Flynn Witness—Betty Hansen, 17-year-old complaining witness in Errol Flynn's trial on statutory rape charges, describes to Deputy District Attorney Thomas W. Cochran the arrangement of the rooms in the Bel-Air mansion where she claims she was ravished. She took the stand as the first of the state's chief witnesses in the trial at Los Angeles.

Girl Admits She Didn't Try To Dissuade Flynn

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15 (AP)—Betty Hansen, little grey-eyed blonde schoolgirl, reiterated today at the trial of movie actor Errol Flynn on statutory rape charges that she made no effort to dissuade him from amorous advances on the occasion when, she alleges, he was intimate with her in the bedroom of a Bel-Air mansion.

"Did you resist Flynn's attempt to be intimate with you in any way?" Deputy District Attorney Thomas Cochran asked on re-direct examination.

"No," Miss Hansen replied. "I did not."

"You refused to testify against him on grounds that it might incriminate you?"

She denied, however, that she had been promised immunity by becoming a prosecution witness.

Flynn sat impassively watching her. For the third time in the trial, he appeared in a change of costume. The brown suit he wore yesterday was succeeded by one of slate blue.

Denying she was film-struck and had pursued Flynn in the hope of obtaining a movie role, Miss Hansen declared, "The only ambition I have is to fly."

While working as a waitress in a Hollywood Boulevard drug store, she added, she met a young studio friend of Flynn's who invited her to the party.

Asked if she had not said "I thought Flynn was good-looking," Miss Hansen retorted with an emphatic, "no, sir," the while looking disdainfully at the actor, seated at the counsel table.

Becoming ill after the actor gave her a drink at the party, she said, she went upstairs at his suggestion to lie down. There, she related, he undressed her and himself. The alleged act of intimacy followed, she declared.

May Hike Oil Allowable For New Wells

Commission Considerers Order To Spur Wildcatting

DALLAS, Jan. 15. (AP)—The Texas railroad commission today took under consideration, and appeared favorable to, a proposal to liberalize oil allowables for wells in new Texas fields—as an incentive for wildcatting.

Commissioner Olin Culberson proposed an amendment fixing allowables for discovery wells at from 20 barrels for wells down to 1,000 in depth, to 240 barrels for wells between 11,000 and 12,000 feet deep.

Culberson said the amendment would "give the type of encouragement to wildcatting that every real wildcatter and oil man wants and that is just an opportunity to pay out on his gamble."

"In my opinion, it is a splendid opportunity for the purchasers of oil to do their part in this emergency by purchasing all oil produced from new discoveries, at least for the 18-months period wherein this consideration is extended to new discoveries."

With the east coast demanding a million and a half barrels of oil and fuel, and getting less than a million barrels, the commission's open hearing took on national significance.

Reports from leading producers clarified the problems of this state's role in the war effort.

Heralding an improved era for the wildcat producer, Culberson aimed a surprise order at removing some restrictions on allowables and acreage which held back Texas ventures to a disappointing degree.

The important of Texas in the war effort was declared to be paramount by George Hill, vice-president of the American Petroleum industry's war council.

"We know that oil and its products in this great war are the most important ammunition upon which the allies must achieve victory over the Axis," Hill declared.

"I've learned in my 15 months study of this role of oil in war production and fighting that the use of this vital ammunition in an effective way is the most difficult and most important undertaking in the war effort. Otherwise there would be no battle line of 20 million men fighting for control of the Caspian sea oil basin in the Caucasus area of Russia. With Texas boys on the battle front from Guadalcanal to Bizerte, it is significant and important to Texans that the war agency which has the greatest opportunity and the greatest responsibility for the home front's battle is the Texas railroad commission."

Harold MacMillan, British minister for North and West Africa, expressed belief last night that Gen. Henri Giraud, high commissioner for French North and West Africa, was "determined to reach an agreement with Gen. De Gaulle," leader of the fighting French.

James M. Scott of Los Angeles, serving five years from Oldham and Potter counties for robbery, and an unidentified convict also were recaptured quickly.

J. D. Taylor of Lubbock, serving 10 years for burglary, and Carl Anderson, serving 25 years from El Paso county for robbery, were caught at Crockett, said Capt. H. D. Furns of Houston who was in charge of rangers trailing the fugitives.

Five packs of bloodhounds were pursuing the others near Lovelady and Weldon and in the Trinity bottoms.

Public Hearings Called On Flynn's Nomination

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15. (AP)—The senate foreign relations committee unanimously ordered public hearings today, beginning next week, on protests against President Roosevelt's nomination of Edward J. Flynn, retiring democratic national chairman, to be minister to Australia.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex) said he would confer with Flynn, and "other interested parties" to determine a convenient time for the opening of the hearing, which will be conducted by the full 23-member committee. He said the hearings probably would start Wednesday or Thursday.

Flynn must be in Chicago Monday to attend a meeting of the democratic national committee to submit his resignation as chairman.

Connally told reporters the committee would limit its investigation to charges that could be substantiated by direct testimony of witnesses, barring any hearsay charges against the appointee.

Senator Bridges (R-NH) has been especially critical of Flynn, saying his record made him unfit for the important assignment.

Bridges said he would submit a list of 31 witnesses including Flynn who he suggested should be called to testify.

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, Jan. 15. (AP)—Flying fortresses attacked the eastern Tunisian supply ports of Sousse and Sfax yesterday, leaving the harbor areas aflame from a destructive downpour of explosives, it was announced today.

Lighter two-motored B-26 marauders battered rail lines and highways along the coastal road at Mahara, on the Gulf of Gabes 20 miles southwest of Sfax, and American fighters ranged widely over the battle area.

An allied communique said that "there was no change in the ground situation."

(The Allied aerial attack also was kept under way from bases in the east where warplanes battered at Marshal Rommel's supply lines and air bases along the Tripolitanian coast and into Tunisia. A Cairo communique said 13 Allied pilots were missing after widespread operations in which at least eight Axis fighters were downed.

In London, the admiralty announced that British submarines in the Mediterranean had sunk three more enemy supply ships and a small naval vessel, probably destroyed three other supply ships, and shelled a railway bridge on the southern coast of Italy.

A forward P-40 outfit led by Maj. Philip G. Cochran, of Erie, Pa., who recently bombed a German headquarters at Kairouan, was credited with six victories in three days.

Cochran and First Lieut. Thomas A. Thomas, Jr., of Ada, Okla., shot down a Focke-Wulf 190 on Jan. 11. On the following day the unit shot down three others. Cochran got another plane Jan. 13, and Lieut. E. T. Bent, Pittsford, N. Y., also shot one down.

All told, American airmen bagged 15 planes—nine Junkers 88's four Messerschmitt 109's, and two Focke-Wulf 190's.

Two RAF Spitfire fighters disclosed that now virtually all the aerial fighting in the northern sectors of the Tunisian front is taking place over the enemy's lines.

