Mobeetie defeated Briscoe by a count of 10 to 2 last Sunday but it is understood that several of the Briscoe players were unable to be present for the game due to various reasons.

The standings in the Tri-County League are now as follows:

Team	W	L	Pct.

Fifty-Two Seniors Graduating From North Co. Schools

DIST. JUDGE MAKES FORMAL ANNOUNCEMENT

District Judge Lewis M. Goodrich, who announced his candidacy for re-election to a second term early this year with a very brief statement, has issued a formal statement of his candidacy this week. Judge Goodrich's statement follows:

"In announcing for my second term, I want to thank the people of this district for the support they have given me in the performance of my duties as district judge. I have devoted my time and very best efforts in performing the duties of the office, and want to refer all the voters to the bar of this area and others who have been in attendance upon the court throughout the district as jurors, and in other capacities, to ascertain the manner in which your district court has been conducted during the last three and a half years. The condition of the dockets throughout the district will reflect the record of your district judge and the minutes of the respective clerk's offices will reveal and verify what has been done. I respectfully submit them for your inspection, and further refer you to the record of cases appealed from this court during my tenure of office. The records of 16 cases have been transferred from this court to the Courts of Civil Appeals, the Supreme Court, and the Court of Criminal Appeals. All but three of these cases have been passed upon, one of which was reversed and rendered, and the other twelve were affirmed. I pass this on to you for your consideration and as a yardstick to measure the standing this court has had with the higher courts since I have served as your judge."

"Upon the basis of my service and record I respectfully submit to you my candidacy for a second term as Judge of the 31st Judicial District."

Survivors include the husband, Walter Atwood, two sons and two daughters who are LaNell, Roger, Danny and Carol; the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rogers of Wheeler; and 3 brothers, Willis, Willard and Wayne Rogers all of Wheeler.

Flower attendants were: Exa Blake, Helen Sabee, Lucille Anderson, Ione Miller, Lottie Eva Denison, Lila Anderson, Alverne Hutchison, Lucille Hutchison, Opal Smith, Lorene Errington and Allene Anderson.

Interment was in the Wheeler Cemetery with Kirk-Mason Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Harriet Beaty of Los Angeles has been visiting her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Beaty of Briscoe. Mrs. O. O. Beaty and Mrs. Harriet Beaty left Wednesday morning for Rule to visit with a brother there.

The first of this year most of the business firms agreed to observe certain holidays throughout the year and it happens that Tuesday, May 30, Memorial Day, is one of the days which the Wheeler firms agreed to observe.

The Times is taking this opportunity to ask the people of this trade territory to take note of this anticipated holiday and make plans well in advance of that day so that closing of any business houses in Wheeler will not inconvenience them in any manner what-so-ever.

Members of the American Legion will decorate graves of veterans in both the Wheeler and Zybach Cemeteries on that day.

As is the usual custom it is supposed that drug stores, cafes and service stations will remain open on that date.

Mrs. Annie Sivage spent the weekend with friends and relatives in Lingleville and Morganville.

Fifty-two young men and women will graduate from the five high schools in the north part of Wheeler County this weekend and next. Wheeler, Mobeetie, Briscoe and Kelton are all holding their graduating exercises this weekend and Allison is scheduled to hold theirs next weekend.

This week's edition of The Times is dedicated to the boys and girls who are graduating in the Classes of '50 and it carries the pictures of all the youngsters on various pages throughout the edition which comes in two eight-page sections this week.

Wheeler has the largest class with a total of 22 members, while Mobeetie comes second with 13, Allison has 8, Briscoe 5 and Kelton 4.

Baccalaureate Services were held at 4 of the 5 schools last Sunday and are scheduled to be held at the other, Allison, this Sunday, May 21 beginning at 8:00 p. m.

The Times joins the merchants and organizations of this area whose ads appear on various pages of this week's edition in congratulating the graduates and wishing them much success in their future endeavors.

Editorial

ECONOMIC SYSTEM AND WAY OF LIFE

A contributor to Letters from Readers Thursday stated that the "very essence of our way of life is our economic system." It is a truth too often overlooked. In overlooking it advocates of private enterprise also overlook their best argument. In overlooking it sincere advocates of our present-day socialist trend have wandered into the blindest alley that liberalism has ever turned into.

There can be no liberty for the individual where he has no right to own productive property and to produce without unfair competition from government-owned and government-favored machinery of production. We say that a man's home is his castle under the law. Such a castle can not save him from slavery where his livelihood is derived from his work as a cog in an all-embracing economic machine.

Advocates of socialism emphasize the "profit motive" and the "competition" of the free enterprise system. Their implications (and their sincere belief usually) is that there is something inherently unfair and dishonest in such a system. They call it the fang-and-claw way. There is no greater fang-and-claw competition than politics. And it is most intense in machine politics. It is most widespread where machine politics controls
the machine production. And, where politics (government) controls the machine of production, there must be a political-governmental machine. You can not run a factory by the shifting democratic will of the people.

