THE COUNTY SEAT NEWSPAPER

County Receives $18,741.15 Federal Money

Corn-Hog and Wheat Funds Reach County

First Payments on Crops and Livestock Ready for Distribution

Members of the Wheeler county corn allotment committee, of which Jim Trout is chairman, announced receipt today of the greater of the first payment of corn-money to contract signers. Funds received under the corn section total $3,169.35, while hog returns amount to $1,032.00. This was embraced in 161 checks.

The first payment consists of one-fifth of the grand total on corn, and one-fifth on hogs. However, the committee pointed out that not quite these pro rata amounts arrived yesterday. The balance is expected soon.

Wheat Payments Arrive in sizeable lump of wheat money, $9,330, according to committee members in that division, reached yesterday county this week. This is a part of the first wheat payment for which checks in all three groups are being arranged for distribution to owners as rapidly as possible. Checks are being mailed from the county headquarters just as fast as the necessary detail work can be taken care of.

Rows Bumper Sweet Potato

H. Williams, who lives on the Roper place, in the west edge of town, brought to this office today a bumper sweet potato. The tuber weighed 5 and one-quarter pounds and is 22 inches in circumference. It is of the Porto Rico yellow yam variety.

Williams explained that, because of its huge size, such a potato is not most desirable for table use. He had with him smaller samples of the crop. He has about 50 bushels of the table size to put on the market. This big "sweet spud" shows, however, what can be grown in Wheeler county even during a dry season.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams moved last fall to their little suburban farm, which they purchased for their own. They formerly lived 6½ miles north of Mobeetie. Mr. Williams devoted his time to a general den truck crop this year and has a fair success despite the unfavorable season.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams have been residents of Wheeler county for the last 18 or 19 years.

DUG SIMS RETURNS FROM MINERAL WELLS; IMPROVING

D. G. (Doug) Sims, Wheeler county commissioner, together with his wife and brother-in-law, W. A. Scribner, returned Sunday from Mineral Wells, where Sims spent several days taking treatments and recuperating. He met with the other members of the commissioners' court Sunday, and was also in Wheeler county today.

Sims is improving nicely from injuries received two weeks ago while piping with work on a bridge across Sweetwater, just west of Mobeetie. He suffered a badly sprained back which proved quite painful. He is now using crutches to protect himself in getting about.

THIEVES GET AWAY WITH GAS IN LONNIE LEE'S CAR

While Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Lee were engaged in a game of bridge at the home of his brother, Lloyd, on Tuesday evening, a sneak thief gained practically all the gas from the tank of Lonnie's car, parked in front of the house. The house door was open and the thief heard a slight noise in the vicinity of the car but thought nothing of it until later when the gas was missed.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hathaway and his father, A. W. Hathaway, and his wife, Aline Lee of Mobeetie, were all Saturday business callers in Wheeler.

IS WHEELER LADY YOUNGEST GREAT-GRANDMOTHER?

While there may be someone to contest the title, it is believed that Mrs. Maud Anglin, wife of J. Walter Anglin, living in the southwest suburbs of Wheeler, may well claim the honor of youngest, if not the youngest great-grandmother in this part of the Panhandle.

Mrs. Anglin became a mother at the age of 16, a grandmother at 33, and this summer when she was 53 years old, a great-grandmother was added to her line of descendants.

The four generations are: Mrs. Maud Anglin, Wheeler; Mrs. Jewell Heath, daughter; Mrs. E. C. McFerran, granddaughter, and little E. C. McFerran, jr., great-grandson. The latter three all live at Henderson, Texas.

Teachers - Trustees In Meet Here Today

Approximately 200 Persons Attend County-Wide Sessions — Officers Elected

A county-wide teachers and trustees meeting was held at the Wheeler high school building here today in connection with the presence in the county of Deputy State Inspector Bryan Dickson. A large attendance is reported, with an interesting and instructive program.

Dickson has been here since Oct. 1, visiting the schools of the county, rating many of them for classification and recommending state aid appropriations. Twenty schools have applied for aid and five were refused.

A large sum of money, in the aggregate, has been recommended for the improvement of school plants and providing better facilities for the 3,915 county scholastics.

M. W. Graves, superintendent of the Briscoe schools, has issued a call for a meeting of ex-students of W. T. S. T. C. for 7 o'clock Tuesday night, Oct. 16, in the Wheeler high school building. Thirty teachers have signed up for a course in curriculum building as an extension course. Tuesday night's session will be the first county meeting and a teacher from Canyon will be present to explain the plan.

During the day's session, new officers for the County Interscholastic League were elected.

Cotton Pool Plan In Operation Here

Farmers May Sell Surplus Exemption Certificates to National Pool

Pooling of unused tax exemption certificates on 1934 cotton for the purpose of sale under federal auspices is well under way in Wheeler county, it was announced today by H. M. Breedlove, assistant cotton adjustment agent.

Instructions and application blanks for the use of farmers having exemption certificates in excess of their 1934 production were received some time ago and the purchasing plan set in motion. Tax exemption certificates not used should be brought in immediately to Breedlove's office in the court house, if they are to be offered for sale.

Such certificates are to sell at 4 cents per pound, less as light a deduction as possible for handling charges in the pool. The gross proceeds, after this deduction, from the sale of such certificates from a given pool will be divided on a pro rata basis among all the members of the pool. Such certificates as may be pooled but not sold will be distributed, also on a pro rata basis, to all members of the pool.

The certificate represents waiver of a federal tax of 5.67 cents per pound on 1934 cotton. The purchaser will be allowed to obtain this certificate at 4 cents per pound from the farmer whose production was less than the certificates for which he qualified.

Exemption certificates pooled but not sold, and returned to members of the pool, will be good for next year if the Bankhead bill is continued, and may be used in addition to next year's allotment, Breedlove explained.

Up to date, 655,225 pounds of surplus certificates have been sold by Wheeler county producers to the national pool, it is reported.

New Dry Goods Store Opening

Announcing tomorrow, Friday, as the opening date, a new dry goods store enters the local retail field in Wheeler. A large advertisement on another page of this paper gives a partial list of lines stocked by the new firm.

The enterprise is to operate as a general dry goods establishment, carrying lines of men's, women's and children's ready-to-wear clothing, shoes, etc., as well as yardage goods, blankets and the usual variety found in an up to date store.

The establishment is opening under the firm name of Saied and Bird. The proprietors are experienced merchandisers and pledge service and satisfaction to customers. A recently-completed brick store room, owned by "Cap" Clay, two doors east of Puckett's Grocery, is the location of the new store.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Records in the county clerk's office reveal issuance of the following marriage licenses since Oct. 1:

Oct. 4—Uriel R. Cross and Miss Mildred Red, both of Wheeler.

Oct. 6—Olaf F. Rankin and Miss Helen Brewster, both of Mobeetie.

Mrs. Puckett Improving

Mrs. Roy Puckett, who underwent a major operation at the Tisdall hospital in Elk City, Okla., Sunday, Sept. 30, is doing splendidly. Mr. Puckett went over to see her Tuesday and helped move her to Sayre, where she is at the home of his sister, Mrs. Walter Woods. If Mrs. Puckett continues to improve, she will come home Sunday.

BOY SCOUTS, ATTENTION!

A meeting of Boy Scouts of Wheeler will be held at 7:30 o'clock, Monday evening on the lawn of the M. E. church. All members and those who would like to become members are urged to attend.

Sell Exemption Certificates Now

In a statement issued yesterday, H. M. Breedlove, assistant cotton adjustment agent for Wheeler county, urged all producers holding tax exemption certificates to turn them in to the pool, for sale to other states, just as soon as they can possibly make an estimate of their own crops. There is a big demand for the certificates in the eastern part of the cotton belt, says Breedlove, who asserts quick action in offering surplus certificates (in case the holder wishes to sell them) is imperative. No closing date for the pool has been announced, as yet.