Allied Planes Strike Hard At Japanese

Enemy Force Wiped Out By Ground Troops In New Guinea

By The Associated Press Allied warplanes pressed their offensive against Japan's invasion armies in the South seas and in Burma today, and United Nations ground troops were credited with killing 116 Japanese in a surprise attack 15 miles below the big enemy base at Salamaua, New Guinea.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters indicated that the Allies virtually wiped out a Japanese force in the Mubo area, on the approaches to Salamaua, reporting that they were combing the bush for the bodies of more enemy slain.

In the skies, American and Australian fliers pounded the Japanese bases at Salamaua, Lae, Madang and Finschhafen, in northeast New Guinea; reached out across the Solomon sea to blast the airdrome at Gasmata, New Britain, and attacked enemy positions on Timor Island.

Bad weather still hampered land operations on the Papua beach, but Allied headquarters said American and Australian troops were slowly closing the trap around survivors of a 15,000-man Japanese army on Sananda Island.

In the Burma theater, RAF bombers flying from bases in India attacked four Japanese-occupied villages in the vicinity of Ak-yah, on the Bay of Bengal coast, and strafed enemy installations without encountering any aerial opposition.

Something new in the way of taxes—a "restraining tax," designed to keep people from spending too much of non-essentials, while permitting them to buy a certain amount of goods tax-free was talked around on Capitol Hill as a possible compromise to overcome the administration's hostility toward a general sales tax.

The reasons for a wildcat strike of 17,000 Pennsylvania anthracite miners are to be explained to the War Labor Board by a committee of 15 miners. The labor board, which also summoned operators to a public hearing wants to know why the miners "are on strike against the national no-strike policy and against the welfare of the nation in time of war."

On the outcome may depend a threatened extension of the walkout, which now centers in Wilkes-Barre.

The suggested "restraining tax" idea, it was understood, embraces the sales tax principle but would carry exemptions of possibly $500 or so worth of purchases a year.

If such a law were written, with a $500 exemption, then coupons in small denominations would be issued in that amount to each gainfully employed person and he could use the coupons for making tax-free purchases until they were exhausted.

Anything bought without coupons would be taxable at whatever percentage congress decided on. Meantime, overwhelming strength appeared to be arrayed behind the pay-as-you-go principle for collecting individual income taxes. Although there was a division of opinion as to how it should be framed.

One pay-as-you-go plan was reported authoritatively to be under discussion between treasury officials and congressional tax experts, by which lower bracket taxpayers might be put on a current basis with last year's tax liabilities skipped and high-bracket individuals forgiven part of 1942 obligations and permitted to pay the remainder in installments, thereby achieving full current-payment status in two or three years.

It was understood the plan discussion would provide for wiping out the first 10 or 20 per cent of the rates on 1942 incomes—at least the six per cent normal tax and the 13 per cent first-bracket surtax. The lowest bracket includes persons with not over $2,000 of surtax net income.

Under normal procedure belligerent planes which land on neutral soil are subject to internment, just as are troop units which stray into neutral territory. It was not reported definitely whether the reported landings were forced.

Reds Push On In Caucasus, Don Regions

By HENRY C. CASSIDY MOSCOW, Jan. 15. (AP)—The rapid pace of Russian vanguards in the drive northwestward from the mid-Caucasus brought up the problem of reinforcement and supply today, but dispatches said the winter offensive continued to make progress on both the Caucasus and the Don fronts.

Red army men occupied several more strong points in the Caucasus and in the lower Don region, overriding strong German resistance, field observers reported.

Having blanketed in three days a vast triangle which the Germans took three months to conquer—the area between Mozdok, Nalchik and Mineralnye Vody—the Red army now has the job of moving up its main forces to support the men consolidating newly won positions for further thrusts toward Rostov.

A heavy toll has been exacted from axis contingents aligned along the lower Don valley. It was reported officially.

Red Star said the breaking of the German lines on three main fronts, the Caucasus, the Don and the central region, had spread confusion and uncertainty in the ranks of the invaders and urged the Red army to press its advantage.

Red army foot troops are hiking as much as 30 miles daily to catch up with the tanks, cavalry and motorized infantry which has led the advances, the military newspaper said.

German counter attacks appeared strongest on the central front southwest of Velikie Luki and along the lower Don, where they are using tanks liberally to back up infantrymen.

Red Star said the invaders launched several counterattacks in recaptured districts west and northwest of Mineralnye Vody, on the Rostov-Baku rail line, but Soviet troops repulsed them with the aid of mobile field guns and drove the survivors across the Kuma river, which flows eastward to the Caspian sea.

Four German raiders bombed and machine-gunned an English south coast town in an afternoon attack which caused considerable damage.

Several casualties were caused as the raiders swooped upon the town from inland and then streaked on toward the coast.

With a population of about 50,000, Lorient was the site of a French naval arsenal, building yards and machinery plants before it was taken over by the Germans in May, 1940.

The Royal Air Force operation last night marked its fourth successive night raid of the week. Others were directed against the industrial Ruhr valley of Germany.

It was reported authoritatively, meanwhile, that two more arrests—both of minor police officials—had been made in connection with the Christmas eve assassination of Admiral Jean Darlan, and that a number of those held had been affiliated with the French royalist party.

Harold MacMillan, British minister for North and West Africa, expressed belief last night that Gen. Henri Giraud, high commissioner for French North and West Africa, was "determined to reach an agreement with Gen. De Gaulle," leader of the fighting French.

The Howard-Glasscock chapter will be called upon to raise $13,800 for Red Cross activities—at home and on the world war fronts—for 1943, in the fund campaign to be staged in March.

Tulsa Women Raped, Beaten To Death

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 15. (AP)—The savagely hacked bodies of a mother and daughter were found on their blood-soaked bed—victims of a sex slayer who raped them, then prepared a breakfast of eggs and toast and sat on the bed beside the bodies of his victims to eat it.

The slain women are Mrs. Luzia Stewart, 50 years old, and her daughter, Mrs. Georgia Green, 31. Their bodies clad in brightly colored pajamas which had been ripped to shreds, were found last night by Mrs. Green's employers who went in the apartment to inquire about her absence from work.

It was the second murder in the neighborhood to follow the same pattern.

Mrs. Helen Brown, 20-year-old expectant mother who lived five blocks from Mrs. Stewart's apartment, was beaten to death in bed last July by an intruder who stayed to cook his breakfast. The case has not been solved.

Police Chief George Plaine pieced together this account of the Stewart-Green killings from an examination of the apartment:

An intruder forced his way in through a window and battered the women's heads with an axe or hatchet. Then he raped them, leaving their bodies sprawled grotesquely across the bed.

Afterward, the killer ransacked the apartment leaving blood splattered over the bedroom floor and furniture.

