WHEELER WINS SECOND ROUND IN BALL FINAL

The Wheeler Legionnaires took the second game of the final play-off series in the Tri-County League last Sunday defeating the Mobeetie nine by a count of 7 to 5 in eleven innings. The contest was played on the Mobeetie diamond and was a thriller from beginning to end with pitchers Tom West and Wallace Corse locking up in a scoreless duel for five full innings.

The final contest to decide the championship of the Tri-County Baseball League will be played on the Wheeler diamond Sunday afternoon beginning at 3:00 with Wheeler and Mobeetie being the opposing teams.

The Legionnaires did not solve Wallace Corse's slants until the sixth inning when they picked up one run to go ahead. Jim Hyatt was safe at first on Hendrich's error, Chester Bowles struck out, then David Britt followed with a single to move Hyatt around to third from where he was squeezed home when Bob Holdeman laid down a perfect bunt. In the seventh, the Legionnaires increased their lead to 3 big runs by scoring a couple. Bud Vanpool led off with a walk and Richard Gaines sacrificed him down to second, Tom West flew out to left field, Roe Green kept the rally alive by drawing a base on balls. Hyatt was then passed and Chester Bowles hit a screaming double down the third base line to score 2 runs, and Britt grounded out to end the inning.

Mobeetie came back to score twice in the seventh on a single by Leroy Robison, an error on Bill Williams's grounder, a grounder by Bobby Cooper which advanced the runners and a single by Timms.

The Mobeetie lads came back to score 3 more runs and go ahead 5 to 3 in the last half of the eighth on a single by Mangel, a fielder's error.

SERVICES TO BE CONDUCTED FOR MARY S. JONES

Funeral services will be held for Mary Scott Jones at the Church of Christ, Wheeler, Friday, September 8, at 3 p. m., with Minister Ernest Grizzard officiating.

Mary Jones passed away Wednesday, September 6, at 4:25 p. m., in Wheeler, at the age of 60 years and 22 days.

She was born in Bosque county, August 14, 1890. On July 12, 1907, she was united in marriage to Amos A. Jones at Turnerville, Texas. She moved to Wheeler with her husband in 1917. To this union four children were born. One daughter preceded her in death.

Survivors include two sons, Owen Jones, Wheeler; Arnold Jones, Wheeler; one daughter, Mrs. Mary Helen Tucker, Wellington; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Scott, Jonesboro; two brothers, T. L. Scott, Evangeline, and Ozro Scott, Ft. Worth; eight sisters, Mrs. Rube Watson, Jonesboro, Mrs. Sam Jones, Amarillo, Mrs. Jim Cook, Smackover, Ark., Mrs. Jack Linton, Cleburne, Mrs. Hugh Walker, Jonesboro, Mrs. Frank Lipsey, Edinburg, and Mrs. D. G. Hollingworth, Waco; and six grandchildren.

Mrs. Jones has been a member of the Church of Christ for 30 years.

Serving as pallbearers will be Charlie Bradshaw, Ira Passons, Martin Caflan, Olen Pendleton, Ben Trout, and Lonnie Lee.

The flower attendants who have been named include Mrs. Jess Crowder, Norma Lee Black, Mrs. Lee Passon, Lillian Lee, Susie Pendleton and Ruby Pendleton.

Interment will be in Wheeler Cemetery, beside the husband who passed away April 17, 1950. Arrangements are being made with Kirk-Mason Funeral Home.

The mobil X-ray unit from the State Health Department will set up at the Wheeler High School Gymnasium next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, September 11, 12 and 13, from 10 a. m. to 6:30 p. m., to make Free Chest X-rays of every person over 15 years of age in this vicinity who will avail themselves to the opportunity.

The unit will be set up at the New Mobeetie Legion Hall Friday, and Saturday, September 8, and 9, from 10 a. m. to 6:30 p. m., for everyone in that vicinity to have an X-ray made. The Lions Club is sponsoring the drive in Mobeetie.

