High Court's Authority Is Challenged By Texas

SERVICES BEING RESTORED

Weary Linemen Making Progress

Weary workers continued Saturday night their job of untangling telephone, telegraph, and power lines dumped by an unprecedented glaze storm last week.

In the immediate Big Spring area astounding progress had been made. Power service was on a normal basis once more. Local telephone service, with few exceptions, was functioning smoothly and gradually circuits were being pressed to outside points.

With miles of poles down east and west, Western Union was still accepting messages only subject to indefinite delay and mailing to points beyond line trouble.

In this section, workers concentrated on the litter at Lamesa, where the glaze was approximately twice as heavy as here. Texas Electric Service estimated it would require several days yet to repair the damage to all power lines there, and it may be two weeks or more before all the phone trouble there can be corrected.

The independent telephone systems at Knott and Ackerly escaped without serious damage. Knott sustained only a short loss of its toll line to Big Spring. Few poles were cut at Ackerly but north of them 15 crossarms and eight poles on rural lines went down.

Reviewing The Big Spring -Week- Joe Pickle

Weather was not only the big news of the week, it was just about THE news. For general destruction, the sleet, snow, rain and glaze storm qualified as the worst in this region.

The little silver lining happens to be moisture—about an inch of it. To the north and to the southeast it was considerably heavier. In any event it was enough to help through reviving small grains and winter legumes, and in a number of cases sufficient for "putting up" the land.

Hundreds Die In S. African Race Warfare

Bloody Rioting Rages Between Natives, Indians

DURBAN, Union Of South Africa, Jan. 15. (AP)—Police launched bayonet charges today in an attempt to quell bloody native-Indian race rioting which has spread to Indian refugee camps.

A member of Parliament said the death toll now approached 500. Authorities in Johannesburg estimated 300 persons had lost their lives. The fighting between native blacks and the Indians began Thursday.

Terrified Indians fled from the city. Some went to refugee camps but they still faced death. Several thousand natives moved on one camp in Durban suburb.

Indians and natives alike have been burned and stoned to death and shot. Entire Indian families have been wiped out. The city's Indian quarter has been wrecked.

Police and troops rushed to the Illovo area just outside the city where a large group of Zulu workers were marching toward another camp. It was not determined immediately whether they succeeded in intercepting the natives.

China Faces Crisis As Tientsin Falls

Chiang Regime Must Surrender Or Take Flight

Special Meeting Called To Study Reds' Harsh Terms

NANKING, Jan. 15. (AP)—The Chinese communists captured Tientsin today, sharpening the urgency of the government alternatives to yield to harsh peace terms or flee.

The cabinet and other government bodies were holding tense conferences, and the policy making executive Yuan scheduled an emergency session Sunday to discuss the red conditions.

Those conditions, broadcast Friday night by the communist radio, amounted to a demand for unconditional surrender of the Chiang Kai-Shek government. Nanking hopes that they might be eased when glimmering as the fall of Tientsin demonstrated the Reds' dominant military position.

Deepening the government gloom was authoritative word that both the United States and Britain had declined to use their good offices to seek peace talks. There appeared no reason to believe that France or Russia would lend similar pleas.

The communist radio stressed the obvious fact that the capture cleared a rail route all the way from Manchuria down to the Yangtze river front before Nanking.

This hurried the continuing flight of government offices from this dejected capital.

It was learned authoritatively that the bulk of government gold and foreign currency already had been moved to the island of Formosa, more than 500 miles by air southeast of Nanking.

Public clamor for peace at any price was increasing, and even in official circles there was a feeling that communist conditions were not unreasonable in view of the military situation.

The universal reaction was that the Red terms left no room for bargaining. Broadcast by the Red radio last night, they included punishment of war criminals, destruction of "reactionary elements," and abandonment of the constitution.

MORE ASKED FOR ROADS

State Tax Battle Will Be Renewed

AUSTIN, Jan. 15. (AP)—First rumbles of a tax battle expected to embroil the 51st Legislature were heard here today in a proposed "last mile" country road building program.

As the lawmakers prepared to go into the second week of their session, Rep. C. S. McLellan of Eagle Lake said he would back a plan for all-weather roads going far beyond work now contemplated.

Inauguration of Gov. Beauford H. Jester Tuesday, his submission to the Senate of around 200 interim appointments for confirmation, and further organization of the House were among most matters faced in the second week of the session starting Monday. Jester's interim appointments must go to the Senate by Thursday.

Jester will make his first request for emergency funds Monday. This will be in a message asking appropriation for 9 million dollars for a shortage in rural school aid funds.

The legislature already has means of bills asking 20 to 40 million dollars for rural roads, to be paid from general revenue.

McLellan said he has heard that completion of the present program will put 95 cent of the people within one mile of a good road.

"It is this last mile that I want to provide in my program," he quipped.

The lawmaker wants a source of revenue "tied down for this purpose over a period of years." He said he had some sort of natural resources tax in mind.

Proposed natural resources taxes gave the last legislature some of its bitterest debates. A repeat was regarded a certain this session.

McLellan advocated a tax on natural gas that failed to pass the 50th legislature. The house passed one natural resources tax bill two years ago, but it died in the senate.

McLellan said he favored everything that was being done to get the farmers of Texas out of the mud, but he also wants this extended with less expensive type of hard surface road for that "last mile."

Governor Wants Plan Of Voter Registration

AUSTIN, Jan. 15. (AP)—Gov. Beauford H. Jester considers as an "urgent necessity" an adequate registration law for Texas voters.

The governor said that Texas is "out in front" in removing poll tax restrictions from its ballot boxes but that lack of a registration law might leave the state in quite a plight.

The comment was aimed at reports from Washington that a proposed U. S. constitutional amendment would prohibit states from denying a person the right to vote in federal elections because he had not paid a poll tax.

The proposal at Washington does point up the urgent necessity of providing an adequate registration law for Texas. If the poll tax were repealed as a means of identifying eligible voters, under present statutes Texas would have no means of compiling voters' lists," he said.

The governor in his message to the legislature this week suggested submission of the question of poll tax repeal to the voters.

Less than an hour later Senator Rogers Kelley of Edinburg introduced a resolution in the Senate that would give voters a chance to repeal the poll tax requirement for voting.

Senator Kelley's proposal carries with it authority for the legislature to enact a registration law when the poll tax is abolished as a voting requisite. Gov. Jester says the registration law should come first.

Power, Communication Lines Are Restored To Forsan Area

FORSAN, Jan. 15—People of this area welcomed mud Saturday as power and communication workers completed restoring service.

Schools have not been operating all week due to bad roads and power failure, which cut out electrically controlled heating systems.

Water shortages became acute for the same reason, and numbers of families hauled water from wherever they could get it. Gas pressure was good throughout and no residential heating or cooking problems were posed except in the cases of electric ranges.

Trees carried broken bows which snapped under the weight of ice that also laid low electric and telephone lines. A three mile stretch of power lines went down in the Chalk sector. Saturday linemen were working to energize lines to the remaining two oil leases held inoperative by the current failure. Most leases were out at one time or another.

No roads were impassable during the week and no traffic mishaps were reported. There were few suffering injuries from falls.

Cowboy Band Will Play For Governor

ABILENE, Jan. 15—The Hardin-Simmons university Cowboy band will stage a repeat performance at the inauguration of Gov. Beauford H. Jester in Austin on Thursday.

The HSU musicians, under direction of Marion B. McClure, will leave Abilene early Tuesday morning and play at the capital immediately prior to the inauguration ceremonies. When Gov. Jester is presented the band will play fanfare.

The Cowboy band played two years ago at Gov. Jester's inauguration, and it is returning as the official band at the invitation of the governor himself, who has frequently referred to the HSU organizations as "my inaugural band."

C-C Director Ballots Out

Members of the Big Spring chamber of commerce were reminded Saturday that ballots should be submitted as rapidly as possible in the organization's annual directors' election.

Ballots have been mailed to all members on the roster, said J. H. Greene, manager, but in some instances changes of address may prevent the ballots from reaching some members on schedule. An adequate supply of ballots is available at the chamber office, however, and members who do not receive them through the mail within the next day or two may pick them up in the office.

Listed on the ballot are names of 30 nominees from which 10 new directors will be selected. Members are being asked to mark through all but their first 10 selections, and the top 10 will become members of the board.

The votes will be counted Friday afternoon at the chamber office.

Awards Presented At Cub Scout Meet

Several awards were presented Friday night at the regular meeting of Cub Scout Pack No. 13 in the Wesley Methodist church.

Attending the session were Mrs. Gary Barbee, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Graham, Mrs. R. F. Bluhm, Mrs. H. P. Wooten, Mrs. J. H. Eastham, Mrs. R. A. Pachall, Mrs. Zarah LeFever, Lloyd Hale of Forsan, Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Jones, H. C. McNabb, Cubmaster, and H. D. Norris, Scout field executive.

Railway Wage Talks To Be Continued

CHICAGO, Jan. 15 (AP)—President of 18 non-operating railroad unions and carrier officials planned further wage and hour talks next week, indicating no immediate strike by 1,000,000 rail workers.

The unions, under terms of the railway labor act, will be free on Monday to call a strike at any time. Jan. 17 marks the expiration of the 30-day cooling off period after the presidential fact-finding board's report on the dispute.

THE TEXAS POLL

Few Polled In State Can Identify Potential Governor Candidates

By JOE BELDEN

AUSTIN, Jan. 15.—The question of who is going to run for governor next year is already being discussed by political observers. At least three high state officials are represented by their friends as almost sure to be in the race.

Barring unforeseen circumstances, Lieutenant Governor Alan Shivers, Attorney General Price Daniel, and Railroad Commissioner Olin C. Culberson are said to be certain candidates.

What are their relative chances of being elected? The answer to that question will depend upon how well known they become before the election and how well they are regarded by the voting public. Intense campaigns no doubt will be waged by the candidates to sell themselves to the public.

Now, one year before the campaigning begins, Shivers, Daniel and Culberson can bank on the fact that less than half of the public can identify them. A statewide survey shows Shivers with a slight edge, but all three have almost an equally big job of telling the public the mere facts of who they are and what they do.

The Texas Poll discovered this situation by putting the names of the three men before a statewide cross section of 1,000 adults and asking this question:

"Can you tell me what each one of these men does, or who he is?" (The names were shown on a card.)

Qualified voters, as a group, were better able to identify the three officials than the general public, as the results below show:

Identified	Vol-ers	All Adults
Alan Shivers	39%	21%
Price Daniel	33	27
Olin Culberson	23	26

Likewise, there appeared to be a positive correlation between a person's schooling and his ability to identify the three men. Compare below the results for (1) persons with some college education, (2) those with only some high school education, and (3) those with grade school training or no formal schooling:

Identifying	No. of	Identifying
Shivers	Day	Culberson
Vol-ers	Vol-ers	Vol-ers
All adults	31	27
By education:
College	53	52
High School	39	28
Grade or no school	19	14

This survey was conducted by 70 interviewers stationed in all parts of Texas, covering large cities, smaller towns, and rural areas.

The sample of persons interviewed was controlled by place of residence, sex, race, age, and socioeconomic levels so as to conform with known characteristics of the adult population.

BENTSEN AND THORNBERRY

Texas Delegation Has Two New Men

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15. — Twenty-seven year old Rep. Lloyd M. Bentsen, Jr., of McAllen, tall and trim, is one of the two new members of the Texas congressional delegation.

The other is Rep. Homer Thornberry of Austin.

Actually Bentsen isn't a freshman member of the 81st Congress which began Jan. 3. He was sworn in as a legislator on Dec. 31; at the special closing one-day session of the 80th Congress. A review of his background is in order first, since he has brief seniority.

In 1942 Bentsen was an army intelligence officer stationed in Natal, Brazil. He questioned pilots as they returned from North African fighting in those dark days when the Axis was still riding high.

"After talking with a lot of those boys fresh back from fighting," he continued, "I decided I was on the wrong side of the desk."

He asked for and was sent to pilot training centers back in the States. Late in 1943, shortly after marrying an attractive East Texas girl he had met while both went to the University of Texas, he went to Italy to join the 15th Air Force as pilot of a 4-engine B-24 bomber.

Raids in which he participated were flown over German-held parts of southeast Europe, including the Ploesti; Rumanian oil fields. At 22 he was promoted to major and made a squadron commander with 42 bombers in his unit.

Bentsen got his law degree, license to practice and induction into the army, "all wrapped up in one package" in the spring of 1942. He got his commission, incidentally, after attending officer candidate school. When he got back to McAllen he opened his law practice.

In the spring of 1946, when the first election campaigns came along, he made good and was elected county judge of Hidalgo county.

In the spring of 1948 he got into the congressional race with vim. He came through the first primary election safely, then emerged victorious for the Democratic nomination in the run-off primary. With little trouble, he won the Nov. 2 general election.

The death then of Rep. Milton West of Brownsville, who was retiring from Congress voluntarily, created a vacancy and he was elected at a special election Dec. 4 to fill out West's unexpired term.

At 27, Bentsen is one of the two youngest members of the 81st congress. A freshman member from South Carolina is younger by six months. Rep. Thornberry, like Bentsen, served as an intelligence officer in the armed forces. However, he was in the Navy, and most of his service duty was in the 8th Naval district.

