COUNTY 4-H BOYS RECEIVE SEARS GIFTS

Eight Wheeler County 4-H Club Boys received Sears gifts at the Courthouse in Wheeler Saturday, Assistant County Agent Robert Ledbetter reported. Boys in this year program are Dale Dyson and Dean Tipps of Briscoe, Leon Pepper and Johnny Fenley of Lela, Carrol and Jerry Lackey of Kelton, Troy Richardson of Twitty, and Eddie Brown of Kellerville. Tony Weatherly of Wheeler received the boar.

Boys that received Sears gifts grow them out and show them in the County Show; the winners then go to the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo.

Service is given free by the boy that gets the boar. At the end of the year one of the gifts of the first litter is returned to the circle. Upon completion of the circle, the boy keeps his gift and the remainder of the litter for his own program.

The Sears and Roebuck Program has been active in the county a number of years now. It has been claimed that no other thing has done as much for improving the swine in the county as this Sears Program. A survey of counties having this program show that about one fourth of the boys in these counties are a result of Sears Foundation stock. All gifts given out in this program are of fine pedigreed Duroc lines and have a fine record in shows where ever they compete. Boys entering this program have a right to be proud of their stock.

LOCAL SCHOOLS RECEIVE FULL ACCREDITATION

Supt. W. O. Carrick has recently received a letter from Lee Wilborn, assistant commissioner for instruction of the Texas Education Agency stating that the Wheeler Schools have been fully accredited for another year.

The letter, in part, follows: "We are glad to tell you that the State Committee on Classification and Accreditation of Schools has recommended that your school be continued as fully accredited for the year 1951-52. We wish to congratulate you and your community on your cooperation with us." We especially wish to commend you for the services that you have rendered the children and youth of your community.

"May we express our hopes for a pleasant summer and say that we are looking forward to next year and the continuation of your fine work in the schools of your district."

George Gandy, coordinator of the Veteran's Vocational Schools of this area will be the speaker at the Zone 6 Meeting of the American Legion and Auxiliary which is to be held at the local American Legion Building Tuesday evening, June 5. Gandy's work with the different schools teaching courses which include business, agriculture, welding, body and fender work and mechanics make him very alert to the needs of the veterans and the benefits that are being gained through the school program.

Mr. Gandy took over the veteran's vocational training program for Wheeler County while it was still in its infancy, June 1, 1947 and has guided its progress to where it now includes hundreds of veterans in the classes of schools located at Wheeler, Moebettie, Allison, Kelton and Shamrock. In addition to this, Gandy has recently organized classes at Canadian and is acting as coordinator for Hemphill County. He is currently Vice-Chairman of the Texas Coordinators of Vocational Education of Texas and has been a member of the board of directors of this organization for the past three years.

Patrick Boddy, director of the Wheeler Mustang Band, has arranged a short musical program which will be presented at the zone meeting. The numbers will be given by student musicians of this area.

The program for the evening will begin at 8:00 o'clock with a pit-barbecue dinner to be served. The barbecue is to be prepared by Wheeler's own barbecue king, John Barr. The dinner with the training brought by the Legion Auxiliary will be served buffet style and eaten at tables set up on the floor of the main auditorium.

Seated at the speaker's table on the stage will be Commander H. W. Coffman of the West-Passons Post No. 138, Zone Commander Jack Montgomery of Shamrock who will preside over the business session, local Post Adjutant Jim Risner, who will take the minutes of the meeting, Rhea Smith, district commander of Amarillo, Mrs. Katherine Pitt, district auxiliary president, and George Gandy, speaker for the evening.

MCILHANY'S BILL TO GOVERNOR

A bill pertaining to speeding, reckless or drunken driving by delinquents has passed the State House of Representatives and Senate and was sent to the governor for his signature.

The bill was introduced by Rep. Grainger McIlhany of Wheeler, and sponsored by the senate by Senator Grady Hazelwood of Amarillo.

Under the terms of the act, a minor between the ages of 14 and 17 years can be fined up to $50.00 when found guilty of speeding, reckless driving or drunken driving.

Under the present law, such a minor can be treated only as a juvenile delinquent, and must either be not punished at all or sent to a reformatory. Since a reformatory sentence would be too severe for most offenses of this character, there is at present no practical control over drivers of this age group, Rep. McIlhany points out.

"I introduced this bill in the belief that an act which provides moderate penalties will be enforced and will go a long way toward the solution of the juvenile driving problem, the Wheeler County man said.

