ANNUAL RODEO SLATED JULY 15 16 17

The old west will come to life in Wheeler at the 16th Annual Rodeo as it gets underway Thursday, July 15 and continues through July 17. The parade is slated for 4:00 P.M., followed by the annual free barbecue. Rodeo fans in Wheeler will have their first opportunity to use and enjoy the all-new Rodeo arena now being completed. The number of riding clubs, wagons or commercial floats to appear in the parade is not complete. Stanley Baker is parade Marshal for 1971. It will be time to eat at 6:00 P.M. Thursday with the crowd gathering at the rodeo grounds. About 1500 people are expected to be holding out their plates as they go through the chow line for barbecue beef, sauce, brown beans, onions, pickles, peaches, bread and ice tea or coffee. 1400 pounds of beef was served last year to the 1450 people attending the first performance of the Wheeler Rodeo. Six rodeo events are slated for the three nights of rodeo. The first event of the event of the evenings will be Bareback bronc riding. Other events are Calf Roping, girls barrel race, bull dogging, bull riding, other events are calf roping, girls barrel race, bull dogging, bull riding, heeling and heeling. The evening events begin each evening at 8:30 P.M. The books will open for entries at 1:00 p.m. July 13. Rodeo headquarters will be Farmers Supply—phone 826-3215. Books close 12 noon July 15.

Producing the rodeo again this year will be Charlie Plummer, Jr. of Elk City, Okla. Rose Plummer will serve as secretary and Hack Webb will be the announcer for the three nights of performances. The collecting of donations for the barbecue will begin Wednesday. Heading the committee for the fund drive is Larry Finsterwald. The barbecue is served each year by the Wheeler Chamber of Commerce. Riding club officers are: Gerald Johnson, president; Darrell Moore, vice president; and Terry McCasland, secretary. Serving on the board of directors are Charles Moore, Larry Finsterwald, Charlie Brown, Fat Jones and Delbert Thomas.

NAVY TO CACHET POLLO 15 COVERS

United States Forces of the U.S. Navy provide commemorative and cancellation service for the upcoming Apollo 15 manned flight to moon. Satellite coordinators reported for the Atlantic Pacific Fleet Recovery Task Force 14 (TF 14) will receive all covers and make distribution to assigned recovery ships. To permit adequate time for handling of covers, collectors should send STAMPED, SELF-ADDRESSED envelopes to appropriate coordinator at least three weeks prior to the scheduled launch date. U.S. postal units will undergo a change July 1. Collectors are urged to check with their local office regarding applicable rates. For the scheduled July 15 launch of Apollo 15, covers should be received prior to 2 July in accordance with U.S. State Department regulations, only covers submitted by post (postage) of other countries or the United Nations cannot be used. CASH, MONEY ORDERS OR CHECKS IN LIEU OF POSTAGE CANNOT BE ACCEPTED. It is requested that collectors furnish standard size covers, 3 5/8 inches by 6 1/2 inches, with a filler inserted to simplify handling. Due to the popularity of the cancellation service and the limited postal facilities on recovery ships, each recovery force coordinator will ACCEPT A MAXIMUM OF TWO (2) COVERS FROM AN INDIVIDUAL COLLECTOR. When more than the authorized number of covers is received, they will be returned unprocessed. Covers received too late for distribution to Recovery Force units will also be returned unprocessed. Addresses for the Atlantic and Pacific area coordinators are: Apollo 15 Covers, Task Force 140, Naval Air Station, Norfolk, Va. 23411 and Chief-in-Charge (Apollo 15), Task Force 130, Navy Terminal Post Office, Fleet Post Office, San Francisco, Calif. 96610

IN GATE ONE: The scene of the activities for Thursday, Friday and Saturday, July 15, 16, 17 will be the new All-Steel Rodeo Arena located just south of the old arena. Work on the new arena has been underway for the past three months and it is nearing completion. The rodeo weekend will be the parade Thursday afternoon followed by the free barbecue Thursday evening.

