

"They Give Their Lives—You Lend Your Money"

$703,000 Campaign To Be Launched Here Monday

The biggest war financing operation in history begins Monday—and Howard county is lined up to carry out its part.

Uncle Sam wants to borrow $13,000,000,000. He wants $703,000 of it from Howard county.

It's to be used to wage global war and keep this country steady economically. And it's an investment that means sure returns.

While the offensive is opened Monday throughout the land, workers in Big Spring will go forth to tell the story of what this nation expects from the citizens who stay at home.

ers will say that the treasury has offered to Americans a set of investments where citizens can lend their money—at interest—to help the men who are giving their lives at the front.

Convicted In Boston Fire

BOSTON, April 10 (AP)—Barnett Welansky, listed as owner of the Coconut Grove, was convicted tonight on 19 counts of manslaughter which resulted from a holocaust that took 490 lives at the night club last November 28.

At the same time a Suffolk county superior court jury which deliberated five hours acquitted James Welansky, whom the prosecution described as the acting manager of the club on the night of the fire, and Wine Steward Jacob Goldfine, who also were charged with 19 counts of manslaughter.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty separately on each count for Barnett Welansky and similarly acquitted the other two separately on each count.

Goldfine and James Welansky were immediately ordered discharged by Superior Judge Joseph L. Hurley.

The trial had lasted four weeks, during which 127 witnesses, many of whom were in the fire, testified and during which 154 exhibits, including scorched doors were admitted to evidence.

AID TO WOUNDED

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt said today that too few people realize how many war wounded are now in hospitals in this country and asked that plans be made for "making life more interesting" for the injured men back from the battle fronts.

The Big Spring Week

Most important development of the week here was a decision by city and county officials, to impose a quarantine on those infected with social diseases and who refuse to do anything about this. No doubt about it, this is a thing vitally affecting the health and welfare of the community.

Tied in with the quarantine was an agreement to establish a curfew for juveniles. There now appears some danger that this might be postponed to death. We do not think this curfew will cure our

Lower Points On Sausages

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—The Office of Price Administration today slashed the point value of sausage products and certain pork cuts by 14 to 50 per cent.

The lower point values become effective at midnight Sunday. The action, OPA said, resulted from the slow rate at which these perishable meat products have been moving through retail outlets.

Dry and semi-dry sausages such as hard salami, hard cervelat, pepperoni, soft salami, thuringer, and mortadella are not affected by the action.

One group—pork sausages, weiners, bologna, baked loaves and liver sausage—was reduced from seven point a pound to six a pound when no non-meat filler is added to the product.

Brits Keep Up Pounding Of Ruhr Valley

Duisberg Blasted, Rail Communications Slashed

LONDON, April 10 (AP)—British bombers, attacking in the industrial Ruhr valley of Germany for the second consecutive night, hammered the inland port of Duisburg and other targets last night and lighter planes continued the day-night offensive by slashing at German-used rail and waterway communications from Le Havre to Holland in daylight today.

Carrying out the daylight attacks at low level, RAF Spitfires, Typhoons and Mustangs damaged four locomotives, three supply trains, 18 tugs and barges, one trawler, one dredger and four oil storage tanks.

A large barge was set afire and sunk in Holland and a fighter-bomber dropped explosives on a factory at Yvetot, near Le Havre. The daylight sweeps cost the RAF five planes.

Eight bombers failed to return from last night's operations as compared to the 31 lost in the previous night's Ruhr attack which the air ministry described as "heavy" but failed to identify the specific targets.

A few hours after the night raiders returned to their bases from the 58th raid of the war on Duisburg, the air ministry disclosed that the great Krupp armament works, one of the mainstays of Hitler's war machine, are standing almost completely idle as the result of attacks on Essen in which 900 to 1,000 tons of explosives were dropped.

While the big bombers carried out the third night raid of the month against the rich last night, other RAF planes attacked enemy shipping off the Norwegian coast and torpedoed one tanker. Two of the planes were reported missing.

Duisburg, located only about 12 miles west of Essen, also has many important war plants and is one of the Ruhr's biggest railway junctions. It was raided last on the night of March 28.

Rommel's Retreat Longest In History

By The Associated Press

Marshal Rommel's retreat from Egypt, which has covered some 1,600 miles and is lengthening rapidly, already has exceeded in distance the other famous retreats of history.

No other withdrawal of an organized military force—as distinguished from raiding bands of ancient and medieval history—with an enemy constantly at its heels can compare with the feat, if it is considered such, of the German leader.

Two famous retreats which invite comparison with the axis' flight halfway across Africa are Napoleon's withdrawal from Moscow in 1812 and the retreat of the ten thousand Greeks under Xenophon in 401 B. C.

Childless Married Men Due To Be Put In Class 1-A

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—Nearly 3,000,000 childless married men in the 28 to 37 year old brackets tonight apparently faced a draft reclassification making them available for induction as soon as their order numbers are reached.

Approximately that number are in the 3-A and 3-B classifications, from which reliable but unofficial sources said they would be removed en masse to the 1-A group in the reclassification shuffle expected Monday.

NAZIS CHASED BEYOND SFAX UNDER UNCEASING ATTACK

Flight To The North—Axis forces were on the run so fast in Tunisia that maps made even Friday wouldn't be too accurate for Saturday.

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—Moving to assure high production of meat, dairy and poultry products and carry out the administration's anti-inflation program, Food Administrator Chester G. Davis announced today a program designed to balance prices and supplies of food with prices and supplies of livestock.

The program provides for importation of feed grains from Canada and Australia to supplement dwindling domestic reserves, and an increase in corn prices in the Midwest to start "frozen" stocks of that grain moving to market again.

Davis said the program will cause no increase in the cost of living. Declaring that livestock prices, particularly hogs, are too high in relation to OPA ceilings on meat, the administrator said ceilings will be placed on hogs if existing measures do not soon bring about a reduction in prices.

Hogs have been bringing close to $16 per hundred pounds on the Chicago market. That price, Davis said, is between $1 and $1.50 above levels reflected by current OPA pork ceilings, a condition which has caught some packers in a financial "squeeze."

Siding with vets expressed previously by Secretary of Agriculture Wickard, the food administrator said the meat rationing program, uniform ceiling prices on meats and measures designed to stamp out the black markets are expected to lower prices of all classes of livestock—and hence man livestock ceilings unnecessary—as they become further effective.

The livestock feed program was attacked from two angles. Needs of livestock feeders outside the surplus corn producing area of the mid-west will be met largely through sale of government-owned wheat and importation of wheat, oats and other grains from Canada and Australia.

Although no details of the import program were disclosed, the government itself apparently will handle all the transactions and make the feed available to farmers at prices in line with current OPA ceiling prices on milk and poultry products and the price at which ceilings would be set on hogs if such action is finally taken.

For the most part, feed used outside the corn belt goes into the production of milk, poultry and eggs. By supplying other areas from (See GOVT. POLICY, P. 8, C. 3)

Phone Unionist Serves A Warning

NEW YORK, April 10 (AP)—John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, declared today that President Roosevelt's "hold the line" order is a false and unsound way to achieve any reasonable control of inflation.

"The order comes belatedly after the fact of the arrival of inflation to a substantial degree—inflation represented by increased cost of food stuffs and living essentials and definite scarcities of many commodities due to war demands," Lewis said at a general press conference.

Nebraska Area Hard Hit By Flood Water

Council Bluffs And Omaha Threatened With Disaster

OMAHA, April 10 (AP)—The flood swollen Missouri river, its muddy waters already spilling over thousands of Nebraska and Iowa farm acres, threatened the metropolitan areas of Omaha and Council Bluffs tonight with the biggest destruction wrought by flood since the disaster of 1881.

To meet that threat hundreds of workers strengthened dikes, Red Cross and Salvation Army officials prepared to care for evacuated families, and civilian defense workers stood by to answer any emergency calls to duty.

In addition home guards from Nebraska and Iowa, called out by their governors, patrolled danger areas and assisted local law enforcement agencies.

Army engineers teamed with officials up and down the river, sending barges to evacuate livestock stranded on farms, and moving families from the stricken areas.

Crest of the flood is moving down from Sioux City, Ia., where a dike in a residential section broke today, inundating dozens of homes.

The river is expected to reach a stage of more than 23 feet in Omaha Tuesday.

Approximately 20 families have been moved from flooded lowland area in east Omaha, and officials prepared to ask for evacuation of 100 more as a safety measure.

At Kansas City the weather bureau warned lowland residents between there and St. Joseph to begin removal immediately of portable goods and to be prepared for evacuation of their homes by Tuesday or Wednesday.

H. W. Martin, river forecaster, said inactivity of the Kaw river, which empties into the Missouri at Kansas City, indicated little possibility of floods east of there.

More Japanese Ships Sunk

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, Sunday, April 11 (AP)—A Japanese transport ship was fired and a merchantman destroyed by Allied planes which dropped 30 tons of bombs on Wewak, New Guinea, the high command announced today.

Wewak is a key base on the coast of New Guinea some 450 miles northwest of the Allied base of Port Moresby.

Shore installations at Wewak were wrecked. Other Allied raiders struck along the north coast of New Guinea at Bogia, Alexishafen and Madang.

Wewak has been used recently by the Japanese as a feeder base to its Huon peninsula bases of Lae and Salamaua because it is considered out of the range of Allied fighter planes.

Having suffered severe shipping losses in efforts to supply Lae and Salamaua directly by sea from New Britain and New Ireland, the Japanese recently have turned to shipping supplies to the Wewak-Madang sector and then attempting to send them overland.

The raiders of Wewak struck at dawn. They were four-motored bombers. Three times they roared over their targets, losing explosives on the seaplane base, air-drome, and wharf shore installations and shipping.

Lewis Calls FD's Order 'Unsound'

NEW YORK, April 10 (AP)—John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, declared today that President Roosevelt's "hold the line" order is a false and unsound way to achieve any reasonable control of inflation.

"The order comes belatedly after the fact of the arrival of inflation to a substantial degree—inflation represented by increased cost of food stuffs and living essentials and definite scarcities of many commodities due to war demands," Lewis said at a general press conference.

ALLIED EXPLOSIVES RAIN DOWN; SHIPS, PLANES DESTROYED

By EDWARD KENNEDY

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, April 10 (AP)—Sweeping on toward Tunis to make the Axis "endure a first class Dunkerque," the British Eighth army today captured Sfax, Tunisia's second largest city, and plunged on northward in pursuit of Marshal Rommel's stricken troops which were at the mercy of relentless American flank attacks and an unceasing downpour of explosives from Allied sky fighters.

General Montgomery ordered his troops to race on for a final slaughter on the beaches of Tunis, and the chances of the Axis to escape by sea as the British did at Dunkerque were lessened by approximately 100 Flying Fortresses and huge numbers of American fighters operating out over the Mediterranean.

During the day the Fortresses pounced on two 10,000-ton Italian cruisers, the Trieste and Gorizia, which were ferreted out in their hideaway at the upper Sardinian harbor of La Maddalena. Direct hits scored on the two vessels were believed to have knocked them out for some time—at least for the duration of the Tunisian campaign which swiftly was reaching a climax.

American fighters also shot down 27 planes out of an enemy aerial convoy taking fuel to the beleaguered forces of Marshal Rommel and Col. Gen. Jürgen von Arnim.

Rommel's bomb-riden troops appeared to be running at full speed for a new defense line on a ridge in the Enfidaville area, some 100 miles north of Sfax, and only 80 miles below the capital, Tunis.

But front dispatches said Allied air power was so terrific that the enemy's northern defenses were largely disrupted.

American twin-motored Lightning fighters, ranging out over the approaches to northern Tunisia, intercepted a great aerial convoy rushing fuel to the beleaguered axis forces and shot 27 planes into the sea, it was announced.

Four infantry divisions and armored units of the Eighth army pursued the retreating axis forces with such crushing power and speed that for the first time in their 1,500-mile back-track across North Africa Rommel's sappers ing to delay Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's victorious veterans.

Exhorting his men to even greater efforts, Montgomery said: "Let us make the enemy face up to and endure a first class Dunkerque."

The present drive, he said, was the third and final phase of the eighth army's campaign to exterminate the enemy in Tunisia. First, he said, Rommel was thrown from his March position; second, he was routed from the Gabes Gap; now he is being driven back to Tunis.

"I am very proud of my eighth army," Montgomery told his men. "Drive the enemy into the sea."

'Dunkerque' Retreat Seems Remote

Observers saw little chance that the axis armies, once they were hammered back into hopeless position in northern Tunisia, would be able to effect a Dunkerque-style retreat across the Sicilian straits to approximate the highly successful withdrawal made by over 300,000 British troops from France in 1940.