MOST FARM HOMES HAVE ELECTRICITY

One of the greatest social and economic advances made in this country during the past fifteen years has been the rapid electrification of rural America. It is now estimated that more than ninety-five percent of the country is covered by rural lines which carry electricity to 4,900,000 of the 5,200,000 occupied farms of the nation.

This is a tremendous stride from 1923 when the first experimental electric line project was built at Red Wing, Minnesota, by the Northern States Power Company, in cooperation with the Farm Bureau Federation and the University of Minnesota. The line covered only six miles, connecting only eighteen farms.

Progress was rather slow for many years but the widespread introduction of alternating current, making possible long-distance transmission, and the development of the steam turbine, reducing the cost of manufacturing electricity, were important factors in the trend toward farm electrification.

The real advance, however, began in 1935 when an executive order issued by President Franklin D. Roosevelt set up the Rural Electrification Administration to finance, through a program of government loans, the extension of electric service to the rural areas. At that time less than 750,000 American farms were receiving central station service.

The following year the agency was made permanent and since that time has advanced more than a billion dollars to borrowers to energize nearly a million miles of power lines. About half of the farm families now getting electric service are supplied by REA-finance facilities.

The REA points out that there are a number of unserved farms and thousands of un electrified rural non-farm dwellings, crossroads businesses, schools, churches and other rural establishments. Most of them are in "thinner" areas where sparse population, topography or economic conditions constitute obstacles to immediate and profitable service.

We do not have the figures for the fiscal year that ended last June but, as of June 30, 1949, the borrowers from the REA has paid back $208,000,000, with $19,000,000 being paid ahead of time and there was outstanding only $976,000 in overdue payments.

The extension of electric service to rural areas has had important effects upon farm life and activity. Not only do rural families enjoy the advantages and conveniences of electric appliances but farm work has been facilitated by the use of power which conserves manpower and makes possible greater and more economical productivity.

It should be apparent that the introduction of electricity to more than 400,000 farm homes, not counting the other activities served in the rural areas means a tremendous market for the manufacturers of electrical devices and appliances. This, in turn, means business for wholesalers and retailers, as well as those who serve the electrical needs of farm customers.

Radiological Health Hazards To Be Subject Of State Short Course

Radiological health hazards involved in civil defense will come under five days of intensive study at a short course to be conducted at the State Department of Health in Austin beginning June 11. State Health Officer George W. Cox has announced.
 Radiological hazards result from atomic bombing, being one of the bomb's most dangerous aspects. Designed primarily to indoctrinate supervisory personnel in the essentials of radiation defense so they can conduct training programs in their own communities.

Dr. Cox said the course would be held each month during the summer for a different class of participants.

The health officer said the study is open to:

Representatives of counties or cities where radiological defense is not vested in local health departments; supervisory or professional personnel of local health departments; representatives of state departments engaged in civil defense work; fire and police training officers or instructors; and members of industrial medical or safety departments contemplating in-plant programs.

Dr. Cox, chief of Texas health and emergency medical services, summarized the course as covering:

Where radiological defense fits into overall civil defense activities; definition of radiation language and units; radiation physics; theory and application of instruments; atomic bomb phenomena; area and personnel monitoring (checking for radioactivity); uses of radiation and radioisotopes; radiation protection and decontamination; psychology of disaster; and organization of local communities for radiological defense.

Lectures will be supplemented by laboratory exercises and demonstrations, Dr. Cox said, and time will be spent on review of physics, chemistry, and the mathematics required for calculations.

"We're going to put on a really worthwhile course," he indicated. "The army is going to help us."

He said additional courses would be held as "necessity demanded."

No tuition will be charged. Applications should be submitted to Dr. Cox at the State Department of Health in Austin, and include education and background of applicants. Trainees are expected to arrange their own travel and living conditions while attending the course.

In 1950 Texas farmers and ranchmen purchased 228,285 tons of superphosphate. It was used primarily under legumes and on pastures.

State 4-H Contests To Be Held At College Station June 25-27

Texas 4-H Club boys and girls will participate in three new state elimination programs at College Station this year—in addition to 13 other judging and team demonstration contests conducted in the past.

These contests will be held at Texas A. & M. College on Monday, June 25, in connection with the State 4-H Round-Up, which is scheduled for June 26 and 27.

New contests include a soil and water conservation demonstration, a vegetable team demonstration contest and a shrub identification contest.