Taking of the x-ray picture will require less than two minutes of anyone's time and does not require anyone to disrobe. A chest X-ray might locate some disorder, TB or other disease, which anyone could have corrected and perhaps add years of normal happy living to their lives.

Tuberculosis can develop in less than a year's time, W. R. Ritter, county sanitarian, declares.

"By having an annual X-ray it is easier to determine the disease in its earliest stages when it can best be treated," he continued.

Some early cases of tuberculosis can be picked up through X-ray pictures, but cannot be diagnosed through physical examinations until further development.

The majority of the county residents X-rayed last year found to have tuberculosis or some other chest disorder, have been aided during the past year, he said.

"Each year the disease progresses, making it that much harder to cure," the sanitarian added.

Residents who are X-rayed have nothing to fear. It is probable that any chest disorder found as a result of the X-rays may be much more easily cured. It is two or three times easier to cure tuberculosis when it is caught in its earlier stages, Ritter added.

An X-ray survey is primarily a screening procedure, not diagnostic. It is expected that each individual having significant abnormal chest findings on the survey film, such as suspicious or definite tuberculosis and certain non-tuberculous pathological conditions, will have a larger chest X-ray made. Some individuals will require several examinations and clinical evaluations by their own physician before a final diagnosis can definitely be determined.

NASH WINS TRIP TO FACTORIES

Harold Nash has won an all expense paid trip to the Maytag factories in Newton, Iowa, and Kokomo, Indiana, in the Dealers Division of a contest among the dealers of Maytag products.

Nash of the Nash Appliance and Supply Company, Wheeler, will leave on the Maytag Special train from Dallas on Saturday, September 9, at 6 p. m. The train will return to Dallas Thursday morning, September 14.

Most of the delegates from Texas are going western style.

Nash won the trip last year also. In 1949, he was third and this year he stated that he was not sure how he placed but he was one of the top three in this region.

The Maytag company has Texas divided into 11 regions and Wheeler is located in region one. The top dealers in each region are awarded a trip to the factories.

The contest was on the selling of all Maytag appliances such as washing machines, ironers, Dutch ovens and home freezers.

McWhorter Catches Worms On Cotton By Unusual Method

L. A. McWhorter, route 1, Wheeler, was showing on Main street the worms that he had collected from two acres of his cotton Wednesday morning.

McWhorter had about two bushel of worms, dirt and some bolls and leaves.

He collected the worms by tying a 2 x 4 across the bar behind his tractor. The 2 x 4 knocked the worms back into a pan he had connected to the tractor as McWhorter drove up and down the rows of cotton. He stated that he could not catch all of the worms because the front wheels knocked some to the ground. He said further that the home made worm catcher would probably do better if he had it on the front of the tractor.

McWhorter has sprayed the same area twice. Once the spray had no effect because he did not have moisture to keep the spray there.

He is not sure whether it will pay to continue to catch the worms because he has knocked a large number of bolls off of the stalks.

70,000 MEN DUE SERVICE CALL

The Army recently asked for a draft of 70,000 men during November.

This raised the total draft call to date to 170,000, all for the Army. In earlier calls the Army asked for 50,000 men in September and 50,000 in October.

The Defense department said that the Navy and the Air Force do not plan to ask for draftees in November. Both services have been building up their manpower with volunteers and by the recall of reserves.

The draft now is limited to single men, aged 19 through 25.

Draft boards are calling the older men first and going down the age limit.

But with a goal of 3,000,000 men under arms by June, 1951, there is every sign that the draft will soon be broadened.

Last week, Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House armed services committee said that in January his group will consider raising the draft age to 35.

Vinson also said it may be necessary to bring World War II veterans under the draft. Most of them are now exempt.

URGES IMMEDIATE CONTROLS

Bernard M. Baruch, described as a "close adviser" of Presidents in two World Wars, says that the President's program for economic mobilization does not go far enough. Mr. Baruch says that over-all price control and rationing should be instituted. His testimony made a considerable impression upon Congressmen, but, the President seems to be against such far-reaching legislation. President Truman takes the position that price, wage and rent controls and rationing and manpower allocation are now necessary. He intimates, however, that if all-out mobilization becomes necessary, these matters will be attended to.