Wheeler People Attend Pampa Centennial Meet

Members County Advisory Board Are Banquet Get-together Guests Tuesday Night

Those attending the banquet at Pampa Tuesday night, sponsored by the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce, as a get-together project for the Panhandle Centennial advisory board, were Mrs. J. M. Porter and Dr. F. N. Reynolds of Wheeler, Mrs. J. D. Spruill, Mrs. W. S. Pendleton and Guy Hill of Shamrock. Several guests from Pampa and from other towns were also present.

Purpose of the meeting was to entertain, refresh memories of early Texas history and to reaffirm loyalty to the Centennial project in Texas, as well as the Panhandle. Important features of the program were the reading of the Declaration of Independence, a talk on the advertisement features and the dollars and cents which would be brought to Texas during the celebration.

It was estimated that there are fifteen million people living within one night's Pullman ride of Dallas, Texas. Also, that any appropriations made by Texas in any form would be repaid, not only in dollars and cents, but in publicity and in new citizens who might choose to move to Texas thereafter.

Historical places were called to the attention of the assemblage, especially those surrounding us. Old Fort Elliott received considerable comment by speakers from this county. Pampa deserves unlimited credit for their hospitality and the complete success with which the affair was handled.

Lee Guthrie, manager of the Rogue theatre, left Wednesday for Mineral Wells, where he will spend two or three weeks in the sanitarium. His sister, Mrs. J. T. Jackson of Matador, accompanied him.

Proceedings of County Court

During the sessions of county court for the present term, a number of cases have been called and continued for the term or until a later date. Among those disposed of are the following:

Wm. G. Leininger Knitting Co. vs. Hanna Bros. inc., suit for debt; dismissed for want of prosecution. W. R. Thornton vs. A. F. and Edgar Wichkaemper, suit for debt; being heard today. F. & M. St. Bank, Shamrock, vs. M. B. Rook, suit for debt; dismissed at cost of plaintiff.

Robert Bowers vs. Walter Pendleton, suit for damages; verdict returned seemingly satisfactory to both parties. W. L. Gaines vs. First State bank, Allison; dismissed at cost of plaintiff. Gideon Bell vs. Ben G. Barnett, suit for debt; continued to Oct. 17.

First National bank, Wheeler, vs. G. A. Williford, suit for debt; default judgment granted plaintiff and foreclosure chattel mortgage. S. P. Cox vs. Grady W. Harris, suit for debt; dismissed at cost of plaintiff.

State of Texas vs. Roy George, swindling with worthless check; fined $1 and costs on plea of guilty. State of Texas vs. R. S. Carr, aggravated assault; defendant failed to answer and bond declared forfeited.

Postoffice Receipts Show Nice Increase

Figures Indicate Healthy Tone in Financial Conditions of Community

Postal receipts for the Wheeler office showed a gain of $2,625.66 for the quarter ending Sept. 30, according to Chester Lewis, postmaster.

Chief portion of the increase was attributed to the sale of stamps, which showed an increase of $338.67 over the September quarter in 1933. Stamp sales for the 1934 quarter were $1,170.99 as compared with $832.32 in 1933; postage on permit matter, $103.46, against $5.34; box rents $80.25, against $67.70.

Total sales for the September quarter in 1934 were $9,353.37 as compared with a total of $6,727.71 in the September quarter of 1933.

This increase is taken as indication that a healthier tone prevails in the financial condition of Wheeler and surrounding community.

And according to information obtained from the postmaster this morning, stamp sales for the first 10 days of the present month, October, total $43.43.

Baptist Pastor Resigns Place

Rev. Alamo Starkey, pastor of the First Baptist church in Wheeler since May, 1933, tendered his resignation following the morning services at that church Sunday. The resignation was accepted, to become effective immediately, although Rev. Starkey was accorded certain courtesies, including the use of the parsonage, for a period of time.

The ministerial work of Rev. Starkey has been rather closely linked with the history of the local church. He received from this church about 12 years ago his license to preach. He came to the local charge from Portales, N. Mex.

No action toward procuring another pastor for the church is ready to report at this time.

Rev. Starkey and family have a host of friends throughout the community who will learn with regret that he has severed his pastoral connections with the Baptist church. He has not announced his future plans.

Lee Hdw. Shows Crosley Radios

The Ernest Lee hardware, local distributors for Crosley radios, "tells the world" of the merits and gives new low prices on that famous line of radio receiving sets in an advertisement on another page of this issue of the Wheeler Times. Both the battery models, for unwired homes, and the all-electric sets are listed.

"The most for the radio dollar is the Crosley policy in offering the new models which come in a popular price range, beginning at $19.99," declared Ernest Lee.

With the nation's radio listeners turning their attention to foreign and short-wave reception, the Crosley engineers designed the Crosley American-foreign models for world wide reception. The Crosley engineering accomplishments are built into different models of beauty and attractiveness.

Illuminated airplane type dials are precision controlled with teal type tuning. Other features of the new receivers are superhetrodyne circuit, double purpose tubes, automatic volume control, three gang tuning condenser, and full-floating moving coil electro-dynamic speaker.

Study Club Meets

The Wednesday Study club met at 2:30 in the clubroom at the court house. After the business meeting, Mrs. Cora Hall conducted a very interesting program. She was assisted by Mrs. Wm. I. Joss and Mrs. J. M. Porter. Members present were Mesdames Wm. I. Joss, W. L. Williams, J. M. Porter, Glenn Williams, Bronson Green, M. L. Gunter, Cora Hall, Robt. Bowers and Jim Trout.

"WONDERFUL" ADVERTISING

A smartly dressed, smooth talking gentleman has dropped in to discuss a few matters with John Doe, the grocer. It develops that the gentleman is also interested in having Grocer Doe buy a very unique and highly effective advertising campaign.

"This advertising is something different," he tells the grocer. "You can't get it anywhere else. Your newspaper can't provide it. This will be something exclusive with you. Just sign here."

But before signing here, or anywhere else, it might be smart to stop and ask yourself how anything that good escaped the men who spend millions of dollars yearly for advertising.

Men who spend millions for advertising also spend thousands to test their advertising and be sure that they are getting their money's worth. No promising proposition or scheme is blindly turned down. They waste proportionately less of their advertising money than most small advertisers because they seek results—not something different.

General Motors, Henry Ford, the big oil refiners, department stores, and food men don't spend their money for advertising in home newspapers because they like the editorial policy or because they haven't been offered hundreds of schemes and novelties.

They advertise in NEWSPAPERS having a bona fide, paid circulation, because they know the reader thinks enough of the publication to pay his good money for it and as a consequence values and reads it—both news and advertising.

Gadget advertising has no place in the retailer's budget unless he can afford to be more wasteful than the big boys.

THE AVERAGE MAN

Who is the average American?

The question was raised recently by President Roosevelt in his Green Bay speech. "Those who would measure confidence in this country in the future," he said on that occasion, "must first look to the average citizen."

It has remained for an economist to look into the statistics and tell us what manner of person this "average citizen" actually is; he appears to be not at all the dissatisfied anti-capitalist; he is a person who is gainfully employed the greater part of the time; outside of the larger cities every second average man owns his own home. The average family has an automobile. Eight or ten million average citizens own stocks or bonds, and as depositors in our banks and holders of insurance policies four or five times that number are indirect holders of securities.

"The average man," concludes the author of this little statistical study, "is a capitalist. He has no patience with socialism or communism as he understands these philosophies, though recently he has been taking doses of both under misleading labels."

It might be well to keep these simple facts in mind. This average man cannot be very confident if he does not know that he is going to keep his job. He cannot be confident if he cannot count on the maintenance of the purchasing power of his income. He cannot be confident if he cannot look forward to a measure of security for himself and his family in his later years as a reward for hard work and thrift. And he cannot be confident unless he is assured that business is on the mend.