Born Jan. 9, 1909 in Austin, he grew up in the state capital and says that "getting into politics kind of came natural."

He was chief deputy sheriff of Travis county, and then assistant county superintendent of schools, while still in the University of Texas. He obtained a Bachelor of Business Administration degree in 1932 and a law degree in 1936.

In the spring before getting his L.L.B. Degree he got into the primary election contests and was elected that summer to the state legislature from Travis county. He was reelected in 1938. In 1940 he was elected state district judge for Travis county, and reelected again to that position in 1942.

Shortly after reelection to his second term as district judge, he resigned to enter the Navy. While in the service he met and married Eloise Engle, who was a civilian employe at the Corpus Christi Naval Air Base.

Getting his discharge from the navy in February of 1946, he went back into private law practice. In May of that year he was elected to the Austin city council, and was serving as Mayor pro-tem of the state capital when he ran for Congress and was elected to succeed the now junior Texas Senator Lyndon B. Johnson.

Andre Serving As Supply Officer At Jap Base

Lt. Albert Andre, Big Spring, has been assigned as ordnance and supply officer at the Tachikawa (Japan) Air Force base.

His assignment, according to the public information office of the base, is particularly important due to the scope of operations. Courier aircraft from Tachikawa fly on regularly schedule flights to almost every spot in the Far East.

Lt. Andre enlisted in the Army initially in June 1936, serving with the 19th Infantry until August 1938. He re-enlisted in 1941 as a private in the air force and served with the 73rd Bomb Squadron located at Elmendorf, Field, Alaska until February 1943, when he entered officers candidate school. Since his commission, he has had several important assignments, among them mess supervisor at Fort Sam, Houston, Texas.

Home address of his wife, Mrs. Frances Andre, and their two children, Sheri and Andre, Jr., is given as 1606 Lancaster, Big Spring.

Special Placards For Builders From Rent Control Unit

Special placards are available to builders offering houses for sale or rent, subject to veteran preference.

Don Seale, area rent director, said that these placards declare that accommodations "will be offered exclusively to veterans of World War II during construction and for 30 days after completion." Sale or rent prices are listed beneath the larger legend. Space is provided for name and address of the builder or agent.

Any builder constructing such units may secure the large placards, suitable for easy display on the job, without cost at the area rent office in room 603, Petroleum Building.

Nearly 200,000 fans sat in on Michigan State College's five home football games in new Macklin Stadium last season. Top crowd was a capacity of 51,511 for the Michigan match.

Final examinations begin at Big Spring high school Monday for the first semester. # March Of Dimes Jobs Assigned

Key assignments for the Howard County March of Dimes, scheduled for the week beginning Jan. 24, were announced Saturday by F. W. H. Wehner, campaign chairman. Distribution of coin receptacles in the city will be supervised by K. H. McGibbon, while Ira L. Thurman will be chairman for special gifts. Containers for receiving individual contributions will be stationed at all stores and business houses, and McGibbon said arrangements already had been made for an adequate supply for general distribution. Special gifts may be submitted at any time. Thurman can be contacted personally at his office in the First National Bank, or special gifts may be mailed to him there.

C. S. Blomshield county chairman for the Infantile Paralysis Foundation, said that an iron lung would be exhibited in the business district during the campaign. Big Spring's iron lung, which usually is kept at the city fire station, now is being used in Harlingen where a polio epidemic occurred last summer. Blomshield said the local organization would not request that the machine be returned until it is no longer needed there, unless, of course, a need for it should develop here. Arrangements probably will be made for an iron lung to be exhibited here during the campaign, however. Blomshield said the Howard county organization is glad to furnish the apparatus for use in any such polio stricken area whenever its services are not required here. "We should consider ourselves fortunate to be able to help communities which suffer epidemics of polio, and we always have assurance from the foundation that others will come to our aid with similar assistance if the need arises." Wehner said that no spectacular activities are planned to attract attention to the March of Dimes. Most local citizens are familiar with the purpose of the annual campaign, and the county committee is confident that Howard counties will continue their support in the battle against infantile paralysis, the campaign chairman explained.

ing a decision on the Colorado River municipal water supply project were furnished by the engineer last week. Cost of the job, modified to include only the Colorado dam at the outlet, was pegged at about $11 million. Estimates were that water would cost about 20 cents per thousand gallons to the cities. That means that most places would likely raise rates to maintain the same net ratio of profit from water distribution. Next step is up to the CMWTA (Big Spring, Midland, Odessa) executive committee.

The number of deathless days in traffic in Big Spring is now past 400. That shows what caution (and perhaps good fortune) can accomplish. Here's hoping that we can push that figure up to 700 during the year.

The chamber of commerce is launching its "idea clinic" Tuesday in the hope that people will submit ideas for a program of work. This isn't restricted to the membership, for indeed the chamber will welcome suggestions from anyone.

American Legion members plugged the "spring's" centennial when they presented Perry Brown, national commander, with a jug of water "guaranteed to be from the big spring." If that guarantee holds, it is as strong as the water should be, seeing as how it's been several decades since the spring dried.

Loss of a pilot in the Midway school crash last week was a terrible thing, but the hundreds who viewed the burning school building last week breathed a prayer of thanks that the plane did not plunge into the building during a weekday. So far, the CAA has been completely baffled in its efforts to find a reason for the mishap.

If we followed the pre-Christmas technique, it would be appropriate to remind you that there are only 13 poll tax paying days before it is too late. To vote in any election that might come up this year, that poll tax or exemption certificate is essential. Action this week can save you long delays.

The city last week applied for federal participation in its new airport terminal building, which will cost around $60,000. Big Spring was once included in an appropriation for airport improvement aid and the grant may come through. The city will have ample funds on hand to finance its share.

Pair Transferred To County Jail
Will Smith and Billy Joe Liggins, Negroes picked up by the city police Friday night on a charge of stealing pecans, were transferred to the custody of the county Saturday. James Thurman was also confined to the county jail on a charge of driving while his operator's license had been suspended.

Work Begins On Cosden's Cracking Plant

Construction of a catalytic cracking unit for Cosden Petroleum Corporation's refinery here is under way. First spade of earth on the job was turned Friday afternoon in brief ceremonies at the refinery by R. L. Tollett, president.

Meanwhile, equipment and materials are being funneled to the job which will steadily gain momentum in the next few months. On hand for the beginning of the project was T. M. Lamy, Tulsa, Okla., president of the Refinery Engineers, the concern handling the construction project, and Cal Frazier, construction superintendent for Refinery Engineers.

At its peak, it is estimated that the work will require the services of some 200 persons. The job is due to be completed by the end of 1949. Location of the site is at the southwest corner of the Cosden tract on U. S. 80. The unit will replace the Dubbe No. 1 cracking unit destroyed by fire in 1947.

To Inauguration

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Blount, accompanied by Mrs. Ruby Billings, left Saturday for Austin. Mrs. Billings is going down for the governor's inauguration. The Blounts now make their home in Austin where he is employed by the lower Colorado River Authority.

Garden City Lines Being Restored

GARDEN CITY, Jan. 15—Long distance telephone service was restored here Friday afternoon after being out all week. Some local phones will be out for a week or more.

Seven homes were still without electricity Friday night. Two streets were closed due to fallen wires and trees. Wells being drilled at the new homes of Alton Cook and Lester Ratliff both caved in. School buses went back on schedule Friday for the first time in the week.

Assessed $100 Fine On Highway Charge

Lorin McDowell was fined $100 and costs in justice court Saturday morning on a charge of failing to yield the right-of-way.

State highway patrolmen, who pressed the charge against McDowell, said he was involved in a crash south of town several days ago. Sisto Perez also appeared in court to plea guilty to a charge of operating a vehicle at night without lights and was fined $10 and expenses.

Lions Auxiliary To Gather Wednesday

Mrs. C. C. Jones will be hostess at her home at 803 W. 17th Wednesday for a coffee for the Lions Auxiliary. Hours are from 10 a. m. to 12 noon and wives of all Lions club members are urged to share in the occasion.

Death Comes To Man Burned Last Month

Funeral for G. G. Dodd, 52, maintenance man for Westex Oil company, will be held at 3 p. m. today at the Elliott chapel in Abilene. Mr. Dodd died in a hospital here Saturday morning. He had been hospitalized since Dec. 11, 1948 when he was burned seriously at McCamey. He was working on a gasoline pump at the time and a spark from the pump motor may have ignited fumes. After 10 days of treatment, Mr. Dodd was removed to a hospital here. He had been in Big Spring for about three years.

Surviving are his wife; three daughters, Mrs. Yvonne Roberson, Abilene, Mrs. Christine Broxson, Midland, and Mrs. Bobbie Jean Miller, Big Spring; one brother, A. A. Dodd, Dimmitt; four sisters, Mrs. Mary Dixon and Mrs. Alma Dodd, Dimmitt, Mrs. D. D. Cavenry, Olton, and Mrs. J. H. Wagley, Eldorado; and three grandchildren.

The body was taken overland from here Saturday afternoon in a Nalley funeral coach. A minister of the Baptist church, of which Dodd was a member, will be in charge of rites.

Fierro Rites Today

Rites were due to be said today for Mrs. Jose R. Fierro, 64, long time resident of Big Spring and wife of a retired T&P worker. She died Saturday. Survivors include seven sons and four daughters.

Is On Job Where It's 32 Below

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Warren have received word from their son, Paul Warren, that he made it safely back to Riverton, Wyo., "between two snowstorms" after having spent the holidays here. In his difficulties with travel, he almost froze to death one night. Temperatures at Riverton, where he is stationed with the Bureau of Reclamation, have been 32 degrees below zero, he wrote.

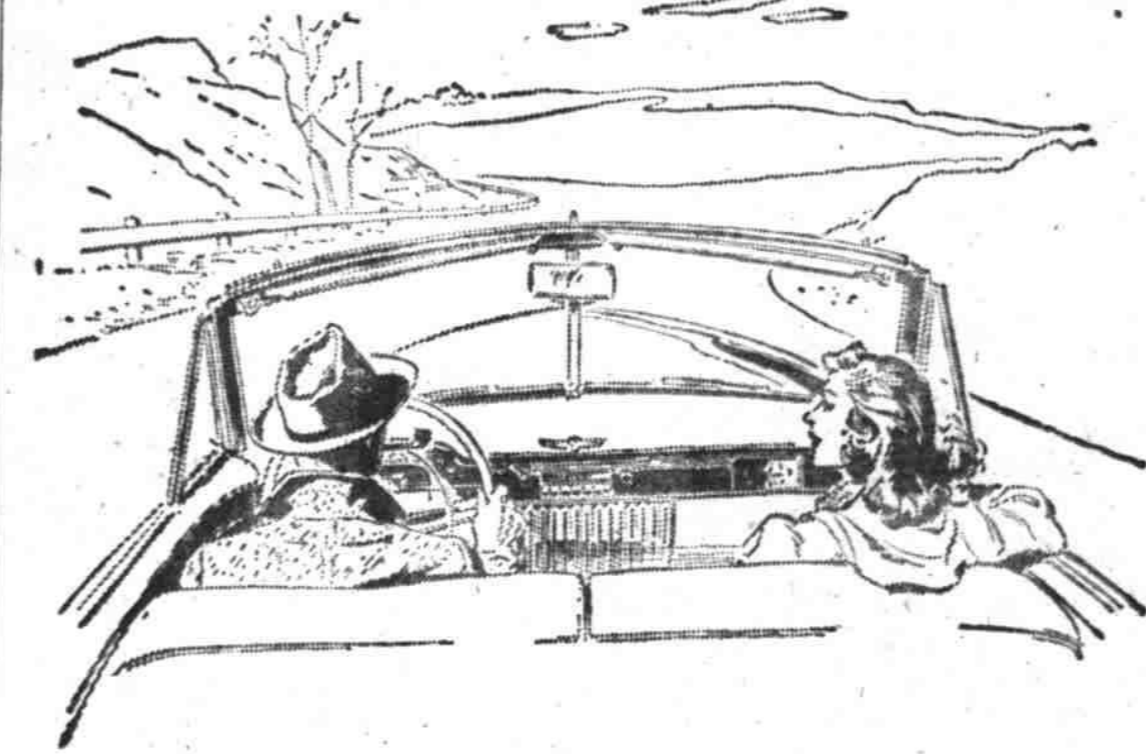

This is the first of a series of articles on How to Get Well with Radionics. By Dr. T. C. Tinkham, N. D., D. C., Ph. C., of the Gregg Street Naturopathic Clinic, 607 Gregg Street, Big Spring.

ARTICLE NO. 1—THE HUMAN BODY

The Human Body is the most wonderful and perfect piece of mechanism that the Divine Intelligence has evolved. This must necessarily be so, for it is the tabernacle which the soul immortal of man inhabits during his earthly experience. It was designed to completely meet all that man naturally and properly needs in his earthly functions, and if man had not abused it, the body would still be the perfect instrument God designed and desired it should be, but man, as a free agent—and not like those entities in the lower kingdom of life who mechanically and automatically follow and obey Nature's laws—has abused, neglected and degraded his body. From the enjoyment of health, which nature intended, man has through his own willfulness and ignorance instituted disease. Disease is man-created and is no part of the Divine scheme.