They predicted that overwhelming Allied aerial supremacy would utterly smash such an attempt.

Today's communique from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters told of successful new attacks launched against Rommel's flank in the central and northern sectors by British, American and French forces—all part of the Allied strategy to hem the axis into a contracting sack.

Mark VI Tanks Whipped By Brits

It was disclosed today that Rommel, after being driven from his Wadi El Akarit position 20 miles north of Gabes, withdrew to a line between the sea and the Bekret En Noual, a salt marsh west of La Skhira, and made a stand there until Thursday morning.

A tank battle was fought southeast of the lake that morning and Rommel withdrew in the late afternoon to form a screen around Mazouna, on the road from Maknassy to Mahares, to block an attempt by Americans in the Maknassy area to attack them from the rear.

In another battle in that area that afternoon Rommel was revealed to have thrown in his 60-ton Mark VI "tiger" tanks, but to no avail against Montgomery's seasoned fighters. That night the axis chief tank began another withdrawal to a line between Sfax and Sidi Agareb, 14 miles to the southwest. But his defense south of Sfax collapsed so quickly that the British, after entering Mahares, 22 miles south of Sfax, at 1:30 p. m. yesterday was able to move into Sfax this morning.

Much of Rommel's transport was in vulnerable position, wide open to the Allied bombers, in his retreat up the comparatively flat coastal plain toward Sousse and his Enfidaville line. The German air force was offering Rommel's troops virtually no protection. Only two Fiat fighters were sighted yesterday over the entire battleground.

Principals In Featured Offerings At Local Theatres Today

Musical—Gene Kelly and Judy Garland swing on out for a musical treat in M.G.M.'s "For Me and My Gal," a cavalcade of America's glorious era of a few years ago, and playing today and Monday at the Ritz theatre. George Murphy and Ben Blue are others in the cast.

Trouble?—Wallace Beery, playing a hard-boiled tank corps sergeant in "The Bugle Sounds," seems about to have trouble with his co-star, Marjorie Main. "The Bugle Sounds," with Beery in one of his most popular type roles, is the state theatre's major feature on the Sunday-Monday program.

Pleased—Lum and Abner seem very pleased with their fair companion, Rosemary LaPlante, in this scene from their latest picture, "Two Weeks to Live." The comedy with these favorite entertainers is the headline attraction for today and Monday at the Lyric theatre.

Capital Cabby Soothes Them With Symphony

WASHINGTON, April 10. (AP)—A squeal of brakes, a grate of fenders and two taxis skid to a screaming stop.

Out of one pours an awe-inspiring stream of profanity, as the cabby tells the world and the other driver what he thinks of such blankety-blank lousy driving.

And from the other taxi flows the smooth melody of a Strauss waltz.

That's the reply of Bill Bartley, the capital's Paddy Mack of a musical era, who herds his hack around nerve-jangled Washington and soothes 'em with symphony.

A psychologist of the streets and sidewalks, Bill explained today that he read some places how music was used to soothe discontented cows into giving milk. Thought he, if it soothes their nerves, then why not the nerves of Washington—where it's really needed?

It became a game with him—diagnosing the musical needs of each excited, upset fare in the hurrying wartime capital.

Judy Garland Starred In Gay Musical, 'For Me And My Gal'

The little girl who has gained charm and entertaining ability as she grew up blossoms forth in a new big-time Hollywood musical.

The girl is Judy Garland, of course, and her new opus is "For Me and My Gal," the Ritz theatre's headline attraction for today and Monday.

Judy, erstwhile companion of Mickey Rooney, steps forth on her own in a melody-studded story designed to bring back pleasant memories of an earlier generation, when people had more time to think about pleasant things and sing pleasant songs. The vocal abilities of Miss Garland are put to good use—but Judy also scores as dancer, swinger and romantic.

Notable in "For Me and My Gal" is the musical score, which features such favorites as "For Me and My Gal," "Do I Love You," "Where Do We Go From Here," "Oh, Johnny, Oh," "After You've Gone," and "Tell Me."

George Murphy and Gene Kelly, able dancers both, have the featured male roles in the picture, Ben Blue provides the comedy, and Martha Eggerth is another featured player.

With a theatrical-plus military background, "For Me and My Gal" goes in for big production numbers. The whole vehicle is rated as one of the best yet turned out for the appealing Miss Garland.

Texas As An Individualist Is Presented In H-SU Professor's New History Of Lone Star State

DR. R. N. RICHARDSON
By RICHARD WEST
Associated Press Staff

If you're a Texan you're probably an individualist, you don't want anybody meddling in your business, you'd rather be a rancher than a banker and you like a fight—anywhere, anytime.

You'd pay anything for a thick steak broiled on charcoal, you're too energetic to relax and you cuss the weather and bureaucrats.

There are exceptions. But from the time Stephen Austin crossed the Sabine from Missouri until Coke Stevenson kicked about gasoline rationing the Texan has been a pretty definite type.

There's a new history about Texas and it belongs on your shelf beside Walter Webb's Texas Rangers and Frank Dobie's Longhorns.

It's Texas, the Lone Star State, by Rupert Norval Richardson, professor of history at Hardin-Simmons University, who turned down the presidency of his school to follow the paths of pure scholarship.

The 500-page book is timely and complete. It appears when there are a million new faces in the Lone Star state—soldiers training for a bigger fight than Texas ever faced, shipworkers from the east, timber loggers from the Old South. They've yearned to see and know Texas. Richardson answers their questions.

The Texan has always been a fighter. Most of the time he was fighting for what he called his rights. At other times it didn't take much of an excuse. Sam Houston said a loaded pistol and rifle hanging over the hearth were not for decoration.

John Ford's Texans, fighting for the Confederacy, fought and won the last battle of the Civil war—even after Lee had surrendered. Ford didn't know about it until the prisoners he took told him.

San Antonio was settled in 1718; the Indians were still taking scalps near there a century and a half later.

Out of these fights for survival the real Texan as the world thinks of him emerged—a hell-for-leather individualist, steeled in hardship, lustful for adventure.

With a pistol on his hip and a song in his soul he followed the grass and pushed the frontier westward. He lived largely to himself. He became one with his horse. The less the government interfered the better.

His Longhorns bred quickly and in a sixteen-year period he drove 4,000,000 of them up the trails—selling a $4 cow on a $40 market.

The pioneer Texan was a rough customer and the state he loved was rougher.

Josiah Wilbarger was scalped by the Indians in 1833 and left to die. He lived twelve more years.

It was a man's country. The ratio of men to women in 1850 was eleven to nine and more than 80 per cent of both were under 40. Fred Olmstead, an easterner, said the roads were little better than cow tracks.

The prevailing home was a crude log cabin. Rutherford B. Hayes said you could throw a cat through the walls at random. It was a two-room affair under one roof, separated by an open space, or dog run, where the dogs—and overflow guests—slept.

Schools were scarce and so were teachers. At old St. Augustine University the Rev. Marcus Montrose taught mathematics, Latin, Greek history, navigation, astronomy, rhetoric, logic, political economy, natural philosophy, chemistry, botany and geology.

But Texas, like a cornfed country boy, grew quickly.

Immigrants poured in, getting land cheap and lured by tall tales of windjammers. The Southern Pacific soon linked the southwest with the Pacific and the Texas & Pacific joined Longview with El Paso.

At the turn of the twentieth century liquid gold blew off the lid at Beaumont and fortunes were made overnight when Texas became the oil man's paradise at Ranger, Burkburnett, Big Lake, Mexia and Overton.

With unprecedented wealth from petroleum, land and cattle, the school system expanded and colleges increased. Meanwhile, cotton was planted on uplands (in addition to the bottoms).

Sheep and goats thrived on the granite soil of the Edwards Plateau and San Angelo became the

—the largest inland wool market.

Richardson's book, with 20 illustrations and six maps, tells this saga with infinite detail—the role played by Spanish priests and Tennessee frontiersmen, subjugation of the Indians in the 180's and the struggle for law and order.

Texas developed a culture all its own and stamped it indelibly on American civilization.

This culture, from the earliest writings and folk songs right down to The Eyes of Texas all are a part of Dr. Richardson's vivid book which is dedicated to his wife, Pauline Mayes Richardson, and to Sgt. Rupert Richardson, Jr., an only son now at an embarkation port for overseas duty.

Troops Honor Wallace Beery For Film Role

Wallace Beery was made an honorary sergeant of the U. S. tank service when he filmed scenes with regular troops at Fort Ord, Calif., for "The Bugle Sounds," Metro-Goldwyn - Mayer drama of the new mechanized force, which is featured today and Monday at the State theatre.

The star appears as a veteran in the picture, much of which was filmed at Fort Knox, Ky.; in the war games in Louisiana, and at Fort Lewis, Wash., and Fort Ord. He worked with a group of regulars handling 20 huge tanks at Fort Ord, under command of Col. William Tow.

The picture was filmed with cooperation of the War Department, with Captain Arthur W. Fields of Washington as technical adviser.

In the featured cast with Beery are Marjorie Main, Lewis Stone, George Bancroft, Henry O'Neill and Donna Reed, with the supporting players including Chill Wills, William Lundigan, Tom Dugan and Quinn Williams. S. Sylvan Simon directed and J. Walter Ruben produced.

The story, with its background of actual army life, presents Beery as a cavalry sergeant with 19 years of service on his record. He becomes disgusted when the cavalry is demounted to service with the armored tanks and his anger drives him to insubordination. A court martial decrees a dishonorable discharge and he goes out in disgrace.

When it is learned that saboteurs are organized to destroy a train load of tanks, Beery captures them single-handed, restoring himself in the eyes of his superior officers, and also in those of his fiancée for 19 years, played by Miss Main. Donna Reed and Lundigan have the youthful romantic roles.

Bombardier School Sets Example In War On Waste

Point conscious civilians who are obliged to cut corners due to food rationing may be assured that men of the Big Spring Bombardier School are making the most of food insured by rationing. This is being done by a campaign to reduce waste, a drive that coincidentally is proving an important item of revenue for Uncle Sam, according to Mess Management Officer 1st Lieut. Andrew O'Conner and 1st Lieut. Charles W. Pritchard of the quartermaster corps.

"Our food is now being issued each day based on the exact number of men present," said Lieut. O'Conner. "As each man has a definite ration allowance, we know how much to prepare." Menus are made up ahead according to seasonable food and for the period, but they are subject to change. Items rationed to civilians such as coffee, sugar and cocoa, if consumed too fast simply disappear from the fare until that period is over.

Lieut. O'Conner looks at it from the angle that "there is plenty to eat, but no food to waste" and has his halls decorated with posters such as: "Are You Complaining?" a question raised by soldiers at the front eating from a tin can; or another which warns: "Don't take too much food. You must eat all you take." In addition to this, checkers are maintained to see that men do not take more than they want and that they eat what is on their trays. A constant watch is made of kitchen waste to see that it does not run over normal. The quartermaster also is on the job to not only see that food supplies are adequate but that rations do not run in excess. Costs now are based on a necessary ration figure, thus bringing about considerable savings.

Disposal of kitchen waste has been worked out to a science at the field. The quartermaster contracts for disposal, and Lieut. Pritchard is responsible for this task. Cooked grease, bones, meat trimmings and even trap grease go to the San Angelo By-Products corporation. By tables of expectancy, Lieut. Pritchard estimated that materials from the post have made "some 30,000 pounds of soap, 9,000 pounds of glue and 5,000 pounds of explosives, let alone many thousand pounds of dried animal food which were by-products."

Marshall Allen and Otis Grafa have contract for kitchen waste suitable for animal food and in round figures they have turned it into some 21,000 pounds of pork. Separation of waste at mess halls is done by personnel so that each contractor gets only what he may use, thus eliminating waste of the waste.

Salvaging of various containers has been a source of revenue, for the post has "baled and shipped 30 tons of corrugated boxes this past quarter," according to Lieut. Pritchard. Burlap bags are saved for shipment to embarkation points where they find ready use. Egg crates, barrels, fruit and vegetable containers, crates, even the lowly tin can are saved for reclamation as are bottles, including broken ones.

Sad Aftermath
 MADISON, Conn.—Last week the 22 seniors of Hand high school took their annual trip to New York, escorted by two teachers. But this week they're not going any place, not even to school. One of the class, it seems, didn't feel very well on the way back. Health Officer Milo Rindge diagnosed it as scarlet fever, and quarantined the whole class—and the teachers.

Fortresses Get 48 Enemy Fighters To Approach Record

By GLADWIN HILL.

WITH THE U. S. EIGHTH AIR FORCE IN ENGLAND, April 10.—Flying Fortresses knocked down 48 enemy fighters in the raid on the Renault plant outside Paris last Sunday—equal to the second highest bag since the bombing campaign started here last Aug. 8, the eighth air force announced today.