PRINCIPLES OF GREATNESS

As nations go, the United States is a very young country. Where we have 150 years of history behind us, other powers have thousands.

Yet no nation can point to a more inspiring past—or to a history which has given finer traditions. America sprang full-fledged from the hearts and minds of that handful of patriots who dedicated their lives to freeing us from foreign monarchic domination, and to establishment of a Republic which should have as its guiding principles, freedom, equality, the right to own property and the right to happiness.

There is a growing danger that, in seeking to conquer the perplexities of the moment—"causal embarrassment" in the life of a nation, to use the great Jefferson's words—we shall lose or weaken some of those traditions which our forefathers bought for us with blood and toil and self-sacrifice. If we solve temporary troubles at the expense of permanent blessings, the victory will be hard won indeed. If we tamper with our ideal of freedom, the United States will have little to look forward to in the future.

Every American should resolve, with the deepest sincerity, to do all he can to cherish, to protect, and to continue those principles of freedom—freedom of press, of thought, of religion; freedom to do what he will so long as others are not injured by our actions—which have made our country the greatest of all great nations. In all the welter of experiment and criticism that envelops the entire world, no one has been able to offer a plan of government that gives the ordinary man so much as does ours.

Are the Constitution of the United States and the Declaration of Independence—the greatest libertarian documents ever written—to become dead letters, or are they to continue to guide us in the future?

THE YEARS AHEAD

The primary ambition of all men is to assure adequate economic protection for themselves and their dependents in the future.

Of the many who aspire to that, few achieve it. An overwhelming percentage of men become penniless dependents in old age, and must be sustained by relatives or organized charity. Many such men were once wealthy. Many more once held good jobs, which provided substantial surpluses above the income necessary for livelihood. Many managed to build up sizeable estates, only to see them swept away by one financial cataclysm or another. That was the case even before depression, and during the last few years an infinitely greater than normal number of people have faced the tragic problem of approaching old-age without money or savings.

The aim to be followed in any savings plan is security, rather than profit—small dividends from investments which offer maximum protection to principal, are far better than possible large profits from unsafe investments. Many excellent savings plans are offered to persons of all earning capacities—plans which permit the investment of a dollar a month or a thousand dollars. Life insurance, through its various types of annuity and investment policies, is one of the best, as its fine record during the last five trying years has demonstrated. While businesses went under, estates were dwarfed or disappeared, and investments that once seemed iron-clad were swept away, that institution carried on as usual. Whatever the plan, every man should prepare for old age. Dollars that are earned with comparative ease today will come hard indeed when the period of greatest productivity is over. Think of the years ahead.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

This week, Oct. 7 to 13, is fire prevention week and will be more or less generally observed as such. It has been initiated by proclamations from government dignitaries and given widespread publicity.

During the week every citizen will have a splendid opportunity to learn the fundamentals of fire prevention and control. Through speeches, newspaper and magazine articles, exhibits and other means, an intensive effort will be made to enlist the citizen's interest. He can blame no one but himself if he fails to learn.

Fire prevention is a civic duty which every citizen owes to himself and to every other person. We all pay for fire—we pay for it in lost business, destroyed jobs, higher taxes and insurance rates. On the average, each family contributes $4.00 a year as a tribute to Moloch—dollars which are destroyed as surely as if we tossed them into a stove. Worse still, three people—two adults and a child—out of each 39,000 of our population, are sacrificed to the pagan god—because we are ignorant and careless when it comes to fire.

In the past, it has often been the experience that fire losses dropped during the week and for a short period thereafter, only to rise again as the public gradually forgot the information gleaned. This year we should devote a little time during the week to really learning the fundamentals of fire prevention, then remember and practice them in the future.

Our Exchanges

Items of interest culled from newspapers on the Times' exchange list.

J. B. Miller, veteran newspaper publisher and senior member of the firm, J. B. Miller & Sons, will arrive in Pampa this week end to assume his duties as editor of this publication. Miller has been associated with the Beckham County Democrat at Erick for the past three years as managing editor and has previously owned and published the Elk City News-Democrat in Elk City.

Tom E. Summers, Clinton Newspaper man, has assumed management of the Erick publication, succeeding Miller.—Pampa Advocate.

One hundred and seventy-seven Carson county farmers have been a lot more cheerful this week, as they received $11,491.05 as the initial payment on the corn-hog reduction campaign. Approximately 25 more checks are due for the initial payment. The first payment represents approximately two-fifths of the amount due Carson county farmers. The smallest check was for $4.20; the largest for $524.—Panhandle Herald.

An antique automobile, owned by W. W. Davis & Sons attracted quite a crowd as it passed down Main Street last Friday, loaded with boys and driven by Charlie Miller. The old bus was a 1902 model, known as "The International Gas Buggy." Mason Davis bought the ancient car from a farmer at Follett, about four years ago. They recently had it overhauled with new bed and fenders and with a greasing up, the original engine is in excellent running order. Davis plans to exhibit this machine at the Tri-State fair in Amarillo, next year.—Miami Chief.

McLean merchants made a proposition some years ago that any school district needing a stage curtain would be furnished one, provided the merchants could buy the curtain and not be forced to take advertising spaces at a high price to enrich some outside promoter. That this is a fair offer no one will deny, and any proposition of this kind should be taken up with a merchants' committee, or the chamber of commerce, before being launched. Many different schemes will probably be offered the merchants this fall, and the chamber of commerce advertising committee can be made of value, if used.—McLean News.

The first arrest under the new law was down at Hashknife Tuesday when Slow Jones was arrested while pulling cotton off seed for quilt bats without having a Bankhead exemption certificate attached to the seat of his pants.—Donley County Leader.

Hemphill county's new canning plant, located in Canadian, has been in operation four days, under the direction of Miss Grace Robbins.

Peas and chicken were the first products to be run through the local plant. Troy Newton, county administrator, has received authorization from the extension service, College Station, to can beef. There is no cooling plant arranged for here to date. That means that each individual who wishes to have beef canned must finance his own cooling of the meat.—Canadian Record.

Totalling $15,360, two hundred and ninety two checks, representing the first payment on the corn-hog contracts, arrived last Saturday, it was announced at the office of County Agent Glen A. Lindsey Wednesday afternoon. Thirty-four more cotton checks, totalling $1,072.65 were also received Saturday morning, it was announced.—Floyd County Hesperian.

The Donley county relief office has in prospect the establishment of a cheese factory, providing the public is sufficiently interested to cooperate. This would be another medium through which the excess dairy products could be advantageously utilized. This factory would be operated on a basis of 60 per cent to the producer and 40 per cent to the factory.—Clarendon News.

READING FUN IN STORE FOR BOYS

Here's important news for the boys of America. THE AMERICAN BOY—YOUTH'S COMPANION, the nation's quality magazine for boys, has been reduced from $2.00 a year to $1.00. The three-year rate, formerly $3.50, has been reduced to $2.00.

"For a long time we have been seeking a way to reduce the cost of THE AMERICAN BOY to readers," states Griffith Ogden Ellis, editor. "Recently we have effected savings that make the cut possible, and we think boys will agree that the new price is big news on the reading front. We hope boys will help us to spread the good news by telling their friends."

Along with the cut in cost, the magazine's publishers are planning a magazine that will continue to set the pace in fiction, articles, and departments. The favorite characters of millions of boys will parade through THE AMERICAN BOY in new stories. Douglas Renfrew of the Royal Canadian Mounted, Hide-rack, the red-and-gold collie, Bone-head Jim Tierney, the detective, will give the reader many exciting hours in the months to come.

William Heyliger whose true-to-life, gripping vocational stories have won him wide acclaim from parents and librarians, as well as the hearty approval of boys, is working on new stories. Staff writers are interviewing famous coaches and athletes and world-renowned explorers, to bring boys the color and fun of sports and travel.

