4-Vehicle Accident Near Sweetwater On 152 Two Transported For Treatment; Both Listed As Stable

CWE CHAT WITH EDITOR
By Louis C. Stas

At the time this is being written, we are still preparing for the 4th of July Celebration.

— cwe —

The paper has to be printed on Tuesday and put in the mail on Thursday morning.

— cwe —

Pictures and reports on the activities of the fourth will be in next week's paper.

— cwe —

Paul Arganbright was out early Tuesday morning getting the streets swept. Excellent job, Paul.

— cwe —

I have pictures of some of the projects underway around town. I am sure there are more.

— cwe —

The most work underway is replacing the roofs damaged by the recent hailstorm. I could not see damage at the house, but it was damaged.

— cwe —

Aren't these computers wonderful? I keep getting these little red, green or blue lines under words or phrases. You go up to tools and it tells you what is wrong with your spelling, grammar or phrasing. I know, I do not use it often enough.

— cwe —

The heat continues and we need rain. I have been mowing the lawn each week, but I can skip this week, as the lawn is turning yellow.

— cwe —

The influx of relatives is expected to begin this afternoon and I still have the ice cream to make. That's the project for this afternoon.

— cwe —

Cards were not played Monday evening. We were getting ready for company to arrive. The Fishers, Tom and Melinda, arrived Monday afternoon and help get ready for the rest of the relatives to arrive.

— cwe —

Rhonda was telling us of something that happened in the past; she referred to it as “back before I married this family”.

STORM REPORT

As Reported by...
Stormie Meriwether,
Second Grade Student

Dear Friends, One day we were driving down the street to my lake house in Oklahoma City. You can't believe it! Right by the street it was the most beautiful doll house at the garage sale. I always wanted a doll house. My dad stopped the car. Mom and I went to see how much for the doll house. It was too much. I very wanted that doll house. It was two story with wooden shingles and white walls with beautiful windows and green shutters. It was so perfect. I told the man how much money I had and he said, "It's a very special doll house and I think you would really like it. OK." I was so happy! Then his mother came out to see me. She told me she was very happy for a girl to get the doll house. She made it all herself. Now I can save my money and buy furniture for my doll house. It will be wonderful and I want my friends to come play with me.

Now it's time for The Fourth of July! My Big Family is coming to my ranch house and I am so excited! “Sissy” and Tom are here.

We read books and talked all day. Jaeden and Seth and I can be in the parade. They can ride in Seth's pickup, but I will ride my bike. I don't know if we can do a turtle race. I never see a turtle. It will be a great time and we can eat a lot of food and Pop will make ice cream. That's it.

I lost a good friend in the death of Nancy Shelton. We had lots of good times when our kids were younger. Her funeral was Friday at the Baptist Church and she was buried in Mobeetie Cemetery. It was nice to see Teresa Shelton and Cindy Lawrence; it had been quite a few years. Our sympathy goes out to all the family.

Our sympathy goes out to the family of Lillian Shaw Chester. She was the sister of Virginia Ridgway and the mother-in-law of Mary Johnston Chester. Remember that family. She will be buried Monday in Pampa.

Our sympathy goes out to the family of Jamey Lester. She was Tyler's mother. She was buried in Mobeetie on Saturday.

Margie Robert Keets was buried Friday in Mobeetie. She died in 1996 and was cremated. They buried her ashes here. She had a tombstone already here. She had died in Georgia and the ashes had been in Washington state. Her granddaughter, Suzanna Clements, bought her ashes and buried them. Margie was a sister of Bessie Seitz.

The SCA group was at the museum over the weekend. I enjoyed going over Saturday night and visiting with them. When they called, they asked if I was able to come over and see them.

David and Melba Seitz went to the Republican Convention in Texas and spent a few days. They then left with a tour group and went to Tennessee to Dollywood and on to the Smokey Mountains into South Carolina. They had really good time.

Our sympathy goes out to the family of Mildred "Johnnie" Pearson. She was the mother of Richard Wallace.