A probable record was set by the Fortress "Dry Martini," piloted by Capt. Allen V. Martini of San Francisco, whose gunners brought down 10, a new high for a single bomber in this theater.

Thirteen enemy planes were listed as probably destroyed and six as damaged.

The record toll of enemy fighters remain 53 in the Vegesack raid of March 18. Forty-eight were knocked down previously in the 117-bomber raid on Little Oct. 9, 1942.

The Renault raid figure was arrived at after careful check. An extra day was spent in eliminating duplicating claims, the air force announced, and the record allowed only for planes seen to hit the ground, disintegrate in the air, fall in flames or to be abandoned when the enemy pilot bailed out.

In making the latest record, the air force even disallowed one plane shot by Martini's navigator, Lieut. James Moberly of Moberly, Mo., which fell minus its propeller—on the theory the pilot might have been able to land it.

The previous record bag of enemy planes by a single bomber was seven, set in the St. Nazaire raid last Nov. 23 by the crew of a bomber piloted by Capt. William J. Casey, also of San Francisco.

Twenty-six of the 48 victims last Sunday were called by "boomerang boys," a group headed by Col. Curtis Lemay of Columbus, Ohio, who recently was awarded the

Few Changes Result From Trustee Vote

Unofficial election returns from the recent county trustee election which have not yet been canvassed by the county commissioners due to the fact that five communities have not yet reported, show the majority of the changes occurred only where trustees had moved out of the district and had to be replaced.

Unreported as yet are returns from Elbow, Fairview, Richland, Green Valley, and Knott.

Unofficially reported as elected are R-Bar, Floyd Hill; Vincent, R. T. Shafer; Morris, W. D. Anderson; Gay Hill, Herman Scott and Lonnie Rawlings; Center Point, M. A. Loudamy; Midway, J. L. Hush and W. L. Sandridge; Forsan, M. H. McClintock; Cauble, Roy Bates; Moore, V. Phillips; Hartwells, W. I. Broadus; Lomax, R. C. Lomax; Morgan, Harold Harrington; Chalk, J. B. McDonald; Vealmoor, Nathan Zandt; Coahoma, Norman Read, Carl Bates, and Grady Acuff.

W. F. Cook, county board member of precinct one and J. D. Gilmore, county board member of Precinct Two.

Judge James T. Brooks said Saturday that he expected to have all returns in by Monday when commissioners may canvass the reports and the trustees be declared officially elected.

Slashes Made In Various State Funds

AUSTIN, April 10 (AP)—A legislature that has done its share of time-fritting since it convened Jan. 12 last week turned out something to show for the $8-plus a minute it costs the taxpayers.

It was taxpayer week in Austin.

A wartime economy-in-government program took shape, with an indicated savings of more than $15,000,000 in prospect for 1944-45.

The senate industriously chopped its way through four of the five major appropriation bills. The house having cut $600,000 from judicial appropriations, passed out its eleemosynary money bill with another slash of $372,123.

In immediate prospect for floor consideration in the house were the higher education and departmental appropriations bills. The senate had only the big rural aid bill to dispose of, as did the house also.

With relatively minor differences in the major appropriations bills as passed thus far by both branches, it was likely that the process of ironing out differences in free conference committees would not consume much time.

Legislators were working on money matters with a reminder from a group of taxpayers that Texas citizens are paying federal estate and local taxes that are 370 per cent larger than in 1928. There was also the suggestion—voiced in the senate by A. M. Aikin, Jr., of Paris—that the people of Texas expects them to adjourn at the earliest possible moment.

Thus far, May 11 has been the most-mentioned date for sine die adjournment. The senate again passed a resolution setting that date—the end of the 150-days suggested by the constitution for general sessions—and the house had a similar resolution on the table subject to 24-hour call.

Signature by Gov. Coke Stevenson of a bill reducing the ad valorem tax for the Confederate veterans pension fund from seven to two cents per $100 valuation will save Texas taxpayers $1,600,000 in 1943. The bill also legalizes transfer of a $1,500,000 balance in the fund to the ailing general revenue fund, doubles the monthly pension of $25 to civil war veterans, and raises the pensions to widows from $26 to $30 monthly.

Coming up early next week in the senate was a hotly-disputed aviation control bill, proposing to put that industry under railroad commission regulation. A close vote was anticipated.

The house Tuesday will take up its redistricting bill.

Hitler And Duce At Odds Over The Balkans?

LONDON, April 10 (AP)—Velled hints of a tug-of-war between Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini with the Balkans as a pawn are reaching diplomatic circles in London and neutral countries, it was reported here today.

They are given impetus by a statement from a reliable source in Ankara that Marshal Ion Antonescu of Rumania is scheduled to leave Bucharest April 15 to see Mussolini in Rome.

It is understood to have extended the invitation for the visit, which would follow soon after his meeting with Nicolas Kallay, premier of Hungary, and observers here saw in it more than an attempt to pacify Rumania and Hungary in the bickering over Transylvania.

"Germany is doing its best to steady the nerves of the satellites," said a well-placed source whose name could not be disclosed. "But in Mussolini's case it is different. Italy is plenty jittery and requires some steadying herself."

Italy's anxiety was reflected in a Zurich dispatch to Reuters which said that Mussolini was understood to be preparing to withdraw his government from Rome. The dispatch mentioned Florence and Bologna as likely places for the seat of the government.

Four Are Killed In Plane Crash

WARM SPRINGS, Mont., April 10 (AP)—Four persons were killed today when a Johnson Flying Service plane from Missoula, en route to Salt Lake City, plunged to earth here.

At Missoula, Mrs. Ferns Miller, Johnson employe, said these four were aboard:

Ray Kaiser, 28, pilot instructor. His father, E. W. Kaiser. His brother, Roy E. Kaiser. "Babe" Anderson, Missoula girl.

23 Enrolled For Safety Classes

The third class of the current safety course being taught by Otto Peters at the high school each Monday and Friday night will be held Monday night for the 23 persons enrolled. Originally 30 signed up for the course but only 23 have attended the first two meetings.

The class, second of its kind offered here within the past year, is sponsored by the government through Texas Tech and as a college course requires 96 hours of work in order for students to receive certificates.

The first two lessons concerned the development of safety movement and accident cost. Class hours are from 7:30 o'clock to 10:30 o'clock each Monday and Friday night.

SEE THAT GUN?
It's making things plenty hot for the Axis.
Know where that gun came from?
From the pay checks and pay envelopes of people like you.
It was bought with the money you lent your Government in regular installments from your pay.
But hold on now—
Maybe it isn't your gun at all. Maybe you haven't been lending the Government a regular amount each pay day.

There are still some people around you aren't . . . not many, but it's just possible you are one of them.
If you are, we're sure it's not for want of patriotism, but because you just haven't quite got around to it.
Your biggest opportunity is here. Tomorrow starts the Second War Loan, in which your Government must have thirteen billion dollars — $703,000 from Howard

Corporal Injured In Train Smashup
BROWNWOOD, April 10 (AP)—Corp. William Aldridge of Elk Park, N. C., was burned severely when a passenger train plowed into the rear of a freight train three miles east of Santa Anna yesterday afternoon. Aldridge, stationed at Camp Berkeley, Tex., was brought to the Camp Bowie station hospital for treatment.
Several other soldiers on the passenger train were injured slightly. They received treatment at the accident scene. Several trainmen also were cut and bruised.
The freight train stopped when an air hose broke and the passenger crashed into it before it could be flagged.
The caboose was smashed and one freight car and the passenger engine overturned.

Expecting a Baby?

MOTHER'S FRIEND helps bring ease and comfort to expectant mothers.

MOTHER'S FRIEND, an exquisitely prepared emollient, is useful in all conditions where a bland, mild anodyne massage medium in skin lubrication is desired. One condition in which women for more than 70 years have used it is an application for massaging the body during pregnancy... it helps keep the skin soft and pliable... this avoiding unnecessary discomfort due to dryness and tightness. It refreshes and tones the skin. An ideal massage application for the numb, tingling or burning sensations of the skin... for the tired back muscles or cramp-like pains in the legs. Quickly absorbed. Delightful to use.

Mother's Friend Highly praised by users, many doctors and nurses. Just ask any druggist for Mother's Friend—the skin lubricant. Try it tonight.

Allred Case 'Finished' By Committee?

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—Chairman Van Nuys (D-Ind) of the senate judiciary committee told a reporter today that it is his opinion that the committee is finished with the nomination of former Governor James V. Allred of Texas to the fifth circuit court of appeals.

The committee last month split 9 to 9 on the question of confirming the nomination of Allred. He resigned as a federal district judge to enter an unsuccessful campaign for the United States senate. "There is nothing new in the judiciary committee," said Van Nuys, "and it would seem to me to be logical that the nomination should be withdrawn."

New Inductees Are Announced

Names of additional selectees who have been inducted from the quota dispatched last week to Lubbock were received Saturday by the Howard county selective service board. Marvin Jones To Head U. S. Delegation

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—The first United Nations conference on past war planning, to deal with food and agriculture, was officially set today for May 18 at Hot Springs, Va., and Judge Marvin Jones, who, as a member of congress, helped push through much of the New Deal's farm legislation, was named chairman of the five-man American delegation.

Jones, now a judge of the U. S. court of claims, is also assistant on agricultural problems to James F. Byrnes, economic stabilization director. A democratic representative from Amarillo, Tex., from 1917 to 1940, he was for nine years chairman of the house agriculture committee and helped draft the agricultural adjustment act. Other delegates: Paul H. Appleby, undersecretary of agriculture. He formerly edited newspapers in Montana, Minnesota, Iowa and Virginia, becoming executive assistant to Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, now vice-president, in 1933. W. L. Clayton, assistant secretary of commerce, who as a former Houston cotton factor is familiar with trade problems. Surgeon General Thomas Parrin of the United States public health service, who presumably will be concerned with nutrition. Murray D. Lincoln, of Columbus, O., representative of farmers in more than 22 years' service as executive secretary of the Ohio farm bureau federation. Called to explore the food requirements of the world and crop possibilities after the war, with a program of higher nutrition standards for all countries in mind, most of the conference work is to be conducted informally in private. Plans are being made for opening and closing plenary sessions to which press and radio representatives will be accredited, but most of the discussions will take place in technical sections or committees of experts. Originally scheduled for April 27, the conference was postponed because some of the delegations were unable to reach the United States by that date. Twenty-five of the 42 United and Associated nations invited to the meeting have accepted thus far, the latest acceptances coming from Mexico and the Polish government in exile.

Rotarians Will Meet In Abilene

ABILENE, April 10—Attendance of more than 700 at the annual conference of the 41st district Rotary International in Abilene Sunday and Monday April 25 and 26 is indicated by advance reservations.

Preparations for the conference by the Abilene host club went into the all-out phase this week following a Monday night conference of committee chairmen and vice-chairmen with Ed E. Stewart, conference chairman, Charles E. Paxton of Sweetwater is district governor.

Features of the program outlined by Governor Paxton include Rotary Victory service Sunday evening at Abilene high school at which Jeff Williams of Chickasha, Okla., nationally-known speaker and Rotary International representative, will address Rotarians and the public at large, and a tour of Camp Berkeley, the army's huge cantonment just outside Abilene, Monday afternoon.

The program will end with the governor's banquet Monday evening at the Second Street USO club.

Deats To Give VFW Radio Talk Here This Evening

Stressing the theme that victory over the axis powers must set the stage for international peace in the future, C. W. Deats, representing the Ray E. Fuller Post No. 2013 of Veterans of Foreign Wars, will deliver the 29th in a series of "Speak Up For Democracy" talks to be heard over KBST at 8:15 o'clock this evening. Simultaneously, the address will be broadcast by local VFW leaders in 477 other radio stations in all sections of the United States. The series was begun one year before Pearl Harbor as a program designed to give people a better understanding of citizenship responsibilities, it was explained. In the Sunday night talk, Deats will observe the 40th anniversary of the erection of the "Temple of Peace" in Holland.

New Price Reports May Be Handled By Lubbock OPA Office

Authority to process price reports which wholesalers and retailers are required to file on new items which neither the dealer nor his competitor sold or offered to sell in March, 1942, has been granted the Lubbock District OPA Office, Howard R. Gholson, manager, announced Saturday.

J. B. Mooney, district price officer, will handle applications known as "3-A" price determination reports for merchants in the 71 counties in this district which includes Howard county. Mooney said that many merchants find it difficult to price new items which they did not handle in March, 1942, but the regulation permits dealers to price new items and within 10 days submit price determination reports to the OPA for approval. Mooney said that the district office would be glad to answer any questions which merchants, either wholesale or retail, may have in connection with their pricing problems.