BUYS CUBAN SUGAR SUPPLY

Sugar, which has been one of the items involved in the "scare" buying that developed with the outbreak of hostilities, will soon be removed from that category and those who have stocked up will gain little for their hoarding.

The entire reserve stock of Cuban sugar, amounting to 600,000 short tons, has been purchased by the United States. This means, according to the Department of Agriculture, that there will be available for consumption in 1950, 8,450,000 tons. This is nearly one million tons more than the peak consumption achieved in 1949.

HAS STOCKPILING FAILED?

Testifying before a congressional committee, Mr. W. Stuart Symington, chairman of the National Securities Resources Board, said that steel, aluminum and rubber are commodities in short supply and, in addition, there are "a number of other materials of strategic importance" which this country needs.

Many Americans will recall that, in the course of World War II, this country made strenuous efforts to expand its facilities for the production of steel, aluminum and rubber. There was a campaign instituted to secure appropriations for the purchase of a stock-pile of strategic commodities.

The synthetic rubber plants could, we presume, supply some extra amounts of rubber, but Mr. Symington thinks that we should acquire $200,000 or more tons of natural rubber as rapidly as possible. Apparently, despite the experience of the last war and the shortages that the nation experienced, there has not been sufficient progress made on the stockpiling program.

If one looks into the matter long enough, it will be discovered that the stockpiling for defense is a program that cost money. With the great demand in this country for reduced taxation, after the war, there was a natural tendency to put off all spending that could be postponed. The stockpiling program got caught in the economy propaganda jam and we now find ourselves short of a number of commodities described as being of strategic importance.

The upkeep of a woman is the downfall of many a man.

We can remember when the country's crime problems were solved in the highchair instead of the electric chair.

Planned Storage a 'Must' In New Home, Magazine Says

Planned storage space is a distinct "must" in the planning of a new home, says American Builder, most widely circulated building industry magazine.

The publication defines planned storage space as storage walls, built-in cabinets, wardrobes, drawer cases and closets. American Builder concedes that "most experts agree two-thirds more dead storage space can be provided in a basement than on the first floor for an equal expenditure of money."

However, the magazine adds, "These same experts are also agreed that the smaller amount of storage space on the first floor is preferred to the larger amount in the basement because of its convenience and accessibility to the occupant. This all sums up to the fact that planned storage space is here to stay."

Many built-in storage units are made of hardwood plywood, a material with characteristics that are highly desirable for the purpose. Because of the way the plywood is constructed, it is highly resistant to warping. This means that the large number of doors found in built-in units are not likely to pull out of shape and stick or refuse to close snugly.

Another excellent quality of hardwood plywood is that delicately figured wood veneers are used as facing. The natural beauty of wood makes attractive home interiors.

Although some built-in cabinets are designed expressly for certain houses, American Builder

This storage wall, with closets and drawers, is in a child's room but, says American Builder magazine, the unit also would be suitable for a recreation room, a bedroom or sewing room. Hardwood plywood faced with birch veneer in a natural finish provides a durable, easy-to-clean surface.

says standard built-in units or storage wall cabinets can be obtained in a large variety of sizes and types.

Better Sight-
BY THE CARTON

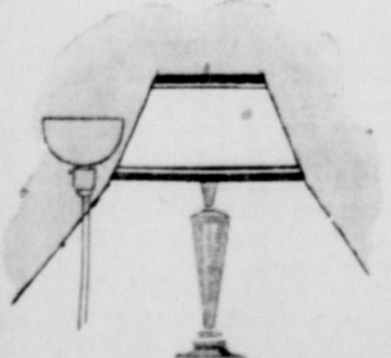

Lamps with empty sockets are about as handy as a ship without a sail! No matter how efficient . . . or how many lamps you may have around the house . . . they're so much excess baggage if your supply of lamp-bulbs is down to the bottom of the carton.