Then he prepared a breakfast of eggs and toast and sat down on the bloody bed beside the two dead women to eat it.

Mrs. Green, secretary for a law firm, was the wife of an army corporal, Jack Green, stationed at Camp Wolters, Texas.

The statement was issued jointly by Senator George (D-Ga) and Rep. Doughton (D-NC) who said that "reports are coming in from over the country to the effect that a change will be made in the tax law which would preclude the necessity of filing 1942 returns due on March 15, 1943."

Six Convicts Still Sought

HUNTSVILLE, Jan. 15. (AP)—Six convicts are still at large after breaking out of the Eastham prison farm dormitory yesterday, five others having been captured.

Frank Frisbee, 39, serving seven years from Tarrant and Culbertson counties for theft and robbery, was slightly wounded in the leg by a guard before being captured, state prison officials said.

James M. Scott of Los Angeles, serving five years from Oldham and Potter counties for robbery, and an unidentified convict also were recaptured quickly.

J. D. Taylor of Lubbock, serving 10 years for burglary, and Carl Anderson, serving 25 years from El Paso county for robbery, were caught at Crockett, said Capt. H. D. Furns of Houston who was in charge of rangers trailing the fugitives.

The Howard-Glasscock chapter will be called upon to raise $13,800 for Red Cross activities—at home and on the world war fronts—for 1943, in the fund campaign to be staged in March.

Roy Reeder, drive chairman, was advised Friday of the chapter's quota, in a letter from Red Cross headquarters in St. Louis. Of the sum, $6,800 will be for local chapter purposes, and $7,000 will be of the Howard-Glasscock part in meeting the national and international needs of the organization.

While the $13,800 is considerably above any amount asked previously, it is in keeping with what Howard and Glasscock counties should do, Reeder said, in that the campaign will be the one and only effort made during the year for funds. And the drive means money not only for regular chapter activities, but includes the tremendous war relief activities of the international organization.

The American Red Cross goal is $125,000,000, of which $80,000,000 represents national needs for a world-wide program of service, and $45,000,000 as the total of chapter goals throughout the country.

Brooklyn Has Real Difficulties With Manpower Problem

NEW YORK, Jan. 15 (AP)—Confronted by the imminent entry of Manager Leo Durocher into military service and with Pete Reiser and other stars already in uniform, President Branch Rickey of the Brooklyn Dodgers says "baseball's manpower question no longer is in the distance—it's here."

Owls Take On Porkers For Two Games

The Rice Owls make their last stand in Southwest conference basketball tonight when they meet Arkansas at Fayetteville in the opener of a two-game series.

Rice, expected to be one of the top teams of the race, already has lost two games in two starts and unless the Owls sweep the series with the Razorbacks they can be considered eliminated from the title hunt.

Tonight's game starts a busy week-end with three battles on schedule tomorrow night. In addition to the second Rice-Arkansas tussle, Texas will be playing Texas A. and M. at College Station and Texas Christian, which climbed back into the race with a victory over Rice, will be playing Southern Methodist, loser of three games.

The only undefeated teams in the championship drive are Arkansas and Texas.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Jan. 15 (AP)—It's a natural assumption that the first thing a fighting man ought to learn is how to fight and Col. Helnie Miller of the marines comes up with the idea that this requirement should make boxing the No. 1 sport. . . . Of course, Col. Miller, a former N.B.A. president, has more than a passing interest in boxing and there might be some good arguments in favor of water polo for sailors, but here's what he has to say:

"With much of present day warfare, particularly against Tojo, hand-to-hand stuff, boxing is too important to monkey with. More kids should box. The old bayonet manual does not go in for footwork to the left or the right. Yet any boxer, if thrust at with a bayonet, would instinctively slide step and with his inside hand throw a counter punch while going outside of or out and under the thrust. In the ring that would mean the difference between scoring a knockdown or being knocked down. With a bayonet it would mean life or death and, if done correctly in sufficient numbers, might mean a unit's victory or defeat. All pro boxers who have enlisted in the marines have spotted this at once and commented on it."

Shorts and shells—Showing what the sports-writing business has come to, student papers at the universities of Arkansas and Pittsburgh now have girl sports editors. Elaine Kahn of the Pitt News finds it annoying to get letters addressed to "Mr. Elaine Kahn" by folks who apparently think it more likely that a boy would be named Elaine than that a girl would be named sports editor. . . . Man Mountain Dean, the rascal, is spending his time these days on his Georgia farm and is packing around only 277 pounds, 57 less than when he went into the army. . . . Allentown, Pa., has borrowed the "Whiz Kids" nickname from the University of Illinois for a boys' club basketball team that has hit a 72-point average in 13 games. They're 14-16 year olds.

Unwilling philosopher—After Texas A. and M. handed the Texas Christian basketball team a 53-26 lulling, an Aggie fan approached Hub McQuillan, the T. C. U. coach, and congratulated him for his ability to take such a shelling without batting an eye. Hub took the congratulations the same way. "Actually," he confessed later, "I wasn't stoic, I was stunned."

Detroit Abandons Its Bonus System
DETROIT, Jan. 15 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers are always unusually secretive about salary matters, but word was out today that the bonus plan had been discarded for the 1943 season.

Last year the Tigers lopped off a tremendous portion of their 1941 payroll, reputedly the highest on record in major league baseball, and to soothe the distressed athletes the club inserted bonus clauses designed to pay extra dividends. Rudy York missed the biggest plum of $5,000 by failing to bat in 100 runs.

Former High School Foes Now Play Together On Longhorn Cage Team

AUSTIN, Jan. 15 (AP)—They once battled each other all over the court but now they're on the same team—and both are well-satisfied with the way things turned out.

Johnny Hargis, a lanky lad from Nacogdoches, and Buck Overall, who played at Cushing, used to argue heatedly over which team was going to win the Big Spring basketball championship of Nacogdoches county.

They were forwards and they still jibe about the night they were guarded one another and each scored 13 points. Hargis fouled out of the game trying to hold down Overall.

Now they're playing on the University of Texas quintet, undefeated in the Southwest conference race in three games.

Hargis, who is 6 feet 2 1-2, attended Stephen F. Austin college a year but didn't play basketball. Overall, 6 feet 2, went to Tyler Junior college for three seasons.

Each has a year of eligibility left after this season at Texas and both are in the marine corps reserves.

Until now Overall never had much trouble with fouling out but he claims Southwest conference officials call them pretty close and he's gone out of three games.

IRA Leader Makes Break From Prison

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Jan. 15 (AP)—Hugh McAleer, alleged chief of staff of the outlawed Irish republican army, escaped today with three other members of the organization from Belfast prison, where he was serving a 15-year sentence for treason.

Dies Committee Delays Report

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (AP)—Publication of a voluminous report on axis-front activities in the United States, it was learned authoritatively today, is being held up by the Dies committee because of inability of members to agree on inclusion of a complimentary reference to the Roosevelt administration.