In all forms of Therapy, the aim should be to learn from Nature, observe her rules, study her laws, profit by using the great healing forces she so generously provides, give your body a chance. Do not deliberately defile and contaminate the blood stream, for that spring is the life energy which vitalizes and animates the human body. The great law of Compensation—as a man sows so shall he also reap—applies in a very special way to the human body. Treat it well and it will repay in kind; abuse it and you must accept the inevitable penalty. Nature is prodigal; the least effort to recognize her will be amply rewarded. The purpose of this article is to present a few simple and essential rules, the strict following of which will greatly enhance your prospects of attaining the great blessing on earth—Good Health—Adv.

Akin to Automatic Propulsion!

White sidewall tires available at additional cost.

When the great new Cadillac engine was in the final stages of development, a Cadillac engineer made a test run up Pike's Peak. "It felt," he said upon his return, "as if the car were moving by automatic propulsion." When you drive a 1949 Cadillac—powered by this magnificent new engine—you will understand what the engineer was talking about. The power flow is so smooth—and the supply of power so seemingly inexhaustible—that the driver is scarcely aware of the engine's existence. Owners are finding that this smooth, even, effortless flow of power does far more than increase the car's agility. It adds immeasurably to handling ease and maneuverability. It increases the confidence of the person at the wheel, and thereby makes him a better driver. And it increases the car's over-all safety to a remarkable degree. It has long been true that a search for the finest leads inevitably to Cadillac. But, today, the sign posts are marked so plainly that searching is not required. There is, literally, nowhere else to go—if you want the ultimate in motor car quality and satisfaction.

Area Scout Council Banquet Scheduled Thursday Evening

Raymond W. Robbins, Athens, will be principal speaker at the annual meeting and banquet for the Buffalo Trail Boy Scout Council here Thursday night, Nat Shick, program chairman, has announced. Robbins is currently serving as chairman of the Boy Scouts finance committee in his home district, and is a member of the Kiwanis International committee on resolutions. He served as first president of the Athens Kiwanis club. Now serving as president of the Presbyterian Men's Convention Synod of Texas, Robbins has served as an Elder in the Presbyterian Church for 26 years. The Thursday activities will begin at 4:30 p. m. when the council will hold its annual business session in the Settles hotel. The banquet will follow at 6 p. m. in the Settles ballroom, with H. Lyman Wren, Snyder, president of the council, serving as toastmaster.

Reservations for the banquet are being accepted now at Boy Scout headquarters here in the chamber of commerce office. However, Shick advised local residents to reserve tickets for the banquet as rapidly as possible. Banquet attendance will be limited to 300, and a large number of guests from throughout the 15-county council are expected here for the event.

The banquet program will begin with group singing, directed by the Rev. Aisel Carleton, First Methodist pastor, with Mrs. H. C. Mobley accompanist. Dr. P. D. O'Brien will pronounce the invocation.

Special features will include music to be provided by local Boy Scouts and the famous Indian Hoop Dance, which will be presented by Order of the Arrow Scouts, under direction of S. G. Painter, field executive at Odessa.

Cub Scouts of Den No. 6, Pack No. 13, will present a skit, under direction of Mrs. Lucian Jones.

Introduction of various delegations will be made by district chairman, while P. V. Thorson, council executive, will present the Eagle Scouts, and officers for 1949 will be introduced by Dr. W. B. Hardy.

The Rev. W. M. Elliott, first president of the council and the first to receive the Silver Beaver award in the council, will present the Silver Beaver to two Scouters at the Banquet. Rev. Elliott will be introduced by Shick.

H. D. Norris, assistant Scout Executive, will introduce Robbins. The Rev. James Parks, East Fourth Baptist Pastor, will pronounce the benediction to close the program.

Army Man's Body Returning For Re-Burial Here

Remains of Sgt. Jesse F. (Felix) Campbell will arrive here Wednesday for last rites.

Sgt. Campbell, a star grid player for Big Spring high school, was killed Jan. 9, 1946 at Shanghai, China. He was 21 years of age at the time he gave his life.

Services have been set for Thursday at the East Fourth Baptist church, and the American Legion will be in charge of rites at the Big Spring cemetery. Eberley Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Sgt. Campbell left his mother, Mrs. Mabel Campbell, 1108 W. 6th, five brothers, Charles Campbell, Russell Campbell, Wendell Campbell, Irvie Campbell, and Bobby Campbell, all of Big Spring; two sisters, Mrs. O. L. Stevenson, Odessa, and Nona Campbell, Big Spring.

If all the buses, street cars and trolley coaches in America were parked bumper to bumper they would make a solid line reaching from New York to Cincinnati.

Longhorns Check Odessans, 31-24, In 3AA Struggle

Cuin Grigsby Gets 12 Points

The Odessa high school Bronces turned a few wildcat tests into gushers but the Big Spring Steers had the better game in the long run and rolled to a 31-24 District 3AA basketball victory here Saturday night.

Gail Smith's Hoses resembled a football team more than they did a basketball team in the match for the defense-tough Longhorns, who never permitted the guests anywhere near the goal.

Had it not been for Bill Manning hitting a few wickets from far out, the Cayuses would never have been in the struggle. As it was, they trailed by 12 points at one stage midway in the fourth quarter and cut the margin only when the Bo-voines elected to go on defense and hold tight.

Cuin Grigsby banged away for 12 points, all of them resulting from field goals, and shared honors with Floyd Martin and Howie Jones. Martin took a physical beating in his scramble for the ball but never retreated an inch. Jones came in for eight points to help the Steer cause along.

Manning threaded the needle five times from quarter court.

The win was the Longhorn's third in five league starts and kept them in the running for a playoff berth. Big Spring's reserves lost to the Odessa B stringers, 57-12, in the opener.

Tornadoes Whiz Through Flock

ABILENE, Jan. 15.—Lamesa's Tornadoes kept their spoliest District 3AA basketball record intact by nudging the Abilene Eagles, 29-26, here Friday night.

The Tornadoes led at half time, 13-8, and most of the way thereafter. The going was rocky, however, a total of 29 personal fouls being called during the contest.

Ron Chapman was the top scorer for Lamesa with 10 points. Bill Galusha had eight for Abilene.

Followers of District 3AA athletics should see, by far, the best brand of baseball ever played in prep circles this spring. . . . All squads are coming back with veteran teams. . . . Big Spring-high school will have hold-overs at most every position and should come up with a tremendous pitching staff but will probably be hard-pressed to hold its own against the other nines. . . . The Steers' diamond successes will depend a lot on Floyd Martin, a gritty little right-handed hurler who almost lost the use of one leg about 18 months ago. . . . Big Spring high, by the way, was probably the first school in Texas to own a lighted diamond. . . . Now comes the Houston school board, which has voted to spend more than $36,000 for lighting equipment for the diamond used by the Houston prepsters. . . . Tom Smith, the Odessa scribe, noted recently that Stan Heath, the University of Nevada football star, played with the Hollis, Okla., high school team in Odessa back in 1946. . . . He must have meant Leon Heath, the Oklahoma Sooner back. . . . Stan is the son of Mickey Heath, the former major league baseballer and is supposed to hail from somewhere in Wisconsin. . . . Bob Flowers of Our Town says pro football suffered quite a loss when Bob Skoglund died recently. . . . Flowers and Skoglund were team mates on the Green Bay team last fall, that is until Skoglund was injured early in the season. . . . Speaking of Green Bay, the Packers' boss, Curly Lambeau says he'll use Jack Mitchell, the OU star signal caller, at half back, if he signs him. . . . Seems he's satisfied with his present quarterback, Indian Jack Jacobs.

Notre Dame May Meet Texas In '52

Southwest conference football teams own a .700 won-lost average in bowl activity. They've capped 14 games, lost five and tied three. Texas university, of course, is the big winner with four triumphs and one tie in five starts. All seven teams in the circuit, incidentally, have appeared in bowl games.

The University of Wyoming might be one of those schools warned of professionalism recently by the NCAA. Five athletes who wore the ivy of the University of Tennessee last fall are transferring to the western school. They'll all be eligible next fall.

Dan Garza, the Texan who played for Oregon in the Cotton Bowl, was told by Pacific Coast league committeemen he won't be allowed to play next fall. The Yakima Western International baseball league team experiences as many change in nicknames as does Big Spring. They were the Pippins in pre-war days, later became the Stars and last year were known as the Packers. Now the title is being changed again. The Big Springers were identified as both the Barons and the Bombers before the war. They became the Bronces in 1947. Yakima, by the way, is the home of Al Berndt and John Soden, who once sported the tatters of the Big Spring team.

Steers Entertain Angelo Felines In District 3AA Test Tuesday

The Big Spring high school basketball Steers face one of the biggest hurdles of their season here Tuesday night when the San Angelo Bobcats, pre-campaign co-favorites to cop the District 3AA crown, move into town.

Despite a recent loss to Midland suffered at home, Coach Johnny Kieck's battalion is still dangerous. Kieck has a veteran troupe back this year and the Felines have lost on mighty few occasions.

Favorite Loses In Beagle Meet

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 15.—The favorite failed to make the finals in the Texas Beagle Club field test run near here Friday.

Pennie started her run in rainy weather and was unable to score enough to gain the final round. She is owned by Everett Isaacs of Bon-nieville, Ky.

Sadie, owned by Jimmy Croom, Jr., of San Antonio, took first place in the 15-inch female class.

Sponsors of the show hope to complete testing of 25 13-inch dogs today.

Grapple Shows To Be Resumed Here Monday

Professional wrestling, the way the Junior heavyweights practice the trade, will be resumed at the Big Spring Athletic club Monday night. Lights of Pat O'Dowdy's Sportatorium were dark last week due to the fact that the touring tin-ears could not make the trip here. It seems the weather was about as bad all over as it was here.

At any rate, the muscle heads have promised to show up this time.

The 8:15 o'clock opener will pit Milt Olsen, the reigning Texas Junior heavyweight king pin, against Monte LaDue, the self-styled Paul Bunyan of the North Woods.

LaDue is not very big but he maintains he's tough enough to go bear hunting with a switch. He proved he wasn't all talk in a joust here several weeks ago with O'Dowdy, who had to fill in on the local card for a missing party, taking the tough Irishman to the cleaners in short order.

The main event pits well-liked Eddie Gideon against Bill Parks, a newcomer from Canada. Gideon is a Springfield Mo., lad, very popular in these parts.

Parks may be able to undermine a bit of that popularity by bouncing Edward, but that's no easy assignment. Others who have come into contact with Gideon will attest to that.

Mustang Gridders To Dine Monday

SWEETWATER, Jan. 15.—Leo (Dutch) Meyer, Texas Christian university football coach, and Sammy Baugh, star of the Washington Redskins, will be principal speakers at the Sweetwater high school football banquet, which will be staged at the Newman high school gymnasium here Monday at 7 p. m.

The supper is being sponsored by the Sweetwater Athletic association.

Robinson Says He'll Follow Rickey Orders

ATLANTA, Jan. 15.—Jackie Robinson, the Negro second baseman, says he will play baseball where the Brooklyn Dodgers tell him, despite Ku Klux Klan opposition.

That was his reaction last night after the Klan questioned whether he and Dodger Catcher Roy Campanella, also a Negro, would legally play against the Atlanta Crackers.

The Dodgers meet the Southern Association Crackers here April 8, 9 and 10 in exhibition games. Cracker president Eal Mann said he expected both Robinson and Campanella to be in the line-up.

Klan Dragon Samuel Green immediately came up with a challenge to Georgia's segregation laws would bar the Negroes against a white team in Atlanta.

"In my opinion, it's illegal," the Grand Dragon said. "You can bet your life I'll look up the segregation law and investigate thoroughly."

Gov. Herman Talmadge, a "white supremacy" crusader, said the controversy hadn't been called to his attention officially. He said it probably would be later and would look into it then.

Branch Rickey, the Dodger president, said Robinson would be in all exhibition games, not only those in Georgia, but those in Florida, Texas and the Carolinas as well.

Rickey was quoted by the New York Times as saying if some cities ban Negro players, "Why the Dodgers simply won't play there and that is all there is to that."

Denver Gladiator Loses In El Paso

EL PASO, Jan. 15.—Jessy Fonseca of El Paso punched out a close but unanimous decision over Val Alvarado of Denver before 2500 fans here Friday night to open the local 1949 fight season. Both boys are featherweights.

In the semi-final, Billy Henderson, Texas Tech student at Lubbock won a technical knockout over Sammy Galvan of El Paso in the sixth round. Galvan weighed 129, Henderson 131.

PRESIDENT TO RESIGN

Longhorn League Must Seek Replacement For H. L. Green

Representatives of Longhorn baseball league teams, in regular session at the Windsor hotel in Abilene today, must concern themselves with the job of finding a replacement for League President Howard L. Green.

In a letter to The Daily Herald Saturday, Green revealed he would submit his resignation in order to accept a position in the Brooklyn baseball chain as business manager of the Pueblo, Colo., club in the Western league. The resignation will become effective Jan. 29.

Green was the dominant figure in the league's organization in 1947 and has served as its chief executive for two years.

The retiring president served as general manager of the Abilene club until the end of last season. During the time he served in that capacity, he purchased 50 per cent of the capital stock. He sold his interests shortly after the WT-NM league season had ended.

The league functioned as a six-club circuit in 1947 and added two teams in 1948. In his correspondence to The Herald, Green predicted that the circuit teams will play to better than 400,000 paid admissions next season. The league attracted 340,000 last year.