A. H. Karcher, Jr., assistant state 4-H leader, estimates that approximately 600 boys and girls will compete in the contests. Two teams from each of the 14 Texas Extension Service districts are eligible to compete in each of the programs.

Many of the 4-H teams, with their local leaders, will arrive on the A. & M. campus Sunday, June 24. A religious program, with 4-H members in charge, is planned for Sunday evening.

This program, called "Even-song" is something of a vesper service. It originated at the 1950 Round-Up. This year's program will consist of a "Let's Get Acquainted" session, a torch bearing ceremony and an address, "Is World Understanding Necessary?" by Dr. Harry V. Rankin, minister of Bryan.

There Are Many Ways To Put Up Strawberries

Freeze some of those luscious red strawberries. You can freeze some of them whole, other sliced, some crushed, pureed, or made into sparkling juice.
 Maeona Cox, foods and nutrition specialist for the Texas Extension Service, recommends packing them in sugar for best results. Start with the firm, red-ripe strawberries, sort and wash a few at a time, so you can work with them gently. Drain in a colander and then hull for this saves the juice.

Then, Miss Cox says slice the berries, sprinkle with sugar, using 3/4 cup to 4 cups of sliced berries. To draw the juice, turn the fruit over and over using a big spoon.

Pack the berries in moisture-vapor-proof containers, allowing room to expand in freezing, a half inch headspace between the food and lid in pint containers, and 1 inch in quart containers. Cover with juice.

Label to show the date and that the berries are sugared, then freeze at zero degrees Fahrenheit or lower.

The bulletin, "Frozen Foods," is available in county Extension agents' offices.

Chicken in Hand

A welcome warm weather meal is skillet chicken dinner, an easy way to keep cool and still satisfy hearty appetites. Top flavors of summer fresh vegetables, fluffy rice, and fried chicken come to the fore when Ac'cent (pure monosodium glutamate) is used. An economy note for summer meals is chicken—no matter how it's cooked.

SKILLET CHICKEN DINNER

1/2 Fryer chicken (2 1/2 to 3 lbs.)
Ac'cent (pure monosodium glutamate)
salt, pepper, flour
1/2 cup fat (preferably half butter)
2 to 3 carrots
1 medium onion, chopped
1/2 cup chopped celery

1/2 cup rice
1/2 cups chicken stock or water
1/2 teaspoon Ac'cent (pure monosodium glutamate)
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 cup fresh or frozen peas

Cut chicken in quarters. Wash. Sprinkle pieces with Ac'cent, salt and pepper. Dip in flour. Heat fat in large heavy skillet and fry chicken over moderate heat until golden brown on all sides. Remove chicken from skillet. Add carrots, celery and onion to skillet; saute 4 to 5 minutes. Push vegetables to side of skillet. Add rice. Brown lightly in fat, stirring frequently. Add chicken stock, Ac'cent, salt and pepper. Bring to boil. Lay chicken pieces on top. Cover tightly and simmer gently 15 minutes. Add frozen peas and continue cooking until rice and peas are tender and liquid is absorbed, about 10 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Why Teen-Agers Don't Leave Home!

Summer vacation days are action days for youngsters. They need more energy than ever, but late to stop for lunch, there's no better way to recharge young bodies than with fruit—especially bananas. The United Fruit Company reminds us that they're plentiful, reasonable and quickly digested. Good Housekeeping magazine recommends this simple recipe for delicious Banana Milk Shakes. Slice four bananas into large bowl and heat with rotary beater. Stir in 1 qt. milk, and 2 teasp. vanilla. Mix with several scoops of chocolate ice cream. Garnish each glass with an unpeeled slice, and some fresh mint. Kids knock it away!

Judging from the amount of liquor seen in the dry states there must be a lot of snakes thereabouts.

Creep Feeding Adds Weight To Beef Cattle

By creep feeding their beef calves, livestock men can add as much as 100 pounds of weight per head by weaning time, according to U. D. Thompson, assistant extension animal husbandman of Texas A. & M. College.

A "Creep"—an enclosure with openings large enough for calves to enter but too small for older cattle—is inexpensive and easy to build. This arrangement gives calves access to additional feed.

Specifications for building a practical creep feeder and suggestions for locating it are given in a new Extension Service circular. Circular 289 also gives suggested rations for feeding suckling calves and directions for starting the calves on feed.

