POSTAL RATES TO INCREASE AUGUST 1ST

Postmaster Virgil Jamison announced today that official notice of the new public law 85-426 increasing postage rates has been received.

This is the first raise in postage since 1932 with the exception of parcel post which is not controlled by the post office department, but by the interstate commerce commission.

The post office department has found it increasingly difficult to meet its requirements on 1932 type income and 1958 type ougo. Although the department has increased efficiency to the point that each man hour of labor used today handles eight times the volume of mail handled by the same man-hour in 1932 the ever increasing population and ever spiraling usage of the departments facilities and services has created an impossible fiscal situation.

The population of the United States increases daily at the rate of about 7,000 people so the post office department is faced with the problem of providing mail service and facilities to a group of people which would equal approximately two towns the size of Shamrock, Texas. This in itself constitutes a very large expenditure each day of every year. Add this to the fact that prices have gone up until today the average man has more taken out of his paycheck for withholding than he was making in 1932 when the present postage scale started.

The major change in the new law is the raise in first class mail rates which become effective on August 1, 1958 and the changes are as follows: post cards 3c, Drop letters 3c—Ordinary first class letters go up to 4c per ounce. Airmail post cards 5c—Airmail letters 7c per ounce, and a few other technical changes but these are not applicable to most mailers and constitute a change only for those people who are involved in special classifications.

Postmaster Jamison stated that he realized that it would take a while for people to become accustomed to the new rates but every aid will be furnished by his office.

The Wheeler disposal plant was cleaned and put back into operation last week by E. M. Rathbun of Lubbock.

During the past several years sand and rock has settled in the tank and decreased the efficiency of the plant until it reached the danger point Mayor T. J. Daughtry said.

WATER-SEWER LOAN MADE BY H.H.F. AGENCY

In a telephone conversation with one of the officials of the H.H.F. and Green engineering firm of Lubbock, Mayor Thomas Daughtry learned Wednesday that the Housing and Home Financing Agency of Fort Worth has indicated that they will make the $110,000 loan on the water and sewer bonds for Wheeler.

Daughtry said the information is "not official", but will probably be confirmed within the next two or three days.

The loan will be at the 3 7/8 percent interest rate indicated earlier by the firm. This is 1/8 of a percent less than the interest rate paid on the water and sewer bonds in 1938 Daughtry said.

"Unless we are tied down by red tape, construction of the Water and Sewer project in Wheeler will begin sometime in November," Daughtry said.

WHEAT SEED FOR SALE AT CHILLICOTHE

Bryan Swaim, county agent, indicated today that foundation registered certified wheat seed of Concho, Crockett and Comanche is for sale at the experiment station in Chillicothe, Texas.

The seed sells for $4.00 a bushel according to Swaim. Any farmer interested in purchasing the seed should contact J. Roy Quimby at the Experiment Station. The amount of seed is limited. All orders should be placed with Quimby as soon as possible.

WHEELER MERCHANTS TO CLOSE FRIDAY JULY 4

Practically all of the Wheeler merchants will close Friday, July 4th in observance of Independence Day.

4-H BOYS CAN ENTER PAMPA CALF SCRAMBLE

Bryan Swaim, county agent, said all 4-H boys interested in entering the Top 'O Texas beef cattle scramble which will be held Friday, August 8, should contact him before July 5th.

Wheeler County is allowed nine entries according to Swaim. The entries will be selected by a committee from the entries submitted. The requirement for the "Scramble" are as follows: The boy must be a member of the 4-H club. He must be within the age of 13 and 17 and he must be interested in feeding or production of beef cattle. And he must be able to feed and care for an animal before he can become a contestant.

Boys that meet the requirements and are interested in entering the calf scramble must contact Swaim before Saturday, July 5th.

Nine contestants and 3 alternates will be selected Swaim said.