Among the counties included in the area to file their 3-A price determination reports with the Lubbock office are Borden, Dawson, Ector, Gaines, Glasscock, Howard, Midland, Mitchell, Martin, Scurry, Sterling, Terry, Ward and Winkler.

The 2nd War Loan Starts April 12

13 billion dollars must be raised!

THE GOVERNMENT of the United States is asking us to lend it 13 billion dollars in the next few weeks. We can do it. And we must do it. Every American must realize the truth:

In this, our toughest war, we've made a good start. We've trained a lot of men—made a lot of weapons—built a lot of ships.

But it's only a start. No man or woman among us would contend for a single instant that we're doing enough now to win this war!

We've Got to Build More!

We broke all records building 8 million tons of shipping last year. But grim-faced Army and Navy men will tell you that the 18 MILLION tons we're building this year still won't be enough!

We've Got to Fight More!

From now till this war is won, America must be on the offensive. In ever-increasing numbers, your sons, brothers, husbands must go into actual battle. Our losses have already begun to mount—and they will not grow less.

And We've Got to Buy More War Bonds!

Sure we're all buying War Bonds now. But we've got to help pay for our increased fighting and building . . . We've got to match, as best we can, the sacrifice of those Americans who are toiling and sweating on a dozen battlefronts—with the bloodiest yet to come. The blunt fact is this: to keep our war machine going, we've got to dig up 13 billion extra dollars this month. 13 billion dollars over and above our regular War Bond buying!

In the next few weeks you may be visited by one of the thousands of volunteers who are contributing their time and effort to this Drive. But don't wait for him. Make up your mind now that before this drive is over, you're going to march right down to your nearest bank, Post Office, or place where they sell War Bonds, and do your duty. And don't ever forget this: in doing your duty, you're doing yourself one of the biggest favors of your life!

For United States War Bonds are the greatest investment in the world—bar none. They're investments tailored to fit your particular situation. And they give you the chance of a lifetime to order and get the kind of world you want to live in after this war. Every cent you put in War Bonds now will help to guarantee plenty of peacetime jobs making peace-living for every one of us.

For your Country's sake—for your own sake—invest all you can!

There Are 7 Different Types of U. S. Government Securities—Choose The Ones Best Suited For You:

Red Adams Sets New 440 Record At San Angelo

Alfred (Red) Adams carried the colors of Big Spring high school to a new track record in the San Angelo invitational track meet Saturday in the 440-yard dash.

His feat was the backbone of a Stee accumulation that netted Big Spring fourth place in the meet that saw four of the track records come tumbling down. Corley, San Angelo, ran the 200-yard low hurdles in 24 flat for a record in the event. This compared with 23, which held for the former distance of 200 yards.

Watkins of San Saba cleared the bar at 6'11 in the high jump to beat San Angelo mile relay team sliced four seconds from the record for this event, coming in at 3:52.3 as compared to the previous best of 3:56.

Records May Be Cracked At League Meet

AUSTIN, April 10. (AP)—Transportation problems may cut attendance at the interscholastic league track and field meet here May 7-8, but officials said today there will be no slump in performances.

In fact, three events may produce new state, or even national records, League Athletic Director Rodney Kidd declared.

These are the shotput, the 440-yard relay and the 100-yard dash. DeWitt Coulter of Masonic Home, Fort Worth, is the shotputter expected to set a new record. San Antonio's Thomas Jefferson high school has the outstanding relay team, and Thomas Jefferson's Charles Parker is the leading dash man expected for the meet.

Kidd said such a large number of tennis players entered competition this year that sub-regional meets had to be staged. The state tennis meet will be held in conjunction with the track event.

RECE OWLS WIN

HOUSTON, April 10. (AP)—A big second inning in which both Pitcher John Fox and First Baseman John McDonald homered with one on base enabled the Rice Owls to snap a four game losing streak and defeat Ellington Field, 11-5, here today.

In A.A.U. Swim Meet—Four swim stars expected to make strong bids for titles in the National A.A.U. senior women's swimming meet at Chicago got set for a practice dip in Medinah pool. Left to right: Susanna Zimmermann of Portland, Oregon, outdoor 100-yard freestyle champion; Ruth Lemmermeyer, New York, a contender for the 100-free style title; Nancy Merit, Portland, defending champion in 400-yard freestyle, and Catherine Wencert, New York, junior 100-yard freestyle titlist who has moved up to the senior division.

Cards Beset With Plague Of Ailments

ST. LOUIS, April 10. (AP)—Call for Dr. Hyland! Call for Dr. Hyland! The St. Louis Cardinals are ailing again.

Opening of the National league season still is 11 days away and already team members have visited more doctors' offices than a chronic invalid.

Right now Shortstop Marty Marion is resting at St. John's hospital after a successful emergency appendectomy today by Dr. Robert F. Hyland, club physician who beat the lanky infielder would be lost to the world champions for about six weeks.

But Marion is only the latest of a string of casualties.

Marion's partner in double plays, Capt. Jimmy Brown at second base, temporarily is laid up with a fractured finger on his right hand.

In tune with the team's usual times, injuries swept around the infield, outfield and pitching staff this spring, leaving Manager Billy Southworth playing the city series with rookies at both middle infield posts and assorted players with bandages sitting on the bench.

Here is the current injury index: George Fallon, right rookie prospect from Rochester, inflamed heel tendon.

Euster Adams, Sacramento youngster scheduled to perform often in the outfield, inflamed heel tendon.

Mort Cooper, ace of the pitching staff, had back.

George Munger, choice rookie moundman who dragged a case of chickenpox into the already-confused picture.

Preacher Living Right; Tallies A Hole-In-One

The Rev. H. Clyde Smith should carry more weight with his First Methodist congregation. He has irrefutable proof that he is "living right."

Saturday the Rev. Smith scored a hole-in-one while playing the Munny course here.

Jim Walker, Owen Walker and Jeff Walker shared the thrill with the Rev. Smith. They stood back while the minister calmly arched the ball from the No. 9 tee almost squarely to the pin, 140 yards away. It was the first time in many years of golfing that the experience had come to the Rev. Smith.

Fielder With One Arm Is Doing OK

LANCASTER, Pa., April 10. (AP)—Pete Gray lost his "good arm" in an accident when he was a boy, but the Philadelphia Athletics will agree that he's doing all right with the other. And they can't help wondering what he'd do with both.

The Toronto Maple Leafs' outfield candidate, who batted .381 for Three Rivers in the Can-Am league last year, demonstrated how a one-armed outfielder makes a catch and throw when he nipped speedy Jojo White off second base early in the first of a three-game series between the Leafs and the Athletics.

In addition he laid down a bunt, and beat it out with a phenomenal burst of speed, and then stole second standing up.

To catch a fly, Gray slides his gloved hand across his chest and under his right armpit.

The ball rolls back on his wrist and drops into his hand as he pulls it back quickly, leaving the glove tucked under his arm.

He uses a light, slender bat and swings from the first base side of the batter's box, with a full follow-through. His boosters say he can pole a tremendous drive, and doesn't depend on bunts and scrap hits for his fat average.

Watkins Batters S'west Conference High Jump Mark

COLLEGE STATION, April 10. (AP)—Lanky Pete Watkins leaped 6 feet 8 inches today in bettering the Southwest conference high jump record as the Texas Aggies swept over Howard Payne, Southwestern and Southwest Texas State to win a quadrangular track and field meet by a wide margin.

Watkins' jump was one-fourth of an inch higher than the present conference mark of 6 feet 7 3/4 inches, set in 1941 by Henry Coffman of Rice.

The Aggies took all places in the high jump and won five other events to roll up 101 points while Howard Payne was getting 52, Southwest Texas 25 and Southwestern 10.

Bill Henderson of the Aggies was high point man with first places in the shot, discus and javelin, and seconds in the high and broad jump for a total of 21.

League Tennis Contests Set For Thursday

Tennis championships of the Howard county interscholastic league will be decided in tournament play Thursday and Friday at the Midway school, E. F. Malone, director-general, has announced.

Midway and Moore boys singles and doubles players will tangle in the opening round Thursday afternoon in the Midway gym, the winner in each event meeting Lomax for the title the following day.

Also due to be played on Friday are these schools: Lomax and Midway, winner to meet Moore in finals for girls doubles championship.

ROBBERY CHARGE

DALLAS, April 10. (AP)—Deputy Sheriff Jim Townsend said that Nick Casco and Thomas Edward Pate, both of Dallas, were charged today with the robbery of Mr. and Mrs. Tom G. Smith, Lawton, Okla., yesterday near here.

Aggies Blank Texas Nine To Even Series

AUSTIN, April 10. (AP)—The Texas Aggies emphatically evened their series with the Texas Longhorns, and the Southwest conference baseball race, as Johnny (Lefty) Shuford pitched them to a shutout here today, 13-0.

The Longhorns, who won yesterday 4-2, couldn't touch Shuford hard at any time and were helpless with runners on base.

Uncle Billy Disch, former coach of the Longhorns, said it was the first time he remembered seeing A.&M. shut out Texas. He started coaching here in 1911.

Luika Kent, Texas starter, was routed early. Five bases on balls, six hits and three errors gave the Aggies a 9-0 lead in the first three innings here. Bob Daisell stopped them. Daisell was fairly effective the rest of the way.

He was helped by two spectacular outfield catches, by Bob Campbell and Ira Glass in the sixth that turned into a double play, and by Rex Travis off Lee Feden in the eighth. Capt. Grady Hatton made two great stops at short.

The Aggie infield swung three double plays.

Shortstop Jim Newberry, with three hits that batted in four runs, and Center Fielder Cullen Rogers with a single and a home run that scored Newberry ahead of him in the third, were the Aggies' offensive stars. Clint Grell got three of Texas' eight hits. Several of the blows charged against Shuford were of the scorch variety.

Woodward's Apache Wins At Jamaica

NEW YORK, April 10. (AP)—Apache, from William Woodward's Delair Stud returned to the races today with a burst of speed that carried him to victory in the first division of the $7,500 Faumonok handicap before an estimated crowd of 30,000 at Jamaica.

Apache sprinted the six furlongs in 1:12 flat and returned $4.70 for $2.

Giants Blanked By The Red Sox, 4-0

Rambling Along Sports Trails—Former WT-NM Players Making Bids For Berths In The Majors

Local baseball fans would like to know is James Willard Ramsdell, mentioned in Hugh Fullerton's "Sports Round Up" Friday as Montreal's hope to "join the iron man group" who win both ends of a double header during the approaching season, as the same Willard "Pop" Ramsdell, former Big Spring great.

It's bound to be. Who else would be such an iron man? Pop, whose knuckle ball made good players look silly for three seasons in the West-Texas-New Mexico loop, had an enviable record. He first tied the record of Jodie Marek, Big Spring hurler, in winning 23 games in 1940, a remarkable accomplishment considering the club only won 46 all season.

Pop pulled the old iron man stunt (it wasn't the first time he had done it, either) on Sept. 1, 1941, the closing day of the season, to set a new record. Coming to that day with 22 wins, Ramsdell blanked Lamesa twice, 4-0, and 6-0, a double bill for his 24 wins.

Howard Green, Abilene sports writer, says four former WT-NM leaguers are trying to break into the big show this year. They are Dick Adkins, Gordon Donaldson, Vince Castino and Russ Christopher. Adkins, a former Clovis player, is trying out with the A's. Donaldson, leading hitter of the loop in 1937, is also with Connie Mack's outfit. Castino, who managed

Rice Finishes Second, LSU At Bottom

BATON ROUGE, La., April 10. (AP)—The crack track outfit from the University of Texas walked off with top honors today in the annual triangular meet with Rice and Louisiana State but the Longhorns' ace miler was nosed out in the card's most thrilling event.

Some of the best talent in the Southwest and Southeastern conferences was on hand as Texas piled up 76 points to take the meet with ease, Rice placing second with 58 1-2 and host L.S.U. third with 33 1-2.

In the mile run sophomore Jerry Thompson of Texas led most of the way, only to lose out in the final lap when Bob Porter of Rice put on a spectacular drive 300 yards from the finish line, passing Thompson with rapid strides and breathing the tape well ahead of the little Longhorn. Porter's fast time was 4:24.

Thompson came back later to take the two-mile run so easily he had time to kick off his track shoes and run his race out barefoot, winning by nearly a lap.

Tharp of Texas captured both the short dashes and ran a leg on the winning Texas 440-yard relay team but the Longhorns were well represented in all events and made their high score by all-around ability as a team.

