Mobeetie Meditations

Mrs. Homer E. Matthews

It is one week your reporter has been down on the job. Either just happened or my nose was put to it for one thing, guess I will tell you something that will make me laugh, maybe it will make you cry. Last Saturday morning I went to a neighbor to buy an egg, wanted to bake a cake and found I did not have a egg. The neighbor graciously gave me one. "Juanita, had better take two."

Immediately remembering my school days on the farm in Pennsylvania, when I was always so late at this time of the year to get a stolen nest with several eggs to surprise my mother with, I did how usually some of them had eggs, took the two eggs and prepared for a local grocery store, but the first egg she tried to wouldn't open—it was a boiled egg. Now which of you good farmwives had to go to the ice box your own family supply to fill a dozen for market?

We heard many words of praise about Jessie Ray Leonard and he preached his first sermon at the Baptist Church Sunday. He preached again this Sunday. Mr. Leonard is entering Wayland College for further schooling.

Mr. Dara Harris who had the fortune of falling in the bath tub recently and breaking some ribs is being sufficiently as to be seen in town in the car with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Grady W. Harris.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Scribner have returned from their vacation in Hawaii. They worked Tuesday and commuted the job in one day. We noticed that the Jack Miller's have moved their house. It is light and looks so nice.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Robinson and Mrs. M. J. Tuesday from the E. V. property to the Mollie Seitz house—was just a few doors move, just a few more rooms also.

Little Jimmy Williamson of Jowles in the Highland General Hospital in Pampa quite ill at this writing. Dr. have not as yet diagnosed case.

Belvin Worthington spent a few days this week with Grandmother near McLean.

A. Burch has returned from Napa, Calif., where he has been visiting his mother, Mrs. Burch is in the 91st year.

Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Beck and family spent the weekend at Oklahoma Lane visiting the Rev. and Mrs. Vernon Wilford and family.

Mrs. Virgil Thomas and Halia of Sacramento, Calif., has been visiting with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cororan.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Green have returned as their guests Mr. and Mrs. B. Lord and family of San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Seitz have returned as their guests Mrs. Seitz's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Collins of Gorman.

Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Banks spent Sunday in Mobeetie visiting old friends. The Banks live at Ardmore, Oklahoma.

Mrs. Mary Mison has just returned from Amarillo where she was called to the bedside of her cousin, J. M. Price. Mrs. Price passed away and was buried Friday in the Pampa Cemetery.

Three very fortunate people are Mrs. Frank Worthington and son, Mr. J. M. Mison, they are going to Pampa Friday to attend the funeral of Mrs. J. M. Mison when the pickup in which they were riding hit a wet piece of ground and turned over three times. They escaped with just bruises and continued on to the funeral. However, the pickup looks worse for the accident.

Wheeler Whisperings

By J. C. Howell

Yes, folks it finally happened! Everyone has been wondering and guessing as to when J. T. Johnson and Edwina Brown were going to exchange nuptial vows. We are happy to report that the fine young couple got the knot tied Wednesday afternoon about six o'clock at the local Baptist Church with Rev. M. B. Smith, pastor, administering the oath.

We'd like to extend our congratulations to the young couple and compliment them on having the forethought of getting their home ready before they got married. We believe the world would be better off if more young people planned their marriages a little more thoroughly in advance.

We understand the T. M. Bowman's are looking for the mate to the rattlesnake which they found in their home just recently. T. M. tells us he opened the door in the breezeway between the house and garage to go outside and there lay the rattler. The snake had six rattles. Bowman tells us he killed the snake but didn't keep it because he was glad to get rid of him.

Last week we mentioned a bill-fold which had been turned in at the Times office and Truett Smith stopped by one day this week to pick up the article saying that the lady had visited them sometime past and had lost it. We are always happy to be of service in returning lost articles whenever we can.

The Wheeler Cemetery Association has called a special meeting for Saturday August 11, and are urging that all members of the organization who possibly can attend the meeting. It is understood that there are several matters of great importance to the members which are to be discussed and disposed of.