Pettit Continues To Improve At Wheeler Hospital

Shelby Pettit, area auctioneer and candidate for precinct one commissioner of Wheeler, is reported by his physician to be "doing fine." The local physician said, "He will have pain and a stiff neck for several months, but he will be up and around within two weeks."

He is definitely out of danger, the brain and skull are okay and the neck is not broken.

Pettit was taken to the Amarillo hospital Sunday where he was examined by a Orthopedist. He was dismissed from the Amarillo hospital and returned to Wheeler Monday.

Pettit was injured Saturday, June 21 while helping replace a television rotor on the Owan Horn farm northeast of Wheeler.

Earl Barns, local TV technician for the Wheeler Radio and Refrigeration Service, was atop a 70 foot television tower on the Horn farm replacing the TV rotor. Pettit, had tied the new rotor to a wire which Barns was hoisting up the tower.

Practically within an arms reach of the top of the tower, the rotor came loose from the wire and dropped to the ground striking Pettit on the head and shoulder.

The rotor which struck Shelby weighed between 9 and 10 lbs.

Georgia Pond To Star

Community Players To Present 3-Act Comedy

The Community Players will open their fourth season of drama when they present Georgia Pond as Connie Brooks in the Summer Playhouse production of the three act comedy, "Our Miss Brooks", on July 10-11. Miss Pond will give her interpretation of the part of a high school English teacher in the role which has been made famous on radio and TV by Miss Eve Arden.

The play deals with the typical problems of a modern high school - exaggerated at some points - and with average American boys and girls. As the teacher says, "The principal has problems, the school board has problems, the teachers have problems. It is only the students who do not have problems."

Jerry Killingsworth will play the part of Hugo, the coach, for whom Miss Brooks has a keen interest. The high school principal, Paul Harding, and other teachers, Annette Hutchison and Fran Borden, add to Miss Brooks' problems. Dorothy Hall, the star of last season's "Tattletale" and who will be seen in a lead role later this summer, is the President of the School Board, a position which she regards very highly.

Heading the list of students will be Bill Green as Ted, a star basketball player and an aspiring young actor, and Gala Dale, who has a secret crush on Ted. Other students include Carol Gandy, Kenneth Farris, Paula Killingsworth, Charlie Ann Faver, Pat Black, Albert Thomas, Sharon Farris, Ella Richerson and Annie Riley.

The play will be given two successive nights in the school gymnasium, under the direction of Carroll Killingsworth. Everyone is invited to attend.

Nicholson Makes Final Plea For Contributions

The latest report from Dr. H. E. Nicholson on the swimming pool drive indicated that the committees have raised almost $7,000 in their fund raising campaign.

Dr. Nicholson said construction of the pool will begin as soon as the city completes the legal technicalities, such as the issuing of warrants for the $20,000 and getting the necessary bids for construction of the pool.

A check with Mayor Thomas Daughtry disclosed that Hassie and Green Engineering firm of Lubbock has completed the specifications for the pool.

Daughtry estimated that it will be sometime in October or November before actual construction of the pool can begin. "We are rushing the project as fast as possible, but the red tape just takes time," Daughtry said.

Dr. Nicholson, financial drive chairman, issued one final plea to those in Wheeler who have not contributed to the swimming pool fund to do so now. "Surely everyone wants to be a part of such a worthwhile project Nicholson said.

Those who have contributed thus far in the campaign are:

Cotton Crop Cut By One-Third In Wheeler County

According to a report from county agent Bryan Swaim, the high wind and electrical storm last Wednesday destroyed one-third of the Wheeler County cotton crop.

Swaim estimated the damaged cotton to run as high as 10,000 acres. "Some of the farmers have replanted the cotton, but the biggest majority of them are replanting their cotton land to feed," Swaim said.