OLD TIMES NOT FORGOTTEN

JACK RABBITS

I was wondering the other day, just how many husbands remember the first bad "flub-up" that they made after getting married. Along that same thought, I wonder how many wives remember when it occurred to them that their new husband was less than perfect. In my case, it only took about a month. I had gotten a summer job over at the carbon black plant, east of Shamrock. That's where my dad worked and it was the company's policy to let employee's sons work there during the summer. They always gave us the "really good jobs." In fact, they saved those jobs up all year, especially for us.

There was a young man working there that was from California. He seemed like a pretty good guy, so I started talking to him when we were on breaks. During one conversation, I asked him what he did for entertainment at night, after work. He said he didn't have much of anything to do, so I invited him over to eat supper with Shirley and me one night. He seemed real pleased to do just that. After supper, I asked him if he'd ever been rabbit hunting by the pickup or car headlights. To my surprise, he said he'd never been hunting at all, not in his whole life. I told him that my cousin, Darrell and another kid, shot twenty four jack rabbits one night, that were in my uncle Fat's alfalfa meadow. He seemed really interested in this, so I suggested that right after supper, we'd go down and see if we could find any in the alfalfa. If we happened to get any, we'd stop by and throw them over the fence for my dad's eat.

For some reason, hardly any rabbits were out that night and we only got one. On the way back to town, I started talking and forgot to go by my parents house to get rid of the jack rabbit that was laying in the car trunk. I took the guy to the place he was staying and then went on home myself.

About three days later when I got in from work, Shirley, asked me, "What in the world is that awful smell in our car?" I didn't have to think about it very long to guess what it was. When I raised the trunk lid... there laid a really "fat" jack rabbit; just about ready to explode! I put the lid down, took the rabbit outside of town and got rid of it.

Shirley and I spent the rest of the evening until way after dark, trying to get that smell out of our car. We washed and rinsed several times, even used "Pine-Sol." It took a long time for that smell to go away and to this day, neither one of us can stand the smell of Pine-Sol.

ParkviewArtery Keeping kids safe on the Fourth of July

With warm weather and family events, the Fourth of July can be a fun time with great memories. But before your family celebrates, make sure everyone knows about fireworks safety.

If not handled properly, fireworks can cause burn and eye injuries in kids and adults. The best way to protect your family is not to use any fireworks at home — period. Attend public fireworks displays, and leave the lighting to the professionals.

Lighting fireworks at home isn't even legal in many areas, so if you still want to use them, be sure to check with your local police department first. If they're legal where you live, keep these safety tips in mind:

Kids should never play with fireworks. Things like firecrackers, rockets, and sparklers are just too dangerous. If you give kids sparklers, make sure they keep them outside and away from the face, clothing, and hair. Sparklers can reach 1,800° Fahrenheit (982° Celsius) — hot enough to melt gold.

Buy only legal fireworks (legal fireworks have a label with the manufacturer's name and directions; illegal ones are unlabeled), and store them in a cool, dry place. Illegal fireworks usually go by the names M-80, M100, blockbuster, or quarter pounder. These explosives were banned in 1966, but still account for many fireworks injuries.

Never try to make your own fireworks. Always use fireworks outside and have a bucket of water and a hose nearby in case of accidents.

Steer clear of others — fireworks have been known to backfire or shoot off in the wrong direction. Never throw or point fireworks at someone, even in jest.

Don't have fireworks in your hand or have any part of your body over them while lighting. Wear some sort of eye protection, and avoid carrying fireworks in your pocket — the friction could set them off.

Point fireworks away from homes, and keep away from brush and leaves and flammable substances. The National Fire Protection Association estimates that local fire departments respond to more than 50,000 fires caused by fireworks each year.

Light one firework at a time (not in glass or metal containers), and never relight a dud.

Don't allow kids to pick up pieces of fireworks after an event. Some may still be ignited and can explode at any time.

Soak all fireworks in a bucket of water before throwing them in the trash can.

Think about your pet. Animals have sensitive ears and can be extremely frightened or stressed on the Fourth of July. Keep pets indoors to reduce the risk that they'll run loose or get injured.

If a child is injured by fireworks, immediately go to a doctor or hospital. If an eye injury occurs, don't allow your child to touch or rub it, as this may cause even more damage. Also, don't flush the eye out with water or attempt to put any ointment on it. Instead, cut out the bottom of a paper cup, place it around the eye, and immediately seek medical attention — your child's eyesight may depend on it. If it's a burn, remove clothing from the burned area and run cool, not cold, water over the burn (do not use ice). Call your doctor immediately.