Ballinger Fans Have Every Intention Of Retaining Pro Baseball Franchise

Ballinger fans apparently will put up a fight to retain their franchise in the Longhorn baseball league. A resolution to that effect, made by a group of strong supporters in the Runnels county capital last week, will pass in review before the Longhorn league directors in session at Abilene this afternoon.

There had been rumors that the club would be transferred to Carlsbad, N. M., but Ballinger backers say they're not so, that the city will have Organized baseball again next summer and will support it very well.

Stories that the franchise would be moved gained more credence when the people voted down a bond issue that would have financed the construction of a new park.

Some fifty Ballinger fans reportedly met during the week and organized a stock company that will assume charge of the Ballinger entry.

The group accomplished two things which indicated it meant business: It appointed T. J. Mansell, president of the organization and named Charley English, veteran minor league player, manager of the team. A third sacker, English has been in professional ball for 17 seasons and has won the most valuable player award in four different professional leagues during his career.

English has been in Ballinger for the past several days helping to get the company organized. He was to leave over the weekend for stops in several Texas league cities where he was to try and obtain the contracts of several players. He will also serve as an instructor in the Rogers Hornsby Baseball school in Hot Springs, Ark., Feb. 15 through March 1.

The baseball corporation received 11 players from the franchise obtained by Del Rio. All will be given a chance to make the team in Ballinger, says English.

The new park will apparently be located in the same spot where Bill Moore had his stadium last season. Construction of the 1500-seat grandstand is due to begin in a few days.

Other officers of the Ballinger club include Ray Fuqua, vice-president and Henry Carder, secretary-treasurer.

Thank You, Folks, for Your Kind Forbearance During My Recent Troubles

Texas Electric Service Company engineers tell me that the ice storm which hit last Tuesday was the most wide-spread in their memories. Not just a few communities, but a large area of West Texas was covered with a sheet of ice. Ice-laden limbs crushed down my electric wires, ice-sheathed wires either broke from the weight of two or three inches of ice, or pulled down the poles. Many miles of electric lines must be rebuilt, much of it from the ground up, to repair the storm damage.

I appreciate the fine attitude and patience of my friends in our many hours of trouble. When the word first came that icing conditions threatened, men, equipment and materials were mobilized from other cities and towns to help out our local folk. Many of these men worked day and night so that the interruption to your electric service would be as short as possible. Some of them risked their lives traveling ice-covered highways and even flying planes to locate and repair breaks in our lines. I wish I could tell you of the many heroic and self-denying tasks they accomplished in their stride.

Although electric service generally has been restored, many more days of work will have to be done to replace the emergency repairs with permanent construction.

My hat is off to the folks who worked so tirelessly and so long so that I could resume serving you.

Garner Named For Top Award

Writers Give Amarillo Wing A Heavy Margin

DALLAS, Jan. 15 (AP)—James Garner, remembered as much for his absence as his presence, today was named outstanding high school football player of Texas for 1948.

The Texas Sports Writers Association chose the pass-catching signal-calling wingman of Amarillo's Golden Sandies, as the top player by a margin of 11 votes over Claude Kincannon, the pass-pitching quarterback of Waco's champion Tigers.

Garner, who scored 15 touchdowns and carried Amarillo to the finals of the Texas Interscholastic league class AA race, will be the honor guest of the annual University of Houston ex-students association banquet next Wednesday night at Houston. He will receive a trophy.

When Garner was named, the semi-final game against Denton with an injured knee, it was generally conceded that it was Amarillo's big chance to win the state title. After Garner left the game Denton came back to outplay Amarillo but could not offset the big lead Amarillo had run up while Garner was playing. In the state final against Waco, Garner's absence was sorely felt.

The 17-year-old Garner polled 29 votes of the 73 cast by the sports writers association. Kincannon got 18. Third was Tom Stolandske, great fullback of Baytown, with nine.

Fourth was Gablen Dinkle, Marshall back, with three votes while tied for fifth were Marvin Vincent, Denton back; Bill Georges, Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) tackle; Hugh Reeder, Port Arthur center; and Waldo Young, Monahan back, each with two votes.

Receiving one ballot each were Bob Thomas, Arlington Heights end; Bill Forester, Woodrow Wilson (Dallas) back; Richard Parks, Waco back; Raymond Haas, Kingsville back; Francis Davidson, Gatesville back; and Donald Carpenter, Milby (Houston) back.

Garner has earned three letters in football as a fullback and end, one in basketball, one in track and one in tennis. His grade average this semester is 87.2. He was captain of the Sandies last fall. Thirteen of his fifteen touchdowns were on passes he received, one was on an intercepted pass and one on a punt return.

R. B. Norman, principal of Amarillo High school, who was a college athlete and a professional baseball player, said of Garner: "Not only is James Garner the best high school end I have seen during these 20 years, but he is also the best I have seen either in high school or college considering the class of football in which he has been engaged."

The dinner, at which Garner will be honored, will be at the Houston club starting at 7 p. m.

Byron Townsend, great Odessa back now a freshman at the University of Texas, won the award last year—the first to be made.

Vince Foster Kayoes Pellone

NEW YORK, Jan. 15 (AP)—Vince Foster, a boyish two-fisted banger from Omaha, Neb., is the hottest thing to hit Madison Square Garden since Rocky Graziano.

Manager Jack Hurley's new welterweight puncher scored in electrifying fashion Friday night by knocking out tough Tony Pellone, 146, an established main go fighter, in 44 seconds of the seventh round.

It was the way Foster, 146, did the job on the clever New Yorker that caught the fancy of the crowd of 14,421. Four clean knockdowns climaxed by the Kayo stamped 22-year-old Vince as a kid with a future.

Beau Jack or possibly Charley Fusari are talked about as future Big Town foes for Vince whose next date will be in his home town of Omaha against Phil Burton, Jan. 31.

Hurley, who piloted Billy Petrolle the old Fargo Express, thinks Foster is better at this stage of his career than Petrolle.

Foster was the big hit of the "new faces" show.

Lilanthur King, the British Empire Lightweight champ from Toronto, handled Willie Beltram in convincing fashion to win a unanimous eight-round decision. King weighed 134 to 139 for the New Yorker.

Knott Defeats Hosts To Win Coahoma Meet

COAHOMA, Jan. 15—Robert Beall sank a field goal in the last few minutes of play to give the Knott Hill Billies a 27-26 victory over the Coahoma Bulldogs here Saturday night in a thrill packed finish to the annual Coahoma basketball tournament.

The host team held an 11-6 edge at the end of the first period and maintained a one-point advantage at half time but the Billies held doggedly on the Bulldogs' heels until the opportunity presented itself to go ahead.

Knott had advanced to the finals with a 32-28 win over Forsan while Coahoma cleared Garden City, 45-25, in the semi-finals.

Knott reserves won the consolation round by thumping Sterling City 39-14, in the finals.

The all-tournament team consisted of Edwin Dickson of Coahoma, a unanimous choice, Wendell Shive of Coahoma, Bob Beall of Knott, Eldon Krautz of Forsan and George Kuntz of Stanton.

FAULTLESS COPS TROPICAL 'CAP

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 14 (AP)—Calumet Farm's Faultless today captured the $10,000 Tropical Handicap final feature of Tropical Park's 40-day racing season.

Warren Wright's five year old fought a thrilling stretch battle with King Midas to win the mile and a sixteenth race. Jockey N. L. Pierson rode Faultless to the winners spot. The two leaders were three lengths ahead of the third horse, Cat Bridge.

YMCA Cage League To Open 2nd Half

Play To Begin Monday Night

Second half play in the YMCA basketball league will get underway at the Howard County Junior college gymnasium Monday night but the debut of the circuit's new club, Stanton, will be delayed until Friday.

The addition of Stanton builds the membership to eight clubs. Since only three games a night are possible, two teams will draw bytes each scheduled night. Safeway has an off-night Monday along with Stanton.

American Legion clinched first half honors Friday, despite the fact that the Yets did not play. Their contest with Ackerly was called off when an Eagle starter became ill shortly before game time.

The Legionnaires were unbeaten in five starts in first half play. Provided some other than Legion wins the last half championship, a title game will be booked.

SOFTBALL PARLEY CARDED SUNDAY

Softball enthusiasts of West Texas have been invited to sit in on the year's first business session of the Texas Softball league, scheduled to be conducted at the St. Angulus hotel in San Angelo starting at 2 p. m. next Sunday.

The circuit functioned for the first time a year ago at which time nine teams went to the barrier.

Forsan fielded a team in the league in 1948 but Blacky Hines, manager of that team, has not indicated whether his club, the Pipelineers, will seek entry again this year.

Sunday night, a banquet honoring the 14 players named to the TSL's first all-star team will be staged at the St. Angulus and the athletes will be presented with coat style jackets.

In 1948, the sponsors were returned around $2,400 by the end of the season. The money had originally been posted as guarantees.

Representatives of other softball leagues in Texas are also being invited to break bread with the TSL officials. Invitations have been mailed out to all parts of the state by Hugh Welch, president of the circuit.

Hawks Oppose Rams Monday

The Howard County Junior college basketball team comes home today but the athletics won't unpack their bags.

The Jayhawks are booked to tangle with San Angelo Junior college's Rams Monday night in Angelo. The locals hold one decision over the Rams but the Concho City gang has suddenly become the terror of their conference play.

The Big Springers will next be seen in action more Friday night, at which time they play Wayland in a return game.

No report on the Hawk fortunes in the north was available to the Herald due to the fact that all communications lines between Big Spring and the Panhandle have been down for several days because of the recent bad weather.

The HJCJ troupe was to have played Wayland last Thursday and Frank Phillips of Borger last night.

Bud Wilkinson To Stay At OU

NORMAN, Okla., Jan. 15 (AP)—Bud Wilkinson, the University of Oklahoma's brilliant young football mentor, today signed a new contract as coach, athletic director and professor of physical education.

Dr. George L. Cross, president of the university, withheld terms on request of Wilkinson, but the contract assured his stay as head coach for at least five years and a longer tenure as athletic director.

It has been indicated that Wilkinson will receive $15,000 a year with a five-year contract as head football coach.

Bottle Flinging May Be Curbed

AUSTIN, Jan. 15 (AP)—Football referees and baseball umpires will be glad to learn that the 51st Legislature may outlaw the throwing of pop bottles and cushions at ball games.

Senator Keith Kelly of Fort Worth has a bill ready for introduction which would "make it unlawful for any person in attendance at any football, baseball or other athletic contest or game to throw a bottle, cushion, rock or other missile x x x."

Kelly said today that he is presenting the bill at the request of the Interscholastic league.

PHIL EAGLES SOLD
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 15 (AP)—The Philadelphia Eagles pro grid team was sold today to a group of Philadelphians headed by former democratic city chairman James P. Clark. Selling price was not disclosed.

SAYS STEWART Southwestern Grid Teams Must Reckon With Video

DALLAS, Jan. 15 (AP)—Television is creating a problem for the small colleges in football and the National Collegiate Athletic association must take steps to deal with it, James H. Stewart, executive secretary of the Southwest Conference and a director of the NCAA, said today.

Speaking at the weekly luncheon of the Dallas Sportsmen's club, Stewart said the impact of television already was being felt in the east where the televising of football games of the major colleges was taking away attendance at games among the smaller colleges. "It's the same as baseball encountered last season," he said.

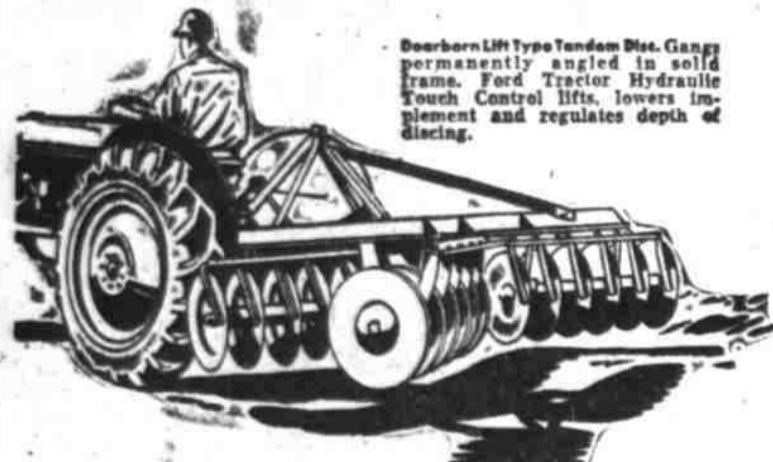

There is only one station in Texas now televising Houston, Dallas and San Antonio are due to follow Fort Worth next season, Stewart said. "We will have a problem among the smaller colleges of Texas," he pointed out. "The Southwest Conference has not yet considered this problem but it must do so soon."

Stewart said the NCAA, whose meeting in California he attended this week, was taking definite steps to cut down on Bowl games and that his information was that the Pacific Coast conference had made it impossible for a member to ever again come to the Cotton Bowl or any other bowl outside of the Rose Bowl. By adopting a rule closing the football season two weeks after Thanksgiving, the Pacific Coast conference ended participation of any of its teams in any bowl other than the Rose, he pointed out.

Milton Price, secretary of the Texas League who will attend a national conference of baseball men at Columbus, O., Jan. 17-21 where a study of the baseball rules from the administrative end will be conducted, also revealed that this year there would be a uniform baseball used throughout the minor leagues.