Family From 'Biggest State' Visits In Mobeetie

By Mrs. Oslo Wilson
Mrs. 'Ivan Hopkins and children, Christopher, five year-old, and Timmy, age eighteen months, all from Alaska are visiting in the home of the Grady Harrises this summer. The husband and father is getting his master's degree at the University of Texas. Vinita Hopkins, the mother, is Mrs. Harri's daughter. The Hopkins family has lived in Alaska for the past three years.

Mr. Hopkins is a social science teacher in the high school at Mt. Edgcomb. This is the only native boarding high school in Alaska under the Bureau of Indian Affairs. It is operated like the Indian schools in Arizona and New Mexico. It has an enrollment of about 250 students. These students are the cream (graduates) of the Day Schools (There are perhaps 90) which are established over all Alaska. After graduation from the 8th grade, they are brought into Mt. Edgcomb and attend this boarding high school which is located 300 yards across the channel from Sitka, the old Russian capital occupied once for a hundred years by Russia.

The Hopkin family was the only white one for two years in Shungnak, a community of about 150 Eskimo homes. Mrs. Hopkins was the Administrator of the U. S. Public Health Service. Mr. Hopkins was also employed by the U. S. Government as a kind of Jack-of-All-Trades in the advisory capacity of town-Dad. Mrs. Hopkins likes to tell of the problems she ran into. The first one of these was a community-wide epidemic of impetigo. Nearly all the children and many adults were covered with sores. Mrs. Hopkins says, "I knew I couldn't tackle this job by being bossy, for the woman before me had been quite dictatorial and had failed." My first duty was to win the confidence and trust of the people. I had to ignore the filth and just serve meekly wherever the Eskimos wanted me. After awhile I began simply preaching sanitation: "Soap and water will cure your impetigo." I probably said that 500 times. It did too, for when I left there were no cases!"

In Shungnak we had no disciplinary problems. The native Eskimo considers it an insult to be spoken to loudly, or to be shouted at. By force of necessity these people have had to live close together in order to survive. They have a natural tact and diplomacy, not characteristic of the white race.

Mr. Hopkins had trouble explaining the capitalistic system to the store-keeper who couldn't read, write, nor add. If a family needed groceries, he simply handed them out. For, look, he had plenty, and they who needed to eat had none.

Shungnak is the site of the largest jade deposit in this hemisphere. While the Hopkinses were there, the Government Specialist in Indian Arts, Frank Long, came and taught the Eskimos the making of jewelry. Mrs. Hopkins has a jade ring, Indian mask (face), a bracelet, and seal-shaped earrings. The jade is translucent. It comes in all colors. Apple-green is beautiful.

In Shungnak the Hopkinses had difficulty in obtaining community cooperation, for they found an inter-tribal feud of long standing so long that many of the young people did not know what the original disagreement had been. However, the work Mr. Hopkins was asking them to do interested them and before long enemies were working side by side.

Because of isolation many of the families in small communities have inter-married; so that nearly all are kin to one another.

The Hopkinses also lived for a while in Barrow which was an Army Base during the War. Here the Eskimo kids were rough and (Continued on Page 8 No. 6)

Nash and Hyatt Demonstrate Ham Radio Operation

Garth Nash and Pete Hyatt, Wheeler Ham Radio Operators, furnished the program for the regular Kiwanis meeting held Monday at the Methodist Church.

The boys set up a "rig" and gave a demonstration for the Kiwanians. Garth explained the fundamentals of Ham Radio Operation and also demonstrated the Morris Code, which a "Ham" must learn before he is licensed.

Garth explained the important part Ham radio operators play for the weather bureau. He also pointed out the importance of "Hams" during emergencies.

Garth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nash and Pete is the son of Mrs. Cora Hyatt.

Dyer and Harris Attend 3-Day School

Jesse J. Dyer County School Superintendent and Mrs. Sally Harris county secretary, attended the 3-day school on bookkeeping, budgeting and auditing at Canyon last week.

Frank Walker and J. M. Golden, representatives of the state department of education, discussed the new school system at the meeting.

