DON'T MORTGAGE HAPPINESS

The years of a man, they say are three score and ten. In the terms of life of a redwood tree, an ancient idea or doctrine, or even a middleaged alligator these seventy years seem very few. It would be wise to be very thrifty with them.

The favorite and fashionable indoor sport today is the balancing of budgets. It is done in business, government, and the painful process of making the family income fit the facts in the case. It should be done no less in balancing the years of life against the opportunities of life.

Waste no time, then, which might be spent in pursuit of happiness, in the work you love or in the rest you earn, in finding friendship, in fashioning a faith and philosophy for the lean years at the end of life.

Waste no time in worry wnich gets nowhere, but confesses everything in gray hairs and in wrinkles. And don't mortgage present happiness to pay for a future which may never happen. Don't work so hard that you forget how to play, nor play so hard that you aren't fit to work. Don't blow off all your steam before fifty and be burned out for twenty years after. Invest wisely in amusement, as you would in stocks and bonds. Don't die too soon, nor live too long.

CRIMINALS AND SOB STUFF

Too often our criminals are glorified by the over-sentimentalists who rush to the jail and shower attentions of mercy and laudation upon those who are guilty of the most hellish crimes in the land.

A favorite sob story is to the effect that criminals "inherit" the tendency to rob, steal and take human life. There might be some excuse along this line in extreme cases, but the great majority of criminals have adopted that method because they wish to "get by" without earning, and have no conscientious scruples against attaining that end even to the extent of taking human life.

When one hears about inherited criminal tendencies, they should re member the suggestion of Ezekiel in Holy Writ when he said: "What mean ye, that ye use this proverb concerning the land of Israel, saying, 'The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge'.'

Ezekiel was not very strong for the idea that all criminals were born that way, and human nature is the same today as it was in ancient times-it never changes .- Donley County Lead-

SECURE A MEDAL

A rather ironical joke was played on the ex-service men of the Texas National Guard and of the American Expeditionary Forces in the World War who live in this state recently. An announcement went out to newspapers from the adjutant general's office in which it was told that the Texas Legislature had voted a medal to every one of these former defenders of the country. Those entitled to medals should get in touch with the adjutant general's office at Austin, it was stated.

So, a good many thousand wrote in, some of them from Floyd county, and learned about medals from the adjutant general. The legislature "voted" the ex-service men of the state a medal each, which the exservice men could wear or keep To any assistant cashier-no charge. among their souvenirs by paying a 7. Keeping president from playfee to the manufacturer. No provision has been made to pay for the medals with public funds. Perhaps none should be made at public expense. We won't argue that. But that some outfit which would like to pick up some business should get the legislature to adopt an "official" medal and "vote" it to the soldiers is laughable. We all knew before the legislature voted on the proposition that a man could get him a keyring marker, a and will lay the money on the coun- street and Mrs. Arnold Waldo.

CONSTRUCTION PROBLEM GAINS GREATER ATTENTION

The federal government has started a nation-wide farm housing survey children of Shamrock were Sunday to ascertain the potential demand for improved home facilities, the cost of H. H. Walser. providing them, the development of standard specifications adapted to the plans for financing improvements and ew building.

It is generally known that there is a tremendous unfulfilled demand for new housing, in city as well as rural Briscoe. areas, due to the lack of building for five or six years, and to the high rate of depreciation of existing structures.

One of the great stumbling blocks to building now is that banks are unable to loan funds because of inelastic laws, and the interest rates charged by other agencies are often so high as to discourage the prospective builder. Both private and public agencies made available for construction at reasonable interest rates, and still earn a fair profit. There is also hope that there will be sufficient change in the banking situation to permit a little more leeway in making building loans on the basis of an applicant's general character and reputation, instead of on his liquid assets only.

If a major building wave can be started, on the farms and in cities, one of the biggest steps toward recovery and stability will have been tak-

In the meantime, thoses who can build or repair now will be benefiting themselves and the nation by starting or build as cheaply as today.

