ATTENTION ALL KIDS

Hey Kids — Christmas is just around the corner and Santa Claus is so busy at his toy shop at the North Pole that he has asked the Times to help him out with his Christmas mail. All you little boys and girls through the third grade are asked to help Santa also by sending your letter to Santa Claus to the Wheeler Times to be published. Ole Santa will read all the letters in one issue thus cutting down on his mail. Also you won't be taking a chance of your letter getting lost in the snow. Kids, read these instructions carefully... write your letter using 30 words or less... mail it so that the time will receive it by December 14. Address it this way: Santa Letters, Wheeler Times, Box 187, Wheeler, Texas.

Got to talk in an out of town friend the other day and wuz discussin' Politics, women's dresses, hair dos and the price of tea in China and all such important stuff.
The friend got to tellin me bout her kid, bein' exposed to one of the older Isms. It is called Darwinism to the more educated but to me is some nuts think we sprung from Monkeys.
Mentally, sexually, physically and actually I think that is one of the most stupid thinkins I ever heard. Now I ain't amin to be the least bit smart but I don't think it would require too much intelligence to talk on such.
I feel everbody got their right to feel and think as they choose but sometimes I got to get off to myself and discuss such as politics or how I wish Mama would quit burnin the biscuits or things like this but not Monkeyism.
Now there might be monkeys that could be trained to be writers like myself but I was very confused to find they had trained one to become a teacher of our little fellers and as near as a neighbor in town.
If I wuz this bird I would get me a banana and go climb a tree and discuss it with myself.

When I Talk To God...

When I talk to God I'm sure He listens. I'm too young to realize there is such a thing as a skeptic.

I admire the convictions of my Mother and Father. They have shown me by their example that they live what they believe.

Because I've learned to trust and depend on those who love me, I haven't any silly illusion of self-sufficiency. It makes sense to trust and depend on God.

I'm proud and happy that I'm a Christian—so I'm not afraid someone might laugh at me for believing the Truth.

But, of course, my faith is no accident. I'm in Church every Sunday to worship God. Religious training is a major part of my education. I'm one of the millions of Christian youngsters who are the hope of this frightened world.

And when I talk to God, I don't just talk to Him about ME, I talk to Him about YOU!

YOUNG TEXAN FOR DECEMBER—Notre Dame freshman Joseph J. Davey of Burkburnett has been named "Young Texan of the Month" for December by the over 200 Texas Optimist Clubs and the Troy V. Post Foundation. His exceptional high school scholastic record brought Davey three scholarships to state schools and a West Point appointment. He chose, however, to enter Notre Dame as a pre-medical student. As a result of his selection as "Young Texan of the Month," Davey will receive the Troy V. Post Award, the state's highest youth recognition honor. Davey was chosen from hundreds of nominees from across the state by a panel of notable Texans headed by Governor Price Daniel.

Mrs. Eileen Connelly and Susie of Texas City, Mrs. W. C. Millican of Bay Town and Debby Kirk of Houston spent the Thanksgiving holidays here with Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Dearen, Mrs. C. J. Meek and Mother Wren.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Sherriff of Dallas spent Friday through Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Grady Harris.

Black & Gold Diary

Dear Diary,
I went to the football banquet and it was one of the nicest that I have ever attended. I haven't attended many banquets in my young life, but this one was superb. I just sat stony-eyed looking at the gorgeous gals and handsome fellows amid the setting so beautifully done with a football and autumn air and listened to the enchanting music played by the incomparable Richard Parks on his organ.

The food, especially the steak and apple pie, which was prepared by the faithful mothers and served by the darling eighth grade cheerleaders was delicious. I think I have never seen such high steaks served at a banquet.

I enjoyed gazing around the hall at the various couples—Terry and Linda, Bobby and Beverly, Stan and Connie, Dunk and Carol, Ray and Gwen, Mendall and Sherry, Mickey and Sheila, Neil and Mary,—were some that I noticed and then there was Billy trying desperately to get the attention of a certain beautiful waitress.

Melinda Gunter, Donna Sue Ford and Sherry Barnes were so shocked when they were announceed as the new cheerleaders they almost fainted. I was proud for them and I know that with Liz & Gwen we will have an excellent group of cheerleaders next season. There was one attractive girl there that I did not recognize, but upon inquiry I was told that she was married. She was sitting by Louis Stas who kept jumping up and taking pictures all evening.

And Ray Owen was named "Football Hero". He is very deserving of such a high honor, in my humble estimation. I know it was difficult to make a choice from such an excellent list of candidates as Neil, Mendall, Ray Randy and Charles Ray.

