Henry Tilden Carman was born at Braymer, Missouri, March 6, 1877 and passed away at Wheeler, December 21, 1950 at the age of 73 years, 9 months and 15 days. He had been a resident of the Kelton Community for the past 47 years.

LT. LEONARD IS CREW MEMBER

A Mobeetie boy is now a member of one of the U.S. Air Force elite bombing teams recently graduated at Randolph Air Force Base, Texas, where other such groups are rapidly being trained to safeguard the nation's security. He is First Lieut. William A. Leonard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Leonard, Mobeetie.

Lt. Leonard, Navigator, is a member of one of several B-29 crews that recently completed a period of highly specialized training at the Texas base. These crews constituted but one wave of the big medium bomber teams that are rolling off the defense assembly lines with growing acceleration. They are now prepared to take their place in strategic units for mass bombardment training, the final step in preparation for combat.

With the exception of ground school instruction, training at Randolph highly simulates actual combat operations, with each man performing the tasks required of him on a live mission. And as in combat, briefing and interrogation sessions are conducted before and after each mission. These practice missions, some of which are over 10 hours duration, see the big war birds winging circuitous routes across the nation day and night. Dummy targets are attacked both visually and by radar bombing; navigators, radio operators and engineers work their individual problems, and gunners fire camera guns at fighter interceptors.

At Randolph the 11 men composing a B-29 crew work together as a single group throughout their training, and thus are welded into a compact unit. This unit is maintained in all subsequent operations.

Navigator Leonard's training at Randolph was designed to fit him into a B-29 crew as the man who plots the course to and from targets. He had special experience in celestial navigation, dead reckoning, polar navigation, instrument use, pressure pattern, plotting, cruise control, radio operation, and radar aids.

TEXAS BAR IS SPONSORING ROD MONTH

"We know our rights backward and forward, but most of us do not realize the extent of the danger they are in now as they are bombarded by two enemies—the communist and the indifferent American citizen," stated Secretary of State John Ben Shepperd, chairman of the State Bar American Citizenship Committee in discussing a January campaign to encourage each citizen of Texas to think about what he can do for democracy rather than what democracy can do for him. The American Citizenship Committee of the Bar is sponsoring the campaign.

The project is being designated "Responsibilities, Obligations and Duties Month", or in short, "ROD Month", and the slogan for the month is "Spare the 'ROD' and Spoil the Country".

In order to remind Texans of their responsibilities to the rights granted them in the Constitution and Bill of Rights, a "Bill of Responsibilities" has been prepared by the committee. The "Bill" which is designated as a guide to good, responsible citizenship will be distributed over the state during January. It catalogues duties of allegiance, awareness, defense of rights, patriotic activity, education, propagation of democracy, free enterprise and self-reliance.

Shepperd, originator of the "ROD" idea remarked, "To perpetuate our individual freedoms and to have liberty without hindrance, we must use our rights and be responsible to them. While we increase our efforts to become prepared against communistic aggressors, we should also have an increased vigilance over our personal freedoms. An unused or abused right cannot live."

T. Keilis Dibrrell of San Antonio, chairman of the "ROD" sub-committee, explained that this is the first such project to be sponsored by the Bar, and that it was adopted after Shepperd suggested it at a July State Bar convention in San Antonio. "We are inviting many civic clubs and schools of the state to join Texas lawyers in their battle to replace the qualities of dependence, irresponsibility and selfishness, which are prevalent among many of us, with the pioneer spirit of self-reliance, initiative and industry," explained Dibrrell. "A great number of lawyers will meet with various organizations during January to discuss the responsibilities, obligations and duties of the citizen," he stated.

A basis for the talks will be the "Bill of Responsibilities." As a part of the "ROD" programs, "Citizenship Questionnaires" also prepared by the American Citizenship committee, will be distributed. The Questionnaire grades citizenship on five levels, superior, good, average, fair and poor.

Those serving on the committee with Dibrrell are Vice Chairman J. Chrys Dougherty, III, Austin; Robert Storey, Jr., Dallas; Dalton Cross, San Antonio; Levert J. Able, Houston; Homer E. Dean, Jr., Alice; C. W. Kennedy, Jr., Crockett; George Grant, Roane, Rosenberg; Byron Shelton, Temple; and James C. Watson, Houston.

Please Report Local Items In Time For Next Week's Times

Your name in the Wheeler Times is important to us.

Annie Mae Howell, society and local news editor for the Times, would appreciate it very much if everyone who had company or visited somewhere over the holidays would report same to her early next week in order that we might get it in next week's paper.