"The glow ball will be speeded up some and the fast ball cut down," he said. "What they're trying to arrive at is uniform resiliency."

Regarding baseball, Stewart said a new plan had been worked out in the NCAA to prevent losing money in its national playoffs. In the past there have been regional western and eastern tournaments with four districts sending teams to one and the other four to the other. Next

Two Vealmoor Seaboard Tests Drilling Ahead Toward 8,000

In North-Central Howard County, flanking production from the Vealmoor field, two projects operated by Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware were drilling ahead toward 8,000 feet, contract depths. Seaboard No. 1 H. N. Zant, attempting to extend the pool on the east, 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of the south half of section 28, block 32, T-3-N, TP survey, was boring on west lines of section 29, block 32, T-3-N, TP survey, was shut down on 2,932 feet, trying to regain circulation and thaw out frozen water pipes. This semi-wildcat is a west offset to Seaboard No. 1 W. C. Campbell, previously completed as an extension to the pool. Magnolia Petroleum Company was making new hole with its No. 1-A Gartner, slated 8,500-foot wildcat in the Vincent area of extreme Northeast Howard County. Last report had it below 5,780 feet, penetrating lime.

It is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 27, block 20, La Vaca Navigation Company survey. Seaboard No. 2 S. E. Lee, second Ellenburger failure in the Sprayberry (San Andres) pool in southwestern Dawson County, was moving off portable units after flowing oil following cleaning out operations over a period of two to three weeks. It had been shot about a month ago with 650 quarts of nitroglycerin from 6,455-6,635 feet in the Sprayberry lime. In 48 hours No. 2 Lee flowed 600 barrels of oil through a quarter inch tubing choke. Two hundred and eighty barrels was load oil. During a later 24 hours, the well was reported to have flowed 294 barrels of new oil through a quarter-inch choke. Location is 440 feet from the northeast corner of section 47-34-5N-T&P.

Millican Outpost Runs One-Hour Stem Test

Plymouth Oil Company No. 1 P. W. Millican, one-quarter of a mile east outpost to the discovery well for production from the Strawn, crinoidal reef lime, to open the Millican field of West-Central Coke County, and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 231, block 2, H&TC survey, was bottomed at 6,350 feet, and was taking a Schlumberger survey, and will then determine its future course of action. It ran a one-hour drillstem test in the Strawn lime at 6,300-50 feet. There was a fair blow of air throughout the period. Recovery was 275 feet of gas cut drilling mud, which was slightly cut with gas. There were no indications of water.

This project topped the Strawn reef at 6,294 feet, which put it about 325 feet low on that point to the top of the same formation in the Sun Oil Company No. 1 P. W. Millican, the discovery well of the field of the same name. There is a possibility that the Plymouth venture will run casing and make production tests after the Schlumberger survey is checked. Fred E. McDonald, Jr., of Robert Lee, has filed an application with the Railroad Commission of Texas, requesting a permit to start drilling at once on an exploration to the Palo Pinto-Pennsylvanian in the northwest side of the Bronte township, and on the northeast side of the Bronte field of East-Central Coke County.

The project will be McDonald's No. 1 Fee, and it is located 291 feet from north and 111 feet from east line of lot 8, Hicks addition to the town of Bronte, and on a three and one half acre tract on which McDonald has the lease. The exploration will dig to about 4,500 feet to explore for production in the Palo Pinto lime, the pay horizon in the Bronte field's completed wells.

Sun Oil Co. No. Mrs. Annie Cummings became the third completed producer in the Millican (Strawn) field in northwestern Coke County with a 24-hour flow of 531.20 barrels of pipeline oil. Gas-oil ratio was 1,000-1. The gauge was through a quarter inch choke with flowing tubing pressure 1,075 pounds. Bottomed at 5,961 feet, the well was treated with 2,000 gallons of acid. It is in the C SE SE 187-2-H&TC, north offset to Sun No. 1 P. W. Millican, the discovery.

Spread of production in the Bronte field eastward to within three-quarters of a mile of Bronte has brought the first townsite location, R. L. Moore and L. V. Hitt of Tyler will drill No. 1 Vernon C. Lammers on a two-acre tract, to be started on or before July 31. Contract is for 5,000 feet with rotary. Location is 55 feet from the north and east lines of lot 1 in the Der addition in section 451, block 1-A, H&TC Ry. Co. survey.

Total depth was 4,910 feet in lime on that bottom, with packer at 4,895 feet, a 30-minute drillstem test was run. A slight blow of air was evident for part of the period. Recovery was 25 feet of drilling mud, with no shows of oil, gas or water. This deep prospector is approximately one mile south of the town of Christoval and 660 feet from south and east lines of section 1,929, block L, Strauss survey. It is 660 feet west of the Concho river.

Commodity Price Index Down Again
NEW YORK, Jan. 15. (AP)—The Associated Press index of 35 important wholesale commodity prices this week declined to 175.05 lowest since June 16, 1948. Last week the index was 176.64, and a year ago it was 207.61. The base year 1926 equals 100. The food component at 131.64 this week reached a new 1948-49 low. Industrials, livestock, grains and cotton, and textiles also declined.

Ellenburger Wildcat Slated Eight Miles North Of Snyder

An Ellenburger wildcat is to be started January 19 in North Scurry County, eight miles north of the town of Snyder, by J. L. Collins, et al. of Corsicana.

It is to be his No. 1 G. E. Parks, located 1,980 feet from north and 330 feet from west lines of section 442, block 97, H&TC survey. Elevation is 2,300 feet. The deep zone is expected to come in above 7,900 feet. However, the venture may encounter production on a lesser depth in the Pennsylvanian, which was opened one and one-half miles west of this well by Standard Oil Company of Texas No. 1 Brown, discovery well of the Dermott field.

In the event pay is found from that horizon, the project is expected to complete there. If not, a test into the Ellenburger is in order. Magnolia No. 1 Moore, Central Scurry County possible discovery three miles southwest of Snyder, and 660 feet from south and west lines of section 207, block 97, H&TC survey, swabbed an average of 15 gallons of oil per hour during a two-hour test on perforated sections of 6,845-50 feet, in the Canyon lime of the Pennsylvanian. That zone had been washed with 200 gallons of acid.

Operator has now perforated at 6,850-65 feet, and is swabbing to test. This venture had flowed oil at the estimated rate of 30 barrels per hour on a drillstem test before the 7-inch casing was cemented on bottom at 6,885 feet. Preparations to drillstem test in the northeast Scurry County Ellenburger were underway at Sun Oil Company and The Ohio Oil Company No. 1 Helms, wildcat 20 miles northeast of Snyder.

Total depth was 7,486 feet in dolomite. Point at which the packer was set was not reported. This prospector had logged only very slight signs of oil and gas in the current formation. Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 638, block 97, H&TC survey.

The Scurry County wildcat, Placid Oil Co. No. 1 T. Cornelius Davis, after failing in the Ellenburger, was to plug back and test the Canyon. It was reported to have squeezed casing perforations at 7,357-7,405 feet after swabbing oil and water from acidized Strawn. It swabbed nine hours, following treatment of the Strawn with 1,000 gallons of acid and recovered 100 barrels of fluid, 86 per cent oil and 14 per cent water. In the following 24 hours it swabbed 33 barrels of oil and 33 barrels of salt water. Location is the C NW SE 387-97, H&TC, six miles north and slightly west of Snyder.

Courtney Baby Is Claimed By Death
Funeral for Harvey John Blocker, 21-months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Blocker, Courtney, will be held Sunday at 3 p. m. in the Stanton Methodist church. The baby became ill Friday and died suddenly late in the afternoon at a hospital in Stanton. Services were to be in charge of the Rev. J. B. Stewart, Stanton, assisted by the Rev. Hester of Midland. Burial was to be in the Evergreen cemetery with Eberley Funeral home in charge of arrangements.

Besides the parents, he leaves his grandmother, Mrs. J. C. Bickley, Stanton, and several aunts and uncles. Pallbearers will be Bill Rhodes, Finley Rhodes, Jess Angle and Bill Clements.

New Secretary For R. R. Commission
AUSTIN, Jan. 15. (AP)—O. D. Hyndman of Leona, Tex., became secretary of the Texas Railroad commission today. Hyndman has been with the gas utilities division of the commission since 1945. He succeeds K. C. Miller, who announced his resignation yesterday. Miller will join in oil and gas reporting service in Austin.

Test Shut Down For Changing Motors
American Republics Corporation was shut down on its No. 1 Elmer Harrington, South Tom Green County wildcat projected to the Ellenburger, to change motors before drilling ahead. Total depth was 4,910 feet in lime on that bottom, with packer at 4,895 feet, a 30-minute drillstem test was run. A slight blow of air was evident for part of the period. Recovery was 25 feet of drilling mud, with no shows of oil, gas or water.

This deep prospector is approximately one mile south of the town of Christoval and 660 feet from south and east lines of section 1,929, block L, Strauss survey. It is 660 feet west of the Concho river.

COKE COMPLETION AWAITS GAUGE

Adverse Weather Slows Oil Work

SAN ANGELO, Jan. 15.—Inclement weather prevailing over the state caused shutdown of most West Texas oil activity during the past week. One of two latest producers in the Bronte (Palo Pinto) field in Coke County was awaiting clearing weather to take a potential gauge at the week's end. John DeWolfe of Pecos staked location for the Culberson County wildcat. The scheduled 3,000-foot rotary wildcat, due to start immediately, is the No. 1 Sherrod & Clare, 467 feet from the north and east lines of section 23, block 111, public school land survey.

A Runnels County wildcat is scheduled for the British American Oil Producing Co. It will be the No. 1 C. B. Hays, 990 feet from the north and west lines of a 197.66-acre lease in E. Lassier survey. It is contracted to 4,500 feet with rotary and is located three miles north of Ballinger. Wells marking half mile north and three-quarter mile south-southwest extensions to the Benedum triple-pay field in eastern Upton County have been completed by Slick-Urschel Oil Co. Plymouth has staked a location 2,857 feet west and slightly south of No. 1 D. L. Alford, the discovery, drilled by Slick-Urschel and Plymouth.

The north extension is No. 1-B Arvilla E. Gordon. Through a three-eighths inch choke, it flowed 591.47 barrels of 60 gravity oil in 24 hours. Gas-oil ratio was 3,975-1. # Weather Affects The Food Market

Price of fruits and vegetables jumped about five per cent here last week as a result of the cold weather in this region and throughout the country.

Egg prices jumped about 10 cents per dozen as production took a 30 per cent nose dive.

Most fresh vegetables and fruits normally are brought in from the Lower Rio Grande Valley into this section, but during certain winter months heavy shipments come in from Arizona and California.

During the past week, icy and in some cases completely impassable roads, slowed or stopped the flow of fresh foods into the area. This was one of the immediate causes of the price rise in citrus fruits and vegetables. Disrupted communications, which made shipments one of mere guess-work, added to the difficulty.

As trucks and trains began rolling in greater volume and speed, the shortage is due to adjust itself. Normalcy should return early in the week.

But there is a chance that prices may ease upward again with 10 to 20 days in view of the freeze damage in California and Arizona. Some sources estimated that approximately 37 per cent of the anticipated fruit crop in California was lost as a result of the abnormal freezing temperature there. California supplies around 25 per cent of the nation's citrus fruit.

Declining production during cold weather was not the only cause for pressure on the egg market. Hatcheries are now taking about 40 per cent of the total production, whereas in December they only required five per cent.

Milk Prices Hiked At Galveston

GALVESTON, Jan. 15. (AP) — Wholesale and retail milk prices have been boosted here by two dairies.

The dairies hiked cost of wholesale milk in cartons one cent a quart to 22 cents. Retail prices will now be 25 or 26 cents a quart.

John N. Milosevich, local retail grocers association president, said yesterday.

Howard County Men's Bodies Are Returned

Bodies of four Howard county men were aboard the U. S. Army transport, Sgt. Jack J. Peadleton, which arrived in the States this weekend.

Remains of 4,504 Americans who gave their lives during World War II were aboard the transport, which brought the bodies from military cemeteries in New Guinea and the Philippine Islands. There were 270 Texans in the group. Families of the deceased will be notified when the remains reach regional distribution centers.

Included were these men (name and address of next of kin listed):

Pfc. Chester C. Blake, Army; John M. Blake, Knott.

Sgt. Raymond L. Ely, AAF; Sam J. Ely, 2005 Runnels, Big Spring.

Pfc. Raymond E. Jackson, Army; Mrs. Alonzo Jackson, 1003 Johnson, Big Spring.

Clear Skies Bring Rush Of Traffic

Operations returned to near normal at the Munny airport Saturday with clear skies, and a rush of traffic ensued. Communication are still out, but other than that the situation was well in hand.

A dozen Flying Farmers of America put into the port early in the morning with Alfred Ward, Akron, Colo., national president, leading a weekend flight into Mexico.

Held in check by overcast and icing conditions early in the week and by dense fog the latter part, Navy fliers flocked for refueling on transcontinental flights.