Representative Voorhis (D-Calif.), a member, criticized the committee on the house floor this week for not having released the report, which he said would have been of great aid in putting the public on guard against subversive activities.

The administration reference, a committee member disclosed, was written for insertion in the forward of the report but was objected to by other members.

Full Athletic Program Gets Support

CHICAGO, Jan. 15 (AP)—High school officials strongly back a program of emphasizing, rather than de-emphasizing, interscholastic athletics this year and feel it is their patriotic duty to do so.

This was revealed today by H. V. Porter, executive secretary of the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations, after a survey of schools in 40 states represented in the organization.

"Our survey showed that last September many school officials were on the fence, not knowing whether to continue sports or not," Porter said. "As a result, about five per cent of the schools dropped 11 man football. But now they are almost unanimous in the belief that it is their patriotic duty to carry on."

Coloradoans Play Opening Game Tonight

COLORADO CITY, Jan. 15—The first basketball game of the season for Colorado City high school will be played here in the junior high gymnasium at 7:45 Friday evening against the Roscoe quintet.

Socrates Walker, Wolf coach, will probably use as his starting team James Williams at center, Cecil Lambeth Jr., and Paul Mackfick, forwards; Allan Bibby and Harold Eudie Smith, guards.

Other boys likely to see some action are Louis Shaw, Jack Sidmons, Jack Reed, John Adams, Don Crockett, Billy Carter, forwards; James Hart, center; and Bob Craig, Richard Thomas, and Harmon Jones, guards.

Basketball activity here has been curtailed this year because of transportation problems and the usual round robin schedule is not being played.

Plans are under way, however, for an eight team tournament to be staged in Colorado City next weekend, January 22 and 23. Invitations to participate have been sent to the teams at Coahoma, Roscoe, Lorraine, Dunn, Westbrook and Snyder. Games will be staged Friday night, Saturday afternoon, and Saturday night in elimination plays with the tournament championship teams fighting it out Saturday night.

Colorado City is readying two teams for the competition.

Horses Stranded At Parks Run Into Expense

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 15 (AP)—Hialeah Park is giving away some of its famed pink flamingoes. Horsemen haven't yet reached that stage where they are willing to give away their valuable thoroughbreds but they're doing plenty of worrying since the ban on pleasure driving out short Tropical Park's meeting and cancelled Hialeah's 46-day session.

Some 800 expensive, highly bred and trained race horses are marooned at Hialeah. Another 500 are over at Tropical. And it costs about 15 daily for feed and care of each horse. No wonder horsemen have a problem that is far more difficult to solve than the giving away if the birds.

Warren Wright's Whirlaway and 13 other Calumet Farms horses have been sent to New Orleans, as have 17 of Herbert M. Woolf's and 10 of Mrs. Ethel Jacobs' horses. But most of those still here are expected to remain through the winter.

today with three other members of the organization from Belfast prison, where he was serving a 15-year sentence for treason.

It was not immediately disclosed how the break was effected, but it was assumed the prisoners had received outside help.

Steers Entertain Westbrook Quint Here This Eve

Big Spring high school basketball fans will witness their first game here in nearly two weeks when the Steers entertain the Westbrook eagles in a return game at 8 p. m. in the high school gymnasium.

Having plastered the Westbrook boys 41-14 at Westbrook a week ago, the Steers will be favored especially at home. Westbrook is expected to be in better shape for the game today, but even so Big Spring ought to win. Presence of Lowry in the lineup all the way for Westbrook will probably equalize things somewhat, for Lowry made half of Westbrook's points the last time out although he only got to play the last quarter.

Starters for the Steers, said Coach John Dibrell, will be Red

DOUBLEHEADER
A late announcement from Coach John Dibrell this morning said that tonight's program at the gym will be a twin-bill affair. A quintet from the American Business club wants some action with the Steers, and these two teams will clash immediately following the Steer-Westbrook game.

Cagle and John Ulrey at forwards, Peppy Blount at center, and Ernest Boetick and Dewey Stevenson at guards.

There is a possibility of a new face in the Big Spring lineup before the evening is over. He is Billy Warren, a gangling youngster who has just recently started coming out and who is looking good enough that Dibrell is working him with the first stringers occasionally. Billy Mims, short but sharp-eyed guard, also is due to play considerably in the tilt.

Terry, now a contented farmer, said he naturally was much interested in the baseball outlook, and was as bewildered as everybody else as to what the future holds, but as far as his plans for returning to the game in some capacity were concerned he "had nothing for publication."

He painted a gloomy picture for the minor leagues this year.

"I think the A-1 leagues should be very cautious about their plans to start the season," he said, "and that the leagues below that classification should not try to open."

"If they try to open they are liable to struggle along, run into debt and finally be forced to close with a debt hanging over their heads."

SHINE PHILLIPS tells this one on himself and gets a big kick out of it. Seems daughter, CHAMPE, had to write a biographical sketch of SHINE and was forced to send an airmail special delivery letter to her dad. She didn't know a thing about him except he was her pop!

Caught a glimpse of Cpl. and Mrs. PHILLIP GRIFFIN downtown last night. She is the former CATHERINE RYAN of High Point, N. C. whose marriage took place out at the post chapel Wednesday night. Mrs. GRIFFIN is a pretty blonde and was looking awfully happy.

It was a farewell party combined with a church dinner at the Presbyterian church the other night when the congregation got together and bid goodbyes to their pastor, the Rev. O. L. SAVAGE. Rev. SAVAGE is now a chaplain with the armed forces and is to leave soon for training. Our bet is that the soldiers are going to like Rev. SAVAGE as a chaplain because he's a swell fellow himself.

Speaking of farewells, it is going to be odd not to see Mrs. DON SEALE around town. She is joining her husband at Leveaux to make their home and a lot of folks are going to miss her including the Sub Deb club members whom she has helped to sponsor for the past few months.

Wish we could tag-along with EMILY STALCUP, who is leaving for the last of the month for New York to become an airlines stewardess. We just imagine that EMILY will be one of the prettiest they have and airline business on her route ought to boom.

Suit Against AP Assailed By Solon

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (AP)—The justice department's anti-trust suit against the Associated Press is construed by Rep. Shafer (R-Mich) as a move by "bureaucrats" to "break up the free association of editors of a free press."

Calling for "investigation and punishment" of what he termed "the great misdeed of attacking our free press," Shafer inserted in the Congressional Record yesterday a statement characterizing the suit as "an attempt against the life of our entire body politic."

Shafer, a former newspaperman, contended the purpose of the suit was to obtain an Associated Press membership for a publisher whom he identified only as "a person of tremendous wealth," who was "induced to take some of his millions and start a so-called newspaper x x x dedicated to the theory that the bureaucrats could do no wrong."

