MOBEETIE CITY

Information On Water System

Mobeetie City Mayor, Jimmy Selby, with council members, Robert Hogan and Don Moore went to Amarillo, Tuesday to meet with representatives from the Farm Home Adminstration.

In early 1980, the City Council became alarmingly aware of the 62 violations the Texas Department of Health had marked against the Mobeetie City Water Works. At this time the City's governing body began seeking a solution to the problem.

A letter in part from District director, Lee R. Tunnell, follows: "This letter is not to be considered as a loan approval or as the availability of a loan and grant. If FmHa makes the loan the interest rate will be that charged at the time of the loan approval. The facilities will be operated by the governing body in accordance with State laws. All construction will be on contract documents as outlined in FmHa instructions.

After the final plans and specifications have been approved in writing by the Texas State Department of Health and the FmHa engineer, and closing instructions have been issued by the Office of General Council, construction bids may be received.

Construction of the water distribution system will not begin until the water source has been proven (if applicable) and accepted by the borrower, FmHa, and the Texas State Department of Health. Approval by the governing body, contractor, FmHa engineer, or District Director is required before any work is done. A representative of the borrower will monitor and provide a report to FmHa on actual performance during construction. The City will execute Form

FmHa 1942-31 Grant Agreement. The City will adopt a Grant resolution. Water rates will be adopted prior to loan closing or start of construction which ever occurs first.

The House That Love Will Built Each year, families from throughout the Tri-State area travel hundreds of miles bringing their children to Amarillo hospitals and other medical centers for treatment of hundreds of childhood diseases. Hospital treatment for these children often takes weeks, even months. For the families, anxiety over the child's illness is compounded by the lengthy stay.

Families who come to Amarillo must spend their nights in hotels or on couches in hospital lounges. Removed from other relatives and friends, most parents have a need for someone with whom they can share their concerns and a need for a place - a warm, loving place - to be with their family while their child is being treated in the hospital, or to be with their ill child during the ourpatient treatment period. Not long ago, a group of Amarillo people and friends across the Texas Panhandle began developing an idea - the construction of a home that could house the parents of critically ill children who travel to Amarillo for treatment. Their specific idea was to build a Ronald McDonald House (TM) similar to those currently operating in over 37 cities across the United States and Canada. Now, thanks to their efforts, the Ronald McDonald House, a home away from home for families of seriously ill children, is underway.

The House, to be located in the Amarillo Medical Center, is within walking distance to Northwest Texas Hospital, High Plains Baptist Hospital, the Harrington Cancer Center and other medical treatment centers within the medical center, and just a few minutes away from St. Anthony's Hospital by private transportation which will be provided by the House. The House will include private bedrooms with baths, a family kitchen, dining area, living areas, playrooms, laundry facilities and a yard with playground equipment. Families will pay a nominal fee for their room and assist in the maintenance of the House. The House will be owned and operated by the Children's Oncology Services of the Texas Panhandle, Inc., a non-profit corporation organized by the group of Amarillo people and friends who have begun this project. Their personal involvement will guide the activities and funding of the House and supervise its construction and long-term oper-

The Tri-State area is blessed by a diversified, growing center for medical treatment in Amarillo. The Ronald McDonald House in Amarillo is a program in supoport of the activities of those treatment centers. Physicians, hospitals and other health care professionals will provide counsel, guidance and parent referrals in the operation and utilization of the House.

DILFIELD & DOMESTIC

Here And There

By Laura Guthrie

People say "It's been going around." Well, I've had my turn at it. Sort of a mixture of bronchitis. pneumonia, whooping cough, and flu. Whatever it is it's not good. Hope my turn is over for a while.

I had a pleasant surprise Saturday afternoon. Henry Risner and his wife from Fritch, Phillip Risner and his wife from Amarillo dropped by the Library where I was at work. It was so good to see them-it had been a long time since I's had a chance to visit with them. They were in town to visit with Henry's brother Adrian, who is in the hospital.

Darla Childress from Wyoming is here with her mother Dorthy Risner while her dad, Adrian is in Hospital. Adrian was moved to the Amarillo hospital this week.