The Times would certainly appreciate each and everyone reporting local news at any time, not just on special occasions. The phone number is 33 or you can jot the names down on a piece of paper and drop them in the post office or bring them by the office.

Thieves Pay Visits To Three Places In This Vicinity

According to reports, thieves have visited the Thurston Young farm twice within recent weeks and carried away hogs, cottonseed cake and chickens.

The first time the thieves visited the Young place which is located 5 miles east and 1 mile south of Wheeler they relieved Mr. Young of 4 hogs and approximately 20 sacks of cottonseed cake. A few nights later the same thieves or some others returned to the place to get all the chickens.

The Youngs do not live on the place, which consequently made it quite easy for thieves to work without much danger of being caught in the act.

During the same week Young's hogs and cake were stolen, thieves visited the Otis Vernon place near Mobeetie and took 12 hives of bees along with all the contents of the hives.

Along about the same time, Dr. Glenn R. Walker reported that someone drained all the Prestone out of his Buick which was parked in front of his dwelling in the south west part of Wheeler. Dr. Walker did not discover the loss, it was reported, until after he had started out to Stiles ranch and got a little way out of town and his automobile began to get overheated.

No trace of any of the stolen goods had been reported at press time today.

Ever hear of anyone going out of business because they had too much business?

We have just had that experience right here in Wheeler—Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Morris who have been operating the Malt Shop next door to the Rogue Theatre closed up this week due to the fact that they just had so much business that they couldn't stand up to it and do the work. They had not been operating the little place for very long but it seemed that people liked Mrs. Morris' fine home cooked pies and other cooking so well that it just kept her busy from early until late and she couldn't stand up to the grind.

We have a communication from Edward W. Johnson of Billings, Montana enclosing a check for renewal of their subscription to The Times and stating that they are enjoying ideal winter weather having had about 18 inches of snow so far and some real cold weather ranging from 20 to 27 degrees below zero, but they state that it has warmed up the past couple of weeks and the temperature has been in the forties.

Wheeler's genial band director, Patrick Boddy, supplied us with a nice box of cigars for the holiday season. Thanks very much Mr. Boddy.

We like to ad our very best wishes for a Happy and Prosperous New Year for all of our friends everywhere.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Black of Tolleson, Ariz. are here visiting their son, Buster, and family and other relatives in Shamrock and Pampa this week.

FARM WORKERS NOT DEFERRED

Emphasizing that the draft law does no blanket deferment for farm workers, Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield, state Selective Service director, declared today that local boards are required both by law and regulation to consider each agricultural worker's case individually, just as other men's cases are considered.

General Wakefield said that regulations issued by the President provide for a deferred classification for farm workers only when the following conditions are met to the satisfaction of the local board:

1. The man must be "employed in the production for market of a substantial quality of those agricultural commodities which are necessary to the maintenance of the national health, safety, or interest."
2. "The production for market of a substantial quality of agricultural commodities should be measured in terms of the average annual production per farm worker which is marketed from a local average farm of the type under consideration. The production of agricultural commodities for consumption by the worker and his family, or traded for subsistence purposes, should not be considered as production for market. Production which is in excess of that required for the subsistence of the farm families on the farm under consideration should be considered."

I imagine upon returning from our Xmas vacation the band will be terrific the first day as I know everyone is to practice three hours daily. We are certainly proud of our Xmas program as we really had some nice comments. Next is our second annual concert on April 24th and in the planning stage we are hoping to take the band to Kellon, Mobeetie, Sweetwater, Briscoe and Allison and others in our trade territory in March and play concerts and boost Wheeler again. This we believe will promote and help our business men as they have a hand here. Band boosters have just purchased two new instruments, a baritone, played by Barbara Mitchell, and a tenor saxophone played by Mary Black, who has been replaced on symbols by Claudia Johnson. By next football season we are going to reach our goal of 50 in our marching band.

Good Grass Is The Cheapest, Best For Dairy Cattle

"Good grass is the cheapest and best food for a dairy cow. Grazing must be supplemented with hay and silage to supply all the forage that cows will eat every day of the year."

There is nothing new in the above quotation, but the publication from which it was lifted is brand new. It appears on the front of a new circular prepared by Texas A. & M. College extension specialists.
Extension Circular No. 286, "A Forage Program for the Dairy Herd", is just what the title implies—a complete outline for a forage program. It was prepared by four extension specialists—Richard E. Bursleson, associate dairy husbandman; A. W. Crain, associate pasture specialist; E. A. Miller, agronomist; and M. K. Thornton, agricultural chemist.