More than 200 area superintendents and secretaries attended the school.

The man who cannot find happiness in his work will find little in life. All true happiness must be based on labor. If you love your work it lightens the burden. If you don't have time for happiness in this world, you are too busy. All true happiness comes from making others happy. Happy is the man who keeps his yearning capacity within his earning capacity. He that has few desires will be happy with few possessions. To be happy with what you have is the true art of living.

WHEELER COUNTY SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

Stubble mulch tillage is the cheapest erosion control for cropland. Supervisors of the Wheeler District would like to urge every farmer to leave crop residues on or near the surface of the land as long as possible. This system of tillage is particularly well adapted to small grain land.
 Experiments have shown that 750 pounds of crop residues per acre will protect hard land soils from wind erosion. Mixed land requires 1250 pounds per acre and sandyland requires 1750. The crop residues left on or near the surface offer protection from water erosion as well as from wind erosion.
 Stubble mulching of wheat land at the Bushland Experiment Station near Amarillo gives greater yield than land on which the straw is plowed under. The protective cover of decaying straw has given protection from erosion on the flatter slopes with no other treatment.
 Stubble mulching can be used by any farmer growing drilled crops of any kind. It is not complicated or expensive and has many good points other than protection from erosion. Soil Conservation Service personnel assisting the Wheeler District will be glad to assist farmers with any problems they may have with this practice.
 Mrs. E. H. Kenady of Muleshoe spent the week end her with relatives.
 Mrs. Roland Miles and Mrs. R. L. Miles were in Shamrock Sunday.

who have labored under handicaps of one kind or another, the Christophers have turned theirs into a blessing. They have gone out of the usual way to make extra friends and customers. They have a good business and what's more many, many friends.

At the present time their service station is a popular calling place of the road construction crew. If you'll sit around there for a little while you'll pick up the palaver of the truck drivers and machine operators of the road as they come into the store to drink cold pop. These men feel perfectly at home with the Christophers with whom they may talk and exchange comments on the day's happenings.

Why? The Christophers are friendly and helpful.

While I was out there roaming around, Mrs. Christopher and I went to visit the E. F. Armstrongs.

Mr. Armstrong was plowing but Mrs. Armstrong showed us the game bird hatchery which they run as a hobby.

Their inventory of game birds: 12 blue quails, 15 pairs of bobwhites, 12 mated chukkers, 2 peafowl hen and a cock, 2 pair of golden pheasants, 200 little quail, chukkers and pheasants - all combined.

This is the third year the Armstrongs have had their game hatchery. Heretofore, they have not had any birds to sell, but this year they will have a few for sale.

"We have eaten some of our game birds," says Mrs. Armstrong, "and they are delicious!"

The electric incubator for the hatchery is in the concrete cellar. The day we were there, 129 quail eggs were hatching - tiny birds and a sight to behold. One wonders how they ever survive in the wilds. One little quail would make one bite for a terrapin.

When the quail are a few days old, they are turned over to foster mammas, bantam hens which do very well for their adopted chicks.

Mr. Armstrong farms 165 acres next to his house. He also has a section of land on Myrtle Creek where he runs a small herd of cattle.

The game bird hatchery was started so that the Armstrongs would have something to do when they retire. They will rent out their land and just stay at home with the birds which they both love!

In Amarillo recently six youngsters ranging in ages from 12 to 14 attempted to hold up the Amarillo National Bank with play guns like on TV just for fun. The mother of one of the twelve-year old boys phoned the bank to be sure and have some lolly-pops (all-day-suckers) ready to hand out as loot.

But the bank officials took a dim view of this make-believe game, and when the youngsters entered the bank, two detectives and two policemen arrested them and hustled them down to police headquarters in a patrol car.

Parents of the kids will be interviewed and before this is over, kinds and parents will regret the joke which was a bad one.

In Beverly Hills, California, John Thomas Russell, 24 year old son of a Minnesota millionaire (creamery business) went to jail - the charge, a $100,000 holdup.