DIVERSIFICATION OFFERS FARMER BETTER RETURNS

To the cotton farmer who has already reduced his cotton acreage by diversifying with other crops and livestock in previous years, and who feels the government cotton program is unfair to him, the corn-hog contract may offer interesting possibilties, says Jake Tarter, county agent.

Suppose a farmer changed from an all-cotton farm system to half cotton milks cows and feeds hogs and raises chickens for a steady year 'round livthe fall for paying the bigger bills. He makes the same percentage reduction in his 1934 cotton crop as the neighbor who still plants nearly the whole farm to cotton, but he will receive only half as much in the way of a government cotton benefit check. In many such instances it works out! that the diversified farmer may sign a corn-hog contract to reduce corn acreage or hog production or both, and receive government benefit checks that will total just as much or even more than these received by the all-cotton farmer. In addition the diversified farmer is in a much better position than the all-cotton E. Garner home Sunday. farmer to use the extra feed which the farm can grow under the terms of the cotton and corn-hog contracts.

The corn-hog contract is open to very farmer in the county who produces a surplus of either corn or hogs and who can otherwise qualify, the county agent points out. The rush of the cotton campaign makes a farm to farm canvass of farmers in the interest of the corn-hog program an impossibility, but men who may be eligible to sign these contracts should Clyde Worley were all Wheeler businvestigate the plan, he suggests.

COLLEGE DIRECTOR PREDICTS IMPROVED FARMING SYSTEM

Land which is taken out of cotton production for 1934 and rented to the secretary of agriculture may be put to good use by growers under the terms of the reduction agreements says O. B. Martin, director of the Texas A and M college extension service. "The first thought of the farmer should be to observe the letter and spirit of the contract which sets forth that crops must not be grown on rented acres for sale, directly or indirectly. This obligation can be observed and yet benefit derived from the contracted by most Texas farmers", he

"Much cotton land has been getting poorer and poorer each year as a result of clean cultivation", continues Mr. Martin. "The adjustment plan is the chance of a lifetime to tone up land with clover, cow peas, soy beans and other soil-enriching legumes. We are also becoming pasture conscious as a result of several thousand fine demonstrations showing how im proved pastures, particularly permanent pastures in East Texas, make livestock production more profitable. Rented acres offer the farmer some good land on which real pastures may be built. "I suspect", says Mr. Martin, "that half or more of our Texas farmers Mrs. James Scott and small son and do not live as completely at home as years due to the combination of a ma jor depression and the spread of the extension service demonstration of how to live at home. Rented acres offer the opportunity to extend this sound development to practically every farm, and to make living at home complete on those farms where families have gone only part way in pro ducing their own food and feed. "In many counties farmers are planning to terrace rented acres this year while soil improvement crops are growing", Mr. Martin points out "This is a job that must be done sooner or later and this is a good time to begin or to complete farm terrac-

"Texas has the best chance that it has ever had to begin the development of a planned and sound system of farming. Demonstrations of this kind are to be found everywhere in the state. They prove conclusively that that by working toward this kind of farming, families in Texas can secure a living from the farm and achieve as full a measure of well-being and security as any other class of people on earth. Rented acres may prove to be the key to a happier future" Mr. Martin concludes.

Eight thousand pounds of paper shell pecans sold from native trees improved in county agent demonstrations by three Gillespie county farmers sold at an average price of 14 Floyd Mooney transacted business cents per pound while native pecans were selling at 5 cents per pound.

Four Games Last Week

Championship hopes of the girls basket ball team of Wheeler high school received a slight set back at Mobeetie Thursday night of last week. They played Mobeetie the first game in the round-robin between Shamrock, Wheeler and Mobeetie to decide the championship of the county. The Wheeler girls were ahead 7 to 1 at the end of the first quarter, but Mobeetie took the lead in the second quarter and held it throughout

The boys met the Mobeetie boys the same night in a practice game. Mobeetie took the lead early in the game and were never seriously threatened by the Mustangs.