NEWS FROM— County Agent's Office

By R. D. Sigmund
and Robert Ledbetter

Cotton insects are fairly well under control all over the county although there have been some square borers and a few boll worms in some fields. A few flea hoppers are still in the younger cotton.

This young cotton can still be sprayed with 1 pint of 60% Toxaphene per acre with good results of 8 pounds of dust per acre. However, the cotton that is knee high or taller will need 1½ pints of 60% toxaphene per acre and if you dust you should use 12 pounds of dust per acre. Use three nozzles per row where the cotton is over knee high for complete coverage.

Insecticides Can Be Dangerous
Many of the improved insecticides being used by southwestern farmers are also highly poisonous to humans. Serious injury, and even death, may result from improper handling of materials such as parathion and TEPP.

The fact that these chemicals can be injurious to humans should not cause farmers to discontinue their use, because if properly handled, they are safe and are an essential weapon in the farmer's fight to save his crops from destruction by insects. However, during the peak of the poisoning season, when almost every farmer is handling these materials frequently, it is easy to become careless or disregard certain precautions in an effort to save time. For this reason, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service emphasizes the importance of following directions of the manufacturer carefully and completely in the handling of insecticides.

Keeping the poisonous materials stored in a closed, tight container out of reach of children is, of course, the first rule to be followed. Second, the operator should be careful to avoid inhaling dusts or sprays and, also, to avoid spilling any of the material on his hands or other exposed portions of the body. After using the more dangerous insecticides, clothing should be removed and washed before being worn again.

If any degree of illness is noted during or after using the insecticides, a doctor should be consulted immediately.

Take care of your shrubs during the dry summer months. Water, fertilizer and pruning are important to the life of your plants. Shrubs probably suffer more from mismanagement of moisture than anything else, the specialist comments. There are two ways of keeping the moisture in the soil around the shrub: first, make a depression around the plant to catch and hold as much rain water as possible. Then, once you have moisture in the soil—either from rainfall or irrigation—use some kind of mulch to keep it there.

Use layers 2 or 3 inches thick of well rotted leaves and grass clippings or straw; rotted hay from hay stacks, or straw from wheat and oat stacks. If the soil is tight, use some sand for leaves to work into, or use a layer of loose top soil to hold water later on. Use the hoe instead of the hose of the thin layer of top soil as you are likely to kill feeder roots near the surface if you dig more than 2 or 3 inches deep.

Shallow soils do not hold moisture through the summer, so it may be necessary to irrigate occasionally. Let the water run slowly until the soil is wet to a depth of 10 to 18 inches.

THE HORNY FLY IS A BLOOD-SUCKER. During a summer season he will rob 100 cattle of $2,000.00 worth of blood and flesh. This annual loss to Southwestern cattlemen runs into the millions of dollars.

With today's new chemicals, this loss can be avoided for the most part. The cost of the chemical required to prevent a loss of $2,000.00 is approximately $20.00. This represents an average season's control on 100 cattle.

Since the horn fly spends most of its life on the animal, the only practical method of control is through spraying or dipping of animals. Spraying is preferred since new research data has shown that only the top line of the animal need be treated. Start spraying as soon as flies are noticed in the spring. Repeat treatments when an average of 10 to 15 flies are noticed on each animal.

TOXAPHENE: More recently toxaphene emulsions have become popular because they give longer control than DDT and stick better to (Continued on Last Page)

WHEELER WINS OVER MIAMI, TO PLAY MOBEETIE

The Wheeler baseball nine returned to its winning ways last Sunday afternoon after dropping three straight contests to McLean, Allison and Shamrock in that order. Victim of the Wheeler nine Sunday was the Miami team by a count of 5 to 3. The contest was an East Panhandle League game.

Sunday's contest was well played by both teams. Red Richerson pitched the greater portion of the contest for the Wheeler nine but had to have the assistance of Bill Cosper to finish up the last two innings. James Gaines worked behind the plate throughout the contest.

With only three more weeks of the regular season left, the Wheeler team journeys to Mobeetie for a contest, then plays Briscoe here the following Sunday and Kelton at Kelton on August 19.