The publication gives in table form the recommended grasses and legumes for Texas. These pasture plants are listed under soil area, type of pasture, and growing season. On the back of the circular, the specialists have included a map showing the different soil areas of the state. The recommended fertilizer applications are also given for the different classes of pasture plants for each soil area.

Another table lists the grasses and legumes grown in Texas that are suitable for hay crops. It also gives the cutting stages for the different classes of forage plants and certain recommended hay production practices. The last column of the table gives suggestions for feeding the hay.

A third table contains information on silage. Suitable plants, cutting stages, and recommended production practices are listed along with information on storing silage.

The requirements per cow for the three forms of forage—grazing, hay, and silage—are given at the top of the respective tables. This six-page circular carries a great deal of information in a very condensed but easily understood form. Dairymen may obtain copies from their local county agents.

Electricity is a versatile source of energy. From the same set of wires and by flipping a switch, the farmer may have light, heat or power.

NO TIME FOR GOVERNMENT WASTE-AS-USUAL

Suppose the price of paper drinking cups were to skyrocket from $2.45 to $19.80. Suppose the price of a popular 50-cent magazine were to take a jump to $13.89. And suppose the price of a 32-cent article were to zoom to $14.10. You'd think that ruinous, sky-high inflation had set in, wouldn't you. Inflation of the type which made money worthless, where a wheelbarrow load of currency is required for the simplest transaction.

Yet, a congressional investigating committee finds, those are the actual costs of those articles when purchased by the Interior Department of the federal government. It is not all purchase price. The sellers of paper cups and magazines charge the government no more for their merchandise than they do other purchasers. The cost lies in the complicated and red tape-bound system of processing purchase orders issued by the department. This makes the true purchase price the first figure enumerated in each case, the total cost to the taxpayer the frighteningly high second figure.

"Badly organized and poorly supervised," the committee calls the purchasing system used by the department. The 108 employees of the purchasing division, the committee reports, produce purchase orders at the rate of only 1.4 per day per employe. That, of course, is one of the reasons for the high rate of expense for each purchase order issued.

The findings of the committee add detail to the more general report of the Hoover Commission last year that any purchase order issued by the federal government, even for a typewriter ribbon or a box of paper clips, costs the taxpayers $10. The Hoover Commission found that several million dollars a day is wasted through poor government management.

The commission blueprinted a thorough-going revision of the executive department of the government to increase efficiency and lower costs. Part of the recommendations have been adopted; part of them have not. Among other things, a General Services Administration has been set up to co-ordinate and supervise the purchase, use and disposal of government property. The success of this new agency depends upon the cooperation it gets from all other government agencies. Evidently, if the conclusions of the House investigating committee are correct, the desire for improvement in the Interior Department—and perhaps in some others—is not strong.

The government is appropriating vast sums to rearm the nation against the threat of war. Manpower pinches already are beginning to show up, and this shortage can be expected to become more acute as the mobilization progresses. Under such circumstances, there should be a loud and insistent public outcry against waste of money and manpower in government.

Pineapple Refrigerator Cake

By ALICE DENHOFF

WHAT better time than this to brush up on that boon to the harried housewife, the refrigerator dessert? Prepared in the cool of day, left in the refrigerator to set, there it is, cool and delicious, ready to wind up the evening meal.

Pineapple Refrigerator Cake offers a nice change to ice cream, or parfait or moussé, good as these goodies may be. Cream 1/2 c. butter and one c. sugar together until light and fluffy. Add one beaten egg, 2 tbs. cream and 2 c. drained, crushed pineapple. Put a layer 1/2 inch thick of crumbs taken from 2 c. graham cracker crumbs in the bottom of a buttered spring mould. Moisten layer with 4 tbs. pineapple juice. Add a layer of pineapple mixture, then repeat, adding alternate layers of crumbs with pineapple juice, and the pineapple mixture. Chill in refrigerator 6 to 8 hours or longer. It may even stay as long as 24 hours. Remove from mould. Decorate with sweetened, flavoured whipped cream and garnish with candied cherries.

Crushed berries and their juice may be substituted for the pineapple as a nice variation.

Nice Surprise
Lemon Sherbet is a pleasant surprise for dieters. To serve 4, stir 4 tbs. lemon juice and one c. sugar until latter is dissolved. Add 2 c. rich milk. Chill. Place in refrigerator tray. When the sherbet is cold enough to be mushy, remove pan and stir. Repeat the stirring at half-hour intervals. Takes 3 hours to freeze.