Medcat
Fireworks are meant to be enjoyed, but you'll enjoy them much more knowing your family is safe. Take extra precautions this Fourth of July and your holiday will be a blast!

Cleaned out brown house with Dan. Clothes will be donated to Mission Arlington. Walker will be donated to the Nursing home. Dallas and Lindsey will be here next weekend and finish up cleaning out rest of stuff.

Thank you to all for your help! I loved the brown house but don't need that much space.

Love you all!
Sincere sympathy to family and friends of Nancy Shelton, 73, in her death. Funeral at Mobeette Baptist Church last Friday with burial at Mobeette Cemetery.

We will miss Nancy, a dear sweet lady, with many who loved her and a great family.

Sincere sympathy to family and friends of Mildred "Johnnie" Peairson in her death. We will miss this sweet lady here at Wheeler Care Center, but know that God has a better place for her.

Bob and Sue Stiles bought the brown house across the alley from Beth and Jim Alvey and across the street from Wheeler Care Center, where I used to live.

I hope they enjoy it as much as I did, I loved living there. The grandkids have been good to clean out and fix up. (I hope.) I hope all is well where ever you

Clean-Up Campaign Slated Next Week

A two-day clean-up campaign will be launched in Wheeler next Monday, and the Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the effort to free this city of any litter, asks the cooperation of every resident.

Watson Burgess has been appointed by Archie Hibler, chamber president, to lead the "Clean-Up Day" here. Burgess said the Wednesday Study Club also is to assist in the drive.

Residents are asked to clean up trash, tree limbs, etc., on Monday and pile the debris by their trash barrels. Trucks will be hired and donated on Tuesday to haul the trash away.

The drive is to be staged in both business and residential areas in the annual concentrated campaign to make Wheeler a cleaner place in which to live.

Severe Weather Hangs On In The Wheeler Area

Funnels Seen Aloft, Fall To Touch Ground
Tornado funnels continued to skip around Wheeler this week as rough weather hung on all across the Panhandle, but up to late Wednesday afternoon, no twister damage had been reported.

The weather was playing havoc with the farmers, however, with wind, rain and hail knocking out some crops and forcing many to prepare for re-planting.

Hail moved across the area late Tuesday, accompanied by high winds and driving rain and when the storm left, many fields of cotton and gardens were ruined.

Counterfeit Bills Are Found — In Pieces

The remains of several counterfeit $5 bills were discovered late Sunday, west of Wheeler, but their origin remained a mystery here today.

Sheriff Bus Dorman went to the scene after being notified of the find by officers in Miami. A passerby had seen the pieces of bills while driving along the highway and informed authorities at Miami.

Dorman picked up the pieces of the bills, which had been torn at least three times.

When completed, the plant will include facilities for raising hogs from birth to marketing under the most sanitary conditions.

Socialistic Trend Hit By Britt In Talk At Pampa

The best way to stop the present socialistic trend in the United States is for individual voters to select political candidates according to what they believe rather than because they are Democrats or Republicans, Tom Britt, Wheeler County rancher, declared before the Pampa Kiwanis Club last Friday.

Britt was guest speaker at the organization's luncheon and represented the Wheeler Kiwanis Club in presenting an inter-club program.

The well-known local rancher said neither the Democrats nor the Republicans can be blamed solely for the socialistic legislation that has been passed by Congress in recent years.

Fifth lap it was all R & R Motor Sports as car # 12 had caught up to the car #01 driven by Farley and car #42 driven by Gump and it was neck and neck or bumper to bumper as the three were side by side fighting out the win. Car # 42 took a spin on curve four and blow out his tire so he was out in the center and could only watch as Sister Jayton and brother Jarrett keep the peddle to the metal. Jayterbug swerved to miss car #42 on the spin and was catching up to car #01, then on curve two Sister took the lead and never looked back, taking a good lead Jayterbug took the checkered flag with Farley taking 2nd place, no love lost in racing, take it all, that's racing. There was no victory lap,