Good light is so necessary to good sight. And a carton of bulbs always on hand is insurance against "bulb snatching" . . . being without . . . or inconvenient rushing to the store.

Yes, BULBS ARE MIGHTY IMPORTANT . . . cleanliness is, too! Your lamps and fixtures should be kept clean. Dust and dirt can rob you of half the light you pay for. Reflector bowls can be washed with soap and water . . . bulbs wiped clean with a damp cloth. Shades may be dusted, washed or dry-cleaned . . . depending on the type fabric. Light-conditioning your home is economical, too . . . low cost, dependable electric service makes it so!

THERE'S A BULB FOR EVERY JOB . . .
40-60 watt—Strictly decorative . . . such as boudoir lamps, brackets, etc.
75-100 watt—Decorative and functional where the seeing task isn't too demanding.
150-300 watt—Reading, sewing . . . where good, strong light is needed for nearer "see-ability."

EXAM CALL RES DRAFTEE NOT ENLIST

amination by my draft board?" This is a question which a lot of men are asking Selective Service local boards in Texas.

The answer is "no." Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield, state director of Selective Service, said today.

General Wakefield referred to Section 15 (d) of the Selective Service Act of 1948, which prohibits acceptance of a registrant after he has received orders to report for induction.

The state director quoted from the following regulation (Local Board Memorandum No. 11) issued by Selective Service national headquarters:

"The prohibition contained in Section 15 (d) of the Act against the acceptance of a registrant for enlistment after he has received orders to report for induction has been interpreted by the National Military Establishment to mean that no person shall be accepted for enlistment after he has been notified to report for armed forces physical examination by a Selective Service local board."

This does not in any way prevent any registrant from joining an organized unit of a reserve component (which includes the National Guard) after he has received an order to report for physical examination, General Wakefield said.

"The registrant may join such a reserve unit as far as Selective Service is concerned," the state director pointed out. "If any Army, Air Force, or Navy reserve unit will not accept him, it is a matter outside our control."

"But he cannot enlist for a tour of active duty in the Army, Air Force, or other department of the National Military Establishment after he receives his order to report for physical examination," General Wakefield concluded.

'Hop-a-Long' Back to School

OFF WITH THE NEW and on with the old. As the youngsters of the nation trek back to school, many mothers who stored last year's clothes away in a cedar chest are taking them out for more usage. The above young cowboy is not so sure he wants to rid himself of his guns for his Eton suit even though it came out of his own cedar chest. The chest is finished in oak and was especially designed for use in a youngster's room.

The little red schoolhouse might be passing from the picture... but red cedar wood is still one of the three "R's" of the modern homemaker.

Especially now as the back-to-school movement swells to gigantic proportions and Mother has the chore of getting her young cowboy into those conventional clothes smiled upon by schoolmarm.

Let Him Learn
Chances are that the young scholar's clothes have been packed away in a cedar chest during the hot months to protect them from the ravages of the perennial summer guests—moths. And, as these belongings are being removed in spic and span condition, it might be well to have Junior right along side. The unpacking of the cedar chest presents the ideal object lesson on the correct care for clothes.

Guests Of Mrs. Ware Spends Enjoyable Day

Guest of Mrs. M. D. Ware, Mo-beetie, Anabel and Arch on Thursday, August 30, were Mr. and Mrs. Logan Keller, Peggy, Darwin and Wayne of Oklahoma City, and Mr. and Mrs. Ollie McPherson, Bobby and Maisy of Kellerville.

The men and children spent the afternoon shooting prairie dogs with bows and arrows while the women gossiped and looked at pictures.

Logan is the son of the late Pitt Keller. He should be remembered for his violin playing.

The way some women shop, you'd think they were taking inventory of the store.

The reason they call money "jack" is because it lifts such a load off a person.

The man who is down on everything is usually up on nothing.

PEACE OF MIND... on a piece of film!

An annual chest X-ray can give you the peace of mind that comes from knowing that you are not a victim of tuberculosis.

It pays to be sure.

If you should be among the estimated 250,000 people who are unknowing victims of this dread disease, it is probable that your chest X-ray will give you the comforting assurance that the disease has been discovered in its early stages, when the cure is comparatively easy.