Plans were being made Saturday for several local private fliers to join in the search for J. W. Thomas, Jr., missing since Jan. 9 on a flight from San Angelo to Tulsa, Okla. No trace had been found late Saturday of Thomas, who had made his home here. He was chief observer for Stanolind Oil & Gas exploration crew stationed currently at Big Lake. He was last heard of when he took off from the Sky Harbor airport in San Angelo about 8:30 a. m. last Sunday in a Swift 125. The CAA here is seeking information about the fate of the craft and pilot.

Cecil Hamilton of Hamilton Field and D. M. McKinney, Texas Electric Service, spent a long day Saturday patrolling Texas Electric Service lines throughout this area. They reported damage particularly widespread to telephone lines, and that every where crews could be seen at work seeking to repair damage.

SPRING WATER—American Legion members greeted National Legion Commander Perry Brown, Beaumont, with a jug of water purportedly drawn from the "big spring" when he visited here briefly Thursday while enroute from El Paso to Fort Worth. This is the centennial year of the discovery of the spring for which the city is named, and Neel Barnaby, commander of the local post, left, presented the decorated jug to Brown, who is holding it. At right is G. Ward Moody, state department adjutant, whose grandfather was an early Big Spring settler. Between Brown and Moody may be seen Harold Steck, past commander, and immediately behind him is Alvin Thigpen, 19th district commander. The jug had pictures of the spring as "Capt. R. B. Marcy found it" in 1949 and as "Perry Brown found it" in 1949. (Jack M. Haynes Photo).

PARATROOPER TRAINEES ORDERED OUT, THEN BIG PLANE CRASHES

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., Jan. 15. (AP) — A veteran paratrooper prodded 36 trainees out of a stricken "flying boxcar" and then rode the ship until it crashed and burned. The crew of three was killed.

He was Sgt. Robert Lee Hodgkiss of Mt. Pleasant, Ohio, the 24-year-old jump master, who was unhurt. The 36 men cleared the plane yesterday in about seven seconds, using doors on both sides, Hodgkiss said.

After his men "hit the silk," the 24-year-old combat veteran said the plane was too low for him to jump. The beetle-bodied plane sloughed into the scrub pine and sandhills and "we probably would have made it except for two lousy trees," the sergeant said.

The plane sheared off one tree at the base and uprooted another and then caught fire.

"I ran to the front of the plane and got one of the crewmen out of the burning compartment but it was too late. He was dead," Hodgkiss related.

The plane was from the Greenville (S. C.) air force base. The Greenville base said the dead crewmen included:

Capt. Robert Kilpatrick, Baytown, Texas.

Pentti Lund, rookie forward of the New York Rangers of the National Hockey League, was born in Helsinki, Finland. He is the only Finnish player in the big ice wheel.

'48 WORST YEAR FOR TEXAS POLIO

ABILENE, Jan. 15. (AP) — The 1948 polio epidemic was the worst ever recorded in Texas, the state chairman of the March of Dimes campaign said last night in opening the 1949 drive.

Edward S. Stewart said that Texas cases in 1948 totaled 1,780, placing the state third in the nation in number of victims.

He said that after state March of Dimes funds were expended in caring for the victims, the National Foundation advanced about $520,000 to Texas.

Future Home Makers

Open House Set For Monday Night By Howard County Junior College

Open house will be observed from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. Monday at Howard County Junior College. An annual event, the open house is sponsored by the school faculty and board in an effort to acquaint the public with the facilities and program of the college. Faculty and student government leaders will be hosts for the evening, guiding visiting patrons about the plant, said E. C. Dodd, president. No formal program is planned and there will be light refreshments at the cafeteria for guests who call during the evening. "We are anxious for as many people who can visit the school," said Dodd. "We not only want them to become acquainted with what we are doing and are attempting to do, but we also would like their reactions and suggestions." Dr. C. C. Colvert, Austin, head of the junior college education division for the University of Texas, will be an interested spectator at the open house. Howard county people leaned heavily on his judgment in setting up the college here. Tuesday noon Dr. Colvert is scheduled to address the Rotary club. In addition to facilities for regular day classes, visitors will get a chance to hear about the evening school program, and of special fields of instruction. One is the department for business education, popular with veterans and others who desire essential training for employment in the quickest possible time. Considerable demand for trained secretaries and bookkeepers has been manifested at Dodd's office. Approximately 40 per cent of the 225 students enrolled in the college carry one or more business courses. This course is pitched for efficient training for employment, or qualification toward a bachelor of business administration degree, for general business background to those who might enter the professions. Many who are employed during the day take advantage of the business courses at night in typing, accounting, shorthand, business math, law, correspondence, salesmanship, advertising, merchandising and income tax accounting. J. F. Jones heads the department, assisted by James A. Joley and Bernard M. Keese. Another popular course at HCJC is conversational Spanish, which has attracted several businessmen, members of the police department and others. It is offered both days and evenings. George A. Hank, professor of languages and master of six languages, conducts these courses. Still another field is that of music under the direction of Mary Louise Hendricks, who has a wide background of training and experience in the art. Private lessons in voice and piano are given in addition to regular courses in music theory, music appreciation, public school music (especially designed for elementary school teachers). This department also has charge of the choral club and ensemble. An attempt is being made to offer extra courses to meet the needs of adult, non-college population. Among the facilities which will be pointed out during the evening are the industrial arts shop, directed by Frank Medley. One of the newer departments of the college, it is making particularly rapid strides in vocational education with woodworking, sheetmetal, auto body working, mechanical drawing, etc. The laboratory, equipped at a cost in excess of $20,000, will be on display so that patrons may see facilities for chemistry and biology courses. Plans for entertaining the public Monday were completed Friday at a general assembly. It is not planned to have regular evening classes in session, but enough will be going on to give the people an idea of the college activities.

Over 100 Girls Learn To Cook And Sew

Over 100 girls are enrolled in the Big Spring High School foods and clothing classes and more may be enrolled with the beginning of a new semester January 24. Girls are going all out in training for various careers and the career of a housewife seems to appeal to the girls enrolled in first and second year home economics courses directed by Edna Earl McGreggor, department head, and Edith Thompson, teacher. Girls are instructed in the simple principles needed by a beginner and their training continues until they have learned something of the art of food preservation and the proper way to serve a formal meal. To make a dress worth looking at twice, it takes more than just sitting at a machine and seeing how fast it will operate. There are a number of important steps before that. For example, the girls must learn to select material and equipment, they must know how to select the size and style of a pattern and how to fit that pattern. Fitting is a very important task in the clothing field and begins long before the material is cut. There are always such processes as basting and pinning and even that rather disgusting task of having to take stitching out when the seamstress thinks it's a finished product. There are also many details in the foods department, too. In the foods classes, the girls study how to plan well-balanced meals and spend much time learning the health side of the cooking field. They even have to do the dishes and learn neatness by keeping the department kitchen clean. Practical foods are actually prepared in the classes as well as desserts such as pies and cakes. It's not all preparing food because the students have to serve meals, too, and they learn as much about table service as the actual cooking. Two years of home economics are now giving Big Spring high school girls a practical knowledge of the home and a third year is in the process of being added. Home Economics courses are developing well-trained home makers for the future Big Spring.

HI - talk

By Dolores Franklin

Roy Worley, assistant principal of BSHS, announced Friday that a new system will be inaugurated for the next semester and must be recognized by all parents as well as students. Students on the honor roll may leave school at 3 o'clock, and those who are in need of getting their work up to date must report to their respective teachers for the sixth period. Every Friday each teacher will turn in a list of students who need to bring up their work. It is compulsory that those students report to the special classes at 3 o'clock. By doing this, it will keep many off the falling list. These classes are not a period of punishment or staying in, but a period where students may get personal help and understanding, Worley explained.

SPECTACLE OF THE WEEK

Alphene Page Becomes The Bride Of Charles E. Gressett On Friday

Double ring wedding vows were exchanged by Alphene Page, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Page, 1214 E. 16th, and Charles E. Gressett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Gressett, in the East Fourth Baptist church Friday evening.

The Rev. James S. Parks read the formal service as the couple stood before the altar of graduated candelabra holding lighted tapers and benked with fernery and baskets of baby pink gladioli.

Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. H. M. Jarratt, pianist, played a medley of love songs and during the candlelighting service, she played the selections, "Always" and "Together." Peggy Stringfellow, accompanied by Mrs. Jarratt, sang "O Promise Me," by De Koven and "Because," by D'Hardelot.

Mrs. Jarratt played "Indian Love Call," by Rudolph Friml, during the ceremony and the traditional wedding marches, Lohengrin's "Wedding March," and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March," as the processional and recessional respectively. Miss Stringfellow sang, "The Wedding Prayer," by Dunlap, as the benediction.

Mrs. Jarratt wore a tailored rose formal with carnation corsage and Miss Stringfellow chose a pink dress with carnation corsage.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a white slipper satin gown, fashioned with a fitted bodice and lace yoke, forming an off-the-shoulder effect. Minute covered buttons were placed in a row from the yoke to the waistline. The full flowing skirt featured a bustle effect falling into a full, formal train. Her long, fitted sleeves terminated in petal points over her hands. Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion fell from a coronet headpiece, made of seed pearls and rhinestones.

She carried a white Bible covered with net and topped with a purple throated orchid. For the traditional something old, the bride wore a gold bracelet belonging to her paternal grandmother, Mrs. J. B. Page of Brownwood; for something new, a gold necklace, a gift of the bridegroom; something borrowed, her white Bible and something blue, a garter. She wore a penny in her shoe for luck.

Mrs. Gene Jernigan served as matron of honor. She chose a rose taffeta dress, designed with a shirred, rounded neckline and bouffant skirt. She carried a matching bride from Van Horn, attended the punch service and Mrs. Vivian Stedman, of Van Horn, cut the cake. Olene Leonard presided at the bride's register.

MRS. CHARLES E. GRESSETT

Those in the house party were Mrs. Otto Couch, Mrs. Ed Stringfellow and Mrs. R. T. Lytle. Out of town guests attending were Mrs. J. D. Page, Marshall Hill and Mrs. Luther Cobb of Brownwood; Mrs. E. L. Porter and Gary Lee of Van Horn; Mrs. Vivian Stedman, Mrs. John Shortes and daughter, Patricia Ann, of Odessa; Eldridge Lee Widner of Odessa and Mrs. W. M. Hodnett of Abilene.

The bride graduated from Big Spring high school and attended Hardin Simmons University, where she was a member of the Cowgirl Band. She was formerly employed by the Bell Telephone company. Gressett graduated from Odessa high school and attended Howard County Junior college. He served three years in the United States Navy.

For travelling, Mrs. Gressett chose a grey tailored suit, with green accessories and an orchid corsage. She wore a green off-the-face hat, trimmed with a bright feather and a veil.

Following a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Eunice, N. M., where the bridegroom is associated with the Richardson and Hudson Construction company.

Birthday Party Is Given For Horace Hamilton

Horace Hamilton was honored with a party on his eighth birthday anniversary by his mother, Mrs. Cecil Hamilton, in the home of Mrs. John Brinner, 209 W. 16th, Friday afternoon.

Home movies shown by Mrs. Clyde Thomas, Jr. comprised the entertainment. Refreshments were served and colored balloons were presented as party favors.

Those attending were Bill Thompson, Karen Koger, Kathleen and Cleo Thomas, Sandra Kay and Cheryl Ann Brinner, Harriett Arnett, Raymond Seale, Kenneth Cobb, Jimmy Sanders, Claude Aaron, Mrs. Maurice Koger, Mrs. Clyde Thomas, Jr. and Mrs. John Brinner.

Births Announced

Big Spring hospitals announced the births of six new citizens during the past week.

At the Big Spring Hospital, James Clay Lemon, 7 pounds and 10 ounces, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lemon on January 8. Sherry Thomas, 7 pounds, 8 ounces, was born to Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Thomas on January 13. Regina Paulette, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Haney, "weighed in" at 6 pounds, 6 ounces, on January 14.

At the Malone and Hogan Clinic-Hospital, Jackie Kay was born to Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Sample. Jackie Kay weighs 6 pounds, two ounces. An unnamed daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Neill on January 13. She weighs 7 pounds, 8 ounces. Mr. and Mrs. Clark Sloan are parents of a son, Thomas James, born on January 15 and weighing 6 pounds, 14 ounces.

Those in the house party were Mrs. Otto Couch, Mrs. Ed Stringfellow and Mrs. R. T. Lytle. Out of town guests attending were Mrs. J. D. Page, Marshall Hill and Mrs. Luther Cobb of Brownwood; Mrs. E. L. Porter and Gary Lee of Van Horn; Mrs. Vivian Stedman, Mrs. John Shortes and daughter, Patricia Ann, of Odessa; Eldridge Lee Widner of Odessa and Mrs. W. M. Hodnett of Abilene.

Emergency Workers Perform Service Beyond Their Duty

Never has this area undergone such a siege of general destruction and inconvenience as has been the case during the past week.

Yet, outside of inability to contact points outside the immediate vicinity, few of us have suffered any real hardships. This is, in part, a tribute to the good nature of the population, but more to those who are engaged in providing public service.

Their work has been little short of heroic. While most of us muttered that it was too treacherous and nasty to be out in it, they worked hour upon hour in cold, sleet, rain, mud and fog.

Telephone workers, together with every bit of training help the company could employ from any source, fought a losing battle for three days. But they kept on fighting. In Big Spring local service continued with only minor disruptions, a factor worth noting.