Bill Cummins, Rice's star timber-topper, took both the high and low hurdles, having the satisfaction in both races of noting out Doug Jaques of Texas, who trimmed Cummins a week ago. Billy Christopher of Rice, former prep school athlete here, won both the broad and high jumps.

L.S.U.'s whose roster was recently riddled by a call to the armed services, had first places only in two field events, the javelin and discus.

Hogan, Dudley To Play At Dallas

DALLAS, April 10. (AP)—Little Ben Hogan, golf's greatest money winner, and Ed Dudley, president of the National PGA, will head a star-spangled field in the Texas Victory Open here Friday and Saturday.

The only major tournament scheduled in the southwest this year, the victory open may draw an entry of more than 200 players, Larry Nabholz, president of the Texas PGA, said today.

Hogan, now in the army, was transferred from Camp Wolters to Tarrant Field at Fort Worth this week and shortly afterward came the announcement that the Vardon trophy winner would participate in the Victory Open which starts with 18 holes Friday and closes with the same the next day.

Ben said he had played only three rounds of golf in five months and was out of practice but Nabholz is billing Hogan as the chief attraction. Ben will arrive at noon Friday and will start play in the open at 2:30 o'clock.

Dudley wired today that he would be in Dallas for the tournament and this gives the open two of the PGA's national officers—Dudley and Willie McGuire a Houston, treasurer.

Entries continued to pour in today and Nabholz found that five states already were represented—Texas, Kansas, Colorado, Oklahoma and Louisiana.

Feature of the tournament will be a war bond sale Friday night with $1,000,000 as the goal. John C. Jester, tournament chairman, said $300,000 already was in sight for the kick-off. And to make the sale more attractive there will be entertainment put on by men from Texas army camps with Tom Martin, screen and radio singer now at Sheppard Field, Wichita Falls, expected to appear in the show.

One thousand dollars in war bonds and stamps will be awarded with the open champion to receive a $500 bond.

What's your name and home town?

Good reporting includes getting names and addresses whether on a local police story or the greatest war in history.

Associated Press war correspondents thus never overlook an opportunity to bring the name of a home town boy to the attention of his community.

Take the experience of AP reporter Murlin Spencer. He went up to the fighting front in New Guinea to check on the exploits of a man named "Jager, or something like that." He finally found Thomas Jager of Oshtemo, Mich., got all the details for his story.

A little later Spencer found himself crouched in a shell hole with two dead Japs just as the Americans started an artillery barrage. He saw a soldier poised to heave a grenade at a Jap pill-box.

"What's your name and home town?" Spencer shouted.

"He looked at me as though I was crazy," Spencer wrote, but the soldier shouted back that he was Robert Amann of Superior, Wis.

Then he let fly at the Japs and the soldier and the reporter both dropped flat as the shells whined over their heads.

Caught On A Mate's Parachute, Unconscious Navy Flier Saved

MIAMI, Fla., April 10 (AP)—A navy flier who fell unconscious from a crashing plane was saved yesterday when the lines of his partly opened parachute became entangled with the shrouds of a parachute with which another flier was floating to safety.

The men dropped into the ocean 100 yards offshore, but Aviation Metalmith Ernest L. Elwell of Wichita, Kan., managed to keep afloat until they were rescued. Gibson had a broken leg and a broken finger. Elwell was not hurt.

They were on a routine training flight and had just pulled out of a bombing dive at about 1,500 feet when the plane got out of control. Elwell leaped and pulled the ripcord of his parachute, which opened.

ROCKY MOUNT, N. C., April 10 (AP)—The name of Kay Kyser, band leader and motion picture actor, who was to be called up on the April 2 selective service list from board No. 2 here, has been transferred to the Beverly Hills, Calif., selective service board. He was classified as 1-A here.

A board member, who declined to be quoted by name, said Kyser was expected to be inducted into the army soon.

LEGAL NOTICE

CITATION BY PUBLICATION—THE STATE OF TEXAS TO ROBERT K. ROGERS, GREETING:

You are commanded to appear and answer the plaintiff's petition at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday after the expiration of 42 days from the date of issuance of this Citation, the same being Monday the 24th day of May, A. D. 1943, at or before 10 o'clock A. M. before the Honorable District Court of Howard County, at the Court House in Big Spring, Texas.

Said plaintiff's amended petition was filed on the 10th day of April, 1943. Said suit originally being filed on the 9th day of March, 1943.

The file number of said suit being No. 4733.

The names of the parties in said suit are: GLENDELL S. ROGERS as Plaintiff, and ROBERT K. ROGERS as Defendant.

The nature of said suit being substantially as follows, to wit: Alleging plaintiff is a bona fide inhabitant of the state of Texas for a year and a resident of Howard county for six months. That they were married May 18, 1942, and she quit him February 15, 1943, alleging that his course of conduct was of such cruel nature as to render their living together unbearable and insupportable. That no children were born of the marriage, and that she own as her own right the automobile, but in alternative that in the time of the separation, he took more money with him than the value of the car, and that the car be awarded to her. Plaintiff prays for judgment for property.

Issued this 10th day of April, 1943. Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Big Spring, Texas, this 10th day of April A. D. 1943.

House Orders Inquiry Into Newsprint

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—The house today ordered an investigation into whether the government contemplates curtailment of newsprint and paper, which Rep. Shafer (R-Mich.) said would "enable the congress to determine the extent to which a conspiracy exists to destroy the freedom of the press."

The same resolution directed an inquiry into whether the government plans a requirement for federal grading labeling of articles and the discarding of private brand names.

Shafer told the house that "for a considerable length of time many of us have been disturbed at what we believe to be a persistent, determined and concerted effort by government agencies and officials to interfere with and curtail the full freedom of the press as guaranteed to the people of America under the constitution."

He added:

"These efforts seemed to have reached their climax in the filing of what I term the spite suit against the Associated Press last August, a suit which alleges that the Associated Press is a monopoly and that it has operated in violation of the anti-trust laws."

"It was my thought at the time that this suit, which clearly revealed the spleen and animus of the enemies of a free press, was to be the final, as it was in fact the most dangerous, move in the game that was being played and the objective of which was to deprive the American people of their constitutional right to be told what was going on by an untrammeled press."

School Notes Students Book Activities For End Of Term

By BETTY BOB DILLE

Calendar of future events for high school students is filling up with the coming of spring and the approach of the end of the school year.

The 1943 El Rodeo has been completed and sent to the Steck company, publishers. Hopes are for distribution on May 21.

Muriel Floyd was chosen editor-in-chief of the freshman edition of the Corral which will be published Friday, April 20. The following will be on the staff: assistant editor, Carol Conley; sports editor, Bobo Hardy; gossip, Marilyn Keaton, Mabel Smith; club, Jean Ellen Chowna, Anna Clara Waters; class, Margaret Jon McEhannon; Loan Ware, Mary Nell Cook. Reporters will be Dorothy Brown, John Harrison, Cora Selkirk, Tony Castillo, Geraldine Bagley, Martina Underwood, Melba Dean Anderson, Durward Carnett, Max Winn.

Big Spring tennis players will attend a sub-regional tennis tournament in Sweetwater April 18 and 17. This is for them to qualify for the regional meet at Abilene April 24.

Exams and notebooks will occupy students' time as the second six weeks of this semester comes to a close. April 19 will begin the final six-weeks period of this school year.

J. A. Coffey announced Friday that there would be a senior day. The date and entertainment have not been determined yet, although it might be possible to have a barbecue, but any trip would probably be voted against by the seniors, in view of the travel difficulties and gas and tire rationing.

A meeting of the senior class soon will choose committees to select baccalaureate speaker and to decide on dates for other senior affairs.

Final examinations for 1943 school year will begin Monday, May 24, for seniors and eighth grade and on Tuesday, April 25, for other students.

Other activities dated on the calendar include the senior play "Minus A Million," May 4; sophomore edition of the Corral; senior edition of the Corral; senior sermon will be May 23 and graduation will be May 27.

Plans are underway for the production of last year's junior play

Three Called Up For WAAC Duty

Pauline B. Sherrell and Alberta R. Sherrell, twins from Loraine, and Bessie J. Hamlin of the Vest-moor route have been called to active duty with the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps and were to report at Lubbock for shipment to their training center Sunday.

They were among the more recent WAAC enrollees from this sub-station and a part of the ever increasing number joining the WAACs, said Cpl. Ray A. Noret, in charge of the army recruiting station in the postoffice basement here.

"Skeptics now frankly confess that they were wrong in doubting that women could replace vital manpower in noncombatant jobs," said Cpl. Noret, "so that now prestige of the WAAC has risen remarkably to the extent more and more women are doing their share by enrolling."

"The role of the WAAC not only embraces patriotic service," he continued, "but it offers the woman the privilege of the uniform and a chance to develop in an amazing variety of skills."

Shoe Inventories Must Be Filed

Shoe retailers must file an inventory of their stock as of midnight, April 10, the War Price and Rationing Board announced Saturday, and coupons must be surrendered to wholesalers beginning Monday.

Beginning April 15, retailers must also take coupons for play shoes that are not now rationed, the board said.

Incentive Payment Cancellation OK With Most Farmers

Little dissatisfaction among Howard county farmers has been found as a result of cancellation of incentive payments for 1943 war crops as authorized this week since congress failed to appropriate funds for the payments, M. Weaver, AAA administrative officer said Saturday.

In place of the incentive payments, a support price was placed on the war crops which in this county are peanuts and soybeans. Grain sorghum price was not raised since a support price of 66 cents a bushel was already set on the product prior to the incentive payment plan.

Under the new regulation the price of peanuts has been boosted from $2 a bushel to $2.10 a bushel and on soybeans from $1.85 a bushel to $1.90 a bushel.

The change from incentive payments to support prices means that if the farmer produces a good crop it will mean more money for him than incentive payments, but if he doesn't make a crop, it will mean less money to him than the incentive payment plan which depends upon planting and not upon yield.

Weaver said, however, that most farmers were anxious to make a good crop anyway and would prefer a good market price to payments on incentive planting.

"The Mission Had Been Accomplished"

"A running fight between the bomber and the 18 Japanese pursuit planes continued for 75 miles... continued until the remaining pursuit ships exhausted their ammunition and turned back. With two engines gone and the plane practically out of control, the American bomber returned to its base after dark and made an emergency landing. THE MISSION HAD BEEN ACCOMPLISHED."

There, in President Roosevelt's words, is one of war's stirring episodes—a demonstration of how our American boys stuck to the fight and accomplished their mission.

We have a mission at home... it is to supply the planes and the bombs and the tanks and the ships and the guns. This takes our money. It takes the money of ALL of us. It takes the saving patriotism of a nation of people who love their country enough to buy bonds and MORE bonds.

Your money not only will help pay the bill to create the ever-renewing victorious Army, Navy and Air Force we must have—but it also will be making more money for you and your family. You don't give your money, you invest it, for Victory and for personal security.

That's your mission—will you accomplish it?

Week Of Services Scheduled At First Christian Church

A week of services held each night at 8 o'clock at the First Christian church beginning Sunday, has been announced by the pastor, the Rev. J. E. McCoy. Sunday morning the sermon will be on "How It Came About," and Sunday night, "Life's Greatest Question."

Mesquite-Killer Shows It Can Get The Job Done

Ranchers from Howard and surrounding counties were impressed Friday by a mesquite eradication demonstration conducted at the Joyce and Bernard Fisher ranch south of here.

A machine, adapted from a tractor, which powered a horizontal disc saw, adjustable to various planes or forward and backward movement, literally mowed down the largest mesquite on the place in the twinkling of an eye.

Under the direction of County Agent O. P. Griffin, the other part of the demonstration was less exciting but equally important. Stumps of the fallen trees and brush were painted by a solution of sodium arsenite (white arsenic—eight pounds to a gallon of water). Creosote was added to the mixture to prevent livestock from licking at the stumps.

Tests at Spur have shown the arsenite solution to be the most effective chemical used yet in preventing roots or stumps from sprouting.

Postmasters Of Texas Will Meet Early In June

Annual meeting of the Texas Postmasters association is to be held in Dallas on June 4-5, Nat Shick, state president, announced Friday.

Dates and place were held open following last year's convention at Waco in order to ascertain conditions, explained Shick. Dallas had extended an invitation at that time.

J. Howard Payne, Dallas, will be the host postmaster and will be in charge of program arrangements, said Shick. It is anticipated that there will be high department officials on hand to deal with complex problems arising out of the phenomenal increase in civilian and military postal volume, according to the president.

Shick was preparing to get out letters to executive committees and others urging a large attendance at the convention. "There was never a time in the history of the organization that postmasters needed more to take part in the state meeting for enlightenment concerning many of their pressing wartime problems," he declared.