Saturday night the girls played Shamrock at Mobeetie. This game was to have been the second conference game for the Wheeler girls, but due to the fact that the referee failed to arrive, the conference game was postponed and a practice game was played between the two teams. This game was the closest one the Wheeler girls have played this year. The game ended with Shamrock one point in the lead. The score was 20 to 19.

A game between the junior girls of Mobeetie and Wheeler's juniors was also played. The Wheeler girls were defeated 10 to 5.

Judges Choose Boys To be On Debate Team

AERMOTOR

The Windmill with Outstanding Features

A strong wheel with only six bolts . . . Round tension wheel arms which screw into the hub-they will never work loose . . . Extra large wheel shaft . . . Removable bearings easily replaced . . . Quiet gears . . . Adjustable stroke . . . Adjustable brake . . . Self-oiling pump pole swivel . . . Smooth regulation in high winds.

The Auto-Oiled type of Aermotor was first made in 1915. It solved in a very practical way the problem of windmill lubrication. The general system adopted by the Aermotor Co. has never been improved upon, but some changes in details of construction have been made from time to time as experience has shown the way to betterments. The latest improvements are the most important that have ever been made and will surely make the Aermotor more decidely than ever the outstanding windmill of the world.

The performance of a windmill depends much upon the tower upon which it stands. In buying a windmill like the Aermotor, which is going to last for many years, it is important that it be erected on a strong, rigid tower which will last as long as the windmill. Aermotor Towers are wonderfully strong and durable.

Aermotor towers are made in various sizes to meet every need

Entering the Class B tournament, the Kelton teams had been almost despondent until the senior boys triumphed over Lela by a score of 17 to 15 at the tournament held at Shamrock Saturday. Their next game was with Heald, winning over them by a score of 28 to 29. This made them winners of that tournament, and they will play Mobeetie Wednesday night for the final winner. Neal Davis was high point man for the first game and Tommy Wagerner and Cur-Mixon threw the winning goal for the last game. Marvin Cockran is coaching the boys now. The senior girls were defeated by Twitty and the junior boys and girls by Lela.

Ken Maynard

Listen, folks! The Rogue has made good another promise of furnishing the public with the best entertainment to be had. This time the old favorite, Ken Maynard, comes to the Rogue for Friday-Saturday nites and Saturday matinee in a real, honestto-goodness western of the old type we all enjoy. It is the story of the old time cattle baron on the trail. The title of the picture is "The Trail Drive". It goes back to the old days when "Lizzies" were unknown and ladies wore hoop skirts, and the men folks spent months in the saddle on the trail to market with the cattle. Also, a good two-reel comedy,

'Bargain of the Century''. "Too Much Harmony" Jack Oakie and Skeets Gallagher

are reunited once more as the foremost comedy team of the films in Paramount's first big musical comedy of the new season, "Too Much Harmony," which comes on Monday-Tuesday to the Rogue theatre.

They were acclaimed throughout the country a few years ago after scoring an outstanding success in Paramount's "Close Harmony."

Here is a picture that compares only with the best musical comedies such as "Gold Diggers" and "42nd Street". It is sold to the public strictly on a money-back guarantee.

Also a good two-reel comedy, "Poppin' the Cork", will be shown in con-

THE STORY

"HAPTER 1.—Following the splen-wedding of her niece, Cintra, to d Leister, which she has financed, tilda Smith Lovely ("Smif," by her n insistence), youngest and phys-liy the weightiest of the four Love-sisters, finds herself in decidedly aitened circumstances. Smif replied, "don't I know you?" At this the girl began to cry, childish tears of relaxed tension.