In short, THE AMERICAN BOY, under its new price, will continue to give boys a magazine that measures up to the best standards set by adult magazines. Send your subscription to THE AMERICAN BOY, 7430 Second Blvd., Detroit, Michigan. Enclose your name and address and the proper amount of money, and THE AMERICAN BOY will soon be headed your way, loaded with reading thrills.

Townsend Plan of Old Age Revolving Pensions

Editor's Note: In response to requests from local men, The Times is publishing the following article taken from a leaflet distributed by friends of the Townsend Plan, which has national headquarters in Long Beach, Calif. Publication signifies neither endorsement nor approval by this paper.)

United States of America is sick all over, not in spots, as in periods of depression. This old Uncle Samuel is down with a peculiar malady of a very old type. A malady from which he will not recover without treatment scientifically administered.

malady afflicting the country is an almost total loss of buying power on the part of the general public. It is peculiar in that this is the first time in the history of our country as a nation that we did not have new lands, new mines, new and other raw resources to the idle workers thus assuring comparatively speedy recovery of our business slumps.

There are no more good lands unappropriated. The output of the mines is already greater than we can absorb. There is no use of land open more. Without new land and foreign markets our mining operations can not produce. The supply on hand of the product is more than we can produce on the part of those who turn out the finished product because they find no ability on the part of the public to buy, under the present conditions.

As a consequence, general stagnation, enforced idleness, nearly half of the population living on a hand-to-mouth existence, unable to produce, unable to subsist without the aid of charity and consequently becoming a greater burden on the shoulders of those upon whom the burden of charity falls.

Our natural resources are as great as ever; there are as many willing hands to do the work; the facilities for turning out the finished products are the best that civilized man has yet produced; there is as much money in existence. Why the stagnation, where is the missing link in the chain of distribution?

The answer is obvious. Money does not circulate. It stagnates in bank vaults and treasuries. The general public that creates all markets does not have access to it and consequently cannot buy. Banks cannot loan to people who have no security nor to factories that have no market for their goods. Banks lose money. They have no income from loans. Thus the vicious round of stagnation is made complete.

Buying power must be restored to the general public before this deadlock can be broken. Throwing out gigantic scoopsfuls of money from the national treasury into spots where destitution seems most intense is but to temporize with the emergency. A system of circulating money must be set up. Dependable legal machinery must be devised that will keep the money circulating after it is set going. This is a true and natural function of government that has never been called into being. It will have to be done or, like former civilizations, we shall perish.

The Townsend plan of old age revolving pensions calls upon the national government to assume this function; the function of starting and maintaining the circulation of a large amount of actual money throughout the entire nation equally distributed as to population, benefitting all classes alike. It demands the passage of a national law that will permit every citizen, male or female, who has attained the age of sixty years or over and who is not an habitual criminal, to apply for and to receive a pension of $200 per month until death upon the conditions that he take oath to spend for commodities or services the entire amount of the pension within the confines of the United States during the current month in which it is received, and shall refrain from all remunerative or productive labor or occupation. Simultaneously, it demands a law establishing a Federal retail sales tax calculated at a rate (low on necessities, high on luxuries) just sufficient to raise the money necessary for the pension roll. These two simple legislative acts, the one providing for the collection of the money from the retailers of the nation at the end of every month, calculated on their gross sales, the other providing for the distribution of the money back into the channels of trade through the hands of the old folks, will obviously start the money stream and keep it flowing with an almost constant rate, since our population is now practically fixed as to numbers.

There are ten million three hundred thousand people of the age of 60 and beyond, eight million of whom, at least, might be expected to apply for the pension. Many, eligible as to age, would not apply because of the demand for their continued services in posts of importance. Many of the millions are not citizens. If eight million of those of the required age should apply it would require the circulation of one billion six hundred million dollars into the channels of trade monthly. This would immediately start a tremendous volume of buying. We have skimmed and done without for four years. Retailers would soon be sold out. Wholesalers would be called upon to restock their shelves. They in turn would call upon the manufacturers for a new output. All machinery of production would be started at high speed. Workers would be called to man the machines and to distribute the goods. Jobs would again become plentiful, made so by an intense prosperity and the elimination of the sixty-year-olds from the job-seeking field. Wages would be high. The standard of living advanced to the approximate level of the pay received by the retiring elders.

No argument against the amount demanded for the pension can be advanced that will stand analysis. These elderly people have been instrumental in producing practically all the tangible wealth in evidence today. They are entitled to the use of a portion of it sufficient to maintain them in comfortable circumstances for the remainder of their lives. Use of the money is all that they would ask, all that they could have. Passing through their hands, it would supply their needs and return at once to the localities from whence it was collected. This steady flow of money would assure business stability, eliminate fear as a factor against the launching of a new works and enterprises and give assurance of ample opportunity to the rising generation of the young.

Cost and the necessity for raising prices to meet the pension roll would be practically eliminated by the wiping out of the expense of organized charity and much of the expense of criminality. Riches undreamed of would accrue to the nation through utilizing the wisdom and experience of the elders and their helpful activities in art, science and sociology. And finally the true riches of humanity, joy and happiness, would displace those debasing emotions of greed, suspicion, fear and despair.

Happenings of Interest by and for Home Demonstration Club Women of the County

"Variety is the spice of life," seems to be the motto of Mrs. Maud Keiper, pantry demonstrator for the Allison Home Demonstration club, when she starts preparing products to go in her 4-H pantry.

Anyway she seems to be abiding by her motto rather closely. She has different kinds of pickles; pickles from muskmellons, cauliflower, figs, carrots, onions and watermelon rind, to such odd varieties as Swiss chard stems, beans and green pickled plums.

She says that the pickles add variety to the menu. The green pickled plums look much like olives and she says they taste like them. She soaks all of these varieties in brine from one to six months before pickling and this gives them a clear color as well as better flavor.

Mrs. Keiper also had 28 varieties of fruit. She extracts the juice, the pulp, cans the fruit whole, mixes different fruits, and prepares it in so many different ways that you hardly recognize the product when you eat it at the table. You are only sure of one thing—that it is very pleasing to the appetite. She has 16 varieties of vegetables, 35 varieties of meat, and 24 varieties of jelly and preserves.

In all, Mrs. Keiper has 209 quarts of 121 varieties of different foods. This fact proves the statement that Miss Viola Jones, county home demonstration agent, made in her September demonstration on food combinations: "Farm people would not have such a monotonous menu if they would vary the methods of preparing their foods."

Winifred Barnes, secretary for the Briscoe 4-H club, has canned 174 quarts of five varieties of foods this year. She has made five cotton dresses, two infants garments, one undergarment, and two pair of pillow cases.

She planted a garden this year but it dried up when the drouth struck it, and therefore she was unable to can many vegetables, but she canned enough fruit to furnish her family through the winter.

Winifred is a first year club member but she expresses her desire to continue her work and make it better each year.

"I have only been in the club since May 28th of this year, but I have gained much by being a club member even for such a short while," says Delora Ferguson, 12-year-old member of the Mobeetie 4-H club. She has canned five quarts of cherries, 16 quarts of peaches, 14 quarts of grape juice, six quarts of plums, 12 pints of jelly, three quarts of beets, three quarts of cucumber pickles and one pint of peach preserves this year.

She has also learned how to sew. She has made two dresses, one apron, one infants dress, one pair of pillow cases and one undergarment besides mending her own clothes.

Delora won several prizes in the county fair and 75c at the Amarillo Tri-State this year. She won 2nd prize on her canned peaches, 3rd prize on pickled peaches, 3rd on pickled beets, 3rd on peach preserves and 3rd on plum jelly. And at the Amarillo fair she won 2nd on her plum jelly.

"We have some very promising first year club members who some day will take the place of the more outstanding club members soon to begin work in a larger field," said Miss Viola Jones, county home demonstration agent.