Safety Council To Convene Monday

The Big Spring Safety council will have its regular monthly meeting at 8:15 p. m. Monday at the Settles hotel.

Roy Reeder, president, urged a full attendance. Several important reports are to be made, including one on the progress of the basic safety engineering course started a week ago.

Railroad Men To Be C-C Guests

Chamber of commerce directors will observe "railroaders' day" at their regular semi-monthly meeting Monday noon at the Settles hotel.

Directors have invited shop, clerical and trainmen to be their guests for the day.

Legion Launches Junior Baseball

INDIANAPOLIS, April 10 (AP)—The American Legion today issued its annual call for 500,000 baseball players—nab to fill depleted major league ranks but to take part in the legion's 19th annual junior baseball program.

The program calls for the organization of 20,000 teams of boys under 17 years of age. Nationwide competition begins June 30.

Howard Schwarzenbach has left for San Antonio to report for duty as a first lieutenant. Howard is a veterinary surgeon.

More Farms Approved For REA Service

County USDA war boards have approved applications for connecting 23 farms to lines of the Cap Rock Electric Cooperative under a recent lowering of the minimum number of animal units required from 10 to five, according to O. B. Bryan, Stanton, superintendent of the REA unit.

The new five-animal unit minimum is bringing electric service within reach of the small farms which are near existing rural lines, said Bryan. A farm with five animal units is allowed an extension up to 500 feet under War Production Board regulations. Another animal unit is required for each additional 100 feet with the maximum extension allowed pegged at 3,000 feet.

The prospective consumer must possess one electrical device such as a milking machine, milk cooler, incubator, brooder, feed grinder, milk sterilizer or any other unit calculated to help increase food production and save labor. If he does not have this but can get same without priorities or has a A-A-1 or better rating, he may qualify.

Animal units are computed on the basis of the milk cow, with the equivalent in feeders, breeding ewes or feeder lambs, laying hens, turkeys, geese, feeder pigs, brood sows, broiler chicks, etc., qualifying as well. Full information may be had from the Cap Rock offices in Stanton or from the county war board.

Russians Take A Huge Toll

LONDON, Sunday, April 11 (AP)—Russian troops moved down 300 German tanks and 1,500 soldiers yesterday near Balaklava, 35 miles southeast of Kharkov, boosting their two-day toll of the enemy to 1,500, Moscow announced early today.

The midnight Russian communique recorded by the Soviet monitor said successive German efforts to crash the Red army positions were repulsed. These attempts were weaker than those of Friday when the Germans were said to have lost 1,500 men—approximately half of the three battalions hurled into action.

In this single sector the Russian said their troops also destroyed 14 tanks and a number of mobile enemy artillery pieces and mortars in the last two days.

The Week

90 per cent of bus and transport registrations to counties through which they pass is suddenly developing some opposition from the counties. This was somewhat surprising to Summers. But then it need not be, for his bill contained a paragraph which provided that such funds be used for lateral and farm-to-market roads under state highway department supervision. It's most difficult to play local politics with the state highway department in the way.

Another opportunity to hear a profound thinker in a series of addresses will be offered Big People Tuesday and Wednesday when Dr. A. C. Ellis comes here. Those who find mental challenge stimulating will want to hear him.

Man of the week: Ted O. Groehl. Here's one man who rolls up his sleeves and WORKS when he draws an important chairmanship. Groehl is heading up the ultra-important bond and securities drive to raise $700,000 within the county during April. Certain is one thing—if everyone took it as seriously as Groehl, that $700,000 would be raised.

Funny, but those who know the country best are openly pleased that last week's showers were so light. They helped gardens and freshened weeds but were not sufficient to create an irresistible temptation on the part of farmers to plant two to three weeks earlier than they should.

The wave of street light breaking continues. Now replacements are getting more difficult and in some cases impossible to make. Still someone's children make a practice of throwing rocks. Soon many areas of the city may be dark at night. We will have someone, who apparently knows little and cares less about what his children do, to thank for this.

its own stocks and from imports, the government would leave the bulk of the corn available for hog, cattle, dairy and poultry production in the midwest and adjacent territory. This would tend to reduce the strain on the nation's transportation system.

The program is designed to jar loose huge supplies of corn which owners have been holding in anticipation of higher prices. The OPA's price ceiling on corn sold in the surplus corn producing area will be increased 5 cents a bushel. The new ceiling will be $1.07 per bushel for No. 2 yellow corn, Chicago basis, compared with the old ceiling of $1.02. Davis said this increase should encourage immediate resumption of the movement of corn through trade channels.

Ship Torpedoed In The Coastal Lanes

KEY WEST, Fla., April 10 (AP)—A submarine sneaked into heavily-guarded coastal shipping lanes early in April to make a hit-and-run attack and sink a merchantman in waters off the eastern coast of the United States for the first loss reported there since last summer.

Forty men were lost, among them the gallant skipper who chose to go down with his blazing ship, a medium-sized United States craft. Eighteen survivors managed to get clear of the burning oil which spread around the vessel, and were picked up 10 hours later by patrol vessels.

Secretary Knox and other navy officials have warned that U-boats, driven out of nearby areas by a relentless campaign, might return again in force, but there were indications that the sinking did not signal a new, widespread drive.

The ship was traveling alone, and did not have the protection of planes, blimps and surface craft which have been getting convoys safely through the same waters since the last previously attack took place in August, 1942.

Two torpedoes struck in quick succession, survivors related, and set the ill-fated merchantman afloat. The ship started sinking rapidly.

Capt. James W. Harrel, of Houston, Tex., who had an injured leg, limped to the only lifeboat not ablaze and directed the launching. When it capsized, he shouted: "Jump for it, lads."

Then, the awed crewmen related, Harrel walked directly, without a sign of a limp, to his cabin and remained there until the vessel went to overcome shortages by depletion of the cottonseed meal supplies.

Of this amount, 150,000 has been secured in allotment of five cars by the state war board.

Since the high protein feed shortage became so acute here in mid-winter that only contract orders were filled to feeders and farmers and dairymen placed on a ration basis, a total of 600 tons of this type of feed (both soybean and cottonseed meal) has been secured for distribution here, the chamber of commerce, which has made this one of its major projects, announced on the basis of its computations.

Pay-As-You-Go Fight Will Be Renewed

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—The whole pay-as-you-go tax issue was headed toward another showdown on Capitol Hill next week, before congress recesses for a brief Easter rest. Unless the house disposes of this tax issue, republicans probably will prevent any recess at all.

The republicans are maneuvering for a second vote on the defeated Ruml plan to skip an income tax year, and some democrats discussed the possibility of pressing through a simple withholding levy against wages and salaries, without any tax abatement.

Livestock

FORT WORTH, April 10 (AP)—Livestock: Hogs top $14.50. Packing cows sold at decline of 25 cts. or more. Sheep receipts mostly woolled fat lambs carried over for Monday. No steers or yearlings sold. A few butcher cows cashed at $8.50-11.00; a few butcher calves brought $10.50-12.00. Most good and choice 200-300 lb. butcher hogs sold at $14.50 with good 150-185 lb. averages at $14-14.40. Packing cows cashed $14.00 down.

School Leader To Talk Here

Dr. A. Caswell Ellis, internationally known for his work in the field of adult education, will appear here and at Lamesa, this week in a series of addresses for the lay and school people.

He will speak three times here Tuesday and the same number on Wednesday, and then follow an identical schedule at Lamesa.

Dr. Ellis is to speak Monday at 11 a. m. to the high school students and faculty on "how to prepare for the new era ahead." At noon he appears at the Rotary luncheon to speak on "Our Part and the Way Out: How to Pay a $20 Billion Dollar War Debt and Meet the Military and Economic Competitions of War and Peace."

At 5 p. m. Dr. Ellis addressed a gathering of parents, teachers and others on "how to make America stronger now." This talk and his morning one, will be at the high school auditorium.

On Wednesday he will appear again before the high school student and faculty, giving his plan on "How to Study Effectively." At noon he repeats his analysis of "Our Part and the Way Out," and at 5:15 p. m. at room 306 in the high school, he will confer with teachers and the school staff on the department of psychology and philosophy in the school of education of the University of Texas and for the past several years director of the Cleveland college in downtown Cleveland, a downtown branch for adults of Western Reserve university. Upon his retirement, this nationally and internationally known authority in the field of adult education returned to Texas and became associated with the university's extension division.

The public is not only invited to hear Dr. Ellis, said W. C. Blankenship, superintendent. "We earnestly urge as many as can to hear him at every opportunity."

For years Dr. Ellis was head of the department of psychology and philosophy in the school of education of the University of Texas and for the past several years director of the Cleveland college in downtown Cleveland, a downtown branch for adults of Western Reserve university. Upon his retirement, this nationally and internationally known authority in the field of adult education returned to Texas and became associated with the university's extension division.

Scouts Distribute War Loan Material

Eleven Boy Scouts got in a Nok on the all-out bond campaign for April by distributing literature Saturday.

They put out 2,500 folders containing informational matter and 250 special posters besides, reported H. D. Norris, field executive for the Big Spring district. Those helping were B. E. Lees, Harold Berry, Durward Carnest, Dee Childers, Tom Ellis, Pete Fugleer, James Mancill, Billy Gus Tatum, Jim Bill Little, Clyde Smith and Donald Wood.

Rev. E. C. Lee, pastor of the Main Street Church of God, has succeeded the Rev. Robert E. Bowden, who went to the Church of God in Sweetwater. The Rev. Lee was accompanied here by his wife and two daughters, Irene, 30, and Betty Ann, 8.

Veteran Railroad Official Expires

HOT SPRING, Ark., April 10 (AP)—E. R. Safford, who as a youth became a roofer for the Illinois Central and spent the rest of his life with railroads—ending as senior executive assistant to the president of the Missouri-Pacific railroad—died at his hotel room here early today. He was 87.

The veteran railroad official and Houston civic leader came here yesterday in his private car, accompanied by his wife and his personal physician, Dr. Ray Daley of Houston. He suffered a brain hemorrhage at 2 a. m.

Mrs. Safford said funeral services probably would be held at Houston on Monday.

Safford was born at Madison, Ind., attended public school there, and Purdue university. He followed the footsteps of his father, a railroad worker who went west to Indiana in the early days.

He had been employed in executive capacities by the Burlington, the Grand Trunk of Canada, the Illinois Central and the Pennsylvania before going with the Missouri-Pacific in 1925. From 1915 to 1920, he was assistant regional director for the U. S. Railway association. As senior executive assistant, Safford was in charge of the Missouri-Pacific's Texas-Louisiana properties, including the International-Great Northern railroad and the Gulf Coast Lines.

Texas Labor Loss To Be Smaller

AUSTIN, April 10 (AP)—Labor Commissioner John Reed today estimated that not more than 20,000 migratory laborers would be taken out of Texas this year, compared with an average of 50,000 in the past.

Wartime conditions, providing jobs, and a stringent new recruiting law effective last month will be largely responsible, Reed said.

Labor "wildcatting"—the practice of unlicensed agents' picking up workers—won't be a fraction of its former size, he added. Last year wildcaters took out from 5,000 to 10,000 agricultural workers. Numerous reports have come to the labor department, Reed said, that Texas cotton producers have requested the manpower commission to freeze agricultural labor. But, he added, there has been no indication that such action is contemplated by the federal government.

"We have been asked to stop recruiting of labor but we can not do it when the agents are licensed and the workers do not have jobs," Reed declared.

Recruiting is just getting underway—principally for workers to be taken to beet fields in the west and midwest. In the past Michigan has taken a large portion of Texas laborers.

Under the new law recruiting agents must pay state and county license fees and taxes and post a $5,000 bond in each county where they solicit.

Colorado Red Cross Recognized For Work. COLORADO CITY, April 10.—The two area instructors for the Red Cross surgical dressings project, Mrs. J. Frank Triplett and Mrs. P. L. Reppert of Amarillo, held praise Thursday for the Colorado City set-up and progress in the work. Workers are busy with the fourth quota of battle sponges. Commendation of the rooms, the lighting, the tables, charts, and the proper uniforming of all workers, was given by Mrs. R. J. Wallace, chairman here, and her staff of supervisors. The women here donated their new regulation headgear, recently ordered by Red Cross headquarters, for the first time this week. "Colorado City is to be congratulated on the work being done here," Mrs. Reppert said. "Conditions are excellent. The women are doing good work. This will probably be a long project. We must all keep at it."