Other contests scheduled for Sunday, August 5, in the East Panhandle League include McLean at Kelton, Shamrock at Miami and Allison at Briscoe.

Following the regular season which ends on August 19, there will be a play-off between the top four teams in the league. As it stands at this time Briscoe is alone at the top of the standings with an 11 won, 0 lost record, McLean and Mobeetie are tied for second and Wheeler is in fourth place, Shamrock in fifth, Allison is in sixth, Miami is in seventh and Kelton is in the cellar.

X-RAY SURVEY PLANS MADE

All preliminary plans for Wheeler County's fourth annual X-ray clinic were made on Wednesday afternoon of last week when Charles H. Hoover, field representative of the Texas State Health Department met here with Sanitarian W. R. Ritter and a group of county civic leaders.

The X-ray equipment will be in Wheeler County September 17-22, and will be in use at Mobeetie, Wheeler and Shamrock.

Wheeler County rated second among the 254 counties of Texas in the number of people taking advantage of the free health service in 1948 and 1949. Last year the rating dropped to fourth.

Forty-two per cent of the residents of Wheeler County eligible to take the X-rays did so in 1948. The average on a state-wide basis was 25 per cent. The county percentage in 1949 was 43.1 per cent against the state average of 29 per cent. In 1950, it was 42.2 per cent against 35 per cent.

In 1948, 3,654 persons took the X-rays in the county. Out of that number 75 cases of tuberculosis were discovered, and 39 other chest diseases found. Out of the 3,742 X-ray films in 1949, there were 63 cases of TB and 15 non-TB diseases. In 1950, out of 3,668 X-rays, there were only 27 cases of TB and 18 other dis-eases.

FARMERS CAN HELP YEILDS

Farmers can push production to meet defense needs and add new life to the soil for the future by plowing under a good green manure crop. Yields often can be stepped up by putting on more nitrogen, phosphate, potash and lime, but these materials do not take the place of organic matter in keeping up the structure of the soil. And this structure is as important to growing crops as the mineral plant foods.

Roots of growing plants need air. The bacteria in the soil need air. Decayed and decaying organic matter keep the soil from packing together and provides room for air. Organic matter gives soil a spongy structure for soaking up moisture and holding it for future use of growing crops.

In the case of legumes, nitrogen is taken from the air and stored in the soil for use in growing crops. Experiments show that a good crop of clover plowed under will add enough nitrogen to equal from 300 to 500 pounds of ammonium nitrate.

In addition other plant food taken up by the growing green manure crop will be released into the soil when the crop is turned under and the leaves, stems and roots decay. This plant food then becomes available to the new crops.

Because green manure is so important in obtaining and building the soil, the production and turning under of green manure crops is an approved practice under the Agricultural Conservation Program. Specifications for this and other ACP practices can be obtained at the County PMA office at Wheeler.

Mrs. Clayton Kelley and daughters, DeAnn and Zoe Nell of Borger, have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Clay, and friends here this week.

Favorite French Toast

French toast fried to a golden brown and served with sirup has become an American breakfast custom. As summertime accompaniment, garnish glazed pear halves with strawberries.

At an average cost of a penny a slice, bakers' enriched white bread is one of the best food buys. It combines low cost with high nutrition, since it is an excellent source of three essential B-vitamins needed for vitality and health, and food iron for blood-building.

Toast is a "must" on the breakfast menu, but it can be varied in countless ways. French toast is delicious and quick to prepare, and has the added advantage of making use of bread which has become a little dry. Dip slices in an egg-and-milk mixture, then fry to a golden brown on both sides. Some homemakers like to sprinkle it with powdered sugar and serve it with jelly. Others prefer a topping of sirup or honey. Either way, your family will like French toast. Sausage and bacon are excellent accompaniments, as are glazed pineapple, peaches, apricots and pears.

French toast may be served for luncheon or supper dish, too, especially in sandwich form. Use such fillings as peanut butter, jelly or cream cheese. Cut sandwiches in half, then dip in egg-milk mixture and fry slowly on both sides. Serve with tossed salad and coffee.