"You're a brick, Smif. I might have known you'd stand by me, you are always such a rock to lean on." She wiped her eyes determinedly and sat forward in her chair. "Now listen." she said. "I'll try to tell you everything exactly as it happened, and you'll be able to see if I'm to blame in any way. I'd been looking around for something to do. I can draw a little, and Cousin Carola suggested that I might be able to do miniatures. copying from photographs, you understand. Mother then remarked that she would love to have a good copy of a miniature of one of the Phelps ancestors. Father has the orginal. I was feeling pretty mushy about mother because she had consented to let me stay at home, and I determined to copy it for her, and, if I didn't succeed, I'd have some one else do it as a surprise, understand?

"I wanted to take some lessons, thinking that a teacher would be able to correct my drawing, keep me up to the mark generally and solve the difficulties I was bound to have with a medium that was new to me. Cousin Carola, it turned out, had heard of exactly the right person. This was a Monsieur Mabeuse, a Belgian refugee who had first gone to England with his old mother. When she died, he came here and, not having the right introductions, had not been very successful. Also, he had married, had a sweet little wife and three babies. These expenses had made it necessary for him to give lessons, although naturally he was nothing short of a genius and Cousin Carola appeared to consider it a great condescension on his part." "Cousin Carola seems to play quite a part in this tale," Smif remarked Pamela colored. "It would be terrible to suspect her," she said tremblingly. "She's my own cousin. Anyhow, even before father and mother sailed, I had begun to take lessons. Monsieur Mabeuse had a little studio in his house. I never saw the man work but he talked largely of pictures he had exhibited abroad. I had been asked if I wanted private lessons, which were more expensive, and Cousin Carola, who went with me to introduce me, at once said that they would be advisable. I didn't want that. I wanted to do as much work as I could unaided, and I thought I could learn something too from watching the other pupils, so I said I would prefer to go into a class. Cousin Carola didn't like that at all. Against her determined opposition. I insisted on having my own way. I joined a class. There was one man, or boy rather, a shabby and unattractive Je but with tolon

"It Would Be Terrible to Suspect Her. She's My Own Cousin."

I thought; two other girls besides me. They didn't always come, except just at first. His wife and the children wandered in now and then, and it developed that the oldest child, a boy, named Eugene, was crazy about automobiles. So, one particularly fine day, I suggested that Brennan should take Madame Mabeuse and the children for a drive in the park instead of waiting idly for me. After that, they were always standing about wistfully when I arrived, and it seemed so little to do for them that it became a regular custom. Let me think .- Did I say Monsieur Mabeuse was handsome? Not in a way that had any appeal for me. Now have I told you everything? No, I committed one other sin. Madame Mabeuse is German. Her husband begged me to speak French with him, since he so seldom heard the language that he was losing all facility in speaking it. He said his Trude understood it but dared not speak because of an atrocious accent.

JESUS' POWER TO HELP

LESSON TEXT-Matthew 8:1-9:34. GOLDEN TEXT- But go ye and learn what that meaneth, I will have mercy and not sacrifice, for I am not come for call the righteous, but sinners to re pentance. Matthew 9:13 PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Forgives a Sinful Man.

JUNIOR TOPIC-How Jesus Proves He Can Forgive Sin.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOP IC—How Jesus Meets Our Needs.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOP
IC—Jesus Meeting Human Needs.

In chapters 8 and 9 of Matthew are grouped a number of miracles which exhibit the power of Jesus Christ over the chief foes of men-sickness, sin, satanic power, death, and storms. It is fitting that they should be grouped here following the laws of the kingdom, for they show the king's power to administer the affairs of the kingdom and produce within his subjects the graces of character demanded by these laws. It would make the lesson too long to attempt to consider all these miracles. Therefore certain of the most outstanding should be selected. I. Jesus Heals a Leper (8:1-4). 1. The dreadful disease (v. 2). Leprosy was the most loathsome and hopeless disease known. In the Jewish ritual it was regarded as a symbol of sin. Just as leprosy was incurable by man, so only the Divine Physician can cure sin. 2. The leper's faith (v. 2). His cry was most pitiable, but his faith was strong. He fully believed that Jesus was able, but was uncertain as to his willingness, to heal him,

3. Jesus' power (v. 3). He put forth his hand and touched the leper, bidding the disease to depart, and instantly the man was cleansed.