AUDITIONS "They Came From Spain"

The director for "They Came From Spain", the story of the march of the Conquistadores to the Texas plains, will hold auditions Sunday, July 18, 1971 at 1:00 P.M. The place will be the ballroom (Room 202) in the Activities Center, West Texas State University Campus, on the Spur road in Canyon, Texas. This will be for men only. Applicants will be asked to read some material which will be given them at the auditions to study for a few minutes. "They Came From Spain" will play in September and October, on Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays. Applicants must be available on these dates and for rehearsals from August 15 during late afternoons and evenings. Applicants will also be asked to participate in a screen test at 4:00 P.M. the same day. "They Came From Spain" is the story of the Conquistadores who came here many groups of Spaniards ranged the world in the 1500's—explored more than any other men from any other nation. They walked farther, rode harder, dared more, and opened up a new continent to the world. The Indians who had never seen horses thought a rider and a horse were one beast—with one head and four legs, and the Indians described the "guns of the Spaniards as "talking sticks which spoke and made animals fall dead". They also described the walking soldiers as "The men with shining dishes on their heads". After two years of struggle, marching from Compastela, Mexico, Coronado led his group of Spaniards into the Palo Duro Canyon where "They Came From Spain" will play. Their stay here was the turning point of the journey for most of the army, a place of rest and refuge after their wanderings over the plains - the endless sea of grass. These were the Conquistadores. There also will be performances on September 4, and October 10. The show starts at 8:15 P.M. CDT. Prices are Adults $2.50 and children $1.00. For tickets and further information, write to "They Came From Spain", Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015 or call 806-655-2182. Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Bennett and daughter of New Hampshire are spending this week with her parents Mr. and Mrs. T.A. Treadwell. Others visiting Sunday were Mrs. Lorene Jenkins of Wellington and Mr. and Mrs. Venable of Pampa. Mr. O.W. Pendleton Jr. and sons Mark and Nick of Grand Prairie visited Sunday night and Monday with his parents Mr. and Mrs. O.W. Pendleton Sr. Mrs. Maude Chaffin of Alvin is here visiting her sister and husband Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Pettit.

I attended the Alumni Reunion at Hinton, Oklahoma, Saturday and enjoyed it very much. It took a long time to recognize some of the faces I hadn't seen in 14 years. The one thing wrong with the reunion has been reportedly wrong with the Wheeler Ex Student-Teacher Reunion. Only a small percent of the local alumni attended the reunion. The bi-annual Wheeler reunion is slated for Saturday, August 21. Mark this date on the calendar and be at the reunion. The reunion officers have completed their part of the souvenir catalogue and it is in the process of being prepared for printing.

Briscoe Observes Postal Serv. Day

The United States postal service day was observed July 1st 1971 with open house at the Briscoe post office. The lobby and windows were decorated with official posters observing the first day postal service. A beautiful cake was baked and decorated with a map outline of the United States, Alaska and Hawaii Island and Mr. Zip Code by Rural Route Coustomer Laverne Helton. Cake and punch were served by D'anne Davis and Tammy Tipps. Suzanne Lohberger registered over 60 postal customers.

SOIL CONSERVATION GRASS FOR POLLUTION CONTROL

Grass is one of the most effective pollution control and air conditioning devices that nature has to offer. "One acre of grass releases about 2,400 gallons of water on a summer day through evaporation and transpiration," according to Bill Brooks, head of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service office in Wheeler. "This much evaporation equals the cooling effect of a 70-ton air conditioner," Brooks continued. "And grass is ideal for erosion control, beautification, and animal forage." Brooks said grasses vary widely within individual species. There may be dozens of strains of side-otting grama, for example, growing within an area of only a few counties. These variations are caused by differences in climate, soils, elevation and other factors. SCS conducts a constant search for superior strains of grasses and other plants, Brooks said. "What we're looking for are strains of grasses that will help solve some specific environmental problems," Brooks explained. "In Texas we need grasses that will thrive on several droughty soils; cool season plants that will extend the grazing season; and plants that will provide forage for livestock while also providing better food and cover for more kinds of wildlife." Brooks added that conservationists also need salt tolerant grasses that will grow on a wide variety of problem sites, forbs and woody plants useful to wildlife and livestock that can be planted in range seeding mixtures, and water-tolerant plants that will curb wave action on earthen dams. To help coordinate the search for better plants, SCS operates 20 plant materials centers in the United States. One is located in Texas at Knox City. Scientists at these centers grow and evaluate plants from all over the world to help find strains that will solve specific problems. The most recent grass selected and put into use by SCS plant materials work in Texas is Selection 75 Kleingrass. Released in 1968, the plant is a leafy, highly palatable grass that is now being grown widely in Central Texas. It is used mostly in tame pastures where high rates of fertilizer are used.

PAT'S PARAGRAPHS

By Pat Palmer, CHDA

Hope you had an enjoyable 4th! I've noticed lots of people are taking their vacations. Can't wait till August and the time for mine!

As you noticed in last week's paper, we had to change the date of our 4-H Talent night. It will now be held during the last week of July. So, watch for the date, and don't miss it! The show will feature talent from here in Wheeler County.