Many so-called liberals who were formerly much intrigued by the Russians system have latterly rejected it and retreated to a defense of what they call "democratic socialism." There can be no democratic socialism except as a passing phase. It must either go on the rocks of inefficient production or crystallize in a rigid management system, secure in position, holding a monopoly over all political, economic and social affairs of the nation.—Dallas News

BOATMAN'S COMPLAINT

The gondoliers of Venice are fed up with the backwash from speeding motorboats.
They don't want to take it any more. Nor can you blame them. They say the bow waves from runabouts and cabin cruisers scare the daylights out of their cash customers. Many a middle-aged American tourist has already lost her illusions about the city on the sea,
all because of those put-putting, chug-chugging rivals of the boatman. Now there is the extra hazard of being swamped on the open lagoon.

Members of the guild can't stomach the idea that technological obsolescence may have caught up with their calling. Their craft shall not join the horse-and-buggy on the scrap heap—if they have anything to say about it. And they are fighting back. Oddly enough, they are using one of the most modern weapons of economic warfare; they have all walked out on strike, or swum out, if you prefer. No more singing in the moonlight; no more fighting over fares.

It looks like a rough season ahead for young lovers and anybody else who is not in a hurry in Venice.—Dallas News

There's a surplus of nuts — and I don't mean the human variety. But don't count on prices going down 'cause
if growers take the government's advice
we will find walnut oil being mixed with paint, and almond oil in shortening and salad oil.

When you want mashed potatoes to be super de luxe try this: whip in one-half cup real mayonnaise, a little minced onion, chopped parsley and salt. Turn into a lightly greased casserole. Then bake in a hot oven 25 to 30 minutes.

One manufacturer is packaging 10
cakes of soap in a very handy container — it's a transparent plastic bag that has innumerable uses around the house. It's especially wonderful for storing vegetables in the refrigerator.

Have you taken out last year's white cotton gloves only to find that they're a drab, sorry-looking lot? Well, don't despair 'cause there's hope if you tint them yellow, light blue or pink with an all-purpose dye to match your new Spring suit.

The easiest way to sugar doughnuts is to put them in a paper bag with the sugar and shake them lightly.

BEN RAMSEY IS CANDIDATE FOR LT. GOVERNOR

Ben Ramsey of San Augustine, who has a long record of service in both houses of the Legislature, today formally announced his candidacy for lieutenant governor of Texas.

The tall East Texan resigned this spring as secretary of state in order to prepare to make the state race. He was appointed secretary of state in January, 1949, by the late Governor Beauford Jester and continued to serve under Governor Allan Shivers when he took office.

Ramsey began his political career in 1930 when he was elected to the House from San Augustine County. He served in the House four years and in 1940 was elected to the Texas Senate, where he served eight years.

The East Texas Senator has always been held in high regard by his fellow members of the Legislature, regardless of differences in voting, and the Senate demonstrated this in 1947 by electing him President Pro-Tempore of the Senate.

Ramsey, born and reared in San Augustine County, has been a leader in the advancement of rural electrification in the state. For the past ten years he has been attorney for the Deep East Texas Electric Cooperative, and during this time this pioneering rural utility has grown into one of the largest and most financially sound in Texas.

Ramsey attended the San Augustine public schools and the University of Texas. After leaving the University in 1931, he began practicing law in San Augustine, and immediately became interested in the serious East Texas problem of soil and forest conservation. The Ramsey farm there now is considered a model from a soil improvement standpoint.

After leaving the Secretary of State's office in Austin, Ramsey and his wife returned to San Augustine where he resumed his law practice. He has been active in all community affairs and has been a member of the Methodist Church for most of his 46 years.

Ramsey said he is running for lieutenant governor because he is convinced that the thinking people of Texas must take a more active interest in their state government, to solve their own problems in their own way.

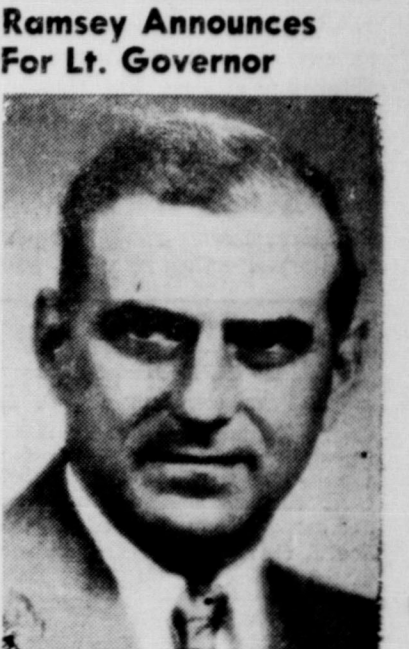

Ramsey has been a consistent supporter of improving educational opportunities in Texas, and the farm-to-market road improvement program.

Cotton farmers in many sections of Texas last year reported savings up to 60 percent on their chopping and hoeing expenses by using rotary hoes.