Recruiters For WAVES Here For Two Days

Big Spring will be the hunting ground next week for three naval officers seeking women between 20 and 50 years of age as applicants for the WAVES and SPARS, it was announced today.

On the crest of an intensified nation-wide recruiting drive, Ensign Katherine Brook, Lieut. H. P. McBride, and Lieut. L. E. King, all attached to the Office of Naval Officer Procurement at Dallas, will be in Big Spring Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, January 17, 18 and 19.

Interviews will be conducted daily at Hotel Settles during their local stopover.

"The North Texas district is being asked to expand its enlistments in the WAVES and SPARS at least fifty per cent during 1943, in line with the Navy Department's need for thousands of women to take over shore station jobs now held by them, thereby relieving them for active duty," Ensign Brook pointed out.

"Replacement of men by women has proved highly successful thus far," she disclosed. "Officers in charge of every type of shore establishment are requesting more and more women reservists, both officers and enlisted personnel."

Housewife Census To Be Taken For Ration Program

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15 (AP)—Five to ten thousand American housewives will be enlisted in a couple of weeks to help the government run food rationing according to the facts of actual housekeeping.

They will be selected, on a voluntary basis, by regular census takers so that they will represent a cross-section of American housewives, according to regions, races, income levels, urban or rural status.

Their job will be to tell the Office of Price Administration—through the census bureau—what kinds of food—especially canned, dried or frozen—the people are eating.

Care for my Car for my Country?

WHY SHOULD I?

Sonny, what you do to your car is your business, although chances are you won't be able to get another while the war is on.

But what your daddy does to his car is the nation's business!

The American way of life is geared to the motor car. It takes the warworker to his job, carries munitions, provides essential civilian transportation. That is why cars and tires must be used wisely, must be preserved to play their part in holding war production at maximum.

Your Phillips 66 Service Man is pledged to help you Care For Your Car... For Your Country. And though you drive less miles, don't make the mistake of assuming your car needs less care.

Reduced driving may increase crankcase dilution of oil by unburned fuel... may increase sludge because of added condensation of moisture. Both greatly reduce the motor protection and lubricating efficiency of your oil.

Your battery, with charging time cut down, will need more frequent inspection. And spark plugs must be scientifically adjusted to prevent waste of fuel.

Remember, every Phillips 66 Service Man is specially trained to make your car and your tires last longer and go farther. Enlist his aid, when you stop at any Orange and Black 66 Shield for Phillips 66 Poly Gas, famous for fast starting pop and extra mileage... and Phillips 66 Motor Oil, 100% paraffin base.

Editorial - - Soldiers Want Good Books

Again we are invited to give books to help American soldiers, sailors, marines, coast guardsmen and merchant seamen improve and distract their minds in such leisure as the winning of the war may leave for them.

A second Victory Book Campaign is now being waged. But this time, a backlog having been built in 1942, emphasis will be on quality rather than quantity.

The men in uniform—five million now and almost twice as many before another New Year—are going to need a lot of books. But in the words of Corp. John Ripley Forber, librarian for Napier Air Field at Dothan, Ala.

"After all, you can't expect a husky young soldier headed for combat duty to take a feverish interest in the State Papers of Grover Cleveland, the 'Ladies' Guide to Home Needlework' or a dog-careful arithmetic of the vintage of 1904.

In other words, this is not a substitute for tossing unwanted books into the trash can. This is a contribution to the morale of men who are offering their lives and are suffering privations if not bitter hardships. It is an insult to such men to donate only such books as we want to clear off the shelves.

They want the same best-sellers we like to read at home; recent fiction and worthwhile non-fiction—say not more than 10 years old; technical books that are really useful—men's books published since 1935.

The most popular offerings, reports Corporal Forber (who in civilian life was a museum director and is now a voice in this field) are "popular westerns, weird and thrilling murder mysteries, light fiction, late novels, technical books of all kinds and the latest current event material."

The campaign was requested by the Army and the Navy and is sponsored jointly by the American Red Cross and the United Service Organizations.

Book donations are to be accumulated at every library in the country. Thence they will be distributed to camp and naval base and ship libraries, to USO centers and Merchant Marine libraries.

Don't worry about an oversupply. Any American Legionnaire will tell you how far from too many books the camp libraries had in World War I.

Just give, collect, prod your friends, in hope that the supply may be made somewhere near enough to satisfy the pressing demand.

Washington Daybook—Half Of British Women Engaged In War Work

(Second of two articles on in the war effort)

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — When Mrs. Roosevelt came back from England, she had a great deal to say about the contribution of British women to the war effort. She underscored her opinion that it wouldn't be necessary to have a womanpower draft here.

The War Manpower Commission and the Department of Labor paid a lot of attention to what she said. It hasn't been determined yet whether we will have a registration of womanpower. Actual draft of women is more remote than that. Still, both of these things could happen here soon. That's why the Labor department and WMC are studying the English system. The results it has obtained have been remarkable.

If you want statistics, here they are: In Great Britain, of 17,250,000 women between 14 and 65 years old, in late summer about 8,000,000—slightly less than 50 per cent—were in full-time military or war industry jobs.

All women in Great Britain between 18 and 45 have been registered and classified as a potential military and labor force. Single women are subject to draft if they are between 20 and 24 years old. So far, only 20-to-24-year-olds have been called. But there is not much necessity for a draft in a nation when half of the feminine population, capable of military or industrial service, is already on the job.

In England, the women's draft gives them most of the privileges extended to men. They can appeal for deferment in hardship cases. Every appeal board there contains at least one woman. True, conscientious objectors also have the right to deferment.

An important factor is that with the great increase of women in industrial work has come some of Great Britain's major reforms in improved working conditions. Nurseries are provided for the children of working mothers. Women workers have representation on labor-management committees and much attention is given to improving working conditions and increasing the efficiency of women employees.

English girls 18 and over are accepted for war training as freely as men. Employment of women there is under far more government control than in this country. With few exceptions, women between 18 and 20 who accept employment in any other way than through the government employment exchanges or other agencies under government supervision, may be retired and if found guilty are subject to fines.

For the most part, according to British sources here, results in England have been so gratifying and so satisfactorily revolutionary that there is no thought of backstepping on any of the laws or orders operative today.

The British pattern has made an indelible impression on manpower and other government officials in this country. It is almost certain that it will be followed to some extent in working out industrial and military womanpower problems here.

Chapter 22
Visitors

Something—Mary could never remember just what it was prompted to turn back to the piano, snatch up a sheet of that strangely written, strangely numbered music, stuff it quickly into her purse.

Then, she sat down demurely with one of the rare editions of Dante's "Divine Comedy," pretended to be so absorbed in the illustrations that she didn't realize Senorita de la Vega had entered.

"Buenos dias," her hostess said. "And then something more in rushing Spanish."

Mary rose, smiled, marveling that she could keep her expression quite bland when her heart was thumping wildly.