Feeling run down and tired lately—like you just don't have any energy?

Doris Myers, home management specialist at A&M, sends me these suggestions, for me to share with you, on how to beat the summer blahs!

Get plenty of rest and sleep.

Stop racing around. Make a realistic schedule of errands and include rest periods.

Check your surroundings for "irritators", such as excessive noise, poor lighting or inadequate ventilation that makes you feel tired.

Try a change of pace—do something different during the day.

When you start to feel irritable, take a breather. Find a quiet corner and put your feet up.

If your daily activities are sedentary, try some exercise such as walking.

And if you are constantly tired, week after week, see your doctor for a check-up. Most people suffer from fatigue at one time or another. Mrs. Myers points out, but don't let it get you down. Remember, there are two kinds of fatigue—emotional and physical, and both can put a damper on summer fun if not checked.

Who's mouth hasn't watered at the unmistakable aroma of juicy burgers being cooked over glowing coals out in the open?

But, do you know if the hamburger is safe to eat? With warm weather and the exodus outdoors, the potential danger of food poisoning accompanies every outdoor meal, be it a backyard picnic or a camping cookout, says USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service.

Germs capable of causing severe gastrointestinal upsets thrive in perishable foods which have not been properly or adequately refrigerated. Common sense and careful handling can prevent a disaster.

Cold foods should be kept cold—below 40 degrees F.—and hot foods should be kept hot—above 140 degrees F. Bacteria and micro-organisms which produce harmful toxins grow most rapidly in food that is just warm, not hot or cold.

This moderate temperature is ideal for the rapid reproduction of Salmonellae, Perfringens, Staphylococcus, and Botulinum bacteria. Most of the disease-carrying organisms can be eliminated by keeping foods at recommended temperature.

Bacteria grow best in non-acidic foods like meats, fish, poultry items, eggs, dairy products, and foods made from them. Particularly susceptible are recipes of finely chopped foods made from them.

finely chopped foods such as chicken or potato salad, meat or egg sandwich fillings, casseroles, and cream, custard, or meringue pies.

All of these foods must be kept very cold until eating time, and that does not mean sticking them in a box or basket and packing them in the trunk of the car.

There are inexpensive ways to keep foods cold—properly packed in an ice chest or in dry ice packs. Empty milk cartons, coffee cans or other containers with tight-fitting lids can be filled with water and frozen for use in ice chest; a plastic bag filled with ice cubes placed in a sturdy container will cool foods and the cubes can be used at campsite. Cubes, loose or in plastic bags, and ice in cartons should be distributed evenly throughout the cooler.

inexpensive insulated coolers can be purchased, or a simple cooler-carrier can be made out of two cardboard boxes. One should be smaller than the other, with a lid. Put at least a half inch thickness of newspapers on the bottom of the larger box and set the smaller one inside. Line newspapers between the sides of the two boxes. Put in chilled food and ice, then close the small box lid. Keep all coolers out of direct sunlight!

It is so much easier to take the precautions before you find out how the bacteria can affect the potato salad or the deviled eggs! Food poisoning is not funny.

There are about 20,000 cases probably exceeds two million. The very young and the elderly are more susceptible because of their lower resistance.

Both staphylococcal poisoning, known as "Staph", and perfringens poisoning cause vomiting, diarrhea and acute stomach cramps, but may be prevented by correct food handling.

Botulism, the rarest type of food poisoning in the United States, is also the deadliest.

It is a spore-forming bacteria that produces a deadly toxin, especially in home canned goods, and which can also be produced in low-acid foods left too long in the refrigerator or improperly refrigerated. The organism causes progressive respiratory paralysis.

Make your picnics and cookouts this summer free from all food poisoning worries by using common sense in preparing foods. Keep your hands and working area clean, keep insects off of the food, and clean up the area after you are through. Garbage and litter attract disease, too.

Purchase a reliable cooler if your family likes to picnic. Ice is inexpensive and an extremely worthwhile investment when you realize your family's health is at stake.

Obtain a copy of "Keep Food Safe to Eat." It's free by writing to the Office of Information, U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250. Ask for Home and Garden Bulletin #162.

And above all, have a perfectly pleasant picnic season!

Here's a fresh look at ice cream in a pie shell, great for a refreshing finale to a summer meal. Make a Minted Black Bottom Pie this week; you'll repeat it often all summer long. The black bottom is a layer of chocolate rich and fudgy, blended with sugar and butter. This is an easy, elegant-looking dessert that simple enough for family meals, fancy enough for guests.