The longer TB goes undiscovered, the greater the damage—the costlier the cure.

Remember—TB is contagious. Your family and those near you could become infected even though you yourself were unaware that you had TB.

Play safe—the only way to play safe. Get a chest X-ray today. Have the teen-agers and the grown-ups in your family do the same. Encourage your friends to take the few brief minutes necessary for a chest X-ray.

For TB can be wiped out. The chest X-ray is one of science's biggest weapons. For you and your family it means priceless peace of mind—for it's the way of being sure.

Home Sweet Home

By Mary House

When Jim says that I don't bake like his mother, he's not critical but proud of me. He always is astounded when I draft the refrigerator for oven duty during the late summer and early fall swelter season. I guess he has a right to be; open my refrigerator door from front and until the first nip of frost and find meat and fish dishes, cakes, and pies—"cooked" with cold hot heat.

My "preserves"—fruits, vegetables and even Jim's prize trout catch—are safe and waiting in the quick freeze compartment atop the regular storage area. There's also frozen lollipops for the kids in the ice trays.

It all happened because I'm lazy and like to stay cool, comfortable and well-fed in warm weather. With these points in mind I culled all my recipe books for a real cure for kitchen summer complaints. I discovered that with the proper refrigerator I could create any variety of chilled fish and meat salads, dozens of kinds of tasty "layer" cakes, delicious pies—even cookies. The little cooking required in preparation, I decided, wouldn't raise the kitchen temperature—or mine—so high.

So Jim and I shopped. Our new refrigerator is big, beautiful and efficient. It offers full-length storage right in the floor line, has a 20-below-zero freezer that'll hold 84 pounds of vegetables. And best of all it has a dual-temp chilling system.

That means separate coils and controls for both the freezer and the big normal storage space. The freezer has a 20-below-zero coil which provides a good working temperature. I can turn off the coil in the big storage space but leave the freezer coil running. I can also turn off the freezer coil and leave the big storage space running. I can also turn off both coils and leave the big storage space running. I can also turn off both coils and leave the freezer coil running.

The two methods are important because they enable you to turn off the coil in the big storage space but leave the freezer coil running. I can also turn off the freezer coil and leave the big storage space running. I can also turn off both coils and leave the big storage space running. I can also turn off both coils and leave the freezer coil running.

If there are any complaints about my new refrigerator, I haven't heard them. As a matter of fact, my refrigerator has been giving me the most of my life. I can't say that I'm a refrigerator addict, but I can say that I'm a refrigerator lover.

HANK WILLIAMS of the Grand Ole Opry

Two highlights of the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo this month will be free acts which will appear twice daily on the Midway, Sept. 18 through Sept. 23.

One act features a miniature circus with monkey, dog and pony show which will delight the children. The other, an aerial show which stars former performers of the Ringling Bros. Circus, will thrill young and old alike.

In response to popular demand the Grand Ole Opry will return to the Fair this year. Hank Williams, Ernest Tubbs and Minnie Pearl and other favorites will appear at afternoon and evening performances at the Sports Arena. On the Midway Bill Hamey's Carnival will present a spectacular array of shows and rides.

According to Rex Baxter, the fair's manager, agricultural, livestock and educational shows and exhibits will be top this year.

He knows he's in good health. And he's even got a picture to prove it... a "picture of health."

He's not taking any unnecessary chances. He knows that a chest X-ray is the only sure way of detecting the destructive effects of tuberculosis... early TB frequently shows no symptoms of any kind.

He knows that TB kills about 50,000 people each year, people whose lives might have been saved but for ignorance and indifference to the protective measures offered by science.

He knows that the earlier TB is discovered, the easier, quicker, and less costly it is to cure.

He knows, too, that TB is highly contagious and that by guarding himself he is also safeguarding the lives and welfare of his entire family.

That's why he had his chest X-rayed... why don't you?