Second Waste Fat Drive Here Disappointing To Girl Scouts

Lack of enough girl scouts to canvass the town and a large number of places where no one was home contributed to the disappointing amount of fats turned in Saturday by the girl scouts in their second drive. Mrs. V. A. Whittington, leader said Saturday. Dividing the town into zones, the scouts brought in 250 pounds of fats while in the first drive they netted 650 pounds. However, Mrs. Whittington explained that only five of the eight zone leaders had reported and that some seven at the airport area is not to be worked until next week. Forty girls took part in the drive. The next date set for a concentrated effort to better the second attempt, will be May 1. At this time, the girl scouts will work the blocks in which they live and report to the zone leaders Mrs. Whittington explained. In this way, the girl scout leader believed, it would be possible for the girls to know when it would be most likely to find each household in the block at home to get her waste fats contribution. Zones and zone leaders reporting in Saturday's drive were Zone 3, Mrs. Vic Blankenship; Zone 4, Mrs. A. B. Partridge; Zone 5, Mrs. Wayne Pearce; Zone 6, Mrs. Vernon Whittington; Zone 8, Mrs. C. S. Edmunds.

Activities At The USO

Cadet Fred Brent's mother from El Paso really pulled a surprise on him on his birthday anniversary Wednesday. The El Paso USO called the local USO directors and asked them to arrange to send Cadet Brent a birthday cake. After some trouble of getting Cadet Brent out of class he was presented with the cake plus a "Happy Birthday" rendition. "Visiting" out at the post hospital Wednesday where they took books, magazines and flowers were Mrs. F. V. Kinsey, Mrs. J. W. Freeman, Mrs. Stanley Baugh, Mrs. W. A. Manning, Mrs. Leslie Roberts and Mrs. W. H. Scott. Enlisted men's wives were entertained with a theatre party this week and refreshments were served afterward at the canteen. Plans were discussed for the enlisted men's dance which will be held at the V. F. W. home Tuesday evening. Those attending the affair were Mrs. Hal Harris, Mrs. Stanley Baugh, Mrs. Lester Marek, Potts, Mrs. Mary Burns, Mrs. R. L. Brown, Mrs. Rick Sheridan, Mrs. H. S. Carter, Mrs. W. A. Manning, Mrs. James Butler and Mrs. R. J. Hardin. USO officials are appealing to local women to volunteer their services for mending soldier uniforms and sewing on army insignias. The work can be done at home. Anyone interested is urged to call Ann Houser, program director, at 551 or 982. Sunday 9 a. m.—Coffee hour at the USO. Refreshments served to visiting soldiers. 4 to 7 o'clock—Hospitality hour at the USO with hostesses from the First Baptist church. 5 to 6 p. m.—Hour devoted to recordings which are made by soldiers and sent to the folks back home. Records are sold at a small cost at the canteen so that service men may record their message rather than write it. Monday 7 to 10 p. m.—Get Acquainted Night at the USO with Eloise Haley as desk hostess and members of the University and Hyperion clubs as hostesses. 8:30 p. m.—Entertainment hour with song and dance numbers.

Federated Clubs Hold War Parley At Odessa

Miss Ethel Foster, State President, Attends Meeting. Rather than the regular run of annual parleys where club women convene for talks and teas along with discussions of organized activities, the federated club women of the eighth district held a two day war conference in Odessa, Thursday and Friday of this week, making plans for an all-out war program during 1943 with a pledge for wholehearted support from the home front. Final check revealed that around 125 persons, representing the 75 clubs of the eighth district attended the parley which was highlighted with talks by Miss Ethel Foster, Sterling City, who is state president; Mrs. J. Hodge, district president of Midland and Lieut. Col. J. Stuart Pearce, army chaplain of Fort Sam Houston. As entertainment, teas, a formal banquet and a nutrition luncheon were held. Activities got underway at the First Christian church, convention headquarters, Thursday morning with registration at 10:30 o'clock. Convention theme "Women in War Service for Victory" was demonstrated in every detail during the entire convention. First session was held in the auditorium of the Christian church with Mrs. Hodge, Mrs. Sam Renick, first vice-president, of El Paso and Mrs. R. L. McCracken of Marfa, second vice president, in charge of the meeting. Reporting as chairman of nursing recruitment for the eighth district, Mrs. J. E. Hogan stated that to date 160 club members had taken Red Cross home nursing with 112 taking first aid. Three received instruction in nurse's aid and around $816 had been donated thus far for the drive which is being sponsored by the federation.

P-T. A. Funds Boosted By Benefit Party

Around $40 was cleared at a benefit bridge and 42 party sponsored by the Parent-Teacher's Association of South Ward School Friday evening. The entertainment was held at the high school with around 65 persons attending. Tickets were sold by school children and room mothers of West Ward, and Mrs. J. A. Coffey's room was recognized for selling the largest number of tickets. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. John Whitmire for women's high score in bridge and Mrs. T. C. Thomas, second high. Jack Morgan won bridge high for men and Jack Smith, second high. Mrs. Robert Hill won high in 42 with Lieut. Jack Morris. Funds, realized from the entertainment will go into the unit treasury.

Two Will Entertain Club Tuesday Night

Mrs. Dalton Mitchell and Mrs. J. C. Smith will entertain members of the Past Matrons' club Tuesday evening in the Smith home at 1704 Johnson. The meeting starts at 8 o'clock and all members are urged to attend.

Jewish Sisterhood To Meet With Mrs. Joseph

The Temple Israel Sisterhood will meet with Mrs. Al Joseph Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. All members are urged to attend.

Home Demonstration Clubs To Back Bill Approved By The State Nutrition Committee

Mrs. Ross Hill, Mrs. Edward Simpson and Mrs. Shirley Fryar were appointed to distribute form letters to presidents of home demonstration clubs in Howard county Saturday when the council met in Miss Rhea Boyle's office in regular session. Letters to be sent to presidents concern the passage of a bill now in the house of representatives which deals with the enrichment of flour and bread. Sponsored by the state nutrition committee, all home demonstration clubs in the state are backing the proposal. At the Saturday afternoon meeting the group voted to hold a food sale Saturday, April 24 at the agent's office selling pastries, fryers, hens, etc. All club women are urged to attend a party which will be held Saturday afternoon, April 24 in the basement of the First Methodist church at 2:30 o'clock. The council voted to change the meeting from the second Saturday of the month to the fourth due to the absence of Miss Boyle and those present were Mrs. Don Rabbury, Mrs. Fryar, Mrs. W. H. Couple To Wed Today At Church

Before an altar banked with palms and flanked with flower baskets of gladioli and calla lilies, Miss Beulah Irene Townsend of Parkersburg, W. Va., and Pfc. Lionel Albert Marshall of Pittsburg, Pa., will be married in the First Methodist church by the pastor, the Rev. H. Clyde Smith, at 12:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Miss Townsend, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Townsend of Parkersburg, will wear an aqua blue ensemble with black and white accessories and her flowers will be sunburst roses arranged into a shoulder corsage. She will be attended by Mrs. C. T. Potts who will be attired in a brown and white frock with turf tan accessories. The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Marshall of Pittsburg, will be attended by Cpl. Merz. As pre-nuptial music, Frances Drake will sing "I Love You Truly" and "Because," accompanied by Mrs. Leighton Mundt. Following the wedding ceremony a wedding dinner will be held at the Crawford hotel. After a short wedding trip the couple will be at home here where the bridegroom is stationed at the Big Spring Bombarrier School. For traveling the bride will wear a steel gray suit with canary yellow accessories.

Another Program On Cotton Planting Scheduled Today

Another program in the West Texas Chamber of Commerce series of appeals to area growers to plant their full legal allowable cotton acreage this spring will be aired at 2:15 this afternoon on station KGBT. The broadcast, No. 12 in the series of 16, will be on new wartime uses of cotton including short staples. One of the new uses is in the manufacture of automobile tires from the product known as furfural, made of pulped cotton linters. Wednesday morning at 7:45 broadcast No. 13 will be heard on KGBT. It will be about cotton, peanuts and soybeans, the principal crop sources of protein feeds and vegetable oils in which serious and growing shortages exist.

Ann Talbot Is Hostess To Club

"The Merry Tunes of the Early 19th Century" was the topic of a musical program held Saturday afternoon when the Junior Music Study club met with Ann Talbot. As an illustration of the study, Helon Blount, president of the organization, played "Butterfly" by Lavalee and Jean Ellen Chowna played "Prelude" by Bach. Refreshments were served and those present were Betty Lou McGinnis, Helon Blount, Jean Ellen Chowna, Pat Selkirk, Joe O'Brien, Burton Boyd, Betty Jo Pool, Ann Talbot. Betty Lou McGinnis will entertain the club in two weeks.

Miss Reta Mae Bigony Next To Top Ranking Student At McMurry

Reta Mae Bigony was listed on the mid-semester honor roll at McMurry college, which includes the top ranking students of McMurry with standing determined by grade points. Twelve points are given for an A and nine points for a B. Miss Bigony received 69 points, this being next to the top ranking student. Reta Mae is majoring in business administration and minoring in mathematics. She is active in all college activities, being a member of the Mission Band, religious organization on the campus, Kappa Phi, women's social club on the campus, of which she is president, and S. C. R. A. Student Council of Religious Activities. Reta Mae is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Bigony of Big Spring.

Miss Laneous Notes

The unholy glee that you experience when you hear one of your chums called by his full and legal name is a rich experience nearly everyone has had at some time or other. Maybe you've always called him Chuck or a similar nickname and it takes somebody from his old home town to tear the veil away and you find out his name is Elmer. His mortification over being discovered is only equalled to the laugh you get when you overhear his full name. Or maybe you've always called him John and his folks arrive and fondly cry out "Wilbur John" and you never even suspected what the W. stood for. It works with girls, too, for maybe she's been hiding under the plain handle of Louise and dear old sunny calls you up and asks where Jenny Louise can be located. It's not that the double name or the real name is so bad or funny, but just that the owner of the name has tried so hard to lose it that makes the discovery so appealing. You can guess without fear of being wrong that since he has been old enough to think about it, he's hated his name and gratefully clung to the "Red," or whatever it might be. In a new job or new location he thinks he's left his name behind, but somebody or something always gives him away eventually and his friends turn into hideous grinning monsters who will never let him forget that they know ALL.

FRANKLIN'S advertisement for Easter parade dresses with illustrations of models wearing different styles of dresses.

Easter Hunt

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Fashion Editor

HAVE you started your Easter hat hunt?

This year, despite the wartime austerity of life, you'll find the spring crop of headgear more varied, flattering and plentiful than ever. It's a bumper year for hats, thanks to the skill of our designers and the natural desire of women to be pretty.

Pictured here are four sure-fire hits in the big parade. They are, reading from left to right: Braagaard's Gibson Girl fedora of pink straw braided and navy blue grosgrain ribbon, and his little suit hat of navy balibuntl straw tied up with white pique bows; Helene Garnell's navy straw sailor with red bow-tie band to match the necktie, and her topper of pink-sprigged dimity, with matching gloves.

Brushed Rayon Among Replacement Fabrics On The Market Today

Among the 'replacement' fabrics which seem destined to stay with us after the war, there is none more versatile than the new brushed rayon. Light-weight, good-looking and warm, it is equally appropriate for softly feminine garments such as bed jackets and night gowns, and for sweaters, scarves and trimly tailored outer clothes.

Brushed rayons can usually be identified by labels attached to the garments. Because of their fuzzy nap many of the fabrics might otherwise be mistaken for cotton, flannel or wool. This similarity, however, ends with the surface resemblance. Brushed rayons have all the basic qualities of the more familiar smooth-surfaced rayon and should be handled in much the same way.

Washing is a matter of gentle hand-squeezing in abundant soap suds and lukewarm water. Like all rayons, the brushed kind are weakest when wet and cannot stand being wrung or rubbed. It is therefore best to do the washing early and often, before dirt becomes ingrained. Light surface soil will float free of the fabric and suds. Rinsing should be thorough and in water of the same lukewarm temperature as the wash water. A moment's towel rolling will leave the garments half dry. To restore the brushed surface of lightly napped fabrics, an occasional shake during drying is recommended. Brushing will raise the nap of heavier, plush-like fabrics but they should first be pressed on the wrong side when dry.

Wire Fencing Off The Ration List

Wire fencing, the commodity for which the local Farm Machinery Rationing committee has been kept busy issuing certificates of approval each Saturday, is now off the rationed list. M. Weaver, AAA officer, announced Saturday.

The office was notified this week that from now on no certificates would need to be issued to permit the purchase of the wire. However, wire fencing of every kind, is practically an obsolete commodity as local dealers have long since cleaned out their stock of the fencing. Small and infrequent shipments of fencing are received from time to time, but are bought almost before they are received.