"How do you do? I—" Then of course she realized her predicament. She must not let Carmen-cita suspect she'd heard that tirade of a moment ago. She must also get Dad's message over quickly.

But of course—the maid!

Glancing past Carmen-cita, Mary smiled sweetly at the douf-faced woman. "I'm terribly sorry. But you see I speak no Spanish and since Miss De la Vega doesn't understand my English, I wonder if you would act as interpreter?"

For a brief breathless moment, Mary waited to see if they were going to accept her pretense of not having overheard.

Mary gave the message quickly, urgently. Heard the woman say "Senor Dan Sherman" and saw Carmen-cita's smile vanish replaced by alarm.

When the maid had finished, Carmen-cita turned immediately to Mary, saying, "Si si Senorita. Go! Quick."

Mary drove steadily, her eyes on the road ahead, her thoughts worrying her new discovery. She would talk to Dad about it the first chance she had.

Tear blinded, Mary paced the long corridor until she was physically tired, until the last shred of emotion was under control.

When her father came from the sickroom after a last visit for the night, she was waiting in the car.

"How is he, Daddy?" she asked immediately.

"Better—He'll pull through, I think," Dr. Paul rubbed his forehead, sighed wearily.

"Oh, I'm so glad. Is she still with him?"

"The Spanish girl?" Dr. Paul shook his head. "No, I sent her home after Sherman fell asleep. He's perfectly quiet now."

"Daddy, that woman is an impostor," Mary blurted then.

"So? What makes you think that?"

She sketched the events of the afternoon rapidly, pulled the sheet of music out of her bag.

Unconvinced

But Dr. Paul only smiled at her tenderly. "Look here, Puss. You aren't letting jealousy upset your balance wheel, are you?"

"No, Dad. Certainly not."

He took the sheet finally, examining it with the aid of the light in the dashboard. "Hm. Does look funny. Still—probably nothing to it. Numbers probably refer to notes in the chord. I wouldn't be alarmed."

Silently, Mary folded the music stuck it back in her bag. Dad was probably right. The green-eyed monster trying to give her a more logical reason for hating Carmen-cita than just that Dan Sherman loved her!

Then, as her thoughts ran persistently, tormentingly back over the afternoon's events, Mary recalled something she'd overlooked. Carmen-cita, in her perfectly unaccented English, had said, "What the hell is the matter with the phone? You knew damned well that wasn't to be out of order until tonight!"

Telephones "out of order" on purpose! What sort of business was that!

She didn't have time to consider what she would do now to prove Dad wrong. But something—she'd think of some way.

Her father let her out at the front door while he drove on to the garage. So Mary faced the trio in the living room alone.

Her mother—and Mrs. Lloyd and Porter. Surprised, of course, and aware of a definite feeling of dismay, Mary managed a greeting.

Porter was beside her instantly. "Hello, darling. How are you?"

"Fine. And you?"

"She's looking perfectly stunning," Mrs. Lloyd said at once, with not a shade of difference in the greetings she would have given had it been weeks ago.

Surely Porter must have told her about the broken engagement. But Porter himself behaved as if it simply hadn't happened. For the balance of the evening, except for Dr. Paul who sat rather silently, genial observer, they all skirted the real subject as if it were taboo.

When they had gone, finally, Mary said, just to break the strange little silence that descended, "I thought they were staying on at the Springs another week."

Her mother put her arms about her waist. "Darling, do say I was right in sending for Porter. Weren't you really terribly glad to see him? Aren't you grateful that he is big enough to take all your silly pouting for the foolishness it is? They are both so wonderful, dear. You are truly fortunate. Do you realize that?"

Mrs. Garthwaite's Plot

Mary stared at her mother. "You sent for him?"

"Yes, dear. I thought you'd quarreled long enough." Her mother smoothed back the curls that tumbled carelessly about her neck. "You need to go to the hair-dresser's dear before—"

"Mother, why are you being so

Home Fronts And Global Strategy 'War Council Needed' - Hoover

(This is the fifth in a series of six articles by Mr. Hoover.)

By HERBERT HOOVER

The first principle in organization of the home front distilled by all nations from the last war is that civilian activities must be directed by single-headed responsible administrators. The second principle is that all functions and authority in respect to a particular activity must be concentrated into the hands of one administrator.

We can no more administer civilian activities in war with committees, boards or commissions than we can direct a battle with a committee. And we can no more have divided authority over one function than we can have independent generals in command of a battle.

Yet it was 19 months after we started large preparedness, before munitions was given a single head; it was over two years before oil, food, rubber and manpower were given single responsible administrators. There are still important executive functions under committee control. And of the administrators appointed, none of them have full control in their field.

Recommends War Council

The third principle is that the head administrators of such major groups should comprise a war council sitting directly with the President. Here alone the general economic and civilian policies should be determined, the conflicts and overlaps planned out with the President present as the final umpire.

There was a war council—or a war cabinet in every principal nation in the last war. There is one in every principal nation in this war except in the United States.

There are other principles as to co-operation with the public and the trades, the methods of price-fixing, removal of labor restraints on production, allocation of supplies, etc., in which hard-won experience has been ignored. That there is delay and confusion and enormous bureaucratic interference needs no proof. It lies all around the landscape.

There are some policies that should be determined at once by a national war council. We have two bottlenecks; one is manpower and the other is ships. In view of these bottlenecks, certain home policies suggest themselves for immediate determination. And they need to be related to global strategy itself.

For instance, to carry on a war of aggressive attrition we need planes. They can mostly transport themselves. We will be short of ships for another year. To transport American armies overseas requires three times the tonnage that is required to arm and support the manpower of our Allies. We are endangering the food supply to ourselves and our Allies by excessive drafts of manpower from agriculture.

Sees Confusion

It is entirely possible that a realistic reevaluation of our manpower, our bottlenecks and priorities in need would result in temporary release of soldiers already trained into producing food, ships and planes, or alternatively, in the import of Mexican labor for our farms and the lengthening of the work week in our shops.

A realistic reevaluation of our whole economic home front would reinforce some conclusions as to military strategy which I suggest in my next article.

We must admit that our far our spiritual front in this war is not as united as it was in the last war. The weakness today is not competence or apathy. There is a great deal of bewilderment and confusion of purposes.

This is contributed to by the confusion in administration; by criticism of the divergent ideological purposes of our Allies; by the lack of confidence in the news of the war; by tiresome repetition of radio-propaganda; by excessive powers granted by the Congress and by the widespread conviction that the purposes of our administration are not alone to win the war, but to use the war to change fundamentals of American life without submission to the people or their representatives.

Americans United

Despite all this, the American people are united upon the defense of America from attack and are grimly determined to defeat the Germans and Japanese. I believe they are united upon securing lasting peace this time even if they have to use airplanes to garbion it. No enemy need believe because we exercise our blessed right to debate, discuss and differ between ourselves, that we are not united upon his defeat.