REPRESENTATIVE WORLEY OF WHEELER COUNTY "TAKES GOVERNOR-ELECT ALLRED FOR RIDE"

"The people of the Panhandle are going to get along with the next governor of Texas in a big way," commented Eugene Worley of Shamrock, Democratic nominee for state representative in the 122nd legislative district comprising Gray, Wheeler, Collingsworth and Donley counties. The 25-year-old legislative nominee, pictured at the wheel of his $25 campaign car, is shown here with U. S. Senator Tom Connally beside him, and James V. Allred, Democratic gubernatorial nominee, and Ben Connally, son of the senator, in the back seat. The picture was taken at the recent Democratic state convention in Galveston.

The first campaign promise of Eugene Worley of Shamrock, 25-year-old University of Texas law student who is the Democratic nominee for state representative in the 122nd legislative district, has been fulfilled. "If elected I'm going to take the next governor of Texas for a ride in my $25 car and tell him we folks in the Panhandle want to get along with him," said the young campaigner to the voters of Gray, Wheeler, Collingsworth and Donley counties.

Meeting James V. Allred, Democratic nominee, at the recent Democratic state convention in Galveston, Worley saw no reason why he should wait on the formality of a November election. He invited "Jim" for a ride in his "flivver," and he accepted. He then spied U. S. Senator Tom Connally and the latter's son, Ben Connally. He just threw them in for good measure and ariding they all went.

It was no wonder "Governor Jimmie," and "Senator Tom," smiled so broadly as they climbed into the car. The happy campaigner of the Panhandle had bought upholstery for the back seat—shiny new black oil cloth, just for this occasion. Also he had spent something like a dollar getting his motor tuned up, to avoid mishaps on the ride such as he experienced for the two months past while driving around looking up the voters of the district.

The "flivver" of Worley's has been a familiar sight since he left the law school of Texas university last June, and asked the voters to elect him their next representative. Cramped for funds the young man had to forego car repairs and parts as much as possible, and it was not an unusual happening after he had ended a political talk to see two or three men who had been in the audience bent over the sputtering motor, trying to eliminate a knock or two.

Two weeks after he entered the whirlwind campaigning law student was conceded an even chance to be the second man in the July primary in his three-cornered race. Two weeks more and he was given a fair chance to be the high man. A month later and the official tabulations gave him a margin of more than 1,000 votes over his nearest opponent. He swelled this to 2,000 in the August run-off.

Worley ran on a conservative platform, promising to work for lower and more equitable taxation. He expressed the hope to change the method of administering state school aid from a basis of scholastic enumeration to "noses in the school room," believing the present practice worked to the advantage of East and South Texas districts where the negro and Mexican population is high, and against West Texas counties where the percentage of white population is higher.

Classing of cotton by the state as a means of letting the grower know what grade and staple he produces so he can get bonuses when he is entitled to them, and a more equitable and forward-looking policy of handling oil and gas wastage, were also stressed in his talks.

Upon graduation from the University of Texas, Worley will be awarded B. A. and LL. B. degrees. He has worked his way through school, having been employed on the Daily Texan, served as a committee clerk during the 42nd legislature, and is now occupying the position of advertising manager of The Cactus, University yearbook. Worley attended Texas A. & M. before going to the university.

Mustangs Win From Hornets by 6-0 Score

After Hard Fought Game Touchdown Is Made Three Minutes Before Final Whistle Blows

Making a touchdown in the last quarter with three minutes to play, the Mustangs defeated the Hornets 6 to 0 Friday in a hard fought game at Mobeetie.

The first two quarters were hard fought, with neither team making any scoring threats. The first half ended with Mobeetie holding a slight edge. The third quarter opened with Mobeetie kicking off to Wheeler. Neither team made any scoring threats until the last of the quarter, when Mobeetie with the ball on Wheeler's thirty-five yard line, Ring passed to Dyson on the nineteen-yard line. Mobeetie received a fifteen-yard penalty which put the ball on Wheeler's four-yard line. Here Wheeler held the Hornets for four downs and the ball went to Wheeler on their own four-yard line.

On line bucks by Weeks and Tate the Mustangs made a first and ten on their own fifteen-yard line. Failing to gain but three yards on three plays, Lewis punted. The wind caused the ball to go high and Mobeetie covered it on the twenty-yard line. The quarter ended before the Hornets could make a play.

The two teams changed ends of the field, Mobeetie getting the south end with the wind to their backs. Meek kicked to Lewis, who received the ball on his own goal line, and returned it to the thirty but fumbled when he was tackled and Mobeetie recovered. After no scoring threats the quarter ended with the ball on Wheeler's twenty.

Mobeetie was held for downs. The Mustangs opened a drive that took them to the thirty-five yard line where they were held for downs. Lewis punted to Ring, on Mobeetie's five-yard line, who returned it ten yards. Making a first and ten on line plunges by Meek and Ring on the twenty-yard line, Mobeetie was then held for downs and Ring punted out of bounds on the forty-yard mark. Here Wheeler opened up with a series of line plunges and passes. On the first play Weeks picked up three yards over center. Tate crashed through for eight. Weeks then picked up two more yards, a pass from Weeks to Shirley was good for fifteen yards.

After a pass from Weeks to Lewis was incomplete, Weeks passed to Shirley on the five-yard line. Mobeetie called time out with five minutes to play. Tate hit the line for a touchdown. Tate's try for an extra point was unsuccessful. Wheeler kicked off to Mobeetie who returned it to the twenty-five yard line on the first play. Ring's pass was incomplete. Ring passed again, this time a long pass to Dyson, who was stopped by a tackle made by Robison. The ball was brought back because both sides were off side. The Mustangs gained possession of the ball in the next play when Newkirk intercepted Ring's pass. The game ended with Wheeler in possession of the ball on the twenty-yard line.

Wheeler's next game is to be played here tomorrow (Friday) afternoon at 3:30 when the Mustangs clash with White Deer. Admission charges will be 10 and 25 cents.

A DARING HERO

Four hundred and forty-two years ago, on Oct. 12, Columbus made his great discovery of America. Therefore, the day of Oct. 12, is set apart by most of the states of the United States to commemorate this discovery. It was first observed in Colorado, but since 1918 it is observed by 33 other states, of which Texas is one.

Of all the daring navigators and explorers whose names are inscribed on history's roll, we honor first of all the great discoverer, Columbus. This great man who found a new continent, with his brave and patriotic crew, deserves a tribute all his own, because he dared the unknown seas. —F.F.

Little Mustangs

The Junior High school has organized a football team and a pep squad.

"A game with McLean has been scheduled for Saturday afternoon at McLean and for the following Friday here," states Principal Bob Clark. The team, which has been named "Colts," will be selected from R. P. Farris, Carrol Adams, Norval Cumming, Warren Hicks, Bobby Noah, Dee Verne Coleman, C. W. May, Malcolm Crowder, J. B. Crowder, Gerald Robison, Melton Baker, Glynne Weeks, John Wright, Tris Hooker, Homer Jones, Earl Howard Gilmore, and Billie Burke.

Mrs. G. O. McCrohan will take charge of the junior pep squad, which will consist of girls from the fifth, sixth and seventh.

Norma Lou Maxwell and Otha June Cumming are the leaders of forty girls. They will all dress in black and white.

The sixth grade class has changed rooms with the seventh grade class for the present.

"The sixth and seventh grade classes have organized a volley ball team. The addition of this game should give a greater interest to our physical education program," states Miss Ruth Ewing.

Mrs. G. O. McCrohan, the fifth grade sponsor, said at the first of school she expected to give a program once a month to discover talent. "I was greatly surprised at the talent some of the children have," says Mrs. McCrohan.