Helen Russ of Plainview, visited with me Friday afternoon. She brought Doris Forrester Pike here to visit with friends for a few days. Previously she had driven to Marble Falls and brought Doris to her home in Plainview. In Wheeler, Doris made her headquarters with Mary Lee Cole and Helen stayed with the Bill Owens. On Sunday afternoon Ida Farmer returned with the visiting ladies and was taken to her son's home in Canyon. From there she will see her doctor in Amarillo.

Patricia had a very pleasant visit with her sister in White Deer last week. She spent Thursday and Friday with her. The husband who is a reserve in the military forces was away at training.

As this paper goes to press my sister, Lena Herring, and a cousin Lula Margorie Miller, both of Tulia are visiting with me. They have been to Oklahoma City on business and are spending the night with me.

Greg and Cathi Christner were in Wheeler Friday thru Monday visiting their parents, The Mac Christners and the Louis Stas families. The couple returned to Austin Tuesday morning; Greg is out for Spring Break at T.U. and Cathi took vacation time.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

THE BIBLE CLAIMS AUTHORITY FOR OUR LIVES

Because the Bible claims to be from God who is our creator and the one to whom we as creatures are ultimately responsible, the Bible claims to have authority for us. Since it claims to be the complete revelation of God to man, it also contains the revelation of God's will for man.

earthly ministry, stated that it would be the words that the Father had commanded him to utter which would judge men in the day of work. (2Timothy 3:16-17) judgement.

And if a man hear my not, I judge him not: for I came not to judge the world, but to save the world. He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my sayings, hath one that judgeth him: the word that I have spoken, the same shall judge him in the last day. For I spake not from myself; but the Father that sent me, he hath given me a commandment, what I should speak. (John 12:47-49)

When you compare that to the great commission Jesus gave to the apostles in Matthew 28:18-20, you can see that the New Testament presents a very powerful claim for its authority in our

But there are more: Every scripture is inspired of God is also profitable Jesus Christ, when he for teaching, for reproof, for was nearing the end of his correction, for instruction which is in righteousness: that the man of God may be complete, furnished completely unto every good

So, we see that the Bible claims to be able to furnish sayings, and keep them us completely unto every good work. It not only claims to have authority for our lives, the Bible claims to have complete (lacking nothing) authority. What then does this say to those who would seek assistance outside or in addition to the scriptures for the living of the Christian life? Think

You are hereby notified of the opportunity to request a public hearing and/or submit written comment concerning construction permit application No. C-9005 and No. PSD-TX-460 by Red River Pipeline Corporation to construct a gas compressor station near Wheeler County, Texas. The proposed location is 2.8 miles southeast of Wheeler. The proposed facility will emit the following air contaminants in amounts significant enough to require a Prevention of Significant Deterioration (PSD) permit review: nitrogen oxides and carbon monoxide. Volatile organic compounds will also be emitted.

The Executive Director of the Texas Air Control Board has determined that the proposed facility will not violate any state or federal air quality regulations and will not have any significant adverse impact on soils, vegetation or visibility. He, therefore, has made the preliminary determination to issue these permits. Neither sulfur dioxide not particulate matter will be emitted from the proposed facility in significant amounts. Therefore, an increment consumption analysis is not appli-

5 Supernatural Signs That Should Follow Every Believer

[Part 1]

Are you a believer? The term is a Biblical term. Many people claim to be a "Christian" who don't really know what a Biblical Christian is. A real Christian is a believer. You may ask, "What do you mean?" I am talking about someone who believes that Jesus Christ is Lord, that He has been raised from the dead, and that the Bible is the Word of God. Are you one of these believing

If you are a believer, you have certain privileges and responsibilities delegated to you by the Lord Jesus Christ, Who is the Head of the Church. 5 supernatural signs that are supposed to follow every believer are listed in Mark 16:17-18. A lot of people that call themselves Christian but who are not really believing believers reject these two verses as not being for us. However, I have never heard people argue that Mark 16:16 is not for us. "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned." Certainly, this verse is for us. Well, it happens to be connected to an additional statement that Jesus made with the conjunction "AND". That means that Jesus wasn't through talking. (By the way, Jesus didn't talk in chapters and verses. The translators of the Bible added those numbers in there to help us in locating Scriptures.) So, Jesus said that people who believed would be saved and then said that these 5 supernatural signs would follow THEM THAT BELIEVE. These signs are not just for the early apostles, not just for preachers, and not just until the New Testament was completed. Go back to verse 15 and see that this whole program of Jesus was designed for all the world to every creature. In other words, as long as the gospel is to be preached to people, these 5 signs are ordained of God to follow THEM THAT BELIEVE. Do you believe? If you do, these 5 supernatural signs are for you. God wants yu to live and minister to others in the realm of the supernatural.