LIBERTY BELL BE SHOWN HERE TUES., JUNE 6

The voice of American liberty and independence will ring out here on Tuesday, June 6. A bronze replica of the original Liberty Bell will visit Wheeler on that date, to help promote the sale of United States Savings Bonds during the Independence Drive, May 15 through July 4, according to R. J. Holt, Wheeler County Savings

Bonds Chairman.

The bell will arrive here at 9:00 a. m. and depart at 11:00 a. m. While here it will be in charge of the county Savings Bond Chairman and his committee, who are planning appropriate public ceremonies to mark the visit.

This county is one of 87 in Texas that will be visited by the bell, the chairman said. The bell will make its appearance in about 120 Texas cities and towns which represent 85 or 90 percent of the state's population. The bell will start on its 5,000 mile tour following the state "kick off" of the Independence Drive in Fort Worth on May 16. The state quota for the drive is $25,000,000 in Series E bonds. The slogan is "Save for YOUR Independence—Buy U. S. Savings Bonds."

The bell is an exact duplicate, except for the crack, of the original Liberty Bell which is preserved in Independence Hall at Philadelphia. The crack is simulated in the duplicate bell so that it will have the same "voice" that proclaimed liberty 174 years ago when this nation declared itself "free and independent." The bell will be rung during the ceremonies.

The bell is one of 49 that the copper industry is furnishing as its contribution to the Independence Drive. One bell each will tour the 48 states and the District of Columbia during the seven weeks of the drive. Companies cooperating with the Treasury Department to make the bells possible are Anaconda Copper Mining Company, American Smelting & Refining Company, American Metal Company, Miami Copper Company, and Phelps-Dodge Corporation.

The Texas bell and the 48 others will be transported on specially equipped trucks that are being furnished by the Ford Motor Co. "The visit of this bell gives the people of this community and county the opportunity to see an authentic replica of America's most cherished relic," the county chairman said. "I hope the largest possible number of our citizens, children as well as adults, will make plans to see and hear it."

The chairman said that additional details would be announced as plans for the ceremonies progress.

Heart Disease Kills More Texans Than Any Other Disease

Heart disease is the number one killer in Texas and last year there were 18,003 deaths from diseases of the heart, said Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

What kind of a heart have you? The periodic check-up with your physician will tell you. The Tuberculosis Survey in the state conducted by the Texas State Department of Health has brought to light many non-tuberculosis abnormalities, some of these have been heart conditions.

The three present major forms of heart trouble are: rheumatic heart disease, high blood pressure and coronary heart disease. Rheumatic heart disease, the most common type of early life, occurs as the result of one or more attacks of rheumatic fever. It is a public health problem for which very little has been done, yet with early diagnosis and proper medical care during the acute and convalescent stages, children who develop rheumatic fever can be largely spared from rheumatic heart disease in later life.

Another major cause of heart trouble is high blood pressure or hypertension. This is the most common heart disease of middle age. There is a great deal that is not known about this disease, but we do know that it is most common in people who are overweight, and that it is associated with long, continuous nervous strain, high tension and constant worry. Treatment of high blood pressure is fairly successful in the majority of cases.

Coronary heart disease is a disease of the arteries which supply the heart muscle itself with blood. A majority of persons survive the first attack, and with good medical care, rest and common sense precautions, may even live a normal life span. Syphilitic heart disease can be prevented by early and adequate care of the systemic disease, a problem which has been simplified by the use of penicillin.

Research in the medical sciences is constantly improving the outlook for the cardiac patient, yet each individual must assume the responsibility for obtaining the benefits of this knowledge from his physician for himself and family.

The American Cancer Society is financing 285 research grants to study the cases of cancer and find new cures.

Wheeler Whisperings
Wheeler, Texas
Dear Whisperings:

I have been thinking some time about writing you concerning the condition of our town and its city government.

First, I would like to point out that I believe there is going to be some little oil play in the vicinity of Wheeler within the year, and, if this should happen, there will be building and growth for our little city and it is not prepared for any building boom.

Water and sewer lines need extension, the city needs an ordinance of some sort which would require prospective builders to secure a building permit before they begin construction of any sort. A building permit ordinance would keep people from throwing up little shacks which are undesirable.

Another thing this city needs is some law enforcement of some sort which would protect our property and control the reckless driving on our streets. I suggest that we set up an office of city judge, city attorney and employ a city officer so we can prosecute local law violators.

Then, too, I am not satisfied with the light and telephone services in the city of Wheeler, so I suggest that the city award new franchises for electric power and gas service.