The entertaining and inspiring speech of Mr. Trice of Pampa, the impromptu by Coaches Burnett and Gaines, the appreciation speech by Stanly, the farewell by the charming Connie, the singing of the school song, and the thoughts of the end of another wonderful football season brought glistening tears to many beautiful eyes.

It was a magnificent affair, and to my escort I say, "Thanks, for a wonderful, unforgettable evening."

NEWS and VIEWS

By J. Loyd Rice
Monday, Nov. 26

Woke up this morning and it was raining. Again the cotton harvest was interrupted but wheat fields and rye patches were taking on new life.

This afternoon Melvin Hill and I were watching the fog rise from the grass and shinnery. As unusual and beautiful sight against the soft afterglow of the sunset.

Every sunset is thrillingly beautiful and everyone different. God in His infinite wisdom has given us endless variety.

About 150 yards west of my feed troughs in the pasture is a slick clay hill. I can descend it easily going east, but without mud grip tires it is just about impossible to climb going west when it is wet. It was wet Monday and I was dreading to walk and lug on my back three sacks of feed of about fifty pounds each. I planned to make three separate trips. The sun had set and I was already tired. I decided the extra labor.

When I arrived at the corner of my pasture on the county road Melvin Hill was putting up a sign at the corner of his pasture just across the lane from mine. He has mud grip tires on his pickup and he kindly consented to haul me and the feed down to the feed troughs. His help meant a lot to me.

Call it what you like, but to me God works in such ways as per us humans. Our meeting was perfectly timed without either of us knowing it. To me this is the Providence of God.

Children Thrive on Compassion In March of Dimes Arthritis Fight

"We study the child, not the laboratory report."

When Dr. Jane Borges, director of the March of Dimes-financed Arthritis Special Treatment Center at the Home for Crippled Children in Pittsburgh, Pa., says this, she isn't trying to put the laboratories out of business.

But she is trying—and succeeding—in putting children stricken with rheumatoid arthritis back in the important business of leading nearly normal lives.

Juvenile rheumatoid arthritis, which afflicts 30,000 youngsters in the United States, is a cruel disease which comes and goes like a thief in the night. Seemingly healthy children suddenly contract high fever, swollen and aching joints, rash, anemia, and severe involvement of body organs. Many suffer deformities of the limbs. Total or partial disability often occurs.

Despite continuing research, neither the cause of juvenile rheumatoid arthritis nor the reason for its unpredictable cycle of recurrence is yet known.

Prevent Side-Effects

What Dr. Borges and a growing number of experts in the treatment of rheumatic diseases do believe they know is how to prevent much of the permanent physical, mental and social scarring which have been agonizing by-products of this disease for so long a time.

Rejecting old theories of prolonged bed rest and virtual isolation, these innovators have introduced the rheumatoid arthritis child to programs of intensive therapy and close contact with children of the same age group. They encourage regular school attendance.

At the same time, education of the family in all aspects of the illness is begun early by the physician with diligent follow-up by the social worker.

Successful Results

In most cases, successful results have been achieved.

At the March of Dimes-supported center in Pittsburgh, for example, Dr. Borges last September admitted a 12-year-old girl who could not move her shoulders, elbows, or arms. She contracted rheumatoid arthritis at age six and had been in and out of hospital since that time. When she was at home, she was rarely taken outside and saw other children only infrequently. She was painfully shy, took little interest in her studies.

Today, nearly a year later, this same girl is still confined to a wheelchair. She must attend many of her classes at the Home's branch of the Pittsburgh school system while in traction. Other complications persist.

However, daily baths in the Hubbard tank, used so successfully by polio victims, and twice-daily physical therapy have restored the use of her arms and hands. Occupational therapy—she is now finishing a throw rug—has restored movement to her once-frozen shoulders. The challenge of competition with her schoolmates has transformed her into an excellent student.

Child in Pain

In another case, a six-year-old girl, after four years of operations and assorted treatment, was unable to adjust to school and playmates because of intermittent pain and the childhood awareness that she was the only child with a brace.

Placed among children with similar problems, she was exposed to the physical and social therapies of Dr. Borges' program. She went back home six months later "a different child . . . obedient . . . getting along happily with brothers, sisters and playmates," according to a grateful mother.

Dr. Borges, a trim, vibrant woman, views her work at the March of Dimes-financed center and its results this way: "The laboratory reports on these children, after we have worked with them for a time, are still the same. The disease is still there.

"But the individual is not the same person we saw in the beginning."

"By also treating the emotional and environmental problems associated with juvenile rheumatoid arthritis, not just the physical ones, we are often able to change attitudes of despair to ones of cheerfulness and hope."

