Lines from Linda

Linda Daughtry, CEA (Home Economics)

Today's Blazers-Correct Fit Blazers-the fashion item of the season-must fit correctly, whether ready-made or home-sewn.

Any pull line or bagginess indicates improper fit in that area.

Use any wrinkles or folds to pinpoint the problem and alter the garment as needed.

Specifically analyze any garment made or bought for the following:

Collar
The collar should hug the back of the neck with the lapel lying flat.

Armholes
Armholes should curve

smoothly and end at the top of the shoulder with the cap not puckering.

The use of a sleeve head will add to the no-pucker feature. Sleeves

Sleeves should hang straight from the shoulder and cover the end of the wristbone with the elbow bent. Darts or fullness should be at the elbow. Jacket Front Darts should end between one-half to one and one-half inch from the fullest part of the bustline and appear smooth and even with no puckers at the end.

The center front should close and lie smoothly when buttoned. Closures should appear at stress points such as the waistline.

Pockets
Reinforced pockets should add to the appearance of the garment.

Back Vent
If the garment has a back vent it should not pull open with the garment on.

Waist
The waist should fall at the natural waistline of the body with the garment flaring out from there, depending on the design.

Hems
Hems should lie parallel to the floor at an attractive length for the figure.

For most individuals, an attractive length is slightly above the fullest part of the hipline or slightly below but not falling at the hipline to emphasize this curve.

Lining or Partial Lining
Jackets or blazers often are fully lined or may be lined only in the sleeves, only in the jacket front or across the shoulder area.

Regardless of the amount of lining, it should aid in the easy-on easy-off characteristics of the garment.

With full lining, a center-back pleat at the neckline is essential for ease of movement.

Also, with full lining, look for a pleat at both the sleeve hem and jacket hem for give.

The lining should be inconspicuous from any location outside the garment and should conceal any interfacing used.

For garments only partially lined, seam allowances should be bound in lining fabric or securely and attractively finished.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Extension Service serve all people of all ages regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

Wed. Study Club Program

The Wednesday Study Club met December 17 for their Christmas program. Mrs. Mary Mitchel, assisted by Mrs. Grace Porter ushered us into Mary's beautifully decorated home, where Holiday motifs were so artistically arranged, into an atmosphere of warmth and good will. The program topic: The Heritage of God's Gift was unfolded with Mrs. Vida Brown as director. Mrs. Bernice Hall sang "O Holy Night" followed by a book review "The Man at the Gate of The World" by

W.E. Cole, given by Mrs. Paula Britt. Mrs. Dorothy McIlhany gave a Christmas Prayer. Then the club members sang Carols, with Mrs. Mary Wofford at the piano. Gifts were exchanged by the members, and hand made gifts and home made foods were sold, the benefits going into the Club's fund. Luscious refreshments were served from a table with Holiday appointments, including candles, candy, nuts and a pixie candle for everyone. Those present, in addition to the ones above, were Mesdames Mary Finsterwald, Laura Guthrie, Esther Hill, Mae Nash, Grace Pettit, Lola Weems, Elva Wood and Inez Wright.

Here & There

Laura Guthrie
It's that time of year. The bustle and the hurry, the stirring and the baking. The buying and the wrapping, the last minute trips to the store-

(Oh, I forgot the vanilla.) All this causes a few wrinkles in the forehead, the corns on the feet to throb and hurt, but don't we love this Christmas hustle.

There are a few things I should have gotten in the paper last week, but I was just "too busy."

Mrs. Annie Martin has been to visit with her grand-daughter, Beverly Morris, in Dallas. They had a grand time shopping, catching a bite downtown rather than cook, and just looking at the beauties of the Season.

Mrs. Clarence Killingsworth has been in the Presbyterian hospital in Oklahoma City for more than a week. She is going through that painful, trying, nerve-racking time of all sorts of tests which are necessary when the cause of illness is not easily determined. Clarence is staying there with her.

Rex and Wanda Newkirk and daughter arrived at her parents house late Sunday night (or early Monday morning). The parents are Mr. and Mrs. B.T. Clemens. They will spend several days here. The Newkirk's son Jim and his family from Arcadia, Oklahoma, will arrive this week to be with the rest of the family. There is a small great grand-daughter of the Clemens in this family. I heard something about a doll for the little one.

Curtis Forrester and Eric Reames who have been working in Austin for some time are home for the Holidays. I can just imagine how the food will disappear from the family tables. These boys are staying in an apartment without a kitchen—no way of getting food without going to the cafe. And these boys are so spoiled to their mothers kitchen! Wonder what the food bill will be when the 1st rolls around.

The carolers came last night, braving the terrific cold that held most people within doors. But these youngsters—nothing bothers them. Their voices were strong, melodious, and zestful. How we enjoy this courtesy! It's really the beginning of Christmas! May we all have a very happy time.

Deepest wishes for a Joyous Christmas and a Peaceful, Prosperous and Healthful New Year.

Dear Santa . . .

Dear Santa,
I want a jogging suit, T.V., strawberry shortcake doll, and a radio clock.

Don't forget my friends Jennifer and Bobbie Carol.

I Love You

Dear Santa Claus,
My name is Bryan Jamison and I am 6 years old. I live in Amarillo, Texas and I've been a very good boy this year. I would like you to bring me a gun set, a criss cross crash race track, a Dallas Cowboy Football suit, and a pair of moon boots. I will be at my grandparents house in Wheeler, Texas.

Cakes and Cookies Are Traditional

The popularity of cakes and cookies at Christmas may be a survival of an early Roman custom. On Saturnalia, the Roman mid-winter holiday, each Roman senator was given a confection to celebrate the coming of spring. The delightful custom of decorative sweets continued into Christian times.

A German favorite is pfefferkuchen, a hard, round, spicy cookie made in great quantities at Christmas. Scandinavian women spend days baking pastries for the holidays. French like cakes baked in the form of a chocolate Yule log and Rumanians make their cakes in folds, symbolic of the swaddling clothes of the Christ Child.

NUMB ARMS, LEGS Danger Signals

There may be misalignment of vertebrae in the spine causing pressure on nerves, yet the patient experiences no pain in the back. Instead, a variety of sensations may be felt in other parts of the body. These include tingling, tightness, hot spots, cold spots, crawling sensations, electric shock sensations, stinging, burning, and others.

Here are nine critical symptoms involving back pain or strange sensations which are usually the forerunners of more serious conditions. Any one of these usually spells back trouble.

(1) Paresthesias (see above) (2) Headaches (3) Painful joints (4) Numbness in the arms or hands (5) Loss of sleep (6) Stiffness in the neck (7) Pain between the shoulders (8) Stiffness or pain in lower back (9) Numbness or pain in the legs.

These signals indicate that your body is being robbed of normal nerve function. Until this function is restored, you will, in some degree, be incapacitated. The longer you wait to seek help, the worse the condition will become. Don't wait! Should you experience any of these danger signals . . . call for in depth consultation in Layman's terms.