Sincerely,
Name withheld by request from now, Tommy Eiland on his laurels, the he rested on anything for time. He was vice president of his class in high school and the student council, and as he rests, to become of his class in college, years more the president of the bank.

from now, Dorothy is the leading lady in a show. You remember she on a good act in school, when she didn't have her and there was no time to a good excuse. She could be so interested in what she was saying, when all she'd be thinking of the night before. The town will be her someday.

this first mirror I can see Pruitt is a go-getter. He that he wants when he looks as if he'd take a baby and be mad at because it wasn't the right billipop, I mean. But four years from now — my, oh my! He is taking everything from college that wasn't nailed down when he got there. Honors, scholarships, medals, the best seat in class, and most of the attention of most of the teachers, some of whom thought he needed watching for fear he'd take the building. Now I see him, looking very cross and important — the town dog-catcher. The poor pooches were the only things left for him to go out and get.

I see in the mirror a wonderful example of what four or five years and a lot of effort can do. On this side we have a girl who was certainly a chain talker. Every word was linked to another, and the chain was endless. When the teacher had anything important to say, she always sent Melba Strawbridge out in the hall to give the class a chance to listen. She began talking at the age of six months and never stopped. Now, I see her after three years of college.

I see her; but I don't believe it, neither will you, Melba has become as quiet as a mouse. When she does speak, it is hardly above a whisper. What a relief to her teachers, classmates, and friends. There must be a reason. There is, I've found it. She talked so long and so loudly in her first year at college, where there were so many more people to talk to and so many classes to interrupt, that she wore down her vocal cords to a thread no thicker than a spider's web. She was ordered by the doctors to use her voice as little as possible for a period of 10 years, at the end of which time there was a fifty-fifty chance that her vocal chords would have grown back to their accustomed thickness. What a peaceful 10 years for her friends! But if she is all right when the rest is over, how she will make up for lost time!

Of all the girls in your class, from junior high to high school, there was no one who stayed home so often for no good reason or who came late so frequently, when she did come, as Margaret Kite. Her nickname, from freshman on, was the "Late Miss Margaret." Every time there was an exam, she had a toothache. Every time she was in a play she had an earache. By alternating teeth and ears and by staying home every third day, she managed to get out of most of her work. By coming late, she never had to attend morning exercises. How she ever got through is a mystery. The year after she gets out of college she becomes, believe it or not, the school truant officer. Well, after all, she knows all the excuses.

Wheeler High Class Will Is Announced

CLASS WILL

LONGY: My dear attorney Shorty Short, the seniors of the class of Wheeler High School asked me to write their will up in legal form, but it really is most disconcerting.

SHORTY: And pray, why, Attorney Long Long Long?

LONGY: It's their handwriting! I can't make it out. Don't they teach penmanship in the schools of today?

SHORTY: I presume so, my lad—er—pardon, Attorney Long Long Long. But by the time the seniors have arrived at graduation they have written so many examination papers that I suppose that they do get a bit careless.

LONGY: Careless! Why these words are mere scrawls.

SHORTY: Well, I used to be a school teacher, Attorney Long Long Long, and got into the habit of readin' student's bad hand-writing so if, in my small capacity, I can be of any help, I will be glad to render my services.

HE READS—

Died, on May 12, 1950, in the fourth year of its age, the senior class of the Wheeler School, from a rush of information to the head. The funeral services will be held in the Gym on May 19, 1950, and all friends are requested to attend, bearing flowers and gifts.

The death of this brilliant class, although not sudden, is still a shock to the entire community, particularly to the faculty, who had thought it might linger for yet another year. However, the accumulation of facts and fancies, information and ideals was too great for the immature mind of the senior class, and it gave up the struggle gracefully, as it did all things, therefore it is my solemn duty to produce the last will and testament.

We, the class of 1950, in sound mind and healthy physique, do make this our last will and testament. (Moans).

We leave the junior class our good luck. It made us what we are today.

We give and bequeath the junior class our well known nerve, which they will need next year, and all the examination questions we have been given during the past year. We believe that an examination, like history often repeats itself.

We leave to the under classes the genuine appreciation of kindness and respect shown us.

We leave the faculty our thanks and gratitude for the hearty cooperation they have given us during our school life.

Any property or personal possessions of ours that may remain in addition to the items specified we give and bequeath to the Wheeler Board of Education to use as it sees fit.

Finally, we do hereby name and appoint as the sole executor of this, our last will and testament, our class advisor Mrs. Carrick.

In witness whereof we, the class of 1950, the testator, have set our hand and seal on this 12 day of May in the year of 1950.

Live Up To Your Faith . . .

Faith in God and the Spiritual values of life are essential to these times. Faith can conquer fear and guide us to personal and world peace. In faith, we can find strength and courage for these days and the days ahead.

Young people are to be commended for the effort put forth in school, and for the progress made as a result of his effort.

In life there are many things of importance—an education is one of these things, and through a well-rounded education a person is prepared for fuller living. It is the conviction of this organization that no person has a well-rounded education who neglects the training gained through the study of the WORD OF GOD—The BIBLE. In our training let us turn back to the teaching of God's Word, and to the God of the Word.

