Home-grown Industry

When an aeronautical engineer and the business leaders of Olney, Texas, got together, a new home-grown industry was born. The product: an agricultural aircraft especially designed for crop dusting and spraying.

Now, 4 1/2 years later, Snow Aeronautical Company employs 57 skilled workers in this West Texas community of 3872, and has sold aircraft in many agricultural states of the Union and in seven foreign countries.

Success of this thriving local enterprise is evidenced by a plant expansion program which will double the factory size when construction is completed this Fall. It is another reason we say big things are happening in General Telephone towns.

These towns are on the move. Community improvements are under way, local resources are being developed, new businesses, new industries are coming in. ## Helton At Home Port USS SPIEGEL GROVE — Francis C. (Chan) Helton, fireman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Helton of Route 1, Briscoe, Texas, returned to Norfolk, Va., early this month aboard the dock-landing USS Spiegel Grove following visits to ports in Africa and South America.

The three-month tour was the Spiegel Grove's participation in Solant Amity IV, the Navy's people-to-people program in the South Atlantic. The ship was visited by thousands of persons in African ports before she returned to the United States via Brazil.

Spiegel Grove crewmen delivered tons of Operation Handclasp cargo to welfare organizations and missions in the African ports. The cargo was donated in the United States for distribution to needy families overseas.

In addition, the crewmen aided in community projects such as rebuilding schools and civic buildings.

The South Atlantic Amity Force visited ports in the Southern Hemisphere in the interest of maintaining good relations with the citizens of countries seldom visited by American ships. The ships serve as instrument of national policy and goodwill.

The Spiegel Grove is the flagship of the Commander, South Atlantic Forces.

Mr. and Mrs. David Coffee, residents of Wheeler for the past few months, are moving to Dallas this week. Mr. Coffee, employed with a firm working with the Texas Co., has accepted other employment in Dallas.

FROM THE OFFICE...

By CHARLES D. JACKSON
County Agri. Agent

According to the latest research information that I have received, the lice have been eradicated on a herd basis by scientists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Success of the new eradication method, proved over a five year period in an experimental herd at the Beltsville Research Center, depends on the proper timing of insecticide applications to break the life cycle of the lice, plus quarantining and treating all cattle added to the herd.

Before the study began, the herd was infested with three species of lice—short-nosed, long-nosed and biting lice. To eradicate these lice, the herd was thoroughly sprayed twice, 14 days apart, with malathion. Cattle to be added to the herd were placed in quarantine and given the same 2-spray treatment.

Most lice-control chemicals that are safe for use on livestock will kill the crawling lice, but they may not be completely effective against lice eggs, especially under pasture conditions. Some lice usually hatch after the first malathion spraying but the properly timed spraying kills the newly hatched lice before they can mature and produce eggs.

The Beltsville herd was first treated in October 1957. No lice were found on the animals during the following months but in April 1958 they were treated again. Regular checks of the herd showed no lice until October 1959 when a yearling heifer became infested. Although other cattle in the same pasture and a group in an adjoining one were not infested, both groups were given two sprayings. No lice have been found on the