Russell came to Hollywood to become an actor against his parents wishes. He is charged with a companion of taking $100,000 worth of furs, jewels and cash from a Beverly Hills Real Estate man and his wife; also with the holdup of a market in Culver City.

These two separate stories are contrary to the stories that I usually run in this column. They don't make us happy! If there is a moral to be drawn from them, you can draw it yourself! There are preachers in this town who are better at moral-drawing than I. Go, hear them!

Joke: A little city girl was on her first visit to the country. She was quite impressed by the cows, pigs, and chickens. But when she saw the peacock which the farmer kept, she was amazed. "Look," she cried, "a rooster in full bloom!"

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Pendleton and family of Borger are visiting relatives in Wheeler this week.

WEDDING VOWS READ FOR DONNA CASWELL AND DARRELL MOORE

Lancaster Is First To Identify Farmer

Lewis Lancaster was the first to correctly identify Percy Farmer as the Times Who-zit last week. Others to correctly identify him were Mrs. Jan Risner, Corkey Guthrie, Harold Kenady, J. H. Richards and Butch Farmer.

Some of the callers mistook Percy for George Gandy, Ebb Farmer, Earl Brown, Al Thomas and Loyd Lee.

Percy has owned the auto repair shop across from the Doris Forrester Insurance Agency for the past 14 years.

He was born in Forrestburg, Texas in Montague County on November 3, 1900. He attended school in Forrestburg and graduated in 1917. And he attended college at North Texas State Teachers College in Denton, Texas.

Following college Percy taught school for 2 years at Round Prairie and at Stony Point, Texas. In 1921 he came to Wheeler and purchased a farm in the Corn Valley Community. After 4 years on the farm he moved to Canadian where he carried mail for 4 years.

From Canadian he moved back to Wheeler and in 1933 he went to work for Crump and Monday. On January 1, 1944 he purchased the shop he now owns and operates.

Percy was married to Bernice Bailey in 1919. They have 3 children, Lowell, Don and Edna Helen. Percy is a deacon and Sunday School Teacher in the First Baptist Church of Wheeler. He will be installed Worshipful Master of the Wheeler Masonic Lodge next Monday night. He is a member and director of the Chamber of Commerce. Percy is also a member of the Kiwanis Club.

When asked his opinion of Wheeler, Percy replied, "It's the grandest place in the world".

EDITORS NOTE: We think you are grand too Percy.

Miss Shirley Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Miller, recently became the bride of Roland Miles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Miles, in a simple impressive ceremony at the Twitty Baptist Church. The bride wore a street length dress of powder nylon over taffeta accented with small white flowers. It was fashioned with a round neckline and bouffant skirt with a cummerbund of blue taffeta. Her accessories were blue and her corsage was of white carnations.

Miss Coleen McNutt served as the Bride's Maid of Honor. She wore a street length dress of white with matching accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Number Six

The swimming pool idea is really catching on. . . In Sunday school when the collection plate was passed last Sunday 8-year-old Connie Richardson put her money in, and asked if the money was going to the swimming pool fund.

Just another indication of the thoroughness in soliciting donations for the pool exercised by Dr. Nicholson and his committee.

When those fellows set out to do a job, they do it.

Up to now candidates have had the ball but come July 26 the voters will gain possession and do the scoring. The campaign will continue on an accelerated scale for the next few weeks but when voting day comes the individual can move into the voting booth and write the ticket.

It seems a bit foolish to remind a voter that he should exercise his franchise and cast his vote on election day. The greatest danger to this country is rule by organized minorities. This can and does happen when the average citizen does not take the time to cast his ballot. The right to vote is a privilege . . . and also should be considered as a solemn duty.

There's one consoling thing about this year's state and national campaigns - the voters can't possibly go wrong.