Orange Ice with cookies makes a pleasing and different dessert. To serve 6, cook 3/4 c. sugar, 1/2 c. light corn syrup and 1/2 c. water until mixture forms a soft ball when a little of the syrup is dropped from a spoon into a glass of cold water or until a candy thermometer registers 238 F. Remove from stove. Add 1 1/2 c. orange juice and 3 tbs. lemon juice. Chill. Place in refrigerator trays. When mixture begins to freeze, remove trays; stir. Repeat, stirring twice at half hour intervals, then finish freezing without any more stirring.

Can of Fruit
For just about the easiest dessert pour a medium-sized can of fruit into a refrigerator tray. When it has been partially frozen serve with whipped cream which has been flavoured and sweetened. Decorate with maraschino cherries.

For an easily-prepared peppermint ice cream for 6, dissolve 2 tbs. plain unflavored gelatin in 1/4 c. water. Dissolve 1/4 lb. peppermint candy in 3/4 c. milk in double boiler. Add the gelatin. Chill, whip 2 c. whipping cream. Add the whipped cream to the chilled mixture. Place in refrigerator trays. When frozen to a mush, stir, then stir twice again at half hour intervals, after which continue freezing without further stirring.

REMEMBER WHEN

... this was your warmest friend

Those were the days when you took the heater with you... to the bedroom, the bath or the parlor. That was when heating at its best left "pockets" of cold air which made many parts of the house uncomfortable. Today, adequate, vented, automatic natural gas heating will keep every room in the house at "shirt-sleeve" temperature... with just the right amount of moisture for healthy indoor living. Get complete information on the new, improved GAS heating equipment from your dealer. Be sure it's adequate. Be sure it's vented. Be sure it's automatic. Be sure it's GAS.

The economy and dependability of natural gas service help bring about many of the modern conveniences that make our standard of living the highest on earth. Many factories that supply our daily essentials are fueled by natural gas. Yes, natural gas... and the companies which produce, process and deliver it... are an integral part of our economy... a good example of American private enterprise operating for the benefit of people in all walks of life.

Unless good shelters are provided, hogs are in great danger of contracting flu when cold nights follow warm days. Hogs, like human beings, need a warm, dry place in which to sleep.

Farm Workers

ed as production for market."

The state draft director observed that "this still doesn't give the complete picture" and added that a man, to be eligible for farm deferment, must also meet the requirements in the section of the Selective Service regulations defining necessary employment.

He quoted as follows:

"A registrant's employment in industry or other occupation, service in office, or activity in study, research, or medical, scientific, or other endeavors shall be considered to be necessary to the maintenance of the national health, safety, or interest only when all of the following conditions exist:

1. The registrant is, or but for a seasonal or temporary interruption would be, engaged in such activity;

2. The registrant cannot be replaced because of a shortage of persons with his qualifications or skill in such activity; and

3. The removal of the registrant would cause a material loss of effectiveness in such activity."

General Wakefield stressed that deferments based on agricultural and other civilian occupations are not permanent. "They are issued for one year or less," he said, "and local boards have instructions to classify a registrant as available for service whenever the cause for his deferment ceases to exist."

He explained that the designation Class II-C is used to indicate those deferred because of agricultural occupation.

Extension agricultural engineer W. L. Ulich of Texas A. & M. College says, the first step in the clean up campaign should be to go over the barn with a critical eye and locate the accident hazards and inconveniences. The second step is to correct them.

Here are a few things that should be on your check list. Watch out for loose objects or obstructions that might cause falls. High door sills, abrupt changes in floor levels, weak boards, protruding cleats or other tripping hazards should be removed. Better check the floors, says Ulich and be sure they are all solid and in good shape. The alleyways and work areas in the barn should be given a good cleaning and should always be kept clear of obstacles.

There is little excuse, points out Ulich, for farmers to do their chores in the dark since about 90 percent of all farms in the state now have electricity. He urges farmers to light up the dangerous corners, the alleyways and especially the rooms where pitchforks and other equipment is stored. A well located light in the barnyard will make the night trips to and from the barn or other outbuildings safer, he adds.

The loft doors, feed chutes and ladders should be carefully checked for a weak rung in the ladder can be the cause of a serious accident. Heavy loads should not be carried to or from the loft of the barn by way of a ladder. A well built stairway that is hand-railed and kept clean should be used. Feed chutes and elevated platforms should be constructed with guard rails.

Ulich says that all farmers should remember that their barns and other outbuildings will be safe and convenient only if they are constructed with these items in mind, and then only if they are properly maintained and cared for.