"But continue thru in the things which thou hast learned and hast been assured of, knowing of whom thou hast learned them; And that from a child thou hast known the Holy Scriptures which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith in Christ Jesus". 2 Timothy 3:14-15

"Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not be ashamed, rightly dividing the Word of Truth." 2 Timothy 2:15

"For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." John 3:16

Wheeler Class Makes Prophecy

PROPHECY

This little crystal sphere holds all of the past and all of the future. It can reveal the hidden and make known the secret. It can tell you whatever your soul desires to know. I have been asked to search in its magic depths until I discover the future that awaits the members of the class of 1950, so soon to take their separate ways and, perhaps, never be reunited. I am about to read the crystal, but before doing so, may I ask for your earnest cooperation? If you will remain absolutely silent and join me in concentrating upon the future, leaving your mind wiped free of all conflicting impressions, I can promise you the information you desire. I thank you.

The mist is clearing. A village scene appears. I can see a home. Why, it's the spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Carrick, prominent educators of the day. But what is the occasion? Ah, the cloud is lifting. The occasion is a reunion of the Class of 1950. As I look into my crystal ball I see the guests arriving. Here comes the MARGARET HOLDEMAN wound up her high school career in Wheeler with the highest scholastic average in the class but did not qualify for the valedictory award because she has not attended high school here the full four years. Miss Holdeman's four-year average was 94.3. Margaret is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Holdeman.

IMOGENE REID was chosen valedictorian of the graduating class of Wheeler High School this year by reason of her average of 92.1 which is the highest average of any member of the class who has attended school here during their entire high school career. Miss Reid is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Reid.

JOANN RICHERSON, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Richerson, has been chosen salutatorian of the 1950 graduating class of Wheeler High School this year by reason of her average of 88.7.

Charlotte Weatherly. She is the one who has revolutionized the art of flag pole setting. In fact, she now makes her home atop a flag pole.

The mist is falling. I can see nothing but a broom. Who is carrying it? The mist is lifting and I see Garland Parks. He is a street cleaner. No doubt, he aims to shift his trade in doors and clean up after the party.

The guests are beginning to pour in now. Here comes two aimable looking young women. It wouldn't be hard to guess who they are. It is Sue Farmer and Dorothy Esslinger. They are still inseparable after fifteen years. They are making a name for themselves in the advertising world as "The Toni Twins."

The scene shifts. I see Jack Mitchell, the mayor of Los Angeles. He flew all the way here especially for this reunion. I see he is still campaigning.

I don't recognize this next woman. Oh, now I know who it is. It's Imogene Reid. How haggard she looks. She takes in washing, poor soul.

Right now, I see a sober looking gentleman. It is Rev. Dale Crossland, pastor of the local Methodist Church. I've heard that he leads his flock with a gentle, but firm hand.

What is that noise disturbing my meditations? I know now: It is Mrs. Clab Spraddling known in Wheeler as Winnie Reid, with her seven small children. My, she has certainly changed her status in life.

The spirit is moving me. I am going into a trance. I see a vision. No, it is only George Hibbits. He was the president of the senior class back in Wheeler. That is a strange looking contraption he's got with him. Now I remember. It is his new secret weapon and he is guarding it with his life. If you'll recollect, he is now a famous inventor.

Well, look who is arriving now. It's Mr. Robert Henderson, the friendly undertaker. That type of work generally puts people under. However, Bobbie shows no sign of strain.

What is this, a freak show? It seems as if we have half of the circus here with us today in the form is Linnie Newkirk. She is the sword swallower with Barnum and Bailey. She is coughing. I suppose she has misplaced some of her swords.

My trance is practically coming to an end. It is nearly time for the spirit to leave me. Wait, here comes someone. It is Mr. Holdeman, late as usual, the gym instructor in a for men. I suppose she is

The rest of the members not shown up yet but here the Pink Spots Quartet singing. On looking closer I see it is Gene Hubbard, Corbertson, Lindon Sanders, and Waters, former members of class. Listen, they are singing "Put Your Arms Around Me."

All is lost. The mist has I see no more. Yet I hear

History Wheeler Class Is Given

CLASS HISTORY

The discovery of the class of 1950 was an accident. Four years ago, early one morning of the first day of September in 1938 the faculty of Wheeler School were strolling through the corridors, chatting about the just ended vacation and wondering whether there would be any startling changes in their work during the coming year. Mrs. Phillips, the first grade teacher at that time, was trying to find her new pupils, when all of a sudden she caught a glimpse of something huddled in the corner and this something was the ones the class of 1950 that started in the first grade. They were as follows:

Winnie—Little skinny thing always looking at the floor.
Dorothy—Short, but very lively and talking about her boyfriends.
Joann—Rather quiet then, but loud now.

Floy Bell—Kinda rosy, and got along well with everyone.
J. T.—Little but loud, and always wanting to rope something.
Dale (Red)—With his numerous freckles and red hair, always pestering the girls.
Garland—With his curly hair always had a girlfriend, but never would tell who she was.
Imogene—Pretty cute when she was little, but Oh! Now, what a sight!
We shall never forget how Linnie looked when she joined us in the second grade. She was a little girl, afraid to talk much, but got along well with everyone and soon became just one of the "bunch."
No more joined us until we were in the fourth and then Jack came along looking very solemn, but grew to be real friendly later.