To All Interested Persons

You are hereby notified of the opportunity to request a public hearing and/or submit written comment concerning construction permit application No. C-9005 and No. PSD-TX-460 by Red River Pipeline Corporation to construct a gas compressor station near Wheeler County, Texas. The proposed location is 2.8 miles southeast of Wheeler. The proposed facility will emit the following air contaminants in amounts significant enough to require a Prevention of Significant Deterioration (PSD) permit review: nitrogen oxides and carbon monoxide. Volatile organic compounds will also be emitted.

The Executive Director of the Texas Air Control Board has determined that the proposed facility will not violate any state or federal air quality regulations and will not have any significant adverse impact on soils, vegetation or visibility. He, therefore, has made the preliminary determination to issue these permits.

Neither sulfur dioxide not particulate matter will be emitted from the proposed facility in significant amounts. Therefore, an increment consumption analysis is not including all materials submitted by the applicant and additional information, are available at the office of Mr. Gerald W. Hudson, P.E., Regional Supervisor, Texas Air Control Board Region 2, at Briercroft South #1, 5302 South Avenue Q, Lubbock, Texas 79412, telephone number 806-744-0090, and at the Texas Air Control Board at 6330 Highway 290 East, Austin, Texas 78723. Interested parties may inspect there materials during regular business hours and submit written comments and/or request for hearing to the Executive Director of the Texas Air Control Board. Requests for hearing must be in writing and shall state the nature of the issues proposed to be raised in the hearing. Comments should be limited to the air pollution aspects of the proposed project and should not concern land use aspects which are beyound the jurisdiction of the Texas Air Control Board. All air pollution related comments received in writing by April 19, 1982, will be considered by the Board in making its final decision of these applications. All comments will be available for public inspection at the Texas Air Control Board office in Austin.

SPS employees pioneered development of a fabric filter for large-scale steam generators which is a more effective pollution-control device than traditional control equipment. The fabric filter also costs less to operate and has become so successful that representatives of electric utilities from around the world come to see the filter in operation at Amarillo's Harrington Station.

TREE PRUNING RULES

By Joe Don King

is the time of year that many fruit growers dread most. It's not that pruning is such a which bangs on the house difficult or overly time-consuming task; it's just the thought of cutting these precious trees.

The best time to prune your favorite fruit tree of grapevine is immediately before it breaks bud and begins to bloom or leaf. If you prune any earlier, buds and blooms are stimulated into early growth. Early growth plus a late freeze or frost equals loss of this season's fruit crop and possibly damaged tree.

Pruning makes plants stronger. If strong branches are selected which point in the right direction, then the stronger tree produces and supports more and larger fruit. Nothing is more discouraging than planting and growing a fruit tree for several years only to have the first heavy load of fruit break it down and ruin its appearance. So prune to select and strengthen.

Secondly, pruning stimulates. Most fruit is produced on or from year-old wood. The peaches and grapes which you eat this spring were actually initiated and formed last year. So, if new growth is not stimulated each year by pruning, a fruitful plant can become a mass of old, nonproductive wood. For each year a tree or vine is neglected, production is reduced.

The third reason for pruning is to make sure you have not been too stimulatory as outlined above. If you prune every year and follow proper cultural techniques, the tree or vine will initiate many more buds than it can possible support if all bloom buds turn to fruit. To prevent too much fruit set and subsequent limb breakage or small fruit, much of this over-productivity can be removed at pruning time. Thinning the fruit probably will still be recommended, but pruning

One of the most important factors in proper pruning is the pruner's attitude. The motto of dedicated pruners is:"When in doubt, cut it out." This may sound harsh, but most novice pruners remove less wood than they should.

Remove all dead and diseased wood first. Then correct all rubbing branches by removing one or the other. Cut out injured branches so Suckers and watersprouts are branches which grow from below the ground or near the ground. They generally grow faster than the top of the tree. Generally, remove sucker growth as soon as it appears in the summer. Gardeners sometimes cut the main trunk to let the vigorous sucker grow.