Power workers, hampered by lack of communications although shortwave radio was of great help, not only bucked the elements but uncertainty as well in handling lines that could have been "hot." Not until Thursday night did the force go to bed at one time. They worked so long an order had to be issued that each man must have eight hours sleep per day.

Telegraph linemen were fighting the rain wrought by the storm, too. Texas & Pacific railway crews inched trains along without the slightest notion of what might be ahead—all to keep open the only link of transportation available for a time. Even in blinding fog they kept trains moving to handle passengers, mail and supplies.

Mail carriers kept up the tradition that nothing stops the mail. Taxidriviers felt more times than a statistician could count in helping passengers get safely to their cabs.

Amateur radio operators performed a monumental service in maintaining a semblance of contact with the outside world, handling emergency messages for public service and transportation agencies, pressing personal messages, and a host of other essential communications. At times they worked almost around the clock. Their hobby paid rich dividends in an hour of need.

There were others who performed noble yet unglorious service. And to all of these, the entire community and area owes a vote of thanks for service above and beyond the call of duty.

Principle Of Idolatry Continues, Even Though Old Idols Gone

By FRANK GRIMES
Herald Special Writer

There was a little piece in the papers a few days ago saying a group of French and Cyprian archaeologists had unearthed an Engomi, near Famagusta, Isle of Cyprus, a two-foot idol believed to represent the ancient Syrophenician god Baal.

The figure was clad in a loincloth and wore a bull's-horn headdress. The diggers found it in the ruins of a building, possibly a temple, built 2,200 or more years ago.

Baal wasn't one but many gods. Almost every inhabited place in Canaan and Phoenicia had its own particular baal. The Philistines, for instance worshipped Baal-zebub, the flygod. It remained for Babylonians to make a big leaguer out of their own particular Baal, and he became quite a god, under the name of Bel. His worship spread as far as Egypt and Greece.

When the Hebrews came into Canaan they fell for the false god pretty hard, and even applied the name of Jehovah. This aroused the righteous wrath of Elijah and his successors and assigns, and the true prophets finally licked the superstition but not without a tough battle.

Israel's seventh king, Ahab married the evil Jezebel, the last syllable of whose name was a reminder of her spiritual callousness, and cruelly persecuted the true prophets. The Hebrews got another dose of idolatry under Ahab, the 12th king, who robbed the Temple of its treasures as a present to the Assyrian king, Tiglath-pileser.

The influence of this false god survived for a long time, in place and proper names. Hannibal, the great Carthaginian soldier, for instance, and a whole flock of other Carthaginian generals answering to the name of Hasdrubal.

At one time or another nearly every religion of the ancient world was invaded and corrupted by the debased cult of Baalism. While the supposed representation of Baal just uncovered in Cyprus may be the last physical reminder of the wicked cult to reappear upon the earth, it cannot be said that the spirit of the false god has suffered a like fate. Indeed there is some pretty conclusive evidence extant that multitudinous manifestations of Baal worship are in existence to this very day, doing battle with the true and only God.

In the main, the ancient Baal cultists worshipped him and sacrificed to him because they expected material benefits therefrom. Their frequent orgies were supposed to placate his anger and beguile his generosity.

Unfortunately, a lot of so-called Christians do obedience to the Lord God Jehovah in pretty much that same spirit. They join the church for experience's sake. Good public relations, you know. They petition heaven in public and private for material benefits and blessings. If something goes wrong, they blame it on God. If something goes right, they pat themselves on the back for being smart enough to pull off a deal.

They presume to question the infinite wisdom and mercy of God. Why does He allow wars? they ask. Why does He allow pestilences and famines and droughts and grasshopper visitations and plagues? As we recall it, nowhere does God promise a heaven on earth. His kingdom is not of this world. In its natural state the earth is a beautiful place, a perfectly balanced place, obeying certain laws established by the Creator. Only man is vile.

Old Baal was a pretty ornery sort of god, as everybody agrees. In one form or another he dominated the ancient religious world for a long time. But he was incapable of lifting the people out of the mire. There was nothing ennobling and inspiring about his appeal; the meaner a man was, the more he pleased his putative god.

So the Baal-worshipping nations fell, one by one, and Baal fell with them. The true God we worship is eternal, in the heavens. If all the world worshipped Him with a singleness of heart and purpose there would be no wars, no more poverty, no more pestilences and famines.

For Four Per Cent Of Your Pay

Broader Social Security Helps You In Emergencies

WASHINGTON.—You would get government help to tide you over sickness, as well as old age and joblessness, under the bigger social security program to be proposed to the new Congress.

But the bigger program would nick four per cent off your annual pay check, instead of one per cent you now pay for government insurance. This four per cent deduction would be on top of your income tax, and would be deducted from all pay checks, even those which are not now liable for income tax.

Plans for the taxes are not yet set, however, and Congress must pass a law embodying them before the deductions can be made.

Right now the bigger program has just started through Congress. The first of a series of bills has been introduced. The first one lays down the broad outlines of health insurance. Others will deal with other benefits, such as increased old age pensions.

This first bill does not say where the money is coming from. That is left for a later bill. But a program of increased payroll taxes has been worked out by the Federal Security Agency. It is their plan which adds up to an overall four per cent deduction.

This is how the tax would increase on the average earnings of the non-farm family head. The Department of Commerce says that an average of such paycheck was $3,010 a year at the last accounting. The current deduction of one per cent for old age takes $30.10 of such a check a year now. When and if the new program goes in, it would take four per cent, or $120.40. It's proposed that such deductions would be taken on everything anyone earns up to $4,800. So the top annual tax for social security could be $192.

Here's how the deduction would be made from your check, and the use to which it would be put:

1. By 1950 the old age deduction would be raised to one-and-a-half per cent. This would pay men at 65 and women at 60, a small per cent of their annual pay.
2. Another one-half of one per cent would be deducted to cover any accident which might leave you permanently unable to work. Again you would get a small per cent of your pay plus something for each dependent. The object is to cover your rent, utility and grocery bills. Take the case of a truck driver who had been earning $50 a week for about ten years, and had a wife and two children. Then he broke his back in an accident. The formula would take all this into account, and pay him something between $125 and $160 a month under the plans now being talked. It would drop off when his children became 18, and his wife, when she turned 60, would get the regular old age pension.
3. Another half of one per cent would be deducted to pay out checks to workers when they're sick and drawing no pay.
4. Last, your checks would take another one-and-one-half per cent to pay the doctor and hospital bills you may have when you're sick.

That adds up to four per cent of your annual income, and it would be deducted from the first $4,200 to $4,800 you earn, according to the two plans under discussion.

But then when sickness hits: Your doctor and hospital bills would be paid by the government, if you want to a doctor who had joined the system. You would get a per cent of your weekly check to pay the most necessary bills for your household.

Washington Merry Go-Round — Drew Pearson

Young Men Of Ability Strengthen Potential Of The 81st Congress

(Copyright 1948 by New Syndicate)

WASHINGTON.—The new House of Representatives has now been shaken down, had a chance to settle in new offices, and has taken a look at each other. Also outsiders have had a chance to look at them. The results have not been disappointing. In brief, the new Congress looks good. It has more war veterans, more youngsters who take their work seriously, more promising raw material than since before Pearl Harbor. Many never dreamed they would be elected. Many are nervous, shy, and worried about which fork to pick up in Washington. But the main thing is that they know what happened to the 80th Congress, and, if they can help it, they aren't going to let history repeat.

Obviously, most of the new congressmen are Democrats. But the new Republicans seem to have a lot on the ball, too. Anyway, here is a cross-section of the 81st freshmen, the men who hold the balance of power on Capitol Hill and who will shape your lives for the next few years:

Newsmen to school teachers; Harry Davenport, Pennsylvania Democrat—publisher of weekly newspaper; ran against G. O. P. John McDowell of the Un-American Affairs committee, never expecting to win. Now that he's in Congress—much to his surprise—he'll push hard for the liberal program he advocated. Chuck Gross, Iowa Republican—popular Midwest radio commentator of Waterloo; defeated reactionary John Gwynne in the Republican primaries by going to the voters over the heads of the political machines. Jerry Ford, Michigan Republican—healthy replacement for Bartel Jonkman, who was one of the most backward of the 80th Congress. Just married, with a new home and a new job, Ford will be a mighty busy congressman. Thurman Crook, Democrat, of South Bend, Ind.—known as the only "legalized crook" in Congress, he comes to Washington after 35 years as a high-school teacher. Will work for better educational benefits.

New southern solons: Thurmond Chatham, North Carolina—wealthy manufacturer of blankets, tweeds and textiles (Chatham Mills) with outstanding war record in submarine service. Open-minded on major issues. Charles Bennett, Jacksonville, Florida—a 38-year-old attorney who's proud the real estate lobby fought him. Led troops behind Jap lines during the Philippine invasion—until stricken with polio. Still fighting. Syd Herlong, Florida—great friend of the orange. Will steer middle-of-road course while squeezing last drop of political juice from his district's citrus crops. Carl Elliott, Jasper, Alabama—successfully bucked local political machine with 129 speeches in 35 days—all pointing up need for improved rural housing and higher educational standards. Hugo Sims, South Carolina—battled against real estate lobby, and will keep on battling. Among the top nominees for "young men of the nation" selected by Junior Chamber of Commerce. John Golden, Kentucky—one of the few new Republicans elected in the south. Careful, conscientious.

The industrial East: Foster Furcolo, Massachusetts Democrat—came up the hard way, washing dishes and waiting on to a good congressman. Walter Baring, Reno, Nev., Democrat—won Nevada's solitary congressional seat by covering 30,000 miles of mountains and sagebrush in eight weeks. A mild-mannered, easygoing young westerner, he'll support the Truman Fair Deal and work for development of his state's vast mineral wealth. Southwest Congressmen: Harold Patton, Arizona Democrat—41-year-old life insurance executive. Son of railroad engineer, he got help from both labor and business. Favors better treatment for stricken Navajo Indians. John Miles of New Mexico—former Democratic governor of his state and an old hand at government. Quiet, mild-mannered, able. Should be good middle-of-road congressman. Dixie Gilmer, Oklahoma Democrat—came to Congress as a page boy at the age of 12. Today he's back after defeating G. O. P. Conservative George Schwabe of Tulsa. Can deliver fiery speeches. George Wilson of Enid, Oklahoma—former FBI agent, idealistic and deeply religious. Real possibilities. Elected to the seat of Ross Rizley, pocketbook congressman. Lloyd Bentzen, McAllen, Texas—in only 27 years of life he's been lawyer, judge, bomber pilot and congressman; even has a good-looking wife. If he doesn't get spoiled early, he should be good. Homer Thornberry, Austin, Texas—good replacement for Senator-Elect Lyndon Johnson. Will battle for rural electrification and public power. Tom Steed, Shawnee, Oklahoma, Democrat—former editor of the Shawnee Morning News and Shawnee Evening Star, has served as secretary to three former congressmen, knows Washington inside out, is slated to go far.

Special Merry-Go-Round Dispatch

Lyndon Johnson An Asset To Senate, Pearson Says

WASHINGTON.—Texas' newly elected Senator Lyndon Johnson is by no means new to Washington, but whether new or old, his colleagues agree, he will be an asset.

The lanky, soft-spoken Texas was elected despite one of the worst mudslinging campaigns in the stormy history of Texas politics, in which the mud was bought and paid for by the oil lobby. Johnson was chairman of the House subcommittee that forced California Standard Oil to give Elk Hills back to the government, and the oil boys have been waiting to get even ever since.

They fought him first in the Democratic primary, then subsidized his opponent, Ex-Governor Coke Stevenson, in the runoff. (Stevenson had renewed a valuable lease with Magnolia Oil company only last summer.) Then when Johnson won the nomination by an 87-vote margin, the lobby—most of its members Democrats—threw their weight to the Republicans.

Fiery-spirited but gentlemanly, Johnson has always been a champion of rural electrification, public housing and a strong defense. He took the lead in fighting for a 70-group air force in the house, and halted the sale of surplus war plants by hammering President Truman. He also got the first slum-clearance project in the United States built in his congressional district.

Radio Amateurs Contribute To Advancement Of Science

Much more than just a hobby, it seems to me, is the interest and effort that men (and some women) put in a radio-telephony: At least, they're one group that operates under license from Uncle Sam, and although they're called radio "amateurs," many of them are just about as professional as one can get.

The hours and the patience these people devote to their radio science is amazing; and the results they achieve in the field of electronics are really outstanding. I suspect that a great many developments in radio have come about from the tinkering of some amateur, because I never saw one who wasn't always striving to make some improvement in his "rig," trying to get better and more distant transmission or higher fidelity reception.

And so, in the field of science, all the hours these "hams" spend at microphone and dial couldn't be just a diversion. If you could hear them chattering to one another, talking about such things as frequency chokes and modulation, inductance and oscillation, triods and heterodynes, you would realize that somebody is learning something from all of this. Not, of course, a guy who had trouble passing high school physics.

The hams make up a sort of closed corporation, and all the members get to know one another pretty well, via the airlines, in exchanging call letters and "handles." They'll know, for instance that WJGX might be Tom in Fort Wayne, Ind., and although they won't know much about Tom's family, they'll darn sure know that Tom works a mighty clear signal on the 40 meter band, and that he always can be heard between 11 p. m. and midnight.