Thompson points out that an important advantage of creep feeding is the better condition of the calves at weaning time. They are not suckled down so much when the calves receive additional feed.

In addition to being heavier and having more finish, creep-fed calves grow out more uniformly in size and condition. There is little shrinkage at weaning time.

Creep-fed calves usually sell for a higher price per pound than calves that are not creep-fed.

Thompson recommends that livestock men consult their county agent about creep feeding calves this spring and to also pick up a copy of Extension Circular 289, "Creep Feeding Beef Calves."

Their campaign will be a feature during May, "Defense Bond Month." During the week May 14-19 the carriers will distribute and collect 25 million Defense Bond Pledge Cards. Check To See if Your Present Fire Insurance Is Adequate Coverage

It's too late to check or increase the amount of fire insurance on farm buildings after a disaster has struck. And according to C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist of Texas A. & M. College, it is quite common to find "under-insured" farm properties in Texas.

Building costs have risen steadily during the past few years, and unless insurance policies are changed in keeping with these costs, the actual protection becomes lower and lower. To offset these increases, Bates suggests that farmers check their policies now to make sure that the insurance coverage on all farm buildings is adequate.

He illustrates with what happened a few weeks ago to a farmer in North Texas. This farmer lost by a fire a dairy barn, machinery shed and grain bins. These buildings had a total undepreciated value of $3,380. This complete settlement from his insurance amounted to $1,040—a difference of $2,340 between the cash settlement and the inventory value which were only a fraction of the total replacement costs under present conditions.

This farmer through careful planning can replace each $1,000 of 1939 building values by spending now about $2,380. Chances are that he may feel so "cramped" for funds that the replacements will be inferior to the buildings lost. He must have the replacements to stay in business—and he needs them now.

Such an experience can be disastrous to a family just getting

The child shook her head. "Oh, no, mummy!" she said. "I'm not good enough yet."

BEHIND BEFORE

Henry and Oscar, two old fellows, were partners in a barber shop. Each morning it was Henry who opened the shop for business, and, as usual, about 10 minutes later Oscar would arrive.

One morning Henry went to the shop and, to his surprise, found Oscar there. This went on for several days, each time Henry went to the shop, there was Oscar.

So, Henry thinking this rather strange, remarked to him: "Why are you so early to late?" You used to be behind before, now you are first at last."

Forty-five farmer cooperatives were organized in 1950, not including health centers, cooperative hospitals and R. E. A. associations.

Then there's the young bride who asked if she should buy the gravy from the grocer or the butcher.

SATURDAY SUPPER PARTY IS FUN

Perfect way of entertaining without fuss and formality is at Saturday night supper. A simple menu of spaghetti with chicken livers and mushrooms, green salad, crusty bread and cold, sparkling beer served in tall pilsener glasses is a combination which guests will relish heartily.

Advance preparation of everything except last minute details will mean time free to spend with guests when they arrive. Ten minutes before serving cook the spaghetti, chicken livers and mushrooms. Heap generous portions on big plates and serve immediately. Here is the recipe for this delicious, but inexpensive, main dish.

Spaghetti With Chicken Livers and Mushrooms
 1 package spaghetti
 1/2 lb. chicken livers
 6 oz. can broiled mushrooms
 1/2 lb. mushrooms bacon fat or butter
 tomato sauce

Cook spaghetti in salted boiling water according to directions on package; drain and keep warm over very low heat. Meanwhile, cut chicken livers in pieces and slice mushrooms in half. Alternate liver and mushrooms on metal skewers brushing generously with fat or butter. Brown under medium heat about 10 minutes, turning once. Heap spaghetti on platter with browned liver and mushrooms topped with tomato sauce. Serves 4 to 6.
 (Note: Chicken livers and mushrooms may be pan-fried in bacon fat or butter if desired. Fry slowly about 10 minutes or until livers and mushrooms are cooked and brown.)

plain. But when the Federal Government interferes in his business with unwarranted, unreasonable and unsound regulations, you will hear him complain, and rightfully so. The program of the cattlemen anticipated an increase of the cattle population by 1955 to 95 million from the present population of approximately 84 million. The result of DiSalle's order will ultimately reduce the cattle population by several million and these animals will be a poorer grade of beef than would have been the 95 million. I have gathered a lot of factual information on the subject which I expect to get to the House in a speech this week and which I hope will open the eyes of many of the Representatives who are not familiar with the cattle business nor its problems. Most of them think they are protecting their consumers by these price controls, but I intend to show them that they are following a false hope.