Baked Eggs in Toast Cups

Company variation of an American favorite, bacon and eggs, are these baked eggs in scalloped toast rings. Rashers of bacon, hot coffee, and extra enriched toast with preserves complete the menu.

Best way to wish your family a sunny good morning is with a good breakfast. Favorite foods include golden toast and scrambled eggs. For variation, try baked eggs in toast cups. You'll find the cups attractive and an easy way to serve a crowd or provide a special family breakfast.

They're this easy: drop an egg into each bread cup, then bake in muffin pans. The number of eggs desired are baked all at one time. Slide pans out of the oven and lift cups onto a warm platter for service. While the eggs bake, fry the bacon and make the coffee. Bread rounds may be cut and buttered the night before and wrapped in wax paper, so that in the morning only a second is needed for breaking the eggs into the cups, adding milk, and putting them into the oven.

You'll want extra toast to serve with the egg cups and bacon. Temptingly browned toast is an easy way to see that your family gets a good portion of the B-vitamins and iron they need daily. Six one ounce slices of bread per day provide about 1/4 of the daily minimum requirement for iron, even more of the thiamine and niacin needed for pep and all-around good health.

BAKED EGGS IN TOAST CUPS

12 slices enriched bread
Butter or margarine
6 eggs
6 tablespoons milk

With a scalloped cookie cutter cut rounds of bread from bread slices. Use a smaller cutter to remove center portion from 6 of the slices. Brush each slice with melted butter or margarine. Place plain rounds of bread in bottoms of muffin cups and top with a ring of bread. Break egg in center of each ring and add 1 tablespoon milk to each. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Serve with broiled bacon. Makes 6 servings.

CHANGED
Patient—Have you been a dentist long?
Dentist—No. I used to be a steel riveter but I got too shaky to work on high buildings and bridges.
The guy who said that money talks wasn't referring to hush money.

Cotton farmers are urged to check the cotton sacks of all pickers who come from the south Texas area for cotton bolls or seed cotton. Any material found in the sacks should be burned immediately because pink bollworm inspectors have found many worms and larvae in this material. The pink bollworm population in South Texas is high at this time.

Operation Schoolday

What to do when the school bell rings—and how to find time to get it done—is no puzzler at all for modern mothers.
When Johnny goes marching schoolwards (accompanied perhaps by Mary and Junior), the household production graph hits the ceiling but Mother doesn't. The doubled chores of laundering and cooking may cause her to feel that she's tending an army rather than a family. But the 1950-model mother has the answer to the situation.
It's simply a matter of being in two places at the same time. And that, with the assistance of the enlightened manufacturers of household equipment, is no problem.

Mother Learns Lesson
The new sink combination, latest boon to the burdened homemaker, washes the dishes, does the laundry, and functions as a sink. And Mother need hardly move out of her tracks as she supervises its operation.
With this three-in-one time and work saver doing the family laundry becomes part of the day's routine rather than a dreaded task. The breakfast dishes can be first whisked out of the way in the dishwasher which washes, rinses, and dries a complete service for six in about five minutes. A quick change of tubs then converts the machine into a clothes washer, ready to take eight pounds of dry clothes. The unit not in use can be stored in a special cabinet under the sink on a swinging arm that makes for easy placement or removal of the tub. In shelves on the cabinet door, there's ample storage space for soaps, detergents, and other dish and clothes washing aids.

HOLD UP! Only the one that Kid Kindergarten is pulling on Mother. There's never a hold-up in household work with this new sink combination, a three-in-one combination of sink, clothes washer, and dishwasher.
One dial controls both dishwashing and clothes washing operations, and is located in the center of the sink top. The faucet swings to the left to fill the washer or to the right for use in the sink bowl.
The sink bowl has been made exceptionally large to permit the installation of a waste-disposal unit without encroaching in the least on cabinet storage space. The family that cannot buy all its push-button appliances at once can start with the sink and dish or clothes washer, adding the other whenever the budget permits.
This sink combination is industry's answer not only to the mother who hears school bells ringing in her ears, but to every modern homemaker.