What is impressive is the way the amateur radiomen have been coming to the front, in recent years, in stepping in and handling emergency traffic in time of disaster when most other forms of communication break down. The hams have been credited with many heroic acts, and with having saved lives and property. They worked wonders after the Panhandle tornadoes a couple of years ago.

Just the other night, I had the opportunity of hearing a network of West Texas amateurs at work in the wake of the lee storm, and they performed immeasurable service to the stricken railroads and utilities companies, besides handling some emergency personal and business messages.

A ham who gets receipted for transmission clear into Argentina or Alaska has a right to be proud of himself, I think; or if he develops a filter system that works a little better than any other, he also has a right to be proud. All of it is a contribution toward perfecting communication throughout the globe.

I wish I were smart enough to be one of the hams. But you'll have to excuse me while I go check my beat frequency oscillator. My tricks aren't what they used to be.—BOB WHIPKEY.

Profession Of Gate-Crashing Is Carried On By 'Amateurs'

NEW YORK.—The profession of gate crashing is not disappearing from the turnstiles of Madison Square Garden, Yankee Stadium nor from the Polo Grounds of New York. The boys are still trying to get in without paying, but with little of the artful tactics employed by Tammany Young, One-Eyed Connolly and a couple of others who made a profession of wedging their way into prize fights, world series and other such major events of the sporting and amusement world in the 1920's.

Today they are mostly amateurs. Young and Connolly had vivid imaginations and took almost as much pleasure from being nipped for their tricks and tossed outside as they did from their triumphs when they got inside the major events.

Connolly, with his one-eye patch, was an obvious figure, and he used such methods as carrying a fifty-pound block of ice on his shoulder to pretend he was delivering ice into the Stadium or Garden. He couldn't have been more obvious than if he had walked up carrying Gypsy Rose Lee on his shoulder, but the gatesmen looked the other way and he usually passed through. Once inside he had trouble enough all evening because he had no ticket stub and he was pointed out from one usher to another as having no ticket stub. So he was the fox all evening with the ushers in full pursuit. Also, he had the problem of getting rid of that fifty-pound cake of ice. It was as difficult as leaving a baby on a doorstep.

Tammany Young was a small guy, always neatly dressed. No one ever knew how he lived from day to day, for he never had, as far as the citizens around Times Square knew, any kind of job at all. But Tammany was a bit more subtle about gate-crashing than was Connolly. He was never obvious. He had a simple method. He walked up to gates and started talking to the gatekeeper about the gatekeeper's troubles—be they domestic, financial, or just concern as to how good would Herb Pennock do today.

Before the gatekeeper had figured out how Pennock was going that day, the tiny Tammany would be past the gate, on his way up to a seat in a choice location and looking like a prominent politician whom no one could render from his seat. It was the nickname of Tammany Young had was a good-looking suit of clothes, a clean shirt and a magic nickname.

Extension Of, Or Changes In, Marshall Plan May Be Needed

The interim report from Europe on the prospects of the Marshall plan will not be easy to reconcile with the theory, held by many but not all who are in high places—that the balance of forces between the Soviets and the West is progressively improving, and that it is advantageous to postpone the negotiation of partial settlements.

"The Economist" in London, which speaks with great authority, says that "the Marshall plan, in the rather simple form originally conceived, cannot succeed within the time originally set. There is no means by which the Marshall countries can, even with the present scale of American aid, prevent a serious fall in their standards of living in 1952. If the time were longer—fifteen or twenty years—they could do more; but as a four-year proposition, the task is beyond their joint resources."

This conclusion rests on official estimates which are in themselves admittedly extremely optimistic about European prospects—as for example, that the European output per man hour can, despite the scarcity of capital, be increased by 15 per cent in the four years; that European exports can capture half of the American market in South America; and that the American export industry "will reconcile itself to the permanent loss of its European markets" and "permit discrimination against itself."

These disclosures, arising out of the experience of the first year of ERP, will, says "The Economist," be "greeted with indignation as well as regret." Not necessarily with indignation. Not if the truth is candidly presented to the Eighty-first Congress. American public opinion is sufficiently matured and educated, not to give way to a paroxysm of despair because a great experiment, necessarily one of trial and error, is showing that new decisions are needed.

For practical experience of the Marshall plan has shown that while American aid to Europe is not going to produce the results hoped for when it was adopted, its real function has been to provide the stricken nations with time to face their problems. Had the countries been compelled to adjust suddenly and immediately their standards of life to their actual earning power, the strain on their governments and their institutions would have been intolerable. Whether the strain would have resulted in communism, fascism, or anarchy is debatable; it is certain that the essential freedoms and liberties of their lives would have been impaired.

For that reason the American people, and this Congress, will not cut off Marshall aid, even when they realize that the great objectives—European economic independence and unity—are not within sight of being reached.

But what they will have to consider deeply is whether the time which is bought by the American subsidy is being wisely used. This is a very complicated question which cannot be answered readily or simply. If we look at it solely from the point of view of what the various European countries are doing, we might conclude broadly that the United Kingdom is at one end of the scale, Greece at the other, and the rest at various points in between.

The United Kingdom is a shining example of a country which is using the time gained by the subsidy for a prodigious, almost ruthless, effort to adjust itself to the fact that it is much poorer than it was, and must learn to live accordingly. The British may not succeed in making themselves independent of American subsidies by 1952. But if they do not wholly succeed, it will not be because they are not trying.

There is no evidence in Britain of the disposition to use the time gained to postpone, rather than to deal with, the grave problems of post-war readjustment. What we did not see clearly last year, but can see much more clearly now, is that these readjustments within most of the European countries cannot be averted by the Marshall plan. Nor can they be postponed indefinitely. It is here that the cold war, in its present phase, enters into the problem. There is no immediate danger, provided we maintain a firm policy backed by our rearmament, of a Soviet military conquest of Europe. Nor is there any present danger of a Communist seizure of power in Western Europe, especially if we enable France and Italy to augment the forces required to maintain order at home.

The real problem is how to provide the European Continent with the confidence to dare to deal with its internal postwar readjustment. That confidence will never, I think can never, exist, as long as the Russian Army is in the heart of Europe. It will not exist after the North Atlantic Pact is signed. It will not exist after we have adopted military leadership. It will not exist if we have seventy instead of fifty air groups. It can begin to exist only as and when the Russian Army begins to recede, begins to retreat to the frontiers of the Soviet Union.

Home Furnishings, Carpet Purchased In Larger Supply

A "broader" market—that is, more selection in practically all lines—is noted in furniture, it is reported by D. D. Douglass of the Barrow-Douglass Furniture company, on his return from the mid-winter furniture market in Chicago. Douglass said he had made substantial purchases in spring lines, and has announced a store-wide clearance in order to move stocks in preparation for the incoming merchandise.

Particularly in carpet more plentiful, Douglass said, and he was able to arrange for a large stock. This includes the formerly-hard-to-get broadloom in nine and 12-foot widths.

Barrow-Douglass company has converted one of its warehouses into a display floor, and is concentrating discontinued patterns at that location, 121 East 2nd street.

IN BOOK BY TEXAS WRITER

'Little People' Get A Place In History

By DAVE CHEAVENS

AUSTIN, Jan. 15 (AP)—Worth S. Ray of Austin is an amateur historian whose hobby is following the dim trails of the little people—the unsung farmers and merchants—among Texas pioneers.

Straining his eyes to read the faded records in dusty books and tearing his pants on briars in abandoned cemeteries to make out eroded tombstone inscriptions, Ray has filled in some big gaps in his new book, "Austin Colony Pioneers," privately printed here.

He started with the names of the original 306 Austin colony pioneers who settled early in the 1800's in Bastrop, Fayette, Grimes, Montgomery and Washington counties. Ray's book tells what happened to them, especially the individuals whose names failed to rate notice by what he calls the "big history books."

In his own words, Ray "drags forth skeletons in the closets, stories of human interest and exciting experiences of love under the live oaks at Old Independence; of strutting bridegrooms married in Santa Anna's old brocade vest; of Old Webberville, the first hot spot on the banks of the Colorado whose wild denizens broke for cover when Aaron Burleson stalked down Main street."

There was four-year-old Mary Ann Alcorn, for instance, daughter of Elijah who spelled it "Eligah." She arrived with her father, mother and brothers on the banks of the Brazos south of the spot where Washington-on-the-Brazos was built. It was the last day of the year 1821, antedating the formal establishment of Austin's colony, but the Alcorn-McNeese-Boatright party were among the first Anglo-American ground-breakers in Texas. As Ray puts it:

"Young Stephen F. Austin only a few days before at the little Mexican town of Nacogdoches had told them that somewhere in between the Brazos and Colorado rivers good home-site and productive lands lay ready for the occupancy of settlers."

Ray, who makes his living as editor and publisher of the Texas Supreme Court Reporter, goes on to tell what happened to the Alcorns, the McNeeses and the Boatrights. Mary Ann married Parrott W. McNeese, son of John, in 1839. Parrott became sheriff of Washington county and died in 1885 at Brenham, five years after Mary Ann's death.

The book's 378 offset-printed pages are packed with such family trivia sharpened a hundred times with spicier items gleaned from the old newspapers, county records and locally-written histories.

From Noah Smithwick's "Evolution of a State" he relays the story of Capt. James B. (Brit) Bailey, a squatter who refused to be evicted from the Austin lands and a rebellious soul who declined to be buried lying down. When Brit was in his last illness, he is quoted as having told his wife:

"I have never stooped to any man, and when I am in my grave, I don't want it said, 'there lies old Brit Bailey.' Bury me so the world must say there STANDS Brit Bailey, and bury me with my face to the setting sun. I have all my life been travelling westward and I want to face that way when I die."

And so, Ray relates, they had a hole dug like a well and they lowered the coffin feet first so that Old Brit would be facing the setting sun in his last resting place. Then there is the story of Wayne Barton who felt he was being crowded when settlers moved within a dozen miles of him, and who moved into the vicinity of what is now Austin. Famed Barton Springs, the story goes, was named for him. His son Wayne—a son-in-law of General Burleson, the former vice-president of the Texas Republic—died in early-day feuding. In this category is the numerous Black family, original settlers of Grimes county which was hewed from Washington county. Ray lists the 13 children of Gavin Bingley Black who married Margaret Anna Moore. One of their children was Tom C. B. Black who moved to Hill county and whose son is Charles L. Black of Austin, one of Texas' top lawyers.

The "big" historians may sniff in their failure to recognize Ray's efforts as a contribution to Texas history, but it is good reading for anyone interested in people. It is recommended to young fiction writers seeking lively source material and to collectors of books about and by Texans.

Ray plugs the volume as the first new Texas book to be published in 1949—"A Ten dollar book for only $10."

Meet The "Seniors" of the COSDEN FAMILY

This is the 27th of a series of special Cosden presentations, recognizing the long and valued services of those employees who have been associated with Cosden for 15 years and longer. Cosden is proud of the scores of its workers who have contributed to its success through so many years.

Johnny Benjamin Harrison, Sr.
Another native West Texan who rates as a veteran in the Cosden company is Johnny Benjamin Harrison, Sr., whose first employment dates back nearly 19 years.

He came to Big Spring in 1930, worked briefly as a carpenter's helper, then joined Cosden in May. In September, he went to work as gauger for the Tidal Oil company in Hobbs, N.M., but after about six months returned here. He worked "extra" for Cosden beginning August 9, 1931, and was placed on the permanent payroll October 21, 1931, in the maintenance department.

Harrison was transferred to the operating department as a gauger in December, 1933, and has spent 15 continuous years in that department. For the past four years he has been a shift foreman.

Harrison was born in Abilene, but moved within a few years with his family to Haskell county, and about four or five years later to Stonewall county, where he attended high school. He moved to Howard county in 1927, settled near Knott, and farmed until coming to Big Spring.

Harrison was married to Miss Jewel Irene Marsh of Cooper, Tex., October 23, 1933, and they have three children, Vesta Jean, 13, Marjion, 11, and Johnny, Jr., 7. They own their home at 1106 East Fourth street, are active workers in the East Fourth Baptist church.

Harrison goes in for hunting and fishing in his leisure time.

WEEK'S BUSINESS

Weather Puts A Curb On Local Construction

The weather did a thorough job of bogging down construction work in Big Spring, based on building permits issued by the city. The demand for permits was nil during the first three days of the week, although one new residential project was listed on Thursday. Three other permits were issued late in the week for repair work, which helped to run the estimated cost total for the period to $8,315. Coupled with the previous week's heavy demands, that left the total for the month at $214,345.

Real estate activity apparently weathered the ice and snow in better fashion than building. Nine warranty deeds were recorded in the county clerk's office during the week. They involved transactions which totalled $32,185. The warranty deed total for the month is $114,220.

An increase was noted in deliveries of new motor vehicles, with passenger cars holding a brief monopoly. The county tax assessor-collector's office issued licenses for 26 vehicles during the week, all of them for passenger automobiles.

Five job openings were listed during the week ending Jan. 13 by the Texas Employment Commission office in Big Spring. Openings were posted for two journeymen electricians, one payroll clerk (male), one bookkeeper (female), one stock clerk (male). The local office also reported that several domestic maids are needed here. During the week covered in the report, the Big Spring TEC office handled 816 reception contacts; 31 new work applications, 43 new job orders and made 51 referrals to jobs which resulted in 37 placements. The office also had 63 claims for unemployment compensation.