THIS SHRINKING WORLD: We sometimes wonder just how small the world has grown, and this was brought to mind very forcibly last week when I received a letter from a war correspondent in Korea with which he enclosed a clipping regarding a statement that I had made in a news letter to you folks about the rumor circulating in Washington that John Foster Dulles would replace Dean Acheson. The following is a copy of the letter and clipping:
 Seoul, Korea
 May 12, 1951

"Dear Mr. Rogers:
 "If we needed proof that the world is shrinking, I think we have it here.
 "You write a letter to your constituents in Texas. Someone hears about it in Belgian Congo and puts it on the air. It's picked up in Tokyo, reprinted in Mainichi on May 8, and finally it's read by Americans fighting in Korea, some of whom undoubtedly would have read it in Texas if it weren't for the war.
 "I thought you might be inter-

 (Clipping):

"Radiopress
 BRAZZAVILLE (Radio), May 6—A United States Congressman told his constituency today that it was hinted in Washington that Secretary of State Dean Acheson was to be replaced in the near future by John Foster Dulles, the Republican Presidential advisor.

"Representative Walter Rogers, Democrat of Texas, made this statement in a weekly news letter to his home state. Reports that Secretary Acheson would be replaced have circulated for months but have been denied repeatedly by President Truman."

I certainly wish that the clipping referred to could have been read in Texas by the American fighting boys rather than in Korea, and I am sure that the war correspondent agrees with me.

Taxes on Texas farm and ranch real estate in 1950 varied from an average of five cents per acre for the Trans-Pecos area to $3.41 per acre in the lower Rio Grande Valley.

 From where I sit, there's no sense in looking down on something just because it's different from what we like. For instance, some people think ice-cold lemonade is the best "cooler-off" on a hot day. Some of us would rather have a glass of beer. The important thing is not to "hedge ourselves in" against other people's ideas and preferences.

1948 HISTORY... FROM YOUR LEGISLATOR
 Walter Rogers

Last week was the first week that I have missed sending out a news letter, the reason being that I was in the district visiting among the people to get firsthand information as to what you want done. The visit was short and I did not get to see as many as I would like, but I thoroughly enjoyed it and look forward to another visit in the near future.

PRICE ROLLBACK ON LIVE CATTLE: The Office of Price Stabilization is running into a great deal of difficulty on most all fronts and especially in the directives issued rolling back the price of live cattle. Although the Administration has stood pat on this matter, so far, it is no secret that they are experiencing grave concern. It is my opinion that the OPS either failed to gather correct information on the subject or failed and refused to honor the correct information that was gathered. Mr. DiSalle has made several references to beef producers engaging in a strike. This reference is not only unwarranted, but it is definitely unfair. The beef producers of this country have never engaged in a strike and do not intend to. If they fail to produce beef, it will be because they have been put out of business by unreasonable and unwarranted Federal regulations, and I certainly intend to do all I can to prevent it. The OPS is attempting to lead the people to believe that this rollback order is going to help the consumer and that the people are interested in doing away with it for a selfish reason. If such a statement was true, I would certainly not be condemning the actions of the Administrator. In the first place, the cattle people have done an outstanding job in the production of beef without Federal control and without Federal subsidy, and I take exception to any and all remarks reflecting upon the cattle people. In the second instance, the consumer is not only going to pay higher prices for beef in the long run, but is going to be faced with a shortage of beef that would not have come if the cattle business had been left alone. The housewives of this country decided in 1948 that beef was too high and broke the cattle market by merely refusing to eat beef. That same procedure of supply and demand could be employed again without any Federal interference and you wouldn't hear one cattleman com-

We said something about the city streets needing keeping up last week and the paper had no sooner hit the post office than Shorty Erwin, commissioner in precinct 1, who maintains all the streets west of Highway 83 here in town was in to see us and we don't blame him either. He tells us that he has dragged these streets seven times since he took office the first of the year. However, we still maintain that, at least some of the streets, need to have the ditches cleaned out and a good first-class working over, but Mr. Erwin tells us that a lot of people don't want the ditches cleaned out around their places and he don't want to make them unhappy so he figures that it is better just to try to smooth them off as best he can and let the ditches go.

Fourteen members of the class of '51 of Wheeler High school spent a thrilling day at Colorado's famed Royal Gorge on their recent senior tour.

It was a highlight of a trip that included visits to points of interest in and around Canon City.