We're Sorry

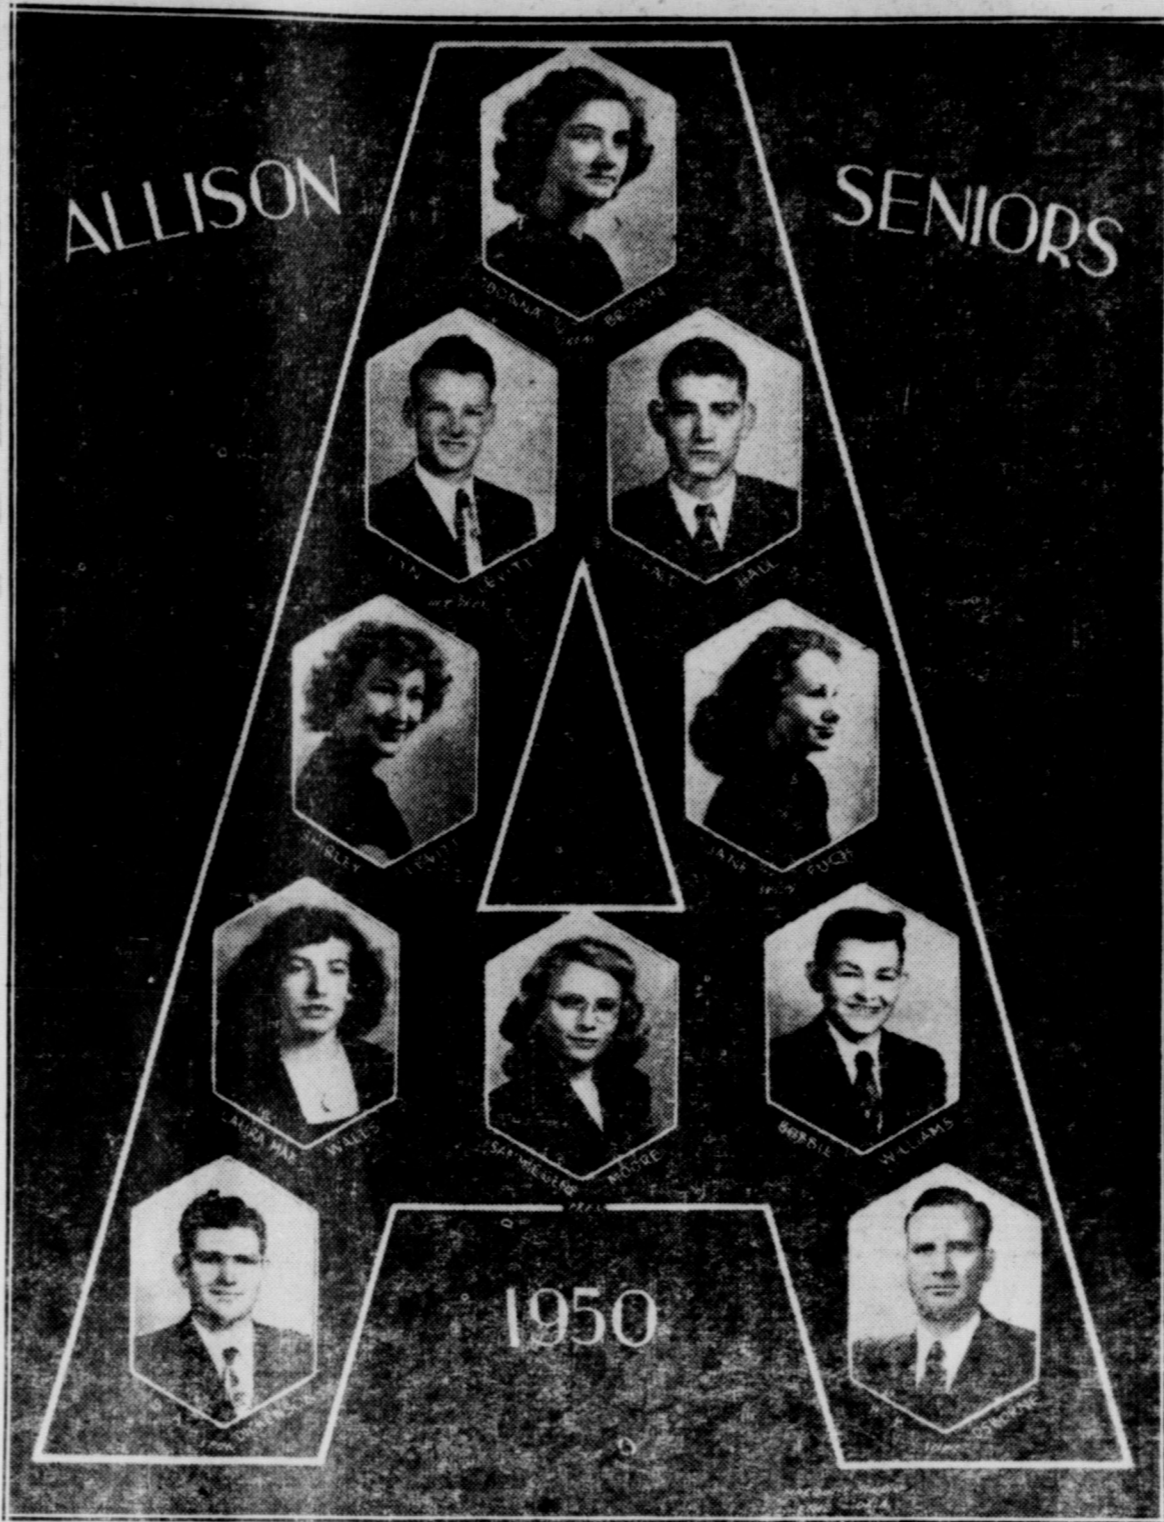

... We had to close down the cafe without giving you any advance notice or warning and we hope it will not inconvenience you very much. Again we say we are sorry...

But

... we will be open again in the very near future with a completely cleaned, remodeled and redecorated eating establishment, and we hope that we will have the pleasure of again serving delicious food which is always prepared right.

Pictured above are the eight members of the 1950 graduating class of Allison High School together with their class sponsor, B. A. Dickenson, and Supt. H. B. Osborne. At the top of the "A" is Donna Jo Brown, second row is Lyn Levitt and Gerald Hall, third row is Shirley Levitt and Jane Pugh, fourth row is Laura Mae Walls, Sammie Gene Moore and Bobbie Williams, and fifth row is Dickenson and Supt. Osborne.

As we went on to the fifth grade all the girls hearts thumped loud, because it was here that Doyle Waters joined us.

When we got to the sixth grade we thought ourselves nearly grown, especially when Corky Robertson joined us looking as handsome then as he does now.

As we journeyed to the seventh grade our class increased more than it ever did before because it was here that Ruby Davis, Lindon Sanders, and C. R. Bailey joined us.

We were just almost certain that we were grown when we reached the eighth grade because we were in the high school building, Martha Hastings joined us here. When we graduated from the eighth grade class J. T. was valedictorian and Dorothy was salutatorian.

When we finally got to the ninth grade things began to change, different ways of having classes, etc. Here George Hibbits and Charlotte Weatherly joined us.

Things were beginning to run rather smooth in the tenth grade, nothing new came along until Margaret Holdeman and Bobby Henderson.

When we got to the eleventh grade we were so busy making money and things we hardly noticed Sue Farmer and Neil Laycock as they joined us, but we soon got acquainted with them when we had class meetings.

As we were approaching our last year in High School we were a little sad about finishing and here Gene Hubbard joined us. But there isn't a one in the class that didn't enjoy going to Wheeler School and pestering the teachers.

