CONTRATULATIONS, Paige Jones and Gabi Menefield! These two members of the Wheeler 'Stangs were named All-District 3 1-A Division 1. Pictures were not available at press time.

Spring has arrived, but don't put away those winter clothes yet. We have had some nice weather, if you over look the wind. Thankfully we missed the tornadoes in recent weeks.

And, speaking of storms, have you found a storm cellar? The courthouse is no longer open for shelter. The south door to the Wheeler County Ag and Family Life Center will be open in case of immanent danger. The shelter is one section of the building at the north edge of Wheeler.

STORM REPORT

As Reported by...
Stormie Meriwether,
Second Grade Student

Dear Friends, This is so exciting! In my school we published our very own book! First we just had to get the idea in our head.

My idea is about three friends. We made the stories, drew the pictures and, you can't believe it, they made it to a real book! Then we colored the cover and put the title and my name. On the inside we have a dedication page. My book is to my mom and dad, because I love them so much.

My teacher says I can think of very good ideas and I can tell my story very well. I just need a little help to write all the words. That is just like the Storm Report. I tell my mom all the things I want to say, but she has to write the words. I try and try to write, but it is so hard. Sometimes I can't make the words look right. When I write the words, I can't remember my story. My hand hurts and my head hurts and all my good story is gone out of my head. I don't know why I can't be a good writer. It's ok, 'cause I'm a good thinker and a good talker. That's it

Wheeler Election Set For May 12

The City of Wheeler, Parkview Hospital District and Wheeler I.S.D. will all be holding election on Saturday, May 12, 2012. Absentee voting will begin Monday, April 30 and continue through 5:00 May 8.

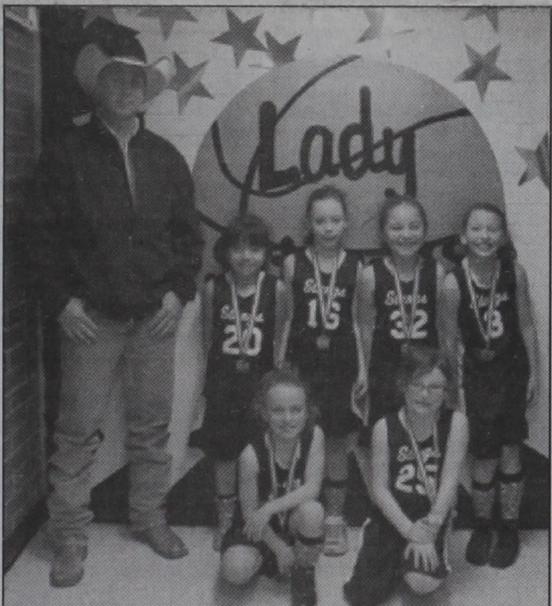

Voters in the City of Wheeler will elect a mayor and three council members. Mayor Bob McCain has drawn Keith Rose as an opponent. Place 4 is for an unexpired term left by the appointment of Bob McCain as Mayor; Don Rose does not have an opponent for this place. Stacy McCasland is also unopposed for re-election to Place 2 of the council.

Wheeler I.S.D. has one contested race with two places to be filled on the board. Dr. Lee Ann Hillhouse has filed for re-election to Place 4. Place 5 is contested with incumbent James Masters drawing Larry Ashurst as an opponent.

Parkview Hospital has two vacancies on its board; one representative from Pct. 1 and 2 are to be elected. Thomas Roy Helton is presently serves as a representative for Pct. 1 and will not seek re-election; Roger Brown and Ron Rives have filed for that place on the board. Dale Garner, representative for Pct. 2 will not seek re-election; placing their names on the ballot for that place are Tom Puryear and Ray Hudson.

Your vote is important to the future of our cities, schools and hospital board. VOTE!

Caitlynn Walker Is Winner of 4-H Show

The 4-H Fashion Show was held March 1 at the Wheeler County Ag and Family Life Center. The winner at the county fashion in the intermediate constructive category was Caitlynn Walker. Caitlynn will be advancing to the district competition on April 21 in Amarillo.

Donations Needed For Kiera Hurtado

An account has been established at the First State Bank on behalf of Kiera Hurtado. Kiera is the 9 year old of Shana (Reeves) McDonald. Kiera was diagnosed in June, 2011 with a serious illness. This family could certainly use any donations to help with the expenses and care of Kiera, during this difficult time. Kiera is a bright, fun-loving beautiful young girl who needs the prayers of our communities. Any donations can be made thru, either the Wheeler or Mobeethu branches of the First State Bank, and would be greatly appreciated.