1/2 cup milk 1/4 teaspoon salt
Butter or margarine

Dip slices of bread in milk, egg and salt mixture. Fry on well greased griddle or in frying pan. Serve hot with sirup. Makes 4 servings.

Mrs. J. M. Porter was also an honor guest of the council at the tea. Mrs. Porter is one of the charter members of home demonstration clubs in Wheeler County and is an honorary member of the Wheeler Club.

SEPARATION OF CHURCH AND STATE NECESSARY

The troublesome issue of religious studies in connection with school programs was not settled by the recent decision of the United States Supreme Court, in the Illinois case. In that suit, the Court stopped the practice of releasing school children for religious classes, held in schoolrooms, calling it the use of tax-supported property for religious instruction.

In New York, the State Court of Appeals has approved a program, under which children are excused from public schools for an hour's religious instruction each week. The difference in these practices is that parents are permitted to request the release of their children for an hour in order that they might receive religious instruction but the children attend religious classes outside of the school buildings. Moreover, as we understand the facts, school officials have nothing to do when selecting the religious teachers and the pupils are not solicited or importuned for religious instruction while attending school.

There are wide differences of opinion in regard to any school program which ties up with religious instruction. We see no danger in the New York practice provided that there is no infringement of the right of parents or children to absent themselves from such a program without penalty. While there should be a strict separation of church and state, there seems to be a reasonable area of compromise in which proper recognition can be given to the value of religious instruction without in any way implicating the school in the support of any particular church or faith.

We are unable to understand the insistence of some religious leaders that the schools of the land, which have possession of children for a limited number of hours each week for the purpose of their instruction, should interrupt their program by the withdrawal of pupils for religious instruction. After all, there are 168 hours in every week and the daily school program rarely uses more than thirty hours. It would seem that the 130 hours remaining offer ample occasion for parents to send their children to whatever religious classes they may elect. In fact, if parents are as much interested in the religious instruction of their children as the learned judges seem to think they are, the average child would receive proper religious instruction without interfering with the school program.

POLICE CHIEF ARRESTS MAYOR

If anybody has ever wondered what happens in the event that the mayor of a municipality gets into a fight with the chief of police, the answer comes from Haverill, Mass.

After the fistcuff, the chief arrested the mayor, who spent fifteen minutes in a cell before he produced $25 bail for his release.

We presume that the two officials have "made up" their differences and are now serving their municipality with zeal, but the incident raises a question whether any police official, involved in a personal difficulty, should attempt to arrest his opponent.

Tests Show Bermuda Grass Is Good Grazing

Coastal, an improved strain of Bermudagrass, produced more grazing material than the common variety in tests conducted for several years by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Either strain makes a good pasture grass for East and South Texas, the Blacklands and on bottomland soil west of the 30-inch rainfall belt, according to Dr. E. C. Holt, agronomist for the Texas Station. However, all Bermuda does best in these areas on fertile soils.

Common Bermudagrass can be established by seed or by sprigs, but Coastal can be introduced only by sprigs.

Annual yields of 3,500 pounds of air-dry forage per acre for common Bermuda and 4,600 for Coastal Bermuda were obtained on fertile Brazos River Valley soil which received 80 pounds of nitrogen per acre. Coastal Bermuda, grown on Lufkin soil near College Station, produced 2,200 pounds of dry forage without fertilizer. When 200 pounds per acre of nitrogen was applied in combination with phosphate and potash on Lufkin soil, the yield was increased 7,000 pounds per acre.

The results of work on fertilization, renovation, establishment and grazing of this grass are given in Circular 129, "Bermudagrass Research in Texas," which is available from the Publications Office, College Station, Texas.

COOL COOKING

it's Electric!

It's electric because electricity is coolest of all heat producing methods. Only when you cook electrically does all the heat go into the cooking job. For only on an electric range do you have pan-bugging heat, with the utensil setting right on the heating element. And only in an electric range even do you have complete six-sided insulation, for only matchless, flameless electric cooking can be completely insulated—without oxygen because it's without flame.