WALTER ROGERS CELEBRATES AT MOTHER'S SIDE

Democratic Congressional Nominee, Walter Rogers, was still in a Sherman Hospital suffering from what the family described as a "possible cerebral hemorrhage."
Rogers left Pampa at 6 p. m. election night, after being notified that his mother was in critical condition. He was unaware of the results of the election until after 1 a. m. Sunday, when he was able to be reached at the hospital.
Over long distance telephone lines, the nominee appeared cheerful after learning his mother was improved. After being told of the results he sounded even more cheerful.
Humbly, Rogers asked newsmen: "I sure wish you boys would tell the people tomorrow (the meant Sunday) how grateful I am for the confidence they expressed in me and assure them I will do all in my power to live up to it."

The lanky Pampa lawyer, who punched his way from fourth place in the special May 6 Congressional election to victory in the Democratic nomination in last Saturday's run-off, told newsmen and his supporters he would not be able to return to Pampa until late Tuesday.
He added: "I won't be able to see anyone personally before then, and I do want everyone to know that I deeply appreciate what they have done for me, especially those outside of my home county who worked so hard and so long, at their own expense, to help me out through all three campaigns."
On what he thought of this November chances against Republican Ben Guill, Rogers replied that he has not given the matter any consideration yet and will let it drop until he gets back from Sherman. Meanwhile, it was the voting public that started things going on a small scale for the November election. Rogers' backers and supporters were urging every Democratic voter to go to the polls in November, because, they said: "Apathy too often is overpowered by a minority that turns out in full force. We will have to work just as hard between now and November 7 as we did in the runoff." Rogers is expected to leave for an undetermined period with his wife again hits the campaign when a full term will be chosen.

HE CAN'T TELL YOU—

but an X-RAY will!

It takes science—not hocus-pocus—to tell you what's what with your lungs. It takes a chest X-ray to spot tuberculosis.

And a chest X-ray is what every man and woman—every teen-age boy and girl—should get.

Remember this: Tuberculosis strikes without warning—and it kills nearly 50,000 people each year. Early TB frequently shows no symptoms of any kind that might tip off the victim. But it can't hide from the X-ray.

The best time to fight TB is in its early stages. Then the cure is comparatively easy. But if let go until the germs get firm hold, the cure is long and costly—and could be impossible.

For your own sake and that of your family—don't take chances. Have your chest X-rayed now.

If it is O.K., you'll have the comfortable feeling of being sure. And if it isn't, the chances are you have been warned in time.

Problem Kitchen Gets Face Lifted

Here was a problem kitchen: lots of room but no place to work! Inadequate work surface, worn out and unattractive base cupboards, and an old fashioned sink hampered this homemaker's work. There was no wall storage space and the pantry was an ugly catch-all, neither part of the kitchen nor out of it.

Look! The same room, but now a beautiful, back-saving kitchen. Not magic, but a plan provided by the Youngstown Kitchen Planning Service did the trick. One window was removed to make way for steel wall cabinets, and the other provides light over the new double-bowl, double drainboard steel cabinet sink. A simple archway makes the pantry part of the kitchen. It is furnished with more base and wall cabinets, along with the range and refrigerator. Now there's convenience in a concentrated area and plenty of room for eating, too.

800 ATTENDS BARBECUE HERE

Some seven or eight hundred men, women, and children attended the Farmers Barbecue which was held at the Wheeler Park, Friday night, September 1. The Farm Bureau sponsored barbecue had as its main attraction 1,000 pounds of barbecued high grade beef with all the trimmings, cooked by the expert of experts when it comes to barbecuing, John Barr of Wheeler, and he was helped by Dick Wright of Mobeetie.

Ben Guill, the congressman for this district, Kenneth Kendrick, a farmer of Stradford, Texas; Geo. Taylor, the district's Soil Conservationist; and Mr. Deit, a farmer from Happy, Texas, furnished the short, to the point speeches for this get-together. Mr. Bumpers of Shamrock caused all the hogs for miles around to break loose with his Arkansas hog calling demonstration. Some very good barbecue eating music was furnished by Mrs. Jack Studebaker of Pampa, on the accordion.

