All-Star Team To Play 'Old Timers' Thursday, August 14

Trailing 3-2 going into the fourth frame, the Yankees exploded for five big runs in the fourth to gain a 5-4 edge in their series with the Cardinals and win the Championship. Barton connected for two singles and a triple and scored three times for the winners. Douthit, going the distance for the win, struck out eleven Card batters. Bradshaw relieved Pond in the third and took the

The Little Sheriffs, after being knocked around and stomped all summer, finally came to life Tuesday night and thrashed the surprised White Sox 24-15. The inspired Sheriffs had two big innings, scoring ten times in the second and thirteen in the third. Ware, Burton and S. Johnson scored four times each for the Sheriffs. The Sox, taken completely by surprise, could never get back in the game after the big Sheriff second. Wiley, Dunn, DeArment, and Goad worked on the mound for the Sox, with Dunn taking the loss. Wiley, DeArment,, Dorman, and Goad crossed the plate three times each.

Rev. Carlton Thomson, paster of the Wheeler Methodist Church brings the message of the week in the thirteenth of a series of commentaries by ministers of the area, and presented on this page through the cooperation of the firms and individuals listed below

WHO'S YOUR JONAH?

We are all familiar with the Bible account of Jonah. There are lessons to be learned about doing one's Christian duty from this Scripture, but the part to which I want to call attention is the reaction of the other passengers in the ship.

There was a great storm raging. They were having trouble so they sought someone to blame.

How often it happens in daily living that we spend much time seeking the one upon whom we can cast the blame. We have the feeling that if we can do something to him, we shall have a better life. How natural it is for us to feel that way, but how wrong we

One of the hardest things for us to do is to look at ourselves honestly. We can sometimes develop an objective attitude toward other persons and objects, but we find it extremely difficult to take that attitude toward ourselves.

Few of us ever obtain the objectivity of the down and outer reported in "Reader's Digest" who observed as a successful fellow passed him in a Cadillac, "There but for me go I". That is honesty! We each need to look within and appraise our motives.

It is always easier to blame someone else for our failures and troubles. We still believe that there must be a Jonah in the ship; so we spend our time looking for him. Talk with the man who never quite made it. He will have a dozen reasons why he has been passed by. It was this man or that group.

I have never known an adult persons who was not a Christian who did not say, it is this person or that group that keeps me away from

The smaller we are spiritually, and the more inadequate we are emotionally, the more we will blame everything on others.

This is why it is so hard for us to grow. We spend too much time finding sources of blame, rather than learning from the mistakes we have made. This is evidenced by the fact that we make the same mistakes over and over again, but we are never to blame. The patterns of our lives thus freeze into unchangeable patterns.

Christianity tells us that the real enemy is within. It is Christ who can give us enough grace to look at ourselves honestly. His victory is over ourselves, so it becomes a real victory. He changes the question from "What shall we do to you" to "How can I let God change my life."

We suffer many things from many people no doubt but none of them can do us as much damage as we do ourselves. We are our own

Vheeler,

People love a good story! People love attention! So, if a terrible murder is committed, sometimes a meek little housewife will confess that she did it! Occasionally back, with blood in her eye, and the police are mislead for awhile.

RAWHIDE TREE, Grandma Rey- for ages 12 through 17. nolds has told us some amusing stories about what people have said to her concerning the experences of which she tells in this book. About 40 years ago she had a beautiful trick horse named Sheik that she had to sell. One woman came up and confessed. "Mrs. Reynolds, I have your trick horse, Sheik!" She then described in on the act! Sheik's tricks as they are described in the book. Of course, if would not let us dress it up! somewhere around 50 years old, which isn't likely!

A man came up and told Mrs. Reynolds and her daughter Jonnie that he had a trick horse that could and did jump a 50 foot chasm. Jonnie's eyes expressed some doubt of this fact, but Mrs. Reynolds is a wonderful show-woman and she signalled Jonnie "no comment!" And so they let the story pass uncontested.

Another story she told which amused me plenty was about a woman and her twelve year-old son who came and the little boy Patrol. In that length of time we said, "buy me one of these!"

"Put it down," his mother said. "It's too hard for you. You can't ity on the part of their author. A great preacher once said "When I hear a man talking higher than he lives I know what he says is pumped up". Read the twenty third Psalm of which this sentence is a part then try to tell yourself there is nothing to it. It doesn't work. The hollowness of abstraction is entirely lacking.

The society into which we were born is so deeply penetrated with Christian thought and life that no person is completely alien to its blessed influence. But to the exed from the experiences of others it is deplorable and tragic. Vicar ious Christian experience is I sup pose better than no experience a all but it is neither deeply saving nor deeply satisfying. Above ev erything else in the world we need God enthroned and dominant in our personal lives. Without Him as the controlling influence in his life man is somewhat like the proverbial bull in the china closet. He makes a shambles of