On the military front we have magnificently courageous sons. We can have every confidence in our generals and admirals. Men and officers alike are performing stupendous deeds. They merit every-

Hollywood Sights And Sounds—Sir Cedric Hardwicke Has Never 'Gotten The Girl'

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Rosalind Russell, Walter Pidgeon and William Powell were ready and willing to do radio broadcasts at $5,000 apiece, pay the taxes on same, and turn the proceeds over for the big Hollywood party for soldiers on the desert, thus defraying the cost quickly. But they ran into that "$25,000 salary limit" and the money had to be raised the hard way, by soliciting individuals in the industry for donations. Anyway the party was a big success.

Sir Cedric Hardwicke, the arch-Nazi villain of "The Moon is Down," is keeping his record unbroken—he has never yet "got the girl" in a movie. "Several times," he says, "I have had a wife who died—the implication being worse. I chased Maureen O'Hara in "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" but I didn't catch her—if I had it would have saved RKO a lot of money. . . ." By ending the movie, of course, before it ran deeper into the red! . . .

Lee J. Cobb, one of the Norwegian heroes of the same movie, has another kind of record. He has never played a young man, though he has just turned 31. Cobb has turned a handicap into an acting asset. He can slip any kind of hair over his own completely bald pate.

"I started losing my hair at 18," he says, "and I was bald at 22. It was a great blow to a fellow who wanted to be an actor—who ever heard of a bald-headed juvenile? But, being bald, I was forced into character roles. Before that, they always said I was too young for all the roles I sought."

His one tribulation: he loathes spirit gum, required in affixing wigs and whiskers.

Ann Sheridan's going to star in "The Gay Nineties," the story of Tony Pastor. They'll rake up the bustles (which are cloth-consumers) somewhere. . . .

John Nesbitt, whose movie shorts have won him three Oscars, has never attended an Academy Award dinner. Not shy—he just didn't own a dress suit. . . .

Recipe for a "woman's picture": one neurotic heroine, one flaming love affair, one glowing triumph of soul over flesh—plus handsome Paul Henreid. That is—Betty Davis' "New Voyager" is the "woman's picture" it seems to be. It's a very intelligent piece, but I have to confess that my favorite sequence is that in which the nurse, Mary Wickes, who capitalizes on her pliancy, introduces herself to Betty: "Name's Pickford," she says. "Dora, not Mary."

unreasonable?" Mary demanded angrily.

That touched off her mother's own quick fury. "It isn't I who is being unreasonable, after all! I am only trying to keep you from making the mistake of your life. If you don't heed me now, you'll regret it forever. I know what I am doing. I can see plainly what you are doing. I am only trying to save you from yourself."

"That's ridiculous. No one knows better than I whether I am in love!"

"You silly little fool. In love! What is that, pray! A mood—an infatuation—a passionate interest in someone who isn't worth your little finger. I know who has swept you off your feet. That Lieutenant Dan Sherman! I'm not blind. I can see plainly what you are as young and inexperienced as you are. But I know too that there isn't another girl in the state who has the chance for life-long happiness that you are trying to throw away."

"Mother—please—"

"I only know that you are being deliberately stubborn and willful. I shall forbid your marrying that sailor," she finished furiously, her face livid with anger. "You may as well make up your mind to that right now."

"You needn't worry," Mary retorted dryly, spent with all this fury, hurt, baffled. "Dan Sherman doesn't want me to marry him. He's in love with Carmencita de la Vega."

"Splendid. Maybe now there is some hope of your coming to your senses."

Tear-blinded, Mary flung herself up the stairs to her room. Was there no end to all this? Must it be a crime not to marry a man just because you didn't happen to love him? Or was she truly "out of her senses" and laying up suffering for herself against some future day?

Tunisian Nuns Help Wounded

WITH U. S. FORCES IN TUNISIA, Jan. 13 (Delayed) (AP)—White-clad nuns who operate a hospital in a small French town along the central Tunisian front have proved true angels of mercy to many wounded and ill American and British soldiers.

When American medical men approached them for permission to use a room in the hospital for diagnosis and emergency treatment, the nuns responded by turning over the entire first floor.

"Their kindness has helped us save lives," said Capt. Gustave Stookness of Ellsworth, N. J., commander of the medical unit. "Ordinarily we have to set up in tents."

The nuns also provided laundry equipment for the soldiers and paid for them to set up a delousing unit.

Soldiers journey 15 miles or more to the hospital for hot showers, the rarest of luxuries for a front-line fighter.

Every morning they are visited by a plump little middle-aged nun. Although she knows no English she passes a word of greeting or joking gesture with each soldier and her smile is a language universal.

816th Squadron

Congratulations from the entire 816th Squadron are extended this week to their popular commanding officer, Major Byron W. Foster, who received his promotion Monday morning. Major Foster has been commanding the 816th since September when he arrived here from Midland as a captain in the air force. Before entering the service Major Foster made his home in Craigmont, Idaho.

Sports continue to hold the limelight in the 816th with both the basketball and ping-pong teams sweeping to victory in all contests scheduled for the week. The basketball quint romped to an easy win over the 813th by a 46 to 23 score. In ping-pong the 816ers swept aside both the 812th and 813th in scheduled matches to place them in the unbeaten class. Outstanding player in both matches was Tech Sgt. Lloyd Franks whose sparkling play led the field. Others on the 816th team include Pfc. Doty, Sgt. A. O. Lee, Pvt. Kozlowski, Pvt. Herr, Pvt. Brown, Pvt. Neal, Staff Sgt. Elliott, Pvt. Hoekenga and Sgt. Dunham. The next match is with the 814th squadron.

Another ping-pong tourney is scheduled for Sunday for squadron members in both singles and doubles. Prizes are being offered to the winners and prospects are for a large entry list. New ping-pong equipment has been purchased and is now in use, also another table will be available shortly.

Saturday was review day for the entire base, this time early in the shivering hours. Inspection is over by the inspector general and signs of relief pass around. The private feud of Pfc. Doty and Pvt. Campbell reaching a climax with the former shaking grapes out of his bunk before retiring for the night and the latter trying to pick G.I. shaving brush bristles in the dark. An early morning telegram informing Pvt. Eugene Hahn of a new arrival in the family, a girl. Good news from the orderly room is that stationery and envelopes with the new 816th insignia will soon be available free to squadron members. Sgt. Oren, up and around again after a stay in the base hospital being greeted by his many friends. Farewells being said as the first contingent left the 816th for various tech schools. Pvt. "Caroline" Hayes back from furlough, but not meeting a too good reception. Pfc. J. O. Johnson walking around in a daze as wedding day approaches - and that's last week in the 816th.

Today Last Day On Commercial Tire Inspection

All commercial vehicle owners will be required to have their tire inspection by today, the War Price and Ration Board said Friday although the OPA has announced an extension of time for passenger car tire inspection.