We've been scanning the press releases for days and all of the candidates seem to be on the side of the angels. They clearly state they support truth, justice, religion, mother and patriotism.

None of them plan any mud slinging, whispering or smear campaigns. However, they do intend to give us the plain, unvarnished facts, no matter how vile, about their opponents.

Most of the candidates seem to be for the underdog. On the other hand they oppose minority rule and "special interests."

Farmers and small business must be helped by the government and protected against fat, greasy capitalists. Yet, private enterprise and rugged individualism must be preserved.

We've got to get lots of big new programs under way. We've got to cut taxes.

Seriously, all of these seemingly conflicting proposals must be somehow reconciled in any democratic political philosophy. The wise voter wants to know just how the politician proposes to do it.

Now that Alaska is the largest state in the union, I wonder if Texans will allow the loss of their prestige as the largest state to effect their outlook. This does not seem to be the case here in Wheeler, as I noticed that the entire town is aglow with the pride of having put over the swimming pool drive. "The difficult we do immediately, the impossible takes a little longer."

Simple arithmetic will show what a tremendous job the swimming pool fund raising committee has done.

Wheeler has raised $7,000 dollars so far in the campaign. Amarillo which is 150 times larger than Wheeler would have to raise $735,000 to equal the task performed in Wheeler. And Dallas, which is 500 times larger than Wheeler would have to raise $3,500,000 to match Wheeler, percentage wise.

You needn't worry about avoiding temptation as you grow older says Jolly the Barber—that's when it starts avoiding you.

In going through the old files of the Times . . . I find that Rev. Frank Ross, pastor of the First Baptist Church and Walter Dunn, manager of Cleero Smith Lumber Company are celebrating their first year in Wheeler this week.

Tip of the hat to you fellows, you are now full fledged Wheelers.

Wedding vows were repeated June 27, by Miss Donna Kay Caswell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Caswell, and Darrell Wayne Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Moore.

The double ring ceremony was read in the First Baptist Church of Wheeler with M. B. Smith, pastor of the Highland Baptist Church of Pampa officiating. Members of the families and friends attended. The traditional wedding marches were played by Elaine McCasland, organist.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a white nylon dress with a fitted bodice, three quarter length sleeves, and a bouffant three-quarter length skirt. She wore a blue silk sash at the waist, and her veil of illusion fell from an oval cap edged with seed pearls. Her bouquet was made of white carnations which she carried on top of a white Bible.

Her maid of honor was Miss Carol Caswell, her sister, who wore a blue nylon dress with a fitted bodice, three-quarter length sleeves, and a bouffant three-quarter length skirt. Her corsage was made of white carnations.

The groom was attended by his friend, Thurston Young, who acted as best man.

The bride's mother wore a figured, brown taffeta dress with a corsage of yellow carnations, and white and brown accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a navy chiffon dress with pink accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Wheat Harvest Almost Complete

The Texas wheat harvest is practically complete and adequate combines are in each area to complete operations. Custom combine crews are moving into Kansas and Colorado as soon as their commitments are completed.

The United States Department of Agriculture estimated a yield of 67,944,000 bushels as of June 1, as compared with 33,669,000 bushels in 1957 and a ten year (1946-55) average of 47,339,000 bushels.

Reports from the Pampa-Wheeler-Canadian area indicate that harvest is 90% complete. Wheat averaged 20 to 35 bushels per acre in this area.

The Northern Panhandle reports indicate harvest 90% to 95% complete with an average yield of 25 bushels per acre.

SPORTS

By Carroll Killingsworth

The red hot Yankees jumped on pitcher Gandy and the Cardinals for ten big runs in the first inning and then coasted to an easy 15-11 victory that gave them the lead in the series 3-2. The teams have only four more games to play and the Yankees need only two victories to win a trip to Amarillo. Hamilton and Riley scored three times each for the Yanks and Gandy tallied three times for the Cards. Douthit worked on the mound and received credit for the win. Gandy started for the Cards and was relieved by Bradshaw in the second. Gandy was the losing hurler.