Friday's program was: Poem, Melba Wiley; negro dialogue, John Wright and Tholman Baker; story, Troy Holley; poem, J. W. Starkey; jokes, Gordon Tolliver; duet, Willie Mae Browning and Ruby Mae Roper; "Light Crust Doughboys" sang; "Beautiful Texas," they were Billie Cosper, Jackie Trout and Adrain Risner; story, Dennis Powell, and Spanish song by Mrs. McCrohan.

Mrs. Lloyd Davidson and the third grade students are making a story into a play. They are also making papoose hammocks, rugs, Indian suits from gunny sacks and Indian dolls from grass and cloth.

Second grade students have finished their Indian sand table. A scrap book is being made of the interesting work of the second grade. This will include a brief sketch and a few pictures of what has been accomplished by the class. The blanket they have been working on for some time is now finished. "It can be used in plays as an Indian blanket, king's robe, and many other things," states Mrs. C. C. Crowder.

The captain of the fourth grade health squad for this week is Pauline Underwood. Guards are Cecil Lee Holley, Glen Hale, Wayne Herd, Ideas Tate, Odous Hooker and Annie Bowers.

Miss Addison: Ford, why should you say can't?

Pep Squad Honors Team With Party

The girls hired the Schulze bakery to make a huge devil's food cake covered with yellow icing. The word "Mustangs" and "34-35" were written in white on top. Jack Tate, football star who made the touchdown at the Friday's game, cut the cake.

In honor of the football boys, the Pep squad girls gave a party at the American Legion hall Friday night. Mrs. Gordon Whitener directed several games and contests.

Refreshments of cake and lemonade were served to the following: Bonnie Adams, Rutha Mae Connor, Ruth Faye Garrison, Janette Hale, Geraldine Lewis, Jonnie Lewis, Dorothy Tolliver, Ruth Barr, Lula Barr, Nerine Young, Imogene Jamison, Nettie Vee Jamison, Louise Veale, Lilla Mae Crofford, Martha Alice Wiley, Parilee Clay, Fay Ficke, Orveta Puett, Dorothy Burgess, Ferrol Ficke, Emma Dean Hudgins, Elsie Newkirk, Lois Ficke, Laney Mae Tillman, Loretta Badley, Beatrice Miller, Curtis Weeks, Mack Shirley, R. "FISH" DERIDES "SNOOTY" SENIORS

Don't them seniors give you a pain? Well, they do, with all their stuck up ways you would think they were children of the president. Just 'cause they will get out of school this year they think we are not as good as them and haven't got any brains. They're not so smart because if they are why do they gripe so much about English IV? Why, they were so dumb when they were kids that now they brag on themselves to fool other people, but not me.

The last two weeks we could hardly stay around them because of big headedness caused by ordering rings. Can you beat it?

TUMBLING CLASS ORDERS MATERIALS FOR SUITS

Suits were ordered for the tumbling class Saturday night by the sponsor, Mrs. Gordon Whitener. The shorts are of blue sateen and the blouses of white. The suits are expected the last of the week and are to be made by the mothers.

P. T. A. Discusses School Problems

Mrs. C. C. Crowder's room, which is made up of the students of the second grade, won the prize of a half-holiday by having the largest number of mothers present at the P. T. A. meeting which was held in the high school auditorium last Thursday at 3:15. The class will take advantage of this half-holiday Friday afternoon of next week.

At this meeting, which is held regularly the first Thursday of each month, C. B. Witt led the song, "Long, Long Ago." The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Lloyd Davidson. Mrs. D. A. Hunt, president, then called for a report from the treasurer and the children of the finance and publicity committees.

The following talks were made: "What the Teacher Expects From Home," by Mrs. C. B. Witt; "What the Home Expects From Teachers," Mrs. R. E. Brazil, and "The Importance of the Parent's Knowing the Teacher," Mrs. H. M. Wiley.

This was followed by a round table discussion on the two topics, "Should Parents Criticize Teachers in the Presence of Their Child?" and "How to Correct Misunderstandings Between Teachers and Students."

MRS. McCROHAN ADDS TO FIFTH GRADE LIBRARY

Mrs. G. O. McCrohan has organized a library for the fifth grade. Most of the pupils either gave a book to the library or lent one for a year.

CAUGHT in the LASSO'S NOOSE

Why are you so late getting home, Dudley? Do you play football or are there other reasons?

Come, come, Nettie Vee; who walked home with you Friday night? Tsh, tsh.

Ford says that the word "can't" is a contraption of the words can and not.

Why was Janette so disappointed Sunday afternoon?

Football boys, you should be ashamed of letting the Pep Squad girls keep you out so late. Franklin and Clark say, "Early to bed and early to rise."

Ferrol, you had better account for yourself for Sunday night.

Ruth Fave's hobby is fixing flats. She seemed to be enjoying it Friday.

I just saw someone making eyes at Magic City. Be careful, Magic, a junior girl might not like it.

A man who steals from a stranger is a bad man; a man who steals from his neighbor is worse; but what of a man who steals from his own family, from his wife and from his children?

Ten years ago, I married a girl whom I thought was the best girl in the little Central Texas community where we must have been—or she would not be living with me.

We had very little of worldly goods, but we were content and came to Wheeler county in fair circumstances to have come to share our lives with us.

It took all we had and some borrowed money to get us settled upon our arrival. We didn't feel like we were in the local church and not paying our share, so we year to year, thinking things would pick up, but we never united with the church as we should have.

I was not as choice as I should have been about my associates; my wife with things as they are, has had for ages, the little ones have kept her at home.

I had never drank back home to amount to new associates did, and as a matter of good fellowship, drinking with them. As things got worse, I drank and find I can't get away from it. Many of my friends from me; those who used to give me a drink, now they find myself spending a good part of my money in drink. I have had to pay three fines for being drunk one night in jail.

My wife does not have clothes to wear out, my children started to school without proper clothing, wearing only the bare necessities of life. I owe every man who will credit me; they have cut me off and made me what I buy.

Time and again I have promised my wife to do for the things we need, time and again I have promised that if they would let me have just one more bill, I got certain money I had due me.

What have we come to? I have stolen from the good name we brought to this community. I have stolen the merchants the goods they sold me on my promise; I have stolen from the community the good citizenship that I expect of me. I have stolen from my wife and children and clothing. I have stolen from the community the money to support its institutions.

Time and again I have tried to come back, but would-be friends have insisted on me taking just what I haven't the resistance to refuse, so slip back in the net. That's what booze has done for me. It has made me a thief out of me. I have stolen from myself, my wife and Boys, if it is not too late, stop while you can.

WISHED OR UNFINISHED

For about one month of work on this project, it is almost completed. What has it taken to build this? Work alone? No! Work alone we can do nothing. It has taken faith, courage and confidence. With the absence of only these characteristics or virtues there is not going to be much accomplished.

It has not been for the faith these days that have never started it. After started it, they probably would have finished it had it not been for these characteristics or virtues. And co-operation is a characteristic that could not have been left out.

Some one person in the community had raised objections or made in any way, the progress on this project would not have been very good. But the way it is, everyone worked in perfect harmony with the superintendent and workers.

It might compare some of this to our schoolwork and everyday life.

Do you finished your career? (never it may be.) Well, we do not; this surely will be a "tough world" if you have. To keep going you just have to work, work, without any faith or courage, thinking that maybe you'll amount to something? If so, fine. If you don't, well, don't think I could. No! set your standards high, and have enough courage to live up to them.

But we really can't do much if we don't have a little co-operation. There would never have been government, schools or cities if it had not been for co-operation on one's part. So, if you can't do anything else, you might try to do something toward their decisions.

THE SUPERVISOR'S VISIT

One of the chief numbers on our program for the year has just been completed—the state supervisor has been here and gone. His visit was eagerly anticipated by our entire community; so we cannot say that our community without interest.

Mr. Dixon, state supervisor, discussed the new amendment which is to be voted upon in November. Mr. B. Miller discussed problems of city administration, and as a result we feel the need of work on our part.