Originally commercial vehicle owners had to have tires inspected by the 15th and passenger cars by the 31st. The extension of time, applying only to passenger cars, will put their inspection deadline later.

Under the revised program, all holders of basic gasoline ration A coupons will have until the end of March for their first tire inspection, and subsequent inspections will be once in each six months instead of the former requirement of once every four months.

Motorists with B or C supplementary books or bulk coupons for fleets will be required to get their first inspections by the end of February. After that, inspections for B bookholders will be once in every four months, and for C bookholders and bulk coupons once every three months. Formerly the schedule called for examinations of cars with B and C rations once in two months.

Liquor Cases

Pleading guilty to charges of transporting liquor in a dry area, Paul Young and Harold Long were fined in Borden county court this week. Young paid $110 and costs and Long paid $100 and costs. The men were apprehended at Gail by Liquor Control Board inspectors.

Former FBI Man At Bombardier School

The Big Spring Bombardier School has a new officer—from a federal prison.

But he is a former department of justice agent. He is 2nd Lt. Homer W. Penry, whose home address is Federal Reformatory, El Reno, Okla. Lt. Penry was with the department of justice, bureau of prisons, before joining the service.

Employers Told To Get A Ruling On Wage Changes

Some 50 Big Spring business men—most of them employers—heard something about the new wage and salary control regulations at a clinic at the Settles hotel Thursday night. And they found out that the raising or lowering of salaries must follow a specified pattern.

A question-and-answer session was conducted by John W. Thomas, investigator for the wage-hour and public contracts division of the department of labor. In the main, he gave interpretations on specific questions, of which there were many, and his advice generally was for an employer to state his case to the wage-hour department and get a ruling before he alters any rate of pay. Otherwise, he may be liable to a heavy penalty.

Thomas said that violations probably are numerous, but that they result in most cases from misunderstanding of the new regulations. The safe thing to do, he said, is to get a ruling before taking any action on wage changes.

Week's Docket At Stanton Completed

Judge Cecil Collings and District Attorney Martelle McDonald have returned from Stanton where 70th district court has been in session this week.

One civil case, Jones versus Texas Central Wool and Mohair company was settled out of court, Collings said, and the grand jury which reported on Wednesday returned no indictments.

Court will be in session here Monday at 10 o'clock with three civil cases scheduled for the week. The grand jury is also to go into session but authorities believe there would be little for them to consider.

Dog Catcher Will Go Into Action

The City of Big Spring is preparing the anti-toxin for one of the rabid dogs of spring.

Monday a dog-catcher will go into action.

Complaints have been received from several quarters concerning nomadic canines. Like "a roving band of gypsies," these dogs congregate and move from area to area without proper regard for lawns and early flowers and other yard vegetation.

Owners were warned to keep their dogs up. Dogs caught by the catcher and not claimed within a reasonable space of time will be disposed of, said police officials.

Business Club To Seek New Members

Plans for a membership drive were announced by Coy Nalley, chairman, at the American Business club luncheon Friday at the Settles hotel.

Nalley appointed A. K. Miller and Jake Morgan as team captains. The contest will last for six months with a dinner to be served at the end of eight weeks with the losers giving the dinner and acting as waiters.

Plans for a basket ball game to be held tonight with the high school team were announced.

Roy Reeder read a letter from a former member, Lt. (J.G.) Fowler Fabian, Charles Girdner made a report on the board of governors meeting to club members.

Wall Street

NEW YORK, Jan. 15 (AP)—Stocks continued the upswing today with the market, on average, hitting best levels since Oct. 6, 1941, and volume attaining the largest total for the current year.

Transfers approximated 900,000 shares.

Among issues touching peak marks for 1942-43 were General Electric, Woolworth, General Motors, J. I. Case, Silver Film, Morris & Essex, Distillers Corp., Sea-Steam and Davison Chemical.

Steele-Sheffield Steel, an odd-lot stock, ran up more than 9 points on a few sales.

In front most of the session were U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Santa Fe, Norfolk & Western, Chrysler, U.S. Rubber, Western Union, Patino Mines, Westinghouse, Allied Chemical, Eastman Kodak, John-Manville and J. C. Penney.

Ration Book No. 1 Must Be Obtained Before Day Is Over

Today is the last day to register for War Ration Book One, the current sugar book and coffee book, and the local War Price and Ration Board said Friday that they had issued approximately 50 in the last few days.

The majority of those issued were for newborn babies or to soldiers who have either married or received commissions and are now receiving separate rations.

Of the 18 books which were issued Thursday, 11 of them were for newborn babies, clerks reported. Approximately 22,000 books have been issued by the office in this county.

Importance of receiving a War Ration Book One is that Ration Book Two to be issued this spring containing stamps for all rationed articles cannot be issued except to those who have Ration Book One or have made some listing of their names with the local board.

250 Names On County War Honor Roll

Approximately 250 names have been printed on the county Roll of Honor on the courthouse lawn, commissioners said Friday, as a start on the job of placing 1,600 names of men now serving in the armed forces of Howard county.

The names are listed alphabetically and the first three letters of the alphabet have been completed. Commissioners believed that before the complete list of names is finished an extra section will have to be added to the board.

Rent Signup Is About Complete

If registrations continue throughout the day at the rate they have been coming in, R. L. Cook, inspector in charge of Rent Control registration believes that by nightfall the signup for this area will be nearly complete.

It is expected that there will be 2700 rental units listed in the Rent Control office in the final tabulation. Some units which have not been registered yet belong to landlords out of town and Cook said there would be some delay on them.

The response of landlords to registering their property in the office has been remarkably good, Cook said, and very few had not obtained applications.

There have already been 2100 of the registrations processed and mailed out to tenants and landlords, Cook said, and when all units have been properly registered, the remainder of the blanks will be mailed out.

A larger amount of rental units were listed with the office than at first estimated. Originally the office did not expect to find over 2,000 in this area but many one-room renters have swelled the expected total to the now estimated 2,700 figure.

Leeper said the operator gathered up milk he had distributed Thursday and had promised to go out of the "grade A" milk business unless and until he conformed with all requirements.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"A lot of storekeepers in town are worrying about being able to get help these days, Judge. Men are mighty scarce and getting more so all the time."

"I know. Even the big companies are having quite a job getting them. Yep, and they need 'em too. Take the beverage distilling companies for example... they're doing a lot of manpower. Though they're not making whiskey any more, they're doing a 24-hour-a-day job of turning out alcohol for gun powder and synthetic rubber for the government."

"Makes me think back to the days before repeal when a powerful number of people were making liquor, too... only they were a bunch of law-flouting criminals doing it behind closed doors. And the government wasn't collecting a billion dollar excise tax either. Ever stop to wonder where the government could get all its war alcohol today if it weren't for the beverage distillers?"