Beginning stage of the new WFD building

Be sure and keep up with the progress of the new building that the Wheeler Volunteer Fire Department is having built at 206 East Sixth Street, across from the existing fire station. The dirt work, concrete slab and approach have been completed and the workmen were putting the steel beams together this week.

EATIN' HIGH ON THE HOG

As I've said before, if it wasn't for a bunch of old phrases, it would be awfully hard for me to talk. Can you imagine any worthwhile story, or even a sociable conversation, without a "colorful" phrase or two? That would become downright boring!

Growing up around my kinkfols, there was never a shortage of good, descriptive phrases. "Eatin' high on the hog," was just one of many. As a kid, I thought they were probably talking about pork chops, because that's about as high on the hog as you can get. Later on, it dawned on me, they weren't necessarily eating hog, but just fancy, high-priced food. From what I was hearing, I'd rather have the pork chops.

Seems that the French folks like to eat "truffles," a little mushroom that grows just under the ground out in the forest. Some people in France make their living digging up truffles and sell them for a really high price. They even have a hog that's trained to find 'em.

Another fancy French delicacy is, "escargot." I might eat a truffle, but I've gotta' draw the line on the escargot. Just can't bring myself to eat snails; nope, not me! There's another high-dollar food I don't think I need... "caviar." Plain and simple, caviar translated to country talk is... fish eggs! We didn't even eat catfish eggs when I was a kid. Come to think about it; the high-society folks probably wouldn't have liked some of the "country" food that we all ate. For instance...brains and eggs scrambled together then fried; a good breakfast that'll give you a lot of "go power." And about once or twice a year, we'd have "caif fries." In the summertime, we would occasionally have "crawdada tails" and "frog legs," along with a good helping of "poke-salad." Those French folks just didn't know what they were missing!

MOBEETIE NEWS

By Melba Corcoran

Those working at the museum this week were Louise Hogan, Maurita Stribling, Suzanne Lohberger, Melba Corcoran, Gina Seitz, Joe VanZandt and Dale Corcoran. We got the Black History exhibit down and thinking about one to go in its place. We had several visitors this week. There were a lot Saturday that came over from the Wheeler tournament between games.

Melba Corcoran and Gina Seitz went to the games Friday. Gina was watching her great-nephew, Kyle, playing. Melba watched her grandson, Cage. Dale took her over for Cage's last game; my back had played out. Dale visited with Pauline Barnes and Joey Stone while I was at the game. Louise Hogan went to Pampa Friday and took her typewriter to be cleaned.

Dale and Melba went to Pampa Thursday and got supplies for the museum. I got to visit with Michael McLaughlin at Walmart. It was the first time I had seen him in over a year. It was nice to see him. I also visited with Lee and Melba Brown.

The shower for Sonya Tabor and her expected girl was held Sunday at the First Baptist Church. I was sick and didn't get to go. Hope all went well.

Tim and Sallie Adcock went to Houston with Jayton Childress. Good luck all who went.

Maurita Stribling is taking care of their dog while they were gone. Remember that the OMTA will hold their regular meeting Thursday night at the Visitors Center at 6:30 P.M.

"Happy Birthday" on the 13th for Willene Burke, the 15th for Tim Adcock and on the 17th for Ryan Vandever.

March 11 is the Green Social at the Baptist Church at 7 p.m.
 March 14 is the Prayer Breakfast at the Cowboy Oasis at 7 a.m.

HEADED FOR MUSEUM: The horsetank located at 700 South Canadian was moved from the courthouse square in the twenties. It was filled with water and stocked with goldfish and lily pads, which were a fascination for many youngsters over the years. Wednesday afternoon it was picked up in and moved to its new home at the Wheeler Historical Museum at 105 South Alan L. Bean Blvd. It will be plumbed and filled with lily pads and goldfish.

COUNTRY NEWS

By Verna Fillingim

Sorry to hear of the death of niece, Connie May, who passed away recently. Also sorry to hear that sister-in-law Cornelia Lehman, of McGregor, Minnesota, has been in the hospital. Such a sweet and special lady. Remember her in your prayers.

Tuesday night, Feb. 28, was a good crowd of Wheeler Nursing and residents and friends for a great time of music and fellowship. Some singing were Winnie Gilmer, Sheryl Lane, Bob Hink, Jim Jackson and others. Some playing pretty music were Gene Keelin, Robert Jones, Ada Lou Lester and maybe others.

Thanks for coming! Very enjoyable. Come again!
Sue Chandler took Peggy Chandler to Wheeler Hospital and Sue's dad to Amarillo hospital. Lots of sickness.