A prominent Canadian physician and specialist in juvenile rheumatoid arthritis, Dr. William M. Gibson, recently described the ideal treatment setting as "an area where personal acquainted with the problem of arthritis in children are present every time the patient is seen."

Arthritis Special Treatment Centers, supported by local chapters of The National Foundation with March of Dimes funds, are already providing this service in Pittsburgh through Dr. Borges, and through her colleagues in many other American cities.

Additional centers are planned—centers of hope where parents can read the future in their children's faces, not in the laboratory reports.

The State Fair award, highlight of Garden Club Day activities, was presented to Mrs. Caldwell by James H. Stewart, executive vice president and general manager of the exposition.

IN MEMORY OF

JACK MILLER

... A Faithful Servant

We are going to miss him. For nearly forty years he has been active in every phase of our community life. He was a member of the Church of Christ and a Christian in every sense of the word. His every thought was for his family, the church and the community.

He operated a service station in Old Mobeetie before the railroad came to Mobeetie. He was among the first to establish a business at the present location of the town,

He was in the implement and service station business for past thirty-one years. He was a director and vice president of the First State Bank since 1948. He was a charter member of the Mobeetie Lions Club and through his efforts the club has kept the charter although the town has lost a lot of population.

He was a member of the Wheeler County School Board for about ten years and all the schools in the county are indebted to him for his foresight and courage in securing every possible aid to them.

For many years he was secretary of the Cemetery Committee. He helped secure additional land and had the ground surveyed.

He was among the leaders in securing the Mobeetie fire fighting equipment that it now has. He furnished storage for the fire truck for the past fifteen years.

We do not believe there is anyone in the community that his helping hand has not touched.

Though he knew for the past several months that he had Leukemia he was active until about a month before his death.

If Jack had ever stated his motto I am sure that it would have been, "For God, his family, and our community."

Home Economics Covers Large Segment of 4-H Work

Over Million Learn Home, Career Skills

CANNING was the first 4-H project for girls about 50 years ago came under the heading of "home economics." Cooking and sewing were soon added. Today about 1 1/4 million girls between 10 and 21 years old are engaged in a broad program of home economics projects.
They not only learn many skills for building happy homes, but also acquire important knowledge and experience to guide them into future careers and successful marriages.
In 1933, with the approval of the Cooperative Extension Service, a specific awards program that encompassed all 4-H home economics projects was set up. The sponsor was Montgomery Ward, which already had been an active supporter of 4-H youths for a decade.

Pretty 17-year old 4-H'er Donna Roberts is demonstrating variations of rolls to be made from a basic yeast dough. She might well be preparing for a future career as a home economist in teaching or business.

Since that time national recognition has touched 153 young women because they were selected as the most outstanding members completing home economics projects. Their reward was a college scholarship provided by the mail order firm.

Soon another batch of home economics scholarship winners will be named by the Extension Service. In November, six girls will be chosen from among 1962 state award winners who will meet at the National 4-H Club Congress opening in Chicago Nov. 25. The trips will be paid for by Montgomery Ward and all 50 girls will be guests at a banquet in their honor.

And what lies ahead for these talented young women?

The answer may be found in the results of a recent survey of former home economics scholarship recipients spanning a 25-year period. Of the 110 respondents, 78 per cent had attended college. About 86 per cent of this group pursued home economics careers in the following areas: teaching, dietetics, nursing, Extension Service, library, social work and business.

A review of additional jobs awaiting future home economics graduates suggests journalism, advertising and sales, textile and clothing design, research, interior decorating, and the vast field of human and animal nutrition including outer space travelers.

The National 4-H Home Economics program has much to offer the pre-teen member as well as the older girl.

LOWER COSTS ON Farm and Ranch LOANS

The Federal Land Bank of Houston has announced that effective on January 1, 1963, it will reduce temporarily to 5% the interest rate on all outstanding loans which presently bear a rate in excess of 5%. The contract rate on new loans will continue to be 5 1/2% but interest on loans closed on and after December 1, 1962, will be billed at 5% until further notice by the bank.

This action is further evidence of our announced goal to supply your loan funds at the lowest possible cost.

Without obligation, come in and let's see if you and your land can qualify for the special benefits provided through one of our loans.

PICK YOUR KIND OF CAR
AT YOUR CHEVROLET DEALER'S ONE-STOP SHOPPING CENTER

If you'd like to see how your car dollar can be tailored to your needs, your Chevrolet dealer has four entirely different kinds of cars that do it handily. Jet-smooth '63 Chevrolet: It's a luxury car that invites comparison with the high-priced cars. '63 Chevy II: Really much too snappy looking and spirited to be called a thrift car. But sparing is what it is in price and up-keep. '63 Corvair: The rear-engine wonder for people who like their sport with the family along. Then there's our all-out sports car—the new Corvair Sting Ray: It's completely restyled and re-engineered, and now available in convertible or sport coupe. Whatever your new car fancy, you'll find the answer at your Chevrolet dealer's.