We enjoyed the day very much and we hope we will have occasion to enjoy this term to enjoy others. Co-operation is the essential feature in the building of a community of strong people.

The supervisor recommended that the school be granted all the rural for which it had asked. Old Students Back in School Warren Clepper, who has been out of school about a month, returned this week. His classmates and teachers missed him while he was gone. They welcome him back and hope he will keep up his excellent work in school.

There are a few more students who have been absent for some time. They are Imogene Hogue, Herbert Croley and Eugene Mathews. The students and teachers welcome them back, also.

"AUNTIE UP" The Briscoe high school will put on a three-act play some time during this semester. The play is to be sponsored by Mrs. Smith. The cast characters is as follows: Dr. Graves, president of Elmhurst League, Bernard Wilson; Dr. Blimp, a dean, known not disrespectfully as "Auntie," Clyde Wadsworth; Sal Caldwell, the dean's secretary; Mardell Tipps; "Slick" Graves, the president's son, Grady Dodd; Augustus Jones, a freshman, Ocie Pace; Ing Rayner, a senior, J. R. Henricks; Mrs. Jones, a fond mother, Pay Wilson; Babe Warren, a college widow, Dorothy Lohberger.

It is a three-act farce-comedy, the plot of which does not center around a football game, but around the disappearance of some examination questions.

4-H Club Meeting The Briscoe 4-H club met Oct. 1, 1934. The meeting was called to order by the president. The officers were elected as follows: Willene

Those present were: Winifred Barnes, Joy Bill Riley, Mable Barnes, Laverne Treadwell, Katherine Sollock, Oleta Dickinson, Ruby Hefley, Dorothy Lohberger, Faye Hammer, Geneva McNeill, Gertrude Hudson, Ruth Morris, Alma Waters, Nellie B. Candler, Mary Margaret McCarroll, Miss Jones and Edith Ashley.—JOY BILL RILEY, Reporter.

WHY A SCHOOL?

A school exists for the benefit of the child. We must not deceive ourselves by thinking that the school is a community center from a social point of view only. Instead we must remember the need of a school from the view-point of future citizenship.

Quite often parents send their children to school simply because that is a good place for them to be. Hence, the child is there because he has nowhere else to be. So we see the existence of a school for the present is of very little importance, but the existence for the betterment of future conditions is of very great importance. If we do not constantly bear in mind that our school exists for the betterment of future conditions it will become a social center existing only for present enjoyment and the future will suffer.

A school is for the child, as was stated at the outset. It does not exist for the enjoyment of teachers, pleasure of the parents, or any other selected group. Thus, a child should be made to feel that he goes to school each day for the same reason that his parents go to the office, store or field. That is, it is his business. It is his place to do a days work and rightfully earn a few hours rest. If a boy is not made to realize the importance of his school work, and that everything gained must be earned, then the whole institution called school is a miserable failure. A miserable failure because the finished product will fail. The graduate will feel that the world owes him a living. In reality the world only owes him a right to earn a living.

More efficient graduates may be brought about by teacher-pupil understanding. The teacher-pupil understanding is brought about more fully by parent-teacher understanding and parent-teacher understanding by parent-teacher associations.

We intend that ours be just such an association and feel sure that it will. The following officers were elected Friday night, Oct. 5, to serve this year: Jack Vise, president; Mrs. Charlie Candler, first vice president; Miss Carmack, secretary, and M. Wilson, treasurer.

State Director Says Pare Relief Rolls

Case Load Lower Than Predicted —Relief Funds Also Reduced

Calling upon county administrators for a complete re-check of relief rolls, State Relief Director Adam R. Johnson declared this week that "we must drop from the rolls every case not clearly entitled to relief before winter comes. The exhausted condition of our funds makes it essential that we pare our rolls so that we may adequately care for those in dire need during the winter months."

To county administrators, Johnson quoted the following excerpts from a letter from Harry L. Hopkins, federal emergency relief administrator:

"I know that you will agree that it is imperative that relief rolls in your state be examined at this time to remove from any persons not actually in there need. A complete re-check of your relief families is possible now, and it should be made before entering upon the heavier period of the late fall and winter. I will appreciate your co-operation in having this review made at this time."

"There have been some reports reach this office which would indicate that a few families are receiving relief wherein the head of the family is employed on full time. I wish to advise you that it is contrary to our policy to supplement the wages of full time employes with relief funds."

In line with this communication, Johnson instructed administrators to "scrutinize relief rolls most carefully, reinvestigate where possible, and weed out all of those ineligible. Some counties in this respect are in excellent shape, but there are a number where the relief load is out of proportion, and immediate steps must be taken to cut the load in these counties. Administrators can ascertain whether the load is out of line by comparing it with the population of their counties."

The state director also sent a questionnaire to counties seeking to determine the number of families and individuals removed from rolls due to placement of workers in cotton fields.

Johnson said he was interested to know whether farmers had had difficulty in obtaining cotton pickers. He asserted protests had reached Washington that clients will not leave the relief rolls and go to the cotton fields.

"If that's true, it's a grievous situation and we intend to remedy it. Our relief program was not intended for people who shirk opportunities to make an honest living and we won't stand for such individuals attaching themselves to our relief rolls and chiseling their way into a portion of the funds rightfully intended for honest unfortunates," Johnson declared.

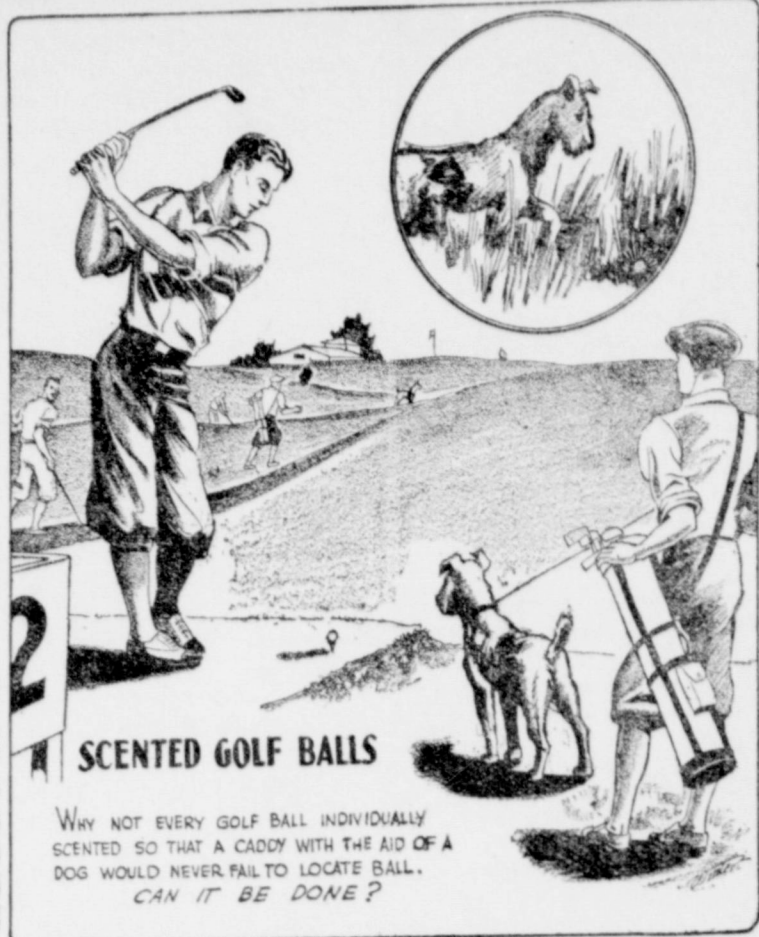

"I already have caused to be inserted in the newspapers of the state an advertisement wherein it was explained that clients refusing to accept jobs at the prevailing wage scale were to be summarily dropped from relief rolls. That message was intended for the entire citizenship of Texas. It is up to our citizens to report to the administrator persons who refuse to work. Clients must accept jobs. If the job is temporary, we'll take them back on the rolls when it ends."