Happy 90th birthday, Roma Brown. You are still pretty frisky. Also singing some with other residents and others. Thanks, Charlie Finsterwald and others. Bee Ogle's mother-in-law is a resident of the Wheeler Care Center. Sweet lady.

Coming to Wheeler Care Center for Sunday afternoon church was a group from Wheeler Baptist church and included Leona Coates, playing the piano.

Shea Weatherly enjoyed receiving one of his favorite cakes (red velvet) made by his Grandmother Mary Weatherly for his birthday as well as some homemade chocolate chip cookies from Bridget's mom Sue. The family enjoyed a wonderful birthday dinner and desserts made for his birthday.

On Weds. Sue Chandler drove her dad John Cook to Amarillo to get some test done at the V. A. Hospital. After the appointments they meet Sharon Cook to eat lunch at Cheddar's. Later they went by to visit Jana Bartholomew for a short visit before returning home.

Was told Charlene Rainey, Les & Shronda Seamster are safe after the tornado that hit the Branson Missouri area on Feb. 29. Pray for all those people that received damage from the tornado there and all around, as we all know from past experience from those destructive tornado's it is not a fun thing to go through or be in. For those who would like to call or write Charlene Rainey she is at Tablerock Healthcare; 276 Fountain Lane - Room 302; Kimberling City, MO 65686 or you

OUTSTANDING MAN: Erron Mercer was recognized at the Wheeler Chamber of Commerce Banquet Saturday, February 25, 2012, as the "Man of the Year" for 2011. Erron is the pastor of Cornerstone Church, a position he has held since the summer of 2002. Erron was the youth pastor at a Borger church and came to Wheeler to "fill-in" before deciding to move to Wheeler. In addition to his work with the church, he oversees the operation of Cornerstone Academy and 180 Youth Center. He helped with the organization of Cornerstone Outreach and oversees its operation. Cornerstone Outreach helps area families make ends meet through help with their food costs. In 2010, 392 families—2428 individuals—were delivered 43,811 lbs. of food; in 2011, 872 families—380 individuals—were delivered 85,181 lbs. of food. Erron's immediate family consists of his wife, Sonia, and one-year-old son, Blaze. Erron's theology is simple, "... God good... devil bad". Erron was presented his award by Keith Rose. A church member's comment was: "I know that the pastor would give credit to God for what has taken place, but I also know that without the vision put in his heart by God, none of it would be possible." We are indeed blessed to have Erron and his family as a part of the Wheeler community. (Editor's Note: I put the wrong name for the presenter in last weeks paper.)

CITIZENS OF TOMORROW (1962) Wesley Hathaway is the 2-year-old son of Dale and Kim Hathaway. Grandparents are Jim and Kay Hamilton and Paul and Clarice Hathaway of Mobeetie

Parkview Artery Button Batteries

The coin-sized batteries children swallow come from many devices, most often mini remote controls. Other places you may find them are: singing greeting cards, watches, bathroom scales, and flameless candles.

Did You Know

Button batteries are dangerous to kids, especially toddlers, and cause severe injuries when swallowed.

- It takes as little as two hours to cause severe burns once a coin-sized lithium battery has been swallowed.
- Once burning begins, damage can continue even after the battery is removed.
- Kids can still breathe with the coin lithium battery in their throat. It may not be obvious at first that something is wrong.
- Repairing the damage is painful and can require multiple surgeries.
- The batteries can become lodged in the throat, burning the esophagus.
- In 2010 alone, more than 3,400 swallowing cases were reported in the U.S. 19 children sustained life-threatening or debilitating injuries and others died!

Keeping Your Kids Safe

Electronic devices are part of daily life. It only takes a second for your toddler to get hold of one and put in his mouth. Here are a few easy tips for you to follow to protect your kids from button battery-related injuries.

- Top Tips for Battery Safety
- SEARCH your home, and any place your child goes, for gadgets that may contain coin lithium batteries.
- SECURE coin lithium battery-controlled devices out of sight and reach of children and keep loose batteries locked away.
- SHARE this life-saving information with caregivers, friends, family members and sitters.

In Case of Emergency

Keeping these batteries out of reach and secured in devices is key, but if a child swallows a battery, parents and caregivers should follow these steps:

NoneGo to the emergency room immediately. Tell doctors and nurses that your child may have swallowed a battery. If possible, provide the medical team with the identification number found on the battery's package.

NoneDo not let the child eat or drink until a chest x-ray can determine if a battery is present.

NoneDo not induce vomiting.