Cook the cool way—the way that lets you prepare an entire meal without raising the temperature of your kitchen more than one degree. Of course, it's electric.

Farmers Should Save Seed Oats And Wheat

In view of the short oat and wheat crops this year, farmers should save all possible seed for planting, particularly of the approved varieties, says E. A. Miller, agronomist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Enough oats were produced to plant the 1952 crop, but Miller warns there will be a shortage if farmers use all their oats for feed. The situation is a little better for wheat than for oats.

"Save good planting seed," Miller advises. "There will be a demand for seed where no oats were made."

He recommends saving all the Mustang oats and Quanah wheat produced. Most of the seed of these two varieties planted last year were lost because of the drought and insects.

According to the June USDA crop report, the 1951 Texas oat crop is estimated at 12,576,000 bushels. This is about half of the 1950 production. The 10-year average for Texas is approximately 30 million bushels.

Mustang, New Nortex, Fuller, Ranger and Stanton are the recommended varieties of oats for Texas. Recommended wheat varieties are Quanah, Wichita, Triumph, Commanche and Westar.

SENATE BILL TO INCREASE OLD PENSIONS

Senate has passed a bill which the States take full advantage of it will increase old age pensions $3 a month beginning October 1.

The bill is in the form of an amendment to the Social Security Act passed by Senator Ernest

W. McFarland of Arizona, Senators Tom Connally and Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, and 20 other Senators. It must still be approved by the House.

The $3 monthly increase would also apply to payments to the blind. Federal contributions to States for aid to dependent children would be increased an average of $2 per month per recipient.

"These small increases are overdue and are more than justified by the rising cost of living," Senator Connally declared. "When the bill was before the Finance Committee, I urged and voted for increases of $5 a month for the aged and the blind and of $3 a month for dependent children. Average old age assistance payments in Texas in May were only $32.74, which is obviously not enough to live on."

The bill as passed by the Senate included a provision requiring the States to maintain their present payments so that the full amount of the increased federal contributions would be passed along to the recipients.

In the case of Texas, this should mean a $3 a month increase for 90 percent of the 222,155 old persons receiving pensions; if the Texas Department of Public Welfare makes appropriate adjustments in its standards of judging needs. Ten percent of the pensioners are already receiving the State's maximum of $50 a month and would get the increase only if the maximum were lifted to $53.

The bill also makes it possible for Texas to give a $4-a-month increase to recipients of aid to dependent children by increasing the state payment only by $1 a month. This would bring the average payment up from a little less than $12 a month to about $16 a month. Under the present law, the State puts up $3 and the federal government $9. Under the Senate bill, if the State put up $4, the federal government would put up $12.

Flourides In Water Is Not Cause Of Cancer

Cancer does not develop any earlier in areas where the water contains a high proportion of flourides than it does in flourine free areas, morbidity statistics compiled by the Texas State Department of Health and the M. D. Anderson Hospital for Cancer Research in Houston show.

State Health Officer George W. Cox, in a statement flatly refuting claims by a University of Texas biochemist that flouride in municipal drinking water might speed up the development of breast cancer, said the M. D. Anderson cancer research center, an adjunct of the University of Texas, completely supported the State Health Department's contention that flouride additions to city water supplies does not accelerate the trend toward mammary cancer.

The state health agency has for the past two years recommended that municipalities add flouride in the amount of one part flouride to

"That Little Something" For Afternoon Guests

The kind of sandwiches and drink that follow the cards.

Bridge-playing or otherwise, no guests want much to eat after an afternoon visit. But they feel that "it's time for a little something" and that's exactly what you should give them.

First, they'll appreciate thirst-quenching drink. Coke fills the bill beautifully if properly iced, something very easily attended to well ahead of serving time. With the Coke, serve sandwiches and little frosted cakes, or cookies.

Preparing Sandwiches

Make your sandwiches in the morning and store them, carefully wrapped in waxed paper or foil and then in a dampened tea cloth, in the refrigerator.

The sandwiches should be of the simplest variety, refreshing and dainty and not a bit hearty. Use at least two kinds of bread—white and whole wheat, for instance—in order to give color as well as flavor contrast.