BLACK BOTTOM PIE A LA MODE
1 baked pie shell, 9 inch 2 tablespoons butter 1 tablespoon cornstarch 1 cup milk
3 pints peppermint ice cream 2 squares (2 oz.) unsweetened chocolate ½ cup sugar dash of salt ½ teaspoon vanilla

In a saucepan over very low heat, melt chocolate and butter. Stir in sugar, cornstarch and salt; gradually add milk. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thickened; cook 2 additional minutes. Add vanilla. Pour ½ cup chocolate mixture into pie shell, coating sides and bottom. Freeze.

Spoon ½ pints ice cream into shell; drizzle ½ of remaining chocolate over ice cream.
Freeze. Spoon remaining ½ pints of ice cream into the shell; pour remaining chocolate over the top. Freeze.
Chopped nuts may be sprinkled over the top of the pie, if desired. Makes 8-10 servings.

GRILLED CHICKEN WITH LEMON BUTTER will please the whole family so make plenty.

Split two broiler-fryers (1½-2 pounds each) down the back. You can also buy them already cut this way. Brush chicken with lemon butter made by melting a stick of butter or margarine and adding juice of one lemon, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon garlic salt and 1½ teaspoons paprika. Place on grill about 3 to 5 inches from heat. Cook, turning occasionally and basting with butter sauce, about 1 hour or until tender.

To check doneness of meat, insert a sharp pointed knife near the center and observe the inner color. Serve chicken with pleasure!

SOIL CONSERVATION Upstream Flood Prevention Dam

Temple. The 1,500th upstream flood prevention dam to be built in Texas was contracted for construction this week, reports State Conservationist Clyde W.
Graham of the USDA Soil Conservation Service.

East Fork Construction Company of Seagoville was low bidder for the contract.

The dam is Site No 13 in the Hickory Creek watershed near Denton. The Hickory Creek project will provide flood prevention and recreation for the City of Denton while protecting crop-land, roads, bridges and other property in the watershed. The dam will be the sixth in a series of 16 to be built in the watershed.

The project, including conservation land treatment in the watershed, is expected to keep 58,000 tons of sediment out of Garza-Little Elm Reservoir each year when completed. Garza-Little Elm serves as a water supply for Denton, Dallas and other cities in North Texas.

"The 1,500th dam marks another milestone in the watershed approach to resource management in Texas," Graham said. "Upstream watershed projects have vast environmental benefits; they not only cut flood damages but they also reduce erosion and sediment damage. And sediment is still our state's biggest pollutant. It fills lakes, streams and harbors; it kills fish and ruins their spawning grounds."

Graham said watershed lakes also provide recreation areas while creating new fish and wildlife habitat.
The Hickory Creek project includes two lakes planned above the City of Denton which will supplement the city's long range recreation and flood control program.

The city is buying land around the proposed lakes which will be converted into a 327-acre regional park.

The city is working with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department in developing the park.

The creek below the park area runs through Denton and has a long history of flooding. The city has widened and concrete lined part of the creek to reduce flooding. The city has widened and concrete lined part of the creek to reduce flooding. However rapid urban growth has intensified runoff, making the channel capacity inadequate. Massive expansion of the creek channel would be needed without the two upstream watershed lakes.

Jim White, City Manager for the City of Denton, says the Hickory Creek project will save the city several million dollars. Without the watershed project, he says engineering consultants estimate it would cost the city $17 million to widen and concrete line the channel sufficiently to provide adequate flood protection.

"We're not only saving money through the watershed project," he pointed out, "but we'll also have a beautiful regional park with two watershed lakes. On top of that, the project will reduce flooding, erosion, and sediment damage which will benefit our city as well as the entire Trinity basin."

State Conservationist Graham said some 2,200 upstream watershed lakes have been planned in Texas in 118 watershed projects now in operation. The projects usually include a combination of stepped up soil and water conservation work in the watershed plus a series of dams to retard floodwater during heavy rains. Sediment storage space is provided in reservoir areas which form small lakes averaging 15 to 25 acres in size.

Other measures which can be included in upstream watershed projects include treating critically gullies areas, municipal water supply storage space, floodwater diversions, and cleaning out sediment-choked stream channels.

Sponsors of watershed projects secure all land, easements and rights-of-way needed for construction at no cost to the federal government. Sponsors also maintain completed projects. The Soil Conservation Service provides planning and installation services and administers construction funds appropriated by Congress.

Sponsors of the Hickory Creek project include the City of Denton, the Denton County Commissioners Court, and the Denton-Wise Soil and Water Conservation District.