NoneCall the National Battery Ingestion Hotline at 202-625-3333 for additional treatment information.

National Sleep Awareness Week

National Sleep Awareness Week is all about raising the issues concerned with sleep and asking you to make sure you're getting enough of it.

Do you know how much sleep you should be getting? 9 hours is usually enough for adults but depending on the age and person, more or less time might be needed. The older you get, the less sleep you tend to need and vice versa.

Unfortunately, things like snoring problems, insomnia, and other issues can disrupt our sleep. A disrupted sleep often leads to feeling unalert the next day, and stops us from carrying out our important daily tasks. A more dangerous example would be drivers that have fallen asleep at the wheel. Not the best time for a nap!

So what can you do to help in March during National Sleep Awareness Week? Well, first of all and most importantly, make sure you're getting a good enough sleep! Don't drink caffeine, no exercise at least 3 hours before bed, and winding down with a nice bath will all lead the way to a good night's sleep!

The amount of sleep you need depends on various factors — especially your age. Consider these general guidelines for different age groups:

Age group	Recommended amount of sleep
Infants	14 to 15 hours
Toddlers	12 to 14 hours
School-age children	10 to 11 hours
Adults	7 to 9 hours

In addition to age, other factors may affect how many hours of sleep you need. For example:

- ∑ Pregnancy Changes in a woman's body during pregnancy can increase the need for sleep.
- ∑ Aging Older adults need about the same amount of sleep as younger adults. As you get older, however, your sleeping patterns may change. Older adults tend to sleep more lightly and awaken more frequently during the night than do younger adults. This may create a need for or tendency toward daytime napping.
- ∑ Previous sleep deprivation If you're sleep deprived, the amount of sleep you need increases.
- ∑ Sleep disruption Sleep is frequently interrupted or cut short, you're not getting quality sleep — and the quality of your sleep is just as important as the quantity.

Although some people claim to feel rested on just a few hours of sleep a night, research shows that people who sleep so little over many nights don't perform as well on complex mental tasks as do people who get closer to seven hours of sleep a night. Additionally, studies among adults show that getting much more or less than seven hours of sleep a night is associated with a higher mortality rate.

If you experience frequent daytime sleepiness, even after increasing the amount of quality sleep you get, consult your doctor. He or she may be able to identify any underlying causes — and help you get a better night's sleep.

 The fire Tuesday morning was at the Ware Chevrolet. No one was injured and very little damage was reported. The fire started when a heater ignited some gasoline being used to clean the engine on W. L. Jolly's car.

Wheeler Dollar Days Next Week
 Wheeler's monthly trades days featuring "Dollar Day" bargains are set for next week, Friday and Saturday, February 2 and 3.

Shoppers and homemakers in the Big Panhandle area will find money-saving bargains listed in the Times next week. Some articles and services will be priced at sub-dollar bargains and other merchandise will be advertised as real, old-time shopping bargains.

Wheeler merchants and service firms will go together to offer town-wide savings on practically everything used for the home, farm, or family table.

A Couple of Champs: If steers were much good at grinning, they'd mirror the delight of their owners. The Angus steer, shown by Terry McFarland, left, was reserve champion of the Junior Steer Show in Amarillo Monday, and the Hereford, shown by Richard Satirist, won the grand champion banner. Both boys are from Wheeler.

The 2012 4-H design competition was held during the 4-H Fashion Show. The 4-H Fashion Storyboard is an industry-inspired method of displaying original designs. The storyboard "tells the story" of the designer's idea. The storyboard includes original illustrations and flats, as well as, additional materials (such as photos from the internet or magazines, paper, fabric swatches, patterns, etc.) that have influenced the unique design. Eight original designs that range from clothing to pet wear were entered in the Wheeler County Fashion Story Board contest. The winners in the wearable category were Casey Holland, Coletta Holland and Cheyenne Powell. Audra Weatherly and Leslie Alvarado were the winners in the pet clothing category. Paloma Contreras was winner in the accessory category. Kimberly Westbrook was the winner in the jewelry category. Cierra Alvarado was the winner in the non-wearable category. All these designs were based on the theme "Around the World". All these young designers will be advancing to the district competition on April 21 in Amarillo.

If you are interested in the 4-H youth organization please contact the Wheeler County Extension Office at 806-826-5243. The Wheeler County 4-H program is under the sponsorship of Texas AgriLife Extension. Educational programs of the Texas AgriLife Extension Service are open to all people without regard to race, color, sex, disability, religion, age, or national origin. The Texas A&M University system, U.S. Department of Agriculture, and the County Commissioners Courts of Texas Cooperating.