II. Jesus Heals the Centurion's Servant (8:5-13). 1. The disease (v. 6.). It was paralysis.

In paralysis the victim is helpless. 2. The centurion's humility (v. 8). He first sent the Jewish elders and then his friends (Luke 7:3, 6) because he felt his own unworthiness. The condition of this servant was so grave that his master brushed aside timidity and personally appealed to Jesus. 3. The centurion's faith (vv. 8, 9). He believed that if Jesus would but speak the word his servant would be healed. His faith was so remarkable that Jesus marveled because it was not like anything he had discerned among the chosen people.

4. The wonderful power of Jesus (v. 13). He did not even need to see the helpless man and touch him, but needed only to speak the word and it was done.

III. Jesus Heals Peter's Mother-in-Law (8:14, 15).

This woman was sick of a fever. Jesus was invited into Peter's home to heal her, and upon his touching the hand of the patient the fever left her. IV. Jesus Casts Out Demons

After stilling the tempest, Jesus crossed to the other side of the sea into heathen territory.

1. Met by two men possessed by demons (v. 28). These men were in a desperate condition (Mark 5; 1-17, and Luke 8:27). So fierce were they that no one could safely pass that way. Many today are demon possessed and their number is increasing (I Tim-

4:1). 2. What they knew about Christ (v. 29). They knew that he was the Son of God and that he had come to destroy the devil and his work. Among demons there is no doubt as to the deity of Jesus Christ and the judg-

3. Limitation of the devil's power (v. 31). Although the devil is mighty in power, he cannot even enter a hog without God's permission.

4. Christ's power to deliver from the devil (vv. 30-32).

The demons quailed before him, not daring to dispute his power, but begged permission to enter the swine. V. Jesus Opening the Eyes of Two Blind Men (9:27-31).

1. The intelligence of faith (v. 27). They cried unto him as the Son of David which showed they recognized him as the promised Messiah. The prophet had foretold such to be the works of the Messiah (Isa. 29:18, 35:5, 41:7).

2. The persistence of faith (v. 28). These poor men had heard of the wonderful works of Jesus. This wrought in them a desire to be healed. They, therefore, followed him along the way crying out for help. 3. The challenge of faith (v. 28). In reply to his challenge they gave him a definite answer.

4. The triumph of faith (vv. 29, 30). Their faith brought them into touch with the Lord of life, who opened their eyes.

Our Giving Measure

God's great purpose in wanting men to give to him is that me may be enabled to give more abundantly to them. It is impossible for a man to give anything to God that does not come back to the man a thousandfold.

The observance of tact, the universally lauded, depends chiefly on the omission of certain actions, or even more often of words. To say the right thing at the right time to the right person is perfection.

53-Year Clock

Time marches on, and much to the satisfaction of the editor, The Wheeler Times is able to present another clock story this week. Comes now Harold Robertson of Twitty, who reates the following history of a timepiece in the Ed Robertson household:

"Mr. Anglin started something when he told his clock story, but I think I have one which will put them all in the shade.

"Our clock has been in the family 53 years. It was bought by my grandfather, the late Asher Robertson, in Parker county, Texas. in 1881. The cost was $45. At his death the clock was handed down to my father, Ed Robertson, who is the present

"It still keeps accurate time and has never had any new repairs. It is an 8-day fashion calender clock, with calendar at the bottom giving the days and months.

"The clock was moved from Parker county to Ardmore, Okla., in 1898, and from Ardmore to Throckmorton, Texas, in 1906. It was brought from there to Wheeler county in 1917."

That's the "time", friends. Send in your story of that old time-piece. The Times is glad to have these stories and will take pleasure in publishing