The up and coming White Sox handed the high flying Thunderbirds their first loss of the season with a 23-17 romp as Reeves, Wiley, Ross, and DeArment teamed up for three runs each that blasted three Thunderbird mounds-men. The win over the 'Birds was a 23-14 win for the Sox over the cellar dwelling Sheriffs made the Pee Wee League a two team race with the Sox and Thunderbirds battling for the top spot. F. Goad was the winning pitcher both nights, defeating brother M. Goad and Vanpool.

During the past week the Giants and Little Marshalls have divided victories with the Marshalls shellacking the Giants 19-4 in the first game and the Giants bouncing back to take the second 21-19. The loss was the Marshalls' first defeat since opening night when they were defeated by the Rangers. In helping teammate Page gain his seventh victory, Gaines hit a single, double, and triple, and scored four runs to lead the Marshalls. Page allowed only three hits - home runs to Hunter and Waters and a single to Hunter. Waters was the losing hurler. In coming from behind to win the second game, the Giants pushed across thirteen big runs in the bottom of the fourth frame with eight hits and six free passes issued by Miller and Gaines. Miller was knocked out of the box early in the frame and Gaines came on in time to sustain the loss. Waters went all the way to pick up his fifth victory.

Only seven hits were allowed in a well pitched game between the Rangers and Giants, but the Giants although getting only two of the hits won 8-6. Jolly, pitching for the Rangers, gave a single and double to Watson but walks and errors allowed the Giants to score two times in each of four innings. Waters gave two hits to Jolly and Hutchison and one to Green but struck out twelve hitters in five frames to hold down possible threats. The Rangers got two in the first, three in the third and one in the fourth. Waters has ended the last two games by striking out the last batter.

Number Three

The Eskimo has no written language. He speaks three or four dialects of his own language, each dissimilar. He is an apt student and quickly learns English, the language taught in the schools. Textbooks are the same as those adopted and used in the States and are inappropriate for Alaska. A teacher simply has to devise his own system of getting learning across to the student!

Alaska is made up of three groups of people: the Aleuts, the Eskimos, and the Indians. The Aleuts and the Eskimos are alike; both are Mongoloid. They are a people in the Middle-Stone-Age and, according to anthropologists, came originally from Asia and Europe by boats, or by walking.

Alaska has a population of perhaps 150,000; only 30,000 are natives. The rest are white. The native population dwindled until three years ago when the U. S. Government moved in with an over-all health program. Tuberculosis has greatly depleted the native population. It has been said the TB did not exist among them until the white man's arrival. There is no way to prove or disprove this statement.

The greatest problem facing a family living in Alaska is transportation. The bush plane is used inland and lands on the rivers. It uses pontoons in summer and skis in winter. Mail is brought in twice a week by plane. Fairbanks and Anchorage have cars. There are few roads, and only one highway, the Alcan. Barrow has one auto, a truck. There is one railroad. Along the coast and on the islands each family owns a boat instead of a car.

The cost of living in Sitka is 25% higher than in Seattle. A head of lettuce costs about 80c. But, wonderful gardens are raised where the climate is mild. And many fruits and berries grow wild.

The Hopkins plan to make Alaska their permanent home and career. They are given a paid-vacation to the States every two years. In the year between the grandparents often visit them. The grandmother, Mrs. Harris, is also an admirer of Alaska. She says its a wonderful tourist attraction. She has seen part of it from a bush plane.

rowdy and had organized themselves into gangs. "This came about," says Mrs. Hopkins, "because modern science suddenly moved in and invaded a primitive culture." Eskimo fathers who had never worn anything except skin-clothing were suddenly hired at a $600 a month rate to drive tractors and handle big machinery. They neglected the traditional education of their children in the instruction of whaling and sealing, their customary life-long occupations. The result was chaotic and confusing.