Let us admit it fairly as high school seniors should: We've had no end of lessons, and they've done us no end of good.

We entered as timid freshman, we leave as graduates bold, And we find it hard to realize the knowledge our young heads hold.

We've had our foolish notions knocked higher than Franklin's kite;

Our minds have been made over, and we know it served us right.

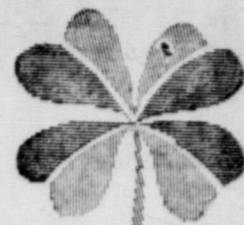

We've spent four years in labor hard to prove the fact one more

That life is quite confused, and two and two are seldom four. We're crammed to the brim with learning, and now we must turn it to use.

And if one of us is a failure, he hasn't a single excuse.

The more we work and the less we talk the better results we shall get.

For we've had four years of training; it may make us successes yet.

PROPHECY
 Year of 1965 and as book my friend had dered what to ex-
 rived yesterday by
 with a note say-
 you another gift.
 "The press." The tile
 Have Known and Well, I would
 it proved dry. Hours reading—I hadn't for lunch, for the
 with the lives,
 present, of the grad-1950. People I, too, loved. I had dis-
 the author was Leida
 the humorous and affectionate way she wrote about the class brought happy memories back to me and I was thrilled to find what each one was doing now.

 Some of it was surprising indeed for back in 1950 we thought we knew all about their future plans, and I could hardly believe it when I read that Jack Hefley had attempted suicide because his high school sweetheart had jilted him.
 I read it twice to be sure. He had stepped in front of a fast car in an attempt to escape his grief, but the driver of the car, a beautiful girl, had managed to swerve in time to avoid killing him. However, he was laid up for several weeks with a broken leg and the girl had seen to it that he had the best of hospital care. She was an extremely wealthy girl having been in the easy money for several years as a leading dress designer. She visited him every day and at the end of his stay in the hospital he was hopelessly in love with her and they were married. He was now one of the big name radio commentators. The beautiful dress designer he married was Patsy McCauley.