"GUNS OF THE BLACK WITCH"

Don Megowan
Emma Danielli

ROGUE THEATRE

Wheeler, Texas

MOVIE REVIEW

By Laura Guthrie

THE GUNS OF THE BLACK WITCH has nothing to do with a character such as you might have seen at the Halloween preview. You will learn that THE BLACK WITCH is a pirate ship of the 17th century. The Skulduggery that develops in this one will please an audience that loves adventure. There is furry-and-action enough to hold interest and colored film captures the beauty of the Caribbean Sea. Rating: Fair.

The word EXODUS calls attention to the exodus of the Israelites from Egypt to Canaan. But this is not the story portrayed in this film. Rather this brings out the heartache and travail which went into the recent founding of the nation of Israel. The filming done with an authentic background. Scenes on Cyprus were shot there and the scenes of Palestine were shot in Israel. These are stirring, exciting and emotionally moving scenes. Many have not waited in vain. Rating: Super-

"LOGRYTHMS" ARE ENTERTAINING TECH STUDENTS; NASH IS MEMBER

By Jeannie Bookout

Riding high on the wave of folk music which has engulfed college students across the nation, three Tech men have joined voices solely for the "personal enjoyment in singing folk songs." The trio, surprisingly composed of engineering students, organized early this fall and has been called upon by campus groups to entertain on the average of twice a week. Appropriately enough, the singers call themselves the "Logrythms." "Since all of us are engineers, we thought this would be a fitting title," said Garth Nash, senior electrical engineering major and organizer of the trio. The threesome began as a two-some last spring when Nash and Mike Horridge, Houston sophomore and discovered they shared common interests in singing and play-folk music. This fall another folk music en-

you don't have to HOWL for it when you use the WANTADS thusiast, Dow Patterson, was added and the group was on its way. "One of the first stops was made when the harmonizers stole second place at the South Plains Fair talent show. Going from there the group plans to enter the upcoming Club Scarlet and Raider Rambles talent contests.

"When asked why they chose folk music as the specialty, banjo plucking Nash replied, "You can rock and roll it or throw in a calypso or limbo beat." "Rock and roll is basically repetitious," declared blonde-haired Horridge, "and besides, every/body can join in when folk music is played." "The trio agreed that one charm added by folk music is the ease in singing new lyrics to the tunes of old melodies. "Writing folk music isn't like 'making antiques.' It's 'legal. You can do it now', Nash commented. "The trio agreed that one charm added by folk music is the ease in singing new lyrics to the tunes of old melodies. ## ALL ABOUT YOUR SCHOOL

By Arling Cordell
Wheeler Schools

Now that we are making progress in the last six weeks period of this semester, we should pause and take stock of where we are. If grades are low, we know that extra effort is needed to bring them up. More time at school and at home devoted to concentrated study will accomplish this. Nothing else will do it.

Parents, are you planning with your children for college or for high school? This is one of the things you can do to help your child's future.

Some of our students, especially those who are going on in the science and mathematics fields, are going to need four years of science (General Science, Biology, Chemistry, Physics); four years of mathematics (Algebra I, Algebra II, Geometry, Trigonometry) and four years of English at least.

Some of our young people—left to their own devices—will avoid these subjects. Then when they seek to enroll in college they will have a hard time.

Let's keep after our pupils—advise them on their subjects while they have time to get them. The tremendous increase in college enrollments in the next few years is going to cause higher standards of scholarship to be required than ever before. Pupils will have to be able to read, to write, to speak and to listen better than ever before. The time to cultivate these tools of learning is early in the child's life. Then he will have continuing skills which will serve him all his life.

We were honored by the McMurry Band playing a concert for us on Monday. Talks were made by band director, Dr. Raymond Byrum, and by Wade Fry of the Public Relations Department. Many of you will remember Mr. Fry as Wheeler County Agent during the late 1940's. These men complemented students from our school now attending the McMurry College.

Now that we are beginning our basketball season we need to think about some problems in our gym. Children should be cautioned to find seats and to watch the game rather than running about in the concession area. We can all help by getting a good seat and staying in it for the games.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fountin are bringing Troy Jones here for a few weeks visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jones. Troy will undergo surgery in Amarillo in January and will then return to Gonzales where he will work.