The following three types of sandwich fit well together and offer sufficient variety.

Cucumber

Slice fresh, crisp cucumber paper thin and place several slices on each round or square of bread. Sprinkle with a little salt and give each a good grind of fresh pepper. Put the tops on and store as directed. If mayonnaise is wanted, present it in a little dish to be added as people serve themselves.

Cream Cheese and Chive

Smooth and soften cream cheese with a bit of cream to good spreading consistency. Add chopped fresh chives in desired quantity and mix well. Spread upon sandwich bread, cover and store in refrigerator as directed.

Watercress

To add variety and interest to the form of the sandwich plate, the watercress sandwiches should be rolled. This is not difficult if the bread is fresh, fine-grained and thinly cut. Chop the watercress fine and mix with softened sweet butter. Spread this on your sandwich bread, being sure that it is covered to the edges. Roll the slice of bread tightly into a cylinder and fasten with toothpicks. Tuck a sprig of watercress into each end. Store as directed. When ready to serve, remove the toothpicks. The refrigeration period will harden the butter and make the sandwiches hold together of themselves.

Cakes From Bakery

To save the bother of baking, the little cakes may be bought, iced in at least two colors. Again, color, texture and taste contrast has a great deal to do with the appetizing quality of the food.

Before the guests come, put a cloth, napkins and some small plates on whatever table you plan to serve from and make a pretty decoration of summery flowers.

A new insect known as the sweetclover root borer was discovered last year by research workers at the Denton Agricultural Experiment Sub-station. It attacks the commonly grown biennial varieties of sweetclovers. Efforts are now being made to develop control measures. However, none are known at this time.

one million parts of water as a deterrent to tooth decay among children.

Also in support of the health department's position is the word of Dr. H. Trendly Dean, director of dental research, National Institute of Health.

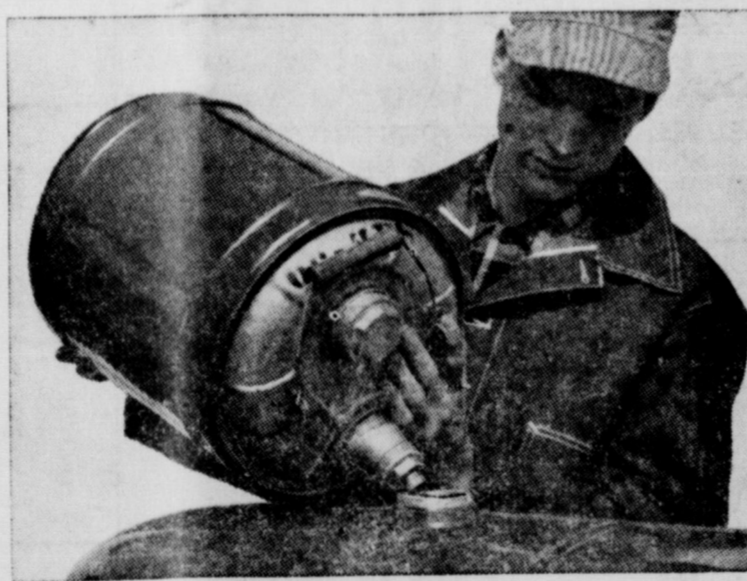

Dr. Dean says he and "Dr. Howard B. Andervont (unidentified) have carefully evaluated the data in respect to the alleged relation of flouride water to an accelerated rate in the development of mammary tumors, and are of the opinion that the evidence... does not warrant modification in the policy of recommending flouridation of public drinking water supplies..."

Dr. F. A. Bull, director of dental health in Wisconsin, in a letter to Dr. Cox, wrote that the Wisconsin health department has been accused of contributing to the cancer incidence for the past six years.

"We're going ahead, despite these deterrents, with flouridation," Dr. Bull said.

Dr. Cox said the same bone of contention came up years ago when chloridine, now a common addition to drinking water, was first used to disinfect water supplies.

"Further postponement of flourides in water would penalize