Teensters Going All Out For Spring's Prettiest Fashions

Huge Pockets Not Only Decorative But Handy Too

Teensters will be parading in the prettiest fashions imaginable this Easter! Pretty, practical fashions that are duplicates of Mother's. There are wonderful double-duty coats, suits and dresses that the coke-crowd will adore for wear Easter Sunday and through spring. To top Young America's prettiest prints—suits—the Chesterfield and "boy" coats are definitely the favorites, plus classic double breasted box coats—all of which have expertly tailored to give seasons of satisfactory wear. The velvet-collared Chesterfield is simply super in new high colors—and there is a wide choice of single or double breasted styles in fly fronts, box and fitted styles.

Casual suits are smart, and like Mother, girls have taken them to heart. Big Spring teen agers like them for school, dates because of the dressed up feeling in gay plaids and sort of pastel shetlands.

For parties and Sunday best, there are pretty prints and two piece dresses of rayon crepe and faille. Ruffles are the favorite trim, and you'll find them on square necks—in pockets, too.

Ruffled Blouses, Pinafores

Skirts, sweaters and blouses are here again—the classic costume for school girls. Huge pockets are news in skirts and teens will find them wonderful to fill with little odds and ends they need. Long or short sleeves, she more than likely will be asking for an assortment of blouses to wear with skirts and dainty pinafores.

AAA MAN HERE

O. Y. Miller of Bryan, state district performance supervisor, will be in Big Spring Monday and Tuesday at the AAA office to discuss the AAA ranch program.

Hatbox Highlights

This year, spring hats are picture-pretty, and abound with color, but most important, there's no priority on any of them. Designed to wear beautifully with either the upswEEP or long bobs, or to perch prettily in back of pompadours, there are hats to flatter every face, to top every costume with chic.

Berets, in both tiny and large pancake size are back with us again, completely new and fresh-faced worn perfectly straight on the head or off the brow.

In navy blue with a dash of white, the beret is really the hat for your navy blue suit.

The straight-on-the-head sailor is another fashion winner, newest with the slim taller crown. The tiny skull cap which fits the head very snugly is of the newest of the new hats for spring, and is very pretty worn with the long bob. Very snug fitting and completely simple and plain, it makes much of a pretty brow and spotlights lovely eyes. Because it keeps your hair completely away from the face, (father your curls chignon fashions in the back) it gives you that smooth well-groomed look.

Bond Appeal Voiced To Business Club

Ted O. Groehl, chairman of the Howard county forces seeking to meet the county quota of $705,000 in war bonds and other government issues during April, appealed for support from the American Business Club at its meeting Friday.

It is a Herculean task, said Groehl, but one in which the people of this county cannot afford to fall when young men on the front are giving their lives instead of lending their money.

A musical program was presented by a quartet composed of Eva Jane Darby, Betty Pool, Marilyn Keaton and Helen Blount, accompanied by Mrs. Pat Kenney. Jack Johnson was in charge of the program.

Govt. Fraud Trial Set For Monday

Anti-Racketeer Bill Has Strong Opposition

WASHINGTON, April 10 (AP)—Powerful opposition developed in the senate today to the house-approved Hobbs anti-racketeering bill but supporters of the measure insisted they will push it to an early vote and exhibited confidence in the outcome.

Providing for federal prosecution of anyone interfering with the movement of goods in interstate commerce, the bill passed the house despite the opposition of labor leaders, who contended it might be interpreted as infringing on what they regard as established rights under federal statutes.

Chairman Truman (D-Mo.) of the senate war investigating committee said he opposes passage of the measure because it might have a disturbing influence on labor relations in some war plants.

"I think the bill has some bad features and I'm against it," Truman said, "but at the same time I think that labor has got to display some statesmanship in this critical war period if it's going to feel the effects of some stringent regulations."

Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) asserted the bill has "some very dangerous possibilities" in that it might circumscribe recognized labor rights if wrongly administered.

Without care for the clerks or the wide-eyed customers, ignoring the shouts of the shot-gun guard, the tall stranger in the bush-clawed chaps strode through the last gate and stopped by the desk with a hard, brash grin.

"I'm sorry," declared the honey-haired girl, "but Mr. Haines sees no one without an appointment."

The door banged violently open and an angry face framed in mutton-chop whalers peered furiously into the outer defences.

Retailers Start Cashing Coupons This Week

After midnight, April 10, retailers, wholesalers, and distributors must begin surrendering points for the purchase of processed foods, the ration board said Saturday. Since midnight, March 28, the retailers, wholesalers, and distributors were allowed to buy processed foods without points in order to build up their stock. New points must be surrendered for their purchases the same as consumers.

Men's Wear of Character

Meet The Bombardiers— Many AAFBS Cadets Were Athletes Of Top Ability

Fine physical specimens, these young men of the cadet classes at the Big Spring Bombardier School. Uncle Sam wants them that way, as the men who drop the deadly bombs on the axis.

For their physical fitness, a large number of the cadets no doubt can thank extensive athletic training, and a surprising number of the members of the newest class at the school are former athletes of ability and wide repute. Introducing more of the lads:

NEW JERSEY
This state comes through with fourteen lads. From Jersey City we have two who answer to the names of Johnny Schwartz and Edward Pershing McNally. Johnny graduated from Lincoln high school in Jersey City, played semi-baseball for a spell, and then went to work for the Lehigh Valley railroad as a trainman. He has a brother who is an aviation machinist's mate in the navy. Richard is a Dickinson high school grad whose idea of a good time is golfing with the tiler in one hand, and a bottle of ale in the other. He was an optical lab worker with the Bendix Aviation Corp. until recently.

Then we have an order clerk from the Lackawanna Warehouse Co. His name is Dominic Notta, and he's a football, tennis, baseball and basketball fiend from Newark. Dominic graduated from Barringer high school where he starred in all the aforementioned sports, and girls—he's just wild about dancing! George T. Gretton is a Lawrenceville lad. He's a Wesleyan college man and an Alpha Delta Phi to boot. George was a salesman for the Home Rubber Co. in Trenton before his appointment. Joseph O'Sullivan, a student from the New Jersey State Teacher's college, is a star basketballer from Ridgely. And Frank Plotnik is a machine operator from Hoboken. Frank graduated from the A. J. Demarest high school, and later went to work for the American Can Co. Next on the list is John R. Mitchell who attended the Newark College of Engineering and wound up as an instrument maker for the Weston Electrical Instrument people. Johnny is quite a boy with the pigskin, and can run so fast that his own shadow is hard put to keep up with him.

From South River there is an industrial electrician. His name is Harry Sasaman, and he was a corporal at Fort Hill, Okla., before receiving his appointment as a cadet bombardier. Then there is William Graves, a Glassboro boy, who starred in football and basketball during his high school days. Bill was formerly an office clerk for the Atlantic City Electric Co. John Francis Wurga is a native of Rahway, and a former Union Junior college student. Besides being an outstanding boxer and a champ swimmer he can hold you spellbound with his semi-classical operettas. His voice is a thing of beauty. Next we have Jimmy Stavast, a Bloomfield boy who studied at New York university. It's his ambition to wind up later in life as a civil engineer. Jimmy used to work as a fireman for the Pennsylvania railroad. Robert Nicholas Vlachos hails from the charming little town of Maplewood. He's a Colgate university grad who took his B. A. back in '42 and then entered Vlachos &

Co. to work as a draftsman. He was the captain of his golf team at college, and earned quite a reputation for himself as a guy who could really beat that apple around.

Robert Trinks is a Hackensack athlete who shone in football, basketball and baseball during his high school days. He was an insurance underwriter for the Great American Insurance Co. before he became a cadet. And Robert Tucker, an East Orange boy, is a football enthusiast who earned his curds and whey as a mail clerk in civilian life. Robert's brother, Frank, is a private first class in the army.

NEW YORK
The Empire State grabs first prize on this deal. She gives us the largest number of cadets for the new class. Thirty men in all. From Jackson Heights, that cozy little suburb of New York City, we have two Bills. Bill Sikau, a railway postal clerk, plays a lot of semi-pro baseball and basketball in his spare time, and tells us that he is the fifth member of his family to enter the armed forces. One lad is a private and another a lieutenant in the infantry, while still another is a hard-boiled sergeant in the Marines. And last but by no means least, there's that aviation machinist's mate in the navy. Not bad for one family! The other Bill belongs to the Cagney family. His civilian occupation has been that of secretary among other things, and he's done quite a bit of feature writing for the New York World-Telegram, newspaper, on the side. Bill is a former Columbia university student, and he's an all-sport boy who does very well at tennis, football and baseball to mention just a few.

There are six boys from New York City proper. The first one is a city slicker by the name of Johnny Stock. Johnny is a soft-ball expert from Manhattan college who likes to write and collect stamps. And as all of his good neighbors will testify, Al also likes to do his deep-breathing exercises on the trombone, which used to make them most unhappy. Of course they don't mind it a bit now. He's in Texas. Then there is Herbert Zang, a New York university student, who turned out to be a precision optical worker for the Farrand Optical company, and now is going to do a little precision bombing for Uncle Sam. Herb's hobby is astronomy, and he is a member in good standing of the Amateur Astronomers association. Another Herbert, who answers to the last name of Kemper, is a Long Island university lad with a taste for baseball and tennis. Herbert worked as a production manager in civilian life, and his ambition is to teach law and economics after the war. Meanwhile, he's very anxious to learn bombardiering in a hurry so that he can practice his law and economics on our little axis playmates. Herb has three cousins in the armed forces. Captain David Kemper is in the army, Lieut. Herbert Kemper, his namesake, is in the navy, and Lieut. Commander I. Gernsbach is another navy man. The next New Yorker is a textile mechanic and a first class sheet metal worker for good measure. His name is Morris Schweitzer, and he's a graduate of Thomas Jefferson high school in Brooklyn. Incidentally, he completed high school at the age of fifteen, and that ought to prove that Morris is really "on the beam." A bookkeeper for the Pepsi-Cola Co., is our next cadet. He's William Pfeiffer, former track star at the Franklin K. Lane high school, and he just loves to roller skate. His hobby is riding meat-lockers and cooking up a five-pound steak in between meals. A grocery clerk, one Joe Parrino, is also in training here. Joe is a graduate of Newtown high school in Queens, and is very partial to basketball, square dancing, and beautiful women.

Now comes Brooklyn, the home of "dem dere Dodgers." Lester Stein, a four-sport boy who goes in for baseball, basketball, football and boxing, was a painter foreman in civilian life. His last job was with the Brooklyn Navy Yard. And Paul Stevens was a salesman for the General Electric distributors until recently. During his high school days at Brooklyn Tech, Paul was a whiz at football, and received honorable mention on the all-city team. Then we have Vincent Benedetto, a bachelor of arts from St. John's university, an Alpha Chi Lambda and a junior public accountant for good measure. His favorite sports are football and basketball and loafing. Another bachelor of arts and a Beta Theta Pi is Gene Reale of St. Lawrence university. Gene's last job was in a TNT plant near Lake Ontario, so he ought to know a little about blasting the axis. Gene is a numismatist which is not as alarming as it sounds. It merely indicates that he likes to collect old coins and medals. Next on the list is Bernard Schechter, a track and baseball star during his days at Thomas Jefferson high school. Until a short time ago, Bernard worked as an electrician. Our last boy from Brooklyn is a baseballer, basketballer and weight-lifter from Brooklyn college. His name is Joe Manber, and he has two brothers in the infantry; one is a buck private and the other is a sergeant. Joe's civilian job was that of a special patrolman, and his ambition is to be a New York City cop after the war.

Emily Stalcup, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stalcup, is now stationed in Fort Worth as a hostess for American Airlines. Mrs. Stalcup is visiting her daughter there for a few days.

Story

pede Hog an' Cattle Company, I'm orderin' you off the Holeman Grant. Be off it before sun-up tomorrow or I'll see you facin' a jail sentence—get me?"

"Hoo, hoo!" jeered Jones. "You an' your jail sentences make me laff! Jail sentence for what?"

"For illegally preempting a valuable property this institution is holding in trust."

Jones' loud whoop cut the rest of Haines' words off. "The only trust you can find in this bank is the trust that's bleedin' this country—"

"Have a care!" Haines shouted. "There's such a thing as libel—"

Jones looked down his nose. He made an impolite sound. "Aw, go pick up yer knittin', Percy," he growled at the banker, and turned a sly glance on Lot Deckerman. "You know well as I do," he said, "that Holeman range has been layin' empty for goin' on six years."

"Well, it ain't empty now—"

"Sure it ain't! Four darn range-grabbin' syndicates got cattle runnin' all over the place—I've a good mind to pen 'em up fer trespass!"

"You lay hand on them cattle," Deckerman choked, "an' we'll string you up higher'n Hammon!"