From all reports, every body went away with plenty of barbecue under their belts and in some cases, a sign of too much barbecue could be detected.

The Farm Bureau directors of Wheeler County would like to thank everyone that helped in making this fine get-together possible and they hope for a bigger gathering next year.

Wheeler P-TA Will Hold First Meeting

Parents of school children and all school patrons are reminded of the meeting of the Wheeler P-TA which will meet Thursday night, September 14, at the grade school auditorium.

No special program has been planned for this meeting, according to Mrs. Jess Moore, president of the P-TA. She did state, however, that there would be some important business to attend to and all teachers will be introduced.

It is hoped that everyone who is interested in the welfare of the school will make plans now to attend all P-TA meetings.

choice to Hendrich which cut Mangel off at second but left Hendrich safe on first, a three-base knock by Yager, a single by Lloyd, a walk to Robison, an error on William's grounder and a single by Cooper.

The Legionnaires fought back to tie the score in their half of the ninth when the first two men up, Red Richerson, hitting for Gaines, and West were both given free passes to first. Green moved them around with a sacrifice. Hyatt walked to fill the bases, all hands were safe and a run scored when Mangel erred on Chester Bowles grounder. Britt was safe on a fielder's choice which erased Bowles at second, but scored the tying run, and Holdeman filed out to end the inning.

Both teams went scoreless throughout the tenth inning, but the Legionnaires came back to score 2 runs in the top half of the eleventh when Green, first up, walked, Hyatt sacrificed him to second, Bowles got a two-baser to score Green and went to third on an error by Timms. Britt flew out to deep centerfield, then Holdeman got a long triple and Stephens flew out to end the inning.

NEWS FROM— County Agent's Office

By Ralph Wheat and Robert Ledbetter

COTTON INSECTS

The cotton leaf worms have caused serious damage and in some cases complete destruction in the cotton fields of Wheeler County. Seventy-five leaf worms have been counted on one stalk. These chewing, green and black worms begin their eating on the coarse rank growing cotton first and as they strip the much needed leaves the worms will spread to the smaller cotton. When the leaves are gone, the worms then start eating the stalk and fully develop bolls. The cool wet weather that has prevailed over the county the last month also has been ideal for the reproduction and multiplication of leaf worms as well as the many other types of cotton insects, and has made it impossible to keep the insecticides on the cotton long enough to do much good. The scarcity of the insecticides has also been a problem to the fight against the worms. Some hot sun shiny days would do more in helping control these worms than anything else at this time.

The leaf worm is a tropical insect. The moth of miller migrates to the cotton belt each season. It usually appears first in South Texas in April, May or June, and does not get up in this part of the county until the cotton is at a stage that they do not do much damage, but due to the mild winter that we had this year the insects lived through the winter much further north than they usually do. This enables them to reach here at a critical time. Eggs are laid on the underside of the leaves. Worms hatching from these eggs become full grown in two or three weeks. The worms change into brown pupae in folds of the leaves. In about a week, the moths emerge and a new life cycle begins. The insect has 3 to 6 generations in one season. Wet weather is favorable to leafworm outbreaks.

COOL SEASON GRASSES

Now would be a good time to plant some of the cool season grasses, as they will afford a highly delicious and palatable forage when summer grasses are dormant. Cool season grasses will run from 12-13% protein while bluestem will run around 3% analysis after it has cured. Kentucky 31 fescue and Western wheatgrass are promising perennials for this country. Italian rye, an annual, will produce a large amount of high protein forage. Some of these grasses should have a place on a great many farms in the county.

ROSE DISEASES

Blackspot, the principal disease of roses, is a fungus disease that affects the leaves and causes the plant to be in a weakened condition. Now that the dormant season is now approaching, a few control measures may be used to keep this disease in check. It is carried over from year to year by spores. These spores are dropped off from infected leaves. All dead leaves should be removed from the premises. A thorough dusting of 90% sulphur and 10% copper immediately after every rain will keep spore formation down.