 Edith St. John was employed by the World Wide Airways Co. as head airplane hostess. This wasn't too surprising for Edith had the name of going up in the air occasionally even as a high school senior.
 Betty Jean Lancaster had been voted queen of the National Song Club and was now one of America's leading singers on television.
 Donald Ray Waters was managing a chain of hotels and cafes combined. No doubt, I thought, his childhood interest in sleeping and eating helped him decide on his career. As a sideline he sponsors football clubs in every city where he manages a hotel.
 I read about Hayward Romines
 the smiling, cheerful owner of a great carbon black plant and I couldn't believe he wasn't griping about it until I read on and found that the plant he owned was located at Lefors and then I understood, for that was the place he had always talked about and wanted to go back to. The author of the book told of one time when he could not get enough heat for his carbon producing and he had wri-ed a former teacher, Mrs. Scribner.
 "Dear Aunt Elsie—come at once
 need heat urgently for my plant.
 Thought of you because you always could make things hot for me in High School."
 Horace Lee Trimble had taken over the Murray School of Dancing. He was noted for his gracefulness and poise and was teaching thousands the art of dancing. Once a week he spent a day in the public library reading. Remembering his love for books—I smiled
 when I read this.
 Jay Wallis was the owner of a vast ranch in South Dakota—a millionaire by cattle and wheat and a bachelor by choice. I sighed as I read this and dropped a tear upon the page. Who was it wrote
 "The saddest words of tongue or pen are these—it might have been."

BRISCOE SENIORS ARE GENEROUS IN THEIR CLASS WILL

Friends, this is a solemn occasion. The class of 1950, having passed on to its reward, has left behind this last will and testament. I, as the legal advisor of the class, drew up this document, and it is cast-iron, unbreakable, and very, very legal. You are assembled here that this will may be read. Listen attentively and be thankful for what you are about to receive.

We, the class of 1950, in the town of Briscoe, County of Wheeler, and in the State of Texas, being of brilliant mind, though a bit fuzzy about the edges, do hereby make this, our last will and testament. We hope that you to whom we leave our possessions will appreciate them and will never forget our kindness and what a wonderful class we were.

To the members of the junior class, our rightful heirs, so soon to take our place — not that they can fill it — we leave our reputation—Grade

A and spotless, and our air of importance. We leave them also the right, so long enjoyed by us, of bossing those in lower classes and regarding them with a superior air. We also leave them any debts, we may have left unpaid, such as accounts at the cafeteria, or fines for broken windows.

To the entire school we leave our fame, and hope they won't let it die. We realize that they can't live up to our achievement — we just hope that they won't skip back too far.

To the board of education we bequeath our thanks for having such a swell school for us to attend, and a hint of the future: more and better holidays.

To the teachers we leave thanks for their suggestion for making their lives easier: less difficult lessons, not so many tests, and fewer rules to obey.

Lastly, we have a few individual bequests to make.

To the most timid person in high school, we bequeath our nerve. It never failed us and was a great help in the time of trouble.

To all the pupils who have difficulty in passing tests we leave the colossal ability of Sam, who never

DOROTHY HELEN BROTHERTON, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Brotherton of Gageby, is valedictorian of the Briscoe graduating class with a four-year average of 91. Dorothy was also highest honor student of her eighth grade graduating class. She has been active in most school activities and has held important class offices throughout her four years of high school work. She plans to attend business college following graduation.

got less than 90 on a test and was the joy and pride of his teachers.

To the wallflower of the class, we bequeath the popularity and social ability of Dorothy, who never missed anything and was terribly missed by others when she wasn't there.

To the laziest person in school, Imogen, we give all the ambition we possessed and made such good use of.

We knew all the best ways of getting out of work and worked hard at them. We worked hard at everything. Our teachers may not agree, but we ought to know.

To the freshman class, we leave freedom from the strain of watching us as we paraded through the halls, although this was unnecessary as we have at all times behaved ourselves with dignity and charm. That's what WE think!

To the entire neighborhood, which will miss our gay voices and flitting feet, we extend our sympathy and a reminder that the classes that follow are not so bad when it comes to voices and feet.

Finally, we name as the executor of this, our last will and testament, our class advisor, Mr. Barnett, in whom we have every confidence.

In witness whereof, we, the class of 1950, have set our hand and seal this 18th day of May, in the year 1950; and a good job done, we call it.

MARGARET JEWELLE KITE is salutatorian of the Briscoe senior class, boasting a four-year grade average of 88. She was also second high, scholastically, of her eighth grade graduating class. Margaret is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kite of Mobeetie. Margaret plans to enroll in Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, next fall.

In The History of the World Was Education So Badly Needed

A boy or girl without an education in these days and times is like a "ship without a pilot" — "a plane without a pilot" or even like Wheeler without gas. And it does our heart good to see the large graduating classes of 1950 marching down to receive their diplomas.

As you continue your education, and we hope that all of you do just that, may you dream all the good things that life affords.