Johnson announced that the case load for October, as estimated by county administrators, is 267,321, about 2,000 more than the September load but nearly 23,000 less than the forecast presented in a brief to the legislature. This, he attributed to efforts to reduce the load. The director said he was gratified at the reduction but that it is not enough.

This represents a case load 8 per cent lower than our forecast of a month ago, but, whereas, we figured we needed $4,600,000 to care for them, we now can't hope to get more than $3,600,000, a reduction of 23 per cent in funds. We are budgeted by law to spend not more than $1,000,000 of state funds in October, November and December. We can expect no more than a similar amount from the federal government during these months on a basis of a dollar for dollar matching agreement. We never know for sure how much we will receive from national authorities for special programs. We must therefore be most judicious in admitting clients to relief rolls, and I wish particularly to call to attention of administrators the section of the relief law passed by the last called session of the legislature, which makes it a felony punishable by imprisonment of from 2 to 5 years for persons found guilty of false swearing to gain the status of a relief roll client."

Mrs. S. E. Walker and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Cash Walker of Locust Grove, were trading Saturday in Wheeler.

Teachers College Plans Big Anniversary Event

Canyon School to Celebrate 25th Birthday With Two-day Observance

A report from Canyon states that preparations are in full swing for celebration of the Twenty-fifth Anniversary of the West Texas State Teachers college on Oct. 19 and 20. The two days celebration will include four programs, a football game between McMurry college, Abilene, and the West Texas Buffaloes, and many small gatherings for special organizations.

President J. A. Hill is urgently inviting every person who has been a student in the college since its founding in 1910, and all friends of the college to join in the celebration.

Ruth Bryan Owen, United States Ambassador to Denmark, will be the headline speaker for the Oct. 20, program at 10 a. m. "Ten Nights in the Bar Room," old-time melodrama, will be presented Friday night, and a program representing the state will be given Friday afternoon with prominent state officials as speakers.

The opening program of the celebration will be Friday, Oct. 19 at 10 a. m., with J. B. Speer, president of the Ex-Students' association, presiding. Guy Rogers of Wichita Falls, will be the principal speaker. A representative from the family of Dr. R. B. Cousins, first president of the college, will also be on this program.

There are 18,000 individuals who have attended the college since its founding; it is expected that at least 5,000 of them will attend the celebration. Professor L. F. Sheffy is chairman of the faculty committee in charge of arrangements. A special committee has charge of the barbecue on Saturday at which all students and parents of present students will be honor guests.

HOUSTON'S PROPHECY OF TEXAS NEAR REALIZATION

If Sam Houston were living today and if the Chambers of Commerce of San Antonio, Houston, Goliad, Brenham, Nacogdoches, Huntsville, Gonzales, Galveston, Dallas and other cities where celebrations of the Texas Centennial in 1936 are to be held, were employing him as their publicity agent, he hardly could improve upon the praise of the state voiced a century ago, says a Texas Centennial commission article.

Writing from Natchitoches, La., under date of Feb. 13, 1833, Houston forwarded to President Andrew Jackson of the United States an illuminating report of the things he had seen upon his first trip into Texas. This letter is quoted, in part, as follows: "I have traveled nearly five hundred miles across Texas and am now enabled to judge pretty correctly of the soil and the resources of the country. And I have no hesitation

State Gas Tax Revenue Reaches All-time High

Common School Fund Gets Almost Eight and a Half Million Dollars

The state common school fund received the record total of $8,496,212 as its one-fourth "cut" of Texas' gasoline tax income for the fiscal year which ended August 31, or nearly $1,000,000 more than in every previous year, Comptroller George H. Sheppard announced this week. Schools receive one cent of the four-cent state gas tax.

Proportionate boosts went to the board of county and district road bond indebtedness, which also receives one cent of the tax, and the highway fund, which gets the remaining two cents.

Working his first full fiscal year with an adequate field force under the state's strong new "anti-bootleg" law, the comptroller boosted gas tax income $4,036,845 above last year to an all-time high total of $33,984,848, his annual report showed.

He attributed almost the entire gain to record enforcement activity and the educational campaign of the Texas Good Roads association. In his state-wide drive against the tax-stealing "racket," his 50 field men filed 99 felony and 71 misdemeanor charges during the year, he reported.

The $33,984,848 income is broken up into three parts. In addition to the $8,496,212 for schools, another $8,496,212 goes to county tax relief in the refunding of county road bonds. Whereas the fund last year was able to pay all interest on such bonds but only 30 per cent of the principal, the increase will permit paying this year of all interest and at least half of the principal maturities, if not more, Sheppard estimated.

The remainder of the gas tax, or $16,992,424, is still devoted to the original purpose for which the tax was invented — construction and maintenance of state highways.

In pronouncing it the finest country, to its extent, upon the globe; for, the greater portion of it is richer and more healthy, in my opinion, than West Tennessee. There can be no doubt but the country east of the Rio Grande would sustain a population of ten millions of souls."

The breadth of Houston's vision of this state's potentialities may be measured now by the realization that Texas today has a population of more than six million people.

Artificial Teeth

Artificial teeth may be termed one of our necessary evils. All who wear them fully realize they do not take the place of real ones. As a rule, however, the patient has no one to blame other than themselves. This is generally realized after it is too late. The only way to avoid this condition is proper care and attention by yourself and your dentist when the teeth or gums are past repair.

If you have no respect for your teeth and make no special effort to care for your teeth it is certain the day will come when you are forced to wear artificial teeth. And even though you may have the services of the best dentist on earth, you will always recall the mistake you made—the mistake of not asking your dentist in their presence before it was too late.

It is very true that some who have artificial teeth are happy with them and that no small number are getting perfect service from them, but on the other hand there are many who do not, can not, and never expect to.

Whose fault? The dentist? No, always. This is true in many instances but the majority of times the fault rests upon the patient.

Why? Their mouth is either not cleaned to hold plates or the bone has been eaten away through protraction until it is an impossibility to produce a plate to equal those worn by patients who have good mouths through nature or preservation.

I am not unmindful of the fact that many plates are unfit for the patient to wear but I am also mindful of the fact that such unpleasant, unfortunate cases generally arise from the patronage of unethical, unprofessional men in our profession.

These are "quacks" and "grafters" who have no respect for themselves nor the patient. It has been established, however, that we have as few of them as any profession. All professions and fraternities are burdened with them. Assuring you that it is possible for the "best" to make mistakes, I call your attention to the fact that it is just as easy to fit a bad mouth as it is a good one.

Why? The impression is the foundation and one is as easy to secure as another. Some mouths retain and manipulate plates better than others. The best operators have this pleasure and displeasure.

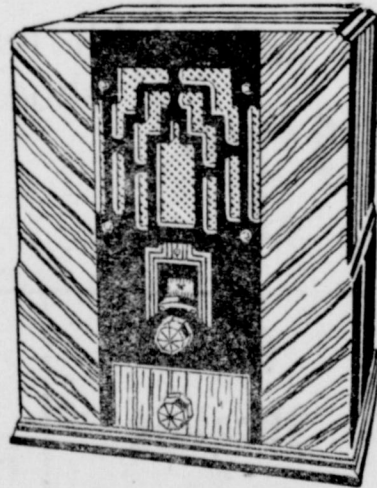

In fairness to the reputable dentist and the public as a whole, it is not asking too much for everyone to realize this peculiar situation and try to avoid falling into the unfortunate class. This unfortunate condition can be avoided many times by having your teeth extracted before the gum and bone have been eaten away. Too many people prolong their case until this happens and then expect the same pleasant use from artificial teeth as the one who has acted in time.

If you are guilty of creating a difficult mouth you should be willing to carry the burden it brings.
